NOTICE IN REFERENCE TO BEQUESTS.

As the kind intentions of some of the deceased friends of the Society have been rendered abortive for want of correct knowledge of the law, the Committee call special attention to the following directions:—

REQUISITES FOR VALIDITY OF WILL.—It should be remembered in the first place that, (a) A will must be in writing, and signed at the foot or end thereof by the Testator or by some other person in his presence and by his direction; (b) Such signature must be made or acknowledged by the Testator in the presence of two Witnesses, who must be present at the same time, and (c) Such Witnesses must attest and subscribe the will in the presence of the Testator.

GIFTS BY WILL TO CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.—Gifts by will to the Baptist Missionary Society and other Charitable Institutions were formerly subject to restrictions stated in the "Notice in Reference to Bequests" contained in previous reports. But the effect of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891 (54 and 55 Vict. c. 73), Secs. 3 and 5 and 9, is that no gift in favour of a Charitable Institution, made by the will of a Testator dying after August 5th, 1891, can be void by reason of the subject matter of the gift being land or an interest in land. The distinction formerly drawn between personal property which is an interest in land (that is, in any way secured upon or payable out of land) and pure personality is abolished, and even land may now be lawfully given by will to a Charitable Institution. But lands so given must be sold within one year from the Testator's death, or such extended period as may be determined by the Court or the Charity Commissioners, and if not sold within such period it will vest in the official Trustees of Charity Lands, and the Charity Commissioners will order it to be sold, and the net proceeds of sale to be paid to the official Trustees of Charity Funds in trust for the Charity in favour of which the land has been given (Sec. 6).

1.—BEQUEST OF AN ORDINARY PECUNIARY LEGACY TO THE SOCIETY.—In this case there is no need for the provision formerly inserted in wills directing the legacy to be paid exclusively out of such parts of the Testator's estate as might lawfully be disposed of for charitable purposes. The bequest may be in the following form:—

"I give to the Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Baptist Missionary Society the sum of £ , free of duty, for the general purposes of the said Society" (or, if so desired, "for the Translation Fund of the said Society," or "for the School Fund of the said Society").

2.—BEQUEST TO THE SOCIETY OF A PECUNIARY LEGACY MADE PAYABLE OUT OF THE PROCEEDS OF SALE AND THE CONVERSION OF THE TESTATOR'S REAL AND PERSONAL ESTATE, OR OF A SHARE OF SUCH PROCEEDS.—Very frequently a Testator gives his real and personal estate or his residuary estate to Trustees on trust to sell, and out of the proceeds of sale to pay the legacies previously bequeathed, which may include a legacy to the Society. And a Testator may now bequeath a share of such proceeds to the Society. In these cases, although perhaps not essential, it is considered prudent, at all events until the interpretation of the above-mentioned Act has been settled by judicial decision, to add to the gift of the pecuniary legacy or share to the Society the following direction:—

"And I direct that in case all the real and leasehold estate comprised in the devise and bequest in trust for sale herein contained shall not be sold within one year from my death then the said legacy (or share) herein bequeathed to the said Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Baptist Missionary Society, and the duty thereon shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale and conversion of my personal estate and the proceeds of sale of such of my real and leasehold estate as shall be sold within one year after my death in priority to all other legacies (or shares) payable thereout."

3.—GIFT BY WILL OF LAND TO THE SOCIETY.—If land or a house of any tenure or a freehold or leasehold ground-rent is intended to be given to the Society, it should be given to a Trustee or Trustees on trust to sell within one year after the Testator's death if practicable, and to receive the net purchase money and pay it to the Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Society. The Testator will probably desire that the Succession Duty on the gift and also the cost of any application which may be necessary to extend the period of one year within which the sale must be made under the above-mentioned Act shall be paid out of his general estate. A gift by will of freehold land or a freehold house or a freehold ground-rent for the benefit of the Society may be made in the following form :—

"I give unto and to the use of (names of Trustees), their heirs and assigns, my freehold (description of land or house or ground-rent) upon trust to sell the same if practicable within one year from my death, and to receive the proceeds of sale thereof and thereout, and out of the rents and profits until sale to pay the expenses of such sale and all necessary outgoings, and to pay the residue of such proceeds and rents and profits to the Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Baptist Missionary Society for the general purposes of the said Society. And I direct that the Succession Duty payable in respect of the above gift and also the costs of any application to extend the period for sale under the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, shall be paid out of my general estate."

A gift by will of leasehold land or a leasehold house or a leasehold ground-rent for the benefit of the Society may be made in the following form :—

"I give to (names of Trustees), their executors, administrators, and assigns, my leasehold (description of land or house or ground-rent) upon trust to sell the same if practicable within one year from my death, and to receive the proceeds of sale thereof and thereout, and out of the rents and profits until sale to pay the expenses of such sale and the rent reserved by the lease under which the same premises are held and all other necessary outgoings, and to pay the residue of such proceeds and rents and profits to the Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Baptist Missionary Society for the general purposes of the said Society. And I direct that the Succession Duty payable in respect of the above gift and also the costs of any application to extend the period for sale under the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, shall be paid out of my general estate."

METHODS FOR FREQUENT AND REGULAR GIVING.

THE following are some of the methods now in operation, with a detailed description :—

THE ENVELOPE SYSTEM.

A Missionary Treasurer and Secretary having been appointed, the chapel is divided into sections, more or less according to size. Each section is placed under the superintendence of a collector, chosen, if possible, from those sitting in the section itself. The collectors are provided with books, in which are entered the numbers of the pews, the name and address of each seat-holder and of other attendants, according to their respective divisions. These books also contain columns ruled for each month in the year. The contributions are collected by means of small envelopes. Monthly giving being desired, these envelopes are placed in the pews on a certain Sunday in each month. Should there be any individuals who prefer to give less frequently, their envelopes are supplied at the appropriate intervals. The contributors, having enclosed their subscriptions, deposit their envelopes in the weekly offering boxes (should any be in use) or return them to the collector. Once or twice a month, as may be thought well, the Secretary meets the collectors at the close of a week-evening service, handing over the envelopes unopened for them to enter the sums they contain in their books. The money may be paid in by the collectors monthly or quarterly, their books being initialed whenever payments are made. The Treasurer remits to the Mission House four times in the year. In some instances receipts are given month by month to every subscriber, these being enclosed in the new envelopes; in others receipts are given once a quarter, with a reminder of arrears, should there be any; whilst in other cases receipts are deemed unnecessary.

In adopting this method the distribution of a circular, signed by the pastor and officers, explaining and commending it has been found of great service. With these circulars slips are issued, upon which subscribers may enter the sum they propose to give, and state how frequently—whether monthly, quarterly, half-yearly, or annually—they would prefer to give it.

THE DISTRICT METHOD.

This method divides the congregations not into sections according to the seats occupied in the chapel, but into districts according to residence. One collector or, as may be preferred, two collectors are appointed to each district. After a circular, signed by the pastor and officers, has been distributed, and a statement has been made from the pulpit, a general canvass is made to secure promises of help; the collectors then call for the contributions monthly, or less frequently, as the subscribers may choose. If thought desirable, the small cash envelopes may be also used in working this plan. At least once in three months the collectors should hand over their money to the Secretary, so that as often it may be forwarded to the Mission House. If this scheme, or the one already described, is to prove successful, the smaller sums as well as the larger should be sought. To those who may resolve to attempt this method of securing frequent and regular giving books will be forwarded on application to the Secretaries of the Society.

Another plan to which attention may be called consists in the general circulation of

MISSIONARY BOXES.

The plan adopted by some churches is as follows :—

1. The boxes are definitely family boxes, and not intended to supersede or interfere with any existing annual subscriptions or any public collections at the chapel.

2. The boxes are numbered consecutively, and have on one side a short address to stimulate missionary zeal, and the suggestion that the boxes should be placed on the breakfast-table every Lord's-day morning to receive the family offerings for the work of God among the heathen (in accordance with 1 Cor. xvi. 2). This is a cardinal feature of the plan.

3. The boxes are called for quarterly at the houses of those who have taken them (unless they prefer to bring them to the chapel) by collectors appointed for that purpose, as soon after each quarter as possible, who give receipts for the amounts received.

4. The collectors hand in the total amount received from the boxes in their districts to the Mission-box Secretary, who initials their receipt-book counterfoils, and gives out the names of any new families to be called upon with the view of getting more boxes taken.

Boxes can be forwarded from the Mission House for this use in Christian families.

THE PENNY-A-WEEK SYSTEM.

As the first step in the adoption of this, as of every other method, let the church appoint its own Missionary Secretary. Then let this officer select as many collectors as may be required to collect the pennies from an aggregate of eleven—not more than eleven—subscribers, which sum, with the penny of the collector, will amount to a shilling. These pennies might be obtained at the chapel services or at the home. They should be paid in monthly to the secretary, who should remit quarterly to Furnival Street. This method is equally adapted for the gathering in of larger weekly sums than a penny. The apparatus for putting this plan into operation will be readily supplied from the Mission House. This system is commended as being especially suited to Christian Endeavour Societies.

A PRAYER UNION

has recently been instituted, of which full particulars may be obtained.

As the circumstances of churches vary, it is necessary to be prepared with a variety of methods. It is hoped that in one or other of the above, every church will find a plan of regular and frequent giving suited to its own particular requirement.

A TYPICAL INDIAN BAZAAR.—(From a Photograph.)

THE ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

WITH feelings of devout gratitude to God for many manifest tokens of Divine favour during the year just closed, the Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society present the One Hundred and Seventh Annual Report.

The story of the year records numerous additions to the Native Christian Churches afield, a steady growth in self-support, and aggressive evangelistic effort, the opening up of new and promising fields of work, increased agency, both European and Native, in "the Regions beyond," marked progress in Elementary Christian Day Schools, a larger number of scholars and more efficient teachers, a remarkable development of Sunday-schools and Societies of Christian Endeavour, and enlarged liberality and sympathy on the part of the churches at home.

Excluding Jamaica and churches independent of support from the Society, the baptisms during the year have been 1,366; children under instruction in Christian Elementary Day Schools, 12,500, taught by 518 Christian teachers; and in Sunday-schools, 14,713 children, with 1,155 Christian teachers.

Very important progress has also been made in linguistic work, and in Scripture translation and revision in India, Ceylon, and especially in the languages spoken by the peoples living in the region of the vast Congo River and the Congo Free State; particularly may be mentioned the work of the Rev. John Whitehead, who has just completed and published his Grammar and Dictionary of the Bobangi language, and many portions of the New Testament have been translated into other Congo tongues.

A careful study of the following Reports from the Missionaries cannot fail to inspire and stimulate, and to call forth devout feelings of thankfulness for manifest blessing in many lands.

The Gospel of Jesus Christ, unmodified by human speculation, and proclaimed in all its Divine simplicity, is still the power of God unto salvation. We sympathise with every effort to extend the knowledge of science ; to impart to the East the culture of the West ; to introduce our arts and our liberties to those of other lands ; but our aim is higher than any of these things : it is to tell of the world's Redeemer to perishing souls ; to spread broadcast the new spiritual life in Christ, which regenerates the heart and re-creates the life—this is the grand and noble work to which the Christian Church is summoned on behalf of peoples sitting in darkness and the shadow of death.

Yet to-day there are at least eight hundred and fifty millions of the human race that have never heard of Jesus Christ ; and to-day Christ waits to see of the travail of His soul, and has been waiting down the centuries.

Is it not time that the whole Church should awake to a true and deep sense of the extremity of a dying world, and the personal obligation of every individual Christian in relation to it ?

But one thing is needful to place the Divine enterprise of Christian Missions far beyond the dreams of their most sanguine friends, and that is a deep and urgent sympathy with the crucified, risen, and ascended Saviour through the indwelling power of the Holy Ghost in the hearts and lives of all Christian peoples.

“ The restless millions wait

The light whose dawning maketh all things new ;
Christ also waits, but men are slow or late.

Have we done what we could ? Have I ? Have you ?
A cloud of witnesses above encompass.

We love to think of all they see and know ;
But what of this great multitude in peril who sadly wait below ?

Oh ! let this thrilling vision daily move us
To earnest prayers and deeds before unknown,
That souls redeemed from many lands may join us,
When Christ brings home His own.”

The Committee, in response to the earnest appeal of the North India Bible Society, have sanctioned an arrangement by which, for a term of twelve months, the Rev. GONE HOME.

The losses by death during the past year have been unusually severe. Foremost of these losses amongst missionary brethren stands the name of James Smith, of Delhi.

In the words of one of his oldest colleagues : “Of our Indian Baptist missionaries of the latter half of this century no name is better known, or more highly and deservedly honoured and loved, than that of James Smith.”

From 1841, when he first landed in India, to the day of his death, November 17th, 1898, he unflinchingly declared his personal attachment to the Gospel of Christ, and his ever-deepening conviction that that, and that alone, was the ONLY remedy for the sins and sorrows of “the land he loved and lived for.”

The following resolution, unanimously adopted by his colleagues on the field, records their loving appreciation of this noble missionary veteran :—

“ Our departed brother, James Smith, was so well and widely known, so highly esteemed in love for his work's sake, and the centre of so much admiration and personal affection, that it is as difficult as it seems superfluous, if not impertinent, to attempt to write a word about him. Mr. Smith was remarkable for his victorious faith. He was ever buoyant and sanguine, and could not live, or understand how others could, in gloom, depression, or despondency. His strong faith made him a ceaseless and indefatigable worker. In season and out of season, he was about his Master's business. Sometimes he was found in the company of the rulers of the land, sometimes amongst the Chamars at Delhi, or preaching to the hill men in Simla. In visitations of epidemics, of small-pox and other terrible scourges, he would be found nursing the sick, and performing the last sad offices for the dead. Always and everywhere, so long as life and strength lasted, he went about doing good. In seizing opportunities for advancing the Word of Christ he was ever quick and keen, and once convinced that Christ had set before him an open door, he courageously entered in and went on, even in the face of discouragement or positive prohibition from the constituted authorities in the ecclesiastical republic of which he was, notwithstanding, a loyal and enthusiastic citizen. The oldest man in our Indian Mission, he was most tender and affectionate to the youngest missionaries, whom he also treated always with most manly respect, and with increasing years he seemed to grow even younger in spirit—sympathising with every new kind of effort and method for winning souls. A Baptist of the convinced type, he loved all good men of every community, and was an admirer of what was excellent everywhere. A prince and a great man has fallen—we mourn his loss, we cherish his memory and desire that a double portion of the Spirit that rested on him may abide on us.”

The Rev. R. Bion, “ The Apostle of Eastern Bengal,” another missionary veteran, entered into rest at Monghyr on June 11th, 1898, after more than half a century of loving, earnest, self-sacrificing toil in India, more than forty years of which were spent in Eastern Bengal, Dacca being the head centre of his work. His was the pioneer work in Commillah and Mymensing, which, in the hands of the Australian Baptist churches, has issued in vigorous missions being established in both those districts ; and his was the first convert in the Garo Hills whose slopes are now vocal with Christian song. In journeyings often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, in perils from the very people for whose good he had come, he carried the message of life along the banks of the Megna, the Dhaleswari, the Ganges, the Soorma, and the Bramhaputra, penetrating to all the marts and townships and villages accessible from these banks, and visiting almost every important mela in these districts.

The death of the Rev. A. J. McLean, formerly of Chittagong, at Port Said, on December 7th, while on his return voyage to India after furlough in England, removed from the earthly service of the Saviour a gifted and faithful worker, who during his recent furlough in England endeared himself to many by his evident delight in his work as a missionary, and his confident expectation of a large ingathering of souls in the near future, as the result of the seed-sowing of years gone by.

Nor can we fail to mention in connection with the work of the Society in India the long, faithful, and unique services rendered by the late Babu John Sircar, of Barisal, who for sixty-five years devoted himself to the service of the Saviour. The following resolution, unanimously adopted by his brethren, fittingly records the estimation in which this unobtrusive worker was held :—

"The members of the Bengal Baptist Missionary Conference feel that the departure of John Sircar in September, 1898, to the Master's more immediate presence, has broken one of the few links left between the present and the times of Carey, Marshman, Ward, and Mack. For sixty-five years he was a worker in connection with our Mission, fifty-three of which were spent in the district of Backergunge. His was a long and useful career. For his hymns that are popular in many parts of Bengal; for his zealous labours among native churches in the district where he resided; for his sermons that were always helpful, scriptural, and graphic; for his long, patient, and trying illness in which he was slowly prepared for a better world, he will be long remembered by many. We miss our brother, but our loss is his gain. He is an instance of what grace can accomplish in a heathen land, and we glorify our God by believing that the same grace is available for others too."

On the Upper Congo, at Bolobo, on March 15th, Mrs. Scrivener, wife of the Rev. A. E. Scrivener, formerly Miss Baker, for many years an active member and worker at Bloomsbury Chapel, entered into rest, her last words being: "I have no pain, every doubt is gone, for underneath me are the everlasting arms, and I am very happy."

Well might the Rev. George Grenfell write :—

"This death is not only a great loss to our Mission, but it is one that will be most keenly felt by a wide circle of friends at home. Our sister was an active Christian worker in no narrow sphere, and the success of her labours in the Master's vineyard has resulted in ties of the strongest friendship and Christian fellowship with many a soul that thanks God for her counsel and help; and her going hence, for these loving hearts, will be another link with the Father's House."

At home the Society has also suffered sore losses by the removal to "the City of the Saints" of the REV. THOMAS A. WHEELER, of Norwich, and the REV. WILLIAM UNDERWOOD, D.D., of Burton-on-Trent, both of these brethren being honorary members of the Committee having rendered special and valuable services to the Society; and just as these pages were passing through the press the Christian Church has been profoundly moved by the startlingly sudden translation of the Rev. Dr. James A. Spurgeon, the President-elect of the Baptist Union, who for more than thirty years was a valued and beloved member of the Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society, the interests of which were always dear to him.

“BE YE READY ALSO, FOR THE SON OF MAN COMETH AT AN HOUR WHEN YE THINK NOT.”

“AND THEY THAT WERE READY WENT IN WITH HIM.”

“BLESSED ARE THE DEAD THAT DIE IN THE LORD.”

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION.

The Young People's Missionary Association has during the past year lost the services as secretary (on his return to India) of the Rev. W. J. Price, to whose devotion and zeal it owes so much.

It is, therefore, matter for special gratitude to God that a year of steady growth can be reported.

Twelve new affiliations have been effected during the year; 7 Christian Endeavour societies, 1 Sunday-school, 1 Young Christian's Union, 1 Bible-class, 1 Young People's Association, and 1 Young Christian's Own Society having for the first time appointed delegates.

The list of personal members has been increased by fourteen. Arrangements have been made for the regular representation in the Association of the Pastor's and Regent's Park colleges.

The monthly meetings of the Association have been well attended, and several most helpful conferences have been held.

As in past years, the Illustrated Missionary Lectures of the Association have been widely used throughout the country. The series now includes a new lecture on the Lower Congo, by the Rev. H. Carson Graham.

The circulation of the Y.P.M.A. Journal has increased, and the missionary leaflets published by the Association have continued to find favour among those desirous of interesting the young in missions.

A circular recently issued by the Association contains the following:—

“It is felt that immeasurable good, both to the individual worker and to the great cause, is sure to issue from the federation on behalf of missions of young Christians, and of those who labour for the making and training of such. It is believed, also, that the affiliated schools, societies, and classes are certain to be advantaged within their own borders in the conversion and spiritual up-building of the scholars and members, through the Divine blessing bestowed on united prayer and effort for the world-wide spread of the Gospel. The Association desires a larger opportunity, as the century closes, of helping the young life of our Baptist schools and societies to that surrender of itself to Christ which shall make it a means of blessing to the whole world."

COLONIAL MISSIONARY SOCIETIES.

The Committee are thankful to learn that during the past year the Colonial missionary societies working in Eastern Bengal in happy association with the Parent Society have enjoyed much blessing and success, and that the interest of the Colonial churches in missionary enterprise is growing in strength and intensity.

THE WORK OF THE PAST YEAR.

The Rev. Herbert Anderson, the Indian Secretary of the Society, in reporting upon the work of the past year, writes:—

"The year 1898 has run its course, and once again we make the effort to chronicle the labours, difficulties, successes, failures, joys and sorrows of another twelve months. How impossible it is to represent all God's dealings with and for us, how impossible either to estimate or show the ebb and flow of life's silent influences—our own upon others, and that of others upon ourselves. Missionary activities—a sad fact here, a joyful experience there, the ministry of the Word, shepherding the sheep, caring for the lambs, these we report. Missionary passivities—fellowship in Christ's sufferings, the burden and heat of the day, the secrets of the Spirit's shrine, and all that gathers in and around the sacred precincts of our homes, these are not ours to report. The Master knows, however, how much they too make up the constant endeavour to live His life, and do His work among our non-Christian neighbours.

“In the preparation of a fully qualified and gifted native ministry, in the stimulation of a more active spiritual life among the churches, in the education of youth, both boys and girls connected with our community, as in the proclamation of God's mercy in Christ to the perishing, there has been steady progress.

“There is one special feature as the year closes that appears to me promising beyond measure—the openings for aggressive work among hill tribes or sections of the Hindu community, from whom the least resistance to the claims of Christ come. Barant in the North-West, Chittagong in Bengal, Russel Konda in Orissa, as well as spheres of work among the Santalis and the Gondas of Central India have brought us face to face just at this juncture with an opulent opportunity. It is a matter of very deep significance that the pressing of immediate evangelistic effort at these centres gives the promise of results such as we have been longing and praying for for years. Woe be to us, woe to the churches who have sent us, if God's open doors are not entered forthwith.

“There is one other feature of interest noticeable to those who have the opportunity of meeting with the various communities that constitute our whole Mission. It is that our Indian brethren are beginning to realise they are a small but growingly-important factor in the country. They are realising the power of Christ that may be felt through them, and they feel the growing need of the energising of His Spirit to use them for the proclamation of the Gospel of God's love. I have no doubt at all that the most hopeful sign on the mission-field to-day is the growth, silent but sure, of the spiritual life in the Indian Church. And the more our churches begin to realise their power, they will, under the grace of God, also realise their responsibilities and privileges. Many are the instances of self-denial and consecrated giving from Indian brethren and sisters for Indian missionary work that have come before me during these past months, and the steady growth of the missionary spirit by the side of and in consequence of the steady growth of the spiritual life within is one of those features in the Indian Church that give great and unceasing cause for thankfulness. The Baptists of Northern India intend to lead the van, and they will succeed.”

The Rev. Charles Jordan, of Calcutta, reporting the experiences of the last year, writes :—

“The year 1898 has been one of much trouble, disturbance, and sorrow in Calcutta. The plague has been amongst us, and has, according to official and medical statements, claimed about 300 victims. Although the mortality from this scourge has been mercifully light, it has produced most painful results. In various quarters of the town there have been riots, which have culminated in loss of life and murder, both in Calcutta and Howrah. God's people have met for public supplication. Their prayers have been heard. The pestilence—at least for the present—has been stayed. Although this visitation did for a time hinder our work, the more noticeable result has been increased willingness to hear and attend to the Word of God. As President and Chairman of the Plague Committee I have visited more fully than ever before the filthy alleys and lanes of the district in which I live. I have never been insulted, but again and again welcomed by the people as a friend. One of the leading natives of this quarter of the town informed me that if the Government should demand that the women's apartments should be most rigidly searched the native gentlemen would none of them object to my entering the most sacred portion of the homes of Hindus and Mohammedans. One of the most cheering results of such visitations as I have made is coming upon instances of the poorest and apparently most ignorant of the community, having heard in out-door preaching about the great Saviour, and apparently quietly—albeit secretly—finding rest and comfort in Him. To my great astonishment, I found one Christian, who helped the poor shopkeepers with their accounts, using his spare time, as he sat on a bench in the midst of Hindus and Mohammedans, in reading the New Testament in Bengali along with Dr. Wenger's Commentary in the same tongue. Thus our venerated brother, Dr. Wenger, being dead, yet speaketh."

The Rev. W. Carey, of Dacca, writes :—

" 'Let Thy work appear unto Thy servants.' We have all smiled at the credulity of the sanguine missionary. He makes so much of his few facts, and they are apt to look thin and poor when we see them in type.

"On the other hand, it is of weighty significance that every man earnestly engaged in the work does sooner or later acquire a personal confidence in the growing triumph of the Kingdom, and in the secret miraculous energy of the Divine Spirit associated with his own feeble and seemingly futile endeavours. It is a confidence independent of the accepted tests. Numerous converts bring an accession of joy, but the absence of any does not dismay. He knows what discouragement means, what it is to long and be disappointed—to have cherished plans and to put them aside. He would gladly reap, but is well content to sow and let others reap if that be the will of the Lord. He has seen a vision which lifts his labour out of all insignificance and lightens it with the glory of God. It is the coming in of the Kingdom like the sweet first flush of the dawn—without observation or local limit. He cannot say—lo here! lo there! but his eyes are purified and filled with that heavenly light. It is not dream but realisation, not hope but experience, not faith but seeing. It is the answer that follows the prayer—'Let Thy work appear unto Thy servants.' And the heart that so prays is released from the 'care and cumber' of much of our Mission machinery. Committees, and estimates, and appointments, and statistics—what worldly anxiety and worldly wisdom may be wrapped up in these! Doubtless they have their legitimate use, but we need to stand free of them sometimes and look only into the face of God. The Saviour knew none of these things. His only manual was the Father's will, His only method to go about doing good. For the rest, how simple, and childlike, and unconstrained was the Perfect Life! 'My Father worketh,' He said, 'The Father loveth the Son and showeth Him whatsoever Himself doeth.'

"And in this confidence He laid down His life that He might take it again."

VERNACULAR PREACHING.

To the vast crowds in the thronging melas and the great heathen festivals in quiet conversation with the shopkeeper in his leisure moments, with the boatmen by the River Ghat, with the restless, unsatisfied pilgrim in the Temple Court, the ryot in the field, the traveller by the highways and hedges, in the city bazaar and in the village rest-house, in public conveyances, tram-cars, and trains, and in private houses, our brethren preach Christ, casting the precious seed, and praying and longing for its up-springing and fruit-bearing.

One very striking fact in connection with the experiences of our missionaries during the past year has been the widespread spirit of hearing amongst the people.

One of our brethren writes :—

"I have never before experienced such a general desire on the part of vast multitudes of the people to listen attentively and thoughtfully to the preaching of 'the old, old story of Jesus and His love,' the plain, loving, earnest proclamation of the love of God in Christ, the atoning sacrifice of the Saviour; and His welcome to all that come to Him has secured an attention and an interest I have never known in any previous experience of now over a long term of years in India. I have often been asked, when preaching to the crowds in the city, to tell them more about Jesus Christ—what He did when upon earth, and what He is doing now; this is a great encouragement. I have never been so hopeful in my work as during the past year. 'I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me.'"

Patna City may well be taken as a typical illustration of the great openings which to-day present themselves for street and bazaar vernacular preaching.

Referring to the vastness of the work in this great centre, the Rev. John Stubbs writes :—

"Patna is the general name for three big towns. Patna City, where the great majority of the natives reside, and where it is my privilege to labour; Bankipore, the European civil station, where our brethren Dann and Collier live; and Dinapore, the military station, where Mr. Patterson works; the three towns containing altogether 207,600 people. An hour's run by rail, or thirty miles off, is Arrah, containing 47,000 people, and where, during the past year, a native preacher and colporteur have been located; and about the same distance from Patna, but in the opposite direction, is the town of Behar, with about the same population, but without any witness for Christ. All around the central station of Patna lies the district packed with villages. The Government census returns give the astonishing figures of 854 souls to the square mile. The population of the Patna District is nearly two millions (1,770,224). We of the Baptist Missionary Society have the entire responsibility of evangelising the males of this great population. The Baptist Zenana Mission and Zenana Bible and Medical Mission share with us the responsibility of evangelising the females. The male workers sent out by the Baptist Missionary Society to evangelise this field I can count upon the fingers of one hand.

'Street-preaching always strikes me as the most important branch of our work, as in no other way can we discharge our obligations to the large non-Christian population, which has a very solemn claim to hear the Gospel entrusted to us. I have, therefore, always put it in the front of all other efforts. Except when absent in the district I have preached every day, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday, both morning and evening, in the public streets. We have seven places in different parts of the city where we preach regularly, besides other places where we preach occasionally. Our hearers are usually a motley crowd. The Brahman or Maulavi, with silent scorn written on his face as he listens to a low-caste native preacher, reminding one of the haughty Pharisee before the men of Galilee; the well-to-do city merchant; the simple farmer who has come to Patna to get rid of his produce, or to bring his opium; men with faces full of cunning, broken down opium-eaters, and drunkards, men with clothes and men almost without any; military-looking policemen, reminding us that we are not without guardians of a kind; and an occasional low-caste woman, or a fakir with his body smeared with that most sacred of Indian cosmetics, the ashes of cow-dung. They are very free and easy, coming and going sometimes attempting to converse among themselves if the subject is not to their liking, and occasionally arguing or putting foolish and unlearned questions. But almost always there are some who seem really interested.

"After preaching, I have had many a quiet word with men who I have noticed staying through the whole preaching, or who have come two or three times to hear us, and almost all have one tale to tell—that there is a wife, or children, or parents or friends, from whom, if Christ were openly confessed, it would be necessary to part for ever. No one without Indian experience can understand the unspeakable disgrace which baptism involves, not only to the man himself, but to his family. Let them die, but let them not bring this curse upon themselves and their relatives! Only Divine grace can enable such men, either by a modification of their circumstances, or by standing alone, to testify to the Lord in whom they really believe.

"During the cold season I had also happy times of work in most of the country towns and villages between Patna and Bárh. The River Ganges and the railway greatly help in taking the Gospel to these places. In going over the ground a second or a third time it was very cheering to note the kindly recognition of the people, and their eagerness to hear. The country people do, indeed, as a rule, listen attentively, and surely the heart is reached through the ear. Not unfrequently the preaching-place was by the side of a large well on the edge of a village, or a mango grove by the roadside. Here attention to the Gospel message could always be gained by a reference to the common Hindustani custom of drawing water. Nearly everybody in India draws water with his own brass lota, or drinking-vessel, and rope. It often happens, however, that there are thirsty poor people who have neither rope nor vessel, and who are, therefore, obliged to ask someone to give them a drink. The man may hesitate, lest complying with the request might break his caste; but if he is assured that there is no danger, he draws the water and brings it to the thirsty man. The latter places his hands so as to form a cup, and into this the man pours the water from which it is dexterously conveyed to the mouth. This common custom wins the ears of the people for the story of the scene at Sychar, and for the message that "Jesus the water of life will give Freely to those that ask Him."

The Rev. G. J. Dann, referring to vernacular preaching at the great Sonepur Mela, writes:—

"The greatest effect was produced by the personal testimony to the saving power of Christ given by our most experienced Indian brother. I have seen an audience of out-and-out idolaters and Mohammedans held spell-bound many times since I came to India, but the effect is always the greatest and the interest most intense when, under the influence of the Holy Spirit, Christ is manifestly set forth as crucified for sinners and testimony is given as to His power in saving the witness himself. Among the many incidents of this mela one was specially interesting. An old man from a village in the Mozuffarpur District came to us and testified that since hearing Mr. Broadway thirty years ago preaching the Gospel in the bazaar at Mozuffarpur, he had abandoned all Hindu deities and worship, and trusted in Christ alone for salvation, ordered his life by the Gospel precepts, and kept his light burning from year to year. Not a baptized Christian, surrounded by entirely heathen neighbours, but upheld by the Master Himself, this old man has held on his way for all these years!"

Th Daniel Jones, of Agra, mentions the following incident :—

"We have lately been greatly cheered by the coming out of a Hindu of the Thakur caste (looked upon as a high caste by the Hindus). We were preaching in a fair on the banks of the River Jamná and he heard. Some weeks after he found his way here as an inquirer, and I must say that I have never been more cheered. What seemed to me the deep conviction of sin in the man, a matter we often long to see more of in our inquirers. He and his wife are now candidates for baptism; they have three dear little boys, so that the whole family has been added to us."

The Rev. W. Carey, of Dacca City, writes :—

"'And Jesus went about all the cities, and the villages, preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom.' And the villages—that was the word that rang in our ears. How many villages would there be in this one district of Dacca? We looked at the map, unrolled it, and spread it on the table. It was just a black mass of names, and every name a village. Had these villages been visited with the Gospel? We looked at the map again. Three waterways shone upon it like the prongs of a fork. Two of them bound the district. The other runs through the middle. These rivers have carried the missionary's boat year after year to the larger townships, bazaars, and markets along their banks. But the villages? The villages lie between—inaccessible to any but the smallest boats, and in them only for a part of the year. The villages lie hidden in the fever jungle or cluster round the edge of interior swamps. How could the villages be visited with all those larger fields lying open to view?

"But we could not get away from the thought. It was like a fire burning in our bones. We put the map in the pulpit, and there were great searchings of heart under the sermons it preached. The church took up the matter, and prayed and planned, and planned and prayed, till something definite was done. A letter was written, and printed, and addressed to the principal men in all the villages of a certain section of the district. It was a call to repentance and the fear of God, and it was followed by a band of preachers who spent a month going from village to village with the life-giving message of the Cross. They were well received. Their best meetings were held at night, when all the cultivators had finished their work in the fields and taken their evening meal. Then, for hours, they would listen to the singing and the singing box, look at the magic lantern, and hear, often for the first time, the sweet story of old. They sent in glowing reports as they went along, and the church sustained them with prayer. It was a new experience and a new joy. They went in the faith that God had prepared hearts in every place, and so it fell out. They visited twenty-two villages, and preached to 2,900 people, most of whom had never heard the way of salvation before. But if they continue the tour, spending one day only in each village, and working all through the year, it will take them fourteen years to complete the task. 'Pray ye, therefore, the Lord of the harvest that He will thrust forth labourers into His harvest.'"

It is abundantly clear from the reports of the brethren that the seed-sowing of past years by the widespread preaching of the Gospel has resulted in harvest in quite unexpected and out-of-the-way districts, and that many to-day are living Christian lives, showing forth the power of Divine Grace, whose names have never been entered upon any church roll, and who have never been included in any statistical returns.

"Have faith, though ne'er beholding
The seed burst from its tomb,
Thou knowest not which may perish
Or what be spared to bloom."

THE NATIVE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

"Every missionary should clearly point out and enforce the duty and privilege resting upon all Christians from the very first to sustain and support the institutions of religion. Native converts should be urged and stimulated to provide their own places of worship, support their own pastor, or, if unable to do this, to make the best arrangements possible for the regular conduct of their own religious services amongst themselves. Systematic and conscientious giving should also be enforced from the very beginning of the Christian life, as well as active aggressive efforts for the evangelisation of the surrounding masses."—Indian Missionary Manual.

The reports sent home for the past year relative to the Native Christian Churches are distinctly cheering, indicating a steady growth in spiritual life and aggressive zeal.

