At the Twenty-ninth Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Freemasons' Hall, Great Queen Street, on Tuesday, May 5, 1829.

The Right Hon. LORD GAMBIER, Vice-Patron and President, in the Chair.

The Report of the Committee having been read by the Secretaries, and the Statement of the Accounts of the Twenty-ninth Year by the Treasurer,

On a Motion by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Chester, seconded by the Rev. Thomas Mortimer,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, an Abstract of which has been read, be printed, under the direction of the Committee: and that this Meeting desires to ascribe to the gracious Providence and blessing of God, that success which has attended the Society's Foreign Operations, as well as the large increase to its Income, which marked the close of the year just terminated.

On a Motion by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, seconded by the Rev. G. Hazlewood, Assistant Secretary of the Hibernian Auxiliary,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the sincere thanks of the Meeting be given to the Rev. Dr. Singer, for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to the Noble President of the Society; the other Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents; and to all those Friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf: and that the following Gentlemen are appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies. (See List, after Vice-Presidents.)

On a Motion by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Winchester, seconded by the Rev. R. W. Sibthorp,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Society desires to render its special acknowledgments to Almighty God, for the signal blessing vouchsafed to the labours of the Society's Missionaries in Tinnevely, and for the encouraging indications in the New-Zealand and North-West America Missions.

On a Motion by William Wilberforce, Esq., seconded by Matthew Gisborne, Esq. from Calcutta,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Trials encountered from year to year, in carrying on the operations of the Society in its different Missions, and particularly during the last year in Northern India and in the Island of Antigua, should impress on the minds of its friends our entire dependence on Almighty God; who, while He exercises our faith and patience, encourages us to hope, that even adverse occurrences shall be overruled for the ultimate good of His Church.

On a Motion by the Rev. Joseph Fenn, seconded by the Hon. and Rev. Gerard Thomas Noel,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the encouragements which it pleases God to vouchsafe to His Church in the present day, and the trials with which He permits it to be exercised, call on this Meeting again to urge on the friends of the Society the duty of earnest and unceasing prayer for those gracious influences of the Holy Spirit, whereby alone the object of this and every Christian Society can be attained.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society; of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof, to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued:—The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon his designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He “prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help,” we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success

CHURCH MISSIONARY ASSOCIATIONS.

WHEN a disposition appears in any place to assist the designs of the Society by establishing an Association in its support, a Meeting of persons favourable to such a measure should be called. The friends who meet for this purpose should form themselves into a "Church Missionary Association, in aid of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and should proceed to appoint a Committee and proper Officers.

In large Towns, comprehending several Parishes, it may be expedient to appoint a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, and a Secretary; with a pretty numerous Committee, composed of persons from the different Parishes.

In Parochial Associations, a Treasurer, a Secretary, and a smaller Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, may be best suited to conduct the business.

It may sometimes be found expedient to form Associations in Separate Congregations in the same Parish, rather than one Association in the parish at large; and in this case also, a Treasurer, Secretary, and Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, will suffice to accomplish the object.

In a Voluntary Union of Friends, whether the members of the same family, the children of a school, or persons connected by affinity or friendship, such arrangements may be made as may prove most convenient to themselves.

In this manner, benevolent persons, willing to assist the designs of the Society, from the domestic circle to the largest town, may unite for a purpose most beneficial to their own minds, while it expresses a due regard to the glory of God in the salvation of the Heathen, and a proper sense of their own infinite obligations to Divine Mercy.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS SUITABLE FOR ASSOCIATIONS.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be, all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward, or, if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea; and also such Persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward, or, if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per Annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Reports of this Association, and also the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at all their General Meetings; and Collectors of One Shilling and upward per week will receive either a Copy of each Monthly Number of the Missionary Register, or Annual Report of the Parent Society.—Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the established Church, to vote at all Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society.—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors.

VI. The business of the Association shall be under the management of a Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, Secretaries, Governors, and a Committee not exceeding ——— Lay Members of the Established Church, and of all Clergymen who are Members of this Association. The Committee to meet on the ——— in the months of January, April, July, and October, at ——— o'clock; Five Members being competent to act.

VII. The object of the Committee shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed Persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society; and to recommend proper Persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary Information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VIII. The whole of the Funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society in aid of its designs.

IX. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day in the month of ——— as shall be found expedient (of which due notice shall be given), when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be presented.

EZEKIEL XLVII. 8.

THEN SAID HE UNTO ME, THESE WATERS ISSUE OUT TOWARD THE EAST COUNTRY, AND GO DOWN INTO THE DESERT, AND GO INTO THE SEA ; WHICH BEING BROUGHT FORTH INTO THE SEA, THE WATERS SHALL BE HEALED.

THESE words form a part of that sublime series of visions, whose detail closes the inspired announcements of the prophet Ezekiel. After he had, in solemn strains, declared the counsels of God against the enemies of His chosen people, and testified to the destruction that awaited the Princes of Mesech and Tubal ; after having stated, that, in that judgment, the Heathen should see His glory, and the House of Israel know the Lord their God from that day forth for evermore, who, pouring out His Spirit upon that house, had brought them again from the people, and gathered them from out of their enemies' lands, and had pledged Himself not to hide His face from them any more ; the prophet proceeds, in apparent connection with the context, to describe the Temple of the Lord erected on a very high mountain, and the glory of Jehovah, visibly displayed, entering therein, and occupying the holy place. From under the threshold of the eastern gate, the prophet observed the mystical stream to issue; which, at first rare and scanty, gradually swelled into a mighty river, and, going down into the desert, passed into the sea, and the waters thereof were healed.

On a subject involved in so much obscurity as this vision, and one on which such varied learning and research have been employed, it would ill become me to venture an opinion. Whether the prophet intended, in his description of the sacred edifice, merely to give to the returning Children of Israel a plan of their ancient Temple; whether it has a mystical connection with the glories promised to that now-rejected, but still beloved people, when they shall again be turned to their God and their King; or whether it symbolizes the progress and completion of the spiritual Church of the Living God, whose foundation is laid on the Apostles and Prophets, Christ Jesus Himself being the chief Corner-stone, and whose circuit will contain all the Redeemed of God, whether Jew or Gentile; it would be presumption for me to determine. The apparent identity of the structure with the Apocalyptic city of St. John; the name given to it from that time forth—Jehovah-Shammah, The Lord is there; the goings in and out of the Lord of Glory; and the mystical waters, whose course is described in the text, but which never did, nor could have existed in the literal Jerusalem; may perhaps lead us to conclude, that, as part of the prophet's imagery is figurative, and symbolizes spiritual objects, so other parts, whose meaning and introduction are less obvious, may likewise have a spiritual significance, to be developed by time—perhaps the best interpreter of prophecy. It is not my object to discuss these interesting topics: they lie beyond the limits of our present assembling, and perhaps of addresses from this place. Let me rather draw your attention to the spiritual tendency of that portion of the vision which I have selected for my text. And may that God, in whose presence we stand, impress, by His Holy Spirit on our hearts, the lesson which they contain!

Having made, under the direction of his Angelic guide, the circuit of the walls of the Temple, Ezekiel is represented as returning to the eastern entrance; a gate which, it is declared, shall be shut, and no man shall enter in by it; because the Lord, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it: it is for the Prince; the Prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same. This gate, thus consecrated to the use of the Prince and God of Israel, is the scene of this part of the prophet's vision: from its lofty height he is enabled to view the cheerless prospect that stretched before him; and from its threshold welled forth the healing waters of the Sanctuary. Cheerless indeed the prospect that presented itself to the prophet's eye—the desert that extended eastward between the city and the dreary shore of the Dead Sea, whose sluggish and pestilential waters bounded his horizon ! Under what awful and impressive images does he represent the state of corrupted human nature ! a desert, gloomy in aspect, and sterile in its soil ; unknowing and incapable of cultivation from human hands ; affording no hiding-place from the wind, no covert from the tempest ; one picture of desolation and distress, whose smiles were the deceitful mirage that brings disappointment to the traveller ; whose fruits were bitterness to the taste, and destruction to the frame :—nay more, the lake emphatically called the Dead Sea, whose waters, covering the accursed Cities of the Plain, exhibit, in their appearance and their quality, the impress of the wrath of an offended God ; whose shores are clothed with no verdure ; which remains, and ever will remain, a gloomy monument of the guilt of rebellious man, and the vengeance of the just Jehovah ! Such are the awful images by which the prophet portrays our nature ; and it is in strict accordance with the uniform declaration of the Word of God : nor do his figures, though gloomy and terrific, mark with more awful distinctness the state of man in relation to his God, than the more literal testimonies of Scripture ; bearing witness, that the thoughts of man's heart are only evil continually ; that man, who drinketh in iniquity like water, is abominable and filthy in the sight of God ; that all naturally are dead in trespasses and sins—foolish, disobedient, deceived ; serving divers lusts and pleasures ; living in malice and envy ; hateful, and hating one another—and at enmity with God.

Tremendous declaration ! and yet fully justified by our knowledge of the Heathen World, and our experience of ourselves. Tremendous declaration ! which, while it is in sad consistency with all that the unfolded annals of time contain, is invested with deeper gloom, by the inability of the world that lieth in wickedness, either to perceive its state of destitution, or, perceiving, to change it:—as well might the desert feel its own sterility, and call to the clouds to rain down upon it their fatness ; as well might the asphaltic lake, by innate energy, dispel its own sulphureous exhalations, and clothe its rugged shores with verdure and beauty. True it is, that the sun of God's providence shines upon that desert, and His rains descend, but they confer no moral fertility : true it is, that His winds breathe along the surface of the stagnant waters ; but those waters are unconscious of their influence : true, that the east front of the Temple is turned toward this land of desolation ; the very gate, at which the Prince of Mercy has entered, is ever directed towards its wretchedness ; but the Desert and the Dead Sea know it not, and feel it not, and experience not its glories and its beneficence.

Such may have been the emotions of the prophet, while contemplating the scene before him ; where every thing reminded him of the Majesty of God, and the ruin and misery of man. In the splendor of the Temple he saw the glory, in its extent the power, in its sanctity the holiness of God ; while the hardness of the human heart, its hostility to God, and the tremendous consequences of sin, were visible, in the barren desert and the accursed lake, in the gloomy wilderness, and the sullen and cheerless aspect of the sea. Even as when, in the Valley of Vision, he knew not how to make the dry bones live, but by an appeal to Jehovah's power; so, from the depressing prospect before him, he turned to the Sanctuary of the Lord;—and he turned not in vain. Divine wisdom had provided a means for the exercise of divine mercy; and the prophet witnessed its symbolical success. He beheld—what had at first escaped his notice—a little stream issuing from beneath the eastern gate of the Temple: and, at the distance of a thousand cubits from its fountain, it reached to the ancles; at another thousand, to the knees; at another thousand, to the loins; and, at the same distance repeated, it became a great river, that could not be passed over. How descriptive of the origin and progress of the Gospel kingdom!—at first so small and insignificant, that it escapes the notice of the world; but by degrees enlarging and spreading, until the whole earth is filled with its influence;—at first the cloud no bigger than a man's hand, it gradually overspreads the heavens, and affords the grateful assurance of shade and refreshment:—the mustard-seed, which becomes a great tree, in whose spreading branches the fowls of the air seek refuge;—the leaven, which gradually leavens the mass;—the stone, cut out without hands, which is despised and rejected by the builders, but becomes a great mountain, and fills the whole earth;—such are the emblems employed by the Spirit to represent the rise and progress of the Redeemer's kingdom. But the vision proceeds: the prophet's eye pursues the course of this stream: it flows eastward; it passes through the desert; fertility and verdure mark its progress; on its banks arise trees conspicuous for beauty and usefulness; and it flows into the sea, and the waters are all healed, and they bring forth fish so abundantly, that the fishers stand all along its shores, from Engedi to En-eglain. As surely as the earth presents, in a moral point of view, little but a scene of sin and misery, alienation from God, and consequent unhappiness, so surely has God Himself provided no remedy, either for individual or social distress, but the power of His Gospel brought home to the heart, under the influence of His Holy Spirit. Human nature presents, in its various combinations, the deadness of insensibility, the madness of uncontrolled passion, or the wild fanaticism of false religion. To each of these evils, the Gospel presents its remedy; its spirit-stirring statements awaken the soul from its sleep of death; its powerful sanctions sway and controul the violence of passion; before the power of its truth and the brilliancy of its light, false religion, with all its gloomy train of impurity, cruelty, and vice, falls, Dagon-like, and is broken. The character of God developed in the saving plans of Redemption—the love of a Saviour, a love even unto death—these become the restraints to passion, the motives to action, the guides of conduct. The sinner discovers here the true atonement, and lays aside his self-immolation and tortures: the awakened penitent exchanges, under the convictions of offered pardon, despair for comfort: the unholy discovers sanctification in the implanted principle of faith, and the self-righteous is invested with Christian humility: under the influence of the life-giving stream, the desert blossoms, like the garden of the Lord; and the fruits of the Spirit, in rich maturity and beauty, evince that the stream has been neither transient nor uncertain in its effects. Christianity finds man destitute and ignorant; and it gives him information, and it gives him comfort: even, while alarming him with the certainty of his danger and responsibility, it exhibits to him the means of safety; it shews him the gate by which the Prince of Peace has entered in; tells him of an atonement that God alone can offer, of a righteousness that God alone can supply, of an holiness that God alone can impart: it presents to man that Being, who is to His people as a Sun and a Shield; and promises that inheritance which is supreme in blessedness, because it is communion with Him. Hence, by presenting due objects to the mind, the intellect is awakened in its powers, and sanctified to the service of God; hence, the impurer propensities are repressed; and the life-giving energy of the Gospel, embracing the infinite mercy of the Father, and the infinite love of the Redeemer, subjects the whole man to the influence of holiness; and the affections are turned from the unsatisfying and transitory objects of time, to the unseen realities of another world: hence, Faith becomes the guide of the Believer, Hope his support, and Charity his characteristic; while the well-springs of society are purified by the infusion of the salt of true religion; and the very atmosphere communicated by the preaching of the Gospel imparts moral health, and strength, and power. Mark, how the course of the Gospel has been distinguished by its beneficent results! Wherever the stream of Divine Truth has flowed, the charities of social and domestic life, the awakening of intellect, the growth of civilization, the preference of the social to the individual good, have usually followed; and, where an appearance of fertility has been discovered in regions unvisited by its influence, it has been found to be but the deceitful fruit that bloomed to the eye on the shores of the asphaltic lake; and when no verdure has followed its course, it is because man has endeavoured, by his own poisonous infusions, to counteract the life-giving efficacy of the waters. A light seems to rest upon the Classic annals of Greece and Rome, when no Saviour was named; but, though it shone steadily on Arts and Arms, it was but an earth-born meteor, and reflected not the glories of Heaven: it lit up with gloomy splendor the fanes in which all was immolated to Self, but it afforded no direction to duty, and no views of Immortality. And true it is, that in parts of Christendom a Saviour is named, and yet His religion seems powerless: but it is because, though named, He is unknown; because man interposes his authority between God and his fellow-man, closes the message of Mercy, or perverts its hallowed records, or pollutes, with his own imaginings, the pure and sacred current of Divine Revelation. There are miry places in the prophet's vision, and marshes that are not healed; and of which the awful declaration is pronounced, They shall be given to salt.

This view of the prophet's vision is not, I trust, alien from the purposes that have called us together this evening, or the objects of this Anniversary. We have met to offer our thanksgivings at the Throne of Almighty God, for the manifestation of His favour to our weak and imperfect efforts in His service ; to fix our own attention more firmly on the important duty to which His promises and His commands direct us ; and to join in fervent prayer, that He would excite more and more of a Missionary spirit, pour out His blessings more abundantly on the labours of the Christian Church in the Heathen World, that His ways may be known upon earth, His saving health among all nations ; that He would speedily accomplish the number of His elect ; and gather in His people from the four winds of heaven, that they may be made one fold under one Shepherd. Let us, for a few moments, dwell upon the topics connected with this important subject, and suggested by the emblematic imagery of the prophet's vision.

I. Let us consider THE STATE OF THE HEATHEN WORLD.

That state is represented by Ezekiel under the awful characters of barrenness and desolation, deformity and death : and our increasing knowledge of its situation, furnished by our increasing communication with it, presents to us the vivid and appalling reality of the prophet's scenic representation. Time was, when our ignorance and our presumption peopled the regions of Gentilism with innocence and beauty; and Philosophy, falsely so called, compared, in exulting contrast, the vices that were fostered by nominally-Christian society, with the virtues that seemed to spring spontaneously from the Isles of the Pacific, or among the votaries of Brahmah. Experience has disproved these inferences, and dissipated these visions; has evinced, that unregenerate human nature, whether in civilization or barbarism, is the fruitful parent of impurity and blood; that the dark places of the earth are still, as in the Psalmist's days, full of the habitations of cruelty. If there be no light in these habitations; if the character of God in its holiness and purity, if His Law and its sanctions, if the relations of man to time and to eternity, be not visible in their dwellings, can we wonder that they are full of cruelty? Can we wonder that man, given over to his own devices, should imitate the beings whom he adores; and become, like them, the tyrant of his species, and the slave of his appetites? False religions must generate false standards of right and wrong, and erroneous estimates of morals: and these, whether called into action under the twilight civilization of India or the degraded barbarism of New Zealand, must lead to guilt and misery; to the ferocious despotism of strength, or the more gloomy dominion of artifice; to the Areoy of the Tahitian, or the Suttee of the Hindoo. Let not the observer rest on the bright, but tempestuous, surface of Classic Heathenism; let him survey Idolatry as exhibited in the licentious orgies of the Pacific, the blood-stained triumphs of Brahmah, the ferocious superstitions of Australia: let him see false religion blasting every intellectual struggle, under the lurid influence of the Crescent; severing every social tie on the plains of Hindoostan; and, through the wide extent of its domain, teaching but one absorbing selfishness; separating man from man by the repulsive influence of rivalry, and concentrating in the narrow circuit of self-enjoyment all the energies and feelings that should expand themselves in general advantage:—let him see this, and say, if the prophet's representation be not reflected by the face of society, if its products be not bitterness and disappointment, if its life be not a living death: for, Dear Friends, gloomy as is the prospect, considered with reference to this life, how shall we dare to contemplate it in connection with the next? how shall we raise the veil that Omnipotence has extended over its purposes; and ask, if those who have here passed a period of mingled cruelty and lust, slaves to the most debasing and degrading superstitions, if THEY can be meet for the inheritance of the saints in light?—if those who have changed the truth of God into a lie, outraged His image, and trampled upon His laws, impressed, though faintly impressed, upon their hearts, if THEY can see God? The understanding and the feelings equally recoil from an inquiry, where so much is doubt, and so little is explanation: and, in trusting these hapless beings, who live without hope and without God in the world, to the faithfulness of Him who doeth all things wisely and all things mercifully, they still receive the very beckonings of the darkness that invests their destiny, as an intimation of the paramount duty of those whose Goshen has been illuminated by the light of Divine Truth.

II. But the prophet beheld a GREAT AND SALUTARY CHANGE: the desert, on which he looked, became clothed with verdure, and the sea became animated with life.

It is this which is the pervading and cheering promise of the Gospel; this which gives strength to the exertion, and reality to the hopes, of the Believer: he looks forth upon the world, and sees it to be a desert: he recognises in it a moral ruin: he perceives the baleful influence of him who claims to be its King: to his ear, all creation groaneth and travaileth together in pain, looking for the restoration of dominion to its rightful Lord: and human nature evidences, by its own forgetfulness of God, the extent of its moral degradation. To look for a change from human agency, the believing Christian knows would be vain; and yet he trusts, that it will be accomplished: he knows that it has been said, in the joyous anticipation of Prophecy, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord and of his Christ: and though he now sees them serving another master, living under other laws, and forging for themselves the heavy chains of sin, he remembers who hath said, I beheld Satan like lightning fall from heaven. 'He bethinketh him, that with the Eternal One, a thousand years are but as one day; and, in the full assurance of faith, he walks through this moral wilderness, knowing that it will, at no distant period, blossom like the garden of the Lord; and he rejoices in the approaching triumph of righteousness and peace. He can anticipate the time, more glorious than the dawn of Creation, when the morning-stars sang together, and the sons of God shouted for joy—the time, when the Lord shall reign in righteousness, and His Anointed One in glory—the time, when peace being universal on earth, and good-will being manifested in Salvation, Glory to God in the highest will be the mingled song of the Angels and the Redeemed of God. What a prospect—and how full of blessedness to the Believer—that the period is coming, when sin, in its awful and demoralizing effects, shall cease! when the Saviour, who is precious to him, shall receive due honour in the universe; and the God, who is his own God, and his portion for ever, shall manifest, in extended holiness, His presence and His kingdom! It is this expectation that soothes him in his troubles, strengthens him in his contests, and rewards him in victory: it is this persuasion that enables him to see the arm of the Lord visibly displayed; that animates him to seek to add soldiers to Messiah's army, subjects to the Redeemer's kingdom; and cheers him by the conviction, that, among those who are now despised and contemned, those who are now in ignorance and sin, there may be many, who, influenced by His Spirit, and impressed by His image, may be heirs of His glory, and sharers of His throne.

III. When the mind contemplates this great work, and feels its own weakness, it may well ask, WHO, or WHAT, IS SUFFICIENT FOR THESE THINGS?—And we are not left in uncertainty.

That which man cannot do is possible with God; and the prophet has symbolically described the instrument by which He ordinarily works, in the regeneration of a fallen world. The Scriptures of God, and the preaching of the Gospel which they contain, have ever been found competent to the spiritual conquest of the human heart—to the bringing down of every imagination to the obedience of the Lord Jesus. It is this, which suits itself to the condition of every individual, reflecting from its page the image and character of every reader; this, which pierces through the folds of human pride, till it detects and unmask human weakness; this, which is the rod of God's strength going forth from Zion, and by whose influence He rules even in the midst of His enemies. Is the desert barren? the sacred stream from the Tabernacle conveys fertility and richness. Is the sea polluted? its intermingling waters carry health and life: and this it effects by turning the heart and feelings of the Believer away from time, awakening him from the slumber induced by forgetfulness, and arousing his attention to his real and permanent interests, by dissipating the halo in which this world invests its objects, and thus enabling man to see them in their real form and proportion: this it does, by sobering down the feelings which urge man to sacrifice all for time, and, by removing the fictitious value from the prize, depriving rivalry of all its animosity: this it does, by implanting a principle of sacred love, derived from the knowledge of God's love to man; which unites those as brethren whom human distinctions had made foes; and confers on social duties the chastening influence of religion, the sacred privilege of holiness. Oh! there is more true philosophy, as well as a more heart-exciting motive, in that one appeal, If God so loved us, we ought to love one another, than in all the schemes and devices of sages and politicians! and it has been so experienced: under its influence, the savage learns the lesson of mercy, and the idolater casts his idols to the moles and to the bats: through it, the Hottentot has risen to his social rank and dignity; and the enthralling fetters of Caste have fallen from the Hindoo's mind. It was to this, that the Imperial power of Rome bowed down: and it is by this, that the Mediatorial Throne will be erected over the willing nations of the earth. There is a power, a soul-stirring, and a soul-converting, and a soul-sanctifying power in the simple Gospel, that can effect the greatest conquest ever planned or executed—the conquest over man's enmity to his Maker, his love of the world, his selfishness, and his sinfulness.

IV. A most interesting feature in the vision remains to be considered.—The EFFICACY of the mystical waters is such, that, whithersoever they come, every thing that liveth shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: and it shall come to pass, that the fishers shall stand upon it, from Engedi to En-eglaim; or along the margin of the Dead Sea, from its southern to its northern limit: they shall be a place to spread forth nets; their fish shall be, according to their kinds, exceeding many. What a comment on these words do the parting commands of our Lord present, the Charter of Missionary exertion: Go ye into all the world—teach all nations—preach the Gospel to every creature: and, it is added, They went forth, and preached everywhere; the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. How solemn the sanction! how imperative the duty! how great the reward! It is a command spoken by the Lord from heaven, and spoken to His people: it is the solemn duty of all who feel that they have freely received, as freely to communicate: it is the privilege of His servants to be fellow-workers with God, and to assist in collecting His people from “out of a naughty world.” If we knew the inestimable value of that privilege, if we felt the importance of Salvation, or could see souls as our Redeemer sees them, how would all our feelings and faculties be bent to this glorious, this Christian work! how desirous should we be to spend and be spent for our God! We cannot impart an healing influence to the waters, we cannot breathe over the dead bones and bid them live: but we can invoke the breath of God to come from the four winds of heaven; we can follow the goings-forth of the waters from the Tabernacle; we can gird ourselves as fishers; or can send the servants of God, who may bear that hallowed office, to gather into the Gospel-net those to whom, by the power of that stream, life from the dead may be given. It is no less a part of the Gospel dispensation that these should be collected in, than that the stream is to go forth which is to visit every quarter of the desolated land;—and woe to those who seek to oppose, or who refuse to assist in, the work of the Lord! It can arise, but from an ignorance of duty, or a disinclination to perform it—but from an indifference to the glory and advancement of Messiah's kingdom, or an awful determination to assist the mighty against the Lord.

Let not indifference seek shelter under the cob-web pretext of domestic calls and domestic engagements: the Lord's work must be done, whether its scene is at home or abroad: and it is but a bad preparation for the performance of one duty, to evade or to deny the obligation of another. Then may we hope for a blessing from on high, on our ministrations at home: then may we trust, that His influence will be poured out on our Schools and our Tracts, our prayers and our preaching, when the spirit of our religion expands itself to the full dimensions of the Gospel; acquires its real character of Missionary zeal and Missionary love; seeks to collect into the Missionary net, fish according to their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many ; to sow beside every water ; and to make, not our own Israel only, but every dark and desert place of the earth, blossom and bud, and fill the place of the world with fruit. The harvest will not be less plenteous in our land, because we have sent Labourers to collect it in another : nor will the fire of Christian charity burn with less vigour or brightness here, because its diverging rays warm and enlighten the shores of Africa or India. It is when the earth yields her increase to the Lord, that God, even our own God, will give us His blessing.

Nor let a justification for indifference be found in the tardy progress of the Gospel, or the apparent want of success in Missionary labours : it is not for us to know the times and the seasons that the Father hath put in his own power ; or to determine at what period of the eternal NOW of His existence He may manifest Himself in might. His arm has been sufficiently revealed, to prove that the Lord Omnipotent reigneth : and, while the present is the period of duty, it is a part of that duty to leave futurity with our God. Though the Apostles had toiled the whole night without receiving any advantage from their labours, yet, at the command of Christ, they again cast their nets into the deep, in faith and obedience to His word : and, if we would hear that word, if we would be fishers of men, then no faltering of our faith, no latent infidelity in His promises, no distrust of His will or of His power, should prevent us from seeking to collect into His Church those who are animated by His grace, or from bearing into the moral wilderness of this world the life-giving message of the Gospel.

Reason might demonstrate, that no forms of opinion can be perpetual, except such as are founded upon immutable truth ;—that, when circumstances vary, the systems which they have generated must vary too. Revelation tells us, that the Heathen are given for an inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Messiah's possession ;—that as Greece and her idols have fallen, so will Africa and India, and their idols : and experience, pointing to the measure of success that has been vouchsafed, to the Schools and Missionaries and Converts, to the many who have imbibed, and the many more who are subject to, the influence of the Spirit of the Gospel—experience may demand, whether reason or Revelation could justify us in expecting other or more abundant fruits from the exertions which we have employed.

And oh, my Friends! while, with the prophet, we mark the marshes and miry places that are not healed ; while we look through this world, and notice into how large a portion of it the waters from the Tabernacle do not seem to have flowed ; how frequently they appear to have been checked and turned aside ; and even in countries nominally Christian, how little of their efficacy has been experienced ; what an awful estimate is brought before the mind, of man's indifference to God's commands, and neglect of his perishing fellow-creatures!

It would be neither uninteresting nor unprofitable, did time permit, to inquire into the causes that, to human ken, seem to have originally impeded the progress of the Gospel; and, after consecutive ages of victory and triumph, seem to have forced, of later years, the Cross to remain stationary, or to retrograde. We doubt not, that the same difficulties envelop this question, as the no less interesting one, Why the progress of the Reformed Churches was impeded, when they dared, in the sixteenth century, to assume the privilege of examining the Word of God, and half of Christendom started from its thralldom at the call of spiritual emancipation. We fear that the reply to both questions will be found in the justice of God. When the early Churches, relinquishing the simplicity of the written Word, added to the commandments of God the profanity of man's devices, buried the essentials of the Gospel under an idolatrous heap of rites and ceremonies and interpretations, or subtilized them away by human distinctions—and wasted, in useless or senseless disputations, the zeal and energies that should have been devoted to the service of God—then did their hands become unfit to wield the sword of the Spirit, and they themselves unmeet to communicate the words of life, which they neither understood nor valued; then did the devastating scourge of Islamism become the instrument of the Almighty's wrath over one-half of the Christian world, while the other half was given over to the foul apostacy of the Man of Sin; and then did the cessation of the progress of the Gospel impress Ichabod on the fanes of Christendom. Nor is the case different in degenerate Protestantism. How soon did the internal and angry differences of jarring sects, contending for the badge of party, not the triumph of truth, afford malignant pleasure to their enemies, and inflict on their common faith deep and lamentable wounds! How soon did that common faith seem to languish under the influences of the world; the noble privilege of inquiry to deviate into the pride of human reasoning and the unhallowed boldness of Neological interpretation; while laxity of morals followed relaxation of principle; and the Bible became an useless weapon in his hands who employed his learning but to refine away its doctrines, or to deny its mysteries! In the example of both, let us read an admonition to ourselves: if we would be the successful soldiers of the King of kings, we must wear His garb, and glory in His cause: upon the very vessels of Jerusalem, and upon the bells of the horses, Holiness to the Lord is to be inscribed; and the same motto should be impressed on the banner under which the friends of Missions assemble. To suppose that the cause of God would succeed in the hands of worldly, or indifferent, or self-righteous professors, is to suppose an union between Christ and Belial—is to suppose that the Spirit of the Lord would dwell in Idols' temples—or that God, whose eyes are as a flame of fire, could be ignorant of, or indifferent to, moral character, and would bless with the sacred privilege of bearing His standard those who are devoted to His foes. If we would have the cause of God prosper in our hands, let us not pollute that cause with the interests, the desires, or the devices of the world: let us boldly avow that cause to be ours; and contend for it, not less in striving against the corruptions of the world and the false and chilling systems that surround us, than in combating with the hardness and incredulity of the Heathen to whom we preach: let us seek, in simplicity, to know the mind of the Spirit, how the cause of God should be supported, and by what means its interests should be advanced.

Well, my Brethren, may these motives weigh with us, supremely blessed as we are in the possession of a Church whose pure and Apostolic character reflects the order of primitive Christianity, and whose Formularies breathe the spirit of the Scriptures whose study they would enforce. Well may we shrink under the responsibility of such a privilege, if we do not feel ourselves to be debtors both to Greeks and to Barbarians, both to the wise and to the unwise; and seek to manifest to them the mercy of that God, who hath called us out of darkness into His marvellous light, and hath translated us into the Kingdom of His dear Son. And how deep should be our gratitude, that it has been given to us to see, not One only, but Three Associations of the Members of our Church anxious to prove that they feel the obligation laid upon them, and desirous of rendering their fellow-creatures, the spiritually blind, and spiritually naked, joint partakers of the blessings bestowed upon them by God's mercy. More especially are we, my Friends, called upon for gratitude, that, under the auspices of this Society, our Church first assumed the fulness of the Missionary Character; that a Minister of the Established Church first devoted himself to labour among the Heathen; and that the first attempt was made by them upon the soil of Africa, to repay, by a knowledge of the liberty with which Christ has made His people free, the years of aggravated and bitter suffering to which British cupidity had doomed the natives of that Continent. With what feelings does the mind contemplate the struggles of our Society in that interesting, but hapless, Colony! With what emotions does it survey the brightening of the first gloomy prospect, the Christian and blessed labours of Nylander, and Johnson, and Düring! And how ardently does the prayer arise, that the Lord will again have mercy upon its desolation, pour down His Spirit upon its Labourers, and raise up among them holy and devoted men, who may go forth to bear the torch of Revelation to the darkest recesses of Africa!

