PLAN AND REGULATIONS OF THE SOCIETY.

NAME.

The name by which the Society has been and still is designated, is "The Particular Baptist Missionary Society for Propagating the Gospel among the Heathen," or, "THE BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY."

OBJECT.

The great object of this Society is the diffusion of the knowledge of the religion of Jesus Christ throughout the whole world, beyond the British Isles, by the preaching of the Gospel, the translation and publication of the Holy Scriptures, and the establishment of Schools.

MEMBERS.

The following persons shall be considered members, viz., pastors of churches making an annual contribution; ministers who collect annually; and all Christian persons concurring in the objects of the Society, who are donors of ten pounds or upwards, or subscribers of ten shillings and sixpence annually to its funds.

GENERAL MEETING OF MEMBERS.

A General Meeting of Members only shall be held annually, at which the Committee and Officers shall be chosen for the year ensuing, the Auditors of accounts appointed, and any other business pertaining to the Society transacted.

In choosing the Committee and Officers, the Chairman of the Meeting shall receive all names which it may be intended to propose. Out of the list so obtained, forty members of the Committee shall be chosen by ballot, those who have the greater number of votes being the parties elected, and the members so elected shall be empowered to fill up the number to forty-eight members, as required by the following rule, from the list of nominations presented at the Annual Meeting.

COMMITTEE.

That the affairs of the Society shall be conducted by a Committee of forty-eight persons, one half of whom shall not be residents within twelve miles of St. Paul's; the Committee to meet monthly, or oftener, in London, on a fixed day, for the despatch of business: seven members to be deemed a quorum: the Committee to be empowered to fill up vacancies.

PUBLIC MEETINGS.

A Public Meeting of the Society shall be held annually, when the list of the Committee shall be read, the accounts presented, and the proceedings of the previous year reported. The Committee shall also be empowered to summon Public Meetings in London or elsewhere, whenever the interests of the Society may seem to require.

CORRESPONDING MEMBERS.

All Treasurers and Secretaries of Missionary Auxiliaries shall be CORRESPONDING MEMBERS of the Committee, together with such persons as it may be found necessary to add to their number.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

The General Meeting of Members shall also be empowered to appoint as HONORARY MEMBERS of the Committee any who have rendered important services to the Society.

MEMBERS OF THE SOCIETY ENTITLED TO VOTE AT COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

All Honorary and Corresponding Members of the Committee, and all Ministers, who are members of the Society, who may occasionally be in London; and also Ministers residing in London, similarly qualified, together with the Treasurers and Secretaries of London Auxiliaries, shall be entitled to attend and vote at the Meetings of the Committee.

FUNDS.

All monies received on behalf of the Society shall be lodged in the hands of the Treasurer, or of Trustees to be chosen by the Society. When the amount received shall exceed the sum needed for the current expenses of the month, it shall be invested in the Public Funds, until required for the use of the Mission.

ALTERATION OF CONSTITUTION.

No alteration in the constitution of the Society shall be made without twelve months' notice having been given at a previous Annual General Meeting.

MINUTES OF THE GENERAL MEETING,

HELD IN THE MISSION HOUSE, CASTLE STREET, HOLBORN, E.C.,

TUESDAY, APRIL 28TH, 1874.

1. The General Meeting of the Subscribers and Members of the Baptist Missionary Society was held at the Mission House, Castle-street, Holborn, April 28th, 1874, at half-past ten o'clock, A.M.

2. After singing a hymn and reading the Scriptures, the Rev. J. P. CHOWN offered prayer.

3. On the motion of the TREASURER, seconded by Dr. UNDERHILL, HUGH ROSE, Esq., Edinburgh, was unanimously called to the chair.

4. The Secretaries read the Report of the Committee, the Balance-sheet and Abstract of the Accounts for the past year, as passed by the Auditors.

5. The Digest of the Minutes of the Committee for the past year was brought up and read by Mr. BAYNES, Minute Secretary.

6. On the motion of Rev. J. P. CHOWN, seconded by the Rev. C. M. BIRRELL, it was resolved :—

That the Report, with the Audited Balance-sheet and Abstract of the Accounts, be received, adopted, and published in the usual way.

7. On the motion of Rev. FRED. TRESTRAIL, seconded by Rev. S. GREEN, it was resolved :—

That the following gentlemen be requested to act as Scrutineers, to report the result of the examination of the balloting papers to the officers of the Society for publication, viz, Messrs. A. H. Baynes, C. B. Chapman, J. Jennings, H. Keen, A. Gurney Smith, J. Teall, and W. Tresidder.

8. The lists of nominations of Members to serve on the Committee having been supplied, the voting papers were collected, and referred to the Scrutineers.

9. On the motion of Rev. J. ALDIS, seconded by W. B. RICKETT, Esq., it was resolved unanimously :—

That the cordial thanks of this Meeting be given to Joseph Tritton, Esq., for his kind services as Treasurer during the past year ; and that he be earnestly requested to continue them during the year ensuing.

10. On the motion of Rev. J. LEWITT, seconded by HOWARD BOWSER, Esq., it was resolved :—

That the best thanks of this Meeting be given to Edward Bean Underhill, Esq., LL.D., for his efficient services as Secretary during the past year, and that he be requested to continue them during the year ensuing.

11. On the motion of Rev. S. HARRIS BOOTH, seconded by Rev. F. W. GOTCH, LL.D., it was resolved:—

That the very cordial thanks of this meeting be given to the Rev. Clement Bailhache, and Mr. Alfred Henry Baynes, for their able and efficient services during the year as Association and Minute Secretaries.

12. On the motion of the Rev. J. DREW, seconded by Rev. W. LANCE, it was resolved:—

That the best thanks of this Meeting be given to the auditors for their efficient services during the past year, and that the following gentlemen be requested to act as auditors for the ensuing year—viz., Messrs. F. L. Flint, J. Jennings, W. Duncan Knight, and A. Gurney Smith.

13. On the motion of the Rev. FRED. TRESTRAIL, seconded by Rev. E. EDWARDS, it was resolved:—

That the Rev. C. M. Birrell, of Liverpool; Rev. J. P. Mursell, of Leicester; and Rev. Wm. Robinson, of Cambridge, be elected Honorary Members of the Committee.

14. On the motion of the Rev. OLIVER FLETT, seconded by the Rev. RICHARD GLOVER, it was resolved:—

I. That a Special Committee be formed to consider whether such alterations can be made in the plans and regulations of the Society, as may render it practicable to elect Members of the Committee by the Auxiliaries and Associations, so as to give the Committee a more representative character, and to report to the next annual meeting.

II. That such Special Committee consist of—

And the Officers.

With power to add to their number.

15. The Rev. JOHN BIGWOOD, of London, gave notice that, at the next Annual Meeting of Members, he would move the following resolution:—

That, for the future, the nomination of Honorary Members of the Committee, shall proceed only from a resolution of the General Committee of the Society, or from six members of the Society who are combined therein.

16. On the motion of the TREASURER, JOSEPH TRITTON, Esq., seconded by the Rev. R. GLOVER, it was resolved unanimously:—

That the cordial thanks of this meeting be given to Hugh Rose, Esq., of Edinburgh, for his kind and efficient services in the chair.

17. The Meeting was closed with the Benediction.

THE
OF THE BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

WAS HELD IN

EXETER HALL,

ON THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 30TH, 1874.

THE TREASURER, JOSEPH TRITTON, ESQ., OF LONDON, IN THE CHAIR.

1. The Meeting was opened by singing and prayer, conducted by the Rev. CHAS. WILLIAMS, of Accrington.

2. The CHAIRMAN addressed the Meeting.

3. Dr. UNDERHILL gave a statement of the principal features of the Society's operations during the past year.

4. The first resolution, as follows, moved by the Rev. W. BEST, B.A., of Leeds, and seconded by the Rev. J. C. PAGE, Missionary from Darjeeling, was agreed to unanimously :—

That this meeting hears with pleasure and gratitude to God of the success which has attended the labours of the society in all the countries where its missionaries are found ; of the increasing circulation and the acceptance among the people of the Word of God ; of the growing interest shown by the people of India in the Gospel of Christ ; and of the liberality of the churches at home, as shown by the large increase in the amount of their contributions ; and they rejoice that the committee have been enabled by the blessing of God to add new missionaries to the number of those already engaged.

5. The second resolution, as follows, was moved by the Rev. L. SKREPSRUD, Missionary, from Sonthalistan, and seconded by the Rev. T. W. HANDFORD, of Bloomsbury, and agreed to unanimously :—

That this meeting gives a hearty welcome to those beloved brethren who have for so many years laboured in the Gospel in Pagan lands, but who are now compelled, by the infirmities of age, or by the effects of a long residence in tropical climes, to return home for the purpose of re-invigorating their broken health ; and, in view of the vacancies thus brought about, and of the weakening of the Mission band thereby occasioned, it approves of the proposal of the Committee further to reinforce the Missions in India, China, Africa, and Trinidad, by sending out, during the year, at least five additional missionaries. This meeting commends this intention to the sympathy of the churches, and does not doubt that the funds it will require will be as liberally provided as they have been in the year just passed away.

6. The Meeting was closed by the Doxology and Benediction.

EIGHTY-SECOND REPORT.

IN the Report of last year, the Committee expressed their wish that they might be furnished with the means to equip and send out at least five new brethren to the work in India. It is with thanksgiving to the Head of the Church that they have to announce the fulfilment of that wish. The losses sustained by death, or otherwise, have been made good, and a clear addition of five brethren to their staff secured. In effecting this they have been indebted to the Birmingham Auxiliary for a gift of £500, as a memorial of their jubilee year, but the growing contributions of the churches give promise that the additional charge on the funds of the Society thus incurred will, in the year to come, be supplied.

Not a moment too soon has this reinforcement come. Early in the year the missionary band was lessened by the resignation of the Rev. Josiah Parsons, and by the, alas! too early death of the Rev. J. A. Campagnac. And now, in a few months, all the senior brethren, with two or three exceptions, will be at home, compelled to leave their posts by the effects of long enduring toil. The Revds. Dr. Wenger, J. Sale, and J. Trafford, will be added to the Revds. C. B. Lewis, J. Lawrence, J. Page, T. Martin, and T. Evans, who are already seeking in the more genial climate of their native land a reinvigoration of their powers, exhausted by the labours of many years in the mission field. Their high character and great services, will secure for them an affectionate welcome, and the well-deserved esteem of the churches whose "messengers" they have so long been among the heathen.

The Committee have also had the pleasure of making the personal acquaintance of the Rev. L. O. Skrefsrud, the energetic colleague of Mr. Boerresen, in the conduct of the Sonthal Mission.

Of the brethren at home last year, our veteran missionary, the Rev. G. Pearce, accompanied by his no less brave-hearted wife, has returned to his charge full of hope, and confident that days of blessing are at hand for India. The Rev. J. H. and Mrs. Anderson, and the Rev. A. and Mrs. McKenna, have also resumed their work, both Mr. Anderson and Mr. McKenna having most effectively served the Society while at home by their intelligent and effective addresses as deputations. The new additions to our number consist of the following brethren:—the Rev. Hormazdji Pestonji, a converted Parsee, who occupies the long vacant post at Poonah; the Rev. W. Greenway, an old servant of the Society, who will take a sphere in the North-West Provinces; the Rev. E. C. B. Hallam, formerly of the American Mission, who for the present fills the place of Mr. Lawrence; and the four young brethren, who for the first time leave their homes for Christ's service abroad, viz., the Revds. R. Guyton, of Chepstow, C. C. Brown and R. Spurgeon, both of London, and J. Mintridge, of Birmingham. The two years' probation of these young missionaries will be spent under the care of the senior brethren labouring in Delhi, Backergunge, Sewry, and Jessore respectively. The Committee have every confidence that the devotedness and zeal which have led them to consecrate their lives to the promotion of the Redeemer's glory, will stimulate them to the greatest assiduity in their preparatory studies, and sustain them in the great warfare on which they have entered.

Notwithstanding these additions to the staff of missionaries, there are stations in Trinidad, Africa, China, and Northern India that yet remain to be filled. The unusual drain on our strength demands yet further efforts to meet all the requirements of the Mission. In view of this, the Committee have directed that the attention of the incoming Committee shall be called to the necessity of a further increase in the number of missionaries, and have left their opinion on record that, at least, five, more brethren should be engaged in the coming year. To this question, therefore, the attention of the Churches must be directed, and the Committee will have to rely on the same liberality and sympathy, which, during the past year, have been so conspicuously displayed.

STATE OF INDIA.

There is no need in the present report to add to the testimonies given in former years, which establish the successful results and growing power of the labours of missionaries in India. Every year enlarges their number and value. From the pulpit of the cathedral of Westminster, as well as from the plains of Hindustan, the knell of departing Hinduism is tolled. Notwithstanding its profession by at least an hundred millions of souls, and that enormous number falls short of the truth, "I do not shrink from saying," says Professor Max Müller, "that their religion is dying or dead. And why? Because it cannot stand the light of day." And after enumerating a few of the many deities worshipped by the Hindus, he adds, "Ask any Hindu, who can read, and write, and think, whether these are the gods he believes in, and he will smile at your credulity. How long this living death of national religion in India may last no one can tell." These words are an instructive commentary on the language of the writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews :—"Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away."

EFFECTS OF PREACHING.

That many agencies are in operation to produce this destructive result is indubitable; but by universal consent the preaching of the Gospel is the most effectual. He who is wise in counsel and wonderful in operation makes use of manifold instruments; but His word is the incorruptible seed which liveth and abideth for ever. For long your missionaries were as the voice of one crying in the wilderness. A response was rare, and the apparent effect a momentary and passing interest. Yet, judged by the numbers who have made an open profession of Christianity, the results of seventy years' missionary enterprise, in the governorship of Bengal alone, are pronounced by the severest critics to be not "very inadequate," while evidence year by year accumulates that the seed sown "by all waters," with no immediate token of success, is now bearing fruit, and, in remarkable ways, exhibiting its undying life.

The reports of the missionaries continue to show, as in former years constant and assiduous efforts to reach every class of the community.

The streets, roads, markets, fairs, and festivals have, as usual, been visited, and vast numbers of people have listened with more or less attention to the Word of God. In a few places, as in Allahabad, efforts are being made, both by Hindus and Mussulmans, to stem the rising tide. At the last mela, a Brahmin priest turned out to preach on several occasions. It is an unprecedented event for a Brahmin to stand forth and address the vulgar crowd. "The idea," says the Rev. J. D. Bate, "of the sacred person of a Brahmin standing on a heap of sand or rubbish and haranguing a seething mass of people, after the manner of a Christian padre, is, according to the ideas and practices of the people themselves, a shocking innovation; and innovation is more abhorrent than vice to a people so intensely conservative as the Hindu." The exasperation of failure, or the dread of the missionaries' success, even leads to personal assaults. On one occasion Mr. Bate was assailed and several savage blows inflicted from behind by a faquir. His books and tracts were scattered in all directions, the man shouting all the time "Kill him! kill him, he is a destroyer of our religion!" On another occasion a dozen of the followers of the False Prophet rushed fiercely through the crowd, threw off their garments, and raising their clubs high in the air threatened the missionary with death, if he dared to repeat what had been said. The threat was unheeded, and the truth was none the less fearlessly proclaimed. In some parts of Bengal—in Bikrampore—the Rev. Isaac Allen reports that the same spirit has shown itself. On the other hand, in Patna, where Islamism has long held sway, opposition has died away, and any display of hostility is frowned upon by the audiences who gather to hear the Word. In general, the reception of the preachers, whether native or European, is all that can be desired. "Without question," says the Rev. R. J. Ellis, of Jessore, "many are thinking about Christianity in this district;" and he mentions an instance where the individual referred to made no secret of his convictions, and even exhorted his neighbours and relatives to inquire into the truth of the Gospel. On one occasion he was surrounded for hours by a band of inquiring Mussulmans, who, with well-thumbed Bibles in their hands, discussed with him the doctrines of the Cross. "In those parts," he adds, "I sold many Scriptures, and had very large audiences wherever I preached."

CIRCULATION OF THE SCRIPTURES.

It is a very noticeable feature of the year's labours that, to a very large extent, in all parts of the field of our operations, the gratuitous distribution of tracts and scriptures has been abandoned, and great numbers are purchased, at a small price indeed, but with readiness and pleasure. Thus, of the 19,339 copies of various portions of the Sacred Scripture issued from our depository, Dr. Wenger says they were "not given gratis but sold." "This" says the Rev. G. H. Rouse, "is one of the many pleasing indications which we have of the readiness of the people of India to purchase portions of the Word of God. Although the price charged is extremely small (less than a halfpenny a copy,) yet it is sufficient to prevent the book being sold for waste paper, and it appears, therefore, to be a test of the sincerity of the desire felt by the purchasers to read it. It is very cheering that every year so many thousand copies of the Gospels are thus being sold in various parts of India,—probably nearly 100,000 portions of Scripture being sold annually by colportage agency, in addition to the sales from depositories, and in other ways." The Rev. R. J. Ellis reports that 1,290 copies of parts of the Scriptures have been sold in his district, many of them to Mussulmans. The books have mostly been sold by indigent Christians, who receive a small percentage on their sales. In all, upwards of £30 have been paid by purchasers of our books, in the course of the year, in this district alone. In the thirteen journeys taken by the Rev. W. A. Hobbs and his native assistants, 690 Gospels, and about 120 tracts, were sold in the district of Birbhoom. In Patna the proceeds of the sales have been sufficient to pay the salary of the colporteur and his travelling expenses. "I took with me," says the Rev. J. D. Eate, of Allahabad, "on each occasion, a bundle of our religious publications in the Hindi and Urdu languages, and sold a large number during the year, especially to the pilgrims who constantly flow through the heart of the city. I first preach and then offer the books for sale. On one occasion I sold, within about seven or eight minutes, as many as sixty-six pice-worth. It is greatly encouraging to reflect on the extent of good that may be accomplished, by these heralds of Divine mercy being carried by the people to their thousands of homes throughout the land."

This encouragement is justified by facts. Often, in the most singular way, persons are met with whose knowledge of the Scriptures shows that this mode of labour is not in vain in the Lord. The most remarkable instance in the year's reports, is an incident related by the Rev. R. Bion, of which an abstract may be given in the words of the native preacher Ram Kanta. It is now thirty years ago since a person called Sree Nath, in Bickrampore, professed to receive, in a way unknown to us, but probably by the falling of a Bible into his hands, a revelation of the names of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. He left two disciples, one of whom, Radha Krishna, continued the work of his predecessor. While preaching on the Baronee River, Ram Kanta met with one of his followers, by name Godadhar. In conversation this man thus explained his belief:—

“According to the command of Sree Nath, we are in the habit of reading the Bible and praying together and confessing Christ to be the Incarnate God. We believe in Him. By our prayers many diseased people get deliverance and have health restored. If any one among us is guilty of fornication or other grievous sin, we put him out of our congregation, according to the Apostle Paul's command; but if he forsakes his sin, we receive him again according to the Apostle's instructions.’

“Hearing all this, I (Ram Kanta) told him that there must be much that is false, mixed up with all this, and that the statement that Sree Nath and his disciples had received power to work miracles, cannot be correct. Upon this Godadhar said: ‘Your words are surely contrary to the Bible, because the Lord gave this promise: “Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.” Therefore, if the Lord is with His disciples, can they not work miracles?’ I (Ram Kanta) said a great deal to him, but he rejected all my words. At last Godadhar asked me, ‘Do you take medicine when you are ill?’ I replied, ‘Yes, if I am ill, I use medicine.’ Upon this he was distressed, and said, ‘You act against the Bible. Christ and His disciples never gave sick people medicine, and there is no permission given in the Bible anywhere to take medicine; it is rather forbidden.’ I asked him where it was forbidden? He said, ‘It is written in the Epistle of James v. 14 “Is any sick among you?” &c. By these words like as fornication and murder are forbidden, even so is the use of medicine forbidden. By taking medicine, when you are ill, you transgress an important command of Christ.’

“In this way, in conversing and arguing, the hour of eating arrived, and I invited him to dine with me, but when I told him that I ate meat, he refused to eat with me. He therefore went to the bazar and brought his eatables himself, and, after having eaten, said: 'It is written in the Bible, 1 Cor. viii. 13, "Wherefore, if meat make thy brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend."' On this account we eat no meat, because all the people around us would be offended by it.'

"Till late into the night did we converse together. The next day, early in the morning, while taking leave, he expressed the desire that if a preacher would come among them and live with them, they would feel very great pleasure. In this man's hands were the Psalms of David, and on the title page were these words written:—

1. " ' Obey God's commands.
2. " ' Walk in the true way.
3. " ' Search the Scriptures.' "

In the views expressed by Mr. Bion in his concluding remarks, the Committee fully concur:—

"No one would be more glad than myself, if such believing communities as seem to exist in and around Serajdabad should increase a hundredfold, have their own mode of worship and church government, and be left alone, provided they walk according to the Gospel. It has been for some years past and shall be my care for the future, to apply no further test to professing converts than that of faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, manifested by the forsaking of idolatry and sin, in order that they may not be burdened or discouraged by "the traditions of men," such as the eating of meat and the forsaking of their homes and villages unnecessarily."

BIBLICAL TRANSLATION.

In the work of Biblical translation, Dr. Wenger has been fully occupied in carrying through the press his revised editions of the Old and New Testaments in Bengali, with marginal references. The Annotated Gospels published last year are appreciated in many quarters, not only in Bengal but also in the outskirts. Encouraged by the reception of this work he has prepared notes in manuscript on the first nine chapters of the Acts. The inquiry for the Sanscrit Scriptures is also spreading. In reference to this gratifying fact, Dr. Wenger writes:—"Quite recently I heard from an old man of respectable standing in native society, who, though not himself a Brahmin, is on very friendly terms with some Brahmin pundits of his town or village, that a remarkable interest had been excited in their minds by the perusal of a copy, or a few copies, of the Psalms in Sanscrit, printed in the Bengali character which he had given to them. He himself is a Christian, though only of two or three years standing. To my astonishment I found that he had committed to memory, and proceeded to recite to me, about one-third of the 51st Psalm in Sanscrit." In the Lepcha language, spoken by the people of Sikkim, near Darjeeling, in the Himalayas, an edition of the Gospel of John has been issued, and the book of Genesis is in the press. Besides these, editions of the Gospels in Bengali, in a separate form, have been printed for the British and Foreign Bible Society, and Mr. Rouse has also prepared the Gospels, with explanations of the difficult foreign words, and a Biblical commentary on the text, for general use.

Besides an edition for our own Mission, printed under the care of Mr. Rouse and Mr. Etherington, the Committee have very gladly given their consent to a reprint of the admirable version of the New Testament in Hindi, the work of the late Rev. John Parsons, for circulation by the North India Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society. It is being carried through the press by the Rev. J. D. Bate, of Allahabad. Both Mr. Etherington and Mr. Bate have also been engaged in other literary and helpful work — Mr. Bate on a dictionary of the Hindi language, and Mr. Etherington on two grammars of that tongue, one of which has been adopted in the Government schools. At the request of the Conference which met in Calcutta in November last, Mr. Bate is preparing to enter on a new version of the Old Testament, to be executed on the same principles and in the same style as Mr. Parsons' New Testament. This arduous task will be the work of many years; but the Committee are happy to learn that it is committed to the hands of one whom his brethren regard as in all respects well qualified for its execution.

In a somewhat remarkable way, Divine Providence has brought to Mr. Bate's aid a pundit of great knowledge and learning. The history of this pundit is an interesting one. Three or four years ago he became known to the missionary, by an unflinching assertion at the preaching-place in the city, in the presence of crowded audiences, that the idolatrous practices of the Hindus were unauthorized by their most ancient sacred writings. It brought upon him unmeasured abuse, and, in consequence of his outspoken attacks on the popular system, his father, a very strict and learned Hindu, rendered his home intolerable. The following year, at the time of the festival, he reappeared in Allahabad, and pursued the same course of opposition to the religious customs and ideas of his countrymen. He then resolved to stay with the missionaries, and gave to Mr. Evans his two bronze idols as an indication of his abandonment of idolatry, though he continued to adhere to the Deistic philosophy as the most ancient form of Hinduism. At this time he went to reside with his wife and some members of his family in the Hindu part of the city, where he had to encounter the most violent personal assaults and the bitterest persecution. He soon after left Allahabad, and for nearly two years and a half it was not known what had become of him. In August last he came to Mr. Bate, dirty, weary, footsore, ill-clad, and covered with perspiration and dirt, having journeyed, without purse or scrip, two hundred and fifty miles to reach the missionary. In the interval, he had passed through the deepest affliction. He was discarded by his father. His brother's life had been sacrificed because of his affection for him. One of his father's wives, who showed favour to him, was mercilessly murdered by some unknown hand, by boiling oil being poured over her while she slept. Soon after his return he gave up his Brahminical thread in the presence of an assembly of natives met for Christian instruction and worship. Six weeks after, in company with Imam Masih, he went to fetch his wife and family, and on the last day of the year he was baptized in the presence of a large assembly. Laying aside his heathen name, he will henceforth be known as Shree Dhar Bishwasi. He possesses a thorough knowledge of the Sanscrit, which he speaks with remarkable fluency and power, and his acquaintance with the science, philosophy, and religion of the Hindus is of the most extensive kind. His attainments, consecrated to Christian work, will prove of the greatest value to Mr. Bate in the execution of the task he has undertaken.

THE NATIVE CHURCHES.

The movement commenced three years ago in the villages to the south of Calcutta, to secure the self-support of the churches, has thus far met with gratifying success. The fears expressed that many of the converts would be drawn away to other missions, in which such burdens are not imposed, have proved groundless. But the native evangelist, Romanath Chowdhry, is afraid that the impending famine will render some aid necessary in the present year. The greater portion of the crop has already been sold to pay the rent due, and the remainder will not suffice for the maintenance of many of the people throughout the year. The mere labourer will starve as soon as the working season is over, while the land set aside for the special support of their pastor has borne but a very meagre and inadequate crop. The cattle plague and fever epidemic have also visited them. In this extremity the Committee are happy to have it in their power, through the liberality of the churches, to render whatever aid may be required in this as well as in other parts of the stricken land.

The similar effort made in that part of the Jessore district which is under the superintendence of the Rev. Gogon C. Dutt, is being manfully sustained, with every hope of ultimate success, notwithstanding the oppression and litigious conduct of the zemindars.

In Delhi, the growth of the churches in independence and piety, the instruction of inquirers and candidates for baptism, and the propagation of the Gospel among the heathen, have been steadily kept in view, and with a very encouraging measure of success. The churches, now eight in number, with a membership of 180 persons, have for the most part conducted their own services, managed their own affairs, and paid their own expenses. There is much voluntary teaching, from house to house, among the heathen, carried on by the members. The new church formed at Subzi Mundi has erected a building to be used as a chapel and school-house, and not only has the cost been met by the people, but they have had the trust deed made out and registered in their own name. "The indirect influence of Christianity," adds the Rev. James Smith, "visible is in improved circumstances, better clothing, cleaner houses, and a growing desire for education. Experience proves in India, as well as elsewhere, that the religion of Jesus is a most effective instrument for civilizing and elevating the natives. There is no caste too low, and no degradation too deep, for the Gospel to reach."

It is with deep regret that the Committee feel themselves constrained to notice the intrusion of the missionaries of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel both into Delhi and the district of Backergunge, and their interference with the discipline of the churches and the movements of our missionary brethren occupying these fields. By this course the agents of that Society break through the well understood rule which has hitherto been observed by all other missionary bodies; and by their assumption of superior authority, by the claim of a false apostolic commission, by their contempt of the principles of church order prevalent in other Christian churches, and by their unwarranted denunciations of the validity of the ordinances as administered by other communities, they introduce schisms into the body of Christ, and cause the enemy to blaspheme by the disorders and contentions they encourage. The Committee cannot but hope that the Directors of the Society to which these missionaries belong, will see it their duty to check this unadvised zeal, and to withdraw them from the places into which, without any necessity whatever, they have ventured to intrude. The field is the world, and there are vast regions in India itself, to say nothing of other lands, where as yet the Gospel has not been preached, and where Christian labour may well be bestowed.

CONFERENCE OF MISSIONARIES.

In the last week of November, the Annual Meeting of the Missionary Conference was held in Calcutta. On this occasion the brethren of the North-West Provinces united in deliberation with those of Bengal. The meeting was, in all respects, a gratifying one. The presence of the Master was felt. Much harmony of sentiment, and agreement on all practical questions, were exhibited. Among the more important subjects which received attention may be mentioned:—the education of native Christians; the best way of diffusing Biblical knowledge among the Churches; the new Bengali Hymn Book; the evangelization of the Mahomedans of Eastern Bengal; the revision of the Old Testament in the Hindi language, the training of those who are desirous of becoming evangelists in connection with the Society; the acceptance of candidates for that work; and especially the desirability of giving some of our advanced native preachers a more independent position. The conclusions of the Conference, on these various points, have been approved by the Committee, and much attention has been given by them to the rules which should govern the appointment of native brethren to independent spheres of operation, as home missionaries acting under the immediate direction of the Committee. Three brethren already stand in this relation to the Society—the Revds. Goolzar Shah, Gogon C. Dutt, and Tarachurn Banerjea. The Committee have now accepted the services of their brother, Romanauth Chowdhry, and two more have been received on a two years' probation. The duties of these brethren will be the same as those of the European missionaries. They will act as evangelists, and be so placed as to occupy a sufficiently wide field in which their resources, energies, and gifts may have full play. It will be their object, as missionaries, to organise their converts into churches, and, for awhile, to exercise a general supervision over the communities thus established. In no case will they undertake the pastorate of churches, except by the express sanction of the Committee. There is every reason to hope that the activity of our native brethren will, by this means, receive a fresh stimulus, and, at the same time, a still wider circle of operations will be brought within reach of the Society's resources

THE BENGAL FAMINE.

The last months of the year have been overshadowed by the dread and the deepening shadows of the famine now threatening some of the fairest provinces of Bengal. Millions of people, from the loss or deficiency of their crops, must inevitably suffer the pangs of hunger in the extremest form, except in so far as they may be relieved by the energetic action of Government. The most vigorous measures are being taken by the Governor-General, and his coadjutors, to supply food in the famished districts, and there is reason to hope that, to a large extent, the worst results of starvation will be averted, and the grim march of want and famine be stayed. With, perhaps, the exception of Dinajpore, it is probable that the districts in which our native Christians reside will not be called upon to bear that extreme severity of want, which must befall other less favoured parts. But the rise in the price of rice, and other articles of food, will entail upon them great distress. The savings of years must be sacrificed to procure provisions, the stipends of the native pastors and preachers will be inadequate to meet their absolute wants, seed for the next sowing must be procured at great cost, and there are yet months to elapse before the season of a new harvest will come round. Assured of these circumstances, the Committee lost no time in appealing to their friends to furnish them with the means to supply the necessities of their brethren in the East. The response has been one of the most generous description, and in the five weeks which followed the issue of the appeal, no less a sum than £3,126 was placed in the treasurer's hands. It has come from churches and individuals of every grade; from quarters in which our general operations find little support, and with expressions of sympathy which largely increase the value of the gift. It has not trenchanted in any degree on the ordinary sources of the Society's income, and it may be regarded as a pure, generous, and cheerful offering of fraternal affection from the Christians of this country to their tried and afflicted brethren in the East. Let it be the earnest prayer of the churches that this dire calamity may lead multitudes to reflect on the follies and wretchedness of idolatry, and on the worthlessness of the gods they serve. May they be led by it to return to the Shepherd and Bishop of souls in whom alone there is eternal life.

CEYLON.

