OCTOBER, 1907.

A REMARKABLE BOOK ON THE PRESERVATION OF HEALTH.

DR. ANDREW WILSON, F.R.S.E., the distinguished authority on hygienic science and health questions, is evidently a believer in Thomas Carlyle's doctrine that there is no utility in pointing out misfortunes unless you at the same time indicate the remedy.

In his remarkable little book, "The Art of Living," just issued from the press, Dr. Wilson not only points out "our first duty to ourselves is to check illness at the outset," but he follows up this admonition with the more welcome information how we are to do it. He, so to speak, says: "You have the evil of ill-health to fight. Now, here's the weapon to fight it with. Strike for freedom." For example, he says: "Suppose a person has run down—feels languid, and is easily tired. If he neglects this warning—for all such signs and symptoms are Nature's warning to us—the possibility is that he will pass further afield into the great lone land of disease.

"Can he do anything to save himself from such a disastrous result? In the vast majority of cases he can restore his vigour." How? Dr. Wilson tells his reader how without delay, adding at once this remarkable statement: "Probably he will be advised to take a tonic. This in the main is good advice. Unfortunately, the number of tonics is legion, but if there exists any preparation which can combine in itself the properties of a tonic and restorative, and which at the same time can contribute to the nourishment and building up of the enfeebled body, it is evident such an agent must prove of the utmost value to everybody. I have found such a tonic and restorative in the preparation known as Sanatogen."

How the distinguished author found this tonic he tells us in an interesting bit of autobiography. "Recovering from an attack of influenza," he says, "and suffering from the severe weakness incidental to that ailment, Sanatogen was brought under my notice. I gave it a fair trial, and the results were all that could have been desired. In a short time my appetite improved, the weakness was conquered, and without the use of any other medicine or preparation I was restored to health." It is easy to believe that this experience led the doctor to make a thorough investigation into this specific which had served him so well.

Sanatogen, he tells us, "combines two distinct elements, one tonic and the other nutritive." Further, it is no "secret" remedy, for, as he pertinently observes, "its composition is well known; otherwise medical men would not prescribe it."

What the tonic and nutritive elements of Sanatogen are, and how they effect so much good, Dr. Wilson described in simple, convincing terms. The whole passage is too long to quote, but one important remark of the writer may be given—namely, that one of the principal elements of Sanatogen "represents the substance which actually forms a very important, if not the most important, constituent of our brain and nervous system." How, through regenerating the nervous system, Sanatogen restores the functions of the digestive organs, and by rebuilding the tissues compensates the wear and tear of latter-day life; how it does away with the need of stimulants, and cures the sick by the natural method of making the body strong enough to drive out disease—all this, in the delightful style of Dr. Wilson's language, makes engrossing and pleasant, as well as instructive, reading. This last contribution of his to the literature of health may certainly be calculated to carry joyful news to the ailing and weary.

A limited number of complete specimen copies of "The Art of Living," by Dr. Andrew Wilson, F.R.S.E., are available for distribution. A copy will gladly be sent post free on application to the publishers, F. WILLIAMS & Co., 83, Upper Thames Street, London, E.C., mentioning the Churchman.

Sanatogen, the therapeutic nutriment alluded to by Dr. Andrew Wilson in the book named above, has probably been put to more severe and searching analysis and tests than any other specific of modern years, and the result, as declared by the unanimous voice of the medical Press, is to place the preparation quite in the forefront of all nerve tonics. The Medical Times says: "It is probably in cases of weakening or exhaustion of the nervous system, accompanied by various forms of mental and bodily inefficiency, that Sanatogen proves most useful."

NATIONAL CHURCH LEAGUE.

For the Defence and Promotion of the Reformed Faith of the Church of England.

"CATHOLIC, APOSTOLIC, REFORMED, PROTESTANT."

Chairman of Executive—THE VERY REV. THE DEAN OF CANTERBURY.
General Secretary—Sir C. ROBERT LIGHTON, Bart.

THE NATIONAL CHURCH LEAGUE has been formed by the amalgamation of the Church of England League and the National Protestant Church Union.

It is the aim of the LEAGUE to maintain the comprehensive character of the Church of England in the broad and tolerant spirit which has been its glory in the past, while at the same time repudiating the errors which the recent Report of the Royal Commission on Ecclesiastical Discipline has shown to prevail to an increasing extent in the Church.

