NOTICE IN REFERENCE TO BEQUESTS.

As the kind intentions of some of the deceased friends of the Society have been rendered abortive for want of correct knowledge of the law relating to Charitable Bequests, the Committee call special attention to the following directions :—

By Statute 6 GEO. II. cap. 36, commonly called the Mortmain Act, it is enacted, Section 1, that after the 24th June, 1736, "no manors, lands, tenements, rents, advowsons, or other hereditaments, corporeal or incorporeal, whatsoever; nor any sum or sums of money, goods, chattels, stocks in the public funds, securities for money, or any other personal estate whatsoever, to be laid out or disposed of in the purchase of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, shall be given, granted, alienated, limited, released, transferred, assigned, or appointed, or any ways conveyed or settled to, or upon, any person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, or otherwise, for any estate or interest whatsoever, or any ways charged or incumbered by any person or persons whatsoever in trust, or for the benefit of any charitable uses whatsoever, UNLESS such gift, conveyance, appointment, or settlement of any such lands, tenements, or hereditaments, sum or sums of money, or personal estates (other than stocks in the public funds) be, and be made by DEED, indented, sealed and delivered, in the presence of two or more credible witnesses, twelve calendar months at least BEFORE THE DEATH of such donor or grantor (including the days of the execution and death), and be enrolled in His Majesty's High Court of Chancery, within six calendar months next after the execution thereof; AND UNLESS such STOCKS be transferred in the public books usually kept for the transfer of stock, six calendar months at least before the death of such donor or grantor (including the days of the transfer and death), AND UNLESS the same be made to take effect in POSSESSION for the charitable uses intended immediately from the making thereof; AND BE WITHOUT any power of revocation, reservation, trust, condition, limitation clause or agreement whatsoever, for the benefit of the donor or grantor, or any person or persons claiming under him."

The third section of the statute enacts "That all gifts, grants, conveyances, appointments, assurances, transfers, and settlements whatsoever, of any lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, or of any estate or interest therein, or of any charge or incumbrance affecting or to affect any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or of any stock, money, goods, chattels, or other personal estate, or securities for money to be laid out or disposed of in the purchase of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or of any estate or interest therein, or of any charge or incumbrance affecting, or to affect, the same to, or in trust for, any charitable uses whatsoever, which shall at any time from and after the 24th June, 1736, be made in any other form than by this Act is directed and appointed, shall be ABSOLUTELY, and to all intents and purposes, NULL AND VOID."

Upon these enactments it may be observed:—

1st. That the Baptist Missionary Society is a Charitable Institution, within the meaning of this Act.

2ndly. Land, money arising out of land, or money secured on land wholly or partly, and whether freehold or leasehold, can be given to a charity only by deed in manner directed by the statute.

3rdly. Not only cannot a will pass to a charity any property of the above description, but no money-legacy given to a charity can be satisfied out of such property. If, therefore, a testator has only land, mortgages, rent-charges, debentures, or securities on land, the legacy will fail altogether; if his estate be mixed it will fail to the extent of the proportion of this property to pure personalty.

If A. having £1,500; namely, £500 at his bankers, and £1,000 on mortgage, gives £100 to a charity, the bequest will only be worth £33 6*s.* 8*d.* Railway and canal shares are pure personalty, and may be used to satisfy a charitable legacy, but not railway debentures.

By 1 Vic. cap. 26, sec. 9, it is further enacted, "That no will shall be valid, unless it shall be in writing, and executed in manner hereinafter mentioned (that is to say): it shall be signed at the foot or end thereof by the Testator, or by some other person in his presence or by his direction: and such signature shall be made or acknowledged by the Testator in the presence of two or more Witnesses present at the same time; and such Witnesses shall attest and shall subscribe the will in the presence of the Testator; but no Form of Attestation shall be necessary."

N.B.—Wills executed prior to the first day of January, 1838, are not affected by this Act; but any alteration therein, or codicil thereto, must be executed in the manner before mentioned.

The following Form of Bequest may be safely adopted by those who wish to bequeath such property as may be left by will for this purpose:—

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I give to the Treasurer or Treasurers, for the time being, of the Baptist Missionary Society, the sum of £ sterling duty free, to be paid exclusively out of such parts of my personal estate, not specifically bequeathed, as may lawfully be given by will to charity, and not to abate unless there should be no other fund for the payment in full of my other legacies, and in such case only rateably with my other pecuniary or general legacies.

If any friends wish to bequeath property for Translations or Schools, it is only necessary to say instead of the General Fund, the Translation Fund, or the School Fund.

It is proper to observe that the above restrictive statute does not extend to Scotland, Ireland, or the Colonies.

MINUTES OF THE GENERAL MEETING

HELD IN THE MISSION HOUSE, CASTLE STREET, HOLBORN, E.C.,

TUESDAY, APRIL 25TH, 1882.

1. After singing a hymn and reading the Scriptures, the Rev. W. C. Upton, of Beverley, offered prayer.

2. On the motion of the HONORARY SECRETARY, seconded by the TREASURER, Thomas Adams, Esq., of Birmingham, was unanimously called to the chair.

3. The Officers presented and read the Report of the Committee, together with the Balance Sheet and Abstract of Accounts for the past year, as passed by the Auditors.

4. The digest of the Minutes of the Committee for the past year was brought up and read by the HONORARY SECRETARY.

5. On the motion of Mr. MOUNSEY, of Liverpool, seconded by the Rev. J. W. LANCE, of Newport, Mon., it was resolved:—

That the Report now presented, and the audited Balance Sheet and Statement of Accounts as duly certified by the Auditors, be received, adopted, and published in the usual way.

6. The following resolution of the General Committee with regard to the Finances was brought up and read, and, on the motion of Mr. J. P. BACON, seconded by the TREASURER, was received and approved:—

The General Committee desire to call very serious attention to the state of the Funds of the Mission, showing an addition to the debt brought forward from last year, notwithstanding an increase of £2,200 in the regular contributions; and, while thankfully taking note of the considerable increase of large contributions from generous individuals, would suggest that an appeal be made to the Ministers and Mission Secretaries, urging the great importance of systematic efforts to increase in every church the list of regular periodical subscribers, by which means they believe the Funds could at once be put upon a satisfactory footing without pressing unduly upon any individuals.

7. The following resolution of the General Committee with reference to the services of the Honorary Secretary, on the motion of the Rev. Dr. TRESTRAIL, and seconded by the Rev. J. T. BROWN, of Northampton, was adopted as the resolution of this meeting. Resolved—

That the Committee desire to offer their best thanks to the Honorary Secretary, Dr. Underhill, for the generous services he has rendered to the Society during the absence of Mr. Baynes.

7. The Meeting was closed with the Doxology and Benediction.

NINETIETH REPORT.

A RECENT writer, commenting on the chief characteristics of the nineteenth century, places Christian Missions "in the foremost rank of powers destined to change the face of the world." They are the products for the most part of this century, and have attained to an imposing magnitude. It was not so at the beginning. Their originators were treated with contemptuous indifference, and their motives were grossly caricatured. "One or two men," he continues, "sent by this church and by that, are seen going forth, in obedience to a command spoken eighteen hundred years ago, to begin the enormous work of undermining heathenism and reclaiming the world to God. Among the glories of this century is none greater than this. All other enterprises of beneficence must yield to this magnificent attempt to expel debasing superstitions and convey into every heart the ennobling influences of the Christian religion. The success already attained gives sure promise of results the greatness of which are, as yet, dimly perceived."*

This is not the time to describe in detail, or even to summarise, the events of the ninety years that have passed since two of these obscure men, Carey and Thomas, went forth as the representatives of the Baptist churches of this country to open the message of salvation on the plains of Bengal. Our forefathers knew not "whereunto" their act of faith "would grow;" but, obedient to the command of their Lord, in humility and godly fear, they laid the foundations of that great work familiarity with which almost blinds the eyes of their posterity to its grandeur and extent. As year by year the

* Mackenzie's "Nineteenth Century."

Committee of the Society they formed have told the simple tale of its growth, its disappointments, its successes, the story has varied but little; yet, as we compare this beginning with the structure as we now see it, we can but say, with astonishment and gratitude, "What hath God wrought?"

One or two events of the past year are of more than usual interest, yet, in the main, the story is the same as that told in years gone by:—

"'Tis the repeated tale
Of sin and weariness;
Of grace and love yet flowing down
To pardon and to bless.

* * * * *

"No slacker grows the fight,
No feebler is the foe,
Nor less the need of armour tried,
Of shield and spear and bow.

* * * *

"Still faithful to our God,
And to our Captain true;
We follow where He leads the way,
The kingdom in our view."

EASTERN MISSIONS.

THE INDIAN MISSION,

As the first sphere of the Society's operations, naturally takes the foremost place in this brief review of the twelve months now closed. Although no new sphere has been opened during the year, one or two old stations, relinquished through the paucity of labourers or the inroads of death, have been re-occupied, and the Committee have been able to strengthen their missionary band by important accessions to their number. Six young brethren have consecrated their powers to Christ's service—viz., Messrs. Kerry, Potter, Jewson, Ellison,

II. Thomas, and Tucker—and two others of Indian origin, educated at Serampore College, have been recognised and placed on the Society's staff. All these are now in the field, and are diligently devoting themselves to the acquisition of such a knowledge of the languages of the people as may prepare them for active labour. Three other brethren, Messrs. Rouse, Jordan, and Hallam, at home on furlough, have resumed their posts; Mr. Rouse especially devoting his linguistic gifts and acquirements to the carrying on of the work of translation and editing the Scriptures of Truth, interrupted last year by the lamented decease of the Rev. Dr. Wenger. One brother only is lost to the field, the venerable Thos. Morgan, who now retires for well-earned repose, after forty-two years of strenuous and devoted toil.

In all parts of our sphere of operations, whether in Bengal or in the North-west Provinces, the missionary brethren have diligently pursued the same system of itinerary and pastoral labour as that followed in former years. Towns and hamlets, bazaars, markets, and melas, have been constantly visited, and the everlasting Gospel has been preached to the multitudes flocking to them. Everywhere we hear of the willing reception of the messengers and their message, and of an evidently increasing disposition to receive favourably the Word of Life. It will suffice to quote as an ample illustration the account rendered by the Rev. R. F. Guyton of the state of things in and around Delhi, and generally in the provinces of which that city is the centre. He says:—

"Wherever the preacher of Christ goes, he gets large and attentive congregations, who will listen patiently, and even reverently, anxious to hear more. I went out on a short missionary tour with a Christian friend—a business man—who lived in Delhi. One day we started about four in the morning, and tramped forward till six in the evening, conversing with natives, or preaching, all day—as opportunity offered. Reaching the end of our day's march, thoroughly tired, we were preparing for our night's rest, when the inhabitants of a neighbouring village came flocking out, and wanted to hear the story we had to tell. We forgot our fatigue, and told the story of redeeming love to eager listeners, and went on conversing and answering questions till nearly three the following morning, when we snatched brief repose. As soon as we awoke from sleep, we found a congregation of about five hundred persons quietly waiting to hear the tidings again. Again we preached, and then went forward on our way, attended by the crowd, for nearly five miles. Before parting, we told our story once more, under spreading trees on the bank of a canal; and then and there seven persons came forward and declared their trust in Jesus. Such tokens of readiness to listen are becoming increasingly numerous. There is, besides, a growing readiness to avow their Christian faith.

"In 1858 (the year after the Mutiny), when Mr. Smith visited Delhi, no Christian was known to be in the place, or within fifty miles of it; to-day, there are 500 church members, and a very large community less or more closely attached. In former days they used to linger long before they could resolve to avow faith in Jesus; they are now ready, and often more than ready, to come forward spontaneously. Had it not been for the caution of the missionaries, they might have baptized at least a thousand more than they have done. There is also a marked sympathy with the religion of Jesus growing up among those who cannot be regarded as Christian. Men of high position and influence make no secret that they wish for the extension of the Gospel. Individuals will tell us, We read the Bible; we love Jesus; though we are not prepared to call ourselves His disciples. This sympathy is widespread; and it is a sign full of hopefulness. The lives and characters of the converts, also, are a source of encouragement; and so is the interest they take in extending the Gospel among their fellow-countrymen. A man will leave his village on foot, without purse or scrip; he will be lost to sight for months; and then he will suddenly re-appear among his Christian friends. Where has he been? On a mission tour, at his own cost, preaching the Gospel from village to village; sleeping, now in a hut, now in the open air; now hungry, now enjoying the hospitality of those who welcome his message. I can mention the case of a poor cripple, to whom it was pain and difficulty to move but a few yards, but who managed every week to visit about forty houses, bearing the name of the Saviour there. There was a band of fakirs, earnestly inquiring after the way of life, who were brought into contact, through native Christians, with the Gospel. Their gooroo visited Umritzir, where he listened to the Gospel from the lips of a native preacher. He said to himself as he listened, 'This man knows the truth I am seeking after.' He went up to the preacher, and was invited to his house; and for several weeks he remained, eagerly drinking in the teaching he received. Then he returned to his band, and told them all that he had learned. Some time after, forty of that band came forward professing faith in Jesus, and were baptized. They read the tenth chapter of Matthew, and took the command of Christ as addressed to themselves, and went forth, two by two, over the Punjaub, preaching the Gospel wherever they went. Such cases indicate a condition of mind and heart in the converts that is pregnant with hope for India. Another very hopeful token is, that the spirit of Christian generosity is being more largely evoked among the native Christians. In one case, for example, where the Gospel had found entrance and acceptance in a heathen village, a native teacher was desired by the people, and they offered to support him themselves. In the various houses a jar was set apart as the Lord's pot, and into this pot the housewife would put a handful of meal daily. It was then poured out before the Lord, and sold for the support of Christian teaching in the village. Caste, too, is rapidly moving. Where a few years ago even a chumar would not sit at the same table with a native Christian, or buy his goods, matters are quite changed. The intercourse is freer; and they will not merely buy at a native Christian's shop, but they have a belief that a Christian's word, a Christian's measure, a Christian's balance, are more true than those of a Hindoo. Such signs are full of hope. But the field, not only in India, but in the regions beyond, is vast beyond imagining.'

Very similar are the reports received from Bengal. "Wherever," says Babu Buksh, "I went in the Mofussil, I was warmly and kindly received, and when I was thirsty they gave me milk to drink and sometimes sweetmeats to eat; whilst I was strongly opposed by the people of cities and towns, and sometimes they gave me much trouble." Another native evangelist, Babu Romanath Chowdhry, says:—

"Of all the mission-fields, India is the most difficult and important. The difficulty consists in the destruction of its religion and priesthood, and its importance in the construction of its church. The former is almost finished, but the latter still remains to be done. The pernicious system of caste is fast dying away, and making room for the brotherhood of man. It exercises but little influence over the people. The Brahmins now eat in the houses of those whom their fathers abhorred to touch for fear of pollution. Except priests, most of the Brahmins have given up the rites and ceremonies of their daily worship of idols. They are now occupying the halting-ground of religious warfare, and thinking what they are to do. But Jesus Himself is drawing them nearer and nearer unto Him."

In proof of this remarkable state of things, our brother states that, in several places, the people came to him with their Bibles for the explanation of difficult passages, and among them he found a Brahmin who surpassed many Christians in his knowledge of the Word of God. This brother's preaching is especially referred to by Mr. Bate as producing striking effects on his hearers. On a visit to Allahabad, Romanath, after public announcement of his purpose, preached for a month or more to mixed and large assemblages of Hindoos and Mohammedans with a fearlessness and tenderness befitting an ambassador of the Most High. On some occasions the room was crowded to excess; at other times the attendance was disheartening, owing to the opposition set up close by by the Mohammedans, who stood and preached on the steps of a mosque the other side of the road. Often the voices of the contending preachers were heard by each other, but the effects produced by the evangelist's labours were evident and sanctifying. One young Brahmin ceased to preach against the Gospel; and another could not refrain, in the open assembly, from speaking to others in favour of Christ the Lord.

Our indefatigable missionary, the Rev. R. Bion, though now advanced in life, continues to cover with his evangelistic efforts the large district in which he has so long laboured. These efforts have often been described; but, in the present year's report, he records an incident which exhibits, in an interesting manner, the way in which the Master leads many to His feet. Among the Garo tribes, which Mr. Bion annually visits, and where numerous converts have been made, he relates that last June the chief of the village of Biri Siri came to Ram Dayal, the preacher there.

"He told him that he had had a dream, in which he had seen the Lord Jesus surrounded with great splendour; but that, nevertheless, He had spoken with great kindness to him, and said that 'He alone could save.' This dream had such an effect that next day the chief took one or two other Garos with him, and went through the village collecting all their gods, which are made of bamboo. These he piled up before Ram Dayal's house, and said, 'Here, Babu, cook your dinner with these things, they are good for nothing else.' Crude, ugly, and shapeless as these bamboo gods are, they are looked upon with great reverence by the Garos, and it speaks well for the courage of these men that they undertook such a wholesale work of destruction. Not one of their bamboo gods escaped the eye of the chief; he swept the village clear of them. This man is now a baptized follower of Christ."

Fifteen others also among this primitive people have ranged themselves on the Lord's side and submitted to His gentle yoke.

Much use of late has been made of music in the preaching tours of the missionaries. Availing themselves of the national taste for song, many native strains have been adapted to Christian hymns, and are found to have a singular attraction for the people. The Rev. Thomas Evans makes the following judicious and well-considered remarks on this subject. He says:—

"Every morning, in the district of Tirhoot, we went forth to the surrounding villages to preach, and the people heard us gladly. They were especially pleased with our singing; and, as my daughter often joined us in our service of song in the villages, we drew very large crowds, not only of men, but also of women and children, who seemed no less surprised than delighted. We managed to teach both a hymn and a native tune to the young in some villages, and gave them copies of the Bhajans to sing. I have no doubt but that they are daily sung, for natives have a strong passion for native music; and I wish we could make more use of this most powerful means of good in India. I am glad to see that some of our brethren in Bengal are taking this matter up in earnest. I only hope the practice will extend, and that each missionary will make it a special point to learn to sing native tunes to native Bhajans. Indeed, I consider it one of the most essential qualifications to a missionary's usefulness in India. Let our young brethren take note of this. I have often found that, when preaching will not carry the glad tidings home to the heart of the Hindu, singing will do so; and a band of good Bhajan singers will often carry by storm the most bigoted opposition, and produce a most favourable impression. Singing has not yet had its proper position in the proclamation of the Gospel in India. . . . . I know myself that singing has done wonders for religion in Wales, and I have no doubt but that it will do mighty things for Christianity in India. Let our Committee at home see that the young men they send out to India as preaching missionaries are not only good preachers, but are also the sons of song and men of melody, which will add immensely to their usefulness in this country. To show how passionately fond of music and poetry the natives are, we need only remember that their very grammars are poetic productions."

Before leaving this department of our work in India, it is gratifying to the Committee to recognise the devoted and, in some instances, the spontaneous exertions of their native brethren to scatter abroad the seeds of righteousness. Such men as G. P. Buksh, Goolzar Shah, Gogon Dass, D. Ghose, Romanath Chowdhry, G. C. Dutt, John Sircar, Imam Masih, and others are types of a class of native Christians that God is raising up and preparing to be the leaders of their countrymen in the ways of holiness and truth. Three or four such men of God have, during the year, been summoned to their rest, after many years of labour in the Master's vineyard. Of these, special mention should be made of Ram Krishna Kobiraj, a Hindoo by birth, and held in high esteem by all the Christian brethren of his own race, as well as by the European missionaries; Amrita Lal Nath, well known for his holy, zealous, and useful life in the church at Johnnugger and the boarding-school at Serampore; and Sabha Chund, who suffered the loss of all for Christ's sake, and laboured much in His cause. These were men whose record is on high, who passed through much tribulation into the Kingdom of God, and whose memory is dear to many among their countrymen as "native heroes in the army of Christ."

In Calcutta, in the early part of the year, an event took place which, for a few weeks, excited the gravest apprehensions that the authorities were about to stop, or seriously to limit, the preaching of the Gospel in the streets and squares. This method of propagating the Gospel has been carried on, without objection or interruption from the Government, from the commencement of missionary labour in India, and for some time past an earnest effort has been made, not only to reach, by this means, the poorer masses of the population, but more especially the large class of natives who are able to understand and to speak English. The scenes of this ministry were chiefly Wellington Square in the south, and Beadon Square in the north, of the city, and crowded audiences were obtained. The success of these services appears to have at length roused the advocates of Hindooism and Mohammedanism to reply, and around their preachers equally large numbers gathered. There was, however, no disturbance, nor the apprehension of it; no breach of the peace occurred; there was excitement, but the crowds were orderly. These squares of Calcutta are, of course, public property, and, for public purposes, are vested in the Municipality. The majority of the Commissioners are elected by the ratepayers. The Chairman, who is appointed by Government, is also head of the Calcutta Police. Soon after the entrance of the present head of the Police on his office, an order was issued forbidding any "meeting for religious preaching" in these squares without permission in writing first sought and obtained. It is unnecessary to enter into detail of the incidents that rapidly followed. The missionaries of Calcutta, in a body, declined to observe the police order, on the authority of which the Rev. W. Macdonald, of the Free Church Mission, the Rev. W. R. James, of the Baptist Mission, and others were stopped while engaged in exercising the right so long and so harmlessly enjoyed.

At length summonses were taken out against the Revs. W. S. Macdonald, G. Kerry, and A. J. Bamford, minister of Union Chapel, who broke the order in Beadon Square, and against the Rev. W. R. James and Mr. E. Johnson, who broke it in Wellington Square. The case being regarded as one of great importance, a full bench of magistrates, two of them native gentlemen and two Europeans, assembled to hear it. The arguments were long and learned, and, after great deliberation, the four magistrates, in carefully prepared judgments, declared the Police Commissioner to have acted ultra vires. Thus, by the courage, faith, and self-denial of the arrested missionaries, the right of open-air preaching in the streets and squares of Calcutta has been completely established, subject only to two or three simple regulations for the preservation of order. The decision came none too soon, for in other parts of India attempts were being made to put down the public proclamation of the Gospel.

In Allahabad the mob, encouraged by the presumed illegality of the course long pursued by the missionaries in the streets, proceeded to violence, believing that the Calcutta police order would protect them. A prosecution of the offenders was undertaken, and speedy punishment has secured to the missionaries an unmolested use of their legal rights for the future.

Literary Labours.

The Committee are happy to state that the lithographic press established by the Rev. Thomas Evans at Monghir has been most usefully employed in printing a variety of tracts and portions of Scripture in the written character peculiar to the people of Tirhoot. This form of Kaithi is read by some millions of people, both in Behar and Tirhoot. Seventeen tracts have already left the press, numbering 42,000 copies. The four gospels published are accompanied with useful explanatory notes. The Rev. J. D. Bate, now supported by the funds of the Bible Translation Society, has revised the Gospel of John for the North-west Bible Society. In this he has followed the Greek text of the Westminster Revision. "My work," he adds, "on the Old Testament is going on, but it obviously would be most unwise to print any of it till the whole of the Westminster Revision is in my possession. That point attained, the instalments of my Old Testament work will follow gradually on as our Good Master may see fit to help me." Mr. Bate is also engaged in the preparation of a series of works on the Mohammedan controversy, styled "Studies in Islam." It will probably extend to twelve treatises, and they promise to be of great utility to missionaries and others who are brought into immediate contact with this class of religionists.

The Rev. W. Etherington has been engaged in the preparation of notes on the New Testament in Hindi based on Dr. Wenger's annotations on the same book in Bengali, and S. Pir Buksh has written several small works and tracts on various subjects for the Calcutta Tract and Book Society. He also has in preparation a translation, in Bengali, of a volume of twenty-six sermons on Christian Life and Practice written by our esteemed brother the Rev. George Rouse.

These varied activities have the one end in view, that of giving to India the knowledge of the Gospel of Christ, of overthrowing its vile idolatries, and of planting in their place the Kingdom of our Lord. They form a part of that great movement which all testimony assures us is preparing the way of the Lord, and is already bearing in ever-increasing proportions abundant fruit in the salvation of men.

Visit of Mr. Baynes.

During the last six months of the year, Mr. Baynes, the General Secretary, has been engaged in visiting the stations of the Society in India and Ceylon. This arduous task was undertaken at the unanimous request of the Committee, and, they are happy to say, has been completed in the manner and within the time originally contemplated. The Committee have yet to receive from their esteemed colleague the report of this highly important visit; but they gladly record their sense of the Christian spirit which induced Mr. Baynes to accede to their wish, and their warm thanks for the devotedness, zeal, and success with which he has carried out the instructions he received. The Committee most cordially and gratefully acknowledge the kindness of Mr. Baynes' reception by their missionary brethren, and express their thankfulness for the facilities given to Mr. Baynes in the accomplishment of the onerous duties he had undertaken. They cannot doubt that the gracious hand of God, which attended his steps both in going and returning, will also be seen in the results secured, and that the Society and its missionaries will reap large benefit from the experience and the knowledge thus gained by their beloved friend, in his future relations with them. They welcome his return to the post he has already filled with such ability and zeal, and pray that the blessing of God may visibly appear upon his labours for years to come, as they thankfully recognise to have been bestowed in the past.

SERVICES OF THE HONORARY SECRETARY.

During the absence of Mr. Baynes, the burden of the work of the Mission has rested upon the Honorary Secretary, Dr. Underhill, who most generously and willingly acceded to the earnest request of the Committee that he would undertake the active duties of the Secretariat until the return of Mr. Baynes.

At the last Quarterly Meeting of the Committee, on the motion of the Treasurer the following resolution was unanimously adopted, expressive of their grateful appreciation of Dr. Underhill's valuable services :—

RESOLVED—

"That the Committee desire to offer their best thanks to the Honorary Secretary, Dr. Underhill, for the generous services he has rendered to the Society during the absence of Mr. Baynes.

"In acknowledging the value of his long and intimate acquaintance with its various operations, of which they have been permitted to avail themselves, they would also gratefully recognise the unvarying attention which he has given to the duties involved in the daily administration of its affairs, and the highly satisfactory manner in which, under his auspices, the business of the Mission has been conducted.

"The Committee would render devout thanksgiving to God that the health of their esteemed colleague has not suffered through the work so readily undertaken by him, and for the successful discharge of which he has laid the Society under fresh and lasting obligations."

CEYLON.

Just as the year was closing, the pastor of the Grand Pass church, Mr. James Silva, was called to his heavenly rest. In his youth he attended the ministry of our first missionary, Mr. Chater, and was converted and baptized at Matale in 1836, when about eighteen years of age. He then studied for the ministry under Mr. Harris in Kandy, and, after various labours, settled as pastor of Grand Pass church in 1859. After six years of successful labour, the church assumed the position of independence which it has maintained up to the present time. Here Mr. Silva's career was one of eminent devotedness and usefulness. His example was ever stimulative of earnestness in Christ's cause, and many were the souls that, under his ministry, were brought to the Saviour's feet, and who will be "his joy and crown in the day of the Lord." The churches of Ceylon can ill spare his bright and noble example; but Christ is the Living One, the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever. The Grand Pass church at present numbers ninety-five members.

The departure from the island of the Rev. T. R. Stevenson, on the termination of the service agreed upon, has also inflicted a severe loss on the independent church meeting in the Pettah and Cinnamon Gardens. At present the vacancy is supplied partly by the missionaries, but chiefly by two gentlemen who, though not formally connected with us as missionaries, kindly render very acceptable service to the church and congregation. There are several candidates and inquirers, and various indications of real blessing on the preaching of the Gospel.

But while these removals, in some measure, are causes of regret and pain, the Master is pleased to raise up younger men to take the vacant posts. At Hanwella, Mr. Henry de Silva, a son-in-law of Mr. James Silva, has received his first charge. Though in early life carefully trained as a Buddhist, his inquiries led him to Christ, and, after some instruction under the Rev. F. Waldock, he gave himself to the ministry of the Word. By Bible readings, he is seeking to cultivate the faith and the knowledge of the members of his church, and thus to lay the foundation of a strong and healthy community.

It is not without opposition that many are led to consecrate their lives to Christ. At Byamville, there are no less than five Buddhist priests resident within a mile of the chapel, and Roman Catholics add their hostility to that of the heathen leaders to the spread of Divine truth. One convert from the Roman Catholics has been able to resist both the persuasions and the persecutions of her relatives, assuring them that, if she could only show them the joy she now has in the Saviour, they would not think the step she has taken a wrong one. At Kottagahawatte, Mattakooly, Makewitte, and other stations, much blessing has been experienced and progress secured, while at the large station of Gonawelle, evangelistic work has been carried on on a more extensive scale than usual. Of the six persons added to this church of 113 members, one of them is a grand-daughter of the good old deacon, who was the first convert in the village. Her father, Don Elias Mohandiram, in order to express his gratitude for so great a blessing and to supply a want urgently felt by the church, has had an excellent baptistery constructed in the chapel, at the cost of 120 rupees. Thus, although in many places the people are extremely wedded to their superstitions, a real, though very slow, progress is perceptible. The Word of the Lord continues to grow, and the churches, being at peace, are multiplied. The plan of itinerating by two and two has been diligently pursued, and thereby the Gospel carried to hundreds of villages in various districts. The brethren, on the whole, have been encouraged to fresh and wider work. The 38 day-schools in the Colombo district have 1,512 boys and 453 girls—a total of 1,965 scholars. The Sunday-schools, with 52 teachers, contain 571 children.

In Kandy, Mr. Lapham has entered with zeal and energy on the work so recently surrendered to his hands by the Rev. Charles Carter, whose health has constrained his retirement from the field he had so laboriously and successfully occupied. His loss to the people of Ceylon is much mitigated by the benefit which his version of the Scriptures in Singhalese has bestowed upon them. A new and revised edition of the New Testament was his last work before leaving the island, and was a fitting conclusion to his twenty-eight years of toil. In his new home in New Zealand he will continue to employ his great knowledge of the native language of Ceylon for the advantage of its people.

Under the general supervision of Mr. Lapham the work at the various stations has been steadily pursued, and in some of them souls have been brought to the knowledge of the truth. At Kaduganawa a neat little chapel has been erected, and it was opened in May last year by the Revs. C. Carter and F. Waldock. It stands boldly out to the view of travellers by the railway which ascends the famous Kaduganawa Pass, testifying to the district the presence of Christian truth. Neighbouring residents have shown their appreciation of the Christian service thus supplied, by gifts of benches for furnishing the chapel comfortably. Of the specially notable events of the year, Mr. Lapham particularly mentions the disestablishment of the English Church in Ceylon, which, though it does not take full effect for five years, will no doubt greatly affect the social status and estimation of the Nonconformist bodies existing in the island. Its importance is in some measure enhanced by the fact that the authorities of the Church of England in Ceylon teach and maintain, in the most undisguised manner, the dogma of sacramental grace and the priestly authority and sacrificial character of the ministry which the State has hitherto maintained.

The district of Saburagama, in which the Rev. R. Pigott is stationed, is the stronghold of Buddhism in Ceylon. Many of the villages visited by the missionaries lie at the foot of Adam's Peak, on the summit of which mountain is the so-called "foot-print" of Buddha. Thousands of pilgrims visit it annually for worship, and even Mohammedans often pay their homage at the shrine, under the idea that it is the print of Mohammed's foot. The district is very populous. The head-quarters of the Mission are at Ratnapura (the City of Rubies), fifty-six miles from Colombo. Commenced only within the last two or three years, the work is necessarily of a pioneer character. Sunday services have been established, which are steadily increasing in the number of attendants. Sunday and day schools are in operation. The hospital is regularly visited, and the people assemble in large numbers in the open air to hear the Gospel preached. Stations have been organised at Balangoda, an important town among the hills, and at Hunageywatti, where the native evangelist Markus resides.

Mr. Pigott reports the following singular incident:—

"In August last, Colonel Olcott, an American, President of the Theosophical Society, visited Ratnapura. This gentleman professed to be a Buddhist, and as his visit was likely to act as a hindrance to our work here, and as we, in common with some influential Buddhists of Ratnapura, had our doubts of the nature of the Colonel's Buddhism, it was arranged that a few Christians should meet him and question him as to his knowledge of that religion. The result of this interview was that the Great Pundit was constrained to retire into the position of a learner, and, in reply to questions on the deep things of Buddhism, was obliged to refer us to the learned priests for the information required. Now we find that his visit has done us and our work more good than harm."

The incident well illustrates the numerous currents of thought and the strange outgrowths of opinion which these modern days present, and amid which the Church of Christ has patiently to pursue her noble task of bearing witness to the existence and the nature of that Glorious One who came forth from the Father to be the Saviour, the Teacher, and the Light of men.

CHINA.

To this vast empire the Committee regret that, in answer to the powerful appeal of their three missionary brethren, they have been able to send only two additional men, Mr. Whitewright and Mr. Sowerby. How few are these to bring to the teeming population of China the knowledge of eternal life through the Son of God! Whether deluded and wicked, or searching for a remedy that may stem the tide of evil flowing around them, the Chinese people know no God, and are without hope in prospect of the world to come. Yet, so far as the attempt has been made, there is everything to attract and to encourage the earnest disciple of Christ. The evangelists report "that the enmity of the people to Christianity is diminishing generally at a fair and rapid rate." Here and there some one is found to give in his adhesion to the Truth. Up and down the fifty-one counties traversed by them are families and schools where the messengers of Christ are received with a gladness and willingness that their message always commands from responsive hearts. Here is an illustration furnished by the Rev. A. G. Jones:—

"In the county of Poh-chau, which is very hilly and barren, the evangelists had hitherto met with but an indifferent reception, sometimes being refused lodging in winter time, though with a climate almost like that of Russia. This last journey, however, they had hardly entered the country when they were met at several points with a friendly recognition, and in some such terms as these: 'Oh! several who attended the last competitive examinations in the Prefectoral city had these books presented to them, and they thought very well of them. Have you any more? So-and-so, you run for a chair and make these teachers sit down and tell us more of this;' and so detained them for half-a-day."

This eagerness for books that will give new light on the great mysteries of life and death, has prompted our missionaries, in combination with others, to arrange for a wide and systematic diffusion of works which tell the glad tidings of salvation. Tracts prepared on wooden blocks have been distributed by Mr. Richard and his coadjutors in fifty-five counties, chiefly in the centre and northern part of the province of Shansi. Considerable time has also been devoted by him and his wife to the translation and original composition of books suitable for the literati, and for especial distribution among the vast gatherings which annually take place at the public examinations. Prizes, too, have been offered for the best essays on religious subjects. One of the writers became an inquirer at Pang-yang-fu, near which place he lived, and is now very promising as a future messenger of the Gospel among his countrymen. Three men were baptized with him, and others are seeking after the way of life. It is both a gratifying and hopeful circumstance that these books are freely purchased by those who teach and lead the millions. Some £32 were thus received last year, an earnest that soon the literati and those connected with them may be expected to contribute all that is necessary, and still consider themselves the missionary's debtors. "And if they did not, still would it be our duty," adds Mr. Richard, "to seize every opportunity which God opens to us."

But while this pioneering work is proceeding in Shansi, in the district of Shantung, where the Society's labourers have been long established, much fruit continues to be gathered into the garner of the Lord. "The night of almost hopeless waiting is as past," testifies Mr. Jones. "You may see the beginnings of this Gentile nation coming to the brightness of His rising—coming, not in spite of what they fear, but because of what they are convinced of. Yes, it is no dream. Wise men will again come to do Him reverence, but this time to ask, 'Where is He that is born King of Mankind?'"

JAPAN.

Of the progress of the Mission in Japan the Committee have but little to report. In June last the Rev. H. J. White was called to suffer the greatest loss he could sustain, the decease of his beloved wife. The blow was unexpected and severe. Three little ones were left to his charge, and for some months he was incapable of pursuing his usual evangelistic labours. By the generous offer of a friend to take charge of his bereft children he was, however, able to continue at his post, and at length to find consolation in the gracious effect produced on many by the peaceful departure of Mrs. White. Several of the members of the church were present at her death-bed, and witnessed with spiritual blessing her calm and happy end. Since her decease Mr. White reports that he has baptized two persons, and that there are several inquirers. The Committee would rejoice to send some one to Mr. White's assistance. "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few."