But why should I thus proceed? With the progress of our Society you are doubtless acquainted; and for the success with which you have been favoured, you and I would, I trust, return thanks to Almighty God. If He has accompanied your Missionaries and Agents; if He has blessed the word spoken by them to the believing of the hearer; if He has so influenced the hearts of men, that the Foreign proceedings of your Society have received the approbation and called for the fostering care of the Prelates of your Church and the Governors of your Colonies, let the recollection of these things humble you with a sense of your unworthiness, with a remembrance of your long insensibility to the cause of God and of man ; and that, while millions, and the generations of millions, were passing through this world, and falling into eternity, you were going forward in the same world as if they concerned you not—were not children of one common parent, creatures of one common God. Above all, let the recollection of the marshes and miry places rise before you ; exciting you to look, not to what you have done, but to what remains undone ; and to devote more, much more, of your time, your exertions, and your means, to the Evangelization of mankind. When you look over the record of Missionary warfare, and see the roll of that noble army of Martyrs who have given to the Cause of God, their homes, their friends, their families, their countries, and their lives, ask yourselves, What are we, that we should refuse our exertion for the furtherance of these objects, or our prayers to the God of Missions, that He would send down upon them His assisting Grace, or an increased portion of the gifts of Providence, that we may co-operate in His work, and cast into His treasury of what His bounty has supplied ? If there be truth in the promises of God, His work will go forward, whether it has your co-operation or not : The Lord will provide is the motto of every Christian Mission : and, if the threatenings of the Lord be true, the day will come in the which you will lament, not that you have bestowed upon His work so much time, or labour, or money, but that you have so scantily met the demands of Divine Providence, and the exigencies of human-nature.

In fine, my Friends, I would terminate this Address by appealing to your sense of duty, as Members of this Society, and as individuals standing before God. I am well aware, that among the portents of the present inflamed and inflated state of religious society, reproaches, both deep and loud, have been cast upon such benevolent Institutions as this; and that, by one sweeping censure, they have been stigmatized as legal, worldly, and carnal. To me belongs not the duty of refuting such accusations, nor to this place; but it belongs to you, to your daily and hourly walk;—to you it belongs, to shew, that this Society at least, Scriptural in its objects, its tendencies, and its instruments, divests itself, so far as is consistent with its purposes, of a worldly character; that it seeks no patronage but that of the people of God; employs no expedients for advancing its pecuniary means, but such as harmonize with the purity of its designs; that its only aim is the salvation of sinners; and its only instrument, the Gospel of God, preached by its Missionaries. So may its course be marked, through the wilderness of this world, by the moral fertility it produces! so may its fishers stand clustering from Engedi to En-eglaim! and you yourselves, like the trees in the prophet's vision, receiving life from the waters of the Tabernacle, that you may put forth your fruit for meat, and your leaves for the healing of the Nations! and, on each returning Anniversary, while recounting the triumphs of the Gospel, may you say, with mingled humility and joy, Hitherto hath the Lord helped us; here will we place our Ebenezer!

To you, my Friends, whom I now address for the first, perhaps for the last, time; who have listened with so much patience to what a stranger had to say; to you I would declare, and I would impress it on my own mind most deeply, that as there is none other Name given among men whereby we may be saved, but the Name of Jesus Christ, so there is but one way of salvation—by His blood and merits: it is this, which, being spiritually received by the African or the Indian, blots out his transgressions, gives him peace with God, and renders him meet to be partaker of the inheritance of the saints in light; and it is in the same way—sinners even as they, justified even as they, sanctified even as they—that you must enter, if you enter, into the Redeemer's kingdom. He is the Way, the Truth, and the Life; in His blood is the fountain opened in Zion; and by Him only is the highway on which the Redeemed of the Lord may have access to God. Oh, then, let not the Gospel bear pardon, peace, and reconciliation to those who are afar off; and be unheeded or neglected by those who are near! Let not the Missionary and the Bible forsake your shores on the ambassage of Mercy, and leave you behind, unconvinced and unconverted! and, while the workmen in the Lord's field collect His wheat into His garner, may you not be forced to exclaim, The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved! Remember, that there were found, among the builders of the Temple of the Lord, many who did not worship within its sacred portals; and that there may be those who join in erecting His spiritual edifice, who yet are not lively stones for the building. Remember, that among the favoured people were found those, whose offerings were consecrated to the Lord, and were made broad plates for the covering of the altar; while they themselves, sinner against their own souls, were cut off from the congregation of Israel. May your hearts and affections follow your offerings in devotion to the Lord! May His blessing be on you and yours! May the work, in which you are engaged, impress a sanctifying influence upon your own souls! And, while you listen with compassion to the cries of the Heathen World, may you remember, that the Bible which you send to them is profitable for you too, for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; and that, if you reject or undervalue the message of Salvation, as your means of grace have been more abundant than those of others, so more awful will be your condemnation! Be assured, that just in proportion as you love what the Scriptures promise, and seek to do what the Scriptures command, will you be awakened to the obligation of seeking to counteract the evil that surrounds you, will you be enabled to overcome the selfishness of your own nature, and, by your personal endeavours, or by supporting the personal endeavours of others, to diminish that evil, to labour, and not to faint; and by the power of that Cross, on which, when the Redeemer was lifted up, all men were to be drawn to Him—by the power of that Cross, and by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

REPORT OF THE
C O M M I T T E E .

DELIVERED, IN SUBSTANCE, TO THE ANNUAL MEETING,
HELD MAY 5, 1829,
AT FREEMASONS' HALL, GREAT QUEEN STREET.

REPORT,

£c. £c.

THE Committee have great pleasure in submitting to this Meeting an Account of the Society's Labours during its Twenty-ninth Year, accompanied, as they have been, by many manifest tokens of the continued goodness of God.

EXERTIONS OF FRIENDS.

The Committee have the pleasure of stating, that two of the Society's steady and valued Friends, the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Chester, and the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, have accepted the office of Vice-Patrons of the Society.

FUNDS.

The state of the Funds during the past year has been such as to occasion the Committee considerable anxiety. At the close of the Third Quarter, December 31, 1828, the Expenditure of the Society, on the General Account, had exceeded the Receipts on the same account by upward of 6000*l.*, exclusive of 3300*l.* advanced to the Institution Building Fund. Under these circumstances, the Committee deemed it necessary to take measures to reduce the Expenditure of the Society; and, with that view, they passed a Resolution at the beginning of February, limiting the number of Students to be received into the Institution at Islington to Twenty; as the reception and preparation of Students is the seminal principle of expenditure throughout the different Missions; and it is only by limiting the number of Students received, that the Foreign Expenditure can be materially lessened.

The Committee deemed it necessary to lay before the Members a detailed statement of the situation of the Society, and had made some arrangements for that purpose. It was, however, thought more advisable, previously to doing so, again to revise the Expenditure of the Society; and a Committee was appointed for that purpose on the 21st of February last. Their proceedings have not yet been brought to a close.

While these measures were in progress, the Committee had the satisfaction to find, that the Receipts of the Fourth Quarter, terminating March 31, 1829, amounted to upward of 19,000*l*; carrying up the Gross Receipts of the year, on the General Account, to 53,462*l*. 12*s*. 1*d*. For this large and seasonable supply the Committee record their grateful acknowledgments to Him, whose is the earth, and the fulness thereof.

It is requisite, however, to add, that the Expenditure of the Year has amounted to 55,273*l*. 15*s*. 3*d*., including 4400*l*. advanced to the Institution Building Fund, for the completion of the works at Islington; creating an excess of Expenditure over the Receipts, of 1811*l*. 3*s*. 2*d*.

It is also necessary to remark, that the Receipts of the Year include the sum of 2558*l*. under the head of Legacies—a much larger proportion than usual;—and that there is reason to believe that considerable sums have been contributed during the year under the form of Benefactions in aid of the known deficiency in the Funds, the repetition of which, therefore, cannot be calculated on in future years. In connection with this subject, the Committee would remind the Members of the Society, that their continued efforts are necessary to enable it to meet the claims which are pressing on it from almost every scene of its operations.

The sum of 499*l*. 8*s*. 8*d*. has been received in Contributions to the Institution Building Fund.

NEW ASSOCIATIONS.

Seventeen New Associations have been formed during the year.

MISSIONS.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

COLONY OF SIERRA LEONE.

The fatal influence of the climate of Western Africa has been severely felt by the Governors of Sierra Leone, who have followed one another to the grave in rapid succession. Colonel Denham, who was appointed to succeed Sir Neil Campbell, entered on his Government on the 5th of last May, and was carried off by fever on the 9th of June. The Government devolved on Lieutenant-Colonel Hugh Lumley, who himself survived only to the beginning of August; and was succeeded by the King's Advocate, Mr. Smart, who was sworn in as Acting Governor on the 4th of that month, and continued to discharge the duties of the office till the appointment of Major Ricketts to the Government.

The last Report noticed some of the evils which had arisen from the Government Regulations relative to the Schools: and the Missionaries subsequently finding that those evils rather increased than diminished, and that the joint authority delegated to them and the Sub-Managers deprived them of any effectual controul over Schools which they nominally superintended, relinquished the charge; and have, where opportunity occurred, commenced Schools at the expense of the Society, of which they have the entire regulation.

Freetown.

The Rev. J. G. Wilhelm, whose appointment to this Station was noticed in the last Report, officiates at the Mission Chapel at Gibraltar Town, and attends to the Occasional Services at the Station; and the Rev. C. L. F. Haensel and the Rev. T. Davey alternately performed the Sunday Duties at St. George's Church till the beginning of November, when the Rev. W. K. Betts removed from Kent, and undertook this department of labour till the expected arrival of a Chaplain from England. On Mr. and Mrs. Weeks' return home last year, Mrs. Taylor, and the Native Teachers, George Fox and his Wife, were left in charge of the Colonial Schools; but the state of Mrs. Taylor's health rendered it expedient for her, in July, to remove to the Mountain District.* Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, as has been mentioned, have returned to the Colony, to resume their labours in the Schools.

The opening of the new Church at Freetown was noticed in the last Report. At first, the place was crowded to excess; but, at the Spring Quarter, Mr. Haensel writes—

The attendance fell off immediately after, as was to be expected; but it continued very satisfactory, considering all circumstances, being about 600 persons: the number of Black People increased; and the whole together, including the Military, who attended for some time quite regularly, rendered the fitting-up of the galleries necessary.

Freetown has received an immense benefit by the Church being opened. We hear the Church-going bell now every Sabbath; and have, if not a complete, nor showy, yet a decent Place of Worship. I am delighted to see every Sunday a good many benches filled with well-dressed and seemingly-attentive Young Natives, probably of the better class of mechanics, or a step higher; and I earnestly pray that their attendance may be the means of conveying spiritual good to the minds of this, to me, by far the most interesting part of the Congregation.

There were, at that date, only four Communicants, one Black Man and three Women, besides the persons connected with the Society, and the Beadle and his Wife.

At Midsummer, the Missionaries write—

The Congregation has been pretty numerous, from the regular attendance of the School-Children and the Military: it has included a moderate number of Europeans, but the attendance of Young Natives has fallen off.

On Wednesday the 11th instant (June), Divine Service was kept, at the request of their Honours the Chief Justice and the other Commissioners of the Court, previous to the opening of the Quarter Sessions; Br. Haensel reading Prayers, and Br. Davey delivering a Discourse from 1 Sam. ii. 25. The Congregation on that occasion presented the most gratifying sight that has ever come before us in St. George's Church, being composed of a great number of Coloured Men, besides a good many Europeans. This is the first Assize Sermon ever preached in this Colony, within our knowledge.

* Her health has since improved, and she has been married to the Rev. W. K. Betts.

The attendance on Divine Service declined as the rainy season advanced, and the Military ceased to attend. On this circumstance the Missionaries remark :—

We cannot but regret, that if the regiment could not attend regularly, they should ever have attended at all. There can be little doubt but their attending has prevented the Church from being frequented by the Black Population. Sometimes a tolerable number of the latter had taken their seats on the benches; when the Military coming in, their seats were crowded to excess; and that part of the Church became very uncomfortable for attentive hearers, from the frequent irreverent moving about of the Soldiers, which was not checked, as it ought to have been, by their superiors.

At Michaelmas, they write—

The return of fine weather seems to collect our Congregation again. We had 20 or more Europeans on the last three Sundays, and an increasing number of the Young Men who have been mentioned in former Reports.

In the Annual Report it is stated, that, since the setting in of the dry season, the Congregation has consisted of about 300 persons. The Lord's Supper has been attended by from six to eight individuals.

Divine Service has been regularly performed at the Chapel in Gibraltar Town; twice on the Lord's Day, and on one evening in the week. The average attendance on the Sunday Morning has been 70; on the Evening, 20; and on the Week Evening, 15. There are 16 Communicants.

The Committee have waited with considerable anxiety for the appointment of a Chaplain to Free-town, an event which will relieve the Missionaries from numerous hindrances to their more direct labours. On this subject they remark—

We fervently pray that God may speedily supply the place which we now so imperfectly fill, by sending a Minister to this Parish, endowed by Him with heavenly gifts for the immense work which is to be done. We should now be able to resign to him our functions, with far brighter prospects of usefulness than could have been done for a long time past; and our hearts would rejoice if a rich harvest were, at last, gathered from labours for so many years bestowed on this part of the Lord's vineyard.

On the return of Mr. and Mrs. Weeks to England, at the beginning of February, the COLONIAL SCHOOLS, which had been divided into Eastern and Western, were re-united; the Boys' School being placed under the care of George Fox, and the Girls' under Mrs. Taylor and Sarah Fox, till Mrs. Taylor's removal to Bathurst in July.

According to the Returns given in the Annual Report, the Schools contain 474 Scholars of both sexes; but the average attendance does not appear to exceed 375. In reference to the claims of the Schools on their time, and the attention which they are able to give to them, the Missionaries write—

We endeavour, with due consideration to the claims of other parts of the Colony, to assign to them the best opportunities of improvement in our power; but we must express our conviction, that our efforts cannot supply the wants of the superior classes of the Coloured Population.

On this subject they further write :—

There is a considerable number of parents who have a desire to obtain for their children an education superior to what can be expected from seminaries opened expressly for the benefit of every class of the community without exception. Those parents could afford to pay for such an education in the Colony; though they may not have the means, neither can make up their minds, to send their children to England for this purpose. Respectable Boarding-Schools for both sexes are, therefore, very greatly wanted, to raise the standard of education among the Natives of the Colony; and the Missionaries earnestly wish that means may be found to supply this essential want: while, at the same time, they think it evident that it is out of the province of their Society to do more than give every encouragement to, without identifying themselves with, any attempts that may be made towards that end.

CHRISTIAN INSTITUTION.

The Christian Institution at Fourah Bay, under Mr. Haensel's care, counted Four Students at the close of last year; two of whom have been dismissed for want of qualifications. Five have been admitted, of whom one has since been excluded.

The senior Student has, with the cordial concurrence of the Missionaries, been appointed Assistant to the Superintendant of the Institution: and, taking him out of the list of Students, there remains a number of Six under instruction; whose general deportment is satisfactory, and, with their progress in learning, varying considerably according to their abilities and previous opportunities of improvement, gives hope of their eventually proving useful Assistants to the Missionaries, if not in the higher, yet in the inferior situations which the state of the Mission presents.

In his Report of the Institution, Mr. Haensel writes—

The Tutor of these Youths wishes to impress himself and his Fellow-Labourers in the Mission deeply with this truth, that his labours, if faithfully performed and accompanied with the ordinary blessings of God's providence, may indeed be reasonably expected to furnish a supply of tolerably qualified Schoolmasters: but God's special blessing alone, in the course of an humble and diligent attention to those inferior duties to which they shall be appointed on having finished their course of instruction, can ever make a Native Teacher.

RIVER DISTRICT.

The division of the labours of this District, between the Rev. G. W. E. Metzger and the Rev. J. Gerber, was noticed in the last Report. Mr. Metzger was stationed at Wellington, and Mr. Gerber resided at Waterloo; but the situation proving unfavourable to his and Mrs. Gerber's health, they removed in November to Hastings. The Native Teachers assisting the Missionaries in this District, are, David Noah and William Tamba; David Noah residing at Waterloo, and William Tamba at Wellington.

As the Settlements of Calmont and Allen's Town, which are situated in this District, contain no persons admitted to the Church, it was Resolved, at a Special Meeting of the Missionaries in November, that they should be considered no further under the charge of the Mission, than as the Clergymen who have the care of the District^s may find compatible with the performance of their duty to the other Stations entrusted to their care.

Kissey.

Of this Station Mr. Metzger reports at Midsummer—

The Rev. C. L. F. Haensel has kindly performed, alternately with me, Divine Service on the Sunday Forenoons. Thus the people have had the preaching of the Word amongst them, by a European, every Sunday: but I am sorry to state, that there does not attend a greater number of hearers, exclusive of Children, than about 168 in the Forenoon. In an Afternoon, they have Prayer-Meetings among themselves, and are occasionally visited by Br. Haensel or me.

Every day they keep early Morning Prayer-Meetings; and, whenever they are able to purchase Palm-oil by Collections, which they gather among themselves, they hold Evening Prayer-Meetings too, to which the Schoolmaster attends. They were able to purchase Palm-oil for Evening Services nearly during the whole of the last three months.

The number of Communicants is 64. I had the painful duty of excluding Five, during the Quarter, for falling into sin. Those on trial as Candidates for Baptism are the same as stated last Quarter; in number, 16.

I find much difficulty in ascertaining the sincerity of these people, as I do not reside on the Station; and have, in consequence, appointed a Communicant of Wellington to meet them every Sunday Morning, after Divine Service, for the purpose of examining and instructing them.

At Michaelmas he writes—

Divine Service has been much better attended during the Quarter, and the people seem much more serious at Church than they formerly were: about 250 Adults and 50 Children attend in the Forenoons, and about half the number in the Afternoons, of Sunday. On Tuesday Evening, on an average, 75 Adults and 30 Children attended. The Communicant from Wellington, Corporal in the late 4th W. I. Reg., has continued his services: he considers it his duty to attend to the cause of God; and does not mind a walk to Kissey, for the sake of doing good, without payment. Not being a novice in Christian experience, he renders me much assistance.

Every Tuesday and Saturday Night, after the General Prayer-Meeting, the Communicants meet amongst themselves for religious edification: the Females on Tuesday, and the Males on Saturday.

I had the happiness to admit to holy Baptism a number of those who were on trial, after strict examination, last Sunday, in Kissey Church, in the presence of their chosen Witnesses, and, after a public re-examination, 15 Males and 7 Females. Our late Br. Nylander had not to see much of the fruit of his labours, but I think I am now reaping some of the seed that he has sown. One of the Communicants told me, the other day, to this effect—"I do not know what the matter is: this time, every body, young and old, begin to fear: there seems to be an impression on the minds of very many, that they must pray to God or they are lost."

The number of Communicants at Michaelmas was 85, and at Christmas 116: the attendance at Public Worship on the Sunday was about 350 in the Morning, and 200 in the Afternoon: and the Tuesday Evening Service was attended, on an average, by 90 persons; and the Daily Morning and Evening Prayers by 70.

Wellington.

The want of a suitable place of Public Worship has long been felt at this Settlement; the people having only a grass hut in which they can assemble for that purpose. At the Spring Quarter, Mr. Metzger reports—

I am happy to say, the work of the Lord is gradually gaining more ground amongst my people. There have been added to the Church of Christ, during the last Quarter, 23 Females, chiefly of the Accoo Nation. After a long course of trial and instruction as to the grand truths of our religion and to practical Christianity, they were admitted to holy Baptism. Of the Communicants mentioned in my last Report, three have been excluded from the Lord's Supper.

In June, Mr. Metzger writes—

This Station is still destitute of a proper Place of Worship, although very deserving a better one: the number of attendants on Divine Service, both on Sundays and Week-days, are the same as stated at the close of the last Quarter. The number of Communicants at the close of this Quarter is 150. I am happy to state, there are on trial, at present, 47 Adults, some of whom are of 9, 8, 6, and 3 months' standing.

At Michaelmas, he states—

I am happy to say, that the attendance on the Means of Grace has not diminished. Our miserable Grass-house is completely full on a Sunday Morning. On a Sunday Afternoon and Thursday Evening a good number attend. We have Daily, Morning, and Evening Prayer-Meetings in the Church. The people continue to provide their own Palm-oil, for both the Evening Meetings, and for those which are kept amongst the Communicants.

During the Quarter, I have baptized 19 Male and 16 Female Adults, whom I have reason to believe sincere. The number of Communicants is 191—Males 67, Females 124: the increase was occasioned by those who were baptized; and by some backsliders who returned, repenting of their sins. One died in the Lord: she had been indisposed for some time; and, early in the morning on which she died, after having attended Morning Prayer-meeting in the Place of Worship, she retired to the chamber of her dwelling, and was there found dead by her Husband, upon her knees, in a praying posture.

At Christmas, the Members attending on a Sunday Morning were 460; and in the Afternoon, 260. 100 generally are present at the Week-day Services; and 50 at Daily, Morning, and Evening Prayers.

Hastings.

While Mr. Gerber resided at Waterloo, he visited this Settlement every alternate Sunday in the Afternoon, for the purpose of celebrating Divine Service; and administered the Lord's Supper once in the Quarter. When he did not attend, William Tamba assembled the people together, and conducted the Service. In reference to Tamba's labours, Mr. Gerber remarks—

He has, by the blessing of God, become very useful among the people in this place, and has gained their affection. The greater part of the Members of the Church are discharged Soldiers from the 4th W. I. Reg. This regiment is remarkable; for wherever these Soldiers are settled in the Villages, there is a great love for religion manifested among them, which is not observable among the Soldiers of the other regiments.

At Midsummer he reports—

I have continued to visit this Village on alternate Sundays; and have, from these visits, derived many blessings to my own soul. The people generally come to the Place of Divine Worship before the bell calls them. I have baptized 10 Adults. The Communicants are 31: they walk consistently.

At Christmas, the following account is given of this Station—

This Settlement is now to become the residence of a Clergyman. 250 persons attend on Sunday Forenoon; 90 on the two Week-day Evening Services; and about 40 at Daily Morning Prayers. The Communicants, 38 in number, meet once a-week, Males and Females separately; as also do the Candidates for Baptism. Frequent Private-Prayer Meetings are held in the houses of the Communicants or Candidates. The people are very desirous after stated Religious Instruction, and manifest their sense of its advantages by devout attendance on Divine Service.

Waterloo.

The Rev. John Gerber was prevented, by illness, from entering on his duties at Waterloo till the middle of January: since that time, till his removal to Hastings in November, he resided at this Settlement. Divine Service has been performed twice on the Sunday, and on Wednesday and Friday Evenings; from 150 to 200 persons attending the Morning Service, but very few on other occasions. At Michaelmas, there were 10 Communicants. The state of the Settlement is described in the following extracts from Mr. Gerber's communications. In March he writes—

The disposition of the people, in general, gives me but little to say in their favour: from what I have seen, since residing here, I am obliged to state, that there is but little difference between them and the inhabitants of a Timmanee or Sherbro' Village, except in clothing; for drumming and dancing, with all the country-fashions, begin with the night, as in the Native Villages in the country; and these things are allowed.

On another occasion, he observes—

The spiritual state of the inhabitants of this place appears to be still the same as reported last Quarter. Although the attendants on Divine Service have in the week-days somewhat increased, still I cannot as yet observe any alteration in their conduct. When I hear the noise of the people, occasioned by a Juggler who regularly comes to play his tricks every Saturday Evening, and which lasts till nearly break of day—where a great number of people, old and young, are engaged all night, who afterwards sleep during the day, and are not to be seen at the place of Divine Worship—I am often much annoyed, which renders me nearly unfit for the performance of my duties on the Lord's Day.

He adds, in July—

This Village is as yet, I may almost say, wholly given to Idolatry! Wooden-god makers, and worshippers of these gods made in the likeness of a human figure, are, in great numbers, in the houses of this town. Next to these are the Greegree People; and, after them, there are upward of 100 Mahomedans residing here, who endeavour to make proselytes, and not unfrequently succeed.

Of the District he says, generally—

I am much surprised to see the great alteration which has taken place, within the last year, in the conduct of the Liberated Africans respecting the Sabbath Day. Before I left the Colony for Europe, I seldom found any at work on that day; but, since my return, in attending every other Sunday at Hastings, there has not been one Sabbath Day on which I have not met, in my way, with people at work—washing clothes, carrying loads, &c. They appear like persons who had been long confined, and had unexpectedly received their liberty. Such things we may expect in Heathen Countries; but it is painful indeed to witness them in a British Colony.

At Michaelmas, Mr. Gerber notices some degree of improvement. He writes—

In the latter part of this Quarter, I am happy to state to have observed a small increase of attendants on Divine Worship, both on Sundays and on Week-day Evenings.

One Man and two Women have been received on trial for Baptism. One Man, mentioned in my last Report as on trial, has, during the Quarter, been baptized and admitted to the Membership of Christ's Church. Of the sincerity of this man I have some pleasing proofs:—Visiting, one evening, a Meeting held in the house of one of the Communicants, I met a boy about 15 years of age: I asked him the reason of his coming there; to which he replied, "He had got a soul to save." On asking who had told him so, he said, "His master did every evening read with him in the Bible, and teach him so." This man's Wife is one of the women mentioned as on trial for Baptism.

At Christmas, the numbers attending Public Worship on Sunday Morning were 300; and in the Afternoon, 100: about 80 attend the Week-day Evening Service, and 60 the Daily Morning Prayers. There were at that time 12 Communicants. In the Annual Report it is stated—

A visible change has taken place; many manifesting a desire to hear the Word of God, though the greater part of the population are regardless of all that is Divine. The Lord's Day wears the appearance of a sacred season within the Settlement; but there is a good deal of profanation outside, at a little distance.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT.

The Rev. Thomas Davey continues to have the charge of this District, residing at Bathurst, where Mrs. Davey conducts a Native Girls' School, and Mrs. Heighway and Mrs. Taylor an Infants' School. Mr. Edmund Boston, Catechist, resides at Gloucester, sharing the duties of the District with Mr.

Davey; John Attara at Regent; and William Neville assists Mr. Davey at Bathurst.

Leicester.

Divine Service is generally performed once on the Sunday, and is attended by about 60 persons: and at Michaelmas it is reported, that Evening Service in the week had been commenced, at which 40 attend. There were 8 Communicants, who meet once a-week. The Children of the Settlement attend School at Gloucester, and are anxious to learn.

Gloucester.

Mr. Boston commenced his residence here in June; and has subsequently been married to the Sister of Mrs. Metzger, who has been for some time accustomed to the instruction of children, and, it is hoped, will prove an useful Assistant in the management of the School. Previous to Mr. Boston's removal to this Settlement, it furnished melancholy evidence of the want of a resident Teacher. Mr. Davey stated at Midsummer, that the people had very much fallen back into their Heathen practices; that the drum, the dance, and the gun, were almost constantly to be heard; and that he was compelled to speak doubtfully of several of the Communicants. There is reason to hope that Mr. Boston's residence among them will be the means of removing some of the prevailing evils. At Michaelmas he makes the following Report:—

After I became settled in my new habitation, I made an effort to visit all the people at their houses, which had the effect of bringing a considerable number of them to the House of God; but ere a month had elapsed, they again absented themselves: but at the end of the Quarter, I am happy to report that I witness a different spirit. Some who have long neglected the means of Grace, begin regularly to attend them; and others appear more diligent in the work of their salvation. The Congregation on the Sabbath Morning has greatly increased; the average is 220. The Afternoon Service is attended by 160; and in the Evening, when I give an exhortation in my own house, about 50 are present. Morning and Evening Prayers are conducted in the Church: at the former 50, and at the latter 40, attend.

Four of the most experienced of the Communicants watch over the others, and report their conduct to me: this plan I have found truly beneficial, for it enables me to be more acquainted with their walk and conversation. Several, whose lives were inconsistent with their profession, have been removed from the list of Communicants; and the number at present is 70.

This beneficial change in the conduct of the inhabitants is noticed by the Missionaries in their Report; in which they state, that the people appear to value the means of Grace much more than formerly; and that some, there is reason to hope, are profiting by them. The attendance at Public Worship is, on Sunday Morning, about 220; and on Week-days, 60.

The experience of the benefits of the Infants' School at Bathurst has led to the introduction of a similar one at Gloucester: and of this and another School which has been formed at this Settlement, Mr. Boston gives the following account:—

The progress of the Children is satisfactory, and they appear to be highly delighted with the plan: the Morning is exclusively devoted to this system. The number on the books is 142, with an average attendance of 122. In the Afternoon, the Schoolmaster takes charge of about 60 of the most forward of the Children: of these, 12 read the Old Testament fluently: the others are in "Our Saviour's Discourses," and Mrs. Kilham's Tract No. 3, Part I.

A Sunday School has been recently opened, for the reception of Apprentice Boys; of whom 35 attend. I anticipate much usefulness from this part of my labours; for it not only affords means of instruction to those who are not able to attend on the Week-day, but it is the means of bringing them to Church.

Four of the best-informed among the people assist in this School, but "without money;" for I think it important to inculcate the precept—Freely ye have received; freely give.

The improved state of Gloucester, since Mr. Boston's removal thither, is thus noticed by Mr. Davey at Michaelmas—

The effects of Br. Boston's removal here, and of his exertions among the inhabitants, are so visible, that the most careless observer must notice the difference. I must confess, that I at first doubted whether the increased attendance on the means of Grace would continue any longer than the novelty lasted; but I rejoice to say that the number continues to increase, and that a marked attention may be observed in them: I trust it will long continue, and that much fruit will be found to arise from the seed which has been sown.

Regent.

Mr. Davey visits Regent as often as his numerous engagements in other directions permit; performing Divine Service there on an average four or five times in the Quarter, and administering the Lord's Supper once. The Sunday Services, and those in the Morning and Evening, were conducted by David Noah till his removal to Waterloo in November. Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, on their arrival in the Colony, were stationed at Regent, for the purpose of conducting an Infants' School.

Mr. Davey gave an affecting view, in his Reports in March and June, of the neglect of the means of Grace which prevailed among the people, and of the inconsistent conduct of many who came to the Lord's Table. This latter evil arose from the want of that Pastoral Superintendence which it is utterly impossible for a single individual to exercise throughout the District; but it has in some degree been removed by the appointment of one person to overlook every Twenty or Thirty Communicants. In September, Mr. Davey's account is more favourable: he says—

With respect to the people generally of this place, I can report more favourably than I could do last Quarter: many of them appear more attentive to the means of Grace than they were. The Congregations on Sunday Mornings have averaged about 300: in the Afternoons, about half that number: and on Week-days, about 100. I have administered the Lord's Supper once; baptized one Adult and ten Infants; received one Backslider into the Church, who appeared penitent; and married 15 couples. There are several persons making inquiries about the salvation of their souls, who will shortly be received as Candidates for Christian Baptism. The number of Communicants on the list is 248, who have been regular in their Weekly Meetings; and I think the benefits of this plan already appear. David Noah has visited most of them in these Meetings.

At Christmas, the Missionaries make the following Report of this Station:—

300 attend on Sunday Morning; 100 on Week-days; Communicants 244. A large increase in the number of Communicants appears, when compared with the statement of last year. This has arisen from the circumstance of a number of persons, who were admitted to Church privileges years ago, but grew remiss and neglected the means of Grace, being stirred up, during this year, to claim the same privileges, from the enjoyment of which they never were regularly excluded. A great increase in attention and regard towards the means of Grace has taken place during the last four months. Weekly Prayer-Meetings are held by the Communicants and by the Candidates. The Mission has opened a School here in the Society's Premises; while Government continues the School it used to keep before; and 57 Children are under instruction.

Bathurst.

Although this Settlement has the benefit of a resident Missionary, the inhabitants do not appear to have profited in proportion to their advantages, and there is reason to lament their general unconcern for the salvation of their souls. The average number attending Divine Service on Sundays is 250, including children: about 120 are present at the Thursday-Evening Lecture; and about 180 at Daily Morning Prayers. At Christmas there were 6 Communicants: Mr. Davey had baptized 17 Infants during the Michaelmas Quarter. The Communicants of this place and Charlotte have a Prayer-Meeting every Tuesday; and it is mentioned in the Report, that, in the Quarter ending at Christmas, a manifest change had taken place in the regard shewn to the means of Grace.

