MESSRS. HATCHARD & SON, 187 Piccadilly.

MESSRS. J. NISBET & Co., Berners Street.

In Dublin, by

MESSRS. JOHN DAVID LA TOUCHE & Co.

R. K. GREVILLE, Esq., LL.D., REV. D. T. K. DRUMMOND, & CAPT. GROVE.

.* The Committee of the Church Missionary Society beg to suggest to the Committees and Officers of Associations, that the most convenient and economical mode of making their Remittances is through the medium of a Banker in the Country to the Society's Bankers, through the Banking-house in town with which the Country Banker corresponds, advising the Secretaries of the payment.*

PROPER FORM OF A BENEFACTION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

IN consequence of some late decisions with regard to charitable Legacies, it has been found necessary, in order that a Testator's benevolent intentions may not be frustrated, as has been the case in several instances, that the following forms of Bequest should be substituted for that hitherto printed in the Society's Reports.

No. I.—Form of Bequest of a Common Legacy.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of a voluntary Society meeting in or near London commonly called or known by the name of "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East" the sum of _____ Pounds *free of Legacy duty for the general purposes of the said Society† to be paid within _____ calendar months next after my death. And in order that the said Legacy [or Legacies] for charitable purposes may be paid in full I direct the same together with the Legacy duty thereon to be paid exclusively out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may be bequeathed for charitable purposes and in priority to all my Debts and funeral and testamentary expenses and all other Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society [or each of the said Societies] shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy [or Legacies respectively].

No. II.—Form of Bequest of the Residue, or a Share of the Residue.

And in order to give full effect to the bequest hereinafter contained for charitable purposes I direct that my Debts, the expenses of my funeral and of the probate and execution of this my Will and the Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto shall be paid out of such part of my personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may not be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the primary Fund§ and in case only of the same being insufficient for payment thereof then out of such part of my personal Estate as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the ultimate Fund; and subject as aforesaid, I give and bequeath unto the Treasurer for the time being of a voluntary Society meeting in or near London called or known by the name of "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East" for the general purposes of the said Society such part of my residuary personal Estate as by the Laws in force may be bequeathed for charitable purposes [or if a share only of the residue be intended to be given, then, instead of the words in Italics, say, "such sum of money as shall be equal to (one-fourth or one-half, according to the Intention) of my whole residuary personal Estate to be paid exclusively out of such part thereof as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes or such less sum as the said last mentioned part of my personal Estate will extend to pay"]. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general residuary personal Estate I bequeath the same &c. ||

* If so intended.

† If there be other charitable Legacies, they may be here added thus—"and to a certain other voluntary Society" &c. "and I direct each of the said several Legacies hereby bequeathed for charitable purposes to be paid" &c. as in the remainder of the above form.

‡ In case there be other charitable Legacies, insert here, "other than and except charitable Legacies."

§ If it be intended also to charge the Debts and Legacies on real Estate, then add "and in the next place out of my Freehold and Copyhold Estates."

|| The latter Clause to be filled up according to the Testator's wishes; but it must not be for any charitable purpose.

At the Forty-eighth Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May the 2d, 1848—

The Rt. Hon. and Most Rev. his Grace the LORD ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY, Vice-Patron, in the Chair,

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY ONE OF THE CLERICAL SECRETARIES AND THE REV. JOHN VENN, M.A., PREBENDARY OF HEREFORD—

On the Motion of the RIGHT HON. THE EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, seconded by the RIGHT REV. THE LORD BISHOP OF ST. ASAPH,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of this Meeting be given to the Rev. John Tucker for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to His Grace the Vice-Patron; to the Right Hon. the President and the Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies. [See List, p. iv.]

On the Motion of the RIGHT REV. THE LORD BISHOP OF MADRAS, V.P., seconded by the HON. AND REV. BAPTIST W. NOEL, M.A., Chaplain in Ordinary to the Queen, and Minister of St. John's Chapel, Bedford Row,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the gradual but sure progress of Christian Truth throughout our Indian possessions, and especially the advancement of our South-India Missions—evidenced by the late ordination of seven Missionaries at Madras, all educated and trained within the Missions, and four of them being pure Natives—should excite Christians at home to earnest prayer, that the Lord may guide and bless the work by the outpouring of His Holy Spirit, that the rising Native Churches may be established in the faith, and that the truth of the Gospel may continue with them.

*On the Motion of SIR THOMAS DYKE ACLAND, BART., M.P., V.P., seconded by the REV.
EDWARD JONES, M.A., Principal of the Fourah-Bay Institution, Sierra Leone,*

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting contemplates with devout admiration the prospect of a supply of well-educated Native Teachers from among the Liberated Africans in Sierra Leone, and the openings for their employment among their countrymen in the interior, especially at Abbeokouta; and expresses its fervent hope, that while the Government of Great Britain exerts its powerful arm to repress and extinguish the desolating scourge of an African Slave-trade, the Christian charity of the Empire may strive with equal zeal to repair the injuries long inflicted upon Africa, by imparting to her the blessings of Christianity and Civilization.

On the Motion of the REV. FRANCIS CLOSE, M.A., Incumbent of Cheltenham, seconded by the REV. EDWARD BICKERSTETH, Rector of Watton, Herts,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That a review of the history of the Society at the entrance upon its fiftieth year, in respect of its success at home and of the abundant first-fruits of its labours abroad, presents both a pressing call and a fitting occasion for special praise and prayer; and for special efforts, under the present financial circumstances of the Society, for strengthening and enlarging—in the place of contracting—its Missions; and that the new Committee be instructed to arrange and set on foot some plan for suitably commemorating the Jubilee of the Church Missionary Society.

At a Meeting of the Society, held in Exeter Hall, in the Evening of the same Day—

The Most Hon. the MARQUESS CHOLMONDELEY, one of the Vice-Presidents, in the Chair,

EXTRACTS FROM THE ABSTRACT OF THE REPORT HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. JOHN VENN—

On the Motion of ROBERT M. BIRD, ESQ., formerly a resident in Bengal, seconded by the REV. GEORGE PETTITT, one of the Society's Missionaries from South India,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the steady advance of the work of evangelization throughout the province of Tinnevely, and the complete organization of the Educational Establishments, encourage the hope that Tinnevely may soon become a wholly Christian country, and the centre of light to the other nations of Southern India.

On the Motion of the REV. GEORGE SMITH, M.A., formerly Missionary of the Society in China, seconded by the REV. CHARLES CLAYTON, M.A., Tutor of Caius College, Cambridge,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the wonderful events of the present day, whether considered in reference to recent national movements in Europe, or important political changes in the East, mark the age in which we live as one of the most remarkable since the Apostolic times, and encourage the Christian Church to greater activity in the extension of the Redeemer's kingdom throughout the earth.

On the Motion of the REV. ALEXANDER CRUMMELL, an African Episcopalian Minister of a Coloured Congregation, New York, seconded by the REV. JAMES RALPH, M.A., Rector of St. John's, Horselydown,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting desires to conclude the proceedings of this day with a solemn and heartfelt ascription of praise to God for the goodness and mercy which have followed the Society during the past forty-nine years of its existence; and would regard the present interesting epoch of its history, no less than its present circumstances, as an appropriate occasion for a greatly enlarged measure of enlightened, confiding, and prayerful exertion.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by a Patron or Patrons, a Vice-Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church.

II. The office of PATRON of the Society shall be reserved for such Members of the Royal Family as may honour it with their protection; and that of VICE-PATRON for His Grace the Primate of all England, if, being a Member of the Society, he shall accept the office. The PRESIDENT shall be such Temporal Peer or Commoner as may be appointed to that office; and VICE-PRESIDENTS shall consist of all Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, who, being Members of the Society, shall accept the office; and of such Temporal Peers and Commoners as, being also Members, shall be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upward, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upward per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward, Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying to the amount of Fifty Pounds, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upward shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate, to the General Committee, proper persons, as Patrons and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents for the Society in the principal Towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; the other Committees as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee; and Three, each of the others. In case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex-officio, Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society; of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued: The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.*

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee; and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. That all questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between any Colonial Bishop and any Committee of the Society, shall be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, whose decision thereupon shall be final.

XXXIII. That the object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as, in any other respect, to alter the principles and practice of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations, and explained in Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Report.

The proposed reference shall be made, through His Grace the Primate, by the Committee, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the Committee may deem advisable; and the Committee will be bound so to refer all questions, falling within the scope of the Rule so understood as aforesaid, which the Colonial Bishop shall require them to refer.

While all decisions of the Bench of Bishops on questions so referred will be considered by the Committee as binding on them and their agents or representatives, the Colonial Bishops or other Ecclesiastical Authorities, unless concurring in the reference, cannot properly be considered as so bound.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The following passage, from Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Annual Report, illustrates the practice of the Society in reference to this Rule:—

"The Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] our Missionaries—these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same Colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church."

APPENDIX II. TO THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT.

REFERRED TO IN THE NOTE TO LAW XXIX.

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

IT is the object of the following Remarks to show, that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognised in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognised co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in MATTERS ECCLESIASTICAL; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant Church, a Lay-Patron selects and presents "his Clerk"—as the Clergyman is technically called—to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every Church—the Churchwardens or Sidesmen—whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle, that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the Four following Heads:

I. THE COLLECTION OF THE HOME REVENUE, and THE DISBURSEMENT OF IT ABROAD.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. THE SELECTING AND EDUCATING CANDIDATES FOR MISSIONARY EMPLOYMENT.

In this department there is no necessary encroachments upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged, that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment: and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates: and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London "sends forth" every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their Foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a SENDING FORTH of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign Stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognised the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour; so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President—December 17, 1835—in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognised Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those—the Committee and Secretary—who still stand in the relation of Lay-Patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop* or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask [to receive]."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms:—"You seem to me to lay down the principle most correctly. . . . This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I report all the proceedings of the diocese."—9th June 1836.

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a licence or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries: the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837:—

"We are not to take for granted, that discretionary power will be abused; but, on the contrary, to provide, by a cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an occurrence. If the event of arbitrary conduct should arise, or be supposed to arise, the remedies are—public opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop—and the Society's refusing to make other appointments and locations than those unreasonably objected to. Nothing is the least likely—and probability is the guide of life—to arise to impede or cramp the Committee; since they unquestionably and avowedly possess, The choice of men—The appointment of spheres of labour—The temporal power, including pecuniary support."

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands toward its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a Beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is, in a sense, perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Missionary Committees," says his Lordship, "have a far greater latitude in India than any Lay-Patrons at home. Upon presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, the Patron at home is functus officio. The Clergyman is removed, on being once instituted and licensed, totally and for ever from the Patron, and is transferred to the superintendency of the Bishop. The Patron has nothing whatever more to do with him. But in India, the Committee is (1) the continued paymaster of the Missionary after he is duly licensed;—for institution and induction there are none. (2) They correspond with him. (3) They supply him with Catechists. (4) They report his chief proceedings home. (5) They propose removals and changes of Station to the Bishop. (6) They exercise, unavoidably, an influence which does not belong to the mere Lay-Patron; and are aiding, in a variety of ways, to the comfortable and honourable discharge of the Missionary's most exalted and most spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those Stations which are Extra-diocesan; i.e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such Stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras, to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission in Travancore; which, as an independent state, not forming a part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made on behalf of the New-Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia; who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly satisfactory to me, that our friends at home are taking a view of these things which proves them to belong, not only to a MISSIONARY, but also to a CHURCH Society." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert, that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta—Letter, May 26, 1837: "The boundaries of the power of Committees, as they approach to those of the Bishop, can be ascertained, in many points, only by time and observation." Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society: and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—"The principles of our new relations are now fully recognised: the details will soon find their level."—Letter, 9th June 1836.

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church.* Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that, in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this TRANSITION STATE—from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour.

* The American Episcopal Church has, in Convention, thus identified itself with a Missionary Society.

This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach. In an interview with the Bishop of Barbados—April 1835—this point was expressly alluded to; and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, "that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary's services."—(Extracts from Committee's Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society, according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee's using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper Candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops—as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson—that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceeding.

It seems impossible to supersede this conventional understanding—as it may be termed—till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, not of confusion, but of peace, and "the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause—"that all and every of these may, IN THEIR SEVERAL CALLINGS, serve truly and painfully, to the glory of His name!"

NAMES OF MISSIONARIES AND OTHER LABOURERS, AT THE SEVERAL STATIONS OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY: MAY 1848.

. By MISSIONARY, is to be understood one in Holy Orders; and by CATECHIST, one who engages in such religious care and instruction of the people as may be consistent with his character as a Layman. The letter (m) means Married; (w) Widow.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Females; such as, cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing Female Adults.

A STATION is the place at which a Missionary or European Catechist is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society.

The figures placed to the Names of the European Labourers sent from Europe show the date of their first leaving for their Stations.

The asterisk (*) denotes that the Missionary is on his way out; The dagger (†) that he is on his way home.

Suggested Order of Proceedings at a Meeting preparatory to the Formation of an Association in aid of the Church Missionary Society.

- 1.—Mr. will move, and Mr. ^{will} be requested to take the Chair."
second, a Resolution, "That
 2.—The Chairman will briefly state the object for which the Meeting is assembled, and then call on the Rev. ^{to offer up the usual Prayer} to Almighty God, for a blessing on the proceedings of the day.
 3.—After Prayer, the Chairman will make such further observations as he may deem necessary, and then call on Mr. ^{to move the First Resolution.}

FIRST RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That this Meeting fully recognises the duty incumbent on Christians to employ all suitable means for the propagation of the Gospel throughout the world; and hails, with thankfulness to the Great Head of the Church, the labours of the CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY in its various Stations in Heathen Lands, and among decayed Christian Churches.

SECOND RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That an Association be now formed, and entitled, "The Church Missionary Association;" and that the following be its Officers and Rules.

PRESIDENT.

VICE-PRESIDENTS.

TREASURER.

SECRETARY.

COMMITTEE:

RULES.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward; or if Clergymen, Half a Guinea; and also such persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward; or if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas; and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at its General Meetings. Collectors of One Shilling and upward per week will receive a copy of each Monthly Number of the "Church Missionary Record"; of Sixpence a-week and upward, of each Monthly Number of the "Church Missionary Gleaner." Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society. Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors. Contributors of 1d. a-week and upward will be entitled to receive the Parent Society's "Quarterly Paper."

VI. The objects of this Association shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society—to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VII. The whole of the funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society, in aid of its designs.

VIII. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day as shall be fixed by the Committee; when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be read, and an account of its receipts and disbursements presented, duly audited.

THIRD RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That the success which, under the Divine Blessing, has attended the Church Missionary Society, in its efforts to make known the Gospel of Christ among the Heathen, is a loud and providential call for increased exertions, for devout thanksgiving to Almighty God, and for continual prayer for a more abundant outpouring of the Holy Spirit, to render the means employed successful.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That the new and enlarged openings for Missionary exertion, in different quarters, demand our best energies to make known the blessed Gospel of Christ to Heathen and Mahomedan Nations.

SERMON,
PREACHED AT ST. BRIDE'S CHURCH,

SERMON,

1 CORINTHIANS XI. 1.

BE YE FOLLOWERS OF ME, EVEN AS I ALSO AM OF CHRIST.