The Rev. Robert Spurgeon, writing of the Barisal churches, reports :—

"Christian character is becoming more clearly defined in many of our people ; and true spiritual life is evident almost everywhere. Now that no money passes through my hands, and all school work is with Mr. Tregillus, my visits to the churches are more nearly what one desires them to be. The Committee of the Baptist Union of our native churches also bears many a burden that used to fall on the missionary's shoulders, and this also helps to raise our relationship with the brethren nearer the ideal. In liberality our people are growing, and a simple enumeration of the objects that claim their help will show that this is encouraging. Each church sends an annual subscription to our Baptist Union Fund ; holds two annual festivals—the Famine Festival and the Harvest Festival ; raises annual subscriptions to the Indian Baptist Missionary Society ; helps towards the building or rebuilding of chapels whenever an appeal is made ; supports its own worship, and in two instances supports a pastor. During the year two new chapels have been opened—one at Bagdha and one at Choksing. The latter was mainly the work of Babu Dyal Halder, who took up the cause with great enthusiasm. Other chapels are in hand, but it would be premature to report upon them now.

"There have been numerous baptisms this year, but all from our own community. This is of course most natural, for where the seed has been most thickly sown and the most favourable circumstances created, there the ingathering ought to be largest and best. The first baptism, however, was that of Mr. Atkinson, a gentleman from Calcutta, who owns house property in Barisal. He was one of the many who, long convicted in their own minds by the study of the Scriptures that there is but 'one Lord, one faith, and one baptism,' had waited for an opportunity of confessing this before men. Like the eunuch 'he went on his way rejoicing.'"

Interesting reports have also been received from the Madaripore and Khoolna Churches. The Intally Native Church in Calcutta reports nineteen additions by baptism, a thriving and increasing Sunday-school and vigorous Christian Endeavour societies, while the church members support, entirely at their own cost, a native Christian evangelist. The churches in the Southern Villages and in the North-West Provinces also report progress and growing spiritual power.

The pastor of the Cuttack Native Christian Church writes :—

"During the past year we have rejoiced over thirty-four who have been converted and added to our number. Increased interest has been manifested in the public services of the sanctuary, and the private members, as well as officers, have thought much and talked together about the church's future well-being. Besides this, the young men's associations established in the various villages have been very helpful. By their means young men have grown in religious knowledge and devotion, and some have become fitted to pray and speak in public, and also to write essays on religious subjects. Some of the more experienced and earnest members have sought by teaching to lead children on the way of righteousness; and some, according to their opportunities, have made known the glad tidings to the heathen. Formerly the church members used to think that the burden of all church work and of preaching to the heathen was only laid upon the Mission; gradually that idea is being changed. The grace of giving to carry on the Lord's work, moreover, is gradually increasing in our midst. Our prayer is that, like the Apostle Paul, our people may be thoughtful and anxious about their fellow countrymen. Brethren have gone with me to visit and pray with the sick, and some have preached in the chapel, and others are gradually being prepared for this work. For all this we praise the Lord."

NATIVE CHRISTIAN TRAINING INSTITUTIONS AND SCHOOLS.

SERAMPORE.

In the absence in England on furlough of the Rev. E. S. Summers, B.A., the principal, the Rev. T. W. Norledge, B.A., has undertaken the duties of acting principal.

Mr. Norledge writes :—

"It is with great pleasure that we are able to report that the extensive damage to the College caused by the earthquake of 1897 has now been thoroughly repaired. Mr Summers, before his departure for England, had the joy of seeing the old building in a better condition than it has been in for many years past. The apse which formed part of the south side of the College, and which was completely destroyed by the earthquake, has been replaced by a straight wall which, in the opinion of many, adds beauty and symmetry to the edifice. In other respects the building wears the same shape and appearance as before. Our hearty thanks are given to the Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society and to the numerous friends in England and India who so generously and readily subscribed the necessary funds for the repairs.

"The second annual Convention of Evangelists was held in March. The attendance was much larger than last year, and the meetings were for the most part of an invigorating and helpful character. At one of the meetings the Indian Baptist Missionary Society was formally founded. A report of the Convention appeared in the MISSIONARY HERALD, so there is no need to refer to it here at greater length.

"Some apprehension arose in our minds at the beginning of May, owing to the alleged appearance of the plague in Calcutta. Fears were expressed that the College classes would have to be closed. On one occasion a large deputation of students and school-boys came to me in a highly-alarmed state of mind, requesting to be allowed to go home. Their fear, however, was gradually allayed, and our work soon went on again in its normal course. It is a matter of deep thankfulness to God that no probability of an outbreak of plague in these parts now exists.

"Four believers have been baptized during the year, among them being the wife, father-in-law, and mother-in-law of Durga Babu, the headmaster of the Normal Class. Four students of the Vernacular Theological Class are leaving College at the close of the present session. Sunday-school and Christian Endeavour work has been carried on under the energetic superintendence of Mr. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson has continued the work done by Mrs. Summers among the students' wives. Mr. Gilbert has rendered effective assistance in the school. A Science Class has been begun by him, and it is to be hoped he will be able to continue it in future.

"The English Theological Class at present consists of only two students, and the results of the annual examination of this class are not yet available.

"At the beginning of the year fourteen students were in the Vernacular Theological Class. Of these three were new students, two belonging to our own community, and one to the South Australian Baptist Mission. Later on in the year a young man was sent from the South Villages by the Rev. Krishtanga Biswas, and another young man by Miss Arnold of the sister society referred to above. There are five students in the third-year class.

"The Normal Class re-opened at the beginning of the year with twenty-seven students, of whom seven have either left of their own accord or been dismissed.

"The Boarding School has been in the charge of the Rev. S. S. Mukerjee, who was appointed to this work by the Home Committee in place of the Rev. B. C. Ghose, now stationed at Madaripore. I am glad to be able to give a good report of Mr. Mukerjee's work. He has paid careful attention to the school, and has taken several subjects with the theological students of the Vernacular Class.

"The usual services at Johannagar and Serampore have been continued under the respective superintendence of Babu Nath Chakrabarty and Mr. Wilson. The English chapel has been partly repaired, and several ladies are busily collecting money to enable Mr. Wilson to finish the work he has so heartily undertaken. The work of the evangelists at Singhur has been in Mr. Wilson's hands since Bhagabati Babu was transferred. Koylash, who was stationed at Haripal, has been removed to Singhur where he enjoys better health and is able to labour more effectively in association with Babu Moti Lal Sircar."

ORISSA NATIVE CHRISTIAN TRAINING INSTITUTION.

CUTTACK.

The principal of the Cuttack Institution, the Rev. Thomas Bailey, writes :—

"The new session opened in March with five students. This number was increased to seven in April, when John Patra and Jabez Patra joined the classes, and in May Nityanand Sahu also joined us, making a total of eight, all candidates for the Christian ministry.

"All the young men have studied with me in Butler's 'Analogy,' the opening chapters; in Cambridge Bible: Matthew's Gospel, Introduction and Commentary to end of Chap. IV.; and in Church History, 'From Christ to Constantine,' Introduction, and Chap. V. on 'Christian Life in the First Three Centuries.' It is scarcely too much to say that the whole of the lessons on these very important subjects have been carefully and well prepared; the painstaking industry of the whole class has made the work of teaching a special satisfaction and enjoyment. Under Mr. Howells the whole of the young men have studied in Old Testament Exegesis the books of Haggai and Zechariah; also General Introduction on Prophecy and the Prophetic Order; and in Biblical Theology Professor Adeney's 'New Testament Theology,' pp. 26-72. As John and Jabez have a sufficient acquaintance with the English language, an English class was also formed by Mr. Howells—in Systematic Theology: Professor Laidlaw's 'Foundation Truths of Scripture,' pp. 1-73; in Apologetics: Professor Iverack's 'Truth of Christianity,' pp. 1-56; and in Biblical Theology, pp. 1-26, in addition to the portion in the same subject taken by all the students. The same class was taught by Mrs. Howells in Huddleston's 'Essentials of New Testament Greek,' lessons 1-14. We greatly rejoice in the enlarged curriculum represented by the above subjects. A more comprehensive view of the great field of theological study has thus been placed within reach of the inmates of the Institution than has at any previous time been practicable.

"The Rev. Shem Sahu has led the whole class in a careful study of the Epistle to the Hebrews—Introduction, Analysis, and Exposition, compiled from various sources. He has also translated the lessons for the classes in Church History and Matthew's Gospel.

"The Rev. Niladri Naik, the assistant tutor, has also led the whole class in a study of the Epistle to the Ephesians and in Dr. Buckley's Lectures, and has exercised a general superintendence in the other subjects.

"The spirit of the young men has been excellent, and the work of the College has proceeded throughout the session almost without interruption. The senior students have occasionally preached in the Mission chapel and at Macmillanpatna, and all have taken a share in evangelistic work in the bazaar. Arrangements have also been made for all to take extensive tours with more experienced brethren in the country during the now current cold season."

THE NORTH-WEST NATIVE CHRISTIAN TRAINING INSTITUTION.

DELHI, PUNJAB.

The report of the principal, the Rev. Stephen S. Thomas, is as follows :—

"The session under review has been one of steady uninterrupted work. There has been no serious sickness and little in outward circumstances to disturb the even progress of class work. This is a matter for special thankfulness for two reasons—First, because last session was so disturbed by my work on the Indian Famine Charitable Relief Committee; and, secondly, because this is the last year for several of the students.

"The marked event of the year has been Jael Lall's taking his B.A. He entered the school when quite a small boy, and I have watched his progress through the various stages with great interest and thankfulness. He has not failed in a single examination along the line of his studies, and his character has been as good as his ability. His success is of course due in a large measure to the principal and tutors of St. Stephen's College, to whom I feel very grateful. In his B.A. examination he came out first in English and Arabic and fifth on the total passes in the Punjab. To get the Arabic First in the most Mohammedan province of India is a distinction to be proud of. He enters for his M.A. degree next March. He has been appointed as my colleague in the Institution.

"Students.—The students have worked extremely well and at times very hard. Their relations with each other have been most happy, and their conduct highly satisfactory. Indeed, both students and boys have given me wonderfully little trouble during the year.

"Class Work.—The following books have been studied this session :—Magál. I. and II. Thessalonians. Ain-ul-hayát. Joshua, Judges, I. and II. Samuel, with parts of I. Chronicles. Matparikshá Kawáif us-Saháif. The marks gained in the examinations are exceedingly good. The Sermon Class conducted by myself has been held through the session, and I believe has been very helpful to the men. Joel Lall has held an Urdu literature class, by which the men have benefited greatly.

"Preaching.—During the year we have gone to the bazaar in three parties, led by Mr. Hasler, Mr. Pande, and myself, respectively, twice a week. The students show growing power to address the people—in some cases their progress in this respect is very marked. Often the opposition we encounter is very bitter, and nowhere in the whole of India are these young men likely to meet with fiercer.

"In October I took five of them with me into the district of Baraut and Chhaprouli. We had a really good time together in every respect. The people listened in such numbers and with such response that it was easy and delightful to preach to them, and the students responded to the calls and opportunities of the work in a way that cheered me greatly. I have recorded in the Conference Minutes my solemn conviction that this district of Baraut is a most promising field for a European missionary to settle in.

"Boarding School.—The number of boys at present in the school is thirty-eight. The higher classes, as heretofore, have attended St. Stephen's High School with much profit to themselves and at great saving to the Mission. Bible-classes have been conducted by Mr. Pande and myself,

"Joel Lall has taken the oversight and superintendence of the school studies—this is an immense advantage to the school. The conduct of the boys has been good, and their health also."

CHRISTIAN VERNACULAR ELEMENTARY DAY SCHOOLS.

"The Committee recognise it as a duty to see to it that an elementary vernacular Christian education is provided for all the children of native converts, especially in districts where there are no Government schools; such education to be upon distinctly Christian lines. If higher and more advanced education is desired, the parents should avail themselves of the Government institutions for this purpose."—Indian Missionary Manual.

At the close of last year there were in regular attendance at elementary vernacular Christian day schools in connection with the work of the Society in India taught by 284 Christian teachers, being an INCREASE of 727 scholars and 21 teachers.

Reporting upon the work of the year in connection with the work done in the schools of Barisal-Madaripore Districts the Rev. R. H. Tregillus writes:—

"We are not without much reason for gratitude in the review. Our special effort during the year has been to arrange for those teachers who were without Government certificates to qualify themselves for obtaining these at the examinations held during October and November. Every teacher needing assistance has had it placed within reach. A class has been opened at Uttarpar for Chatra Britti and Upper Primary candidates. A number of teachers, temporarily relieved of school duties, have for two or three months been studying there. Many teachers have been assisted in private study after school hours. As the results obtained in the Government examinations are not yet published, the story of how far our teachers have been successful must await next year's Report.

"The results attained at the Government Primary Examinations, published at the beginning of the current year, reveal the fruit of work done in the schools last year. These results, as far as they concern our scholars, we must consider very encouraging. A total of sixty-three scholars passed the Lower Primary Examination, among whom were twenty-nine Christian boys and one Christian girl. In the Upper Primary Examination three scholars were successful. I believe this is slightly more than double the best result recorded of any previous year.

"The rule of the previous two years has been maintained with reference to the visiting and examination of the schools. The schools have been visited twice, and a regular examination has been held on each occasion. With two unavoidable exceptions, the teachers have been met every month for arranging school matters.

"We have been glad to continue the special gatherings for the teachers inaugurated two and a half years ago. Two such gatherings have been held during the year. The first was held at Turki early in March. Mr. Spurgeon presided at an early prayer meeting, and gave a helpful address. The conference following was under the direction of our brother Mr. B. C. Ghose, of Madaripore. The subject was 'Practise,' and many stimulating words were spoken. Following the precedent of the last two years, the second gathering was held on the day previous to the opening of the autumn session of the Baptist Union at Dhamsar. At a preliminary meeting for worship a double question, founded on the words 'What doest thou here, Elijah?' was suggested as a topic for the teacher's self-examination: I. Why here?—i.e., Why am I a Christian teacher? II. What am I doing?—i.e., How far faithful to the responsibilities of my position? The conference had a helpful chairman in our friend Mr. M. N. Nath, of Calcutta. Two teachers opened the meeting with thoughtful papers on the theme: 'With what object in view have I become a Christian school teacher?' We had reason to believe that these special gatherings were not without tokens of the presence and blessing of the Great Teacher."

It is very evident that the elementary vernacular Christian schools supported to-day by our Society are in a much more efficient condition than in any past time, the native Christian teachers are far better equipped for their work, and the results of the Government examinations of the scholars indicate a much more thorough method of teaching.

BISHTOPORE BOARDING SCHOOL.

The head master of this school, the Rev. Khristanga Biswas, reports:—

"At present there are twenty-eight boys in the school, of whom nineteen are supported by the Birmingham Y.P.M.A., and nine are day scholars. They are grouped in different classes for ordinary lessons, but receive Scripture lessons together. On every Saturday evening there is a singing class and Endeavour meeting, when they take part in learning some historical portion of the Scripture, and they join in prayers and offer short but very enthusiastic prayers. On Sundays they attend the Sunday-school regularly, and after the Sunday-school they go about begging handfuls of rice; this done, they collect together the rice and sell it to pay for the wages of the church-bearer, and I am very thankful to feel that these boys are moved by our Saviour who quickens their hearts with His Spirit, making them true workers in His vineyard; and I pray that their Christian life and energy may be the means of rescuing many poor wandering souls out of the grasp and fetters of the devil and leading them to the feet of a crucified Saviour. Our greatest hope for the future welfare of our Christian community in this district lies in the spiritual and intellectual benefits now being conferred upon the boys. Let us pray that God the Father may bestow His special blessings upon these poor uneducated children for whom Christ died."

Regarding the Boarding School, Miss Taylor, after visiting and examining the school in November last, writes:—

"Although there are an entirely new set of boys to those whom I last examined, yet they in no way come behind their predecessors. The answers given were correct and to the point. Their knowledge of the Gospel and Old Testament stories speaks well for the future of the lads."

At the beginning of the year Mr. Biswas sent four promising boys to Serampore College for more advanced training, and there were others ready to go forward.

The Birmingham Young People's Missionary Association has generously supported the work at Bishtopore for a long term of years past by liberal annual contributions, and has by so doing supplied the Society with a noble succession of devoted, well-equipped native Christian evangelists.

HIGH SCHOOL, CUTTACK, ORISSA.

The Rev. A. H. Young, M.A., the head master of the Cuttack High School, reports :—

"This has been our best year, both as regards attendance and the number of those who passed the Matriculation Examination of the Calcutta University. The number of pupils on the roll has varied from 186 to 216; and the number at the close of the year was 211. At the last Matriculation Examination we presented six candidates, and five of them passed, two being in the second division. As he has done for the past two years, M. S. Das, Esq., has again promised to give two prizes for proficiency in Scripture knowledge, one to be competed for by Christians, and the other by non-Christians. The subject prescribed is the Gospel by Luke. Four of our former pupils are now reading in the F.A. class of the College here."

NORMAL SCHOOL, CUTTACK.

Mr. Young writes :—

"The six students mentioned in last year's Report have all passed the Guru Examination or its equivalent. Three of them are now at work; the other three are waiting till we can arrange to send them where they may be needed. The Guru Examination has now been abolished by the Education Department, and it will be necessary for us, in future, to prepare the students for the Upper Primary Examination. Eight of our village schools are now supplied with teachers from our Normal School, and we hope soon to have the other schools carried on by Christian teachers that have been trained by ourselves."

THE EUROPEAN HIGH SCHOOL, CUTTACK.

The head master, Mr. John Young, reports :—

"During the year four of our pupils passed the Primary School Examination, and one the Middle. There are sixty-five pupils, nine classes, and seven teachers."

KHARAR BOARDING SCHOOL, PUNJAB.

The Rev. Geo. Anstie Smith writes :—

"The Boarding School, though from various reasons fewer in numbers this year, is in a more efficient state than ever before, discipline is better, classes nearer the standard, and teaching more efficient. These results are partly due to the introduction of a certified head master, but are also partly due to another change of masters which was found expedient in the hot weather."

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Rev. W. Carey, of Dacca, supplies the following report of Sunday-schools connected with our Mission in

BENGAL.

"The returns for 1897-98 exhibit at once the back-wash of the waves and the insistent strength of the tide.

"There is a slight decrease on the general total—the number of schools being 157, or 14 less than were reported last year—but 7 more than we had two years ago.

"The number of scholars is 3,144—or 77 less than last year—but 601 more than in 1895-96.

"On the other hand, the number of teachers has risen to 269, an increase of 4 on last year, and 24 on the total two years ago.

"Next to faithfulness in the teacher comes responsiveness and receptiveness in the scholar. The 'All India' Annual Examination affords a convenient test of this and the results, as far as our Mission are concerned, are splendid this year.

"THE 'ALL INDIA' EXAMINATION.

"This examination was held in July, the subject being the International Lessons for the previous six months: 2,425 candidates appeared, and 1,651 obtained pass certificates. The questions were printed in fifteen different languages, practically covering all India, Burma, and Ceylon

"This report is concerned only with Bengal and with the Bengali tongue.

"In Bengali there were 281 entries and 256 passes. Of these passes our scholars took 150—the lion's share.

"Mention should also be made of the Scripture Examination conducted by the Bengali Christian Conference. The Intally girls competed at this examination—8 of them passing in the 2nd grade, and 9 in the 3rd grade. Kāmini Bālā Dās stood first in the higher grade and won a silver medal."

NORTH-WEST PROVINCES SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

The Rev. J. G. Potter, formerly of Agra, but now stationed at Kalka supplies the Sunday-schools report for the North-West Provinces :—

"It is my pleasure to present another year's record of Sunday-school work in connection with our North-West mission stations. Last year's report showed a deep and growing interest in the department of mission service. This has been sustained during the present year as the statistics from the various stations will show. In all departments of mission work the children claim our attention. In the bazaars they are often the first to be attracted by the singing. In villages they often outnumber the adults, and in visiting from house to house we find the bright faces of the children always before us. At Agra it is with great delight we observe the intelligent interest in the Bible lesson given from day to day to the orphan boys. Although only two years under instruction, many of them know more of the Bible than some boys brought up in Christian homes in England and taught for years in the Sunday-school.

During the year (October 27th to 29th) the Annual Sunday-school Convention was for the first time held at Agra. The feature of this conference, in the judgment of most of us, was the first meeting conducted in Hindustani. It was evident by the large attendance and warm discussion which followed the excellent addresses given by the Revs. T. J. Scott, of Bareilly, and D. Jones, of Agra, that our Indian brethren had a good hold of the Sunday-school idea and a lot of practical experience in Sunday-school work. Also from the paper read by the Rev. J. Paterson, a C.M.S. missionary, later on we gather that College students, if shown the way, make excellent Sunday-school workers. If the members of all our Indian churches take up this work as their own we shall soon see our Sunday-school work greatly enlarged and very fruitful.

SOCIETIES OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR.

“For Christ and the Church.”

The Rev. William Carey, of Dacca, supplies a deeply interesting report as to the Christian Endeavour movement in connection with our native Christian churches in

BENGAL.

“The trees of the Lord are full of sap.”

“The ‘wood’ is no bigger than it was last year—this report being confined to

Bengal and to Baptist Bengal. But it covers the ground with a much thicker and healthier growth.

"We have now a total of 86 societies and 1,483 members. This is a gain of 6 societies and 372 members over last year. Special care has been taken to secure exact returns, and no society has been included that has not been definitely reported afresh during the past six months.

"It is interesting to note that 172 of the members are girls in Hindu homes and pupils of zenana schools. Of these, 95 are found in Calcutta, 69 in Dacca, and 12 in Barisal. They invoke our special thanksgiving and prayers.

"Thirty-six of our members have joined the church this year. What joy lies in that single fact!

"The Christian Endeavour flag can be seen gleaming in the sunshine over all but two of our districts to-day. One of these is Khulna—and there it seems they are getting a pole ready for it now.

"There have been several rallies held during the year—each one bringing an accession of gladness and strength. I can only name the locality of these special events. Two have been held in the south, one at Barrackpore, two in Bakharganj, and two or three in Calcutta.

"THE TREES.

"There are bare patches in the wood where few trees grow, and dense sections where they grow so thickly that it is difficult to distinguish between them.

"Here is a list showing the distribution of societies over the different districts —

"A.—SOCIETIES BY DISTRICTS—1898.

"THE PRODUCE.

"Only samples can be given, and these are taken at random.

"The Pirojpur secretary writes: 'The society has done us a great deal of good. It has caused our members to increase in prayerfulness and the study of the Scripture and zeal for the Lord. The boatmen on the Mission boat (Mohammedans) are learning to read and buying Bibles as soon as they can read them, and our members are teaching them. Everyone is eager to read the Word. One of our associates has become an active member.'

"From another place, Beni, a little girl secretary, says: 'We have such nice meetings. Sometimes two of the girls take it; sometimes several together. Sometimes we go out and have united meetings, when the boys will take part or some gentleman will lead. Our meetings are very happy ones, and I am sure they help us to consecrate ourselves to Jesus.'

"From the South Villages come delightful scraps of news. At Lakshmi Kantipur rice and money are being collected for the Congo Mission. 'At Khari the women lead the way in Christian Endeavour.' That was at the beginning of the year : now 'the men and boys are tilling a piece of land for God.' At Vishnupur a 'destitute lad is being supported,' and the schoolboys are doing it. They have called him 'Santosh,' which means pleasure. May it always be a pleasure to them to do such kindly deeds.

"The schoolboys at Serampore started a flourishing Junior Society in August last. They had an object-meeting, and managed it themselves. One brought a dirty piece of rag. What do you think that was ? Why, the skirt of Aaron's garment to which the oil ran down ! Another had a tumblerful of water with the text, 'He leadeth me beside the still waters' ! A third brought a bottle with a prisoned gold-fish—nothing else, believe me, than the whale that swallowed Jonah ! It was too funny, but a capital meeting nevertheless, and full of profit. Those boys think for themselves, and they are studying carefully their Bibles.

"At the Junior Society in Circular Road 'a working party is held on the second Saturday in each month. The articles made are to be divided between the children's ward of the General Hospital and a Bengali hospital.'

"A Hindu girls' society was started at Barisal in July. There is an average attendance of 10. The girls have a fund with which they buy copies of the Gospel to be given away to poor people by the Bible-women as they go their rounds.

"Another society of Hindu girls in Calcutta is making garments for poor Christian women at Khari, and dressing dolls for the children there. They will write a letter of Christian love at Christmas to go with these gifts.

"In such wise way all the trees drop fatness, 'being filled with the fruits of righteousness which are by Jesus Christ unto the glory and praise of God.'"

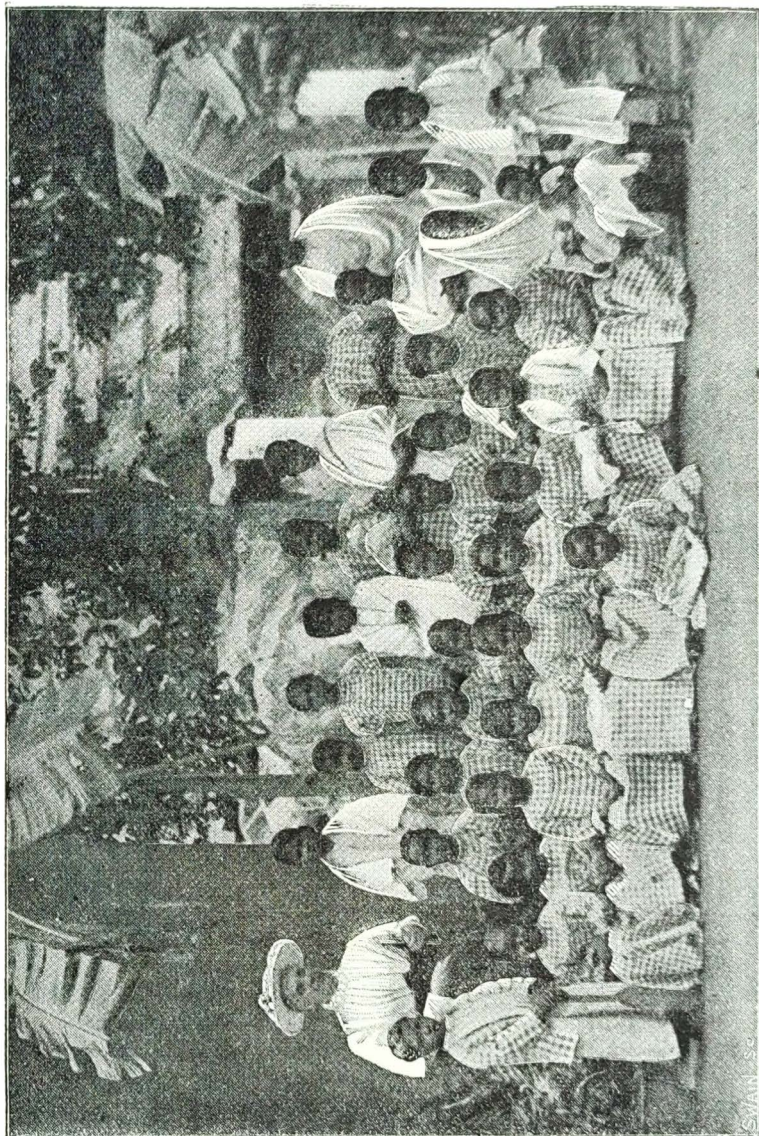

ORPHANAGES.

GIRLS' ORPHANAGE, CUTTACK, ORISSA.

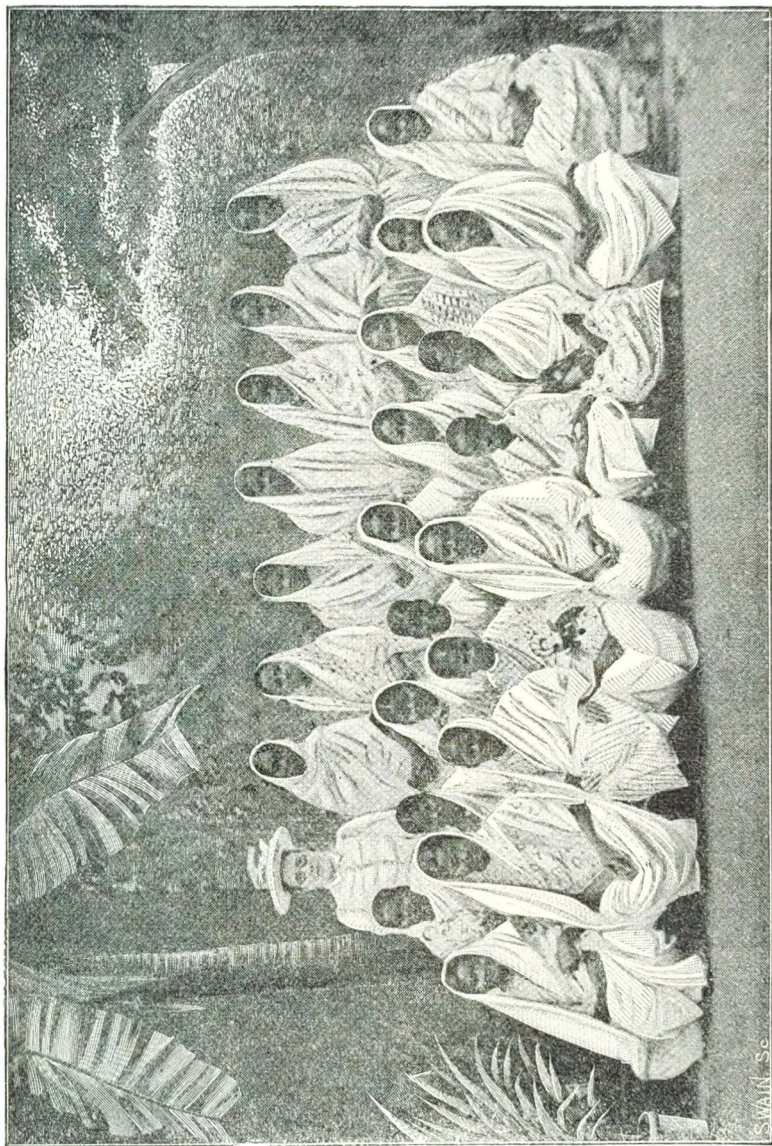

The following is the joint report of Miss Leigh and Miss Thompson, B.Sc. :—

"We gratefully acknowledge the goodness of God towards us and the children under our care during the past year. The general health of all has been good, three cases only of serious illness having occurred. One of these was small-pox, which caused us grave anxiety. The girl was sent to the hospital and made a good recovery, and no other cases occurred in the Orphanage.

"During the year sixteen have left the Institution. Three have died. Uttama, one of these, was with us only a short time. She came in feeble health, and ruptured a bloodvessel after she returned from the hospital ; she lived only a few days after this. To the native Christian nurse she expressed her trust in Christ, and her desire to go to the Saviour ; her life must have been one of constant suffering had she lived. Four others have been adopted. One has gone to Rangoon, and another to Sumbalpur. Two have been married, and six have gone to live with relatives. Motea and Shremotti are now studying at the hospital, and fitting themselves for medical work. One of the old famine orphans has taken service with a native friend. Our girls are scattered when they leave us ; many go to distant places, and it is pleasing to find them usefully employed. Seven have been received into the Orphanage; many others have applied, but our difficulty is ways and means, the prices of all kinds of food having considerably risen during the past two years. Rice is still dear, and no prospect of reduction.

"Our O.E. meetings have been continued with few exceptions, Nabarkumari Rout, our head teacher, having helped in conducting the meetings. Miss Thompson conducts the Junior O.E. Attendance is optional, but most of the children come. Four have joined the church.

"There are 112 scholars in the day school, 47 being day scholars. The number of the latter is greater than in former years, because four girls' schools supported for some years by the municipal authorities have been closed for lack of funds.

"Five girls were presented last year in the Government examinations; all passed, two gaining scholarships. Ujvala took the first place among boys and girls in the Middle Vernacular, and Ruthamoni, a day scholar, daughter of the Oriya Sunday-school superintendent, was first girl in the Upper Primary.

"Several of the elder girls in the Orphanage attend the Women's Bible-class conducted by Babu Shem Sahu; two of these gained certificates in the examination held this autumn.

"For gifts of toys, books, and garments for our children we gratefully thank our kind friends in England. The distribution of these gifts made last Christmas Day an exceptionally bright and joyful occasion.

"The ages of our large family range from one to seventeen years."

THE BOYS' ORPHANAGE, CUTTACK.

The Rev. Thos. Bailey reports :—

"Last year we reported twenty-three inmates. These have been diminished by four.

"Five have been received. Two of these are from Cuttack; one was driven from his home by his step-mother in one of the outlying villages; one is the son of a widow; and one is from Piplee sent by Mr. Lacey.

"Two of the elder boys are in domestic service, and three are working at the Press. The remaining nineteen attend the day school provided for them on the premises.

"Mr. Harvey has continued to conduct the daily morning worship. The Young People's Association connected with the Institution also continues its useful course.

"There are at present twenty-four boys on the premises, and eight are receiving help while residing with their friends."

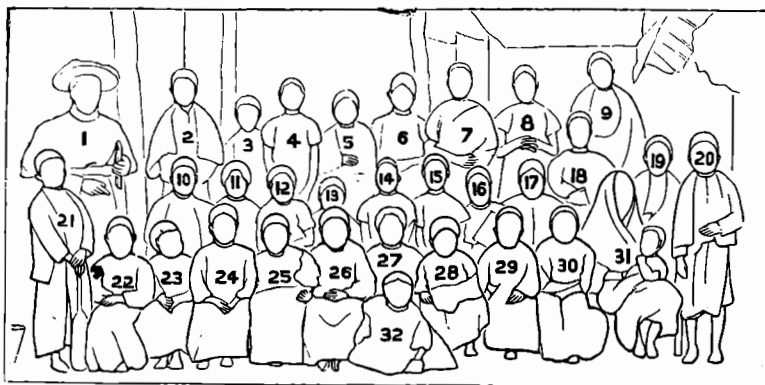

AGRA FAMINE CHILDREN ORPHANAGE.

The Rev. J. G. Potter writes :—

"Last year, in the Agra Famine Report, I wrote: 'We hear of thousands of helpless orphans left by the present famine. Some Missions have done nobly in receiving the perishing children. We trust that our Mission may have at least a share in this blessed work.' At the Calcutta Conference, at which this report was given in, it was agreed that we recommend the Home Committee to receive 100 orphan boys.

That recommendation received their hearty support, and I am glad to report that we have seventy such boys in our Orphan Homes. We regard these boys as a sacred and precious legacy from the late terrible famine, and look forward to the time when all these boys shall give their hearts to the Lord Jesus, and become useful and working members of the Christian Church in India. We are trying, as far as possible, to teach all the boys a trade, and give them an education such as they are fitted to profit by. The little boys are taught in the Mission compound, but all the bigger boys, after learning to read a little, are sent to the Anglo-Vernacular Central School held at the Benevolent Institution.