WESTERN MISSIONS.

WEST AFRICA.—CAMEROONS AND VICTORIA.

With regard to the staff of the Mission, the year just closed has been more than usual one of trial and disappointment. At the close of 1880 Mr. and Mrs. Lyall were compelled to seek restoration of health in England. Returning in July, 1881, with bright anticipations of a time of successful labour, scarcely ten weeks passed before Mr. Lyall was stricken with the fatal fever of the climate, and removed to the rest of the blessed. His short career was one full of promise, so that the loss has been felt as peculiarly severe. But doubtless the Lord of the Harvest will speedily enable the Committee to fill a post which, if perilous, is yet one of honour and reward. Miss Saker also was driven home by a dangerous illness, and at the close of the year Mr. Richardson, of Bakundu, scarcely escaping with life, was compelled to seek surgical assistance in England. Mr. Thomson may also find it necessary during the next few months to take a temporary change in his native land.

Yet, notwithstanding these trials, the condition of the Mission is full of encouragement and promise. The pressure on Mr. Thomson and Mr. Fuller has been heavy, calling for the utmost courage and endurance; but they have been upheld and cheered by the manifest blessing of God upon their toil. Extension, and journeys of exploration, have necessarily been held in abeyance; but the daily work of the Mission in teaching and preaching has been steadily maintained.

The schools at Victoria are most prosperous. There are 120 children—boys, girls, and infants—in regular attendance; in fact, all the children in the settlement. Miss Comber reports of the eighty-two girls and infants that form her charge, that they are evidently improving. At first she found teaching brought on fever, but now she has become acclimatised it seldom troubles her. Some of the children show great quickness, and the teaching of the year has, on the whole, been successful. "I hope," she adds, "that a few have given their hearts to Jesus, and several others are inquiring the way to Zion."

Mr. Dixon gives an equally favourable report of the boys. They have afforded him encouragement and satisfaction both as regards conduct and attainments. Instruction in the Scriptures forms the first part of the day's duties, while the order and discipline of the school have been good. In the absence of Mr. Thomson from the station, Mr. Dixon has also done good service in conducting worship on the Lord's-day. Writing soon after his arrival, Mr. Dixon says: "I have had the privilege to give three addresses to large congregations in the nice chapel we have here, holding about 300. I do not think this number were present, but the place seemed comfortably full. They are most attentive, and listen to the Gospel with joy and gladness. The Bible work is certainly successful among this people, and nothing could exceed the interest shown by the Sunday class of young men." It may here be mentioned that English is the tongue spoken and learnt in the colony of Victoria.

At Bethel, on the Cameroons River, the central station, and the scene for so many years of the indefatigable and self-denying labours of Mr. Saker, the attendance at the services and the increase to the church have been pre-eminent throughout the year.

"The chapel," says Mr. Thomson, "is always full on the Sunday afternoon, and much better filled in the morning than it was in the early part of the year. Twenty-three persons have been baptized and added to the church. But the most pleasing feature is the out-station work, carried on by the young men of the church voluntarily. One Sunday afternoon, quite unexpected by the young men, I absented myself from the chapel, and went round the different branch meetings held at the very time when the chapel itself was filled. First at the Slave Town I found two young men gathering a number of people together to a meeting under a large palaver tree. Leaving them, and proceeding to a division of the A'Kwa family a little higher up the river, we came to a native house crowded out with people, and sitting on their little stools all round the house outside, and a young man preaching so distinctly inside that we could hear him clearly where we stood at the outskirts of the crowd. Thence I went farther up the river, and at the house of a young man who was formerly with me I discovered a crowded meeting, larger in number than any of the others. Here I found two other young men, one of whom was preaching. Thus there were four congregations at the same time in connection with the Bethel station, and also two meetings at Bell Town, all conducted by young men from A'Kwa Town. To my mind, all this is simply the fulfilment of the promise of God's word. It is the harvest which must naturally come after sowing, tilling, and watering. Many have prayed for these things, and have spent their strength in the effort to influence the hearts of these people. Some are in heaven, more on earth. Shall we not all rejoice together that His word is true, that He is faithful that promised, and that His word has not returned to Him void? So let us not be weary in well-doing, for in due season we shall reap IF WE FAINT NOT."

The following incident, narrated by Mr. Fuller, is of the most striking value as showing the influence of the Gospel on all classes of the natives of A'Kwa and Bell Towns:—

"We have had recently," he says, "fresh tokens of the good that is being done by the preaching of the Gospel. The Cameroons people are going up to Bedman to war. This tribe has so long kept the river close that the Wuri people have appealed to the people here to come and help them. But, before leaving, they crowded the chapel morning and evening to ask guidance, wishing us to pray for them—a thing I had never seen before in Cameroons. We had to open the chapel to receive the congregation that came, our other place being too small. So, instead of making their Juju as formerly, they came to ask God's favour and support."

It is also worthy of record that King A'Kwa is himself a regular attendant at the house of God, and, seated at the side of the missionary, testifies by his example the interest which he both feels and expresses in the saving truths to which he listens.

Of his own station, Mortonville, Mr. Fuller reports that at Christmas he baptized eight persons, three from his sub-station Dibombari and one from Jubari. In all, eleven persons have been added to the church, which now numbers sixty-one members. Of the converts at Dibombari one is the chief of the place. Since the death of Mr. Lyall, Mr. Fuller has taken charge of Bethel; and, in addition to the services there, he visits Bell Town on the morning of every Lord's-day. At Bakundu, the labours of Mr. Richardson are gradually bearing fruit, and it is a source of great distress to him that at this juncture he has been driven from his post. He hopes yet to gather the harvest of the seed he has diligently for the last two years sown.

Miss Saker, the Committee are happy to report, is now on her way to the Cameroons, her health being thoroughly re-established. Advantage has been taken of her stay in England to carry through the press a school primer and class-book in Dualla, and also a new edition of the Dualla New Testament. Both these works were originally prepared and translated by her father. The edition of the New Testament has been printed with funds supplied by the Bible Translation Society, and consists of 2,000 copies, in a neat, compact, and most convenient form for use in the home, the chapel, and the school.

THE CONGO MISSION.

In the last Report, the Committee announced that our missionary brethren on the Congo were about to make another attempt to reach Stanley Pool. Messrs. Comber and Hartland were to endeavour to reach that goal by the Makuta road; Messrs. Crudgington and Bentley by the north bank of the river from Mr. Stanley's station at Vivi. The two parties started on their task from San Salvador on the 8th February. The Makuta party were soon hindered by the old difficulty as to carriers. Their bearers deserted them, and they had once more to return, vexed and disappointed, to San Salvador. With a view to render assistance to the river party, they left San Salvador again after a few days' rest, and happily met Messrs. Crudgington and Bentley on their return, who had successfully accomplished the object of their journey. Messrs. Crudgington and Bentley left Vivi on the 17th February, and began their march on the north side of the river.

Mr. Crudgington thus condenses the story of the difficult journey which, with evident protection from on high, they had accomplished :—

"Of course we had the usual difficulties with two or three of our carriers, as they were Congo men—difficulties of road and fear of people ahead of us; but our Kroo boys outnumbered the Congo men, and it is sufficient to say that, in twenty-one days' walking from leaving Vivi, we found ourselves crossing from the district called Mfwa, near Mankoneh's town on the north side, to Ntamo on the south side. The return journey we did in fifteen days, part by the river itself in canoes, the greater part by land. We really took the river just below the Itunzima falls. On coming down the river we found Mr. Stanley with his camp, and he most kindly placed a tent at our disposal, and offered to run us down the river the next morning in his steam launch to the Isangila Falls. I cannot speak in too high terms of Mr. Stanley's kindness to us."

The reception of the two brethren by some of the tribes about Stanley Pool was by no means encouraging. The chief on the north side they found kind and ready to help them. He was willing to ferry them across the Pool, but, on landing at Ntamo, they were met by a crowd of hostile natives, armed with spears and knives. It was soon discovered that this unexpected and threatening reception was owing to the fact, rumours of which had already come to their ears, that a M. de Brazza, professing to be a representative of the French Government, had "annexed" to France several of the towns about Stanley Pool and the Ogowé River. A sergeant and a marine (both black men) had been left to represent the claims thus set up against all comers, and to protect the French flag that had been unfurled in the town. As the Missionaries could not assure the people that they were French, they were regarded as enemies, and for some time there was cause to fear that their lives would be sacrificed to the hostility that M. de Brazza had instilled into the minds of the people. With much difficulty they escaped to the north side, leaving behind a lad, who had run away, and who, some weeks afterwards, rejoined them lower down the river.

"I cannot tell you," concludes Mr. Crudgington, "how grateful we are to our heavenly Father for the health which has been given us on this journey, for the help and guidance on the road, and for the safe journey back. True, it was only a small journey, but we have often felt how much we needed Divine guidance and a full realisation of our Saviour's command to help us to go forward. We knew we had the prayers of our friends in England, and we still ask that those friends will offer up grateful thanks for the help which has been given us."

The Committee need not encumber this Report with any further details of the journey so successfully accomplished. The journals of the two brethren have been published in the HERALD in full, with a good map illustrative of the path by which they reached Stanley Pool. The journey made it abundantly clear that, at least for the present, the best and most direct route thither is by the north bank and the river itself, and it was at once resolved by the Committee to send out a steel boat in sections for use on such parts of the river as were free from rapids and cataracts. This was speedily accomplished, and the Plymouth is now fulfilling, through the generous gift of a friend in Plymouth, her functions on the river.

The arrival of Mr. Crudgington in England in the month of June enabled the Committee to proceed under the most favourable circumstances to the consideration of the steps that should now be taken to advance the great object for which the Congo Mission was established —viz., the carrying of the glad tidings into the heart of the "Dark Continent" itself. He was able, personally, to inform the Committee on every point of importance, and to give expression to the unanimous and well-considered views of all the missionary brethren.

It was very soon apparent that no alternative existed but to "go forward." After much prayerful and prolonged deliberation, the Committee unanimously resolved to proceed, in all devotion and humility, on the great enterprise that they believe the Head of the Church has summoned the Society to undertake. In the following series of resolutions, they laid down the lines on which it was deemed wise to act:—

"A.—That the work at the station of San Salvador (or Congo) should be maintained, and, if possible, two European missionaries be settled there; the Congo district being very thickly populated, and the people very friendly to the missionaries.

"B.—That the route of the missionaries to Stanley Pool be by the north bank of the Congo River.

"C.—That intermediate mission stations be established at Isangila and Mbu, on the north bank of the Congo River, with a base station on the north-west bank of Stanley Pool at Ibiu. Two European missionaries to be stationed at Isangila; two at Mbu; and four at Stanley Pool—two for mission work at the Pool, and two for interior work in the steam-launch.

"D.—That, with a view to wise and careful consideration of the important question of the construction of a suitable steam-launch for the navigation of the waters of the Upper Congo, beyond Stanley Pool, towards the interior, in accordance with the original plan of Mr. Arthington, the urgent appeal of the Congo brethren be complied with, and Mr. Grenfell be requested to visit England, for a short season, to advise with the Committee on this important subject; and, should his drawings and specifications be sanctioned by the Committee, Mr. Grenfell to practically superintend the building of such steam-launch, with a view to his becoming thoroughly acquainted with its construction and management.

"E.—That, in order to carry out the foregoing recommendations, the appointment of five additional missionaries be sanctioned, making, with Mr. Herbert Dixon, already accepted by the Committee for work in Africa, an increase to the staff of the Congo Mission of SIX BRETHREN."

It now remains to state the progress that has been made in carrying out these resolutions. The foundations of the two stations at Isangila and Mbu, or Manyanga, have been laid, and the brethren are only waiting the arrival of the reinforcements promised to proceed immediately to Stanley Pool. In September Mr. Crudgington, in company with Mr. Dixon, sailed for the Congo, where they have safely arrived, and subsequently the Committee have tidings of the arrival of Mr. Weeks, who quickly followed. A third brother, Mr. H. Butcher, sailed a few weeks ago for the same destination. The Committee have also accepted the services of Mr. H. Moolinaar, so that only two are wanting to make up the number proposed. These they trust the Lord will "thrust forth" in due time, so that before the end of the year they hope the entire band of ten brethren will be in the field. They have gratefully to record that the health of the missionaries, with a few exceptions, has been well sustained, so that no other breach than that occasioned by the lamented decease of Mrs. Comber has been made in their number.

At the request of the Committee, Mr. Grenfell has come to England to superintend and watch the progress of the steamboat for the use of the Mission on the upper waters of the Congo. A very favourable contract for the building of it has been entered into with Messrs. Thorneycroft & Co., of Chiswick, and the Committee have reason to hope that in the month of August or September she will be ready for transport to Africa. She will cost, with the additional gear, duplicates of important parts, and her stores, about £2,000; and the Committee have gratefully to mention that Mr. Arthington has again generously aided them by a second donation of £1,000 to meet the entire cost. Once launched on the river above Stanley Pool, there is a clear watercourse of 1,200 miles into the interior. May she speedily carry to the perishing millions that Word which is light and life!

Although the presence of Roman Catholic priests in San Salvador is found to be a disturbing and hostile force, the king continues to show a preference for the ministrations of our brethren, and frequently attends their services. The children of some important chiefs have been placed under Mr. Hartland's care, while the people exhibit a decided distaste for the services of Rome, which are unintelligible to them. Mr. Dixon has for the present joined Mr. Hartland, who will, later on, when Mr. Dixon has acquired sufficient knowledge of Portuguese, join his brethren in the forward movement on Stanley Pool. Referring to his health and to some difficulties which had clouded the later weeks of the year, Mr. Dixon says: "On the following Sunday we had really good attendance at service, although the king did not come out, on account of the death of one of his wives. And so, now, after very dark days, our New-Year has opened fairly brightly, and we are indeed thankful to God for having overruled everything for good."

In adopting the important measures described above, the Committee are happy to read, in the warm encouragement they have received both from individuals and churches, the approval of Him "without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy." They note with gratitude to God the liberal and often munificent response that has been given to their appeal, and they cannot doubt that an enterprise begun in prayer and carried on in simple dependence on Divine grace and mercy will continue to enjoy the hearty support and the devout interest of all the members of the Society. May the Sun of Righteousness speedily dispel the mists of ignorance, superstition, and sin that for so many ages have brooded over the immense regions of the continent whose people we desire to reach with the joy of Christ's salvation!

WEST INDIES.—BAHAMAS ISLANDS.

The numerous small churches on the coral islands of the great Bahama Bank are at all times difficult to visit, and of late years the increasing poverty of the people renders it difficult to supply them with an efficient ministry. The salt trade, once a source of wealth, was almost destroyed during the American War, and the cultivation of pine-apples and oranges for the American and English markets is always precarious in its result. Fishing for sponges affords to some of the people a poor living. The entire population probably numbers 50,000 or 60,000 persons, a very large proportion of whom are under the care of the Baptist Mission. None of the islands are without the means of grace; small chapels exist in almost every settlement, and day-schools are carried on for the most part by Government grants. Each island has its native pastor, who is supported in a very inadequate manner by the churches; and, in the judgment of Mr. Wilshere, the resulting condition is such as to render necessary an entire change in the method of conducting the affairs of the Mission. He has submitted some important suggestions to the Committee, which are under consideration; but it is difficult to adopt any course which will not involve an increase in the demands on the Mission funds.

The Northern District, under the supervision of the Rev. D. Wilshere, embraces at least nineteen islands, with a membership of 3,032 individuals; some thirteen native brethren exercise their ministry among them, aided by an occasional visit from the missionary. A few extracts from his report will give a general idea of the nature of his work and of the condition of the churches.

"I have just returned from Long Island, where, I am sorry to say, the tempestuous weather only allowed me to visit the south side and see the members under the care of Mr. Knowles. We stayed at Exuma, and on this island my disappointment was more than atoned for by the great increase in earnestness shown by the members. I baptized at all the stations and gave the Lord's Supper, as well as preaching and other meetings, admitting again to church fellowship some who had withdrawn to other churches, so that a real advance seems to have been made since my last visit."

"On my visit to the churches in Eleuthera I was gratified with the better order and discipline in the churches. I held services, baptized, and administered the Lord's Supper."

"At San Salvador the continued illness of the native pastor has had a lamentable effect on the churches. So far as possible I paid visits and gave the ordinances, but the dissatisfaction is great. The friends at Free Town are getting on well with their new building. At Bennett's Harbour nine were baptized."

"At Rum Cay and Watling's, the churches are now practically without oversight. I strove on my visit to encourage a spirit of mutual helpfulness; but the utter failure of the salt trade and grinding poverty render the members powerless in many respects."

"At Inagua there is great need of the settlement of a trained pastor, and with an earnest man much good might be done, especially among the young. The great and continued depression in the salt trade, and the unhappy truck system prevailing here, render it very difficult to find money for religious purposes; but the presence of an earnest worker would have a great effect upon the morale of the church and people."

In concluding, Mr. Wilshere says:—

"During the year the A. H. Baynes has voyaged in straight course 2,160 miles; we have encountered three severe gales, but, although other vessels larger than ours have been seriously damaged, the yacht has been preserved and the lives of the missionary and the crew mercifully spared. I am aware that interest in this field must give way before the romance of undiscovered lands; but that does not render our necessities less urgent, or the difficulty and danger less real."

The Rev. J. H. Pusey, a student of the Calabar Institution, Jamaica, has charge of the Southern district, comprising the churches existing in the Turks Islands and the Caicos. He informs the Committee that the churches have been in a spiritually growing condition during the year. The depressed state of trade has, however, limited their pecuniary resources, but at Grand Turk the old chapel is under repair, as is also the chapel at Salt Cay. In all the islands there have been accessions to the churches by baptism, about thirty-eight persons having put on Christ. In one of the dangerous squalls so frequent among these islands, the missionary and eight other persons with him were thrown into the sea by the foundering of their boat. One person only, a woman, lost her life, the rest happily escaping through the speedy help rendered them by the crew of a schooner near at hand, and by friends who put off from the shore. A special service of thanksgiving was held in the evening of their escape.

In the city of Peurto Plata, in San Domingo, where the Rev. R. E.

Gammon resides, the work of grace is slowly advancing. The realisation of the hope of seeing a prosperous and vigorous Mission established in this republic often seems far distant, trying the faith, patience, and perseverance of Christ's servants. They are nevertheless not left without some tokens of blessing. On the evening of Christmas-day seven candidates, three of them young men of much promise, were baptized. There is also a gratifying increase in the numbers attending the Sabbath-school; and the well-attended Bible-class is a very encouraging feature of the missionary's labours. Owing to the want of roads and the consequent difficulty of travelling, the country stations do not receive so much attention as the missionary deems necessary; but the churches gathered there have a few inquirers seeking the way of peace. At Munoz has died the old leader, John Jones, at the patriarchal age of 105, after many years of active service for the Master in the midst of a very superstitious people.

TRINIDAD.

The Mission in this important island continues to wear an encouraging aspect. In Port of Spain the increase of the congregation has led to the formation of a plan for the enlargement of the chapel, and the new chapel at M'Bean's village was opened for Divine worship in May last. Eighteen persons have been baptized and added to the church, and at the country stations there have been gratifying tokens of the Divine blessing on the ministry of the Word. A brief visit was paid to this country by Mr. Gamble in the course of the year, when arrangements were made for giving him some assistance on account of his advancing years. Shortly after his return, Mr. Alfred Harris, of Bristol College, joined him in Port of Spain.

San Fernando and its dependent stations, notwithstanding the effects of an epidemic, which, from its fatal character, for some weeks produced almost a panic, appears to have enjoyed many tokens of Divine favour. With scarcely an exception, the churches have increased in number. Twelve stations occupy the attention of Mr. Williams, who finds in the nine native pastors a body of efficient fellow-labourers in the Kingdom of God. These churches now contain nearly five hundred members. Twenty-two have been added during the year. A brief extract from a recent letter received from Mr. Williams will show in how large and interesting a measure the Word of God has had free course and is glorified.

"You will be pleased to hear that the people of Montserrat are busy cutting down trees, squaring and sawing timber for their new chapel. On Monday, the 30th January, I had the great pleasure of baptizing fourteen persons at the Third Company village in the presence of the largest congregation that I have seen on such an occasion. Eight of these were from the Fifth Company, four from the Sixth, and two from the Third Company. On the preceding Sunday we held special meetings at Matilda Boundary; the building was crowded, and many had to remain outside during the services. Great interest was shown in the truths preached, and we are confident that good results will follow."

Mr. Williams feels that assistance is greatly needed, and he hopes, during his anticipated visit to England this year, to lay his wants successfully before the Committee.

JAMAICA.

The Thirty-second Annual Report of the Jamaica Baptist Union exhibits the baptism of 1,775 persons and 1,166 restored to fellowship, or received by letters from other churches. The losses by death, erasure, and exclusion reach the large number of 2,453, so that the actual increase of membership is only 508. The baptisms, though less than last year, are above the average of the past ten years; but the losses by death have been more numerous than in any year during the same period. The exclusions have been also unusually numerous.

The number of Baptist churches in the island is at present about 120, and the entire membership may be set down at 27,000 persons. A perusal of the reports from the churches seems to show that, of the 111 churches reporting, 28 may be regarded as of a discouraging nature, about 20 are hopeful, and the remainder are of a more mixed character.

During the year, the Committee have had the pleasure of welcoming, for a brief visit to their native land, the Revs. W. Teall, of Annotto

Bay, and T. G. Griffiths, of St. Ann's Bay; but they have been especially gratified by the presence here of the Rev. W. M. Webb, of Stewart Town, some years ago a student in the Calabar Institution. He is the first to visit England of the now large number of students trained in that Institution, and who worthily fill the office of pastors in the churches. As the representative of the native ministry of Jamaica, he has deservedly gained the esteem and affection of all who have had the pleasure of seeing him, whether in the public services of the sanctuary or in the unrestrained intercourse of private life. Such men are the hope of Jamaica, and the Committee cannot but rejoice that the Institution they have so long sustained is sending out a class of men who shall worthily carry on and sustain the great cause of Jamaica's elevation. Such men are more and more necessary, as our European brethren retire from the pastorate through advancing age, or are borne to the realms of the glorified. Of the first, the Committee have to mention the withdrawal from active life of the Rev. J. E. Henderson, of Montego Bay, through growing infirmities; and, of the latter, the decease of the Rev. Thomas Gould and the Rev. Walter Dendy, of Salter's Hill. Mr. Dendy has died at the good old age of seventy-nine, having served the Master, in active work, from the year 1832 till within a year or two of his death. He was the last of the noble band of our missionary brethren who had had experience of the wickedness of slavery, witnessed its overthrow, and suffered persecution for righteousness' sake. His labours were abundant. Thousands of souls received from his lips the knowledge of the Saviour's love; and, both in the church and the world, he exhibited the qualities that should ever adorn the minister of Christ. Having "served his own generation, by the will of God," as a true and faithful soldier of Jesus Christ, "he fell on sleep," endeared to multitudes for his estimable character and holy life.

The Rev. Thomas Gould first went to Jamaica in 1843. Circumstances led to his return to England in 1860; but, in 1879, he again returned to his much-loved work in Jamaica, and took charge of the churches at Clarksonville and Mount Moriah. The years of his missionary life were characterised by much usefulness, and he ever enjoyed the affection and confidence of the people he served.

The Calabar Institution.

From the Thirty-eighth Report of the Institution, the Committee learn that, during the year, the Theological Class has numbered five students, and the Normal School fourteen. The low state of education still existing in the island continues, in a very appreciable degree, to obstruct the progress of the Institution. "It is the earnest desire of the Committee," says the Report, "to obtain in both the Theological and Normal School departments a class of young men who, before their admission to the College, have made higher attainments in preparation for it. And they would earnestly urge this upon the consideration of members and churches." It is, however, gratifying to know that the students have pursued their studies with diligence and success, and that there is every reason to anticipate for them a career of honour and usefulness as ministers of the Gospel of Christ and teachers of the young.

EUROPEAN MISSIONS.

NORWAY.

Soon after his return from the United States, Mr. Hubert removed with his family from Laarvig to Skien, Mr. Bakke, on the invitation of the Baptist Union of Norway, having removed to enter on evangelistic work in various parts of the country. Certain divisions in the church at Skien have been healed, and Mr. Hubert reports some very pleasing additions to its fellowship. The baptism of the daughter of two of his members has brought a certain degree of persecution on Mr. Hubert. She was slightly under the age at which Norwegian law allows freedom of conscience to young persons. For this offence, Mr. Hubert has had his household goods seized, and only the payment of a fine of about £10 has enabled him to obtain their release. Mr. Sjodahl, however, reports a case in which imprisonment has been inflicted for having baptized a girl not yet nineteen years old. Mr. Nilsen, of Vaerdalen, being unwilling to pay the fine, has been consigned to gaol, being fed only upon bread and water. Mr. Nilsen thus speaks of his incarceration :—

"The long-expected festival is now come ; for on the 25th April I was shut up within the same walls as thieves, robbers, and all sorts of criminals. But I am happy, for the Lord is with me. Though He has not been pleased to move the foundations of the prison, nor to burst its gates open, yet His holy angel has been with me, and filled my poor heart with intense joy. My keeper is a very kind fellow. Twice every day I am allowed to take fresh air, and on these occasions I meet my fellow-prisoners, and I have an opportunity of speaking to them about the Word of God."

There is reason to hope that, at the approaching Storthing, an attempt will be made, with some prospect of success, to alter the intolerant and persecuting laws which interfere so painfully with the progress of the Kingdom of God, and inflict unjust penalties on Christ's servants. It is nevertheless gratifying to the Committee to know that the Word of God is not bound, that the churches are at peace, and daily adding to their number such as are saved.

BRITTANY.

In the present condition of France the work of evangelisation has peculiar interest. There is everywhere enjoyed a freedom for the ministry of the Gospel not known for centuries, and the opposition so often met with from the authorities at the prompting of the priesthood has almost entirely ceased. Everywhere there are the signs of movement, and the evangelist can at all times secure a good, if not large, audience to listen to his exposition of the Word of God. The facilities for colportage have increased, and our missionaries report with surprise and gratitude the purchase of large numbers of copies of tracts and Scriptures. But if official and municipal interference with Protestant efforts has ceased, the opposition of the priests of Rome is not relaxed ; if not so publicly manifested as of old, it is not less subtle and ubiquitous. Specially is this the case where, as in Brittany, the mass of the population is ignorant, superstitious, and illiterate. Fifty per cent. of the male and eighty per cent. of the female population cannot read.

"The day," says Mr. Lecoat, "is probably not far off when the people of Lower Brittany will seriously accept the Gospel. In religious matters they are true children. They love the singing of our hymns, are moved to tears on hearing the message of love and grace, and find the preaching good. But if they meet a priest who says to them, 'How can you listen to the Protestants? you are going straight to perdition in doing so,' they immediately reply, 'We have done wrong, and will go no more.' Here and there we meet with some persons whose heart the Lord opens to understand His Word; but the mass of souls needs to be awakened, and this the Spirit alone can do."

But while this is true, it must be remembered that free access to the ears and hearts of the people is a very recent gain, and our brethren are encouraged by the crowded audiences which almost always gather to hear the message of Divine grace. Thus, at the Madeleine, a suburb of Morlaix, Mr. Jenkins always finds a willing auditory, who enter with feeling and obvious devotion into the service of song, and listen gratefully to the Word. In Brest, where the Committee have encouraged Mr. Lecoat to open two halls for Divine service, hundreds, if not thousands, of Bretons gather to hear the glad tidings. But notwithout opposition. During an entire fortnight a band of Jesuit priests endeavoured in vain, by daily meetings, to prejudice the truth, and to hinder the attendance of the people. But our brethren know that they are sowing incorruptible seed. The word of the Lord liveth and abideth for ever, and the promise must be fulfilled, that it shall not return unto Him void, but accomplish His purpose of mercy to mankind.

ITALY.—ROME.

The operations of the Mission in Italy are carried on from three distinct centres, Rome, Naples, and Genoa, and in each there are features of special interest. Connected with Rome are the stations at Tivoli, Civita Vecchia, Leghorn, and Florence, at all of which places evangelists are settled and also itinerate in the surrounding districts. In some places, as in Tivoli, the hostility of the priests is bitter, and in a large degree successful in closing the hearts of the people to the truth. At Leghorn the evangelist secures attention and obtains a wide circulation for tracts and Scriptures. Here opposition has assumed another form. Mr. Wall reports:—

"Baratti has been called before the Pretor of Leghorn, and some Catholics have witnessed that he spoke against the Pope with violence of language not allowed by Italian law. Baratti has a dozen witnesses to the contrary, and, as the population of Leghorn is almost entirely atheistic, I think there is little fear of trouble. As the Papalini are about to take part in political matters we may expect some trouble. In many things we are restricted, not by the people, but by laws of other days, which, although allowed to sleep, are not dead. Persecution, however, would do us good, and bring thousands to the standard of the Gospel."

At Florence the evangelist Borzi writes in an encouraging strain of the numbers of persons who listen to his ministry. A new locale has been obtained, a chapel lately in the occupation of the Waldenses, and the difficulty which has hitherto obstructed Signor Borzi's efforts is thus likely to be removed.

In Rome Mr. Wall has been cheered by the addition of seventeen members to the church. The Sunday-school and Bible-classes prosper, and systematic distribution of tracts in the Campus Martius district carries to numerous homes the knowledge of the Gospel. Mrs. Wall's work in Trastavere among the poor of Rome continues to be of the greatest interest, and not a few poor people rejoice in the kindness and affection which prompt her most laborious and self-denying toil. The following extract may very well illustrate the circumstances amidst which the Gospel has to make its way in Rome. Mr. Wall writes:—

"During the past year the activity of the priests has been constant, silent, almost invisible, but deadly and diabolical. While I am writing I hear that one of our poor members, who has been unable to find work, has been induced to enter a Catholic retreat for three months. Not only was this young man reduced to misery, but so persecuted by his relatives that his life was in danger. His own father showed him a knife which he threatened to plunge into the heart of his son unless he left us. While this state of things drives us to the Master for help it also entails upon the evangelists an amount of labour they would gladly be relieved of."

It is with great regret that the Committee have heard of the decease of Signor Mazzarella. He was successively a Professor in Bologna, a Judge, a member of the Italian Parliament, and a Councillor of the Court of Appeal. This sad event took place almost at the very moment of a visit recently paid to Genoa by Mr. Wall. "He has been my friend for nearly twenty years," says Mr. Wall, "and, what is unusual with Italians, we never had a trouble to interrupt our intercourse for a day. He left our communion for that of the Free Church while in Rome, but he soon returned to us. His departure is a great loss to the work of Christ in Italy." A public paper, referring to this event, says :—"This noble-minded man, beloved by all classes, after having been the ornament of the Protestant Church in Italy for many years, has just died in the Protestant faith, simply trusting in the merits of the Redeemer."

NAPLES.

The Committee are happy to report the acquisition of suitable premises in Naples for the conduct of the work. They are situated in the Via Faria, and consist of the first floor of a large structure, having sufficient accommodation for the entire purposes of the Mission, and also for the residence of the missionary and the evangelist. The Committee have further arranged for the concentratio of the Mission in Naples and its vicinity. Signor Libonati has therefore removed from Trapani, and is about to commence a new station at Caserta, a city of some 30,000 inhabitants, and about twenty miles from Naples. The church has been saddened by the loss of a young man, one of its most promising members, who died trusting in Christ and testifying his hope through His death. The funeral service was attended by 150 students of the University, of which the deceased had been a member, besides many others, who were addressed by Mr. Landels on the great and blessed hope of the Gospel. In the summer months, during the absence of Mr. Landels in England, the services were regularly and successfully maintained by Signor Nardi-Greco. The "Circolo Luigi Desanctis," which has for its motto "The Gospel and Fatherland," has continued its work of giving Christian instruction and of propagating the Gospel. It is hoped that in the new locale this institution will grow both in numbers and influence. The church continues to bear its testimony to the Truth, so as to win the warm approval of many. The brethren love and help one another, and, although it has lost four brethren, eight others have been added to its fellowship. With their entrance on the new locale the church and its zealous pastor are full of hope that many, with God's blessing, will leave the errors of Popery, and, forsaking sin, will cast themselves on the mercy of God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

GENOA.

The Rev. R. Walker, during the year, as was arranged last year entered on the work in Genoa, and assumed the superintendence of the Society's Mission in Northern Italy. The Committee rejoice that Mr. Walker is able to report that the hall in which worship is held in Genoa is crowded at all their public meetings, and that the church has been cheered by the accession of several new members. Some of these had been applicants for fellowship for a long time previous to their being accepted. The church breaks bread every Lord's-day, and the members are taught that for them the observance is the most important meeting in the week. The close of the year finds the number of members increased to thirty-four, not fewer than twenty-one having been added during its course.

At Turin the work has been impeded by some internal difficulties, but the church has received four members by baptism. Two or three others are seeking admission, and there is an earnest desire that the coming year may be more fruitful in conversions to God. Of the out-stations visited by Signor Mattei, Mr. Walker reports:—

"In Orbassano the parish priest continues to rave and rage against the Protestants; the result is that only one family in the village is willing to receive the evangelist. In Stupinigi there are over a dozen people who read the Gospel regularly. Some invite Signor Mattei to their houses, and others meet him outside. These are all employed by the King on the grounds surrounding the Royal Villa, which is at Stupinigi. The priests are rising in opposition to this mode of evangelising, as they did against the meetings in Orbassano. They are endeavouring to ridicule the Protestants by means of popular dialogues in the church, where they speak of Luther and Calvin, 'condemned by the Holy Mother Church,' in a way that is intended to inspire horror in the minds of the peasants and derision in the minds of others. The fact that in this village and in others so many are reading the Scriptures is full of encouragement."

Thus in this very centre of Papal influence the warfare of Truth with Unrighteousness is carried on with constant and sure evidence that "the Lord is with us," and progress is being made in rescuing Italy from the Papacy and from the fatal infidelity which marches in its train.

Finances.

It is with the deepest regret that the Committee have to announce that, while the accounts of the Society exhibit several gratifying features, the balance-sheet closes with an addition to the debt of last year of £2,812 9s. 8d. As no special effort was made to reduce last year's deficit, the Society is therefore at the present moment in debt to the Treasurer £6,986 4s. 6d.—say, in round numbers, SEVEN THOUSAND POUNDS. It was stated in the last Report that the extension of the Mission, and the considerable additions in progress to its staff, would require an increase of £5,000 in the contributions of the churches, and in the month of October the Treasurer called renewed attention to the subject. This appeal was not without effect, and at the end of December it was found there had been an increase in the contributions of about £2,500. The Committee had hoped that this rate of increase would continue, but it has not been so, and the amount has slightly retrograded. Still it is an encouraging fact that the contributions for General purposes have exceeded those of last year by £2,247 17s. 9d.

Last year the contributions for Special purposes were very large, amounting to £9,716 19s. 10d. This year they have reached only £6,497. The transfer of £900 to the General Fund from the Fund for the outfit, passage, and expenses of the new missionaries to India has raised the total income to £52,366 16s. 7d., an increase of £907 1s. 9d.

The income of the Widows and Orphans' Fund exhibits an improvement to the extent of £439; but this comes mainly from an exceptional receipt, arising out of the decease of the Rev. Dr. Wenger.

If we now turn to the Expenditure, there has been, from causes already indicated, an increase of £1,728 0s. 11d.; also an addition of £320 12s. 5d. to the cost of maintenance of widows and orphans. But the chief increase of the expenditure arises from an excess of £1,648 19s. 8d. spent on the Mission to the Congo over and above the receipts on this special account. While it thus appears that the increase of expenditure on the General account has been more than met by the increased receipts, the deficit is largely due to an excess in the cost of the Mission on the Congo.