THERE can be scarcely a doubt, that in these words the Apostle is having especial reference to the course he pursued in relation to the matters on which he had been writing to the Corinthians in the three preceding chapters. But, inasmuch as he further introduces the example of our Lord, and as the Holy Spirit has preserved this exhortation which the Apostle has recourse to more than once elsewhere, I conceive that we are justified in considering it as having reference to the mind, and spirit, and principles, which influence the conduct, rather than the external things themselves. I therefore propose to consider the exhortation as having an extended and general meaning; and to make such an application of it as may be adapted to the present occasion. In other words, I propose to endeavour, from his conduct and writings, to apprehend the mind and spirit, and, as it were, the very heart of the chosen Apostle to the Gentiles; and therefrom to attempt to show what are the principles on which all Missionary operations ought to be carried on; and, as a consequence from this, what ought to be the principles and practice of a Missionary Society like ours, viewing it in regard to the management of its affairs and the character of its Missionaries—and, I may add, wherever the application can be made, of its friends and supporters. Only let us, dear brethren, ever bear in mind the Apostle's acknowledgment, By the grace of God I am

*what I am*¹; lest, in our contemplation of the Apostle, we lose sight of HIM WHO MADE HIM WHAT HE WAS, and whose strength was made perfect in his weakness—*Jesus, the Author and Finisher of our faith.*²

I. The feature in the Apostle's character which I would wish more especially to bring before you, and to reflections upon which I would devote the greatest portion of our time, is—THE COMBINATION OF A CLEAR APPREHENSION OF THE EXCLUSIVELY SPIRITUAL CHARACTER OF HIS WORK, WITH COMPREHENSIVENESS OF MIND, AND largeness of heart, AND FREEDOM OF ACTION.

1. He appears to us as setting a just value upon every moral and mental excellence, and all external advantages; and to have comprehended in his grasp, for the service of God, every available gift—but only as subordinate, consecrated instruments; never imagining that things moral, or intellectual, or ecclesiastical, even in their best and purest forms, can be improved into that which is spiritual; but always recognising the boundary which man by nature cannot pass, and maintaining the principle laid down by Eternal Truth, that *that which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit*³, and that, therefore, the operations of the spiritual man alone can be looked to for the production of spiritual fruit, to be owned and blessed by God. This vitally-important distinction he upheld with care and jealousy, pronouncing the carnal mind to be enmity against God, and carnal-mindedness to be death, so that they that are in the flesh cannot please God; whilst to be spiritually-minded is life and peace. How clear and decisive is his language respecting all—however circumstanced as to outward ordinances—who have not the spirit of Christ, including as much those who may have been outwardly admitted into the ministry, as those who have been only outwardly baptized—*If ANY MAN have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of His.*⁴ Whilst in equally decisive language he writes of those who are born of God,

³ John iii. 6.

⁴ Rom. viii. 6—9.

*As many as are led by the Spirit of God, THEY are the sons of God.*¹

2. In connexion with this clearness of perception of distinction between the flesh and the Spirit, we may notice the Apostle's views of unity. It is not a mere outward uniformity, to which they who have, and they who have not, the spirit of Christ may equally attain—that would be the one body only; but the unity of the spirit, that living and indestructible unity which exists between all those, and only those, who are “very members incorporate of Christ's mystical body, which is the blessed company of all faithful people;” the “elect of God,” whom “He has knit together in one communion and fellowship.”

And in this fellowship of those who are born of the Spirit, the Apostle recognises no outward distinctions—*by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free*²; and with an enlarged heart he desires that every member may duly exercise the functions of his “several vocation and ministry,” “having received the Spirit to profit withal;” and in this way he would call forth the sanctified energies of all in the service of each other and their common Head, even the feeblest of the members being the more necessary.

3. Perhaps we shall have a clearer view of the Apostle's character in these respects, if we contrast it with his former habits of thought and action.

Before his conversion, although his education at the feet of Gamaliel would seem to have been such as to have disciplined and invigorated his mind, and refined it by acquaintance with classic literature; and although—which was vastly more important—he was preserved blameless in his outward conduct; yet, how contracted was his mind! and his views limited to those of the strictest sect of the Pharisees! His zeal was directed to the upholding of the traditions of his fathers; and it was no small privilege, in his estimation, that he had been circumcised on the precise day appointed in the Levitical law, that he was of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews. So deeply was he impressed with the importance of all these outward things, that he could not tolerate any apparent departure from them: he *verily thought with himself that he ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.*¹ His mind was thus contracted within the narrow compass of a formal Judaism; and instead of the affections of the heart going forth in love towards all men, he could sit and watch and consent to the death of Stephen, and go forth from what he there beheld, breathing out threatenings and slaughter, to make havock of the Church by breaking into domestic happiness, and dragging even women to prison.

But how different now! As to outward forms, he says, *We are of the circumcision, which worship God in the SPIRIT, and rejoice in CHRIST JESUS, and have no confidence in the flesh. Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. . . But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.*² To the Galatians he writes—*As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, they . . . desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh. But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.*³ And even as regards the Christian Sacraments, there were circumstances in the Corinthian Church which led him to express his thankfulness that he had administered baptism to none but a few; for Christ sent him not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel.

It is delightful to see how now, set free from his former bondage, but become a servant of Jesus Christ, he partook of His spirit, who when He saw much people was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd⁴, and in His spirit acknowledged himself a debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians; both to the wise and to the unwise.⁵ In the same spirit, standing as a prisoner in the sight of the mingled crowd of Jews and Gentiles in the judgment-hall in Cæsarea, he addressed himself to Agrippa, *I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.*¹ His attachment to his own nation was not diminished, but deepened and sanctified: his heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel was, *that they might be saved.*² At the same time, his love and interest took a wider range—As many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon the ISRAEL OF GOD. And it is one of not the least remarkable instances of the Apostle's comprehensiveness of mind, that he apparently had an intimate acquaintance with, and personal interest in, individuals, some, at least, of whom he could scarcely have seen face to face; whilst there was moreover that which came upon him daily, the care of all the Churches, prompting him to say, *Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burn not?*³ according to the mind of Him who is *touched with the feeling of our infirmities. Though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more.*⁴

In the same spirit, the very opposite of his former bitterness, he writes to those living members of Christ, who could not as yet see every thing in the light in which he saw it—*If in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you. Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.*⁵ And still more, when he closes his Epistle to the Ephesians, does he exhibit the fulness of a heart no longer contracted as it once was—*Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.*⁶

4. From this exhibition of the Apostle's character, let us proceed to the consideration of HIS MINISTRY. We trace the same spirit pervading it throughout. The OBJECT ever before him was, not the mere improvement of the temporal, civil, social, or even moral condition of mankind, or the cultivation of the mind by education. These would be, and were, the results which followed from his ministry; for doubtless in God's word are to be found the surest guide and strongest motives for mental culture—the only true foundations of moral philosophy—the only lasting remedies for social evils—and the only sound principles of political economy and the administration of the affairs of nations; but these were not the great, the all-important object, for which he ministered. His object was, to bring back the rebellious creature to his Creator and to peace; the restoration of his degraded body and soul to holiness and love, and to the image of God; the elevation of poor fallen human nature to its own true dignity for which God designs it; and, thereby, the exaltation of our Lord Jesus Christ as the Head of the new creation; the manifestation of His glory in those whom the Father has given Him¹, whom He has purchased with His blood, who were predestinated *to be conformed to His image, that He might be the first-born among many brethren², to the praise of the glory of the grace of THAT GOD, who worketh all things after the counsel of His own will.*³

He accordingly declares his object in such language as this—*God hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. For He hath made Him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him.*⁴ He tells Agrippa the same, that Jesus Christ had sent him to the Gentiles for this object—to *open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive FORGIVENESS OF SINS, and INHERITANCE among them which are SANCTIFIED by faith that is in Jesus.*⁵ The glorious gospel of the blessed God was committed to his trust⁶ to the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the Church the manifold wisdom of God,

*according to the eternal purpose which He purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord.*¹

And the INSTRUMENT he used was adapted to the work to be accomplished; nothing mechanical—no mere moral force or influence—no power of his own—not the enticing words of man's wisdom—not any excellency of speech—not any thing carnal—BUT, that which is *mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds; casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ*²—even THAT GOSPEL, which is the POWER OF GOD unto salvation. We preach CHRIST CRUCIFIED, in demonstration of the Spirit and of power; for it has pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe³, that your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.⁴ Such was his ministry from the first day that he returned to Damascus from Arabia—such in Asia, amidst tears and temptations—such at Rome, when in bonds—at Athens, where philosophers sneered⁵—such, having obtained help of God, he continued witnessing both to small and great from the beginning of his ministry to the end.

5. Yet, if we stop here, we shall have but a partial view of the Apostle's mind, and character, and ministry. We must remember that the very largeness of his heart, and the purity and constancy of his love, caused him to exclude from his sympathies all false liberality and compromising tendencies, which would set aside the glory and authority of God, to obtain an imaginary peace on earth, and a goodwill towards men based upon unsound principles. The very holiness of his zeal and love produced a holy jealousy—*If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maran-atha.*⁶ *Though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed.*⁷ And again to the Corinthians, *I am jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ. But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.*¹ And so as regards unity and submission to authority, he writes to the Thessalonians, *If any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed. Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.*²

6. We have thus then, brethren, gathered much from the Apostle's history and writings to enable us so to understand him, as that we may follow him, as he followed Christ. AND YET, whether we have reference to the especial object I proposed at the beginning, or to general edification, our estimate of his sense of the SUPREMACY TO BE CLAIMED FOR SPIRITUAL AND VITAL RELIGION, and of the TRUE NATURE OF THAT EXPANSIVENESS OF MIND AND HEART, AND FREEDOM OF ACTION, which characterized him, can scarcely be just or beneficial to ourselves, unless we connect with the whole the WORKINGS OF HIS OWN HEART, and THOSE DISCOVERIES of his own personal experience, which for the Church's sake the Holy Spirit graciously directed him to record. Precious discoveries indeed! magnifying the grace of God, and conducing to the establishment and comfort of His servants of every age, and serving to maintain in them a holy jealousy for the simplicity and fulness of the Gospel. Call to mind then, brethren, his own repeated acknowledgments of his former sinful state—*I was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious*³; *beyond measure I persecuted the Church of God*⁴; *I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women*⁵; and *when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them. And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme.*⁶ I am the least of the Apostles, that am not meet to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.¹ I am the chief of sinners.

And then, the view he took of the reason of God's dealings with him—For this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might show forth all longsuffering, for a PATTERN to them which should hereafter believe on Him to life everlasting.²

And then the unreserved confession of his state by nature, and the power of indwelling sin—I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.³ And that forcible cry uttered from the depths of a sanctified heart, and which—as ye well know, dear brethren—meets with a response from the hearts of all the children of God—O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?⁴ Observe, too, the communications between his Saviour and his soul in the time of temptation—the danger he was in from self-exaltation, and the Saviour's treatment of him in consequence: there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me. Then his importunate prayer—I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me. The answer from the Lord—My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. And then his joyful acquiescence and submission—Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.⁵

And, with this remembrance of the past, and this abiding conviction of present sinfulness, and experience of his Saviour's faithfulness, no wonder that learning, influence, property, respect, were as nothing in his estimation now. Jesus loved me, and gave Himself for me⁶; and for Him I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ, and be found in Him.⁷ I have a desire to depart, and to be with Christ.⁸

And then see how he traces all God's work in him to its ONE TRUE CAUSE, GOD'S DISTINGUISHING AND ELECTING LOVE. *By the grace of God I am what I am.*¹—*It pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by His grace, to reveal His Son in me.*² God hath chosen us in Christ before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before Him in love: having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to Himself, according to the good pleasure of His will.³

7. It has thus been my endeavour, dear brethren, to bring before you the mind and character of the Apostle, with a view to the establishing in our minds just views of what Missionary Societies, and their operations and agents, ought to be; by gathering up his varied testimony from his own writings, and briefly adverting to his own records of his personal inward experience. Yet, after all, it would seem as if we needed something more, to be fully impressed with an idea of the spirit he breathed. We appear to require a thoughtful and prayerful survey of the whole of his writings collectively; and, in this way, to lay open our hearts to impressions, and thereby imbibe his spirit. The effect produced upon us will be, a consciousness—stronger perhaps than we felt before—that there is, in St. Paul's Epistles, that which no natural intellect could have written, and which the natural heart cannot receive—a SOMETHING, beyond his depth of thought, and exalted views of truth, and quick perception of error; that it is not the development of intellect, or of energies once directed against Christ and now at liberty and sanctified and invigorated; nor is it merely zeal, or tenderness and sympathy and love; nor the simplicity of his object; nor the beautiful consistency of his own transparent and lovely character; but, that which has produced, or promoted, and pervades all—in short, the Spirit which is from above, the breathings of that *life which is hid with Christ in God*⁴, the communications of an understanding enlightened, and a heart filled and moved, by the Holy Ghost. It is that which he himself expresses thus—*We have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.*¹

II. It is now time for us, brethren, to endeavour to make a "transfer" of this picture, that we may obtain, if possible, something like a faithful sketch of what a Missionary Society ought to be.

1. And who can doubt what ought to be its distinguishing characteristic, its principle, its life-blood? Surely it must be THIS—THE JEALOUS MAINTAINING THROUGHOUT OF THAT VITAL TRUTH, THAT THAT WHICH IS BORN OF THE FLESH IS, IN ITS FAIREST FORMS, FLESH, AND ONLY FLESH; AND THAT ALONE WHICH IS BORN OF THE SPIRIT IS SPIRIT. And so, as a consequence, a faithful upholding of the SUPREMACY, to the exclusion of all things else, of that which is spiritual to produce spiritual fruit. And then, associated with this, a largeness of heart, which goes forth with a comprehensiveness of mind and freedom of action, in yearnings over a sinful and ruined world; gathering in with zeal and wisdom every gift and talent, to be consecrated and used in its great work, and all in submission to the mind of Christ as revealed in His Word. This principle engraven in the heart, ever present to the mind, and always in action in all deliberations and proceedings, will prevail in the very frame-work of a Scriptural Missionary Society, and be acted upon in every department. Its OBJECT is SPIRITUAL; its WORK is SPIRITUAL; and, if it is to be owned and blessed of God, ITS INTENTION, AND AIM, AND EFFORT, MUST BE, TO HAVE NONE FOR ITS AGENTS BUT THOSE WHO ARE BORN OF THE SPIRIT. This must ever be the strength of such a body—that which is the only strength of an individual believer—communion with our living Head, through the quickening power of the Holy Spirit indwelling in its members, and managers, and missionaries, and teachers, and catechists; a fellowship with the Father, and with the Son, and with each other, in the unity of the Holy Ghost.

Let there be a just sense of the greatness and true nature of the object proposed, and the work undertaken; let it be well considered that the condition of fallen humanity, as regards its restoration to God, is far too desperate to be reached by any human power; that its cry—though not the cry of grace, as that of the Apostle, but of bondage and misery—is, O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death? and that the answer must ever be the same, through Jesus Christ our Lord; and with this conviction established and ever present to the mind, surely none will venture to make use of any instruments, but such as Christ will own; and we know that *if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of His.*¹ Let this be watchfully maintained by us all, that neither commanding talents; nor moral influence; nor a well-conducted machinery; nor Church-government, however scriptural; nor outward forms, conservative as they are; nor barren orthodoxy, supposed or real; are the elements by which a Missionary Society is nourished, or the instruments by which it succeeds. The Church of Christ, in her completeness and power, is not so much to be sought for in the abilities of her ministers and people, or the regularity of her external government, as in the mind which was in Christ Jesus, in the unction from the Holy One,² in the abundance of grace given to her, in the indwelling and internal government of the Holy Ghost, “by whom the whole body of the Church is governed and sanctified.”