"Our seventy boys are gathered from various places. Some have been picked up in the City of Agra, some among the villages of the Agra District. Others have been sent to us from Benares and Mahobo, and fifteen have come to us from Government (for whom we draw the usual allowance of Rs. 2 monthly). This will cover the cost of food; yet, with clothing, medicine, and other expenses, we estimate the cost of each boy at Rs. 3 a month, which, in English money, amounts to about one shilling a week. More than twenty of the boys are thus provided for by kind friends in England, America, and India.

"It is probable that, after this year, another will write the annual report of our Orphan Homes, as Mrs. Potter and I will be away at our new station at Kalka. Probably, we shall feel parting with these boys more than we can tell. It is only the knowledge that they will be left in good hands and, above all, are under the special care of the Father of the fatherless, that we reconcile ourselves to leaving them. They will always retain a warm place in our hearts, and an abiding-place in our prayers."

The Rev. Daniel Jones, who is now in charge of the Orphanage, writes:—

"Mr. Potter is reporting concerning the famine boys, but I want to add a word, to assure the friends at home of our sincere thanks for the interest they take in our boys. We look to you to pray for the salvation of these boys. We look out the sharpest lads, the boys of most promise, for your support. With the blessing of God, we shall have from among these lads preachers of the Gospel. How glad you will be by-and-by, who have given of your love in prayers and money for these fatherless and motherless little ones! We shall not forget to write you and tell you of their state, and send you a photograph at times.

"Are there not some more C.E. branches, senior or junior, who will send out £2 12s. for one of our lads for a year? Fancy, only one shilling a week for one of our orphans. We have a number of boys yet to set apart for any who will adopt them."

WORK AMONGST ENGLISH-SPEAKING NATIVE STUDENTS.

The Rev. William Carey sends the following sketch of the special work carried on in the Dacca Mission House for the benefit of the native students in the various colleges of that most important educational centre, often termed "the Athens of Eastern Bengal":—

"'And Jesus, beholding him, loved him.'—A quiet class-room on the lower floor of the Mission House. Windows wide open—the afternoon air heavy with heat and the sunblaze still on the bushes outside thick with dust. Half a dozen students sitting at the teacher's table while a mat punkah swings listlessly overhead.

"Nothing very romantic about such a picture as that. The atmosphere is rather stuffy indeed—spite of the moving fan. But that is all you would see day after day during the College terms from four o'clock until dark, and often for an hour beyond. Class after class comes in, reads for the allotted time, and makes way for the next. There is seldom any delay—very rarely any desultory talk. Each has its fixed hour and subject and register. A class of fifth-form boys may follow a class of graduates, or vice versa. The difficulty is to fit them all in. None are large, but all are earnest and the interest grows. Students that have already sat five hours in a crowded college over their classics need to be in earnest to come straight away with their armful of books and jaded minds to another class in the Bible. And most of them are winsome lads—anxious to know what good things they may do to inherit eternal life and already striving to walk in the way of God's commandments. It is impossible not to love them. There are few cavillers. For the most part, they yield themselves with reverent attention to the teaching of the hour, and exhibit a wistful eagerness to sit at the feet of Christ. They may go away sorrowful, when the last word has been said, as the young man did in the Gospels, but we do not know that he never came back.

"Every class bows in prayer before being dismissed. This has helped us all. 'I cannot pray,' said a student to me once; 'I do not know what prayer is. I can do pujah, but I cannot pray.' And another on the same day said, 'No Sudra can pray.' They are learning what prayer is. They are learning to pray. The few moments thus spent in speech with God have clenched many a lesson and melted many a heart. I used to have an uneasy sense of responsibility when we parted without prayer. Now, having committed the class to God, I can let it go, and even though I should never see the members again, feel no shameful fear.

"There have been some cases of decision for Christ and requests for baptism, but none have been baptized. But I am filled with wonder as I see souls led into the light by the strange sweet cords of the love of God, across so many broken and rugged paths. There are salt licks in the jungle to which innumerable tracks of wild creatures converge from every part of the surrounding hills. How do they find their way? Only God knows. 'As the hart panteth after the water brooks so panteth my soul after Thee.' What is the explanation? It is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes."

The Rev. A. E. Collier, of Bankipore, reports:—

"The Reading-room has been removed from the old Mission House to very convenient room situated in the main bazaar, and exactly opposite the Patna Government College. Mr. Dann and I have lent or given such books as we could muster; these, together with some given by other friends, form the nucleus of a library. Also various papers, secular and religious, are placed on the table, mostly given by friends in England. A considerable number of young men attend. Members pay a small entrance fee and subscription. Frequent opportunities for conversation on religious subjects are afforded. Some bring difficult questions, or passages of Scripture, to be explained, which are not always easy to answer off-hand. It is most important to place good, wholesome literature within the reach of English-speaking Indians. The cheap, trashy novels, so widely read by them, can only produce depraved tastes and wrong views on religious and moral subjects. A few months ago I distributed a number of New Testaments and Scripture portions, the gift of the Bible Society, Tract Society, and Christian Literature Society, to first and third year students in the two colleges here, and at the same time delivered an address on the Bible in each college.

"The books were well received, and in many cases are I know being read. 'The entrance of Thy words giveth light.' Lectures have been delivered on various subjects by Mr. Dann, myself, and occasionally by outside friends. A good number of students continue to attend the English services on Sunday evenings. A Bible-class has been held regularly on Thursday evenings, and I am hoping to start other Bible-classes now that we have more convenient premises. It is very encouraging to find so many careful readers of God's holy Word. The Spirit of the Lord is working amongst the young men of India, multitudes are wavering between the modernised Hinduism of the Brahmo and Aryan Somajs, Agnosticism and Christianity. It is for us to present to them the simple truth of God, revealed in our Lord Jesus Christ. He alone can change their hearts, and bring them to a saving knowledge of the Truth, as undoubtedly He will do in His own good time and way. Meanwhile we rejoice to have, however small, a share in the bringing of Christ's Kingdom in India."

The Rev. W. Sutton Page, B.A., B.D., has engaged in special work amongst the student class in Barisal. He writes :—

"During the past year I have been principally occupied in the study of Bengali. I have, however, found time to do some amount of English work amongst the students and educated natives resident in Barisal. Every Sunday evening during the College session an English lecture has been delivered in the Preaching Hall.

"Generally speaking the hall has been fairly full, and on several occasions more came than the hall would hold. With regard to the subjects which have been dealt with I may mention a series of lectures on Christian Evidences and another on the History of Christian Missions; also separate lectures on 'Christ's Testimony to Himself,' 'Did Christ Rise from the Dead?' 'Why Christ Died,' 'Christ the Desire of all Nations,' 'Nicodemus,' and various other subjects. After each lecture I have generally had interesting conversations with students and others who have remained to ask questions.

"Before the lecture we have sometimes held an open-air meeting for students at the river-side; at this meeting, besides the addresses delivered by missionaries, two native Christian students have spoken courageously to their class-mates about their Saviour.

"Perhaps the most interesting and useful part of our work is not done by means of lectures or classes. Nearly every evening students come, to see us privately. Some come out of mere curiosity, but others come expressly to ask questions about the teaching of Jesus Christ or to study the New Testament. Whatever their motive in coming, we always try to use the opportunity to convince them of the need of a Saviour from sin.

"On Sunday morning some two or three hours are given to visiting the students in their lodging-houses. This gives an excellent opportunity to reach some who never attend our classes.

"Reviewing the year's work as a whole we feel that there is great cause for encouragement.

"Our only cause for regret is that we have been able to give so little time to the work. There are in Barisal two thousand students coming from all parts of East Bengal. In addition to these we have more than a thousand professional men who know English. This constitutes a great opportunity and a grave responsibility for our Society, the only Missionary Society in the town. We feel that we have been able to touch only the fringe of the work. If the opportunity is to be fully grasped, it is necessary that at least one missionary be free to devote himself entirely to this distinct work."

MISSION MEDICAL WORK.

Many of the missionaries specially refer in their reports to the great good derived from practical experience of medical knowledge, often securing for them an entrance and a warm welcome where, without this knowledge, they would most certainly have been refused admittance.

The Rev. A. E. Collier, of Bankipore, reports :—

“During the whole year a considerable number of the very poor have received gratuitous medical relief, but since our removal to Mithapur the numbers attending daily have greatly increased. There is no charitable dispensary of any kind in this neighbourhood, and the poor creatures come not only from the immediate vicinity, but also from villages and bastis lying at a considerable distance. The majority of the cases are of a simple nature and readily yield to treatment, but many of a more complicated or serious character could only be treated under immediate observation, and with the convenience and appliances of a hospital.

“As, however, our object is to make the medical a medium for direct evangelistic work, I will briefly indicate the means by which we endeavour to attain this end.

“The patients and their friends assemble every morning in a large godown. I see each one in turn, enter the case and prescription in my book, and give to each a ticket bearing a number corresponding to that in the case-book; these tickets are retained by the patients, and produced whenever more medicine is required. For this purpose I use old Sunday-school golden-text tickets, so that each one takes away, and is obliged to keep, a Scripture verse in Hindi. When all have been attended to, I take the bottles to the dispensary to prepare the prescriptions. This usually takes from one to two hours; meanwhile they sit down in the godown, and the Evangelist Chheda Lal talks to them, trying to put Gospel truths in the simplest and most suitable manner, constantly comparing sin to disease, which only Jesus Christ, the Great Physician, can cure. The medicines all being prepared, I return to distribute the bottles and give instructions as to diet, &c.; frequently, however, if time permits, I also address them to ascertain whether they have understood what they have heard. We then ask God's blessing upon the means used in a short, simple prayer, the bottles are re-distributed, and all depart, benefited, we trust, both physically and spiritually. In this way we try to obey our Lord's command ‘to preach the Kingdom of God and to heal the sick.’”

By the removal of Dr. Vincent Thomas to the Khosi and Chata District a very hopeful and much-needed medical mission work will be inaugurated.

The Rev. R. M. McIntosh, of Muttra, writes :—

“Little or no medical provision has been made for the 200,000 people inhabiting these two districts, and the news of a medical missionary in their midst will be hailed with delight. Dr. Thomas will find his hands full among this needy population. We hope Chata will be his headquarters. Here we have already secured a splendid building site alongside the engineer's rest-house, and when the Mission House has been erected upon it, the long cherished scheme of the Society will have become an accomplished fact, and Agra and Delhi will be linked together by a chain of stations along the Grand Trunk Road.”

From Delhi the Rev. H. E. Crudgington reports :—

"Besides attending at the Dispensary every morning, other cases crop up to which I have to go. At my house in the Civil Lines I have given medicine to more than five hundred during the past year, quite apart from the Dispensary. S. David, too, has worked well, and what with church work and other work in connection with the native Christians, his time is pretty fully occupied.

"Although there is not convenience for any large operations, a great deal of relief is given in minor operations, of which there have been a good many this year. I am thankful to some friends at Hampstead who send me the British Medical Journal, and so I am enabled to keep pace with up-to-date knowledge and treatment.

"I append the figures from our Dispensary book, which speak for themselves :— New cases, 5,574 ; old cases, 9,017 ; making a total of cases treated during the year of 14,591. Prescriptions given to those able to pay for their own medicines, 378. Cases treated in their own homes, 511 ; and minor operations, 306. A large number of tracts in Hindi and Urdu have also been distributed."

The Rev. F. W. Hale reports from Palwal :—

"The Dispensary in Palwal was open about nine months of the year. During that time 2,782 visited us for treatment, the greater number being treated during the months of June, July, August, and September. If we could only keep the Dispensary open regularly throughout the year, the number of patients would be increased three-fold ; but as I have to do everything myself, and am very often away in the district, the work is necessarily of rather a desultory character. Large numbers are treated also in the course of our winter tours, 933 being the record for our last cold season's medical work in the district.

"Good work is being done at the Hodal Dispensary by Mr. and Mrs. Joshua, large numbers of patients being treated, especially during the latter half of the year, but I am unable to give reliable figures as to the work done. I am still a firm believer in medical work as the surest way of winning the confidence of the villagers, in such districts as ours."

TRANSLATION AND LITERARY WORK.

THE CALCUTTA AND CUTTACK PRINTING PRESSES.

THE CALCUTTA MISSION PRESS.

In the absence of the Rev. G. H. Rouse, D.D., at present in England for the recovery of his health, Mr. M. N. Nath reports relative to translation and literary work during the past year :—

"At the beginning of the year, Dr. Rouse, when he returned from Australia, set to work upon the final revision of the Bengali Bible, and asked me to go through the sheets and see how far I agreed with his proposed emendations. By the time he came to the Book of Numbers he could not get on with the work, his eye-sight being too much weakened by continual labour to carry on the revision. He left it with me, when he went to England, to go over the Bible from Numbers to Esther, and to see whether the historical portions could be made simpler. He also asked me to read the Epistles that I might make suggestions for his consideration. I have been slowly but carefully going on with the work, especially attending to the Epistles, as I thought the first and best attention should be given to them. In my opinion the historical books are now simple enough for a common Bengali reader, though here and there we might alter a word or a phrase or even the construction of a sentence to make the language simpler. I am, however, now especially attending to the historical books, as Dr. Rouse may like to see them first, at the beginning of the next year. In my work I have received several times Mr. Jordan's help, especially in ascertaining the meaning of the difficult words and phrases of the original.

"Dr. Wenger's Commentary to the Romans is being reprinted, and I read the final proof and passed it for press. The Calcutta Auxiliary Bible Society has just brought out an edition of the revised Bengali New Testament. This Society is also bringing out a new edition of our revised Bible in small pica type. Dr. Wenger's Sanscrit Gospels are also being reprinted.

"I have brought out for the C. L. S. a new edition of Dr. Rouse's Shikshasar (Manual of Theology) with his help, and in his absence with the help of the Rev. T. W. Norledge, of Serampore College. I am also bringing out for the same Society, and for the Tract Society, new editions of some other books and pamphlets, such as Jeshu Charit (Story of Jesus), Phulmani Koruna, and Dr. Rouse's Upadesha Manjari (a series of Theological sermons). I have, during the year, translated eight of the Madras edition of Dr. Rouse's English leaflets into Musalmani Bengali, as they were intended for the Mohammedans. Twenty thousand copies of each of the first four leaflets were printed some months ago, and the same number of the second form are to be printed soon."

CUTTACK.

Reporting on the progress of the Oriya Old Testament Revision the Rev. Thomas Bailey writes :—

"Last year we reported that copy was prepared to Ecclesiastes end of Chap. ii., and that the printing had proceeded to Ps. ciii. 5. Copy is now prepared to Jeremiah end of Chap. i., and the printing completed to the end of Isaiah. This represents substantial progress; and as another important section of our work will be accomplished with the printing completed to the end of Isaiah, the Bible Society has granted us permission to bind up a hundred copies of the portion from the end of the existing volume (Genesis to II. Chronicles) to the end of Isaiah, for the use of Missionary workers only. This will place in our hands the whole of the Revised Version from Genesis to Isaiah, and will be very useful.

"Our work this year has led us through the book of Isaiah, and its sublime and far-reaching utterances have taxed our skill to the utmost to give renderings in the Oriya language at all commensurate with their full meaning.

"We have again to acknowledge our indebtedness to Dr. Rouse's new version of the Bengali Bible, which we have used for constant reference. Dr. Witton Davies, of the Midland Baptist College, has kept us well supplied with literature as we have needed it on the different books. Mr. Pike has continued his helpful criticisms on each proof as it has passed through the press. Proofs have also been supplied to Mr. Young and two of the native ministers for remark.

"The Calcutta Auxiliary Bible Society has made us a grant of 600 rupees for the year. The same society provides the paper and pays for the printing."

CUTTACK PRINTING PRESS.

The Rev. C. H. Harvey, the superintendent of the Cuttack Press, writes :—

"As the year draws to a close we are fortunate in finding ourselves working under much pleasanter and healthier conditions, by reason of enlarged premises, than have obtained heretofore. During the past twelve months a substantial addition, measuring 80 feet by 40 feet, has been made to the Press buildings, and we are now in possession of and are appreciating the increased room afforded. Alterations to the old building are not yet completed, but are well under way, and in the course of three or four months we hope to dispense with masons and carpenters.

"During the year the following gospels and tracts have been printed :—

"BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY.—Oriya Bible, from Psalm lxxviii. 35, to Isaiah lviii. 11 (pp. 625-760), 2,500, proof submitted as far as Jeremiah i. 3 (p. 768); Psalms (32m), Psalm lxxvi. 13 to end, 4,000; Proverbs (32mo), 4,000; Isaiah (32mo), as far as Isaiah lvi., 12, 1,000.

"BIBLE TRANSLATION SOCIETY.—Oriya—John, prose (12 mo.), 5,000; John, verse (12 mo.), 5,000; Kol (Mundari)—Mark, 1,000.

"ORISSA TRACT SOCIETY.—Oriya—Maloti and Bhagyabati, 2,000; Jewel Mine, 10,000; Sermon on the Mount, 5,000; Miracles of Christ, 5,000; Jagannath Tested, 10,000; Way of Salvation (32mo), 5,000; True Christian, 3,000; Life of Christ, verse, 10,000; Zemindar and Rayat, 1,000; Story of Creation, Way of Salvation, and Life of Christ (32mo), 6,000; Children's Hymns, 500; Line upon Line, p. 61 to end, 1,000; Children of the Bible, 24 pp., 1,500; Selection of Tracts, 2,000.

ANGLO-INDIAN BAPTIST CHURCHES.

CIRCULAR ROAD CHURCH, CALCUTTA.

Acting Pastor.—THE REV. ROBERT ROBINSON.

"The year (1897) closes with brighter prospects, and the Church looks forward to the future without misgiving."

"The above sentence stood at the end of our record for last year, and our experience during 1898 has amply justified the confidence then expressed.

"The Rev. H. E. Barrell, of Bombay, who had supplied the pulpit at Circular Road during the month of November, returned to Calcutta in the second week of January, in response to the unanimously expressed wish of the Church, and officiated as pastor till his final departure for England at the end of April.

"For four months the Church were dependent on a few friends for the supply of the pulpit; steps were taken to obtain a pastor from England, but the attempt has, up to this time, from various causes, led to no result.

"In the meanwhile, the Rev. R. Robinson had been asked by the Church to officiate as pastor until arrangements could be made for a permanent settlement.

"Mr. Robinson very kindly acceded to the request of the Church, and for the past four or five months they have had the advantage of his pastoral ministrations. The attendance at the public services, both on the Sunday and the week evening prayer meeting, has greatly improved; the interest of members in each other and in the Church has deepened, and there has been blessing in spiritual as well as in temporal matters.

"During the year there have been fourteen additions to the church roll, three by baptism, eight by transfer from other churches, and three more have been received on the personal testimony of members, they not being members of any church at the time."

Pastor.—REV. G. H. HOOK.

AGRA, N.W.P.

HAVELOCK CHAPEL.

PASTORATE VACANT.

"The services have been continued regularly by the missionaries, and there has been a steady increase in the congregation. Special evangelistic services were conducted in February by Mr. Klein, evangelist from England. And again in July by two sisters of the Salvation Army. About forty men from among the soldiers made a profession of repentance and faith. We are thankful for the band of faithful men that are now in the station, and our prayer is that their number may be greatly multiplied. The 24th Field Battery, R.A., have left Agra and another battery is shortly expected. The Christian Endeavour Society's weekly meetings have been regularly held, also the meetings of the Gospel Temperance League."

DINAPORE, N.W.P.

The Rev. H. Patterson writes :—

"The services in the English church have fallen off a good deal, as far as the military element is concerned, owing to the departure of the 'Manchesters' to Aden and the arrival of the 'Munsters' in their stead. Instead of eighty Nonconformists we have only ten, the latter regiment being almost exclusively Roman Catholics.

"The few men from the Battery have been regular in their attendance all through, more so at the voluntary than the parade service. The attendance of the civilians has, on the whole, been gratifying, and we are encouraged."

Summarising the work included in the Colombo District the Rev. W. D. Hankinson writes :—

"The work included in this district extends over a very wide area, and many of the stations occupied can only be visited by long road journeys.

"The district includes 13 churches, financially independent of English funds, 11 Evangelistic districts, supported by the Society, and 42 Christian day schools, with about 2,200 scholars, and one Anglo-vernacular Christian girls' boarding-school, with 43 girls."

And Mr. Hankinson adds :—

"During the past year I think I have visited every Church Mission Station and school, some of them many times, but most of the stations are only accessible after long and trying journeys, otherwise more frequent visitations would have been practicable."

The Committee are glad to report that they have recently accepted for mission work in Ceylon the Rev. Bruce Etherington, B.A., of Regent's Park College, who is leaving England for Colombo this month.

DISTRICT EVANGELISTIC WORK.

The eleven evangelistic districts are as follow :—Colombo South, Avisawella, twenty-eight miles inland ; Chilaw, fifty miles northwards on the sea coast ; Diyagama, twenty-five miles to the south of Colombo ; Kanduboda, fifteen miles inland from Colombo ; Kandana, ten miles from Colombo ; Ranala, sixteen miles inland from Colombo ; Rayigam Korale, seventeen miles south and eight inland ; Veyangoda, twenty miles from Colombo ; Waragoda, near Colombo ; and Welipenna, thirty-three miles south of Colombo and eight inland.

The inhabitants of these districts are Buddhists, with, in two of them, a few Roman Catholics.

The evangelists working in these districts have during the past year been engaged constantly in sowing the good seed of the Kingdom. In public resorts, in cottage meetings, by the roadside, by the highways and hedges, in public conveyances, in quiet personal intercourse, they have been bearing the lamp of life to their benighted and deluded fellow-countrymen.

Mr. Hankinson writes :—

"When visiting the outlying districts, I have found the evangelists labouring under great difficulties. Both Buddhism and Roman Catholicism are very active in their opposition to our work.

"The lack of visible results in certain departments of our work is no new thing. At the same time it is encouraging to know that in several of the districts there are at present candidates awaiting baptism, some of whom will be baptized almost immediately."

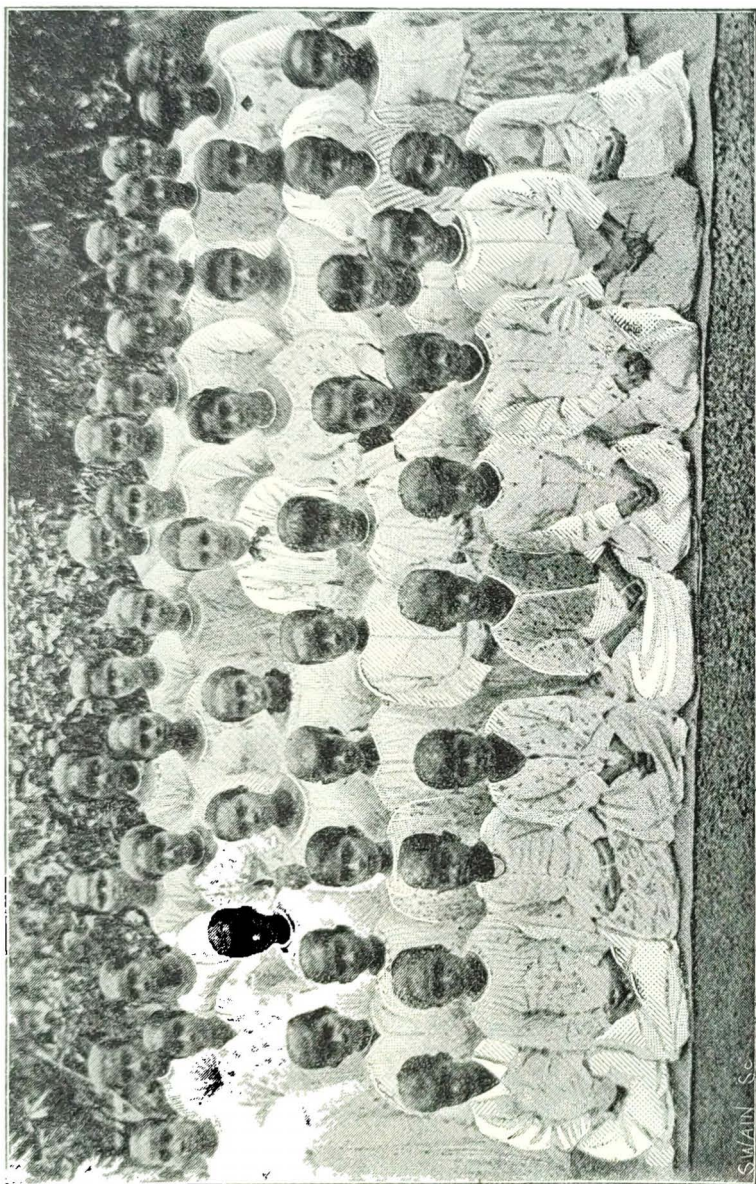

SELF-SUPPORTING CHURCHES.

Mr. Hankinson reports :—

"Some of these Churches are in a very healthy condition, others are weak, especially those without pastors.

"We can say with thankfulness that in some of the Churches the spirituality of the members has been decidedly deepened and strengthened since these Churches were thrown upon their own resources.

"The Baptist Union of Ceylon, founded 3½ years ago to help and encourage the self-supporting Churches, is gradually discovering a way to accomplish this object, and at the recent meetings, held in Kandy, plans were adopted which we hope will enable this Union to be of still greater service."

GIRLS' BOARDING SCHOOL, COLOMBO, CEYLON.

COLOMBO NATIVE CHRISTIAN GIRLS' BOARDING SCHOOL.

With regard to this most useful and important institution the superintendent, Miss Moodie, reports :—

" At the close of another year's work, it is with deep gratitude to our Heavenly Father that we have to report encouragement and blessing in the school. The year began with forty-two girls, and since then seven have been admitted. Three have left, and three were dismissed, leaving a total of forty-three. The Government examination in Singhalese and English was held on November 7th and 8th. Thirty-eight girls were examined, of whom three failed in Singhalese and two in English. There has been a decided improvement in the school work of the past year, both in Singhalese and English.

" The conduct of the girls has been very satisfactory, with three exceptions.

" Although the school has reached its maximum in numbers, the health of the girls has been good, for which we are very grateful.

" The Bible-class and prayer-meeting on alternate weeks have been conducted by our evangelist, Mr. Aponso. The spiritual work has been encouraging, and, though there have been no baptisms this year, there is a candidates' class, some members of which have been kept waiting, and have shown by their lives that they are disciples of Jesus Christ.

" The girls take regular recreation, taking long walks several times in the week. They all attend the Singhalese service at Cinnamon Gardens on Sunday afternoon, and some of them the English service in the morning. They also attend the Band of Hope meeting, and have had the privilege of attending special lectures given in the Ferguson Memorial Hall.

" The number of applications still increases. About twenty are waiting for admission, but cannot be admitted without enlargement of the premises."

Mr. Hankinson adds :—

" In addition to what Miss Moodie reports, I should like to say that Miss Moodie has given very excellent attention to the school throughout the year. She feels it right to give so much time to the actual teaching and work of the school, that it has been impossible for her to make such progress in the Singhalese language as she desires. Still, the study of the language has been steadily carried on throughout the year.

" Mrs. Hankinson has done her best to attend to the domestic comfort and health of the girls, but beyond a little help on Sunday she has not taken part in the actual educational work of the school.

" In addition to the school work, Miss Moodie has regularly visited the large hospital close by, thus carrying on work to which Mrs. Waldock was devoted."

In concluding his report Mr. Hankinson writes :—

" May I say that every year's experience of Ceylon impresses me with the belief that its importance as a strategic centre in the mission field deserves special attention.

" Its unique geographical position, its mixture of religions, its importance as the centre of Buddhism and Theosophy, its comparative freedom from cruel caste systems, its immunity from plague, famine, and widespread social disturbance, the comparative freedom of its people—men and women alike, its growing wealth and prosperity, the advance of education and the use of the English language, the existence of native Christian churches which are beginning to show signs of independent life and effort, all go to make Ceylon an interesting and promising field. May the Divine guidance be given both to the Committee at home and to ourselves, so that the special needs and opportunities, and the special educational and social condition of Ceylon may be met adequately, everything being subordinate to the one aim—viz., the creation of a self-supporting native church, strong both in spirituality and intelligence, able not only to stand alone, but to take upon itself the work of evangelisation among its own countrymen."

SABARAGAMUWA DISTRICT.

The Rev. H. A. Lapham, who took charge of this district upon the retirement of the Rev. F. D. Waldock, writes :—

"I have now completed my first year in charge of this distant field. I have visited it four times in the year, spending nearly a fortnight each time, spending some days on each occasion in each of our stations there; helping the brethren in bazaar and village preaching, holding lantern services (which have been numerous attended), addressing united meetings of our school teachers, and winding up each time with a District Committee meeting. Without going into details, I will just sum up briefly the state of things as they appear to me.

"1. The sphere of work is a magnificent one; Buddhism, practically undisturbed, holding the field.

"2. Tangible results will appear but slowly, but work challenges us on every hand.

"3. We have some thoroughly good native evangelists and teachers there, and we must increase the number.

"4. A permanently resident Missionary (European) is not essential at present, and a mere novice would be worse than useless. The native Missionaries can be relied on in this work of breaking up new ground, if they are frequently put in heart and guided by visits from an experienced Missionary. Left alone, and with their district treated as a second-rate one, it is not to be wondered at that they lose heart confronted by such a mass of Buddhism; but they respond splendidly to even such small co-operation and active interest as I have been able to show hitherto. It is my intention, about the middle of next year, to spend some months of consecutive work with them.

"At Ratnapura, Madampe, Rakwana, Pelmadulla, and Balangoda, evangelistic services, visitations, day and Sunday-school work, the distribution of tracts and portions of the Scriptures, and systematic itinerations have been engaged in, but the whole district is an exceptionally hard and difficult one, the people, for the most part, being bigoted Buddhists, many of whom live upon Buddhist temple land, and so are obliged to render annual services to the temples."

THE KANDY DISTRICT.

The Rev. H. A. Lapham reports also upon the work in this district during the past year :—

“ Preaching.—This has been carried on vigorously by all our brethren in the streets of the various towns and in villages where they have itinerated. In many cases I have been able to gather larger crowds by means of the magic lantern.

“ Schools.—Our schools were never in a more satisfactory state. In some places the applicants for admission to our schools are so many that we have no room to accommodate them, and are not able with our very limited financial resources to pay a sufficient teaching staff for them. Here and there we discover a weak school, but most of our schools are well attended. The special arrangements for the Scripture teaching detailed in my last report have borne some fruit, and will be carried on in my absence by Mr. Henry De Silva, who will prepare the monthly lesson as I have hitherto done, and distribute copies among the teachers. Mr. S. R. Perera, for twelve years the head master of our large Katugastota school, now our missionary in Gampola, has brought his experience and indomitable energy to bear on the work of improving the methods of teaching in our schools all over the district, and, on his suggestion, we have adopted many new arrangements. One young man, who had lately left our Katugastota school, was baptized by Mr. Don Daniel in October. All his relatives are Buddhists.

“ The District Committee.—It has always been my practice to assemble the Native missionaries for frequent consultation with me on our work ; but for the past two years we have held regular quarterly meetings and frequent special meetings in the intervals, and at these meetings all the work of the district is discussed and settled ; indeed, it may truthfully be said that the District Committee now governs where the European missionary alone used to rule. This has produced many marked and gratifying results. The native missionaries have a more intelligent—and, therefore an increased—interest in the work. They have gradually become conversant with the difficulties of management and with the methods of overcoming them, and are thereby fitted more and more to relieve the missionary ; and by their advice the European missionary is continually being saved from perpetrating blunders which, left to himself, and with his European bias, he would be very apt to commit.”

Referring to his own personal work Mr. Lapham writes :—

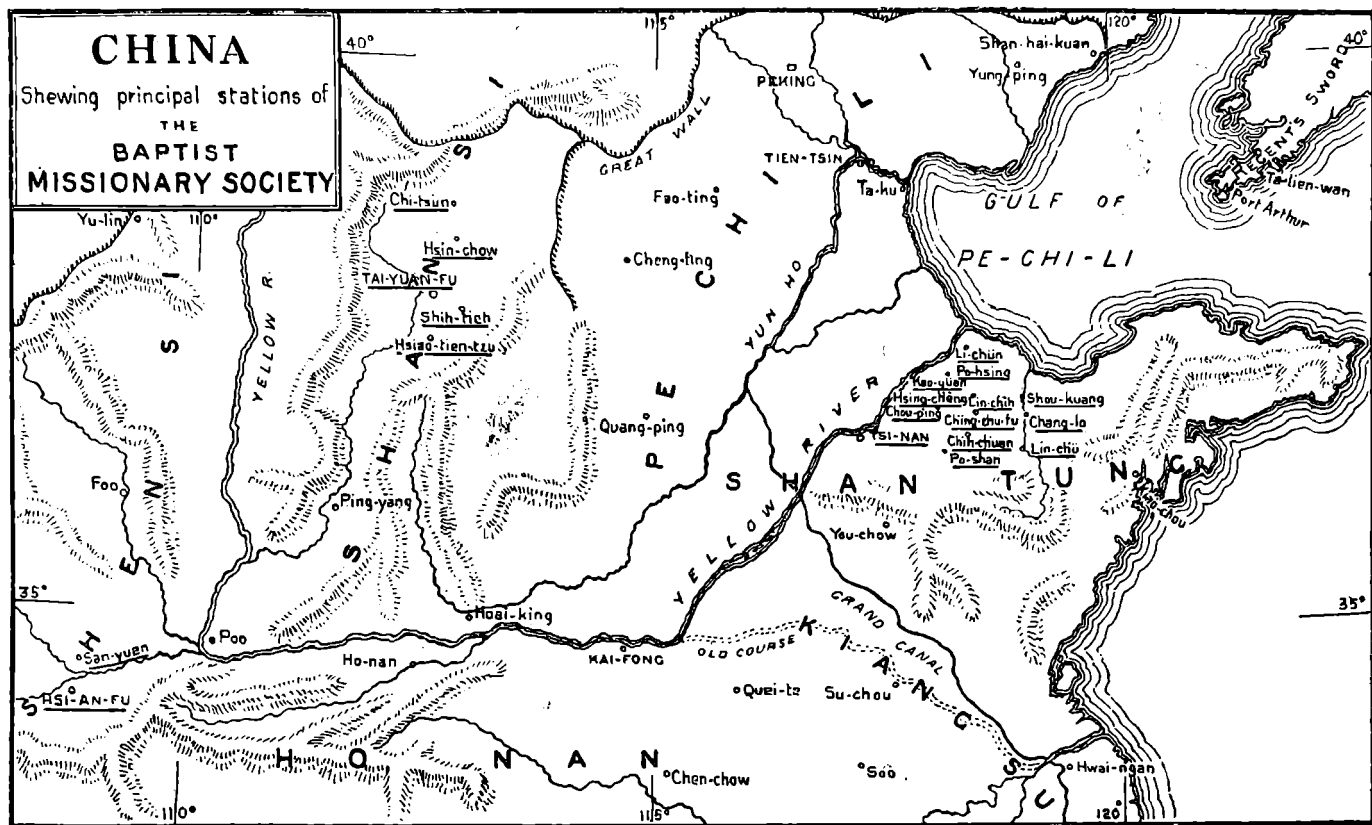

“ In co-operation with Mr. De Sarem, I have done the local work connected with the publication of Mr. Carter's enlarged ‘ Treasury of Singhalese Hymns,’ the publication too of the same gentleman's Revised Singhalese New Testament (only two proofs remain to be read now), and have prepared for the press a Singhalese version of Dr. Rouse's (of Calcutta) ‘ Life of Christ in Scripture Language.’ Owing to the absence of Rev. S. Coles from the Island, the Ceylon Religious Tract Society, too, fell back upon me for more active assistance in various forms of literary work than I usually feel justified in giving them. Through all, the training of our student, Mr. Gunasekisa, in third year subjects went on almost uninterruptedly.”