But, while the Committee desire to call serious attention to this deficit, they have gratefully to acknowledge that there has been no lack of interest in this great enterprise. Donations and subscriptions have come from every class of society. The dying widow has cast her mite into the treasury, even though it was the wedding ring dear to her as the gift of her departed husband. The servant maid has devoted her earnings to this sacred work. The wealthy have liberally added to the store, while clergymen and friends of other denominations have also cheered on the messengers of the Cross by their donations and words of encouragement. Among the latest of these offerings of faith and prayer is the following from a place in Wales:—

"You will be surprised to learn that Mr. W. C., who contributes five shillings, is a poor man, deprived of both his hands. About eleven years ago, whilst engaged in a stone quarry blasting, the gunpowder took fire unawares to him, which resulted in his being blown down a distance of twenty-three yards. That he escaped with his life was miraculous. The way he is able to contribute this sum of five shillings to the Society is that he keeps a number of hens, and about last Christmas, when eggs were enormously dear, he sold them, and was in a position this year to contribute the said sum."

Thus, where there is "a full purpose of heart" to honour the Saviour and to promote His cause, the most untoward events cannot quench the fire of a Christian's love for Christ and for souls. It is obvious that the Society needs the largest consecration and most generous devotion in the vast enterprise we have undertaken. The previous pages of this Report show that the reward is great, and that everywhere we hear the rushing sound of the coming of that great multitude, which no man can number, in response to the summons of the Captain of our Salvation.

The Committee hope that in the year on which we now enter, aided by the pastors and officers of the churches, they may be able Sunday I conducted Divine service in the house of the Rev. Mr. Broadway, and on Monday, the 10th, left Bankipore for Allahabad."

Gogon Chunder Dass reports :—

"1st.—As a missionary I often engaged in preaching the Gospel of my Saviour to the Hindoos and Mohammedans of Calcutta and its suburbs. I preached at various times in the small chapel of Munshi Enaetulla. There I was heard by Hindoos, but the larger portion of my audience would generally be Mohammedans, who are almost always bigoted adherents of Mohammed. They are never fair and honest while engaged in discussing with us on the subject of religion. I went on many occasions with brother T. C. Banerjea to the Wellington Square, and published the Gospel message to many Hindoo Babus and Mohammedans. I availed myself of every opportunity that offered of going to the Bow Bazar chapel, and other places in Calcutta, and proclaimed the glad tidings of salvation to large audiences of people, many of whom heard me and my fellow-preachers with particular attention. I visited several houses at Intally and other places, and held conversation on religion with as many people as took interest in it.

"2nd.—Ever since my connection with the Intally church, of which I was the pastor for several years, has been dissolved, I have devoted my ministerial labours to the edification of the Colinga church. Brother Samuel Peer Buksh was, till July last, the acknowledged pastor of it. But his other duties as well as ill-health obliging him to require constant help, I rendered him regular assistance all the time by conducting Divine service on Sundays and week-days. Since the beginning of August last, and at the particular request of the whole congregation, I have taken the entire charge of the church, and all the duties in relation to the congregation have therefore necessarily devolved upon me.'

Mr. W. R. James reports of his work in Calcutta and elsewhere as follows :—

"Calcutta. — Early last spring evangelistic open-air services were commenced by Dr. Thoburn in Wellington Square. The preaching was carried on in English, Bengali, and Hindustani. I attended these almost every day, until they were brought to a close by an order of the Commissioner of Police. Great crowds came to hear the Gospel preached day after day, and a spirit of inquiry was produced in the minds of many. Did space permit I might mention many interesting facts in connection with these services.

"Beadon Gardens.—Similar meetings were held also in the above gardens. The attendance, as a rule, has been large and encouraging. Sometimes as many as four or five hundred persons may be seen listening attentively to the preaching of the Word. The Free Church missionaries and one or two lay Bengali gentlemen belonging to the same church have been the principal support of this work, but others and myself have been able to render considerable help. I have also frequently preached in Bengali to the poorer classes at the preaching-station in Bow Bazar and on the streets near Intally.

"The Dussera Holidays. — Lieutenant Johnson and myself aimed a hard blow at idolatry during the last Durga and Kartick Puja holidays. Placards with Scripture texts against idolatry were stuck on the walls through nearly all the native part of the city. Handbills, also, with similar texts were given away at the different processions. The placard was headed —Abominable Idolatries, and on the handbills were the words Dumb Idols. We thought it advisable to use the strongest Biblical language we could find, because the people of Calcutta have become so familiar with mild denunciations of idolatry by both Christian and Brahmo preachers, that unless strong language is employed they do not seem to care anything for what is told. We went out six or seven times, both by day and by night, sticking the placards with our own hands. We went out by night to save time, and we did it with our own hands, not to save expense, which would not be much, but in order to give personal testimony against idolatry, and to show the people that we were not afraid of any one, or ashamed of our procedure. Nearly all the expense connected with this was borne by dear brother Johnson.

"The effect which it had on the Hindoos was just what we had expected. Many denounced bitterly; others praised, and so, as of old, 'there was a division among them.' Never in my life before did we see such a rush for tracts as we witnessed during the puja processions. The texts on the placards were copied by many of the vernacular papers, and in this way the Lord caused our testimony to be carried at the expense of the enemy to thousands of Hindoos living in districts remote from Calcutta."

Mr. James also published during the year three English tracts, with the special object of counteracting the influence of Comtism, which is just now very popular in Calcutta. The melas at Barripore and Kulna were also visited, and the Rath Jatra at Serampore. At these places many thousands of tracts and portions of Scripture were given away, and many English Testaments were sold.

Tara Choron Banerjea sends the following report:—

"I have preached in several of the principal streets of Calcutta.

"Hindoos and Mohammedans have heard me. The enlightened portion of the former generally admitted such truths of the Christian religion as were agreeable to their mode of thinking, but were not willing to receive the doctrines essential to it—as the divinity of the Lord Jesus, the efficacy of His blood to atone for the sins of the whole world, the need of man to depend only upon the vicarious sufferings and death of Christ for peace, pardon, reconciliation, and salvation.

"The latter—that is, the Mohammedan—hearers did all to a man declare that the 'Injil,' or the Gospel, has been abrogated by the coming in of the last or final revelation of the Koran; that Jesus was only a prophet, and not the Son of God; several arguments were presented for their consideration, in order to enable them to understand their errors, and to vindicate the truth of the Christian religion. These people, like their fellow-believers, were zealous bigots, and consequently not open to conviction, or to reason. Still, depending on the promise that our labours will not be in vain in the Lord, I persevered, as I always do, in preaching before them Jesus Christ and Him crucified.

"The stations at Howrah and Sealdah are found at times convenient places for publishing the Gospel of Christ. On several occasions I availed myself of opportunities for holding conversation on religion with some respectable Hindoos. Some of them acknowledged they had clear light on several points connected with religion.

"I also found opportunities to speak to people when I went to the shops at Chandny Choke, Tiretta's Bazar, China Bazar, and the municipal market; some persons were very willing to hear me. They were shrewd in worldly matters, but quite ignorant of the true religion of God."

Besides these labours, Mr. Banerjea relates that he took part in preaching in the streets and squares, and also occupied on various occasions the pulpits of several chapels belonging to various denominations of Christians.

To the labours of Romanath Chowdhry, reference has already been made in a previous page. It will suffice to add the following :—

"Besides the districts of Allahabad and Mirzapore I visited the districts of Balia, Ghazipur, Azimgurh, and Jaunpur in the North-west, and the districts of Nuddea, Jessore, and Baraset, in Lower Bengal. Wherever I went the people loved and liked me, though I sometimes starved and lived under trees. The affection and regard which I am gradually gaining among the people of these districts will, if it be the will of God, be the instrument of Christ being glorified in them as He glorified Himself in me, an abominable sinner. I have seldom been opposed by the people in my preaching by means of arguments, but almost always have been listened to with profound silence, apparent attention, and great interest. In the preaching of Jesus and Him crucified, I often found the people so much influenced by His Spirit that they spake of Him with awe and veneration. A little more working of His Spirit will certainly bring hundreds and thousands into the Church of Christ. The truth of this statement may be established by the testimony of those missionaries who worked with me. This time I received the name of Mahantajee in addition to that of a Christian fakir which I received formerly.

"A zamindar in the district of Ghazipur is anxious for baptism, but he is kept in such close confinement that no trace can be found of him. Those who make attempts to trace him out for access to him are threatened of their lives by his friends and relatives. But the enemies of the Cross do not know that such treatment strengthens the faith of the true believer and makes him most prayerful. This is a case which deserves the sympathy of our prayers. The first impression of Christianity in this man is the work of Mr. Thornhill, the late collector of the district. Jankidut Pundit, of whom I made mention in my last report, has been baptized. There is every probability that his sons will follow after him who follows after Christ. Though they have faith in Christ, yet they are a little afraid of the Cross which their father so dearly accepted."

II.—INTALLY.

Missionary, GEO. KERRY.

The Boys' School has been carried on as usual, with a roll of 150 pupils. I regret that the school has not recovered, as I had hoped it would, from the depression of the last few years. But I think the school did better last year than in the year before, and may be expected to do better still this year. A new Christian head-master has been appointed, who seems likely to prove to be very efficient. The school is a great boon to a number of poor Christian lads, who are allowed to attend without paying the usual fees.

The Girls' School, conducted by Mrs. Kerry, has gone on in a very satisfactory manner; upwards of seventy girls have been under tuition; as many as fifty have been in attendance at one time. One girl was baptized while at school, and one shortly after leaving the school.

We are thankful to the many kind friends who have supported the school by their prayers and contributions. We have been freed from much care by the thoughtful and generous kindness of our friends.

We commence the new year with thankfulness and hope. The Lord hath been mindful of us, and He will bless us.

Intally Church (Bengali).

Pastor, DANIEL GHOSE.

The following is a brief account of the Bengali Baptist Church at Intally :—

"Our work during the year has not been so successful as we had hoped; one of the causes of it was sickness, which prevailed in almost all the families; notwithstanding all the inconveniences and oppositions we have had to contend with, our labour, through Divine blessing, has not been totally fruitless. I have baptized during the year twelve persons—five males and seven females. Out of these five, two were Mohammedans, one a Hindoo, and one a Roman Catholic; the remaining one and the seven females had been nominal Christians.

"One of the Mohammedan converts, named Nasurruddin, was my neighbour. He would often converse with me and brother P. D. Misser on religious subjects; after some time being convinced of the truth of Christianity he expressed his desire to be baptized. We did not comply with his request immediately, but kept him for some months on trial as a candidate for baptism, to test the sincerity of his admission 'that Christ's religion is the only religion that can save dying sinners, &c.,' and, after the Church was perfectly satisfied with him, I baptized him. He is well versed in Arabic and Persian, and knows English to some extent.

"The Hindoo convert, by the name of Kondorpo Mohun Mitter, is a promising young man; he was employed as a Sub-Inspector of Schools in connection with Government, but on account of sickness, with which he suffered for upwards of one year, was obliged to resign his post. This young man came to Messrs. Hobbs and James and expressed his intention of being baptized; they kindly sent him on to me. He called on me several times, had conversation and prayer with him, and, being satisfied with regard to his honesty and sincerity, and his admission at the tank, in the presence of Rev. Mr. Rouse (who had preached at Intally on the occasion) and about 200 persons that Jesus is the only Saviour, and that he depended on Him for salvation; that the Christian Bible is the word of God; that Hindooism is a false religion; and that he had no faith in it, as it cannot satisfy the cravings of an immortal soul, having proved satisfactory, I baptized him. He is a resident of Burdwan, about sixty miles north-west of Calcutta. He has gone home to see his family. He said his wife was willing to embrace Christanity. We hope to see him back with his wife and settle down in Calcutta.

"The deacons, Messrs. H. C. Kobiraj, B. B. Shah, and M. N. Nath, have always worked harmoniously in visiting the sick and the afflicted, and holding prayer-meetings from house to house as occasion required.

"The total number of members shown last year was 120; addition by baptism, twelve; reception by dismission from other churches, seven; total, 139. Out of the above number, four have gone to their everlasting rest; they have been called away to serve the Lord in the upper sanctuary, and to praise the Redeemer's love without ceasing leaving a total number now on the roll, 135."

III.—South Colingah Church (Bengali).

Pastors, SAMUEL PIR BUKSH and GOGON CHUNDER DASS.

Mr. Buksh reports:—

"Four of the members and one of the adherents of the congregation died during the year. Of the four who entered into their eternal rest, one was our esteemed and beloved brother, Rev. Ram Krishna Kobiraj. His death was indeed a glory to our Lord Jesus Christ, because when he was delivering his soul into the hand of his faithful Master he cried out, 'Jesu Jai,' victory to Jesus; but it is a great loss both to me and to the church. To me because he was truly a Christian friend, a man of mine own heart; and to the church because he was always ready to do good to it. One of the adherents of the church, who died this year, was his beloved daughter-in-law. Both of our dear friends died within six months of each other. Another who died this year was brother Dharmodass Mandal, the son of Durpa Narain Mandal, our oldest native preacher in the south. Brother Dharmodass was a zealous member of the church, and was doing much good to it. And the other two who left us this year were Tarini Charin Biswas, teacher of a vernacular school, and his beloved wife; both of them died within three weeks.

"Besides this our dear brother Moti Lal Biswas went to Hazari Bag with his family this year. Two persons have been excommunicated, and one has gone to another church. Five persons have been baptized, and one has been received. Among those who have been baptized this year only one is living with us at Calcutta, four having returned to their villages; consequently there is no increase to the church. Owing to this and some other causes, the number of our communicants and attendants has been lessened during the year. The number of the communicants on the roll is fifty-four, but the average number in attendance on the Lord's-day is between fifty and sixty.

"Here I beg to say one thing more. I being quite unable to perform my pastoral functions, resigned my pastorate, and the brethren, though reluctantly, accepted it in the month of August last. After accepting my resignation they selected brother G. C. Dass to be their pastor, and he kindly accepted it. May God bless the church, and also the labour of our brother, G. C. Dass! Amen.'

"We are very grateful to God for His favour during the past twelve months for keeping us in health, and the church in peace and harmony, and giving us a measure of spiritual success. During the year we have renovated the chapel at a cost of Rs.5,000, all of which is paid. We have at present in view the prospect of purchasing a minister's house, towards which we have the sum of Rs.2,110, and hope to get all the money we need towards it. We have had eleven baptized this year, and four have joined us in other ways, making a total of fifteen. Still we long for better and greater things than these, and hope to obtain them. We have held open-air services at the chapel gate, which have been carried on by the young men of the congregation, and these services have done good to the attendance on Sunday evenings. We have a Mutual Improvement Society which has given us very great pleasure both as to attendance and the talent shown by the young men in speaking and reading papers; the attendance has been between thirty and forty. There have been other meetings held which have been taken up very heartily by the friends, and we have been very greatly encouraged by the amount of help we have received from the members of the church and congregation, and feel sure that if there be any success at all it is owing to the efforts of the friends who have helped us so much in our work. We thank God for this, and hope for more to follow.

VI.—Howrah.

Missionary, C. Jordan.

Number of members, 38 English; 13 native.

Howrah may be regarded as a suburb of Calcutta, and is situated on the opposite side of the River Hooghly. As it is the terminus of the railway which goes to all parts of India, it has become a very busy and populous town, its inhabitants numbering 97,784 souls.

Mr. Morgan, who retired at the end of the year, reports:—

"At the end of three years we thoroughly repaired the chapel, and renovated what was necessary at a considerable expense. The monthly collection had been fairly good, and the savings of many years enabled us to meet all expenditure without appeal for extra subscriptions.

"The attendance has been in proportion to the population at any given time. There is an impression abroad, because Howrah is the terminus of the East Indian Railway, that it is a very populous place. At present the English population is less than I have ever known it, and poorer.

"Some years ago the locomotive department was moved to Jamalpore, near Monghyr; before that I have seen as many as forty and fifty first-class English workmen at the prayer-meeting.

"We have a good Sunday-school, and the children have made collections towards the local mission.

"I have no baptisms to report. For some years there have been about Calcutta galvanic revivals, and ever followed by spiritual deadness and craving after worldly amusements.

"Native Church.

"We had to exclude two—one, a very old member, a Brahmin of the highest caste, baptized by me many years ago, and married to a good wife; he became dissipated and reckless.

"This was to me a great trial. In baptizing native converts all our anxiety centres in the future.

"Besides this case of church discipline I have had no trouble; the members and others have been regular at the house of God. I think I can say that they have advanced a few steps, and that without any stimulants.

"The members do not receive any help from the church; they are all working-people above the reach of want—on the whole, comfortable. A kind-hearted gentleman on the railway is ever ready to give work to any worthy native Christian.

"I have kept open two native day schools, began more than forty years ago. There is no lack of schools about here for secular education, therefore our primary object is to teach Christian truth. Every Sunday morning a good number of the boys come to my house; every Sunday morning I spend an hour with them; no reading, but oral instruction and questioning, and also singing.

"Out-of-door Work.

"I have a good native preacher, honest and hard-working; he is out every day, and the greater part of the day at the railway-station, at the courts, where people resort from all parts of the district. In this manner Christian truth will go where we cannot go.

"There is a large amount of Christian knowledge about here; the people make favourable concessions. But there is wanting the most important thing of all, and that is decision. Young men, Brahmins, come with the most plausible pretensions; but I honestly tell them I cannot support, advance you in your education, nor find you good situations. They do not come more than twice. But the time will come when real converts will flock in droves. My old native preacher, Mamram, was a man of strong faith; he used to say the Lord's Kingdom will come, but we must work and wait. It seems hard. There will be a repetition of the words of the Saviour, when men have laboured, and ye are entered into the labour of them."

STATIONS AND CHURCHES IN BENGAL.

I.—DUM DUM.

Missionary, GEO. KERRY.

Number of members, 9.

This station, chiefly occupied by the military, lies to the north of Calcutta, about seven miles from the mission premises. The settled population is between five and six thousand.

"The Sunday-evening service has been carried on regularly here. There is a small band of Christian soldiers in the regiment stationed at this place, many of whom are Baptists; there are also a few Wesleyans. One of the soldiers was baptized during the year. The chapel is also attended by some of the residents at Dum Dum. On Sunday mornings a Presbyterian service is held in the chapel, and the soldiers are marched to chapel. This service is arranged for by the Presbyterian chaplain of Calcutta.

"The Wesleyan service on Thursday evenings is regularly kept up, and every evening in the week the pious men of the regiment hold some religious service among themselves."

II.—BARASET.

Native Evangelists, PADMA LOCHAN RAY and MAHENDRA NATH CHOWDHRY.

Number of members, 15.

This is the principal town of the division of the same name, part of the Twenty-Four Pergunnahs, and contains 11,822 inhabitants. It is about fourteen miles to the N.N.E. of Calcutta.

Babu M. N. Chowdhry reports:—

"I here give briefly an account of my work during the past year. I have preached the Gospel chiefly at Dum Dum, and in the neighbouring and distant villages and hauts and bazaars, where many have attentively and joyfully heard the Word.

"I have gone frequently to a large and important village, and have obtained a large number of hearers, to whom I preached. One day a rice merchant invited me to his house, where he was met by many of his neighbours. The man then said to me, 'I have rice stores in Calcutta and frequently go thither, and hear, in conversation with many people, that, amongst those who have become Christians, even those who have been so for many years, there is scarcely one who is wealthy; almost all are poor and needy. Why, then, should people become Christians?' When I had explained to the people, the merchant said, 'We have never heard the Christian religion explained in this way before; we have learnt much by your words; whenever you come to this village come to my house; if I am not at home it will not matter; my sons and my younger brother are always here.' I accepted his invitation, and often go to his house.

"I generally go twice a week to Dum Dum and Nág Bazar, and constantly obtain fresh hearers from the people, who come from all directions to buy and sell. From the North-west there are many Hindi-speaking people who live here. Some of them can neither read nor write, and they seem quite unable to understand any religious conversation. They only utter one word, 'Worship Ram.' Going along the road they openly say to each other, 'Rám, Rám,' and in this seems to be all their religion. I often ask them what they mean by Rám. Many of them say, 'We do not know the meaning; we do as we have learnt from our fathers.' It is sad to see that they do not seem able to take into their hearts the words and thoughts which produce spiritual understanding, and do not care even to listen. I pray the Lord to give the light of His Spirit in their hearts."

Babu Padma Lochun Roy reports as follows :—

"I am thankful to say that the Lord was gracious to grant me good opportunities throughout the year to be engaged in the work of evangelisation among the people of Baraset and the surrounding villages within the circuit of about eight miles. I preached several times in the haut or market of a place called Ghólla, which is two miles north-east of Baraset. I published the Gospel tidings on many occasions before crowds of people, who would gather in some particular place on the road-side. I had on various occasions a pretty good number of hearers in several shops, to which I went only with the motive of preaching the Gospel to scores of people that frequent them. The simple-minded cultivators and others generally heard me with close attention. I frequently went to the Post-office and Police-station of the place, where almost every time I met with willing hearers, to whom I gladly proclaimed the message of salvation for guilty sinners. I had seldom any man to oppose me there. Many would frankly acknowledge the folly of idolatry, the propriety of spiritual worship of God, the universality of sin, and the great need of a Saviour. I took great delight in preaching to these men almost every time I went to these places.

"I visited the school-house very often, and held interesting conversations on religion with the teachers and others I met at the place. I paid frequent visits to most of the respectable and influential people of the place. I spent some hours every time I called on each of them, and embraced ample opportunities to speak to them of Jesus and His love. All were very polite in receiving me, and gladly spent the time in conversing with me on religion.

"My medical services to the residents, both poor and well-to-do, have done much to open a door of usefulness. Many people will gladly welcome me, and seriously hear me when I declare to them the way of life as revealed in the Gospel of Jesus.

"On the occasion of the famous mela, at a place called Haroa, I preached for ten days before large crowds of people. My friends, Babu Kedar Nath Mookerjea, and Moonshi Azizbari Mullick, rendered me some help for three days only. When the mela was over, I embraced the opportunity to preach in several villages which were contiguous to the place. I preached for five or six days before thousands of people that came to the car festival near Serampore."

III.—Twenty-four Pergunnahs.

Missionaries, G. H. Rouse and W. R. James.

Assistant Missionary, Khristanga Biswas.

Seven Evangelists and two Native Pastors.

Number of members, 261.

This is the Middlesex of Bengal, the zillah, or county, in which the capital lies. It extends north, east, and south of Calcutta, its western boundary being the River Hooghly, as Middlesex is bounded by the Thames. Narsigdarchoke is about 16 miles south from Calcutta, Luckyantipore 35 miles, and Khari 50 miles. The other stations, excepting those of the Mutlah Mission, lie grouped around the above. The population of the district is given as 2,210,047 in the census of 1872. Dum Dum and Baraset are included in it.

Mr. James reports:—

"The Southern Churches.—During the year I made six journeys to the south. Babu Kristanga Biswas went with me on three or four occasions; only few changes have taken place, and therefore there is not much to report. Forty-six were baptized; but these were not from among the Hindoos, but from among the Christian community.

"1. Their Spiritual Condition.—Perhaps we are too ready to compare these churches with Christians who enjoy the accumulated benefits of eighteen centuries of Christian teaching and example. Some time ago I met a brother missionary who has been long in Bengal, and I began to tell him what a depressing effect the quarrels of the people have on one's mind. 'Yes,' said he; they have now and then a very depressing effect. But if we think of how the devil works sometimes in our hearts, who have been brought up from our very infancy in the sound of the Gospel, and who have spent nearly all our days in Christian society, we shall be able to take a very different view of matters.' So he shut my mouth at once. And really, when we do take into consideration the darkness in which most of them were brought up, the idolatrous influences to which they are constantly exposed; and, if we consider the state of some of the apostolic churches, we shall find that there is much in the state of these people to encourage us, and much cause for thankfulness to God for what has been accomplished. A large number of the people are able to read and write; and although many of them would feel no compunction for going over to churches connected with other societies, yet they have, so far as I have been able to make out, a thorough hatred of idolatry. Perhaps I am not wrong when I say that many of them would not think it very wrong even if they were to become Roman Catholics; yet they dread Hindooism. There have been isolated cases of relapses into perfect indifference, but among the bulk of the people Christianity is taking root in the hearts of the people. Of late they, especially the Khari people, have been making much use of singing for stirring up the Christians, and for conveying Gospel truths to the Hindoos.

"The Roman Catholics.—Everywhere the people seem to grow weary of the Roman yoke; but they are unable to get away. Being over head and ears in debt, they must remain quietly where they are if they cannot repay the money which they have borrowed from the priest. But I am told that many of them keep the Bible in their homes, and that they love to read it in secret. Since they have allowed themselves to be bribed away, no anxiety ought to be shown for getting them back till they see their error, repent for their sin, and get thoroughly disgusted with Romanism.

"The Boarding School. — This school is doing very good work. We endeavour to single out the lads with an aptitude for learning from the other schools, and send them, if their parents are willing, to the boarding-school at Bistopore. The best, again, of those who read in the latter school are sent, after some preparation, to Serampore College. Last year two were sent to Serampore whose likenesses have appeared in the Missionary Herald. On two or three occasions I examined the lads at Bistopore last year in the different subjects which they had studied. The answers to the questions which I gave them pleased me much; and I can assure the Birmingham friends that the school which they are supporting is doing much good. I brought the lads to Calcutta twice, so that they might see the city and come in contact with the Christians living here. The Church of Christ is taking root throughout the country; but the children must be taught—yea, I repeat it, let the children be taught—and one day they will carry the Gospel of Christ to their benighted fellow-men. The other schools, which are eight in number, are not, if we except one or two, so satisfactory. We must have a school inspector to visit them twice a week at least ere they can prosper. I have already applied for a little help from Government, so that a circle teacher may be maintained without asking any further help from the Society. I think the Government will accede to our request.

Mr. Kristanga Biswas writes:—

"Report of Boarding School, 1881.—I have carried on my work in the boarding-school of Bistopore. Blessed be the name of our Lord that He has protected us from all danger and given us strength to do our work for another year. The school is opened and closed with prayer. In the morning, from half-past six to nine, the boys are taught Scripture catechism and easy English books. From half-past ten to four they are engaged in some other branches. At present, eighteen boys and two girls are being instructed; sixteen are supported by us; I have a prayer-meeting with the boys every evening. Every Sunday the boys are taught Dristanto Monjary (The Parables in Bengali). In the beginning of this year two of the pupils, Haranondo and Amrito Lal, for the progress they had made, were sent to the Serampore Boarding School. When they were sent to Serampore I admitted six others—two from Canning Town, one from Narsikdarchoke, one from Rashkhali, and two others from Bistopore. Nine boys and one girl read in the same class. Five are of other classes; three others read second part Bornoporichoy. Two others who lately joined our boarding-school read Bengali primer. But the whole are brought up in the same class in Scripture and catechism; every morning, from half-past seven to nine I teach the boys in English, and examine their progress every second or third month.

"Report, 1881.—First of all I cordially thank our heavenly Father, through whose mercy I was enabled to carry on my work for another year. During the past year I had a good opportunity to proclaim the glad tidings of our Saviour. Sometimes I preached, accompanied by Jona Santh, at different places and markets. In summer we preached our Saviour in the neighbouring villages from house to house. Sometimes we preached at the Thanah, registering office, and post-office, and we are glad to say that we were heard with attention. But most part of the year we especially preached at markets which are far from us. During the time we had to meet with many hindrances in preaching. But by His grace and strength we overcame them. I am sorry to say that the behaviour of some nominal Christians is always a stumbling-block to our preaching. It is desirable that every church of the south villages should take great care of their own people and correct them.

"In the last of November I went with Mr. James and some others to Baruipore Rash mela. Here we preached for three days, with singing. The audience heard us with no less care and attention. On the occasion we sold also Scripture portions of the value of Rs.4, and distributed many tracts. At the latter end of December, when Mr. Summers, of Serampore, came to Bistopore and stayed fifteen days with us, we preached and joined with him in several markets. After his return we had a good opportunity to take a journey up the Hooghly river to preach in its vicinity.

"Besides this, I have pastoral duty at Bistopore and some other neighbouring churches to attend to. There happened several causes of discord in the churches; but, through the grace of our Saviour, I succeeded in putting a stop to them. During the year some of the churches suffered a great deal of trouble from the ignorance and carelessness of our agents, and lost their harmony and peace for some time. The churches at North Lukyantipore and Narsikdarchoke were always engaged in quarrelling. The present condition of the churches is not so bad as formerly, nor so good as is desirable. I attend the churches in turn on Sundays, but when necessary I have to call upon them on week-days too. The number of the persons baptized and received into the churches is, in all, forty-eight.

"The supervision of educational work done in the schools under my superintendence takes place every second month, but there is left no time to teach them at the time. During the year, according to Mr. James's advice, one school has been removed from Rashkhali to Balakhali, on account of its slow progress. Those at North Lukyantipore and Balakhali are the best. The roll number at these schools is 128 and 98 respectively, and the average attendance in both the schools is 70 and 40. But I am sorry to say that the one at Russulmahmood is the worst of all. The teachers do not take proper care as they should, because of their small salary. That our Society would kindly adopt some means such as are adopted by the agents of other societies for the management of their schools, is heartily wished and prayed for.

"The work of the Bible-woman is going on well. She says, 'I preach my Saviour in the villages; sometimes I read a portion of the Bible and explain it to my hearers. Sometimes I read a tract, and then compare the character of Jesus with those of the gods whom they worship. At others I begin my work with hymns. I am glad to say that I find my female hearers more attentive than before. They say that they believe what I say, but, from fear of losing their caste, they cannot openly show themselves as believers. On one occasion a hearer, being angry with me, said, "Go hence, or else I will hit you." But I told him for the name of Jesus I could even put up with that.' At present, she says that she meets with no opposition as before."

The Mutlah Mission.

"This district forms part of the Twenty-four Pergunnahs, and lies to the east and south-east of Calcutta. Canning Town, on the Mutlah River, was started about 1863, and was expected to become the port of Calcutta; but the scheme has quite collapsed, and the place is only a village. Bashanti is to the south of it, in the Sunderbund jungle. The other churches are to the north, in cultivated country.

Mr. James reports:—

"Harbhangi is a new station only lately taken up by our Society. The distance to it from Port Canning railway is about four or five miles. Before I took it up, it was occupied by the Episcopal Methodists, but the people were not properly looked after. I do not think that there are more than seventeen or eighteen Christians in the village, and nearly all of them were Baptists, at least nominally, having emigrated there from the south villages. They often expressed a wish that some Baptist should be sent to look after them. I talked the matter over with Dr. Thoburn, and he also thought it best to advise the people to come over to us. It has been arranged to send a school master to the station from one of the other villages, who will be able to teach their children to read and write during the week and conduct the services at the chapel on Sundays. There are several other Christian families, living not far from this station, who have no one to look after them. At present they meet, I am told, in their own houses for prayer and the reading of God's Word. The schoolmaster will be given to understand that he is to pay occasional visits to these, in order to impart to them some spiritual comfort.

"Three schools were kept up during the year—one at Bagmari, one at Kagra, and one at Bashanti. The house in which the school was kept at Bagmari was blown down by a storm. The materials were saved; and with these, together with a little help in money, which they have already obtained, the people expect to build another house in the Christian compound. Here the Hindoos have started a school in opposition to ours, and, owing to this, nearly all the children were enticed to leave the Mission school. Under these circumstances I thought it wise to close it; and to open a girls' school instead. The Zenana Mission has promised to bear the expense; this, however, Mr. Rouse, who has taken the charge of these churches, will have to do as an experiment, for I am somewhat doubtful as to whether such a school can succeed."

IV.—SERAMPORE.

Serampore College.

President, A. WILLIAMS.

Tutor, E. S. SUMMERS, B.A.

Missionary / Probationer } L. TUCKER, M.A.

English Church—7 members.

Serampore, in the district of Hooghly, is about fourteen miles from Calcutta, with which city it is connected by railway. It lies on the western bank of the River Hooghly. The population numbers 38,463.

Of the work of the College at Serampore, the Rev. Albert Williams writes:—

"It affords me much joy and thankfulness to be able to pitch my report of the work at Serampore in a somewhat more joyous key than has been possible to us for some years past. In all departments there have been progress and improvement, and, in some, a remarkable degree of both.

"1. The College Department.—The numbers attending the college classes have increased in a way that encourages the hope that it is yet possible to recover the position which the college had in the days of its greatest prosperity. There have been on the roll forty-five students, several having joined us from Calcutta colleges, four being holders of Government scholarships. The improvement is traceable to the success of our students at the last examinations of the Calcutta University. We sent four boys to the Entrance Examination and all passed. One would have gained a scholarship as the result of the examination had he not been otherwise disqualified. To the L. A. examination we sent four, all we had in the senior class, and all passed, one gaining a first-grade scholarship of Rs. 20 a month. This was really the first occasion on which the work of the present staff was put to the test, and the result has been to restore confidence in the college to such an extent that applications for admission began to pour in upon us early in the year. These were refused at first, but, in accordance with what I understood were the wishes of the Home Committee, I consented to re-open the college classes, should a sufficient number come forward to justify my doing so. Though some of the early applicants, deeming it useless to wait, joined other colleges, the required number was made up, and in course of time others joined until we had forty-five on the roll. As usual all the classes have read God's Word or listened to the lectures on its nature and evidences during the first hour. We read the whole of the Gospels as in Robinson's 'Harmony,' and the Acts of the Apostles. In the evidences they have read Bushnell's 'Character of Christ,' and the portion selected by the University of Paley's Natural Theology, and in a course of lectures I have endeavoured to give them a clear apprehension of Paley's Argument in the light of more recent teaching, especially that of Huxley and Darwin. I have also given them the substance of Paley's 'Evidence's in a similar course of lectures, and the junior class is now reading with me Lyttleton's 'Conversion of St. Paul' with Rogers' admirable introduction. I have had some very cheering testimony that the teaching has made some impression, and it was very pleasing to note that some questions on my lectures on Paley, which I put in the English examination paper—questions which they could not possibly expect to have at the University examination—were better answered than any in the whole paper.

"2. The School.—The attendance in this too has improved. For a part of the year we had nearly 200 on the roll. The increase, however, consists principally of Christian boys, who numbered at one time over fifty.

"3. The English Theological Class has been diminished by the ordination of Mr. De Cruz. Mr. Mackintosh has continued his studies in theology, Paley's Evidences, the Greek Testament, Homiletics, and Greek with me, and in Latin with Mr. Summers. His progress has been satisfactory. He has been of great use to me in many ways—e.g., in the school, where he takes the first two classes in Scripture; and, as the only Christian teachers I have are engaged in teaching the lower classes, and I have the college ones, I do not know how I could have carried on the work without him. In the Sunday-school and among the English congregation he is indefatigable, and his work on the second Sunday in the month, when he goes down to take the service at Toltollah, and returns to Serampore in time for his usual Sunday engagements, is such as only a strong man could get through.

"4. The Boarding-house School.—Notwithstanding our troubles about a house, this has been steadily growing. One of the boys passed the entrance examination, and is now pursuing his studies in the first year L.A. class. Another, whom, on account of ill-health, I could not send off, has obtained employment in Calcutta, and has gratified me much by sending some of his first earnings to pay for a suit of clothes for his brother, who is with us. As we are carrying on this work entirely with our own funds, the increase has been principally in paying boarders, and the fees have amounted to Rs.614= £61 8s. Many applications—about twenty in all—have been rejected for want of room, and it was only by a dangerous amount of crowding we have been able to accommodate twenty-nine at one time during the year.

"5. The English Chapel Services have been kept up regularly, and the attendance has been very fair. We have had as many as sixty present, but the average is about thirty-five. I know that solemn impressions have been produced in many cases. The communion service has been kept up with greater regularity, and the attendance has been a little larger. Lately, I had the joy of baptizing two men belonging to the 34th Regiment, now stationed at Barrackpore.

"6. The European Class has at present twenty boys on the roll, fourteen being boarders. Their conduct continues to give me every satisfaction, and I believe they are thoroughly happy.