And bear with me, dear Brethren, if I remind you that—to say nothing of the pressure of the world, and the crafty and powerful agency of Satan—the whole tendency of our corrupt nature is, to weigh down this one great principle of vitality and power; and, moreover, that those who are concerned in the management of a Missionary Society's affairs, whether at home or in the Missions, are peculiarly exposed to the danger of discharging their duties mechanically, and yielding to a secular spirit; and still more, that we, who have lived and laboured in daily and hourly contact with heathenism, have to bear up against the downward tendency of our hearts within, with the additional influence of the stupefying atmosphere of *the land of the shadow of death*¹ and Satan's kingdom. I may therefore with good reason, after the example of St. Paul, and in his words, call upon you, brethren, who are enjoying the abundance of Gospel privileges and light, both to take heed to yourselves—that *as ye have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so ye walk in Him*²—and that, moreover, *for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and for the love of the Spirit, ye strive together with His servants in your prayers to God for them*³, *praying . . . in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication*⁴, that their gracious Saviour and living Head will so sustain, and guard, and increase their spiritual life, that they may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God.⁵ If, alas! the constituency of a Missionary Society become formal, and prayerless, and carnal, the paralyzing influence will be felt throughout the institutions at home and the Missions in the remotest parts.

2. And now let us see how a mind imbued with such a spirit as this, ever following the mind of the Apostle, will develope itself in operation; what will be its reflections, and purposes, and efforts.

(1) First, it will be persuaded of that which experience also has confirmed, that we cannot expect of men that they should rise higher than their principles; and that consequently, whilst the responsibility lies on the whole visible Church to send forth the light of Truth throughout the world, it is to those alone who are the living members of Christ, and have the spirit of Christ, to whom it can look to meet their responsibility aright. Its sympathies, therefore, will be with these ; its hopes will rest on these ; and its appeals be made to such as have *the love of God shed abroad in their hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto them.*¹ With these it will associate ; from these it will look for instruments ; to these it will entrust its work ; and in their work have free communion with them, as far as the imperfections and sins of those who are brethren in the Lord will allow. Firm in the maintenance of truth, and unfeignedly lamenting whatever differences exist between those who are one in Christ, it will look up with faith to our exalted Head, and will remember how from Him *the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love,*² and so will exercise patience towards those with whom it differs in judgment, and humble, hearty love to all who love the Saviour.

(2) Such a spirit as this, such as the Apostle's, will enter into all the details of Missionary proceedings at home, and operations abroad. With the affections of a sanctified heart, it will rejoice over all who, being sound in the faith and brethren in the Lord, are *fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God.*³ Esteeming others better than itself, it will bear the burdens of others, and *condescend to men of low estate.*⁴ It will not be satisfied with a superficial acquaintance with Missionary operations in their general features ; much less will it perplex itself with unprofitable inquiries and disputes about the entire correctness of this or that part of the Missionary machinery ; but, as far as it can, it will concern itself with individual converts and their peculiar trials ; if such be its calling, or if opportunity be afforded, it will hold brotherly intercourse with individual Missionaries—at all events will remember them in intercessions before God ; it will enter into all the varied circumstances of Churches and Missions, embracing within the compass of its interest and love the various races of mankind, and delighting in those who, whether African, or Esquimaux, or

New Zealander, or Hindoo, being effectually called by God's wonderful grace, and having "through grace obeyed the calling," are *no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God.*¹

(3) Now a spirit thus large in the exercises of love, and at the same time deeply taught in the workings of evil within, and by the consciousness of its continual presence constrained to be always walking humbly and circumspectly, leaning on the Beloved, may safely be entrusted with God's other gifts, and be encouraged to cultivate the utmost comprehensiveness of mind. *The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof*²; and Christ, having had all things delivered to Him of His Father, is the Head over all things to the Church; and to those who are Christ's it is said, *All things are your's; whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are your's; and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.*³ So that whatever there may be within its reach, of languages, or art, or science, or nature, calculated to promote its object, it is privileged to gather it in, and apply it to its Master's use, and to seize on all opportunities, and openings, and critical seasons, for carrying forth the Gospel; using all in submission to God's revealed will, and for the furtherance of His glory, in the way that He Himself has ordained.

(4) I have said, brethren, in the way that God Himself has ordained, because here we must interpose a caution. When speaking of comprehensiveness of mind, we are also supposing a sanctified heart and meekness of spirit, and a submissive will. We must take heed that imagination does not take the place of faith, and that our expectations do not pass beyond the revealed purposes and promises of God. *The secret things belong unto the Lord our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.*⁴ *God's thoughts are not our thoughts, neither are our ways His ways.*⁵ We speak indeed of comprehensiveness of mind, and thoughts of great and liberal things; but how mean and narrow are they before God! His plans and purposes are not limited by any boundaries of time or space which we can understand: *Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been His counsellor?*¹ But THIS WE KNOW—that *the counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of His heart to all generations*²; and that His Word *shall not return unto Him void, but it shall accomplish that which He pleases, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto He sends it.*³ And here, then, faith takes her stand; forming her plans and carrying on her operations, and regulating her expectations of success by the sole rule of the revealed will of God. Hereby, instead of contracting the mind she expands it; for whilst an unsanctified imagination, always looking for that which God has not promised, leads the heart at length to abandon that which is sure⁴, faith, in its fellowship with hope and love, abideth still, and quickens the energies of the mind, by fixing it on Him *who worketh all things after the counsel of His own will*⁵, persuaded that He is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, and will, by the instrumentality of His Church, make known His manifold wisdom even unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places.

And what is the revealed counsel of His will? Doubtless there are promises which shall all be fulfilled, and for the fulfilment of which *the whole creation groaneth, when all Israel shall be saved*⁶, and the whole earth shall be filled with the Redeemer's glory; but the PRESENT season is the dispensation of the ELECTION OF GRACE, the time when God is accomplishing the number of His elect, the season for His making known the riches of His glory on the vessels of mercy, which He had afore prepared unto glory, even us, whom He hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles.⁷ And it was of us Gentiles that the Saviour said, Other sheep I have . . . them also I must *bring, and they shall hear my voice*¹; and of all, both Jews and Gentiles, He has declared, *All that the Father giveth me shall come to me*²—*Thou gavest them me out of the world: Thine they were, and Thou gavest them me*³—*And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.*⁴ It was in full assurance that *the Lord knoweth them that are His*⁵, and that His Word shall accomplish, in regard to them, that whereunto He sent it, that St. Paul preached the Word everywhere; and his experience, whether at Antioch in Pisidia, or Athens, or Rome, or Corinth, accorded with his expectation, that whilst in one place some persecuted, and in another scoffed, and in others were indifferent, *as many as were ordained to eternal life believed.*⁶ And this, dear brethren, is our experience, and that of our brethren in the Missions; and our confidence and consolation is, that OUR SUCCESS IS CERTAIN; that, though we be the savour of death unto death in them that perish, yet God will always cause His faithful servants to triumph in Christ, and will make manifest the savour of His knowledge by them in every place, *the savour of life unto life to them that are saved*⁷, who shall be their hope, and joy, and crown of rejoicing in the presence of our Lord Jesus at His coming. And therefore, brethren, let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for He is faithful that promised;) and let us consider one another to provoke unto love, and to good works . . . exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.⁸

III. And now, let me recall to your minds the object I proposed at the commencement. My aim has been to trace out before you the mind and ministry of the Apostle to the Gentiles in some of their marked features; and then, to endeavour to make such a transfer of the picture, as might give us a correct representation of what a Missionary Society ought to be. The sketch has been very imperfect; but I trust it is scriptural: whether, if scriptural, its lineaments are those of the loved and valued Society whose cause I advocate to-night, I leave to each to judge for himself. I fixed on what appeared to me to be the more prominent features of the Apostle's character—viz. a clear apprehension of the exclusively spiritual nature of his work, combined with largeness of heart, and comprehensiveness of views, and freedom of action—under the conviction that the prevalence of error and worldliness require of us an increased jealousy in maintaining the simplicity of Gospel Truth; whilst, at the same time, the present wonderful movement in men's minds, throughout the civilized world, calls for a greater expansiveness of mind, and more fervent and comprehensive love on the part of the people of God, that we may rise up with all our energy to meet the immense responsibilities and privileges to which God, at this crisis, is calling us. Of the former of these I scarcely need say any thing further: to the latter I now address myself in conclusion.

1. And, brethren, in what a crisis of the world's history has God appointed us to live! The vastly-increased developement of the powers of the human intellect—the astonishing amount of mental energy, produced, as disposable force, to act upon the whole world—the facilities of communication with almost every part of the earth—in short, THE PRODIGIOUS MORAL POWER NOW IN ACTION, AVAILABLE FOR EVIL OR GOOD, opens to us privileges, and places us under responsibilities, unknown to any Church or nation in this or any former age of the world. O for that devotedness of heart and singleness of eye to God's glory, and a mind that can grasp all within its reach, that we might be worthy followers of Paul, as he was of Christ! God, in His providence, grants us at this hour to be at peace with all the world, and by our commerce has given us access to every harbour and landing-place on the habitable earth. China is open to the Gospel; Africa, in the East and West, is ready to receive a hundred-fold more than we can give; and—passing over other countries—THERE IS INDIA, our own India, OUR OWN, that is, FOR A SEASON; held by us as tenants at will—delivered over to us, and preserved to us, in a marvellous way, by the Lord of the whole earth, who accompanies the charge with that equitable and solemn decree, Unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required—INDIA, whose far more than one hundred millions acknowledge, by the very image and superscription of one common coin, from the Himalayas to the furthest South, that they are subjects of our Queen; with whose revenues we enrich ourselves, and find provision for our children; where all is now at peace; but whose cities, except a few, with their ten thousands of inhabitants, remain to this day without even the echo of the Gospel's joyful sound; whose sons are receiving from us an education, without the Bible, which, alas! is raising them from idolatry and servile fear only to high-mindedness, and restlessness, and scoffing, and atheism; and yet, where nearly every village and town is willing to receive instruction in God's word, in our language, and to listen to the message of the Saviour's love, if only there were hearts and lips to tell it. What are WE doing for India? I mean, dear brethren, what are THEY doing for India, who themselves know the love of Christ, and live by faith in Him? It is true, indeed, that our Missions are planted here and there; and most true it is, that God has blessed our feeble efforts with an increase wholly disproportioned to the labour bestowed: that, for instance, in our South-India Mission, our Communicants in the last nine years have multiplied SEVENFOLD, whilst our Missionaries have only increased one half, and nearly all that increase is of Indian, and not English growth. Still, the question remains to be proposed, "Is this to meet our responsibilities? Is this to answer to the call of God to go forward?" Lay it, dear brethren, to heart. Surely, with such intellectual powers and such active energies at home, and such facilities for bringing them to bear on the distant nations of the earth, we must not, like St. Paul in the earlier days of his life, suffer ourselves to be shut up in the straitest sect of a mere formal religion, nor remain even, as the other Apostles in the first few years of their ministry, till God was pleased to show them that the boundary of their Mission was no other than the ends of the earth, giving our minds only to that which our eyes survey in the compass of the British Isles; but, with praise to God for His distinguishing mercy in calling us to this position and opportunity, beseech Him, that as in His mysterious Providence He has opened so wide a door, He will, by His Spirit, move the hearts of His servants, that many may enter in.

2. And who does not associate thoughts like these with THE SOLEMN REFLECTION, THAT THIS IS A DAY when *the powers of the political heaven are shaken, and men's hearts are failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth?*¹ The Lord's dealings with the thrones and nations of Europe, so unparalleled as they are, bid us to LINGER NO MORE; to cease from man, and to work while it is called to-day. Contrast God's judgments upon Europe with the mercy prolonged to us. Why are not our opportunities gone? our privileges snatched from our hands? Why is not India taken from us? and Africa not yet laid bare for the spoiler to make her desolate again? And how is it, that instead of confusion and bloodshed, we are once more assembled to praise our God, and to talk of all His wondrous works, in peace and security? Dear brethren, these are not times for taking *heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister QUESTIONS, rather than godly edifying*², nor for allowing within us feelings and notions which isolate and contract the heart. Let all these things henceforth wholly cease from among us; let us *gird up the loins of our mind, be sober, and watch unto prayer*³; and let OUR PRAYER BE SUCH AS THIS, that God will humble us for past neglect, and enlarge our hearts to meet our present exigencies and opportunities—that He will pour out His Spirit on the youth of our land, and our Universities—that whilst many are stirred up to give themselves to minister God's precious Gospel of peace to the dark places of our own beloved country, He will likewise call many, by His Spirit, to go forth, with sanctified and devoted hearts, to gather in His elect from the four winds of heaven. It may be, that the working days of the Church are almost over, and her suffering days at hand: if so—if *the night cometh, when no man can work*¹—the case is all the more urgent, and the command the more to be heeded, *Occupy till I come.*²

3. Lastly, there is one circumstance more, which serves to give a still deeper and more peculiar interest and solemnity to this season—that our Society, to adopt the language of the elder dispensation, has completed its seven sabbaths of years—and we have entered on what we may speak of as our YEAR OF JUBILEE. It is not for me to recount to you God's dealings with us for these forty-nine years from the beginning, or to suggest plans for the future: this devolves on others. But I may, in all brotherly love, beseech you to make this our year of Jubilee, or so much of it as the Lord may give us, a season for stirring up each other to especial PRAISE AND PRAYER—PRAISE for all that He has bestowed upon us, and wrought by us; and MORE EARNEST PRAYER to Him, that He will now, in these last days, gather in a multitude to Himself from out of the Heathen; and that for this He will deliver us from our present lack of labourers, and supply our great necessity, by calling from the midst of His dear children many whom He will endue with a large measure of His grace, and with all needful gifts—whom He will send forth with blessings to fulfil the work which the Lord of the harvest has given into our hands, until His coming again.

REPORT,

&c. &c.

THE present is the Forty-eighth occasion on which the Committee of the Church Missionary Society have met their constituents to render an account of their trust. But as the Society was instituted on the 12th of April 1799, and as the first Public Meeting was deferred till the close of the second year from the formation of the Society, there is a very special interest attached to this epoch, as the commencement of the Fiftieth Year of the Society's existence—the year of Jubilee, according to the reckoning of a Divine ordinance under the old Law.

The Committee defer, however, the reflections which the present season will suggest to the mind of every devout Christian, until they shall have discharged their first duty of presenting a Report of the proceedings of the past year.

STATE OF THE FINANCES.

The Statement of Accounts at the close of the financial year—March 31, 1848—exhibits the following result—

INCOME.		£	s.	d.
I. GENERAL FUND, paid to the Parent Society	88,812	4	10
II. SPECIAL FUNDS, ditto—
Fund for Disabled Missionaries, &c. 1095	2	11
Capital Fund	113	1	0
Fourah-Bay Instit. Buildings' Fd. .	28	12	4
China-Mission Fund.	1907	19	10
Pratt-Memorial Fund.	23	12	8
		3168	8	9
III. LOCAL FUNDS, raised and expended in the Missions,	9313	2	8
Total, from all sources.		£101,293	16	3

This amount falls below the Income of the last year by the sum of 15,534*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.*, which may be explained as follows—

I. Deficiency in the General Fund.—The amount under the first head comprises the whole income of the Society available for the carrying on its general operations. A comparison of this amount with the corresponding head of last year exhibits the following result—

1847-48	88,812	4	10
Deficiency	£12,954	9	4

An analysis of the Accounts shows that this deficiency has occurred in the following resources—

In Contributions from Associations	2569	16	8
Benefactions paid direct to the Parent Society, 1879	1679	13	9
Legacies	9165	15	1

Upon a few minor items there is a slight increase.

Deducting the amount of Legacies—which must always be an uncertain and fluctuating source of income, and which was last year swelled by the extraordinary Legacy of the late Mr. Scott—the deficiency, in what may be termed the permanent Income of the Society, amounts to 3788*l.* 14*s.* 3*d.*

Considering the commercial difficulties of the last year, and the large demands of the famine upon the charity of the nation, it may appear that this diminution of income is not greater than might have been reasonably expected, and that it argues no diminution in the zeal or confidence of the supporters of the Society. The Committee are happy to be able to add, that many Associations, in places not affected by commercial distress, have exceeded any former year's income; and even in those cases where a diminution has taken place, the Committee have had the satisfaction of receiving the warmest testimonies of sympathy, and the assurance of renewed efforts for the future. In some places extraordinary Meetings have been held, to make up the apprehended deficiency of the Society's Income.