Reporting on the

he writes :—

“ Of course these churches are independent of the Mission, but are in happy

In the words of Dr. Judson Smith :—

"Notwithstanding all drawbacks, China to-day is one of the most hopeful Mission fields in all the world. The old faiths are decaying, the minds of all classes are open, and external barriers are being removed in the most providential way. Notwithstanding the enormous difficulties that attend the work, in spite of the many and formidable obstacles which must be overcome, even though progress is slow, and only a beginning has yet been made, God's hour for the evangelisation of this populous and ancient stronghold of paganism is here; and the summons to our zeal and devotion is as clear and inspiring as the angelic song which fell on the shepherds' ears at the advent of our Lord: 'I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.'

"This is a new situation and is affecting the sentiments and attitude of the people. The Western faith shares the welcome of the Western arts; it is felt to be connected with them, a part of them. And thus a highway of the Lord is cast up by these events over which the messengers of the Gospel can swiftly march to complete occupation and ultimate victory. Whatever particular nations may gain or lose, the kingdom of God is to be the immediate and the lasting heir of all progress and the opening of the nation.

"The Government of China, imperial and provincial, by the stress of circumstances, is coming to be the protector of missionaries and their work. The people of China are turning with respect and desire to the message of the Gospel. It is a wonder of wonders; it is the ripening fruit of hundreds of years. The day of China's salvation has come, and the hosts of the Lord have but to advance and win her to Christ. The China which Morrison knew has passed for ever away. A new nation is arising—not immobile, exclusive, like the old, but open from the sea to her farthest mountain range, from Siberia to Burma; open to the foot, the message, the life of the Christian herald; its rivers and its roads, its railways and telegraphs, its cities and homes, all accessible to the best the Western world has to give. She is not now Christian, but she is awakening; her eyes and ears and heart are open; and if we will we may lead her to her Lord, and to a future of matchless peace and glory."

SHANTUNG PROVINCE.

The past year, so far as the Shantung Province is concerned, will be sadly memorable for the disastrous floods consequent upon the breaking of the banks of the great Yellow River in several places, resulting in the submergement of thousands of square miles of the country and in the death or ruin of millions of the people.

As full details of this appalling calamity have already appeared in the pages of the MISSIONARY HERALD it will be unnecessary to repeat them here, save to plead for further and much-needed financial help for the hundreds of thousands of homeless and starving sufferers still in urgent need.

CHING CHOU FU.

Ching Chou Fu City is near the main road from Chefoo to Chi-nan Fu, the Provincial Capital, and is distant from these places 250 miles and 120 miles respectively. Chou-ping City lies on the main road halfway between Ching Chou Fu and Chi-nan Fu.

From Ching Chou Fu are worked the four counties of Lin-k'ü, Shou-kuang, Lin-chih, and I-tu.

The following statistics relative to the work of the Society in the Shantung Province have been supplied by the Rev. R. C. Forsyth :—

The Rev. R. C. Forsyth reports :—

“The Mission Press last year printed 91,500 books and 17,200 tracts, a larger number than any within recent years. For the first three months of last year I continued the charge of the Native church, held during the absence of Brother Bruce on furlough.

“I had considerable correspondence and responsibility in connection with the Second Shantung Missionary Conference, which did not cease till the conference was held in October last. All who attended agreed as to the success of these meetings. At the conference it was decided to appeal for funds to relieve the sufferers from the Yellow River floods, and a committee was appointed. This committee has made me treasurer and secretary of the fund, and my time for the last few months has been, with others, freely given to this work.

“Mrs. Forsyth's work amongst the women in the country stations has been fully and steadily maintained throughout the year. The work has been the same as described in last year's report. It has been and is eminently successful in securing the interest of the women amongst whom she labours.”

THE NATIVE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, CHING CHOU FU.

The Rev. J. Percy Bruce, B.A., reports :—

"The experience of the past year has been a somewhat chequered one. In the spring of the year on my return from furlough, the era of reforms attempted by the emperor was at its beginning, and combined with other causes to create a widespread spirit of friendliness and inquiry. A large number of people joined in our services all over the district, so that in the Ching Chou Fu Churches alone there were as many as 4,500 worshippers on one Sunday.

"But the era was shortlived, the emperor was superseded, the empress inaugurated her reactionary policy, with the result that the whole country abounded with rumours that the foreigners were to be exterminated, and the native Christians massacred immediately afterwards. The numbers, of course, fell off rapidly. Hundreds walked no more with us. Congregations in many places, where there had been over a hundred, were reduced to a bare ten. Many brought their Christian books to the chapel for fear that in a raid on their houses they should be discovered, and they themselves be incriminated.

"Now the rumours have passed away, but they have acted as a fan to purge the threshing floor. As in former experiences so it has been in this, many have fallen back, but many have remained, and are the stronger for the testing time they have passed through. They have found Him who has the words of eternal life; to whom else can they go?

"The year shows a large increase in the number of candidates for baptism—223 as compared with 136 last year, and in the number of adherents regularly attending worship—969 as compared with 385; 93 have been baptized, and 10 others received by transfer or restored to fellowship; while 33 have fallen asleep, and 15 names have been erased. There is thus a net increase in the number on the books of 55, and we now have a total membership of 1,529.

"This year I have conducted three different series of special meetings for Christians, one in the city and the others at two country churches. The meetings were for the study of the Word of God and prayer with a view to the deepening of spiritual life. There were evidences at each set of meetings of much searching of heart, and I trust that they are still bearing fruit.

"Since the autumn I have also enlarged the monthly conference with the pastors to include between thirty and forty leading Christian workers, who each visit two or more stations every month, teaching and catechising the church members and inquirers. The object of the monthly conference is to give these brethren regular and systematic help in their responsible work. Two or three days are spent together. One morning is given to conferring together on the work of the Church in the various districts; another morning to the study of the Gospel of John, taking a portion each month which each worker takes as his lesson with the Christians in the stations he visits. An afternoon is devoted to the study of the texts appointed for the church members to learn each Sunday in the ensuing month, and which the brethren attending the conference expound. Another afternoon is spent in conference on some subject previously fixed, generally a doctrine of Scripture, but sometimes a subject of a practical character bearing on Church life, such as Foot-binding, or the Sabbath. Each evening we have a prayer meeting, at which various brethren speak as to their spiritual experience.

"During the brief and fitful gleam of light in the darkness experienced during the reform era there were large accessions to the numbers of those attending worship at the country churches. At one of these, Yao Wang Chuang, practically every family in the village was represented at worship. The Christians in the enthusiasm of their hope that there at least the day had at last dawned, thought they could themselves put the finishing touch to the Lord's work. One of the imperial edicts announced that certain classes of temples were forthwith to be converted into schools for Western learning. The Christians, without waiting for detailed instructions and authority from the local officials, suggested to the rest of the villagers, and obtained their consent to, the carrying out of this injunction. Accordingly the idols were ignominiously cast into the ditch, and their house figuratively swept and garnished, the heathen worshippers themselves joining in numbers exceeding those of the Christians, and the priest himself assisting in the direction of affairs. What greater triumph could there be for Christianity! Alas, our brethren were soon to learn that it was a poor triumph after all, this triumph with carnal weapons! Their action had resulted in the spoiling the spiritual work of years rather than the pulling down of the enemy's stronghold. After a few days' interval the heathen turned round on the Christians accusing them to the Magistrate of Iconoclasm. The magistrate, long a bitter foe, exulting in what he thought was his opportunity, went in person on a Sunday to catch them while at service, arrest and punish them. When he arrived, however, he found that none of his birds were there; the congregation consisted of women, and a few men from other villages; the delinquents themselves had come to the service in this city, which is in another county, and out of the jurisdiction of their magistrate. Meanwhile I had visited the Prefect, a higher official, and pleaded that whatever indiscretion the Christians had been guilty of, their heathen neighbours had no just ground of complaint, as they had themselves definitely consented, and even taken part in the affair in larger numbers than the Christians. The matter was finally settled without serious consequences to anyone personally; but instead of former friendliness, it has left a root of bitterness and estrangement, which has already issued in petty annoyance and persecution, and will need probably many years of patience and forbearance before it can be overcome. An occurrence like this is, of course, disappointing in more ways than one, but before we criticise we need to turn to ourselves, and ask how often do we who have watched the Master work for generations, nevertheless, by our crude and childish methods mar His plans at the most critical moments. One lesson is obvious; the political reaction is not an unmixed evil. It would seem as if the Church is hardly strong enough to bear success. Rapid reform might rather cause the Church to be 'puffed up' than 'built up.'

EVANGELISTIC WORK.

The Rev. C. Spurgeon Medhurst reports :—

"Disappointing as has been the year politically, I review with much thankfulness the efforts made to further the cause of Christ in this corrupt land. Among the official class my sphere of influence has perceptibly widened, old friendships have been cemented and new ones commenced. Much more might be done in this direction had I more leisure to devote to it. As far as Ching Chou Fu is concerned, the revolution in Peking has apparently left this branch of mission work unaffected.

"During the few months when reform was in the air and we were being sought after on all hands, I opened a reading-room and lending library at the museum and have met with sufficient encouragement to make it worth my while continuing the experiment.

"During the year Christian worship has been commenced in eight or nine villages where heathenism held undisputed sway at the beginning of the year; but my work being purely evangelistic, as distinct from the care of the Church organisations or the educational institutions, I have no statistics to present, for as soon as converts are made or stations opened they are absorbed into the Church, and pass over to the care of the native pastors—an admirable arrangement, as it leaves me free to preach and itinerate, unhampered by the many worrying cases of alleged and real persecution, inquiries concerning which occupy so much of the energy and time of those who have the oversight of native Christians. Experience proves the wisdom of separating the two departments whenever practicable.

"The field is very wide, and my chief burden is the impossibility of my ever satisfactorily working the whole of it. The most I can do is to visit men and villages which are reported as promising. Some day, when I have more assistance, I am hoping to give more systematic attention to the village school-masters, the real creators of public opinion in China. When they are converted China will be saved. At present I cannot accomplish all I wish to in this direction.

"During the year I have travelled 3,867 li (1,289 English miles), for the most part on a wheelbarrow, and at the rate of about three miles an hour. If only the barrow could have been exchanged for an ordinary third-class carriage on the railway, what an incalculable amount of time, strength, and discomfort might have been saved; but no alteration in this respect may be looked for within the life of the present generation. The great trunk lines which are to be built will, of course, be of little benefit to the itinerant missionary, whose duties necessarily often take him away from the main lines of traffic. In only twenty-six of the 147 villages I have visited during the year were there any baptized converts. Much seed has been sown, some has already begun to sprout, and has been reported in the HERALD; in other cases the missionary alone sees the movements of the embryonic life, while in yet other places the soil still seems to the natural eye barren and unfruitful. But only the Lord of the harvest knows all that is being accomplished. Be it ours to be faithful to His work.

"The gathering of large numbers of students in the city for three examinations has kept me a good part of the year at home. The third and final contest is in progress as I write. Twice every three years are the students of eleven counties massed within our city gates, and the importance of the unique opportunities thus afforded for reaching the younger generation of China's scholars, her most influential class, cannot be exaggerated. During the prefectural examination held last spring, 10,233 persons visited the museum in one month. This work is very exhausting, both to me and the native assistants. There is a continual hum of excitement, and one cannot always see in dealing with large crowds, many of whom are coming and going all the time, what good is being done; but at the examination now going on many of the students whom we met last spring have returned for further conversation on religious themes, some who then blasphemed and disputed over much are now docile, and a few former revilers have this time attended public worship. Last Sunday, not only was our chapel crowded, but three overflow meetings were held in different rooms on the compound, while five degree-men, none of them Christians, reverently sat and listened to the whole service. We might reasonably have looked for a different state of things after the revolution in Peking and the Empress Dowager's edicts, revoking nearly all former Imperial declarations in favour of things Western and foreign to China. The students in the Gotch-Robinson Institute render invaluable aid at such times as these, taking their turns in the chapel or museum, and talking with inquirers in their own rooms. I would add, what I believe every Christian worker in China familiar with the place would endorse, that, owing to the museum, we are able to do more direct evangelistic work among the students who come in for the competitive examinations than is perhaps possible at any other mission station in China. As a rule these contests are conducted without bribes, or if there is bribery it is a secret transaction; but this year the Literary Chancellor has allowed it to be publicly stated that he will sell degrees to whoever chooses to pay his price. As only a very limited number of degrees are granted (an average of twenty to each thousand competitors) this has disgusted many of the students, and has brought painfully home to them the utter corruptness of their own institutions. Consequently they are more ready to listen to our exhortations and to study our practices. The Chancellor is unwittingly helping some of them to realise that only in the deeper moral force which Christianity brings is there safety."

THE GOTCH-ROBINSON NATIVE CHRISTIAN TRAINING INSTITUTION.

The Rev. J. S. Whitewright, the principal of this institution, sends the following report :—

"During the past year the work of the Training Institute has gone on as usual. One student left during the year to act as assistant teacher to Miss Shalders, three will leave shortly (at end of Chinese New Year) and will work in the Chou-ping district; while three others also leave, and will be engaged in the Ching Chou district. The work done, and the progress made, has, on the whole, been satisfactory.

"Evangelistic work has been carried on as in former years; several of the senior men have worked with Mr. Medhurst in the city and neighbourhood.

"Leaders' classes were held for three weeks in the spring and autumn, with good results.

"The museum has, as in former years, enabled us to meet with many who otherwise would be difficult of access. During the summer the Governor of the Province passed through the city on his tour of inspection, and about thirty of the officials of his staff visited us. Some of them being tied by their duties during the day could not come until late in the evening, and stayed a good part of the night. The General of the Manchu City has also visited us, and as he was supposed to be an anti-foreign man the effect was beneficial in many respects.

"We have been very glad to reach these men and establish friendly relations, especially as at this time hostility, or even indifference, on the part of the magistrates often leads to grave difficulties. News has just come to hand of serious trouble in the district south of us, largely on account of the action of the officials. The total number of visits paid to the museum during the year has been over 92,000.

"Mrs. Whitewright has continued her work with the Christian women as before; also the evangelistic work among the women attending the religious fairs."

The Rev. Alfred G. Jones writes :—

"During the session of '97 and '98 I have been enabled to carry on my teaching work with unbroken regularity, except in the midsummer term, when I certainly could not have stood the strain it imposes on me during session.

"In the above period four subjects were taught to my class, in three sets of lectures—viz., The Origin and Nature of the Various Religions of which the students would necessarily hear and read; The Divine Attributes; The Triune Nature of the Godhead, and the Incarnation; or, more exactly, The Nature of the Godhead as viewed from the standpoint and fact of the Incarnation.

"One of the native helpers in the Institute attends my lectures, and then goes over the same ground with the students again at another time. This work of his is a most decided help, and in all cases of difficulty he applies direct to me.

"I examine the students viva voce every week or so, which I find better than daily questioning. At the end of the several subjects written examinations are held. The result shown by the returns for the last session were a decided improvement on the previous year, and about as good as I could expect. A good proportion of the men took eighty per cent., it being borne in mind that I have the reputation of a severe marker.

"As all the work is translated into Romanised Chinese, the labour remains unchanged, but the experience gained in theological phraseology is quite a sensible relief to myself.

"There is no lack of intelligence among my students in stating their difficulties and trying the chinks of my armour; opportunities I never let pass for bringing their minds to a position in which they can rest satisfactorily.

"I am now taking them through Christology, a subject demanding great attention where there must be such a tendency to look on Christ as a sage or a deified man. Anthropology, on which they themselves have theories of a most pronounced character, will have our attention early next spring, or sooner.

"I am sorry that this teaching takes so much preparation and energy, for it leaves me very little time for preaching, visiting, or intercourse.

"My wife helps in the work among the women as much as she can, and visits every week regularly in the city around where we live, and elsewhere."

NATIVE CHRISTIAN BOYS' NORMAL BOARDING SCHOOL

AND

VILLAGE DAY SCHOOLS.

The Rev. Samuel Couling, who is in charge of this institution and of the village schools in the district, reports :—

"We began 1898 with sixty-eight boys, of whom four or five have left during the year for various causes. We have had the usual amount of sickness, and various troubles connected with boarding-school work, but nothing unusual or serious.

"I believe the work done during the year has been more satisfactory than usual partly because we have a larger number of elder pupils—those who have been with us five or six years; they are much more intelligent and receptive than others. The usual subjects have been taught, with the addition of a class in moral philosophy, taught by Mrs. Couling, and classes in sound and heat. The time for sending this report always falls just before the annual examinations before the school breaks up for the (Chinese) New Year holidays. I can only, therefore, send you the results of the examinations held eleven months ago, which have not yet been reported. The examinations now about to be held will, I believe, be much more satisfactory.

"The year has been a wonderful one for China. How the Emperor started, perhaps too eagerly, on the path of reform; how amongst other things he took the educational system and turned it upside down; how the new light went out in sudden darkness and the reformers died as criminals—this is known to all from the newspapers, and will no doubt be mentioned in other reports than mine.

"For a short time we and our educational institutions were quite popular—scholars who had despised us came to borrow our books and inquire about the new learning; then, with the news of the anti-reform movement, terror and suspicion stopped off all the new intercourse.

"Two of our elder scholars quite hoped to take their degree under the reformed system, but the examinations have just been held on the old lines—penmanship, elegant essays, etc., with all Western subjects, ignored—similar to the military examinations now being held in this city: shooting with bows and arrows, and that is all. The two scholars have not taken their degrees; they could not expect to, seeing that each county sends up about 1,200 candidates to compete for about twenty diplomas. There can be no doubt, however, in anyone's mind that reform is only scotched, not killed. It may come through much strife and bloodshed, but if China holds together (and even if she does not) it will come. The 'false dawn' was beautiful while it lasted; we confidently expect the real dawn soon, and the Society must be prepared to take advantage of the splendid opportunities which will be ours in educational matters when the change comes.

"The passes in all subjects for January 1898 were: Life of Christ, 8; Old Testament History, 12; Life of Paul, 21; Geography, 8; General History, I., 12; ditto, II., 7; Temperance Physiology, I., 24; ditto, II., 25; Arithmetic, I., 20; ditto, II., 7; Euclid, Bk. I., 5; ditto, III., 4; Chemistry, 9; Light, 1; making a total of 163."

MISSIONARY MEDICAL WORK.

Dr. Russell Watson, who is in charge of the missionary medical work in the Ching Chou Fu District, reports:—

"STATISTICS OF THE HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY FOR 1898.

"In-patients—men, 141; women, 30. Total, 171. Out-patients—Men, 7,028; women, 2,895. Total, 9,923. Patients treated at a distance, 29. Poisoning cases, 39. Total cases, 10,162.

"Contributions have been received from the patients during the past year amounting to over £12 in English money. In-patients provide their own board, and any appliances that can be purchased on the spot.

"One of my old pupils has opened a pharmacy near to the hospital. This has given me the opportunity to turn over to his charge many of the more casual visitors to the dispensary, who only require such well-known remedies as santonine and quinine.

"Daily preaching has been carried on in the waiting-room. Amongst the in-patients in the hospital there have been more systematic and successful efforts than hitherto made to teach and store in their minds verses of Scripture, and portions of our catechism and hymn-book.

"I am writing this report in Tsin-tau, the new colony of the Germans, on Kiao Chou Bay, which I have visited to try and arrange for the employment as coolies of numbers of those who have been rendered homeless by the Yellow River floods.

"It is refreshing to be here and see the concentrated energy and intelligence of the German people brought to bear upon the opening up of the wealth of this province. The colony will depend upon the trade with the interior for its success, and the Germans, having a secure footing here, and the right to develop the commerce of the interior, are the last people in the world to hold back.

"There are 1,500 troops of all arms here, and at present one man-of-war; in addition there are about 150 civilians in the place. The Germans do not find the least opposition from the natives of Shantung. The railway is not yet actually commenced, but a complete survey has been made. Plant is on its way and being landed from Germany, and the terminal railway station is to be commenced this month. The railway, when finished, will reach to Chi-nan Fu, and will pass through our mission district, coming close to Ching Chou Fu, and Chou-ping. A branch railway will run to Po-shan and tap the coal mine district there.

"The German Government is determined to make the colony a success, and is spending vast sums in laying out and beautifying the settlement. There are splendid roads being made, a public park being laid out, fine public buildings are to be erected, and a graving dock is being constructed which will take years to complete. The electric light and telephone services are already here.

"The land is held by the German Government and sold only as required, at a fair value—this in order to discourage speculation."

CHOU-PING DISTRICT.

From Chou-ping thirteen-and-a-half counties are worked. The ground is divided thus between the missionaries, though frequent changes take place through furloughs, &c.: Mr. Harmon has had charge of Putai, Pin-chou and half of Ching-chêng. These counties are always subject to floods by the overflowing of the Yellow River, and are exceedingly poor. Mr. Nickalls has charge of Chi-tung, half of Chou-ping and half of Ching-chêng, and has recently been appointed to work Po-hsing instead of Mr. Harmon. Mr. Wills has the two southern counties of Po-shan and Chih-chuan, both hilly districts, besides the town of Chou-tsun, which lies twelve miles S.E. of Chou-ping, and is one of the most important marts in the whole province. Mr. Harmon is now associated with Mr. Wills in the Chou-tsun work. Mr. Burt has charge of the large, highly-cultivated county of Chang-chiu and the half-county of Li-cheng up to the gates of Chi-nan Fu. Mr. Drake is responsible for Hsin-chêng, Kao-yuan, Chang-shan, and half of Chou-ping.

The six southern counties are hilly; the northern counties are swampy, malarious, and more or less subject to destructive floods from the Yellow River.

The Rev. E. C. Nickalls writes :—

"Last year opened brightly enough. Inquirers came to me from several new places in my district, and I hoped before the end of the year we should be able to establish several new places for Divine worship. I was specially pleased that some Christian men showed an earnest desire to preach the Gospel at their own cost, and to evangelise the villages round their own homes. In the old stations, too, we had many new candidates for baptism. This state of things lasted all through the spring and early summer.

"Then all through the months from September, 1897, to June, 1898, we had made an organised attempt to reach parts of my district as yet untouched. Our plan was to dispense medicines monthly at two fixed centres and to make a systematic visitation of the villages round those centres. We were very much encouraged as long as we were able to carry on this work.

"When the summer came, and the village people became busy, our helpers slackened their efforts and we gave our time to study and work nearer home. Then, as you already know, in August, the Yellow River flood devastated a large part of my district and stopped nearly all my work. It happened this year, since the flood was so unusually widespread, that nine-tenths of my evangelistic and church district were devastated.

"In August came the flood, destroying many chapels and day schools. Only one member of the church was drowned, but in the counties of Chou-ping and Chi-tung nearly every station lost members through disease consequent upon the flood. Those who have survived the awful experiences of the past few months are not unscathed. There is a stricken look about the majority of the Christians. How can it be otherwise when many have been reduced to utter poverty—poverty beyond the knowledge of most Englishmen? Others who have lived in comfort will be straitened for the remaining years of their life. Nearly all have lost friends or relations, and have been reminded hourly of their loss by the coffins of the unburied dead stored at home until, the waters having receded, it was possible to carry them to the grave.

"The effect of this calamity upon our church was immediate. It has been impossible for the Christians—for the most part—to meet for worship. Many are wandering homeless beggars until next spring. The income of the church is for the time almost nothing. Education is at a standstill, and will be very limited for many a day. By this a whole generation of Christian lads, from which must come our future pastors, church officers and helpers, will be affected. Who can say how long self-support will be delayed by this calamity?

"To all this we must add the hopeless future. We know that these floods must recur, unless something unthought of is attempted in the way of river works. Don't let the public at home think the Chinese Government does not do the best it knows. Of course, the officials controlling the river works are as corrupt as all others. Still the works are gigantic; but they are not the result of knowledge. Many are praying that Li Hung Chang, and the Belgian engineers who are with him, may be helped to devise an effective method of river control. The Government appears this time to be willing to learn what foreign engineers can teach.

"We must never forget that the blows of calamity, which have broken so many lives in this district, have laid them open to receive the consolations of the glorious Gospel of the blessed God. In these stricken counties we have most of our church members. We are deeply thankful to God that the means to give practical expression to our sympathy have been provided. We hope to do much concurrent relief and preaching among the people. We have already helped the most necessitous among our brethren, and after Chinese New Year shall commence general relief work."

The Rev. W. A. Wills writes with regard to his work :—

"With grateful satisfaction I have watched the steady development of an earnest, anxious spirit in the members—manifested in a love for the house of prayer, a regular attendance at the means of grace, a deepening desire for usefulness, and, as far as I can trace, a consistent walk and conversation. Thirty-three have been received by baptism and profession, and six have been removed by death ; our net increase is 28, making a total of 233 in fellowship of the churches under my care.

"Cho-tsun.—Our work this year has been carried on under more favourable circumstances. We entered our new premises on January 22nd, 1898, and have found them admirably adapted for our purpose. With the increased accommodation our congregations also increased, and our chapel, seating 120, with very few exceptions, has been well filled every Sunday, and often we have been obliged to hold overflow meetings in the open court.

"A small museum has been fitted up, which has attracted large numbers, and afforded the evangelist an excellent opportunity of preaching the Gospel to many who otherwise would not have come near us.

"A large room, made cheerful by maps, pictures, and texts, has been used as a waiting-room for patients, also a reading-room, and many shopkeepers, merchants, and teachers have come, spending hours together, reading the Christian papers and latest news from the coast, Peking, &c. Not a few of these visitors have accepted our invitation to come and have a chat in the 'guest room,' and afterwards attended our services.

"Chih Ch'uan.—During the year we have carried on medical work, &c., from an inn outside the city at very great inconvenience, but now we have secured premises inside the city, and hope to be settled there next January ; and are confidently expecting much more satisfactory results from our work in the future from this city, the centre of 860 large villages and towns.

"Po-shan.—Not only have our patients continued to increase, but a much larger number from the city have attended regularly the Sunday services. At our autumn Church meeting the members handed me deeds of a small house they themselves have leased for thirty years for the use of services in a large town about five or six miles away, the Christians in that district having no place for worship, and found the city too far for regular attendance. I accepted the deeds to keep on behalf of the Mission with great thankfulness, for no personal present, however great, could have given me more real heart joy.

"Schools.—The four boys' and one girls' day schools in my district are in a very prosperous condition. The children passed their examinations with credit to themselves and teachers, and enjoyed their annual treat ; but best of all is the fact that six have joined the Church during the year upon a public profession of their faith in Jesus. Six boys and one girl are in the boarding schools at Ch'ing-Chouhi, also one young man in the Institute, receiving training for the ministry of the Gospel. One has finished a short course of three years, and is now filling the position of teacher in one of the village schools, and spending his Sundays in preaching at the different country churches.

"Christian Endeavour.—This Society for young and old is flourishing in each of our out-stations, and we now have over 300 members, most of them trying to do something for 'Christ and the Church,' and partly through their efforts our country churches have increased from ten to seventeen. Our Bible-woman has done excellent work in teaching the women to read the Gospels, both in the churches and in several new villages. My coolporteur is supported by the American Bible Society. He has travelled from place to place over 500 miles, visiting 230 different villages, towns, and cities, and sold 1,951 portions of Scripture. Many Gospel tracts and Christian books have also been sold and distributed by our Evangelists and members on the fairs and markets, also at the dispensaries.

"Leaders' Classes.—For men who have to supply the different country churches from week to week and day by day, have to answer inquiries about the Scriptures, and who often meet with objectors, these classes afford such systematic instruction as is needful for them. They highly prize these classes, and work hard while attending; our greatest trouble is to choose the men, for all need such help and want to come, but our accommodation and means are limited.

"We cannot tabulate results from work like ours; it is sowing the seed beside all waters—sometimes to the sick and afflicted, or the multitudes on the fairs and markets, or visitors at the museum, or to the stranger on the road. It is a mistake to measure success by the number enrolled on the Church registers. I believe there are many men and women in this land who worship God, and trust only in Jesus for Salvation, but are living far, far away from any missionary or place of worship, while many others have not the courage to openly confess their faith and face the persecution to which they would be exposed. Christianity is slowly but surely permeating the whole of China, and these proud, conservative people are being influenced by it to an extent they little dream of."

The Rev. E. W. Burt, M.A., writes :—

"The work under my care has made steady progress during the year, and is now full of promise. As you know from my former letter, Chang Chi'n is a specially difficult field, owing to the superior social position of the people and their devotion to business. Our work is still mainly evangelistic—that is, preaching widely at fairs and markets—and you will rejoice to learn that these efforts have already been crowned with a certain measure of success. We can now point to four or five villages where the true Light is shining in the darkness. In the black night the Morning Star has risen, and ere long shall the dawn break and the shadows flee away. For more than a year I was compelled to carry on work in a dirty inn at great disadvantage, but in the spring of this year (1898) I succeeded in renting a house in a quiet suburb, and this makes a capital centre from which to evangelise the surrounding country.

"A great help in opening up a new district and making friends of the people is undoubtedly medical work, and in this respect I have been fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Paterson, who comes out once a month and stays two days, seeing male and female patients on alternate days. At first the people were timid and suspicious, but are now beginning to come in greater numbers, and this gives an excellent opportunity for telling them of the Great Physician.

"The Yellow River flood, which has wrought such havoc in our whole district, has also affected the northern part of Chang Chi'n country, and alas! swept away the most hopeful of our Christian stations—scattering the little community in all directions. It is a great reverse, and especially hard to bear in a newly evangelised district, where it is bound to strain the faith of these babes in Christ yet I believe even this calamity will turn out to the furtherance of the Gospel, for these homeless Christians, like the first exiles from Jerusalem, have already led to the conversion of several of the friends and kinsfolk with whom they had taken refuge.

"During the past fortnight I have been teaching a class of twenty-one men. They are not leaders in the ordinary sense, but seekers after the truth, who a year ago were without hope and without God in the world. They are anxious to understand the way of salvation, and though their slowness often tries one's patience, I am very pleased at the diligent spirit with which they strive to master the contents of our catechism. I am also teaching them, as simply as possible, the fundamental Christian doctrines, as outlined in the Apostles' Creed—no easy task, owing to their unfamiliarity with the Scriptures. We hope some of these 'seekers' may be ready for baptism next year.

"Of the equally important work of grace going on among the women, I need add nothing to my wife's report. Suffice it to say we both close the year with thankful hearts for what God has wrought, and in the sure confidence that 'He which hath begun a good work will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ.'"

Mrs. Burt sends the following report as to WOMEN'S WORK.

"This is the first year that I have been able to write a report of work done in a district I could call my own. Up to last year my husband was carrying on work for brethren home on furlough, and I helped among the women in these districts. Last year, however, two counties containing over half-a-million souls were given into Mr. Burt's charge, and I think we have had especial joy in working in our own parish. A year ago, I went out for my first visit to Chang Chiu, and was away three weeks. At that time there were only two Christian women in the whole of the two counties, and they lived far away among some hills two days' journey from Chou-ping. Part of my time I spent in Chang Chin City, which is a good centre to work from, and here all day long the women streamed in to see me—chiefly out of curiosity, it is true—but none the less giving me many an opportunity to spread the Truth. While there, we visited several villages within a radius of fifteen miles, where, although there were no Christians, many were inquiring about our doctrine, and where we were welcomed most warmly. The last part of my visit we went far away to the hills, and saw a woman—such a beautiful, earnest Christian. There are no other Christians in her village, or for miles round. Her husband is opposed to the Gospel, she has no chance for public worship, and rarely sees an evangelist. Nevertheless, for four years she has been shining for Christ, and instead of becoming careless or disheartened, is each year more devout and true. So consistent is her life, that her husband, from actively persecuting her, now allows her to learn; and does not mind our visiting her. The only other Christian woman in these two counties was an old blind woman, who heard the Gospel on a fair, and became converted as a result. I took with me into the country a Bible-woman, whom Mrs. Drake very kindly lent me for the trip. She is a woman who is peculiarly gifted in speaking to outsiders, and I found her invaluable. Where I failed to make the women understand my meaning, she came to the rescue, and, using their own vernacular, explained so that the dullest could understand. We returned home with hearts trusting in God's promises, and knowing that the seed sown in faith should bring forth a harvest in His own time.

"Shortly after we got back four women came in to see me. I recognised them at once as women who had come to hear me while at one of the villages we visited. Two of them were suffering from some eye disease, and hearing of a wonderful doctor here came to have their eyes seen to. The other two had come to wait on them. I invited them to stay with me, and every day taught them of Christ and His mercy. When their eyes were quite well again, I asked them to stay a little longer with me, and three out of the four agreed. I kept them a fortnight, teaching them and praying with them daily. They went home all believing in the true God, and though but dimly understanding the new doctrine, had faith enough to cast aside their idols, and trust in Christ for salvation. This cheered me very much, and all the winter my husband and I prayed that they might so shine for Christ that others would begin to realise the darkness they were living in.

"In February, Mr. Burt visited the two villages from which these women came, and found that there were over ten women worshipping God, and daily meeting for united prayer, that many men, too, had been converted. They told him they were longing to have more instruction, for they felt how very ignorant they were. At that time it was too cold for me to risk taking our little baby out into the country, but Mrs. Drake again kindly spared me her Bible-woman, and she went out for more than a month, staying several days each at four villages, preaching and teaching all the time.