"7. Evangelistic Work.—During my stay at Darjeeling, and on my way up and down, I have held meetings for soldiers and railway employés wherever a fair attendance could be secured. At Silliguri I collected a few together on the Sunday and had service with them. Some had not been present at a religious service for years. Lately, I have commenced regular services in two of the mills near Serampore. In one, all the assistants, without exception, attend. On the line of railway and elsewhere I have had religious conversations with many educated natives — Hindoos and Mussulmans—the result in some cases being the reviving or deepening of impressions already produced in our Mission schools. Now that my health is re-established, I hope to do much more in this way.

"8. Zenana Mission.—The general direction of this rests with me, and I neglect no opportunity of intercourse with native gentlemen to push it on. Including a Christian class I have opened at Johnnugger for the study of Bengali and arithmetic, we had at one time this year nearly 140 girls and women under instruction. Considering that we began with nothing, we rejoice over this as a growing and hopeful work."

JOHNNUGGER.

Of the native church meeting in this village, which is, in fact, a part of the town of Serampore, Mr. Summers writes:—

"The church at Johnnugger still suffers from want of a competent pastor. Its services, however, are regularly carried on by its members with some help from myself, and, I trust, will not be found without fruit in the future. Mrs. Deverell carried on her Bible-class among the women until she had to give up from illness, and Mrs. Summers is now carrying it on. Two special incidents may be mentioned in connection with the church.

"The members, feeling a sense of sorrow on account of the lack of spiritual life in the church which had been more strikingly evidenced than usual by the fall of one of the members, kept a day of humiliation before the Lord. On this occasion Mr. James and Mr. Robinson kindly gave them addresses suitable to the occasion. I must also refer to the death of the late pastor in the latter part of the year. Two years ago he was obliged, on account of the increasing weakness caused by consumption, to resign the pastorate of the church. Up to that time he had been acting as superintendent of the Bungalow school, and in both positions he had approved himself as a Christian man, and had undoubtedly exercised considerable spiritual influence. Indeed, he was remarkable among our native Christians for the deep sense of sin that he had, the awakening to which he attributed to the teaching and influence of the American Methodist missionaries with whom he was for some time in the North-West Provinces. He was also something of a poet, and his hymns are very popular, especially among the people of his pastoral charge. Up almost to the very last, his pain and suffering were very great, and the only refreshment he seemed to find was in hearing the Bible read, in prayer and in singing, for which he used to make incessant requests. Like Christian, in the River of Death, he was somewhat overwhelmed with the thought of duties neglected or badly done, and wasted opportunities; in fact, he half felt that his extreme suffering was meant by God as punishment, but the thought of the penitent thief seems to have chased away all such temptations of the devil, and he died triumphantly at the last, as one who deserved nothing, but was getting everything that was worth having. Spite of some decided faults, he was one of the best of Christians that I have met among our people in India, and the best proof of it is, that we have found it so hard to replace him."

V.—CUTWA.

Number of members, 19.

A large town on the western bank of the Hooghly, in the district of Burdwan, about seventy-five miles N.N.W. from Calcutta. It contains a population of 7,963 persons, of whom 6,817 are Hindoos and 1,131 Mohammedans. The small remainder are Christians.

At this station the Society has no resident missionary. Mr. McKenna, of Sewry, has, however, the general oversight of the work, and visits the station from time to time.

VI.—Jessore.

Assistant Missionary, Brojonath Banerjea.

Number of members, 37.

This district, which includes Khoolna, lies to the N.N.E. of Calcutta, and contains a population of over 2,000,000, of whom 1,142 are Christians, the rest Hindoos or Mohammedans. Jessore, the principal town of the district, contains over 8,000 inhabitants. It is distant about eighty miles from Calcutta.

Mr. Banerjea reports as follows :—

"School work.—I have seen all our schools both in the Jessore and Jhinida Circles. The boys of most of the schools are making good progress in secular and religious subjects.

"In the six schools at Jessore and in the six at Jhinida, 405 Hindoo, Mohammedan and Christian boys are receiving instruction.

"I have become acquainted with many who are gazetted officers of Government and others. Among these I preach the Gospel of our Lord in conversations and discussions, and try to introduce Bible-reading among them. The Babus are pleased with conversations and discussions, and respect me; and some among them have bought Bibles, New Testaments, and religious tracts. I have hope of the conversion of some of them.

"I have become acquainted with Babus and rich Mohammedans in the villages around Jessore, and had religious conversations with them also.

"When I am at Jessore town, I take brother Nepaul with me in the afternoons and go out for street-preaching and market and bazaar preaching, and sometimes in the mornings also we go for this kind of work. In our street and bazaar and market preaching, at Jessore and the surrounding villages, we get a good number of attentive hearers, some among whom argue with us about sundry religious subjects. When they get proper answers the good men among them become satisfied, and sometimes speak in favour of our Christian religion. In Jessore and the surrounding villages we also preach from house to house to the middle and lower class Hindoos and Mohammedans. The people hear the Word of God with much attention, and praise the teachings of our religion.

"Work in two sub-stations at Jhinida and Magoora.—Twice I have visited Magoora and thrice Jhinida. On each occasion of my visits to those two sub-stations, I remained for five or six days, and preached the Gospel of our Lord in the bazaars and markets at Jhinida and Magoora and its surrounding villages; the brethren also of those two sub-stations preached with me. There were attentive and good gatherings of Hindoos and Mohammedans. Brother Gobindo, of Magoora, is working very nicely among the Hindoos and Mohammedans at Magoora.

"There were five preaching tours from January to this month—three by me and two by the preachers—in which tours brother Napaul, of Jessore, brother Gobindo, of Magoora, brother Gogun, of Jhinida, and myself preached in markets and bazaars, and visited some Zamindars and other Babus, Hindoos and Mohammedans, in Jhinida, Magoora, and Noral sub-divisions, and in Kottoally Thana of the district. We got a good number of most attentive hearers in the markets and bazaars, and the people, both high and low, heard the Word of God with reverence.

"From January to this month two have come from among the heathen and joined our Christian community; one through the instrumentality of Brother Nilmoney, the Circle teacher of Jhinida, and one by me. Both of them are living at Jessore, and are under Christian instruction.

"In June last I baptized my eldest daughter; her conversion was a great joy to my family and the Christian brethren at Jessore: The churches are enjoying peace, and there is hope of progress."

VII.—KHOOLNA.

Missionary, GOGON CHUNDER DUTT.

Number of members, 183.

Besides the missionary, fourteen native brethren are employed as evangelists and schoolmasters. Twelve stations are occupied, ten of which possess chapels.

Owing to Mr. G. C. Dutt's absence in England there is no report from this station. The work is, however, going on in a very satisfactory way.

VIII.—BACKERGUNGE.

Missionaries, T. MARTIN, R. SPURGEON, and T. R. EDWARDS; Missionary Probationers, J. ELLISON, A. JEWSON, and J. G. KERRY.

Number of members, 1,491.

This low-lying district lies to the east of Calcutta; Barisal, its principal town, containing 7,684 inhabitants, being 185 miles distant. The population of the district is stated to be 2,377,433 by the census of 1872, in the following proportions: Hindoos, 827,393; Mohammedans, 1,540,965; Christians, 4,852; and others, 4,223. The stations are much scattered, and are found in the northern part of the district.

We are indebted to the Rev. T. Martin for the following report:—

"The condition of several of the churches this year has given us much trouble and anxiety. Ill-feeling and a spirit of contention seemed to have taken possession of them. The quarrelling was chiefly with the preachers. Many of the members appear to expect perfection in the preachers, whilst they themselves evince the utmost unwillingness to come under discipline and control. They will exact the last farthing of what is due to them, but will give themselves no concern about their own debts. We are thankful to say, however, that the disputes, with one exception, have been settled, and peace has been restored to those churches.

"In the early months of the year we made several tours to the south and south-east of Barisaul, preaching daily in the markets and bazaars as we passed along. A large quantity of Scriptures was sold, though selling books in Backergunge is not an easy matter. Later on in the season—rather too late for the comfort of the preachers—Mr. Spurgeon and Mr. Edwards, with the aid of some of the native brethren and a band of singers with instruments, conducted a series of meetings in the town of Barisaul. These meetings were well attended, both by the common people and the more respectable Babus of the town. The music was, no doubt, a great attraction, and it afforded a breathing time during the intervals between the addresses.

"When weather and opportunity permitted, Mr. Spurgeon and Nilumber, accompanied frequently by Mr. Edwards, notwithstanding close application to his studies, preached regularly in the bazaar at Barisaul, and sold as many scriptures as they could.

"In our round of visits to the churches during the rainy season, we conducted services with the people daily, and had many opportunities of giving them instruction and counsel. Some of them are still in constant dread of having their rents increased, and that too on the sole authority of the landlords. These avaricious men have made repeated and persisted efforts to obtain from the ryots written acknowledgments of their obligations, but will not give them leases as they ought legally to do. They would bind the ryots hand and foot, but leave themselves free to do as they like. We have always counselled the ryots, Hindoos, Mussulmans, and Christians, not to bind themselves in any way unless they obtain the leases to which they are entitled.

"On the 10th, 11th, and 12th of August last a Conference was held at Chobikarpar, similar to the one held last year at Ashkor. The papers read and subjects discussed were very likely those read and discussed last year, but the spirit of the meetings was not nearly so good. The pleasure and profit that might have been derived from them were almost nullified by a spirit of contention and fault-finding.

"Great eagerness has been manifested this year, by some of the preachers and people, to increase the number of schools in the villages. During the year thirteen schools have been in operation, attended by upwards of 300 boys, the great majority of whom are the children of Christians. Several new schools could have been established in other villages, but we could not go beyond our means. The inspector has done his best to make the schools more efficient, but still the attendance is irregular and the results far from satisfactory. Nevertheless, we can discover signs of a higher appreciation of education. The people are beginning to understand that it will be a source of strength, if not of gain, to them.

"We derive more satisfaction from the two boarding-schools for boys and girls in the Mission compound at Barisaul. During the year seventeen boys attended the Government school, and I am thankful to say their studies were very little interrupted by sickness. Three boys were in the third class, one in the fifth, and the rest in lower classes. The school examination took place before the Durga puja holidays, and, as the result of the examination, all the Christian boys but one have been promoted into higher classes. There were sixteen girls in the school during the greater part of the year. These were taught in the Mission para, and they learned only Bengali. It is very interesting to mark the progress which some of these girls make. They come in from the villages not knowing the letters of the alphabet, and as jungly in manner and appearance as such little creatures can well be; but in a few months they learn to read beautifully, and throw off the stupid shyness and uncouthness which they brought in with them. We are the more interested in this school from the fact that very few girls can be induced to attend the mofussil schools in which boys are taught. Very few of the Christian women can read, or ever learn to read, besides those who were taught in our boarding schools. In our visits to the churches we often meet with women, some of whom are now mothers of large families, who were taught in Mrs. Sale's and Mrs. Martin's schools some twenty-five and thirty years ago; and it is gratifying to find how well they can read still. On Sunday afternoons the boys came to my house, and I took them carefully through the last fourteen chapters of the Gospel by Luke. John Sircar took the girls and some of the women of the para through a large portion of the Gospel by John.

"We referred last year to a resolution of the brethren to establish a Mission of their own at Madaripore, a sub-division of the district of Fureedpore. After much difficulty and delay they secured a piece of land, erected a house for the preacher; and they have placed in charge of the Mission Koilas Chundra Sircar, a young man who was educated at Serampore. Hitherto there has been but little aggressive work, but the brethren have been able to 'hold the fort.'

"The churches continue to give proof of the living power of the Gospel, and of their desire to walk in the footsteps of their Master. On a profession of their faith in the Saviour, seventy-seven men and women have been baptized this year into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. And at several of the sub-stations considerable accessions have been made to the Christian community from the heathen.

"At the end of 1880 the number of members was 1,460. To this number we have to add those baptized during the year, 77; re-admitted, 47; making a total of 1,584. Died, 24; excluded, 69; showing the present number of members to be 1,491, a clear increase of thirty-one during the year."

IX.—Dacca District.

Missionary, R. Bion; Missionary Probationer, T. H. Barnett.

Assistant Missionary, Anundo C. Duffadar.

European members, 14; Native members, 63.

Sub-station—Dayapore (west of Dacca).

Members, 7.

Sabar, a new Sub-station (three miles north of Dayapur).

Members, 10.

Sub-station—Munshiganj (south of Dacca).

Members, 7.

Dacca, the educational and commercial capital of Eastern Bengal, lies on the banks of the old Ganges. It is about 190 miles N.E. from Caloutta. Its population is said to number 69,212 persons; but the entire district contains 1,851,764, in the following proportions:—Hindoos, 793,789; Mohammedans, 1,050,131; Christians, 7,844.

Mr. Bion reports:—

"The English services on the Lord's-day evening have been well attended throughout the year, both by Europeans and educated natives. Five Europeans have been baptized.

"Mrs. Bion's Bible-class for Native Christian women has met regularly on Sunday afternoons throughout the year.

"Itineracies.

"The second half of November I spent in the out-stations of Sabhár and Dayapur, preaching also at the Baraní, or annual fair, held at Munshiganj.

"The whole of December and January was spent in preaching the Gospel in the various markets, bazaars, and villages in the Dacca, Pubna, Maimansing, and Silhát districts. The former month was specially devoted to part of the Dacca and Pubna districts, and to Goalundo. Dina Bandhu was with me; but, as he fell ill, I sent him home and proceeded alone up the Megna, Uttaraghara, Darai, Jummu, Bolai, Kumai, and Sumaisuri rivers, right up to Durgapur, at the foot of the Garo hills.

"Dina Bandhu visited Dhamrai, to be present at the Rath Jatra held there, as well as many places to the north and west of Dacca and in the Hilsamarí khal. Upendra Ghose has preached all the year round at the markets held at Naraingani, Sonakanda, Mírkadim, Munshihát, and Serájdabád, places in the neighbourhood of Munshiganj; and, in the rainy season, he visited the tract of land lying between the Padma and Dalasswari rivers, in Bikrámpur. He also visited the mela at Lajung.

"On our way up to Shushung-Durgapur we found ourselves for some days on entirely new ground in the Silhát district. In larger villages like Jai-Síri, Nyagaon, Dugnai, Moibnager (a large bazaar), Ananda-pur, Kamaura (a hât), Bír Sidli, Gunapara, and Ramnagar, the Gospel was listened to with eager attention, and a good many Scriptures sold. In one place, though, after a long search, I could only get two men to hear me; my wife, who had gone in the opposite direction, got a large number of women to listen to her. The cause of this was, no doubt, that, as no missionary had ever been there before, the men were frightened at the sight of a European, and had hidden themselves; whereas no one thought of being afraid of my wife and children.

"In one place we visited the Zemindar in his 'pukka' house. This man had extensive zemindaries; but we found, to our surprise, that he could neither read nor write, and was fearfully ignorant on every subject but that of rupees, annas, and pice. I, at first, suspected him of feigning ignorance; but a schoolmaster, who came to hear us, assured me that he was not the only zemindar in those parts who could not read.

"In contrast to this, I was agreeably surprised to find a mahájan at Moidnagar who bought a copy of each of all the scriptures I had with me, and who was very anxious to possess a whole Bible. Unfortunately, I had none to give him. This year, however, I shall visit these places again, on my way to the Garo hills, and I shall take care not to allow such men to be disappointed."

Mr. Barnett reports as follows:—

"It is with feelings of devout gratitude to God for calling me to foreign missionary work that I pen my first report. This being the first year of my probationary term, my time has been mainly devoted to the acquisition of the language, and to such studies in native systems of thought and religion, as will, I trust, conduce to my future efficiency. Unable to speak to Bengalis in their own language, I have seized, and, to the best of my ability, improved the opportunities that have presented themselves for immediate active work by telling 'the old, old story,' in the English tongue.

"During the cold season I conducted a service of song immediately before the preaching service, which proved very attractive, particularly to Bengalis, who, supplied with hymn-books, were able to follow us in our songs of praise; and very many of whom were induced to remain and listen to the preaching of the Gospel. We prayerfully hope that in this way, under God, some truth found its way to their hearts.

"The Sunday-school—the superintendence of which has been entrusted to me—has been held, as usual, throughout the year. The number of scholars—European and Eurasian—is forty-two, an increase of nine on the previous year. This number is small, but it represents all the available children in the city. The pupils are divided into three classes, under the instruction of three teachers—Mrs. Bion, Miss Robinson, and myself.

"Believing that it would be well if the school were brought into close and intimate connection with the Church, and seeing no reason why the members of the Church should not be members of the Sunday-school, I have endeavoured to bring about such a connection by the formation of a Bible-class specially for adults. In this class there are at present thirteen scholars—a number we hope to increase during the coming year.

"Three members of the adult Bible-class have this year become members of the church, and have made a public profession of their faith in the Lord Jesus by baptism."

Mr. Daffadar reports as follows:—

"A brief account of my work for the period of nine months during the time of living at Dacca.

"Thank God, our Heavenly Father, that, through His bountiful mercy, I had very good opportunities to proclaim the glad tidings of our Saviour to thousands of perishing souls in the districts of Dacca, Comilla and Naráinbád.

"When I was in the town of Dacca, in the morning, I generally visited the people in their houses. The dwellers gladly receiving me, heard the love of Jesus and accepted the religious books and leaflets with much pleasure.

"Many a time in the morning enquirers came to my lodgings to have religious conversation. Among them two Hindoo gentlemen acknowledged Christ as their Saviour, and understood their duty to profess Christianity by taking the rite of public baptism, but still hesitating for their Hindoo community.

"Almost every evening, I, being accompanied by my esteemed and worthy associate, Rev. Mr. Bion, preached the Gospel in our preaching stands at Sutrapore, Chaukbazar, Sadrghât, Ramutganj, Bábúbazar, and Rai Sahib's bazar. Whenever we stood in the above-mentioned places, within a minute or two we were surrounded by a large crowd, the majority of which were Mohammedans, who heard the Gospel attentively without much opposition.

"Besides that I am thankful to say that I have been able to make eight trips for the purpose of itinerating preaching.

"In Dacca and other places during the last nine months I sold about 900 copies of Scripture portions, and distributed about 2,000 copies of tracts and leaflets.

"My work among the Christians. Including children there are sixty-three souls in connection with our Dacca Bengali church. Among them twenty-one are church members; this year I baptized one. I had two Sabbath services. I started a prayer meeting and Sunday-school, but as I was alone I could not properly manage them."

X.—Tipperah.

Comillah.

Out-stations—Jangalia and Kondol.

Number of members, 30.

Tipperah is a large district S.E. of Dacca, and contains a population of 1,533,931 persons. The chief town, Comillah, has 12,948 inhabitants.

This station, with two out-stations, is worked by the missionaries of Dacca.

The native church at Comillah has been throughout the year under the charge of Mr. Teixeira, of the telegraph office. Only those who have had some experience of native churches, will be able to appreciate Mr. Teixeira's self-denying labours of love among the native Christians. Our heart felt thanks are due to him for his unwearied efforts to promote the welfare of the church, the spiritual state of which has greatly improved under his judicious management.

His removal in October made it necessary for me to place Babu Samuel, the Comillah Evangelist, in charge of the church, and we hope he will keep up the good feeling now existing among its members.

Bábú Samuel Christian and his educated wife have opened a school for native Christian children, of which nothing can as yet be reported, except that it numbers sixteen boys and girls.

A Sunday-school is carried on by the above-mentioned evangelist and his wife.

The assistant missionary has paid two visits to Comillah.

The colporteur made various tours in this district, besides visiting Chittagong and Noakhali twice. He sold Rs. 17.2.1 worth of gospels and other parts of the Bible though his work was interrupted by sickness during part of the year.

XI.—MYMENSING.

Native Preachers, GUNGA CHARAN, CHANDRA NATH.

Colporteur, RAM DAYAL.

Number of members, 18.

Sub-station—Dhararampur.

Preacher, RADHA NATH (Garo convert).

Number of members, 8.

Sub-station—Biri Siri.

Garo Preacher, CHANDRA MOHUN.

Number of members, 21.

Mymensing, to the north of Dacca, is a very populous district, containing 2,349,917 inhabitants. The chief town, of the same name, has 10,068 residents.

This portion of the East Bengal Mission is supported by the Baptist Churches of Victoria, Australia.

Mr. Bion writes :—

"After having worked in the Dacca and Pubna districts, I travelled straight up through the Mymensing and part of the Silhát districts to Shushung-Durgapur, at the foot of the Garo hills. We had to anchor a few miles below Durgapur, as the river was too shallow to enable us to go further up towards Biri Siri. Here I was joined by the Mymensing preachers, Gunga Charan, Ram Dayal, and Radha Nath. Gunga Charan accompanied me on my journey, while Ram Dayal and Radha Nath proceeded to a mela at Narendra and thence to another mela at Mymensing.

"Chandra Nath and Ram Dayal also went on a preaching tour to the north of Mymensing.

"At the end of our last report, we mentioned that an inclination to receive the Gospel was apparent among the Garos of Biri Siri, opposite Shushung-Durgapur. To ascertain the real state of things I undertook the journey to Biri Siri by boat last January, and remained there some days. The Raja kindly lent me an elephant to enable me to get a few miles higher up than our boat could go. When I reached Biri Siri I saw that it was a Garo village of considerable size, stretching a mile from north to south.

"Most of the inquirers were, however, absent in the hills catching wild elephants, and we heard that they would not be back before April. With those who had stayed behind I had some talk, and a few were anxious then and there to be baptized. On account of their imperfect knowledge of Christ, I determined, however, to have them more fully instructed by our preachers first; but I promised them that on my next visit in the rains, they, together with others then absent, would have their desire granted.

"There is another Garo village some six miles from Biri Siri, where many have repeatedly asked for instruction. Ram Dayal and Radha Nath, the Garo preacher, have visited them occasionally, and say they are sure, that many in the village will eventually join us. The great difficulty is to find a Garo preacher fit to settle down among them and instruct them.

"Last February, Ram Dayal and Chandra Nath, after visiting a Garo village, near Jumalpur, north of Mymensing, brought back the news that there were about ten Garo families who wished to become the disciples of Christ. This village, too, we were with great regret obliged to leave without a Garo Christian teacher. All that we can do at present is to send one or two from Biri Siri occasionally to this village, and even this has become a difficult matter, as the hands of the preachers are full of work close to their homes; for Ram Dayal writes that there is scarcely a day in which three to six Garos from distant villages do not come to Biri Siri for instruction.

"During my visit to Biri Siri; in August, the Garos were very busy in their fields at some distance. Notwithstanding that, many of the candidates for baptism visited me every day in the boat, the chief, whose dream I have mentioned, also being of the number; and I thus had several opportunities of testing their knowledge of, and their faith in, Christ. As they understand Bengali but imperfectly, I spoke to them chiefly through Radha Nath, the Garo preacher.

"The 25th of August was the day fixed for the baptism. The candidates came to my boat, where I held a short service; then we descended into the cold water of the Sumaisuri River and I baptized one woman and fifteen men in the name of the Triune God.

"On the way back, Gunga Charan baptized three more Garo women at Dhararampur, a place which I could not get to owing to the shallowness of the river. In October Gunga Charan baptized two Bengali women at Mymensing.

"In September last, a curious and novel case of kidnapping took place at Biri Siri. One of the young men now at Tura was carried off one night by main force, by a number of Garos, and taken to a village (Rajganj) near Durgapur. There they kept him closely watched, but after two days he managed to escape from them and returned home. While he was at Rajganj, the villagers went through the Garo marriage ceremony of killing two fowls in two different houses, and then said to him: 'You are married.' But he stoutly protested against the liberty they had taken, saying: 'I am a Christian and I do not want to be married in this way. I am going to Tura to learn, and I will have nothing to do with this marriage of yours.' Ram Dayal reported this affair to the Daroga at Durgapur, who had both parties summoned to the thannah and investigated the case; but though there was no doubt about the guilt of the kidnapping party, he yet allowed them to return home without punishment. Probably he had substantial reasons for doing so. I have sent Ram Dayal's letter to the magistrate of Mymensing, who, I have no doubt, will sift the matter and do justice.

"At the Garo market at Durgapur, the preachers spoke both in Garo and Bengali. Strange to say, a Brahman from the upper provinces was found there. He was arguing with a Mussulman exactly as a Christian would have done, and displayed considerable knowledge of the Bible, but when Gunga Charan wanted to converse with him he immediately disappeared. This man furnishes another encouraging instance of the way in which the Word of God is read and pondered over by people whom we should least expect to take an interest in it.

"Since writing the above, the news has reached me that several more Garos at Biri Siri and at another village have accepted Christ, and are waiting to confess Him by baptism.

XII.—CACHAR.

Station—Kalinuggur.

Missionary, ISAAC ALLEN, M.A.

(In England.)

A district in the chief-commissionership of Assam, lying between 24° 14′, and 25° 50′ N. lat., and between 92° 26′, and 93° 29′ E. long.; area, 3,750 square miles. The Census of 1872 returned a total population of 205,027, excluding the mountainous sub-division of Asalu or North Cachar. The administrative head-quarters are at the town of Silchar.

The district is bounded on the north by the Barail range, forming the watershed between the river systems of the Brahmaputra and the Barak, which separates it from the Naga hills; on the east by the Manipur State; on the south by the hill country occupied by Lushai or Kuki tribes; on the west by the district of Sylhet.

A large number of tea-gardens are in Cachar, which employ a very considerable number of labourers.

Mr. Allen forwards the following report:—

"Our work in Cachar began with the annual mela work. We had a tent on the ground, as in former years, and displayed our books to the passers-by, recommending their message to the groups who from time to time gathered in front.

"During the mela, a Nagpuri Christian came, stating that he had been five years in Kurkuni tea estate, ten miles away; had instructed some of his heathen countrymen, and they now wished for baptism; and, some three weeks after, I had the pleasure of baptizing sixteen of them, on profession of their faith in Christ.

"The educated natives in Silchar are chiefly indebted for their education and consequent advance in life to mission schools in Sylhet and Calcutta, and naturally feel grateful for the benefit. Led by this feeling, they formed a society for the delivery of lectures, to be followed by discussion of the subjects presented. Its distinctive character was marked by choosing me as its first chairman, and by giving it the name of the Pryse Institute, 'in honour of the Rev. W. Pryse, of Sylhet,' to whom many of them had been indebted for their early education. The opportunity of pointing to Christ as the source of all that was good and useful in Mr. Pryse's life and work was not missed, but the result seemed to be a shrinking back on the part of some.

"In connection with the 'Pryse Institute,' I gave a lecture on 'The grounds of belief in a future state of existence apart from Christianity.' Major Senior, a Christian officer of the 36th Bengal Native Infantry, exhibited his splendid set of Scripture dissolving views to about 400 people, in the Settlement Office, explaining them in most fluent Hindi; also a lecture in English on 'The Great Pyramid,' and another on 'The Tabernacle in the Wilderness,' illustrated by coloured diagrams, all which drew eagerly attentive audiences.

"In February and March I went out with the lantern to the gardens in North-west Cachar, showing it in fifteen gardens with indifferent success, partly from inexperience in its use, partly because I had to use Hindi, instead of the familar Bengali, wherever the majority of the coolies spoke it. But the talk was understood and sometimes felt. In one place a sirdar got up from the crowd, making as much noise as possible with his wooden clogs, and shouting to the rest, 'Come away; come away! We don't want to hear about Jesu Khristu. We don't want to be Christians!' But his invitation only raised a laugh, and was obeyed by his wife alone.

"In April, we visited the Katigurrah mela. It was only for a day, yet 15,000 people met there, and it was suggested that I might take the lantern down and show it at night, so I sent it down with Jiban Babu overnight by boat, and rode down next morning. I crossed the river to visit the shrine of Siddheshur. A flight of stone steps led up to a courtyard, formed by three thatched houses, one of which was the shrine. This yard was crowded with worshippers, busily bowing in turn before the door of the shrine, having first put their pice in a big brass dish in the doorway. Beside it sat the stoutest, dirtiest, most brutish-looking Sunyasi I had seen for many a day, so busy watching the pice that he did not notice me amongst the struggling crowd. Catching his eye, I said: 'Salaam, I wish to see what these people are worshipping.'

"Sunyasi: 'Stand aside, and let the sahib see the debta.'

"I looked in and saw one small black stone placed on another.

"'Is it that little stone,' said I; why do they worship it?'

"S.: 'Because God is in it.'

"M.: 'How do you know that?'

"S.: 'God is in everything; hence in this stone.'

A discussion followed, stopping the flow of pice into the dish, and bidding fair to stop it altogether, at which the Sunyasi showed too plainly that he was no byragi (i.e., one who has subdued his passions). Two or three of his associates came to his help, objecting to my coming in there to talk against them; they would not be allowed to enter my church and talk thus, &c. I answered that I had come in to see what these crowds of people were doing, but as I found them making such a sad mistake as to liken God to a bit of dirty stone, it was my duty to tell them of it. Pointing to a pariah dog, I asked, 'Which is nobler—the live dog or the lifeless stone? If I said the Maharani was like that dog, would not that be an insult? But the stone is worse; it has neither sense nor life. How much more insulting, then, to liken the all-glorious Creator to such a thing!' 'True,' 'true,' cried the crowd. 'Go out,' 'go out!' cried the byragis; so I went out, gathered a crowd outside, talked for an hour, and then went off to the adjoining garden, where I showed the lantern at night to about 300 coolies.

"To sum up. We have during the past year, in bazaar and plantation, by lantern and voice, made known more or less of Christian truth to about 14,000 people; have collected for the lantern about Rs.400, thus amply fulfilling my promise to Mr. Baynes, and we have sold over Rs.40 worth of books, 70 Testaments and Bibles, 328 gospels, and 389 other books, chiefly Bengali hymn-books."

XIII.—CHITTAGONG.

Assistant Missionary, J. A. DE CRUZ.

Number of members, 15.

A division of Bengal, between 20° 43′ and 23° 46′ N. lat., and between 90° 43′ and 92° 44′ E. long. Bounded on the north by Tipperah district and Hill Tipperah State; on the east by the hilly tract inhabited by Lushais; on the south by Akyab district, in British Burmah; and on the west by the Bay of Bengal; area, 9,735 square miles; population, 1872 Census, 2,023,645,=208 per square mile. Chief town, Chittagong; area of the district, 2,498 square miles; population, 1872 Census, 1,127,402. Of the population of Chittagong district, 70 per cent. are Mohammedans, 26 per cent. Hindoos, and 2 per cent. Buddhists.

Mr. De Cruz writes:—

"I have to give an account of the work done in Chittagong since the 31st January last, the date of my arrival. On my arrival the first thing I did was to get myself acquainted with all the people in the station belonging to the Baptist community. I managed to do this in five or six days, there were twenty-four Bengali-speaking persons including children, and three English-speaking persons. But I am sorry to say that, while I was engaged in visiting the people, a very sad case was brought to my notice. A native Christian, professing to belong to the Church of England, was about to go over to Mohammedanism. Though all the necessary arrangements had been made for him to do so, yet I called on him with several friends and did our best to show him his errors. But it was in vain. He had been dissatisfied with Christianity, as its precepts were very strict. He had therefore resolved to go over to Mohammedanism where he would have some licence.

"Then I arranged to hold services for the Christians on Sundays in the house of Mr. J. C. Gangooly, the sub-registrar of Chittagong, conducted partly in English and partly in Bengali, and on week-days in English and Bengali in the houses of different people. From the beginning Mr. Gangooly's house was found too small and unsuitable for holding divine service, so in a few weeks we had to make the service entirely a Bengali service, and to arrange for an English service in the house of Mrs. Ballantine, a very earnest-hearted Christian lady, who has been of very great help to me in my work; and at the pressing request of the people to make arrangements to put up a small bungalow as a place of worship. But no sooner had we begun holding English services at Mrs. Ballantine's than several Europeans, holding respectable positions in Chittagong, voluntarily began attending the services, and asked me to put up a neat place of worship suitable for all classes of people, and volunteered to help me with funds. Furthermore, Mr. W. A. Campbell, a tea-planter and merchant, besides his subscription of Rs. 150, offered to procure timber for the building from Rangoon, and guaranteed to find means to pay half the amount himself, and to wait for the balance till we were in a position to repay him. The result has been that we have now a substantial chapel in Chittagong, opened on the 16th October last by Mr. Kerry. It has been built on masonry foundations, with a vestry room at the back, and verandahs on three sides, and a corrugated iron roof.

"We have now in the Bengali church ten members and seven adherents, while the services are attended by several Hindoos and others, besides the Christians. But I must here state that the work among the native Christians is not in a satisfactory condition; many of them are backsliders, and have given us considerable trouble, and need to be taught the first principles of Christianity. There are, however, a few very earnest Christians among them; it is by their influence that the careless ones had been kept together so long. In the English church we have five members and sixteen adherents, besides several educated Hindoos who are frequently at the services. There has been one baptism during my ministry; a young man who had been brought up among the Baptists, and had since been baptized into the Roman Catholic church, has come back to us. He seems earnest, and has induced his Roman Catholic wife and sister-in-law to attend our services, notwithstanding the rage of the priests. Besides these two persons, no other Roman Catholics will now dare to come to our services. Yet I am thankful to say that several Roman Catholics come to my house very frequently (though, like Nicodemus, at night) for religious conversation."

XIV.—DINAGEPORE.

Missionary, W. B. JAMES.

Assistant Missionary, RAM KANTO DASS.

Evangelist, SURJYA KOOMAR DEY.

Mr. James reports:—

"During the past year the Gospel of Christ has been preached throughout the district of Dinagepore and in some parts of Purniah. Preaching tours were made during the whole of the cold season, and for a considerable time in the rains. Eight melas have been visited, at which people from other districts also had the glad tidings proclaimed to them. My fellow-workers and myself have been much encouraged by the earnest attention paid to the preaching, and by the eager desire manifested by the people to procure our Scriptures. Since December last we have sold upwards of ten thousand copies of Scriptures and tracts. Many of these have been carried away from the different melas to distant homes in other districts, and will, I trust, by God's blessing, be the means of leading the readers to the true Saviour.

"The progress made by the Christian community at Kalkapore and the neighbouring villages has been very encouraging. It is really a pleasure to visit these people. Seldom or never have we to listen to any complaints or settle any quarrels. The little flock at each village is bound up in the bonds of brotherly love. Within the last six months we have had thirty candidates for baptism there, fifteen of whom I have baptized, and the rest are still waiting for baptism.

"I wish I could report as favourably of Sadhamahal, a place so noted in connection with the early history of our Mission. Careless, indifferent, and in some cases immoral I found the people there; some of them, I regret to say, had much in common with the heathen; they, however, still cling to the name of Jesus, and acknowledge Him as their only Saviour. Things at present begin to assume a better aspect. Labour on the Lord's-day has been done away with, the services of the sanctuary are being regularly attended and four persons have come forward as candidates for baptism.

"I have no very cheering account to give of the church in the town of Dinagepore. The services of the Sabbath have been fairly attended. Church discipline, which for years had been sadly neglected, has been attended to, but no additions have been made to the church by baptism.

"During the rains most of the people were laid up with fever, and Mr. Peters, the pastor, suffered much too. His eldest son, Mr. L. Peters, has rendered to the church valuable help by often conducting the services during his father's illness.

"Two Bible-women have been at work visiting the zenanas in and around Dinagepore, and have been welcomed by many of the families they visited.

"Our schools are not at all in a flourishing condition. The fact that the teachers are Hindoos will account for this; each teacher receives from us Rs.3 per month, and a few annas from the pupils. We ought to have a good Christian teacher at each of the out-stations, especially when we consider that there is no preacher permanently stationed at any of them.

"I am happy to say that Surjya Koomar Dey has now consented to settle at Kalkapore, and his wife will take charge of the school there."

XVI.—Santhalistan.

Jamtara.

Missionary, E. Cornelius.

For some time past the Committee has given an annual grant to aid Mr. Cornelius in maintaining himself among the Bengali and Santhal population of Jamtara, in the vicinity of the East Indian Railway.