II. Deficiency in the Special Funds.—The deficiency under this head amounts to 1463*l.* 7*s.* 10*d.*; but this is accounted for by the fact that no special efforts have been made during the last year to press these claims.

III. Deficiency in Local Funds raised and expended in the Missions.—This deficiency amounts to 1116*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.* As these funds are raised in different countries, their amount is liable to continual changes.

EXPENDITURE.

The Expenditure of the Society corresponding with the first two heads of Income—but not including the Local Funds raised and expended in the Missions—has

Amounted to.....	98,408	1	4
Amount of Income.....	91,980	13	7
Excess of Expenditure over Income..	£6426	7	9

This excess has been necessarily met by dipping into the Capital Fund of the Society—a fund which was expressly intended to meet the variations of Income during each year, and which the Committee are bound, by the terms on which the Capital Fund was instituted, to make up to its original amount with as little delay as possible.

The excess has been caused partly by the falling off of the Income, and partly by unexpected demands from abroad.

When the Committee fixed their scale of Expenditure, at the commencement of the year just expired, they had reckoned upon the permanent Income of the Society being sustained; whereas it has suffered a diminution of nearly 4000%.

Secondly, the excess has been partly caused by unexpected demands from New Zealand and West Africa. In New Zealand a heavy amount of commercial bills appears to have been kept back during the previous year, while the Islands were in a state of warfare, and has this year been presented for payment. In West Africa, the expense of building the Fourah-Bay Institution, beyond the Special Fund, and the return home of Missionaries, have caused an unexpected amount of Expenditure.

The Committee think themselves bound to enter into these explanations, because they fully admit their obligation to endeavour to limit their Expenditure to the Income; and to keep faith with the Subscribers to the Capital Fund, by replacing the sums withdrawn from it as soon as it shall be in their power to do so.

The serious diminution of the working Capital of the Society must be retrieved. On the 31st of March 1847 this Fund consisted of 25,000% Consols and 5000% Exchequer Bills. On the 31st of March 1848 it consisted only of 20,000% Consols. The diminution, therefore, consists of 5000% Consols and 5000% Exchequer Bills, beside the depreciated value of the Stock. The last year has shown the importance of the Capital Fund. Such is the inequality of the receipts of the Society, that in the course of the year the whole of the Capital Fund was employed to meet the expenditure, and the Society's Bankers were also overdrawn to a considerable amount. Without such a Capital Fund the Society, during the last year, would have been wholly unable to meet their engagements.

DECEASE OF MISSIONARIES.

The following Labourers of the Society have been called to their rest during the past year—

Bombay and Western-India Mission—Mrs. Muhleisen, wife of the Rev. John J. Muhleisen, died at Jooneer on the 11th of December.

Madras and South-India Mission—Mr. John Matthew Weiss died at Palamcottah on the 26th of May 1847, of fever, after a few days' illness.

Mrs. Peet, wife of the Rev. Joseph Peet, died in London, on the 9th of August, of fever, after a few days' illness, and having given birth to a child.

RETURN HOME OF MISSIONARIES.

West-Africa Mission—The Rev. J. F. Schön and Mrs. Schön, the Rev. I. Smith and Mrs. Smith, the Rev. E. Jones and Mrs. Jones, and Mr. John C. Müller, left Sierra Leone on the 12th of March 1847; and arrived at Cork on the 10th of May. They were accompanied by Thomas Macaulay, an African from the Fourah-Bay Institution, with a view to his further preparation for Missionary employment. Mr. W. Parkin left Sierra Leone on the 10th of December; and arrived at Portsmouth on the 20th of January last. The Rev. N. Denton and Mrs. Denton, accompanied by Mr. T. Maxwell and Mr. G. Nicol, left Sierra Leone on the 2d of March last; and arrived at Cork on the 18th of April.

Bombay and Western-India Mission—The Rev. C. P. Farrar, and Mrs. Farrar, left Bombay on the 29th of May 1847; and arrived at Dover on the 1st of October.

Calcutta and North-India Mission—The Rev. J. F. Osborne, and Mrs. Osborne, left Calcutta on the 14th of February 1847; and arrived in London on the 30th of May. The Rev. J. Long left Calcutta on the 7th of April 1847; and arrived at Southampton on the 28th of May.

Madras and South-India Mission—The Rev. J. Tucker, B.D., late Secretary of the Corresponding Committee, left Madras on the 14th of March 1847; and arrived at Southampton on the 28th of April. The Rev. J. H. Gray, A.B., left Madras on the 14th of April; and arrived at Southampton on the 28th of May. Mr. Gray was accompanied by Mr. W. Thomson, one of the Students from the Madras Institution. The Rev. G. Pettitt, and Mrs. Pettitt, left Madras on the 23d of February 1847; and arrived in London on the 22d of June. The Rev. R. L. Allnutt, M.A., left Madras on the 14th of October; and arrived at Southampton on the 26th of November. The Rev. H. W. Fox, A.B., left Madras on the 14th of February, and arrived at Southampton on the 30th of March.

Ceylon Mission—The Rev. G. C. Trimmell, and Mrs. Trimmell, left Colombo in March 1847; and arrived in London on the 17th of June.

New-Zealand Mission—Mr. J. Telford left Auckland on the 23d of September 1847; and arrived at Southampton on the 3d of January.

West-Indies' Mission—Mr. H. Taylor, and Mrs. Taylor, left Jamaica on the 14th of May 1847; and arrived in London on the 15th of July. Mrs. Butler, widow of the late Mr. D. Butler, left Demerara in July last, and arrived in London on the 1st of October.

Ten of the individuals above mentioned are not expected to resume their Missionary duties abroad, through the failure of their health, and other circumstances.

DEPARTURE OF MISSIONARIES.

West-Africa Mission—The Rev. N. C. Haastrup and Mrs. Haastrup, and the Rev. J. Warburton and Mrs. Warburton, on their return to the Mission, accompanied by Mr. J. N. Ashwood, Surgeon, the Medical Adviser of the Mission, sailed from the Downs on the 8th of October for Freetown, Sierra Leone, and arrived there on the 21st of November. The Rev. J. U. Graf and Mrs. Graf, on their return to the Mission, and the Rev. S. W. Koelle, Student from the Institution, sailed from Gravesend on the 3d of November for Freetown, and arrived there on the 8th of December.

Abbeokouta Mission—The Rev. I. Smith and Mrs. Smith, and the Rev. J. C. Müller and Mrs. Müller, sailed from Cardiff on the 20th of December for Badagry, their services having been transferred from the West-Africa to the Abbeokouta Mission.

Bombay and Western-India Mission—The Rev. T. Jerrom, Student from the Institution, sailed from Portsmouth on the 14th of August for Bombay, and arrived there in December.

Calcutta and North-India Mission—The Rev. S. Hasell, Student from the Institution, and Mrs. Hasell, and the Rev. J. Fuchs, Student from the Institution, and Mrs. Fuchs, embarked at Portsmouth on the 5th of August for Calcutta, and arrived there on the 22d of November. The Rev. M. J. Wilkinson, B.A., Student of the Society, sailed from Portsmouth on the 10th of August for Calcutta, and arrived there on the 22d of December. The Rev. F. A. Kreiss, on his return to the Mission, and Mrs. Kreiss, embarked at Gravesend on the 20th of December for Calcutta.

Madras and South-India Mission—The Rev. E. Johnson, B.A., and Mrs. Johnson, whose services were transferred from the North-India to this Mission, sailed from Portsmouth on the 25th of August for Madras, and arrived there on the 26th of November. Mr. J. Bensley, Superintendant of the Society's Press at Palamcottah, with Mrs. Bensley, embarked at Portsmouth on the 4th of November 1847 for Madras, and arrived there on the 7th of April. The Rev. J. Harding, Student from the Institution, and Mrs. Harding, sailed from Portsmouth on the 4th of March for Madras.

Ceylon Mission—The Rev. J. T. Johnston, and Mrs. Johnston, embarked at Southampton on the 20th of July for Galle, on their return to Ceylon, and arrived there on the 27th of August, and at Cotta on the 4th of September. The Rev. I. Wood, Student from the Institution, and Mrs. Wood, embarked at Gravesend on the 2d of August for Colombo, and arrived there on the 29th of November.

China Mission—The Rev. R. H. Cobbold, M.A., of St. Peter's College, Cambridge, and late Curate of Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire; the Rev. W. Farmer, B.A., of Trinity College, Dublin, and Mrs. Farmer; and the Rev. W. A. Russell, B.A., of the same College; sailed from Liverpool on the 10th of November for China.

West-Indies' Mission—The Rev. J. H. Bernau, on his return to British Guiana, Mrs. Bernau, and Mr. John Sheldon, Student from the Institution, sailed from Southampton on the 2d of June for Demerara; and arrived there on the 27th of that month.

Mr. J. Sheldon's health having failed, he left Demerara on the 18th of January last; and arrived in London on the 22d of February.

NUMBER OF MISSIONARY LABOURERS.

From the foregoing statements it will be seen that, during the year, one European Layman and two wives of Missionaries have been removed from their labours by death; twelve Clergymen and four Laymen have left their Stations, principally on account of ill health; two Labourers, one a Clergyman and the other a Catechist, now in Holy Orders, who had left their Stations with the view of being transferred to another Mission, have gone forth to their new scene of labour; ten other Clergymen and two Laymen have been sent out; and seven Clergymen, whose arrival in this country had been reported in former years, have returned in recruited health to their respective Stations. The number of Missionary Labourers who have been sent from Europe, now at their Stations, or on their way thither, has thus been increased only by three.

Five Clergymen, two East-Indian and three Native, have been added to the Labourers in South India, and two Clergymen to those in New Zealand.

The number of Labourers at present in connexion with the Society, exclusive of the wives of those who are married, and of Country-born and Native Catechists and Teachers, is as follows—

Ordained European Missionaries abroad.....	121
Ditto at home.....	9
European Catechists, Schoolmasters, and others, abroad,	33
European Layman at home.....	1
European Female Teachers abroad.....	9
Ordained East-Indian, Country-born, and Native Missionaries.....	13
Ordained Country-born Missionary in England....	1
Total.....	187

ISLINGTON INSTITUTION.

In his Annual Report of the Institution, the Principal remarks that its “general state was never more full of promise.” The usual annual examination of the Students was undertaken by the Rev. Messrs. W. Jowett, J. Tucker, and C. J. Elliott, and their Report was of a satisfactory character.

The number of Students resident at the commencement of the year was 27; of whom 9 have left for their respective spheres of labour, and 3 from other causes. The number admitted during the year for examination and probation is 17, of whom 9 remain; so that the present number is 24.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

Ten of the Society's Students at Islington have been admitted to Deacons' Orders by the Bishop of London; one European Catechist to Deacons' Orders by the Bishop of Calcutta; two East-Indian and three Native Catechists to Deacons' Orders by the Bishop of Madras; and one European Catechist to Deacons' Orders by the Bishop of Colombo.

PATRONAGE.

During the past year it has pleased God to deprive the Society, by death, of their Most Reverend Vice-Patron, the Archbishop of Canterbury. Two of the Vice-Presidents, the Most Rev. the Archbishop of York and Sir T. Baring, Bart., have also been removed by death.

The Most Rev. Dr. Sumner cordially accepted the office of Vice-Patron on his appointment to the See of Canterbury; and the office of Vice-President has been accepted by the Lord Henry Cholmondeley, the Bishops of Cape Town and Melbourne, and Gen. Sir P. Maitland.

MISSIONS.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1804.

Mission Establishment :

14 European Missionaries.	1 Country-born Schoolmistress.
1 Country-born Missionary.	5 Native Catechists.
2 European Catechists.	40 Native Teachers of all classes.
1 European Surgeon.	8 Native Schoolmistresses.
1 European Female Teacher.	2 Natives at the Islington Instit.

General View—Addition of Labourers.

THE Committee are once more permitted to speak of the state and prospects of this Mission in the language of thankfulness and hope. More especially are they bound to acknowledge the mercy of God in preserving the Missionaries and their families in comparatively good health during a season of great mortality. During the last summer a fearful epidemic visited the Colony, and carried off many of the European residents and seamen; but it was not permitted to come nigh the dwelling of a single member of the Mission. To those who remember the painful trials, arising from the insalubrity of the climate, which are recorded in the early history of the Society, it will be a cause for peculiar gratitude that seven years have now elapsed since any Missionary or Catechist of the Society has died in the Colony of Sierra Leone.

During the year, three Missionaries who had been on a visit to this country have rejoined the Mission; one new Missionary, the Rev. S. W. Koelle, has been added, more especially with a view to take a part in the tuition of the Fourah-Bay Institution, and in translations into the native languages; and an experienced Surgeon has gone out, not only to afford the benefit of his professional advice and attendance to the Mission families, but also to give elementary instruction to some of the Natives in the theory and practice of medicine.

SIERRA LEONE.

Christian Institution, Fourah Bay.

This important Establishment must be regarded as having been, during the last year, in some degree in abeyance, owing to the absence in Europe of the Rev. E. Jones on account of Mrs. Jones's health. On the departure of Mr. Jones, six of the Students were appointed Assistant Schoolmasters in different villages; and the remaining three Students, together with seven youths from the Grammar School, have been instructed by Mr. G. Nicol, the Native Tutor, under the superintendence of the Rev. T. Peyton. Since the arrival of Mr. Koelle, a Hebrew class has been commenced.

Mr. Jones was accompanied on his voyage to England by Thomas Macaulay, one of the Students referred to in the last Report, and he has since been pursuing his studies in the Islington Institution.

Progress of the New Buildings.

In the last Report it was stated that the mason-work of the new Institution had been completed. Since then, that part of the edifice which is intended to form the residence of the Principal has been rendered habitable; but the remainder of the building cannot be finished for some time, owing to the great difficulty that has been experienced in procuring suitable timber for flooring.

Grammar-school.

Continued and increased prosperity has been vouchsafed during another year to the Grammar-school. At the end of December last the Rev. T. Peyton states—

The number now in the School is 48; of whom 24 are educated and maintained by the Church Missionary Society and the African Native-Agency Committee in London, and 24 are supported by their parents and guardians in the Colony.

The course of study pursued in the School is the same as that described in the last Report. The ages of the scholars range from seven to twenty-one years. In his Report for the Quarter ending March 1847 Mr. Peyton writes—

A Public Examination of the School was held on the 1st of January. His Excellency the Governor was invited; but, as he was not able to attend, the Examination Papers were forwarded to him, and he returned a Letter, containing the following passages—

I regret extremely that, owing to a pressure of official business, as well as to indisposition, I shall unfortunately be prevented from attending at the Public Examination of your scholars to-day. I lament this the more, as it would have been to me a source of the highest gratification to have been present at what I believe is the first Public Examination of the youths of this Colony—certainly the first since I first came to it, now close upon seventeen years ago.

The various subjects of study, embraced in the Examination Papers kindly furnished to me by you, evince an onward progress in the scale of Education, as compared with that of former years, which reflects the highest credit, no less on the unremitting zeal and labours of the members of the Church Missionary Society resident in the Colony, than on the assiduity of the youths entrusted to their care; and who have, it is pleasing to see, profited so largely by the unwearied exertions of that Society in their behalf.

In order to evince the deep interest I take, and ever must entertain, in the success of so valuable an Institution as the "Sierra-Leone Grammar-school"—an Institution which must be of the very greatest benefit to this Colony, and ultimately, through the youths educated therein, to the Natives of surrounding countries—I beg to send you herewith Five Sovereigns, to be divided into prizes, and awarded to the successive competitors as hereunder, which amount I will place annually at your disposal for this purpose.