An Adult Evening school was kept by Mr. Boston while he remained at Bathurst; and since his removal to Gloucester, has been continued by John Attara: the number of Scholars is 14.

Mrs. Taylor, whose removal from Freetown to this district, for the benefit of her health, has been noticed, assisted Mrs. Heighway, till her marriage with Mr. Betts, in conducting the Infants' School; of which Mr. Davey, at Michaelmas, makes the following Report:—

The attendance of the Infant School has been augmented by the Liberated African Boys, and by the Children born in the Colony residing at Charlotte: the total number on the books is 124, out of which there has been an average attendance of 116. Some deficiency has been experienced in consequence of many of the Children having had the measles. Their progress is both satisfactory and encouraging.

A Sunday School has been established, for Apprentices especially; which contains 53 Scholars of that description, and 12 Adults.

Charlotte.

William Davis, a Native Teacher, noticed in the last Report as having the care of this Settlement, has been removed from his connection with the Society; and it does not appear, from recent accounts, that any one has been appointed to succeed him. Very few of the inhabitants attend Church, either at Bathurst on Sunday Mornings, or at their own Village in the Afternoons. At Michaelmas, Mr. Davey states—

About 26 of the Liberated African Boys have attended the Infants' School at Bathurst: with the progress of many of them I have been much pleased; and I trust, that as they are very partial to the School (coming very often an hour before it commences), they will receive lasting benefit from attending it. The Children born in the Colony, residing at this Village, have also attended the Bathurst Infants' School: the heavy rains and the measles have prevented their attendance being so regular as we anticipate it will be in future: it is pleasing, however, to report, that an average of 29 have attended.

The following view of this Settlement is given by the Missionaries, in their Annual Report—

Charlotte is so near to Bathurst, that the inhabitants might very well attend Divine Service there, had they a desire after spiritual things: but they shew nothing like pious feeling, or even a regard to morality, the Communicants excepted; and the Sabbath is sadly profaned. The attendance on the Sunday Services is about 40; Communicants 3. The Children of this place attend School at Bathurst; but, as the parents are not anxious about the instruction of their children, the attendance is irregular.

The following Extract, from the West-African Report, will be read with feelings of considerable regret:—

The Minister of the Mountain Villages notices—and the same remark is made by the Minister in charge of the River District—the apparent very rapid spread of Mohamedanism in his District within the last twelve months. The emissaries of the False Prophet have manifest advantages over the Teachers of Christ's religion in this Colony, the latter having so few Natives to support them. Their number is considerable; they can undergo fatigue which would be fatal to a European life; they need no conveyance for travelling from place to place; and they recommend a religion requiring chiefly an outward change without an inward, and opening the door to carnal enjoyment rather than condemning it.

SEA DISTRICT.

The Rev. William K. Betts continued to superintend this district, assisted by William Neville, a Native Teacher, till Christmas; when the pressing want of Labourers to meet the demands of the Mission compelled the Missionaries to relinquish it.

York.

Mr. Betts has visited York at such seasons as he has been able; and the state of the inhabitants shews how much they need the attention of one whose whole time could be devoted to them. The Sunday is profaned by a very large proportion of the people; and but little attention appears to be paid to the Missionary when he visits them. Of their general character Mr. Betts remarks, at Michaelmas—

The people are, in general, regardless of the Sabbath and their souls; nor am I sanguine in hoping that much improvement will take place in their spiritual condition, till they can have the advantage of Pastoral Visits at their houses; which appears to me the most likely means, by far, of drawing the minds of the Africans, generally, to reflect on those things which are unseen and eternal.

In this state of things, it is a subject of gratitude that there is a large and interesting Congregation, chiefly consisting of those baptized Africans who have formed themselves into a body under the superintendence of their Class Leaders, after the method of the Wesleyans. These Leaders exercise a laudable watchfulness over the conduct of the Members of their respective Classes.

Of these, Mr. Betts writes—

That select body of professing Christians in this town, mentioned in former Reports, still conduct themselves in a praiseworthy manner; and I hope that many of them are seeking the Kingdom of God in truth, though they need to have the way of the Lord expounded unto them more perfectly. One of the most devoted of these people has been stirring up the minds of the inhabitants to meet the expense of a substantial Stone Church, and it is probable that he will succeed: the building used as a Church has fallen down.

The state of this Settlement is thus noticed in ~~that~~ Report:—

An attendance of 200 has generally been obtained on Sunday Mornings, and of 150 in the Afternoon; the Communicants are 82. The grass hut, formerly used for Divine Service, having fallen in, Public Worship has been performed in the Government School-Room; which, however, will not contain one-fourth of the population. The people have met on week-days in a place of Worship belonging to them.

Kent.

Mr. Betts, who resided at this Settlement till November, when it was relinquished, found the evil effects on the Congregation, from the want of a Teacher between the time of Mr. Gerber's departure and his own arrival: and the inconsistency of their conduct with their profession, led him to exclude many of the former Communicants from the Lord's Table. At Lady-Day he makes the following Report—

While truth demands that I should speak unfavourably of the state of the Professors of Religion at this place, yet it affords me pleasure to be able to say, that the attendance on the means of Grace, on the part of the inhabitants in general, is encouraging.

At his Midsummer Report, Mr. Betts writes—

Divine Service has been performed three times on the Sunday, with very few exceptions. The first of these Services was formerly the Six-o'clock public Morning Prayer; but the number increasing in attendance on that occasion, I have, in addition to reading a chapter and Prayers, generally preached. The attendance at the place of Worship on the other parts of the day has not decreased. There have been two Children baptized, after much instruction and exhortation given to the parents and sponsors; and 12 couples have been married.

The Missionaries give the following account of this Station, previous to its being relinquished in November—

Kent was the residence of a Clergyman, from the beginning of the year; and of a Native Teacher since the month of April: both of whose services were withdrawn, as before noticed, in November last. Up to that time, there was an attendance at Divine Service, on Sunday Morning, of 250; Afternoon, 150; on Week-days, of about 70: Communicants, 17. Some of the people were attentive, and appeared to value their religious opportunities, but the majority were careless: the attention and apparent seriousness of those attending on week-days was pleasing. A Private Meeting for reading the Scriptures and Prayer was held in the house of one of the inhabitants, which was well attended, and promised to be beneficial. About 9s. 4d. a-quarter were subscribed for Palm Oil, to light the Church. A Day-school was kept here by the Clergyman and his Assistant, which counted 55 Children, most of them very young; and the parents seemed to value the benefit conferred on them.

Bananas.

Mr. Betts and William Neville have occasionally visited the Bananas, and held Divine Service in the lower apartment of the Government House; when scarcely ever more than 50 persons, and frequently a smaller number, attended. This, considering their want of a resident Religious Instructor, is not much to be wondered at, when it is remembered that for some years the Bananas was the place of Transportation for such characters as were found too disorderly and unmanageable to be suffered to remain in the Villages on the main land.

In their Report, the Missionaries state—

There appeared but little regard to the Means of Grace, and the place contained no Members of the Church.

The Rev. W. K. Betts having been appointed, as has been already stated, to the charge of St. George's, Freetown, and the Services of the Native Teacher, who had assisted him in the Sea District, having been transferred to that of the Mountain, the Sea District, comprehending the Stations of York, Kent, and the Bananas, is left without any provision for Religious Instruction. Some other Stations have also, in consequence of the want of adequate means of instruction, been abandoned; and in reference to these, the Missionaries write—

We have felt, that it can answer no end to keep names of places on our List of Stations, where no Church-Members reside, and to which we cannot extend our Religious services without injury to Congregations which present stronger calls for them; more especially as we have not succeeded in obtaining authority from the Colonial Government to call upon the Schoolmasters for the performance of Religious services, which might have been a help towards securing the outward decencies of Religion, at least on the Lord's Day. Grassfield, Allen's Town, and Calmont, therefore, appear no longer among the Stations which we occupy; nor do we mention Wilberforce and Sandbeach among them, though they were visited during the greater part of the year.

The Missionaries conclude their Report with the following remark on the importance of a Christian temper in those who are engaged in the promotion of that Kingdom which is righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. They write—

We all feel a need of that gentle, persuasive, spiritual strain, which ought to pervade the whole life of a Religious Teacher. It is too often interrupted by the hurry and the multiplicity of our engagements; by the impatience which the ignorance, the waywardness, and, in many instances, the duplicity of the people with whom we have to do, often excite; and by that irritability which seems to be the general effect of this climate upon the mind clogged with a European constitution. Most fervently, therefore, would we pray for a larger effusion of the Divine Spirit of love into our own hearts, that we may more entirely exhibit, by our example before our Congregations, the loveliness and blessedness of obedience to Christ's precepts: we know, that God's purposes of mercy towards men of all kindreds and tongues will be fulfilled; and we would still hope that instruments so weak as we know ourselves to be, will be made use of by Him, to the promotion of His glory in this part of the world.

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

Malta.

THE return of the Rev. William Jowett, with his Family, on his second visit to England, from Malta, has been already noticed: during his absence, the direction of the Society's affairs devolves on Mr. Schlienz. Mr. Koelner, who has for some time been occupied as a Printer, is about to proceed to Germany, to prepare for future labour as a Missionary; and Mr. Kitto, on account of his want of health, and other circumstances, has relinquished his connection with the Society. Mr. Brenner, whose departure was noticed in the last Report, arrived at Malta on the 21st of May; and Mr. Weiss, a Printer, left London, as has been already stated, on the 10th of December.

Phares Shidiak, who had for some time assisted both Mr. Schlienz and the American Missionaries in the department of Translation into Arabic, has, from the failure of his health, retired to Egypt.

Mr. Jowett, on his return, gave the Committee the following view of Missions in the Mediterranean, and of his own more immediate course of labour:—

In 1815, when he first went out, there was not a single Missionary in the Mediterranean: in 1820, when he returned to England with his Family, there were Six. In 1828, on his present second return, he left Thirty, who are the accredited servants of various Missionary, Bible, and Jew Societies: besides Wives and Children. There have been, in all, since 1815, Forty-eight; of the Eighteen which make the difference, Nine are deceased; and Nine have been either removed to other Stations, or have quitted the field.

A peculiar characteristic of this band of Missionaries was, that it was furnished from the three principal sections of the Protestant part of the world—from Germany, the birth-place of the Reformation; from Britain; and from America: they had commenced their work in a spirit of good harmony and good understanding; and there appeared to be among them, generally, a simple desire to draw their principles and their measures from the Bible.

The operations of the Press might be briefly stated thus:—If the Armenian Types were counted as in operation, which Mr. Jowett believed they were by this time in the hands of the American Missionaries in Malta—and if to them were added the Ethiopic and Amharic Types which were on the point of being sent out by this Society to Malta—there will then have been brought into actual operation the following Nine Languages in six years, by different Societies in the Mediterranean; namely, Italian, Greek, Arabic, Maltese, Turkish, Armenian, Ethiopic, Amharic, and Albanian: of which, the first four have been printed in by the Church Missionary Society. A Tenth, the Spanish-Hebrew, might be expected, ere long, to be likewise in active operation.

His own occupations in the Society's service had been four-fold:—

1. He had continued the work of Christian Research, by visiting Syria and Jerusalem: the result of which visit had been given to the public, in a Second Volume of "Researches."

2. The establishment of a Printing Press, in Malta, was another business which had been specially charged upon him, during the period of his last residence in Malta.

3. He had continued to prosecute the cultivation of the Maltese Language, and the Translation into it of the Holy Scriptures.

4. He had, further, been engaged in receiving, and forwarding on their way, the Missionaries sent by the Society into the Mediterranean, and in maintaining correspondence with them at their respective Stations.

The openings for Missionary Usefulness in the Mediterranean had always increased, in proportion as faithful Missionaries have been sent to prepare the way of the Lord. At the present awful period, the Lord appears to be, in a very signal manner, Himself preparing the way for the spreading of His Gospel—shaking the nations with wars and alarms—and putting to confusion, by exposing to public view, the errors, superstitions, and crimes, which have been established by custom and by law, during many centuries. It would be impossible to calculate the myriads now in the Mediterranean who are utterly discontented with things as they are, and equally ignorant how they ought to be. Such a state of general excitement must be regarded as a peculiar call on Missionaries to be calm, decided, and single-eyed—simply to do the work of Him that hath sent them—referring all their fears and hopes, as to the result, to His infinite wisdom, power, and love.

Mr. Jowett is employed, during his stay in this country, in carrying through the press a Translation of the Four Gospels into Maltese.

Of the proceedings of the Press, Mr. Schlienzen writes in May—

The Office is prepared for the discharge of a good deal of labour: this will, at present, be chiefly in Arabic. I shall, however, endeavour to do something in Amharic also. We have in the Press a Re-print, in Greek, of the short History of the First Three Centuries of the Church of Christ, out of some part of the “Philanthropos.” Mr. Brenner yields important help, in taking a share of the correction of the proof-sheets.

The “Philanthropos,” a periodical work by Mr. Jowett, now completed for a year, is much sought for; and will be resumed on his return.

Mr. Schlienzen has under preparation, an Introduction to the Gospels; and Arabic Proverbs, with explanations from Scripture: and preparations are making to print Elementary Books in Amharic. The New Testament, in Amharic and Ethiopic, is making progress under the charge of the Bible Society.

Of the Languages, the study of which it is most desirable to promote, Mr. Schlienzen makes the following remarks:—

In our labours, we must not only look for the re-establishing and edifying of degraded Oriental Churches, by conveying to them general means of Religious Instruction; and for the education of their neglected Youth, by the compilation of Elementary Works and School Books—but also, and most particularly, for the education of Young Ecclesiastics among them, by procuring to them the means of acquiring sound Scriptural Knowledge, in works that bear a peculiar reference to the Original Languages of the Holy Scriptures. The course which will render this study most easy, pleasant, and useful, is to begin with the Hebrew, which will lead to Arabic and Ethiopic. Being once roused to the study of the New Testament, the acquisition of whose original language the Orientalist must find considerably harder than that of the Old, how wonderful will be the effects, which such a study will have on the Oriental Churches!—how incalculable the benefits which are likely to redound, when Greece and all the Arabian and Ethiopic Regions shall cast their mites into the treasury!

The Committee are happy to state, that it is Mr. Jowett's intention to leave England at the end of next month, or early in July, to resume his labours at Malta.

Turkey and Greece.

The Rev. John Hartley and the Rev. Dr. Korck, passed the winter of 1827—1828 at Egina: Mr. Hartley left Dr. Korck there in the middle of March; and, after visiting the Morea, joined him, in June, at Syra, to which place Dr. Korck had proceeded from Egina. Mr. Hartley left Syra in July, and went to Smyrna, where he remained till the date of the last despatches. He thus reviews his proceedings at Egina:—

Opportunities of imparting religious instruction by means of conversation were enjoyed daily; and four times I preached publicly in the Church of the Panagia. The amount of benefit imparted is known only to Him, who knows all things: but the apparent effects were such, as to prove highly encouraging. Seven persons joined me in prayer and the reading of the Scriptures; and an eighth, though suddenly called from Egina by duty, exhibited signs of real religion. Of those who habitually joined us, one was Prior of a large Monastery, and another was an Archimandrite. That many persons, before inclined to infidel sentiments, obtained better views, I feel certain. I venture to hope that exertions of this nature will not be wholly fruitless: carried on with patience in various directions, they may, by the Divine Blessing, gradually contribute to the reformation of Religion throughout the Levant.

Of his general prospects, and of the circulation of the Scriptures in Greece, he writes :—

With regard to Missionary Labour, there are good prospects, though they do not shine so brightly at present as some time ago. Scriptures have been sold in Greece to a considerable amount: I have myself sold in Egina 224 copies of the Large Testaments, and 148 of the Small; and might have sold many more of the large, had I possessed them. In other places, also, a considerable number has been sold. I have not yet received an exact account, but I imagine that nearly 2000 have been put in circulation in different parts of Greece since the month of September. Thus has an important object been effected, which will not be without useful results. I have sold a few copies of the Commentary on the Acts, and 45 copies of Mr. Wilson's Spelling-book. I believe that thousands of Mr. Wilson's work would be purchased, if we had them. Of other Publications we have dispersed a very considerable number. The two works of Mr. Temple Porteus's Evidences, and Lyttleton on the Conversion of St. Paul, have been rendered very useful. I am particularly anxious to obtain other works on the Evidences of Christianity. There is not, as yet, much taste for the other books; but these are spoken of in raptures by many persons.

He afterwards adds—

I have had conversation with many persons on religious subjects; and I would not hesitate to say, that not a few have obtained more correct ideas on the truths of Scripture. One young man appears to be truly awakened; and should he go on as he has commenced, I shall not hesitate to bless God for his conversion. For seven years he has been an infidel: now, his chief delight is to learn of Christ, and to attend to the salvation of his soul. Thus you perceive that we are not altogether without encouragement, though the sanguine expectations, which I had formed some time ago, have been greatly lowered.

During his tour in the Morea, Mr. Hartley had several opportunities of preaching in the Churches, and often to large and attentive Congregations: of one of these occasions he thus speaks in his Journal:—

In the large Monastery of Megaspelaion, I preached to a Congregation of probably more than a hundred Monks, with the sanction of the Superiors of the Monastery; and in that very Chapel where they preserve and worship the Picture of the Virgin which is attributed to the pencil of St. Luke. Whatever may be the future state of Greece, I shall always cherish, amongst my fondest remembrances, these instances of kindly feeling; and I shall earnestly pray, May God bestow on this Church the privilege of Philadelphia: (Rev. iii. 8.) Behold, I have set before thee an open door; and no man can shut it!

On leaving the Morea, Mr. Hartley thus expresses his sentiments—

My stay in Argos was of a month's duration. I had hoped, during this interval, to be able to aid the circulation of the Scriptures in the various parts of the Morea which I had visited; but, unfortunately, the plague had excited such alarm, that Napoli was barred against all ingress, and I had no opportunity of obtaining the New Testaments which had arrived from Syra. I found occasion, however, to make known the Truth to various individuals; and I rejoice to recollect the names of several young men who lent an attentive ear to my remarks. I now repeat an observation which I made more than two years ago—that everywhere I discover some persons to whom Religious Truth is a grateful subject. On the one hand, they become enlightened as to the various corruptions of their own communion; and, on the other, they escape from the still more dangerous gulf of Infidelity, into which so many fall headlong. God has bestowed on me the inexpressible favour to sow the incorruptible seed of Revealed Truth at Argos, and in various other places; and I feel strongly persuaded that He will also give the increase. It is manifest, that, in various parts of the East, a work of preparation for the reception of Christian Truth is most decidedly going forward. I say not, that many persons have arrived at that establishment of Christian character which is designated by the term "Regeneration;" but I do affirm, that many have had their minds so far enlightened, and so far interested in this important subject, that, when the door for proclaiming the Gospel shall be more widely and effectually opened, there is a good hope that more individuals will gladly come forward, will embrace the wished-for opportunities, and will become willing converts to the true doctrine of Christianity. At present, every one, who is interested in the Cause of Christ, contemplates the Political aspect of Greece with intense interest. He frequently inquires, Whether the New Government will lend assistance, or otherwise, to the efforts which are in progress for the benefit of its subjects? Whatever the answer may be, convinced I am, that our labour has not been in vain. If not the great good which we hope, yet some good will assuredly be the result. Thousands of copies of the New Testament are gone forth, to proclaim the Word of God; and thousands of other testimonies to the Truth, both oral and printed, have been given. Thus are thousands of voices crying in the wilderness, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord; make straight in the desert a highway for our God." (Isaiah xl.) We leave, then, our humble efforts to the blessing of the Most High.

Mr. Hartley, while resident at Smyrna, has undertaken the duties of the English Chaplaincy, during Mr. Arundel's absence. Of his labours he writes, in October—

It has been a cause of much satisfaction to me, to see many of the Officers and Crews of the English and American Ships of war frequent in their attendance at Church. After having been almost silent in my own language for four years, I have found it most agreeable once more to employ it in the exercise of my duties. Besides preaching in English, I also preach in Modern Greek. It is rather singular, that this language is more intelligible to many of the Ladies in the English Families than even their own tongue: hence, a Sermon in Modern Greek is directed, not only to the Greeks who may be present, but also to them.

At the same date he writes—

I have just been reading the Report of visits to Andros, Zea, Naxos, and Paros, sent me by a Young Man well known to Mr. Leeves, and long employed by him in the sale of the Scriptures at Constantinople. This Young Man was sent by Dr. Korck to sell Scriptures and Tracts; and, as I recommended him to keep a Journal of his proceedings, he has accordingly sent one to me. It has pleased me so much, considered as the production of a person brought up in the errors of the Greek Church and now zealous to enlighten his countrymen, that I shall, if possible, find time to translate it and send it to you. He has not only sold and distributed many books, but has preached the clear doctrine of Justification by Faith in Jesus Christ to his countrymen. He is designated in my Journals from Constantinople by the letter G, and greatly endeared himself to us by his faithful and unwearied attention to the Converted Jews.

The unexpected release of these poor Jews, by the kind providence of God, must have been already welcomed by those who had been acquainted with their sufferings; and they will further hear, with pleasure, that God appears to have used one of them as an instrument of blessing, both to some of his own countrymen, and to one or two individuals of the Turkish Nation. With reference to this, Mr. Hartley writes from Smyrna, in January—

John Baptist, one of the Jews whom I baptized at Constantinople, has been here about two weeks. It gives me great pleasure to have the opportunity of reading and praying daily with him. He has great zeal for the conversion of his countrymen and of others, and has already been rendered useful to several persons. There are 8 or 12 Jews at Constantinople who thirst for an opportunity of being baptized. To one of them, in particular, I wish to direct your attention. He is a young man 18 years old, of a very rich family, and related by marriage to a distinguished Jew at Constantinople. After John Baptist's release from prison, he came to visit him, in order to hold controversies with him. The issue has been, that he has become a Believer in Jesus Christ, and is exceedingly eager to be baptized. He professes himself willing to lose all the wealth of his family, and to part with Father, Mother, and Friends, for the sake of Jesus Christ: nay, what is most extraordinary, undeterred by the sufferings from which our two young friends have so recently escaped, he expresses a willingness to prove all the horrors of the prison, and of death itself, if God should call him to that trial.

Mr. Hartley adds—

John Baptist has also been the means of bringing two Turks to an acknowledgment of the Truth as it is in Jesus. One of them is a man of some consequence: having heard of the cause for which our friends were imprisoned, he sent for John Baptist, and laboured to convince him of the truth of the Mussulman Religion: day after day the controversy was renewed: the common Mahomedan arguments, of the corruption of the Sacred Writings by the Christians, were examined and exploded; and, after some time, John Baptist procured for his antagonist the Arabic Scriptures, both Old and New Testament: he read them with much attention; nay, appeared to abandon every other occupation. Finally, he expressed himself, both to John Baptist and an Armenian Friend, fully persuaded of the truth of Christianity, and of the necessity of Baptism. Soon afterwards, he was compelled to accompany one of the Pachas to the Russian War, in character of Secretary. After our friend's release from prison, another Turk sent for him, to converse on the subject of religion. This individual adhered obstinately to the creed of his nation; but one of his Tchochodars became convinced of the truth, and secretly confessed his faith to John Baptist.

In the same Letter, Mr. Hartley further states—

Benefit has also been conferred on several Armenians, by means of our friend's conversations. Not a few persons of this communion appear to be opening their eyes to the corruptions which have so long disfigured their Church. Here, at Smyrna, I have become acquainted with an interesting character, who is one of the chief Masters of the Armenian School. He rejects all doctrines unfounded on the Scriptures, and is now on the point of introducing the reading of the New Testament into the School. He assures me that the Armenians have no law which authorises the use of pictures in Churches; and that this practice is merely a custom, which has gained ground without any authority. John Baptist has been treated with much kindness by the Armenians; nor am I aware that they have extracted from him any observance inconsistent with a good conscience. He partook daily of the table of the Armenian Bishop, and has also been furnished by him with lodgings. I feel myself much interested for the Armenian Church: and as I am gradually laying hold of the Turkish Language, I hope daily to be better acquainted with them.

Dr. Korck's health, which for some time had been very delicate, has much improved since the commencement of his residence at Syra; and he has undertaken the superintendence of a large School, which bids fair to be most beneficial to the Greeks. Of this Mr. Hartley writes—

I scarcely know any thing connected with Missionary Undertakings in these parts which has given me so much pleasure. It is the precise employment in which Dr. Korck is likely to be most useful: he himself takes delight in the duties to which it calls him, and he is exceedingly beloved by the Children.

The following account of the School is given by Dr. Korck, in August:—

Since the month of April I have been steadily employed, here in Syra, at a School of Mutual Instruction, which Mr. Brewer had begun. On his departure for America, we had about 40 Children under our care; but, soon after my arrival, I was enabled to increase the number to upward of 60. Having been so happy as to find some Schoolmasters in Egina, the Greek Merchants here began to take a higher interest in the work, and to erect a building for 300 Children, as they had promised several months before to Mr. Brewer and myself; Mr. Brewer engaging to pay the Master for six months, and I to undertake the direction of the work. After much delay, we have at last been able to enter the New Building, and already the number of Children is nearly 250: these Children, of whom about 80 are Girls, are daily instructed out of the Gospel, or out of School-Books prepared by our Brethren in Malta. Twice a-week I explain to them—still, indeed, with a stammering tongue, but understood by my Children—such parts of the Word of God as are suited to them; and this I do in the way of conversation. Twice a-week they learn a portion of Scripture by heart; and, in this, they shew so much application, that I am obliged to restrain some of the Girls, for fear their health might be injured: they will learn 20—80—120 and even 180 lines more than I prescribe them; and in order to do so, they will rise again, when their parents think them asleep, kindle a light, and study. You may imagine how much such facts encourage me, and make the Children very dear to me; and, as all they learn is from the Gospel, what reason have we not to hope, after the early and the latter rain, for an abundant harvest from this seed of life planted in so many young souls!

It must be still more gratifying to the Christian Friends of Greece, when they learn what I have witnessed with an uplifted heart; namely, that many of these dear Children become the Teachers of their Parents and Friends, by receiving useful Tracts as rewards, or in engaging them to read with them their Lessons.

He adds—

Another circumstance renders my labours here more interesting. I have Children from all parts of Greece in my School; from Constantinople, Smyrna, Ipsara, Crete, and the Ionian Islands. To these parts many of them will return, and thus carry with them the light which they have received: for Syra is only a temporary abode of the 35,000 Greeks, whom political and mercantile circumstances have driven here together. The island itself has for its stated inhabitants only 5000 Latin Greeks, by whose Children our School is also frequented.

The small School-Books, and the Translation of the System of Mutual Instruction of Mr. Temple, which he has entrusted to me for distribution, give me an influence even in remote parts, by enabling me to present books to good Schools, and to enter into friendly connection with them. I have sent 400 copies, together with a set of Greek Scripture-Lessons, to the Government, for its Orphan Institution of 600 Boys, now erected in Egina; and have received a Letter of Thanks from the President, Count Capo d'Istria, in which he states that he has distributed already a part of those books in the Government School at Napoli di Romania, and retained the other part for their original destination. The President writes to me also, that he intends to come to Syra, and to render me every assistance in his power in behalf of my School.

Mr. Benjamin Barker, in writing to the Committee of the British and Foreign Bible Society, gives the following extract of a Letter from a Greek Merchant of Syra relative to Dr. Korck's School:—

The School at Syra goes forward. I went out recently with five of the principal Merchants of Syra, and we collected about 3000 piastres. The Roman-Catholic Inhabitants of Syra, even the Consuls, scarcely offered any thing; not being willing, as they said, that their Children should learn the Doctrines of the Gospel from Protestant Teachers, who preach the Gospel differently from the Jesuits. The Greeks, although still ignorant, have not such prejudices. Dr. Korck truly takes great trouble to establish and put the School in order; and if the Greeks shall be so happy as to have three or four such Ministers of the Gospel, I can assure you that Greece will make great progress in civilization, and its children will often repeat the names of those who have instructed them upon such moral principles.

Mr. Barker remarks on this extract—

Expressions like these, from such an individual, must not only be interesting to you, but also to your Christian Friends; who will, no doubt, augur, with me, most auspicious prospects for this rising Nation. In strength of these hopes we may add—the eagerness of the Greeks to hear the Word of God preached to them by the Rev. Mr. Hartley in their principal Churches; the cordial manner in which they receive the Holy Scriptures; and that the Rev. Dr. Korck is permitted to superintend the New School of 300 Boys at Syra, where the Sacred Scriptures are not only read and expounded, but the Scholars readily learn to recite them by rote. The Greeks are a Nation, curious, thirsting after knowledge and instruction, as was demonstrated in the Schools of Scio and Haivali; not to say that of Smyrna, under the direction of Economos: although, perhaps, in those Institutions, true religion did not then occupy the first place in the Teacher's mind, yet the eagerness of the Scholars to gain any kind of knowledge is a sure proof that inclination was not wanted: but their course of studies was bent another way. In the present School at Syra, it is astonishing to see Boys, accustomed to spend their Sundays in idleness, crowd to the School to hear the Sacred Scriptures expounded, and repeat what was assigned them to learn; and it is equally pleasing, to witness grown persons attending as spectators, instead of following their former pastimes of frequenting the taverns or wine-shops, and idly spending the Sabbath in amusements detrimental to their spiritual welfare.

Of the general state of Greece, and the opening scenes of usefulness, Dr. Korck writes in December—

The Lord seems to have gracious designs with regard to Greece. Scriptures of all descriptions are briskly sought for; and, what appears the most marvellous, we are not merely suffered to operate, but the Government begins to claim our assistance. My School is become a Central School. The Magistrates of different Islands send their Young Men to be prepared for Schoolmasters. The Governor of the Northern Cyclades has put all the Schools of his own dominion under my superintendence; with the explicit addition, to clear them of superstitions. This, with the additional consideration, that he is aware that I, a Foreign Clergyman, am expounding publicly twice a-week in the Holy Scriptures, is an event, the reality of which I scarcely am able to believe myself. But I feel the moment is precious. The enemy cannot long suffer such an effectual door to be undisturbed : therefore I want assistance.

CAIRO AND ALEXANDRIA.

The return to England of the Rev. C. Kugler, and his subsequent departure, have been already noticed. The other Members of the Mission were all assembled at Cairo at the end of April in last year.

Mr. Kugler, previously to his departure, received further Instructions of the Committee relative to the intended Mission to Abyssinia* ; and he and Mr. Gobat purpose to enter on this work, as soon as the providence of God shall open a door to them. From Mr. Gobat's communications it appears, that, though the disturbed state of affairs in Abyssinia presents an obstacle to their entrance, his mind is steadily directed to this object. He writes—

The whole time since I have been here, I have deeply felt what Mr. Jowett writes to me ; namely, that what I can do in behalf of the Franks, or even of the Arabs, is nothing, in comparison with my high obligation concerning Abyssinia : but I have hitherto sought to labour among these, only because I cannot properly do any thing for Abyssinia : for though I can speak Amharic tolerably well, I have not yet a command of the idioms of the language, so as to be able to write for the Press, without its being corrected ; and there is no one here who could do it. Some Abyssinians, indeed, are here ; but they are Turks, who read Arabic, but none of the Abyssinian Languages†.

The last Report stated, that the Rev. J. R. T. Lieder had set out, the beginning of February, on a visit to Upper Egypt : he returned to his Brethren at Cairo on the 26th of April, and gives the following account of his Journey :—

I have visited and supplied with the Word of Life nearly all the Cities and Villages where Christians are found. I do not hesitate to say, that much has been done on this Journey. May it please God to grant His blessing, to make every thing effectual !

The following are the Scriptures and Tracts which I took with me : 60 Bibles—267 New Testaments—104 Gospels—234 Acts—24 Coptic and Arabic Psalters—64 simply Arabic Psalms—145 Dairyman's Daughter—50 Prayers—230 William Kelly—300 Christ's Sermon on the Mount—450 the Professed and Real Christian—30 Sermons—45 Epistle of St. Peter—15 the Jailer (Greek)—100 Watts's small Catechism—40 Common-Prayer Book. Of the Scriptures and Tracts I have given a large portion, gratis, to poor Christians; for misery is unspeakable in these regions: nevertheless, I sold Scriptures for 112 dollars 11 piastres 30 paras; and Tracts for 20 dollars 12 piastres 30 paras. This sum, in fact, exceeded my most sanguine expectations.