Although the missionaries report that the additions to the churches are not so large as usual, there has been a considerable increase in the amount of work done, and, aided by local gifts, a new district, called Saffragam, has been drawn within the circle of our evangelistic effort. The field cultivated by the Baptist Mission in the western and north-western province of the island, is a region containing a population of over 530,000 souls. "If the great work of evangelisation," remarks the Rev. H. R. Pigott, "does not seem to advance so rapidly as some could wish, let it be remembered that the true missionary aims at depth and solidity in his operations, rather than extensive superficiality." That the success aimed at is secured, is evident from the steady growth of the churches in numbers, in intelligence, in devotedness to the Saviour, and in their increasing liberality. Fifteen churches have been established in the districts under Mr. Pigott's charge, with a membership of five hundred and seventy-nine persons. During the year a new chapel has been opened at Medampe. It originated in 1869, in the desire expressed by the inhabitants that a station should be formed there, the Modeliar of the district heading the deputation that sought the missionary's assistance, and liberally contributing towards the erection of the building. The ground, worth £100, was given by four gentlemen, and the foundation was laid by the Rev. F. D. Waldock, on the 21st July, 1870. The cost of the structure has been £380, the greater part of which has already been contributed by those who will enjoy the ministration of the Gospel within its walls.

The liberal rules laid down by the Government have greatly stimulated the growth of education, and enabled the missionaries largely to increase the number of the schools under their supervision. Twenty-three boys' schools and seventeen for girls, containing an aggregate of 2,136 children, give to those who resort to them the ordinary amount of secular learning, and from time to time they receive earnest instruction in the truths of the Gospel. Many of the members of the churches have in the past been brought to the knowledge of Christ in the schools, and it may confidently be hoped that similar fruit will be gathered in the years to come.

In the Kandy district, the labours of the native brethren have been actively pursued, some additions have been made to the churches, and the very considerable amount of their contributions shows the interest felt by the members in the cause of Christ. The chief part of the time of the Rev. C. Carter has been occupied in completing the revision of his new version of the Old Testament, and in carrying it through the press. The first four books of the Pentateuch have been printed, and Genesis has already been put into circulation. "All who have been in the habit," says Mr. Carter, "of using our New Testament, are glad of this instalment of the Old," and many of the members are subscribing to obtain copies of the entire volume when it is complete. The version will no doubt have to pass through the fire of criticism, but only to perfect its form, and to enable Mr. Carter to remove from it such blemishes as may yet remain. It is, beyond question, a great improvement on every previous translation of God's Word in this difficult tongue.

The following incident, related by the native pastor at Gampola, well illustrates the way in which the futility of idolatry is sometimes brought home to the mind. Among his inquirers is a man whom he met during a visit to the village in which he resides. "In conversation, he said that the god of their temple was a fearful and mighty god, and that none but the priest of the temple could remove the food set before his image without suffering instant death, and asked me if I would remove it. I said that that is not a god, and his belief was false, and that if he obtained permission from the priest, I would not only remove the food offered to the devil (or god), but treat it in any way without fear. He went to obtain permission, and, after keeping me waiting a long time, came back and said the devil must have seen that Christians can do it, but none of any other religion. From that time he began to inquire into religion, and I gave him a tract on Buddhism, which shook him so much that he showed it to a number of priests, and tried other means to get it answered, but could not. He now attends the chapel, although he lives four miles away."

The Committee have been happy to welcome home the Rev. F. D. Waldock, after several years of devoted service. So soon as his health and that of his family will allow, he will renew his active and useful labours in the sphere to which he has consecrated his life.

CHINA.

During the past year the Rev. T. Richard has made several interesting journeys into the interior of the province of Shantung, of which Chefoo, where the missionaries reside, is the seaport. At Ninghai, twenty miles from Chefoo, the hostility of the people is stated to be intense. Annoyances of every sort were employed to hinder people from visiting the missionary. A league, indeed, had been formed, sealed by a solemn vow, not to allow a foreigner to visit the place in peace. At Laiyang, a large city eighty miles to the south, the missionary's reception was of a totally different character. Two intelligent priests there freely discussed with him the respective merits of Christianity and Buddhism. One man, after hearing an address in the street, followed the missionary to his home with the questions, What must a man do to be accepted with God? Why should Christ need to die for mankind? At a later period of the year he was baptized by the native pastor, Ching, in Chefoo. Other two men were found to have given up the worship of their ancestors and of their idols, and were in the habit of saying grace before meals. Though weak in faith, of their sincerity Mr. Richard had no doubt. Two miles from the city an individual of the name of Lew was visited, or whose table lay three books—the Scriptures, and the Confucian and Taouist writings. He said they were all true. Much conversation ensued, and, later in the year, this individual was also admitted by Ching into the Christian Church. In the autumn, a visit of several weeks' duration was paid to Chenanfoo, the capital of the province, 300 miles from Chefoo, at the time when many thousands of young men were there for the secular and military examinations. Mr. Richard enjoyed many opportunities of usefulness, especially among the military; and after two months of daily instruction, he had the satisfaction of baptizing a young lieutenant, a native of the province of Honan. Mr. Richard remarks that the home idea of a church requires to be modified when applied to China. Groups of Christians are to be met with here and there, but, as a rule, a church is not a number of people meeting together for worship. It consists of individuals "who worship God as taught by one book, pervaded by one spirit, and separated, as some of our members are, by more than a thousand miles. Our hope and prayer is, that these scattered members will, in process of time, leaven their neighbours with the Spirit of our Lord. All of them have to bear their cross when they leave the faith of their fathers. Brethren, realise their position, and pray for them in their struggles." The Church thus constituted now numbers fifty members, seven of whom were baptized during the year.

Dr. Brown reports that 2,869 persons have this year received medical treatment at his hands, 510 of them in his visits to the country. About forty were indoor patients during the few months there was accommodation for them. To a few pupils, Dr. Brown has given instruction in medicine, and, lately especially, to the native pastor, Ching. For the religious instruction given at the dispensary, he has been chiefly indebted to the Rev. Mr. Hartwell, of the American Baptist Mission, and his assistants. Dr. Brown calls especial attention to the enslaving and besotting power of opium-smoking, which is gradually but surely sapping the foundations of Chinese life. Bad as is the proneness to disease that this vice engenders, the physical wreck is of light moment compared with the utter moral ruin wrought by opium. Yet it afflicts almost every rank; the only class remaining nearly free from the vice being the agriculturists, who, fortunately, as a rule, are too poor to buy the drug.

AFRICA.

The truce between the Bell and A'kwa towns has continued for the most part unbroken, so that the missionaries have been able with safety to carry on their Christian labours. For several months the Rev. A. Saker was prostrated with illness, and at length was constrained to leave for home. Though shattered in constitution, the veteran missionary indulges the hope that he may yet penetrate farther into the interior of the country, and, assisted by younger hands, build up among other tribes the kingdom of our Lord. The Rev. R. Smith has also sought in this country the health which several years of labour had seriously impaired. The Rev. J. Fuller, at Mortonville, is greatly encouraged by the numerous attendance of the people, some of whom have been baptized, and he has nearly completed the new chapel, for which funds were furnished him by the churches of Jamaica, on his recent visit to his native home. The new station on the Cameroons Mountain proves to be a spot of great salubrity. The Rev. Q. W. Thomson, after encountering great difficulties from the want of roads and the wild nature of the district, has completed the erection of his house, and commenced the acquisition of the language spoken by the people. They are not very numerous, but are found scattered about in considerable numbers in small hamlets on the mountain side. At Victoria, steady progress has been made. The colony slowly increases in population, among whom in the early part of the year a revival of religious interest took place. Happily, the locality of our mission has been spared the fatal epidemic which has swept away so many Europeans and missionaries in other rivers of the coast. Though sickness has rarely been absent, the gracious Providence of God has guarded the lives of all who are labouring in the Gospel on the Cameroons.

WEST INDIES.

The eight churches which have been formed as the result of the labours of the Society's missionaries in Trinidad, now contain 500 members, of whom fifty-seven were baptized in the year now closed. Six of the churches are formed in the settlements in the interior, while those in Port of Spain and San Fernando, the principal towns of the island, make up the residue. It is gratifying to observe the zeal of the native pastors..

the liberality of the churches in their support, and the active exertions they have put forth to provide themselves with suitable structures for Divine worship. The general supervision of the whole mission falls very heavily on the Rev. W. H. Gamble, our sole missionary in the island; and it is most desirable that a colleague should speedily be found for him. "On Tuesday," he says, referring to only one instance in his active life, "I rode twenty miles, was in the river (baptizing) forty-five minutes, and had a service from 11 to 2.30. While I am strong, I rejoice in doing this, and much more; but if I fail, or become unable to endure such fatigue, I do not see how the work is to be done. I will do it with all my heart as long as I can, but there is no one here to take my place." The Committee venture to hope that they may be able, ere long, to render the help so earnestly desired, and so necessary for the welfare of the mission in this improving island.

Sixteen islands form the centres of the evangelical efforts that have issued in the formation of numerous churches in the groups of islands which stud the Great Bahama Bank. These communities are only occasionally visited by the missionaries. Their regular religious instruction, their discipline, and the administration of the ordinances of the Gospel, are the work of a body of native pastors raised up upon the spot. The number of members falls scarcely short of 3,500, and the proportion of the entire population attached to the mission is about one-third. With two or three exceptions, their places of worship, though often of a very humble character, have been erected by themselves, and their gifts suffice for the wants of the pastors who watch over them. In order to allow the Rev. J. Davey greater opportunities for visiting the islands of the northern and southern districts, the Committee have invited the Rev. W. N. Brown, a student of the Calabar College, Kingston, Jamaica, and late pastor of the churches in Green Island and Fuller's Field, to join him as his colleague in the oversight of the church in Nassau, and they anticipate that, in the course of a month or two, he will have arrived in New Providence for this purpose. In the early part of the year, Mr. Davey visited Puerto Plata and the Turk's Islands at the request of the Committee, and his report encourages them to carry forward the plan of extending their work in the island of San Domingo. This object will be included within the range of Mr. Davey's labours. In Inagua, the chief island of the central district, the Rev. W. Littlewood continues to reap the reward of his diligent labours. "The native pastors," he states, "have given great satisfaction, and have not laboured in vain. Upon the whole, we find ample encouragement to press forward in the work of our adorable Master, and we beg an interest in your continued sympathies and prayers."

The hopes indulged in with respect to Hayti, in the appointment of the Rev. Joseph Hawkes to occupy the post of our late estimable missionary, the Rev. W. H. Webley, have met with disappointment, to the deep regret of the Committee. The complete failure of Mr. Hawkes' health rendered his return to this country absolutely necessary. In this strait, the Committee have turned their attention to Jamaica for a supply of labourers. For some time past there has been a desire among the churches there to establish a mission in Hayti, and proposals to this end were laid before the Committee some months ago, by the Revds. B. Millard and J. E. Henderson. The way being now open, the Committee have applied to the Baptist Union of Jamaica, for one of their number to occupy the station at Jacmel, where he will be supported from the funds of the Society; while one of the churches at Clifton has offered to assist the Jamaica churches in the maintenance of a second missionary, to be under their direction, in a station contiguous and mutually helpful to the central station of the Society. The Committee rejoice in the missionary zeal of the churches of Jamaica, and will be glad if Hayti, as well as Africa, shall share their sympathies and Christian exertions. They would hail the time when all the islands of the West may be entirely relinquished to them as the sphere of their active evangelistic operations.

JAMAICA.

From Jamaica the Committee continue to receive the most gratifying information of prosperity and progress. In the census of 1871, not less than 112,604 persons were returned as Baptists—rather more than one-fifth, or $22\frac{1}{4}$ per cent., of the entire population, which is reported to have attained in that year to 506,154 souls. In the report presented at the Annual Meeting of the Jamaica Baptist Union in February last, the Union was found to embrace one hundred and ten churches, with a membership of 21,426 persons. Churches not connected with the Union, or which have made no return, bring up the number of members to over 24,000 individuals, the result of the labours of the missionaries of the Society. About three thousand more are seeking fellowship with the people of the Lord. The Union speaks with gratitude of the freedom from the inroads of death enjoyed by the pastorate of the churches during the year. Several of the pastors are advanced in years, and are suffering from the infirmities of age; one of them, the venerable James M. Phillippo, has reached the jubilee of his missionary life in Jamaica, but all are still able to labour for the spread of the Redeemer's Kingdom. The Committee have rejoiced to aid the Rev. E. Millard to enter upon the pastorate of the churches at Gurney's Mount and Mount Peto, by contributing the cost of his outfit and passage, while they have continued to sustain, from the fund raised for the purpose, the two brethren, Messrs. Williams and Rees, sent out two years ago. The returns of the year show that 1,277 persons have been baptized into Christ, and that there is a clear increase of 726 in the fellowship of the churches. The losses by death have been considerable, and the exclusions have been somewhat larger than last year. Drougths and floods have, in some measures, affected the congregations. Still, the churches are actuated by a spirit of hopefulness, and their reports speak of good, often crowded, attendance, on the public worship of God. "Peace, love, and harmony are enjoyed by the large majority; backsliders are seeking restoration, and inquirers are coming forward to be enroled." Much liberality has been shown in many of the churches in respect to building operations, as well as in the contributions to the support of the Gospel, both at home and abroad. "On the whole," says the Report in its conclusion, "we may well take courage, and resolve, if our lives be spared, to carry on our Master's work during the next twelve months with earnestness, hopefulness, and ardour. The fathers and founders of the Mission have passed away; a younger generation has so completely stepped into their places, that there remain on the Island only three Baptist Missionaries that ever preached to slaves. These three, and a few others who entered the field at the commencement of partial freedom in 1834, are all advanced in years, and must soon cease from their labours and enter into rest. In these happier days, our ministers, officers, and members of churches are at perfect liberty to spend, and be spent, in the cause of Christ, without let or hindrance, and should therefore at once and persistently put forth all their energies that the inhabitants of the land in which God has cast our lot, may become, throughout its entire length and breadth, a people consecrated to the service of the Lord. Our predecessors went forth weeping, bearing precious seed—seed which lay long buried in the dust. In due time the seed sprang up: our eyes have beheld some stages of its growth; the other stages are fully assured to us; for the Scripture cannot be broken. The work must go on, and long, perhaps, after our heads have been laid beneath the clods of the valley, other husbandmen shall come in at the maturity of the grain, and they—

Will shout to see the harvest yield
A welcome load of joyful sheaves."

CAIABAR COLLEGE.

The work, both of the College and the Church in East Queen Street, Kingston, has proceeded, without interruption, and there have been evident tokens of the Master's promised presence and blessing. Seven theological students and fifteen Normal School students have been under training. The High School has numbered fifty-six scholars in average attendance. The Day School, from various causes, has fluctuated, and the attendance, on the whole, has not been equal to that of former years. Of the Normal School students, six have completed their term of residence in the Institution, and are already engaged in keeping schools in connection with the mission churches. In almost every instance the schoolmasters are also employed either as preachers or in conducting Sunday services for their respective ministers. Of the Theological students, one is desirous of devoting himself to missionary service in Hayti, and another in Africa. For the coming session three applications for admission are before the Committee in the theological department, and seven for the Normal School department. The complement of students will therefore be maintained in both sections of the Institution. The Committee greatly rejoice in the growing value of the important work in which the Rev. D. J. East and the Rev. J. S. Roberts are engaged, and gratefully recognise the self-devotion and consecration of these esteemed brethren to the advancement of the churches in Jamaica, both in secular and sacred learning. Every year adds to the number and fitness of the native pastorate for the service of the churches, and establishes the great value of the Institution which, for nearly thirty years, the Society has sustained.

BRITTANY.

Notwithstanding the obstacles, legal and otherwise, existing to the spread of divine truth in this portion of France, there are various circumstances which encourage the missionaries to hope for some marked evidence of divine blessing on their efforts. Past labours have not been in vain. "It is an unmistakable fact," says the Rev. A. Jenkins, "that Romanism is on the wane, even in Lower Brittany. A deep feeling of animosity against the clergy now pervades its population, formerly so devoted to its priests; and, whilst old prejudices give way, a spirit of inquiry has set in, which leads us to hope great things." In the villages visited around Morlaix, Mr. Jenkins has met many interesting proofs of the facts stated. At Caer Brâd, a hamlet of seven or eight farms, he met with a most pleasing reception. On a recent occasion, the house being too small for the number resorting to the meeting, he preached in an adjoining field. Since 1848, open-air preaching in Brittany has been unknown, and the law still forbids it. Other villages have afforded Mr. Jenkins a similar hearty welcome. He especially mentions the aid he has received from a gentleman, two years ago a priest, but who now, in the face of the bitter opposition of his friends, openly and boldly proclaims the truth as it is in Jesus. In Morlaix, besides improved congregations in the chapel, a series of well-attended meetings have been held in private houses, and many Roman Catholics have gladly availed themselves of these opportunities for hearing the Gospel, who would not venture to attend the public worship of God.

The report of Mr. Lecoat, at Tremel, is of a similarly encouraging nature; and the Rev. V. Bouhon informs the Committee that, in St. Brieuc, increasing attention has been given to the Word of Life. Two or three interesting cases of conversion have much cheered him in his exertions. The young, as well as those of mature age, have witnessed to the power of the Gospel to save and sanctify the soul.

NORWAY.

The additions to the churches in Norway have been numerous, forty-two persons having put on Christ in baptism. In seventeen towns and villages, little bands of believers exist, numbering in the whole 378 persons. In addition to the five brethren more or less sustained by the Society, six others render assistance in preaching the Word. For the most part, the people are very poor, and find great difficulty, on account of the cost, in renting suitable rooms for worship. This, in their judgment, very much retards the spread of divine truth. In Krageroe, Skien, and Trondhjem, the want of chapels is very much felt, and the brethren are often put to great shifts to provide places adapted to their need. In Tromsøe, a good chapel has been erected, and the cause is very prosperous. A still better building has been erected in the large and important city of Bergen, at a cost of £1,302. The sum of £794 was collected by Mr. Hubert in England, and £71 by the friends in Bergen. The debt still left on the building is £437, which has been borrowed at interest. The structure contains a dwelling-house for Mr. Hubert, in addition to an excellent hall for worship. It was opened for Divine service in the month of August. Sixteen persons have been added to the church during the year. "The old year," says Mr. Hubert, "passed out, and the new one came in with great joy for us. We have much reason to feel how great debtors we are to His grace who worketh after His own good will and pleasure. He has done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

ROME.

Although the Committee have received no detailed report from the Rev. James Wall, they have been made fully aware from various quarters of the zeal, assiduity, and success with which Mr. Wall pursues his labours. The divine blessing has been largely poured out, and a considerable number of persons have professed their faith in Christ, and been united to the Church. The prospects of usefulness are in the highest degree encouraging, and the Committee are happy to state that, through the generous kindness of G. T. Kemp, Esq., and other friends, the want of a suitable place for meeting, and a residence for the missionary, is likely ere long to be supplied. The Committee feel greatly indebted to Mr. Kemp for the interest he has taken in this matter. Mrs. Wall continues to distribute large quantities of scriptures and tracts, while the preaching of the Cross continually proves its power to save them that believe. The deep interest and importance which attaches to Mr. Wall's work in Rome will secure for it, what it deserves, the profound sympathy and the devout prayers of the churches "which are in Christ Jesus" at home.

FINANCES.

Encouraged by the reception given to their proposal in the last Annual Report, the Committee lost no time in seeking and accepting the services of several candidates for missionary work. The estimated expenditure of the Society was at the time about £2,000 a-year in advance of the ordinary receipts. The necessity, however, of rendering aid to the brethren in India was so urgent that, relying on the promises of God, the Committee resolved to proceed. The issue has justified their faith. In reporting on the financial operations of the year, the Committee will first speak of the outlay. The total expenditure has been £34,640 1s., an excess of £2,093 1s. 2d. over that of last year. This increase is chiefly in India, where the additional cost of the expansion of the Mission has amounted to £1,144 3s. 6d. The sum of £480 more than last year has also been called for, to meet the expense of the various translations that have been in hand and at press.

If attention be now given to the sources of income by which the Committee have been enabled to meet this expenditure, we find that last year there was received from the Bible Translation Society the sum of £1,240, for the repayment of the expense of the African version, for which no corresponding amount appears in this year's account. This is also the case with an amount of £356 7s. 3d. received for interest from the Court of Chancery on Nicholl's legacy. In considering this year's receipts, the absence of these amounts must be remembered, for the deductions thus made from last year's income had to be provided for, as well as the chronic disparity of £4,000 between the ordinary expenditure and the receipts. The Committee are happy to say that this has very nearly been accomplished, and, notwithstanding the large deficit thus to be apprehended, the expenditure of the year has been met within £690 11s. 11d.

The actual amount received on the general account proves to be £33,949 9s. 1d.—that is, £3,054 16s. 3d. in advance of last year. On analysing this increase, we find that £1,962 6s. 9d. more than the year previous has been sent up by the churches, whose growing interest in our work cannot be more emphatically expressed. The sum of £500 has come from the Birmingham Auxiliary as their Jubilee Offering towards the cost of the new missionaries; £264 2s. 2d. from the Calcutta press; and the remainder consists of various small items for special purposes.

From the cash account it will appear that while the sum received on the general account, as already stated, has been £33,949 9s. 1d., the Treasurer has also received £2,147 16s. 4d. on account of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund—an increase of £379 10s. 8d.; on account of special objects, £1,031 13s. 8d.; and for the Bengal Famine Fund, £3,126 18s. 8d. The grand total of receipts is, therefore, £40,255 17s. 9d.—the largest income ever enjoyed by the Society.

It will be observed that there has this year been no addition to the Legacy Fund, the sums received under this head having to be supplemented by a sale of consols, amounting to £264 0s. 8d., to make up the average sum to be appropriated to general purposes. There is a slight increase of expenditure over receipts on the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, so that the fund is indebted to the Treasurer £389 14s. 3d. The annual growth of this fund leads the Committee to expect that the balance against it will next year be swept away.

There has also been an increase of £353 0s. 11d. in the cost of publications. This is accounted for by the issue of 5,000 copies of Dr. Underhill's little work, entitled "Christian Missions in the East and West," and the enlargement and increased circulation of the Missionary Herald. The diffusion of missionary information is essential to the cultivation of the missionary spirit, and the Committee have no doubt that the growing interest of our people, evinced in their contributions, is largely owing to the measures they have adopted for this purpose.

This review of the year is calculated to awaken our deepest gratitude to the Master, whom we endeavour, however feebly, to serve. The hopes with which the year began have been more than realised, and, through the good hand of God upon us, the field everywhere presents the most pleasing prospects. Two of the oldest associates of the Committee the Rev. J. H. Hinton, M.A., and the Rev. Dr. Leechman, have been called to their reward on high; others are nearing the river which divides the battle-plain from the scene of their future joy; but amidst all changes and vicissitudes the kingdom of our Lord makes progress, and we think we see the dawn of the day in which the Sun of Righteousness shall brighten every land with its beams, and all nations become subject to the Prince of Peace.

REPORTS FROM THE STATIONS.

THE following summary, taken from the reports of each station, and, for the most part, in the words of the Missionaries themselves, contains as complete a view as practicable of the individual exertions of the Missionaries during the past year : —

INDIA.

I.—CALCUTTA.

Missionaries.—J. WENGER, D.D.,

C. B. LEWIS, G. KERRY,

G. H. ROUSE, M.A.

The population of Calcutta was found to consist of 447,601 persons by the census of 1872, of whom 21,356 were stated to be Christians. The suburbs of Calcutta contain 285,910 persons.

1.—Biblical Translations.

Dr. Wenger has kindly furnished the following report :—

“In Hindi, a new edition—a reprint—of the New Testament is in the press, and 3,000 copies each of the Gospels by Matthew and Mark, and 7,500 copies by that of Luke have been printed ; a considerable portion of the latter being intended to be bound up with the Book of Acts. These reprints are carried through the press by Messrs. Rouse and Etherington. The latter intends preparing an annotated edition of the Gospels in Hindi, similar to that in Bengali.

“I have devoted my time chiefly to the revision of the latter part of the Bengali Bible, for the edition which is now being printed. The Old Testament was finished, I believe, in July or August ; and, since then, I have once more revised the New, which is in type (this day, February 27th) to the end of Hebrews, but not yet printed off beyond the middle of the 3rd chapter of that Epistle. I have again received very valuable aid from Mr. Rouse, and also from Mr. Ellis, and, in some parts, also from Mr. Jordan. I trust by the end of March the whole will be in type ; but April will have set in before the whole is finished at press.

“There have been reprinted (Mr. Rouse relieving me of all the labour of superintending reprints) in Bengali, separate editions of the following parts of Scripture :—Mark, 10,000 copies, and Acts, 7,500 copies, of which one-third will be bound up with Luke. These 17,500 copies of Bengali, and the above-mentioned 13,500 of Hindi portions of Scripture, are all that have been printed during the year. The issues from our depository have amounted to 19,339 copies, which were not given gratis, but sold.

“Apart from the literary work connected with Biblical translation, I have brought out a new edition of our Bengali hymn book. I was very reluctant to undertake this task, which ought by rights to have been reserved for Mr. Pearce, who had edited the first two editions, and incorporated in them many hymns of his own composition. But the need of a new edition being urgent, and, at that time, the return, or, at least, the time of the return, of Mr. Pearce, being uncertain, I felt bound to accede to the directions of the Conference. The new edition contains upwards of a hundred more hymns than the second did, yet the number of pages is the same, or rather somewhat less. I never did set up for a poet, so that with the exception of three hymns on baptism, the collection contains next to nothing that is of my own composition. But I succeeded in bringing to light some good old hymns that were buried in old tracts or magazines; and I obtained upwards of sixty new ones from native brethren. More than half of these are from the pen of a young man named Aziz Bari, originally the son of one of Mr. Anderson's converts, whose Christian character, alas! is, or has been, unstable as water, but who, I believe, possesses the real gift of poetry. His hymns are all adapted to elaborate native metres and corresponding tunes, which seemed to promise for them a very favourable reception.

"I adopted very few of his compositions, except about thirty paraphrases of Psalms. I feel sure that some of his productions will live.

"I have also brought out, and just finished, a new edition of the first part of Dr. Yates's 'Introduction to Bengali,' rewriting more than half the volume, so as to adapt it to the requirements of the present time. I regret to say that the volume, in spite of very severe care in proof reading, is disfigured by numerous typographical errors. The cause of this I could easily explain, but there is no need of doing it. The volume is complete in itself, containing a full vocabulary, so that I hope it will really be a great help to learners."

2.—The Work of the Mission Press.

The Rev. G. H. Rouse thus describes the work in which he has been engaged:—

"On the departure for England of Mr. Lewis, on March 1, I took charge of the press, and have remained here since then. My chief work consists in the general superintendence of the press, the financial business of our Indian Mission, and correspondence with the Home Committee in reference to the general interests of the mission.

"We have printed separate Scriptures for the Calcutta Auxiliary Bible Society. The printing for that society of the new revised edition of the Bengali Bible, proceeds pari passu with the edition which is being brought out for the Bible Translation Society, with marginal references and readings.

"We have also printed for the Bible Society separate editions in Bengali of Matthew, Luke, and Proverbs. Although last May we printed 5,000 copies of the Gospel of Matthew in Bengali, yet we are (at the beginning of January) just commencing a new edition, the greater part of the 5,000 copies having been already issued from the depository for sale.

"We have also brought out an edition of John, and are printing one of Genesis, in the Lepcha language, which is spoken by the people of Sikkim, near Darjeeling, in the Himalaya region. During the year we printed, for Dr. Murdoch, 500 copies of 'Statistics of Indian Missions at the end of 1871.' The whole edition is exhausted, and it is under consideration whether a new edition should not be printed. The printing of Mr. Lewis's deeply interesting memoir of John Thomas, Carey's coadjutor, was completed at the early part of the year. For our own mission we have brought out a new edition of the Bengali Hymn Book under the editorship of Dr. Wenger and Mr. Goolzar Shah. By economising space, 120 additional hymns have been added to the selection, without increasing its bulk.

"The annotations and appendices to the Gospels intended for distribution, which the Committee three years ago requested me to prepare, are now nearly finished. Mark, Luke, and Acts, have been published with them. John is now passing through the press. Matthew has been published with the appendix, but not without annotations. These notes are almost exclusively explanatory of the meaning of words like pharisee, cross, passover, which to the heathen reader can convey no meaning whatever. The appendices consist of a selection of passages of scripture, giving a condensed view of the way of life through Christ. The Hindi Gospels, which we are printing (Matthew, Mark, and Luke are already finished), contain the same appendices in the Hindi language.

"On Mr. Lewis's departure I also took from his hands the editorship of the Christian Spectator, a monthly magazine representing Baptist views in India.

"During the absence of Mr. Goolzar Snah at Simla, I have, at his request, preached once a month in Bengali at the Colinga chapel, and administered the Lord's Supper. Now and then I have been able to take my turn at the preaching-shed at the corner of Colinga-street, and made known the Gospel to the passers-by; but I have found but little leisure or strength for this, in addition to other work.

3.—Work in Calcutta.

Mr. Kerry reports:—

"The Gospel has been preached regularly in many parts of the city and in the suburbs. The congregations gathered have varied in number from ten to 150, though occasionally the numbers have been greater. Of late years a change in the style of preaching has very generally been made. The preaching now is marked by more full and direct enforcement of the Gospel, its message and invitations, and by less of attack upon Hinduism and Mahommedanism. The consequence is, that there is somewhat less of noisy and disorderly discussion, especially with the Hindu hearers. The Mussulmans still frequently interrupt the preaching, showing special dislike to the doctrine that Jesus is the Son of God; but, on the whole, I think their opposition to the preaching is less bitter than it was. It is not possible to speak more hopefully of the results of the preaching this year than in former years. There have been interesting and hopeful inquirers, but they hang back from final decision for Christ; and I fear that a hindrance to the spread of the Gospel is found in the low religious state of the Christian community. There is a large and ever-increasing number of nominal native Christians, whose evil ways bring great discredit upon the Christian name among the heathen; and among the Christians of the better sort there is not, generally, a high standard of Christian piety. There is wanting, to a great extent, the power of a witnessing life to give force to the preaching in this city. This is a very disheartening fact, but I believe there are hopeful signs of a better state of things. There is a number, and an increasing number, of Bengali Christians who are men of faith, and holiness, and zeal, who lament the low state of religion among their brethren, and are seeking, by earnest prayer and effort, to secure a revival of religion among them. A quiet, but real religious movement has already commenced—to a great extent it is a voluntary movement—among the native brethren, which leads me to hope that we shall see a marked and pleasing change, and a manifest increase of power; in the native church, which will be felt in the heathen world of Calcutta."

Although Mr. Banerjea resides in Intally, his work is not confined to that suburb of Calcutta. He thus reports on his labours:—

"Twice a-week, as heretofore, I preach at Cornwallis-square Chapel, once a-week at the chapels at Bow Bazaar and Amherst-street, twice a-week again at the new chapel in the Circular-road belonging to our Auxiliary Society, and several times every week at the Mauláli Dargá. I occasionally preach near other streets also of this large town.

"Hindu, Mahomedan and Brahmo visitors, that now and then come to see me at my place hear the truth as it is in Jesus, and also the manifold reasons why we regard their respective systems of faith as the fabrication of man, and not the true religion of God.

"Last year I had five inquirers, but this year I do not see three of them. It is, indeed, very distressing to find that they do not persevere in their pursuit of a knowledge of divine truth, or that their zeal and patience in search of it soon die away.

"I have been cherishing many a fond hope of the son of a famous doctor in Calcutta. He seems to be earnest in his inquiry. He is a good Sanscrit scholar, well acquainted with English, and is now an advanced student in the Government Presidency College. I have spent much time and labour with him, and am prepared to do all I can for him, if only his zeal do not wax cold. I request you particularly to pray for him.