His Excellency then points out the subjects to which the prizes are to be awarded.

A viva voce Examination—attended by His Honour the Acting Chief Justice, the Judge of the Mixed Commission Court, and many other Europeans and Natives—was held on the following 29th of June, and is thus noticed by Mr. W. Parkin—

The students acquitted themselves very well. It excited not a little curiosity and admiration, at the conclusion, to hear one student repeat chapter after chapter of Cæsar's Commentaries; another, the same of Xenophon's Anabasis; and a third, give a long piece of recitation in English.

When we reflect that two years have scarcely elapsed since this Establishment was opened, and that yet a number of youths are now able to read the New Testament in its original language, we may justly hope that a brighter day is dawning on West Africa, and that the time is not far distant when, from this small peninsula, the glorious Gospel of Christ shall go forth to the remotest bounds of this vast continent.

Female Institution.

This establishment has been removed from Freetown to a more retired situation in Kissey. The number of pupils is 13. Miss Hehlen laments that their progress has been somewhat retarded by her long illness, which continued during the whole of the rainy season. She writes, in December last—

It is ever a comfort to my heart to see the devotion of my dear children in all religious instructions. I have a sure hope of some of them that my labour is not in vain.

Ministration of the Word and Sacraments.

Within the Colony this Mission comprises 14 principal Stations and 12 minor Stations, making in all 26 towns and villages in which Christian instruction is imparted, and the Services of our Church provided, through the agency of this Society. In most of these there has been, during the past year, much to encourage the Missionaries. For example, the Rev. J. Beale, referring to the long-established Station at the east end of FREETOWN, observes, in a Letter dated March 17, 1847—

Through God's mercy our efforts have not been in vain. Our Church and Schools are well filled with a devout and affectionate people. The past year has witnessed the addition of above one hundred souls to our number in Church-membership. Many of these, if not all, have really "cast off the works of darkness, and put on the armour of light." Many of our Converts are now active, lively, spiritual Christians. There evidently rests upon our people a large measure of the quickening, sanctifying influences of the Holy Ghost. Even some of the elder children of our School have also been seriously impressed.

And at the end of the month—

The work is steadily progressing. Our Congregations and other Means of Grace were never larger or better attended, while the Lord is adding to His Church, almost daily, those, I trust, that shall be saved. During the Quarter we have commenced a Lecture in a densely-populated part of the town. It promises well, the house being filled with attentive hearers, as well as the piazza and yard.

The Society's more recent efforts, at the other end of Free-town, are equally satisfactory and promising. The Sunday-school in Regent Square continues to be attended to the full extent of the accommodation afforded in the Grammar-school; and the Sunday-evening Service continues to enjoy tokens of the Divine favour. The erection of the new Church at Pademba Road, for which materials have been collected, is looked forward to with earnest expectation and delight.

In reference to KISSEY, the Rev. C. F. Ehemann—after describing the baptism of 42 adults in August and September—writes, on the 26th of the latter month—

The number of Inquirers is continually increasing among both young and old.

Within the last five years the number of Candidates for Baptism in WATERLOO has been more than doubled, and the number of Communicants nearly trebled. On the 30th of May 1847 the Rev. F. Bultmann records, in his Journal—

I administered the Lord's Supper to upward of 120 Communicants. The Church was more crowded than Mr. Young ever recollects it to have been. To see so large a Church well filled, to witness the eager attention of the people to the Word of Life, and the decent approach of 120 African Christians to the Lord's Table, is indeed one of the most interesting spectacles we could wish European Christians to behold.

At a later date, the end of December, the Rev. C. T. Frey writes, respecting the same place—

The work of the Lord is steadily progressing among the people.

While on a visit to REGENT Mr. Beale writes, Dec. 27, 1846—

I had the pleasure of preaching to the Rev. N. Denton's very large and most attentive Congregation. I always enjoy our beautiful Liturgy at this Church, where the voices of the people, as far as earth can imitate heaven, are like "the voice of many waters." Could many of the cold-hearted worshippers of our own favoured land hear and see this Congregation, I am sure they would be ashamed of themselves.

Owing to his having to take the Chaplaincy duties at St. George's Church, Freetown, Mr. Denton considered it advisable to administer the Lord's Supper to the Communicants of this village, upward of 300 in number, at 7 o'clock in the morning. On the first occasion he writes, Oct. 17—

I had some doubt whether the people would generally attend at so early an hour; but it was gratifying to see present as large a number, perhaps, as I ever witnessed on such occasions. There was a calmness and solemnity pervading the assembly, with which the serenity of mind and the stillness of the Lord's-day morning well agree. It was so pleasant and profitable a season that I could ever wish it to be the same.

For some time past Mr. Bultmann has been much engaged in the erection of a new Church at KENT. On the 18th of November this Church—the best in the Colony with the exception of the Colonial Church at Freetown—was opened; Mr. Bultmann baptizing three adults after the Second Lesson, and preaching from Psalm lxxxiv. 10. Considerable interest was excited, Messrs. Palmer and Vincent, Colonial Magistrates, attending, with a great number of the Society's Schoolmasters from all parts of the Colony. Of the native population of the neighbourhood Mr. Bultmann remarks—"All Kent attended, and the large Church, which will conveniently accommodate 800 persons, was quite filled."

In the ISLANDS OF BANANAS there is no resident European Missionary; but the Services are usually conducted by a Native of the name of Abdool Messeeh, under the superintendence of Mr. Bultmann. In August last part of the officers and crew of H. M. S. "Siren" were stationed on duty at Bananas, and were in the habit of attending Divine Service in the Society's Schoolroom, or Chapel, the erection of which was described in the last Report. Mr. Bultmann relates, August 15—

The officers of the "Siren" expressed their highest admiration, both of the people's regular attendance at Church, and of Messeeh's sensible discourses to them. Both, indeed, are facts for which we have every reason to thank God, whose blessing seems to rest in a peculiar manner upon this lovely island, where the simple-hearted followers of Christ form as great a proportion of its entire population as in any place I know of, either here or in Europe. Their example cannot fail beneficially to influence the mind of many a European who may spend some time among them; and thus to refund, in the most practical manner, a measure of those blessings for which, under God, they stand indebted to British philanthropy and Christian love.

Of the state of morals in this island an idea may be formed from the circumstance that, while the whole Colony is overstocked with licensed dealers in spirituous liquors—insomuch that, to say nothing of the extensive smuggling carried on in this article, the import duty and the fees for licenses form by far the most considerable items in the Colonial Revenue—the Bananas inhabitants have, to this day, successfully withstood the establishment of any liquor-vender among them, so that none can be had for money in the whole island; and when, lately, one of our own people imported some gallons, and was selling it to European sailors, he was immediately detected, and put in confinement for a week.

A new Station has been taken up, or rather an old Station has been re-occupied, in the large and populous village of York. This place is situated on the sea, between Cape Sierra Leone and Kent, being about fifteen miles from the latter place. It contains a population of 2500, and was formerly the scene of the late Rev. J. G. Wilhelm's labours. The Rev. C. F. Ehemann commenced his residence on the 9th of December, and on the third Sunday afterward the Congregation amounted to about 80 individuals, 50 being adults.

First Impressions of a Missionary.

The Rev. S. W. Koelle thus records, in his Report for the Quarter ending December last, his first impressions of the state of the Mission—

I was indeed very much pleased to see that Christianity has already made such great progress in the Colony. The necessity of building new Churches and Chapels, and of enlarging educational institutions, is certainly a good sign. The crowded Churches on the Lord's-day; the fair attendance on Divine Service on week-days; the hearty and unanimous responses to the prayers; and the attention to the preaching of the Gospel; are worthy of imitation by many a Congregation of the Mother Church. Christianity has exercised considerable influence here, and the people in general conform to the laws of Christianity as much as in the Congregations at home. Such must be the impression which a Missionary gets on his first acquaintance with the Christians here.

Liberal Contributions of the People.

Some idea of the satisfactory progress which has been made in the ability and disposition of the people to give may be gathered from the fact, that in one Congregation alone, in Freetown, no less a sum than 139*l.* 1*s.* 9*d.* has been subscribed, during the last year, for educational and religious purposes. Of this sum 15*l.* 8*s.* 6*d.* was contributed toward building a new Church at the other end of Freetown, and 19*l.* 3*s.* for a Church in Abbeokouta, to be called "The Sierra-Leone Church." Mr. Beale remarks, at the end of December—

Thus the fruits of the Spirit are being manifested in a deeper concern for the welfare of others, as well as in a readiness to every good work.

The Missionary Association in the mountain village of Regent last year produced 24*l.* 14*s.* 8½*d.* Respecting the Anniversary Meeting, which was held on the 19th of May, Mr. Denton writes—

In the morning the town had quite the appearance of a holiday, many of the people ceasing from their work, appearing in their best clothes, and coming to Church as if it were Sunday. And in the evening, the interest and warmth of feeling which pervaded the Meeting seemed to cheer and animate the speakers. After several Europeans and Natives had spoken, two respectable old Communicants stood up, the one to propose a vote of thanks for the Sermon and Meeting, and the other to second it. Each occupied above ten minutes in speaking: they showed much energy, and quite engaged the attention of the people, who appeared not only pleased with it, but honoured. One of them, after urging the people to increased liberality, concluded with the words, "This is all I have to say;" and then, putting a dollar into my hands, he added, "This is all I have to give."

Several instances have occurred in which Liberated Africans have brought comparatively large sums to the Missionaries, with a request that their relatives in Badagry or Abbeokouta might be redeemed from slavery, and brought under Christian instruction. On this subject Mr. Beale writes, Sept. 17—

These manifestations of affection, when we consider the object in view, and the limited means at our people's disposal, are very opposite to what many have thought and written respecting the Negro race.

Naturally they are a selfish people ; but grace has done, and is doing, a great deal for them.

Sympathy with a Missionary in Affliction.

The affectionate and sympathizing disposition of the Africans has often been mentioned as a prominent feature in their character. When Mr. and Mrs. Denton had to mourn the loss of their infant, last summer, they experienced the greatest sympathy from their affectionate people. Mr. Denton remarks—

Each one laboured to say something to soften our grief, or to reconcile us to the providence of God. As they are much in the habit of using figures and parables, we had an opportunity of hearing many. Some of them we could not understand, but some of those which we could were very significant. One was to the following effect—"Supposing some one has given you a sheep to take care of and to feed, and by and by they return to you and ask for the sheep, what can you do? You cannot refuse to give it to him. He must take it, because it is his own." The application of this, which is left to one's own mind, is very easy. An old woman applied another, as follows—"Every person has a thread, and that thread is in the hands of God. Even little children have a thread. When that thread is cut we die. But if that thread were in our own hands who would cut it? Suppose your babe's thread had been in your hand, when would you or 'master' have had courage to cut it? Never. In this case she would live always. But no! we are all in God's hand, and it is He who must cut our thread."

But with all their parables, their figures, and their broken English, in their sympathy there was nothing shadowy or broken, nothing kept back, and nothing put on for the occasion; but it was real, natural, and heartfelt. Among our own friends we might have had sympathy more refined; but more genuine or less affected we could not have had.

Death of Pious Africans.

In the course of last year several experienced or promising Native Christians were removed to their eternal rest, having witnessed a good confession, and enjoyed a "full assurance of faith." Thus Mr. Beale writes, March 24, 1847—

To day I committed the mortal remains of John Saunders to the grave, in the presence of about 800 spectators. He was brought to a saving acquaintance with his Saviour soon after his arrival here in a slaver, about thirty years ago. He loved the assembly of God's saints, and was never absent from either Sunday-school or Church, unless prevented from attending by sickness. Through his regular and steady attendance on the means of instruction he had gained a very considerable acquaintance with the Scriptures. His attainments in his business as a carpenter, and in general knowledge, were above the generality of Liberated Africans. By his upright conduct and fervent piety he had gained the esteem and respect of a large circle of our own people, and of many in other Communion. He was always ready to assist in any good work. I believe his course was one of exemplary piety.

The occasion of his death was a severe cold, and inflammation of the chest. On my visiting him we had a very serious conversation, during which he intimated that he thought this sickness would be "unto death"; "but," he observed, "Jesus is my physician: I live in His hand." His sufferings were very great; but were borne with exemplary patience. On Saturday evening I went again, and found him much worse. Many of our people were with him, doing all they could. I gave out that beautiful hymn, "When languor and disease invade," read and expounded a portion of Scripture, and prayed with him. Saunders entered into all this most heartily, raising his hands and heart to heaven with great fervour. I saw him again on the Lord's-day; and the last words I remember hearing him say were, "I am looking stedfastly to Jesus: He is all my hope." His friends sent for me on Tuesday morning; but before I reached the house his spirit had taken its flight, and was doubtless rejoicing in the presence of the Saviour in glory.

Mr. Thomas King, the Native Catechist, referring to a visit which he paid him two days before his death, writes—

On my asking him the state of his mind he replied, "Sometimes I feel Christ's presence with me; but for a while I find my mind has wandered very much. You know how the enemy of souls is very busy. But, oh! what a great and unspeakable privilege it is to know the Bible! Its promises are now very precious, and a source of consolation to my soul. They afford me unspeakable comfort, which neither gold nor silver can impart. But what an awful thing it is to delay repentance till the time of sickness! I thank the Lord that He taught me to know and seek Him before this time."

Another of those who departed in peace during the last year was William England, a Liberated African of the Hausa Nation, who had been the Rev. J. F. Schön's Interpreter in the Hausa language, and accompanied him in the Niger Expedition. He died at Hastings on the 21st of August, after a painful illness of four months. On visiting him about a month before his death, the Rev. D. H. Schmid found him "in a quiet and peaceful state of mind, resigning his will to the will of God." "I am," he said, "nothing but a worthless sinner: it is the grace of God which upholds me." Mr. Bartholomew, the Native Catechist at Hastings, writes—

No instances of his absenting himself from the Means of Grace have ever come to my knowledge since I have been stationed here. I frequently observed, that whenever he came to Church he would carry with him his Bible, Prayer-book, and Hymn-book, wrapped in his handkerchief. We often communicated together about the love of God. Mr. William England was indeed a worthy Christian: his character was consistent with his profession. Thus he hath "fought a good fight, he hath finished his course, he hath kept the faith"; and hath undoubtedly obtained "a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge," has promised to His faithful followers "at that day."

Another, at the age of 68, sent for some of his Christian friends, a short time before his death, and entreated them to be stedfast in the faith, and diligent and persevering in exhorting others to walk worthy of their profession, at the same time declaring the brightness of his own hope. When asked by one of them, "What good do you do for God that He will carry you to heaven?" he replied, "I do not trust on any good work, neither have I done any; but I trust in the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, to save me, and I believe He will, because He 'came into the world to save sinners.' I am a sinner: therefore, I am not afraid to die." Mr. W. Moore, the Native Schoolmaster at Ricketts, writes, on the 7th of May 1847—

One day I asked him if his heart is not troubling him about his sins: he said, "Yes, my heart sometime can trouble me about my sins, because they are many; but when I remember the Lord Jesus Christ, my heart can trouble no more." He died in great peace on the 5th of May.

Hopeful Character of Liberated Africans.