"She came home filled with joy at the willingness of the women to learn, and she told me she felt sure that the Spirit of God was working in their midst. A week or two after she returned, I myself went out for a month; again making Chang Chiu City my centre to work from. Every day women came to see me, and many came again and again. The Chinese women seem to have a faculty for listening patiently as long as you like to go on talking, and I always had to stop before they had had enough. The ten Christian women above mentioned came in a body to see me, walking some eleven miles, further from their homes than many of them had ever been before. They stayed with me two days, and eagerly drank in all the instruction they could get. They even grudged the time spent in meals, and, although at the time there was a big annual fair being held in the City (a sight which is a great treat to women), they would not go outside the door to see it. I visited their village and several others while away, and in each found the seed springing up far more rapidly than my weak faith could have believed possible. This autumn, owing to a serious illness of our little son, my work has been much interrupted, and I have been unable to go out into the country. Now that he is better, I have got a class of fourteen women in, and am giving them a fortnight's teaching. I am taking with them the catechism and several of the first hymns in our hymn-book; and Mrs. Nickalls is kindly giving them a class every afternoon, taking lessons from 'The Peep of Day.' When I remember that this time last year there were only two Christian women in a county where now there are over thirty, and that the fourteen women now in are picked Christians from several villages, my heart is full of gratitude. The increase has been thirty-fold, but I am looking to see the sixty-fold and hundred-fold. Mrs. Liu is an old lady of seventy. Her son heard the Gospel two years ago while away from home, was converted, and, coming home early this year, tried to teach his mother and sister. The mother would not listen, and was much opposed to this new teaching. Her son came to see us, in great trouble because his mother would not learn, and even reproached him for doing so.

"When I went out to Chang Chiu, I invited him to bring his mother and sister to stay with me, holding out as inducements that the big fair was on, and that they should see my sewing machine, some pictures, &c., &c. They came, and for some days I did not speak of the Gospel to them, but chatted of ordinary things, and was very friendly with them. At the end of a week, one evening when I was having prayers with my woman, Mrs. Liu came in and told me she wanted to become a Christian. She went on to say that it must be a good doctrine that could make me leave my father and mother, and come so far away, and she could not understand why I should love her so much and be so good to her. She then asked me how she could be saved. I took the text 'God is love,' and taught her to repeat it, and then explained it as fully as I had time. She was quite overcome, and said: "I wish I could pray." I just taught her to say 'Jesus Christ, forgive my sins' and she kept repeating this over and over again. The next day she went home, but on wishing me good-bye, said she would pray every day. Some time later her son came to see us, his face beaming, and told me that his mother was a changed woman. She was eager to hear all about Jesus Christ, and as she sat at her spinning-wheel she would painstakingly spell out the Lord's Prayer, or some hymns from the hymn book. He said that she was never happier than when listening to the Gospel. His sister, too, became converted, and now they are both here for these classes. I have been amazed at the progress Mrs. Liu has made, she seems to thirst after righteousness, and often puts me to shame by her ready faith and her earnestness. Yet this dear old lady, eight months ago, was actively opposing Christianity. The conversion of the other women is just as wonderful, but time would fail to tell of each. When one remembers that in this district there are still a quarter of a million women yet unconverted, one's heart almost sinks under the weight, and one feels what are thirty or forty Christian women, amongst such a multitude of heathens! Will friends at home pray that the Spirit of God may come down with power, and move in this thick darkness? I would also ask for prayers for the one lonely Christian woman so far away from any help, or encouragement. May her faith be soon rewarded by seeing many fellow-villagers turn to Christ. Besides work in these two counties, I am also regularly visiting two villages quite near to Chou-ping also the west suburb of this city. All last winter I held a weekly class in the west suburb, when I was able to give help to several Christian women, and also came in contact with many outsiders. I discontinued these classes in June owing to our going away for the summer, and this autumn have so far only been once or twice, owing to our baby's illness. At the two villages I held fortnightly classes, and at one of them started a Christian Endeavour Society, which has been quite a success. The women take to the idea quickly, and the meetings are bright and lively."

The Rev. S. B. Drake writes:—

"The previous year's report closed in the midst of the excitement occasioned by the seizure of Chiao Chiao by the Germans. Doubtless that time was one of danger to missionaries residing in the interior of Shantung. However, through the goodness of God, Germanic action did not incite the Chinese to take revenge upon unprotected foreigners residing in the interior.

"The political turmoil through which China has passed, and is still passing, tells against missionary work at present in many ways—more especially in two—the public mind is distracted, and the people are in a state of uncertainty. These two conditions prevent some people from approaching us, whilst others are more ready to talk about politics than religion. On the other hand the present condition of things is making people think, and serious thinking on the part of the Chinese will, in the long run, help Christian work.

"Again, the Yellow River floods have greatly disturbed our work. About one-half of my district has been under water. A large portion of it is still in that condition. Nearly every year there are floods of a more or less serious character. But the flood of this year is the most destructive I have witnessed. From the first, Christian work in this region has been carried on in the face of great difficulties. It is no easy task to evangelise a district that is frequently under water. Indeed, it is exceedingly difficult, after a Christian Church has been formed, to keep it together, when nearly every year a large portion of the population have to leave their homes to seek bare subsistence in distant places. However, these are the conditions in which a large portion of the work carried on from Chou-ping is being done. These frequently occurring floods greatly depress one's mind. In view of such frequent disasters one has to pray: 'Let not faith and hope forsake us.' Besides, we must remember that the scattering of Christians has been used by God for the extension of His Church.

"During the early months of the year, Mrs. Drake visited a number of stations in Kao Yuan and Chou-ping counties. She also regularly conducted the Sunday Bible-class in Chou-ping City. This Bible-class having become unmanageably large, it has been divided into two divisions. Mrs. Burt has taken charge of the second division. The classes for women residing at distant stations have been carried on, forty-nine women attending them. Two Bible-women have also been employed with satisfactory results. Mrs. Drake desires to thank those friends who sent calico for the Dorcas Society. During the present distress, the clothes made up and distributed will be of especial value.

"This year we cannot report as many additions to the church as last year. However, the register shows an increase of forty."

THE PROVINCE OF SHANSI.

The Rev. Herbert and Mrs. Dixon are now on their return voyage to China after furlough in England, and early in September the Shansi Mission will be further reinforced by the departure of Mr. Sidney Ennals.

TAI YUEN FU AND DISTRICT.

The Rev. G. B. Farthing reports with regard to the work in this important centre and the out-stations connected with it :—

“ In Tai Yuen Fu all the old agencies—the street chapel, the opium refuge, the school, the distribution of literature, and the Sunday and week-evening services—have been sustained.

“ As I have stated before, just how much good is effected by the preaching in the street-chapel it is hard to estimate. That it is not altogether without result a multitude of little things would go to prove. For instance, a man only a few weeks ago came into the chapel, and soon manifested an interest in what was being taught. He learned that we had prayers every morning, which all were welcome to attend, and a meeting for the study of the Scriptures each night. At personal inconvenience—so far as the morning meeting was concerned—he yet attended daily, both morning and evening, so long as he remained on business in the city; and in taking leave, after about a fortnight, he asked for our prayers, and gave 500 cash to the church fund. This incident does not stand alone, but, being the most recent, I give it as a sample. This man was from the adjoining province of Chih-Li, and had had no acquaintance with the truth before he strayed into our street-chapel.

“ Nearly the whole time of the majority of the lads in our school is devoted to Christian books, by choice of themselves and parents. In what way this is a gain may not appear very readily to friends at home; but where the education given consists largely of Chinese classics, the amount of explanation required to guard the child from the erroneous teaching or interpretations contained in them, with, too often, defeat in the end, is very great. Our school is a Christian school, and we wish this to be its distinctive character.

“ Our OPIUM REFUGE is still a means of great good. During the year we have had altogether 105 men in for treatment. Men, did I say? One was a lad of nine, a nice little fellow, to whom opium-addicted parents had, for some childish ailment, given what was ready to hand, with the result that a craving for it was formed after a while. Of these 105 patients some five or six broke from restraint, whilst the rest were discharged free from craving.

“ During the past year I baptized in all twenty-two men, of whom the large proportion were old opium patients. The number of those baptized was smaller than it would have been but for the unprecedented rains at the time fixed for the baptisms at several of the stations, whereby the roads became rivers, and the streams too swollen to be crossed. Amongst those baptized was a man from Lan Hsien, a distant place, where he is cut off almost altogether from the possibility of meeting with fellow-Christians, yet he seemed, during the days he was with us—and what obstacles he overcame to reach us!—full of Christian joy and brightness, and was not behind those nearer at hand in insight into the meaning and knowledge of the Scriptures. It was a distinct encouragement to us to believe in the keeping power of God. How this man prized membership with the Christian Church was also a great delight to us. Mountain paths, slippery roads, dangerous fords, a tramp of between sixty and seventy weary miles entirely at his own cost, and then back again—with what to show? Nothing very different from what he had been showing in his clean, loving, separated life all along, but in his heart the joy which comes from having obeyed his Lord. There is hope for the Church in China when Christ so really takes possession of the man that His commands are held thus dear and precious. The twenty-two baptized came mostly from Tai Yuen Fu. Chiao Cheng was next with six, and then Hsiao Tien and Ping Tou with three each.

"The chapel has been full on many occasions, a sight which used to send us singing through a whole week when it happened on a Sunday some time back. The books which I have expounded during the year at my Bible-classes have been the latter half of Mark's Gospel, and the Epistles to the Ephesians, Colossians, and Thessalonians. In addition to these classes and the ordinary Sunday services I have had an instruction-class for inquirers once a week for several months, and, on one occasion had a special class each morning for a fortnight with those from our stations who could spare the time to come in and attend.

"Book Sales have been about as usual for number; probably if I looked carefully back to the years when there was no extraordinary influx of people from the outside places as there was in the previous year during the triennial examination, I should discover that our sales have been above the average this year. But let that go; the feature in sales during the past year has been in the larger books and more expensively bound Scriptures which have been purchased, and I think this readiness to buy the costlier books points to an increased interest in the truth they contain.

"The number of persons throughout our district who possess an intelligent grasp of the Gospel facts is decidedly on the increase.

"At our out-stations we have had the usual experience—mingled encouragements and disappointments, but with a most decided preponderance of encouragement. To glance at them in order.

Hsiao Tien.—New hopefulness for this work has come to us by the number of younger men who are attaching themselves to us.

"Shih Tieh has not progressed so well this last year, though the machinery has been kept at work at the usual pressure. But the distances between the chapel and the homes of many of our people are very great, and there are several little services being held in the villages to which they belong.

"Chiao Ch'eng.—The work at this station has progressed. The opium refuge has had a large number of patients in it, of whom the most part passed through satisfactorily. The city is but the centre of quite a host of villages, in many of which we have inquirers or members, some of whom, as at Yang Chu and Nien Ti, have their own hired room or chapel, as they love to call it. There are several women awaiting baptism at Chiao Ch'eng, and the way in which the men in that district are awaking to their responsibility in regard to the teaching of the women is cheering.

"Shen's death made me fear for the work at Yueh K'ou, as Shen's relatives would not allow the services to be held on their premises any longer, and I did not want to rent a place with Mission funds, especially as there appeared to be no one fitted to lead. However, the principle of self-support was ingrained sufficiently in the people to enable them to shift for themselves, and very wisely they acted. They joined with Nien Ti not quite two miles away, and together rented a place large enough for both meetings, and all put themselves under a warm-hearted Christian brother named Li, for instruction. Han Meng Pao and Liu Hsiang Ch'eng have both rendered assistance, and there have been overflowing and hearty meetings for some months past. The work at Chiao Ch'eng is in a better financial condition at the end of this year than ever. The Evangelist Liu Hsiang Ch'eng is supported by the missionary circle of my own church at Albemarle, Scarborough, and the school teacher at Yang Chu by friends of Mr. Underwood at Bath, and all other expenses whatever are raised by the people themselves.

"The question of support is to have a chief place at our forthcoming mid-Shansi Conference, and I hope it may prove to have no small influence upon those who attend in their after practice and generosity.

"At Ping Tou there is room for improvement. The roots need to be sunk deeper into the life of some of our people there. Faults which ought to have fallen away from them yet remain.

"Some of them have suffered persecution—i.e., Feng Ju Pao, who is in charge, had half the hair of his queue pulled out by the roots during a savage attack made upon him for offering Christian books for sale at a market. To endure for Christ's sake is no small thing, and we shall hope and pray for a spiritual revival and a deepening life in the church there. The work at Ping Tou is supported by the native church at Tai Yuen, and I understand the members here are intending to ask whether Ping Tou ought not to contribute more largely itself in proportion to its membership, which will afford me an opportunity of dwelling upon the need of larger life and activity.

"The most notable feature during the year was the conversion of the leader of persecution in the district. It is an interesting story, but a report is perhaps hardly the place for it. At the request of the man, last summer, I went to his house and removed his idols and brought away his ancestral tablets, making the whole occasion a religious service by prayer and praise. In a month or two we hope to have larger premises at Liu Pu, a thing which the members there have long desired, but could not rent. A place now offers which would house us and our work, and, I understand, that the settlement of terms is about concluded. The Tai Yuen Fu Church meets whatever deficit there may be at Liu Pu at the end of each Chinese year.

"We have been made glad by the arrival amongst us of Mrs. Underwood, and believe that she will prove a worker after our own heart. In another year my colleague, Mr. Underwood, will be in a position to take a full share in the work, and this should enable us to carry on the present agencies with more of vigour as well as do much-needed work which cannot be overtaken now; workers are a most pressing demand. It will be impossible to go on for an indefinite time without them. One or more ought to be on the field immediately preparing for work.

"'No funds' will, I know, be the answer to our cry; but surely the churches will find them readily enough if the men are brought forward. Surely we ought not, ~~in~~ waiting for the money, to miss the men and—missing the men—lose the harvest and grieve the Lord.

"The pending opening up of Shansi surely constitutes a call of a new sort upon our zeal and consecration.

"If we do not meet occasion now, the coming in of the foreigners of another order which has begun will, by the creation of new wealth for the people, close many of our openings. Whether duty towards us is not an immediate increase of our staff will I trust, have the careful consideration of the Committee."

The Rev. T. J. Underwood and Mrs. Underwood are associated with Mr. Farthing in work in this district.

HSIN CHEO AND DISTRICT.

The Rev. Arthur Sowerby, who is in charge of the work of this district, reports :—

"OUR FIELD OF WORK.

"For Hsin Chow, which is one country town, please read Hsin Chow, Tai Chow, Kuo Hsien, Fan Shih Hsien, Ting Hsiang Hsien, five county towns, and Chi Tsun and Chuan Mo Chen, two market towns, for we have well established work in all these places, and the range of our influence extends throughout a district of about 300 square miles. In addition to these places we have some converts in the county of Ning Wu Fu, and next year (1899) we hope a Christian church will be established in that place. There are also a few scattered inquirers in the adjoining county of Wu Tai.

"The work carried on in these out-stations does not differ much. At each place we have a resident evangelist, whose business it is to lead Christian worship on the Lord's day, to preach on the streets of the town where he is situated, or in the surrounding villages, and to definitely instruct inquirers in Christian truth and prepare them for baptism. These brethren have been faithful and devoted in their labours. To the kindness of C. Finch Foster, Esq., of Cambridge, we are indebted for the support of the evangelist at Kuo Hsien, and the friends at Fulham Road Sunday-school support the evangelist at Chi Tsun. The native church maintains the work at Fan Shih, but this year have not supported the evangelist, as they have a debt to clear off on the Chi Tsun chapel.

"Ch's Tsun is our strongest out-station, and most of our evangelists are drawn from this place. There are some good, earnest, intelligent Christian women here. This place ought soon to be able to elect its own Chinese pastor, and relieve the Mission from supplying a resident evangelist. At Ting Hsiang the most notable feature is the boys' school, where the scholars number over thirty. The station at Chuan Mo Chen has considerably revived, and steady progress has been made at Kuo Hsien, Tai Chow, and Fan Shih. Baptisms have taken place at Hsin Chow and Tai Chow. In all, twenty-six have been baptized, and but for unavoidable causes the number would have been greater. As it is the church roll has more than doubled within the last two years.

"In Hsin Chow itself there is daily preaching in the shop in the main street, while our devoted evangelist, Chao Hsia Yun, has preached regularly in the open air and in the neighbouring villages.

"Here also we have had opium patients, and some medical and surgical work carried on. In addition to the boys' school, I have had six senior scholars. One of these lads has left the school; he is not of a tractable disposition, does not care for learning, and resents control. The other five have done remarkably well. In addition to their Chinese studies they have had classes in mathematics, Martin's 'Christian Evidence,' Mackenzie's 'Nineteenth Century,' and geography. Three of these lads have Christian parents, and all three were baptized last summer; they take it in turn to address the lads on Sabbath afternoons, and excellent addresses they give. We are indebted to friends at Eastbourne for the support of one Chu Tzu, and to the friends at the Fulham Road Sunday-school for the support of another, Pen Yuan Tzu. The others are supported by their friends.

"The attendance of women at the Sunday morning service has much increased.

"A good many opium patients have been treated, and some medical and surgical work carried on, sufficient to give help to all who need it and choose to avail themselves of it, and to recommend to the people the goodwill we bear to them.

"The coup d'état at Peking has given rise to some persecution, and in a general way made people fight shy of us. This was owing to the absurd rumours that the Empress meant to destroy all foreigners, and the Christian church into the bargain. There is, however, no evidence that mischief is meant towards us from Peking, but, on the contrary, we have reason to suppose that Christians and Christian missions will be protected. Our annual conference, held in November, was well attended, some sixty men being present. There seemed no inclination on the part of the Christians to show any signs of panic, or to be at all inclined to be less outspoken in their confession of Christ, or less bold in their attempts to press on evangelistic work."

The Rev. W. A. and Mrs. McCurrach are associated with Mr. and Mrs. Sowerby in work in this district, and in the course of a few months we trust Mr. and Mrs. Dixon and Mr. Sidney Ennals will reinforce these workers in this promising field of labour.

SHENSI PROVINCE.

The Committee are thankful to report that during the year just closed they have been able to accept and send forth to Shensi a fully qualified and equipped medical missionary, Dr. Creasey Smith, a graduate of the Edinburgh School of Medicine, and they confidently anticipate for him a most useful and successful missionary course in that distant province.

The Rev. A. G. Shorrock, B.A., writes, reporting upon the work of the past year at

HSI-AN-FU.

"During the former part of the year we were led to hope that China's day of emancipation from old ways was close at hand. The Emperor issued edict after edict commanding reforms in all directions; obsolete methods of examination were abolished and temples were to be converted into schools. The missionary was resorted to for all sorts of information, and new opportunities were given for preaching the Gospel. But all this was suddenly reversed; the Empress Dowager usurped the power of her enlightened nephew, the Emperor, put to death without trial the leading reformers, and repressed all measures of reform. Our bookshop in the city, which was disposing of good literature to the value of £20 a month, has almost ceased to do business. A new fear has taken possession of numbers of the more progressive scholars. One wealthy man, as soon as he heard of the change of policy, immediately burned all his new books—Christian, scientific, and historical—for fear of being compromised.

"My time this year has been divided between the provincial capital of Hsi-an-fu and our country centre. In Hsi-an-fu the work is purely evangelistic, and has been carried on by preaching in the bookshop, and in the open air by book-selling and dispensing of medicines, and also by lantern lectures and personal conversations. In a city like Hsi-an-fu, where people from all parts congregate, definite results are few and disappointing.

"We have lately secured another house where it is more possible to reach the numerous surrounding villages, while at the same time we can cultivate intercourse with officials and scholars. Lantern lectures on Old and New Testament scenes have proved a great attraction to business men and scholars. Slides illustrating eclipses and the motions of the heavenly bodies have been most useful in dispelling pride and superstition. How to evangelise this great city of half a million people is a constantly pressing problem. One longs to know something more of the power that turned the great and proud Ephesus upside down!

"Our country centre forms the basis of church and school work. In various stations, within a radius of twenty miles, are 201 church members, and as many learners. They have their own native pastor, whose support devolves entirely upon themselves. The pastor is a man for whom we may thank God. He is an example to the flock in patience, diligence, and spiritual-mindedness. As the members are widely scattered, we have continued the custom of inviting the leading men to gather at our central station for prayer and instruction. The helpfulness of these gatherings has been evidenced again and again, and this year has proved no exception. Spiritual stimulus given to the leaders is felt throughout the church.

"The Evangelistic Association, which has proved a most useful organisation in stimulating aggressive effort, had gradually become weakened by a too easy admittance to membership. At our last meeting the Association was practically reformed. United prayer, study of Scripture, mutual exhortation, dependence upon the Divine Spirit are made more prominent features than before. The members will be fewer, but spiritual power will be augmented. In the first month of the Chinese New Year they will meet for prayer and conference, and will then go forth in bands for some days' evangelistic work in the villages.

"This year we have received thirty-eight by baptism. No less than twenty-eight of these are present scholars varying in age from fourteen to over twenty. Sixteen are in the girls' school, one other is an ex-scholar. In all thirty-one present and past girl scholars have professed allegiance to the Saviour, and have been received into the church. The boys' school have given the church fifteen members. We are hoping to see still greater things as the result of the spiritual teaching and mental discipline daily given in our schools.

"Our experience leads us to give an emphatic testimony to the efficacy of Christian schools as evangelistic agencies. Let us keep steadily in mind the fact that the main purpose of all teaching is to bring the mind and heart of the scholar into willing and intelligent subjection to Christ the Lord, that all life and all powers may be used for Him, and we shall find school work to be almost surprisingly fruitful in conversions and consecrated lives.

"We greatly need native leaders and helpers, and where can these be better trained than in our schools? During the alternate months which I have spent in our country centre I have taken a daily class of senior youths and girls. Our text-book has been the Epistle to the Romans, which I have been through with them. The work of the girls has been specially praiseworthy. All the scholars in this centre, numbering nearly 100, gather with their teachers in the chapel for morning prayer, and this gives the opportunity for a short daily exposition. A screen is run down the middle of the chapel separating boys and girls, but the leader is in full view of everybody. The bright upturned faces of the scholars are a daily inspiration.

"The young fellows in the school have taken turns every Sunday in visiting a town six miles away for evangelistic work. They go four at a time, take their stand in some central place, and sing and preach all day long. Mrs. Morgan has worked with untiring energy in the girls' school.

"Order, intelligence, and spiritual vitality are more and more manifest, and we give God thanks for all we see of the workings of His own Spirit.

"But we seem to be only just touching the work as yet. Our supreme need still is spiritual power. Indifference, deadness, cannot be dealt with by mere argument. Only the power unceasingly communicated from on high can quicken the dead.

"May we see more of this during the coming year!"

SAN YUAN CITY AND DISTRICT.

The Rev. Evan Morgan, reviewing the experiences of the past year, writes :—

"The year opened full of promise on our work in San Yuan. The removal of ancient restrictions, the upsetting of long-standing landmarks of thought, introduced great mental activity. The reforming spirit of the young ruler found many sympathisers here. People openly applauded his desire to convert temples into school-houses, and the appropriation of glebe lands to the support of the new learning. But though many recognised the vanity of idol worship and were very willing that the habitations of idols should be converted into abodes of learning—yet the human heart must worship something—nature abhors a vacuum, and as they would not take the momentous step of uniting with us, so it was actually proposed by some that a seventh day should be observed for worship in imitation of our Sunday. But what could they worship? The Eternal God, but with all the hymns in praise of Confucius. But without a living mediator praise will die on the lips and prayer will tremblingly refuse to respond. With a mediator in a grave in Shantung their venture failed, and their Sabbath became a day of rest, simply a cessation from work. And the more one thinks of it, the more wonderful appears the adaptability of Christ's doctrine to the needs of man, in all its aspects. And yet the many who are willing to worship God refuse the only possible mediator—Jesus. He is still a stumbling-block. His becoming a man was an act of Divine mercy, and yet proud human nature resents the Divine plan of salvation. But ere long blind eyes must be opened, and the Jew and Gentile alike must relegate Moses and Confucius to a secondary place, and crown Jesus Lord of all.

"Our resident evangelist has done considerable preaching, not only in the city itself, but in the surrounding villages, and it is a pleasure to report the addition of a few inquirers in this town. Sorrow led one young man to us. He was much troubled by the death of several members of his family, and concern as to his own welfare should he be also called to die. For long he diligently sought consolation and assurance, but failed until he found Christ; and now he seems most glad in his new-found joy. Eager to learn, very responsive, of great spiritual insight, he is a young man of fine promise.

"We have secured more suitable premises here, and look forward to a more active prosecution of the work.

"Elementary Day Schools.—In all, 14, with about 150 scholars.

"Boys' Advanced School.—Number of scholars, 29. They have made progress in learning and manners; but what rejoices our hearts more than all is their evident interest in the truth and their eagerness to impart it to others. They have a Christian Endeavour Society, and the elder boys go out to preach regularly every Sunday. The subjects taught this year include elementary mathematics, geography, mechanics, Chinese subjects. Mr. Shorrock has given them a course on the Epistle to the Romans, and I have finished the Life of Christ with them. Mr. Madeley has ungrudgingly rendered valuable help to a few scholars in English—the class, of course, being held out of school hours.

"Dispensary work has been carried on; but the patients are fewer, owing to irregularity of attendance on our part. Out-stations have been visited on every free Sunday. As my part of the work in special classes, I have taken with the men 'The Bible Teaching on Sin and Salvation,' using Professor Lindsay's book as a text-book.

"I must not close without referring to the perils of the past year. War and rumours of war, threatened riots, and the extinction of all Christians have been amongst some of the items that have caused us much anxiety, and it is only since the capture and summary execution of the leader in this district of the 'Elder Brother Sect' that we fully realise our great danger, but from which for the present we have been mercifully delivered."

WORK AMONGST WOMEN AND GIRLS.

Reporting as to special work amongst women and girls in Shensi, Mrs. Evan Morgan writes:—

"In the absence on furlough of Mrs. Duncan, who started and so ably carried on work amongst the girls and women of this province, it falls to my lot to report on what has been done here during the past year, and especially on any progress made.

"Speaking generally, the year has, of course, been a very busy one—the busiest, perhaps, of my life. But it has been delightful work, and the promise, 'As thy days so shall thy strength be,' has proved abundantly true. School and village work, household duties, children, and innumerable odd duties, have kept one on the go from morning till night, and have left little time for ennui.

"This was especially so during the first six months, before our new lady missionary, Miss Beckingsale, arrived. Since that time, though engaged chiefly in study, and unable yet to take any active part in the work, yet she has been an unspeakable help in many ways. Always ready with counsel and sympathy, possessing a reserve fund of contentment, refreshing humour, and unfailing good nature, her coming amongst us has been a real blessing. I thank God that He has sent us so congenial and capable a fellow-worker. Would that more of our English girls of good education would come out to China, and use their talents for God's glory.

"THE GIRLS' SCHOOL.

"First as to the school. Here we have been distinctly reaping the result of seed sown in past years.

"During the year sixteen more of the elder girls have given themselves to Christ and confessed Him in baptism, and we believe that many others are His true disciples at heart, though as yet they are deemed unripe for open allegiance.

"The tone of the school steadily improves as time goes on.

"The weekly Saturday night Christian Endeavour meeting has been kept up regularly, and also the larger Christian Endeavour meeting three times a year, to which the old scholars and the women of this district are invited. Great is the rejoicing on these days. I think any outsider who was present on these occasions and saw the rows of bright faces and heard our elder scholars speak in turn on the topics allotted to them, would agree that schools, as evangelising agencies, are not a failure, as some would have us think. The contributions at these meetings have increased five-fold this year. As regards the actual work done by the girls, in addition to the usual study of Chinese classics, the elder ones have taken up essay-writing, by which their style has greatly improved.

"Mr. Shorrock, during his time at home, has taken the elder girls very thoroughly through the Epistle to the Romans, and a good many of the Psalms. With me they have studied the Books of Judges, Ruth, I. and II. Samuel; and on Sunday afternoons the Book of Exodus. These classes, together with the geography of the whole of the girls' school, and half the boys', arithmetic of the three elder classes, needlework, singing, and attending to their physical wants, have occupied two hours of every morning, and the whole of every afternoon but one.

"THE WOMEN.

"Saturday is an exception. On this day the school closes at noon, so I have set it apart for weekly visits to the more distant villages east and west. With the exception of some weeks in the summer, when heavy rain made the roads impassable, these outings have been undertaken regularly, sometimes by myself alone on horseback, more often by our head teacher, Mrs. Nieh, and one or more girls accompanying me in the cart. As a rule we are out only for the day; but this year, in some instances, we have been able to lengthen our stay, thus giving the women more teaching and getting to know them in their homes. It is this kind of work that is so necessary. But little of it has been possible in the past, owing to the smallness of our staff. As Miss Beckingsale gradually takes upon her some of the school-work, I hope to do more of this kind of thing. Our elder lassies make excellent teachers of their less-enlightened mothers and grandmothers, but they cannot go about unescorted.

"Wherever one goes there is a hearty welcome, and the cry on leaving ever is: 'When will you come again? Can't you stay a few more days and teach us a little more? We are so stupid, but we love to learn.'

"Foot-unbinding amongst the women continues to make a slow advance. I am not sure of the exact number, but fancy about fifteen or twenty have been added during the year, exclusive of scholars.

"Four women have been baptized, making twenty in all, as last year. Many others have applied, but have been asked to wait.

"Special Classes.—These have been held as usual—in the late winter and autumn. The former are always better attended, because at that time the women can leave home more readily, their husbands and sons being free to 'keep the door' for them. This last autumn about twenty came from a distance, walking all the way there and back, and in many cases carrying children on their backs. Ten and fifteen miles along rough roads in cold weather and with insufficient clothing shows a thirst for the True Wisdom which reminds one of the Queen of Sheba. In these classes Mr. Shorrock, the pastor, our head teacher, and I took part. My husband was away in the city at the time.

"Weekly Classes.—Last year these were conducted in three villages. This year two have been merged into the Sunday-school. The other has been kept up during the winter months only.

"At our last bi-monthly meeting in this district we started a Progress Society amongst the women. The idea was to help them to be systematic in prayer and reading, and regular in attendance at worship.

"The Chinese New Year will soon be here, when we must lose some of our dear elder girls. Some of them go away as brides; others we hope to make mistresses of village schools, if we manage to get these set on foot."

CHRISTIAN LITERATURE FOR CHINA.

THE REV. TIMOTHY RICHARD, OF SHANGHAI.

During the past year the Rev. Timothy Richard, acting as secretary of the Society for the Diffusion of Christian Knowledge amongst the Chinese, has been incessantly engaged upon Christian literary work of a growingly important character.

Referring to the special work of the Diffusion Society, Mr. Richard writes :—

"It is now eleven years since our Society was founded with a view to reach the Mandarins, the learned men and the leading men generally, in whose hands God in His providence has placed the welfare of a fourth of the human race. Our endeavour has been to prepare and circulate among these leaders useful knowledge in regard to the moral and spiritual development of all nations, so that these leaders may wake from the sleep of ages into which they have fallen and seek all those things which pertain to the Kingdom of Heaven, and the peace and prosperity of the world; otherwise, individually and nationally, they must perish and their possessions be given to other guardians who will have more regard to the will of God and the welfare of man.

"Besides preparing books suitable for circulation among the Mandarins of the Empire we have been seeking to circulate books and pamphlets among the students at each of the 200 centres of examination in China, so that the future rulers of China who are chosen from these students shall have some idea of the immense benefits which would be conferred on China by the introduction of Christian institutions to their country.

"The Christian Church is not expected to fill every distant village of China with foreign missionaries, for the natives can do that part very much better than any foreigner, but the Church is expected to keep abreast of the times and to be co-workers with God, and to provide the Chinese reformers, who are looking to us for light, with Christian books of the first order to enable them to arrive at sound Christian principles of government in harmony with the universal will of God. If this, is done all else will follow naturally as water runs down a hill to the valleys, and we may confidently pray for God's blessing and for conversion by the thousands. But if this main spring is neglected how can we reasonably and conscientiously pray Thy Kingdom come in China? God's chosen ones will hear His voice and come to the rescue.

"This plan would leave the most experienced missionaries entirely free to prepare suitable literature to leaven the whole Chinese mind with Christian thought. Ten years of such systematic and thorough work, under the blessing of God, might work wonders.

"The Rev. Griffith John and other missionaries in the Yangtze valley report that there never was such a spirit of inquiry in regard to Christianity as is manifested now. The same was told in all the southern ports which I visited, and I hear the same reported by the China Inland Mission, the Church Missionary Society, the Methodist, the Presbyterian, and the Baptist, as well as the Congregational Missions—each of them baptizing many hundreds during the year. But we have no means in China of getting annual statistics for all the missions so as to tabulate these signs of progress in a complete way. If the present interest continues there is no reason to doubt that each mission instead of reporting hundreds of additions every year may soon be able to report annually their converts by the thousands."

Mr. Richard earnestly pleads for increased help; he writes:—

"But we require more men to help in this kind of work. As we have men, some trained to become evangelists, some to become educationalists, and some to become medical missionaries, set apart almost exclusively for their respective work, and as there are many in each department so should many be set apart—say one man at least from each of our great Missionary Societies—for the main work of providing distinctively Christian literature, to meet the unique crisis in China to-day, instead of only about half-a-dozen men, and that more especially as we have witnessed the enormous result of a comparatively small effort in this line. With this gospel of hope in our hands, with the love of God and pity for human wrong and suffering in our hearts, we possess a Divine charm which has never failed to win on the nations. But the Missionary Societies must see to it that they supply an adequate number of men of God who shall be fired with this holy zeal to undertake this gigantic task."

Mrs. Richard also has been hard at work amongst the women.

"I have been lately going once a week to the first school for girls ever opened by the Chinese. It is for the education of higher class girls. I give lessons in geography and other subjects, which the native staff cannot teach. Native ladies teach the Chinese books, and a native Christian from a mission girls' school teaches English. The matron is a devoted Christian, and talks to the girls half an hour every morning on Christian subjects. Two of the pupils were for a short time in a Christian school, and their faces fairly beam when any reference is made to the goodness and love of God. There are twenty pupils, eight of whom have unbound feet.

"It is a matter for great thankfulness that what seemed an almost impassable chasm between Chinese and foreign ladies is now, in connection with education and anti-foot binding, being bridged over. There have been several mixed gatherings lately, specially in connection with the examination of Mission girls' schools. By appointment two of the directresses of the new school called on me, and we had a most satisfactory conversation lasting over two hours.

"As the new girls' school is nearly four miles distant from where we live, one of the Chinese ladies sends her brougham to take me to and fro. At the open ports the brougham is fast taking the place of the Chinese sedan chair.

"As formerly I relieve Mr. Richard of some of his English correspondence. As I have lately been appointed one of the editors of Woman's Work in the Far East, that has involved a good deal of local correspondence on my part,"

PALESTINE.

During the past year Mr. El Karey has been greatly hindered in his work by bitter persecution on the part of the Turkish Government. He writes :—

"The Government sent the police to all our schools, and ordered all the Mohammedan children to leave, and about seventy were thus compelled to leave; and in like manner all Mohammedan women have had to depart from our 'Mothers' Meetings.'