"My own eldest brother, who is a Government pensioner, and yet a Hindu belonging to the highest Brahmin class, and of the Koolin order, has begun to prosecute his inquiry after the religion of the Lord Je-us. His attainments in English do him much credit. He read many infidel works, had his mind saturated with the poison of infidelity, and took delight in scoffing at the name Christ and his holy religion. But I persevered for a long time in refuting a great many of his objections, and in persuading him to make a fair and rational inquiry into the grounds and claims of the Christian faith. And now I am thankful that I have at last succeeded in inducing him to judge for himself, and no longer to be guided by infidels. I have lately read to him about four hundred pages of some lectures, with a motive to enlighten him as to the futility and invalidity of infidelic objections, and to enable him clearly to perceive the overwhelming weight of irrefragable evidences, which demonstrate, by moral reasoning, the divine origin of the Bible of God.

"He is now studying Bishop Wilson's Lectures on the Evidences. His wife, an elderly Hindu lady of good understanding and excellent character, has also begun to inquire into the truth of our holy religion. She knows only Bengali. I have read portions of the Bible and several Christian tracts to her, which she heard with much interest; and she herself has read with profit and delight a good number of other Christian tracts.

"I have been able to visit several houses in and out of Calcutta, and to declare the Gospel to such persons as seldom or never hear a preacher either in a chapel or near a street. Many Hindus hear us now with better feelings than what they manifested some years ago.

"I feel very much the need of an able assistant. Mr. Greenway has left Calcutta for Dinapore, and Mr. Amanda C. Duffadar is soon to leave it for Cutwa. I had them as able coadjutors in the Lord's vineyard. I now find myself almost single-handed. Calcutta and its suburbs present a vast field for the constant engagement of many evangelists. I shall feel quite happy and very thankful to our Society in England, if I be favoured with a worthy assistant."

'4.—Zenana Work in Calcutta.

From the report of the Ladies' Association, we gather the following particulars:—

"It will be remembered that last year we lost the valuable superintendence of Mrs. Lewis, over the work in Calcutta, owing to her return home, and that Mrs. Robert Robinson very kindly undertook this labour on our behalf during her absence. The Committee have felt very sincere gratitude to her for the unwearied kindness and efficiency with which she has guided and sympathised with those who are so faithfully labouring there. Mrs. Dakin, Mrs. Sanders, and Miss Simpson have all been mercifully preserved in health during the year, and have, with fourteen native Christian women, been at work constantly. Our dear friend, Mrs. Lewis, is now amongst us, helping the Mission by her sympathy and prayers though debarred from more active service."

Mrs. Lewis thus mentions some of the results of their labours:—

"Some few weeks ago Mrs. Robinson (who is so kindly superintending the work for me in my absence) gave me the names of thirteen dear women who profess to have found the Saviour, and to rest their souls entirely with Him; and she went on to say: 'These thirteen women are giving us much pleasure and encouragement just now, and the ladies are striving to give them special instruction, so that they may be helped on in the rough and difficult path they have entered upon.'"

The following is an interesting case mentioned by Mrs. Sanders:—

"On Friday, the 30th January, I went to visit M——, taking with me three of Mrs. Kerry's school-girls, who were anxious to go into some Zenanas. After M—— had read a little, the girls sang some hymns, which pleased the women there very much, especially an old woman, a servant of M——'s; she was very much affected, and lifted up her hands and eyes, and thanked God that she had heard such sweet, comforting words. She went on to say: 'Lord, I am a poor, ignorant, foolish woman; I know nothing; I cannot read or write: only one thing I need—be Thou my Saviour. I cannot save myself; and I have lately heard that the Debtas cannot save me. God, I thank Thee that Thou hast brought me to this family. I knew nothing of the Saviour till I came here. God bless my good mistress for teaching me and reading to me: may she be the mother of many sons.' Then (after the Eastern custom—putting her forehead to the floor) she said to me, 'I thank you, Mém Sahib, again and again, for instructing me. I feel so happy to know that God will accept me, though I have been such a great sinner.' I asked her if she really liked to hear about Jesus. 'I could sit,' she said, 'all day without food to listen to these things.' I felt so rejoiced to know that M—— was not satisfied to receive Jesus herself only, but was bearing testimony for Him. Every night she sits for an hour reading, and talking to this servant of the joy and peace she has had, since she believed in Jesus."

II.—CHURCHES IN CALCUTTA.

1.—Circular Road.

Pastor, A. WILLIAMS.

Number of members, 169.

The pastor, the Rev. A. Williams, has forwarded to us the following report:—

"The past year has been one of much trial and difficulty, and I cannot be too thankful to God for His great goodness to us, as a Church, that we are what we are.

"The year commenced while we were striving to pay off a heavy debt incurred for repairs, and with the prospect before us of losing, by their departure for England, some of our best members. Foremost among these was our venerable senior deacon, Mr. J. B. Biss, who had been a member for forty-seven, and a deacon for over forty, years. Before his departure, a meeting was held, at the suggestion of the pastor, to commend him and other departing friends, to our Heavenly Father's care, and at this meeting a handsome gold watch and a gold chain with locket were presented to him as a token of gratitude and esteem. Other esteemed friends left us about the same time, or shortly after:—The Rev. C. B. Lewis and Mrs. and Miss Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Cutter, Mrs. Beeby and children, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Biss, Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Harman, Mrs. J. H. Belohambers and family, Mrs. Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Greiff, and Dr. and Mrs. Jones. Such an exodus has never occurred before, and when it is considered that our resident membership does not exceed 100, I am sure that the most experienced and strongest of faith among my brethren will sympathise with me.

"Early in the year two new deacons were elected, one to take up the work of Mr. Biss during his absence, and the other to meet the additional requirements of the Church. These two brethren, Mr. W. C. Fink and Mr. W. L. Wenger, especially the latter, who is our treasurer, have rendered most efficient service, and deserve, as they have, the warm regard of our brethren.

"We also lost the services of our young friend, Mr. Charles Gould Lewis, who had from the time an instrument was introduced, most efficiently presided at it, and conducted the singing. The Church placed on record an expression of our indebtedness to him; and the pastor, at the request of the Church, wrote to him a letter of thanks for his most valuable help.

"There were but three baptisms during the year; but things are now looking hopeful, and God seems to be visiting us for good. Three have been baptized and received into fellowship already this year, and there are now six candidates before the Church.

"The congregations have been fluctuating,—on the whole fair,—at present (April) they are very good. The improvement in attendance at the week evening prayer-meeting has cheered my heart very much.

"One important change has taken place in the constitution of the Church. After much discussion of a friendly kind, extending over several years, it has been resolved, that, 'members of other Protestant denominations, of approved Christian character, and who believe that they have been baptized, may be admitted to the ordinance of the Lord's Supper,' on applying to the pastor and deacons.

"These, and the adoption of 'Psalms and Hymns,' as a hymn-book, in lieu of the 'Selection,' are the principle changes I have to report.

"Collections were made during the year on behalf of the Calcutta City Mission, and its 'Home for Fallen Women.' They realised £20, but the amount actually paid to the treasurer as the result of the two services, exceeded £55.

"Allusion has already been made to the financial affairs of the Church. The cost of the repairs, &c., was about £470, and the whole of this amount was contributed within a year.

"The contributions for the year to the General Fund have been £515, and to the Poors' Fund £146. The expenditure has been about the same, so that, although we lost subscriptions to the extent of over £100, by the departure of friends, we have paid our way without a single member being asked to increase his subscription.

"There has been a gratifying increase in the number attending the Sunday-school, which continues under the superintendence of Mr. W. L. Wenger; and the special services that have been held half-yearly in connection with it have been most interesting. We are in hopes that much good will result from the simple, earnest, affectionate addresses that have been delivered to the children on these occasions.

"Most interesting meetings have been held by Mr. W. L. Wenger, assisted by other friends in the house of one of our invalid sisters. The attendance has been good, and the prayers most earnest. Two communion services have also been held there by the Pastor, and were felt to be very refreshing. I long to see many of these 'cottage' meetings, conducted by members of the church.

"My health was not good during a part of the year; but for the last four months it has been all that I could desire, and it has been a joy to work. Would I could do more for the Master in this large city!"

Pastor, JOHN ROBINSON.

Number of members, 105.

The pastor writes as follows:—

"When I last communicated with you about our affairs, it was to ask the aid of the society at home, when our chapel needed extensive repairs. With much gratitude we acknowledge the grant of £50. A sum of £60 at least, perhaps a little more—I have not the accounts here—was also generously contributed by kind friends in Scotland. The repairs of the chapel and the erection of a large hall, where the Sunday-school children might meet for service, and where we might also have our week-day meetings, &c., cost something more than £900. We could not raise all the money at once, but through the persevering efforts of our brethren and friends we were able, in October last, to pay up the whole amount. Scarcely, however, was this amount paid, before we find ourselves under the necessity of incurring an additional expense to put up a new roof to the chapel.

"This new expense we will have to meet immediately; but I hope we shall be able to raise the amount needed in a short time, almost entirely among ourselves.

"In the church, during the last two years, I had the kind assistance of the Rev. C. Jordan, who shared with me in the services. At the close of 1873, he resigned his connection with us, preparatory to removing to Serampore. Though our numerical strength is not great, yet I am glad to say our congregations have kept up very well. I trust, too, there is much of a spirit of life and activity beginning to be manifested among us. Our sisters have had one or two meetings for prayer every week among themselves. Several of our young men, too, meet once a week in the chapel for prayer.

"When I last gave you the number of members in our church, it was stated at 136. Since then 32 have been added to us by baptism. But a church in India, especially one like ours, is subject to very great changes, and large deductions have been made from our number; 20 have been removed by death, and all, we have good reason to hope, have gone to join the general assembly above. Seven have been excluded or resigned their connection with us; and no less than 36 have removed to other and distant lands, or have formed connections with other churches away from Calcutta. Our number now, therefore, is 105, yet of this number, 19 have removed to other parts of the country, who still retain their membership. The larger number of them are in places where there is no Baptist Church.

Our Sunday-school, under the able superintendence of Mr. G. Jefferson, has kept up well, the number on the books is 144, and the average attendance during the last year has been 96.

"Pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course and be glorified among us, even as it is with you."

Missionaries, G. KERRY, T. C. BANERJEA.

Number of members 50.

Mr. Kerry writes as follows:—

"The native church here is in much the same state it has been in during the past few years; there has, however, been some advance, the attendance at public worship, has increased in number. There is more of the spirit of prayer. The four brethren who preach in turn with me on Sunday, have preached the Gospel faithfully and earnestly, and in other ways have promoted the prosperity of the Church. Six persons have been baptized on profession of their faith, four of these were scholars in Mrs. Kerry's school, and two were additions to the Church from the heathen. One, named Aghore Nath Banerjea, is a younger brother to our native missionary at Kooshtea, Brojo Nath Banerjea. This young man has not, as is generally the case with new converts, left his home and village, but has patiently and faithfully taken up and borne the Cross of Christ among his own people. He suffered much opprobrium and many petty annoyances, but the opposition has gradually died out, and his difficulties have, to a great degree, passed away. He has been the means of selling a number of copies of portions of Scripture in his village and the neighbourhood and has preached the Gospel there. The village has been visited by my colleague, Romanath Ray Chowdhry, who has been kindly received by the people, who listened with remarkable attention to the preaching of the truth. The other young man who was baptized was from Serampore. He had been a student in our college there, and had long ago expressed a desire to be baptized; but his friends, when they learned this, used every means in their power to keep him from being baptized. After his baptism, he returned home, and avowed there his faith in Christ. He had to endure much in various ways. He was urged to repudiate his baptism, and to join the Brahmins. He held fast, however, to his profession, and was finally driven forth from his ancestral home without any means of support. He had been learning the business of a printer, by which he would have been able to earn enough to support himself, but he lost the situation he had on account of his baptism. I and other friends helped him in this difficulty, and he was again put in the way of learning the printing. I regret to say he has left us to join another mission, having got employment in connection with it.

Number of scholars, 250.

5.—Boarding School for Native Christian Girls.

Missionary, Mrs. KERRY.

Number of scholars, 40.

Of these Institutions, Mr. Kerry reports as follows:—

"The institution has been well attended during the year, the number of scholars being 250. Religious instruction is given in all the classes. All who can read the Scriptures do so either in Bengali or in English; those who read in English have the explanation given both in that language and in Bengali. There are two Christian teachers beside myself engaged in this department; of the other teachers, one is a Musulman and six are Hindus; one of these, however, calls himself a Brahmin. Two of the boys from the first-class passed successfully the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University at the close of the year.

"The Girls' School, under Mrs. Kerry's care, has prospered during the year. Four of the girls gave pleasing evidence of a change of heart, and sought admission to the fellowship of the Church here. The number in attendance varied somewhat, but when we got into regular work, after the reopening of the school in February, the number was never less than forty; changes occurred, from the marriage of some and the removal of others, but the vacancies were always supplied. Many of the girls made very satisfactory progress in reading, writing, &c. Especial attention is given to needlework of different kinds, and all learn to cook, and to do the work of an ordinary Bengali house. We have been much cheered by seeing many Bengali women, who were once pupils in this school, now usefully employed as Zenana teachers. The possibility of this employment for some of our pupils is always borne in mind, and has much influence on the course of training of the girls. Good teachers for the Zenana are somewhat difficult to obtain, and for many years to come they will be in large request."

6.—South Colingah.

Pastor, GOOLZAR SHAH.

Number of members, 43.

The pastor reports that during the year one person has been added to the Church by baptism, and two have been restored to fellowship. He says:—

"I am happy to say that since my return to Calcutta most of the members of the Church are making a fresh effort to perform their duties as disciples of Christ. Our prayer-meetings have been re-established. Our preaching to the heathen is being regularly carried on, and the practice of bringing to the Lord our weekly and monthly offerings has been resumed. Our chapel is in a state of disrepair. Not less than Rs. 300 will be required to repair it. I am sorry that, during my absence, the members neglected to give their subscriptions for this purpose, consequently they have no funds in the Church. I am making an effort to raise at least one-third of the amount required from the Church members, and if I succeed in this I shall then ask the Christian public to help.

III.—HOWRAH.

Pastor, T. MORGAN.

Number of Members, 30.

Howrah, in the district of Hooghly, may be regarded as a suburb of Calcutta, and is situated on the opposite side of the River Hooghly. As it is the site of the chief railway-station to the North-West Provinces, it has become a very busy and populous town, its inhabitants numbering 97,784 souls.

The Rev. T. Morgan reports as follows:—

"This year we passed through heat unparalleled in my experience of thirty-four years. I have gone to chapel in the evening when the thermometer stood at 102.

"But through the tender mercy of God I have not been ill an hour, and was enabled to go through every service, Sundays and week days, without once failing.

"The ordinary congregations, and contributions, have been about as good as we could expect.

"About the end of last year we considered it necessary to repair the chapel. I got an estimate from the firm that built the chapel; mentioned the matter from the pulpit; in one week the bulk of the money came in. I particularly requested that all the children should have an investment in the chapel. To this request the response was hearty and universal. The little ones parted with their pocket-money. From one family four children sent a sovereign each, being presents to them from England.

"The British Indian Steam Navigation Company have their docks in Howrah. A gentleman in their employ, who attends the chapel, mentioned to the agent that the servants of the Company attended the chapel, and that if there were no chapel they would not attend any place of worship. The result was an immediate order to meet any deficiency in the repairs of the chapel.

"For this spontaneous act of liberality the directors of the British India deserve our warmest acknowledgment.

"The only change in the church is one dead, and one was removed by dismission.

"We have kept open two native day schools, paid the salary of the native preacher, and all expenses connected with the chapel. We have done so for thirty-four years.

"The native Sunday school, at my house on Sunday morning, continues to flourish. I am pleased and surprised to see so many boys present, in all weathers, and some from a great distance—all heathen.

"On the last great day of the Darga puja I preached in three places. Plenty of people to hear, and, what is most remarkable, I did not see a single image. What a triumph when compared with thirty years ago.

"Since the return of the cold weather I am often out. The themes now are the famine and this terrible fever that is about, and which baffles all human skill.

"I try to impress upon the minds of the people the two great sins of the country—idolatry and persistent rejection of Christ. Go home and confess your sins. Tell God that you have done with idols. One man asked, with great seriousness, 'Does God understand Bengali?' I must not mention my answer."

STATIONS AND CHURCHES IN BENGAL.

I.—DUM-DUM.

Pastor, C. B. LEWIS.

Number of members, 12.

This station, chiefly occupied by the military, lies to the north of Calcutta, about seven miles. The settled population is between five and six thousand.

The Rev. G. H. Rouse thus speaks of his visits to this station:—

"The chapel is in the cantonments, the number of resident members is very small, and the attendance fluctuates very much, according to the character of the regiment that may be stationed at Dum-Dum. At present the 62nd Regiment is there, and in it there is a goodly band of God-fearing men, Wesleyans, most of whom were brought to a knowledge of the truth when stationed at Lucknow, by God's blessing on the labours of a Wesleyan missionary. We, therefore, now always get a good and attentive congregation. The heartiness and earnestness of these Christian soldiers make our visits to Dum-Dum a season of spiritual enjoyment. The soldiers have meetings among themselves for prayer and Christian fellowship almost every evening in the week. On one evening, one of the Wesleyan missionaries in Calcutta visits them. On Sunday mornings there is a parade service, conducted by the Scotch chaplain, who resides in Calcutta. In the evening the service is voluntary, yet generally well attended. The pulpit is supplied by myself two Sundays in the month, and the remaining Sundays by Rev. R. Robinson, Mr. R. S. Moncrieff, and others. On the first Sunday in the month, the European and native members unite at the Lord's Supper, and several of the Wesleyan brethren also attend. In December, the Rev. J. G. Gregson formed at Dum-Dum a branch of the "Soldiers' Total Abstinence Association," of which he is hon. secretary.

"Our native brother, Bhagwan, resides at Dum-Dum, and labours there, specially among the native soldiers. Various native regiments in succession are stationed at Dum-Dum, and our brother, whose native language is Hindi, the same as that of most of the soldiers, is able to labour effectively among them. During the year, 800 tracts, in English, Hindi, Urdu, Panjabi, Kenchinagari, and Bengali, have been distributed; also, 25 Hindi and 25 Bengali copies of the Gospel of Matthew. Eight copies of Luke and Acts in Bengali, and the same number in Hindi, are in circulation on loan. Various books of the Old Testament and other religious works, belonging personally to Bhagwan, are also in circulation among the natives. Our brother reads and preaches regularly to the people in the Ordnance Factory, and in the Dum-Dum Bazaar; also to the native soldiers in the barracks; in the native hospitals and in the adjacent villages."

II.—BARASET.

Number of members, 6.

This is the principal town of the division of the same name, and contains some 11,822 inhabitants. It is about fourteen miles to the N.N.E. of Calcutta.

The following report has come from Pudda Lochun Roy:—

"Every Sabbath day, persons of every rank, both young and old, have visited the house of the Lord and heard, attentively, our sermons. Many frankly acknowledged that our words were true and edifying, and asked us many questions, not for the sake of argument, but to understand the deep spiritual truths that are in the Gospel of our Lord.

"One day an inquirer asked us, 'How a man can be pure and holy?' We answered him that unless a man be born of the Holy Spirit he cannot be holy, and then explained to him that 'the blood of Jesus Christ can cleanse us from all sin.' He heard us with much attention, and expressed his approval of the explanation.

"Bazaar preaching has been carried on by us with unremitting vigilance, and has been very interesting and encouraging to us during the whole year. Many a time the illiterate simple-minded peasants, who came to sell the productions of their fields, have gathered around us, and heard us with so much attention and eagerness, that when their customers have called them to sell their articles, many have replied, 'Don't be in a hurry, let us hear these words of wisdom. We always get customers, but seldom get an opportunity to hear religious words.' Free from the cunning knowledge of the world, and having minds open to conviction, these simple-hearted children of God always take an unusual interest in listening to the Word which gives life.

"We also visited the surrounding villages, whenever we had opportunity, and gave instruction to the men in a quiet way in their homes. This part of our work is steadily increasing in importance and interest. Several times men have requested us urgently to visit their homes and speak to them of Christ and His religion. Those who have received education many times frankly confessed the superiority of the Christian religion over their own. We have also met those narrow-minded orthodox Hindus, who generally show great hatred towards Christ and His followers. But we are happy to say that the number of such men is not very large, and they are every day becoming less and less.

"The women, too, have heard us with much attention from the inner apartments when we spoke to the men. Those that can read among them have generally sent their boys or girls to us for books, which we have gladly given.

"We went out this year, also, to preach the Gospel to those 'who sit in darkness and under the shadow of death.'

"At Cháltábere, while we were preaching to a large audience on the danger of sin, and exhorting them to 'flee from the wrath to come,' a widow asked us what we meant by 'wrath to come,' and when shall men have to endure it? We answered her, 'Those that will not repent of their sins and believe in the only-begotten Son of God, but do those things which are hateful in His sight throughout their lives, will be cast into hell, where the "wrath of God" for ever dwells. Hope of salvation there will be none, and for eternity they will have to suffer the punishment of their sins.' The widow kept quiet. The people heard us attentively, and many requested us to stay in the place for a day or two. We remained there two days and received visits from many.

"At Bongram we remained two days, and preached to the people of the surrounding villages. Here we had the pleasure of having some religious conversation with the Deputy magistrate.

"When we reached Gopálpore, it was reported among the inhabitants that Christians had come to preach their religion. Within half-an-hour more than thirty persons gathered around us, and we preached to them on sin and holiness. All heard us attentively and praised much the religion of Christ.

"The next day we were invited by a gentleman to visit his house. According to his invitation we went to his house and found him waiting for us with his friends and acquaintances. He had previously invited a man whom he thought would be able to talk on religion with us. After the usual exchange of salutation we were asked to speak. We boldly proclaimed the truth that is in Jesus, and exhorted them to believe in Him.

"We were absent this time from our homes eighteen days, and visited fifty-two villages. May the Lord bless the feeble efforts of His servants, and hasten the day when Hindustan shall be called Christian-land!"

Miss Simpson and Mrs. Dakin have continued to visit Baraset, and have found admission to several Zennas. The following is an account of one such visit:—

"As Miss Simpson had written previously to say that we were coming, we found all household work finished, and N—'s sister-in-law waiting at the door to receive us. We were conducted to the long narrow entrance-room and to seats on the wooden bedstead, which stands at one end. Our teachers (Barbara and Ruth) and N—— sat with us. Other women soon came in, till we had seventeen women, besides big girls and younger children. Miss Simpson asked N—— how far she had progressed in the reading of the Scripture, and what part she would like that we should read together. She selected the account of Peter's denial in St. Matthew's Gospel, which we read, and also the last chapter of St. John. We spoke of Peter's character and of Christ's love. At the request of the other women, Barbara and Ruth sang three hymns. Ten of the women were widows, and, as most of them could read, we gave them each a book. A very decrepit old woman came in, and asked what was going on. Several voices replied (jokingly), 'The English ladies have come to take N—— away;' but we told them that we did not wish to take any woman away from her home, but we did wish that not only N——, but all of them, would receive the message of Christ's love."

A district lying along the eastern bank of the Hooghly, around Calcutta, and extending southwards to the sea. Narsigdarchoke is 16 miles from Calcutta, Lukhyantipore 35 miles, and Khari 50 miles. The other stations, excepting Tambulda, which is S.E. of Calcutta about 16 miles, lie grouped around the above. The population of the district is given as 2,210,947 in the census of 1872. Dum Dum and Baraset are included in it.

The churches to the south of Calcutta are under the superintendence of Mr. Kerry and Babu Romanath Roy Chowdhry.

Mr. Kerry thus reports on the various stations:—

"The churches have been, to a large and yearly-increasing extent, thrown upon their own resources for the maintenance among themselves of the ordinances of religion. The six churches which are thus being set free from their former monetary tie to the missionary have, in regard to this point, with one exception, done much better than I had expected. The dissatisfaction with the new state of things at first felt, has nearly entirely disappeared. The burdens have been accepted, and an honest, and, to a great degree, successful, effort has been made to meet the new responsibilities. Chapels have been repaired, and in one case built without cost to the Society, and the people have contributed of their means to the support of their pastors and are still doing so.

" Khari is nearly fifty miles south of Calcutta, and is somewhat difficult of approach. The church has not increased in number for many years past. Neither has the Christian community increased of late by additions from the heathen. There is a want of zeal for the spread of the Gospel among the people around. Still there are some signs of life in the church, and I trust the higher sign will be apparent soon. There is strictness in discipline, which has prevented the increase of the church in mere numbers. There is an intelligent realisation of their position as a Church of Christ, and of the duty to maintain the ordinances of religion. I was pleased to learn that the brethren here observed the week of prayer recommended by the Evangelical Alliance, and had special meetings day-by-day during that week, thus bringing themselves into the great company of God's people throughout the world at that time engaged in prayer.

I regret that the state of things is not better here than at Khari, but neither is it worse, and there are signs of improvement. The preaching of the Gospel is much more favourably listened to by the Hindus around.

"Rosh Khali.

"Evangelist, DWARIKA KHAN.

"There is no Church here; a few people meet on the Sabbath-day for worship, the four or five members of Churches, on Communion Sundays go to Lukhyantipore. The number of adherents who are scattered in several adjacent villages is eighteen. There is a good school of fifty boys. Dwarika Khan preaches in the markets and visits from house to house, and travels in various directions to distant villages. He is generally received with kindness and listened to with attention.

"The pastor here has not yet been formally ordained as the people had not requested it, and I was a little doubtful as to whether they would wish to have him who had been appointed by the missionary in the first place as their pastor. The people here have given, on the whole, well to support their pastor. At the beginning of the year they cultivated some land, the proceeds of which are to be applied to his support.

"The Evangelists have been diligent in proclaiming the Gospel in the neighbourhood of Bishtopore and in distant villages.

"A colporteur has been employed in the district, who has, as compared with other colporteurs, been very successful in selling some hundreds of copies of portions of the Word of God."

Romanath R. Chowdhry reports as follows:—

"The last year's harvest is so miserable a failure, that our people cannot do what they desire to do this year. They are threatened by an impending famine. The greater portion of the crop they had has already been sold for paying rents to the Zemindars, and the little remaining will not be sufficient for the maintenance of many of them throughout the year. With the exception of a few, the suffering of the people will gradually become general. Those who simply live on their daily labour will starve as soon as the working season of the year is over. The working season of this year is supposed to be of a shorter duration than usual. Of all the people, the people at Khari will suffer first, and most, as their loss has been greater than the loss of the people of any other place. In the midst of such a threatening calamity, there can be found men who look up to the Lord for help, and consider that this temporal evil is intended for spiritual good. Besides, what is anticipated from the failure of the harvest, the cattle plague and the epidemic fever visiting the people at and around Lukhyantipore have made a great havoc among them. The former is stopped, but the latter still continues. The Roman Catholics look upon this as the best opportunity given to them for making themselves strong and permanent in the south of Calcutta, by means of rendering assistance to the people at the time of distress. Thank God that none but a few that had been excommunicated have as yet joined them.

"Before we commenced our work of making the churches self-supporting, it was feared that the introduction of the self-supporting system would cause most of our people to leave us, and join the Propagation Society; but when the system was actually introduced, it was found that the fear was groundless. Certainly we met with difficulties, but patience and prayer overcame them all, to the advancement of our Christian experience, and to our entire dependence on the Lord for success. In the second and third year no difficulty was felt, and the people gladly gave what they could to the support of their pastor. With a view to make the pastoral fund prosperous, it was determined, at the end of the second year, that, in addition to the annual contribution of the people, certain biggahs of land should be cultivated, and if the lands that were cultivated had been productive, no doubt a surplus of rupees—100—would have been left in the pastoral fund of some of the churches, after paying the pastor for the last year. We cannot, as yet, say how far the small churches struggling for independency will succeed. The difficulty which we now feel in this department of our work is not the unwillingness of the people to do something for themselves, but the want of energy on the part of some of the pastors, who think that the preaching of two sermons on every Sabbath day is all that they have to do in the pastoral care of their flock. Some of the pastors even misapply the severity of excommunication through ignorance or imprudence.

"We are not only trying to make these churches self-supporting, but are also attempting to make them self-propagating. We have been persuading the people to work for the Lord without pay. Some young people assist us in our evangelistic work, but they require more instruction to qualify them for it. Except in the market, we have changed our mode of preaching, and made it thoroughly Oriental. Whenever we go to preach in the villages, we either go to the house of a man, or sit down under some tree, and get a congregation by singing pathetic Christian hymns. No sooner do we get a congregation than we read to them a portion of Scripture, and explain it to them. Before we leave them, we pray for them, and give them an address. We have invariably found them kind and hospitable to us. They really hear us with interest and attention. We have sometimes heard them saying 'that if the feeling which the preaching of these people create in us remain and work during their absence, it would undoubtedly compel us to embrace Christianity.' Our Sabbath services are sometimes attended by those Hindus, to whom we go to preach the Gospel. Christians are no more looked upon as outcast people by their Hindu neighbours. They receive invitations from them, and are respectfully entertained in their houses. In any dispute arising among the Hindus, Christians are considered as the best arbitrators by either party. Besides these indications of a better day, we had several applications for baptism from the Hindus; but as these applicants were not without worldly motives, we refused to receive them.

"Babu Aghore Nath Banerjea, who was baptized and sent back to his home by Mr. Kerry, came to me recently, and took me with him to his village, where the people paid great attention to our preaching, and invited me to visit them again. Those who persecuted him are gradually becoming his friends; and his father, who turned him out, received him back to his house. We also preached the Gospel in the adjoining villages, markets, and a fair. In our conversation with the people, we have seen some who think that the leaving of parents and the eating of beef is Christianity; but when Christianity, as it is, was preached to them, they were quite astonished. The people have observed changes in Babu Aghore Nath Banerjea, and consider them to have been wrought by Christianity. If God spares the life of this young man, and mercifully strengthens him to remain faithful to the last, then Christianity shall gradually be known and felt, not as a mere dead letter, but as a power from heaven."

Serampore, in the district of Hooghly, is about fourteen miles from Calcutta, with which city it is connected by railway. It lies on the western bank of the River Hooghly. The population numbers 38,463.

The report of this important institution, written by Mr. Thomas, is as follows :—

“The school department of the college claims notice first. Each year I find more and more to do in the school, and each year my interest in the work increases; but though I do my best, and do it heartily, and though I may, without undue boasting, say I think the school has improved recently under my care, still I feel keenly that it is impossible for me adequately to supply Mr. Dakin's place.

“We commenced with 197 boys of the former year, and 218 joined us during the session, of whom 57 had been in the school before. This makes 415, of whom 146 left during the year, so that we closed with 269 names on our rolls. The average attendance this year has been 221, against 198 in 1872. We have two general examinations in the year—one in June and the other in December. I have each year made these more thorough, and have tried to train the teachers to assist me in them. This has been indispensable, as, now that Mr. Martin is not here to share the burden, the whole of the responsibility falls on me.

“The work during the session has been of the usual uneventful kind, and no incidents have occurred in the school this year which call for remark just now, with one exception. Early in the year a boy in the first class left the school without alleging any reason for doing so. Two or three months ago he came to me, and said he wished to be baptized. I had several conversations with him, and, as far as I could judge, he seemed to be sincere in his wish, and to have a very fair knowledge of the Gospel plan of salvation. I encouraged him, but said I thought it would be well for him to wait awhile before he took so important a step as that he contemplated.