Mr. Cornelius reports:—

"On the fifth of November last year, I, as usual, started out to itinerate in our part of the land; this time accompanied by Mr. H. Patterson, of Kairabani, we went towards the south, preaching from village to village, and distributing portions of Scriptures and tracts. Seeing great gangs of Santals going to the Damodar River, where they take a few small bones of each of their dead; and, knowing that they all go to one place of the river from all parts of the country, we joyfully resolved to go there, thinking that if we put up our tents at this spot of the river we would have a splendid opportunity to preach to thousands of Santals. We so encamped from place to place till we got within two miles of the river (not being able to get any further the last day). This part of the land is very barren; so much so that we often could not get a piece of wood even, but had to cook our food on fire made of cow-dung, and even that was hardly to be had. In one place I and Mr. Patterson asked a Santal woman to sell us some dry cow-dung. Her answer was: 'Where am I to get it? Take a basket, and go and pick up some yourselves.' The opportunity of preaching at the river was not near so favourable as we had thought. Their superstitious observance is done in a few minutes, and, as soon as they have got through it, they are anxious to get away from the river as fast as they can, to get back far enough, where they can get wood, so as to be able to cook their food. We preached to those we found there, but, seeing we could do better in the jungle part of the country, we turned our course towards the east, encamping from place to place, preaching in the villages round our camp.

"This season I have been in camp since the 13th of October, shifting about from place to place in the part of the country where I have fourteen schools scattered about within a distance of eighteen miles, preaching both to Bengalis and Santals. I am now in a place called Kamarbadh, fourteen miles from our house in Jamtara, and am about to build a little house here where I can come some weeks in the hot and rainy season and preach round about in the villages, as the most of my schools are easily accessible from this place any time of the year. From Jamtara I have the river Ojoy to cross before I can reach thirteen of the schools, and this is very troublesome in the rainy season; and both in the rainy and hot season the distance is too far to reach many of them, and be back again in one day.

"In my last account of the work, in October last year, I expressed a hope that the Lord would enable me to increase the number of the schools. They were then four in number; since then up till August this year they have increased to fifteen. From August up till the present time they have all been kept on, except one which has been given up because the parents of the pupils refused to allow their children to learn Bible lessons. This school was the very furthest off, and as there are others who I hear are likely to come and ask to be taken on, and within a shorter distance, I cannot say that I am sorry for it. These schools have been taken on as the people have come from one place after another begging me to take on their schools, and make them what they call 'Dhormo schools.' And although I had not the least knowledge from where the means should come to pay the teachers, I felt afraid to refuse their earnest petitions, lest, haply, I should refuse to do that which the Lord has sent to me to do. I feared to take them on, but I feared more to refuse to do so. So in the fear of the Lord I have refused none who came to me and were in real earnest: for I felt convinced that if this work was sent me by the Lord, He is not only able but willing to send the means needed to carry it on.

"The amount of Scripture truths that the pupils of these schools have treasured up in their memories is, in many cases, marvellous. The most of them have learnt two pamphlets of precious Scripture texts, above one hundred in number, and within six months' time many of them have learnt more than the half of Dr. Wenger's "Catechism of Christian Doctrine in Bengali," containing, sixty-four pages. They also read and re-read the Gospels, and some have learnt portions and whole chapters by heart, and also many of the Psalms. One boy has learnt upwards of fifty of the most precious of the Psalms, and another one more than thirty, besides the whole of what all the other boys have learnt.

"When I am home in the hot and rainy season all the teachers and pupils within a distance of ten miles come on the Lord's-days to our house to hear the Word preached; I visit the schools as often as I can, when I always find a good opportunity to preach to the village people, who at such times gather round me. The Inspector also, of his own accord, always goes about with a Bible under his arm and reads and speaks to them. Some of the pupils and teachers seem very attentive and serious, and I hope that some of them are really partakers of saving grace."

XVII.—Soory.

Missionary, A. McKenna.

Number of members, 68.

Mr. McKenna reports:—

"Bazar preaching has been shared by the preachers and myself when in the station, as also occasionally by brethren in other employments, whose help has been welcome and useful. More, doubtless, would have assisted had stated engagements permitted; nor must it be concluded, in absence of more public efforts, that private opportunities of Christian usefulness have been neglected. The general effect of bazaar preaching it is not easy to estimate, for the reason that it is difficult to read the human heart. The sower goes forth to sow, exercising patience, and learning to wait, in dependence on God, for 'precious fruit,' till it shall have received the early and latter rain. That these exercises are welcomed, however, at least tolerated, by not a few is evidenced by the fact, not merely of what they say, but also by repeated attendance at the preaching-places.

"District preaching has been prosecuted about as extensively in the past year as in the year previous. Four modes of work present themselves, all useful in their way, one or other of which is nearly always feasible; the ordinary daily bazar, the bi-weekly haut, the village devaloi, or idol temple, where the villagers can easily be assembled together, and the quiet tête-a-tête in the boitakhana or uthan of some native of superior importance, often a small landholder, sometimes the village guru or purohit. And although the congregation, under the village pipal or banyan, or in the social boitakhana, is seldom large, yet this is compensated by the greater homeliness of the situation, by the absence of disturbance and noise—almost inseparable from market and bazar work—and by the missionary being regarded less as the accredited exponent of a strange religion than in the light of a friendly visitor or guest.

"Of the Soory church, there is little special to report, and nothing that is unfavourable. Perhaps the power of giving is rather more circumscribed than is desirable. But this must be taken with the qualification that the worldly circumstances of our people are far less prosperous than they used to be, the Christian community, in truth, being now a poor one, and its resources in a private way heavily taxed. The Chapel Repair Fund, which is also the general fund of the church, which did not exist a couple of years ago, has already done good service, and is in a stable condition. Our people are taught to help, as far as possible, their own poor, so that they shall not be burdensome to the church. But in the severe epidemic sickness, which for several months in the year has now visited Soory for several years in succession, help from outside to some extent has been simply a Christian duty. In this connection must be recorded the Christian kindness of our friend, Mr. Robert Williamson, who for several years past has liberally helped three of our aged Christian widows; one of them the venerable Teeloka, widow of Sonathon, a highly respected preacher of our Society, whose very limited salary, through a very long service, rendered it absolutely impossible that he should leave to his aged partner aught else than his dying blessing, and the fragrance of a saintly memory. But, as widows cannot live on blessings and memories, this is one of those painful cases which, I have often thought, should be taken into generous consideration by our Home Committee.

"Of regular Christian work—the Sunday and week-day services, the Sunday-school, the girls' day-school, the boys' day-schools of the Christian Vernacular Education Society, the Bible-women's Mission, and colportage—this has been carried on pretty steadily, although schools and Bible-women's work have been a good deal interrupted by sickness."

STATIONS AND CHURCHES IN NORTHERN INDIA.

I.—MONGHYR.

Missionary, T. EVANS.

Missionary Probationer, B. EVANS.

Pensioner, SUDIN KARAN.

Assistant Home Missionary, PREM CHAND.

Number of members in English church, 52.

A town of 59,698 inhabitants. It lies on the southern bank of the Ganges, 300 miles N.W. of Calcutta. The district of Monghyr contains 1,812,986 persons, of whom the Mohammedans number only 182,269 souls. The district contains 1,142 Christians; the rest are Hindoos.

Mr. T. Evans reports as follows:—

"1. Preaching to the Heathen.—This is, above all, the work of the missionary, and it is a pity that there are so few to do it, and that it can only be carried on in the district for a few months in the year during the cold season. We make the best possible use we can of this favourable season of the year to go forth to the 'regions beyond' to preach Christ, and visit as many melas as we possibly can. We begin with our 'Ram Leela' mela, in Monghyr, when our good brother McCumby always comes to our aid, and we pay back the compliment by going up to what we call 'Mr. McCumby's mela,' at Sonepore, where we have a noble chance to preach to dense crowds and to sell large numbers of Scriptures and tracts. In 1880 I sold there about 1,000 books, and this month we disposed of 500 Gospels and 1,000 tracts at the same place. Most of the tracts we sell at one pice each, and the Gospel at one anna per copy.

"On my return home from Sonepore, in November, 1880, I had the pleasure to welcome to Monghyr my young colleague, Mr. B. Evans, who, I am happy to say, has already made satisfactory progress in Hindi, despite the severe attack of illness he had at first, which set him aside for nearly three months. Not long after his arrival we went out to the district, and made Kuggeria, a large grain mart in Tirhoot, our head-quarters.

"Every morning we went forth to the surrounding villages to preach, and the people heard us gladly. They were especially pleased with our singing; and, as my daughter often joined us in our service of song in the villages, we drew very large crowds, not only of men, but also of women and children, who seemed no less surprised than delighted.

"But I must leave this subject of song, and move on to say that while out at Kuggeria a letter came from Subha Chand, of Rona, to say that he was very ill, and about to depart to the better land. He begged of his son, Swaroop, who was with me as a preacher, to go up at once to close his eyes in death, as he feared that his heathen sons would not bury his body in the grave which he had dug for himself, but would give him a heathen burial. I sent off Swaroop at once, but he did not reach in time to see his father. His brothers told him they had committed his body to the grave, as he wished them to do; but afterwards it was found that they feared to do so lest they should lose caste. They expressed a wish that Swaroop should go and live and preach there, and they wrote to me to that effect. But no doubt they were overawed by the Panchâyet of the village, so that when Swaroop went to settle among them as a preacher they told him it could not be done.*

"Subha Chand was, I may say, one of our modern martyrs. A man who suffered the loss of all for Christ's sake, and who laboured much in the cause of Christ; and, I have no doubt, his labour shall 'not be in vain in the Lord.' He was a brave soldier of Christ's, who carried his cross with joy, and who was faithful unto death. Oh that India may see many such native heroes in the army of Christ!

"After our sojourn in Kuggeria we started off for the Kablás mela, in the month of January. This mela is far north, and not a great distance from the Nepaul Terai. I am not aware that it has ever been visited by a missionary before I went there, for the first time, two years ago, when I sold about 1,500 tracts and Gospels. This year we did not sell so many, yet the people heard well and bought about 700 of our books.

"On our way is a large town called Soopaol. Here we met a respectable Mohammedan zemindar, who took special interest in me and in the preachers with me. While in the mela he daily sent me fresh milk and vegetables, though his servant had several miles to bring them. He came himself to our tent, and charged me to call on him on our return. I did so. He would not hear of our pitching our tents or cooking our own food. He took us into his newly made pukka kothi. He entertained us most hospitably. He fed our servants and our horses and bullocks, and made me sleep at night on his own bed, and prepared bedding for the preachers. After dinner he sent for his rich Mohammedan friends, and he asked me to talk with them on the religion of Christ, when we had some profitable conversation, and tea of which all partook. Next morning he gave us a hearty breakfast, and after a prayer with him in his house he bade us adieu in the name of the Lord—his only request being that we should never pass his house, and that he would be glad of a complete copy of the Word of God, as he had only got then the New Testament. This New Testament, which he had got two years before, and which, no doubt, he had read and studied, seems to have been the secret of all his kindness to us, and I fully believe that this man is 'not far from the Kingdom of God.'

"While I speak of labour done in 'regions beyond,' I must not forget to say a word about a very interesting, and perhaps a unique, labourer in this department connected with our Monghyr Mission—a native Christian widow, native of Nepaul, and baptized several years ago by Dr. Phillips, of Midnapore—is gone forth in the name of the Lord to preach and sell Scriptures and tracts. When she first came to Monghyr she was sick, and as soon as she was well she left us for Nepaul, to preach the Gospel to her own people. She was away for about eight months at her own charges, and she took with her all the books she could possibly carry. After her return to Monghyr, I thought it well that she should have some central place to live in near the Nepaul frontier from which she could make her rounds. In Nepaul itself, she would not be allowed to live and labour as a Christian, so she fixed on Pertapgunge, a large thánú town in British territory and not far from Nepaul, from which she takes tours to her own country, and also to other towns and villages. As she had no means of support I told her I would supply her with means to get her rice to eat and a house to live in, and I sent her for this Rs.6 a month. She recently sent me Rs.10 for books she had sold for a pice and an anna each, and I have every reason to believe that she is a most devoted and a most faithful worker for Christ. It is a new thing in India to see such devotion and such moral courage and self-sacrifice for Jesus' sake in a Hindoo woman.

"2. Schools.—Our Anglo-Vernacular School has gone on much as usual, and the number of pupils at one time went up to eighty on the rolls, but the average attendance has been about sixty. The larger portion of the boys are non-Christians, who have been induced to come to us chiefly because our fees are lower than those of the Government school. As the school fees only realise about Rs.50, while the expenses are over Rs.150 per month, we feel compelled to bring this school to a close and open another, which will cost much less, and provide good vernacular education as well as elementary English knowledge to all who wish to attend, letting those who aspire to higher standards of education procure that luxury at their own cost, as we see no spiritual results from imparting high-class education either to heathen or Christian pupils, while such a boon involves a large expenditure of mission funds which might be more usefully employed in another direction.

"Our Bazar Vernacular Schools have not been as successful as usual; we have therefore closed the old schools and have opened a new one in our bazar chapel. One of the girls' schools has also been closed on account of the marriage of Ruth, the Christian teacher; but the little girls' school conducted by Goláb is going on as before, and in it there is at least one who has, in the face of fierce opposition, shown steadfast faith in the Saviour, though not allowed by her friends to make public profession of her love to Christ.

"3. The Native Church.—It has long been my most earnest desire to see the native Christian church at Monghyr take upon itself the entire responsibility of its own government and support; and, as it has been in existence over half-a-century, it is time it should do so. During the present year a special effort was made to realise this happy issue. After repeated consultation with the leading members of the church, resolutions were at last adopted, and approved of afterwards, by the whole church, to the effect that, while the native Christian church at Monghyr is truly thankful to the Baptist Missionary Society for all the success and support it has received for the last sixty years, it is now time that the church should make an effort to become independent of foreign support and control, while at the same time the brethren feel confident that in case of need the Society would still help. Another resolution was adopted, that each member should devote half an anna for every rupee of income towards the support of the church and pastor, and a request was also made that the chapel in which native services are held should be made over to the church, and that the parent society should make up any deficit that may be in the necessary funds for self-support. All seemed to promise well until a reply came from the parent society to say that a proprietary right of the chapel could not be transferred from the Mission, but that the native church would get the free use of the building for Divine worship at a nominal rent of eight annas a year, and also that it should be kept in good repair. It was also recommended that the local mission funds should supply the required deficit, which should cease after two years. These conditions gave great offence, and created much bad feeling among the native brethren, who resolved to wait the arrival of Mr. Baynes in Monghyr before any further action should be taken. They in the meanwhile collect the subscriptions and conduct their own services. As the native brethren have taken upon them the conduct of their own services, I do not at present take any part in them, except I am asked by them to do so, and my sincere hope is that they will go on unto perfection with the good work of independence which has been begun, and resolve to exercise for their own good and the good of others the ability for self-government and support which they have acquired after the fostering care of the Mission for over half-a-century. I feel quite sure that the native church at Monghyr is now in a sufficiently advanced state, both fiscally and intellectually, to manage its own affairs and meet its own expenses, and I therefore think it ought to do so.

"4. The Mission Press.—Since the Monghyr Lithographic Press was started two years ago, we have prepared in the written Kaithi (which character alone is used by about fifteen millions of people in Behar and Tirhoot) seventeen tracts, which number 42,320 copies; the Sermon on the Mount, 6,000; the Gospel of Matthew, with foot-notes 5,000; Mark, with notes, 2,000; Luke, with notes, 5,000; John, with notes, 2,100. Matthew and Luke are the last prepared, and are not yet quite finished. These written Kaithi books are freely read by the people of Behar and Tirhoot who can read at all; and we have already scattered many thousands of them abroad, but the want of the people is so great in this respect that we cannot half supply it, for, though there are abundance of books in Nagri and Urdu, the people as a rule cannot read them.

"5. Zenana Work.—As the Ladies' Zenana Society in London issues its own annual report, I need but simply say that we have two ladies and a native helper engaged in this interesting work in Monghyr, and that they have opened to them among the Bengalis and the Hindustanis as many zenanas as they can possibly attend to.

"6. Evangelistic Work at Jamalpore.—The Lord's-day evening services have been regularly held in Jamalpore, and the congregation has kept up well through the year. We have a few members here also, and the Lord's Supper is administered from time to time, but no regular church has been formed as yet. The largest number of the congregation at Jamalpore consists of young Scotch mechanics, in railway employ, who are Presbyterians, and would not, therefore, attend the Episcopal service conducted by the railway chaplain. They hear the word most attentively, but we long to see them obey and devote themselves fully to the Lord. God grant that the seed sown here may spring up and bring forth much fruit!"

1.—BANKIPORE.

Missionary, D. P. BROADWAY.

Assistant Home Missionary, IMAM MASIH.

Mr. Broadway reports:—

"We have steadily carried on daily

open-air preaching, and the more we have persevered in this course of promulgating the Gospel the more have we been encouraged by the aspect it has presented to us of having the desired effect upon the minds of our hearers. Our audiences have usually preponderated in Hindoos, who, more than others, own that the Gospel is unique, not only in the blessings it holds out, but also in the instruction to purity it embraces, and that, consequently, it must be the best course of religion in the world. They admit the doctrine of incarnation, and scout with contempt those who ignore it. They have invariably sided with preachers who have been opposed when setting forth Christ as 'God manifest in the flesh to reconcile the world to Himself.' Many have often gone from the assembly, saying: 'Go on; persevere, and you will succeed.' Christianity has something in it so soothing to hearts disturbed by sin that it courts acceptance, and therefore must sooner or later become the religion of the land.

"The Mohammedans have evidently been prohibited by their teachers from hearing the Gospel; still there has always been a fair number of them to be seen in all our assemblies. Many have attended our fixed preaching-places with great regularity, and thoughtfully listened to the truths expounded; we cannot, therefore, consider them as altogether a hopeless lot. Often have men of this community come to our help when they have found us opposed in our work. We can recall many strikingly pleasing instances of such help offered to us during the last few years, and will mention one. While we were addressing a large crowd one afternoon a respectable and rather well-read Mohammedan ventured to dispute the Sonship of Christ. After placing before him our arguments on the subject, we told him that we Christians considered ourselves also the children of God, and asked him what idea he entertained concerning himself on this gloriously excellent point. The man said, with a curse, that he was not a child of God, but only one of His creatures. Near him was standing another Mohammedan, who, looking at him, said 'So are horses and dogs His creatures,' and turning to us, and lifting up his hands solemnly desired us to have nothing more to say to the disputer, who, according to his own assertion, had admitted that he was not a child of God, and therefore must necessarily be a child of the devil. This remark staggered our antagonist; he cast a vacant glance around him, backed gradually out of the crowd, and retired.

"A Samaj of the Brahmos exists in the city, but we have hitherto had no trouble through it. Bengalis only form the community, and we have reason to believe many of the members sympathise with us more than they do with their own class. Several who have joined the community evidently adhere to it more for the sake of decency which attaches to it than for the sake of its worth. These men are intelligent, and must see that it is altogether an effete affair. When a leader of the community happens to come there is usually a stir made—entertaining processions, lectures, and so forth, from the order; but when he goes the spirit of the mass seems to go along with him, and an overwhelming stagnancy is left which must be seriously felt by the members.

"We have attended with due regularity the annual melas, where energetic efforts have been put forth for the spread of the Gospel among the multitudes of pilgrims, devotees, and others, and we trust many have taken along with them to the various and remote parts of the country the knowledge of a living and loving Saviour of whom, perhaps, they had not heard before. At the Sonepore gathering we had Mr. T. Evans and Mr. B. Evans, of Monghyr, and some of their native helpers. Mr. Grieff, of Gya, and Mr. McCumby, who, though now located elsewhere, we still consider a part of our own staff in connection with this special mela. Mr. Evans was, as usual, successful in the sale of books. Our own sale of books in the station and abroad during the last two years brought in only Rs.35, a sum barely covering the colportage expenses, or rather tonnage from place to place and hawking.

"Our colleague Moulvie Imam Masih made two evangelistic tours during the year, one to Bengal and another to Bombay, under the auspices of our Bengal Auxiliary Society. He could be ill-spared at the time from the station, but as he was disposed to make these tours, and considering the important nature of this kind of work, it was arranged that he should go. The reports of his efforts, especially from missionaries located in these parts of the country, were exceedingly satisfactory. He sold on his tour to Bombay Rs.30 worth of books and tracts.

We take from the Annual Report the following particulars of the work.

Mr. Broadway writes:—

"Work among the European Community.—We have often been surprised at the ignorance of our European brethren concerning religion. They are called Christians, but it is evident that it is more a national designation than a religious one. We do not hesitate to say that the heathen around us know more of the Saviour, owing to the instruction imparted to them daily, than the majority of our own people do. Our friends in Europe may not be disposed to consider this a matter of importance with reference to our operations, but where is the difference between the brown and the white-faced heathen, and if the former claims the attention and pity of the Christian public, surely the latter not less.

"During the year under review, at the season of changing the location of troops, our Artillery Brigade and Infantry Regiment were removed together, which almost denuded our chapel of worshippers. When the Relief came in, the Dissenters of the Artillery Brigade were paraded to the chapel without any question about it; but those of H.M.'s 70th or 2nd Battalion E. I. Regiment were not. We were under the impression that the commander might not be aware of the existence of a place of worship for them in cantonment. After the lapse of a few weeks we wrote to him on the subject, but he did not condescend to answer our letter. We were surprised at his discourteous behaviour, but resolved to pocket the slight, and, instead of precipitately referring the matter to higher authority, to adopt a milder course. We called on him. He was courteous and affable, and when the subject in question was broached he said he was averse to the practice of parading troops to worship, and wished us not to urge it. We considered his statement consistent, and agreed to act upon it, but things did not improve. There was an under-current at work which we could not fathom. However, we could see that we were not being fairly dealt with, and at length it was discovered that he not only held our chapel in contempt, but was also heard to say that the Government Church building was the proper place for everybody. A circumstance, however, occurred very soon which afforded us an opportunity of writing to him officially requesting that the Dissenters should be allowed to parade to their place of worship in future. He had the circumstance righted, and the Dissenters were required to attend the Orderly-room, where one of the officers (the Adjutant) evidently mentioned my request to them in some peculiar way, which led them to refuse compliance in a body. After a short time, however, the men discovered their mistake, and applications gradually began to flow in to us from a number to have them exempted from Church parade, to enable them to attend their own place of worship.

"We are glad to state that, despite the opposition against our efforts, our number is now almost as strong as it was before, which is a great thing considering the short time the troops we have at present have been here, and it is still increasing. Twelve have already avowed their faith in the Lord by submitting to believers' baptism, and more are likely to follow the example set.

"Present Congregation.—Lowest average attendance on Lord's-days, 125. Communicants, average number, 45.

"Our deacons, Messrs. Harper and Thorpe, have done their best to advance the Lord's cause in the station. In addition to other casual engagements, they have held a meeting of some sort almost every week-day evening.

"The Nonconformists are now being paraded to chapel, which gives it the appearance of punishment, owing to the liberty given them in the beginning of voluntary attendance.

"Munshi John Raheem Bukeh has been engaged, as usual, among the heathen and others. Friends have stated that he has regularly and faithfully discharged his duties."

Mr. Greiff still carries on his labours in Gya, an important place of pilgrimage to the south of Patna, aided by a grant from the Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society. He writes:—

"My work has been, as in other years, mostly occupied in street-preaching, and in the cold weather itinerating through the district. The small school I had in our compound I was obliged to close since June last. The teacher, a Brahman, agreed to instruct the children in the Christian Scriptures, as well as in other subjects, and often expressed a desire to embrace Christianity, and came continually for instruction; but, finding out it was pretence, and that only in my presence the children repeated parts of Scripture and a kind of Catechism, I was obliged to dismiss him, and to wait until I can get a Christian master.

"I began my travelling in the district after the rains, joining the bretbren in the Sonepore fair. After this I made only one tour to the west, having been prevented by sickness from making another tour, but had plenty of work in the station on account of the pilgrims, who came in great numbers.

"In the hot season my work is, as usual, continued in the station, preaching and teaching the Gospel; and of all what we observe we are assured that our efforts in the Lord are not in vain. Many are convinced of the truth, several fit and ready for baptism, but fear of men keeps them back.

"Every Lord's-day morning service is continued to be held for the native Christians, which outsiders also attend.

"In the evening I continue holding a meeting for the railway employés, though I am sorry to say the attendance is not so large as it was in the beginning. Many are slaves to drinking and gambling, and, however entreated, will not come to be saved. The few who attend regularly show a great earnestness in worship.

"I have sold throughout the year 740 copies of Scriptures, of which 37 are copies of the New and 4 of the Old Testament in the Nagri character, and 19 copies of English Bibles; besides several hundreds of small books from the Allahabad Tract Society, in Nagri and Urdu, and a good number of English books from the Lucknow Mission Press; also many hundreds of tracts received from the Muzufferpore Mission Press have been distributed."

The most sacred of all Indian cities. It stands on the northern bank of the Ganges, about 430 miles N.W. from Calcutta. During festivals the population is said sometimes to reach 600,000 persons; but its ordinary inhabitants number 207,570. It contains 4,000 Hindoo temples, as well as many mosques.

Mr. Heinig reports as follows:—

"On reviewing the work of the present year with reference to preaching the Gospel in the streets of the city, holding services in the adjoining chapel, and superintending the education and welfare of the Orphanage, I desire to express my heartfelt gratitude to the Lord for graciously granting me strength to continue working in His vineyard, and grace to enable me faithfully and joyfully to keep on proclaiming the glad tidings of salvation to the inhabitants of this city. There have, however, I regret to say, been times in the hot season, and in the rains, during which I have been completely prostrated by extreme weakness, owing, in great measure, to old age creeping on me; but I am thankful to be able to report that, with the return of the cold weather, I have become a little stronger, and am enjoying better health.

"Preaching the Gospel in the City.—This, the most important part of my work I have been able to go on with regularly throughout the year, with the exception of certain interruptions above alluded to. I always (weather permitting) have attentive congregations, composed principally of Hindoos, who frequently give a ready assent to the truths brought before them, but do not appear to proceed further, being wanting in courage and resolution to throw off the trammels of caste, and give up the worship of idols; but, from the experience of past years, I am firmly convinced that the Lord is, through His Word preached, preparing the hearts of these people for the reception of the glorious Gospel, and that gradually the barriers of caste, superstition, and priestcraft are giving way.

"Divine Services in the adjoining Chapel.—These have been regularly conducted on Wednesday afternoons as well as twice on Sundays; they have been, and still continue to be, well attended, not only by the boys and girls of the Orphanage and native Christians, but also by persons not connected with the Mission.

"Orphanage.—For the last four years there have not been any new additions to the numbers of our boys and girls, but several of the grown-up girls have been well married and settled in life. The number of boys is five, the number of girls is twenty-two. Their education is being carried on as usual in the school-house in our compound, where they receive instruction in the Holy Scriptures, in reading, writing, and arithmetic, as well as history, geography, and grammar, and during the day the girls apply themselves to needle and crochet work, in which they have shown great proficiency. Their board and lodging are well provided for, and the expenses incurred in their maintenance and support are defrayed from funds collected from kind friends in England and in India."

Mr. McCumby writes :—

"Preached in Benares and petty melas held in the suburbs ; in Monghyr and at the Ram Lila Mela held here ; at the Sonepore mela ; at the Ajudhya mela, Ram's birth-place ; in Agra at two different times ; in Landour, but was ordered to desist in collecting crowds by the commandant of Landour, after preaching about fifteen or twenty days, morning and evening ; preached in Mausauri once a day after being prevented preaching in Landour. Large crowds collect to hear, and hear with interest. May God bless our work for His name's sake !"

This important city, situated at the junction of the Ganges and Jumna Rivers, is now the seat of Government for the North-west Provinces of Hindustan. It contains 150,378 inhabitants. It is about 600 miles from Calcutta.

Mr. W. J. Price writes :—

"During the past year my work was carried on for six months in the Agra district, and for about the same time at Allahabad. While at Agra I continued to share with Mr. Jones the English and native work. For about one month of the cold season I itinerated in the district, taking with me three native preachers.

"In the course of this tour we preached and sold books in thirty-eight villages, sometimes visiting the same place two or three times, when we found a favourable hearing. We also spent one week at Hathrass, a large town of about 20,000 inhabitants, rarely visited by the preacher of the Gospel.

"Here we met with much opposition at first ; copies of the gospels were bought and torn to pieces before our eyes, and our preaching was often silenced by deafening shouts ; but, as we kept at the work morning and evening, the opposition subsided, and the people became more willing to listen to us. At the village of Mursan we took the opportunity of visiting the Raja, and spent some time with him, singing our hymns and conversing on the Christian religion.

"At the end of the month of March I came to Allahabad to take temporary charge of the English Church, and, by the goodness of God, I was enabled to continue at my post during all the trying hot season, two Sundays excepted. When October came, as Mr. Hallam had not arrived, and the church could not get any one to take my place, I promised to continue my help, limiting it, however, to preaching once every Sunday, and conducting one service in the week ; and this I have done. In the period of my connection with the church at Allahabad the congregation continued good, but I am deeply convinced that a pastor, who should devote himself entirely to the work, is what the church requires. On my arrival at Allahabad, having obtained a Christian teacher, I opened a school for native boys at the village of Bhyrana, and from the first we have been able to secure the attendance of upward of forty boys. About two months ago the Commissariat Department opened a school in the same village for the boys of the men employed by them, but the heads of the Department have lately made over their school to my care, placing at my disposal the school-house, residence for master, and pecuniary help to the extent of Rs.8 per mensem. I brought with me from Agra a recent Brahman convert, named Ram Ratn, who has been working under me very faithfully. I have privately given this man much instruction, and I am glad to report that he has become a very fair bazar preacher, and commands good audiences. He has also, at Mr. Bate's request, preached several times before the Native Church in a most acceptable manner.

"In addition to the work here detailed, I have preached as often as possible, morning and evening, in the villages around, and in the Katra Bazar; and lately I have gone three and four mornings in the week to the city, where, without difficulty, an audience may at any time be secured."

The following are extracts from Mr. Bate's interesting report:—

"Early in the year our brother Anderson, in view of his departure for England, handed over his work to me; so that through the year I have done his work in addition to my own, and some portion also of the work at the English chapel.

"The Work at Melas.—In a large place like this there are always a number of festivals of a general or a local character going on the year through. These have been visited by the agents of our Society, who have made known, by preaching and by the circulation of the Scriptures and religious tracts, the message of Divine love. The largest of these melas is, as you know, the great annual festival of the Hindoos at the junction of the two rivers near by.

"Passing over many details of a more or less interesting nature, I may mention that we were favoured on that occasion with the presence and help of our brethren McCumby, Evans, Jones, and Râmanâth Chowdhary (formerly of Sûrî). Besides these, there were ourselves—that is, Anderson, myself, Ali Jân, and Matthew.

"About fifty rupees' worth of tracts and Scriptures were sold. As most of what we sell is sold at one or two pice a copy, this amount represents a considerable circulation.

"One pleasing result of the work carried on at the fair was the decision for Christ of a Hindoo. His conversion is mainly attributable to the instrumentality of our dear brother Râmanâth. The new convert's name is Bhagawân-dîn. He was, at the time of the fair, a faqir of the Sannyâsî sect, and when he left Hindooism was anything but a clean-looking object. When he was well washed and properly clothed he was so much altered in his appearance that I did not, for a day or two, recognise who he was, as he sat in our meeting at the preaching-room in the city. As a faqir he, of course, has no business by which he might earn his bread; so I have employed him thus far to sell tracts and Scriptures about the city. Most comforting of all, he 'runs well' in the apostle's sense of the term. He has not given me a moment's anxiety the whole year through. Though not a man of any great ability, he bears with credit the 'new name' by which he is called; and thus gives the best evidence of a true change of heart.

"2. The Preaching-room in the City.—This institution owes its paternity to our brother Anderson. At the beginning of the year arrangements were made with our brother Râmanâth to pay another visit to our city, as his visit a year previously had been in different ways owned of God, and more specifically to the conversion to Christ of a Bengali babu, Kopil Dhar Ghose, who, by-the-way, continues in his Christian course with singular humility and gentleness, yet with sterling fidelity and beautiful consistency. It was made known by placards, &c., that Râmanâth would preach at our room in the heart of the city every night till further notice. He gave us a really valuable series of sermons and addresses, and it was impossible to avoid feeling that the Lord whom he served was speaking through him.

"3. Itinerary Work among the Villages of this District.—When Râmanâth's engagement to hold these services every night at the preaching-room was at an end, he and four other brethren joined in a band to make a preaching journey in that part of this district which lies on the other side of the Ganges. They were away rather more than a month, preaching in villages and markets the unsearchable riches of Christ, and sleeping at night in sheds wherever such could be found. On their return we devoted the following Sunday to hearing, at both services, their accounts of the work they had been doing, and of the sorts of reception they had met with. They gave a number of interesting incidents showing how kindly they were received by the people, and how readily their message was listened to.

"The next journey among the villages was taken by myself, without any native helper, in December of that year (1881). I was away on this journey twenty-seven days, going every morning and afternoon to villages and bi-weekly markets, preaching Jesus everywhere. There was a very manifest spirit of hearing among the people at nearly every place I visited. Little kindnesses, such as I never expected, were shown me by Hindoos and Mohammedans alike; and, at their earnest and oft-repeated solicitations, I went several times to the same places.

"I found it a good plan, on entering a village, to find out the village school. After about ten minutes had been passed in talking to the pupils, a number of men gravitated to the spot, it having been told abroad that the English missionary had come; so that these occasions afforded me a good opportunity of entering upon the greatest of all subjects before an assembly of boys and men representing the intelligence of the locality.

"4. Sunday Services.—Of these we have two, morning and evening, in connection with the native Christian community. I may say that we have at present, on the church-books, the names of thirty-three members. Besides these, the native Christian community includes the children of the church members. For about eight months in the year there was carried on here a Sunday-school consisting of about twenty children of heathen parents. Every Sunday the year through I had a service for domestic servants, Hindoos and Mohammedans. This is an old institution which I took over on the departure of our brother Evans, some ten years ago.

"Besides the regular Sunday services for the native church, we have two services on week-days—one on Wednesdays and another on Saturdays. At these services I combine with the usual exercises a kind of catechetical method of imparting instruction. This plan tends to keep the people's minds alert, and to sustain attention to important subjects.

"5. Preaching in the public streets of this city.—This work has been carried on as of yore by myself and our native brethren the year through. When they have been away, I have been present; and when I have been away, they have been present; and, for the most part, we have all joined together at it throughout the twelve months. Many thousands of Hindoos and Mohammedans have thus heard God's offer of mercy to the lost. I went as usual every evening till the burning month of July, when, on five or six occasions, I was touched with apoplexy, owing to the intense heat in the streets reflected from the houses on all sides. The last attack I had I thought would fairly finish me up, as far as this world was concerned, and I felt it necessary to cease going for a while till I was strong again, and the rains had cooled the atmosphere. Then I began again, and have kept regularly at it every day ever since.

"6. Literary work.—Of my appointment to revise the Hindî translation of the Gospel of JOHN, you are already informed. That revision I have completed in the light of the revised Greek Text of the Westminster Revision Committee. It will not, however, be printed until certain points have been agreed upon between myself and the other Revisers. I hope, when all details are settled, to write out a history of this movement and send it to you. My work on the Old Testament is going on, but it obviously would be most unwise to print any of it till the work of the Westminster Revisers (Old Testament) is in my possession. That point attained, the instalments of my Old Testament work will follow gradually on as our good Master may see fit to help me.

"I ought, perhaps, to add that my works on the Ka'ba (The Shrine of Islâm), and on what is known in missionary jargon as 'The Mohammedan Controversy' (Studies in Islâm), are gradually getting forward. I hope, and I even venture to believe, that these works (which I have been labouring at off and on for the last eight years) will be found by missionaries to be helpful in their great difficulties in connection with that weird system of belief.