The testimony of the Sierra-Leone Missionaries is unanimous to the fact that the Liberated Africans are more favourably disposed to the reception of the Gospel than those who are Colony-born. It is remarkable that persons born and nurtured in heathenism should present a fairer field for Missionary culture than those who from their infancy have been made acquainted with Christianity; but such appears to be the case. Mr. Denton has the following thoughts on the subject, March 12, 1847—

In reflecting on the great success which has attended Missionary labours in this Colony, and remembering that the success has been chiefly among the Liberated Africans, it has often occurred to me that the sufferings undergone by the Negroes before their landing here, and the merciful deliverance wrought out for them in being brought to this Colony, have tended very much, in the providence of God, to prepare their minds for the reception of the Gospel. Many of them arrive, as it were, with their hearts broken—with such a simple, humble, docile spirit, as we do not find in those who are born here. And the blessings which they enjoy here, compared with their former sufferings, have, I believe, melted many a heart into a grateful surrender of itself to God. To Him be all the praise whose prerogative it is to bring good out of evil !

In reference to Liberated-African children Mr. Bultmann writes, November 18—

These children are certainly the most interesting, and by far the most promising, part of our population. They unite, or promise to unite, the Creole's knowledge of book-reading with the Liberated African's simplicity and humble disposition. They are more industrious than either. Those grown up from among them, and especially those of earlier days, form everywhere the best part of our Congregations. They are as a salt among our people—the leaven of our Churches.

TIMMANEE MISSION.

The Rev. C. F. Schlenker is now the Missionary at Port Lokkoh, where the Society's labours are still continued, though with apparently little success. The Boarding-school is the most encouraging part of the work, two of the scholars having been baptized by the Rev. D. H. Schmid in June 1847, before his departure from the Mission. At the end of September the number of pupils was 32, of whom 24 were wholly provided for by the Society. Considerable progress has been made in the study of the language, and in translations; and many conversations have been held with the Natives, and with Mahomedan priests.*

ABBEOKOUTA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1845.

Mission Establishment :

4 European Missionaries.	1 Native Catechist.
1 Native Missionary.	4 Native Teachers.

Geographical Position of Abbeokouta—Missionary Force.

This Mission consists of two branches—one at Badagry.

* Further accounts of the West-Africa Mission are given in the "Church Missionary Record" for September 1847, pp. 193—205; October 1847, pp. 217—221; Feb. and March 1848, pp. 25—40; and April 1848, pp. 57, 58.

on the sea-coast, and the other at Abbeokouta, in the interior. It is difficult to arrive even at an approximate calculation of the population of these two towns, as Badagry has been variously estimated at between 5000 and 10,000, and Abbeokouta at between 30,000 and 100,000. By a series of observations, Abbeokouta is judged to be situated in N. Lat. $7^{\circ} 8' 30''$, and E. Lon. $3^{\circ} 19'$; and its distance from Badagry, in a straight line, about 56 geographical miles, in traversing which four days are generally occupied.

The Missionary band has hitherto consisted of two European and one Native Clergymen, and two Native Catechists. Two Native Schoolmasters from Sierra Leone have since joined the Mission; and it is hoped that ere this the force has been still further strengthened by the arrival of the Rev. I. Smith and the Rev. J. C. Müller, whose services have also been transferred from Sierra Leone.

BADAGRY.

General View—Public Worship—School.

The duties of this Station, as detailed in the last Report, have been regularly carried on during the past year by the Rev. C. A. Gollmer, the Native Catechist, Mr. William Marsh, and other Native Assistants. One of these, Mr. Edward Philip, has been removed by death. The loss to the Mission has been great, as his Christian character was high, and his abilities as a Schoolmaster considerable.

Some interruption also took place in consequence of three native houses in the Mission premises having been destroyed by fire.

The attendance on Public Worship continues much the same as before, the adult native inhabitants of Badagry manifesting the same indifference to Christian instruction which they have hitherto evinced.

The School is more encouraging. Twenty-four boys are boarders, a large proportion of whom are able to read the Scriptures. One boy, the son of a Chief, has been sent to Sierra Leone for further education. In August last the Rev. H. Townsend, who was on a visit at Badagry, wrote—

Since we left, twelve months since, the School has greatly increased, and the boys have made satisfactory progress.

ABBEOKOUTA.

This branch of the Mission is still in its infancy; but it is an infancy of remarkable developement and singular promise. In little more than twelve months after its regular establishment a degree of progress has been made, which in many other Missions has not been attained in an equal number of years.

General View.

The arrival in Abbeokouta of Messrs. Townsend and Crowther on the 3d of August 1846, the reception which they met with from the inhabitants, and the cheering circumstances under which they commenced their Missionary labours, were described in the last Report. Since then the Church there referred to has been erected, and three temporary Chapels have been put up in various districts of the Town. It is true they are humble buildings—the Chapels, especially, being little more than sheds to protect the Missionaries and their Congregations from the fierce rays of the sun, and the heavy rains in the wet season; yet they are well attended, and are very useful until more commodious and substantial buildings can be obtained. Day and Sunday-schools have been opened. Classes of Candidates for Baptism and the Lord's Supper have been established. Not a few of the inhabitants of Abbeokouta have entirely forsaken their false gods, and many others, though they have not so decidedly cast off their former superstitions, regularly avail themselves of the instruction afforded by the Missionaries, and are diligent in communicating to others what they have themselves acquired.

Services—Schools—Candidates for Baptism.

At the Church there is a steady Congregation of from 180 to 200. The attendance at each of the Chapels is more variable; but the average is about 100. In a Letter dated Dec. 15 Mr. Townsend states—

The attendance at the Morning and Evening Services on the Lord's-day is progressively increasing. I have economized room as much as possible: still there is but little to spare. Mr. Crowther's Congregations are also numerous.

The Day-school is the least advanced of the various operations which have yet been carried on, chiefly owing to the want of a Schoolmaster. This deficiency has since been supplied by one of the Native Teachers from Sierra Leone; and another School has been opened in the southern part of the town. Mr. Townsend observes, in the Letter just quoted—

The attendance of adults at the Sunday-school is very gratifying, and a great demand for Primers still exists. I have sold all that I had to sell, and shall be obliged to wait for a supply from England. One of the Chiefs has commenced learning to read: he has mastered the alphabet. He begged very earnestly for an Alphabet Sheet, that he might carry it to his farm and teach his people, and be taught. I got one written out for him, which he carried off as a great prize.

The number of Candidates for Baptism, in September last, was 28; of whom 6 were people who had been in Sierra Leone, and 22 were Natives.

Silent Operation of the Gospel.

The manner in which the Gospel is silently winning its way, notwithstanding the opposition which the great enemy of souls never fails to raise up against it, may be seen from the following communications. Mr. Townsend writes, in his Letter of Dec. 15—

Some men, while engaged in a midnight heathenish rite, reflected on what they were doing, and on what they had heard of Christianity. Under the influence of these thoughts, they left the sacred grove, and called up a Sierra-Leone man, a Communicant of our Church, to ask for information; and the remainder of the night was passed in conversing with him respecting the things of God.

Some of the priests are feeling that their craft is in danger, and are consulting together as to what is to be done to stop the progress of Christianity; but I feel, in common with those around us, that their efforts to retard the Truth will only show the progress that the Truth makes, and induce greater attention to it.

Another instance is thus related by Mr. Crowther, Sept. 8, 1847—

A Candidate for Baptism was at one time greatly troubled by his wife, who, at the instigation of her superstitious mother, did all she could to influence him to return to the worship of Ifa, the god of palm-nuts. As he remained firm, he was brought before the elders of his district, and accused of having thrown his Ifa away. The elders, however, decided that he was at liberty to do as he pleased about his religion; so that the wife and her mother returned home with shame and confusion, and the poor man, supported by the Spirit of God during his family trials, went home with greater confidence in Christ Jesus, and with an earnest wish for the conversion of his wife and other relatives who had been his opposers.

Opening of the New Church—Erection of Chapels.

The Church which is built at Ake Town, near the residence of Sagbua, the principal Chief, was opened for Divine Service by Mr. Townsend on the 21st of March 1847, and the first of the three Chapels by Mr. Crowther on the 30th of May.

The following extracts from Mr. Crowther's Journal refer to the erection of the two other Chapels, and show the interest taken by one of the most influential Headmen in the work—

July 29—I went out this morning to measure the area of the Chapel which we purpose building in front of Ogubonna's house at Ikijà Town. The Chief himself held the tape line, and was quite pleased to be thus employed. When we were thus busily engaged, a man came to the Chief, and reminded him of the proximity of the Chapel to a Fetish-house, which was burnt down last dry season. Ogubonna was quite displeased with this officious man, and sent him about his business with such a lecture as neither he nor the standers by would forget for a long time: he told him, moreover, to remove their Fetish-house somewhere else, if they pleased to do so.

Aug. 12—The chapel of Ikijà being completed, I went out this afternoon to open it. Ogubonna was, from the time of its building, much interested in the work: he was constantly out, and saw after it as if it were his own dwelling. To-day, though much distracted by rumours of war, and other business of the country, yet he did not forget the time the Chapel was to be opened. He was the first in it, and his two little boys, who attend our School, both dressed in new white calico, were sitting at his feet. The ringing of the bell soon collected a congregation, and I was thus enabled to preach, from Isaiah ii. 1, 2, to upward of 200 persons in our new Chapel.

Sept. 12—Having completed the third shed, which we call Òwu Chapel, I opened it this afternoon, and preached in it, for the first time in this part of the town, to a numerous congregation. It is very encouraging to see that so many still flock to hear our preaching in all our Chapels, as well as in the Church at Aké. We are plain in exposing the superstitions of the country, but with feelings of compassion to those who are misled by it, because they had no better knowledge. We are listened to both by priests and people with great attention, and many times, too, with nods of assent; even from the priests themselves, to all we say about the helplessness of their gods. That the Christian Religion will prevail in this country is the feeling of almost all the inhabitants of Abbeokouta: their priests predict it also; and it is my humble belief that the Lord has "much people" in this place.

Dissemination of the Scriptures.

Under the date of June 12th, Mr. Townsend mentions the interesting fact of his having sold the first English Bible to a native of Abbeokouta, one of the Candidates for Baptism; and Mr. Crowther writes, in his Journal—

Aug. 2—Having brought some Arabic Bibles with me from Badagry,* according to promise, I gave one between three Mahomedan priests, and told them if they wanted more they could get some to buy at the rate of 10s. a Bible. They sell written scraps of their Korân very high, and were glad to get so large a book at this cheap rate: by purchasing it they will value it much better. Some of these priests can read and translate, but not correctly. I requested them to come to me for explanation, which I give from my English Bible, of such passages they read in Arabic which may be difficult for them to understand. They were very glad of my offer.

Aug. 5—I sold the third Arabic Bible to-day to a Hausa man resident at this place. He and his intimate companion, a Nufi man, who has also purchased a Bible, can read Arabic well. They are both masters of the Hausa Language, and would be very glad to see Mr. Schön, who I told them was studying the Hausa Language, come to this country: they would accompany him to some other place on the banks of the Niger, as Rabbah has not yet been rebuilt. I now and then receive lessons from them in Hausa.

Aug. 11—The Hausa and Nufi priests brought their Bibles to me for explanation of some difficult texts. They read the 1st and 2d Psalms, and translated them as usual. I then translated them in Yoruba, verse by verse, from my English Bible; and was able clearly to point out to them the prophecy respecting Jesus Christ as the Son of God in Psalm ii. 7, which they acknowledged. How much then did I wish I could read Arabic, so as to be able to point out to this misguided people through the medium of that language by which they have been led astray.

Translations.

Owing to many interruptions, and the time necessarily devoted to other duties in the weak state of the Mission, Mr. Crowther has not been able to do as much as he could wish in his translational pursuits. He has, however, revised for the third time the Translation of the Gospel according to St. Luke into Yoruba, and has forwarded a considerable portion of it home. He has also added greatly to his Vocabulary.

One obstacle to these important pursuits is the want of a settled system of orthography. The Committee have, however, directed their attention to this subject; and it is hoped that the measures which they have adopted will lead to the removal of this difficulty.

Present Working of the Slave-trade.

The Journals of the Missionaries furnish many painful proofs of the sufferings entailed upon the interior of Africa by the foreign Slave-trade. The petty warfare which is carried on from time to time between the Chiefs, with all its attendant cruelties, may almost always be traced to that cause. In the early part of last year, the small but populous town of Abàkà, containing about 6000 inhabitants, was, after a siege of five months, totally destroyed, and those of its inhabitants who survived were reduced to slavery. After relating this fact Mr. Townsend remarks, at the end of March 1847—

Another town is now swept off the face of the earth! A place once full of busy inhabitants is given up to solitude! And why? That civilized man may enjoy the luxuries or necessities of life cheaper than otherwise; that a few merchants of Brazil may more speedily fill their coffers with gold; and that the War Chiefs of this country and their rabble trains may gratify their love of display and applause. The whole of this country is filled with the sighs and tears of the helpless, and her land well moistened with the blood of the slain, and given over to confusion, to supply Brazil and Cuba with slaves. The country has for ages been left unknown, unvisited by civilized man, stigmatized as barbarous, deadly in its climate, and its inhabitants but one degree removed from the brute creation, because the Slave-trade has marked it for its own. It is the Slave-trade, mediately or immediately, that has shut up this country in its primitive darkness, having first sown the seed that should produce an abundant harvest of slaves. What has prevented Europeans having free access to the countries around Sierra Leone but the Slave-trade? And what is it that now struggles with us to prevent our having free communication with the country but the Slave-trade? It is time that more effective means should be employed to quench this monster evil.

In addition to the means already adopted for the suppression of this nefarious traffic, the Missionaries are strongly convinced of the importance of giving every encouragement to agriculture and legitimate commerce. Thus Mr. Crowther writes, Sept. 18—

To turn the attention of the people to the cultivation of the soil will be the most effectual way of abolishing the Slave-trade. If the trial of a model farm could be made here, I believe it would succeed beyond expectation. Having now been twelve months in this place, and conversant both with Chiefs and people, I have the opportunity of knowing their thoughts on the subject. A model farm in Abbeokouta, the centre market of the surrounding tribes, merely to show the people how to cultivate the land better, with a market opened to receive their produce, will, in my opinion, be an effectual means of checking the cupidity of the kidnappers.

At a later period, Dec. 15, Mr. Townsend writes—

It is my belief that at the present time a well-directed effort to establish lawful commerce, so as to be felt by the interior people, would strike a sure blow at the Slave-trade. Palm oil, not being made in any quantity in the interior, will not do it. Cotton, indigo, ginger, peppers, and other articles, are grown in the interior, and would be supplied in quantities equal to the demand at a fair remunerating price. Why should it not be tried?

The greater part of the inhabitants of Abbeokouta have already seen the superior advantage of agricultural pursuits.

When Mr. and Mrs. Townsend visited Ogubonna's farm, which is a short distance outside the town, they found that in one part of it he had planted a quantity of ginger, in the hope that European merchants would come to the country and buy it. They are not insensible, also, to the unprofitableness of their former practice, which Mr. Crowther thus illustrates, May 30—

A man who has caught two persons in war, whom he sells at forty dollars each, is not much richer two months after the sale. Before he set out in the war he owed debts to persons who made him some greegrees or medicines to ward off gun-shots or arrows, and to render blunt the keen edge of the sword when wielded by the enemy to wound him. Some debts, also, to the Mahomedan priest, for charms to give him a good luck in catching many captives, must be discharged; beside other debts incurred in worshipping Ifa, whom he consulted as to the issue of the war. When these several items are settled, the drummers and bands which come to do him honour must have their share. So he, in a short time, is emptied of his bags of cowries, and becomes as poor as before.

But, after all, the sovereign remedy for these and all other evils is the blessed Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ; and that Christianity is producing this happy effect is evident from the following incident, narrated by Mr. Townsend in a Letter dated July 23, 1847—

A Sierra-Leone man, with his wife and two children, were captured by the Chief of Ijayè while peaceably passing through the town on their way to the interior. He was sold to an Egba, and brought hither to be sold to the Lagos traders. We immediately, on being made acquainted with the matter, informed Sagbua of it, who promised that he would send to Ikūmi, the Chief of Ijayè, to remonstrate with him, but made this excuse for Ikūmi—"We did so in Abbeokouta before, but now we dare not. Ikūmi has not heard from White Men the words we have heard. Softly, softly," he added: "when he hears, he will forsake such practices too." The burden of his excuse is, therefore, that he has not been taught better: go and teach him better, and he will forsake such evil practices. On speaking to Ogubonna on the same subject, he made, in substance, the same excuse. He said, "Ikūmi has not heard the Word of God as we have heard it."