Mr. Lieder gives an affecting account of the inhabitants of this nominally-Christian land; and, in June, expresses his intention of again visiting Upper Egypt, as far as Siout, giving more time and attention to all the important places*.

Mr. Mueller left Caïro about the middle of May for the Delta, taking with him a large supply of the Scriptures, and the Malta Publications: these being soon disposed of, he returned in June to Caïro for a further supply; but the stock there being exhausted, he left Caïro, and proceeded to Alexandria, accompanied by Mr. Gobat, and arrived there in the latter part of June. Of his visit to the Delta he gives the following account:—

I was, in the month of May, in the eastern part of the Delta, as far as Damietta: the people would scarcely allow me to return, from their wish that I should establish a School among them. Though they are, in general, very poor and ignorant, still they wish, more or less, except the Roman Catholics, to read the Bible. I was not quite a month, travelling about from Village to Village; and sold Bibles, Testaments, Catechisms, and Tracts, to the value of 70 dollars. As soon as the greatest heat is over, I intend to go again, if it please God; and to visit the western part of Lower Egypt, as far as Rosetta.

Mr. Mueller commenced this Second Journey in the month of August, accompanied by Mr. Macpherson, a Wesleyan Missionary; but the excessive heat soon compelled them to return, and to defer the fulfilment of their intentions till October.

Mr. Gobat has suffered much from ophthalmia; and, finding Alexandria more favourable to his health than Caïro, has chiefly resided there. He gives the following account of a Public Service, which he had commenced; and which was, at the commencement, attended by people of various Nations:—

I have begun to preach in French: and, at first, people seemed willing to come; but when they perceived that I would preach nothing but a Crucified Redeemer, they ceased to attend.

In September, he writes—

No day hardly passes away without visits of Arabs, Italians, Frenchmen, Germans, Englishmen, &c., and especially of Jews. No fruits, indeed, are as yet to be seen, but the Scriptures are read diligently in many houses. There are seven Learned Frenchmen here, who have been sent thither by the French Government, with the charge of transcribing and illustrating the Hieroglyphics. Their head is the renowned Champollion, who reads the Hieroglyphics with as much readiness as his native language; and states, that he finds all in the Hieroglyphics that the Bible relates of Egypt &c. This will give a mighty stroke to the Learned Infidels of Europe.

The Missionaries entered in May on a more spacious house, affording room for a School of 60 to 80 Children. Dr. Klugé, mentioned in the last Report, assists them in the management of it. In July, their number of Scholars was 18. Of the reception of the Children, Mr. Krusé writes—

We did not accept, at once, of all the Children who presented themselves, because we thought it proper to begin with a few, to keep up order. In about ten or fourteen days we shall receive again some of those Boys who offered themselves during the course of this month. The 18 Children whom we have already received are constituted of different Denominations; viz. 5 Copts, 4 Greeks, the rest are Catholics and Maronites. Most of them are poor children, save 3 Greeks and 2 Catholics, who are nourished and clothed by their parents. All the rest get every morning a piece of bread, and at noon a simple dinner. Clothing is confined only to poor Copts; with the exception of one Greek, whose great poverty causes it.

In September, he adds—

Our School is increasing, and improving. It suffered evil report and good report; but has gained a solid ground; and is approving itself as the work of the Lord, who is its defender and protector.

The general proceedings of the Missionaries are thus noticed by Mr. Krusé, on the 15th of August, in a Letter to Mr. Schlienz:—

We have received from you, to-day, six boxes of books. The appearance of this large supply was most cheering: but what are they among so many? Br. Lieders, shortly setting out again for Upper Egypt, will take with him as many Bibles, Testaments, and Tracts, as he can get: and what will then remain for me, if you do not send the Scriptures which I have ordered for him? You probably thought, because those six boxes were on the way, unknown to us, that we had now a sufficient supply of books for a length of time: but this is not the case. No! we must have our order completed; and with it, if possible, a good portion of your new Arabic Publications; for the few which you have sent us will soon be gone.

By our School, we are growing more and more in public reputation. People of all Denominations come to know what we are doing, and what we are aiming at; and so we have frequent opportunity to recommend to them the Gospel. The Word of God is our only support. We frequently bring into contrast the Light of the Truth with the darkness of their superstition—their fables and tales, with the Evangelic accounts of our Saviour and His Apostles; and at all times we have experienced, that, while staying on this ground, even the most subtle adversary cannot prevail against us.

Many people also come to view the School, because they know the Teacher: who, inexpert himself in Christianity, but perceiving the errors of their Church, strives against them with zeal; and, if left without an answer by the opposite party, brings them to me. They, indeed, do not resist the Truth; but they cannot bring themselves to renounce their errors, and to lay hold on it. Their greatest hindrance is, the fear of being excommunicated, if a Priest should happen to find them reading the Bible: they do not venture, they say, to receive it into their houses.

CALCUTTA, AND NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

WHILE the Committee have to record the death of the late Bishop of Calcutta, who, during the short period of his residence in that Presidency, took an active part in the Society's proceedings, the appointment of his Successor, who has long taken an interest in the cause of Missions, is to them a subject of unfeigned joy. His Lordship's presence on this occasion forbids them to say more, than that, while they anticipate substantial benefit to the Society from his share in its councils and sanction of its proceedings, it is their earnest prayer that abundant grace may be given him for the fulfilment of the duties of his exalted station, and that he may be made the instrument of a permanent and extensive blessing to the rising Churches of our Eastern Empire.

Among the trials to which the Society has been subjected in past years, none have been of so painful a character as one which has arisen in connection with three of its Missionaries in India; the task of advertising to which the Committee would gladly have been spared, had not a sense of duty compelled them to notice it. As, however, two of the individuals alluded to have voluntarily surrendered their connection with the Society, and the third has been removed by death, the Committee abstain from offering any remarks on this distressing transaction.

Calcutta.

In consequence of the departure of the Rev. Isaac Wilson, and the retirement of the Rev. J. T. Reichardt, which have been adverted to, the Rev. John Latham is the only Missionary at present stationed in Calcutta. M. D. Rozario continues to conduct the Press.

Concerning the MINISTRY OF THE WORD the Calcutta Committee state, in their Fifth Report:—

At Calcutta, the number of Baptisms has been—Adults, 13, and 11 Children.

The Native-Christian Families who resided on the Society's Premises having had their houses twice destroyed by fire within a short period, it was judged advisable that they should each rent houses for themselves in the neighbourhood, which they have done: they collect for Worship on Sundays, when the Rev. Mr. Reichardt officiates; and for Morning Prayers, during every day in the week. A Service in Hindoostanee has been commenced on Friday Evenings, which has been well attended; but is of too recent establishment to admit of conjecture, as to its utility, or otherwise. The preaching in the Bungalows has also been continued, with some interruption; and is now almost entirely left to Mr. Reichardt, he being the only Missionary of the Society in Calcutta sufficiently acquainted with the language to preach in it.

This department of labour has probably been suspended since Mr. Reichardt has relinquished his connection with the Society.

In reference to those who have been admitted to Baptism, Mr. Latham remarks—

In giving your accounts of the Baptisms in India, it ought always to be stated whether or not they have become Communicants; for the Hindoo does not lose Caste by Baptism; and, in many instances, the baptized have never gone further, and will tell the Missionary that they see no necessity for receiving the Lord's Supper.

Of the SCHOOLS, the Auxiliary Committee make the following report:—

The Native Schools, in number 12, it will be remembered, are under the direction of the Calcutta Church Missionary Association; who reported, in November last, that about 600 Boys were in daily attendance. The English School, formerly under the charge of the Rev. Mr. Wilson, has been revived by Mr. Latham, and contains 60 Boys: many more desire admittance; but Mr. Latham wishes rather to secure regular attendance and efficient application, and, with this view, receives none who will not promise to pay attention for a period of not less than two years.

Mrs. Latham has taken charge of the English School of Portuguese Children, commenced by Mrs. Wilson.

The Fourth Report of the Ladies' Society for NATIVE FEMALE EDUCATION states, that Mrs. Wilson took possession of the Central School on the 1st of April: the average attendance of Girls had been 70; and 170, who used to assemble with others in 29 Schools, were collected in four divisions, at about equal distances from that School, in different directions. This number is considerably less than that formerly collected; but Mrs. Wilson thinks more actual benefit is now conferred, as all the Children come daily under her own inspection.

The PRESS has not been so efficient as it would otherwise have been, for want of a Printer; and the Committee have long felt an anxious wish to meet the urgent requests of their Friends at Calcutta, by sending out a person fully capable of conducting this department. Mr. Corrie writes in August—

A complete copy of the Book of Common Prayer in Hindoostanee will be finished in about a month; excepting the Psalms, which we have in a separate form.

Culna.

The removal of Mr. Deerr from this Station was noticed in the last Report: since then he has visited it from Burdwan, as often as his other duties have allowed; the Committee not having had it in their power to supply it with a resident Missionary. Eight Adults have been baptized during the year; and there are Six Candidates for Baptism.

On the number and state of the SCHOOLS, the Committee remark—

Mr. Deerr continues Seven Schools at Culna, which he visits once a month; his own mind much inclining, if possible, to a permanent residence there, and the attendance in the Schools being better than at any other Station of the Society. The experience of the Committee would lead them to diminish the number of these Schools considerably; knowing that the superintendence must necessarily be less minute than every Missionary desires to exercise: but they think it necessary to leave much to the discretion of the Missionary, who does intend shortly to reduce the number; and they believe that some good is accomplished, though not all which they desire. To have to say that so many hundred Boys are daily assembled in the Schools, would quite mislead the public, if a conclusion should be drawn that even a half of the Children were deriving adequate benefit. Schools have, however, opened the way to Missionaries in Bengal; and must always be attended, where there is a capacity, with a portion of mental improvement. Eight adult persons have been baptized, and there are six Candidates for Baptism.

Some interesting particulars of Mr. Deerr's discussions with the Natives will be found in the Missionary Register for August, pp. 404—410.

The following Extract from a Letter of Mr. Deerr's, written from Burdwan in May, shews the state of things at Culna at that date:—

Among the Natives baptized at Culna, are four Young Men, who will hereafter become, I trust, useful in the Mission: I entertain equal hopes of two Christian Youths who are stationed here. Six Candidates for Baptism at Culna are earnestly asking to be admitted to the ordinance. They come over to Burdwan at intervals, to be instructed; and when their family concerns make it requisite, they return: five of them are friends and neighbours. One of them is Teacher in a School: nor would I omit mentioning a fact, although it is discouraging, that his School is in a place where a number of people asked for instruction; and now those very people, after having seen the effect of that which they feignedly asked for, last week sent me word, that not a single boy now remained who can read the Gospel: their parents said, "The Teacher has become a Christian by reading the Gospel: what better can we expect of our Children, if they read it?" Only 30 Boys attend the School, who learn the elementary parts; "for," said their parents, "by learning these, there is no fear of their becoming Christians."

Burdwan.

This Station having been selected as the place of Mr. Deerr's residence, it has also been the chief scene of his labours. He had suffered from illness last year; but in May had regained his strength, sufficiently to prosecute his labours.

In reference to the MINISTRY, the Committee report—

Two Adults have been baptized, and one of their offspring; and there are four Candidates for Baptism. The Native-Christian Congregation consists of 13 persons. Divine Service is performed in Bengalee every Sunday Morning, at which also the School Pundits and Sircars attend, making a Congregation usually of about 60; besides Domestic Worship almost every Evening, when Mr. Deerr is not unwell: and special instruction is afforded to a few Converts, whom he purposes to employ as Catechists.

Mr. Deerr has met with a distressing instance of the duplicity and deceitfulness of the Native Character in connection with the SCHOOLS, which is thus noticed by the Auxiliary Committee :—

It was found, after some time, that the Ameen Pundit had practised deception to an extent that could not easily have been conceived; and which Mr. Perowne, from his long illness, had no opportunity of finding out. Mr. Wilson, though not acquainted with all the particulars, discovered enough to induce him to dismiss all the School Pundits, retaining only the Sircars. It was discovered, that of the many applications which had been brought to Mr. Perowne, purporting to be from different Villages, most of them were the production of only a few interested individuals of those Villages, set up by the Ameen Pundit; who led them to expect pecuniary advantage by the establishment of a School, or from the erection of a shed, or in some equally paltry way: and though the discovery of this conduct on the part of the Ameen Pundit was painful, yet the effect has been, that the interested conduct of these people has rendered the inhabitants of many Villages familiar with the name of Christianity; and Mr. Deerr finds, in most places which he can visit, a willingness to listen to what he wishes to say to them on the subject. The people, too, really desire Schools for their Children; so that Mr. Deerr was induced to restore, in the month of October last, most of the Teachers, and set all things on the former footing; except that he pays the Schoolmasters according to the number of Boys reading the Gospels. In March last the Secretary visited Burdwan, and found the same number of Boys (about 1000) in the number of Schools formerly reported, viz. 14; with this advantage, that instead of about 160 or 200, who formerly were reading parts of the New Testament, 370 Boys were present, each with a copy of St. Matthew in his hand; and the first classes, Ellerton's Dialogues also, with Geography, Arithmetic, &c. The Schools were but beginning to recover, and none of the Boys had read beyond St. Matthew; but with the portions they had read, most of them shewed a good acquaintance.

A judicious estimate of the state and character of the Natives, by Mr. Deerr, with the difficulties which Missionaries have to encounter among the Hindoos, will be found in the Missionary Register of last year, pp. 456—460: and in pp. 502—505, is contained an account of Archdeacon Corrie's Visit to Burdwan, of the deception attempted to be practised on Mr. Deerr, and of the State of the Mission.

In four FEMALE SCHOOLS, under Mrs. Deerr's care, 100 Children usually attend, of whom 26 read the Gospels.

In May, Mr. Deerr gave the following view of the state of the Mission:—

The Means of Grace are here attended (the Lord's Supper excepted), not only by our Christian Community, but by a far greater number of Heathens. They are no more afraid of their neighbours, in attending Worship; for it has now become customary. It is delightful to see how prejudices wear off. When I first came into the country, I tried, but could not get, by any means, the poorest beggar's child to live with me—the Gospel was abhorred; but now they gladly receive it, if they can but get a School. In the beginning, I could only get a few to attend; and now, all our School People attend Public Worship, without fear of being blamed. I sometimes, with great pleasure, hear them enumerate, with great emphasis, the proofs of this progress; when they add—"The only step now wanting, is Baptism." If the first state of plants were not known, growth would be doubted; for though we do not see how they grow, yet they do grow: so must our work appear, to those who are not acquainted with the real state of things. May the Lord strengthen our feeble hands! for, if we faint not, we shall reap in due season.

Buxar.

The Calcutta Committee give the following account of this Station, in their last Report:—

The Chapel commenced last year has been finished, and is regularly used for Divine Service. Kurrum Messeeh continues his labours, as usual, among the Native Christians, and in superintending a School: he has also gone more among the surrounding population than before; and, by conversation and the distribution of Tracts, has contributed to the diffusion of Christian Knowledge in the neighbourhood.

Benares.

The return of the Rev. John Adlington, with his Family, has been already noticed; the state of his health rendering a visit to England desirable. The Rev. C. Friend, and the Rev. R. Eteson and Mrs. Eteson, whose departure and arrival have been stated, have been fixed at this Station, for the Spiritual wants of which the Committee have been anxious to provide.

In reference to this Station the Calcutta Committee report:—

The declining state of Mr. Adlington's health rendered his labours less efficient during the past year than they would otherwise have been; but the state of Jay Narain Ghossaul's School is reported, by several Gentlemen who visited it lately, to reflect great credit upon his and Mr. Steward's care. The number of Scholars is from 130 to 150, and varies little; the small allowance for food, distributed according to the will of the Founder, being an inducement to some to attend, who might not be allured merely by the love of learning.

During the past year, two Adults and two Young Persons from among the Natives were added to the Church by Baptism. The Congregation amounted generally to 70; the Commanding Officer having, for some time past, ordered the Native Christians connected with the Native Corps to attend the Hindoostanee Chapel, while the Europeans attended the Station Church. Many instances of benefit arising to this class of the Community, from Mr. Adlington's labours, might be adduced; and the importance of raising the character of those who bear the Christian name is obvious. The number of Communicants was from 20 to 30. Since Mr. Adlington's departure, Mr. Steward has read the Prayers, and a Homily or Sermon, on Sundays. The number of regular attendants has not fallen off.

Chunar.

It was mentioned in the last Report, that the Rev. William Bowley had been compelled, by the state of his health, to leave Chunar for a season: and when he returned, in November 1827, he was by no means recovered; nor had he been able, at the date of the last accounts, to resume his labours. During his absence, the Rev. Thomas Morris officiated once on the Sunday, and once in the Week, to the Native Congregation; besides the English Services, and attending to the new Converts in every way in which he could promote their edification.

In reference to the MINISTRY, the Calcutta Committee state, that 14 Adults and 4 Children had been baptized: of these 18, two died in the Faith; and besides these, three others, Native-Christian Widows, who were regular Communicants, departed in the Lord: one of these left her all, amounting to upward of 300 rupees, at Mr. Bowley's disposal. Several Christian Natives are employed, under his superintendence, among their countrymen; and by conversation, and the distribution of Tracts, carry to them the Message of Salvation. Many interesting details relative to the Native Converts will be found in the Missionary Register for 1828, (pp. 460—465, 509, 510). Of one of these Converts the Calcutta Committee thus speak, in their last Report:—

He was the eldest Son of his Father; and, by the loss of Caste involved in embracing Christianity, became incapable of performing "poojah" for his ancestors, and was ipso facto disinherited. For a time, his family were estranged from him; but, by degrees, they began to understand the reasons of his change: and the Father became so far enlightened by Scripture Truth, as to commit, when dying, his property and the care of the family to this Convert. Of him Mr. Bowley writes, in April last—

"Swargdhan has, in consequence of taking charge of the Village and Property delivered to him by his dying Father, been involved in law-suits in the Courts of Mirzapore and Benares; his Father having left things in a very unsettled state. He, however, continues stedfast in the means within his reach. His New Testament, Prayer-Book, and a number of Tracts, are his constant companions; and, by means of his being thus entangled in the Courts, the Name of Christ is made known to very many, from intercourse with him, who would otherwise have remained ignorant of Christianity."

Of another Convert, Mr. Bowley writes—

Christian Tryloke, who has been engaged as a Reader, continues, wherever he goes and wherever he is, to read and speak to high and low, and to render a reason for his renouncing Hindooism and embracing Christianity. He has, besides Family Worship at home twice a-day, when all who are so disposed attend, his chief place of sitting and receiving inquirers in the School-room.

Of the SCHOOLS, Mr. Bowley reports—

It has been deemed expedient to dismiss two of our Hinduwee Teachers in Chunar, for two reasons: first, in not attending to the unceasing injunction of introducing the Gospel among the greater part of the Boys; and, secondly, because the number of Boys was greatly reduced. We have just now but one Hinduwee and one Persian School; and two Female Schools, taught by Native-Christian Women. Charles Doss is our English Schoolmaster: he has Prayers with the new Converts every Morning: and, the state of my lungs not admitting of officiating in public, no other alternative remains, but that he read the Prayers, and a Discourse prepared for him, to the Native Congregation. The Preaching in the Bazaar Chapel is conducted by Charles and Christian, once a-week. For the last two Sabbaths, the Beggars, who assemble at the Church-gate for alms, have been addressed: this is another opening, which we hope, through Grace, to improve.

Gorruckpore.

The Rev. Michael Wilkinson has continued in the enjoyment of his health and the prosecution of his labours; a sketch of which, from their commencement in 1824, was given in the Monthly Paper of June. In July, he writes that he had engaged two persons as Readers, who gave good promise of rendering important assistance: these Native Converts he generally takes with him, when he itinerates among the people, with the view of disciplining them for their work. Of his MINISTRY, Mr. Wilkinson gives the following account:—

Of all the means at present in operation, this must be considered the most important and the most effective. In taking a view of the little flock which, under the Great Shepherd, has been gathered together since the establishment of the Mission, there is cause for gratitude. The number in general attendance is about 60. It will be remembered, that about three years ago we could speak of only two individuals meeting with us for the purpose of Christian Worship. The greater part of the Congregation consists of persons born of Christian Parents, and were only a short time ago living in ignorance and sin. They have been instructed in the doctrines and moralities of the Gospel, of which they were before ignorant. They have been taught the way of Salvation by the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ: they are not wholly unconscious of its importance; and some, we trust, desire and seek after an interest in its blessings; and all are more or less under its restraining influence, although, for the most part, the change visible is only partial: yet what the Apostle calls the works of darkness and the flesh, which are so common in the same class of society, both of Mahomedans and Hindoos, as far as our observation extends, are not committed among them. The necessity of holiness is felt, and, in a measure, sought after. A large proportion of those who attend the Weekly Services at Church is daily assembled, to hear the Word of God read and explained, to unite in singing His praise, and to supplicate for pardoning mercy and sanctifying Grace.

Mr. Wilkinson adds—

Besides these regular and stated administrations of God's Word and Sacraments, reading and preaching has been continued, at a Chapel built in a populous part of the Native Town, or in some other quarter, during the whole of the cold season, among the people in the Bazaar. On these occasions, from 100 to 200 collect together; the greater part of whom remain till the reading or preaching is ended. Disputations have occasionally taken place, but only seldom: a growing respect and attention have for some time been remarkable.

He further adds—

In addition to the Bazaar Preaching, a visit has generally been made on a Tuesday to a Hindoo place of Pilgrimage, called Goreeknath. A considerable number of persons usually resort thither on that day, to present their offerings at the shrine of the imaginary Invisible: a good opportunity is, consequently, afforded for conversation, reading, and distributing books to Pundits, Brahmins, Fakeers, Pilgrims, and Devotees of various orders and ranks. Opportunities of religious communication with the Natives are, in this and other ways, increasing; and a growing respect and attention on their part have been for some time observable. Two Adults were baptized last year: three have died since Mr. Wilkinson has been at the Station, witnessing a good confession.

The SEMINARY, which has been established somewhat more than two years, contains 12 Boys; and is thus spoken of by the Auxiliary Committee—

The upper Boys, besides reading Classical Books in the Persian and Native Languages, kindly furnished by the Government Committee of General Education, have committed to memory Martyn's Persian Translation of the Gospel of St. John, a short System of Astronomy and Geography, and various Catechisms of Theology. Theological and Scientific Lectures have also been given them.

A portion of ground has been allotted for a garden; in which the Boys in the Seminary provide themselves, by their own industry, with a daily supply of vegetables; and are thus afforded a healthy occupation for their leisure hours.

The CENTRAL SCHOOL has, since the last year's examination, greatly decreased in its number of Scholars; many of those, who had been two or three years under instruction, having left the School, to procure situations : the number, many new Boys having been admitted, is 30. Of these, Mr. Wilkinson states—

Being only beginners, the actual progress is of a much less interesting nature than that of the former year. They have, however, read the Scripture Parables, with explanations, and the Acts of the Apostles, in Persian; and have committed to memory a Scripture Catechism, besides some of the smaller class of books.

The Committee speak in very favourable terms of the FEMALE SCHOOL, under the immediate care of the Lady who so kindly charged herself with its superintendence, on Mrs. Wilkinson's departure. Two additional Schools have since been opened; one of which contains 9, and the other 6 Girls. Of those in the original School, the Committee write—

They have acquired, through the medium of Lectures and Catechetical Instruction, a thorough acquaintance with the Old Testament, to the delivery of the Law on Mount Sinai: they also daily read the New Testament, with which they are become well acquainted; and commit to memory Religious Catechisms, suited to their respective ages.

Cawnpore.

From this Station the Native Teacher, Dilsook, has been removed; and the Services of the Hindoostanee Chapel are at present suspended.

Agra.

It was stated in the last Report, that Fuez Messeeh, a Native Catechist, was stationed at Agra; but the last Report of the Calcutta Committee contains no detailed account of his proceedings.

The Rev. Dr. Parish, Chaplain of the Station, is much interested in the affairs of the Mission; and has circulated a proposal among the residents, for building a suitable house in the Kuttra, the scene of the late Abdool Messeeh's labours, and belonging to the Society, for the accommodation of a Clergyman or Schoolmaster, to superintend a Free School for all classes of Children—European, Indo-British, or Natives.

Meerut.

From Meerut, the Rev. Henry Fisher, the Chaplain, writes—

Behadur remains with me in a steady discharge of his duty—a sincere, consistent, and faithful man.

My Native Congregation is much the same as before. They appear sincerely to love the Means of Grace, which are continued, more particularly for their sake, every Wednesday Morning, in the Church, as usual. They attend very regularly, and lead a quiet inoffensive life. Many of them are very poor and destitute Widows, old, and some blind, who are supported by our Sacramental Collections.

Kurnaul.

Anund Messeeh, a Native Catechist, is usefully employed at this Station, where there appears a prospect of his labours being very useful. The following account of them is given in a Letter addressed by the Rev. Mr. Fisher, the Chaplain at Meerut:—

From the day of my arrival at Kurnaul, I have had Divine Service for the Drummers of the two Regiments of Native Infantry and their Wives, twice a-week, who all regularly attend. On these occasions, some Havildars, Naicks, and Spahes, come to hear; for my instructions are always open to every one who voluntarily chooses to be present, and many hear the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ with joy: to whomsoever Jesus shall vouchsafe to give a heart to believe, they will come into His Kingdom. During those days on which I have no Public Service, I go into the city, and declare to every man the mercy of our Lord; and when I return home, I commit to writing, according to your desire, any events or circumstances of each day, which may seem to be worth relating.

The following sketch of his proceedings at Kurnaul is taken from the last Calcutta Report:—

On Anund's first arrival at Kurnaul, he was welcomed and patronised by kind and pious friends, to whom he had been introduced by Letter; and by whose prompt assistance he was at once settled in his anticipated employment. He found numbers anxious for Religious and Moral Instruction, but particularly among the Christian Drummers; and, in order to meet their wants and wishes, commenced Divine Service (after the Form of our Established Church) on Sundays, Thursdays, and Fridays: on such occasions, he reads our translated Liturgy, and preaches to his Congregation; which, from the very first, consisted of 25 in number, and has gradually increased to about 40, and sometimes 50 on Sunday Mornings. Among these are some, who, though in extreme ignorance of the nature of the Christian Religion altogether, have, through life, been nominally Roman Catholics; but now have joined his regular flock, and give evidence of quickened and gracious feeling.

When Anund had obtained a regular Congregation, and found himself, through God's blessing, useful and happy, he ventured to point out the desirableness of having some settled house, to which he might bring his family, and devote himself to his Missionary labour, uninterrupted by any further necessity of revisiting Delhi on account of his domestic concerns. We dwell not upon the few difficulties and preliminary steps adopted in consequence, for the accomplishment of his wishes: suffice it, that a piece of ground was set apart for him—a subscription among a few kind and benevolent friends, speedily realizing the sum of 1500 rupees, was set on foot—and a House and School, serving also on the Sabbath for a Native Church, has been erected, and is now completely ready for him. We may calculate upon the probability of the School flourishing abundantly, as Anund has good reason to expect about 100 Scholars.

In addition to the regular Means of Grace, he frequently visits the city, and preaches in any convenient place that he can find, and numbers willingly hear him. He offers no open insult to their idol follies, and therefore raises no angry cries—Great is Diana of the Ephesians! but is very ready to reason with them on Righteousness, Temperance, and Judgment to come. He quietly contents himself with establishing that Man is a Sinner, and the Lord Jesus Christ the only Saviour.

MADRAS, AND SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

THE intention of the Committee, in reference to the formation on the Nilgherry Hills of an Establishment for the Education of the Children of Missionaries, was noticed in the last Report. A Special Meeting of the Madras Corresponding Committee was held on the 22d of July, for the purpose of carrying into effect the Society's designs; when a series of Resolutions was passed, and a Prospectus of the undertaking agreed on*. The Rev. James Baker Morewood, whose departure has been already noticed, has proceeded to Madras, for the purpose, if God permit, of taking charge of this Institution.

Want of health has compelled the Rev. James Hallewell to resign the office of Secretary to the Corresponding Committee; and he was succeeded by James Dalmahoy, Esq. as Acting Secretary; but his health failing, William Bannister, Esq. has been kind enough to undertake the office.

* See Appendix II.

The Rev. William Sawyer, finding it expedient to visit England, had, with the concurrence of the Corresponding Committee, left Madras previously to the date of the last despatches, but had not reached England when they were received†. Mr. Schaffter, from Mayaveram, had removed to Madras, to take charge of the Seminary during Mr. Sawyer's absence.

MADRAS, AND ITS VICINITY.

The Madras Committee, in their Eighth Report, give a satisfactory account of the labours of the Rev. Messrs. Sawyer and Ridsdale.

In reference to the MINISTRY OF THE WORD among the Natives, it is stated, that Mr. Sawyer has one Tamul Service on the Sunday in the Mission Church in Black Town, one on a Week Evening, and a Sunday Service at Perambore. Of the Congregation in Black Town, Mr. Sawyer writes—

The attendance on ordinary occasions is encouraging, being now, on an average, 170; including the Boys of the different Schools, who come regularly to Church. Much cannot be stated as to the flourishing condition of this Congregation, viewed spiritually. There is a great, even remarkable, decency and propriety of behaviour in Church; and it is hoped that some have a measure of experience; but of the generality, it must be confessed, but little of the fruit of righteousness is to be found upon them.

At Perambore, Mr. Sawyer has erected, partly at his own expense and partly by the liberality of friends, a small Church, at the corner of the ground on which the Seminary is situated: and of this part of his charge he remarks—

With regard to the Congregation at Perambore, which consists principally of Christians from Pursevalkum and the neighbourhood, including the residents on the premises at Perambore, I should be sorry to give too flattering accounts. As it is yet but in its infancy, much cannot be expected: the great object of building the Church is, however, abundantly answered; and the Heathens from every quarter have constant opportunity of hearing the Word of God, which is daily read or expounded, at the Church porch. It is impossible to calculate the number of persons who, from time to time, stand at the doors and windows. When it is considered that not less than 20,000 persons pass near the door of this

† While the Report was in the Press, Mr. Sawyer arrived.

Church, every new moon, to one single place of pilgrimage, and that all who pass by have the means of hearing the words of Everlasting Life, it may be hoped that future years may witness an extensive blessing.

Divine Service is regularly performed at three other places, Tripasore, Poonamallee, and Chingleput, by Catechists under Mr. Sawyer's superintendence.

In the English Department of the Mission, Mr. Ridsdale's labours have been much blessed. He has two Services in the Mission Church on the Sunday, Morning and Evening, and one on the Tuesday Evening. The following observations are made on this part of his labours, in the last Report of the Madras Committee:—

The Congregations assembling in the Mission Church have been nearly doubled since the publication of the Committee's last Report. During that period, it has pleased the Father of Mercies to give success to the Ministry of the Word: eight persons have been brought to a saving knowledge of the Truth, respecting whom there is every satisfactory evidence. There are several others, of whom the most pleasing hopes may reasonably be entertained; but these eight are striking instances of the power of Grace, and call for the most devout thanksgiving to the God of Salvation. The number of Communicants is about 60: several of these are young persons who have been admitted since the last Confirmation, and who encourage the belief that they are growing up in the fear of God. The Communicants, with but few exceptions, walk consistently, and afford reason to hope that they have passed from death unto life. On the eve of the Communion, a meeting of the Communicants is held; when the Scriptures are expounded with prayer, and the necessity of Christian consistency and decision, in public and private life, is more especially enforced: on these occasions about 30 Members attend.

A further opening for Mr. Ridsdale's labours is thus noticed in the Madras Report:—

In the month of January, 1828, the inhabitants of a very populous part of Madras, John Pereira's Garden, which is situated at a considerable distance from any place of Worship which they can attend, solicited Mr. Ridsdale to establish an Evening Service amongst them; which he most readily assented to: and since that period, he has regularly conducted Divine Service, in a house rented for that purpose, every Friday Evening. Mr. Ridsdale makes the following observations on this Congregation:—

The average attendance has been about 90; and the attention and decorum of the Congregation are most pleasing and encouraging.