“I was confirmed in my opinion by the fact that, in two or three quarters, I heard sundry reports about this young man, which tended to throw some suspicion on his character and motives in seeking baptism. He assured me that these reports had been maliciously spread about him by his relatives, who were aware of his wishes, and bent on thwarting them; and as he was very urgent in pressing his request, although I was still of the same opinion as to the advisability of waiting, I concluded to ask the advice of one more experienced than myself; accordingly, I wrote to Mr. Kerry, explaining the circumstances, and asking him to speak with the young man, and let me know what he thought about him. I may just add that Mr. Trafford was acquainted with the facts, and agreed with me as to the propriety of consulting Mr. Kerry.

“It seems that my letter to Mr. Kerry was discovered in his possession, and taken from him; for several days he was closely watched, so that he was unable to carry out his purpose. At length, however, he succeeded in evading the watchfulness of his relatives, and, not knowing Mr. Kerry, he made his way to the Bhowanipore Institution, where he introduced himself to one of the Independent missionaries there—I think it was to Mr. Johnson. This missionary was much pleased with him, and, knowing that he had received his education at our college, he sent him to Mr. Kerry with a letter, in which he stated that he thought him a fit subject for baptism. This was on a Sunday morning, and as Mr. Kerry was about to administer the ordinance of baptism that afternoon, after some conversation with this young man, he resolved to baptize him without delay.

“I have not seen the young man since. On his return he was for a time placed in confinement, and then sent off to Gya by his friends. The last fact I learnt from his uncle, a member of the Brahmo Somaj. I urged on him to allow the young man full freedom to act according to his convictions. He professed himself quite willing to do this, but repeated the reports I had heard elsewhere, and stated that he only opposed the young man because he was not worthy of being trusted. I should be quite ready to believe these to be fabrications, if two men, in whom I have great confidence, had not stated that they believed them to be true. As it is, we must leave the matter for God to judge, and meanwhile pray that the young man be preserved from going back again if he has really been sincere in taking this step, or, if he was influenced by unworthy motives, that he may learn to accept in heart and truth that Saviour he has professed to follow.

"As in former years, the two F. A. classes came to me for mathematics, one hour each, every day. Two hours more I gave to teaching in the first school class, and the remaining hour I devoted to superintendence and general work connected with the school, except for a few weeks, when the weak state of Mr. Trafford's health made it necessary for me to undertake a portion of his work.

At Johnnigger, six young people have been baptized during the year; two were young women, and of the rest, three were Bungalow boys. All three were the sons of native preachers, one the son of John of Barisaul, who happened to pay a visit to Serampore the day before the baptism took place, and who was much gratified at being asked to administer the ordinance.

"For the last two or three years I have been sending out the Serampore preachers every cold season, on a preaching tour. The funds are supplied by my mother, who collects a small sum every year in Bristol.

"Last year I also assisted Anondo, the Caloutta preacher, who has just been accepted by the Conference, as an assistant missionary. He went out in all three times in 1873, and this cold season he has been out twice, or rather, is now out the second time. Our preachers, also, have just started on a second preaching tour. The reports are most encouraging."

The Native Christian Boarding School has been under the supervision of Mr. Thomas. It was removed from its old premises in the College Compound, on the 1st February, to a large house belonging to the College, formerly occupied as an hotel. Mr. Thomas thus reports on the progress made during the year :—

"On the 1st of February seventeen boys came to me, of whom five had joined during the preceding month. All the old students had not returned by that time; but, subsequently, eight more came back, while sixteen new boys have been admitted since that date. This makes a total of forty-one, of whom twenty-one joined this session. At present, however, owing to various causes, we have only thirty present, and at no time have we had more than thirty-five or thirty-six together in the house. We have now (Jan. 31, 1874) thirty-five boys in the house, and I expect three more to return who were with us last year, but who, from various causes, have been prevented from joining the school yet.

"Before passing on I may state that there is evidently an interest taken in the institution by the Native Christian community. I have already heard of four or five who will probably apply for admission next session; nor is this interest limited to the Christians of our own denomination. Several of the boys now in the school, and one or two of those seeking admission, belong to the Church Mission, and we have two from the Independents.

"The general health of the school has been better this session than it was last session; but it must be borne in mind that the station has not this year suffered from fever to the same extent as last year.

"The station is manifestly less unhealthy than it was during the previous year, and the boys in our boarding school have shared in the general improvement; but we have not been free from sickness. At one time in the month of August, for a week or two, several boys were daily attacked with sickness. This was probably owing to something in their food, as it ceased when a change was made in the boys' rations, and with one or two exceptions we have had no case of serious illness since.

"The boarders have all attended the school classes in the College. Those at present in the house are distributed through the school as follows:—Two in the junior F. A. class, two in the entrance class, of whom one intends going up next week for the entrance examination, two are in the second school class, five in the third class, four in the fourth class, four in the fifth class, three in the sixth class, three in the seventh, three in the eighth, one in the tenth, and one, a Burmese, in the European class.

"The annual examinations which are about to commence will show how each one stands with respect to his heathen class-fellows. With a few of the boys I have been much pleased; but I fear there are not many who will be able to take their place in the front ranks of their respective classes, while some will undoubtedly stand very low.

"All the boys meet me at eight o'clock for morning prayers, after which the register is called over. After evening worship, which is conducted by one of the senior students, most of the boys assemble in their large hall, under the superintendence of one of the seniors, for study and preparation of the following day's lessons. The senior students have permission to study in some smaller rooms in which they are allowed to stay.

"On Sunday, the older boys meet me for a Bible-class, while one of the senior students takes the rest. At first I had only a few of the most advanced, and we read several chapters in Hebrews. But I found that the others were not being properly looked after, and had to enlarge my own Bible-class. In this class we have read a few chapters in the Acts; the senior students have also been reading a few pages of Paley's Evidences."

V.—SEWRY.

Missionaries, W. A. HOBBS AND R. SPURGEON.

Number of members, 51.

Sewry is the principal town of the district of Beerbhoom, which is situated at the north-western extremity of Bengal. The population is reckoned at 695,921 persons, of whom 111,795 are Mahomedans. Sewry, which contains 9,000 inhabitants, is about 130 miles N.N.W. from Calcutta.

Mr. Hobbs has furnished us with the following report:—

"1. Present Condition of the Church.

"I am not unfrequently reminded by persons living in Sewry, that the present condition of the Church here is matter for sincere thankfulness. Probably it is, as compared with what it was two years ago; still it falls far short of my conviction of what it ought to be. True, we have had no disturbance to cause us anxiety, and in only four instances has there been any necessity for the exercise of Church discipline; the people have kept up their monthly contributions well; have been constant in their attendance at public worship, and have not been neglectful of the claims of the weekly prayer-meeting; still no copious shower of blessing has fallen upon us during the year. This is deeply to be lamented, though I could scarcely expect it to be otherwise, for I fear many of our members are very similar to those in the Laodicean Church, neither cold nor hot; consequently, well-nigh useless as propagators of Christianity, and no special glory to God's grace or His cause. I have had the pleasure of baptizing two persons, and of restoring to fellowship an old man (formerly a preacher) who had been excluded from the Church for the last twenty years; but, on the other hand, two of our valuable members have died; two whole families have left Sewry for Sonthalistan and Calcutta respectively; and one has been excluded.

"Our entire Christian community here, numbers 126 persons.

" 2. Our New Chapel.

"The Chapel is finished, and a very comfortable and durable building it is. It measures 40 ft. in length, and 27 ft. in width; and cost, including punkas, ceiling cloth, communion table, and clock, Rs. 1,110 (£111). This sum we raised in nineteen months, our little Church and congregation contributing towards it nearly Rs. 500.

"Our Sabbath services have recently become more nationalised by the introduction of fiddle, drum, and small clappers, as accompaniments to our service of song. Individually, I do not consider the innovation to be an improvement, but the people do; and since nearly all Hindus, whether orthodox or Brahmos, use musical instruments at their religious services, if the Christians under my care want music with their song, by all means let them have it."

" 3. District Preaching.

"This has been carried on with considerable vigour during the year. Not a month has passed (even in the hot season) in which my native brethren have not made one or more journeys. From the testimony of their monthly journals, I gather that usually they have been politely received, and on some occasions very kindly treated. They have recorded many interesting and encouraging incidents, some of which I have previously communicated to you; but I am not able to affirm that any instance of direct conversion has resulted from their many efforts. Several persons, as the result of hearing the Gospel preached, have come to me to announce their desire, in some instances their resolve, to embrace the faith of the Lord Jesus, but when their motive was probed, it ordinarily came out either that they wanted employment, position, or recommendation, or wished me to remove them from their own village, and keep them near myself; all which arrangements, leading as they do to an emasculated Christianity, I have of late years steadfastly set my face against, and, by God's help, shall continue to do so.

"During the hot season, I myself could not venture into the district, but during eight months of the year, I have more or less itinerated in every direction, declaring, to the best of my little ability, the Gospel of the Grace of God. Since my last report I have made thirteen principal missionary journeys, viz. :—

"1. A journey to Mahomadpore and beyond in the direction of Deschui (10 miles N. of Sewry).

"2. A journey to Labhpoor and its vicinity (20 miles E. of Sewry).

"3. A journey to Rajnuggar and region around (14 miles W.N.W. of Sewry).

"4. A journey to Doobrajpoor and Kotah-Seersha (22 miles S.S.W. of Sewry).

"5. Journey to Mahomadpore and vicinity of Cynthia (9 miles N.E. of Sewry).

"6. Journey to Cutwa and vicinity (40 miles E.S.E. of Sewry).

"7. A week at Bokreshor Fair (10 miles W. of Sewry).

"8. A week at a Hindu Home at Nogaree (6 miles W. of Sewry).

"9. A journey to Rampore Hât (24 miles N.E. of Sewry).

"10. Second journey to Rajnuggar and vicinity (14 miles W.N.W. of Sewry).

"11. Journey to Raneegunge and region of the coal mines (35 miles S.W. of Sewry).

"12. Journey to Soorool, Bolpore, and vicinity (24 miles S.S.E. of Sewry).

"13. Journey to Moreshor and country around (18 miles N.E. of Sewry).

"During these 13 journeys, together with those made by the brethren Beni, Gobindo, and Mathura, when I could not accompany them, we sold 690 Gospels, and about 120 tracts and other religious books.

"4. Bazaar Preaching.

"In a small bazaar like that of Sewry, daily preaching would soon become such a formal and unnoticed thing, that it would no more arrest the attention of the passer by, than our own attention would be arrested in England by three or four persons standing and talking together at a corner of the street.

"As a matter of policy, therefore, after having gone to the bazaar daily for awhile we stay away for awhile, and, in the interim, visit the neighbouring villages. As the result of this arrangement we find that when we begin to revisit the bazaar we are able, for a time, to gather somewhat numerous congregations.

"5. Zenana Visitation.

"It is encouraging to be able to report that this department of Missionary work is going on hopefully.

"As the result of hard work, perseverance, and tact, the Mission began to rise from the dust, so that by June twenty-seven women in Sewry, and the villages around, were under instruction. The number has now risen to forty-two, which, with our present staff of agents, is as great a number as can well be attended to

"6. Boys' Schools.

"Many a time, after preaching the Gospel to an attentive audience of forty or fifty persons, and when, on leaving them, I wished to sell them a few Gospels, I have found, to my great sorrow, that scarcely one of them was able to read. At such times, not unseldom have my heart's concentrated feelings found vent in such words as these:—'I am now going from these people, may never talk with them again, and what I have said to them will almost certainly be forgotten by them before a week has passed away. Would to God that the people could read, I could then depart in hope; I can scarcely do so now.'

"At the beginning of the year there were no boys' schools here in connection with our Mission.

"We have now six village schools, containing 230 scholars. These six schools are maintained at an expense of £4 monthly, which expenditure is met by two grants of equal amount from the Government of Bengal and the Christian Vernacular Education Society. They are superintended by a Christian inspector, who attends each school one entire day each week, when, after examining the classes, he spends the remainder of the time allotted to teaching in giving instruction to the different classes, special prominence being given to religious teaching. Nearly all the scholars have committed to memory the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments by Moses, the whole of the First Catechism, whilst the elder boys in the classes are now reading and learning the history of the Lord Jesus as given by the Evangelist Mark.

"Girls' Schools."

"There has been a girls' school here for many years (enjoying a Government grant of £14s. monthly) and which the Government Inspector of Schools recently declared to be the best girls' school in the whole district of Beerbhoom. During the year we have established two others in the villages around, so that we have now seventy-two girls under instruction, of which only fifteen are children of native Christians."

VI.—CUTWA.

Missionary, ANUNDO CHUNDO DUFFADAR.

Number of members, 12.

A large town on the western banks of the Hooghly, in the district of Burdwan, about seventy-five miles N.N.W. from Calcutta. It contains a population of 7,963 persons, of whom 6,817 are Hindus and 1,131 Mohammedans. The small remainder are Christians.

Of this station the Rev. W. H. Hobbs writes:—

"The few Christians here are nominally under my supervision, but owing to the distance of Cutwa from Sewry, I have only been able to visit it twice. There is no agent of the Society here; but Parom Anondo, a good man, conducts the worship, and does the best he can. The church numbers twelve members; the whole Christian community amounts to twenty-seven. With the exception of one family, all the people are in distress, most of them in the most abject poverty. I hope they love the Lord Jesus, and may be saved; but they are no power for Christ at Cutwa. They were kept in leading-strings until the day had passed by for learning self-reliance, and this is the reward.

"Brother Anondo (from Calcutta) has recently been asked to go there. The people will be glad of this arrangement; and as Cutwa is a fine sphere for missionary effort, God's blessing may be hoped for, so that the future of the Church may be better than has been the past; at all events, for many years past."

VII.—SONTALISTAN.

Missionaries, H. P. BOERRESEN, LARS SKREFSRAD, E. HAEGERT.

Number of members, 400.

Native helpers, 11.

This interesting mission is situated in the midst of Sonthal villages, about fourteen miles west of Rampore Haut, on the East India Railway, and the new station is called Ebenezer.

The Sonthal Pergunnahs, in the district of Bhaugulpore, contain a population of 1,259,287 persons, divided into 9,872 townships. The tribes, which are neither Hindus nor Mohammedans, number 528,899. It is among these tribes, who are pure Sonthals, that the Mission is carried on.

The annual report has not reached us, but we learn that the work of God is making great progress, and that during the year a large number of the people have been received into the Church.

VIII.—JESSORE.

Missionaries, R. J. ELLIS, J. MIN-
TRIDGE, GOGON CHUNDER DUTT, BROJONATH BANERJEA.

Number of members, 172.

This district of Bengal lies to the west of Calcutta, and contains more than two millions of people, of whom 915,413 are Hindus, 1,151,936 are Mohammedans, and 1,142 are Christians. The rest are of various beliefs. Jessore, the chief town, containing 8,152 inhabitants, is eighty miles from Calcutta.

Mr. Ellis's report is as follows:—

"Shonkor, being now a pensioner of the Society, has removed from Magura to Khoolnah, where he still maintains his character for diligence in preaching the Word, taking his full share of the duties at that station with the other preachers. I have hitherto been unable to fill up the vacancy at Magura, caused by his removal.

"Mohendra Náth Chowdhuri has worked diligently, but was alone as a preacher here during the greater part of the year. He was lately joined by Mohendra Náth Náth, who was transferred from Khoolnah, with the sanction of Brother G. C. Dutt, on his receiving Shonkur from Magura.

"Warish, of Begumpore, who also became a pensioner last year, now old and infirm, is afflicted with asthma and blindness, and is, therefore, unfit for further work. His place should also be filled up, and as domestic affairs render it necessary that Joseph should remove from Jhenidah, he will go to Begumpore, at least for a time. Madhob will thus be left alone at Jhenidah, and, there being no other trustworthy Christian there, he will have to confine his labours to the station and to such places as can be got to in a few hours, so as to admit of his reaching home by night. It is necessary that I here refer to Rhágyadhar, whom for years I have held as a trustworthy and estimable co-worker. Being found fault with, he became dissatisfied here, and sought work elsewhere; concealing this fact from me, he was thus set aside from his work at Jessore. Bishwambhar Ray Chowdhuri has been appointed in his stead, and I trust he may be enabled to prove a faithful and efficient labourer. Most earnestly do I hope that Rhágyadhar may soon be restored to a proper state of mind, and to work in the Lord's cause.

"The past year has been one of trial to us at all our stations.

"Events to be regretted have occurred at Begumpore, where are collected together the last remnants of the Sábária Mission—once so flourishing, under Mr. Parry. Into all the matters which have led to the withdrawal of several persons from the Church and Christian community there, I need not now enter; nor is it possible for me to know them all. They arose out of a family quarrel, and threaten to break up altogether the results of so many years' work in those parts.

"At this station, two persons, Mokim and his wife, who had endured much persecution of the Mahomedans, to whom they formerly belonged, were baptized in March, after having been five years on their trial. They are ignorant, but devout, and have a very pleasing, simple faith in Christ. They are quite above want as regards this world, and have laboured honestly to clear their property from a load of debt with which it was encumbered by their fathers and brothers. Even their own sons took part in their open persecution when they professed Christianity, and they have hitherto disowned them as their parents. One of them is now, however, inclined to join his father, and I trust the young man may yet become a true follower of Christ.

"At Magura and Jhenidah, events of a very painful nature have occurred during the year; and unless we take as progress the purging of the churches from the evil elements that have clogged them for many years, and which are only now coming to light, it must be said that none of the stations under my charge have made any progress during the past year. At the same time, I am far from thinking that our work is at the worst when it appears to be so, or best when it appears to be most flourishing. We may seem to be adding many to the church, but the fact cannot be evaded that the fire comes after to try our work, of what sort it is.

“ Preaching.

“The preachers have been diligent in proclaiming the truth at and around their several stations. I too, have availed myself of numerous opportunities of doing so. Our efforts in this way have met with much apparent acceptance. Nearly everywhere we find many who are willing to hear the Word; would that I could say anxious. Without question, many are thinking about Christianity in this district; and I shall mention two illustrations of this fact which came under my observation on my last preaching tour, in October and November. The name of Ishwar Náth has already appeared in Mission reports from Khoolnah, and the owner of it has long been convinced of the truth of Christianity. I was in and near Chingriá, where he dwells, three days in November, and had several conversations with him and others there, from which I gathered that he was, without doubt, a disciple of Jesus, but lacked the courage openly to declare the fact in baptism. Strange to say, he makes no secret of his convictions, but exhorts all his neighbours and relatives to inquire into Christianity, and many of them said they read the Bible, and were fully persuaded that Christ was the only Saviour. ‘If Ishwar Náth would become a Christian openly,’ they said, ‘we should at once come out.’ This, however, is doubtful. In the same vicinity I was summoned to a discussion with several Moulvis and Moollahs, who were accompanied by about sixty of their (Mahommedan) followers. They admitted, under pressure, that, even according to the Koran, Jesus must be the Son of God, but proceeded to prove, from the Bible (which they had brought with them), that two religions were clearly spoken of in our Scriptures; one, which was established by Moses, and brought to an end by Christ; and another, which it was predicted by Moses, should be established by ‘the Prophet’ whom God was to raise up. ‘He,’ they said ‘was to arise from the brethren of the Israelites—that is, from the other branch of Abraham’s family; and this religion was spoken of in Galatians iv. 22 and 24.’ The Moulvi, who adduced this argument, cleverly left out the words, ‘Cast out the bondwoman when low,’ &c.; and he had evidently led the people around him to believe that he had found in our own Scriptures an incontrovertible argument for Mahommedanism. Great was his perplexity when it was proved that the prophecy referring to ‘the Prophet’ was really applied to Christ; and that the other religion was legality—which doubtless included Mahommedanism—and was in reality rejected by God. They sat with me about three hours, referring frequently to written papers, many of which they had in their well-thumbed Bible; and then the leader said, angrily, ‘Let us go, there’s no use staying here, the Sahib won’t listen to reason.’ So saying, he got up and was reluctantly followed by the others, who did not conceal their impression that I had by far the best of the argument. I continued sitting, and told them I was ready to discuss with them the whole day; but they replied they had had enough that day, and went off. In those parts I sold many Scriptures, and had very large audiences wherever I preached.

“At Magura Jomina continues to work among the women—both Hindu and Mahommedan. I wish we had several women, even of her stamp, at each of our stations.

“ Schools.

“ During the past year the schools of this Mission have not been so successful as formerly. Many other schools have been opened around them, offering the same advantages, minus the religion, which so large a number of the people still hate. Defective inspection has also tended to injure our schools. Owing to reasons which I need not specify I have closed several of those we had at the beginning of the year, and there are now only twenty-five, with an average attendance of 703 pupils. All of these are under Christian instruction. I hope to be able to enlarge our operations in this department in the present year. Our best thanks are due to friends in India, England, Scotland, and Australia, for their liberal help in maintaining the orphanage and schools.

“ Books and Scriptures.

“ A large number of Scriptures—over 1,200—have been sold at all the stations during 1873, and 3,248 books of various kinds have also been sold, in addition to about 500 distributed gratuitously. Of the Scriptures, between 300 and 400 were in Mussulman Bengali, and sold only to Mussulmans. On my last tour, I sold 300 in the current Bengali, many of which were also bought by Mussulmans. In all, upwards of 300 rupees have been paid by purchasers of our books in the district in the course of the year. The books have mostly been sold by indigent Christians, who receive a percentage of one half the price of all that they sell; the Scriptures have been sold by the missionary, the preachers, and a colporteur.”

With regard to that portion of Jessore in which Mr. Gogon C. Dutt labours, we have received from him the following particulars:—

“ In the month of December last, many cases were instituted by the zemindars of Boorydanga against our Christians of the same place, for arrears of rent for three years, though they have paid to the last farthing, and have receipts in their possession. Poor Christians could not prove in the court about the payment of their rents, and lost all the cases. I believe, after a short time, the zemindars will sell their stored grain, &c., to realise the money decreed against them. I do not know how to help these poor men in this year of scarcity. One may ask, Why the zemindars are bitterly against the Christian ryots? The only answer of this question is, that the Christian ryots cannot satisfy the demands of the zemindars without sacrificing their religious principles. It is known to all that the zemindars, as a class with honourable exceptions, are in the habit of imposing illegal taxes on the occasion of idolatrous ceremonies. Hindu and Mahomedan ryots pay these taxes, and feel it a great burden, as far as money is concerned; but the Christians cannot pay these taxes as long as they are Christians. Hence there is no concord between Christ and Belial, so the Christians cannot conscientiously support, directly or indirectly, idol-worship or ceremonies in connection with it. When our Boorydanga people first embraced Christianity, they began to pay rent for their land, more than others, on condition that they should not have to pay any taxes for idol-worship. Up to this time they are paying increased rent according to their settlement, but still the landlords are not satisfied, and wish to get rid of them, because they oppose to pay idolatrous taxes like other ryots.

The land which has been leased out by our Christians for making our Churches self-supporting, is still in our possession, and the case is again going on with one of the zemindars.

“ If the case be decided in favour of our Christians, then the plan of making Churches self-supporting will succeed admirably. We have various trials like the above, but we feel that God is with us, and we can say with David, 'I am become like a bottle in the smoke; yet do I not forget Thy statutes.'—Ps. cxix. 83."

"Preaching among the Hindus and Mahomedans.

"Though we had various obstacles in our way, yet we preached the Gospel in all our principle hâts and bazaars, and visited about 600 villages in the sub-districts of Khoolnea, Bagerhaut, and Narrail. The conduct of the people towards us, especially of the lower orders, has been very encouraging—Shalpoore, Doomoriah, Packgacha, Shaitollah, Chingra, Bairah, Khanabad, and Bhagba, &c., are the places where the Gospel has made great impression, and we believe the time is not very far distant when they will acknowledge the Saviour openly whom they now worship secretly."

"Our Churches.

"Great activity has been shown by all our Churches in repairing their houses of worship, and in contributing for the land which they leased out for the Churches. Kudumdi paid its pastor's salary regularly. There is a spiritual awakening among the nominal Christians of Shelabunga. Some of the members who were excluded from Shelabunga Church on account of bad conduct long ago, have confessed their sins with tears, and have been received by the Church with joy. Had there been no famine, this Church would have been, by this time, a self-supporting Church like Kuddumdi. Boorydanga is making slow progress. Malgazi is the only Church which is going on badly for want of a suitable pastor."

Kooshtea is in the district of Nuddeah, and contains 9,245 inhabitants. It is at present the terminus of the Eastern Bengal Railway.

Of Kooshtea, the Rev. Brojonath Banerjea thus speaks:—

"In Kooshtea, a native preacher, named Babu Woomar Churn Nath, is my constant companion in preaching the Gospel of our Lord, and a colporteur named Babu Shib Chuander Bhattecharjea, for selling the Scriptures. The colporteur does not go with us always, he goes separately. In hâts, melas, and in other places where we get a good number of hearers, he joins us; and sometimes I and Woomar Churn both go separately when it seems good to us. We go to preach the Gospel of our Lord every day, except on Sundays. In the rainy season of the year we get a good number of hearers on the banks of the River Gorie, who hear the Gospel with much attention.

"Sometimes I have taught the Gospel of Saint Luke, and a few chapters of John, to the booking clerk of the railway station at Kooshtea. He says many things in favour of our religion, and one native doctor hears us most attentively. Once our brethren, Woomar Churn Nath and Shib C. Bhattecharjea went to a mela named Doorgapore mela; they got many hearers in the mela. One most interesting thing in the mela was this—in the night, one Brahmin was telling the things which our preacher brother, Woomar C. Nath, preached in the daytime at the mela. We go to the hâts of distant places and get sometimes fifty, sometimes sixty, sometimes more than a hundred. They hear with attention, and we heard the people say, 'Your religion is true. The Word you are telling, the people may believe.' Once a Hindu Baboo told me that 'There are many errors in Hinduism; but your religion is pure.'

"Although there were no baptisms in the year at Kooshtea, yet there were two interesting things in the mission. My brother, Aghor Nath Banerjea, used to come and see us at Kooshtea, and I taught him some especial portions of Scripture, and talked with him many things about our salvation. By the blessing of my words, given by the Lord, he was for some time a secret disciple of Christ, like Nicodemus; but, in the month of August, 1873, he was baptized by Mr. Kerry at Intally Chapel. He is now living with my Hindu parents and relatives, in a village about fourteen miles from Calcutta. One candidate for baptism is living in our Kooshtea Mission Compound. She is the sister of our brother, Woomar Churn Nâth.

"She is the daughter of Christian parents. Our colporteur's brother sold two rupees' worth of books, one rupee fifteen annas' worth, and so forth, every month.

"The colporteur says that the men who take the Bible read it; he has seen some."

IX.—BACKERGUNGE.

Missionaries, J. SALE, A. McKENNA,

Number of members, 979.

This low-lying district lies to the east of Calcutta; Barisaul, its principal town, containing 7,684 inhabitants, being 185 miles distant. The population of the district is stated to be 2,377,433 by the Census of 1872, in the following proportions: Hindus, 827,393; Mohammedans, 1,540,965; Christians, 4,852; and others, 174. The stations are much scattered, and are found in the northern part of the district.

Mr. Sale reports as follows, concerning this interesting mission:—

"The 'Churches,' as you will see, have not been stagnant, though they have not increased at quite the usual rate. I fear the disturbed state of my own health, and that of Mrs. Sale having so sadly broken down, must be put down as partly the cause of the somewhat less active condition of the Churches during the past year.

Still we have reason to rejoice in the baptisms, seventy in number, and in the large number who are candidates for baptism (160) according to the last reports. We have had also quite as many as usual of accessions from the heathen population; things looked promising in an unusual degree in the earlier months of the year. Then came the scantiness of the rain, then the early drying up of the waters, and consequent prevalence of fever, and, in some parts of the district, of cholera; and then the awful fear of famine. Fear, I hope, not to be fully realised in Backergunge. Up to the present time, high prices, and, of course, suffering amongst the very poor, the weakly, and those families whose bread-winners are old, or at all disabled. For these distressed ones, I rejoice to know that help is forthcoming.

"Preaching was commenced very vigorously this year, some very large melas were visited, and a special preaching tour was organised for the large island of Dukhin Shabbazpore, inhabited almost entirely by Ferazis, and very successfully was preaching carried on by our brethren in this island for several days. Threats were not wanting; but nothing worse than hard words was encountered, whilst a large number of tracts, and portions of the Scriptures were sold at low prices. An inspection of the preachers' journals, shows that 2,019 places were visited during the year, and that 56,590 Hindus, and 54,780 Mahomedans, heard the preaching at these places. In these numbers, conversations with two or four people by the wayside, &c., are not counted. In many places the very liveliest interest in the things that were spoken was manifested.

"Our schools have been kept up, but we want more teaching-power, and more steady and stimulative superintendence to make them at all what they ought to be.

"Mrs. Sale had hoped to have done much amongst the women and girls here; but her failing health has not permitted her to see her desires fulfilled. Still, in addition to the four Bible-women paid by the Society, she has been able to utilise the kind aid she has received from the Zenana Mission and from Mrs. Lewis, and from other kind friends, in employing village teachers, and Bible-women in several new spheres. Our central school continues to prosper. The generous aid received from the Sunday-school of Salters' Hall, has enabled us to persevere, and five of the brightest boys have gone from it to Serampore College. Of course the scarcity makes it very hard for the parents of the boys to continue their contributions to the school, but they have done so. They are in earnest. We were greatly distressed at the loss we and this school sustained in the death of Koilash Ghose, the Christian pundit of the central school. A young convert of great promise who, with his young wife, came and was baptized, and worked well for some two years. His illness was of a very distressing character, but his faith in Christ sustained him. Our English doctor (Dr. Bensley), kindly attended him, and was much affected when poor Koilash entreated him to pray with him. His poor widow is left with two little children; her friends, of course, regarding her as an outcast. So, midst joy and sorrow, our work goes on; we are often cast down, but not in despair. Very sorry, indeed, are we to leave this noble field of missionary enterprise. May God guide and bless abundantly our brethren who have taken charge of it!"

Since the above was written, Mr. and Mrs. Sale have arrived in England.

X.—DINAGEPORE.

Missionary, J. C. PAGE.

Number of members, 87.

The capital of a district of the same name. It is about 250 miles north of Calcutta. The population numbers 1,501,924. The town of Dinagepore contains a population of 13,042 souls.

XI.—DARJEELING.

Missionary, J. C. PAGE.

The hill territory of Darjeeling has a population of 46,727 persons; and the Terai, 47,985.

As Mr. Page has been in England during the year, we have not received the usual report.

XII.—CHITTAGONG.

Missionary, A. McKENNA.

As the people of this small station have objected the services of a clergyman to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, the Society's missionaries have been withdrawn.

XIII.—DACCA.

Missionaries, R. BION, I. ALLEN, M.A.

Number of members, 55.

Dacca, the capital of Eastern Bengal, extends for several miles along the banks of the old Ganges. It is about 190 miles N.E. from Calcutta. Its population is said to number 69,212 persons; but the entire district contains 1,852,993, in the following proportions: Hindus, 793,789; Mohammedans, 1,050,131; Christians, 7,844.

XIV.—TIPPERAH.

COMILLAH.

Number of members, 18.

Tipperah is a large district S.E. of Dacca, and contains a population of 1,533,931 persons. The chief city, Comillah, has 12,948 inhabitants.

This station, with the village of Sahebnagar in the hills, is worked by the missionaries of Dacca.

XV.—MYMENSING.

Number of members, 16.

Mymensing, to the north of Dacca, is a very populous district, containing 2,349,917 inhabitants. The chief city, of the same name, has 10,068 residents.

From the Missionary's Report we extract the following account of the above three missions :—

"The Dacca native church has found it desirable to have no individual pastor, but to form a 'panchayet' of six members instead, who attend to the pastoral duties. They meet at the beginning of the month and settle among themselves who is to preach on the Lord's day. They have desired that we, the missionaries, should give them a sermon once a month, which request has been readily acceded to.