Mr. Townsend adds—

We doubt not that the Parent Committee will feel the weight of these remarks. May the sympathies of England be not confined to the victims of the Slave-trade, but extended to those who, "through the ignorance that is in them," commit such outrages on humanity! The present number of Labourers, including those expected at Christmas, cannot sustain our present operations. We have extended to the full extent of our means, but not to the full extent of the wishes of the people.*

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

THIS Mission comprises, as last year, Syra, in Greece; Smyrna, in Asia Minor; and Cairo, in Egypt.

SYRA.

COMMENCED 1828.

Mission Establishment :

1 European Missionary.		6 Native Schoolmasters.
1 European Schoolmaster.		3 Native Schoolmistresses.

General View—Distribution of the Scriptures, &c.

THE Rev. F. A. Hildner has continued to superintend the Society's Schools without interruption. In a Letter dated July 5, 1847, he thus notices the freedom with which he is able to prosecute the work committed to his charge—

The School Establishment is still going on quietly, and, as I think, prosperously, on the ground of Scripture principles. I teach as much as I am able, personally and freely, the Scripture truths of the Bible, endeavouring to lead the young children to the knowledge of Christ their Saviour.

Nothing of a peculiar or striking character has occurred in the Mission since our last Report. Mr. Hildner has many opportunities of distributing the Scriptures and other religious Books and Tracts. He not only supplies individuals, but Schools in different parts of Greece, so that it may be hoped the influence of these silent messengers will be extensively felt.

* Further accounts of the Abbeokouta Mission are given in the "Church Missionary Record" for October 1847, pp. 221—228; November 1847, pp. 241—255; May 1848, pp. 81—88; and June 1848, pp. 105—113.

SMYRNA.

COMMENCED 1830.

Mission Establishment :

- 1 European Missionary.
- 1 European Lay-Assistant.
- 1 Native Assistant.

The Labourers employed in this Mission remain the same as noticed in our last Report—the Rev. J. T. Wolters, and Messrs. Sandreczki and Dalessio. The whole Missionary force is now concentrated at Smyrna, premises having been rented for that purpose. The following are extracts from Mr. Wolters’

Report for the Year ending Dec. 31, 1847.

Our intercourse with the Turks has increased, and some have heard the Word of God from our lips. To a certain extent, however, our hands are tied and our mouths closed with regard to them. As long as they are not allowed full liberty of conscience, we cannot venture to show ourselves in our full character as Missionaries to them; but must satisfy ourselves with silently preparing our weapons, and undermining the system. In speaking with individuals, however, we do not withhold the truth, and are “not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ.” Nevertheless, we feel the difficulty of our position, and long for the day when we shall be permitted, directly and openly, to attack the enemy in the field of battle. In the meanwhile, there is much encouragement for going on in our silent and unobtrusive work. The principle of religious toleration is gaining ground from day to day, and perhaps the time is not far distant when the banner of the Cross shall be planted where the crescent used to wave.

The number of books which have been put into circulation during the last two years is 842; among which are 48 copies of the Holy Scriptures in different languages, either whole or in parts. The translation of the Rev. W. Jowett’s “Christian Visitor” into the Armenian language has been continued as far as the Gospel according to St. Luke, of which a considerable number of chapters has been revised. The first part, on select portions from the Gospel of St. Matthew, has been printed, and is ready for circulation. From the few copies that we have been able to distribute, it appears that the Armenians will receive it with much readiness.

Experience has sufficiently taught us that travelling in these countries affords the best and most frequent opportunities of mixing freely with the people, and, in a conversational way, diffusing a knowledge of the Gospel among them.

On the 11th of September Messrs. Sandreczki and Dalessio left Smyrna on a Missionary tour. They visited Constantinople, Broosa, Balykesir, Pergamos, &c., and returned to Smyrna on the 9th of October. They found many opportunities not only of improving their acquaintance with the language and customs of the Turks, but also of advancing the Missionary work.

COMMENCED 1826.

Mission Establishment :

2 European Missionaries.		3 Native Teachers.
1 European Teacher.		3 Native Female Teachers.

The Rev. W. Krusé and the Rev. J. R. T. Lieder have continued, each in their several departments, to conduct the Society's operations in Egypt as heretofore.

Damage from an Earthquake.

In August last, Caïro was visited by a severe earthquake, which caused considerable damage to that part of the Mission premises in which the Girls' School is conducted, and rendered the removal of that branch of the Mission to another locality for a short time necessary.

Services, &c.—Coptic Institution.

Mr. Krusé writes, Jan. 17, 1848—

The Service in Arabic is attended as usual. I have arranged to have this Service on the Friday, that day being a holiday to many Christians employed by Government; but I am sorry to say that the alteration has not increased the number of hearers. I meet with much more encouragement in my Meetings in our house. Here almost daily opportunities present themselves of doing good: fresh inquirers are constantly coming. We continue our Scripture reading, which I cannot but hope is being blessed. Very lately a Bishop from Upper Egypt came several times to our Meeting-room; and at length he said to me, "I feel constrained to confess that this reading of the Scriptures, with your explanation, does more good than all our Church Services in an unknown tongue." I cannot but look back with thankfulness upon the events of the past year, which appear to me of an encouraging nature.

And Mr. Lieder reports, Feb. 11—

During the last six months I have had, every Lord's-day afternoon, an Arabic Church Service in the hall of the Institution, attended, beside the Students, by the Teachers and Servants of the Mission, some Copts, and not seldom by the Bishop of Esneh and some priests. In this Service, beside the usual Prayers of the Church, I generally catechize the Pupils of the Institution on some portion of the Church Catechism.

Of the Coptic Institution Mr. Lieder wrote, in a Letter dated Sept. 2, 1847—

The Institution does not answer the important object for which it was opened—to educate young men for the amelioration of the Coptic priesthood. This is occasioned in a great measure by the peculiar laws of the Coptic Church; but also, by the kind of youths which that Church has sent to the Institution, who, with few exceptions, have proved to be only the scum of the Church. It is my opinion, on account of these causes, that this Institution, as it is, is not worth the great expenses to which the Society is subject; but I shall try to enable the Committee, in a special Report, to judge for themselves.

This special Report the Committee have received and considered; and as its general tenor corresponds with the above opinion, they have come to the decision that the Institution should be either abandoned, or carried on upon a greatly modified plan.*

EAST-AFRICA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1843.

Mission Establishment:

2 European Missionaries.

Health of the Missionaries—Salubrity of their Station.

At the date of the last accounts received from this Mission—Sept. 17, 1847—the Rev. Dr. Krapf and the Rev. J.

* Further accounts of the Mediterranean Mission are given in the "Church Missionary Record" for April 1848, pp. 58—65; and May 1848, pp. 88—97.

Rebmann had been labouring among the Wonica at New Rabbay for nearly thirteen months. They had been mercifully preserved from any serious attacks of illness, although it is not improbable that Dr. Krapf may be obliged to visit India or Europe, to obtain medical advice respecting an incipient chronic complaint, the foundation of which was laid during his residence at Mombas.

Respecting the salubrity of New Rabbay Dr. Krapf writes, Sept. 17—

The Committee may now consider it an encouraging fact, established by one year's experience, that this higher region of the coast does well agree with a European's constitution; and that, consequently, the climate—if a long stay on the seashore be avoided—is no hindrance to the prosecution of Missionary labours in this quarter. Further, the still higher land of the interior presents the fair prospect of increased healthfulness. Indeed, the air is so cool, yea, often cold, that we are obliged to put on our warmest clothes for a great part of the year. If the European be supplied with a little variety of proper food, he may live here as comfortably as in any part of Africa.

General View—Difficulties.

Much of the time of the Missionaries has necessarily been occupied in erecting, chiefly with their own hands, a cottage for their residence, and a Chapel or Schoolhouse for Divine Service, as well as in acquiring a knowledge of the Kinika language, which is the dialect spoken by the Wonica. They have, however, from the first availed themselves of every opportunity of making known the message of the Gospel in conversation with the people, and a small School has been commenced. It is as yet emphatically "the day of small things" in this Mission; but enough of success has been vouchsafed to justify expectation and to encourage hope.

The position occupied by the Wonica in the scale of civilization and morality is extremely low. Although they are of a peaceable disposition, and not addicted to theft, they are nevertheless deeply sunk in ignorance, indifference, superstition, and sensuality. The difficulties arising from this source with which the Missionaries have to contend, and the encouragements by which they are supported in the midst of these difficulties, are subjects frequently referred to in their communications. Thus Dr. Krapf writes, in the Letter of Sept. 17, respecting the School—

The number of our regular scholars is five; and there are a few others, and their young friends, who come from time to time. Even the regular scholars, however, only stay about an hour or an hour and a half, their time being taken up by agricultural business. Beside, they are not encouraged by their parents, who, with their children, are as yet chiefly guided by worldly interests. The boys now and then ask for a small present—a knife, a piece of cloth, a bottle, &c.—which we cannot always refuse, for encouragement's sake, at least until they shall value instruction for its intrinsic benefits. It is much that they have confidence in us; for in the beginning of our residence at this place the children would not come near us, as they were afraid of us. Many thought we should sell them, or they would die, or become sick, &c. So far things have taken a better turn since they have known us better.

And in the same Letter, respecting their first attempts to establish Public Worship at New Rabbay—

We have erected a cottage in which to perform Divine Service on the Lord's-day. It will hold from 60 to 80 men, but only a few persons, beside our scholars, attend as yet. On the first Lord's-day, when I explained to about twelve or fifteen men the reason why we had erected this cottage, a man of Dshembeni, a neighbouring hamlet, asked what manner and quantity of food we would give the Wonica, if they were requested to appear at this place every great day, meaning our Sunday. This question, raised at the very commencement of the consecration of our cottage, much cast us down; but we soon found ample consolation in the history of our Saviour, who frequently had to rebuke His hearers on account of their seeking Him more for earthly bread than for the food of everlasting life. A great hindrance to our work lies in the people being too much scattered about on their plantations. Even the inhabitants who have their houses in the village of Rabbay-Empia are absent during the day-time. As to their visiting our Lord's-day Service, they must be better prepared and encouraged by our visiting each family from house to house.

Symptoms of the working of "the Leaven."

By patient remonstrance and judicious firmness, the Missionaries have, to a considerable extent, succeeded in weakening the sway which superstition formerly held over the minds of the people; and the knowledge of Christ perseveringly inculcated, "line upon line, precept upon precept," has not failed to leave some impression upon their hearts. Thus Mr. Rebmann writes, in December 1846—

We see that there is a certain questioning among the people concerning Christ, which by and by will lay open their hearts, whether they are minded to turn to Him to know Him aright or not.

And Dr. Krapf, six months later, observes—

In my conversations I always recur to the point of sin and grace, and show the visitors their great corruption from sin and following the will of Satan; but, at the same time, I direct them to "the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." I cannot yet say that these conversations have produced any real conversions; but I have observed, that people grow at least in external knowledge, which the Spirit of God can at His own time render effectual in their hearts.

Translational Labours.

Since his entrance upon direct Missionary work among the Wonica, Dr. Krapf has felt himself under the necessity of laying aside the elaborate Sooahelee Dictionary, mentioned in the last Report, after he had advanced as far as the letter F. He has, however, completed a Sooahelee Dictionary, intermediate in size between this and the Vocabulary which he had previously compiled.

His especial attention having been called, by the wants of the Mission, to the Kinika language, he has translated the Gospel of St. Luke into that language, and has also prepared a School-book, which has been printed in Bombay. This manual comprises the Kinika Alphabet, so far as the Missionaries have been able to settle it in Roman characters, a few lessons for exercise in reading, a portion of the Liturgy, the Heidelberg Catechism, and a specimen of poetry in the same language.

Dr. Krapf's Views of Missionary Devotedness.

The devotedness of spirit, the willingness to be nothing, provided he is made an instrument in advancing the work to which he has given himself, and the indomitable perseverance, which have hitherto characterized Dr. Krapf, are equally conspicuous in his recent communications. Thus, on reviewing the state and progress of the Mission in March 1847, he remarks—

Although our Christian efforts are as yet feeble and insignificant, yet I look with cheerful faith forward, when brighter days will cheer us and our friends at home. When the Lord shall pour out His Spirit upon the work of our weakness, then we shall see the real fruits of our present struggles. From the various and many sufferings from within and without, rises in my mind the strong conviction that our labour will not be in vain. We ourselves must first be humbled to the dust, and bear up against every difficulty, when the Lord will have compassion on these poor Heathen, and bless our word in their hearts. Never let us despair or get tired; but prosecute our work, in weakness and in strength, according to the will of our glorious Master. Until now, the Wonica have shown no hostile disposition toward us: on the contrary, as the Sheikh declared to-day, they would be very sorry if we should leave them. Lately, when they celebrated their annual festivities, he told me that many were disposed to do away with them, as I had declared all their proceedings to be a work of darkness, destined to be burnt up in everlasting fire. My perpetual endeavour consists in acquainting these poor pagans with the infinite love of Christ, who suffered and died for all our sins, wherefore we should not any more desire to love the ruler of darkness. I always find that a compassionate exhibition of Christ's death leaves an impression on my hearers, though it is soon worn off by the dissipation of the Wonica mind.

And after referring to various trials and vexations, arising from the necessary employment of Mahomedan servants, he adds, in December—

Certainly, if every cross and difficulty were removed from us I would be the first to say, Let us leave this place; for there is nothing to be done as long as every thing is smooth, and according to our wishes. No, a Missionary and a cross are closely connected. Without a cross the Missionary is sure to become a fine gentleman, losing his unction from on high, and seeking for external comforts. May the Lord preserve us, and all Missionaries, from such a miserable lot, which is the surest way to nominal Christianity and spiritual apostasy! Let there rather be a rain of sickness, of starvation, of prisons, and all sorts of sufferings, than lose my spiritual life in the Missionary career.

Appeal for additional Labourers—Need of Prayer.

Dr. Krapf strongly urges upon the Committee to increase the Missionary force in Eastern Africa. In most of his Letters he begs for additional Missionaries, who might at once form Stations further inland than New Rabbay, and eventually, by the blessing of God, penetrate to the Galla Tribes contemplated in the formation of the East-Africa Mission. He thus sums up his March Letter—

Let me conclude with soliciting more help for East Africa. Occupy soon her healthy heights in the interior. Your work will certainly triumph, if your Missionaries be men of humble, self-denying, and yet cheerful spirit—men of unceasing prayer and activity—men burning with love to Christ—men who can say, “We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard”: there is no “salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.” Under the strokes of such men the heathen tree must certainly fall in the end.

And again in June—

Were we assisted by one or two other Missionary brethren, we might, without any particular difficulty, establish a School among the neighbouring Wakamba tribes, which appear to be more accessible to instruction than the Wonica. This people is of the utmost consequence to East Africa, as I have frequently mentioned in my Letters. They are the commercial go-between of the coast and the interior. By their instrumentality you may reach the very centre of Africa, for their main tribe lives within 400 or 600 miles from the coast, and is connected with Western tribes to a long distance.

The Committee feel the force of Dr. Krapf's representations, and have appointed an Ordained Student, now in the Institution, to East Africa.*

BOMBAY AND WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1820.

Return of the Rev. C. P. Farrar—Additions to the Missionary Force.