During the year, 9 Adults from among the Natives, and 11 Children, have been baptized; 8 Marriages have been solemnized; and 4 persons have been buried.

There are in connection with this Station, under Mr. Sawyer's care, 20 Boys' SCHOOLS, including the Seminary at Perambore; of which, 3 are English, and the others Tamul. They contain 806 Scholars; of whom 51 are Brahmins, 491 Soodras, 23 Mussulmans, and 241 Pariars. These Schools, as might be expected, are more or less effective, according to circumstances: of one of them, the English School in the Mission Compound, Mr. Sawyer writes—

It contains 70 Boys; 60 of whom are regular in their attendance. A considerable number of Indo-Britons have received their education in this School, and some of them are now filling respectable situations in Offices at the Presidency. Several respectable Native Children have likewise been prepared for their different callings, in this School.

Of another, he remarks—

The third Tamul School is confined to the High-Caste Heathens, and is decidedly the best School in the Mission, whether the regularity, the diligence, or the talent of the Children, is considered. Not less than 10 or 12 Boys of this School regularly attend Divine Service in the Mission Church on Sunday Morning and on Wednesday Evening: they are, likewise, able to answer almost every question, of a simple nature, on Christian subjects.

Of the Schools, the Madras Committee observe, in their Report—

The Schools in Madras have admitted of a greater supervision than those more remote: the Schools most distant from Madras have, however, been visited by Mr. Sawyer every three months; and, during the intervening period, he has sent the eldest and most efficient Youths in the Seminary for the same purpose. This system has the double advantage, of keeping the Schoolmasters perpetually on the alert, and also of training up these Youths for their future labours.

On the whole, Mr. Sawyer gives the following general account of them:—

It may be remarked generally, concerning the Schools, that the Children are desirous of instruction, and have no objection to have the truths of the Christian Religion explained to them. Our Christian books are introduced into many Schools; and the Master is expected to devote the best part of the day to the reading and study of them with the Boys. The New Testament is read by the first class of every School; and it is the duty of the School Inspector to explain every verse that is read, as well as the Catechisms, which the Children commit to memory.

The SEMINARY contains 40 Youths, of whom 25 are Natives, and the others country-born: three have left the Institution during the year; one of whom is employed as a Catechist, with great promise of usefulness; a second has been appointed to the charge of a School in Madras; and a third is engaged in a School at Arcot. Of the means which are used towards qualifying the Students for the office of Instructors of their own countrymen, if God should be pleased to call them to it, Mr. Sawyer writes—

With regard to the Moral and Religious Instruction of the Boys, it may be remarked, that two hours of every day are devoted to a regular Exposition of the Holy Scriptures, and to Prayer: and it is hoped that these means may be effectual, under the teaching of the Spirit, to their spiritual improvement and future usefulness.

The Madras Committee speak in gratifying terms of the attention which Mrs. Ridsdale has paid to the FEMALE SCHOOLS; and state, that, at the last Annual Examination, the proficiency of her Scholars called forth the decided approbation of all who were present. These Schools, 5 in number, are attended, on an average, by about 220 Girls; among whom the more advanced read the Gospel of St. Mark; the first and second classes commit to memory portions of Scripture, Catechisms, and Hymns; and all are instructed in needle-work, reading, writing, and arithmetic. In reference to the means of supporting these Schools, the Madras Committee observe, in their Report—

As the prospects of extending the work of Female Education opened, it was considered desirable to promote a distinct interest in its favour: a separate fund was accordingly determined upon; and a subscription raised for its support. By this means, any additional demand upon the Society's funds was obviated; and from this source, these Schools have been hitherto supported.

Two other Schools had been opened; but were relinquished, from want of funds. An attempt was also made to bring the eldest and most proficient Girls from all the Schools under more particular observation and instruction, so as to qualify them for Schoolmistresses, and thus to lessen the difficulties arising from the want of efficient Teachers; but, owing to objections on the parts both of parents and children, this plan has not yet been realized. Of the facilities for further exertions in this interesting department of labour, the Committee write—

With regard to the work of Female Education in general, the greatest encouragement is experienced: and were more adequate funds at command, and suitable Teachers procurable, Schools might be multiplied to any extent.

Mr. Ridsdale continues to conduct the PRESS, of the labours of which the following account is given in the Madras Report:—

Besides a large quantity of general work done for the support of the Institution, the following Works have been executed since the commencement of 1825; viz.

For the Bible Society.

The Pentateuch, in Tamul	5000 Copies.
Joshua to 2d Kings, ditto	2500 —
Mark, Luke, John, and Acts, ditto	each 5000 —
Romans, ditto	7500 —
Matthew, in Teloogoo	3000 —

For the Tract Society.

Tracts on the Society's List 151,000 Copies.

For the Church Missionary Society.

Sundry Elementary and other Books and Tracts, of different sizes, in English and Tamul 80,700 Copies.

For the Wesleyan Mission.

Elementary and other Books 8500 Copies.

For the Jews' Society.

Tracts on the Prophecies 1200 Copies.

Mr. Ridsdale has, in some degree, been relieved from the burden of the secular concerns of the Mission, by the appointment of a Young Man, named Smith, to assist him; and the Committee are anxious to afford him still further aid, by sending out a Printer, as soon as a suitable person can be obtained.

The establishment of a LENDING-LIBRARY of Religious Books is noticed, in the Madras Report, as a valuable adjunct to the Mission. On this subject Mr. Ridsdale remarks—

This forms an important and interesting branch of the Mission. The Library was begun with 44 small Works, sent from England for the purpose. It now consists of 230 Works, of the choicest kind, and several of them consisting of 5 or 6 volumes 8vo. From 25 to 30 volumes are in circulation weekly; and there is pleasing proof, that, by this means, the minds of the surrounding Youth are greatly expanding and improving. An additional advantage connected with the Library is, that it promotes personal intercourse between the Minister and the people, and thus increases their mutual confidence.

Pulicat.

The Rev. John Kindlinger and Mrs. Kindlinger continue to occupy this Station.

The Tamul, Portuguese, and English Congregations appear to be much in the same state as they were last year; and Mr. Kindlinger has not hitherto met with much encouragement in his MINISTRY. He has lately opened a Bungalow Chapel, for a Tamul Service, every Tuesday and Friday Evening; of which the Committee state, in their Report—

The attendance is extremely good: inside the Chapel, the average number of hearers is from 30 to 40; but on the outside great numbers assemble: sometimes they hear very quietly what is said, but at others they start objections.

The Boys' Schools, which are 11 in number, one of them English and the others Tamul, contain 315 Scholars: they are all either in Pulicat or its vicinity, and admit of efficient superintendence. Each School is visited twice, and sometimes three times, in every month; when the Children are examined in what they have learned since they were last visited: their progress is satisfactory, and the attendance pretty regular. Mr. Kindlinger gives the following account of the Schools:—

I observe no difference between those with, and those without caste, but arrange them in their classes according to their progress in learning: in all the Schools the Scriptures are read daily; and Christian Catechisms are committed to memory, whilst scarcely any objection is made to them on the part of the Heathen. The Mussulmans and the Roman Catholics, however, object to reading Christian Books. As this was considered indispensable to their remaining in the Schools, some of them have taken away their children. In the month of June, a Roman-Catholic Priest settled at Pulicat, and drew away many of the children of his persuasion from the Mission School; but some have since returned. These circumstances will account for the Scholars being fewer in number than they were last year.

Mr. Kindlinger has been solicited to establish five additional Schools in the surrounding Villages.

There are 4 FEMALE SCHOOLS under Mrs. Kindlinger's care, 1 English and 3 Tamul, which are maintained by local subscriptions. The English School contains 21 Girls, and the Tamul Schools 46. Mrs. Kindlinger was for a considerable time much troubled by the inefficiency of a former English Schoolmistress, and for nearly two months was obliged to attend the School herself: in July last, however, she procured the services of Mrs. Hamilton, who is said to be well qualified for that duty, and who was therefore immediately placed in charge of the School. As the Mission, at that time, was also in want of a Master for the Boys' School, Mr. Hamilton (her husband) took charge of it; and since that period they have gone on prosperously, and Mrs. Kindlinger has been able to devote more of her time to the superintendence of the Tamul Schools.

The proficiency of the Children is thus noticed by Mrs. Kindlinger:—

The progress of the Children in learning is satisfactory: six of them have gone through the Gospel of Saint Matthew; and have commenced another book composed of useful Tales, and the First Book of Moses; most of them pretty fluently: and besides having committed to memory a great portion of the Catechism, they have commenced studying Arithmetic. Their ages vary from 17 to 7 years: the youngest, in general, are the most apt to learn, but the others excel in writing. The forenoon is devoted to reading, writing, &c., and the afternoon to knitting: eight are now qualified to knit stockings.

She afterwards adds—

The English School is opposite the Mission House, and the 1st Tamul School is in the Mission Compound; they are therefore visited every day. The two other Tamul Schools, being more distant, are visited once a week; when all the Children are examined, to ascertain the progress they have made. A General Examination takes place once every quarter; when rewards are distributed, according to merit, particularly in the 1st school, where the Girls are rewarded with the produce of their knitting. Attention is also paid to the improvement of their minds, and their habits of cleanliness; and although much cannot be said of success in these respects, yet there are instances among the Girls of the 1st School which have, in some degree, answered expectations.

The following extract from the Madras Report conveys a satisfactory testimony to the efficiency of this branch of labour:—

As some of the Members of the Corresponding Committee have recently visited the above Schools, and have examined the proficiency of the Scholars in most branches of their learning, it has afforded them sincere gratification to be able to bear a decided testimony to the excellence and nature of the Schools; and, at the same time, to state their conviction, that they are amongst the best-conducted and most promising Schools in the Peninsula.

Mayaveram.

The Rev. Paul P. Schaffter arrived at Madras the end of September 1827, and joined Mr. Bärenbruck on the 17th of October: he has since, however, been withdrawn for a time, for the purpose of taking charge of the Seminary at Perambore, during Mr. Sawyer's absence.

The following account of the MINISTRY OF THE WORD is taken from the Madras Report:—

Every Sunday Morning, a regular Tamul Service is performed in the Mission Compound School; and in the Afternoon, a portion of Scripture is expounded; or else John Dewasagayam, the Inspector of the Schools, reads a Tamul Service. In the Evening, an Exposition of a portion of Scripture in English is given. Every morning and evening, at 8 o'clock, Prayers are offered up in the School-room, in the Mission Compound, when Mr. Bärenbruck expounds a portion of Scripture in course. Previous to the Evening Service, however, either Mr. Bärenbruck or John Dewasagayam reads the Scriptures for the express benefit of the Heathen; after which it is explained and applied to the hearers, with suitable remarks.

The Congregation that assembles at the Tamul Sunday-Morning Service, fluctuates from 20 to 40: amongst them are about 30 Christians, a very few Roman Catholics, and from 6 to 16 Heathens. The Afternoon Congregation differs little from the former; but on the English Evening Service not more than 14 persons attend: this number comprises all who are acquainted with the English Language in the place. In the Daily Morning and Evening Service, from 16 to 26 Christians, and from 3 to 20 Heathens, attend. The Communicants vary from 19 to 30.

There is at present no regular place for Public Worship at Mayaveram: the Services are therefore performed in the School-room within the Mission Compound. Besides this, there is another School-room within a short distance of the former, opposite the high road leading to Combaconum: it is a situation of great thoroughfare; and being perfectly accessible, strangers frequently turn aside to hear part of the Service at the doors or windows, who could on no account be prevailed on to enter a place of stated Worship.

From the last Report, it appears that there are 29 Schools in connection with this Station, containing 1646 Scholars; of whom 46 are Brahmins, 1506 Soodras, 37 Mussulmans, 29 Protestants, and 13 Romanists. In two of the Schools, the Seminary at Mayaveram and a School at Combaconum, both English and Tamul are taught: in the others, Tamul only.

Mr. Schaffter thus notices the disadvantages which are connected with the management of the Schools by Heathen Masters; and the beneficial effects, notwithstanding those evils:—

There is difficulty in finding proper Schoolmasters to instruct these little Children in the reading and understanding of the Word of God. It is a sad necessity to be obliged to employ Heathen Schoolmasters in Schools which are to be conducted according to Christian principles, and the chief end of which is to impress the minds of the Children with the saving truths of the Gospel. However, notwithstanding this great defect, which cannot be now altogether prevented, Mr. Bärenbrück has many instances which shew that the Word of God has a powerful and blessed influence on some of the Children; and he cannot but look back on these Schools as one of the chief means which the Lord has put into his hands, for bringing this people from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God.

In the SEMINARY there are 30 Youths, who are included in the above number; of whom about 15 are preparing for Teachers to their Countrymen. Of these, Mr. Schaffter gives the following encouraging account:—

I may say, with truth, of our Seminarists, that the Word of God, which dwells among them richly, is not without effect: they seem to hear, with more and more interest and pleasure, what is good; and are submissive to their Teachers, and regular in their conduct. There are among them some very promising Young Men, in whose hearts the Spirit of God seems to have manifestly begun the work of true conversion; and I have been surprised to see how far some of them are advanced in the English Language and in other useful knowledge. May we not hope that it will please God to render some of these Young Men shining lights among their Countrymen?

The Madras Committee state, that John Dewasagayam, who has laboured so long and so faithfully at Mayaveram, but whose adherence to Caste caused many to entertain doubts of his sincerity, has become at length so fully persuaded of its incompatibility with Christianity, and of its injurious effects on himself, both as a Christian and as a Missionary Labourer, that he has made an open and formal renunciation of Caste.

TINNEVELLY.

It was stated in the last Report, that the Rev. J. C. F. Winckler and Mrs. Winckler, and Mr. Regel, a Schoolmaster from Sadras, had joined the Rev. Messrs. Rhenius and Schmid at Tinnevelly: they have all, with their families, been preserved in health to continue their labours. Mr. Winckler, who was stationed at Tutecoryn, remained there till September; but it being thought desirable that he should reside more in the midst of the Congregations, he removed to Palamcottah, where he was to reside during the Monsoon; and then to proceed to Dohnavoor, a place near the mountains, south of Palamcottah, where buildings have been erected for his accommodation, and from whence he will superintend the Congregations and Schools along the Hills. Mrs. Schnarrè's health was so much impaired in October, that she was advised to try a change of air; and, accordingly, proceeded to Quilon, from whence she would probably proceed to the Nilgherry Hills.

The MINISTRY OF THE WORD is still accompanied by an evident effusion of the Holy Spirit; and many circumstances are stated in the Madras Report which indicate, not only the continuance, but the EXTENSION of that Work which God has wrought by His Servants.

Of the EXTENT of this sphere of labour some idea may be formed, from the fact, that it embraces 146 Towns and Villages, in which there are 52 Places of Public Worship. In those, Divine Service is performed almost daily: on the Week-days, when the Catechists itinerate among the people, they assemble morning and evening, for the purpose of learning Catechisms, and hearing the Scriptures read and explained; and, on Sunday, they assemble for Worship at the Head-quarters of the Catechist. The Daily Services are attended by all, excepting those who are kept from them by the nature of their employments. In reference to these Services, the Missionaries write—

The number of Heathen attending Divine Service cannot be exactly stated. Many attend, particularly at such Chapels as are conspicuously situated and near the road, as those at Palamcottah, Tinnevely, Satangkoolam, &c.; and by this means, the Word of God, or portions of its truths, are scattered far and wide. Indeed, several late conversions have resulted from such casual (if we may so call it) attendance at these Places of Worship.

The number of people professing Christianity within this Mission was, at the end of June, 4305. The list shews an increase of about 800 souls more than there were at the end of the year 1827. This would have been greater; but many of those who came forward apparently from worldly motives, on finding themselves disappointed, and on being persecuted by their Heathen Neighbours or Headmen, returned to their former ways: circumstances are such, that persons of this description cannot remain long hid: they must soon declare themselves either to be altogether on the Lord's side, or else recede.

In reference to this, the Missionaries write—

On the whole, we have reason to say that a true knowledge of the Gospel and true conversions are on the increase. Among those who have stood fast from the beginning of their renouncing Heathenism, amidst many discouragements and persecutions, the Word of God takes deeper root: they begin to adhere to it because it is good; and recede from idolatry, and idolatrous practices, further than ever. Among them we have had the satisfaction, from time to time, to baptize such persons as have appeared to us to be fit for that sacred rite. During the year 1827, 76 persons were baptized; and from January to October, in the present year, 43 others have been admitted to that ordinance.

In speaking of the increase of Converts, one circumstance, which has greatly tended to strengthen their hands, is thus noticed by the Missionaries:—

We would particularly notice, with joy and gratitude to Almighty Grace, that, in the course of this year, in the town of Tinnevelly, where we seemed for seven years to preach the Word almost in vain, about 60 Soodra Families, of the Weaver Caste, have renounced Idolatry, and have been formed into a Christian Congregation, at the very time when the inhabitants began to boast that we had been so long preaching there without obtaining a single convert. They had, for the space of five months, to endure severe vexations and afflictions from their Heathen Neighbours; but the Lord enabled them to stand fast, and to bear all things patiently. The Word of Jehovah proved, from time to time, a great cordial to them; and they have experienced, that those who wait on the Lord, shall not be confounded. The confusion returned on the heads of their persecutors; one of whom came afterwards, confessing his guilt, and requested permission to join the Congregation. Thirteen of them have since been baptized, having given satisfactory evidence that they really believed in the Lord Jesus Christ.

This appears to have led to further results, of which they thus speak:—

That Tinnevelly had also received the Gospel, spread, of course, throughout the district, and encouraged others to follow their good example. In consequence, we have now several Congregations in the north of Palamcottah, among Soodras and Low Castes: a pretty large Congregation of the latter is about 60 miles to the northward, near the mountains. We are particularly pleased with these openings for the Gospel, because they are in quarters where it had not been previously admitted. Even among the Brahmins a spirit of inquiry is kindled; and two of them have attached themselves to our people, and appear to learn the word of Truth with benefit to their souls, though they have not yet formally renounced Heathenism.

Nor should it be forgotten, that, as far as the evidence of a change of heart can be ascertained by a change of life, this, in many instances, is not wanting; as the following extract from the Report will shew:—

With respect to the conduct of our Congregations in general, we are warranted in saying, that those who have continued to attend upon our instructions have become better men, in every respect. In fact, it is known among the Heathen, that to become a Christian, is to become a moral character: and there have been instances, in which Heathens still refuse to join the Church, because, as they said, they cannot yet leave off lying and other wicked courses of the world; yea, one person at least, of those who had already joined the Congregation, left it again for that very reason. We have also had, on several occasions, the testimony of their Heathen Neighbours to the fact, that the Christians walk not as they formerly did, when they were Heathen. Many of them, as far as appears to us, love the Lord Jesus in sincerity and in truth. On a recent occasion, we could have wished our friends to have witnessed the baptism of an old grey-headed man: he spoke with much animation of the state in which he was before his conversion, and of the great deliverance he had received from darkness and sin, through our Lord Jesus Christ; desiring now, like Simeon of old, to depart hence in peace.

Of the motives by which the people are influenced in making a profession of Christianity, the Missionaries observe—

All absence of worldly inducement, the persecution which usually follows a profession of Christianity, added to the arrangements we make respecting new Converts, are such trials, that new people will not come so easily forward to join the Congregations, if they have not some real persuasion of the excellency of Christianity, and some desire to be saved. We studiously avoid giving them our assistance in their secular concerns, excepting in very particular cases; and even then it is done, as much as possible, without their knowledge. Still they come forward, renounce Heathenism, and put themselves under Christian Instruction: so that, notwithstanding the declension in other Villages, the increase in six months is 800 souls: and ever since June last, several more Villagers have come forward, and have applied for Christian Teachers.

That instances are not wanting to shew the genuineness of their principles in the most trying of all seasons, is thus stated in the Report:—

On the death-bed, it has appeared in several instances, even in those who have not yet been baptized, that the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ was precious to them. Though their Heathenish Relations and Neighbours did every thing they could, in that awful hour, to persuade them to renounce Christ, and to offer to idols, giving them hopes of recovery by their means; they, standing on the threshold of eternity, have manfully refused all such advice, and have said, “We believe on the Lord: He will help us: His will be done!”—and so died in peace.

The following remark as to the blessing that may be expected to accompany God’s appointed ordinance of Preaching, deserves the attention of all who are engaged in Missions: it is as follows:—

These instances, of which we have, thanks to God! many more, both among men and women, shew, among other things, that the hope of converting the Natives is not to be limited to

Children; and that the Grace of God is as effective in the hearts of the old as in the young. We allude particularly to the notion, more common than it ought to be, that we can hope to see true Christians arise from the Schools only; and that all our labours among the GROWN people will be in vain. No, we can testify that it is not in vain: and we would encourage every one that labours in this Sacred Cause, whilst he instructs the rising generation, by no means to neglect the GROWN people; but to sow the good seed, both morning and evening, and to water it with persevering and believing prayers.

There are, besides the Male and Female Seminaries, 30 Schools in connection with the Station, which contain 619 Boys, and 37 Girls. The following account of them is taken from the Madras Report:—

The progress of the Children in Divine Knowledge, and in fluency in reading, is evident and encouraging, in most of the longer-established Schools. The Master of the School at Tatchanalloor died last year. When the Children of his School heard of his sickness, they went to the village where he was; and he exhorted them to continue to read our books, to keep God's Commandments, and to believe in Christ. When he was near death, his Wife asked him what she should do with her children. To which he replied, "Leave them to the Lord: He will care for them." A Boy of the same School died some time ago, calling on the name of Jesus. The hopeful death of another Boy is mentioned in Mr. Schmid's Journal, who, whilst labouring under the Cholera, and just before he closed his eyes on all sublunary things, endeavoured to comfort his father under the bereavement he was about to experience; and enjoined him carefully to preserve the Tracts he had received from the Missionaries, in order that his younger Brother might read them, as soon as he was able.

In the MALE SEMINARY there are 30 Youths, of whose diligence and general good-conduct the Missionaries speak favourably. They give the following account of their studies:—

The First Class consists of 7 Youths, who are studying English, Latin, Hebrew, English Arithmetic, Geography, combined with History, and the Evidences of Christianity. The Second Class, consisting of 14 Boys, do the same, with the exception of the Hebrew. The Third Class contains the remaining 9 Boys; who are still mostly in the Central School, occupied with Tamul Learning. All are particularly instructed in the Word of God: six of the Seminarists are yet unbaptized, but are candidates for Baptism: ten of the Boys are partakers of the Lord's Supper.

The Missionaries add—

From the Male Seminary we hope to derive, in a few years, by the Divine Blessing, more able Servants of the Congregations. We endeavour, by all means, to avoid taking any of them, at present, for the service, in order not to interrupt their progress in learning; neither do they themselves wish for it, for the same reason.

The FEMALE SEMINARY consists of 21 Girls. There were 26 till July, when it was thought advisable to send the eldest Girls home, in order that they might mostly be accustomed to their village labours: 6 have also been married, to Catechists; and the number has been supplied by the reception of some younger Girls. Of those now in the Seminary, the Missionaries write—

Only 8 among the present number of Girls have been baptized: the other 13 are from among our Congregations, not yet admitted to Baptism: many of them are greatly improved in their character: some of them still require strict discipline. Their progress in learning to read, cipher, and write Tamul, and in committing to memory the Catechisms and portions of Scripture, is pleasing: they have also received some knowledge of Geography. In Female Work, many are clever in spinning and knitting. Sewing is, at present, not much practised; because there is so little occasion for it.

The Translation of the Old Testament into Tamul has proceeded, during these two years, very slowly; owing to Mr. Rhenius's urgent extra labours. He has advanced only, in the Pentateuch, to the end of Exodus; and in the Proverbs, to the 20th Chapter.

In the increase of this Mission, Messrs. Rhenius and Schmid have made repeated and urgent applications for a supply of more Labourers, and for the establishment of additional Schools. The Madras Committee have met these applications, as far as circumstances allowed, by the opening of 17 New Schools, where they were most needed; but anxious as the Committee are to meet the call, there have been no means of sending them a fellow-labourer in their work. The Missionaries have endeavoured to supply the wants of the Mission by Native Catechists, whom it is their care to use all practicable means of qualifying for their office. Of these they write—

The number of Catechists labouring among the several

Congregations, at the end of June, was 43. On them we think it necessary to bestow particular attention, in order to promote their mental and spiritual improvement, and their fitness for the great Work in which they are engaged. We assemble them, therefore, every month, in Palamcottah, for six or eight days; when they give in their reports of the state of the people; are advised upon doubtful cases; receive further instruction in Theology; and enjoy the Lord's Supper with us. Latterly, we have also begun to make them discourse, at our Evening Meetings, in our presence, upon a certain passage of Scripture, of their own choosing; which, the next morning, is thoroughly criticised, accompanied by such instructions as they may require. This exercise they have found to be particularly useful. They have not all, as might have been anticipated, the same talents; but we can say of all, that they are true Believers; and willing to be faithful and profitable servants; and to be corrected in their errors, when wrong. Those who have been in the Seminary have evidently the advantage over the rest.

The Deputation of the London Missionary Society highly gratified both the Missionaries and their Congregations, by a visit. Mr. Bannister, of Madras, apprises the Committee, that he had frequently conversed with those Gentlemen, at Madras, respecting this Mission; and was assured by them, that not the slightest attempt appeared, in the documents published, to add a colouring to facts, but that to most of the statements they could themselves bear decisive testimony. In reference to this subject, and to the attempts which have been made in some quarters to discredit the statements, the Madras Committee remark—

That vast numbers of the inhabitants of Tinnevely have, of late, under the Ministry of the Society's Labourers, discarded their Idol Shrines, and professed to become Disciples of Christ, is a fact which ignorance alone can deny; and it is one, in which the Committee cannot but recognise, with devout thanksgiving, the special work of Him, who doeth according to His will, in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth; and none can stay His hand, or say unto Him, What doest thou?

TRAVANCORE.

Of the proceedings of the Missionaries in Travancore, very limited information has been received. A portion of the Madras Report was transmitted, while it was passing through the Press, which does not include the Stations in this District.

Cottayam.

The Rev. Benjamin Bailey and the Rev. Henry Baker, with Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Baker, have continued in the enjoyment of their health: but indisposition rendered it necessary for the Rev. J. W. Doran to seek change of air, which proved beneficial; and he has since so far recovered, as to be able to resume his duties.

The Missionaries have entered on the direct exercise of the MINISTRY among the Natives. While they continue to co-operate most cordially with the Syrians, they have, on good and substantial grounds, judged it right to establish, on their own part, a Malayalim Service, and have a most encouraging Congregation.

During Mr. Doran's absence, Mr. Bailey undertook the general superintendence of the COLLEGE; the classical department being entrusted to two of Mr. Doran's Pupils, of whose conduct during his absence he speaks in very favourable terms.

The College contains 53 Students; 10 of whom are in Deacon's Orders: they are divided into 8 Classes; and Mr. Doran gives a satisfactory account of their progress and good conduct.

There are 34 SCHOOLS under Mr. Baker's care: the Grammar School, with from 50 to 60 Scholars: 32 Parochial Schools, with 863 Boys; and one School, with 18 Girls.

Mr. Bailey continues to conduct the PRESS. The Gospel of St. Luke, in Malayalim, has been printed; and the Acts of the Apostles, as far as the 17th Chapter. Mr. Bailey is extremely anxious to render the Translation both as faithful and as universally acceptable as possible. The Liturgy, also, is begun at the Press; and many of the Homilies are translated.

Allepie.

The Rev. Thomas Norton, with his Family, reached Madras, August 5, 1827, on his return from England; and was detained there till the 20th of October: on the 20th of November he arrived at Allepie.

Of the MINISTRY OF THE WORD, Mr. Norton reports—
Divine Service is performed in the Church thrice on Sundays; once in English, and twice in Malayalim: once also, in the latter language, on Wednesday Evenings. On Tuesday Evenings the people have catechetical instruction; and, on Saturday Evenings, a number of them meet for Prayers.

There are 7 Schools; 1 English, and the rest Malayalim, including one for Girls. The number of Boys under instruction is 189: they consist of Protestants and Romish Christians, Mussulmans, Soodras, Chegoes, Velloovars, &c. &c.

The Girls' School, under Mrs. Norton's care, contains 13 Girls. Of these, the Madras Committee state—

They are taught plain needle-work, knitting and spinning, thread-making, &c.; and a selection is made of the most intelligent amongst the Children, for instruction in English. They all learn the Principles of the Christian Religion, in the vernacular tongue, in which some read very well.

Cochin.

The Rev. Samuel Ridsdale and Mrs. Ridsdale continue their labours at Cochin. A Service, which he had commenced in Portuguese, excited the opposition of the Roman Catholics, which has, in some degree, diminished the attendance. A Missionary Meeting is held on Wednesday Evenings, at which 60 or 70 people attend. An Assistant has been employed to read, in the public parts of the town, portions of the Scriptures in Malayalim.

TELLICHERRY.

No accounts have, for some time past, till recently, been received from this Station. It appears, from the Madras Report, that Mr. J. Baptist is employed as a Catechist; and that, in the English, Portuguese, and Malayalim Schools, there are now 193 persons under instruction; 62 Scholars are under tuition in the English Department; 29 in the Malayalim; and in the two other Native Schools, 102 Scholars: making a total of 193. The ages of these vary from 5 to 25 years.

The number of Schoolmasters stationed here by the Society is 4; viz. 1 English, and 3 Malayalim.

The Committee, after noticing Mr. Baptist's zeal and assiduity in the discharge of his duties, mention the following instance of the Divine Blessing on his labours:—

No less than six of his Pupils have, in the course of the last half-year, publicly renounced the Roman-Catholic Communion, and joined themselves to the Protestant Church.

Baptism was administered to a Heathen, at his repeated and urgent request, a few days before he died: he had been servant in a pious family, and often visited the Schoolmaster. A large assembly of Heathens, of both sexes, witnessed his baptism with deep attention. J. Baptist presses earnestly for a devout and zealous Missionary to occupy the Church at this Station.

BOMBAY, AND WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

THE Committee have long felt an anxious desire to enlarge the Mission to Western India; and they have sent forth, with pleasure, the Rev. John Dixon, and the Rev. Charles Farrar and Mrs. Farrar, whose departure has been already noticed, to a field in which so little has hitherto been attempted in the Cause of Missions*.

The Bombay Committee have selected the populous Village of Bandora, about 7 miles distant from Bombay, as a Missionary Station.

Mr. Mitchell has continued to superintend the Schools in Basseen and Tannah, which were last year stated to be under his care: at one time, these Schools amounted in number to 12; but Mr. Mitchell, from want of bodily strength and other circumstances, being unable to give to them such attention as he wished, reduced the number to 6. Of these, 3 Boys' Schools are at Basseen, and 1 Girls' School; and 1 for Boys, and 1 Girls', at Tannah. In the Boys' Schools there are, altogether, 120 Scholars; and in the Girls', 30.

* See Appendix III.

CEYLON MISSION.

THE Tenth Annual Meeting of the Missionaries was held at Cotta, on the 5th of September and following days.

COTTA.

The Rev. George S. Faught and Mrs. Faught having, on the departure of Messrs. Ward and Mayor, removed to Baddagame, the Labourers at Cotta are, the Rev. Samuel Lambrick and Mrs. Lambrick, the Rev. Joseph Bailey, and the Rev. James Selkirk and Mrs. Selkirk. Mr. Selkirk's health having suffered, he passed a short time at Baddagame; and his residence there appears to have been the means of improving it.

In reference to the MINISTRY, the Missionaries state, that the attendance on the Services at the Home Station is such as has been described in former Reports: there are Four Services at the Out-Schools every Sunday; and a Fifth, every other Sunday, has been commenced at a neighbouring Village: a building is erecting; and, when completed, it is intended to have Public Worship in it every Lord's Day. The state of the attendance on the Means of Grace is thus noticed by the Missionaries:—

The Sunday Services at all the Schools, except two, are attended pretty well; and the people give us reason to hope, from the attention which they always manifest, that there is, in the hearts of some of them at least, a desire to know and to receive the truths of the Gospel. Their orderly behaviour; their seeming desire to understand, expressed by the earnestness of their manner; their repeating the responses in the Service aloud, which they have learned to do from the School Children; and their very suitable and considerate answers to questions, put to them on the subject of the discourses, are indications of good.