"The preaching in the town of Dacca has been carried on with energy, whenever the missionaries and preachers have been at home. Usually the Word is preached in two and three different localities of the town at one and the same time. Though we have no baptisms to record, we yet are greatly encouraged by the continued attendance of large and attentive crowds, especially in Babu Bazar and the Chauk.

"The Comillah native church has adopted the plan of a 'panchayet' similar to that of the Dacca Church, and the native preachers have been advised not to meddle in any way with church affairs.

"English Sunday School.

"This has been carried on uninterruptedly by the Superintendent, Mr. Livingstone, Miss Robinson, and a young friend who kindly assisted through the greater part of the year.

"Itineracies.

"This important branch of our work has occupied our chief attention and time, and the Word of God has been published extensively in the districts of Eastern Bengal. Nor have we been left without evident tokens of God's blessing upon our labours, as the latter part of this report will show.

"In January, Ram Kanto Dass made a preaching tour through the Hilsa-marry Khal to Furreedpur and back. Mr. Allen and Ram Jiban visited Comillah. GungaCharan and O'Brien went in the direction of Jumalpur, and again east to Ramgopalpur for two weeks, walking on foot, visiting village after village on the way, and remaining for some days at the latter place.

"In February, Ram Jiban left for Munshiganj for a week, and afterwards proceeded to Comillah, in which place and neighbourhood he laboured with the Comillah preachers nearly four months.

"In March, Mr. Bion made a preaching tour to Mymensing alone, and found the crowds as large, and the people as easy of access, as when in the company of preachers. Ram Kanto and Upendro visited a mela at Manickganj, as well as the villages in its neighbourhood. The preachers in Mymensing visited Jumalpur, and afterwards a mela at Hossunpur, being absent a whole month.

"In April, Mr. Allen, in company with his preacher, Upendro, visited Munshiganj, the mela at Langal-bandh, and Bikrampur. Ram Kanto preached the Gospel round Dayapur, and also paid a visit to Munshiganj and its neighbourhood.

"In May, a letter from Abdul Raseed in Khurkie (Sylhet district) arrived, in which he begged us to remember him in our prayers, as he had no hope of surviving his serious illness. Ram Kanto and Upendro willingly got ready to pay him a visit.

"This Abdul Raseed had been baptized by Mr. Pearce in Caloutta, and was for some time one of the teachers in the Serampore Collège. He lived with his mother and brothers, who are still Mahomedans and his Christian life was as a bright light shining in the gross darkness of his native village.

"This dear brother in the Lord entered into the rest of the people of God on the 3rd of November, just eleven days after our arrival at Lackai. We had gone half a day's journey out of our route, and had just got ready for the long walk to his village, when we heard the news of his death from a nephew of his, who could, however, give us no particulars of his last hours.

"On having been urged in May to accompany the preachers to Dacca to get proper medical attendance, he had felt grateful, but refused, saying: 'I wish to die among my own people, to show them how a Christian can die.' Not being sure how his relations might receive us, and whether they had sufficient accommodation for three, we thought it better not to burden them with our presence, and went on our way.

"In June, Mr. Allen and myself visited Comillah, and took Ram Jiban home with us.

"In July, Gunga Charan and O'Brien preached the Gospel in Jumalpur and along the Bunsri river, as far as Kagmari, but O'Brien having got an attack of cholera, they had to return sooner than they would otherwise have done. The whole tour occupied a fortnight.

"Towards the end of this month and the whole of August, Mr. Allen and myself, in company with Ram Kanto and Upendro, made a preaching tour to Mymensing, and taking O'Brien up from there proceeded to Durgapur, at the foot of the Garo hills. On our way down we divided ourselves on the Kungsa river, the preachers proceeding north up the Neethai to a Garo village, called Ghosgau, and thence to Mymensing and home. Mr. Allen and myself going south through the jheels to Kishwarganj, and thence down the Brahmaputtra and Luckya rivers to Dacca.

"In October, the preachers from Mymensing came to Dacca in order to stand an examination along with the Dacca preachers. They returned after a few days, preaching the Gospel in various places up and down the rivers. O'Brien, shortly after his arrival, left again on a preaching tour to Comillah, which place Ram Jiban, Ram Kanto, and I visited again in the latter part of this month.

"In November, Ram Kanto and I visited Dayapur on the way to Calcutta, and preached in various places on the Hilsamarri khal, Padma river and Goalundo, and then proceeded to the Conference in Calcutta. This lasted a week, after which I returned to Dacca, preaching on the way.

"Mr. Allen and Upendro went to Calcutta, viâ Burisal and the Sunderbunds, preaching in various places on the way, and returning to Dacca by the same route.

"In December, after two days' stay in Dacca, I started again on the 8th in company with Ram Jiban and Ram Kanto for one and a half month's tour up the Megna, Dhulesar and Surma rivers to Chattuck and Sylhet, and thence to Shahganj, through the eastern parts of Mymensing, viâ Itna, Neckly and Bhyrab Bazar."

"The work of God in Mymensing has been carried on as efficiently as the men and means at our disposal would permit. The resident preachers proclaiming the Gospel in the bazaars of the town and the surrounding markets; Baira, Sham-bhuganj, Byganbarree, Dapunya and Babualli, have also made various tours in the district.

"On these journeys, we have met with eager attention in various places both from Hindus and Mahomedans, the only drawback being the fearful ignorance, particularly of the Mahommedans, in the villages of this district.

"Scriptures were eagerly bought in many places on the Bunsí river and elsewhere. Thus, at a market, called Mager-hát, I sold thirty-two Gospels within a quarter of an hour.

"Two of the native preachers employed in Mymensing, are supported by the Sunday School children of the Baptist Churches in Victoria, Australia."

STATIONS AND CHURCHES IN NORTHERN INDIA.

I.—MONGHYR.

Missionaries, J. LAWRENCE, E. C. B.
HALLAM.

Number of members, 90.

A town of 59,698 inhabitants. It lies on the southern bank of the Ganges, 300 miles N.W. of Calcutta. The district of Monghyr contains 1,812,986 persons, of whom the Mahommedans number only 182,269 souls. The district contains 1,142 Christians; the rest are Hindue.

At the request of Mr. Hallam, the report has been written by Mr. Jones, one of the deacons of the English Church. He says:—

"This report embraces the period since the departure of Mr. Lawrence (25th September, 1872) to the close of the year 1873.

"Mr. Lawrence's departure was an unexpected occurrence. His general health began to decline after an attack of dengue; and there was at the same time rapid deterioration of the sight of one eye. It was hoped that by a change to the bracing climate of Europe, the progress of disease would be impeded, if not completely arrested.

"Mr. Campagnac, the junior missionary, was at Monghyr at the time of Mr. Lawrence's departure, but in so enfeebled a condition as to be totally laid aside from work. When in better health he preached with fluency and acceptance in the bazaar, besides taking his turn in the English services; and he gave promise of being specially useful amongst the class of natives who are called Brahmos. He acquired considerable influence over this class, but it pleased God to remove him from this sphere of labour. Early in December, he left with his family for Calcutta, where he died in peace on 23rd April last.

"As no missionary of our denomination was available, it was agreed, as a matter of unavoidable necessity, to make over the pulpit of the English chapel, as well as the management of the mission generally, to Rev. J. J. Varnier, lately a missionary of the Gospel Propagation Society, who had come to settle at Monghyr on the dissolution of his connection with that society. His catholic spirit made him willing to fall in with the arrangement, which, it was expected, would only be of brief duration; but seven months elapsed before a Baptist minister could be sent to Monghyr. In the beginning of May, Mr. Jordan came up for a month, during which visit he baptized four persons in connection with the native branch of the Church. In June, Mr. Hallam, formerly of the American Free-Will Baptist Mission, in the south of Bengal, being at the time a candidate for employment in connection with this society, came up to Monghyr; and soon afterwards he received information from England of his having been accepted as one of its missionaries. He has discharged the pastoral duties of the English Church, as well as those of the mission generally, with zeal and efficiency ever since.

"The attendance in the English chapel has been better than it has been for a long time past, especially on Lord's-day evenings, when the average number present may be taken as ranging from 60 to 70. At the week-day prayer meeting there are about 30 present, whereas very recently the number scarcely exceeded a dozen. In the native chapel the attendance ranges between 40 and 50 adults on the Lord's-day, and the number present at the week-day service may be estimated at between 15 and 20.

"Owing to the unsettled state of affairs, little comparatively has been done in the way of itinerating, especially to a distance. The Sonapore fair, near Hajepore, opposite to Patna, was attended by two native brethren, Soodeen and Ramgut. Soodeen also, at the request of Mr. Gregson of Agra, visited the Hurdwar fair, in the north-west, in company with him, being six weeks absent on the tour. The native preachers have continued their labours at Monghyr and its neighbourhood; but the usual yearly boat excursion in the rainy season, when villages in the interior become accessible by the rise of the rivers, and the annual visit to the Caragolah fair in January, were not undertaken this year.

"In connection with this subject, it may be mentioned that Mr. Hallam has systematised the work of preaching to the heathen by dividing the immediate field of labour into twenty-four circuits. The native preachers go out two by two daily, morning and evening, the tour of the circuits being completed in the course of a month. The next week there is an exchange of circuits between the two sets of native preachers, so that each locality has the benefit of hearing the Gospel from all the preachers in succession. The station of Jamal-pore is comprised in the arrangement, and two visits are made to it weekly.

"The mission school for teaching English literature along with the Bible continues to be carried on, under the head-master, Mr. Sturgeon, with a staff of four assistant teachers and one paid monitor, formerly a pupil. The number of pupils now on the roll is 84, the average daily attendance being about 75. In 1872 one pupil passed the Calcutta University entrance examination. The fees paid by the boys average above 50 Rs. monthly; but, notwithstanding this source of income, and the interest derived from certain Government securities, the pecuniary means for maintaining the school are insufficient. It has been found necessary, in consequence, to apply for a grant-in-aid, and the application is still before the authorities for consideration.

"Mr. Hallam holds a singing-class for children weekly, at his house, and has lately commenced a Sunday-school in the vestry of the English chapel. Such an institution has elsewhere been found to be of the highest importance as a nursery of the Church. The recent large accession to the Allahabad Church has, it is stated, been mainly from this source. The average Sunday attendance is 20. A juvenile library has been formed, and the children appear to be greatly pleased with all the arrangements made for their benefit.

"Since Mr. Hallam commenced his labours the attendance at the English Chapel has improved, and something like awakening has been manifested by the attendants. Whether it will lead to decisive results it is not for us to say."

II.—PATNA.

Missionary, D. P. BROADWAY.

Number of members, 20.

Patna is situate on the southern bank of the Ganges, about 320 miles N.W. of Calcutta. It is largely inhabited by Mussulmans, and the entire population is said to number 158,900. The district contains 1,559,638 inhabitants.

Mr. Broadway has furnished us with the following report :—

"The work done during the past year, as shown in the following statement, is not equal to that done in previous years; but this is owing not to any laxity or remissness on the part of the agents engaged in the work, but to the reduction in their number.

"1. Street Preaching.

"The Gospel has been preached in different parts of the city, and whenever it has been preached, we have found people willing to hear us. Sometimes opposition has been stern, but as our opponents were men of doubtful character, they signally failed to enlist the sympathies of the people. The Gospel has not suffered by these attacks, but has, on the contrary, obtained greater credit with the people.

"We have for some time made it a point, when preaching has been going on, to watch the effect produced by the proclamation of the truths of the Gospel, and have been struck with the solemn silence which has usually prevailed, and the thoughtfulness evinced in the countenances of the people. When interruption has been caused by an ignorant wrangler—for it is seldom that any but such venture to interrupt the preacher—it has raised a commotion of disapprobation in the assembly, and the request to let the speaker proceed has been pressed at once.

"Some have boldly declared their sympathy with the truths set forth, and have calmly stood the reproaches of their friends. This, though of rare occurrence, has encouraged us to hope that the Gospel is working silently in the hearts of the people, and that there are many around us, who, if they are not prepared to confess the Gospel, have ceased to belong to the ranks of its enemies.

"2. Melas.

"The Melas held in this neighbourhood have been visited as in preceding years. At Sonepore we had the assistance of Messrs. Bate, Greiff, and three native preachers. The assembly on this occasion was comparatively small. It appears the impending dearth disheartened the people and deterred them from attending as usual. The eclipse of the moon being on the appointed bathing night, caused a large influx of people from the district; but they left as soon as they performed the ceremony required of them. We, nevertheless, had ample employment the whole time, and trust the Lord will recognise what has been done, and make it prove a blessing to thousands of poor souls.

"3. Itinerary.

"Whatever was done in the way of itineracy the past cold season, has been stated in our last Report.

"4. Colportage.

"The sale of books has been very fair during the past year. We have been able to support the colporteur and to meet other expenses, such as Bangy and Serai hire, toll, and crossing rivers, out of the proceeds.

"We mentioned Mungul Chund, a young Marwarri, linendraper, in some of our former reports, as one desirous of embracing the Gospel. He deferred the matter year after year in the hope that his wife would follow him. She, too, gave up all idolatrous practices, willingly read the Gospel, united with her husband in worship, and outwardly demeaned herself as a Christian. But, at the same time, she refused all communication with her father-in-law, who had already avowed the Lord, and would not allow him to live in the house as before. She also made things in other respects very trying to her husband, and yet she seemed to be seeking after the truth, and this kept alive the hope which he entertained, that she would, eventually, be willing to unite with him in the public confession of Christ. In this way she kept him back for five years. During this time he was visited with several attacks of illness. The last attack was very serious, and threatened dissolution. He resolved, should he be again spared, to let nothing keep him from avowing the Redeemer. Accordingly, as soon as he recovered, he made his resolution public, and applied for admission into the Church. His wife did all she could to hinder him. Having failed herself, she induced his little girl to work on his feelings. Finding all efforts useless, she became violent, and, taking the child, and whatever valuables she could lay her hands upon, abandoned him. He was baptized in the chapel at Dinapore on Lord's-day, the 9th of September last, after the evening service. The effect on some of those who came to witness the administration of the ordinance, has been salutary, and we are not without hope that it may, under the Divine blessing, lead to further additions to our number. The convert is weak in body, but strong in spirit, and promises to prove a useful member of our Christian community. He has returned to his usual avocation, and, instead of the persecution he anticipated, he has found his neighbours kind and respectful. His condition, however, is still a painful one as far as domestic matters are concerned; but as he has cast his cares upon the Lord, he will, without doubt, obtain help and consolation. His wife has already made some overtures. Let us hope the Gospel with which she has become acquainted will change her heart, and prove to her a 'savour of life unto life.' May the Lord command His blessing!

III.—DINAPORE.

Missionary, W. GREENWAY.

Number of members.

Dinapore is a few miles west of Patna, and contains 61,300 inhabitants. It is the seat of the military authorities for the district. Bankipore lies between Patna and Dinapore, and contains 72,746 inhabitants.

“English Branch.”—No change has taken place in this portion of our work. The services on the Lord's-day have been conducted as usual by Mr. Broadway, and the week-day meetings by Mr. Penbearow, our venerable deacon, and other members of the Church. We cannot say much for our Lord's-day morning service. The soldiers being marched to it, many come who would otherwise not do so. This is shown to a painful extent by their conduct during the service. But the evening service is very satisfactory. It is usually well attended, and, as the attendance is not compulsory, those who come are to be regarded as willing worshippers. And although none have as yet come forward to avow the Lord by baptism, yet each service has been felt to be a period of comfort and spiritual refreshing.

“Hindustani Branch.”—John Raheem Buksh has again carried on this work during the past year.

“In the beginning of the year,” he states, “I was alone, and often felt the want of a fellow-helper when crowded by eager hearers, to satisfy whose desire for information single-handed was impossible at times. This difficulty, however, was presently removed. Mr. Dunn, a young printer, who is a member of our English Church, and understands the languages current here sufficiently to address the people, came forward of his own accord, and has hitherto proved a steady helper to me.

“We have daily delivered the message of free salvation to lost sinners through the eternal Son of God, who, having been manifest in the flesh, and in that form having borne reproach and the penalty of incurred death by dying Himself for them ‘hath brought life and immortality to light.’

“We have been much encouraged by the readiness with which people have always flocked to us in the streets. The respectful manner in which we have been received by those we have visited at their houses, and the patient and serious attention with which they have listened to the truths propounded to them, have also encouraged us.

"In the course of our work we have not only had the heathen community in view, but also the native Christian government pensioners, of whom a large number reside here. The condition of these poor creatures is much to be deplored, owing to the manner in which their spiritual welfare has been neglected by those who should have attended to it. They have become so destitute of all religious and moral principles that they are the objects of contempt among their heathen neighbours, and a disgrace to the Christian name. We have arranged to visit their village once a-week, and have found them willing to hear the Word of Life; but we can say nothing hopeful of them at present.

"During the past year another interesting little opening has been afforded us. In our visits to Khagoul or Dinapore railway station bazaar, Mr. Overton, an officer of the railway police, met and invited us to his house. This servant of God has placed a room at our disposal, in which we have held a service every Lord's-day for a number of natives, who are encouraged by him to assemble there for the purpose."

IV.—BENARES.

Missionaries, H. HEINIG, W. ETHERINGTON.

Number of members, 19.

The most sacred of all Indian cities. It stands on the northern bank of the Ganges, about 430 miles N.W. from Calcutta. During festivals the population is said sometimes to reach 600,000 persons; but its ordinary inhabitants number only 175,188. It contains 4,000 Hindu temples, as well as many mosques.

The report of Mr. Heinig is as follows:—

"Our missionary efforts have been chiefly directed to the preaching of the Gospel in various parts of this large city; more or less, large crowds stand and listen attentively to the various topics brought before them, the truths of the Gospel are affectionately and prayerfully impressed on their minds, and both Hindoos and Mahomedans, male and female, are assured that salvation is obtained only by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. I now do not meet with such oppositions as in former years; the questions which some occasionally ask are more of an inquiring nature, yet my heart's desire is to see the day in which the natives will shake off the yoke of their priests which is still heavy upon them, and accept Jesus as their Saviour.

"Itinerating

"Has been confined to my visiting the two annual fairs.—In January last, I and Joseph Chuttree visited the Allahabad fair, which, at that time, was not so numerously attended by the natives as in former years, still large crowds listened with much attention to the Gospel message; we were engaged for six consecutive days.

"In November last, I and my native preacher, Joseph Chuttree, went to the annual fair near Balliya, 86 miles from Benares; we joined there the Rev. W. Ziemann, of Ghazipore, and his three native preachers. The eclipse of the moon drew a larger multitude of people together than there were in former years. For five days we addressed the crowds alternately from morning to night; though we were but few among so many, yet we humbly trust that some good has been done.

"We are greatly indebted to the official gentlemen who procured for us a Shamiána to shade us from the heat of the sun; we tender them our sincere thanks for all their kindness to me and Mr. Ziemann during our stay at the fair.

"Hindustani Services"

"Have been regularly conducted, as last year, on Sunday mornings and afternoons, and on Wednesday afternoons for the edification of the small congregation, assembling in the spacious room of the Mission House. The attendants comprise the members of the Church, with whom a few other people frequently unite, and the orphan children. Mr. Heinig is thankful to say that the means of grace have not been in vain, as will be seen under the heading 'Orphans.' The present number of communicants is seven, because several members have left for other stations.

"Orphans"

"In connection with the mission are, at the close of the year, twenty-nine in number; among them is a little baby girl now about nine months old; when about two months old she was found by the police in a field near Rájáká Taláo, about ten miles from Benares, and brought her to the magistrate who sent her to our care. If she had been in that field an hour longer she would have been devoured by the jackals, for which purpose the naked infant was put there. We procured at once a wet nurse for her, and, I am happy to say, little Agnes,—the name we gave her,—is doing very well.

"In the beginning of the year one of the orphan girls, a member of the Church, was united in marriage to a native preacher of Allahabad; shortly after we received a letter from Mrs. Smith, of Delhi, wishing to know how many marriageable girls we had in the orphanage, as she desired to see several young men, connected with the Delhi Church, settled. We, viewing this as a token from the Lord, replied that we had five girls from the age of 17 to 21 years, mentioned their abilities, dispositions, and religious training, and that one of them had been for several years a member of the Church, but that the others were only nominal Christians, &c. In April, Mrs. Smith kindly came all the way from Delhi to see the girls herself, and, after having had a conversation with them, they agreed to all her proposals. The heat of the season advancing, outfits for each of them were at once prepared, and then they left Benares under Mrs. Smith's kind protection. A few months after their arrival we were happy to hear that three of them were baptized by Mr. Smith, and at last the fourth came forward herself, requesting repeatedly to join the Church by baptism.

"In Conclusion"

"We beg to tender our sincere and heartfelt thanks to all our kind friends in India, England, and New Zealand who have contributed to the maintenance and instruction of the orphans."

From the Rev. W. Etherington, we have received the following report:—

"With regard, in the first place, to the English church and congregation. The church is small, consisting of not more than a dozen regular communicants; the congregation that attends the Sunday and Thursday evening services is large, for such a small European community as we have in Benares. I suppose the average attendance at the Sunday evening services may not be less than 80; we can hardly expect more, as there are two other places of worship here.

"Our Sunday-school for English and Eurasian children is large, and the average attendance good, about 70 boys and girls. For the greater part of last year the superintendence of the school devolved upon me, as Mr. Field, who was since its establishment its energetic superintendent, was obliged, on account of ill-health and the pressure of other duties, to resign his connection with the school. For four or five years it has been my duty to give a monthly address to the children, but now I have not only to superintend the school, but also to teach one of the classes. I am trying to make other arrangements, for I begin to feel that I have undertaken too much.

"As ours is the only Sunday-school in Benares, I do not like to think of withdrawing from it, but I shall be thankful to find some one able and willing to release me from the duty of superintending and teaching in it.

"At my request, and in consideration of my services, the Church consented to increase their monthly grant to the mission from 30 Rs. to 50 Rs. From this sum the native preacher, Ram Singh, is paid, his house rent defrayed, a small girls' school taught by his wife maintained, and some assistance rendered to our Zenana mission here.

"I sent Ram Singh, in February last, to begin work in Shivpore, a large village about three miles from this, and situated on a road which skirts the city, but at a considerable distance at all points from it, and meets the Ganges to the north and also to the south of the city.

"When I first went there to make arrangements for locating Ram Singh, the people received us favourably, and we had no difficulty in renting a small house. Soon, however, what I thought might prove a serious difficulty did arise. On the third day, Ram Singh returned to Benares, to inform me that he was not allowed to go near the well, nor to get any water from it. A Brahmin in charge of one of the temples had interfered, declaring that no Christian should be allowed to pollute the well by coming near it.

"The morning after Ram Singh told me what had been done about the well, I went out to the village. Soon after entering it I chanced to meet the Brahmin, who, with a few others, the elite of the village, were basking in the morning sun and having a chat. I joined them, entered into ordinary conversation, and gradually brought them round to the question as to the duties which men ought to perform towards each other, simply as men, and irrespective of their religious belief. They assented to most of what I said. I then brought the subject home to them, by asking how the principles, the truth and importance of which they had assented to, agreed with their conduct towards Ram Singh, a man against whom they could not say a word, except that he worshipped God, whom they acknowledged to be a spirit, spiritually, and not through the medium of idols. The Brahmin seemed a little perplexed, as he now perceived what my object was. After further conversation he made an awkward apology, and at last they all agreed that Ram Singh might have as much water as he might need from the well. After this, things went on smoothly enough, admission was gained into some of the houses of the people, and a little school of 16 or 17 little Hindu girls was formed, in which Ram Singh's wife teaches.

"Ram Singh has, by his forbearance and consistency, won the respect and confidence of the less prejudiced of the people; and his wife, I am glad to say, seems quite a favourite among many of the women. Miss Joseph, our Zenana teacher, goes to the village once a week, and has gained admittance into a few of the houses. Mrs. Etherington occasionally accompanies her, and about twice a month I go with Ram Singh to see some of the people.

"Preaching in the city during some months of last year was, I am sorry to say, carried on with considerable interruption and irregularity, owing to a variety of causes. I am now without a native brother to accompany me in this work, and cannot but feel that it is a great disadvantage to be thus alone.

"I made a tour in the cold season in this district, after visiting the stations of our North-west Mission, for the purpose of examining our native preachers. Later in the year I made another but shorter tour to a large mela, near a large village on the Jumna, called Buteshwar. In these preaching-tours there is, necessarily, a great deal of sameness in what we see and do.

"During the year some of my time has been given to the correction of the proofs of a new edition of our Hindi Testament, which is now issuing from the press in Calcutta. I have also prepared new and improved editions of my Hindu Grammar, and of my Bhasha Bhaskar. The former has proved useful to many missionaries in studying the language. Several have written to thank me for the service thus rendered to them in preparing for their work. The latter is now a text-book in the Government schools and colleges in the North-Western Provinces, and has been adopted in many mission schools also.

"The Zenana work under Mrs. Etherington's superintendence, presents many pleasing features. Miss Joseph labours with fidelity and industry. Owing to the excitement occasioned by two ladies leaving their homes for the Church Mission House, some Zenanas have, for a time, been closed. The number of Zenanas now visited is twenty-one, there are two girls' schools, and the number of pupils is eighty-three."

IV.—AGRA.

Missionary.—J. G. GREGSON.

Number of members 40.

The capital of the district, with a population of 149,008 persons: it is situated on the River Jumna, about 800 miles N.W. from Calcutta.

From the report of Mr. Gregson we extract the following particulars:—

"At the commencement of the year we had the pleasure of welcoming Mr. St. Dalmas as a fellow-worker in our Indian mission. He arrived in Agra in January, and has applied himself with indefatigable zeal to the study of the language, in which he has made considerable progress. He has had the great advantage of being entirely free from English and native work, which has fully established the wisdom of the new regulation of the Home Committee, in giving two years to every missionary for acquiring the language.

"Mr. St. Dalmas has re-occupied Chitoura, and we hope that this old station will be permanently occupied. It is surrounded by small native towns and villages, and every day of the week there are markets within riding distance of the bungalow.

"We have taken considerable pleasure in re-opening this old station, and most sincerely trust that we may be able to sustain the work, for years to come, and that a rich blessing from our God will be granted upon the labours of His servants.

"Melas.

"The local melas at Etawa, the Taj, and Secundra have been visited during the year. These melas, which only last for a day, are not such good opportunities for preaching as the larger ones; the people are more excited, and attend them more for sport and amusement than anything else; men and women dress themselves in their finest clothing, and tinsel, and gold, for the sole purpose of attracting attention. Hence they are not favourable seasons for preaching. The large melas of Hurdwar and Buteshwar form a striking contrast to these smaller gatherings, where the people listen attentively for days together to the preaching of the Gospel. At Hurdwar, Mr. McCumby and Mr.

Bate accompanied us, and the American Presbyterian missionaries formed a strong party. This year, it was the 'sixth year mela,' and consequently a much larger gathering than usual. People were to be seen from every part of Northern India and the Punjab; in fact, there were representatives from almost every part of India. Every day crowds of people listened to the preaching of God's word; and let us hope that the precious word, like good seed, sown in good soil, will bring forth much fruit to the honour and glory of God.

"At Buttेशur mela we had a large staff of preachers, European and native. The Church Mission of Agra was well represented in Mr. Baring and several preachers. The American Presbyterian Mission from Mynpoorie sent their native preachers, and in addition to our own people, Mr. Etherington, and Mr. Williams, and Mr. St. Dalmas, with their native preachers, attended the mela. On the Sunday we spent at the mela we all united in one service, and greatly enjoyed a season of Christian worship at this idolatrous place of pilgrimage. We succeeded in gathering large congregations, who listened very attentively, and without raising much opposition. We had various places in the mela where we preached. One of the best was on the platform of one of the temples, and one morning we had a good opportunity of preaching inside the temple, which was crowded with pilgrims, who were resting on the floor from their long and weary journey; and, as the pilgrims came in and poured water on the stone deity—a white marble representation of Mahadeo, surmounted with five heads, and a snake coiled round the top—their fellow pilgrims, laughing, pointed to the water that ran out of the temple, and acknowledged that there was no virtue in worshipping an idol that could not receive the offerings that were given. This year we had great difficulty in disposing of portions of Scripture. The colporteurs who were with us sold very few, and even when we offered them for nothing, there was no anxiety on the part of the people to receive them.

"In addition to these melas, our native preachers Hurree Ram and Jacob visited the Dholepora mela, where they had excellent opportunities for preaching.

"During the past year Hurree Ram has spent a great deal of time in itinerating in his portion of the district of Agra. On some occasions he has been well received by the villagers who have given him a place to rest in, and food to eat. At other times he has been turned out of the village, and told to go elsewhere. At Bisarna he has baptized one or two of the villagers—one the lumberdar, and another a poor ryot; but neither of them has come in to Agra.

"The Native Church

"Has lost a few members who have gone to Delhi for employment, and others by death. Last August we had an outbreak of cholera, which threatened to be very disastrous to our native Christians; but for their timely removal to Etawa, six miles from Agra, we fear more victims would have succumbed to the fatal disease. We were greatly indebted to Mr. Bailey for kindly placing at our disposal Mr. Wright's large bungalow at Etawa; and also to Doctors Smith and Christison for giving us the assistance of their native sub-surgeon during the attack; and on their recommendation we are re-building the village, which was very confined, and the houses small and dirty. Amongst those who died was Sheejetrai, who for more than thirty years had been a native preacher in connection with the Muttra and Agra Missions.

"Soldiers.

"Our mission at this station has always taken a deep interest in the religious welfare of our soldiers, and has been signally successful in this special and important work.

"Ritualism in the north-west is rapidly increasing, and driving our soldiers from the services of those who are their paid religious teachers.

"As a class of men to work for, we know of none who are so grateful for kind Christian sympathy, as our soldiers. Many who were once in the army in India are now occupying places of trust and responsibility, while several have entered our own Missionary Society. In fulfilling the Divine command of preaching the Gospel to every creature, we feel that they come within its limits, and therefore urge the importance of increasing our evangelistic work among soldiers.

"Temperance Work.

"During the past year we have been greatly encouraged in this valuable movement, which has been greatly blest in suppressing drunkenness among Europeans; and when we consider what a stumbling-block in the way of the heathen European drunkenness is, it is impossible to over-estimate the importance of promoting entire abstinence from intoxicating liquors.

"Havelock Chapel.

"The foundation-stone of this chapel was laid on June 3rd, after which a tea-meeting was held in the regimental school-room.

"The new chapel is registered in the Cantonment register as the property of the Baptist Missionary Society, and the Church communing there is open to all who hold the one great doctrine of the Church of Christ,—faith in Him as their only Saviour and Redeemer. Thus Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Wesleyans, Independents, and Baptists meet in Christian fellowship at one communion, as the disciples of one common Master.

"The new chapel was opened for Divine service on Sunday, Dec. 28th, when Mr. Williams, from Muttra, preached in the morning from 2 Cor. xiii. 8; and Mr. Gregson in the evening, from Matt. xxi. 13. The congregations both morning and evening were good, and the collections encouraging. In addition to the chapel, a large room at the back will be fitted up as a reading-room for the Christian soldiers; and one of the vestries is reserved for the handsome present that Mr. Cook, the great tourist, is sending, in the shape of a library consisting of 1,000 volumes.

"In addition to the chapel, which is 75 feet long and 45 feet broad, we shall have a large reading-room and library for our Christian soldiers, and two vestries. The cost of the building is estimated at 10,000 Rs., which includes an iron roof and chapel fittings.

"The Sunday School.

"Our friends, Messrs. Bailey and Rae, have conducted this good work among the children, and we trust with some measure of success. At the annual tea-meeting for the distribution of prizes, Sir William and Lady Muir were in camp at Agra, and very kindly attended."