The LEAGUE endeavours to carry on its work on educational and spiritual lines. It sets forward works of piety and charity in cordial co-operation with all parochial clergy who are faithful to the principles of the English Reformation.

It aims at founding and supporting schools, Training Colleges, and religious institutions for inculcating, spreading, and defending those principles.

It supports the authorities of the National Church in the maintenance of the law, it upholds the Prayer Book and Articles as the standard of doctrine and worship in the Church of England, and opposes the introduction into the services of the Church of anything inconsistent therewith.

Membership of the LEAGUE is open only to members of the Church of England.

It organizes sermons and courses of lectures on Church History and the Prayer Book, establishes branches and arranges Meetings throughout the country, and publishes and circulates literature bearing on Church questions.

THE CHURCH OF IRELAND.

"CATHOLIC, APOSTOLIC, REFORMED, PROTESTANT."

After her Disendowment, a Fund was founded in England for the purpose of helping those Parishes, mainly in the South and West, which by the poverty of their members, and where the Protestants are few, are unable to maintain their clergyman and service without outside help.

Last year Grants were made to 101 Parishes, in which the need was greatest and the local efforts had been made most earnestly.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION.

By REV. C. L. DRAWBRIDGE, M.A. 3s. 6d. net.

The CHURCHMAN says:

"This book is one to be unreservedly recommended. It should be in the hands of every clergyman and of every teacher in our Sunday-schools; and we think that teachers in other than Sunday-schools would do well to peruse it. We have read every word of it with interest and with entire sympathy; it is a book that appeals to one by reason of its wit as well as its wisdom, its sound principles as well as its homely common sense. Few better contributions to the Education Question have been penned than chapter viii. of this book."

NOW READY.—POINTED EDITION OF THE PEOPLE'S PSALTER FOR CHOIRS.

In larger type, fcap. 8vo., cloth, gilt lettered, price 8s. 6d.

THE PEOPLE'S PSALTER.

Containing the Psalms of David together with the Litany and the Canticles and Hymns of the Church, with (by permission) the

POINTING OF THE CATHEDRAL PSALTER.

Arranged by the Rev. G. H. S. WALPOLE, D.D., Hon. Canon of Southwark, Examining Chaplain to the Archbishop of York; Rector of Lambeth.

"There will always be room for a book of this kind, and I should urge its use not only for choirs, but also for congregations. The idea with which the book is written is distinctly good. It cannot fail to help in the better and more intelligent rendering of this part of our Liturgy."—St. Andrew's Church Magazine.

"The author makes many suggestions which add to the effectiveness of the excellent book."—Sussex Daily News.

"The usefulness of an already useful and popular work has been greatly increased."—Guardian.

"This Psalter forms a volume that will prove useful and instructive to many a worshipper, and it should have a large circulation."—Oxford Chronicle.

"In 'choirs and places where they sing' this handy little volume will prove of great service."—Life of Faith.

"Should be a help towards congregational singing of the Psalms where such is desired. One admirable addition to this book is the so-called Athanasian Creed with arrangement and notes by the Bishop of Bristol."—Gloucester Diocesan Magazine.

"A series of exquisite studies after the style pursued in Dr. Matheson's earlier works, in which freshness and originality of treatment are the predominating features."—SCOTSMAN.

THE REPRESENTATIVE WOMEN OF THE BIBLE.

By the Rev. GEORGE MATHESON, D.D., LL.D.,
Author of "The Representative Men of the Bible," etc.

Price 6s.

"Admirers of the late Rev. Dr. George Matheson, of St. Bernard's, Edinburgh, so well and favourably known as 'the blind preacher,' will heartily welcome this book, the last which occupied his attention, and in the composition of which he was engaged at the time of his death. . . . The portraits, which begin with 'Eve the Unfolded,' and close with two Marys—'Mary the guiding' and 'Mary the thought-reading'—are all marked by the subtle, mystical, dreamy charm and the spiritual fervour that characterize Dr. Matheson's meditations. Yet there are not lacking striking practical lessons, which are presented with blended tenderness and force. The author's defence of Sarah is specially vigorous. 'I do not think,' he says, 'that this woman Sarah has ever got justice. She is one of the very finest specimens of tenacious married love it has been my privilege to meet. Her trials are all unromantic—things that bring no stimulus with them.' It need not be said that Dr. Matheson has brought of his best to the delineation of the women who are here limned, and that the portrait gallery which he has supplied is one from which the greatest delight and profit may be derived."—Aberdeen Free Press.