Mr. Selkirk has, for the last six or eight months, had Service at the Pagoda School on Thursday Mornings; which, though not so well attended as at first, is still such as to give him encouragement. He has also, for two months back, had Service every Friday Evening, at a Schoolmaster's house in the Village of Cotta; which has been frequently so crowded, that many people stood on the outside. A little bungalow has lately been built by the people who attend; which is at present found to be too small, and is intended to be enlarged.

A Jew, who came to Cotta, after remaining for nine months under instruction, was admitted to Baptism ; but there is reason to apprehend that he has since apostatized.

There are 10 Native SCHOOLS connected with the Station, containing 243 Boys and 24 Girls; making a Total of 267, with an average attendance of 191 ; being a considerable increase on the numbers of last year. Of their proficiency, the Missionaries report—

Seven are at present daily reading and learning by heart, in order to repeat, at the close of each month, Lessons from the Book of Genesis ; 18 from the Acts of the Apostles ; 94 from the Gospel of St. Matthew ; 11 from the Abridgment of the Old Testament ; 20 from the Abridgment of the New Testament ; and the rest, the Ten Commandments, the Principles of Religion, &c. : besides which, they are daily taught to read the Native Books written on the Olla.

The English School contains 34 Boys; of whom 7 read the Old Testament, 13 the New, 10 are in the Spelling-Book, and the remainder beginners. Of the Scholars, the Missionaries write—

One Boy has been admitted on trial, who will be taken into the Institution : and three or four others, who have applied for admission, will most probably be received in a few months. The head-boys, besides being able to read pretty well, and write tolerably, have learned some of the three first, and others the four first, Rules of Arithmetic ; the Church Catechism, as broken into questions, and published by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge ; and are now learning Dr. Watts's Second Catechism.

The Foundation-stone of the CHRISTIAN INSTITUTION was laid by His Excellency the Governor, Sir Edward Barnes, on the 8th of November 1827, in the presence of a large assembly of the principal British Inhabitants, Civil and Military, of Colombo : on which occasion the Rev. Samuel Lambrick delivered an Address, declarative of the nature and objects of the Institution ; and the Archdeacon called down upon it, by solemn Prayer, the blessing of Almighty God. Ten Youths have been admitted on probation, of whom the Missionaries write—

They are all well-behaved, and attentive to the instruction which they receive. Of the piety of one or two we encourage hopes ; and the greater part of them are of sufficient capacity to receive the learning with which it is desirable they should be furnished, in order to their future usefulness.

A Building, designed for a Girls' School, has been completed, of which Mrs. Lambrick is to have the charge: in reference to it the Missionaries write—

The Parents of a few Children have already consented to send their Daughters; and we have no doubt but that, in the course of time, this School will be well attended, and prove a great blessing to the Village.

The efficiency of the PRESS, under Mr. Lambrick's care, was noticed in the last Report. Mr. Lambrick has been encouraged, by his Brethren, to persevere in his Translation of the Scriptures into the Vernacular Cingalese: and of that Translation, the Book of Genesis, the Gospel of St. Matthew, the Acts of the Apostles, and the Epistle to the Romans, have been printed.

KANDY.

The Committee having been unable to set apart a Missionary for this Station, and the supply of Labourers having been reduced by the return of Messrs. Ward and Mayor, the Rev. Thomas Browning has remained at Kandy without that assistance which he has so long and so greatly needed.

The means used for carrying on his work at Kandy are thus stated by Mr. Browning:—

Preaching on Sundays at the School-room in Portuguese and Cingalese, and at the Prison in Cingalese; catechizing the Cingalese Children on Wednesdays, and the Malabar Children on Thursdays; visiting the Schools occasionally; distributing Tracts and Portions of the Scripture; conversing with persons of different descriptions, as opportunities may offer, on religious subjects; and by having the Cingalese Scriptures read from house to house who are willing to hear them.

In his MINISTRY, Mr. Browning has been relieved by the appointment of a Chaplain to the Garrison; and, since he has been disengaged from the English duty, has resumed Preaching in the Prison, with some degree of encouragement. In reference to his performance of the Chaplain's duties, he writes—

I trust that my labours for the last two years in the English Service have not been altogether in vain: the Word of God has generally been heard with attention, and, I would hope, not without profit by some at least.

Of his other Ministerial Labours, he writes in February—

My faith and patience are still tried with regard to the success of my Ministry among the people around me. It is most difficult to secure any thing like a constant attendance on Public Worship; with the exception of the Modeliar, mentioned in former Reports, his Family, and persons connected with the Mission. Others, though most of them are Nominal Christians, and though they are frequently invited, will only come occasionally. I sometimes indulge the hope, when I see 20 or 30 assembled, listening attentively to the Word preached, that they feel interested in it, and that they will be induced to hear constantly; but perhaps I may not see the faces of these persons again for a month or six weeks. This conduct plainly indicates that they have no real desire to love and serve God. The Portuguese part of the population have been so negligent in this respect, that I have sometimes had none to hear me; and I have felt it necessary to tell them, repeatedly, that I must discontinue to preach in that language, unless the Service is better attended. How lamentable is it, that of several hundreds of that class of people who inhabit this town, so few feel inclined to worship their Creator! Oh, that God would work effectually upon their minds, and make them willing in the day of His power!

In July, Mr. Browning mentions that he had addressed a Letter to the Portuguese professing Christianity at Kandy, reproving their indifference to religious ordinances, and exhorting them to a more diligent use of the Means of Grace: this Letter had not been without effect, and had induced many to come and hear the Gospel who had not attended before, and others to be more constant in their attendance. In his Annual Report of the Station, Mr. Browning writes—

The people generally listen attentively, when they can be induced to come; but our Congregations, for the most part, are very small. Of the Communicants mentioned last year, one has left Kandy, one has been suspended: the other seven continue to walk orderly, as far as I know. There are a few others whose conduct appears hopeful, but who have not yet expressed a wish to be admitted to the Lord's Table.

The number of Baptisms during the year is 16; of Marriages 10; and of Burials 16. Mr. Browning thinks that there is a little advance in moral feeling among the Native Professing Christians respecting Marriage, though many of them still live in the neglect of it.

There are 9 SCHOOLS connected with the Station; 7 for Boys, and 2 for Girls. The Boys' Schools have 188 on the list, with an average attendance of 108; and the Girls 24, with an average attendance of 15. On these, Mr. Browning observes—

A degree of progress has been made in the knowledge of Reading and Writing, and also in the theoretic knowledge of Christianity; but it is far less than could be desired, owing to the irregular attendance of the Children, and want of knowledge, zeal, and activity in the Masters: yet it may be hoped that some good is done, since many Children are thus daily taught to read the Holy Scriptures, and to commit portions of them to memory.

Four of the most promising Lads in the English School have been admitted on probation into the Christian Institution at Cotta: of the conduct of three others, supported by the Society, Mr. Browning gives a favourable account. The conduct of the English Schoolmaster, who is now separated from the Mission, has greatly tried Mr. Browning. On a review of the Station in September, he writes—

It is still with us the day of small things; but, as that period is not to be despised, we must persevere in the expectation of seeing greater things. The Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; nor are the minds of the people so debased, but that He can raise them; so hardened, but that He can soften them; or so careless, but that He can awaken them to an anxious inquiry after the way of Salvation. May it please Him, in His own good time, to effect this glorious change, and to call from among the poor deluded Kandians a people to love Him, and to shew forth His praise!

BADDAGAME.

It was stated in the last Report, that the impaired state of their health had rendered it necessary for the Rev. Benjamin Ward and the Rev. Robert Mayor to leave Ceylon; and their arrival, with their Families, has been already mentioned. The care of the Station, on their departure, devolved on the Rev. George S. Trimnell; who has since been joined by the Rev. G. S. Faught, from Cotta.

In reference to their MINISTRY, Mr. Trimnell states, that, besides regularly preaching at the Church, and Country Schools, they constantly visit the people at their own houses; sometimes collecting together as many neighbours as they can; at others, conversing with individuals, and distributing Tracts to those who are able to read them.

In their Annual Report, they state that the Congregation at Church on the Sunday has evidently increased ; and on this circumstance they remark—

We wish we were able to attribute this increase to a desire in the people to hear the Word of Eternal Life ; but we fear that it arises chiefly from their having been more pressingly invited to come, and from their unwillingness to offend us. But from whatever cause it arises, we are glad to see an increase in our Congregation ; and, though many appear to pay little attention, yet to some we hope that the Word is not spoken altogether in vain. In our visits to the people at their own houses, and in our meetings with them at the Country Schools, we find many things to try our faith and patience ; many things which ought and sometimes do, we hope, excite our pity and compassion ; and some things to encourage us to persevere in the strength of the Lord.

Among their trials, they mention the circumstance of two Buddhist Priests who have come to reside in the Village, and who attract large Congregations : this, with other difficulties inseparable from Missionary Labour, has greatly harassed them : but their remarks, in reference to these, shew that they know where to look for support :—

The strength and the battle are the Lord's, not ours. His is the power to pull down the strong holds of Satan, and to extend His own dominions to the ends of the earth. And it may be His pleasure fully to shew us our own weakness and insufficiency, by bringing a host of enemies, trials, difficulties, and oppositions against us, that we may learn to look more to Him and less to ourselves ; that He may display most clearly His more invincible power ; that all may know and confess, that it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

The care of the DAY SCHOOLS is committed to Mr. Faught, and Mr. Trimnell takes charge of the Boarding Boys. Two new Schools have been opened during the year, making, exclusive of the Boarding School, 6 in number. 220 Boys are on the list ; but, on an average, only 162 attend.

In the BOARDING SCHOOL there are 11 Scholars. 5 have during the year been removed to the Institution at Cotta ; 1, there is reason to hope, has died in the faith and love of the Saviour ; 1 has been dismissed ; and 2 have been received. Of those now in the School, the Missionaries write—

They, in general, make satisfactory progress in their Cingalese and English Studies, and in the knowledge of the Word of God and Christian Principles; and we are not without hope, that Divine Light may be gradually illuminating their minds, though there is no evidence of any of them being powerfully awakened to a sense of their sin and danger.

The Girls' School is not so well attended as it has been; which may, in a great measure, be accounted for by the departure of Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Mayor, who had so long conducted it. Of the general state of the Mission, Mr. Trimnell gives the following view:—

We could send home statements, in which there might not be the least deviation from truth, which would be very interesting and encouraging to our friends, but would produce, however, very false impressions on their minds, and lead them to think that our work was prospering much more than it really is. Our accounts are discouraging to you, but not a tenth part so much so as the things are to us which we constantly see and hear. We would, therefore, earnestly beg, that, in all your Missionary Sermons, and in all your Addresses at Missionary Meetings, you would crave from the people, above every thing else, their believing and earnest prayers.

I must not, however, lead you to think that we have no encouragement, or that we have no distant prospect of the Sun of Righteousness rising upon this benighted land. The twilight in some countries is much longer than it is in others. In this land, the natural sun very soon after day-break springs up and shines with great splendor: in England, the faint but increasing twilight continues some hours before the sun breaks forth; yet the rising of the sun is certain. It may be the same in this country with the Sun of Righteousness: it may be long ere He shines with splendor; but His rising is sure, and the time is appointed; and we believe that there is, even now, a little glimmering of light, which will shine more and more unto the perfect day.

Mr. Selkirk and Mr. Trimnell have given an account of the many indications of regard shewn by the people towards Mr. Ward and Mr. Mayor, on occasion of the Farewell Sermon preached by Mr. Mayor previous to their departure. Referring to the expression of feeling then shewn, Mr. Trimnell writes—

I have never been so much encouraged by any thing that has happened before, as I have by this scene; for I perceive that the people are not void of feeling and affection. My love for them has been greatly increased; and I hope, that I shall labour among them with more zeal and delight than I have hitherto done.

Nellore.

The Rev. Joseph Knight and the Rev. William Adley, with Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Adley, have continued their labours at Nellore. Mr. Adley visited Madras in the beginning of the year ; and passed a fortnight there, with Messrs. Sawyer and Ridsdale.

In the exercise of their MINISTRY, the Missionaries have an English Service every alternate Sunday at the Fort, and a Tamul Service at Nellore on Sunday Morning and Wednesday Afternoon : the Youths, and persons connected with the Mission, are instructed on the Sunday Afternoon, and there is usually Preaching or Exposition of the Scriptures at two of the Out-Schools ; and, in the Evening, while the Mission Families are engaged in an English Service, the Communicants and others hold a Meeting in the Church for Prayer and mutual instruction. The Missionaries further state :—

On Monday Afternoon, a Meeting is held for Inquirers : on Wednesday Noon, one of the Missionaries assembles the Communicants ; and in the Evening, after Sermon, there is a general meeting of all at the Station desirous of knowledge and instruction in the Christian Religion : on Fridays, the Schoolmasters attend, to be instructed from portions of Scripture previously given to them : on Saturday Afternoon, the Boys have a Meeting, for the purpose of being instructed in Scriptural Knowledge ; and in the Evening, for Prayer that a blessing may attend Missionary Exertions. For some months past, a Monthly Native Missionary Meeting has been held on the Second Monday in the month, and, we trust, has been productive of much good : the Members of it have obtained more enlarged views of Missionary Subjects, and have been roused to more diligence and care for the souls of their Heathen Brethren.

The SCHOOLS, 19 in number, contain 973 Scholars ; of whom 868 are Boys, and 105 Girls : of these, on an average, 714 Boys attend, and 80 Girls, making a Total of 794. A proportion of the Children from all the Schools attend Church on Sunday, excepting those of two of the Schools which are in an adjacent Island. Of the Children, the Missionaries report :—

The attendance of the Children at School and their progress in learning have been, on the whole, more satisfactory during the past year than formerly. The Monthly Examinations to which the Schools are subjected, and by which the Master's pay is regulated, together with various other plans adopted to prevent imposition and secure faithfulness, have produced very desirable effects. To correct the parrot-like method, prevalent in the country, of learning every thing by rote without reference to the understanding, an attempt has been made, not altogether without success, to put in practice more fully than formerly the plan adopted at Cotta, of requiring the Children to answer questions proposed impromptu, on what is learnt or read at the time of examination.

A School for Girls has been commenced; but the Missionaries have not met with much encouragement: the number of Scholars is not stated.

The BOARDING SCHOOL consists of 27 Scholars: two of whom have made sufficient proficiency to entitle them to be recommended for admission into the Institution at Cotta: and the Missionaries state, that they are all proceeding creditably in their studies, and that many of them are Youths of considerable promise.

At the commencement of the year, a LIBRARY was established at the Station, in connection with the Boarding School, in which copies of the Scriptures, Tracts, and all other Books in the Tamul Language of a religious nature that can be obtained, are placed, for the use of any who may be disposed to read them.

In reference to the use which is made of this Library, the Missionaries write—

It being felt, with respect to many in the School and connected with the Mission Premises, that, besides the usual Exposition of Scripture at Morning and Evening Prayers, some daily means were necessary for their becoming more generally acquainted with subjects connected with the Christian Religion, an hour each day was appointed, between the time of dinner and the commencement of the afternoon studies, in which all should meet, and select Christian Works to be read, and, if necessary, explained. In this way, nearly the whole of the books in the Library have been gone through: the Meeting still continues, and, we hope, proves a means of instruction and benefit.

The PRESS has, for the most part, been kept in employ, either in printing for the Jaffna Tract Society, or on account of the Wesleyan and American Missions.

On the Spiritual Condition of the Station the Missionaries make the following remarks:—

While we feel, that we have cause for humiliation and regret before Almighty God, that another year has passed without any addition to the number of Communicants, we have much cause for thankfulness and praise for our present circumstances and prospects. With one exception, by the exercise of discipline in the case of an individual on whom we have reason to hope that salutary effects have been produced, the Communicants have continued to hold on their way with a consistency and zeal that we trust, as an example, will be productive of good. To the inquirers, among the Youths formerly mentioned, who continue in the exercise of the Means of Grace, and are manifestly obtaining increasing knowledge, two or three cases of a very hopeful kind have lately been added, and a general feeling of increased anxiety on the important concerns of the soul and eternity is at present evinced by most of those attending these means.

AUSTRALASIA MISSION.

THE return of Mr. Charles Davis at the end of July, and his subsequent departure, with that of Mrs. Davis, the Rev. Alfred N. Brown, Mrs. Brown, and Mrs. Hart, have been already mentioned. They received the Instructions of the Committee* on the 9th of February; and embarked on the 25th of April, on board the Elizabeth, Captain Mackdonald, for New South Wales.

It is intended that Mr. Brown should take the charge of the education of the Missionaries' Children, and that Mrs. Hart should assist Mrs. Henry Williams.

The Rev. William Yate, and Mr. and Mrs. Baker, whose departure was noticed in the last Report, arrived at Sydney in New South Wales, on the 21st of December 1827. Mr. Yate embarked for New Zealand, on board the Mission Schooner the "Herald," and arrived there on the 19th of January. Mr. and Mrs. Baker remained in the Colony till after her confinement; when they followed Mr. Yate to New Zealand, and arrived there on the 9th of June.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

Mrs. Lisk's health not being sufficiently strong to admit of her removing to a distance from medical advice, Mr. Lisk has not engaged in labouring, as had been intended, among the Aborigines. An opportunity has been afforded him of establishing a Private Seminary in the Society's House at Parramatta, as the most promising method of relieving the funds.

Lieut. Col. Arthur is anxious to establish a Mission among the wretched Aborigines of Van Diemen's Land, about 2000 in number, for which some unexpected facilities offer; and has applied to the Society for a Missionary: but the large and increasing demands on the Society's resources have prevented the Committee from holding out any expectation that this and similar applications can be complied with.

BAY OF ISLANDS, NEW ZEALAND.

The circumstances of the New-Zealand Mission, as related in the last Report, were accompanied with no ordinary interest; and the commotions among the Native Tribes, and the probable consequences of the expected death of Shunghee, whom God seems to have specially raised up for the protection of His servants, could not be regarded without considerable anxiety.

The death of this celebrated Chief has since taken place; and, in the circumstances by which it was followed, the over-ruling hand of Jehovah is most clearly discernible. Within a few days after this event, hostilities commenced between his people and another powerful Tribe; which so engrossed the attention of the Natives, that, if they had intended to plunder the Missionaries, they were diverted from their purpose by being summoned to the field of battle. This display of the Divine Goodness was followed by another. The principal Chiefs of Shunghee's Tribe, which had been routed in one action and was preparing to renew hostilities, proposed to the Missionaries to mediate between the contending parties. Negotiations were accordingly opened on the Saturday; but, on the Missionaries informing the Chiefs that the following day was the "Sacred Day," further proceedings were deferred till the Monday. The Sunday was passed by the Missionaries among the assembled warriors, of which Mr. Williams gives the following account:—

Tohitapu, and some other Chiefs, caused the people to sit down all around, leaving us a place to stand in the middle. We began by singing a hymn, and prayer; and after having addressed them, we concluded with prayer. They were very attentive, and behaved remarkably well: our Congregation consisted of at least 500 people. After Divine Service, we walked through the camp, and spoke to the people in their temporary huts. In the afternoon, we again went round the camp, and conversed with the people. In this way we spent our Sabbath, in the midst of an army of savages, without the least fear or apprehension. The Lord has certainly given us great influence among these people. We have not received the least insult; but, on the contrary, every attention has been paid to us. Surely, these are new days indeed! Little did I think to have been so much respected in a savage army.

On the Monday, it pleased God to bless the efforts of the Missionaries; and peace was concluded between the hostile parties, to the mutual joy and satisfaction of all concerned.

The Mission has sustained a serious loss in the wreck of the "Herald" schooner; but the Committee hope soon to have it in their power to replace it with another vessel.

Rangheehoo.

Mr. John King is chiefly occupied in the School; while Mr. James Shepherd is employed in visiting the Natives, and in the translation of the Scriptures.

Of the Scholars under his care, Mr. King writes, in March—

I have had, for some months past, about 24 Men and Boys, and 14 Girls, in the School. Most of them are diligent in learning to read and write: some of them are working sums in Addition and Multiplication. We have daily cause for thankfulness to God for all His mercies towards us; and for what He has done, and is really doing, for the Heathen. His word is pulling down the strong-holds of Satan. The Lord has answered our prayers; He hath, and is, increasing the number of our Scholars; and, when He inclines many to come to live under the sound of the Gospel, may we not expect, nay, may we not be sure, that it will prosper, and accomplish the thing for which He sent it?

On the same subject, Mr. Shepherd writes, in October—

Our School is tolerably well attended. We have upwards of 30 Natives, male and female, therein; some of whom manifest an earnest desire to learn. Indeed, I trust that the Word of Life has had its due effect upon the minds of some. We have now a young man lying ill, who I believe is seeking that rest which is above.

Mr. Shepherd thus speaks of the general conduct of the people :—

The Natives of the Settlement behave, in general, tolerably well: they never come near us to make disturbance; and they take our part when other parties behave ill. Those who live more immediately with us are a little trying at times: we hope, however, that we shall, ere long, see better days. We find, that in order to get the Natives to do a little work, they require constant attendance, which, with our many other duties, is not easy to give them.

Mr. King has given the following account of the latter days of a New-Zealander, who, there is reason to hope, was brought to the knowledge of Christ as his Saviour :—

He said, formerly he used to disbelieve all that was said about Jesus Christ, and believed Jehovah to be a very angry God; but about five months before his death, the Word of God came with power, and made him tremble and be much afraid. From that time he began to pray and seek the Lord in earnest; and has given satisfactory evidence of his being a brand plucked out of the burning: he prayed, as our Natives observed, night and day to God for the pardon of his sins, and to wash his soul in the blood of Christ, and to prepare his soul for heaven, and for a new and good heart, and not to permit him to go to hell, but to take his soul to heaven. He had peace and joy in believing at times, as well as fears and doubts. Our Natives were surprised to see him so calm and cheerful, in the prospect of death, and labouring under bodily pain; and say that he is gone to heaven, for they remarked that his end was peace.

This Settlement having been found unsuitable for the Mission, from want of level ground, it is to be removed to Tepuna, about a mile distant.

Kiddeekiddee.

The Rev. William Yate was, on his arrival in New Zealand, stationed at Kiddeekiddee; and has associated with him, Mr. James Kemp, Mr. George Clarke, and Mr. James Hamlin, and their Wives. Mr. and Mrs. Baker were also, on their arrival, appointed to this Station.

Messrs. Kemp, Clarke, and Hamlin, go out among the Natives as much as possible; and once in the week, generally on a Thursday, extend their visit to Te Waimate, about ten miles distant. Mr. Yate had, in September, attained sufficient knowledge of the language to enable him to converse with the Natives. Of the Services at the Station he says—

We have Native Prayers, every morning and evening, in the Chapel; and Native School in the morning.

Of the conduct of the Natives at the Sunday Services, Mr. Kemp writes :—

You would be pleased to see how our little Chapel is filled on the Sunday with Natives and our Families. The conduct of the Natives is truly pleasing; many of them begin, I hope, to understand, in some degree, the truths which are made known to them.

The beneficial influence of their visits among the people is thus noticed by Mr. Clarke, in March :—

Our visits of late among the Natives have been pleasing: generally, they will listen to the instruction afforded them, and encourage us to continue our visits among them: and the Lords seems to be giving us and His Word a gradual influence among them; so much so, that our presence is sufficient to prevent them from those enormities which were once committed with the greatest audacity before us.

On the same subject, Mr. Kemp writes :—

The more we visit the Natives at their own dwellings, the more we feel the need of repeating our visits: they are generally very attentive; and wish us to make our visits more frequent, that they may retain what is said to them in their memory.

The numbers in the SCHOOLS have, from a short supply of provisions and other circumstances, fluctuated; but the general average appears to have been from 50 to 60, all of whom are under a course of instruction in reading and writing, as well as religious instruction.

The Girls' School is attended by Mrs. Kemp, Mrs. Clarke, and Mrs. Hamlin, who express themselves satisfied with their improvement in reading, writing, and sewing, as well as with their general conduct.

In October, Mr. Clarke writes :—

We are continuing to itinerate among the Natives as often as practicable, and are attending to the Language and Schools, and are much encouraged in our work. We find that the Gospel is gaining influence among the people: some of the enormous crimes, that used to be openly practised, are now, almost generally, committed in secret; and their number, we have every reason to believe, is generally diminished.

Pyhea.

The persons engaged at this Station are, the Rev. Henry and William Williams, with their Wives; Messrs. Fairburn and Davis, and their Wives; and William Puckey. Mr. John Tuckwell has left the Station.

The various objects to which the attention of the Missionaries is directed, the visiting the Natives, the Schools, and the Translation of the Scriptures, have been pursued as usual. A Chapel, 40 feet by 20, with a room attached to it of 10 feet by 12, was opened in the beginning of September, which will afford accommodation for those who desire to attend the MINISTRY OF THE WORD, but who have of late been too numerous for the room which has been employed for the purpose.

The Native Settlements at Waikari, Kaua-kaua, and Wangai, have been visited every fortnight, by some of the Members of the Mission. Of the readiness of the Natives to receive the messengers of peace, Mr. Yate thus speaks:—

In visiting the Natives at the Kaua-kaua with the Rev. W. Williams and Mr. C. Davis, seven parties, in number about 220, were addressed. I was perfectly astonished at the desire manifested by these poor creatures to hear what we had to communicate: they everywhere received us with the most marked respect, pleasure, and attention. The friends of the Society would have been delighted, could they have witnessed the scenes which I this day beheld.

This department of labour the Missionaries have not been able to enter upon as they could desire, in consequence of the smallness of their number; as will be seen from the following remarks of Mr. W. Williams:—

Our hands are still much tied for want of Labourers. We have been enabled of late to go more among the Natives, since the buildings which we have projected have been set aside: but yet at Pyhea, which is much the strongest, we have not hands enough to carry on the work effectually; and, at Kiddeekiddee and Rangheehoo, our Brethren are still much hindered from leaving home, for want of further assistance. To put the Settlements on an efficient footing, there should be four Missionaries at Rangheehoo, four at the Kiddeekiddee, and at least eight at Pyhea. So great a number at each Settlement, when the population is so small, may seem superfluous; but the situation of the country renders it necessary. If two families alone reside at one place, it will be seldom prudent for one person to be absent beyond a few hours, in consequence of the importunities of the Natives. If two persons, then, are left at home, and others go out to the Native Settlements two and two, the number which I have mentioned will find full employment in this Bay. When the Natives shall hear the Gospel regularly, we may expect to see the fruit of it as abundant in this land as in any other; whereas now we hear, from day to day, fresh designs for cruelty and mutual destruction.

The feelings of the Missionaries, in reference to this want of more help, are thus noticed by Mr. Williams, in connection with a conversation which he had with some of the people at the Haumi:—

While speaking to them of their dreadful situation, and the dominion that Satan exercised over them, in holding them in his own power, that they should not believe, one man from Wangai, where we have been in the habit of going occasionally, asked me whether it was Satan who restrained us from going to them, as we once did, to instruct them. I felt this word of admonition very keenly, and regretted exceedingly the weakness of our force. Two persons ought to be out daily, to visit the Natives even once a fortnight; but as yet it is very little that we can accomplish.

Of the SCHOOL Mr. Fairburn gives, in March, the following account:—

Our School, composed of our own Natives living with us in the Settlement, upward of 80 in number, is very interesting. They are assembled together from each house every day, for the purpose of instruction in reading, writing, and arithmetic, as also for Public Worship. Most of them improve rapidly: several can read the translation with fluency, and others can write and cast up accounts in a manner highly satisfactory; and they are no less desirous to obtain books in their own language.

Many more scholars might be obtained with ease, if there were a sufficient supply of food: the difficulties arising from the want of this are thus noticed by Mr. Williams:—

We are brought to great straits at this time for provision for our Natives: for those in the Settlement we have not a day's provision left, and those in the other Settlements are nearly in the same case. We shall be obliged to send them to seek it among their friends.

In the same Journal, Mr. Williams mentions the following anecdote of the Boys under his care:—

At times, we hope that our Natives are beginning to think seriously about the things which they hear from us; though, in general, they are very indifferent. Last night, after our Evening Service, I overheard my Boys singing a Hymn in their own house; after which, one of them read a portion of St. Matthew, which we have translated; and concluded with the Lord's Prayer. The Boy who conducted this Service wrote to me the following question, upon his slate: "How is it, that we continue to pray according to your instructions, and yet our hearts are not changed?"

It must not be forgotten, however, that though the conduct of the people is strikingly improved, yet many circumstances arise which indicate that their natural ferocity is restrained only by an overruling and Almighty arm.

On Sunday, towards the conclusion of our Morning Service, our Natives came to tell us that a number of Natives were in the Settlement, and beginning to be very troublesome. The party consisted of Natives from a distance, who had been visiting a neighbouring Settlement, on a plundering expedition, the day before: they were come now into our Settlement, for the purpose of snatching all that they could lay hands on. We were all obliged to hurry out; as some few had already been over my fence, with baskets, for the purpose of taking up the potatoes growing. The people were entire strangers to us; and were vociferating in a most angry mood, and striking the fence with their hatchets: it seemed as though they were ready to make a rush, for general plunder. We went out, however, into the midst of them; and, after a little while, persuaded them all to sit on the ground, in number 150, as nearly as we could count them. We considered, that the path in which we were most likely to quiet them would be to speak to them boldly concerning our great Message: instead, therefore, of expostulating with them for coming on the errand they were evidently bent on, we told them why we were come to this land, what was their condition, and the remedy. They listened quietly; and, though they frequently cast a wishful eye on the potatoes, and spoke of taking them, yet, at length, they walked off quietly, and gave us no further trouble. The same Tribe, this time last year, plundered the garden of the Missionaries at Wangarooa, and threatened their house also, a few weeks before their Mission was broken up; and there is not the least doubt, that their intentions were most mischievous, when they came to our Settlement: but there was a hand over us, which restrained them from touching even a hair of our heads. While some of our party were in conversation with the people, I went up to a Chief of our own Tribe, who was sitting at a distance, anxiously waiting the result. He observed to me, that though the people were pacified for the present, they would soon rise up and be very angry, and carry off every thing : but I was able to tell him, that stronger is He that is for us than they who are against us; and so the result quickly proved to him.

In October last, the various Members of the Mission were in good health ; the Natives in the Schools at the three Settlements were about 200 in number ; and the following general view of their proceedings is given by Mr. Williams :—

The state of the Mission is peace. All are advancing progressively and in order. The Schools have met a check, we hope only temporary, by the scarcity which has prevailed in the Colony, which has made it needful to reserve for ourselves the flour which was procured for them. The knowledge of the language is breaking in upon us day by day, and our voices are continually lifted up : much attention is paid by the Natives, and we trust that the Lord has given us grace in their sight. The Translation goes on ; and we have lately introduced part of the Liturgy in Mauri into our Morning and Evening Service, and shall probably continue until the whole be accomplished. A Printing Press is much wanted, and would tend to keep us much closer to our work in translating. It is very little which can be accomplished, with our utmost efforts : we hope you will soon think of us again, and strengthen our forces : we have had it in serious contemplation to break up the Rangheehoo Settlement, owing to the fewness of our numbers.

WEST-INDIES MISSION.

THE Committee of the Jamaica Auxiliary Church Missionary Society, in communicating a Report of their proceedings, have furnished a valuable statement of the field which is opening for more extensive operations in Jamaica, if the Society were furnished with the means.

The Rev. John Stainsby and William Taylor, Esq. have been appointed Secretaries, in the room of the Rev. G. Griffiths ; and W. Whitehouse, Esq., Treasurer.

Papine, Parish of St. Andrew.

Mr. William Manning has enjoyed good health, from the commencement of his labours. He reports, in August, that he had 64 Children under his instruction, 18 of whom were at that time ill : of these, 30 are able to read the Scriptures fluently. In the evening, his house is opened for the instruction of the Adult Negroes, very few of whom attend regularly. On Sunday Morning, Prayers are read, and a Sermon; and, in the Evening, after Prayers, the Adults and Children are catechized : few, however, of the Adults manifest a readiness to attend, though a day in the week is allowed them for obtaining the means of support.