V.—CHITOURA.

Missionary, H. G. EMERIC DE ST. DALMAS.

Mr. St. Dalmas has favoured us with the following report:—

"This old outpost of the mission has been several years unoccupied, in consequence of the smallness of the mission staff, and the exigencies of other stations where there is also a European community to minister to "The work here is entirely among the heathen, as there is no church, either European or native, and, with the exception of one old man and his wife, there are none who make a profession of faith in Jesus Christ.

I believe, however, that there are not a few here, and in many other places, who secretly believe that the Christian religion is the true one, though they have not yet so felt its power as to be prepared to bring upon themselves the consequences of an avowal. In addition to Chitoura, there are many other villages within a few miles which I visit occasionally; some of these villages have a large population, and in several there are weekly markets or fairs, where one can always get a number of people to listen to the preaching, and I take advantage of these opportunities as much as possible.

"These country people are always willing to listen to our preaching, and as a rule show less animosity and opposition than the inhabitants of cities and European stations, but on the other hand, they are more ignorant and uneducated; there are but few who can read, so the only chance for the mass of the people to learn the truth, is by keeping in memory that which they hear, and seeking further opportunities to hear and learn more perfectly; and all this requires something deeper than the passing interest which most display. Still it is a hopeful sign that many of the village people begin to see the advantages of education. I am often asked to start schools for their children, whom they would gladly send even to a Christian school for the sake of the worldly gain to be derived from education. I should not consider it right to bind myself down to this work, and thereby neglect the first duty of preaching the Gospel to the masses; nor have I any Christian helper qualified to teach. My only co-worker, Thakur Dass, has been superannuated on account of old age and extreme deafness, and he is now more willing than able to work and preach, and does what he can.

"About the end of October I went with Mr. Gregson and Mr. Williams to the mela at Butteshur. This was especially interesting to me, being the first Hindu mela I have visited. Such a scene impresses one with the great need of the Gospel for India, to save the people, not so much from the folly and superstition of idolatry, as from the wickedness and pollution of a religion which, in its so-called holy places, is seen to be so unholy. In the face of 100,000 idolaters, the few missionaries and native preachers seemed but a handful; and many thousands heard not at all, and many more but once or twice, anything of the Word of Truth and Life.

"I inherit the good-will of the people here, in virtue of the memory of my predecessors; much labour has been expended in this district in former years, and, if the work can be once more steadily carried on, it is earnestly to be hoped that the bread then cast upon the waters may be found after these many days."

VI.—MUTTRA.

Missionary, J. Williams.

Number of members, 7.

A place much frequented by the Hindus for the worship of Krishna. It is of great antiquity, and is situated on the banks of the Jumna, about thirty miles N.E. from Agra. The population numbers 59,281 persons.

Mr. Williams reports as follows:—

"1.—Preaching.

"This branch of mission-work has been almost regularly carried on in this station during the whole year, except on such occasions as necessarily prevented us. In order to gain the good attention of the people to the truths spoken, great pains have been taken to represent it to them in different ways and in various forms of speech, so that it might clearly be comprehended, and be the means of convincing them of the foolishness of idolatry and superstition, and of conversion unto God. But I am sorry to say that the truth has not been listened to with that candour and impartiality which it so well deserves. Instead of honestly weighing its evidences and candidly searching after it, many of the people were heedless to its claims, and, by their cavillings and groundless oppositions, endeavoured to influence others to believe that the doctrine of the Cross was not better than a fable, and therefore unworthy of their acceptance. At Bindrabun and other places, most of the people were of a better state of mind, and were more attentive to the things preached, than the inhabitants of Muttra, the holy city. The fact is, wherever courts of justice are established, and a large community of Government officers and Europeans reside, the natives in such a place are more daring, more indifferent and insulting, and more hardened in their sins, than they are far out in the country, where the people do not often come in contact with the bad examples and unchristian influence of such men. India cannot possibly march on prosperously, as long as this evil influence retards every attempt made to improve and evangelize its inhabitants.

"2.—Bazaar discussions.

"During the year, many warm discussions have taken place between the writer and the Hindus and Mahomedans, concerning subjects of no small magnitude, some of which may be mentioned here,—as the moral character and divinity of Christ; the wickedness and non-divinity of Krishna and other Hindu gods; the superiority of the Gospel to the teachings of the vedas and shastres; the false claims of Mahomet, and non-necessity and fabrication of the Koran; the inspiration of the New Testament, and the universality of Christ's atonement. When the last two subjects already alluded to were discussed, our little house at Muttra was half-full of Mahomedans, who accompanied their maulvi, in order to hear what turn the discussion would take.

"3.—The Bhutishur Mela.

"In company of the brethren, Messrs. Gregson, Etherington, and St. Dalmas, and other native brethren, I visited, this year, the above mela, where we stayed for about a week, preaching three or four times daily to large multitudes of people, who hearkened to the Word with considerably good attention, and with but very little opposition. The number of tracts and gospels sold was not large, for the reason, perhaps, that the people, on account of the heavy rain we have had this year, have suffered great losses, and that the land was at the time threatened with famine. On our way home, Mr. St. Dalmas, the Rev. Mr. Baring, of the Church mission, and myself, and some native evangelists, visited Penhath, where we had an interesting discussion with some Mahomedans, as well as a good preaching. Leaving Mr. Baring behind, Mr. St. Dalmas and myself, and our native brethren, marched on to Futtyabad, where we again preached to a large number of people, some of whom listened well, whilst others were rather disputatious, though their discussions were not of the brightest hue.

"4.—Colportage.

"This important branch of evangelistic work, connected with the Bible and Tract Society, has regularly been carried on during the year, and, we may say, not without some fruit and encouragement. Four whole Bibles, many gospels and other portions of Scripture, and numerous tracts, have been sold, and the colporteur speaks favourably of the kind reception and good attention he has received in the many cities, villages, and houses which he has visited."

VII.—DELHI.

Missionaries. J. SMITH and R. F. GUYTON.

Number of members, 203.

This ancient capital of the Great Mogul lies 900 miles distant, N.W. from Calcutta. The number of inhabitants is usually estimated at 150,000, equally divided between Hindus and Mahomedans.

The Annual Report presents us with the following information:—

"In our labours during the past year we have steadily kept three objects in view, viz., the growth of the churches in independence and piety; the instruction of inquirers and candidates for baptism; and the propagation of the Gospel among the heathen.

"The Churches

during the past year have, for the most part, conducted their own services, managed their own affairs, and paid their own expenses. Twenty converts have been added to them by baptism, and a large number of inquirers are being instructed. Another church has been added to their number at Subzi Mundi, consisting of fourteen members, and services are regularly held, besides a good deal of voluntary teaching from house to house among the heathen.

"We hope ere long to see little churches formed at Furreedabad and Ballubgurh; at the latter place they are building a meeting-house, in which the school also can be held.

"A proof that the native converts are gradually conforming to Christian habits is furnished by the fact that eight couples have been married during the year! That they are being taught to help the natives and sustain the worship of God without foreign help is proved by their having purchased a building at Subzi Mundi, to be used as chapel and school-house, and not only paid for it out of their own collections, but had the deed made out and registered in their own name.

"Our Boys' Schools have been considerably increased during the year, and now contain more than 400 scholars. This work grows upon us from year to year. Its utility has been doubted, and in these doubts we have shared. Still, it must be remembered that whole villages of the class of people among whom our schools are established contain not a single reader, and they are not admitted to the Government schools; so that, at present, ours is the only educational agency that can reach them. The teachers receive from 4 to 6 Rs. per month, and some of them do the work of a catechist, besides looking after these schools.

"The Sabbath School and Adult Bible Class have been kept up regularly, and, on the whole, with satisfactory results. The attendance of both sexes has averaged fifty. As a large number of our people are engaged in labour during the week, this school meets a pressing want, and we hope it will be the means of preparing some for usefulness in a humble sphere, in the spread of Bible truth.

"Itinerating

has been carried on in the district by myself, Subha Chund, Seetul Das, Chunni, and Chetan Das. This most important part of our work is not only pleasant, but promises great results. On the left bank of the Jumna we have preached the Gospel, in numbers of small towns and villages, where we find a growing desire for hearing the Word and the establishment of schools for the children of the poor. For a distance of about fifty miles on the Muttra road we have laboured with marked promise of success. A few places have been permanently occupied, and we hope especially to cultivate this part of the field, inasmuch as there are no other agents likely to occupy it. Itinerant work among the rough villagers, where often serais or rest-houses cannot be found, is very hard and trying, and yet is real missionary work, and by far the pleasantest of all our occupations. Many a night have we been kept up until a late hour by crowds who appeared never to tire listening to the Word of God, and, when worn out by fatigue, we have found sleep sweet and refreshing, though in a Chumar's hut and amid piles of dried cows' dung prepared for fuel.

"The English Congregation"

has been remarkably good, and I trust some have been led to commence a new and better life, especially among Her Majesty's 109th Regiment, now removed to Dinapore. The cost of carrying on Divine worship has been gladly met and Mission funds relieved. We are especially indebted to H. Dear, Esq., of Monghyr, for an entirely new set of lamps, by which the lighting is much improved; also to Mrs Sime and Lady Bromhead for carpets, curtains, &c."

Zenana work has been very zealously carried on under Mrs. Smith's superintendence, though with some fluctuations and disappointments. Miss Fryer has been obliged, through failing health, to return to England, but her place is likely to be occupied by Mrs. Campagnac. Three other ladies have assisted in the work, though two of them have since discontinued doing so. Mrs. Fernandez, Fatima, and her two daughters are still employed daily. About 200 women hear the Scriptures read, and seventy-five women and girls are taught systematically. The Christian Girls' School contains sixteen boarders and nine day-scholars. Sixty or seventy houses are thus visited, and Christian instruction imparted to the inmates.

VIII.—ROHTUCK.

Number of members, 8.

This district lies to the east of Delhi, and contains about 370,000 inhabitants.

We have no special report from this district this year. Sabha Chund has been assisting the work in Delhi during the year.

IX.—ALLAHABAD.

Missionaries, T. EVANS, J. D. BATE, and J. H. ANDERSON.

Number of members, 78.

This important city, situated at the junction of the Ganges and Jumna rivers, is now the seat of Government for the North-Western Provinces of Hindustan. It contains 143,693 inhabitants. It is about 600 miles from Calcutta, with which it has communications both by rail and river.

Mr. Anderson reports as follows:—

"Owing to Mr. Evans's ill-health, he did not send home a report for 1872. This leads me to mention that, during that year, a large increase of the number of members of the English Church took place. Thirty-eight persons were baptized. It was a time of joyful excitement when, after short intervals, several persons were, at the same time, brought to confess Christ. Before my arrival here in February, this feeling had greatly subsided, and it devolved upon me to watch over and teach those who had entered upon the Christian life during the revival of the previous year. Since I came I have been mainly occupied in the work of the English Church.

"The conduct of a few has not been satisfactory, and we had to exclude two from fellowship; but the great majority have maintained a course of Christian consistency.

"During the year we have had in all fourteen baptisms, and of those baptized five are native Christians. Mr. Evans had the pleasure of administering the ordinance to a few of these before he left.

"I came here at the recommendation of the Agra Conference until a minister should be sent out from England, on the assumption that the Church would be able to support a pastor. This, however, it was quite unable to do at the time I came. A great majority of the people were in humble circumstances. Since June last an effort has been perseveringly made, and a sum of upwards of £50 has been raised, but our wish to exceed this amount could not be realised this year because of the necessity we have been under to appeal to the people to help us to repair the roof of the chapel, which was in danger of falling in. Through the Divine blessing success has crowned our endeavours. We have raised since June some £280. Our Monghyr friends assisted us very liberally, friends at Benares helped, and a few sums came from other places at a distance. A good deal of money has been collected here by the Sunday-school children, by two soldiers, and by one of the railway employés; and natives, who are not Christian, aided considerably by their contributions. The ladies worked with the needle, and prepared numerous articles for a fancy sale. By these combined efforts we were able to pay the entire cost before the year was closed; and now I am free to appeal again to the people to do their utmost towards making this cause self-supporting.

"The attendance at the chapel has been gratifying. The morning service has somewhat improved, and we continue to be nearly full in the evening. In regard to the Christian work of the Church, the Sunday-school has been going on as usual; a cottage meeting has been kept up at the house of one of our members throughout the year, and two others were opened; but the removal of those who conducted them interfered with their continuance. We have commenced two others recently. We have a city visitor, employed by the Church, who visits the English-speaking poor in the town, and reads and prays with them, besides conducting one of the cottage meetings.

"I have devoted as much time as I could to the study of the Hindi and Urdu languages, and I am often engaged in communicating with native brethren about matters affecting the interests of the Mission.

"We have engaged three col-porteurs, and in conjunction with Mr. Bate I superintend their work. They are not fully qualified, but they were the best men to be had, and have worked hard thus far. Mr. Bate has helped me materially in preaching to the English congregation. He has preached twice a month, and assisted on several other occasions; and Mr. Carr, our energetic deacon, has been forward as usual in promoting all the interests of the Church which it lay in his power to serve. We have had a year of much peace and love in the Church; and though there has been an absence of the excitement which characterized last year's effort, I believe we have had the presence of the Lord Jesus with us, and the blessing of God upon the year's work."

In addition to the facts mentioned in the earlier pages of the report, we gather the following extracts from Mr. Bate's letter:—

"My last Report was written at the beginning of the year 1873, and a few days before the commencement of the great annual festival of the Hindus at the junction of the Ganges and the Jumna at this place.

"On five different occasions fakeers

(Hindu ascetics) came to my preaching-place, and expressed a desire to discontinue their present mode of life and 'become Christians.' These men were the genuine article that Hindu ascetism turns out,—dirty, degraded-looking, and ignorant. As all of these, with but two exceptions, were middle-aged men, I hesitated to incur for myself, or for the Mission, the permanent dead weight which the reception of them would surely have involved; for fakeers know nothing and are quite unfit to earn a livelihood by any ordinary means.

"One or the other of them came about me for several days in succession; but I could not divest myself of the feeling that they had rather the air of beggars for temporal assistance than men who are seeking the pardon and peace which faith in Christ brings with it.

"One morning, as I conversed with one of these fakeers, I happened to mention (while explaining to him the obligations as well as the privileges of being a Christian) that our Shastras teach us that 'if a man will not work neither shall he eat.' He never came again. In another case I entered into an account of the nature and marks of the new birth. This man also discontinued his visits, and went off to a missionary of another Mission.

"I was twice visited, during that mela, by a Hindu who professed to have out loose entirely from the trammels of the popular ritual; in faith he was neither Hindu, Brahmo, Mohammedan, nor Christian, he said; he called himself a 'metaphysical philosopher,' and he came to the mela, not to bathe in the Ganges, nor to do obeisance to any of the Hindu deities, but because it was a general holiday. He was a man of a small private fortune, and did no work, but occupied his time in the study of philosophy and religion. His acquaintance with the doctrines and history of the New Testament astonished me by its accuracy and extensiveness. I felt that he 'lacked but one thing'—the sense of his spiritual need. Who shall say but that the Saviour may yet claim him for His own? Of one thing I am sure,—that man was a type of a class that is continually increasing; a class which represents one of the results of the work of Christian evangelists in this vast country.

"A few days after the close of that mela I joined one of our brethren of the American Presbyterian Mission in Allahabad (in compliance with an old invitation) in an Evangelistic tour among the villages of this district.

"One evening, when I continued preaching until dark, in a village about two miles from our tent, and my fellow-missionary and the native brethren had left, I found myself followed out of the village to the main road by a man. He was respectably dressed and tolerably well-spoken. We soon struck up a conversation, and I learnt that his object in following me was to express the desire to accompany me to my tent, and ultimately to my home. He said he had never heard such words as he had heard on that day, and that he would like to hear more, even though it might involve his leaving his home and never returning to it. After giving him the best directions I felt it in my power to give, I told him (on learning that he had a wife and family on a farm near the village) that I could not encourage him to leave his home and those who were dependent on him for their support; and that if he were really sincere in the language he had used, and in his pursuit of spiritual peace and rest, there could be no fear that the Lord would yet reveal His saving love to his soul.

"After a brief interval at home, at the close of this journey I left for Hardwar, a place situated about seven hundred miles from Allahabad, at the outskirts of the Himalaya mountains, where the Ganges first enters the plains of India.

"It was indeed a moving spectacle, the blind devotion of those thousands of poor misguided people to the worship and service of the creature, rather than of the Creator, who is blessed for evermore.

"During the whole of the hot and rainy seasons (i.e. from the middle of April to the middle of October), I preached in the bazaar regularly every day, unless prevented by sickness in our family or by stress of weather. I took with me on each occasion a bundle of our religious publications, in the Hindi and Urdu languages, and sold a large number during the year, especially to the pilgrims who constantly flow through the heart of the city. I first preach, and then offer the books for sale. On one occasion, I sold, within about seven or eight minutes, as many as sixty-six pice-worth. It is greatly encouraging to reflect on the extent of good that may be accomplished by these heralds of Divine mercy being carried by the people to their thousands of homes throughout the land.

"Upon the whole, I think it may be said that the preaching has been listened to by both Hindus and Mohammedans with about as much forbearance as could be reasonably expected.

"You will remember that in my last report I made mention of an elderly man, a Pandit, who frequently preached in the bazaar here, within about a stone's-throw of myself. I noticed that for some months he had not appeared as usual; and one day, on returning from the bazaar, I was joined by a Hindu who told me that the Pandit, after a long illness, had died. His knowledge of the general drift of the New Testament teaching was unusually extensive, and there were some features of character which led me to esteem him much; so that, although he was a staunch opponent of the Gospel, it was with a feeling of sincere sadness that I heard of his death. Let us hope that his knowledge of the way of salvation may have availed him in his last moments. The Mohammedan preacher, of whom mention has been made on several occasions, has for some months past entered on a tour through the chief cities of Northern India to preach the faith of the impostor of Mecca. He takes the New Testament with him wherever he goes.

"He preaches that the abiding Comforter promised by Christ was not, as Christians ignorantly imagine, the Third Person in the ever-blessed Trinity, but Mohammed, who was the superior and the supercessor of Christ. In reply to my inquiries, he tells me that his preaching does good—that it makes men better; but when I find that the rabble who listen to him come to my place and do their utmost to stop the preaching, by gross falsehood and by low abuse, both of Christ and of His people, the spiritual benefit of his preaching is not easily apparent.

"As soon as the last cold season came to a close, I commenced a species of evangelization which is too often neglected, but which is surely of very great importance,—preaching to domestic servants. It is sad enough to reflect that, although this class of the population are in such close relationship to European families, they know less of the real nature and principles of the Gospel than do the people in the bazaars and villages, to whom we constantly preach.

"Accordingly, I wrote to my neighbours in all directions, bringing them acquainted with the fact that a service was held by me, at my house, for servants (as a class) on the Lord's day. From some of them I received a favourable response, and a promise to seek to induce their servants to attend; others (representing a very large class of the European 'Christians' in India) replied that they did not think we had any right to interfere with the religious views of the people; while others did not see their way to making any sort of reply. The result, however, is, that I have been getting a goodly number of native people—Hindus, Mohammedans, and Christians—to listen to the message of God's grace every Sabbath-day. Some of the people have shown considerable interest in what has been said and done at these services, some of them even going to the extent of purchasing from me copies of the New Testament and other religious works for their own use. Considering how poor many of them are, and how hardly they can spare any money for books (especially books setting forth a religion that is opposed to their own), the fact is at least interesting. It may interest you to know that one of our native Christian brethren at this station is constantly engaged in this particular department of evangelistic work, and gets his livelihood by it. He goes once or twice a week to several houses scattered over the city, preaching to the servants according to agreement with the employers; for this he receives a modest consideration from each, and so earns his bread. This is in the right direction,—self-support by evangelistic work.

"About the middle of October I went, as usual, to join our brethren, Broadway and McCumby, at the great Sonapore fair, which is held every year, across the Ganges from Patna.

"After returning from the conference of our missionaries in Calcutta, I made a journey into the district of Allahabad, preaching in the villages and at the markets wherever I found them. My associate in this journey was one of the American Presbyterian missionaries of this place—the Rev. S. H. Kellogg, M.A.—and we laboured with a genuine harmony and love that are refreshing, even among missionaries. We broke up our journey only with the view of returning to Allahabad in time for the great mela in January, which continues for a month. I may mention here that, in accordance with the request of the Committee of the North India Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, I have been seeing through the press their reprint of the Hindi New Testament, by our late beloved missionary, Mr. Parsons. My business is, as you are doubtless aware, to see that the ipsissima verba of that translation are printed, with the exception of those words which allude to the rite of baptism. The printing has proceeded as far as the middle of the Acts of the Apostles, and will, I suppose, be completed before the close of the present year. I may also mention that, at the request of the author, I have revised the sheets of a Hindi book which has lately been issued by the North India Auxiliary of the Religious Tract Society; and have also, during the year, examined for that society about a dozen MSS. of books, pamphlets, and tracts in the Hindi language. These productions are sent by their respective authors (natives and Europeans) to the Society for acceptance and publication, and are examined by a select committee prior to acceptance or rejection.

"Most important, also, is the work that has been carried on during the year by our native brother, Imam Masih. He has kept up his preaching both in the city and its suburbs, and in the surrounding villages, with great vigour and efficiency. I may say, in reference to him, that since his removal to this place a year ago I have seen abundant reason to regard him as one of the very best native evangelists I have ever met with, whether in our own mission or in any other.

"In the month of March, he made a preaching tour throughout this district, and, in the course of the journey, was robbed of all the money he had about him. On one occasion during the rainy season, when was not able to be myself present, he went under some shelter in the market - place of the city to preach to the people who were there to escape from the rain. Some low fellow, seeing that our brother was alone and unprotected, set upon him from behind and threw him sprawling on the flagstones. On another occasion (it was on a Sunday evening) a low Mohammedan, who has been a dire pest to Brother Evans and myself from the first, dealt him a violent blow in the face, and added, 'Your Book says that if a man smite you on the one side of your face you are to turn to him the other side; now, then, let us see what you will do?' Of course, our brother offered him the other cheek. This was too much even for those wretched heathen; one or two of the leading men stepped forward and asked the assailant whether he was not ashamed of himself. It is a noteworthy fact that though this man came as regularly as ever, day after day, to hear the preaching, he kept perfectly quiet for about two months; now, however, he is as rebellious and malevolent as ever. We can only hope that grace may yet do for him what argument and admonition fail to do.

"When first our brother came here he went out into the bazaars and villages to preach every morning as well as evening; he found, however, that several persons, Hindus and Mohammedans in the city, were anxious that he should go every morning to their houses to read the New Testament and pray with them and their families. They wanted, in fact, family worship in their own households as he had in his. He goes out every morning soon after daybreak and visits several of these houses in succession. One man, a Mohammedan, goes regularly to our brother's house every morning, before going to his avocation (he is a Government servant), in order to join our brother in his family worship. This he has continued to do for many months past."

During the year three men have been employed as colporteurs to sell the publications of the Bible Translation Society, and they have worked satisfactorily. Mrs. Bate has directed the Zenana work of the station, having Miss Bird for her Assistant.

X.—SIMLAH.

Missionary—GOOLZAR SHAH.

Number of members, 25.

From the Report forwarded by our esteemed brother, we extract the following information:—

"1. Church and Congregation.

"Three services have been held every Lord's-day in Urdu, Hindi, and Bengali. In our Urdu service in the morning the attendance has not exceeded ten, but in the Hindi service at noon we had an average attendance of twenty-five persons. Besides Christian worshippers, a few of our inquirers also attended, and have heard the Word of Life. The Bengali service in the afternoon has been held in the house of Mr. Goodall, to whom our best thanks are due for having allowed us the use of his house. This place is convenient for many of our Bengali Christian brethren, who live near the Simla Bazaar.

"The Holy Communion has been administered once every month, and every means of grace has been resorted to, in order to insure spirituality amongst our brethren.

"A prayer-meeting has been held regularly every week on Wednesday evenings; for some time it was held in the Mission House; but latterly it has taken place from house to house in the houses of the several brethren.

"Our congregation in 1873 consisted of, besides a few nominal Christians and children, nine resident members, and sixteen members who are members for the season, having come up from Calcutta and elsewhere in connection with the various offices accompanying the Government of India.

"On Lord's-day, the 12th October, 1873, the eldest daughter of our dear brother Bhika was received into church-fellowship by the holy rite of baptism in the presence of a respectable body of Christians both European and Indian.

"Our inquirers are still earnest in their inquiries, though there has not been any accessions to the church from among the heathen. Every week they have received instruction from the word of God.

"We are glad, however, to be able to report that Archdeacon Baley has during the present season received into the Church of England, one who had received Christian instruction from us. May this young convert remain steadfast, unmoveable, and always abounding in the work of the Lord.

"2. Preaching to the Heathen.

"Our evangelistic work, by the direct communication of the Gospel message to the adult population, has been carried on as usual, and has been attended with much conviction and struggles of anxious spirit on the part of our hearers. We had some very hopeful cases; but as the inquirers have not as yet come forward to make an open profession of their faith in the blessed Saviour of sinners, we must refrain from entering into details of their cases.

"A Sikh declared at one time that he had read a great deal about all the gurus of the Sikhs and Hindus, but Jesus Christ is the only guru sent by God in whose character there is no flaw: other gurus have stains in their characters, but truly Jesus Christ was holy, harmless, undefiled, and separate from sinners. The bystanders then asked the Sikh, Why, then, do you not embrace the Christian faith? 'The Sikh candidly confessed that the fear of man brings a snare and lays a barrier in the way of open profession. Many other interesting cases have occurred here, especially in dealing with the souls of those who have come up to Simla with rajahs, hill chiefs, and others.

"The servants in some gentlemen's houses have heard the Gospel message, and in each house we are glad to record we have had some very attentive and earnest listeners. There are a few who have stored their memories with many facts of Gospel history and pondered the claims of our Blessed Redeemer on their worship, their reverence and their love. 'He that honoreth the Son honoreth the Father,' and without the Son there is no approach to the Father. This congregation of servants in all the houses visited number upwards of 50, of whom the Jhampaneers and bearers are the indigenous hill men, the rest are men from the plains.

"Two melas have been visited this year, the Mahasoo mela and Taruka Devi's mela. In the latter, which took place this year on the 20th September, we had the presence of the Rev. J. Fordyce and Dr. Valentine; both these gentlemen addressed the people on the subject of sin and salvation, and pointed to Jesus as the way, the truth, and the life. Dr. Valentine spoke in Hindi, Mr. Fordyce in English, which was interpreted to his hearers by one of our number.

"The itinerant preaching, which is usually carried on for six weeks or two months in January and February of every year, was not carried on this year, but in July we had an opportunity of itinerating in the villages near Phagoo with Mr. Downes, of the Church Missionary Society.

"The seed of the Word of God has been sown, and the people have listened attentively to the Gospel message. The names of the villages visited during this tour are Cheog, Oreglh, Lutbar, and Bokhoge."

During the year, 368 portions of Scripture have been sold, and 128 copies given away gratuitously. Also a boys' school has been carried on, having on the roll 35 children; also a girls' school, with 15 scholars. In the various operations referred to above, funds have chiefly been drawn from local subscriptions, the Society having contributed £30. The entire cost of the mission has been £108.

SOUTHERN INDIA.

POONAH.

Missionary, HORMAZDJI PESTONJI.

This long-vacated station was occupied early in the present year by the Rev. Hormazdji Pestonji, a convert, of Parsee origin. In the next report we hope to give in detail the results of his labours.

CEYLON.

I.—COLOMBO DISTRICT.

Missionaries, H. R. PIGOTT, F. D. WALDOCK.

Number of members, 579.

From the usual Report the following particulars of the mission are taken:—

“Operations in the Western and North-Western Provinces.

“The field cultivated by the Baptist Mission in this portion of the island is both extensive and important, and includes within its limits a region containing a population of over 530,000 persons.

“In the WESTERN PROVINCE, the greater number of our stations are situated in the Hewagam, Siyane, and Alutkum Korles; but in September, 1872, a new district was occupied, and itinerant work commenced in the Raigam, Pasdun, and Walalwitta Korles; and towards the close of the present year preliminary operations were commenced in the Saffragam District, where two itinerant missionaries are to be stationed from the 1st January, 1874.

“In the NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCE, missionary operations are carried on in Medampe, Chilan, and in the neighbouring villages. Although the visible results of our labours,—i.e., those which can be tabulated, and published in a report—do not seem to be very great, yet we believe that in all departments of our work satisfactory progress has been made.

“The amount contributed to the Missionary Society is as follows:—

“By the Pettah Church and Congregation ..	£122	12	8
Members, &c., at Singhalese Stations	64	4	8
Merchants and others, not members	50	0	0

“Educational.

“We have to report additional progress in this important department of our work.

“Ten new schools—six for boys and four for girls—have been opened during the year; so that we have now 40 schools, with 2,131 pupils, or an increase of 23 schools and 1,627 pupils during the last four years.

“Twenty-nine of the schools have been examined by the Government inspector, and have obtained grants amounting to £353 0s. 5d.

“The pastor desires to acknowledge the assistance kindly rendered by Messrs. A. M. Ferguson, R. V. Dunlop, E. Rusbridge, J. Ferguson, and William Digby.

"The Sunday-schools have been maintained; the following figures will show their present state:—

	Teachers.		Scholars.
"Pettah School...	6	...	55
Slave Island ...	9	...	65
Marandhan.....	7	...	85
Total.....	22		205

"The members of this Church have resolved to provide the means for the support of a pastor for the term of three years.

"Mr. G. B. Leechman has generously offered to provide one-half of the amount required for this object, and the remainder has been more than met by subscriptions promised by the other members of the Church.

"GIRLS' BOARDING SCHOOL.

"Mrs. Pigott's Report.

"I have had great pleasure in receiving the School again under my charge. The girls, twenty-four in number, assembled in the commencement of February, and have gone steadily on with their various studies, making very good progress in them, and conducting themselves in a very satisfactory manner. We have to acknowledge the great goodness of God in sparing their lives through a severe attack of dysentery, which nearly removed one of their number from amongst us, some eight girls suffering more or less from the same disease.

"They passed a very successful examination and obtained ninety-nine and one-third per cent. of passes; in fact, they passed in all subjects required by the Government in their various standards, with the exception of one little girl, who, through timidity, failed in her English reading.

"They have earned £3 10s. 5d. by sewing, but I cannot allow too much time for this department, as they are already very clever at their needle-work.

"We thankfully acknowledge the receipt of a box of beautiful things from the ladies of Cannon-street, Birmingham.

"The girls had their breaking up tea party on the 3rd of December. Some of our dear friends here, who take an interest in our work, and are ever ready to help, gave the cakes, and we had a delightful evening with the children and their friends. Prizes were given (not forgetting two small ones for cooking their rice and curry, for I maintain that every girl should be able to cook), and the dear girls delighted their parents and friends by their singing in both Singhalese and English. Mrs. Ferguson distributed the prizes, making them more valuable by her apt and cheerful commendation. Mr. Ferguson and the Rev. James Silva gave nice little addresses in English and Singhalese, and Miss Ferguson gave us some music on the harmonium, which was highly appreciated by all. Mrs. Allen came amongst us, and saw some of her old pupils' children amongst the present school girls; and we did not forget our absent friend, Mrs. Waldoek, though so far away.

"The girls left school with regret; they love their lessons, and are very pleasant scholars.