"7. Work among Women and Girls.—A great deal of good work has been done here in this department during the year in the way of day and Sunday-schools, and in the way of zenana visitation for the benefit of the female part of the population. Of this, however, accounts will be sent home in due time to the Ladies' Zenana Committee. I merely mention the subject here for the purpose of saying that I had the pleasure during the year of administering the sacred rite of baptism to two women who, to the best of our knowledge, gave creditable evidence of a change of heart. The rite was administered at their own request, and after repeated and earnest application. It took place about seven months ago; and since then these women, as also the Sunnyâsî convert mentioned above, have to the best of our knowledge walked according to the Gospel. These are cases which show that God is still alive, though there are many persons who would persuade themselves to the contrary, and yet claim to be intelligent persons."

The capital of the district, with a population of 137,908 persons; it is situated on the River Jumna, about 800 miles N.W. from Calcutta.

Mr. Jones reports as follows:—

"1. Work among the Heathen.—Soon after the time of Conference last year, I went to the Bateshwar mela, where the usual work of preaching, singing, and selling books was carried on. During this season of work, I tried the plan of sitting down in preaching, and found that it suited admirably. Large crowds came around me, sat on the ground and listened attentively, and we talked to them the Gospel. Some of those present I shall never forget—the eager manner in which they drank in the Word, and came again and again, and sat down to listen. This mode of working has this great advantage, that the people cannot get away so easily as when they stand, and those who are willing to sit down evidently do not care to leave directly, but want to hear. In this mode, we have the example of our blessed Lord, who, 'when He was set, opened His mouth and taught them.' And the teachers in this country uniformly use this mode. It is, no doubt, more in keeping with the usage of the people than our more Western mode of standing up, and in high tones and often with a great deal of action, holding forth to our audience. The last meeting at the mela was one not soon to be forgotten. It had come on to rain, but under the shelter of a large tree were gathered together a large crowd, and we conducted our service much in the same manner as in the chapel, in singing, and preaching, and praying, and the blessing of God seemed to accompany the Word.

"I sometimes have thought that I have done very little during the past year among the heathen; but, looking over my diary, I find that I have done something. In the early part of December I went out to the district towards Chitaura and Shamsabad. An old district this, where years ago much seed was sown. But there is in this old district much new ground in the children of the villagers, and how I longed to be able to establish schools in this district! But what could I do all alone? While out on this visit, I was one evening, while it was quite dark, sitting outside my tent, near a fire, to warm, when I heard some people pass along the road. I saluted them, and they came also to warm. They continued to come until there were about twenty people seated near and around the fire. They were Agra people going to a wedding, and it proved such a happy time for preaching to them the Gospel.

"In January I went to the Triveni mela, at Allahabad, and was glad to find our forces much stronger this time than I had seen them on former occasions. We need, at such times, to show a strong united front to the enemy.

"In April I visited a local mela, at Etaura, where we had a good day of preaching and book-selling.

"Later on, in the hot season, we had a very good day at the Táj mela, and very interesting conversation with some Sikhs. Several other melas have been visited by our evangelists, at which I could not attend. I have been able to visit the city and markets but seldom—nothing as I should wish. But during one of these visits I met with a very interesting case of a man who at first appeared to oppose us. I invited him to my house, and after a few days he came, bringing a Brahman friend with him. We talked together for a length of time. In answer to some question of the Brahman, he began to explain some of our Christian principles; and, in speaking of our views of God being both merciful and just, he made use of the illustration, which has often been used amongst ourselves, of the king who, in order to honour his law and be merciful to his son, gave one of his own eyes and spared one of his son's, yet giving two to the law, all that it asked for. The whole bearing of the man made me feel that here was one 'not far from the kingdom of God.' He was a stranger in Agra, and, not finding the employment he was looking for, he left the place.

"Vernacular Schools.—We commenced the year with two boys' schools, at each of which we have an attendance of between 20 and 30 boys. I am glad to be able to report that now we have four boys' and one girls' schools. These schools are in the mahallas, or bastis, as they are sometimes called. The first, second, third, and fourth Hindi books are read, and these books contain very good reading. Besides these books, we have a Christian Catechism, the Gospels, and Christian bhajans. The bhajans are committed to memory by the older boys. I regard this as a very important branch of mission work in itself, and especially so as opening up the way for us to have meetings with the parents of the children.

"In December of 1880 I ran down to Cawnpore to visit my old friends of the 92nd Highlanders, whom I have mentioned before in connection with my work at Benares. They were just returning from the Afghan War. Some who had known the Lord at Benares died on the field 'faithful unto death.' Others there were, for whom I had often prayed, who were still faithful and true to their God. Some had fallen under their trials of temptation, and were unhappy. I went round the whole regiment with tracts, and one evening, brother W. R. James being with me, I had a service in an old house, where once lived the Nana Sahib, and here we preached to a good number of men, some of whom professed to find the Lord that night, and who afterwards fell at the Battle of Majubá Hill, in Africa.

"Those who were present that evening will not soon forget the happy meeting we had. I improved my visit to Cawnpore by preaching in the bazar, in the city, and elsewhere, and had a great many people to listen.

"Zenana work has been vigorously carried on by Mrs. Marwood and a native Christian woman; by Miss Harris, and by Miss Johnston, who is our medical missionary. Very many interesting matters turn up in connection with their work. Mrs. Peel, of Allahabad, has lately joined us; Miss Harris, on account of ill-health, had to leave for Calcutta. There are several new houses being opened up, and an increased desire manifested for learning."

This ancient capital of the Great Mogul lies 900 miles distant N.W. from Calcutta. The number of inhabitants is usually estimated at 150,000, equally divided between Hindoos and Mohammedans.

Mr. Smith reports as follows:—

"During the past year the various departments of labour have been carried on with regularity and perseverance. I am truly grateful to my native brethren for the large share of the work they have so willingly and faithfully performed. John Bernard, Asadh Ali, Benjamin Ali, Ibraheem, Gabriel Francis, Christopher, and several others have laboured heartily and disinterestedly. The large number of journeys they have made in all seasons renders them worthy of all praise; and had it not been for the effective help they have rendered single-handed I could not have carried on the work in its full extent, but must have considerably reduced its dimensions.

"Bustee Meetings.

"In 1859 these meetings were commenced in nearly all the places we now occupy, and I find that with some exceptions, during my absence through sickness, the organisation then inaugurated remains substantially unchanged. The meetings are held on the same evenings and at the same time and place, and to this perseveringly carrying out of mature plans is mainly due the success that has been realised. In Delhi and its neighbourhood we continue to hold twenty meetings weekly, with an average attendance of about 1,000 people. Similar meetings are held in the district with less regularity. But when suitable men reside improvement is visible, and in some instances they quite equal the city gatherings. These meetings are nearly all held in the open air, and combine the advantages of bazar preaching with the quiet of the chapel. Praise, prayer, singing, and preaching are all used in turn for the instruction and edification of the mixed congregation of Christian and heathen, who thus periodically gather together in the enclosures containing their own houses. Some of our Zenana ladies have helped to make the meetings more useful by their attendance, and gathering up the women in the neighbourhood, who occasionally form a most important part of the audiences.

"SABBATH SERVICES

are held in twelve different places, and also in some smaller villages. The congregations are encouraging, and we are doing all in our power to render these services both regular and effective. The preachers chiefly drawn from the Delhi church are both acceptable to the congregations and increasingly useful in their general Christian influence. The Lord's Supper is regularly observed in six of the churches, and we are arranging to extend the privilege to all.

"BAZAR PREACHING

holds a subordinate place in our labours; on Saturday evenings we usually occupy vacant spaces near the Book-shop Chowry Bazar, Pahar Gunge Bazar, Sudder Bazar, Subzi Mundi Bazar, and Bahram Khan Ki Tiraha.

"We avoid controversy. A bazar fight of words, in which the temper of all parties engaged is put to the greatest strain, thwarts the object of preaching, and cannot aid an inquirer after the truth. If any desire conversation, we respectfully invite them to the mission-house. A Mohammedan Moulvie of note began opposition preaching in front of us, but the people found our singing so much more attractive than his preaching that he was sometimes left without hearers; and I think he has given up the business in despair. Some inquirers are drawn to us by this public proclamation of the Gospel in the streets of the city, and hence, as a means of witnessing for Christ, it has its place and use; but we prefer the quieter preaching in the little enclosures where our meetings are held.

"SCHOOLS

are indispensable in order to the efficient working out of our plans. We have twenty-six boys' schools and 862 scholars, 120 of whom are the children of native Christians. The teachers are all native Christians. Experience has taught us that heathen or Mohammedan teachers would only neutralise our labours, and so we will have none of them. A few boys have, for the first time, passed the lower standard Government examination. Progress is much more rapid than it has been at any former period, and we feel assured we have only to persevere in order to these schools soon becoming a power by which the poor will be raised to a higher social position, and Christianity established among them.

on a fixed plan, and within a well-defined district, necessarily forms an important part of our regular labours. Our stations to the south-east reach to a distance of fifty miles from Delhi. This journey includes ten schools and four small churches. We have tried to visit them either wholly or in part every month. To the north our stations are less numerous, but increasing. To a distance of fifty miles our journeys reach, and we have gone over the ground four times with the most encouraging success. Ten provincial towns are more or less cultivated; and, before the year now commenced is ended, we hope to have schools and preachers in each. During all our journeys we try faithfully to sow the seed of the Kingdom in every village we can reach, and Gospels and tracts are also sold at almost every place visited. The local melas are all visited by a number of our brethren and for days the Gospel is preached and books sold.

"During the year 23 have been baptized, and 27 have died; 14 have been lost by exclusion or removal, and only 9 added; so that the church is decreased in number. This is, however, more apparent than real, as the books have been carefully revised, and some names removed that ought to have been taken out before. The inquirers are numerous, and we could add indefinitely to our numbers; but we prefer to wait for more maturity and clearer evidence."

The following is the report by Dr. Carey on the year's work :—

"If we judge of success by visible results, the year now closing will prove one of the most successful in the history of the Mission. The number of those added to the church by baptism has exceeded that of any previous year, the evangelistic tours have been more frequent, and the places visited more numerous; while the state of the finances is as satisfactory as in previous years. The Sabbath-day services have been held regularly every week, and been well attended. The muster-roll of the boys' school shows a good attendance, while preaching in the bazars and at private houses has been carried on as systematically and as thoroughly as in former years. Further, the work has been carried on throughout the year in peace and harmony. There have been no scandals, no member of the church has been subjected to more than ordinary discipline; and, while there has been much sickness amongst the members, none have been removed by death.

"The mission staff consisted of six paid agents, besides several brethren helping, to the best of their ability, without pecuniary assistance.

"Dividing the work of the Mission into portions, we have—

"1. The Church and Congregation.—Three services have been held regularly throughout the season every Lord's-day—two in Bengali, conducted by brethren from Calcutta, and one in Hindi, conducted by myself. The Hindustani church has a membership of about 60, the services an average attendance of 40. The Bengali church has a membership of about 20, 10 and 15 being the average attendance at the morning and evening services.

"Those baptized this year have numbered 30—5 Europeans and 25 natives, of whom 7 are women. There is now a total of 95 names on the church register of persons baptized. Since 1865, with the exception of three (all Mohammedans formerly), whom there is reason to believe have renounced the faith, most cheering accounts of the consistent walk of all the village converts have been received, while those living at or near Simla live as become those who have put on the Lord Jesus. Not a few of those baptized this season attribute the first impressions received by them to the influence and teaching of those who, years ago, professed faith in Christ in connection with the Simla Mission.

"2. Preaching to the Heathen.—Bazar preaching has been systematically and energetically carried on at various parts of Simla, at Kusumti and Sijowli, a mile distant, and at Jutogh, a military station five miles off. The converts baptized this year attribute their conversion to the preaching of the Word in the bazars.

"During the year seventeen villages have been visited on an average four times each, besides those preached in by the evangelist and colporteurs. The servants of five European families in Simla have been preached to every Sunday throughout the summer, and three servants been baptized this year.

"A company of beggars, from twenty to twenty-five, meet at the chapel every Sabbath afternoon. The beggars are taught texts of Scripture, and to sing Christian hymns in Hindee. None have been baptized.

"District preaching has been carried on vigorously. About 250 villages, within a radius of fifty miles from Simla, have been visited; large numbers of hill people have had the glad message declared to them; and about twenty been received into the church by baptism. Three melas have been attended during the summer. Crowds of people have been addressed at each; and a great number of tracts and Christian books been sold and given away. The total number this year has amounted to 2,538, bringing in the sum of Rs.98-11-0.

"3. Schools.—We have only one school to report this year, that at Jutogh having been temporarily closed. This school has an average attendance of forty boys. The boarding-school in connection with the Mission has had seven boys this summer. Small fees from those whose parents are in such circumstances as justified their being asked for amounted this year to Rs.31-4-0."

BOMBAY.

Pastor of English Church, Vacant.

Poonah is situated in the Presidency of Bombay, in Western India. It has ever been of old the capital of the vast Maharashtra country, and is renowned for being the seat of the ancient government of Peshwa. It still sways somewhat governmental authority, and continues to command considerable power and influence all around. It has been recognised by our British Government, also, as its seat of council, and is to the Governor of Bombay what Simla is to the Governor-General of India.

A large amount of evangelistic work is accomplished in the Poona district, and both Mr. Hormazdji and Mr. Dillon spend a large portion of their time in purely itinerating evangelistic work.

Mr. Dillon writes:—

"Recently, I visited Decksal, in company with Mr. Hormazdji. We engaged in street preaching in the Bazaar, where we had about thirty or forty hearers. We spoke of the new birth—God's love to sinners—and the necessity of seeking for pardon of sin and serving God. We also held services in Marathi and English. The attendance, though small, was encouraging, as the conduct of the hearers was devout and very attentive. Subsequently, I visited Ooroolee with Mr. Hormazdji and Rama. This is a village eighteen miles distant from Poona. We had a good audience in the Government School-room; about fifty were present, including children. Mr. Hormazdji spoke for some time on the love of God and the way of salvation as revealed in the Word of God. We had also a good number (about thirty) to speak to in the Bazaar. Mr. Hormazdji, myself, and Rama spoke here. The subjects of our discourse were, 'Man's sinful state by nature, the necessity of repenting and turning to God, and the way of access to God.'

"At the railway-station we had some private conversation with a young Brahmin student. We found him an intelligent and promising young lad. He conversed freely with myself and Mr. Hormazdji on various points of difference between the Hindoo and Christian religions. We endeavoured to show him the insufficiency of Hindooism to satisfy man's spiritual nature—its local character, and the folly of idolatry. We gave him a tract, and distributed a few more at the station, as well as at the school and Bazaar. From these short accounts, it will be seen that we have great cause for encouragement and thankfulness. We feel that our 'labour is not in vain in the Lord.'"

MADRAS.

Pastor of English Church,

Vacant.

With regard to the work of the Society in Madras, the following resolution of the Committee of the Society will explain why it has been deemed wise to withdraw from that city, and concentrate the forces of the Society upon Bengal and Northern India.

The Committee state that, having had under their serious consideration the Report of their Secretary with regard to the Madras Mission, they have unanimously arrived at the following conclusion :—

"That, having regard to the pressing needs for extension and reinforcement of their missions in Northern India, the long distance of Madras from their nearest station in Bengal, and the consequent difficulty of efficient superintendence, it will be the wisest course for the Society to withdraw from work in that city, specially also in view of the fact that the American Board of Baptist Missions has several agents at work there among the Telegu and Tamil-speaking population."

In accordance, therefore, with this resolution, the work of the Society has been closed in Madras. Mr. Keirnan, the evangelist, who has been labouring as an agent of the Society, has joined the American Baptist Mission at Ongole, and the Society have terminated their connection with Mr. Chowrryappah.

The Committee earnestly hope that the Tamil Baptist Church will be able to maintain their own religious services, and that they will continue to enjoy in the future—as they have so abundantly in the past—the blessing and smile of Almighty God.

CEYLON.

I.—COLOMBO DISTRICT.

Missionary, F. D. WALDOCK.

Pastor of the Pettah Church, Vacant.

Number of members, 102.

From the report of Mr. Waldock the following particulars of the mission are taken :—

"Colombo, the Pettah, and Cinnamon Gardens.

"The pastor, the Rev. T. R. Stevenson, left Ceylon at the beginning of July last. Until arrangements can be completed for getting a new pastor, the services are being well sustained, principally with the assistance of two gentlemen, who, though not formally connected with us, and not 'ministers,' are kindly rendering very acceptable service. There are several candidates and inquirers, an indication of real blessing and revival.

"Grand Pass.—95 members.

"Just as the year was closing, the pastor, our beloved brother Mr. James Silva, was called to his heavenly rest.

"Although for six months of the past year I was compelled to be absent in England, I am happy to be able to say that the school has been kept up, and that the results of the examination show its efficiency has been maintained. Twenty-four girls were examined in six standards, and 91 per cent. of passes were obtained.

"One of our scholars for some years, but who left in the middle of last year, has been baptized, and there are several inquirers; but owing to the death of the Rev. James Silva, who used regularly to hold a Bible-class with the girls, they have not had so much instruction as before; and, though we still have good hopes concerning them, deem it wise to defer their baptism at present.

"We continue to have applications to receive more boarders than we can possibly make room for, and, should funds allow, intend enlarging our school building.

"Hanwella and Weilgama.

"25 members.

"This is one of our oldest stations. It was favoured with lengthened visits by Mr. Daniel. It has for some years been in the charge of Mr. Peter Perera, but his strength was unequal to the requirements of such an extensive district. Therefore, in May last, Mr. Henry de Silva, a son-in-law of the late Mr. James Silva, received it as his first charge.

"Biyamvila.—Mr. J. G. Ratnayeke.

"41 members.

"Five persons have been added to the church by baptism. Amongst these was the only daughter of the pastor, who, though only nine years old, gave such clear proof of love to Jesus that she was gladly received to fellowship. Another is a convert from among the Roman Catholics.

"The day-schools have been creditably conducted, and the Sunday-school has somewhat revived.

"Kotikawatta.—Mr. D. B. Lewis.

"Here a new house for the minister has been built, mainly at the expense of the Mission, but with the assistance of the people. It is a contrast to the unhealthy and uncomfortable one it has superseded, and will, we trust, facilitate our brother's work by contributing to the health of himself and his family.

"Three persons have been baptized. Three members have died. Their faith was shown in cheerful acquiescence in God's will, and trustful committal of themselves and their loved ones to Him; and in some instances had to resist earnest persuasion to have heathen rites performed for their recovery.

"A new Sunday service has been commenced at one of the village schools. This is the more noteworthy as it is sustained by the members themselves. This is the case, also, with the regular evening service at the chapel, when the brethren themselves are accustomed to give addresses, and thus cultivate their gifts.

"Mattakkuliya.—16 members.

"This station also, within the bounds of Colombo, is superintended by Mr. Lewis, who holds a Sunday service at the chapel, and visits the place during the week.

"One of the candidates mentioned in last report has died. Two persons have been admitted to the church by baptism."

"Makéwita.—Mr. J. M. Perera.

"Our brother has not only frequently visited eight villages, which may be called sub-stations, but, less frequently, twenty-five other villages, distant from two to thirty miles from his station. He has, besides, taken part in three evangelistic tours with other brethren. By the help of one of the deacons, a third Sunday service, at one of the sub-stations, has been held; and, through the efforts of a member of Grand Pass Church, who has come to reside in the neighbourhood, a Sunday-school has been opened at another. Of the seven inquirers reported last year, four have been added to the church, and the baptism of another was only prevented by serious illness. His trials have only further proved his faith, and it is hoped that both he and four others will soon be united to the church.

"There are six boys' and three girls' schools, with 416 scholars. Our brother, who has special tact for school management, has paid these about 150 visits, taking every opportunity to speak to the children about the Word of Life.

"Batagama and Hendala.—D. Botéju.

"12 members.

"There are two candidates, who will shortly be baptized. One of these is the teacher of our boys' school, and the other his wife, who was formerly a scholar in our boarding-school. She has since been employed as mistress of a Government school, and is now about to open a new girls' school in the neighbourhood. It is much needed, and will, we quite hope, prove a success.

"Gonawala.—113 members.

"Mr. Ratnayeke, who has this station besides Bryamwila, says that, with the help of B. Piris, his assistant, not only have the regular services and meetings been maintained, but evangelistic work has been carried on more extensively than before.

"One of the members has been removed by death. In her illness she showed steadfast faith in her Saviour, and delight in the prospect of going to be with Him.

"The day-schools, nine in number, with 490 scholars, have kept up well, notwithstanding strong efforts on the part of the so-called Theosophists to undermine them.

"The contributions have fallen off somewhat, and are certainly not creditable to a church with so large a membership; but efforts will be made to increase them, and, it is hoped, will be successful.

"Belunmahara and Henaratgoda.

"Two persons have been baptized. One of these is a young man whose relations are all bigoted Buddhists. His earliest impressions as to the truth of Christianity were received from the lesson-books, from which he was learning in a school not connected with the mission. These admirable books, published by the Christian Vernacular Education Society, and used in all our schools, contain, besides a large amount of general information, much elementary teaching on morals and religion. He has had to bear great opposition from his relatives, but has commended himself to his Christian brethren by his steady consistency, and is shortly to be engaged in opening a new school in one of our villages.

"The people of this district are specially wedded to their superstitions; but a real, though very slow, progress in our work is perceptible."

"Madampe.—Mr. H. M. Perera.

"21 members.

"Our brother has been prevented by illness from giving his annual report. Besides carrying on his usual work, he has taken part in two interesting tours for proclaiming the Gospel.

"One person has been baptized.

"Rayigam Paadun, &c.—9 members.

"Mr. Juan Silva, besides itinerating in his own district, has given occasional help in similar work elsewhere.

Koralawella.—16 members.

"This church, though not a large one, has a special interest, inasmuch as it ministers to its own wants in a primitive fashion, which might well be copied by some of the other churches. During last year, as definite arrangements seemed desirable, I was asked to attend a meeting for that purpose. After due consultation, brethren who were thought to have 'the gift' were chosen as preachers, one of them also to rule, and a deacon. Hitherto the plan has worked well. Besides the services, a Sunday-school, with forty-eight scholars and four teachers, is kept up. Prosperity here is the more to be desired, as it might encourage other churches to help themselves.

"It should be remembered that much more work is done than can be brought into our statistical return. In particular, the plan of itinerating 'two and two' has been pursued, and thereby the Gospel carried to hundreds of villages in various districts. Though, in some, indifference and opposition have been met, yet on the whole the brethren have been encouraged to fresh and wider work.

"The number of members in our native churches in this district is 455.

"During the year twenty-five have been added by baptism. As to the contributions, I am sorry an improvement cannot be reported. We are trying to show our brethren their duty and privilege to give more; but the course of action pursued from the beginning has made it doubly difficult to make them see that 'it is more blessed to give than to receive.'

"Our 38 day-schools have 1,512 boys and 453 girls — total, 1,965 scholars.

"Including Colombo, we have 13 Sunday-schools, with 52 teachers and 571 scholars."

II.—Kandy District.

Kandy.

Missionary, H. A. Lapham.

Number of members, 55.

Mr. Lepham has favoured us with the following report:—

"This year, my first year of mission work, has been one of happiness to myself, although, on account of my ignorance of the native tongue, not one, I fear, of great usefulness to the native community. This deficiency I have laboured hard to remedy, and, through the goodness of God, who has given me uninterrupted health, I am gaining some facility in speaking Singhalese.

"Being debarred, however, from native work, I have devoted a great deal of time to preaching in English in Kandy, Gampola, Matale, and Kadugannawa; in fact, from the commencement of the year till the month of September (when I began Singhalese preaching)—I preached in English twice every Sunday—once in Kandy and once in one of the out-stations. In Kandy this work has not met with encouraging success. At first, the novelty of hearing a new preacher drew together a chapel full of people. This lasted for about a month; then, as newer novelties came on the scene, the inevitable decline came. Kandy is undoubtedly over-crowded with English services, there being no fewer than five English Protestant places of worship, most of them open for two services every Sunday; and as every other denomination provides a minister for Kandy, who devotes himself almost exclusively to English work, the Baptist cause is perhaps the least flourishing.

"During the year I have paid much attention to day-schools. One of the two new schools, authorised by the Committee, I have established at Mahase, near Gampola, and it boasts the largest attendance of any of our schools. The other will be established at Udupahille near Matale in February next. Each of the schools will thus be near a station occupied by a native minister, who will, therefore, be able to pay weekly visits in order to test the results of the daily religious instruction given by the teachers.

"It will be seen, from the Kadugannawa Report, the year has not passed without outward and substantial signs of progress. The neat little chapel at Kadugannawa stands boldly out to the view of travellers by the railway which ascends the famous Kadugannawa Pass, testifying to our denominational vigour in the district.

"The removal of the Rev. C. Carter has been a great loss; but the people of Ceylon still benefit by his arduous labours. A new version of the New Testament was his last work before leaving the island—a glorious conclusion to his twenty-eight years of toil here.

"I cannot close this report without reference to a matter which, in time, must affect considerably the interests of our mission. I refer to the publication of an ordinance disestablishing the English Church in Ceylon. This does not take full effect for five years; but it will then open up a freer field for Nonconformist missionaries."

Kandy Native Church.

Pastor, J. S. Perera.

Number of members, 34.

Rev. J. S. Perera reports:—

"As I had very little work to do this year in assisting Mr. Carter with his translation, I had the opportunity of going to distant places to proclaim the Gospel to the heathen, to distribute tracts, and to preach in many of our stations where we have schools.

"Mr. A. de Silva, of Kadugannawa, accompanied me in many of my journeys to the interior villages of Four and Seven Korales. We have preached the Word to hundreds of people, who listened willingly; and we met with little opposition. I have visited, monthly, the school at Allowwa (thirty miles from Kandy) and that at Korigamana (twenty-three miles from Kandy); also the schools at Hololuwa and Katugastota, each about three miles away. In all these places I read and explained the Word of God to the children, and examined them in their knowledge of the simple truths of Christianity.

"Beside the evangelistic work, I have conducted regularly, in Kandy, the two Sunday services, the Wednesday prayer-meetings, and frequent prayer-meetings in the houses of members of our own congregation. I have preached frequently in the bazaar, and paid regular pastoral visits to every member of our church, administering and helping in every way.

"We have had only one addition to the church by baptism. The number of members is at present thirty-four, of whom only nineteen reside in the town; the rest are in distant places."

Matale Native Church.

Pastor, C. PERIES.

Number of members, 19.

Rev. C. Peries reports :—

"In reviewing my work in this district during the year, I am thankful to my God for manifold mercies received from His hand, and especially for enabling me to carry on my duties, though interrupted by domestic troubles. The pecuniary aid rendered by the brethren has been very small, owing to the privations many suffer through failure of the coffee crops. These trials, however, have not left me dejected, and I have been able, though sometimes with a harassed mind, to attend to the work which God has committed to me. I have frequently visited Rattota, Veragama, Kaludewala, Udugama, Ovilla, Nagolla, Kumbeangoda, Udupahille, and Hulangamana, villages in the Matale district. On Fridays I regularly preach in the Civil Hospital to the patients. On Sundays I preach in the gaol to the prisoners. I go among the people in the town, and, as opportunities occur, preach to gatherings. In all the places I visit I distribute tracts, which go, as silent messengers of the Gospel, where no preachers are found.

"The Singhalese man mentioned in my last report is a candidate for baptism now. Another Singhalese man, formerly a Buddhist, has embraced Christianity; and, in spite of the opposition of his Buddhist relatives, attends our services. Neither of these is yet accepted by the church, but they are kept on probation. I hope to baptize both before long; but we desire not merely to increase our number, but to add genuine believers to the church. With such only are we happy."

Gampola Native Church.

Pastor, C. P. Ranesinghe.

Number of members, 22.

The Pastor reports :—

"I feel exceedingly thankful to God, my Heavenly Father, that it has been His will to keep me in life and in His blessed service for another year. Almost all my fellow-labourers who entered on work with me have already gone to their rest and reward. Of them, the most recently-taken is the late Rev. James Silva, of Grand Pass. We originally belonged to the same church at Matale. We began to preach at the same time—i.e., in the year 1838. Ten years after, we wholly devoted ourselves to the work of the ministry among our countrymen. Ever since, God kept us and helped us both, until the 28th of December last, when Mr. Silva died, and went to receive the crown of glory. In a letter he sent to me, dated February 3rd, 1881, he said :—'I am getting poorer and poorer in strength of body. If I die before you, you will come and preach my funeral sermon from 'The love of Christ constraineth me.' If you die before me, would you like me to preach your funeral sermon? If so, name the text.' In fulfilment of this solemn compact, I went down to Colombo, and preached his funeral sermon at his own chapel on 8th January.

"During the year I have visited fifteen different villages, and distributed over 700 tracts; preached twice on Sundays in the chapel, and three times in the week in private houses in Gampola. Four persons have been admitted to the church by baptism.

"A Kandian young man in Ganbate, to whom I have frequently spoken about religion, has ceased to worship Buddha, and comes to our services. At first he said: 'I will not forsake the worship of my lord Buddha, though one should give me gold heaped up to my height.' I asked him if he thought Buddha was living now. He replied, 'Yes, he is living; and when I bring my offerings and worship him, he accepts me and gives me merit.' I told him that Buddha is not in existence now, but is come to annihilation. This I proved from the books of his own religion, and told him 'it is nothing but folly to expect that he who is not now in existence can accept your worship and reward you.' He asked: 'Does the Christ whom you worship still live?' I said: 'Do you not believe that the God who made the worlds is ever living?' He said: 'Yes, He must be; for all people depend on Him.' I then repeated to him John i. 1-3; 2 Cor. v. 29, to prove that Christ is that God. Since this conversation he has become an enquirer."

Kaduganawa.

Evangelist, Mr. A. de Silva.

Number of members, 5.

Mr. De Silva writes:—

"In connection with the Kaduganawa cause there are three candidates for baptism, and three enquirers. One person, who was last year a candidate, has fallen away.

"This year I have journeyed to Yatanuwara, Udanuwara, Tumpane, Four Korales, Korigammawa, and neighbouring villages; Kewadiwela, Galbadgama, Unulalenia, Kaigalli, Attanagoda, and Utaman-Kanda. I have thus preached the Gospel to nearly 4,000 residents in scattered villages, and have distributed 1,767 tracts. To important person I have given as presents two Bibles and six parts of the Testament.

"During this year a much-needed chapel has been erected in Kaduganawa. The site was given by Messrs. Leechman, of Colombo, and the building designed by the Rev. F. D. Waldock. The opening services held on June 26th were well attended. The regular services, conducted by various friends on Sundays, are attended by about thirty people of various denominations. A Singhalese Sunday-school, conducted by three young men residing in the neighbourhood, is attended by about thirty children. The English Sunday-school, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Thorn, is flourishing."

III.—SABARAGAMAWA DISTRICT.

Missionary, H. R. PIGOTT.

Number of members, 11.

Sabaragamawa is the stronghold of Buddhism in Ceylon. Many of the villages lie near to the foot of Adam's Peak, on the summit of which mountain is the so-called "foot-print" of Buddha, to worship which thousands of pilgrims from all parts of the island visit the shrine annually.

Sabaragamawa in geographical extent covers about one-third of the Western Province; the population is about one-ninth of the whole, or 85,000 out of 776,930; the headquarters of the mission are at Ratnapura (City of Gems), the chief town in the district, containing a population of 3,571, within easy reach of over 200 villages, and a population of nearly 40,000.

Mr. Pigott sends the following report:—

"During the year our work has been carried on steadily. Our Sunday services have been better attended, and the attendance at our Sunday and day-schools has increased. Services in the jail and hospital have been held by our agents regularly. Mrs. Pigott also visits the patients in the hospital. The people are as ready as ever to assemble at the open-air services and to receive the tracts which we distribute. None from this district have been baptized during the year, still our work has not been in vain, for we have reason to believe that some have become Christians, although they may not yet be Baptists. The baptism recorded in our 'tabular statement' is that of a young man—an old pupil of ours—who came from a distant part of the island to be baptized. In July we commenced a new station at Balangoda, an important town situated in the hill country near to the eighty-third mile post, or twenty-seven miles beyond Ratnapura, and contains a population of 1,243. In the immediate neighbourhood of the town there are some forty villages containing a population of over 4,000. Don Daniel—whose report I enclose—is stationed here. In October, accompanied by Mrs. Pigott and my little daughter 'Mary'—who helps us with the singing, and is a very good tract distributor—I made a missionary tour of eleven days into the Balangoda district, reaching as far as the ninety-third mile post. We were very well received by the people. Buddhists and Roman Catholics alike flocked around us to listen to our message and to receive our tracts, 1,300 of which were distributed during the trip. On the Sunday we held two services in the Government school-house, Balangoda; thirty were present at the English service, and thirty-five at the Singhalese. Don Daniel has a very small Sunday congregation, but he has a very interesting Sunday-school of twenty-one boys, chiefly pupils of the Government school there. Markus, after a residence of nine months at Hunagay-Wattie, has returned to labour at Ratnapura, where he is highly respected, and exercises much influence over the people.

"We have to thank you for the grant of £200 sterling towards our new chapel fund. During the month of March we commenced to level the site, which was rather steep, and to prepare stone and other materials for the building. For various reasons our work was kept back, but now Mr. Waldock, our missionary architect, has promised to pay us a visit on the 3rd of January, when we hope to commence to build."

H. Markus' report:—

"From the 1st of January to the 6th of April I resided and worked in Hunagay-Wattie. My district there was triangular in shape, the base being about twenty miles long and the two sides about fifteen miles. While resident there I visited a large number of villages every week. Sundays I spent at Hunagay-Wattie, where I had a congregation of from nine to eleven persons. On the 7th of April I returned to Ratnapura, where I hold services on Sunday in the court-house—congregation, fifteen—and in the jail, where prisoners from thirty to sixty were assembled. I also hold a Singhalese Bible-class at Mr. Pigott's Sunday school in the afternoon. During the week I visit in the town from house to house. I also hold open-air services here and at Tiriwanakettiya, where our congregation numbers from 100 to 200 persons. I also preach in the hospital where from thirty to forty patients are generally to be found. Once a month I visit distant villages, and twice in the month I hold meetings in the town. We have built a temporary preaching-place, as some of the ladies were unwilling to attend at the court-house. The cost of this building is Rs.15 — contributed by our friends here. I consider that our work has been profitable during the present year."

Don Daniel's report:—

"I assumed duties at this station in July last, and during the six months that ended 31st December, 1881, I visited not less than forty-seven villages, preaching the Gospel and distributing tracts.

"There are nine persons in attendance at the Sunday service. The paucity of attendance, I am sorry to say, is due to the influence of certain Buddhists, whose sole aim is to 'hook' out as many as possible into sin and misery. These stand like Satan in my way; consequently, the work that I have undertaken to do among these does not seem to be much progressing.

"There are twenty-one boys attending Sunday-school, and I am glad to say that I am helped a good deal in this direction by the Government schoolmaster.

"I have distributed about 1,010 tracts. Some seem to have a great liking to these little pamphlets, whilst others scoff at them, and do not care to cast a glance at them. However, I hope that these books afford pleasant reading to the few during their leisure hours or time for idleness."

CHINA.

I.—Shansi, North China.

Tai Yuen Fu District.—T. Richard and A. Sowerby.

Number of members, 160.

Mr. Richard writes:—

"1. First, the number of counties gone over is no less than fifty-one. In five more there would have been distribution had it not been that one party of distributors was stopped at one of the customs' barriers. My endeavour is to do with natives what the Chinese Inland Mission does with foreigners, as natives can do it cheaper and more efficiently than most foreigners.