"Our house is watched all day by the Turkish police, and the Government is doing all it can to break up our Christian work. Oh, that the Lord would change the hearts of our governors."

In Samaria the Mission premises are being re-built, and the roof is being put on. Mr. El Karey reports—

"When it is finished there will be good room for preaching in as well as for schools, and a dwelling-place for the school teachers.

"Here the day and Sunday-schools are all doing well."

In some other of the out-stations the work is also progressing, and Mr. El Karey reports :—

"That notwithstanding much bitter opposition by the Turkish Government, police and soldiers, the Native Christian Church grows, and the schools are well attended."

In addition to the central station of the Mission in Nablous, there are district stations and schools in Samaria, Bate-Mreen, Coorcood, Boorkeen, Rafidia, Burka, and Nus Jebceu.

* In England.

The great River Congo is, for ocean-going steamers drawing 20 feet of water, navigable for only 100 miles, as beyond the foot of Matadi frequent cataracts interrupt the navigation for a distance of 200 miles, although a third of this distance can be traversed by steam launches and small boats.

This cataract region and the hilly roads were the great barriers which kept the country unknown until recently. Now, instead of the difficult transport on men's heads, a railway during the past year has been completed from Matadi to Stanley Pool, at the head of the cataracts. This railway is 250 miles long, and if the present rates prevail the cost of transport will be nearly £40 per ton. The State, however, is negotiating for a reduction.

From Stanley Pool the main river is navigable for 1,000 miles, then the Stanley Falls obstruct; but on the great affluents some 4,000 miles more of waterway lie open to the fifty steamers of the State, Missions, and traders which are now plying upon it. Beyond the first obstacles stretch some 7,000 to 8,000 miles more of water, which is navigable to boats, canoes, and in some cases to small steamers.

Half-way between Matadi and Stanley Pool is Tumba station, which has been closed, the railway being now completed to Stanley Pool. Fifty miles to the north of Tumba, on the old caravan route, is Wathen Station. Sixty miles to the south of Tumba is San Salvador, our oldest station.

In the words of the Rev. W. H. Bentley, with Tumba as a base, and Wathen and San Salvador lying about fifty miles at right angles north and south of it, our line of stations commences. First 100 miles or so overland to Stanley Pool, our Arthington station; then 200 miles on the Upper River to Bolobo; 100 more to Lukolela; 200 more to Monsembe; 200 more to Bopoto; and 300 more to Sargent Station, Yakusu, Stanley Falls.

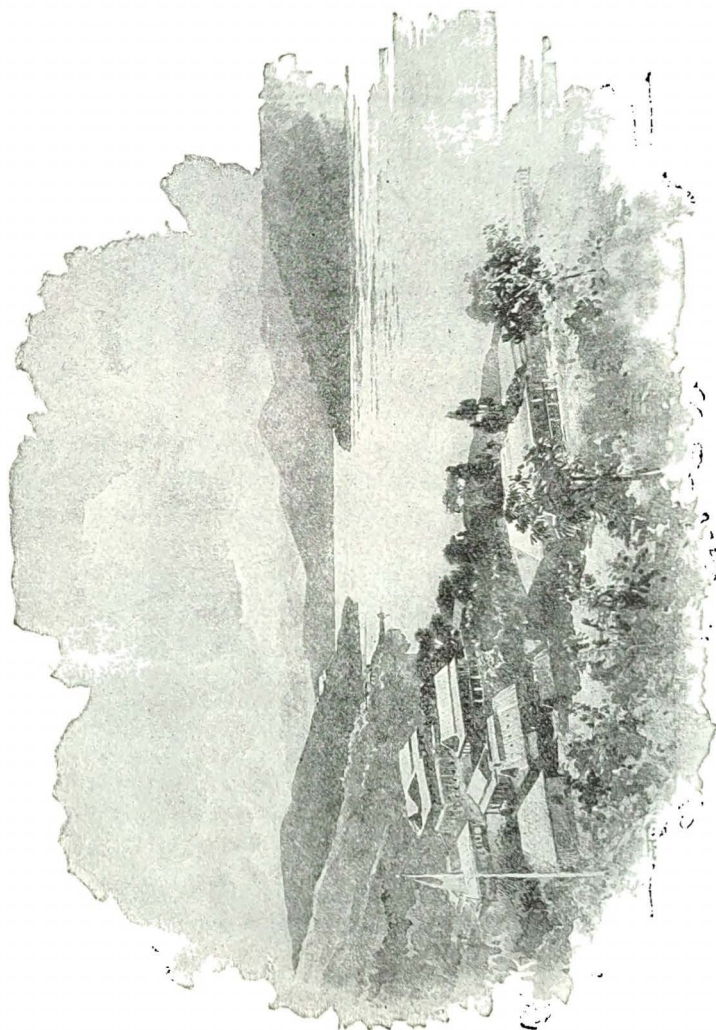

We might best compare this line of stations with a line from Bristol to Brindisi; likening Bristol to the mouth of the river, London to Matadi, Tumba to Dieppe, with Wathen and San Salvador north and south of it; Paris to Stanley Pool, then on beyond, stations as at Dijon, Mont Blanc, Spezzia, Rome, and at Brindisi. There, at Yakusu, we are 500 miles from our brethren of the Church Missionary Society at Mengo, in Uganda; and 650 miles from our brethren of the London Mission, at the southern end of Tanganyika; 1,000 miles from Mombasa and Zanzibar. This, then, is the lay of the land.

The river takes its name from the old Congo Empire at its mouth, on the southern bank; "Zaire" being a corruption of the native word nzadi, a great river.

With regard to the future base station of the Congo Mission, at the request of the Committee, Mr. Lawson Forfeitt is at present engaged in making careful investigations and conferring with his colleagues, with a view to arrive at a decision in this important matter, and the Committee anticipate the receipt of a report and recommendation on this subject at an early date.

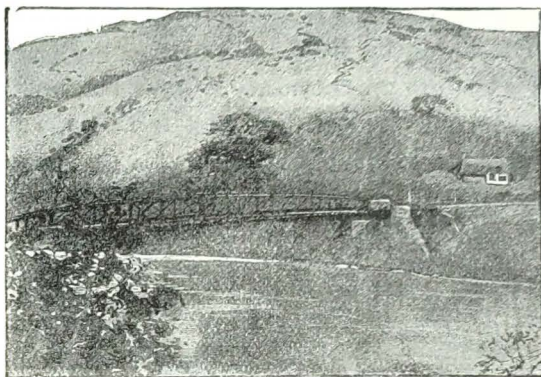

During the past year, in consequence of the opening of the railway for traffic to Stanley Pool, the half-way-house station at Tumba, as already stated, has been closed, and the Rev. John Pinnock, who has rendered such valuable service to the Mission during his occupation of this station, has been set free for other work.

In connection with this, it will doubtless be remembered that in their last report the Committee stated that, with their hearty approval, Mr. and populous district, as strongly urged by the Rev. W. H. Bentley in a very remarkable letter published more than three years ago.

Since that date the Committee have received a deeply interesting report of the journey of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, which has now been published in the June issue of the MISSIONARY HERALD, and we are confident that this report, and the proposals contained in it, will secure the hearty sympathy, support, and approval of all friends of the Congo Mission, and that, as a result, the large, populous, and important Zombo district will be opened up for the proclamation of the Gospel.

In this new work Mr. John Pinnock will for a season be associated with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, at any rate during its early stages.

The broken health of Mr. Holman Bentley has been a sore trial during the past year, not only to the Committee at home, but to all his colleagues on the field. It is, however, cause for great thankfulness that the most recent reports indicate substantial improvement, and medical authorities unite in anticipating complete recovery.

The reports for the past year from the various stations of the Congo Mission are cheering and inspiring, and the prospects were never so bright as they are to-day; the work is opening out in every direction and "on all hands." The brethren report, "the land lies open," and "the Society is urged to GO FORWARD!"

The rapidity with which this great continent is being opened up is truly marvellous. Missionaries from east and west are drawing closer to each other, and we are confident that in a brief space they will join hands in the centre.

The Rev. J. H. Weeks, writing from Monsembi Station, on the Upper Congo, under date of November 24th last, tells us :—

"Last week a gentleman landed from a passing State steamer, who addressed us with: 'I am a missionary of the C.M.S., and have come through from Uganda.

You may be sure we were delighted to meet Mr. Lloyd, and begged him to spend the evening with us, which he gladly did. He had been labouring at a new station on Lake Albert Nyanza, which place he left in August last, and, after many experiences, arrived here on November 16th. At the last Autumnal Missionary Services in Bristol the hearty enthusiasm of the meeting was evoked by a reference to the gradual but sure approach to one another of the Eastern and Western Missions labouring in this dark land. At that time we did not dare to hope that the links would so soon be brought in touch with one another. But the Lord is better to us than our expectations. This visit of Mr. Lloyd kindles within our hearts an earnest desire to complete the line of God's saving light right across this land of darkness. Two more stations beyond Yakusu, and this will be accomplished. Could it not be done before the twentieth century dawns upon us? Or shall it be said that nineteen hundred years after the light of God's love shone from Calvary it had not pierced through the darkness of this poor land through our lack of faith and love? The Lord stirs us up to do our very best, and give our very best to Him who gave us His best, even Himself."

MATADI AND TUMBA STATIONS.

The Rev. Lawson Forfeitt, Congo Secretary, writes from Matadi :—

"It is not easy to write an interesting report year by year concerning the work of the Base Station, which in its lesser degree is like some of the work at Furnival Street—comprising large correspondence, negotiations, and interviews with officials (Government, railway, and steamship) on important matters of transport, customs, land tenure, contracts of various kinds, compliance with State regulations as to registration, &c., &c., and the dealing with considerable sums of money on account of mission expenditure. Every day, and often several times a day, we have requests for medicine from natives and coast people, and when they are too sick to come to us we go to them in their own homes; or they come here so ill that they stay and die, being beyond the reach of help when they arrive. In the early morning, while I am writing this, natives have come for medicine.

"In April Mr. and Mrs. Graham left Tumba for home on furlough, Tumba being then our temporary base in consequence of the Matadi-Stanley Pool Railway being open to that midway station. Mr. Graham had kindly undertaken the duties of acting-secretary of the mission, after the lamented death of Mr. Pople. Mr. Pinnock was thus left alone at Tumba, and he has held our station there single-handed ever since, as Mrs. Forfeitt and I, at the request of the Home Committee, took up our residence at Matadi on our return to Congo in May, so that in view of the early completion of the railway and the anticipated evacuation of our station at Tumba, I might examine and report upon the question of the future permanent Base Station. This important and difficult subject has had my constant thought and attention, and I hope shortly to be able to send my report, according to the Committee's instructions.

"With regard to Tumba, arrangements have just been concluded with a trading company for the reception of goods at that point for our Wathen Station, and their despatch by caravan road, and also for the entertainment of our missionaries passing up and down by train, for the night they must necessarily spend at Tumba during the journey between Matadi and the Pool. A small building—B.M.S. property, consisting of two sleeping-rooms—has been erected and placed under the care of the agent of the trading company, for the use of our missionaries, so that there may be no question as to there being sleeping accommodation when heavy traffic on any particular occasion may demand all the accommodation provided by the several trading firms for travellers. Mr. Pincock is thus set free from Tumba, where, in addition to the transport work, &c., he has engaged, in association with missionaries of other societies, in religious and medical and school work amongst the coloured railway employes from the coast, and native traders, carriers, and children. Mr. Pincock writes: 'The services have been held regularly Sundays and week-days for both coast men and Congo people. Several of our boys and men have decided to follow the Saviour, and men from the towns have stood up in service and confessed their sins and their desire to live a new life in Christ.'

"Here at Matadi similar work is being carried on. The services at the chapel, erected and maintained at the sole expense of the coast people working in the town, have been regularly conducted by Mr. Domenjoz (C.B.M.) and myself with encouraging results. Missionaries of the different societies passing through Matadi have rendered valuable help. On my arrival here I was asked to become superintendent of this work. Much has been done in the free distribution of magazines, tracts, Gospels, &c., whilst Bibles and Testaments in English and French, hymn-books, and other religious publications have been readily purchased. Ninety-four books of the R.T.S. arrived in one parcel by steamer, and all were sold in ten days. The chapel has recently been considerably improved and repainted, all expenses being met by free-will offerings. A new American organ has been ordered and paid for. We were much touched one Sunday to find on the collecting-plate a packet containing fr. 25.50, equal £1. On the outside were these words: 'This money for God'; and inside was written: 'We are poor. We come out from inside the trouble. Glory to the Father of Abraham. Amen.' This was done without name, and we never knew which of the congregation had expressed his gratitude in this practical way.

"Matadi is undoubtedly becoming the most important port on the whole West Coast of Africa. As in past years, we have visited the ocean steamers as we have had time and opportunity, and distributed religious literature among the sailors. We are thankful to the many friends at home who have sent parcels of books and magazines in response to Mrs. Forfeitt's appeal in the MISSIONARY HERALD.

"School work is carried on by Mrs. Forfeitt both for native and coast children and we believe God is blessing the work in this department as well as others. Besides the usual school lessons, the children learn by heart hymns and texts of Scripture, and thus the words of blessed truths are fixed in the memory and, we trust, in their hearts also.

"The great public event of the year has been the completion of the Congo railway and the inauguration ceremony in July last, described in my letter published in the October HERALD. The letter there quoted, addressed to me by his Excellency the Russian Delegate, in which he wrote: 'I could never imagine that such a reformation in the intellect of an uncivilised people could be brought about in so short a time as I have seen in your Mission,' gives the impressions of a high official from Europe concerning missionary work out here; and the latest book, published only last month, on 'The Congo State,' written also by one not a missionary (Mr. D. C. Boulger), contains the following passage: 'The great motive power in Central Africa will be the spread of Christianity. To that influence we can alone look for the regeneration of the negro race; and it is possible to record the encouraging fact that it has already begun to make itself felt, through the energetic and well-directed efforts of the missionaries.'

We have had the pleasure to entertain our new Consul and old friend of the Mission, Mr. Roger Casement, who is thoroughly interested in, and sympathetic towards, our work."

SAN SALVADOR STATION.

The Rev. H. Ross Phillips, reporting on the work of the past year at this station, writes :—

"This year, as others that have passed, has had its share of light and shade. cloud and sunshine ; yet as far as it is possible for those occupied as we are with the details to rise above their surroundings, and to adequately appreciate the work as a whole, we would gratefully record that the blessings and joys experienced have far exceeded the disappointments and sorrows, and we rejoice that we have been permitted to some extent to apprehend and further the gracious purposes of our Master concerning this land of darkness and sadness.

"It is not as I look at the details of our work for the past year that I rightly estimate what God has wrought ; but when I remember what was the condition of the work when I first saw it twelve years ago, and what its position to-day, then, and then only, do I know of a surety that all the difficulties and disappointments we have experienced are completely swallowed up in the great sea of blessing.

"The attendance at our regular services has been quite as good as in former years—indeed, at some of the Sunday morning services I think we have had greater crowds than heretofore ; and this in spite of the fact that we have had an unusual amount of sickness and a great number of deaths among those who attend our services. We do not count the attendance at the services, but it is very usual for the chapel to be crowded to the doors, so that we shall be very glad when our new chapel is finished. Mrs. Lewis reports an average of fifty five at her women's meetings on Sunday afternoons.

"The interest in the various classes has been well sustained. In Mrs. Phillips' class for female Sunday-school teachers, the subjects have been the 'Parables of Our Lord,' and the 'First Book of Samuel.' Mr. Lewis has taken his class for male Church members through a course of Systematic Theology ; and I have taken the preacher's class through First Epistle of Peter, the Acts of the Apostles, and the beginning of the Gospel by Matthew.

"We had the evangelists up for instruction during April, Mr. Lewis during his week having classes for arithmetic and geography, while I had in my week classes for writing and elocution ; both of us giving lectures in expository teaching and in homiletics. We both felt that the session was a very interesting and profitable one.

"A few months ago some of the younger members of the church started meetings on Sunday afternoons for the young people. The boys hold theirs in the chapel, and the girls at the girls' house. It is altogether their own idea, and they are trying to follow the lines of the C.E. societies. Mr. Lewis and I drop in occasionally to show our sympathy and see how they are getting on, but the management is entirely in the young people's hands.

"I am glad to report an increase in the membership of the church. We have baptized twenty-five during the year, three have been restored, and three have been received by transfer ; then eight have fallen asleep, and three have been disciplined, leaving us a net increase of twenty, the total number of members at the end of the year being 124.

"For the support of evangelists and the current expenses, the weekly offerings and monthly contributions of the church members have amounted to 622 (native) dollars.

This year the chapel building fund has been still further increased by the sum of 578 dollars, the total amount contributed to the building fund being 1,850 dollars.

"In respect to the school work there is one feature of it which has developed so largely during the past year that we feel it must be included in our report. It has been our custom hitherto only to report places where school was held by evangelists or teachers authorised by the native church. In several towns instruction has been given more or less regularly by boys who were once in our school, but are now living in their towns—boys who make no profession of religion. During the past year these schools have been doing such systematic work as to demand that we should call attention to it. There are six centres in which work of this kind has been carried on, and in consequence the number of those who are learning to read has largely increased; at the close of the year we are able to report 327 boys and 256 girls as being under instruction, making a total of 583 scholars in thirteen schools. These are the facts; what the result will be of so many learning to read for themselves the Word of Life eternity alone will reveal. The area covered by this work is a large one; 45 miles N., 25 miles E., and about 28 miles S., giving the distances of these outposts.

"The number of dispensary patients, not including serious cases, treated out of hours is 4,581 women and 6,816 men, a total of 11,397.

"In itineration, several long journeys were taken during the dry season; the districts to the north, south, and east having all been visited. This, of course, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis's journey to Zombo, which occupied six weeks of the dry season.

"The 'Edwin Wade Printing Press' has been busy with the monthly publication of the 'Pilgrim's Progress,' 'Holy War,' and 'Follow Jesus.' Mr. Lewis anticipates that another six months will finish his translation of 'Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. So far as the 'Holy War' is concerned, I have finished the translation during the past year, and about half of it had been published in this serial form at the end of the year. A heavy press of work has been entailed by the binding of the hymn-book. It had been printed at Wathen, but we received our copies (600) unbound, and the stitching and forwarding of these has occupied a good deal of our time. Besides this I have done some printing for the residents and the station; and I am glad to report again that the press has paid its way.

"The building of the chapel is progressing slowly, from an English standpoint, but steadily and satisfactorily from the Congo point of view. This has given Mr. Lewis a good deal of extra work, as he undertook to plan and superintend the building.

"Statistics of San Salvador Station :—Missionaries, 3; evangelists, 4; day-school teachers, 4; stations and sub-stations, 5. Increase during the year—baptized, 25; received otherwise, 6. Decrease during the year—by death, &c., 11. Total number of church members, 124. Number of day scholars—girls, 256; boys, 327. Number of Sabbath scholars—girls, 247; boys, 186. Sabbath-school teachers, 15."

WATHEN, OR NGOMBE, STATION.

The Rev. George Cameron sends the following report :—

"The experiences of the year 1898 have been varied. We have had much joy and much sorrow, some successes and some defeats, hopes realised and hopes disappointed, but through all God has been with us, and has prospered us.

"Mr. and Mrs. Bentley have been on furlough throughout the year, and Mr. and Mrs. Bell left at the end of August, so the staff has not been complete, but the work has been fairly sustained, thanks to the devotion of the native Christians.

"Mr. and Mrs. Stephens and Miss Brindal joined us at the end of the year, and already give efficient help. Mr. Frame passed his examination with honours, and is steadily at work as a full missionary.

"The year has been a very trying one to the natives. Disease and death have been doing their worst, and the result is a perceptible decrease of the population. The deaths in the church have been 16, giving a death-rate of about 125 per 1,000 per annum, and probably a still larger proportion of the heathen have died. A mysterious disease, called sleep-sickness, from its most noticeable symptom, is accountable for a very large number of the deaths, and unfortunately its virulence does not seem to be abating. Several of our most useful and promising workers have died of it, and there are others now ill whose lives we have no hope of saving.

"Notwithstanding the high death-rate, the membership of the church has increased by 37, the year having opened with 112 and closed with 149 members. Fifty-four persons were baptized, of whom only ten had any training in the school; all the others are adult converts from heathenism. Two new outposts with paid evangelists were established in needy districts, making four such outposts. This is purely missionary pioneer work in heathen strongholds. At these four outposts there are no Christians, very few scholars, and not many friendly natives; and there are no contributions to help to pay the expenses. The work is carried on in the hope that by God's blessing converts will be made who will become workers themselves and also help to send other workers further afield. Last year I reported of one such station, Tungwa Kia Londe, that the evangelist had been taken away and the work left in the hands of the converts. The same thing has been done this year at Makuta, and though there are drawbacks, chiefly on account of the defective education of those who had not been trained on the station, the plan works well so far. These places, formerly a source of expense to the church, are now a source of income, as the converts not only carry on the work themselves, but subscribe to the central fund. This is also done at other outposts where the work has been voluntary from the beginning.

"All this necessity for money helps us to sympathise with the Committee in its monetary difficulties. Our experience in this connection is, on the whole, cheering. Our ordinary collections for the year amounted to 7,958 brass rods, while the disbursements came to 8,235, a deficit of 277. But as 2,286 brass rods extra were specially subscribed towards the reduction of a debt of 4,635 rods, the total received was really 2,009 more than the total paid out. About a quarter was subscribed privately by the missionaries, but nothing at all by the Society. As converts increase in number and in liberality, as we hope they will, the help given by the missionaries will become relatively smaller and smaller. I should add that, as there is a reserve fund, there is no absolute debt.

"Our chief anxieties have arisen from the hostility of the heathen. Some of the slaves and retainers of the principal chief in the district became interested in the Gospel, and were ordered to cease coming to the preaching. Two women persisted in their adherence to the Gospel, and were badly used in consequence. Finally, one was sold to a distant place and the other threatened with the same fate. Both escaped and are now under the protection of the Government at Tumba. Though it is known that this chief has been guilty of many crimes, he has not been punished and his insolence against the law has increased. He told us himself that he was a heathen and that all his people must remain heathen or he would sell them to the French side.

"We warn the people that if they become believers they must expect persecution, and when such cases arise we recommend patience and trust in God. Oppression and wrong are common in the country, apart altogether from Christianity. There are many good laws against crime in the State code, but there has not been much disposition to enforce them as far as this region is concerned.

"The attendance at school on the station has decreased, but this is more than compensated by the increased number receiving instruction at the voluntary out-stations. The numbers at the close of the year were 116 on the station and 281 at the out-stations.

"Sunday-school work has been carried on as usual to the benefit of both teachers and scholars at Wathen and at most of the out-stations. The Christian Endeavour meeting programme has been varied by 'The Pilgrim's Progress' being read and explained at many of the meetings. It is being translated by Mr. Lewis, of San Salvador, and printed in monthly parts in the Congo journal published there. Questions were being asked as to the meaning of the wonderful dream, and the Christian Endeavour evening seemed to be the most suitable in which to answer them. We have now gone through all the parts up to the current issue, so that once a month will be sufficient for the Pilgrim, and the other evenings left free for the young Endeavourers.

"The medical work carried on by Mr. Bell has been taken over by Mr. Stephens. His first operation was the amputation of an arm. It was well and skilfully done and the patient progresses favourably. During the year many sick ones have been cured, and many of these had their only opportunities of hearing the Gospel through their coming for treatment.

"Wathen Station. Statistics for 1898 :—Missionaries, 5; evangelists, 4; day school teachers, 16; stations and sub-stations, 13; increase—baptized, 54, received otherwise, 3; decrease by death, etc., 20; native church members at close of year, 149; day scholars—girls, 145; day scholars—boys, 252; Sabbath scholars—girls, 118; Sabbath scholars—boys, 212; Sabbath-school teachers, 30."

The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Stephens and Miss Brindal has been a great joy to the workers at this station.

Miss Brindal, who is specially devoting herself to work amongst the women and girls, writes :—

"I am indeed most thankful to be here, and am perfectly happy in my new work, which I was able to take up the week following my arrival. The warm reception I met with makes me feel quite at home, and I look forward with intense joy to my work for the King of kings."

THE UPPER CONGO RIVER.

STANLEY POOL STATION.

The Rev. S. C. Gordon, who during the past year has been in sole charge of this station, reports :—

"Owing to the advent of the Congo Railway quite a transformation has taken place in this district during the past year. Immediately after the inauguration, in July last, steps had to be taken to meet the change from road to rail transport. A new store had to be put up, and as the railway cut through the lower half of our premises, a small siding, leading from the main line to within 20 feet of our new store, had to be laid.

"We have now all our goods delivered on the spot, and all our missionaries arriving and departing—if application is made beforehand—are taken up, and put down within 500 yards of our home.

"We have been able to carry on our regular school work, Sabbath and week-day services, industrial work, and visiting in the native towns.

"Then we have, too, our weekly class for the study of the Epistles, and our Christian lads highly appreciate this privilege.

"I have not been able to pay any itinerating visits to the inland towns during the year, but the members of the Bible-class have kept up their visitation to the towns inland during the dry season, and during the rainy months they go two and two on Sabbath mornings to the near towns, where they conduct services.

"My wife has had charge of the school work for the greater part of the year. The children have made considerable progress in the three R's, and several of them profess a change of heart. Nearly all the scholars work during the cold season in brickmaking, and during the rainy months in gardening and building in wood and brick. Our new store, 50 feet by 20 feet, with brick foundation, and paved throughout, has been built entirely by them, and we have been able to considerably improve our station frontage. I have also received for the sale of bricks made by natives at this station 2,100 francs during the past year.

"Our Sunday-school is still very encouraging. Four of our Christian lads act as teachers, and about forty scholars have been in regular attendance.

"In looking back on the work of the past year we cannot but be thankful. We have had great changes here, but we are also on the eve of greater changes in this benighted land. The mighty power of God is working upon the people, and they are dissatisfied with their heathen customs. Now that their young men are anxious to learn to read, and those of them who are Christians are taking up the work of teaching and preaching, with God's blessing resting on them, the darkness of sin and superstition and error must give way before the light of His truth."

The return to Stanley Pool of Mr. and Mrs. Roger has been a great joy to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon. It is most probable that, in view of the urgent need for the return home of Mr. and Mrs. Stapleton, in consequence of the failing health of the former, and the call for an experienced brother to take his place at Yakusu for a few months, Mr. and Mrs. Roger will go forward to Yakusu, and remain there until the return of Mr. Beedham.

BOLOBO STATION.

The Rev. A. E. Scrivener, reporting upon the various departments of work at this station, writes :—

"Eighteen hundred and ninety-eight will be ever memorable to me on account of the great sorrow that befell me, in the earlier part of it. But with regard to the work, steady progress has been made in nearly all departments.

Building has gone on apace, and permanent brick buildings substituted for the temporary bamboo erections of a former day. Sunday and Day-schools have been well maintained, although valuable helpers were lost in the return of Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Howell to England in the middle of the year. Our daily evening Gospel service has borne good fruit and has been well attended, as also the Sunday morning services, Bible-classes &c.

"Our little Church has been sadly diminished in numbers by death, no less than four of our most promising young men having been taken away. One expulsion for a serious lapse also. These five losses have only been barely covered by the addition of seven new members (five of these were baptized the first Sunday in this year), so we have no great increase to report. There should be mention made of a number of promising converts who are still under instruction, and whom we hope will be baptized at an early date.

"We are arranging to begin work in the outlying districts. Many visits have been made, and soon the Church will send one of their number (a young married man) to a district some two hours' steaming up river called Bodzondongo. Another young man is away among the Batende prospecting for a possible site for sub-station and also to learn the real whereabouts of the people.

"Three bands of young men regularly every Sunday preach in the long stretch of towns on either side of the station, but without much encouragement. Still, there is certainly not the opposition there was, and in many places they receive a very good hearing.

"Should any of our friends take advantage of the facilities offered by the railway and pay us a visit, I think there would be much to interest them. Our colony especially would attract their attention. There are now some thirty of our senior 'boys' (men with beards some of them) who have obtained from the State little plots of ground, and have built for themselves very comfortable dwellings of the 'wattle and daub' type—a very great advance on the native hut. We hope great things for this Christian community, situated, as it is, immediately adjoining our large native population."

The Rev. J. A. Clark writes :—

"The past year has been a very sad one in some respects. Not only did our brother Mr. Scrivener lose his beloved wife, but about the same time of the year (in the months of March and April) some three or four of our most promising Christian young men were taken away. I may mention Lokongi, a very earnest young fellow, and a good bricklayer, who died of pneumonia; Lobungibwengo, employed in the printing office, and carried off with his young wife by the terrible sleeping sickness; and Bayinelenge, who will be remembered by many friends at home as 'Ben,' as he was with me in England in 1891-92. Happily others are coming forward to be 'baptized for the dead.'

"Let me now tell you a little about the school. Our numbers, though liable to fluctuation from various causes, have kept up well. Some 200 names are on the roll, and the average attendance is from 140 to 150. Many of the children have made very satisfactory progress during the year. We are glad to welcome at school several young men who come from their homes every day to learn to read and write. We have suffered somewhat from a lack of teachers during the last few months, as the going to England of Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Clark left us short-handed, and although some of our more advanced boys and girls do very fairly as teachers, the children do not appreciate their efforts so much as those of the 'Mindele' or white people.

"Miss de Hailes is indefatigable in school as well as in medical work, and she has quite a large number of girls under her care. A very cheering feature of the work is the evident change that has taken place in several of the girls. There is no doubt that some of them have experienced a real conversion of heart. Doubtless Miss De Hailes will have told you something about her work among them, but I think the supporters of the Mission ought to know of her increasing labours for the good of the people here, bodily and spiritually."

Miss Lily M. de Hailes sends the following report of her special work amongst the women and the girls at this station :—

"This last year much of my usual work has been interrupted, there having been so much sickness. I have been able to do very little in the towns, as often, with the exception of the school in the afternoon, my whole time has been taken up looking after the sick folk. The frequent night work often obliged me to leave the men's night-school, and since Mrs. Clark went home, and I have the girls alone to look after, I have had to give it up, as I cannot leave the girls alone in the evening. We had sixteen deaths on the station last year.

"With regard to the work among the girls I think there is much cause for thankfulness. Of the seventeen who are now with me, seven are, I believe, trusting in the Saviour, and are showing by the change in their lives that they are really seeking to follow Him. One, the first, who came to the Saviour, has gone to be with Him. She was suddenly taken ill, and died in five days. Often, when the other children had gone to bed, she would come into my room and ask me to teach her more about Jesus. She was one of Mrs. Clark's girls, but with me while she was away. We had noticed for some time the change in her life, and since her death I have heard from many of the town children how she separated herself from many heathen customs, and they recognized her as being different to them.

"My Friday afternoon Bible-class for the women and girls is well attended; there are usually between fifty and sixty; one afternoon I had as many as seventy-eight. A few town women have shown some interest, and wish to hear the Gospel.

"Some town children have been stopped coming by their friends. One has been beaten several times for coming to school and the services, and also for refusing to dance in the town; another, who had stood a good deal of persecution, has gone back again.

"A good many have stopped, as I am not able to get amongst them as much as I did. One of the girls told me yesterday that if I could go down the towns every day, as I used to, a great many would come. Now that we have smallpox on the station, as well as a good deal of other sickness, visiting seems impossible. The girls who do come regularly to school, and the Saturday sewing-class, seem really wanting to learn.

"I have a little girl with me now of about four years of age. A few months ago her mother died, and the aunt with whom she was left died suddenly a few weeks after. The old father, who has since died, asked for me to take the little one. Another girl, who was a slave of his, has been with me for some time, and is so glad to have the child here. Four hundred rods had to be paid for the child, because some people, to whom the aunt had been for medicine, refused to give her up until the debt was paid. Mr. Clark very kindly went into the town and settled the palaver for me.

"I am looking forward to Mrs. Clark's return; I miss her so much.

"I am very thankful to say that, though often very tired, I have not had a day's illness."

THE BOLOBO HARBOUR FOR THE MISSION STEAMERS, THE "PEACE" AND "GOODWILL."

The past year has been a very heavy one for the brethren in charge of the Congo Mission steamers, and Mr. Grenfell and Mr. Howell especially have been incessantly engaged in work, involving great anxiety and exposure.

New engines for the s.s. Peace have been already sent to the Congo, the old ones being quite worn out and past repair, and a complete set of new boiler tubes are being made by the builders of the Goodwill, Messrs. Thorneycroft & Co., of Chiswick, the present ones being almost useless in consequence of years of hard wear and tear.

The Rev. George Grenfell, referring to the work of the steamers, writes :—

"In addition to the transport service rendered by the steamers Peace and Goodwill between Stanley Pool and Sargent Station, for the supplying of the wants of the brethren and the requirements for the carrying on of the work, the Peace, in the early part of the year, made a run as far as 4° 30' north latitude on the Mobangi, affording Messrs. Stapleton and Field an opportunity for prospecting in a district which, for a considerable time, had been closed to us on account of the troubles between the State and the natives. Later in the year, in addition to the run to Sargent Station to bring Mr. Dodds away on account of sickness, the Peace has made some four or five special trips in the Bobangi-speaking district, within a few hours of Bolobo, that our neighbours may become better acquainted with us and with the message we have come to bring them. The Goodwill, besides doing her share of load-carrying, has done most of our passenger service, and, together with the Peace, has earned some £350 by carrying freight—a sum we might have greatly increased if we had been prepared to make special runs with cargo for outsiders."

It is very difficult to convey any adequate idea of the incessant labours of Mr. Grenfell ; beloved and trusted by all his colleagues as he is, the friend of all, and the adviser of all, he unreservedly devotes his remarkable abilities to the advancement of the great enterprise to which he has consecrated his life—the salvation and uplifting of the sons of Africa.

Mr. Howell, referring to his work, writes :—

"I can outline my doings in a few words :—A few thousands of miles on the steamers, a few thousands of bricks made and laid, a few words uttered in the Name of Christ—and the year is gone. And yet, how much further could be said to fill in this scant outline ?

"Difficulties, trying to meet. Sometimes despairings, entering deeply into the soul. Hopes, never realised ; ideals, never reached.

"And yet, after all, there are songs to be sung. He hath put a new song into my mouth, and I am glad. Some sheaves have been garnered, and others are being brought to the Saviour ; so we are all greatly encouraged."

LUKOLELA STATION.

After a season of furlough in England, during which the Bobangi Dictionary and Grammar has been seen through the Press, the Rev. John and Mrs. Whitehead are now on their return voyage to Africa, and on reaching the Congo they will resume work at Lukolela.

During their absence the work at this station has been carried on by the native evangelist, Lusala Kavundi, the Rev. A. E. Scrivener, of Bolobo, taking a general oversight. He reports, after a recent visit :—

“While Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead have been away on furlough, this station has been in charge of our valued assistant, Lusala, my old personal boy. Mr. Clark and I have made several visits, and other white men, in passing up and down, have rendered assistance and given advice. I went in a new steel boat, my crew being made up nearly entirely of schoolboys.