"One dear girl has expressed a great desire to join the Church, and we are quite satisfied of her fitness for this solemn step, but as she is very young, her baptism is postponed for the present. Those of the girls who are members of the Church adorn their profession, and walk as "children of the light," setting a good example to the others. They attend a Sunday-school held in our house, and took prizes in English classes, and two in a Singhalese class, held for those who do not understand English. The Rev. James Silva comes regularly every Thursday, and holds a Bible-class with them, and they have service here every Sunday afternoon; thus the good seed is sown, and let us hope that we may see a good harvest soon, and to this end we earnestly ask the prayers of God's people everywhere.

GRAND PASS AND MATAKOOLY.

The Rev. James Silva's Report for the year:—

"In presenting a statement of our labours during the year to the Baptist Missionary Society, we are happy to say that, although we had only one person baptized, we can mention the case of another one—Paromal—who, while lying under sentence of death for murder, was converted and baptized within the jail premises. The day after his baptism he was publicly executed at Borella. He continued steadfast in his attachment to the Saviour up to the end.

"The Singhalese churches at Colpetty and Pettah have been joined to the church at Grand Pass. We have commenced female Bible-classes at Grand Pass, Mattakooly, and Colpetty, which are well attended, and are likely to be very useful as a means of imparting a knowledge of Scripture truth to the female members of our churches and congregations.

"Our services are generally well-attended, and there are signs that our labours are not in vain. Our people, also, are earnest and active in their duties as disciples of the Saviour, and for the extension of His kingdom.

"A new day school for boys has been commenced at Matakooly. It is an Anglo-vernacular school, and there is an attendance of 45 pupils.

"Hannvella and Weilgama.

"No report has been received from the minister in charge.

"Two new schools for girls have been opened, so that there are now

5 schools, with 196 pupils, in this station.

"Byamville.

"The Rev. John Melder, who has laboured in this station for some forty years or so, is now in bad health, and, in consequence, the Rev. Mr. Ratnayeka, of Gonawella, has been placed in charge of Byamvilla also.

"There are three schools in this district, with 169 pupils.

"Kotigahawatte.

"The work here is being carried on with perseverance, and the services held—especially those at the sub-stations—have been well attended. The Sunday-schools have been given up, as the teachers will not attend to them, and the missionary considers that more harm than good would result from any compulsory measure in this direction. The minister, however, visits the day schools constantly, and will attend to the religious instruction of the pupils. He also holds a Bible-class for adults every Sunday morning, with an attendance of 25.

"In addition to his regular work, Mr. Perera has spent a month itinerating in Saffragam district.

"A new girls' school has been commenced at Wellampittia, so that there are now eight schools with 393 pupils in this district.

"Makarvitta.

"Charles Pieris reports that the station under his care is an extensive one, and almost wholly occupied by Buddhists. Many more villages are visited than appear in the 'tabular statement' sent in. That in general the people are willing to listen to the Gospel; that during the year two persons have been baptized, converts from Romanism and Buddhism; that the old schoolmaster at Yakkaduwa is very active in his exertions for the spiritual good of his friends and neighbours; and that two Sunday-schools are held, with an attendance of 35.

"In May last, a boys' school was commenced at Marapola, the school-houses and furniture have been provided by Messrs. Juan Silva, Modeliar and Don Elias, Division Officer of Gonawella.

"There are five schools in this district, with an attendance of 323 pupils.

"Hendella and Batagama.

"Besides his regular work, Mr. Botaju visits ten villages, where the people (all Buddhists) listen to his preaching with attention.

"The services at the Leper Hospital are still carried on, but the Roman Catholic lepers have ceased to attend the chapel.

"A girls' school has been opened at Mabola; there are now three schools in this district, with 152 pupils.

"Gonawella.

"The following extracts from the Ceylon Observer will be read with interest:—

"Gonawella Baptist Chapel.—The first anniversary of the opening of this interesting chapel was celebrated last Friday (December 26th). . . . After Mr. Ratnayeka had read the report in Singhalese, Mr. Pigott read the substance of it in English for the benefit of the uninitiated. This station was commenced by Mr. Daniel in 1835. The Rev. J. W. Naden, of Koticawatte, preached here once a week; visiting from house to house. After a while, two converts were made, and then were baptized by Mr. Daniel at Koticawatte. Of these two, one still lives, our friend, Mr. Vijeyawardene (who for many years has been a deacon). . . . In 1842, there were thirty converts, and these were formed into a Church, and the Rev. Mr. Perera (now of Hanwella) was appointed pastor. In 1852 the chapel was built. The report then went on to speak of the erection of the new chapel, and concluded by noticing the current year. It recorded the fact that the Church here (including two persons to be baptized on Sunday next) numbers 109 members. That two services are held every Sunday, the afternoon one being conducted by the second deacon. That Sunday services are also held at 'Waragoda' and 'Thalawattuhennipitta.' That six members are engaged in tract distribution, and that there are two Sunday-schools, with 65 scholars; and last, though not least, that there are six day-schools, with 465 pupils.

"It has been arranged to open two new schools in January, an Anglo-vernacular one at Waragoda, and a vernacular one at Karagalla, a distant village near Palahalla.

"During 1873, the contributions were—

To the Baptist Missionary Society . . .	£17	0	0
To other purposes . . .	10	14	9

"Veyangodde, and Heneratgodde.

"The work of evangelisation has progressed favourably, and three persons have been baptized.

"A new Boys' School has been opened at Veyangodde, with seventy one pupils on the roll.

"Medampe.

"Mr. H. Perera reports that there are seventeen candidates for baptism in his station; that the attendance at the services held in the chapel is not so good as it was last year, and that they meet with much opposition from the Buddhists. He regrets that there is no mission boys' school at Medampe, as the parents, although unwilling to hear the Gospel themselves, would not refuse to send their children to a mission school.

"The new chapel was opened on the 6th of April.

"The cost of the chapel, exclusive of the value of the site is £380.

"Kosgama.

"H Markus reports five converts, four from Buddhism, and one from Romanism. From the beginning of next year this station is to be placed under the care of Peter Perera, of Hanwella, and Markus will take charge of the work at Saffragam.

"Raigam, Pasdun, and Walahwitta Korles.

"Considerable success has attended the labours of the Itinerant Missionary (Mr. Juan Silva). He travels about 100 miles every month, preaching the Gospel in the towns and villages of his district, and many thousands have heard the Gospel preached. 3,000 tracts have been distributed. Five persons have been baptized, and twenty-two Buddhists and Romanists, and one Mahomedan are reported as searchers after the truth.

"A boys' school has been opened at Raigama with forty-nine pupils, and arrangements have been made to commence a school in the chief village in the Pasdun Korle from the beginning of next year.

"Saffragam.

"This is an extensive and important district. Adam's Peak, a mountain considered to be most sacred by the Buddhists is situated here, and the whole region may be considered as a stronghold of Buddhism. Aided by a local 'Mission Extension Fund,' I have resolved to extend our operations into this place, and the following notes of a preliminary visit will be read with interest :—

"Early in November I requested two agents of our Society, Messrs. Migel Percera and H. Markus, to proceed to Saffragam and to visit the towns and villages of that district with the view of commencing missionary operations there. They reached Avisawella (at 30th mile-post) on the 12th, and from thence proceeded on foot to visit the towns and villages situated on or near to the main road, via Ratnapura, Palmadula, &c., as far as Ittakande, at the 93rd mile-post, which place they reached on the 27th. They report that the people, as a rule, received them gladly and listened with great attention. During this trip 70 towns and villages were visited; 805 tracts were distributed; 10 Singhalese services were held with an attendance of 556 persons; 554 persons were spoken to on the road or in their homes, and 13 Tamil services were held with an attendance of 503 persons, making a total of 1,613 persons to whom the Gospel has been proclaimed."

"We have arranged to commence regular work here from the first week in January."

II.—KANDY DISTRICT.

Missionary, C. CARTER.

Number of members, 110.

Mr. Carter has favoured us with the following report :—

"Kandy.—Our services here have been conducted as usual, both in Singhalese and English; the latter only being sometimes interrupted by my absence from Kandy. There is not that interest and delight shown in either the English or Singhalese services which we should like to see, on the part of many, though there are others who appreciate and value them. The morning service in Singhalese has generally been conducted by me, and the evening service by the native pastor. We have had three additions this year by baptism to our English Church: one was a private of the regiment stationed here; another, a young man engaged in the Oriental Bank; and the other in a mercantile establishment. They had been attendants with us, and communicants for some time, and originally were Presbyterians. One person has been restored to fellowship, and we believe to true fellowship with Christ, after many years of wandering.

"The revision of our translation of the Old Testament had proceeded, at the end of 1872, as far as Jeremiah xv.; and we hoped to finish the whole by the middle of last year. But when we began the work of printing, last March, it so retarded the revision, that we were not able to finish it before the end of November last. Thus the translation occupied me more than six years; and now the revision, with native assistants, has taken three years and three quarters; and it will take two more years, I fear, to finish the printing. The printing has proceeded only as far as the beginning of Deuteronomy, but we hope to get on faster this year. Of Genesis, five hundred extra copies have been struck off, and are now, as fast as we can get them bound, being put into the hands of our people and others who are disposed to purchase them. All who have been in the habit of using our New Testament, are glad of this instalment of the Old.

"You will be pleased to hear that we have adopted a plan in the Central Province, and something similar in some places in the Colombo district, of weekly subscriptions for copies of Genesis, and of the whole Bible when complete. The subscriptions vary from two cents, or farthings, to twenty-five cents, though there are but few at two cents, the greater part being six cents. These subscriptions, beginning from last April, and to be continued till the printing is finished, about two and a half years in all, will pay the entire cost of the copy—from 12s. to 15s.—which each subscriber is to receive. You will see that it has already worked admirably. The subscriptions of the past year for this purpose are: Gampola, £1 17s. 5d.; Kandy, about £5; Matale, £7 3s. 4d. The native pastor of our Kandy church gives me the following report for the past year:—

"I have not this year had much opportunity of going to distant places, having had to spend most of my time in connection with the translation, though I have been able to do some work in Kandy. I have, however, been twice to Hangurankette, and twice to Teldenia (from sixteen to twenty miles distant), for the administration of the Lord's Supper and the general benefit of the brethren in those districts; and have preached the Gospel both there and on the journey. We had weekly meetings in three different places in Kandy, but as no fresh persons came to them, we have had a prayer-meeting throughout the year, on Wednesday evenings, in the chapel. The attendance of our Sunday-school has fallen off very much. Our brethren have from time to time visited and preached to the inmates of the jail and the hospital. We had a public meeting last January, to which brethren from various districts came, and several addressed the meeting on most important subjects. On the day before the meeting, and on the day after, native ministers from other districts preached for the edification of the Church.

"The contributions for the support of the pastor being now very small, and quite insufficient, a meeting was held Dec. 19th for the consideration of the matter, and it was determined to subscribe £4 monthly without fail for his support. Had I not received £2 monthly for helping in the work of revision, I should for the last three years have suffered great distress. Our brethren, knowing the difficulty of paying house-rent in Kandy, have—with the help of brethren in other places—not only subscribed £43 16s., and bought a piece of ground for £50, for the building of a house, as a personal gift to the present pastor, but hope also to subscribe the money required to build the house.

"Philip Pulla, our Tamil evangelist, is now very infirm, but, besides working in Kandy, has been able to visit and preach to the coffee estate coolies in two districts near Kandy several times during the year.

"From the pastor at Matale I have received the following report:—

"The number of members now in the Church is 17, of whom 5, who were backsliders, have been added during the year. We have two services on Sunday in the chapel, at which the attendance is from 25 to 30; and we have also service in the jail, both for the Tamils and Sinhga- lese. During the week our outside work is visiting the hospital, and from house to house, preaching to the crowds near the court-house, in the streets of Matale, and in the villages far and near. We have distributed about 800 tracts, 5 Testaments, and 15 portions of the Testaments. Though there is not much effect to be seen from the work done, we trust that good will result. There are now two applicants for baptism, one of whom we hope will shortly be baptized.

"Our Matale brethren and their pastor are working harmoniously and zealously for Christ; they have very strongly and clearly the conviction that the work of the Gospel is committed to them. Through the private efforts of some of the members, a man, living amongst the mountains, in a very dark and bad district, was brought to accept Christ, and, through his teaching, his wife became a truly pious woman. Last year, when taken ill, she rejected all heathen ceremonies which her relatives urged upon her, and died with a firm hope in Christ.

"When I was talking one day to a number of persons in a village I was passing through, and many of the people were opposing, a man came up with some others took, my part, and told the people that what I was saying was true. After I had done, he walked on with me, and said he did not believe in Buddhism, for he had come to see its errors through the instruction of his cousin, a member, as I learnt on inquiry, of our church at Matale.

"From the native pastor at Gampola I have received the following account of his work:—

"I have frequently been unwell during the past year by the return of my old complaint, and chronic rheumatism in my right arm. Yet I am glad to say that I have been able to go through my usual work, although not able to extend my work to any new district or village, which I hope to do if strength is granted. In addition to attending to five services a week in the chapel, I have visited all the villages around, and the districts of Dolosbaggie and Udunewera. One person has been baptized during the year, and there are now three inquirers.

"Amaris de Silva has continued his work of preaching the Gospel at and around Kadugannawa, and of superintending the few Christians united in fellowship at Korigammana, 14 miles distant. At present no fresh results are apparent. The most useful member of the little church at the latter place has this year been removed by death to his reward in Christ.

"The school which was held for many years at Mahagamma, which was in many respects a very unfavourable place, has this year been removed to a much better locality, about a mile and a half away, and is now in a more prosperous state. It is helping to elevate the people temporally and intellectually, as well as to guide them to spiritual truth.

During the year seven persons have been baptized. There has been a large distribution of Scriptures and tracts, which have generally been sold at a nominal price in order to secure a perusal of them. The attendance of hearers at the chapel has been very variable, any slight rumour leading to a sudden abstention of persons who, from interest or curiosity, may come to the services. In an earlier page of the report will be found various particulars relative to the labours of the missionaries engaged. Five native brethren assist them in their work.

Mr. Gamble has forwarded the following report of the Trinidad Mission :—

“ It will be seen from the schedule that fifteen have been baptized, but that the decrease from deaths, exclusions, removals, and ceasing to attend is sixteen, so that that we are less in number by one than last year.

“ On the whole, our work in Port of Spain has been equal in success to any previous year. Morning attendance not so good; evening better; Sabbath-school a little decreased which may be the result of Mrs. Gamble and family's absence who were teachers. I daresay that other influences are at work hindering the increase of our work in this department. We keep plodding on, and manage to hold our own pretty well.

“ Last evening we held our annual gathering of the Port of Spain and Dry River Baptist Sabbath-schools. We had some sixty children who said their hymns and scriptures, sang their hymns, received their buns and plums and sweets, and enjoyed themselves, and gave satisfaction to the parents and teachers and examiners. We trust that from the Sabbath-school the Church may receive many. We work and pray for this.

“ In money matters we have done quite as well, if not rather better, than any preceding year. We have raised about 750 dollars. The bulk of which has been used in liquidating the debt on San Fernando Chapel.

“ The valuable property-land and mission house, and chapel is free of debt.

“ Mr. Webb goes on steadily and satisfactorily with his work here. During the year 1873, twenty-five persons have been baptized and added to the church. The Ward Government School, established in the village through our representation, is doing much good in instructing the children in the rudiments of education, fitting them to intelligently appreciate the truths of the Gospel, and facilitating the work in the Sabbath-school.

“ Mr. Webb conducts his services with great propriety and with a good measure of solemnity, which is not so easy with the fervent children of the sun.

“ This week I baptized fifteen persons at the Fourth Company, and the whole service was most pleasing. The chapel was quite full—I suppose close upon 300 people, and that on a Tuesday mid-day. Mr. Webb obtains a small amount really, but not small for his people, by means of collections and subscriptions which during the year has reached the sum of 126 dollars 77 cents. The expenditure for lighting and bread and wine, has been 19 dollars. Mr. Webb receives 60 dollars from the Society, so that his income for the year has been 167 dollars.

"Mr. James Thompson, the pastor here, is making steady progress. No baptisms has taken place here in 1873, but on the 20th January it is arranged to have one. The Chapel has been supplied with platform and pulpit, and is certainly now in a better condition than I have known it for a long time.

"A few unruly ones give him trouble, but, by patience and judicious action, he maintains the peace of the church. Mr. Thompson has now a better Sabbath-school, seeing that many adults attend for the purpose of being taught to read the Holy Scriptures. The pastor is both teacher and preacher. Mr. Thompson labours under some peculiar difficulties. His home is at the Third Company while the Church is at the First Company, a distance of some five miles, but the roads for many months of the year are so bad that it is impossible to describe them. He has to plough through these roads as best he can, since he possesses no animal to carry him.

" 4. Third Company.

"Number of members, 109.

"Mr. D. Richardson, the pastor here, is labouring with his usual zeal and a fair measure of success. Some seventeen persons were baptized during 1873, and there yet remain many candidates. The discipline of this church is much improved, but our dear brother needs help. Just at present he is happy in having a young man from one of the other islands who assists him considerably by teaching the Sabbath-school. I hope he may remain steadfast. If he should, no doubt he will be very useful in the church at Indian Walk. Mr. Richardson has to labour very hard for he has a numerous family, and his people do very little for him. The chapel is greatly in need of benches, and I believe they are soon to go into the woods and saw lumber to make the much-needed benches. The chapel has a very nice bell put up lately at a cost of some 60 dollars, so that though the pastor gets little, some money is contributed or bells could not be procured.

" 5. Fifth Company.

"Number of members, 81.

"Mr. Robert Andrews is with his people busy putting up a new chapel. It will be larger than the old one. We have helped him a little with nails. The chapel is roofed in and partly boarded round so that it can be used. Necessity has no law. They have no other place in which to meet.

"There has been no baptism at this place during 1873. There is room for improvement generally at this place. Certain changes would be beneficial, but it is not easy if possible to make them. The Sabbath-school has ceased to be carried on, much to our regret.

" 6. Sixth Company.

"Number of members, 64.

"Mr. Samuel Cooper is the pastor here, and does his best to advance the work of the Lord among his people. There has been no baptism at this place during 1873, but there are several inquirers awaiting the opportunity. The people at this village meet steadily for worship, but they are in need of ministerial help. Mr. Cooper has family afflictions and is fully occupied during the week so that pulpit assistance would be acceptable to the pastor. Divine worship is maintained. The Bible is read, the praises of the Lord are sung, and we are sure these things are well pleasing to the Most High.

"7. Matilda Boundary.

"Number of members, 23.

"Mr. Pompey Floyd is the pastor here, and does all he can to instruct his people in Divine Truth. The chapel is small and needs propping up lest it fall. This little gathering lost several of its adherents some time ago, and does not appear to have quite recovered from the effects of that division. No baptisms here this year.

"8. San Fernando.

"Number of members, 4.

"Mr. Williams is labouring hard at San Fernando, and his congregations are increasing in numbers. There are a few who sit down at the table not baptized, so that more than would appear from the figures, are found at the Communion.

"The contributions meet the expenditure but do not go beyond. We know how hard and sterile a field San Fernando is.

"On my way to Mountserrat I preached at Harris Promenade, and for a Monday evening and at San Fernando the congregation was not so very small. There were present from thirty-five to forty.

"I have written this report with difficulty for I am suffering from a cough and sore throat. On Tuesday I rode twenty miles, was in the river forty-five minutes, and had a service from 11 to 2.30. While I am strong I rejoice in doing this and much more, but if I fail or get unable to endure such fatigue, I don't see how the work is to be done. I'll do it with all my heart as long as I can, but there is no one here to take my place. All last year I never omitted a service; but the first Sabbath in January I had the greatest difficulty in getting through the services.

"Since the New Year came in, the mortality has been unusually great and the deaths alarmingly sudden."

I.—NORTHERN DISTRICT.

Missionary, J. DAVEY.

Mr. Davey has furnished the following report:—

"For nearly nine months of the past year I was absent from my station, part of the time being spent in deputation work at home, and part of it in visiting our missions in San Domingo and the Turks' Islands. On my arrival in Nassau, I found the church in peace, but many of the members had emigrated in search of employment, and some had sunk into a state of sloth and carelessness. My presence aroused them, and the attendance both at public worship and the prayer meeting became as good, if not better, than before I left. The finances are not quite as good as they were, but this arises from the poverty of the people, which seems to me to increase year by year. The wrecking business is gone; the salt trade has been diverted into other channels; sponge does not pay for the labour expended in procuring it; the hotel bids fair to be a failure; and the profits of the fruit trade are so uncertain that there is scarcely any hope for the colony. I had the pleasure of baptizing nine persons on the last Sunday evening of the year; but before they were received into full fellowship at the Lord's Table they left for Key West, taking with them tickets of membership. Two others were away on the waters seeking the means of support. There is scarcely any demand for labour in Nassau. The hotel, which was built to accommodate 200 persons, has not, at present, one-tenth of the number.

"The teachers in the Out Islands have been working diligently, and this year Mr. Hanna reports fifty baptized. Though he has not so large a number of persons under his care as Mr. Bannister at San Salvador, yet he has a much larger district to work, and one in which travelling is always inconvenient, and sometimes dangerous. His field of labour includes the whole of Grand Bahama, and stretches away in one direction to Alaco and Moore Island, and in another to Biminis. I purpose (D.V.) going through the district next month.

"The churches in San Salvador raised, last year, £48 0s. 11d. for the support of the pastor, and £38 8s. for other purposes. At two of the settlements, Knowles and Port Home, good substantial chapels are being erected. Mr. Bannister says:—'At all of the stations things continue to go on well. The services are regularly and well attended, and the Word of Life listened to with marked attention. Our Sabbath-schools are, in most places, numerous attended, and there is, it seems, an increased desire on the part of the young for religious instruction.' He baptized during the year forty-one persons. Thirteen persons have been baptized at Glenthora, but there is no progress either at Exuma or Ragged Island. These places are very poor, and the people are emigrating from them in search of more fertile spots.

"Last week I received letters from Turks' Islands, Caicos, and Puerto Plata. At Grand Cay I find that the aged people attend public worship with great regularity, but that the young are callous and negligent. At Salt Cay there is very general neglect. They say, 'Oh, pray for us, and try to do all you can for us, so that we may have a missionary in this place.' The financial state of the church may be judged from the fact that, from August 17 to December 28, the amount raised for the purposes was £5 2s. 8d. At the Caicos there is great distress, some of the people having scarcely any food to eat. At Puerto Plata the congregation has dwindled away considerably, but the presence of a competent minister would no doubt revive it. I hope the Lord will guide us in the steps we take to supply these destitute places with ministers."

Missionary, W. LITTLEWOOD.

Mr. Littlewood writes as follows:—

"You are aware that my regular labours at Inagua were interrupted at the early part of the year by my absence on account of my wife's health. That did not, however, prevent my visiting several islands; but as you have been good enough to make extracts for the Herald from some of my letters in relation to those visits, I need not further refer to them. A return home to our people was mutually appreciated. I found our friends eagerly anticipating our arrival. It was with pleasure I found the Sabbath and week-day services, and other work, had been diligently carried on by the deacons and superintendent of the school. A fair amount of peace had been enjoyed, but the public collections, &c., had fallen off greatly; and when the cause was explained, I could only wonder that our friends had done so well. The great poverty of the people had been very trying, which has continued throughout the year, with but little hope of any improvement at the present time. At one time there was not to be purchased on the place a pint of corn, a pound of flour, or a quart of rice. We fortunately had a supply, besides having, providentially, some aid rendered by a friend. Where there is so little money in circulation, and trade very bad, the smallness of our income, although deeply regretted, cannot be wondered at. The same cause has rendered our congregations at times smaller than usual, which is also true of the Sabbath-school, and I fear our spiritual life has suffered much. There is evidently less energy than we could desire. We have had short spells of returning prosperity, but a falling-off would follow, and the reply to my inquiry into the cause would be the want of clothing. Yet our prayer-meetings have been pretty well attended, and the Sabbath services have been highly interesting and attractive by a marked improvement in our psalmody.

"We had, as usual, our watch-night service on the last night of the past year. James Knibbs Brown, Esq., our resident Justice, preached an excellent sermon from the words, 'God be merciful to me a sinner.' Mr. Wyley, a deacon of the church, gave us a good discourse on 'They that were ready went in with him to the marriage, and the door was shut.' Mr. Peerless, lately from England, our public school teacher, and Mr. Anderson, offered fervent and ardent prayers to God. Anthems and hymns were sung with good taste by our excellent choir, and the spirit of it was sustained with energy by the large congregation. It was found profitable to spend the last two hours and a half together in religious service in God's house, and in silent prayer to enter upon the duties of the following year, and then heartily to unite in singing,

'Awako, ye saints, and raise your eyes,
And raise your voices high.'

"We had hoped to have added to the church a considerable number; but some have gone back and walk no more with us, and others are undecided. Twenty-seven only have been baptized, and our clear increase of members amounts only to twenty-eight. But, this being far beyond our deserts, we gratefully acknowledge it, and will gather up our courage and go forward.

"The native pastors have given great satisfaction, and have not laboured in vain. Brother Essex Wilson, a good man, is, in consequence of ill-health, obliged to retire from active service, and I am sorry to say that our prospects of a suitable successor are not very bright. Upon the whole, we find ample encouragement to press forward in the work of our adorable Master, and to beg an interest in your continued sympathies and prayers."

The illness and return of the Rev. J. Hawkes to this country has deprived the Committee of the usual report. As Mr. Hawkes' health precludes his return to Haiti, the Committee have arranged to carry on the Mission by means of a native brother from Jamaica, who will have as his colleague another Jamaica pastor, sent out by the Jamaica Baptist Union. As Jacmel is only forty-eight hours' sail from Kingston by steamer, the Committee hope that this Mission may ultimately be entirely sustained from Jamaica.

JAMAICA.

THE JAMAICA BAPTIST UNION.

Number of members, 22,860.

To the above should be added the members of two churches not yet connected with the Union, 1,350 in number, making the entire membership of the churches, which have sprung from the labours of the Society, 24,210.

The number of Churches in the Union is now 110, and they provide chapel accommodation for 54,000 individuals.

The twenty-fourth report furnishes us with the following facts :—

"First, we are bound to render devout thanksgiving to Almighty God for His preserving care, exercised during the past year over the Mission family. All who were in the field at this time last year, with their wives, have been sustained in life to the present time. Several, it is true, are advanced in years, and suffering from the increasing infirmities of age; but all, we are thankful to say, are still able to labour on for the spread of the Redeemer's kingdom.

"Since we last met in Session together, our venerable brother, the Rev. J. M. Phillippo, our senior missionary, has completed the 50th year of his labours in this island. He and the late Mr. Burchell were accepted for mission work on the same day. In the providence of God the one of these twin brethren was taken away in the midst of his days and of his usefulness; the other remains with us to this present. Both have been the honoured instruments in God's hands for the accomplishment of much good in this, the beloved land of their adoption.

"There have been no changes in the pastorates this year, but Mr. Humphrey, student at Calabar, having completed his college course in December, 1872, was, a few months subsequently, invited, under the superintendence of the Rev. W. Teall, to take the pastoral charge temporarily of the Church at Monklands; he is still labouring there with zeal and assiduity.

"New Churches.

"Last year five new Churches were admitted to the Union; three of them, Yallah's Valley, Green Valley, and Galloway, in the St. Andrew's Mountains, are under the care of Mr. Teall; Hartland's in St. Catherine's, under Mr. Lea; and Zion Hill under the Rev. P. Williams. We have now consequently 105 Churches in Union, instead of 100 as was the case in December, 1872.

"Five others were added to the Union at its Annual Session in February of this year.

"Ten of the 105 Churches send in no returns; from those of the remaining 95 we gather the following particulars. In 66 there has been an increase of membership, in 26 a decrease; the other three have remained stationary. The aggregate totals for the statistics of members for the year 1873, are as follows:—

Additions: Baptized ..	1,277
Restored ..	667
Received ..	206
	— 2,150
Losses: Died	454
Excluded	698
Dismissed	79
Withdrawn ..	13
Erased	170
Clear Increase....	736

"The total number of members in these 95 reporting churches is 21,157, and of inquirers 2,825. If the churches from which no returns have been received this year, be considered stationary, we have for their membership 1,434, and for their inquirers 276. These added, will make a total of 22,591 members, and 3,101 inquirers connected with the Union. There are five fresh churches applying for admission into the Union this year, under the pastorate of ministers already connected with us. These have together 269 members, and 85 inquirers; taking these into the account the members are 22,860 in number, and the inquirers 3,186.

"Referring to the clear increase just announced, we have every reason to rejoice in the largeness of the number, though it falls behind the nett increase of last year by very nearly 200. In so far as outward circumstances affect the prosperity of the churches, the past twelvemonth has been in some districts a very trying period.

"Notwithstanding, there is a general spirit of hopefulness expressed with regard to the future. By far the greater number of churches report that the attendance is generally good, and often crowded; several speak of overflowing congregations, and state the necessity they are under for new or enlarged chapels. Peace, love, and harmony are enjoyed by the large majority; backsliders are seeking restriction; inquirers are very generally coming forward to be enrolled; one brother stating that his Inquirers' List has expanded from 30 to 90 names during the year. A spirit of liberality in many of the churches is being seen both in respect to building operations, as well as in the contributions to the support of the Gospel. Some few are confessedly backward in giving of their substance to these objects, though even among them, and in more than one instance, a hopeful change for the better has been noticed during the year; and where new chapels are being erected, the majority of churches are heartily throwing their energies into the work, whilst at the same time they are increasing their missionary subscriptions. On the whole, we may well take courage, and resolve, if our lives be spared, to carry on our Master's work during the next twelve months with earnestness, hopefulness and ardour.

East Queen Street.....	} 428
Port Royal

The Rev. D. J. East has kindly forwarded the following statement of the past year's labours:—

"The work both of the college and the church has proceeded without interruption; and there have been evident tokens of the Master's promised presence and blessing. Seven theological students and fifteen Normal School students have been under training. The High School has numbered fifty-six scholars in average attendance. The day school from various causes has fluctuated, and the attendance on the whole has not been equal to that of former years. This is chiefly owing to the recent establishment of four other schools during the last year or two in the vicinity of ours. At some of these the education is not only free, but clothing is supplied to indigent children to enable them to attend. Of the Normal School students, six have completed their residence in the institution, and are already engaged in keeping schools in connection with our mission churches. In almost every instance our schoolmasters are also either employed as preachers, or in conducting Sunday services for their respective ministers. Their work, therefore, is strictly missionary; and I believe our ministers find no young men so well suited to aid them in their work as those trained in our own institution. Of the theological students, one is desirous of devoting himself to missionary service in Hayti, and another in Africa.

"For the coming session I have now before me three applications for admission to the theological department, and seven for admission to the Normal School department. On the 4th of next month it is intended to hold a competitive examination, when the most eligible will be received. The complement of students, therefore, will be maintained during the coming year in both branches of the institution.

"The subject which has chiefly exercised attention in connection with the working of the institution, is how to provide for its growing demands upon the strength of the tutors. Mr. Roberts is most unsparing of himself. He has laboured not only with all his might but beyond it in his own particular department. It has been his endeavour to accomplish the greatest amount of work at the smallest pecuniary cost. On this principle he has sought to make the General Day School self-supporting, and hitherto he has succeeded. This however, has been accomplished by employing the students as rotatory masters, one taking it one week and another another. The effect of this, however, has not been satisfactory on the school, and while it has given the young men a large amount of practical experience during their college training, it has not given full satisfaction to some of our brethren. The result is an earnest desire to engage a master for the Day School, who shall wholly relieve Mr. Roberts of this part of his labours.

"The work in connection with the church at East Queen Street continues to make steady progress, though during the past year the numerical increase has not been equal to that of the former years of my pastoral oversight. The following are the statistics for 1873:—baptized, 21; restored, 26; received, 8; died, 12; excluded, 3; nett increase, 40; number of members, 428; inquirers, 39. These numbers include the station at Rose Hill, which in due time promises to become an important independent church; but for the present it is best for it to be a branch of the city church.