"2. A large number of books were procured, so as to be on sale here. These will be only given away under exceptional circumstances. These are for the education of the officials and literati, who come to us more freely than in any city in China. Schools are often thought worthy objects, though the boys often go back to the farms, or at least become clerks. How much more should we seize the opportunity of teaching those who teach and lead the millions! That they contributed £33 themselves last year is an earnest that soon they will contribute all that is necessary, and still consider themselves our debtors. And if they did not, still it would be our duty to seize every opportunity which God opens for us.

"3. In travelling from Shanghai to Tientsin this autumn I took the deck passage—i.e, the cheapest which any coolie can get. Please remember that between Tientsin and Tai Yuen there is a twenty days' journey. I have been much discouraged in the slow progress of work in this province—four years without converts! The first two years were famine relief work. The last two have been making and translating and distributing books, together with offering prizes on essays on religious subjects. God has enabled me to put books in the hands of the three highest officials in the empire—viz, Li, Tso, and Tseng. I am thankful also that I have had books given me by two friends for distribution amongst the officials of this province. These, with the books which we bought and distributed, have been distributed by me over three-fourths of the whole province once, and twice over one-half of the province.

"The whole province, which is about the size of England, is divided into ten prefectures. These prefectural cities (foos) hold examinations twice in three years. These have not been visited. They will occupy my attention in the coming year.

"We are not without inquirers. When we handed our school over to the Chinese Inland Mission, rather than have two missions doing the same thing, seventeen of the elder boys had declared themselves Christians. When the members of the Chinese Inland Mission divided the county in which we lived we gave them the western part, where over twenty were inquirers; but, through the inexperience of the young missionaries in charge, they were lost. Now, there is a work springing up in a village ten miles off. Six of the men were at our worship last Sabbath, and begged our native helper to go and teach them. I might mention a post-master in this city who has been a regular attendant at worship for the last three years here, and who has committed the catechism, hymn-book, and Psalms to memory. I wish I could tell you of a flourishing church, and a multitude flocking there, but I cannot. It is very trying to work without apparent success. It makes one examine one's method, one's teaching, one's conduct, one's spiritual life, and see if the fault is in one or the other, or in all! Do pray for us when laying a foundation.

"Mr. Sowerby and his sister are now busy at the language. It is a great comfort to have a colleague here who can share some of the work."

Mr White sends the following report:—

"Since my dear wife's death we have had two baptisms, and there are several inquirers. Great interest is manifested at all our services, which are largely attended. My dear wife's death threw a very heavy gloom over our little church, from which it has not yet recovered. Several of the brethren were present at the death-bed, and witnessed the calm and peaceful end of her they had learned to love deeply. The wife of one of the brethren said to me last Sunday, 'I have always had a great fear of death. Before I became a Christian, I would not enter a boat, even to cross a narrow stream, fearing lest it should capsize, and I should be drowned. On becoming a Christian this dread of death was partly removed; but it was not until I saw how bravely Mrs White could meet death, and whenever I remember how she took the children and wished each of them "good-bye," with a loving kiss, I feel there is nothing in death to fear. I often repeat, slowly, the words of Paul, "O death,—where—is—thy—sting? O grave,—where—is—thy—victory?" Then I can almost shout, "Death has no sting—the grave has no victory."' Thus, even in her death, my dear wife was not without fruit. The simple way in which the woman related the matter produced a great effect upon those who were present and heard her."

The Rev W. H. Gamble, from Port of Spain, writes:—

"During 1881 I was absent from Trinidad some four months. The work of the station was not neglected, as the missionary from San Fernando and other kind friends attended to the Sabbath and week-day services.

"Eighteen persons were added to the church by baptism. The attendance at the Lord's Supper shows an increase from an average of sixty-five in 1880 to an average of seventy-three in 1881. There are a few candidates for baptism. It may be said that the church, the Sabbath-schools, and the day-school in Port of Spain are in much the same condition as last year. There is no room for boasting, but abundant cause for gratitude to God for His continued smile and favour.

"Last year there were 130 names on the church-book, but only 114 were returned. This year, though eighteen have been baptized, there are but 118 on the roll. But fluctuation in church membership is not peculiar to Trinidad.

"The work at Chaguanas and McBean's Village has gone on quietly. The chapel, a small one, was opened in May, and the prospect at that time seemed bright.

"At Chaguanas, Mr Patrick has been working steadily. There are some three persons to be baptized shortly.

"Perhaps the pleasing feature of the year 1881 has been the large attendance at our Sabbath evening services. The chapel has filled, and many have stood outside during the service. This fact has induced us to attempt the effort we are now making to enlarge the church. It seems to us that if the church were twice its size it would be filled on Sabbath evenings. We are not so full on Sabbath mornings, and that is to be accounted for by the fact that those who come in the evening are engaged in their duties in the morning. We find no difficulty about the masses or working men attending our services. For this we are very grateful to God, and would humbly pray that He may continue to incline working people to come to hear the truth as it is in Jesus.

"We are deeply indebted to our noble Society for their generous aid in lending us money without interest. Had this plan been objected to we should not have been able to make the enlargement. Chapel building or enlarging is not pleasant work. It interferes sadly with other work, but once or twice in a missionary career it has to be done.

"Our hope and prayer is that God will bless our effort, so that when the church is enlarged it may be filled with devout Christians."

Mr Williams, of San Fernando, reports as follows:—

"The year 1881 will be long remembered by Trinidadians on account of its mortality. During several months in the year a fell disease, generated, as we believe, by an abominable nuisance in the vicinity of San Fernando, has been at work, and several prominent persons—some of them under peculiarly affecting circumstances—have been suddenly hurried by it into eternity. We are thankful, however, to be able to say that not one of our people has been removed by it.

"The chief thing that has told upon our people has been the unpropitious weather, and the consequent failure in the crops. On this account the contributions have fallen off considerably at most of our stations, and all the pastors complain of the 'hard times' they have passed through. In the months of March and June I experienced severe attacks of illness, the effects of which I have felt for some time, and hence I have not been able to do as much work as I would otherwise have done.

"The people at Moruga are very desirous to have their proposed chapel built; but, owing to a lack of means and unfavourable weather, it has not yet been commenced. On a recent visit, when I told them that the Committee had made a grant on their behalf, they were delighted; and I have no doubt the building will very soon be put up and made available for worship, though it may take some time to complete, as no debt is to be incurred if it can possibly be avoided. Brother Cooper has six inquirers, whom he is instructing preparatory to baptism, and there are others apparently anxious about the welfare of their souls; but, except they can be induced to come up to the Fifth Company, and be first married, we cannot baptize and receive into fellowship any of them until the chapel is built and licensed for marriages. When built, services must be conducted in it for a year before it can be licensed, for such is the island law. The services I held there lately in one of the buildings owned by the proprietor of the Henry estate were well attended, and great interest was evinced in the truths preached. Sabbath services and two week-day services are now held regularly by Brother Cooper, and a Sunday-school has been established, which consists of two teachers and nineteen scholars.

"At Montserrat, our other new station, a decided advance has been made, and both preacher and members have done well. Notwithstanding the "hard times" and other adverse influences, there has been an increase in contributions and members, and the little church seems to be instinct with life. At our last quarterly meeting Brother Williams reported as follows :—

"'On Tuesday, the 26th of July last, that memorable day when we had the greatest pleasure in admitting five into full membership who had openly put on the Lord Jesus by baptism, we had a grand time ; the Lord was with us. Our missionary, influenced with Divine power from on high, explained the Holy Scriptures upon believers' baptism with all his power, and made the Word of God very clear to all that were present. I am also happy to say that the brethren here live very peaceably and lovingly together, endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace and in righteousness of life. We hope and trust the Lord will be with us and will bless us, that in the approaching dry season we may have up the frame of our new chapel, with roof and covering of galvanized iron, if nothing more can be done ; and we are truly thankful to the London Baptist Missionary Society for a grant of £50 in aid.

"'We are striving to get on as well as we possibly can but our antagonists are in the field, and are quite busy in doing their best, or their worst, to impede our progress if they possibly can. About a month before our baptism took place the Anglican clergyman of this district called at the house of one of our candidates, who is now a member, requesting himself and his wife to come down to St. Alban's to receive instruction as a preparation for a confirmation which was to take place shortly after. Our brother gently told him that both himself and his wife were now candidates for baptism. To this he replied : "Baptism," by which he meant immersion, "is suitable only for heathens." Our brother said, "Was not our Saviour baptized by John in the River Jordan when He was about thirty years of age? Do you mean to call Him a heathen?" These quietly-spoken words ended the conversation, for away he went in a perfect furor.'

"At the Fourth Company there has been an increase in the congregation, and a considerable increase in the Sunday-school. Throughout the year the pastor has worked well, and the church in this village has excelled the churches in the other villages in the good order and discipline it has maintained. Brother Webb reported as follows :—

"'At the last quarterly meeting, held at the Third Company, our missionary read the third chapter of Revelations, expounded it, and made some remarks on the twentieth verse, which were very suitable and specially interesting for the churches at present. The twentieth verse fixed itself firmly on my mind at the time. On the following Sabbath I took the same for a text, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock, &c."

"'Sabbath services throughout the year have been well attended whenever the weather has been fine. Week-day services have not been so well attended, as many of the people live at some distance from the chapel. The Sunday-school has been going on very well. Brother Moses Harriot is quite zealous in instructing the children. Lately we have started a Bible-class of about twenty to twenty-five young men ; it is conducted by a young brother named H. Edward. There is peace in the church, and our worship has greatly improved. There is not that great and disorderly excitement that used to be formerly, but there is a quietness and solemnity manifested under the Word preached. One backslider has been restored, two have been added by baptism, and on the 27th of November one new convert was received with great pleasure. We have been under the painful necessity of suspending three from Christian fellowship. We have had no death amongst us, though we have had some cases of sickness. Brother J. Harriot has been quite ill throughout the year, and has not been able to perform his duties at Coryal.

"'In the months of June, July, and August the times were severe. There was a scarcity of food on account of a failure in the produce of the soil; no provisions could be had, except such as had to be bought at the shops; there was scarcely any work to be obtained, so that the poor people were in a stricken condition, and this has affected the year's contributions. Brother R. C. Williams and myself have been holding services lately every Thursday evening, when the weather permits, at a house, formerly occupied as a shop, between Williamsville and St. Margarita estates. Our sister, Mrs Warner, was the means of getting this place, and invited us to hold these services. The attendance is from thirty to thirty-five.'

"'The Third Company Church has had an increase of seven by baptism and two by restoration, but has suffered a loss of seven by deaths and exclusions. The services have been well maintained, and there has been a slight increase at the week-day services. When visiting this church I found the congregation much larger at the Sunday morning and afternoon than at the evening services. The contributions have only amounted to £26 8s. 5d. The Sunday-school has increased in number and efficiency, and the state of the church throughout the year has, on the whole, been satisfactory.

"The Matilda Boundary Church has had to reduce the number of its candidates. They had seven, but five of them have been put aside until they give sufficient proof of change of heart; the other two I baptized with others from the Fifth Company. The spirit of strife has existed in this church, but we have reason to believe that it is now extinct. There has been an increase in the attendance. Amongst other things, at our last quarterly meeting, Brother Floyd said:—'In the church at Matilda Boundary, during the greater part of the year, we had much opposition, and very little progress could be seen. A change, however, has taken place, and during the last months a decided improvement is visible. On the first Sunday of this month we had a very good time, and it has increased my desire to go on, and try my best to do all I can for the advancement of the Gospel, and I feel confident some good will be done if we faint not.'

"Concerning New Grant, or the First Company Church, I am glad to say that a pastor has been found for it. Brother Thompson, who formerly ministered to it for years, has been re-appointed to the work; and although no report has come to hand, giving an accurate description of the state of affairs, yet I can say that progress is being made, for I have heard of several restorations and inquirers, and Sunday services are now being held regularly as before.

"The Fifth Company Church, and the one at Matilda Boundary, have suffered most from the 'hard times,' so that the contributions have been small at both places. In the Fifth Company five have been added by baptism, and there are at present seventeen inquirers. The pastor has worked well, and his congregation has increased. When handing in his statistics, he said: 'Since our last quarterly meeting we are going on steadily, holding forth, as usual, Christ and Him crucified. And since we last met I have endeavoured to get all the members to contribute according to their ability, giving ample time for them to do so. Twenty-one did not obey the church rule, so that I was forced to remove them from fellowship until they did their duty. It was a solemn thing to do, but, considering all things, we could not do otherwise. On the 6th of November, in the afternoon, after service, I went to see a sick sister in the Carapond district, some brethren accompanying me, and we held a prayer-meeting with her. During the service many of the settlers came and filled the house, so that I was induced to appoint a service to be held in the same place on the following Sunday. Several of the members accompanying me, I found a large congregation on my arrival at the place. We commenced the service by singing, and one brother offered up prayer. Then I read the fourth chapter in the Epistle to the Ephesians, sang a few verses of the 100th hymn, and preached from the nineteenth chapter of Luke, on the passage extending from the first to the tenth verse. The Spirit descended, and we had a time to be long remembered. We gained one soul, and now she is set apart as a candidate for baptism in January.'

"The membership in the Sixth Company has increased from seventy-four to seventy-eight, and the pastor spoke of the encouragement he had received to continue his labours. Despite the bad times, the people out of their poverty have ministered to his wants. Peace and brotherly love exist and have existed in the church throughout the year. The attendance at the Sunday services has, on the whole, been satisfactory, but at the Sunday-school there has lately been a decrease.

"San Fernando and its sub-stations have passed through their 'hard times' too, though not so much in a pecuniary sense, or in respect to the necessities of every-day life as in other respects. In San Fernando the sum contributed has exceeded that of last year; and, averaging the sum, I find it amounts to £1 10s. per member, and yet none of our people are wealthy, or in very comfortable circumstances. But we have had a decrease of two in membership during the year; the attendance has not been so good as last year's was, and we have had no additions by baptism. We have lost three by dismissal to Port of Spain, and were it not for such losses we would, numerically, be much stronger to-day. One backslider has been restored, and there are a few inquirers. My own illness, the demands of the country stations on my time and attention, and my absence from San Fernando two Sundays in each month during Mr. Gamble's absence from the island, may account for the decrease in the attendance.

"At Monkeytown two inquirers have been removed by death; and they have departed, I believe, with a well-founded, loving faith in the Saviour. Since the recent compulsory Sunday closing of the rum shops in this village there has been a marked improvement in the attendance at our Sabbath services. One of our people lately remarked to me: 'It looks like Sunday since the shops have been closed; the drunkard's revelry on the Lord's-day has ceased to exist.' At St. John's we have one fully prepared for baptism."

Mr. Wilshere reports as follows:—

"New Providence—Nassau.

"The attendance at Zion has not been so good this year as is desirable, the excuse being the exceeding poverty of our members; but, on the other hand, the Sunday-school has greatly increased in earnest attendance and discipline. The efforts of teachers and superintendent have been crowned with success; six have been baptized from the school this year. The convenience of the new school-room for baptisms was warmly approved on the last Lord's day in the year.

"Fox Hill.—The friends here are now earnestly endeavouring to shingle the chapel; they have obtained nearly £20 for this purpose, and I trust next year will see their desire accomplished. There have been no additions to membership.

"Adelaide.—Our aged brother still holds his post, but nowhere is there greater poverty than here; they can do very little for support of Divine worship. One baptized.

"Eleuthera.

"On my visit to the churches I was gratified with the better order and discipline in the churches. I held services, baptized, and administered the Lord's Supper on my visit.

"San Salvador.

"The continued illness of the native pastor has had a lamentable effect on the churches. So far as possible, I paid visits and gave the ordinances on my visit, but the dissatisfaction is great. At a conference it was agreed that six months of rest should be granted Mr. Bannister, after which some new definite step must be taken. The friends at Free Town are getting on well with their new building. At Bennett's Harbour nine were baptized.

"Rum Cay and Watlings.

"The person appointed to assist our aged Brother Hall having proved most unsuitable, these churches are now practically without oversight. I strove on my visit to encourage a spirit of mutual helpfulness, but the utter failure of the salt trade and grinding poverty renders the members powerless in many respects.

Long Cay, Crooked and Acklin's Islands.

"Our Brother Green is active in the service of the Gospel in these stations, and the year's return is a fairly hopeful one. The scattered churches are often difficult of access, and he deserves great praise for the exertions of the past year. I regret to say the chapels in these islands are all in bad repair, and the spirit shown in 'zeal for God's house' in other islands is not seen at all here. During the year the churches have suffered from the drought and also a visitation of small-pox.

"Inagua.

Accompanied by the Rev. R. Dunlop, M.A., I had the pleasure of his eloquent assistance at the various meetings held during my visit. The church is still under the care of our Brother Whylie, who is helped by other friends in his absence. There is great need of immediate settlement of a trained pastor, and with an earnest man much good might be done, especially among the young. The great and continued depression in the salt trade, and the unhappy truck system prevailing here, renders it very difficult to find money for religious purposes, but the presence of an earnest worker would have a great effect upon the morale of the church and people.

"Ragged Island.

"I have not been able to go to this station this year. Our Brother Maycock has to mourn the loss of a son by drowning. From all I gather, the church is in health and peace.

"Long Island.

"This island also I could not visit, although we had sighted it, and hoped to do so. Our vessel can only enter one harbour, and this we could not spare time to reach. The brethren write hopefully on the whole, and I purpose paying my first visit in the spring, if God permit.

"Exuma.

"The churches are still as sheep without a shepherd. On my visit we were able to land at one church; but, after three days' waiting, the claims of Nassau made it imperative I should return. The reports are fairly good.

"Andros.

"I have visited the churches on this island by three trips, returning to Nassau for the Lord's-day. I am greatly pleased with the increase at Staniard's Creek, where we had a most refreshing series of services, also with the progress of the chapel at Nicholl's Town; but I regret that at his last visit south our esteemed Brother Watkins nearly lost his life in a gale, and is very ill from exposure and hardship. He has a very arduous work, and the offerings for his labours are not enough to prevent starvation.

"The property on which the old and new chapel at Long Bay Cays are built I have this year bought for the Society. The discipline is fairly good in most churches.

"Bahama, Bimini, and Abaco.

"An account of my voyage and the opening of the new chapel at Bimini has been published in the Herald. The other two islands I have not been able to visit, as I was compelled to be in Nassau four months of 1881, to direct in the alterations of chapel and erection of school-room.

"I cannot close this brief review without special thanks to the Committee and dear friends in England for great kindness shown this year. A grant of tracts (£10) also from the Religious Tract Society has been of great benefit to the mission.

"During the year the A. H. Baynes has travelled in straight courses 2,160 miles; we have encountered three severe gales, but, although other vessels larger than ours have been seriously damaged (some persons, unfortunately, have been drowned), the yacht has been preserved, and the lives of the missionary and of the crew mercifully spared. I am aware that interest in this field must give way before the romance of undiscovered lands, but that does not render our necessities less urgent, or the difficulty and danger less real. Praying that these matters may be continually remembered by the churches, and that they may never be 'weary in well doing,' I commend this sketch to their thoughtful perusal."

Mr. Gammon sends the following report:—

"PEURTO PLATA.

"Number of members, 38.

"The year just closed threatened for some time to be barren of any progress to figure in statistics; for several months there appeared to be scarcely any spiritual life in the church, and our hearts were growing sad as we thought of the months of sowing without any visible result. However, 'man's extremity is God's opportunity,' and just as we were beginning to despond, our gracious Master, true to His promise, gave us proofs of His presence in our midst; and on Christmas evening, as a result, we had the pleasure of baptizing seven candidates upon a profession of their faith in Christ—of these three were young men, who will, we trust, prove consistent and useful members. Thus, by slow degrees, the work is advancing; the realisation of our hope of seeing a prosperous and vigorous mission established in this Republic often seems far distant, so that we need to pray for faith, patience, and perseverance; nevertheless, the Lord does not leave us without some tokens of blessing.

"The increase in the Sunday-school, though small, is an increase, the average attendance of scholars for the last three months having been fifty, against an average of forty the previous year.

"On Monday afternoons we hold a Band of Hope for the young people, and Mrs. Gammon conducts the singing; in this there are ninety-one members. Our Bible class, which we commenced in the early part of the year, numbers forty-two members, the average attendance having been thirty-one from April to December 30th.

"On the part of many there is manifest a spirit of inquiry, which we hope will continue and deepen into settled conviction of the truth as it is in Christ Jesus.

"The former conquerors of this beautiful island, unlike the ancient Romans, paid little or no attention to the art of road-making, and the present race on it have not advanced in this phase of civilisation; consequently, it is impossible to travel any distance in many parts during the rainy seasons. For this reason we have been unable to visit the country stations for some time; however, a road is now in course of construction between Peurto Plata and Santiago, a city in the interior forty miles.

"CABARETE.

"Number of members, 25.

"This church has not yet regained its former condition, morally or spiritually; we have baptized one candidate during the year, and hope soon to report an improvement in vital godliness.

"MUNOS.

"Number of members, 4.

"At this small station our work has been progressing fairly well. The small chapel would have been completed had not the Government called up the young men for military service; however, the Governor has lately given our most active young man out there a paper freeing him from serving as a soldier. Worship has been conducted regularly, and there are now a few inquirers who wish to be baptized.

"On the 4th of November we buried our old and respected leader at Munos, John Jones, who died at the advanced age of 105 years, after many years of active service for his Master in the midst of a superstitious people."

Mr. Pusey writes as follows:—

"Our society has been in a spiritually growing condition during the year. Our services were of a cheering nature, and this fact encourages our hearts.

"We have not been able to do much in a financial way, owing to the depressed state of trade throughout the year.

"At Grand Turk we are busy preparing materials for the repairs of the old chapel. We have had two baptismal services here during the year, the latter on Christmas day. It was a season of much blessing, particularly when we consider that many who have given themselves to God had been entire strangers to Him. To God be all the glory! Baptized eighteen.

"At Salt Kay we have done a little repairs in shingling and the hanging of windows, &c. We regret we could not do more, our means being limited. We hope ere long to re-erect the belfry that was thrown down since the hurricane of 1866. The people are poor, but willing. Our work is on the increase. Baptized eight.

"At East Harbour our chapel was indeed small, affording no accommodation for the many that flock to it from time to time. We have begun to enlarge it by adding two wings to the present roof. The work is going on hopefully. Here we have the constant manifestation of the Master's presence in our midst. I think a good day-school teacher would be a blessing to this little island. This station is rapidly increasing. Members of other denominations adopt our principles, and two have already publicly given themselves to Jesus Christ. Baptized twelve.

"The state of the Lower Caicos churches is progressive. We have had baptismal services and restorations at nearly all of the stations, and with few exceptions the members abound in the work of the Lord.

"On the whole, we bless God for the past and trust Him for the future."

JAMAICA.

I.—JAMAICA BAPTIST UNION.

From the Thirty-second Annual Report the following extracts are taken :—

"Last year our statistical tabular showed that there were 126 churches reckoned as constituents of the Union, including three churches then received. But it was stated that some then included would not again appear on the tabular should no reports be received. Accordingly, five churches, having failed to send reports, have been omitted from the roll this year—viz., Port Royal, Mount Olivet, Galloway, Whitfield, and New Lionel. Besides these, one number appears to have been placed on the tabular last year in error, so that the number of churches is thus reduced to 120. Of these nine have sent no returns, eight of which last year reported a membership of 1,059.

"In 83 of the reporting churches there have been additions by baptism during the year, and in 28 no baptisms are reported. In 97 churches there have been restorations, and in 14 none. Fifty-seven of the churches report a net increase, and 45 report a net decrease. The following are the particulars :—

"There have been additions to the churches—

By Baptism	... ...	1,775
,, Restoration	... ...	801
,, Receival	... ...	365
giving a total gross increase of		2,941
The losses have been—
By Death	... ...	629
,, Exclusion	... ...	1,071
,, Dismissal	... ...	292
,, Withdrawal	... ...	71
,, Erasure	... ...	370
being a total gross loss of	...	2,433

and showing a total net gain of 508, being at the rate of a little more than two per cent. on the reported membership.

"It may be observed that the additions by baptism are smaller than those of the previous year by 619, though above the average for the past ten years by 316 ; that the losses by death have been more numerous than in any year during the same period, while the exclusions have reached nearly the same painful number as last year, and have been nearly 300 above the average for the last ten years.

"Further, it may be remarked that if the increase reported in connection with five churches, which at the present time happen to be under one pastor, and which have received unusually large additions during the year, be taken away, then the remaining 106 churches will have barely maintained their position.

"The total membership reported in the 111 churches is 25,900, but eight of the non-reporting churches returned 1,061 members last year, which would bring up the total to 26,961 members in connection with all the churches."

"Taking such reports as have come to hand, a careful perusal of them shows that about twenty-eight of them may be regarded as of a discouraging character, about twenty are hopeful, and the remainder are of a more mixed character.

"If we have occasion to regret a diminution of prosperity, it is but right to observe that the reports show that the past year has been one of very considerable difficulty. The majority of the reports speak of 'poverty,' 'straitened circumstances,' and 'distress' as largely prevailing among the people.

"There has been a general complaint of shortness of money throughout the island. The effects of the cyclone of August, 1880, the prevalence of drought in some districts, and the want of remunerative labour in others, are the chief causes given to account for the widespread poverty.

"Such circumstances, as is well known, do not, as a rule, foster the growth of religion or the development of piety. In some cases churches speak of many of their able-bodied members being compelled to leave the island to seek employment elsewhere. A strange anomaly this in an island where we are often told that labour is scarce! We would fain hope that more prosperous times may soon dawn upon the lands.

"Results.

"We look more especially at the inquirers' roll to ascertain the results of the work of the year in the ingathering of souls. The additions by baptism during the year are supposed to be chiefly drawn from those who were returned as inquirers in the previous year. For the year 1880 there were 4,922 returned as inquirers. Last year there were 4,096 so returned, showing a decrease of 826 who are professedly seeking after salvation.

"In one district of the island, and in connection with the labours of one brother, a somewhat remarkable work has been going on, concerning which the report says: 'This year has been one of special and unprecedented blessing. The members of the churches—five in number—appear to have been first awakened, and the result has been the baptism of 410 persons during the year, and 281 are reported as seeking after salvation. It is considered that there is clear and "convincing proof" that this has been a genuine work of spiritual awakening, and not mere excitement or revivalism. There is said to have been a decided strengthening and deepening of the spiritual life of the church members; while a large number of both young and old have given up drink, fine dress, shop debts, and such things, and an earnest, quiet spirit of devotedness and zeal has been called into exercise.' Such an exceptional state of things in one district of the island may fairly challenge attention. If one fleece is wet with the dew of heaven, may not all obtain the blessing?

"Though the year has been one of straitness in a pecuniary sense, a considerable amount of building work has been done at some of the stations.

"At East Queen Street, Kingston, £190 have been expended on repairs and improvements, and every penny paid. At Mount Pleasant £80 have been spent on the new chapel, and at Tranquility much free labour has been given in a similar work. At Thompson Town the mission-house has been nearly completed. At Brown's Town £70 have been spent on repairs and improvements. The chapel at Hastings has been shingled and seated. The mission-house at Lucea has had repairs, at a cost of £60. At Fullersfield about £300 have been expended on repairing and greatly enlarging the mission-house. The Montego Bay Second Church has had the great satisfaction of paying off the last £80 of debt on their chapel, which was erected six years ago at a cost of over £1,900. And the First Church in the same town has expended about £80 on chapel repairs.

"Last year it was reported that twenty-five of our chapels had been destroyed by the cyclone of August, 1880. Two of these, at Sligoville and Prospect, are reported to have been rebuilt. Two others, at Hephzibah and Coultart Grove, are being rebuilt, but in reference to the others little or nothing appears to have been done. The church at Prospect speaks gratefully of having received a grant of £133 from the 'Cyclone Committee,' to assist in the work. It would be well if other churches could take steps to participate in the benefits of the fund, which was raised by the noble generosity of Christian friends in England for the purpose of meeting this emergency. The heartiest thanks of this Union are due for this renewed proof of British sympathy and love.

"Deaths.

"Our statistics show that more than 600 of the members of the Church militant have been transferred, we trust, to the ranks of the Church triumphant. Some reports speak of the deaths having been unusually numerous, and express thanks for the faith and hope exhibited by some of the departed in their closing hours.

"Some useful and tried workers have been removed from the churches. Yet we have to express thanks that so few of the prominent workers have been removed.

"Nevertheless, we have to place on record the names of some to whom it is our sorrowful duty, as a Union, to pay the last tribute of affection and esteem.

"On September the 8th, the Rev. Thomas Gould, pastor of the churches at Clarksonville and Mount Moriah, was taken from his work to the eternal rest. Mr Gould first came to Jamaica early in the year 1843, and was engaged in Christian work at Bethtephil. In 1845 he removed to Staceyville, where he laboured for a few years, and afterwards became pastor of the church at Four Paths. In 1854 he took charge of the churches of Waldensia and Unity, where he continued to labour till 1860, when he was necessitated to remove to England on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Gould, who died in 1861.

"Late in the year 1879 he returned to this island; and, on the retirement of the Rev. J. M. Dennlston from the pastorate, Mr Gould took charge of the churches at Clarksonville and Mount Moriah. He was happy amongst his people, and looked forward to some years of useful labour; but the Master willed it otherwise.

"On Thursday, the 8th September, he passed peacefully away to receive his heavenly reward. 'Gathered into the heavenly garner, as a shock of corn fully ripe.'

"Though occurring since the close of the year now reported on, we cannot fail to record with mournful feelings the death, in his eightieth year, of the Rev. Walter Dendy, of Salter's Hill, which event took place on January 23rd in the present year. Mr. Dendy was the oldest surviving missionary of our denomination. He arrived in Jamaica early in 1832, and thus for the long period of half-a-century was spared to render distinguished services to our churches and to the island.

"While ever an earnest and faithful minister of the Gospel, Mr. Dendy was distinguished as an active and enlightened philanthropist. His efforts on behalf of the education of the young were well known and productive of much good. He was often the advocate of social reforms which were in advance of the time; but he lived to see many of them either accomplished or inaugurated, and to rejoice in the benefits arising from them. He was the first mover in the agitation for the separation of Church and State in Jamaica, and to him belongs the honour of having presented the first petition to the House of Assembly on the subject. He sincerely rejoiced when the agitation ended in the triumph of religious liberty. The perfecting of the postal service of the island, the establishment of a system of registration of vital statistics, and other matters relating to the general advancement of the island have, doubtless, been largely aided by his patient, persevering advocacy, and by the large amount of information placed by him before the Government and the general public.

"In the year 1878, in consequence of failing strength, Mr. Dendy retired from the pastorate, but continued to live at Salter's Hill, and to the very last he evinced the most lively interest in all the affairs of the mission.

"By his extensive and valuable correspondence, which was remarkable for the amount of information supplied on matters of denominational history, and by his frequent liberal gifts, he did much to help on the work which he loved so long and so well.

"Mr. Dendy's strength gradually declined, and for some months he was too weak even to write. He waited patiently for the change, relying simply on the merits of the Redeemer whom he had known and served so long.

"At the last he passed away without a struggle or a sound. 'After he had served his own generation by the will of God, he fell on sleep.'

Calabar Baptist College.

President, D. J. East.

Normal School Tutor, J. S. Roberts.

East Queen Street Church.

Pastor, Rev. D. J. East.

The following extracts are taken from the Annual Report of the Calabar College:—

"The health of both tutors and students has been such as not to occasion any serious interruption to class work, which has been kept up with regularity throughout the year.

"The chief difficulty has arisen from the low educational status of most of the candidates admitted. It is the earnest desire of the committee to obtain in both the theological and the Normal School departments a class of young men who, before their admission to the College, have made higher attainments in preparation for it. And they would earnestly urge this upon the consideration of ministers and churches.

"The theological class has numbered five students, and the Normal School fourteen. The majority in both departments were admitted at the commencement of the session; in the theological, four out of the five. While giving encouraging hope of their making useful ministers of the Gospel, yet, having had few educational advantages, the studies of two of these have been mostly confined to elementary subjects in the Normal School. The studies of the other three were as follows:—In systematic theology, the president's lectures on the doctrine of the Trinity and the work of Creation; in the Bible hand-book, two chapters on the books of the Bible, from Genesis to Job; in Scripture history, from the Creation to the giving of the Law; in the English tongue, etymology; in Latin, Dr. William Smith's grammar. These students have also attended the Normal School tutor's classes in algebra and natural science. The president's class in Scripture history was attended by all the Normal School students.

"The theological students have been engaged on the Lord's-day in Christian work, according to a plan which comprises five stations in various districts of the city—Allman Town, Fletcher's Land, Brown's Town, Victoria Town, and West End. At these stations small district Sunday-schools have been conducted, and open-air preaching services have been held. In these evangelistic labours they have had the co-operation and assistance of the Normal School students. The senior theological students have also rendered occasional pulpit services to the congregations meeting at Spanish Town, Mount Charles, and Rose Hill.

"The following is the Normal School Tutor's Report of his particular department:—

"'Sixteen students have pursued their studies during the year in this department, including the two junior theological students. The three senior theological also have worked with the classes in science, mathematics, physiology, and history. Of the fourteen Normal students proper, six have taken the final year's course, and have completed their training; two have taken the second year's work, and the six others the classes of the first year's. Besides the class studies in school management and method, the usual routine of practical work in the model day-school has been pursued. All the students have attended the chemistry and science lectures of Professor Bowery, at the Jamaica Institute, with marked advantage.

"'The six students who have closed their studies have already taken charge of schools. Mr. Marson, from Brown's Town, has become the master of the school at Montego Bay, under the Rev. C. Brown; Mr. Hall, from Salem, the school at St. Ann's Bay, under the Rev. T. Griffiths; Mr. Jump, from Bethephil, the school at Hastings, under the Rev. W. D. Henderson; Mr. Ellis, from Salter's Hill, the school at Springfield, under the Rev. Thos. Hutchins; Mr. Anderson, from Bethel Town, the school at Barney Side, under the Rev. P. Williams; and Mr. Spence, from Bethel Town, the school at Ocho Rios, under the Rev. T. G. Griffiths.

"'It is believed these young brethren will prove to be good, earnest workers, and will make successful teachers. The committee would here note their inability to meet the numerous applications for teachers, and most earnestly urge attention on the part of ministers and managers of schools to the regular supply of candidates.'

"The report of the day-school, which is the training-ground of the Normal School students, is as follows:—'82 new scholars were received between January and December. The highest number on the books was 189 boys and 65 girls—total, 254. The average attendance from January to December was 103 boys and 34 girls—total, 137. The school fees amounted to £35 8s.

"'The school was inspected by the Government Inspector-in-Chief, Thos. Capper, Esq., and the Assistant-Inspector, George Hicks, Esq., who awarded to it fifty-eight marks. Some of the most advanced scholars were removed during the year to Woolmer's. The school expenses during the year amounted to £32.'

"The committee have specially to report upon the five students received on the foundation of the Taylor Trust Fund at the commencement of the session. They have industriously pursued their studies in the several subjects assigned to them in common with those on the general foundation of the College. At midsummer the President had the pleasure of sending to the trustees of this fund specimens of the work of these five young men in mapping and arithmetic. These were duly acknowledged, with expressions of interest and satisfaction. And this committee have hereby to convey their thanks to these gentlemen for the payment of the annual grant of £100 from the fund at their disposal.

"The committee have to report that the College premises have been undergoing extensive repairs, rendered absolutely necessary by the serious damages done by the floods of October, 1879, and the cylone of August, 1880. The premises were in need of general repairs previously, but these calamities greatly aggravated the necessity; indeed, had they not been done, some of the buildings must have fallen.

The cost of these extensive repairs has been between £500 and £600. Of this sum the President, when in England, collected £300, and the Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society made a grant of £250. The Juvenile Missionary Society of Myrtle Street, Liverpool, to which the College is so much indebted for generous help, made a special grant of £10; and a valued friend, Miss Alsop, kindly sent a donation of £5, making a total of £565. A further sum of about £50 is still needed.