“We were accorded a very hearty welcome at Lukolela, all the more so because Lusala, who had been staying with me for a little change, was with me. I found everything in connection with station, school, services, &c., in a very satisfactory state, and was soon besieged by men and women anxious for instruction in spiritual things. There seemed to be a widespread hunger for the Gospel. Every service was well attended, and I was kept busy the two weeks I stayed there, seeing candidates for baptism, and encouraging and instructing others who were beginning to seek after heavenly things. There were some eight or nine who were anxious for baptism; of these I recommended four to the Church, and these were baptized. The others will be received after a little longer time of probation. Of the four, three were the direct result of the preaching of one of our lads named Bikango. For a long while he very perseveringly visited some towns on the French side, and was instrumental in stirring up quite a considerable interest in the Gospel. The people started a service amongst themselves. Most prominent were a young man and his wife, Embuma and Maulu. Embuma was one of Mr. Darby's helpers in his language work years ago, and his subsequent career has been distinguished for anything but honesty. His wife, Maulu, gained some repute as a sort of fetish dancer. But these are now numbered amongst the trophies of our Saviour's power to save and regenerate. The French officials, fearing that our influence would mean the emigration of the people to our side of the river, in the territory of the Free State, forbade the boy visiting the towns; and on one occasion he was rather badly used by a white man, who, we suppose, was more or less intoxicated.

“Mr. Whitehead will find on his return that the work at Lukolela has by no means suffered during his absence. The time of weakness has been God's time for blessing. Many besides ourselves will be glad to know this.”

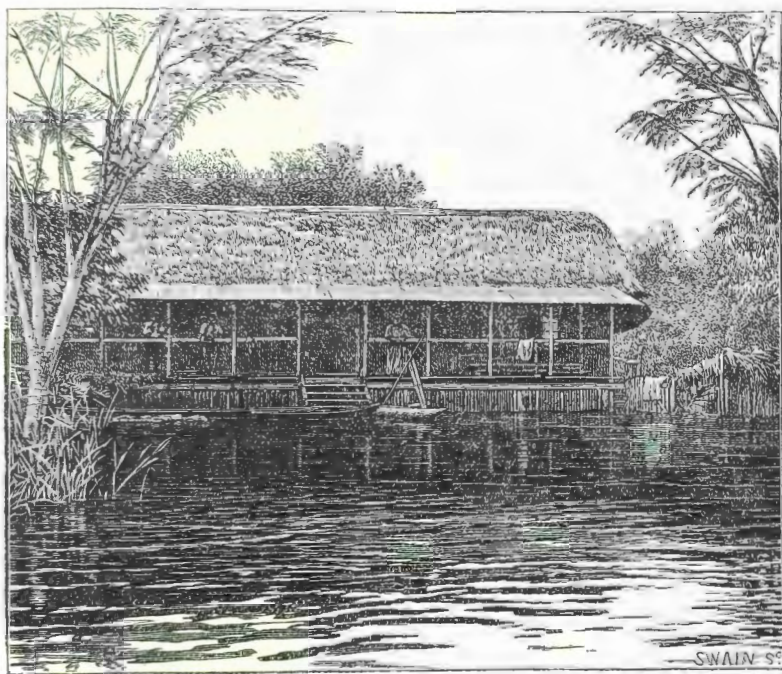

MONSEMBI STATION.

The Rev. J. H. Weeks reports :—

“Our Sunday services continue well attended, the chapel being often crowded. Sometimes we are very hopeful that the people will come out for Christ en masse; at other times our hopes are dashed, and our faith falters. For generations innumerable these people have lived in ignorance and darkness, in selfishness and sin. The knowledge of God's unselfish love they cannot altogether comprehend, for selfishness is one of their predominant passions; the Light of the World is a misty sheen to them, for their eyes are blurred by sin, and the Holy Spirit is needed here, as everywhere else, to focus the sight of the sinner before he can have a true definition of Christ imprinted on his soul; the after-development of the image of Jesus in the daily life, will, I feel sure, be as bright, as clear, and as beautiful as in other lands.

"The native idea of God is very nebulous. To them, apparently, the Godhead consists of four persons—all seemingly equal, and each supreme in his own peculiar department. Their names and functions are as follows:—1. 'Libanza,' the creator of all things; 2. 'Nzakomba,' the disposer of the hearts and thoughts of man—this deity is responsible for the good and bad thoughts in man, and also for his morality, or lack of it; 3. 'Njambe,' the destroyer.—death, sickness, and evil of all kinds emanate from this deity; 4. 'Kumba.'—crooked sticks, deformed and semi-sane people, and all manner of malformations in nature are placed to the credit of this deity.

"This series of deities, together with a system of witchcraft and fetichism, comprise the religious belief of these people. It is devoid of love and benevolence, and there is not a gracious or elevating idea to be found anywhere in the whole body of belief. It is truly a dry and sandy desert where no water is, or shade either, to rest and refresh the weary travellers.

"The natives frequently enter life to the beat of the witch-doctor's drum, and as often pass away to its monotonous thrum, thrum.

"To overthrow such a system as I have outlined above, and implant a holier, more elevating, and saving one in its place, is our mission here—a hopeless task if undertaken in our own strength and name, but a triumphant one if launched upon in the Name of Him who can change the stormy, restless passions of men's hearts as easily as He calmed the Galilean Sea.

"We are grateful for many signs that the old state of unquestioning faith in witch-doctors and fetishes is gradually passing away, and the leaven of the Gospel is surely leavening the whole.

"There are several large towns behind, which have been closed to us. In the early years we made some unsuccessful attempts to get to them. On one or two occasions guides were arranged, but when we called them the next day they had disappeared, as in the meantime they had received a warning not to take us to the hinterland. There were several cogent reasons for the difficulties put in our way. The hinterland folk did not want us. The tales that had reached them of the white man were not to his credit, and they had not learned to distinguish between them. They thought if one white man entered others would soon follow. The people on the river were not anxious for us to make the journey, for they wished to remain the medium for trade goods passing into the interior, and so continue their middle profits. They also wished to preserve the whereabouts of the interior towns a secret, so that in the event of the Congo State fighting them they would have a place to which to run and hide.

"About four months ago we were able to open very close and friendly relations with a large forest town called Manjete. The chief came to visit us, and he assured us of a very hearty welcome to his town. Afterwards, at our request, seven boys were given to us for school, and we have found the majority of them bright, intelligent lads.

"The time seemed ripe for the long desired visit, and Mr. Jeffery went with a few men and boys to spend a Sunday in Manjete. The road was through dense forest the whole of the way (about four hours' walk), very difficult because of the innumerable roots crossing the paths, and the low hanging branches above, making travelling a series of jumps with bowed head and bent back. The reception accorded to my colleague compensated fully for the troubles of the way. It was both hearty and general. Two services were conducted on the Sunday, at which Buntungu (a member of our little church here) gave very earnest and lengthy addresses that compelled attention and made a great impression.

"We are hopeful that this will be a step towards the opening of many other towns in the interior."

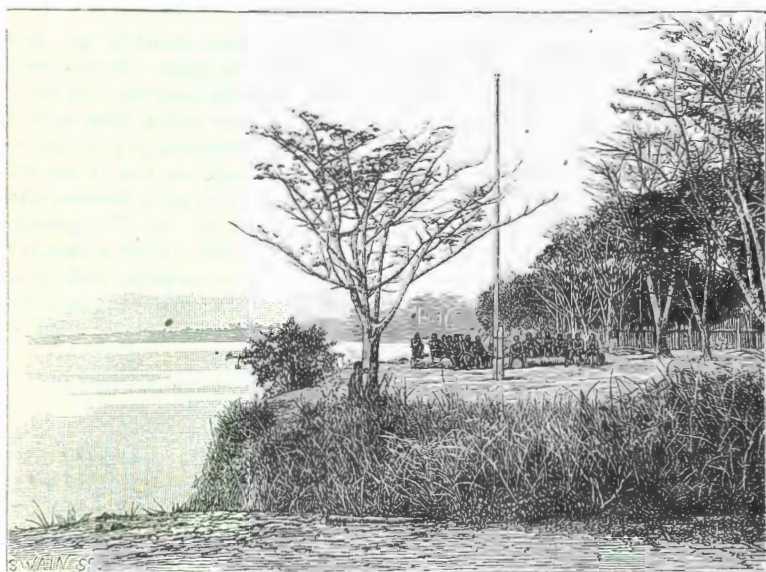

The Rev. H. T. Stonelake, recently returned to Monsempi after furlough at home, writes :—

"The School work on the station has gone on with the usual results. Our scholars are good, bad, and indifferent, and their progress varies accordingly. Our two out-schools are not all we could wish, but it is something to be grateful for that they exist at all, and that they give good promise of increasing in popularity and usefulness, so soon as we can train our native teaching staff to greater efficiency.

"We rejoice very much over the great improvement in the regular attendance at our services; this improvement is specially evident to me after my absence. At the Sunday morning services our school chapel is well filled, and the people show a much better spirit of hearing than they used to do. Besides the evening service we hold a short service before morning school on three mornings in the week, which those wishing for medicine attend.

"From Sunday to Sunday, and as we have opportunity, we visit the neighbouring towns in our boat, and by going off on alternate Sundays, one down stream and the other up, Mr. Weeks and I are endeavouring to leaven the district in which we live with the knowledge of God and His Son Jesus Christ.

VIEW DOWN-RIVER, MONSEMBI STATION, CONGO.—(From a Photograph.)

"We labour here in increasing hope in the daily round—bartering, doctoring, building, gardening, language learning, with translating and compiling of books for our more eager scholars.

"We are humbly grateful to our gracious God for very good health, and with it the ability to carry on our work with little interruption. The wet season has also passed without a flood, and we earnestly hope that we shall be spared that trouble, at least for some years to come."

BOPOTO STATION.

The Rev. John Jeffery, who has been residing for some little time at Bopoto, in consequence of a very obstinate attack of fever preventing his going on to Yakusu, for which station he is designated, has sent the following very graphic sketch of Bopoto Station and work :—

"THE STATION.

"Bopoto, or Upoto, occupies a site half way up the rather steep slope of a hill 150 feet above the level of the river. From the river it looks exceedingly pretty, with its three houses—two wooden and one brick—peeping out from among the trees; whilst nearer the river the roof of the school chapel is just visible. From the station there is a fine outlook across to islands at distances of one, one and a half, and three miles; and down river a clear stretch, uninterrupted by islands, for about two miles or more. Climb to the top of the hill, and look where you will to right or left, and you have before you, as far as eye can reach, a fine panorama of well-wooded islands and channels of varying widths. Near the top of the hill, under a palm tree, is our little piece of sacred ground; for here rests one of Bopoto's pioneers—Mr. Oram. It is a quiet spot, away from the noises of village or station, shaded by the swaying palm fronds, and surrounded by tall whispering grasses. He was a faithful missionary, and has left behind a splendid record of noble work well done.

"THE DAILY ROUND.

"Our day begins at six a.m., when the drum is beaten to call the workmen together. They gather in the school for prayers, and then are set about their various tasks. By this time breakfast is ready. From breakfast to dinner the time is fully occupied in looking after workmen, dispensing medicine, and teaching in school. There are 220 names on the books, with an average attendance of about 120. From noon to two p.m. it is wise to remain indoors. This is the hottest part of day, and native and European spend most of the time resting, or doing some light task. From now until six p.m., gardening, building, language, work, &c., &c., fill the hours. The various evenings are taken up with prayer meeting, night schools, and service, with one or two evenings for social relaxation. On Sundays there are service, Sunday-school, and visits to other towns. The services are well attended, and the chapel, which seats 200 or 250, is generally full.

"This description with a few modifications would fit almost all of our stations. This shows the missionary's life to be a busy one, and the letters clamoured for by interested home friends and loved ones have to be written at odd moments, and often in hours snatched from sleep. Remembering these things will our friends pardon our delinquencies?

"THE PEOPLE.

"Within easy reach of the station there are three distinct tribes. The first lives on the shore, the second half way up the hill in line with the Mission premises, and the third on the top of the hill; all running parallel to the river for a considerable distance. The language general on the station is that spoken by the riverine people, and is understood by a great number from the other tribes.

"As a personal adornment, they all cut their faces in the most horrible manner, though the riverine peoples are decidedly the worst. They keep cutting until the flesh stands out in lumps the size of a pea; and on most faces it would be difficult to find the space of a pin point between two marks on forehead, cheeks, nose, or lips. The nose and ears are also bored, and nails, or long pieces of wood or bone, are pushed through the holes. Until one becomes accustomed to the face it is not at all pleasant to look upon. The men alone wear clothes of any kind.

"Like all African people they are exceedingly superstitious. We are often awakened in the night by the sound of drums and the wailing of men and women. Perhaps one has dreamt of a dead member of the family, and in fear that the spirit is angry at not being sufficiently mourned for and so soon forgotten, the dreamer jumps up and calls the people together, and in a few minutes the peculiar wailing of the funeral chant fills the air.

"The charm and the fetich are universal. The people are noisy too, and what with their wrestling matches, sugar cane wine carousals, and danoings, we are sometimes kept awake far into the night.

"They are amiable, and in general kind-hearted. One often sees here the ideal family life, and love, and gratitude. A people with these qualities are not by any means past redemption. But the work is difficult; for while they have the intelligence of new-born babes, they have more than fully developed the worst passions of men. Were we not able to see signs of the higher in the lower we should turn away with contempt, loathing, and despair.

"We thank God for signs of grace. Many are walking in the light, and are an honour to the cause of Christ. Mr. Forfeitt hopes to baptize three young men at once, and there are others inquiring of these things. I would like you to be present at the baptism. The slope for some distance will be crowded with spectators, while the young fellows go down into the water and publicly confess Jesus as their Lord. Such a sight will more than repay one for all the sickness and suffering and weariness attendant on our life here—a foretaste of our joy hereafter when we shall stand before our God and say, 'Father, these are they whom Thou hast given me.'

"The people all at the back of us are cannibals. Our missionaries have not yet been able to work among them. Only as far back as June of last year a big cannibal feast was held four hours' walk from the station, when, it is reported, there were two hundred victims.

"The time is ripe for work to be started in these back towns, but where are the men? Where are the means to send them? God grant the churches may respond nobly to the efforts now being made at home.

"Our river stations are rarely fully manned; how, then, can we go forward as we would?

"The day has not yet come for the hands to be folded. The work is only just begun. That already accomplished in this dark land is only as a small white speck on a large black globe."

The Rev. W. L. Forfeitt, who, with Mrs. Forfeitt, returned to Bopoto during the past year after furlough in England, writes:—

"Our welcome back to our Congo home will never be forgotten by us. If it were possible to describe it I would make the attempt, but that is quite out of the question. Such a sight must be witnessed to be understood, and during the past few months the reality of the greeting has been amply proved by the continuance of goodwill on all sides.

"We naturally see some changes have taken place since our home-going, but these, I think, are mostly for good. Very grateful do we feel to God for sustained and increased interest amongst our young people in all that makes for godliness. Some of them are growing into young men 'whose hearts the Lord hath touched,' and who, having now higher ideals of manhood, are endeavouring to fit themselves to take up useful occupations. This has led to the starting, in a small way, of an industrial band—carpentering and brick-making being the two branches in favour just now. The fact, I fancy, that Jesus worked at the carpenter's bench lends an additional charm to that branch of work!

"We have been greatly pleased at the advance some of the boys have made in school work during our absence, and all will remember Mr. Millman's short stay here and his work in the school with great pleasure. For one or two reasons our numbers in the school at one time were below the usual average, but the attendance of late has exceeded all former experience. Our new school building has begun to be too small for the accommodation of the boys, without reckoning in some sixty girls that have to be accommodated in our house and on the verandah. We have had as many as 125 boys on one day, but our daily average would be about ninety, and that of the girls fifty. The girls, you may imagine, are very delighted to have Mrs. Forfeitt back again, and their regular attendance proves how eager they are to try and make up for lost time.

"One great change that we notice is the establishment of military camps on either side of us. There is one large State camp below us with twelve Belgian officials and hundreds of native soldiers; and a little way above us a new camp has been formed, with six or seven white officers for the training of 'reserves.' With all these officials we are on good terms, and often have opportunities of putting in a word on behalf of the large populations around us. We suffer most—or rather, the natives do—from the soldiers themselves, who seem to delight in plunder, which, on the top of the official taxation, is sometimes more than the people can bear with equanimity. But talking with one of our senior boys one day, I was glad to hear one remark he made. He was deploring the troubles of State rule and treatment from soldiers, so I asked him if he would like to return to the old condition of things before the State came in force to this district. He emphatically said, 'No,' and I asked him, 'Why?' He replied: 'We hardly dared sleep then, or go a mile from home, and cannibalism was the order of the day; but now things have changed.' We ourselves, too, feel much less than formerly the sense of insecurity, as the petty wars amongst the natives are much less frequent, and of course the presence of a superior force has a very great restraining influence on all crime, cruelty, and superstition. Native supplies of food are naturally much more difficult to obtain, owing to the increase in the European staff, and also to the constant taxation in food-stuffs for the victualling of the native troops. But in time we trust that this will tend to increase production, and teach the natives the 'dignity of labour'; unless, unfortunately, by undue taxation, the people should be driven from around us on account of the proximity of the camps—by no means an unknown event out here.

"We had proposed to baptize three of our lads before the New Year set in, but have deemed it desirable to wait a month that all the villagers who are just now away at their fishing camps on the islands may be back again to witness the ceremony. These lads have borne ample testimony during the past eighteen months to justify this step, and their addition to our small church here will, we anticipate, prove a great blessing to us all. Several others are desirous to be baptized, and we are very hopeful of these, but are waiting for further testimony.

"We have all heard with much rejoicing of the report Dr. Biss has given of Mrs. Kirkland, and are eagerly awaiting their return. Mr. Millman, as you know, is at Yakusu, and it seems likely that he will now make his home there, since we so soon anticipate the return of Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland.

"Mr. Jeffery, I am glad to say, is now decidedly better, and his long though not acute, fever is passing away. He is soon going on to Yakusu Station.

"Sunday services and school, Monday night prayer-meeting, and Thursday evening service, &c., are indications that the work grows around us, and the regular visitation of the neighbouring villages by our Christian lads fill us with great hopefulness. Comparing our position now and eight years ago, we can truly say—'The Lord hath done great things for us whereof we are glad.'"

YAKUSU OR SARGENT STATION.

The Rev. Walter H. Stapleton, who, during the absence of Mr. Beedham on furlough in England, has had the main burden of the work at this our most recently established station, writes :—

“ The history of Yakusu station, from its founding to the end of 1897, was such an unfortunate one that it is with heartfelt gratitude I chronicle the dawn of a brighter day. Previous reports have told of disappointing beginnings, of sickness, change of workers, and death ; I can now report a whole year of steady happy successful work.

“ In accordance with the wish of the Committee I spent as much time as possible in the early months of the year making excursions into the neighbourhood, gleaning information as to the distribution of the peoples, the relative worth of the languages spoken in the district, &c. ; and I was considerably gratified to be able to report that fuller information shows that the founders of the station were abundantly justified in their choice of a centre, and no less so that this view was adopted by the Committee.

“ A letter was inserted in the HERALD giving an account of a trip amongst the Turumbu to the north and west of the station ; other trips have been taken amongst the Bakumu and the Wagenya peoples, and one trip up the Lindi river to the north-east, when, in a day and a half's canoeing, I saw no less than 20,000 people, easily accessible from the river bank, not to speak of other towns lying back, whose names were gathered, but which have not yet been seen. Mr. Grenfell took this trip with me again in June last. I had hoped ere this to visit the Bakumu and Tofoke towns on the south bank of the Congo, but have been too busy to do so. A Dutch trader who has but lately come into the district has done so, and reports quite a number of very large towns. Station work has very largely occupied our time during the year, and will of necessity do so until our staff is strengthened ; that work falls under five heads.

“ School Work.—In the month of January, Mrs. Stapleton called the girls in to commence a school with them. About twenty responded. They appeared to be much interested, and came in for the next few days some three or four hours before school-time, and were exceedingly enthusiastic. It was but fictitious fervour, however, for their mothers arrived before the end of the first week to know what wages the girls would receive. Finding that nothing would be paid, they forbade the girls to come. Unfortunately, at this time we were troubled by thieving palavers, and felt it to be our duty to remonstrate pretty strongly with the people. They also began making difficulties with the Bangala workmen I had brought up with me, refusing to sell them food, &c. But, as the Yakusu people themselves refused to work for us, I was compelled to see that the Bangala men were fairly treated. They retaliated by threatening not to come near the place unless I left and took away the Bangala ; and also passed a law that the father of any girl coming to school would be heavily fined. However, consistent firmness, kindness, and patience won in the end. Though the story of the first three months' attempt to found a girls' school at Yakusu would be an exceedingly interesting one ; and a happier lot of scholars than are these girls now would be difficult to find. About thirty are in attendance.

“ In January, also, I commenced school with the boys. The boys are not nearly so strictly under their parents' control as are the girls, so one had but to gain their interest to make school with them a success. About the beginning of April I handed them over to Mr. Beedham, other work fully occupying my time. Mr. Beedham left for England early in May. Mrs. Stapleton then took over the boys; Miss Grenfell kindly offering to stay to teach the girls. Since the middle of October Mr. Millman has taught part of the boys, and will take them all under his care with the new year; my wife with Miss Grenfell having charge of the girls. Boys in attendance, about forty. Swahili is the language taught.

"Station Clearing, &c.—When I first saw Yakusu Station, in November, 1897, my heart sank within me. A small clearing had been made in the bush, just enough to show a site dotted here, there, and everywhere with enormous anthills, and the rest of our ground was covered with a dense thicket of undergrowth, and no workmen were to be obtained in the neighbourhood. To get the site cleared and a station built, looked like an interminable task. We no longer despair. We have seven lads from Yakusu now working regularly on the station. Several of the schoolboys come in every day after dinner, and some forty women two afternoons a week, each getting a cupful of rice for the half-day's work. The site is not cleared yet, but a beginning has been made. Just in front of our dwelling is an anthill sixty-six yards in circumference, on the up river side is another sixteen feet high, with a diameter of thirty yards; there are two smaller ones on the other side. With a score of English navvies we could laugh at them. We shall get them down some day, even with Congo natives. Since Mr. Millman has been here, the workmen, who before were engaged their whole time getting in timber for my house, have been able to spend some time at this work. We have now a fine wide road running almost the whole length along the station front. He has begun a flower garden in front of the new house in course of erection, a kitchen garden at the back. We are cutting down the 'bush' as quickly as we can, and making wide-open paths, believing that this will add materially to the healthiness of the station.

"Buildings.—I have given much time during the year to the building of my dwelling house. The framework is up of a wooden house fifty feet long by forty-two feet wide (inclusive of verandahs), built on wooden piles five feet above the ground. The planks for the walls and ceiling are out, and I am hoping to have all the timber cut by July next. We have some magnificent timber on the opposite side of the river, one tree has yielded 400 planks nine inches wide and ten feet long. When finished this should be one of the best wooden houses yet built on the Congo. During the time Mr. Field was here he burned a few bricks just to try the anthill clay, they were quite a success, and we have plenty of clay on our ground to build school, stores, &c.; and it is probable some dwelling houses may be built of brick. We have put up a temporary house of two rooms (this being necessary) with walls of bamboo, and a wooden floor raised four feet from the ground. As our own dwelling house contains but two rooms, one of which has to serve for a common dining room, work-room, and nursery, I have put up a small wooden room near the new dwelling house to do the language work in; this will serve for a store later on. Mr. Millman has commenced a row of wattle and daub houses for the workmen.

"Services.—We have kept up the services during the year. The numbers in attendance have varied considerably, due mainly to the fact that we are compelled to meet in the open air. We badly need a good schoolhouse, which would serve also for the services.

"Language Work.—I have compiled, and had printed at Bolobo, a Swahili primer for use in the school. Lads have been induced to come and stay on the station for longer or shorter periods belonging to the Turumbu, Tofoke, Wagenya, and Wamanga tribes, and I have collected grammar notes and vocabularies of their languages; and also of the Lokele language. One other language, that of the Bakumu, is as yet untouched, as it has been impossible to get a lad belonging to this tribe. This branch of the work has not progressed as I had hoped, chiefly because I have been suffering since May last with malarial swellings of the joints and large muscles, and on a good number of days have been able only to do the work essential to the proper superintendence of the house-building. One cannot expect to escape altogether the ill effects of the Congo climate, and as I have now finished five and a half years this term I must take warning, I suppose, that furlough cannot be postponed indefinitely, though I shall be extremely sorry when the time comes to turn my back on Yakusu. I hope at least to be able to finish my house, and the task I have set myself relative to the languages of the district before leaving for home. My wife has enjoyed splendid health here, this being the best year of her Congo life. Miss Grenfell has done exceedingly well, and Mr. Millman is enjoying excellent health. One great point in favour of Yakusu and the district as a sphere of missionary labour is the exceedingly low rate of mortality as compared with the districts nearer Stanley Pool and the Lower Congo.

"The value of Yakusu as a centre may be judged from the fact that within the radius of half a day's canoeing or walking we can visit no fewer than six tribes—the Lokele, the Turumbu, the Bakumu, the Wagenya, the Wamanga, and the Tofoke. Yakusu itself is a town belonging to the Lokele tribe. The languages of the Turumbu and the Tofoke are closely allied to the Lokele language, and this latter is very well understood by them. The languages of Bakumu and the Wagenya are considerably different, whilst that of the Wamanga is totally unlike any of them—indeed to my great surprise, Wamanga is not Bantu at all, but is in all likelihood much akin to the Galla of the East Coast. These six languages are new to philologists. All these people, however, know some Lokele, and Swahili is increasingly spoken, and bids fair to become the common language of intercourse.

"Taking these six tribes, our parish will extend to Stanley Falls on the east, to the Lomami River on the west, some thirty miles up the Lindi to the north, and two days' journey inland on the south bank of the river. We may hope to extend our influence even further than this. During the past year we have had visitors from every town between this station and Basoko, a hundred miles below (we have five workmen from Pasoko), from a day's canoeing up the Lomami River, from Yambuya on the Aruwhimi River, Arabs with their followers from 150 miles up the Lindi River, from Nyangwe in the Manyuema country (I have a boy from that district), from Kambambarre, just west of Lake Tanganyika (another lad from that district has been left with us for six months). We have also two men working for us, old soldiers of the State, whose home lies between the Itimbiri and the Welle, just south of the Niam-Niam country.

"Living here in the heart of the Dark Continent, the immense area yet untouched by evangelistic effort comes home to one with appalling force. Our nearest neighbours to the west are our brethren of Upoto, some 200 miles away. Cairo is 1,800 miles to the north, and no Protestant missionary proclaims God's message in this tremendous expanse of country; to the east the work of the C.M.S. stops 380 miles short of Stanley Falls. To the south-east the nearest missionary is the L.M.S. worker on Tanganyika, whilst due south Arnot's nearest mission station is 700 miles away.

"We are watching with anxious solicitude the result of efforts to raise the income of the Society, in the fervent hope that success may attend your efforts, so that Yakusu may be made the base of an extension into the fine country stretching out to Lake Albert, through which the Aruwhimi and Lindi Rivers flow. May ours be the joy of entering and claiming this region of Darkest Africa for our King."

THE BAHAMAS MISSION.

NASSAU AND OUT ISLANDS.

The churches in the Bahamas Group are now quite independent of pecuniary help from the Society, and as will be seen from the following encouraging report from the Rev. C. A. Dann, of Nassau, are steadily growing in strength and aggressive activity, abundantly justifying the action of the Committee in casting them upon their own local resources for support :—

"We have much to give us encouragement when we review the twelve months that now stand behind us. The advent of the Rev. A. Cooke, of the Midland College, and Mrs. Cooke, has given me indescribable joy, and will mean, I firmly believe, gladness and prosperity to the churches in our Southern District, particularly to the Central Church at Inagua. The relief their coming will be to my over-burdened shoulders will be untold. This timely strengthening of our hands is largely due to the devoted efforts of my beloved friend and former co-worker, Rev. L. C. Parkinson, B.A., backed up energetically by Dr. T. Witton Davies, and the church at George Street, Nottingham. We feel deeply grateful for what these friends have done.

"The Zion Church in Nassau still steadily makes headway. The congregations keep up finely. Our funds are still improving, and we are more than ever convinced of our ability to support ourselves without the Committee's further help. Our net increase of membership is fourteen, our total being now 270. The Sunday-school is larger, and new classes have been created.

"On the whole, the Out Island churches move forward. Outside of Nassau, 160 have been baptized, and there is a net increase of eighty-two. The total membership of the whole Mission, including Nassau, is 3,650. The composite church at Drigg's Hill, Andros Island, has built a new chapel; the native Baptists and ourselves work in harmony there. On the same island, at Low Sound, the old lath-and-plaster building has been gradually and ingeniously replaced by a new stone edifice. This work was done by knocking away a panel at a time until all the wall was new and then the old roof was dismissed from service. The Rum Cay Chapel is to be opened when Mr. Cooke and I call there on the way to his recognition services at Inagua."

TURKS AND CAICOS ISLANDS, AND SAN DOMINGO.

For the past two years the churches in the Turks and Caicos Islands and in San Domingo have been self-supporting, notwithstanding great commercial depression and the almost total failure of the salt trade in the Turks and Caicos Islands, the Missionary Society having altogether withdrawn financial support, after having annually reduced the amount of their previous support over a term of four years.

The Rev. J. H. Pusey, the pastor of the Grand Turk Church, writes:—

"The year 1898 met the churches of these islands and of the Republic of San Domingo in their Union Assembly; we are doing our utmost to create in them self-reliance and self-support, but this is a work of years before us. The year under review has been one of exceptional hardships, aggravated by a rapid decline in the salt trade.

"This state of continued general depression makes our outlook in a place like these salt islands gloomy, and grave fears are entertained for the future of our union.

"But every division of spiritual work throughout the year cheers us. Christmas at Grand Turk was an inspiring season. At four o'clock a.m., after a spirited greeting service of carols by sixty young people of our 'Choral Union,' twelve others there and then were baptized on a profession of their faith in Him whose advent to the world they had just carolled. Fifty-eight in all have been baptized. While the storm of our need of help prompts the cry: 'Master, carest Thou not that we perish?' we have signs to believe 'the Lord of Hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our Refuge.'"

TRINIDAD.

In this island also the policy of throwing the churches upon their own local resources for maintenance and self-support has been adopted.

The Rev. R. E. and Mrs. Gammon have now returned to their work in Port of Spain, and the oversight of the native churches in the Southern District, after a season of much-needed change to England, during which time the Rev. Benjamin E. Horlick, M.A., of Mansfield College, Oxford, has superintended the work in Trinidad.

Mr. Gammon writes :—

"As I only returned to Port of Spain at the end of 1898, Mr. Horlick, who had been acting for me, will be better able to give an account of the work done; at the same time, I feel that I ought to add a few words to what he may say. First, I must thank the Committee for sending out so eminently suitable a substitute. Mr. Horlick has worked admirably, and he left the island beloved by all the members both in Port of Spain and in the Southern district; being young and full of energy he has not spared himself in seeking the furtherance of Christ's work in this colony.

"During the year ten candidates were baptized for Port of Spain, and two for Chaguanas; while he was here the Belmont Mission was taken over by the church, and a small mission hall built at a cost of something over £50. This work was before carried on by Mr. W. H. Gamble, at his own expense. Repairs to the church and manse have been effected at a cost of over 800 dollars, and about £12 spent in repairs to Chaguanas Mission Chapel. In conclusion, I believe Mr. Horlick will tell you that he had the hearty co-operations of deacons and members in his efforts to spread the Redeemer's Kingdom in Trinidad.

"Statistics (Port of Spain):—Missionary, 1; stations, 3; increase by baptism, 10; increase by transfer, 1; increase by restoration, 3; total, 14. Decrease by death, 5; exclusion or suspension, 10; dismissal, 3; total, 18. Sabbath-school—Girls, 62; boys, 54; total, 116. Teachers, 15. Belmont Sabbath-school—Scholars, 65; teachers, 6. Total number of members on roll, 163; net decrease, 4; marriages, 13. Chaguanas—Baptized 2; members, 14."

SOUTHERN DISTRICT CHURCHES.

Mr. Horlick, who returned to England upon the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Gammon at Port of Spain, writes :—

"Amongst the more encouraging features of the work in the South is the opening of a mission in San Fernando, in a part of a town well suited for such work. The services are well attended, and the Sunday-school especially is in a thriving condition. On the East Coast a church has been formed at Manzanilla, which for the present is regarded as a mission of Princes Town. During the year two new chapels have been erected—the one at 1st Company, which was removed from its altogether unsuitable site in San Fernando, now stands in a most commanding position and is being well used once more; the other at Morro (on the South Coast), erected by the few Baptists in the district, is a most substantial building of cedar-wood.

"At 5th Company, the new chapel is rapidly nearing completion, and is likely to be worthy of this, one of our largest churches.

"A very pressing need of the district is the establishment of day-schools, but these we have been unable to start from lack of funds and of suitable local men to act as managers. In one of the so-called 'Voluntary' schools an Anglican Church dignitary told the children (ninety per cent. nearly of whom are Baptist children) that they were 'not human beings, but monkeys only, as they had not been baptized'! Is it to be wondered at that our people wish their children taught in their own schools?

"I spent twenty-eight days in this district during 1898, and had seven baptismal services, when thirty-eight candidates were immersed and received into church fellowship."

JAMAICA.

CALABAR COLLEGE, KINGSTON.

President, the Rev. ARTHUR JAMES, B.A.; Tutors, Revs. S. BALFOUR, M.A., and LEONARD TUCKER, M.A.

"The crisis through which the island is passing could not but seriously affect all educational institutions.

"The Theological Department of the college, under the presidency of the Rev. Arthur James, B.A., however, well sustains its character for the efficiency of its teaching, aided by the classical and Normal School tutors. The number of students indeed during 1898 was only half what it was seven years ago. But the Christmas examinations passed off as satisfactorily as in any previous session. One young man, having completed his term of residence, has accepted the invitation of the Rev. J. E. Henderson, of Brown's Town, to become associated with him in ministerial labours among the large churches in the extensive parish of St. Ann, the president and tutor having spoken in the highest terms of his character, attainments, and abilities. Of the four ministerial students remaining in residence, two have been accepted for the session of 1899.

"The Normal School is the branch of the College to suffer most from the critical condition of the island. During the forty years of its existence, 230 young men have been admitted for training, the majority of whom completed their course of study to become masters of the elementary Government schools. Of these a large proportion are still engaged in the work of teaching.