Mr. Manning mentions, that Obeah prevails among them; and that many, though remonstrated with, live in a state of fornication. After noticing their condition, he remarks—

This is not the greatest difficulty we have to contend with: the opposition of the white inhabitants is by far the greater obstacle in the way of this people's conversion. They represent the character of the Missionary as bad; and pretend to the Slave, that he comes out here for the purpose of enriching himself; and thus bring him into disrepute, among those to whom he might otherwise prove the greatest blessing. Nevertheless, under all the apparent difficulties in the way of this people's conversion, the Lord has been pleased to shew that our labour is not entirely in vain.

Salt Savanna, Parish of Vere.

Mr. H. C. Taylor, who was for some time occupied in the instruction of the Negroes on this Estate, has resigned his connection with the Society; and has been succeeded by Mr. Ebenezer Collins, whose departure was noticed in the last Report. Mr. Collins's health suffered, for some time after his arrival at his Station; but, from recent accounts, appears to have improved.

A Chapel and School-room have been prepared, for the purpose of affording facility for the religious instruction of the Negroes. Of the subjects of his charge Mr. Collins writes in September—

The Children in the School are going on pretty well. They are now learning a Catechism compiled by the Rev. Mr. Trew : many of the Children learn it well, and understand it : there are others who are very backward in learning it. I have just cause for hoping that there are two or three of the elder Children who discover some anxiety about the welfare of their souls : they feel a pleasure in attending on the Means of Grace. The Adults are much in the same condition as when I last wrote : there are many who profess themselves Christians; but, at present, I can discover none who shew, by their faith and practice, that they are such.

Low Ground.

A Brown Man, named Calmun, and his Wife, have been stationed at this place.

Blue-Mountain Valley, St. Thomas's in the East.

No accounts have been received of the labours of the Catechist at this Station.

Coley, St. Thomas's in the East.

Mr. Joshua Wood, whose departure and arrival have been already mentioned, is appointed Catechist on this Estate.

The attention of the Jamaica Committee has not been confined to the Slave-Population, but has been directed to the Maroons. In reference to them, the Committee write—

These people—a race of free Negroes—are collected together in four Negro Towns in different parts of the Island, each being under the controul of a White Commandant.

Although they are the subject of many laws and of some political jealousy, they have, until recently, been wholly neglected in respect to their religious culture. Their distant situation in the interior of the Island, far removed from any Place of Worship and means of instruction of any description, having excited the attention of members of our Society, establishments have been formed at three of their Villages; viz. Moore Town, Accompong, and Charles Town.

Moore Town, Parish of Portland.

Of this Station the Committee report—

The School at this place, under the charge of Mr. M'Pherson, proceeds satisfactorily; most of the Children being under daily tuition. Many of the people themselves are desirous of religious instruction.

Accompong, Parish of St. Elizabeth.

Of Accompong, the Committee state—

This Settlement is remote, and, until it attracted the attention of the Auxiliary, was destitute of all means of instruction. At the instigation of several members, these neglected people commenced a building, to be used as a School-house and temporary Chapel. Mr. Sharp, the appointed Teacher, has recently commenced his instructions.

Charles Town, Parish of St. George.

In reference to this Village, their Report states—

The Bishop's attention was directed to this place; and he appointed a Teacher or Catechist, who, for want of funds, was lately about to be discharged, when a Committee offered to take the Station, which has been agreed to by the Ecclesiastical Commissaries.

Cavaliers.

Another District, called Cavaliers, is thus noticed by the Committee, as presenting a promising sphere of usefulness: they write—

This is an extensive Mountain District in St. Andrew's, inhabited by a numerous population of free persons, who have procured their freedom, and settled themselves here. They are unprovided with the means of instruction, and remote from any place at which it might be obtained. There is great reason to hope that the Society's operations, when commenced here, will be blessed with success; as there exists a strong desire among the inhabitants to receive a Teacher, and to assist in erecting a suitable building.

By recent accounts, it appears that a Catechist, Mr. Philips, has been appointed.

ANTIGUA.

Mr. William Dawes has not yet entirely recovered from the fracture in his thigh, mentioned in the last Report; and has been, in consequence, incapacitated from paying that regular and assiduous attention to the Schools which he has been accustomed to do since he has been charged with their superintendence.

It will be seen, on a reference to the Society's Reports, that during the last four years the Schools have gradually declined, both in numbers and efficiency; till, at the close of the year, there were, in the two Schools supported by the Society, a total of only 39 Scholars, with an average attendance of 26. The causes adverted to in the last Report having been found still to operate in a further reduction of the Scholars, the Committee did not feel justified in continuing an expense which was followed by no adequate return; and they have, therefore, deemed it to be their duty to relinquish the Schools.

DEMERARA.

Mr. Charles Carter, for the present, resides with the Rev. Leonard Strong, in St. Mary's Parish. The last Report mentioned that it was Mr. Strong's intention that Mr. Carter should be fixed at Cattle Town, a village of Free Coloured People, on the Mahaiconie : that intention, however, in consequence of Mr. Strong's expected removal from his present Parish, has been set aside. Of the state of Mr. Carter's occupations, and of the Parish under his care, Mr. Strong writes—

His labours are, in our Sunday School, and with several Adults, who attend him Sunday Mornings and Evenings, besides several evenings in the week. I have crowded Congregations on the Sabbath, and 76 Communicants from among them. The Lord has enabled us to establish another Sunday School in the Parish, about 12 miles to the eastward : the attendance there, 106. At Bee-hive, yesterday, we had about 133 Girls, and 60 Boys.

Of his Scholars, Mr. Carter gives the following account :—

Our Sunday School is going on, on the whole, very steadily, and rather on the increase. I have about 18 Boys, who are reading in their Testament ; and several of whom have now become of great assistance to me, in their regular and steady attendance as Teachers ; and who will, I hope, under God's blessing, ere long, become ornaments to society, and disciples of the meek and lowly Jesus. The Second and Third Classes are reading our Saviour's Discourses, and the National School-Book, Second Part, preparatory to the Testament : and the Lower Classes are learning in the Cards, with a portion of the day devoted to religious instruction.

An Examination of the Children under his care is thus noticed :—

On Christmas Day, after Divine Service, we had the Yearly Examination of Boys and Girls in the Church, which were about 400. The First Class read the Second Chapter of St. Matthew, and were questioned in it by Mr. Strong ; and repeated part of Mrs. Sherwood's Easy Questions. Two other Classes read, and the rest said spelling : their progress was quite satisfactory to those who heard it. Indeed, considering that eighteen months ago they knew not a letter, and have had nothing but Sunday Instruction, we have every reason to say, Hitherto God has helped us ; and have a proof of the rapid progress that might be made by the Negro Children in Religious Knowledge, should it please God to dispose the hearts of Slave Proprietors to establish Weekly Schools on their Estates.

ESSEQUIBO.

Mr. John Armstrong's health in some degree suffered after his arrival at his Station ; but he appeared to be in good health at the date of the last accounts.

Mr. Strong remarks, that Mr. Armstrong has commenced his career under many disadvantages. Mr. Armstrong gives, in July, the following account of his labours :—

My situation, as regards usefulness to the Negroes, is this : there are about 48 or 50 who come regularly from the Union Estate on Sundays : at any other time I am not allowed to teach them after sun-set, and before that time they cannot come. The Infants on the Union Estate are almost all sick. I received the Children from an adjoining Estate ; and from another Estate, 6 Boys and Girls, and as many Adults, come on a Sunday, though not regularly. If I am continued here, I shall try, God willing, to instruct some of the Indians' Children.

In December, he writes—

On Christmas Day, for the first time, the Negroes from Union Estate met me in my house, to hear something about Jesus Christ being born, as on that day ; which was entirely new to them, and to which they paid particular attention. On Sundays I have about 8 Men, 20 Women, 10 Boys, and 8 Girls : sometimes I have a few more, but oftener less : these are, in general, regular in their attendance. Many of the people on the Union Estate are old ; some are Mahomedans ; some of them Obeah People, but I have not heard any thing of it since I had a Girl here who said that she was obeahed, but now she is well. None before her were ever known to get better, when they believed they were under its influence, on the Union Estate.

In a more recent communication, he expresses himself somewhat more encouraged ; and writes as follows :—

My prospects are rather more cheering than when I last wrote. I have now 20 little Children—8 from the Union Estate, and 12 from Mr. Wood's ; and an Old Woman, who brings them. On a Sunday, the number is, generally, between 40 and 50. Some of them are very regular, and shew an attachment to me. Sometimes I have 8 or 9 from other Estates, but not regularly.

The following remarks, made by Mr. Armstrong, shew the nature of his situation :—

You must consider my situation in the same light as an idolatrous uncivilized country ; with this difference only, that this is civilized by coercive means : but there is nothing of the Gospel in this, nor has the Gospel ever been preached on the coast : we have a kind of morality preached in two places, but this is nothing towards converting a soul. In fact, here is all the African Superstition mixed up with the vices of the Whites; and some of their Teachers are ready to tell them that they mean no harm by these things. A Pass from a Manager is, in general, all the necessary preparation of Negroes for Baptism. Such is the state of things; and there is nothing to check them; and nothing but a preached Gospel will. Some of the people that come on a Sunday are naked, some half-dressed, others neat and cleanly: the Negroes, whether Husbands or Wives, think nothing of separating, and taking another; they are altogether in bondage, both of soul and body: no one proclaims liberty to the captive; no one shews them the freedom that is in Christ.

Mr. Strong, after adverting to the trying circumstances in which Mr. Armstrong is placed, remarks—

Every Christian must sympathize with and pray for him, that, although banished all Christian Communion, all means of Grace, all ordinances—standing completely alone among his fellow-creatures—at present, a being of a strange birth to them, a citizen of another country, and living here among a people of a strange language—he may feel himself strong and happy in his Redeemer; and prove this Gospel truth, Nothing can separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus—that although ordinances are refreshing to Believers, they are not necessary to the spiritual life of those who are sanctified by God the Father, preserved in Christ Jesus, and called.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

THE return of the Rev. D. T. Jones, who is at present on a visit home, has been already noticed. Mr. Jones's health improved during the voyage; and he is about to return to his labours. The Rev. William Cockran and Mr. Cockran were in good health when Mr. Jones left the Settlement. Mr. Garrioch had suffered from weakness in his chest, but his health is somewhat improved.

Mr. Jones, in his interview with the Committee, gave an encouraging view of the progress of the Mission during the four years which have elapsed since its commencement. The Services at the two Churches on the Sunday, and the Meeting for Social Prayer at Image Plain, have been continued; and the MINISTRY OF THE WORD has been accompanied with an evident blessing. The Congregation at each of the Churches, which are nine miles apart, averages about 400 persons; of whose regularity in attending the Public Means of Grace, as well as their Social Meetings, Mr. Cockran speaks in gratifying terms.

At the request of an Individual, who has opened his house for the purpose, a second Meeting for Prayer has been commenced, at the lower extremity of the Settlement, about 17 miles from the Upper, and 11 miles from the Lower Church; which was attended, once a fortnight, through the winter, by one or other of the Missionaries, and about 30 of the inhabitants. This has been the means of effecting a change in their outward conduct; which is thus described by Mr. Cockran:—

In time past, they would cut their wood, and fish on the Sabbath, the same as on other days: but now, instead of hearing the blow of their hatchet resounding through the woods, we hear them singing the praises of Jesus, who has redeemed them with His blood; and, instead of their attending to their nets for the meat that perisheth, we often see them in the House of God, and hear them joining their prayers and praises with us to Him from whom all blessings flow, and looking up to Him for the Bread of Life.

The number of Communicants, stated in the last Report to be 73, has increased to 134; of whom 7 or 8 are Indians. There is reason to hope that the only person, whom they had deemed it right to separate from Communion with them, has been brought to repentance. Of this infant Church Mr. Cockran gives the following account:—

I think that the pure Gospel of Christ is still an interesting subject to those who have made a profession of religion in this Settlement. They behold as much beauty, excellency, and true riches in it, and feel as much their need of it, as they did when the Lord first stretched out His arm, and drew them out of the horrible pit, and set their feet on Christ the Rock. With many, Religion is viewed as the principal thing, the one thing needful: and other things are, in a great measure, kept in subordination to it; and regarded as good or evil, just as far as they will accelerate or retard the interest of Christ. I believe that our little visible Church approaches as near primitive simplicity and sincerity as any other to be found in any part of the world. The most of them are Bible Christians: to the Word of God they go for information, on every subject that concerns their souls. Christ and his Gospel are all in all; and to Him they apply, for strength, of instruction, for direction, for encouragement; that, as men of God, they may be well-directed, instructed, and enabled to live in the performance of every good work.

Mr. Cockran adds—

Do not think that I am endeavouring to persuade you that we have a perfect Church, and that every individual member is without spot or wrinkle or any such thing. No; I never expect to see such a Church on earth. Christ has told us that the tares will grow among the wheat. There may be many tares, and much chaff, amongst our wheat; but we have great reason to feel thankful to God for the refreshing dews of His Grace which He has commanded to fall so copiously on our Zion, that the wheat flourishes luxuriantly, and completely overtops the tares, that they are not apparent to an ordinary observer at present, and perhaps will not be, until some storm of adversity blows and bends the wheat: then shall the tares be manifest.

There are 4 DAILY SCHOOLS, at such a distance from one another as to afford facility for the greatest number of Children to attend: there is also a Sunday School at each of the Churches: that at the Upper, containing, on an average, 30 Scholars; and that at the Lower, 100: the numbers attending the other Schools are not stated. Of this part of their proceedings Mr. Cockran writes—

In our Sunday and Week-day Schools we are not very successful. The Children who come only to the Sunday School seem to make very little progress in knowledge: and it is not for the want of capacity, or regular attendance at School, but from the inattention at their time of instruction and at home.

Mrs. Cockran continues to instruct the GIRLS, but with as little apparent success as attends the education of the Boys: some of them improve considerably in reading, and in gaining theoretical knowledge; but their inattention, especially on religious subjects, is great.

Mr. Cockran, in contrasting the former condition of the Children with the present advantages afforded them, makes the following remarks:—

It encourages us, to see them in the House of God; especially when we consider, that a few years ago they were scattered, in the wilds of North America, as sheep without a Shepherd, fearing no God, knowing no Saviour, keeping no Sabbath. But now they are in the way of good; they are kept out of mischief; and are under the sound of the Gospel; and hear of Him who is able and willing to save: they are lying at the pool, where we expect Jesus to pass by, and speak to them, saying, I will, be thou clean. This is our encouragement; this puts life into our prayers and endeavours, gives us patience, and enables us to persevere in teaching them.

In the midst of these exercises of their patience, Mr. Jones notices, in his Journal, one fact of an opposite description:—

I went down the Settlement to see a Half-breed boy, who had been ill of a pulmonary consumption for a long time, in consequence of his having this morning expressed a wish to see me. He had often excited and disappointed our hopes concerning him during his illness. When I entered the house, his mother (an Indian woman) told me, ‘she hoped the boy had now found his Saviour, and had given himself up to Him.’ I then went to his bed-side, and, seeing him very near his end, said to him, “Well, Harry, the time is drawing near now.” “I suppose so,” was the reply.—“How do you feel, my boy, at the prospect?” “Comfortable, sir.”—“And what does your comfort rest on?” “On the mercy of God, through Christ.”—“Why did you wish to see me?” “To tell you that Jesus Christ is good to me.”—As soon as a violent fit of coughing subsided, I said to him, “Now, Harry, I must go back to Church: tell me what testimony of your love to your Saviour are you going to leave with me?” He said, with great difficulty, “Tell the School Children, tell all, that He is very good, for He has saved the soul of poor Harry Spencer.” He died very soon after. Perceiving his candle going out, he called to his stepfather and his mother, “Now kneel down and pray;” and was released from suffering, we hope to go to Jesus his Redeemer.

In the School for Indian Boys, Mr. Cockran has not met with the encouragement which he desires. They have been taught to read and write, and are accustomed to learn portions of Scripture and Hymns: he complains, however, of their inattention; and, as yet, has not been able to trace any work of Divine Grace in their hearts. Of their industry he thus speaks:—

I do not see better Boys in the Settlement, for executing manual labour quietly and properly, than ours. Our wheat this year, and likewise the barley and potatoes, have been very much overrun with weeds; and we employed the Boys to pluck them out: this gave us an opportunity of proving their industry. They weeded all our crops, twice; and while they were thus employed they were very cheerful and diligent. When I called them out of the school in the morning, after the dew was off, to go and weed, they always came very willingly, and never absconded during the day: except, when the heat was very intense, the smallest of them would leave me slyly, and hide themselves.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Cockran are both desirous of extending their labours to the Indians. Their Ministry has hitherto been chiefly directed to the Europeans and Half-breeds; and though, by the blessing of God, individual good has been done to some of the Aborigines directly or indirectly connected with the Settlement, yet the Missionaries have no immediate access to them, and no systematic plan has hitherto been adopted for their evangelization. They are of opinion that this object might be greatly promoted, by settling a few Indian Families near them; who might not only receive Christian Instruction, but become the channel of communicating it to others. In connection with this subject, Mr. Cockran writes—

I hope that the time is not far distant, when we shall be able to raise part of the clothing requisite for the Indian School, and for Indian Families, if they were permitted to reside with us. We have sown half-an-acre of flax, if it should come to perfection: if we had some of the Indian Boys instructed to weave, we might be able to raise summer clothing from it. Linen would be far better clothing for hot and wet weather than leather. We also expect sheep this summer: if they should come, and be fortunate, perhaps shortly we shall be able to make flannel and linsey-woolsey, which would be very useful for winter clothing.

Mr. Jones states, that the Settlement has recovered from the effects of the flood; and that means have been taken to render it less liable to the recurrence of such an event, by building the houses on higher ground. On a review of their trials, Mr. Cockran writes:—

We have trusted in the Lord, and have not been ashamed: we called upon Him in the day of trouble, and He did deliver us, and gave us our portion of meat in a proper season, and made it doubly sweet by the zest of a thankful heart. We will, therefore, yet hope in His mercy; and live in the full persuasion, that He who clothes the grass, and decorates the lilies, will much more clothe us, who are better than they,

In reviewing the progress of that Work, in which the Society has now for so many years been engaged, the Committee avow their conviction, that the means, which have hitherto been put forth, have been followed by results fully equal in importance and extent to those just and reasonable expectations which are warranted by the Word of God. A contrary opinion has been maintained by some, who, having indulged sanguine expectations, are disappointed at their not being realized; and has been strengthened by the statements of others, who, though resident abroad, have, either from their limited means of information, or from other causes, been incompetent judges in the matter. In reference to this class of persons, the Madras Committee remark, that “it is a general, but very erroneous opinion, that because persons live in a country, or in a particular place, they therefore know what is doing by Missionaries in those parts. But, to constitute Individuals competent authorities on these points, it is necessary that they should have had the means of INFORMING THEMSELVES—that they should have made their inquiries from those who were capable of giving them correct information—and that they themselves should have been diligent and unprejudiced in their researches after truth.”

In this remark, made by their friends at Madras, the Committee entirely concur: and would further observe, that, while some Christian men, from the circumstances adverted to, may not be fully informed of Missionary Proceedings, the natural man, as he cannot discern the things of the Spirit of God, is incapable of forming a sound judgment of the progress of that Kingdom, which, as it is not of this world, is necessarily above his comprehension.

That the Society has, by the blessing of God, met with abundant encouragement in the prosecution of its labours, there is the most satisfactory evidence: and, if the proficiency of Children under education—if the acquisition, by ignorant Heathens, of a knowledge of the letter of God's Word—if an increasing respect to the Messengers of Salvation, and an increasing attention to the truths which they deliver—if a gradual improvement in the Heathen Character, in places where the genial influence of Christianity is felt, though its doctrines be not yet received—may be deemed sufficient evidence of success, not only the rising Converts of Southern India, but the softened Inhabitants of New Zealand, supply unequivocal proof.

In that higher success, to which, in subordination to the will and glory of Jehovah, the Society aspires—the calling out of the world the scattered sheep of Christ, and conducting them into His fold—there are many occasions of gratitude to the Exalted Head of the Church, who has condescended to use our unworthy efforts for the advancement of His own glory. The measure of blessing vouchsafed may not possibly have equalled the anticipations of those, who, ere the seed was scarcely sown, were looking for the harvest; or who, on something like a principle of arithmetical calculation, have expected success in exact proportion to the means which have been used. But the Work, be it remembered, is exclusively God's. He carries it on in His own way, by instruments of His own appointment, and at times of His own selection; and they, whom He employs, are responsible for faithfulness to the trust reposed in them, not for the success or failure of their proceedings. Let this be borne in mind by those who are disposed to estimate a Society by the extent of its means, or the number of its Converts: and let those who reverence the command, who trust in the promise, and know the power of God, go on in their course, labouring according to their means, that the Lord Jesus Christ may be preached in the glory of His Person, and in the fulness of His Work ; assured, that their labours shall not be in vain in the Lord ; but that He will employ them in the degree in which He sees fit, in gathering together His sheep, and to the glory of His own Name.

APPENDIX I.

INSTRUCTIONS OF THE COMMITTEE TO THE REV. SAMUEL GOBAT, AND THE REV. CHRISTIAN KUGLER: DELIVERED OCTOBER 17, 1828.

ALTHOUGH the Committee are not, on the present occasion, addressing Instructions to you on first quitting this country in prosecution of a Mission to Abyssinia, nor yet welcoming you on a return from that land; yet they deem it expedient to avail themselves of the opportunity afforded by your visit hither, to collect together in one view the principal topics which a somewhat more enlarged acquaintance with the subject of the Abyssinian Mission has furnished.

I. The Committee would, in the first place, advert to those circumstances which have, during the past three years, contributed to augment the facilities of prosecuting your holy enterprise.

The journey performed by your Missionary Brother, the Rev. Samuel Gobat, and yourself, in Syria, your stay in Jerusalem among the few Abyssinians collected in that city, and your residence in Egypt, have given you both a familiarity with the habits of the East, which is highly advantageous to you. You have, at the same time, been cultivating, with that diligence and success, which the Committee anticipated from you, and with the aid of frequent intercourse with Natives, the vernacular languages of those regions—the Arabic, and the Amharic. Much may yet remain to be done in these particulars, before perfect fluency in speaking, and quickness in apprehending the sentences of others, be attained: but the first difficulties are completely surmounted, and you will now, with rapidly-increasing facility, become intimate with the inhabitants of Eastern Africa in their own language.

It is by a painful course of instruction that both of you have learned one very important lesson; namely, that natural strength of body or constitution is no adequate guarantee against the assaults of climate, and the influence of labour, fatigue, and anxiety, in a strange land. Both you and Mr. Gobat have suffered severely; one of you with disease of the precious organ of sight; the other, with sickness nigh unto death. While the consideration of these sufferings excites a lively and tender sympathy in the hearts of all your friends, they cannot but hope that your lives have been thus far preserved, in order that you may, with more practical attentiveness than commonly is the portion of beginners, hold on your Missionary course, in scenes where comfort, accommodation, and help are rare; and hardship, inconvenience, and carelessness of valuable life are common. You will never have occasion to regret early illnesses, should they have been the means of teaching you, during a lengthened life, to exercise a wise economy of health.

Your increased acquaintance with medicine, Mr. Kugler, is an advantage of which the Committee are very sensible: it will give you, as it already has done, in the East, opportunities of intercourse, and an influence of a certain kind, such as can in no other way be obtained, and such as may, if wisely used, prove greatly subservient to your Missionary Undertakings.

To your joint communications, sent from Egypt, through Malta, is in a considerable measure to be attributed the increased activity which has been displayed by the British and Foreign Bible Society, in that laborious and difficult work, the carrying of the Amharic Scriptures through the Press. You will now have the satisfaction—one of the highest and purest pleasures that can be enjoyed by a Missionary—of bearing to the Natives, copies of the chief part of the New Testament, never before seen in that country in the vernacular tongue.

To this, by seizing the favourable opportunity while near to the only Abyssinian Press in active operation in the world, you have added the advantage of compiling and printing an Amharic Spelling Book: the use of which will be to form Schools where scarcely any existed hitherto; and extend, with the Divine Blessing, the means of reading the Holy Scriptures, which are now for the first time prepared for them.

II. But the Committee would now proceed to state their views concerning the future course to be adopted by yourself and Mr. Gobat.

It is their wish, that you should return direct to Egypt, with as little delay as possible. Having joined Mr. Gobat, it will then be the subject of your united conversations, inquiries, reflections, and prayers, how you may best press forward, together, to the immediate vicinity of Abyssinia, and, as soon as practicable, enter the country. When this essential point is gained, and not till then, they will feel, in strictness of speech, that the Abyssinian Mission is begun.

To distribute, and obtain remarks upon, the Ethiopic and Amharic Scriptures, furnished to you by the British and Foreign Bible Society, will obviously be one of your first and leading objects.

From the information before the Committee, it appears probable, that the province of Tigrè, and not that of Amhara, will be the station where you may with most advantage fix yourselves, in the first instance. It is the first in respect of geographical position, and the nearest for purposes of communication with the countries which you leave; and, in point of influence in Abyssinia, there appears to be ground for supposing that it is the most powerful. Should these circumstances be found, on trial, to be matters of real advantage, the Committee would then wish that you should aim, if possible, at settling down somewhere in that province: nor would they at all encourage in you a desire of change of place, however interesting it might be to push forward your journeys to the ancient Capital of Gondar, or to the most distant recesses of the Nile. To these regions, should you find it good to remain in Tigrè, be satisfied for the present with sending the printed Amharic Scriptures; and do not too soon yield to the imagination that you are not to stay in Tigrè, if you do not quickly see some fruit of your labours. There is much preliminary and new work to be done in this province. The cultivation of its hitherto unfixed language will lead you to aim at the Translation of some portion of the Scriptures for that Country. For example, the Committee would delight to hear, that, through your instrumentality, the Gospel of St. Luke, the Acts of the Apostles, and the Epistle to the Romans, were translated into Tigrè, and copies forwarded to Malta, or London, prepared for the Press. This would be indeed seed-corn: and were your lives to be spent on no more extensive a work than this, it would be an ample service: this your labour would not be in vain in the Lord.

But we indulge the hope, that the Great Head of the Church, who for several years has been gradually opening more widely the door of entrance to Abyssinia, and who has thus far favoured you in all your preliminary preparations, may have it in His purposes, to make you a signal blessing to that country. The simplest, humblest, and most patient course, on your parts, will be that which will most encourage Christians at home to believe, that God is prospering, and that He will prosper you. With the Bible in your hands, you will preach constantly; not indeed as we do in our own land, where our title is recognised, standing in a public, well-ordered assembly, and on an eminent place; but as our Lord Jesus Christ and His Apostles most commonly preached, at first—by discourse, and conversation: this they did by the way-side, in the house, in the solitude of a desert place, or on the top of a mountain; to the many, or the few; to the captious Pharisees, to disreputable publicans and sinners, or to faithful women. Wherever you are, preach, in the purpose of your mind, constantly: be you ever ready to press forward some good word, for the enlightening, awakening, reproofing, establishing, or comforting those that are near to you. You will, also, even aim at preaching by example; thus shewing the people what you choose, and what you shun. Everywhere preach peace by Jesus Christ—all that this implies—nothing else; exhibiting this grand doctrine, both by clear instructions, and by its visible influence on all your conversation and conduct. On this simple plan, you may expect a blessing from on High, to rest eventually on your labours.

Should it, in process of time, appear eligible to attempt something in the way of Schools, this, it must be borne in mind, is a course which will require, from those who engage in it, much patience, the continual stopping in one place long together, and unwearied perseverance. From these considerations we are led to infer, that while your number is so small in Abyssinia, the establishment of Schools to any considerable extent will not be the first or most immediate call on the employment of your time.

It is, however, an excellent plan, ourselves to learn by teaching others: on this principle it would be very desirable to encourage young and teachable persons to come about you.

There is one subject deeply connected with the comfort and usefulness of a Missionary, on which, although you are already acquainted with the judgment of the Committee, they deem it expedient to record their views in the present address, for the purpose of impressing the reasons of their judgment more strongly on both your minds who are now entering on the Mission to Abyssinia, and of others who may hereafter engage in it: they refer to the subject of marriage. It is by the Committee, on the one hand, borne in mind, that the temptations and trials of a Missionary in Abyssinia may be expected to be very great: on the other hand, it is to be recollected that the Mission thither is, at the outset, and will probably for some considerable time continue to be, one of great uncertainty, hazard, and inconvenience. We know not, as yet, whether a single Missionary will be able to obtain a footing in that country, even for himself: the experiment must be tried; and it must fully succeed, before it would be justifiable either to augment the probable burdens of the Missionary himself, or to hazard the personal safety of a Female in so turbulent a state of things, or to expose the plans and the funds of the Society to the risk of very disastrous and painful consequences. The Committee will only add, that they hope that the arrangements, adopted under a view of these circumstances, will be found to meet the peculiar difficulties of the case; and that, through the mercy of God, access and security will eventually be obtained for Missionary Families in Abyssinia.

On another topic, likewise, the Committee wish to impress a few remarks upon your minds, when in the Levant: it is that of Journal-writing. Some observations made by the Missionary Brethren in that quarter, lead the Committee to apprehend that they view this matter under some false lights. Without full information, regularly transmitted, it must obviously be impracticable for the Committee to superintend and direct the Missions of the Society with intelligence and effect; neither will the sympathy of the Members of the Society at large be duly awakened to the state of the people to whom the Missionary is sent, or to the labours of the Missionary himself. This information will be most advantageously communicated in the form of Journals; and should be punctually transmitted to the Committee, by the first opportunity after each Quarter-day. In preparing your Journals, the first point to be attended to is a rigid adherence to truth. To secure this point, so essential and important, it will be requisite that the Missionary should habituate himself to examine closely all that passes around him, and to exercise a calm and deliberate judgment in drawing his conclusions. On all matters of fact, leave no means unemployed in order to obtain authentic and accurate information. In all your communications, be very much alive to the fact, that the Committee are necessarily uninformed of many things which are grown quite familiar to you. The communications of Missionaries often fail of producing the intended and desirable effect, from their obscurity. Use no term which is not familiar to English ears, without a brief explanation. Agree on the orthography of proper names, and never deviate.

III. The Committee would now address to yourself and your absent Missionary Brother a few cautionary hints.

1. They would earnestly impress on your minds, that it is their desire and expectation that you should, in your travels, not separate one from the other, but keep together as much as possible. Your Mission to Abyssinia is arduous, as it regards both the physical and moral difficulties to be encountered. United counsels, united residence, and united movements will be your best security; and the best guarantee to the Society at home, that things are going on as well as circumstances may admit. If you should have enemies to your work, they will most probably endeavour to counteract you by detaching you one from the other. This is the policy of wicked and crafty men; and of Satan, who is the author of strife. Frustrate their plots, by being united and in company together, wherever it is practicable. Study the reasons which the wisest of men has given (Ecc. iv. 9—12) in support of the maxim, that Two are better than one. These reasons will apply, with peculiar emphasis, to your circumstances in Abyssinia; where the prospect of difficult success, the hazard of dangerous falls, the chilling atmosphere of abounding iniquity, and the formidable array of enemies to the Truth, all seem to bid the two Missionaries, who may be permitted to enter that region, “not to part company.”