"A widening sphere is opening for the employment of the agency which the College aims to educate and train. Two of its students have now for some years been successfully engaged as missionaries in Hayti, under the auspices of our Jamaica Baptist Missionary Society; and one is acting as assistant-missionary in Turk's Island, in connection with the Baptist Missionary Society in England. The latter society is desirous of obtaining from among those who are or have been 'Calabar' students a further supply of agents, both as missionaries and as schoolmasters, for their stations in the West Indies; while the hope is still indulged that men of God, willing to endure hardness in the service of Christ, may yet be found in our Jamaica churches to aid in the evangelistic work to which the opening up of the vast continent of Africa is offering such encouraging inducements."

Evangelist, C. H. RICHARDSON, in England.

Mr. Thomson writes as follows :—

"The year just closed has been more than usually one of trial and disappointment. At the close of 1880 Mr. and Mrs. Lyall went from us to seek restoration to health in England; they had been here but twelve months, and their departure was both unexpected and disappointing. Two months had hardly passed when a serious accident occurred in Cameroons, which almost cost Miss Saker's life, and which ultimately necessitated her return to England. Mrs. Dixon, the wife of the school teacher, before she had completed three weeks in the country, took alarm, and, fancying she could not live here, insisted on returning to England. Mrs. Thomson's health, after nearly five years without change, was so completely broken down that she also was compelled to return to Europe.

"Thus weakened, we were rejoiced to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Lyall out again in July; but, after a brief period of ten weeks, we were called upon to mourn Mr. Lyall's death, and Mrs. Lyall returned to England; and then, before the year closes, Mr. Richardson breaks down, and has to be removed from Bakundu on his way to Europe. Our staff having been so greatly and continuously reduced, heavier burdens have been thrown upon those left, and nothing could be attempted beyond the ordinary station work; while plans for extension and exploratory journeys, often arranged for, have been obliged to wait in abeyance, and now completely shattered health will, I fear, delay the carrying of these plans out for at least another year. For the greater part of their time Mr. Dixon, of Victoria, and Mr. Shred, of Cameroons, have suffered so much from acclimatising fevers that their help has not been available to the extent we may justly anticipate in the future. Mr. Dixon, especially, is becoming so used to the climate and accustomed to the work that his help is becoming increasingly valuable. Miss Comber, who came out to take charge of the girls' school at Victoria, has had remarkably good health, and has been of very great assistance, enabling me to spend a considerable portion of time at Cameroons.

"The work of the mission—teaching and preaching—has been steadily kept up during the year at each of the stations. The Victoria Schools are the most prosperous. There are 120 scholars in regular attendance, including boys, girls, and infants. This is not a fancy number of names entered on the roll, but actual daily scholars. I have asked Mr. Dixon and Miss Comber each to furnish a short report, which shall be enclosed.

"As regards meetings, attendance at services, and the increase to the church, Bethel Station, Cameroons, has maintained a pre-eminence throughout the year. The chapel is always full on the Sunday afternoon, and much better filled in the morning than it was at the early part of the year. But the most pleasing feature in Cameroons is the out-station work, carried on by the young men of the church voluntarily.

"Having had much to do with Cameroons during the whole of the past year, I have watched with great interest the quickened spirit, the readiness to hear, and the turning of the town people to the Gospel. There has been nothing out of the way in the means used. There have been no special efforts from outsiders. To my mind this is simply the fulfilment of the promises of God's Word."

Miss Comber reports as follows with regard to the school at Victoria:—

"I think I may fairly say that the children of our school are improving; we have eighty-two girls and infants. I cannot say that our numbers are increasing, because all the children who live in Victoria are compelled to come to school; so, unless the number of inhabitants increased, the number of scholars could not do so. When I first commenced work here I found teaching frequently brought on fever, but now I am becoming acclimatised, and very seldom have it. Some of the children are particularly bright and quick at learning; most of them are anxious to learn. We have a good many difficulties to contend with. I think one of the greatest is that few of the children live with their parents, but they act as servants to the people of the place; they fetch them water from the brook, wash their clothes, &c., and thus are very useful, and the people do not like to spare them, even for a few hours a day. We, therefore, have a great deal of trouble to obtain regular attendance. In cases where the children live with their parents it is altogether different, and we have no trouble at all in this matter. During the rain season we are sometimes compelled to stop our schools, as the children have so little clothing. I think, on the whole, we may consider that the labour of the year has been successful. We feel that we greatly need the prayers of our friends in England. I hope that a few of the children have given their hearts to Jesus, and several others are inquiring their way to Zion."

The report of Mr. Dixon is as follows:—

"Your boys' school at this station is giving me considerable encouragement and satisfaction, both as regards conduct and attainments. In secular subjects the writing on slate and paper is very good. The arithmetic is worked zealously, and rapid strides have been made. Reading is not so forward as the two former subjects, but is improving. Spelling is good throughout, and is a very promising subject. The first elements of geography and grammar have been taught successfully. Singing on the tonic-sol-fa method is progressing. Drawing is good. With regard to Scripture teaching, a short Bible lesson is given every morning, which, with singing and prayer, forms the opening exercises.

"The order and discipline throughout the year has been most satisfactory. I commence 1882 with forty scholars."

Of the station at Bakundu on the interior side of the Cameroon mountains, Mr. Richardson reports as follows:—

"The year just closing to-day has been one of some considerable changes, although not such changes as would be most gratifying to us. The Lord has ever been gracious to us, and in all His providences we have had occasion to rejoice. We have had also much to encourage us in the progress which has been apparent to us, and we doubt not that much good is unseen by us. We began the year by putting a new roof on the main mission dwelling, and had hoped during the year to get up a clay school-room and meeting-house, as the old building in use was very much the worse for wear, but a combination of circumstance delayed this. We still use the old building.

"We have had regular services on the Sabbath, and preaching on Thursday evenings. To these meetings the attendance has not been as good as last year; yet there has been more regular attendance and more signs of real life, and we have some, who attend generally, and with whom we have talked, we regard as hopeful cases. We have been somewhat encouraged by a little interest in their books by some, yet we find to get them on to apply themselves to this work is most difficult. The attendance has been small, yet we are not discouraged. Many have desired us, towards the close of the year, to take their little children, a thing they have not always been willing to do. We have not felt able to take them, both for want of means and room. We have hoped we might get on with building, and be enabled to get some more under our immediate care.

"During December I was taken ill, and was so dangerously so that we sent for Mr. Q. W. Thomson, who kindly hurried to our aid, and by his wise action turned the tide of complaint, removing me to Bethel Station, Cameroons, where I write this letter. I have here become much improved, but far from well. It was a sore trial to quit Bakundu just now, when signs of blessing from a few sources at least were so good. Yet we bow to the will of Him who can bring more blessing by our coming than by our staying if He wills. Our prayer is that our God, who heard Hezekiah when he turned himself against the wall upon his bed, praying the Lord, who added to his years, will return us to our work, lengthening our missionary life."

Mr. Fuller has provided the following report:—

"The year has passed away and gone, and we in mercy are still spared, an honour and mercy we cannot be sufficiently grateful for. Many have been the dark clouds through which we have been called to pass, but none but what has been tinged with kindness and tenderness.

"Death has passed through our ranks, and carried off our devoted Brother Lyall, one whom we had hoped would have been spared to us. Other disappointments have met us, and, what with sickness, we have had our share; but God has been very good to us through it all, and given us fresh tokens of His blessing.

"On Christmas morning I baptized, at Mortonville, eight persons, three from Dibombari, and one from Jabari. With the former three, we have added to our number eleven this year, making the number of members sixty-one in all. We have had but one death amongst our members, and one inquirer, both of whom gave testimony of their faith in Jesus.

"Our services at Mortonville have been well attended, and the school encouraging. The native preacher, John M. Diboll, has given me to hope good things of him in the future. The other teachers are going on well, except a little negligence on the part of the one at Jabari.

"My Dibombari young man seems to be of the right stamp, and God is richly blessing him in his work. We had nine inquirers there; three of the number have now joined the church, and of the remaining six, one is the chief of the place, who has put away his wives, and I hope to marry him to one when I visit them again in a few days. We have a good inquirers' class at Mortonville, and a good Sunday-school.

"At Bethel, on New Year's Day, I baptized fourteen persons. The inquirers' class is large, and the chapel is well filled every Sabbath, while five other services are being carried on by the young men of the church in different parts of the town. The little school-room is crowded every evening for meeting, and the Sabbath-school cheering.

"Bell Town I visit every Sabbath morning, and, what with other duties, my hand is full, but I have been mercifully sustained and strengthened through it all."

Mr. Le Coat has furnished the following report:—

"During the year I have been helped in my work by my brother-in-law, Lequéré, and two other colporteurs, members of the church. Our young schoolmaster, M. Gerard, becomes every day more attached to Brittany, and takes more interest in the work of instruction and evangelization of the Bretons. A little more study, and he will speak the Breton language well, and he will then be very useful. Mrs. Le Coat, as usual, takes care of the sick. Her hospital is getting on; the roof is upon it. No doubt some generous friends will help to the finishing of it. She has received plenty of linen for it. On a Thursday she has established a sewing-class for young girls. It is also attended by poor women, who come to mend their children's clothes.

"Besides the Gospel work, I was named by Government as a teaching member, delegated to the Congress of French Schoolmasters. After my visit to Paris, Government offered me the place of Special Inspector of the Schools, which I declined, because I will not give up my missionary work.

"Our young schoolmaster, M. Gerard, prepared one of his scholars for the concourse that takes place every year in the canton. Boys of different schools may attend when they are twelve years of age. Here we are in presence of three systems of education—the law system, such as Government wishes it; the Congregational system, such as the clergy wish; and the system according to the Gospel. Our young scholar got the first prize. This was a great encouragement to the schoolmaster, and proved before all that our school could forward young men better than theirs.

"The boy continues his study, and we hope, with God's blessing, he will become a Breton preacher. He knows the language as well as any native.

"Since the New Year he and a young Englishman we have here have begun the study of Latin. The members of the theological school in Paris have asked me to send them the boy; but I prefer, when he has finished his studies here, to send him to finish his education in England.

"C. Picart and my mother continue, in spite of their great age, to go from house to house to teach the children to read Breton, and to learn passages of Scripture; but soon will come the time when they will be unable to keep on their work. I hope the Committee will take into consideration the want we have of a regular girls' school."

"Three new members have been added to the church by baptism. The two first were scholars. The first is a young man of twenty, son of a farmer living close to us; the other is the Welsh boy we have in school; the third is a young girl of Pont Menou. Her father and sister are already members of the church. Many of those who knew and love the Gospel are gone out of the country, but their letters let us know that they have not forgotten the good impressions received. During the year we have placed three servant-girls in Protestant families, and one servant-man.

"In all our under-stations we have had encouragement.

"Pont Menou.

"The worship and Sunday-school have been regularly kept during the year. The worship was attended by a good number of people—from eighty to 120. Our schoolmaster, M. Hartweck, having since his marriage completely neglected his school, neglecting even to attend worship, we were obliged to get rid of him. We have replaced him by a good Christian man, who takes great interest in the work, and is much loved by the Bretons.

"Brest.

"I have visited Brest once a-month during the year, and each time have found encouragement. Dr. Underhill came with me there, and is able to judge of the work, which is entirely among the working class. The two large rooms we have rented are always full. [May our dear brother, M. Caradec, be long spared; he has been a great comfort and blessing in that work, and the means of bringing many a sinner to Christ.

"Plounérin.

"In this place several people used to give their houses for the preaching. We often went, and always had many listeners; but the priests and the 'maire' frightened the farmers, telling them they should be fined and go to prison if they let us preach in their houses. So we have rented a house, and, with the authorisation of the Prefect, we go every Sunday night, and have good meetings.

"Plounevez-Moedec.

"It was in this parish that we were able to speak quietly for two hours or two hours and a-half to 200 people in presence of four Romish priests, who came to our meetings. These priests were obliged to admit that our New Testament and their own were the same, and that money could not save the soul. It is a large hamlet, far from the village, and an Evangelical school could be well placed there; it would be a light for all around. It is the same case in Pluzunet, Belle-Isle-Begard, St. Carré, St. Eloi, Leleya, &c.

"During the year we have published a new Breton hymn-book, three Breton tracts of one thousand copies each, and they are nearly gone already. One of these was an answer to the clergy, who defied us to prove that auricular confession was not of divine institution.

"Lequéré and Le Pape have been employed, at my request, a part of the year by the British and Foreign Bible Society, of which M. Monod is the agent in France. In six months they have sold 687 copies of the Word of God in the arrondissement of Lannion. If they found in the country more liberty than in former times, they have, nevertheless, been insulted; people running after them with sticks, and letting loose the dogs. One priest spat in the face of Le Pape. In their pulpits the priests thundered against them. This did not, however, prevent them from going on quietly with their work.

"The Sunday-school has kept the same without any change since last year.

"During the year seventy-five have received instruction at home; eighty-one boys have received instruction in our two schools, Trémel and Pont Menou, with fifty-five adults. Lequéré has held eighty-nine meetings; I have presided at 233. The colporteurs have sold 687 copies of Scripture, and I have sold fourteen Bibles, forty-two New Testaments, and have given away 3,390 tracts."

"In the three months that have passed since my last letter the meetings have been carried on with the same order and regularity as have characterised them from the beginning. Being free from the summer heat, which renders the Sala very close and often disagreeable for crowded meetings, we have had the room crowded at all our public evening meetings almost without exception. We have been encouraged by the addition of five new members during the quarter. Each of the five had been applicants for membership for a long time previous to their being accepted. The attendance of the members on Sunday morning is very encouraging. We break bread every Sunday, and the members are taught that for them that is the most important meeting in the week.

"Sunday School.—I found that the Waldensian Evangelisation Committee's rule was so strict that, if we had insisted on our children coming to our own Sunday-school, they would have been expelled from the Waldensian day-schools, unless they could attend both. In such a case, of course, we had to give way, but I have commenced a children's service on Sunday afternoons, and it promises to be very successful. I began with less than ten, and now I have over twenty, and some adults seem to enjoy it as well as the children. The expense of this meeting will be trifling, and the subscription of the Pembroke Chapel Sunday-school, Liverpool, will cover it, I believe, without any difficulty.

"On the last night of the year we had a midnight prayer-meeting, which was attended by about one hundred persons. I was very pleased to hear three or four of our members and candidates offer prayer on that occasion. The meeting was hearty throughout, and thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present.

"I should like to see a second locale opened either in or near Genoa. As we are in two at this station, and my absence from Genoa not very frequent nor for long periods, the working of another place within easy distance would be quite practicable, and the cost of the room and incidental expenses (lighting, cleaning, and such like) would be all the additional outlay involved.

"I should recommend a place in the neighbourhood of Genoa rather than another room in the city at present. In the town there are already five regular preaching stations for the Italians, and in each room there are several meetings weekly, so that all who wish may hear the Gospel freely."

II.—Turin.

Evangelist, Signor Mattei.

Number of members, 26.

"Signor Mattei writes that during the last quarter the few malcontents, to whom I referred in my last report, have been endeavouring to disturb the peace of the church and divide the members. Fortunately, they have not succeeded in their intent, but their efforts have tended to impede the work of the church by calling their attention almost exclusively to this internal trouble. I hope it is now over, and Signor Mattei thinks it is. He says, further, that he has reason to believe that the minister encouraged them in their attempt to disturb the peace and progress of our brethren.

"Signor Mattei has commenced a class for the study of English, and several young men take advantage of it. They read the gospel of John as a lesson, and Signor Mattei explains the grammar and the meaning at the same time.

"During the year four were baptized, three have left Turin, three have left and joined other churches, one was removed by death, and now the number of members is twenty-six. There are, however, two or three about to join the church, and we hope and pray that the year now commenced may be fruitful in conversions and additions to the church.

"Orbassano

and the other places visited by Signor Mattei.

"In Orbassano the parish priest continues to rave and rage against the Protestants. The result is that only one family in the village is willing to receive Signor Mattei, or listen to his words. In Stupinigi there are over a dozen people who read the Gospel regularly. Some invite Signor Mattei to their houses, and others meet him outside. These are all employed by the King on the grounds surrounding the Royal Villa, which is at Stupinigi. The priests are rising in opposition to this mode of evangelising, as they did against the meetings in Orbaesano. They are endeavouring to ridicule the Protestants by means of popular dialogues in the church, where they speak of Luther and Calvin, 'condemned by the Holy Mother Church,' in a way that is intended to inspire horror in the minds of the peasants and derision in the minds of others. The fact that, in this village and in others, so many are reading the Scriptures is full of encouragement. May God bless the seed thus sown, and cause it to grow and bring forth fruit to His own glory."

Mr. Wall reports as follows:—

"I now come to Rome itself, and first to Lucina. I will only touch upon the principal points of the mission at this station; to do more would render me tedious. The most prominent feature of the work here is the church itself, which, as you will see from the former table of statistics, is composed of about 120 members. As we have weekly communion, and the presence of each communicant is marked by a deacon on the Sunday morning, the total of 'communions' during the year (3,801) gives a pretty accurate idea of the state of the church in this part of its duty. The amount offered at the Lord's table during the year has been about £24. Other offerings have been made, and each member of the church is pledged to give thought, and time, and work, as well as money, to the cause of God. We have had seventeen added to our number, and the catechumen class comprises as many more. Most of the members do something; several take tract districts, others distribute tracts, two preach occasionally, and all are believed to be converted.

"I have felt deeply the importance of the part the church seems to me destined to play in Italy, and therefore toiled in its midst, and hoped to see its life so strong as to render it invulnerable to the attacks of Jesuitism, and to raise it above the chronic debility of Laodicea into the triumphant vigour of the first life of the church in Jerusalem; but I have not seen this either in myself or in the members of the church, and I fear that, unless the Lord bring us into such a state, we shall not be able to make much headway against the heavy pressure brought against us by the Vatican.

"Our meetings for preaching the Gospel have been well attended, and often very encouraging. The Sunday evening meeting has been well attended all through the year. We print our own notices; the members distribute them; all classes attend, and when the subject has special interest we feel our need of a larger chapel. I am sorry to say that the Romans prefer controversial subjects and replies to scientific objections to Christianity to the simple preaching of the Gospel. Our evangelist, Dal Canto, generally preaches every other Sunday night in this meeting, and has done so with much and sustained success. The fact that he is a Tuscan, had been ten years in a Catholic college, had been a priest and an Atheist before his conversion, was in some measure preparation for his present work. When there is any reason for holding special services we hold them. Our chapel is open six evenings in the week during Lent; and we expect good meetings, especially if violently attacked from Catholic pulpits by the Lenten preachers.

"Our Sunday-school is a very encouraging part of our work. Not having a week-school, we have to use various means to get children to come, and, when they come, to secure their continuing to come. The number of names on the school-book, which is revised every three months, is 120. This number comprises the teachers also, whose names are called with those of the scholars. The scholars are divided into eleven classes. The school is held on the Sunday morning only. The number of attendances during the past year in Lucina was 3,326, or an average of nearly sixty-four. By pursuing the method we do we have shown that Sunday-schools can be obtained without day-schools. The time required is considerable and the labour great, but I hope to see a good Sunday-school at each of our stations. The work is all the more difficult because we shall get but limited help in the way of teaching from the churches, and no help for books, rewards, and the annual treat, without which we should get but few children. Our evangelists are all in need of help for work in the Sunday-schools, Bibles, hymns, cards, rewards, harmoniums, &c. I push them to get the children, even if the school be unfurnished; the bricks have to be made, whether there be straw or not. If they wait for help from our churches in England, struggling as they are against a thousand difficulties, they may wait for some time yet. I am sure the brethren of the Committee will remember us in prayer, that this effort may continue to be blessed of God.

"Our tract work continues and develops. The distribution during the year amounted to more than twenty-two thousand, and about five thousand Gospels were sent by post to persons who are not likely to attend meetings. The most important part of this branch of our mission is the 'tract district.' We have divided the Campus Martius into ten districts, of which seven are already occupied. Every week an English lady or a Roman convert may be seen issuing from the Sala Cristiana with a large bundle of small packets of tracts, which are taken to each of these districts and exchanged for those left on the preceding week. Two or three hundred packets are left at the houses weekly, and we have reason to believe that, as the tracts are received with avidity, so they are read with pleasure and profit. Thousands who are not prepared to attend Protestant places are ready to receive and read our books. I have been able to do this tract work through having received a grant of tracts (value £20) from the Religious Tract Society, and I cannot but think this to be a very effective means of bringing truths to the minds of the people.

"In connection with this station we have other branches of work, such as evening classes for the study of Italian and English languages, a catechumen class, and a class for mothers, and regular visitation of the members of the church and congregation, meetings both public and private for prayer and the study of the Scriptures.

"I do not think this letter is likely to raise hopes that have no basis in fact. I see that, trusting in the Lord, we are able to hold our own, and to make some advance upon the enemy; but we want greater minds, greater hearts, and stronger hands in this work. The Catholic party is now about to take part in politics; their best men are at work in Rome; their agents swarm in the city; and their means are without limit. With them it is a question of Catholic life or Catholic death. If they can crush our effort, extinguish our churches, their preachers will cry through the world that Protestantism has retired from Rome like a momentary storm from the base of an eternal rock; and certainly it had been better not to have come at all than, having come, not to have conquered. With the working staff we have in Rome, and without additional expense, except for rent and lighting, we could work another Gospel hall in one of the distant and thickly populated centres of the city, where not a place has yet been opened for preaching."

"TIVOLI.

"When the heat of summer had set in I went to Tivoli, the station which, more than any other in connection with us, seemed to require sympathy and help. By means of well-organised and persevering opposition the priests had brought our work into great weakness, and the evangelist into great discouragement. I was not surprised at this. Tivoli is a fortress which, if taken, opens the way to the region beyond, which is extensive and important, and where signs of desire for the truth have been manifested. On the first Sunday in July I commenced a series of discourses on the life of St. Peter. The first meeting was composed of fifteen persons only, and the tendency to increase was not very marked; at the eighth there were forty-three. The encouraging signs were that the increase had been gradual, and several who came of some influence in the city. The priests, of course, were greatly annoyed, but did not descend to any act of violence. On one occasion they tried to do so. A long procession of people was passing my house with banners, images, pictures, with the bands and confraternities of Tivoli, with the bishop at their head carrying the Host, when a young Irish friar cried, 'Down with the Protestants,' but the cry was not taken up.

"Tract work was far more encouraging. Of these about 2,600 were received with great readiness by the people, who, though unwilling to purchase, seem willing to read what is given to them.

"The Sunday-school rose to fourteen scholars, and the night-school to about thirty, principally young men. In the months of October and November a new sign in favour of the truth appeared. Many began to inquire for the Scriptures, and thirty-four copies were sold by the evangelist to persons who came to him.

"Signor Le Grand has paid a weekly visit to the numbers of workmen on the railway now in formation above Tivoli, and preached the Gospel to hundreds of them. Several of these, who had either heard the Gospel or purchased the Scriptures, when they returned to their homes among the mountains, sent for the evangelist to preach to them.

"The people of Tivoli are certainly held down in the power of the priest, but they give signs of looking to us with some hope. They treat me with respect, and, although I walked a mile to our house outside the city after dark for several months, two or three times a-week, no one ever molested me. The Syndic invited me to take part at the public meeting, at which medals were given to the scholars who had taken the prizes at the communal schools, and many who never think of coming to our meetings are quite friendly. In a short time the new law, which extends the suffrage to a large class who hitherto have had no political influence, will come into force, and great changes are expected in Tivoli. Several of our friends may be in the town council. Whether they are or not our trust is in the Word of the Lord."

a small town ten miles beyond Tivoli, has been visited once a-week when the health of the evangelist has permitted, and a tract district formed there. The tract district is a new feature of our mission outside Rome. The opposition in Vicovaro is rather against the Liberals than against us. When the chief priest saw a procession entering the church with a national flag borne before it he had the doors closed, and so insulted the nation that he has been condemned for it to imprisonment for three years.

"While going to this place the evangelist passed the place where one of the workmen had been crushed under a mass of stone in one of the cuttings on the new line. A copy of our New Testament was found in his pocket."

[Of Mrs. Wall's work among the Roman poor a full report may be found in the pages of the Missionary Herald for March and April.]

FLORENCE.

Of the new effort in this important city Mr. Wall forwards the following account:—

"The work divides itself into the following branches:—1st, among the members of the church; 2nd, in the regular meetings for preaching; 3rd, in the Sunday-school; 4th, in the visitation of the sick; 5th, in a weekly visit to Settignano, a small town close to Florence; 6th, in an occasional visit to more distant places. As I receive a weekly letter from Signor Borzi, and go to Florence when my presence is required, I am in a position to speak confidently of the man and the work.

"August.—Writing at this date, Signor Borzi says: 'In consequence of the excessive heat, I have spent a few days at Vidreggio, where I spoke every evening to the children in an establishment opened for the sick, and where I freely distributed Gospel tracts. I find that our small low room in Florence is most unsuited for preaching in during the summer. In the poor and crowded quarter in which it is situated the atmosphere in July is so suffocating that the people remain half-naked in the streets, and the noise is so great that our meetings are disturbed."

"'September.—During the last three months, notwithstanding the serious drawbacks of heat and an unsuitable preaching-place, the attendance at the meetings have amounted to about a thousand, and those of the children at the Sunday-school to about five hundred, or an average attendance at school on the Sunday morning of more than forty children.

"'Once a-week I go to Settignano, about three miles from Florence. I take a packet of tracts with me, and leave a copy at the house of anyone who is willing to read it; the following week I return and exchange it for another. This work, most important in itself, will, no doubt, lead to the formation of a meeting in the town.

"'I find that the Lord often calls me to the bedside of the sick, both in private dwellings and in the public hospitals.

"'On the 8th of this month Mr. Wall came to Florence, when he baptized four believers, and I afterwards baptized two. On the Sunday morning Mr. Wall preached, and the church was formed. Twenty-four persons were present, of whom sixteen were communicants. The number is small, because this meeting is private. The Lord, however, is glorified in our midst.

"'October.—I have now three meetings for preaching during the week. The attendance during this month has been about 400, while the average number of children at the school has been forty-five. The weekly visit to Settignano has been much blessed.

"'November.—Yesterday I went to St. Caseino, a town about twelve miles from Florence, where I testified to the Gospel, going from house to house and shop to shop, offering for sale the Holy Scriptures. Twelve persons bought New Testaments, and many listened to the Gospel.

"'The disturbances in our meeting by persons sent by the priests of the parish have so increased that I have been obliged to take a room which is less exposed. The attendance at the meeting is therefore less, but the school increases, and there is no disturbance.

"'My visits to Settignano begin to bear fruit. Those who receive the tracts do not always read them, and occasionally lose them, but interest is deepening, so that when I go I pass most of the day conversing with the artists in their studios and the workmen in their shops.'

"I am glad to say that Signor Borzi's difficulty about the locale will soon be over. The well-known Waldensian pastor, Professor Gemonat, who has preached the Gospel in Florence for so many years, has shown great kindness to Signor Borzi, and has now let his chapel to our mission. This chapel is a neat, commodious building erected some years since for the purpose it is used. As I think this is providential, I have no doubt but that our Committee will be glad that I did not let the opportunity slip, but took it at once."

SOUTHERN ITALY.

Missionary, W. K. LANDELS.

Evangelist, LARDI GRECO.

Number of members, 40.

Signor Greco reports as follows :—

"In the first place I may mention the meetings of our evangelists, which were held in the first week in March. Mr. Baynes, Secretary, and Dr. Landels, member of the Baptist Missionary Society, attended as representatives of the said Society, and we can never forget their Christian words of comfort and encouragement; even now, as we think of them, we are helped thereby in the difficult work of evangelisation in this city.

"In the month of May our church was greatly saddened by the loss of one of our members, Luigi Martocci. He was a young man of twenty-four years of age, the hope of his mother, and when he was on the point of taking his degree in medicine a terrible illness killed him. We were consoled, however, at his death by the testimony he bore to the truth. The first time Mr. Landels and I visited him he asked us to pray with him. When the prayer was over his eyes were filled with tears, and he resigned himself to the will of God. He confessed his faith in Christ Jesus, not only to brethren who continually visited and helped him, but also to many of his college friends, who were either infidels, free-thinkers, or Roman Catholics. At the service held in his house before the funeral nearly all our members were present, and also about 150 students. Mr. Landels conducted the service, and I spoke of salvation in Christ, of the immortality of the soul, and of eternal life. Among the rest there were two priests present, friends and fellow-citizens of the dead, and when they heard that all the funeral expenses were paid by the Evangelical Church they said publicly, 'This, indeed, is practical Christian charity.' The body was followed to the cemetery by a large number of persons, although it was a pouring wet day. And there, with hymns and fervent prayers, whilst the spirit of Brother Martocci was rejoicing in heaven, we gave to the earth that which belonged to it.

"In the summer months, while Mr. Landels was in England, I was obliged to carry on the work alone. During the hot months, from June to September, some of the meetings in Naples were almost suspended for want of hearers; our locale, however, was frequented as usual. The reason of this I am unable to explain; the Lord only knows. During the whole year I gave a number of special discourses which were announced in the journals or otherwise advertised, and they were all more or less crowned with success.

"Through the pertinacity and the praiseworthy constancy of Mr. Landels we have made fresh attempts to start a Sunday-school, and we are always studying the best way of making it successful, especially now that we are about to open a new centre of evangelisation.

"The 'Circolo Luigi Desanctis,' which has for its motto, 'Gospel and Fatherland,' has continued its work of giving Christian instruction and of propagating the Gospel. During the last month or two we have had the pleasure of hearing some good and instructive lectures delivered by the members—Signors Fazzari, Roberti, Licausi, Landels, D'Amico, &c. We hope that in the new year and in the new locale the said circolo will, by the help of God, grow both in numbers and usefulness.

"Another important fact which deserves special notice took place this year. I refer to the founding of an Evangelical Society of Mutual Aid and Co-operation. I speak of this because our church has supplied the greatest number of promoters and members. I must also say, with sorrow, that some directors of Evangelical work have placed difficulties and stumbling-blocks in the way of this well-deserving society. Those ministers who have thus acted do not understand, it seems to me, the importance of such an institution. Special and public praise is to be given to Mr. Landels, who has done and is doing all in his power to help it on, for there is little doubt that all the churches will get great good from it. We shall no longer see so many poor and needy, who have always been the cause of the poverty of the churches. Every one will have work, or be helped while out of work, and so no longer be dependent upon the church to which he belongs.

"Our church continues to bear good moral testimony to the truth, so much so that it has won the sympathy of all the other denominations. Our brethren love and help one another. They all show profound gratitude to the English brethren who have given them spiritual help, always praying for those who have been in part the instruments of their conversion.

"Our church has felt itself afflicted by the death of some of its English benefactors, and prays fervently for the bereaved members of the different families.

"We must also thank God for the material state of our church. Although we have lost four brethren, we have added eight, so that the number of our members has increased by four. We hope and trust that in the new locale many and many will leave their old error and sin, and will cast themselves upon the mercy of Christ."

Mr. Landels gives us the following account of the new premises secured :—

"In regard to the purchasing of a property for the use of our mission, I am happy to be able at length to report complete success. When speaking in Adelaide Place, Glasgow, in October last, I stated that an English gentleman in Naples had written offering to sell us either the whole or part of a large building belonging to him. On my return to Naples I immediately examined his proposals, and was able to report favourably to London. Our Committee then sent out Dr. Landels with full power to treat for the purchase of a part of the property. The negotiations were brought to a successful issue, and it was agreed to buy, in the name of our Society, the ground and first floors for the sum of 88,038 francs, or about £3,500. On the 15th day of this month the deed was signed.

"The position of the property is all that could be desired, as it stands on the largest boulevard in the city. The building is entered by one of those large doorways so common in Italy. Through an archway rather larger than the door itself access is gained to a court-yard, about thirty feet square, on each side of which is a large coach-house and stable. One of these coach-houses will be converted into a dwelling-place for the chapel-keeper; the other, with the stable, will serve for various purposes, such as a printing-press, book depôt, &c. At the far side of the court-yard, and immediately opposite the entrance, a double flight of stone stairs leads to a large room on the first floor, which is destined to be used as a chapel. Beyond the staircase is a garden with a blue grotto, which was used by the former owner as a bath-room. With very little expense this will be made into a baptistery. The first floor, which is also reached by a wide staircase of white marble, is made up of twenty rooms. Nine of these are on the street, and will be the dwellings of the superintendent and evangelist. Of the rest, the large one already mentioned will be made into the chapel, a second will serve as reading-room and library for the young men, and others will be used for school purposes. It would almost seem as though the place had been built for us, so well is it adapted to our needs; and we are very thankful to God that He has provided a place for us which will, undoubtedly, conduce largely to the success of our mission.

"Of the £3,500 needed for the purchase, some £2 500 has already been promised, still leaving One Thousand pounds to be raised. I will take this opportunity of thanking those friends in Scotland who have already contributed towards this object, and of asking others to come forward with pecuniary help."

to call forth the great increase of liberality required, and that the cause of the Redeemer will not be suffered to languish. The silver and the gold are the Lord's, and, when He calls upon His stewards to supply the wants of His cause, there should be no delay nor stint. "FREELY YE HAVE RECEIVED, FREELY GIVE."

Conclusion.

The Committee cannot close this Report without a brief and loving reference to the friends and colleagues who have been called to the Master's presence during the year. The names of three honorary members of the Society will cease to appear on the annual list—viz., those of the Right Honourable Lord Justice Lush, George Foster, Esq., of Sabden, and the Rev. T. Thomas, D.D., of Pontypool. All have died in good old age, honoured and beloved, having given for many years very numerous tokens of their attachment to the Society, and of devotion to its interests. They were men eminent in the stations of life they filled, and their memories will be lovingly cherished for many days to come. From the list of the General Committee, the name of the Rev. George Gould, of Norwich, will also disappear. For some eighteen years he gave his services to the Society, and ever exhibited the deepest interest in its welfare.

Thus one after another of our Christian brethren pass away to enter into the joy of their Lord, leaving to younger men to seize the banner that has fallen from their grasp, and bear it nobly onward till they, too, hand it on to the generations following. May we who survive be worthy followers of these men of God, who now, through faith and patience, inherit the promises!

REPORTS FROM THE STATIONS.

THE following summary, taken from the reports of each station, and, for the most part, in the words of the Missionaries themselves, contains as complete a view as practicable of the individual exertions of the Missionaries during the past year:—

The population of Calcutta, with its suburbs, is about 700,000, of whom about 20,000 are Christians, for the most part of European or mixed descent.

Mr. S. Pir Buksh writes as follows:—

"Preaching in Calcutta.

"Being much engaged in literary labour and church business, I had but very little time to spare for preaching. The little time I could spare has been devoted to preaching the Cross to the heathen and Mohammedans of this country. True, I have no routine for preaching the Gospel; but whenever I get opportunities I preach Christ and Him crucified. I visited the houses of Hindoos, Mohammedans, and Christians as usual throughout the year. I often had religious conversations with the old women of my neighbourhood, and found them always ready to hear the sweet name of Jesus with great attention. This year I often helped the Taltolah Mission by addressing the audience in Hindustani once a week. May God the Father pour out His blessing upon this work and make it fruitful! Amen."

In addition to these labours in Calcutta, Mr. Buksh, during the holidays, visited Monghyr and Bankipore, also Allahabad, preaching in these places among various classes. Of his visit to Bankipore, where he stayed six days, he relates the following interesting facts:—"We were highly pleased to have religious conversations with the people of this place, especially with the Bhaguts. These Bhaguts are the better sort of people among the Hindoos; they have religious feeling in them. They agree with us on almost every point of religion, but in respect of our Lord Jesus Christ they differ. They are Kabir Puntis; Kabir is their Guru (religious guide). They say there is no difference between Kabir and Christ. We showed them the difference between Kabir and Christ in several points. At last we told them that Kabir was of earth earthly, and Christ is of heaven heavenly, and the Lord of all. We explained to them clearly that Christ came down from heaven to save sinners, and He gave His life to make the atonement for sins. On