"For twenty years the Government made annual grants in aid of the cost of board and residence. But in the scheme of 'Retrenchment,' which the financial state of the country rendered necessary, two of the voluntary colleges received notice from the Governor that these grants would no longer be continued. This decision threatened the very existence of our Normal School. The Committee of the College memorialised the Government to reconsider its purpose.

"The Christmas Government examinations of the Normal School students show that of thirteen who sat for them, 9 passed—3 in honours, 2 in the first division, 3 in the second, and 1 in the third.

"At the annual meeting at Montego Bay the utmost enthusiasm, in favour of the continuance and efficiency of the College, was evinced, especially on the part of the native ministers."

THE JAMAICA CHURCHES.

The forty-ninth report of the Jamaica Baptist Union commences with the following interesting and encouraging retrospect :—

"The Jamaica Baptist Union, as at present constituted, has now numbered its 'seven Sabbaths of years.' 'Seven times seven years' have sped their course since this Union was formed. Looking back, and comparing the present with the past, we cannot fail to be struck with the great changes that have taken place within this nearly half a century. Efforts to find a copy of the Tabular of Churches, presented at the first annual meeting of the Union, have been unsuccessful; but Tabulars of the Western Union, which was superseded by the Jamaica Baptist Union, and the Tabular of the Jamaica Baptist Union, presented at the end of the second year after its formation, show that there must have been about forty-four churches, with twenty-five pastors, and something like 18,000 members, brought into organic association with each other, under the name of the Jamaica Baptist Union, in 1849. The first annual meeting of the Union was held at Falmouth in February, 1850, under the presidency of the late Walter Dendy, who may be classed amongst Jamaica's greatest benefactors.

"At the present time the Union contains 177 churches, with sixty ministers, and nearly 34,000 members. But these figures by no means represent all the growth that has taken place in the Baptist body in Jamaica since 1849. There are several Baptist churches in the island, which are one with us in faith and practice, but which are not included in the Union, which is only a voluntary association of such churches and pastors as choose to join. At the time this Union was organised there were thirty day-schools, with nearly 2,500 children attending them, and forty Sunday-schools, with 7,336 scholars, connected with the churches of the Union; to-day there are about 24,000 scholars enrolled in both our Sunday and week-day schools. At the earlier date, Calabar College was in its infancy, and had but one department, under the direction of the sainted and scholarly Joshua Tinson; now it has a record of which it need not be ashamed, as it can speak of about 330 men who have been admitted into its classes to be trained as ministers, missionaries and masters of schools. In 1849, the Jamaica Baptist Missionary Society had 'a name to live,' as it had one home missionary, in the parish of St. Elizabeth, who enjoyed the almost unique privilege of collecting the funds to pay his own salary; to-day, the Society can point to nearly a score of self-supporting churches that were originated or fostered into maturity by its efforts; and in addition to having evangelising agencies still at work in different parts of Jamaica, its ramifications have gone out to other lands, reaching Haiti, Costa Rica, the Cayman Islands, United States of Columbia, British Honduras, and (at one time) Spanish Honduras and Cuba.

"In the retrospect of the 'seven times seven years,' the Union has no occasion to join in the ancient Church's lament—'I have laboured in vain; I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain.'

"In the midst of much that is depressing and sad it is cheering to find that it is not all 'gloom and darkness,' but that there are gleams of light appearing here and there, which may be taken as harbingers of the coming brighter and gladder day for which we look. One report says: 'The churches are far healthier, spiritually and financially, than in the previous year. Although the people have suffered very much on account of the very small price of their produce, they have shown a very laudable disposition to meet their church obligations.'

"Another: 'It has been a year fraught with blessings amongst the churches. The office-bearers have shown much zeal and earnestness. The times have been exceedingly hard, but the true spirit of sacrifice has been splendidly manifested.' And another: 'The year now closed has been a memorable one in our history. Much blessing attended a series of evangelistic services. Many persons joined our Backsliders' and Inquirers' Class. There was a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit in our midst.' And yet another says: 'The year has been a blessed one in many respects. God has graciously owned His word by saving many souls, and by leading not a few to understand more of the Christian life.' 'Many of the young people in the Sunday-school have been brought to Christ, and are now engaged actively in God's work.'"

"The baptisms for the year show an increase of 325, and the restorations of 148. The deaths have also increased by 47, and the erasures by 88, while the exclusions happily reveal the slight diminution of 141. The inquirers are 3,676; local preachers, 423; and deacons and leaders, 1,640.

"MISSION CHURCHES.

"Only three churches have reported—Port Limon, Bocas-del-Toro, and Belize. In these there have been baptized 93, restored 17, and received 12 members; and they have lost by death 9, by exclusion 18, and otherwise 7, leaving them with a clear increase of 87. The church at Bocas has many difficulties, but is struggling bravely in face of them all, and God is blessing her labours. The report says: 'Souls are being saved, backsliders returning and inquirers abound. Christ is our Head, and victory certain.'

"The figures furnished by the Jamaica Baptist Union give the following totals:—Died, 632; excluded, 1,295; dismissed, 359; withdrawn, 67; erased, 952; giving a grand total of 3,305. There were baptized, 1,669; restored, 981; received, 338; making additions amounting to 2,988; thus showing a net nominal decrease of 317. The real decrease, however, is 145, as allowance must be made for 172 members who have been drafted from some churches to form others in necessitous localities. That there should be a decrease at all (especially following, as it does, the decrease of the previous year) is a matter of great regret; but, considering the circumstances of the past year, that the decrease is not greater than it is, is a matter for profound thankfulness to God.

"The number of members reported is 33,638, which unhappily reveals a still further discrepancy of 502 as compared with the membership reported last year. Attention has been called to this serious feature in connection with the records of the churches in two successive reports already, still the evil continues; and, compared with last year, has grown considerably."

Reporting upon the work of the past year Mr. Jenkins first refers to Morlaix and the Madeleine. He writes :—

“The French and Breton services have been carried on regularly in this town and suburb.

“The Breton meetings at the Madeleine have been better attended and among the Roman Catholics who come some seem to be seriously inquiring after the truth. Death unfortunately keeps on diminishing the number of our friends. We have lost, this year, two aged sisters who left Romanism many years ago, and remained steadfast to the end. One of these was buried according to Roman Catholic rites, as her relatives interfered in the matter. Unless our friends take their precautions beforehand by making a will, they are exposed to this sort of thing.

“Primel.—The good work has gone on as usual in this small fishing village, the services being held alternately by myself and our friend Lohon.

“Roscoff.—The Sailor’s Rest, in this more important seaport town, has proved useful as in the past. Professor Gautier, of Geneva, who was at Roscoff during the bathing season, undertook the services on the Sabbath, and these were the means of doing good. A young gentleman and his wife who attended them were thus brought into sympathy with the work of the Gospel, and have remained so.

“Lanneaon.—From this mission station, which is under the care of our friend Collober, we have a good report. The meetings have been well attended, as I have seen myself whenever I have been there. The increase is perhaps due in a measure to the fact that a more peaceful man has succeeded the irascible and violent priest who was there before, and exerted a kind of tyranny over the people, but it is due also to our friend’s growing influence over the people. Patience in well-doing gets its reward even in Brittany, and when confidence has been obtained through long service, it stands on a sure basis, and priestly power itself cannot shake it. I think this is the case here. With regard to the spiritual progress of these people, our friend says what is true with regard to all our stations—viz., that if one takes into account all the barriers that stand in the way of their accepting the truth as it is in Jesus, and specially of acting up to it, one cannot wonder at their progress being so slow and sometimes so unsatisfactory. With the help of Bereitar, a young brother, our friend Collober has visited a number of villages, hamlets, and farmhouses in his district, and held meetings repeatedly in them. He has also continued to give his care and advice to the numerous patients who came to him as in the past. Much suffering has been relieved in this manner, and the way has been opened to many hearts.

"The Guilly.—The mission and day-school established here three years ago, under the care of Mr. Chopin and his wife, has prospered. Seventy-two pupils—viz., fifty boys and twenty-two girls, attend the school; so that in the course of the year we had to find accommodation for the increased number, and built a new schoolroom. If it were not for the opposition that comes from many quarters, the number would still be larger. The progress of the children has been highly satisfactory, and the Government Inspector has testified his pleasure by granting Mr. Chopin a testimonial to that effect. Forty-two of these pupils attend the Sunday-school, and have made good progress in the knowledge of ancient and New Testament history. One of the pleasant sights at the Guilly is to see these children in their Sunday and picturesque suits making their way to the school with their Bibles under their arms. The Sabbath services take place in the schoolroom in the afternoon and in the evening, and are very well attended.

"Our friends—Hervet, at Cartraix, and Morvan, in Morlaix—have both continued their work of colportage in their respective districts, and have sold about fifteen hundred copies of the Scriptures. They both concur in stating that, despite the apparent ascendancy of the Clergy, the priest is unpopular in the rural districts and his influence on the decrease. The people are far from being as bigoted as they were; they are not so prejudiced and unapproachable. These are hopeful signs in themselves."

NORTHERN DISTRICT.

TURIN AND GENOA.

The Rev. W. K. Landels sends the following report relative to work in Turin :—

"The Great Italian National Exhibition, opened on May 1st, and closed on November 20th, whilst it was in almost every sense a great success, drawing great numbers of people into the city, and closing with a surplus of over seventy thousand pounds, was on the whole a hindrance to our work. There being no respect for the Sunday in this country, that day was regularly chosen for every kind of public festival and popular entertainment, and extra trains were run from all the surrounding districts. In consequence of this it was well-nigh impossible to get strangers into our meetings, and even our own people were often kept away by having friends staying with them from the Saturday to the Monday. Notwithstanding, however, our services were wonderfully well attended during the whole year, much better, indeed, than we might have expected.

"Tract Work.—By the kindness and generosity of Miss Emery, we were able to arrange for a very extensive distribution of tracts in connection with the exhibition. Three men were regularly employed, one of them at least having to be at the railway station every morning at half-past four, for the departure of the early trains. Our aim was to put a tract into the hands of every stranger who came to visit the exhibition. In the course of six months over half a million of tracts were distributed, and our colporteurs were able to get into conversation with a great number of people. The result of such a work as this cannot be estimated; several cases of conversion have, however, come under our notice, and at the next church meeting we expect to receive one lady who was brought to a knowledge of the truth by means of the tracts.

"Our Church Membership is a little higher than last year. Our additions have been eight, our losses two, by death; the number of names on the roll is now sixty-seven, almost all of whom may be considered as effective members. We have at present several applicants for membership, three of whom, at least, will be accepted at the next church meeting.

"Our Sunday-school has during the past year made considerable progress, notwithstanding the many difficulties with which we have to contend. Our numbers are by no means large. We have now some fifty-five names on the books, with an attendance during the past three months of forty-five.

"Finances.—For general purposes we raised Lire 705,35, of which Lire 429,60 was distributed among the poor. For the work of evangelisation we raised Lire 628,23; in all, Lire 1,333,58, or £53 6s. 10d. Of this sum £5 10s. were contributed for the poor by two English ladies resident in the country, the balance being raised by the church itself.

"I may here add that the total amount contributed in the Northern District was £101 18s. 6d., distributed as follows:—Turin, £53 6s. 10d.; Lusa, £6 1s. 7d.; Meana, £7 3s. 6d.; Genoa, £33 14s. 10d."

SUSA AND DISTRICT.

Signor Baratti reports:—

"We have just opened a new hall in a very much better position than the one we had formerly, and have every reason for hoping that the work will now make greater progress than in the past. Our four services each week are now better attended than before, and a number have declared themselves interested in the truth. The Sunday-school, too, has considerably increased since we opened the new locale.

"Every week I visit from street to street and from house to house, distributing tracts to all those who can read. I go into all the shops and workrooms, and am everywhere well received; about 95 per cent. of the people willingly receive and read the tracts with interest.

"Bussoleno is a town of about 4,000 inhabitants, at a distance of four miles from Susa. Ever since the fall of 1897 I have been in the habit of visiting it almost every week, and of doing there the same kind of tract work as in Susa. It has been possible to visit from street to street and from house to house, and to get an entrance to most of the shops and workrooms. Everywhere I have been received with a kindly welcome, and have been able to make the acquaintance and to gain the friendship of large numbers of families, and, among others, that of the Syndic of the town.

"Many interesting cases have come under my notice. For the sake of brevity I will mention only one of them. One day a poor woman came to me with tears of consolation in her eyes. 'God bless you,' she said; 'you are always welcome. My husband used to come home every evening drunk, and when under the influence of drink he was little better than a demon, and made the house a hell on earth. When the children saw their father coming they used to run away for fear of him, and we never knew what a day of peace meant. But now since he has begun to read your tracts, he comes home straight from his work, and when the day comes round for your visit, the first thing he asks is if the evangelical pastor has been, and has brought some new books. If there are no new ones he reads the old over and over again, as well as the Bible, which he has lately purchased. Since you first came he has been quite a changed man; he has begun to pray and our home has become a little paradise.'

"It was impossible for such a work as this to go on without arousing the ire and the apprehension of the priests. From Susa orders were sent by the Bishop that the people under pain of excommunication were not to receive me into their houses, and were to destroy the tracts. Many of them, however, answered in the following terms:—'It is now too late to give such orders. Had we not known the Gospel, we should have submitted to the Bishop, but now that we have seen the light, we will obey neither him nor the priests, but will follow the Gospel.'

"Chromonte and Giaglione.—In these two places a work similar to that of Bussoleno has been going on.

"Mompantero.—This place is built at the foot of the great mountain Rocciamelone which rears its head to a height of nearly 12,000 feet. It is said that the population is of Eastern origin, their forefathers having settled there at the time of the invasion of the Barbarians. Many of them sleep on the bare earth in the summer, and on heaps of leaves in the cattle sheds in the winter. Their dwelling-places are rather caverns than houses. But when these people are converted, they are full of zeal and fidelity, and are capable of making great sacrifices for the sake of the Gospel. A number of them have given their hearts to Christ and are now consistent members of the church."

MEANA AND GRAVERE.

With regard to work in these towns, Signor Scrajber writes:—

"During the last three months of the year we have had to sustain many struggles, and to rejoice in much blessing. The following has been the weekly programme of our services:—

"Sunday, at 10.30 in Meana, public worship; at 1 o'clock, meeting in Graverè; at 3 o'clock, a second meeting in Meana; at 4.30, Sunday-school; and, at 7.30, evangelisation in the village of Scotto.

"On Monday we have had no regular meeting, but have gone from place to place as occasion offered. One village often visited is called Brunetta. There we found a family that willingly listened to the Gospel. The children, in course of time, began to attend the Sunday-school, and the mother was about to join the church when she was called away to France to join her husband, who for some time had been working there.

"On Tuesday evening there is a meeting in the village of Assiere, which has always been exceptionally well attended. We begin at seven o'clock with half an hour of singing, then follow three-quarters of an hour of conversation on religious subjects, and after that forty-five minutes of evangelisation; the meeting closing at nine or a quarter-past.

"On Wednesday there is a meeting in Gravere; on Thursday another in Meana; and on Saturday one in the village Sarette.

"The Sunday-school in Meana, notwithstanding the great difficulties we have to meet, goes on satisfactorily. We have now fifty-five children in regular attendance.

"A step in advance has been taken in regard to the erection of the proposed chapel, a plot of ground having been purchased in an excellent position. We hope to be able to begin building early next spring."

GENOA.

Signor Nardi Greco, the evangelist in charge of the work at Genoa City, reports:—

"We have had to pass through an experience that is very uncommon in this city. We have been the object of severe persecution and relentless opposition on the part of the clerical party. The Town Council is now largely composed of the partito nero (black or clerical party), and the Pope has not let the opportunity pass of aiming a severe blow at the work of the Gospel.

"Our evangelistic hall, which, for the position it occupies in the city, is one of the best in all Italy, has always been crowded with hearers. We may safely say that in our meetings a large portion of the population has heard the Word of God.

"During the year 1898 we received into the church eight new members, all of whom had given us good reason to believe that they had been truly converted. Our losses, however, about counterbalanced our gains. Of these four were taken away by death, and the others emigrated to South America, where they joined the Baptist Church of Buenos Ayres presided over by Signor Besson.

"Of the new converts I may make special mention of a monk of the Order of St. Francis of Paola. Although still a young man of only thirty years of age, he had been both a father confessor and a Lenten preacher. Last week he was married to a young woman whom we hope before long to receive into the church. An interesting thing in connection with him is that his name is Peter Calvin.

"The actual number of our members is now 143. Of these six are in the chronic hospital, and two are inmates of the workhouse. All of these poor people, however, from time to time get permission to come out in order to attend public worship on the Sunday morning. Among their comrades they bear clear witness for Jesus Christ and for the Gospel, and their good Christian conduct is such that they gain the sympathy and goodwill of all their superiors.

"The Sunday-school, though small, has been encouraging.

"The church has raised for all purposes Lire 84,355, or £33 14s. 10½d. sterling. I may add that the brethren here have agreed to contribute 500 francs (£20) towards the expenses of building a chapel in Meana, the money to be paid in instalments.

THE TUSCAN OR FLORENTINE DISTRICT. FLORENCE.

The Rev. N. H. Shaw reports :—

"Two events have made the year 1898 memorable for us. The first was the disturbance of the peace in May. Florence did not suffer as much as Milan, but for some days we were in an unenviable position. There was fighting in the streets, with the destruction of property, the police firing revolvers right and left, and the soldiers with fixed bayonets driving the rioters before them; and when peace was restored after many arrests, and one or two deaths, the whole city was placed under martial law for several months.

"The other event is one for which we thank God—viz., the purchase by the Committee of our mission premises, which has saved us from the danger which threatened us of being turned into the street, and by giving security to our position has added hopefulness to our work.

"We have had to suffer not only the usual poverty, but an unusual amount of sickness. Moreover, young men and others to whom we have been made useful, and from whom we hoped to receive help, have had to move to other places to obtain employment. The lack of trade and industry in Florence is a constant source of trial and weakness to us.

"Notwithstanding these circumstances our congregations have been generally cheering; we have baptized five persons, and received five others who had already been baptized, and have been instrumental in enlightening and helping many others who have not united with us.

"We have changed our financial methods adopting the weekly offering system with envelopes, and the results have been hitherto cheering, and promise to be more so. The church contributed for all purposes Lire 850, or £34, of which £10 were for its own poor, and the rest for the general purposes of the Mission.

"Our Sunday-school has been severely tried by removals of families, &c. We began the year with thirty-three children, but lost more than a dozen of them. Since then we have gained others, and our numbers now stand at twenty-five, and the teaching, I think, is more effective than formerly.

"The Mission for Soldiers has greatly encouraged us. The meetings are peculiarly liable to fluctuate, and are sometimes reduced to nothing owing to causes beyond our control, but we have sometimes preached to nearly forty soldiers. These men will leave Florence, and return to their homes in different parts of the country carrying with them the seed of the Kingdom.

"The classes for teaching English to civilians have been carried on with much encouragement, and afford fine opportunities for evangelising intelligent people. A young man—a musician—in seeking admission to these classes, said to me: 'I am particularly desirous of attending your classes, because I am informed that you explain the Bible in them, and, as you are aware, in our Church (he meant the Roman Catholic Church) we know nothing of it.'"

LEGNORNO.

"Of the work in the City of Leghorn itself we have not much that is cheering to report. It is exceedingly difficult, and now and then the evangelist is in danger of losing heart. He has been made useful to a number of people, who, however, have removed to other parts of the country.

"Signor Allegri is, however, much cheered by his work in other parts of Tuscany. He has visited again and again very many small towns, villages, and hamlets, entering the houses of the people and talking to the labourers in the fields and elsewhere. He would like to devote himself exclusively to such work, for which he has special gifts, and it would be very desirable that he should do so if only our finances permitted of our sending another evangelist to Leghorn. There are incidents in these visits which are very interesting, but they cannot be narrated in a few words. Amid ignorance of the crassest kind, and superstition of the most degrading, and unbelief the most obstinate, he meets with many people who welcome his message as a traveller dying of thirst in the desert would welcome a draught of pure water."

PRATO.

"At Prato there is nothing new to chronicle, except that we have been saddened and the cause has been weakened, by one of the brethren falling into grievous sin. We have not yet found a place there in which to appeal to the public. We visit the few brethren and others there every week, and hope the time will soon come when we shall be able to attempt more."

THE CENTRAL, OR ROMAN DISTRICT.

THE CITY OF ROME.

Reporting upon Lucina, the Central Station in Rome, and the general work in the city, the Rev. James Wall writes :—

"The past year, with its rapid changes, its hopes and fears, its gains and losses, reflects itself in the Baptist Mission in this district. We are constantly reminded that our people are not a foreign church, but Roman to the very core, pulsating and vibrating in its deepest life with the people of this great city.

"Sunday Morning Culto.—The Lord, the Lord's people, the Lord's Word, the Lord's supper, are all Divine realities in the Culto, and form a witness in this Papal metropolis which is often greatly owned by God.

"Our Sunday-schools continue to increase in numbers, and this is the greatest proof we could have of the increasing confidence which the Roman working classes have in our Mission. Not only in numbers but also in spiritual results the schools have been much blessed. The attendance in Lucina has kept up well all through the year. During Lent, when the Catholic pulpits open fire, and their troops come out to war against us Protestants, we have preaching every night in the week except Saturday, and an evangelist is present during most of the day to speak to any who desire to do so. There is a prayer-meeting every morning.

"The Christian Endeavour Society is still flourishing, though but small.

"CATHOLIC ESTIMATE OF PROTESTANT MISSIONS IN ROME.

"The organ of the Jesuits, the Civitta Cattolica, unable any longer to keep silence, in its number for this month, March, 1899, makes some very important confessions. It says that Protestantism, since its entrance into Rome—like oil—has spread in all directions, so much so that the Tablet says: 'One cannot deny that a sad future lies before us in Rome, and that by the second decade of the next century a considerable part of the Roman population will be Protestant. This is principally the work of "Dissenters." This writer then enumerates the various branches of each Protestant mission, says the Baptists have nine 'sale Cristiane' in the city, and accuses Protestants of working by means of English and American gold. It then announces the institution of a Catholic society in Rome for the preservation of the faith, not only in the city itself, but also in the other parts of Italy. The Pope has already sanctioned the new order; an archbishop has been appointed as general, with a vice-president and a lady vice-president, a council of twelve gentlemen and twelve ladies, with a lady and gentleman for secretaries, and associates of various grades, &c., &c. Important indulgences are offered to all who join the crusade against the Protestant heretics. Our Protestant societies throughout the world will understand—read between the lines—and provide accordingly. Here, in Rome, in consequence of this new effort, we shall expect increased difficulties, but also an increase of Divine help."

WORK IN THE PROVINCES.

With reference to evangelistic work in the Roman Provinces, Mr. Wall reports:—

"We have thirty stations scattered over the Roman Province; this work is the result of many years of dissemination of the Scriptures and of persevering visitation. The fact that so many places are visited and that baptisms take place in considerable numbers every year, and that the tendency of the work is rather to increase than diminish, and that all is done with a minimum of help from without, both financial and ministerial, is certainly a cause for thankfulness.

"The brethren in our church in Rome, out of their poverty, have sent out and partially supported one of their deacons during the past three months. This brother started in the second week of last October with a stock of Scriptures, and spent three months in itinerating, mostly on foot. During that time he visited seventy-five different places, and sold eight Bibles, forty-three New Testaments, and 495 portions of Scripture. When we consider the poverty of the mass of the inhabitants in these rural districts, the fact that they have no idea of the value of the books offered, and, above all, the opposition of the priests, we cannot but admit that in effecting so many sales our colporteur has given proofs of patient labour and no mean powers of persuasion; and when we remember that no books were distributed gratis, we may trust that those who were sufficiently interested to buy will read the books for which they have paid and find a blessing in them."

ROME, VIA URBANA.

The Rev. J. Campbell Wall, who superintends the work, having Via Urbana as its centre, writes :—

"The past year has also been a time of trial, owing to the large amount of sickness. The dear wife of our veteran evangelist, Sig. Petocchi, suffered terribly for many months. She was present with us for the last time at the Lord's Supper on Christmas Day, and fell asleep in Jesus early in January. Another great loss is that of an old man (over eighty) who was present at the formation of the church in 1881. He was converted in 1870, and, in spite of great distress and persecution during a lingering illness in the public hospitals, he had given an earnest testimony to all about him until he was called home by his Saviour.

"The preaching services have on the whole been well attended. Statistics show a slight decrease in Via Urbana; but the increase at Via degli Equi gives an aggregate increase of 684 attendances during the year.

"The efforts of our evangelist, Sig. Petocchi, and of our voluntary workers, have been constant, untiring, and full of self-sacrifice. During the last quarter our staff of workers has been greatly strengthened by the presence in our midst of Signora Amadei, an earnest lady worker, from whom we expect great results in the future. The Lord has thus answered our prayers, and provided for a much felt need in connection with our work. She is now responsible for much of the work among women and girls, a class as important as it is difficult to influence. We also hope that she may be greatly blessed in connection with our Sunday-schools."

THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OR NEAPOLITAN DIVISION.

NAPLES AND CASERTA.

This district has been under the superintendence of the Rev. Robert Walker, the central station being in the Via Foria, in the City of Naples.

Early in the past year the Committee had under their careful consideration the report of their Italian deputation.

In reporting upon the work of the Society in the Southern District of Italy, and specially with regard to work in the City of Naples, the deputation pointed out that for effective work in this great centre, the "most vicious and depraved of all Italian cities," there should be, instead of one missionary, as at present, who is charged not only with the work in Naples City, but with the superintendence of three important district centres of work, a staff of missionaries who could devote all their time and energy to evangelistic work amongst the hundreds of thousands of utterly indifferent, godless, and sensual people that constitute a large portion of the population of Naples City, and that unless the Committee could see its way to vigorously increase its agency in this centre, the wiser and more economical course would be to try and secure some kindred missionary organisation to take over present work, with a view to the withdrawal of the Baptist Missionary Society from Naples, and the concentration of workers and work in the Northern District, where visible results are of so cheering and encouraging a character.

As the financial condition of the Society did not admit of any increased expenditure on the Italian Mission, the Committee deemed it well to accept the recommendation of the deputation, and they are thankful now to report that arrangements have been made with the Rev. Dr. Taylor, the representative in Rome of the Southern Baptist Missionary Board of America, one of whose agents is at present stationed in Naples, to transfer the work in the Southern District to the Southern Baptist Board, with a view to their concentrating larger efforts upon this important centre, and to remove Mr. Walker to the Northern District, to work in association with the Rev. W. K. Landels, of Turin.

Further arrangements are also in progress with Dr. Taylor for a mutually satisfactory readjustment of centres of work in Italy between the Southern Baptist Board and the Baptist Missionary Society, with a view to avoid overlapping, and secure a wiser and more effective distribution of missionary forces, and the Committee anticipate good and permanent results from such negotiations.

The Rev. Robt. Walker, writing in reference to Christian work in Italy, says :—

"Mission work in a country like Italy is necessarily a slow one. We are not only working against all the usual enemies of Divine truth, but against an organised enemy, whose activity is untiring, and whose organisation is as nearly perfect as human ingenuity can make it. We have against us, too, the awful results of centuries of papal dominion in the shape of conscience vitiated, when not destroyed altogether, and an utterly false idea of worship. Forms and rites have taken the place of faith and obedience, and truth has lost her hold on the life. That the end justifies the means is accepted as a sufficient working theory, with the result that God's will and God's law are set aside by the caprice of those who are considered God's ministers. To break up all the prejudices and errors which have thus been formed around the mind and conscience is a work requiring time and patience. In the South of Italy, favoured by the greater ignorance of the people, this state of things is worse than in other parts, and mission work is therefore harder. But Divine grace is sufficient to overcome all these obstacles, and in the end Christ must reign."

During their residence in Naples both Mr. and Mrs. Walker have secured the warm affection of the members of the Via Foria Church, and the respect of all with whom they have been brought into contact, and their removal to the North is much regretted by friends in Naples.

In the North Mr. Walker will be no stranger, as his first experiences of missionary life were in Genoa, a centre of work that will ever be associated with the devoted life and labours of the Rev. John Landels; while in Turin both Mr. and Mrs. Walker are well known, and will be warmly welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Landels and all the friends connected with the Turin Italian Baptist Church.

FINANCE.

In their Report for 1897-8 the Committee stated that it was their intention during the new year 1898-9—

"To arrange for a systematic visitation of the churches, with a view to secure such a permanent increase in the income of the Mission as should not only meet present expenditure, but provide funds for further extension.

"If only the accomplishment of the second part of the Centenary Scheme could be secured, and the annual income of the Society raised to one hundred thousand pounds, financial difficulty would disappear. And," the Committee added, "surely the great mission of the Church is to carry the Gospel to every creature. She is not responsible for the way it is received, but the Church is responsible for the propagation of the Gospel, for it has been committed to her, and she dare not cease her labours until every ear has heard the good news of salvation, and every eye has seen a crucified Saviour."

At the Annual Members' Meeting held on the 26th of April, 1898, it was unanimously resolved :—"That this meeting, consisting as it does of pastors and delegates of Baptist Churches throughout the kingdom, desires to express hearty sympathy with the Committee in its determination to increase the annual income of the Society, according to the Centenary proposal, to £100,000 ; and understanding that arrangements are now in progress for a systematic visitation of the churches, with a view to this desirable end, this meeting solemnly pledges itself to co-operate with the Committee in every practicable way."

Early in September last arrangements were matured for the special visitation of the churches during the autumn and winter of last year and the spring of 1899, and a large number of special visitations have already been made ; there are, however, still many important engagements outstanding, which will, it is hoped, be shortly carried through.

With regard to all these efforts, it should, however, be borne in mind that the complete result will not appear until the new year, and consequently only a proportion of the promised increase in contributions appears in the balance-sheet now presented. Meanwhile, it is satisfactory to find that the accounts show an increase in annual subscriptions amounting to £2,559.

RECEIPTS.

The Committee feel that it is cause for special thankfulness that instead of the expected deficiency of £8,000, the actual debt at the close of the year, as exhibited by the audited accounts now presented, is only

£1,395 17s. 11d.

This satisfactory result is due, in the main, to an increase of £2,559 in the regular and permanent income of the Mission as compared with the previous year, to an increase in Receipts from Legacies of £2,324, and to the falling in of £2,000 of annuity capital in consequence of the decease of the Annuitant, who gave special directions that this sum should be included in the Annual Receipts of the Society. But for these two latter items the debt would be £5,719, instead of £1,395.

The total Receipts from all sources during the year just closed amount to

made up of the following sums :—

General Receipts	£69,641 1 5
Widows and Orphans' Account	2,630 4 10
Special Funds	3 060 2 11
	£75,331 9 2

There are increases in nearly all the special stations and funds' contributions, the only striking exception being a decrease of £325, as compared with the previous year, in the amount received from the Bible Translation Society.

The special gifts in aid of the sufferers from the havoc wrought by the overflow of the Yellow River in Shantung Province have amounted to £1,641 4s. 1d., all of which has been cabled out to China for immediate use.

Turning to the

the accounts now presented exhibit a total expenditure of being an increase of £319 8s. 9d. upon the expenditure of the previous year.

The Congo Mission is the only field exhibiting any considerable increase in the cost of maintenance ; this increase (£989 10s., as compared with the expenditure of the previous year) being mainly due to the imposition by the Congo Government of much higher customs dues, and taxes, augmented personal allowances in consequence of the marriage of Missionaries, and heavy repairs to the Mission steamers, the Peace and the Goodwill.

The balance standing at the credit of the Special Centenary Fund stands at

already allocated as follows, viz. :—

For additional Missionaries... ..	£22,900	0	0
Mission Buildings at various Stations ...	4,468	9	8
Training Native Evangelists and Translation Work	3,390	16	2
	£30,759	5	10

For the rebuilding and repair of property in India destroyed or injured by the earthquake of 1897, and for the support of famine orphans and certain aged and infirm sufferers, a sum of £2,750 18s. 3d. has been disbursed during the past year, and there are yet heavy items of charge under the head of reinstating property to be met, and the cost of the maintenance of a large number of famine orphans for many years to come.

The Committee earnestly hope that the results to be realised during the new year from the special visitation of the churches during the year just closed, together with the outcome of the many similar arrangements already made in important centres, may secure a large addition to the permanent income of the Society, and hasten the entire accomplishment of the full Centenary Scheme—viz., raising the annual income of the Mission to

"There must surely be," writes a great authority in connection with Foreign Mission work, "something very wrong in our present-day distribution of Christian forces. I have recently been through Scotland on a tour for Missions, and I went into one town where there were twelve hundred people and five handsome stone churches, with five educated Christian ministers. One of these ministers could have well accommodated in his own church the entire church-going population of the place, and the other four ministers, with the money that those four churches cost to build, might have been put into the Soudan or the Congo Free State, to carry the Gospel of the grace of God to the millions that never yet have seen the face of a Christian missionary. There is surely something very wrong in the Christian Church when denominational zeal outstrips our zeal for the evangelisation of the world; and when the Church of God can calmly look upon eight hundred and fifty millions of human souls on the face of the earth going down to the grave that never yet, after nineteen centuries of waiting, have even so much as heard whether there be a Christ."

"In God's affairs we act with soundest policy when we act with most enthusiasm. True enthusiasm will not be wildfire; it will not be rash eccentricity ; it will not work reckless mischief in the Church or the world when it is a love—a love kindled by Christ."

Only let the Christian Church, measuring fully the enterprise committed to her hands, instinct with the Saviour's love, and inspired by the Master's example, address herself with all her sanctified energies and Divine resources to this vast work ; and then, may we not look for the opening of windows in Heaven, and the descent of the Spirit in mighty power upon all nations ?

Surely to-day the fulness of the time has come for a great and united effort against the powers of darkness.

To-day the walls of empires lie flat, challenging us to move from every quarter, and at once take possession of the very citadels of Satan's dominions.

To-day the coffers of Christ's disciples contain so much of wealth, that a small percentage only of their contents would easily supply all needful funds for the world's emancipation, while a tithe of Christ's present disciples would give one missionary to every one hundred of the globe's population.

What opportunity ! what inspiration ! All the Christian Church needs for this sublime enterprise is whole-souled consecration and sanctified organisation.

N.B.—The number of Baptisms for the year is very low. This is chiefly due to the Yellow River Flood preventing accepted candidates from being baptized, and to the absence from home of one missionary at the baptizing season.

* Mr. Lawson Forfeitt writes:—This being a temporary Base Station it is impossible to give the usual statistics. We take our part with the Missionary of the C.B.M. in the service, and work at the Chapel erected by the English-speaking coast people residing at Matadi, and a very encouraging general religious work is carried on. Mrs. Forfeitt has a small school, but numbers vary, partly because of the uncertainty as to the length of our stay here, and also because we are alone, and many other duties press.

She is hoping to go back to the Congo in the autumn, when she will seek to arrange this matter with the least possible delay, and will communicate with the friends supporting the children; meanwhile the children are in the school and the work is going on.