2. Another point on which the Committee feel peculiar anxiety, is, the various relations which you may be under the necessity of bearing towards the different Governors and Chieftains of Abyssinia, or, in case of residence in one spot, to any of these Governors. Travellers, who have gone before you, into the uncivilized or distracted regions of Africa, have usually taken a course which throws, except by contrast, very little light on what should be your line of proceeding. They have not unfrequently adopted the plan of identifying themselves with whatever quarrel they might find on the spot: they have taken sides: and when they have wanted to push on to other regions, they have been ready to change sides. How, in every place, to avail yourselves of the best civil protection, without becoming a party to any, is a practical problem of extremely arduous solution. For example, on entering the Province of Tigrè, and placing yourselves under the protection of Subagadis, you will appear in the eyes of the inhabitants of Abyssinia, who will soon know of the arrival of the two European strangers, to have identified yourselves, as men of the world would express it, with all his fortunes. The coincident circumstance, that this powerful Chieftain is now seeking a friendly relation with Great Britain, will greatly strengthen this impression; and will aid those who would maliciously circulate the idea, that you are, at bottom, engaged in some political scheme. And what pushes this inconvenience still further is, that, among the rival Provinces of Abyssinia, alliances are generally sought, not for friendly commercial purposes, but for the sake of offensive war and conquest. Your coming, therefore, from Europe, your very complexion, will render you objects of suspicion: from whomsoever you seek protection, you will be accounted his devoted allies and servants: no medium will, in the general sentiment, be allowed to you: you may call yourselves neutral, but the benefit of your plea will be reluctantly granted to you, and even the proofs of your neutrality will be doubtfully accepted. Partisanship they understand: political feigning, and hypocrisy, they understand: double-dealing, treachery, and changing of sides, they understand: but disinterested, impartial, equal good-will to all alike, is a feature of character well nigh unknown to them: it is, indeed, described in their Sacred Books; for they possess, and you also will bring to them, the Gospels. But bear in mind, that the most part of them will not read your books: they will read you: and it may be long before they will, to any considerable extent or degree, believe that your purposes are not of this world.

It may be well, both for the advantage of Christians at home and for your own caution, to enlarge a little more on this topic. Civil war is, we know, continually agitating one province or another of Abyssinia. Pure necessity may involve you in the train of their campaigns. As medical attendants, as fugitives for safety, you may be found, sometimes advancing, sometimes retreating, associated with men, or implicated in circumstances from which a Christian Missionary would gladly stand at the remotest distance. However pure his motives may be, however pacific and useful his conduct, these are not often the points regarded in the afflicting turns of civil war. Very generally, at such times—they are times too frequent, alas! in Abyssinia—the only question about a man, when captured, is, “Where was he found?” not, “What is he?” or, “What has he been doing?”

Sympathy for what may hereafter be your personal feelings, and anxiety for the prosperity of your Mission, both prompt these remarks. Clearly to understand, and practically to apply them, in all their peculiar bearings on your Mission to Abyssinia, will require, both experience, and a large measure of that wisdom which is from above. The general tendency of our views on the subject may be summed up in this brief cautionary hint:—to engage as little as practicable in secular pursuits; and, especially, not to be party to the secular pursuits of others, excepting in cases where your own needful maintenance, or the exercise of works of mercy, may absolutely require you so to do.

3. The mention of ‘works of mercy’ occasions us to recur to the circumstance of Mr. Kugler having obtained some knowledge of the practice of Medicine. Of the advantages of this attainment we have already spoken. Of the dangers attending it, the Committee would only in few words say, that this profession not only gives an introduction, in the East, as you have already had occasion to know, to men of rank and influence; but also opens the way to scenes or conversations of the most licentious and depraving tendency. Ambition and sensuality, in consequence, might be snares easily besetting those who should practise Medicine in Abyssinia. But we trust that you have learned to seek, by watchfulness and prayer, to withstand the temptations of the world, the flesh, and the devil. In general, the Committee recommend that you should under no circumstances assume the office of a Physician, but employ the Medical Knowledge you have attained as a gratuitous act of kindness, and merely in subordination to your Missionary objects.

4. In your intercourse with the Natives, it is of great importance that you should constantly exercise a watchful self-controul in the ordinary subjects of conversation. While your conduct is closely watched, your words will be observed and repeated by the Natives: they will fasten their own meaning on what you say; or, by placing it in a different connection from that in which it was spoken, will give to it a construction the very reverse, perhaps, of that which you intended. Hence arises the obvious duty of discreetly selecting, both proper seasons and fit subjects for the expression of your sentiments; and, while you bear in mind that there is a time to keep silence, and a time to speak, you will endeavour, by the Grace of Christ, to follow the Scriptural precept—Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time. Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

5. But the difficulties attendant on your Civil Relations in Abyssinia will probably be small, in comparison with those which may arise from the position of your Missionary Work in reference to the Ecclesiastical Hierarchy of that country. Wherever a great deadness in Religious Concerns has prevailed for a length of time in any professing Christian Community, the first attempts to raise the standard of piety, by introducing spiritual books, spiritual conversations, and spiritual habits of life, generally meet with the most determined opposition; especially from those persons, who, by virtue of their office, ought to have been themselves leaders in every thing good, and who, consequently, feel that the exertions of others cast a reproach upon themselves. Of this, your acquaintance with the New-Testament History, and your experience in various countries, has made you well aware. But to this consideration you must add another, as it refers to Abyssinia: besides the hostility which would be felt by the Clergy of that country to any individual of their own nation stirring up the people to measures of reformation, it is to be expected that they will feel a peculiar jealousy toward persons foreign both to their Nation and to their Church. Their celebrated hospitality to strangers will, there is cause to fear, not be very willingly extended to those who may be regarded by them as troublers of their country. Should they conceive that matters are likely to be pushed too far, they may, in a vindictive moment, raise the clamour against you, This same man came to sojourn amongst us, and he will needs be a ruler and a judge. They have also a peculiar cunning, an almost malignant sagacity, in selecting those points of religious controversy which may most exasperate the feelings of their own people, or tempt a Missionary to speak unadvisedly; thus aiming to widen the breach which they would gladly effect between yourselves and their countrymen. It is needful to notice these particulars, in order, that when you are invited to enter upon the ground of doubtful disputation, you may know how, with wisdom and a good conscience, to decline the invitation. [Study—for it is peculiarly applicable to the circumstances of an enlightened and devout Christian labouring in the midst of a benighted and corrupted Oriental Church—study that spirit of moderation, delicacy, and caution, which was exhibited by the Apostles toward their countrymen the Jews, and toward their Converts from among the Gentiles. Although they acted, and spoke, and wrote under the immediate inspiration of the Holy Ghost, and foreknew certainly the approaching dissolution of the Jewish Polity, yet, in Ritual Observances, such as, Circumcision, Washings, the Change of the Sabbath, Fasts, Attendance at the Temple and in the Synagogues, and generally in all the discipline of the Old Covenant, which was waxing old, and ready to vanish away, they were temperate, conformable, conciliatory, and large-hearted. They were, especially, backward to dispute, excepting when Ceremonial Observances were abused, to disparage the doctrine of free justification by faith in Christ, or substituted for the inward sanctification of the heart by the operation of the Holy Spirit. Imitate them, by continually insisting, in the simplest and most practical manner, on the two cardinal doctrines of the Gospel, Justification and Sanctification; and waive, as much as possible, those contentions, which are unprofitable and vain.]

6. The Committee have it in contemplation immediately to set apart two Students, to be prepared for the Abyssinian Mission. Those Students will avail themselves of the advantages afforded them for obtaining an acquaintance with the vernacular dialect of Tigrè, by the temporary residence in this country of a Native of Abyssinia; and, after having received Episcopal Ordination, will, if the providence of God permit, become your Fellow-labourers in the Gospel.

7. Probably there may arise, in the course of a short time after your arrival in Abyssinia, some individuals manifesting a desire to listen to you, and even to adhere to you. We would not willingly teach you a premature and excessive caution, or inflict upon your ardent minds a needless degree of chilly suspicion and reserve. But, keeping pace only with your own experience in the Levant, we observe that it must have become obvious to you, that, sometimes, they who are most forward in their first professions of attachment, when the time of trial comes, fall back, and disappoint our hopes. The general ignorance, fickleness, and even duplicity which mark the character of many of the Members of the Oriental Churches must have been sufficiently apparent to you, to put you on your guard. You wish to see some fruits of your labours; and the delight of seeing some appearance of those fruits must, therefore, be tempered with that sound discernment which knows what is in man—knows, not, as in the case of our Lord, by divine intuition, but by the experience of the deceitful conduct of others, and by the experience of the treacherous movements of our own hearts.

Think not, beloved Brethren, (for we address ourselves both to the present and to the absent, as being both present in the spirit,) that we can ever be insensible to the difficulties which attend your course, both from without and from within. We deeply feel, that the most arduous part of your work will consist, after all, in drawing out and training up genuine Converts from amidst a body of men professing the name, but strangers to the doctrine and spirit of Christ. And what we most tenderly feel, as it regards yourselves personally, in this work, is the necessity which it lays you under, of your being yourselves men of a simple, evangelical spirit. If thine eye be single, thine whole body shall be full of light. If you dwell, year after year, with steadiness, honesty, and consistency; exhibiting, to the men of Abyssinia, what that work is which the Spirit of God works upon the hearts of His Children in secret; He will no doubt, in due season, reward you openly. Be not impatient for His time: at the last it shall come: it shall not tarry: only give Him mean while no rest, but labour in watchings and prayers—that ye being such as God would have you to be, ye may be enabled to say to your Abyssinian hearers, Be ye followers of us, as we also are of Christ.

8. We are not unmindful of the numerous difficulties which will beset your path, or of the internal and external enemies which you will have to encounter: but we would remind you of that which you have been taught from above, that Christ will supply you with strength to cope with them. The fulness of Grace is in Him, and the promise of that Grace is yours: doubt not the truth of His promise, or the all-sufficiency of His Grace; but we entreat you, by every motive that can influence—by the variety and greatness of your difficulties—by the subtlety and malice of your enemies—by our hopes and sympathies in your labours—by the love which you bear to Christ—by your readiness to live and to die in His service—and by your zeal for His glory, draw constantly and largely, from the Living Fountain, that faith and grace, that zeal and love, that deadness to the world and devotedness to God, that patient spirit of endurance, that holy constancy, that determined courage, without which, however well prepared in other respects, you will be unequal to the exigencies of your warfare!

To the gracious guidance and blessing of the Chief Shepherd we commend you. May He send you forth to your holy enterprise in the power of the Holy Ghost! May the pleasure of the Lord prosper in your hand! And may your labours be abundantly instrumental in gathering in the wandering sheep of Christ, and redound to the glory of His Name!

RESOLUTIONS OF THE MADRAS COMMITTEE, RELATIVE TO THE FORMATION OF A SEMINARY ON THE NILGHERRY HILLS: JULY 22, 1828.

I. That the Seminary for the Education of Missionaries' Children belonging to this Society be established at Ootacamund, on the Nilgherry Hills.

II. That a Subscription be set on foot, through the Three Presidencies and Ceylon, for the purpose of raising Funds to erect the requisite Buildings on the Nilgherry Hills; and that the Subscription Papers be accompanied by a few Remarks, explanatory of the object of the proposed Institution.

III. That, in the event of an Appeal to the Public being unsuccessful, Buildings merely sufficient for the probable number of Missionaries' Children shall be erected; but, if successful, that the Buildings shall be on a proportionately larger scale.

IV. That, in addition to the Children of the Society's Missionaries, as many other Children of respectable Parents shall be admitted as circumstances may permit; a suitable sum for board and education of each being demanded.

V. That the Venerable the Archdeacon be requested to address a Letter to the Bishop of Calcutta, stating the nature of the proposed Seminary, and forwarding the accompanying Prospectus thereof; at the same time requesting his Lordship to patronize the Institution.

PROSPECTUS.

I. A School conducted by duly-qualified Members of the Church of England has long been a desideratum in India. The climate has been hitherto the chief obstacle to such an Establishment; but since the salubrity of the Nilgherry Hills has been so well established, this important difficulty has been removed.

II. The Church Missionary Society has had it in contemplation, for a considerable time, to establish an efficient School on the Nilgherry Hills, for the Education of the Children of its Missionaries; and has accordingly, after mature deliberation, directed its Corresponding Committee in Madras to adopt immediate steps for carrying this important measure into operation. It has at the same time undertaken to send to India two Clergymen of the Church of England, in every respect qualified to undertake the superintendence of the Seminary.

III. Anticipating the benefit which may be expected to result generally to European Residents in India from such an Institution, the Madras Corresponding Committee have determined to extend the original plan, by receiving into the Seminary as many Children of Respectability as circumstances may permit, although their Parents be unconnected with the Society.

iv. Whether an Institution like that proposed above be viewed as simply affording a substantial education to Youth, or as preparing them for the prosecution of higher studies, it must, for obvious reasons, be an object of great interest to Parents in India.

v. To enable the Madras Corresponding Committee to erect Buildings on the Nilgherry Hills that are suited to an Establishment on the enlarged plan herein proposed, they have resolved to make an Appeal to the Indian Public, in order to raise funds; and they entertain no doubt, when the value and importance of this Institution are considered, that all who have Children will most gladly answer the call thus made upon their liberality; and that those who are less interested will give their assistance, from the conviction that such an Establishment is calculated to be a great blessing to the country at large.

vi. When the great expense of building on the Nilgherry Hills is considered, it is probable that a less sum than from 40 to 50,000 Rupees will not suffice to make the erections on that scale of comfort and respectability, on which the Corresponding Committee would desire to see them: and as it would be quite impossible that the funds of a Charitable Institution, like that of the Church Missionary Society, could admit of so large a demand upon them as this is, (nor, indeed, would such an appropriation of their funds be just,) the Corresponding Committee will be obliged eventually to adopt a scale for the Establishment in some degree proportioned to the means furnished by this Appeal to the Public Bounty.

vii. The principles on which the School will be conducted will be those of the Church of England: and as, in the education of Missionaries' Children, the object in view will be to prepare them for Bishop's College, should it be seen fit to send them there, and eventually for the work of the Ministry, a good guarantee is thereby offered, as respects Education, to Parents generally.

INSTRUCTIONS OF THE COMMITTEE TO THE REV. JAMES BAKER MOREWOOD, ON HIS PROCEEDING TO MADRAS: DELIVERED SEPT. 23, 1828.

The distance from home at which the labours of the Church Missionary Society are carried on, and the extent of its Missions, have presented, from time to time, various difficulties, that were not originally anticipated.

An adequate provision for the due education of Missionaries' Children without interfering with their spiritual duties, are among difficulties of this kind.

With an anxious desire to do every thing in their power to relieve the Missionary from those cares which would harass his mind and interfere with his high office, the Committee, some time since, formed the plan of an Institution for giving to his sons a suitable Education.

The Nilgherry Hills, in the Madras Presidency, were pointed out to the Society as a peculiarly desirable situation for such an Establishment: and the testimony of various friends of the Society, who have resided there, and received benefit from the salubrity of the air, has satisfied the Committee on this point.

The object of the Establishment, generally, is, the education of the sons of Missionaries of the Society, labouring in the Three Presidencies of India, and in the Island of Ceylon. It is proposed, also, to admit a limited number of Youths who are not children of Missionaries, but whose Parents may be desirous of giving them the advantage of a sound and religious education, and be willing to render an adequate remuneration for that purpose.

While the comparative facility of communication with the Society's Stations in India and Ceylon, and a temperature between 45° and 75° recommend the situation as a residence, the Committee, in selecting it, have been influenced by the advantages which it presents for training up the Children of Missionaries, should God be pleased to call them by His Grace, for labouring in that field in which their Parents are occupied. In this point of view, the situation appears to be one singularly adapted for the purpose. It may reasonably be expected, that those who have from infancy been accustomed to a tropical climate will be less susceptible of its enervating influence, and less subject to inflammatory attacks, than those who at a maturer age resort to it from a colder region; and will therefore be enabled to pursue their labours with more vigour and less interruption.

Early familiarity with an Oriental Language is another important advantage which will be possessed by those who are educated in this establishment. The native pronunciation, which Europeans cannot attain till after several years' residence in India, will be natural to them, and they will be qualified to address the Natives with fluency and ease. By an early acquaintance with the language, they will be in a great measure prepared for the critical study of it; and, being acquainted with its idioms, will soon be qualified for the Translation of the Scriptures.

For the work both of Preaching and Translating, they will possess superior facilities, in their familiarity with the Native Character and modes of thought; their minds will be stored with the same images as those of the persons among whom they are employed; and their assimilation in many respects to the Natives will enable them to address them rather as fellow-countrymen than foreigners. In connection with this point, the Committee deem it most important that the greatest simplicity should pervade the Institution. An approximation to the habits of more refined Society would hinder, rather than help, the future Missionary; and the more simple he is in his dress and his food, the fewer will be his wants, and the less will he feel the privations to which he may afterwards be exposed; and, being unincumbered by numerous wants, his mind and body will be more at liberty for the performance of his sacred duties.

The Committee have great pleasure in sending you forth to conduct this very important and interesting Establishment; which, if it please God to bless the design, will greatly relieve the minds of our Missionaries, and become a spring of blessing to every part of India. You will in due time be followed by a Fellow-labourer, who will assist, under your direction, in conducting the business of the Establishment: and we pray God that your mutual labours may be abundantly prospered! The Committee do not now enter at large on instructions of a general nature; but refer you to those which have been delivered to Missionaries on former occasions; and by which your conduct will be regulated, so far as they may be applicable to your particular circumstances.

It will doubtless be the wish of your Brethren, that, wherever God shall dispose the hearts of their Children to Missionary Employment, they should be trained up, as in the Schools of the Prophets, for that high and holy office. It cannot be anticipated, however, that God should call every Child of the Missionaries, that may be brought up under your care, to this blessed work; and no man taketh this honour upon him, but he that is called of God. You will, therefore, diligently mark their dispositions; and, while you follow that course in their education which may best enable them usefully and honourably to fulfil the duties of their future stations, you will train up the most promising among them with a direct view to Missionary Employment, should they afterwards appear duly qualified for it.

The Committee can only give general views respecting the Education to be given to the Youths at this Institution. They are mainly anxious that the instruction should be truly Christian, and that the attainments of the Youths should be solid and useful.

RELIGION, as an object of supreme importance, will occupy the first consideration in your mind. And here it will be your aim, that the whole spirit of the Seminary be the kind, cheerful, affectionate piety of a wise Christian Parent; rather than any thing of the harsh and severe character of a dry system of mere technical instruction.

In order to excite and cherish that filial spirit of confidence and love, which is an essential ingredient in the Missionary Character, it seems desirable that the Institution should be formed on the plan of a Family, rather than that of a School. By partaking of the same meals as those who are the objects of your care, by entering into their feelings and wants as a Parent with a Child, and by individually praying with them on such occasions as circumstances may suggest, you will not only obtain a more intimate acquaintance with their characters than can be acquired in any other way, but an union of sympathy and affection will be produced, which will both bind them with increased attachment to yourself, and impart an attractive influence to their general character.

The first and most simple Principles of our Religion, illustrated in the incidents of daily occurrence, must constantly be brought forward; such as, our Fallen State—our Daily Sinfulness—the Free Pardon which there is for all Sin through the Redemption of Christ—God thus reconciled to us; and, while infinitely holy, full of love and pity, graciously promising and richly bestowing the gift of His Holy Spirit, which all who ask shall assuredly receive; and by whose power alone we can be enabled to bring forth the fruits of righteousness, and be made meet for a heavenly inheritance.

Let the plan of your Religious Instruction be eminently Scriptural. Portions of Scripture should be daily read, and a verse or more learned by heart: and by your familiar explanations of the Word of God, it will be your endeavour to imbue their minds with Scriptural Principles, and to impart to them a relish for Divine Truth. You will feel here, not as a common-place truth, but as the main-spring of all your efforts, your entire dependence on Divine Aid, and the assurance that this aid will not fail you. As you use the means of divine appointment in faith and prayer, in wisdom and love, for the religious instruction of the Youths committed to you, so will the Holy Spirit give unction, life, and power to your labour, and make it effectual to their spiritual good.

Respecting CLASSICAL INSTRUCTION, including herein such Languages as it may be requisite to teach, we need not say much. You are well qualified to give that sound and well-grounded education which it is desirable should be given, and to pursue it to that extent which the varied characters and abilities of the Children may require.

You will not fail, as the Children advance in Classics, and are able to enter into the spirit of the Authors which they read, to point out the great deficiency in true religious principles which characterize all their writings. They rise not to those holy lessons of doing the will of God, and seeking with a single eye His glory, which are the grand principles by which human conduct should be regulated: they give not those animating motives which spring from the faith, hope, and love of the Gospel. Not to speak of more polluting and debasing motives and conduct, pride and self-sufficiency and self-elevation are the great springs of their most splendid actions. To develope the real character of Hea-then Authors, so as to guard the youthful mind and unmask the mystery of iniquity lurking beneath the glory of an outwardly magnificent conduct, will be an important part of your office, as a Christian Classical Instructor. Augustine's City of God, of which you have a valuable Abstract in Milner's Church History, will furnish you with many excellent hints for this purpose.

The GENERAL INSTRUCTION, such as Geography, History, &c., and every thing not comprised in Religious and Classical Instruction, must be attended to according to your means and opportunities, and the capacities of the Youths, the time which they continue with you, and their future destination in life. That which will be useful and beneficial in future life must be mainly pursued. While you have a system of instruction, be not the slave of that system. Regular hours for commencing and closing your instruction—a wise and arranged plan for the whole of your course of tuition—appointed times for each part—and a regular adherence to your plan, will be found to be the most economical mode of employing your time and strength, and most effective in its results. Yet circumstances may arise, that will justify an occasional deviation from your system: and experience will, doubtless, enable you greatly to improve any system which you may at first think it expedient to adopt.

The Establishment being in the Presidency of Madras, its regulations must be planned and its proceedings conducted under the direction of the Corresponding Committee of the Society in that place. They will confer with you on your arrival at Madras; and prepare Regulations for the government of the Establishment, and the management of its affairs. As you will board in the Institution, the Committee refer the adjustment of your salary to the Corresponding Committee.

The Committee cannot send you forth without expressing hope that it may please God to make you an instrument for training up the interesting Youths that shall be committed to your care, so that they may rise to be a comfort to their parents, a blessing to the country in which they were born, and burning and shining lights in their day and generation; and thus advance in India the Saviour's Kingdom, the good of man, and the Glory of the Most High.

How much you yourself need for this, the anointing of the Holy One, you are deeply conscious. Our confidence is, that you will daily look up to the Source of Help for help, and to the Father of Lights for light.

Finally—Be instant in season, out of season, endeavouring in every way to spread abroad the savour of the knowledge of Christ.

There is nothing which you can need, that is not already treasured up in Christ for your use: live upon His fulness, and daily receive from Him the sufficient supply of all your wants.

In entering on so new and untried a sphere, you will find, as you have already doubtless anticipated, obstructions, trials, and hindrances: but it is the property of Faith and Prayer to turn those very obstructions into advantages; those very trials into blessings; those very hindrances into helps. You have an Omnipotent Saviour on your side; all power in heaven and earth is His; and He will display that power for the benefit of those who trust in Him, and will assuredly help all them who seek Him.

To that Divine Redeemer, the Head of the Universal Church, we commit you; and in His name we send you forth to His Work, with our hearty prayers, that He may make you a blessing to the rising generation, and, through them, to multitudes of the wretched inhabitants of the East.

APPENDIX III.

(See Pages 105, & 115.)

EXTRACT FROM THE INSTRUCTIONS DELIVERED, FEBRUARY 9, 1829, TO THE REV. MESSRS.
DIXON, FARRAR, AND BROWN; MRS. FARRAR, MRS. BROWN, AND MRS. HART; PROCEEDING TO BOMBAY AND NEW-ZEALAND.

THE Committee have the satisfaction of sending forth another company of Christian Labourers, to Missions where their services are greatly needed.

They have hitherto been unable to supply Bombay with Teachers in any number adequate to the importance of the Station. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell have now for some time laboured by themselves, in a sphere which would abundantly occupy the full strength of many Missionaries.

The Committee would very earnestly press on your attention the importance of a conduct and spirit suitable to your high calling, on your voyage. Your Missionary Trials begin at your embarkation; and your Missionary Character will be developed in your intercourse with your fellow-passengers. If they observe you deficient in self-denial, in meekness and lowliness, and assuming an air of self-importance, they will contrast your character with what it ought to be; and will be led to form unfavourable conclusions, not only concerning yourselves, but of the Sacred Cause in which you are engaged. Evils of this kind have occurred; and we are, therefore, anxious to caution you against them. We hope, indeed, better things of you; and we trust that you will make it your constant aim to bear each other's burdens, and love one another as Christ has loved you. Receive the brotherly admonition: See that ye fall not out by the way. Remember, that that work to which you have devoted yourselves, and in which your life is bound up, can only prosper as those who carry it forward are united together. Remember the natural selfishness of the human heart; and that kindness, and forbearance, and oneness of mind, are the gift of the Holy Ghost. We beseech you carefully to avoid every thing that may grieve Him; and earnestly to seek His constant in-dwelling. Do not, we entreat you, bring a reproach on that worthy Name by which you are called; and on that high and heavenly office to which you have been set apart.

Some of the Missionary Brethren, perhaps from having too much dwelt on the animating accounts which, gathered from every Mission, are presented to our friends in the country, and not having duly weighed the difficulties and slow progress of a Mission, and the little impression that has comparatively as yet been made on the Heathen, have been greatly stumbled, on their arrival, to find the real good so much less than they, without adequate foundation, had previously anticipated. Some, who have even been at Stations, from not having actually seen some of the good doing, have supposed and asserted that no such good had been done; when it has afterwards been made fully manifest, that their own want of observation occasioned the mistake. Be slow, then, to judge and condemn; and be sure that you are right, before you venture to call in question statements which have been previously made. While we say this, we add, that the Committee at home are, of course, anxious always to receive accurate accounts of the Society's Stations abroad, and wish to encourage the most unreserved communications as to their actual circumstances.

The importance of a regular communication with the Parent Society, kept up through the Corresponding Committees where they have been established, is very great. Without full information regularly transmitted, it must obviously be impracticable for the Committee to direct the Missions of the Society with intelligence and effect; nor will the sympathy of the Members of the Society at large be duly awakened to the state of the people to whom the Missionary is sent, or to the labours of the Missionary himself. This information will be most advantageously communicated in the form of Journals; and should be punctually transmitted to the Committee, by the first opportunity after each Quarter-day.

In preparing your Journals, the first point to be attended to is a rigid adherence to truth. To secure this point, so essential and important, it will be requisite that the Missionary should habituate himself to examine closely all that passes around him, and to exercise a calm and deliberate judgment in drawing his conclusions. On all matters of fact relating to your work, make it your care to obtain authentic and accurate information. In all your communications, bear in mind, that the Committee are necessarily uninformed of many things which are grown quite familiar to you. The communications of Missionaries often fail of producing the intended and desirable effect, from their obscurity. With this in view, we recommend you to use no term which is not familiar to English ears, without a brief explanation; and to adhere to that orthography of proper names which has been fixed by competent judges.

Experience has taught us, that Missionary Brethren of studious minds are exposed to danger from the mere taste for knowledge which their needful preparation for their work has fostered; and some have employed too much of their time in study, to the neglect of their more direct labours among the Heathen. While some are called to the work of Translation, and must therefore give more time to study than others, yet never should the proper office of a Missionary, as the Teacher of others, be lost in any studies, not even in the acquisition of a critical knowledge of the Holy Scriptures. We must not, as Ministers and Missionaries, rather feed ourselves than others; here, too, it is more blessed to give than to receive; and it is better to be willingly destitute of some valuable knowledge, than negligent of the perishing souls of the Heathen. This caution will not be abused by you, as a reason for the neglect of proper studies; and, to your last days, we trust that you will be diligent students of the Holy Scriptures, daily bringing out of the treasury within, things new and old, for the spiritual good of all under your influence.

But the Committee would impress on your minds the great principle of an entire dedication of yourselves, and your whole time and strength, to the Redeemer, and His cause among the Heathen. You have, by many solemn pledges, given yourselves up to this work: do not, then, let temptations, which will multiply in a foreign land, lead you to deviate from the path of duty, by devoting any part of your time to things not directly connected with your high and solemn engagements.

Much of your usefulness will depend on the constant manifestation of kind and Christian tempers and dispositions. Circumstances have led many Europeans to treat Natives of foreign lands with distance and reserve; but the Christian Minister, while he avoids undue familiarity, will manifest frankness of disposition and condescension, in his intercourse with them.

Very great allowance must be made for their many prejudices. Consider their long-neglected state, their bad education, their long-formed habits, the immense influence of their whole country supporting them in error; and then learn to bear, with much patience and long-suffering, all their deceit and hypocrisy, their perverseness and obstinacy, their fraud and dishonesty.

Their ignorance of those things which are obvious to you as first principles, must not be overlooked.

They know not, with any clear perception, that there is a God, and an immortal state: they know not what His Law is, or what sin is. Their conscience is darkened, and seared.

It will be of little use to enter into mere disputes with those whose manifest aim is to dispute, and to commend their own skill in conducting an argument rather than to learn the truth. Seek for that discernment of spirits which will enable you to discriminate between a captious disputant and a humble inquirer. It will generally, if not always, be prudent to refuse to enter into disputation with the mere disputant; whose acuteness, in taking advantage of any thing to excite ridicule, will often make such a dispute rather injurious than profitable, to the bystanders as well as to himself.

Many have found it advantageous to preach by an Interpreter, even after they have acquired some knowledge of the Language: and you will probably deem it expedient to adopt this mode of conveying, as early and as intelligibly as practicable, the blessed message of Mercy to the ignorant and the lost.

We would guard you against discouragement, if you should wait long before you see the fruit of your labours. We have all to learn, practically and experimentally, that this work is not of man, but of God: and this is a lesson which we are naturally so slow to learn, that we require lengthened experience to have it effectually taught us. It is necessary, also, that we and the Heathen should understand this: were they always to see effects immediately following the Ministry of the Word, they, too, would be apt unduly to magnify the instrument, and to lose sight of the Hand which alone makes it successful. Hence, some of those who have, in the result, been most eminently blessed in their Mission, have had previously to go through years of patient labour, disappointed hope, and, apparently, unanswered prayer: they have sown in tears, year after year, before they have reaped in joy. In other cases, some have spent their lives in sowing the seed; while others have entered into their labours, and reaped the fruit of what had been sown by those who went before them.

We the rather mention this, because we know that some of our Brethren have expected very speedy success; and have been much cast down, because they perceived little or no impression made, by many sermons, and many conversations.

Our whole work is eminently, and throughout, a work of faith. It originates in faith, in the precept and promise. It is maintained by the faith of its contributors in this country. It is prosecuted among the Heathen by the same faith, from day to day: and this faith shall ultimately be abundantly recompensed, as in the case of the Father of the Faithful, who, through faith in the promise, became the father of many nations.

Bear, then, this great principle constantly in mind: it will, under the teaching of the Spirit, prepare you for the difficulties of your work, support you in the midst of them, and animate you to steadfast and patient labour in bearing the burden and heat of the day.

The Salaries which the Society gives are calculated on a scale adequate to the wants of the Missionaries; and therefore in some degree vary in different Missions. Those in New-Zealand, from the peculiar circumstances of that Mission, are chiefly in rations and supplies, issued from a common store. Those in India are 200*l.* for the Married Missionary, and 150*l.* for a Single Missionary; but this Salary is not paid in money, but in Rupees, calculated at the fixed par of Exchange. It is not calculated in money, as that from the Exchange is fluctuating and uncertain; but in Rupees, which, being the fixed currency of the country, are of more fixed and unchanging value, in relation to the various necessities of life.

You, Mr. Dixon, and Mr. and Mrs. Farrar, have been appointed by the Committee to strengthen the Mission at Bombay.

The ultimate decision as to your respective Stations must be left to the Corresponding Committee there: but we send you with much confidence, that your steps will be guided, by our Heavenly Master, to that sphere of labour where your peculiar talents may be most useful. It is probable that it will be found most expedient that you, Mr. Dixon, should be fixed at Bombay, for carrying forward Translations of the Scriptures and Liturgy, and promoting the education of Native Teachers; and that you, Mr. and Mrs. Farrar should assist Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, at Tannah.

In the Three Presidencies in India, the Committee have long had the advantage of Corresponding Committees, to superintend and conduct the general proceedings of the Society's Mission. They are formed of such Chaplains of the East-India Company, and pious Laymen, as have the interests of the Society warmly at heart, and voluntarily give their time and influence to assist its operations. These Local Committees represent the Society, and act with its authority. All correspondence between the Society and its Missionaries is carried on through them; and your Letters to us, therefore, as we have already stated, must be transmitted through the Corresponding Committee of the Society at Bombay.

We doubt not that you will cheerfully acquiesce in all their measures and regulations, respecting the sphere and mode of your labours, and other matters of general arrangement.