"The work steadily moves on; and the goodly company which now gathers around the Lord's Table presents a wonderfully pleasing contrast with the few that met during the first few months of our residence in Kingston. Looking back upon the past we may well take courage and go forward. One particularly interesting movement of the year has been the establishment of four district Sunday Schools under the superintendence of the students of the college. These now comprise 195 scholars, with an average attendance of 111. One of these districts is in an increasing suburb of the city, called Allman Town. Here, on my personal responsibility, I have purchased a cottage, which has been converted into a schoolroom. In this room I have recently commenced an Infant School under a female teacher, Miss Watson, a daughter of our late Native minister of St. John's, and niece of our sainted brother, Joseph Merrick, of Africa. This now numbers between 40 and 50 children. There ought to be an independent church and congregation in this locality, which is very populous; and I am hopeful that the present movement will create the nucleus of this. The student's occupy the room as a preaching-station on the Lord's day.

"The Branch Church at Rose Hill is yielding much encouragement. A considerable proportion of the numbers reported above as having been added to the Church are in connection with this outstation, which I am accustomed to visit once a month, a student also going once a month. The frame of the old chapel has been made over by the Church for a schoolroom. By the assistance of a Government grant of £75, I have reshingled the roof, and laid down a boarded floor to this building, and fitted up a schoolroom 25 feet by 20, and made three rooms for a teacher's residence. Very shortly I now expect to have a day-school teacher residing at this mountain-place, which will, by God's blessing, not only be helpful in school-work, but in the work of the church. The new chapel is in good progress, 45 feet by 25 feet.

"The little band of people here is doing well. Most of them were very uncultured and ignorant; but they are showing signs of improvement, and I, am confident, God helping, there will ere long be a flourishing Church in those much neglected mountains."

III.—WALLINGFORD.

Missionary, T. L. REES.

Number of members, 157.!

As Mr. Rees is supported by the fund raised in this country, in order to extend the influence of the Gospel to destitute parts of the island, he has kindly furnished us with the following report of his labours:—

"At Wallingford, the net increase has been twenty-one, and an encouraging spirit of zeal and activity has been displayed by the members, and has had a good influence on the district as a check to the glaring vices of the community. Marriages are becoming more frequent, and drunkenness is not so unblushingly displayed. Order and discipline prevail in the church, but the exclusion of three of our little number has been a cause of grief to the others. The day school passed as a third class at the last Government examination. The interest shown in the Sunday School is very encouraging, not only children but old and middle-aged men and women are among the scholars, and the hoary head and lisping child may often be seen in the same class learning to read or to repeat portions of Scripture. The great difficulty is the ignorance of the teachers, but as they attend regularly a class for instruction, and seem earnestly to desire to do good, they will, we hope, improve in this respect. The school books do not show a good average, as the building is too small to accommodate all who wish to attend, and many turn away Sabbath after Sabbath disappointed, because there is no room. Afternoon Sunday Schools have been opened in several adjoining villages. In one there are 30 on the book, another 79, another 110. The building (70 ft. by 40 ft. with walls 2 ft. thick) is a heavy task for our small number, but the burden is cheerfully borne, and we progress steadily though slowly. The members have done as much as can be expected. On a stipulated day they brought £83 for the building, with £12 previously collected, making a total of £95 for the chapel by special efforts, a large amount when we remember that in November, 1872, they raised £110. The destitution of religious instruction and the rapidly increasing population of the district, together with the erection of new stores and other buildings in the neighbourhood, show that in a few years Wallingford will be a large inland town, and justify the erection of so large and good a chapel. I cannot close my report of this station to the Committee without expressing my gratitude that I have been enabled to continue to labour in a place where my efforts have been so blessed, and an earnest hope that the way may be made plain for further work in this portion of the Lord's Vineyard. At Santa Cruz there is still a steady increase, twenty have been added to the church. The little building is progressing and prospects are cheering, and invite the hope that in a short time we will have a strong cause here. A day school has been opened and also a Sabbath School which is well attended."

IV.—MANDEVILLE.

Missionary, P. WILLIAMS.

Number of members, 178.

The following is the report of Mr. Williams, who is supported by the same fund as Mr. Rees :—

"From the nature of the field in which I labour, you will not expect to hear either of long preaching excursions occupying weeks together, or of crowds of willing converts being added to the Lord. The necessities of the country do not call for the former, but of the latter, I wish that I could report more. Though it is not our joy to report the ingathering of a great harvest of souls into the garner of the Redeemer, we are thankful that we have been privileged to pick up, here and there, a golden ear, that we trust is now treasured by the Master, and will be stored with Him in heaven hereafter.

"At Mandeville, our usual congregation is much the same as it was last year; and in the membership of the church there has been a small increase, which does a little more than make up for the losses we have sustained. Preaching services have been conducted regularly, and other pastoral work has been done. We have not yet been able to commence building the Mission house for want of funds, but some preparations have been, and still are being made. In two districts, two or three miles from the village, the members are doing the preparatory work towards erecting two class houses, or preaching-places. Early in the coming year we went to make an effort to paint and repair the chapel.

"In connection with Zion Hill, the chief event of the year is the annexation of Penygarn as an outstation.

"With considerable difficulty and some risk, I visit the district as frequently as I can, and am hoping that soon some new and better arrangement may be made for it to be connected with other churches proximate to it. The people are thankful for their present connection with Zion Hill, and for my occasional visits; but they will consent to any arrangement that can be made for their better supply. For their sakes, more than for my own, I shall be glad when such can be done.

"With the chapel at Zion Hill, we are progressing but slowly; but we have hope that in the course of the early part of the coming year, something very considerable may be done to it. The congregation, I think has slightly increased, and I am very thankful to add, there are a few hopeful and promising young people who are desirous of declaring themselves on the Lord's side. Our Sunday school is increasing. This is a hopeful and grateful sign. The same may be said of the day school, except that just now, in the coffee season, nearly all the children are kept from school to gather in the crop, which this year is very heavy. Materially, our people are prospering. Oh, that they may prosper equally in spiritual things !”

From the Rev. A. Saker has been received the following report :—

“ In the early part of the year I sought health by a voyage down the coast, but it availed not, and there seems no hope of health now, but by a few months' residence in England.

“ Our printing for the year has been confined to class-books, &c., and we have given all needed time to binding these and Scriptures.

“ During the hours of freedom from acute suffering, I have re-written our grammar, and compiled a large dictionary, but I had not sufficient strength to put them to the press. These two books will, I hope, be printed so soon as I can return.

“ The return of fine weather enabled us to erect a small schoolhouse and teachers' cabin at the eastern end of our town, where the school and morning and evening services have been continued.

“ Also, to resume the work of teaching in our eastern branch of the river which was interrupted by the late war. A small school-house and teachers' cabin have been begun there, and will be completed in a few weeks.

“ Two of our young men have been extensively engaged in evangelistic visits to all the towns on our side of the river, but one visit only has been made to the towns in the interior on the north side. It seems best to leave those populous towns to be visited by Mr. Fuller, who is much nearer.

The schools and sheds for preaching at Dido Town and John Akwa's Town, have not been rebuilt, and the bitter feeling created by the late war, and the consciousness of defeat of the former exasperates greatly. This prevents a return of the intercourse with our members there, and of their oft assembling with us here. The day is, I hope, not distant when this also will pass away. An attempt is now being made to rebuild John Akwa's Town, and this will lead to the re-establishment of worship there.

“ At Bethel, the services have been uninterrupted, and the school kept up. The attendance at the day school fluctuates much, but the Sabbath school maintains its large attendance.

“ I have not noticed an increase of our Sabbath worshippers.

“ Three young persons have been awaiting my recovery to join the Church. These have now been baptized.”

The Rev. J. J. Fuller writes as follows :—

“ In my last I told you that we believe the Master's presence was with us in our work ; the manifestation of this we still enjoy. My congregation continues to increase, and the weekly meetings are better attended. Our first Sabbath in this year was indeed an interesting one. Although I had to be away in the early part of the day, my native teacher told me that our little place was quite full; and in the afternoon I could not seat those who came to the house of God; it was the more cheering when I saw so many of the women from the town coming in with their country stool under their arms, a certainty that they felt they would get no seat if they did not provide themselves with one. I have also during this week one or two applications to join the inquirers' class, and one or two applications also for baptism among the inquirers; so that we are assured that we are not labouring in vain. I would have baptized them, but, as you know, we have to be very careful, and knowing the depth of ignorance and superstition into which they once sunk; but as soon as I feel fully satisfied, I shall receive them into our little Church.

"Last Sabbath morning I was requested to go down to Bethel Station and baptize, for Mr. Saker, three persons, as he was not able to go into the water. I can only hope they have been savingly brought to know the Saviour.

"You will be glad to know that our chapel is now in progress, and as we need it so much just now, we are rather anxious that it should be finished as soon as possible. It has given us much pleasure to-day when we landed from the mail the timbers and roofing for it. God grant that it may be the birthplace of many souls!

"Since my last, I have visited Victoria and up the mountains, where Brother Thomson is actively at work. The situation seems a healthy one and a desirable centre, as he is surrounded on all sides by the people whose good he seeks; and Brother Pinnock seem much blessed in his work.

"We have a good little school at present, and our Sabbath school is gaining interest, especially among the young and members of the church."

From the Rev. Q. W. Thomson and the Rev. J. Pinnock no detailed reports have come to hand.

Mr. Jenkins has forwarded the following report:—

"As to the work entrusted to my care, I can hardly as yet speak of results, as it has been to a great extent of a preparatory character. Deprived of my father's advice and experience, when I felt I needed them most, I have endeavoured, I may say, amidst much mental anxiety, to get at right views as to the mode of presenting the Gospel most effectually to this people, and as to the course to be followed in order to continue and extend successfully this important work. In the measure of our efforts we have been, I say it with gratitude, abundantly blessed. In the midst of the prevalent ignorance and religious apathy, I have met encouraging symptoms that past labours have not been in vain, that God's Spirit is at work, and that this country may ere long, if evangelized with faithfulness, enter upon a period of religious revival.

"The modifications which the Committee thought desirable to make in the Breton Mission field in the course of last year, placed Morlaix station, with reference to the work of evangelisation, in a somewhat new position. Tremel station, to which for the last fifteen years my father's missionary efforts had chiefly been directed, and which, on account of the success which had attended his labours in that locality, had become the most interesting and hopeful feature of the Breton Mission, was formed into a Native church under the care of Mr. Lecoat; and it then became necessary to develop the good work in another direction. New localities had to be visited in the country, favourable openings for preaching had to be found and new stations formed.

"As from the outset the evangelisation of the Breton people had been the main object of the mission, and as this part of the work had almost entirely engaged the late missionary's attention, the French work in Morlaix itself had been carried on amidst much difficulty and at great disadvantage, and it was very desirable to strengthen it by all means available.

"To this special work, circumstances oblige me to confine myself during the greater part of the year. Though familiar with the Breton language from childhood, I was not sufficiently acquainted with it to undertake seriously the work of evangelisation among that people, whilst, on the other hand, the very reactionary policy which the governor seemed to adopt, made it hazardous to hold other meetings than such as were authorised. Our French services were therefore continued at the chapel as in the past, and the French Protestants residents and a few Roman Catholics attended them regularly. It became evident to me, however, that the population could not be reached in this way, and that other means must be tried to arouse attention. There is among our Catholic population a certain prejudice and dread of a Protestant place of worship, which keeps people away from the services; but this feeling does not exist so strongly against meetings in private houses. It struck me that if our Sunday evening service could be transferred to a private dwelling we might secure a larger attendance of Roman Catholics. A house at the Madeleine, a suburb of Morlaix, was thought of and the experiment was tried. The result was a success. About forty came to our first meeting and the numbers have continued to increase from that time. Last Sunday evening, the room, which is a good sized one, was so full that many could not get an entrance, and stood listening in the passage. The numbers were encouraging, but the spirit displayed by these people has filled me with hope. They listened with great attention, asked numerous questions at the end of the meetings and seemed carried away by a kind of enthusiasm for Gospel truth. From the beginning of these meetings, they have not ceased asking me to continue them, and as the authorities have not, as yet, offered any opposition, my intention is to persevere in the course which has been blessed.

"In the town itself I have met some interesting cases. An old couple has been impressed by the truth, and have become regular attendants at our services. A few months ago a woman came to see me and borrow a Breton Testament. She felt convinced that Roman Catholicism was not right, as it was a religion of money (sic). Her husband, who was at the time in the hospital, had become acquainted with an 'invalid' who occasionally came to borrow some tracts, and had also become convinced that Roman Catholicism was contrary to Gospel truth. These people are interesting, and will, I trust, come to a deeper knowledge of the Truth as it is in Christ. Some time ago a poor workman called on me one evening. He wanted to buy a Breton New Testament. He had lately settled in Morlaix, and came from Plougasnon, where he had many years ago known Marie-Jeanne, the oldest member of our church. She had given him a Testament, but the priest had taken it away and he had long been desirous of having another one. I was touched to see this man, with tattered clothes, take a few coppers from his pocket, and receive the book with a joy which showed that he appreciated its value.

"At Caer-Brâd, a hamlet of seven or eight farms, a desire had been expressed of hearing me preach. I went and found about forty persons who had assembled in one of the farms. These received me heartily and listened with great attention, and afterwards gave their assent to what had been said. I have returned on other occasions and found a wonderful willingness to listen. The last time, a few weeks ago, the house being too small for the people who had come, I preached in an adjoining field. Since 1848, I don't remember any open-air preaching in Brittany, and unfortunately the law is still opposed to it.

"At Menez Goarem and at Coat-ar-Cherno, I have on different occasions met thirty or forty persons, who have listened with pleasure to the truth. Here I have met a young married man, whom I did not know before, the son of one of our members, who seemed deeply impressed with the fact that the Gospel being the revelation of God's will, it was to the Gospel we must go for all knowledge unto salvation. So deeply had this thought taken hold of his mind, that he had, by his own efforts, learnt to read, that he might himself study God's Word. I encouraged him to persevere, and the last time I saw him, he told me he was determined to follow Christ alone.

"At Garlan I was invited to go by a widow, who has been a nun, but who married and is now the owner of an extensive farm. She had wished to hear me expound the Scriptures. Here I found a small number of people who became interested in what I said, and cordially approved our principles. One of the neighbours brought in a large Bible, which he laid on the table to show me. He told me he had bought it from our colporteur, and that the priest had tried to persuade him to give it up as it was a dangerous book. But he had refused, and read it morning and evening with his wife, having felt, he said, that therein was God's truth.

"At Cant Nelin ar Nont, I have also met an interesting family.

"Our Breton Church has been sorely tried by the removal by death of three of its members during the course of last year. Two of them were among the oldest, viz., Marie Jeanne Tocquer who had been a teacher à domicile for upwards of twenty years; Marguerite Barazer, who had devoted seventeen years to the same work in the country or at Tymad school; the third François Hamon was a young and promising youth who had fought at the Bourget, and whose health had been impaired by privations and exposure during the war. These, and two members of our congregation at Morlaix have been removed to their rest in the space of a few months. It is a cause of gratitude that all should have given us good grounds to hope that in their case death has not been a loss.

"The work of colportage and tract distribution has been carried on by Boloch during the first part of the year, and Guillaume Omnes has continued his labours throughout the year.

"Boloch sold from the 1st of January, 1873, to the 1st April, 1873, ninety-one copies of the Scriptures, and distributed 2,703 tracts.

"Guillaume Omeas sold during the year 116 copies of the Scriptures, seventy-six Barth's Bible stories, hymn books, and portions of the Scriptures, and distributed 4,148 Breton tracts.

"Looked at as a whole, the last year, with all its trials and difficulties, leaves ample room for gratitude to God and affords much encouragement to yet greater zeal and exertion."

From Mr. Bouhon has been received the following report.

"Difficulties have had to be overcome, and among them may be mentioned the restrictions to religious liberty which so often were spoken of in Protestant newspapers, but which did not materially hinder our work in Brittany, on the whole.

"Preaching was carried on regularly in the chief town of the department; the attendance being satisfactory, and increasing somewhat in connection with evening services.

"Opportunities offered also to preach in neighbouring villages, such as Plérin, Languieux, and Lacombe (near the Silver Lead Mines). I have besides visited the towns of Guingamp, Pontrieux and Lannion. The number of persons thus reached may be set down at 400.

"In St. Brieuc proper, over 60 persons who do not attend our meetings have been visited at home.

"The Sunday School has been kept up, with an average attendance of 8 scholars out of 15 on the books.

"The books of our small library, several illustrated magazines and religious tracts, have again proved useful auxiliaries; these quiet visitors influencing such localities as Pordic, Treguier, and St. Nicolas du Pelem, besides those places already mentioned.

"Through the year I supplied, on demand, four large French Bibles, eighteen New Testaments, and ten Hymn books.

"The Mission Church has been tried by the temporary departure for Paris of Mdlle. Joly (whose baptism closed so happily the year 1872). Another member has gone to a distance, as servant in a Protestant family which has applied to us in distress. Two soldiers and their families, members of the congregation, have been obliged to remove to the South of France. An interesting man, foreman in a baker's establishment, and who attended with his Breton wife and children, has removed to Lamballe, on the east of St. Brieuc. On the other hand we have been encouraged by signs of the effect produced on consciences by the Word of Life. A convert from Romanism and an under officer in the gendarmerie (the latter a Lutheran from Strasburg) have asked to be gathered together, in the week, for the purpose of Scripture study and prayer. We have done so to their edification and progress in the interpretation of the Bible.

"With the consent of her friends, a young person, aged sixteen, has also received instruction in view of being received in the church.

"In closing I would say that the very thorough visit of the deputation to Brittany has proved most useful to the general interests of the mission; besides which the stay of our esteemed brethren, Messrs. Templeton and C. Bailhache, at this station, on their way home, was a source of encouragement to your missionary, ordinarily so isolated from brotherly intercourse.

"My visit to the Channel Island Churches, as a deputation, was not only pleasant but, I think, useful to our Brittany mission which may be called to enter into further intercourse with these churches by-and-by."

Besides Tremel, Mr. Lecoat has held numerous services at nine places in the vicinity, the attendance varying from ten to fifty-seven persons. The Sunday-school at Tremel contains twenty-three boys and forty-two girls, and the day-schools eighty-seven. There are also upwards of eighty children under instruction, a domicile. The large majority of the children have Roman Catholic parents.

Small churches exist in several other places, presided over by brethren more or less supported from local resources. Mr. Hubert gives the following general account of the work in Bergen :—

“ The year 1873 began with united prayer-meetings ; all of them were well attended and the Lord was felt to be in our midst, and our regular meetings afterwards were tolerably well attended. In the latter end of January our brother Olsen arrived here to occupy my place during my absence. The 1st of February I left my house and family and went over to England, where, as you know, I remained till the latter end of May, and many a precious remembrance I have of the love and sympathy shown unto me by all the dear friends wherever I went. When I arrived at home I found that the Lord had prospered our good brother in his work during my absence, and six believers had been added unto the church in that time. Our meetings went on as usual till the 17th of August, when we had the great pleasure in taking our chapel into use. We had a very pleasant and profitable day of it, being still more so by having the privilege to receive six dear brethren into the church. Our meetings are all better attended now than formerly, and the first Lord's Day in September I had the pleasure of baptizing five more believers in Christ, and the first Lord's Day in October one more dear brother went the same good old path and joined us. Since then we have had no baptism and but few inquirers, but we are waiting for God's blessing and greater manifestation of Divine power in our midst than we have as yet seen before. The old year passed out and the new one in with great joy for us. I had a midnight service, a thing never known here before I came to this place ; this one was the fourth, and we were greatly but gladly surprised to see so many people together. Our chapel was quite crowded, and I may truly say it was one of the best meetings I have had. I began with a song and prayer, after which I spoke for about forty minutes. The Lord warmed my heart and enabled me to speak very freely. After the address was finished, six or seven brethren led in prayer and occasionally a verse or two. I closed with a few remarks, wishing the congregation a happy new year, and with a few suitable words the meeting was brought to a close, the time being half-past one in the morning.

“ Our increase in the past year has been sixteen by baptism and two by letters from other churches, our decrease is two by removal and two by death, so our net increase is fourteen, making fifty-one in membership of the church at Bergen.

“ In the latter end, our sisters had a bazaar, for the sale of their work. Some of our friends in Birmingham sent us very valuable help in presents towards it also. The bazaar proved quite a success. We realised about £15 from it ; the half went to the Sewing Society's fund ; and the other half we sent out one very promising brother from our midst, engaging him for two months to go round the country about Bergen and Stavanger preaching the Gospel. We have no doubt that the Lord in his mercy will bless our brother in his labours.

"Our day school as well as Sunday school is increasing, but in regard to the former, my funds are quite exhausted, and as our childrens' parents, the most of them, are very poor, if the Lord does not soon send me some relief, I do not know what will become of it."

Mr. Klargvist reports as follows:—

"My labour during the past year has not been confined to one place as I have no regular station, but the year has been spent in travelling from place to place visiting the different churches along the coast.

"The first part of the year was spent in Skien, where I remained till the 12th of February, during that time conducting the regular meetings of the church, and preaching now and then around about in the town where I could get an opportunity. A Sunday-school was also started, and the number of children in attendance was at first fifty; but owing to opposition the number decreased to thirty. A backslider was restored also in that time.

"The 19th February I went to Langesund twenty miles from Skien, had meetings there every day, and the Lord was felt to be in our midst. From the 28th of February till the 1st of May I remained at Skien occupying my time in preaching and visiting, and the Lord often refreshed our hearts with joy. Three dear souls, who six years ago left the church, were brought into the fold again, and a woman was converted and found peace through faith in Christ. The 1st of May I went to Langesund, where I remained a fortnight, and during those days I had an opportunity of preaching Christ to large gatherings. One precious soul testified that he, during that time, was brought to a saving knowledge of Jesus. The 14th May I went to Laurug, and remained there to 27th. Three dear souls were converted, and united with the church, and many others were deeply moved.

"From thence I went to Skien and Krageroe, where I had a few meetings; from thence to Arendal where I remained a few days, but had little opportunity of preaching. Six members of the little church had left, and emigrated to America, which was felt as a great loss by the rest. The 11th I returned to Langesund where I stayed five days, had five meetings in that time, and one brother was baptized. From the 16th to the 28th I remained at Skien, and these were very happy days. Three dear souls were admitted into the church, and on the 21st we had, in our circumstances, a large association meeting which was both profitable and encouraging. The first part of the day was spent in discussing several interesting subjects, and in the evening we had a public meeting, and that was crowded. Later in the night we had the Lord's Supper together, and this hour was one of the happiest we ever have had.

"From June 28th to July the 10th, I visited Langesund and Laurug. At this last place I had the pleasure of baptizing two believers, converted during one of my former visits. The 10th of July I went to Bergen, where I remained till the 8th of August, during which time I had many precious meetings in the school-room of the chapel (Brother Hubert during that time visiting Stavanger and other places). The 9th August I went to Stavanger, where I had some very large meetings, and I could feel that here there was hunger after the true bread of life. The 15th I returned to Bergen, where on the 17th we had a very happy day, when the new chapel, 'Ebenezer,' was opened.

"From Bergen, which I left the 19th of August, I went direct to Arendal, but as I could not gain an entrance in the town, I went after a few days to Skien, where I remained to the 11th September. During that time I had but little progress, but I found it necessary to remain there for the benefit of the church. After having been at Langesund a few days, I went to Moss, where one Baptist brother lives. This is a very dark place, and the people full of prejudice. I had the opportunity of preaching eleven times, and the Lord was felt to be with us indeed. The enemy was very angry, and, the last meeting but one, a gun was fired outside the window. A very precious hour I had in getting an opportunity to speak of Jesus; for all the poor of that town, our brother had invited them, 140 in all, to dinner. They were very attentive listeners to the Gospel message and many a tear was shed; several of them went regularly to our meetings afterwards.

"From the 2nd October till the 12th November I visited Laurug, Skien, and Langesund, having meetings as often as circumstances permitted.

"The 12th I went to Arendal where I remained till the 2nd December. Here I went for three days from house to house, but was not able to get a meeting appointed in the town. I went into the country, not far from the town, where on Sunday night I had a very large meeting. The next day I had another one in a house close by, and the power of God was felt in our midst. On the 18th I got an opportunity of having a meeting in the town, in a little room: a few souls came together, amongst these was a young lady who afterwards opened a large room for me to preach in. This room holds several hundreds, and I occupied it twice. The last time it was crowded; but after that she was forbidden by the owner of the house to have more meetings there. This was a great grief to her, but the Lord opened other rooms for us. These were smaller, but the meetings were nevertheless very largely attended, and our hearts were refreshed by the presence of Jesus in our midst. These days were the most encouraging and happy I have had during the whole year, just because of the entrance the Lord gave me in this town, which up to this time had been closed to us. The members of the baptist church live, all of them, outside the town in the country. My heart's desire and wish is that I had means to get a room, and I do not doubt but that the truth would make progress here. It is the great want of suitable rooms and our poverty, that hinder us in making that progress we ought to have as advocates and defenders of the truth as it is in Jesus.

"From the 2nd till the 11th of December I remained at Skien, where the time was spent to the edification of the church. The day after Christmas we had a feast for our Sunday scholars, thirty-three in number. They seemed to enjoy it very much, and I hope the Lord will bless the word spoken to them both there and in the school."

From Mr. Sandstedt, the following report has come to hand:—

"In the beginning of the past year I remained in and about Levanger, but it did not look very encouraging before the end of January, when we felt a little power from on high. Some dear souls were converted, and two of these were baptized. In February I went to Trondhjem, and remained there one month. There is nothing particular to remark; we had a very dark and narrow room, and the meetings very fairly visited. In March I went up to Levanger again, but found then that the priests had been busy during my absence. Only at a very few places could I get the opportunity of having meetings. The people appear to be very dependent on the Lutheran priests, every one of whom seems to be a Pope in his own parish.

"In April I returned to Trondhjem, where I remained two months, and everything went, as usual, very quiet; now and then a new comer was to be seen at our gatherings, and sometimes we felt the power of the Spirit in our midst. He that sees in secret is mighty to perfect His strength in our weakness. In the beginning of June I left Trondhjem and went to the south, alongside the coast of Norway, visiting most of the churches. I remained at Skien a few days attending an association meeting, which was a very happy season for us all. I came back to Trondhjem again on the 17th of July, not knowing what to do, whether to rent a better room, or leave the place altogether. It was very trying to leave, because some were already gathered in, and some were inquiring. Hard to get a suitable room, and the only one which was to be got was rather dear, and then no one able to promise any help towards the rent of it. Nevertheless I found it best to take it; and without a penny, trusting to the Lord, I rented the Turners' Hall for 100 Sgr. = £22 5s. a year. When we went to occupy it, the Lord sent me the first quarter's rent, and since we began to have our meetings there, the services have been better attended than before, but not so well as we would desire. It is hard work to go on, but still harder to think about leaving the place, which evidently must come to pass unless the Lord should open a new way for us. If our brethren in Sweden had not sent me money to pay these two quarters' rent, I had not been able to pay for them. During the latter end of the year I have been out in the country nearly every week, and we have had some very large meetings. The people there seem more accessible than in the town. The last time two large rooms were quite full of people. There seems to be only one thing wanting, and that is more labourers. The minds of the people have for many generations past been spoiled by a lot of preachers, who are anything else than preachers of the Gospel. At some of the other places to the north where I have been, the Lord has blessed my feeble labours, and some dear souls have also there been brought to Jesus, but it is rather a drawback that I am not able to visit them as often as I should like, the distances here in Norway are so great and the communications are not easy."

Mr. Swenson thus relates his experience of the work:—

"After having left Bethel-Seminarium, in Stockholm, where I have studied four years, I resolved to see our brethren in Norway. I arrived at Christiania in the beginning of September, where two brethren promised me to contribute to the rent of a room for Divine worship. When I had rented the place which should be opened at the end of October, I went first to Drammen, where no room to preach the Gospel could be got, because the people there have great prejudices against the Baptists. One evening I was at a Lutheran oratory, and after the end of the service which was held by a Lutheran, I rose and gave an address to the congregation. The people listened with attention, and when I spoke about the heavenly home, where all the children of God will be gathered, it was to be seen that many countenances brightened up.

"Then I saw the little Baptist church at Eidsvold. The kingdom of God among the friends there has been standing still several years, and I have desired that more should be done for our brethren at Eidsvold.

"I now set out on a journey to other stations, as Holmestrand, Harten, Laurnig, Langesund, Parsgrund, Skien, and Moss. Neither at Holmestrand nor at Harten was any door opened for the Gospel. But at the other places I had occasion to preach several times. At Parsgrund I was invited by the Methodist pastor to preach in their chapel twice, and I felt myself very happy among our Methodist brethren. The Word of God was also received with interest. At Skien I met with Brother Klargvist. In his church prevailed peace and love, and I was much refreshed among our brethren there.

"Before I came to Moss, Klargvist had been there. It is a place where much sin and darkness prevail. When I visited this place the second time the priest of the State-church came one evening, a few minutes before the sermon, asking me if I were a Baptist, which I confessed. He said that he could not forbid that brother who had opened his house for me. I conclude that, if he had had the power, he certainly would have desired to send a policeman in order to shut every door against me—but he wanted to warn the people not to come and hear me.

"He said to me: 'Wherefore do you come to my church? It is an injustice for you to do so. Go to the heathens, or where there are Baptist churches.' We invited him to stay and hear for himself, whether we preach delusions. We besought him to take the Bible, showing, us in the presence of the people, wherein our mistakes consist. He might, said he, sit down and hear and not remark against the sermon, lest we did not preach for the people our differences. But he had no time to do so; but as an example, he alleged our denying infant baptismal regeneration.

"Here in Christiania is much spiritual death and many prejudices to overcome.

"But I have hope that many souls will be converted in this town, and that it will be at last a flourishing church, builded on God's Word alone. We have not been favoured with many hearers in our meetings; but we can say God has been with us, and it has been very agreeable for our heart every time in the little hall to bear witness to the name of Jesus and His atoning death. The number of our hearers has not diminished, but every time we have been gathered, some unknown countenance has showed itself. During the last time we have had more encouragement, and it seems as if the Lord intends to bless us.

"A month before Christmas we began to hold a Sunday school, and it tells now sixteen children. We hope that the Lord also will bless it, and, as he did when on earth, take the little children to his bosom, blessing them."

ITALY.

ROME.

Missionary, JAMES WALL.

Number of members, 60.

Mr. Wall's labours in Rome continue to be largely blessed, and during the year numerous additions have been made to the church. Mrs. Wall has with great assiduity assisted in the work, by a wide distribution of Scriptures and tracts.

AUXILIARY SOCIETIES IN GREAT BRITAIN.

When contributions are given for special objects, they are denoted as follows:—The letter T is placed before the sum when it is intended for Translations; S, for Schools; N P, for Native Preachers; W & O, for Widows and Orphans.

N.B.—It will be found that, in some instances, the connexion of Churches in Auxiliary Societies interfere with the correctness of county arrangement; but this cannot be avoided without inconvenience.

NOTE.—In consequence of the PARTICULARS of Contributions from many of the Auxiliaries not reaching the Mission House until after the close and audit of this Balance Sheet, it will be found that the totals of some of the Special Funds do not exactly agree with the details of the printed lists.

Treasurers, Secretaries of Auxiliaries, and all Friends remitting moneys are therefore very earnestly requested to supply FULL PARTICULARS at the time of remittance, so that corrective entries may be dispensed with, and the Missionaries may be at once advised of all special contributions sent for their use.