THE failure of the health of the Rev. C. P. Farrar, as stated in the last Report, has compelled him to return to England; and the Mission has thus been deprived of the services of its oldest Labourer. On the removal of Mr. Farrar the Bishop of Bombay wrote, March 14, 1847—

This is indeed a very mysterious dispensation—the loss of three efficient Missionaries within one year. I pray that men, zealous and devoted, may be raised up of the Lord to take the places of those who have been removed. The prospect of our Mission appeared to be brightening, when all the Labourers are called away! May those who are spared be enabled to work “while it is day,” and by God's grace be stirred up to more devotedness!

Mr. E. Rogers, a Student from Islington, whose departure for Bombay was noticed in the last Report, was admitted to Holy Orders by the Bishop of Bombay in February 1847; and the Rev. T. Jerrom, another Student from Islington, arrived to strengthen the Mission in December last. The Missionary force in Western India therefore consists of five European Clergymen, with several Lay Assistants.

BOMBAY.

Preaching to the Heathen.

In the present weak state of this Mission, and the pressure of the general duties of the Station, and of the Money School in particular, the Rev. C. W. Isenberg has been unable to afford time for the important work of preaching the Gospel to the Heathen; while of the need for such labour the following passage, from Mr. Rogers' Letter announcing his arrival, affords painful proof—

* Further accounts of the East-Africa Mission are given in the “Church Missionary Record” for January 1848, pp. 3—12.

The friends of Missions here welcome me very heartily; but the general inquiries are, "Is there no one else coming?" "Do not the Committee mean to send us more help?" I am not surprised at such questions. We are surrounded on all sides by a mass of idolatry, superstition, and misery. Hundreds daily pass this spot having the marks of their superstition and degradation imprinted on their brows; within a few minutes' walk is a temple where the Hindoos prostrate themselves to a frightful image; on the green opposite to us stands a cross, to which, in the evening, numbers of Papists may be seen turning aside, and falling down before it; and at a short distance from these are the Parsees, paying divine adoration to the setting sun, worshipping the creature, unmindful of the Creator. Can the true Christian see these without longing for their conversion? Yet our Society has only one European Missionary here, and all the Missionaries of the different Societies united would form but a little, a very little, band.

Education.

Mr. Isenberg has continued to superintend the Money School, an examination of which was held in May last, when various prizes were distributed. On Mr. Jerrom's arrival he at once entered upon the duties of this School. Mr. Isenberg strongly urges the necessity of an increase in the number of the Society's Labourers at Bombay. For some time he has been the only Missionary, and has not been able to do justice to the department with which he has been charged, to say nothing of other openings which he would desire to see occupied. Toward the end of last year, Mr. M. Sargon, who had the oversight of the Mahratta Schools, was obliged, by the state of his health, to leave Bombay for some months, and several of the Schools were relinquished; but still, Mr. Isenberg remarks, his absence was much felt, Mr. Isenberg being able to give very little time to the remaining Schools. Mr. Sargon has since returned to his Station.

The number of scholars in the Money School, in January 1848, and the classes to which they belong, were as follows—22 Christians; 9 Jews; 8 Mahomedans; 61 Hindoos; total, 100.

Thirteen Mahratta Schools and one Guzerattee School, containing 575 boys and 223 girls, are superintended by the Agents of the Society. These Schools comprise an important branch of education, which has been added during the last year; the Ladies' Native-Female Association having transferred to the Society the Female Schools which have been hitherto carried on with great success by Miss White, together with the services of Miss White herself. These Schools contain 203 girls. They were publicly examined by the Rev. G. Candy in January last. Miss White writes—

Cheering indeed it was to hear them read and answer so well; and many of them gave a very satisfactory statement as to the manner in which a sinner is justified.

NASSUCK.

After Mr. Rogers' Ordination he proceeded to Nassuck, arriving there on the 13th of March, and on the next morning Mr. and Mrs. Farrar took their departure for Bombay. Mr. Rogers was thus left alone at Nassuck, ignorant of the language, and of course only able to communicate with the Natives by means of the Catechists and servants of the Mission. Under these circumstances, the Rev. C. C. Mengé was removed from Jooneer, and arrived at Nassuck early in June.

General Routine of Missionary Labours.

The first Letter received from Mr. Mengé, after his arrival at Nassuck, contained the following general view of the Mission—

My time is chiefly occupied in feeding the flock which it has pleased our gracious Saviour to give us from among the Heathen around us, in which I am ably assisted by Mr. Rogers. The number of baptized persons connected with the Mission is nineteen, including two infants. There are also three Candidates for Baptism. Beside superintending all the Schools connected with the Mission, I have to teach the students of the Divinity Class. There are now five Divinity Students, and I expect to add a sixth almost immediately. On Monday I hear their lessons in Sanscrit; on Tuesday instruct them in the elements of the Greek language; on Wednesday they study Doddridge's Evidences of Christianity; on Thursday repeat their lessons in English Grammar; and on Friday we read Burton's Church History. I have also a daily Mahratta Service, from nine to ten o'clock, which all the Converts attend, and afterward a religious exercise with the unbaptized Hindoos in connexion with our Mission. In the evening the Divinity Students, two and two, read Tracts and portions of Scripture in different parts of the town, and address a few words to their countrymen. If I feel strong enough, I like to accompany them on these occasions. Before retiring to rest I generally meet the Divinity Students, recapitulate the events of the day, and recommend them and myself to the care and protection of our Heavenly Father. Most of the Divinity Students are married, and are living in separate houses not far from the Old Wada. I find that the care of these, and of our Christians in the Poor Asylum, greatly taxes the strength both of my body and spirit. I feel, however, happy in the midst of Native Christians, and should not like to leave them as long as I can be of any service to them.

The number of Baptisms during the year has been six adults and three children.

Review of the Society's past Efforts.

Upon Mr. and Mrs. Farrar's departure from India Mr. Farrar reviewed the results of the labours of the Society in Western India. The following passages principally refer to Nassuck—

The English School at Nassuck is regarded as a kind of Normal School, from which it is expected that more efficient Teachers will be raised than could otherwise be obtained. None are admitted to it but such as have attained a tolerable degree of proficiency in vernacular education. The number of scholars is 48.

The Mahratta Schools contain an average daily attendance of 173 boys, and the Hindoostanee of 30.

Beside the general effect of these Schools in diffusing a sound education, we may notice that, from the various establishments in Bombay and Nassuck, between 15 and 20 pupils have been baptized; a goodly proportion of whom are walking in the right ways of the Lord. Some of the females* are valued in their situations as children's servants. The youths are gaining their livelihood in Government offices or in private establishments, and two are Assistant Catechists. Some appear to have derived a great moral benefit from their Christian education, although it has not yet issued in their conversion to God. There are among them some of the most efficient Schoolmasters and agents in the Mission; others are filling Government situations with credit and respectability; and others are employed as Government Schoolmasters in Kandeish. Some of the students of the English School have benefitted their countrymen by the translation of several books and Tracts, and by original works advocating the benefits of agriculture and other improvements. The preparation of these works was undertaken at the suggestion of Government, and the execution of them met with its cordial approval. Nor can we omit to mention, in this review of the effects of the Schools, the happy death of a little Hindoo girl, who, being early removed from this world of sin and sorrow, declared her dying faith in our Divine Redeemer, her willingness to depart and be with Him, and her desire to take with her the Teacher whom she loved into His blessed presence.

* Trained in Mrs. Farrar's Female Schools.

As a general result flowing from the labours of the Society, combined with those of other Missionary Bodies, the attention of the Heathen has been attracted to the Christian Religion throughout a great portion of the Mahratta Territory. In some quarters the fears, bigotry, and bitterness of the Brahmins have been excited in such a measure as to show that they do not regard these labours as either insignificant or ineffectual. In other quarters there is a growing curiosity and willingness to hear more about this new Religion. In the city of Nassuck—where the Mission was for several years subjected to conflicts with the Brahmins, which occasionally broke up its Schools, and suspended, for a time, its operations—opposition appears now to be subsiding, and the confidence of the lower classes, and their willingness to accept the boon of education, seem to be on the increase.

JOONEER.

At this Station the Rev. Messrs. Mengé and Muhleisen laboured until Mr. Mengé's departure for Nassuck, already mentioned; since which Mr. Muhleisen has been alone. After a residence of more than a year at the Station, Mr. Mengé thus writes, in a Letter dated May 7, 1847, of its Missionary Aspect—Notice of the Guzerattees.

Taking all circumstances together, we are warranted in believing that Jooneer offers as fair and promising a field for Missionary operations as any other place on this side of India. It is true that there are many Brahmins here—perhaps, in proportion, more than at Nassuck; but in point of intelligence, general respectability, and influence, they are certainly inferior to their brethren at Nassuck. Hence, when they try to oppose and disturb us in our public discourses, their weak arguments, as well as their insolent behaviour, generally cause the common people to side with us, and oblige the Brahmins either to be silent or to go away. At least, I have found that to be the case in my public discourses of late.

The Guzerattees are a very interesting people; shrewd, intelligent, and of independent habits. Their chief fault is a love of money, and they are the wealthiest people at Jooneer. Their native language is the Guzerattee, though many understand Mahratta. They are always pleased to receive Tracts in the Guzerattee language, and whenever they come to listen to the preaching of the Gospel they are most attentive and decorous. They have no image of the deity, and disapprove of the Brahmin mythology; but they have an image of a saint, whom they call Paresnath, and who is looked upon as an intercessor for them with the Deity. Learned Shastrees look upon them as infidels, and of course exclude them from the Hindoo heaven. The poorer Brahmins, however, are glad to receive a portion of their money, and to allow their religion to be as good as their own. All the Guzerattees are able to read and write. They are also clever at their accounts, and less superstitious than other Hindoos. When a death occurs among them, great are the wailings and lamentations of their women, accompanied by beating the breast. What I have ventured to state above respecting the Guzerattees has been brought under my immediate notice: I have never read their history, nor methodically studied their religious system.

General View of Missionary Operations.

Mr. Muhleisen writes, Jan. 1, 1847—

There are 285 villages connected with this town, to which I have commenced a regular course of visitation. With very few exceptions, the great and blessed name by which alone we can be saved has never once before been named among them. I generally find the people civil, and ready to give ear to my message. They are not so corrupted as those more intimately acquainted with Hindooism, and are more natural in their views and feelings. But do what we may, and look where we will, we have to mourn over a valley of dry bones. May the Lord's Spirit breathe upon them, and may His quickening influences flow out and cause them to bestir themselves!

At a later period, July 9, he reports—

Tracts, and parts of Holy Scripture, have been distributed, and some have been sold. The Mahomedan population, which had previously preserved a position of proud indifference with regard to our operations, have lately come forward, and with some of the leading members of that community a written discussion upon religious subjects has been commenced.

Since the departure of Mr. Mengé for Nassuck I have superintended the Mahratta School, which is still attended by about fifty boys. They have been instructed in the usual branches of a common education, and made acquainted with the general truths of Christianity. An English Class has again been commenced, and perhaps with more prospect of success than formerly, as most of the boys belong to this School.

Efforts have been made, and I am glad to say with no small degree of encouragement, to bring whole villages in the neighbourhood, as a body, under religious instruction.

Among the general results of what has been attempted, the most striking appears to be so fierce an opposition, in some places, as to remind us forcibly of our Lord's injunction not to cast our "pearls before swine"; while in others, and with a few individuals, our prospects have brightened more than ever. The original curiosity and excitement, and the subsequent relapse into a painful indifference, have successively passed away; and the partial inquiry now made after our "new doctrine" is, perhaps, the true index of the actual state of the people.

ASTAGAUM.

This Station, to which reference has been made in former Reports, has been received as an Out-station of the Society, under the care of Mr. B. White as Catechist, whose labours first awakened the desire for Christian instruction among the Natives. The number of persons under Christian discipline and instruction is 29, of whom 11 have been baptized.*

CALCUTTA AND NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1816.

Mission Establishment:

31 European Missionaries.	8 East-Indian Catechists and other Teachers.
5 European Catechists and other Teachers.	111 Native Teachers of all classes.
18 Native Catechists.	15 Native Schoolmistresses.

CALCUTTA.

Diminution of the Missionary Force.

THE Missionary body in Calcutta has been much reduced. The Rev. Messrs. Osborne and Long returned to England in the early part of the year; so that the Rev. T. Sandys, the only remaining Missionary, was able to do little more than sustain the several branches of labour. The Rev. J. Innes, who has for the last eight years zealously and efficiently performed the duties of Acting Secretary of the Corresponding Committee, has removed to Krishnaghur, and the Rev. G. G. Cuthbert, M.A., has succeeded to that office.

Services—Preaching to the Heathen—Confirmation—Communicants.

The usual ministrations have been continued in Trinity Church, Mirzapore, among the Native Christians residing on the premises and in the immediate neighbourhood.

* Further accounts of the Bombay and Western-India Mission are given in the "Church Missionary Record" for January 1848, pp. 12—20.

Preaching to the Heathen has been kept up by Mr. Sandys and a Native Catechist at Tuntunia Chapel, and at another Preaching-station in the city. It is stated, in the Report of the Calcutta Church Missionary Association—

These Chapels are in the most crowded thoroughfares, where in the evening, when men's minds are comparatively at rest after the business of the day, a preacher of the Truth may invite them, after the manner of the Apostles of old, to hear of Jesus Christ, the only Saviour of sinners. Here the Missionaries also distribute Tracts, and the Christian Scriptures, to those capable of making a good use of them; and hold discussions, often highly interesting, with better-informed and more-reflecting Natives, who stand up to defend their own tenets, or object to or inquire concerning those of Christianity. The number of hearers at these Chapels, and their attention, have all along been very encouraging. The truth of God is thus preached to about 300 [fresh] hearers every week.

A Confirmation was held by the Bishop in Trinity Church, when 61 Native Christians of the Calcutta and Agurparah Missions, beside 80 from the Missions of other Societies, were confirmed.

The number of Communicants in connexion with the Missions in and near Calcutta is 125, being an increase of above one-fourth during the year.

Education.

The encouragement in the educational department of the Mission has been of a very marked character.

There are three English Schools for Heathen boys—namely, at Mirzapore, Dum Dum, and Allipore. The number of scholars is about the same as last year. Each year affords increasing evidence that the effect of Bible instruction is to convince the boys of the errors of Hindooism, and to cause them to speak favourably of Christianity. The bitter enmity of those who “love darkness rather than light” against such Schools is a sufficient proof that they are telling upon the native youthful mind. In the Mirzapore School an interesting event has taken place, in the open avowal of the Christian faith and the baptism of a youth of the first class. This is, indeed, only the third instance of the kind in the course of twenty-four years; but the earnest, there is now reason to hope, of a goodly number who, in like manner, have been brought within the verge of the faith by the patient and persevering efforts of Christian Teachers.

An incident connected with the same School may be mentioned, showing the esteem in which Missionary Schools are held by the Heathen scholars themselves, and the fallacy of the oft-repeated assertion that the introduction of the Bible into Schools in India will check the attendance of the Heathen. Upon the departure of Mr. Long from Calcutta, on his visit to England—he having been the Superintendant of this School for seven years—a subscription was raised, among the Teachers and pupils, to present him with a neat silver ink-stand, of native workmanship, with a well-written and affectionate valedictory address, expressive of their feelings of respect and attachment toward him. At a later period of the year another subscription was made, by the Teachers and Heathen scholars, to relieve the sufferers by famine in Ireland; and the sum contributed by the three English Schools of Heathen boys, for this object, amounted to 11l.

Calcutta Church Missionary Association.

In connexion with Calcutta, the Committee must express their gratitude to a local Association, which defrays the necessary expenses of the English School at Mirzapore by local contributions to the amount of 240l. per annum. The same Association has founded four scholarships, of small value, for the best scholars of the first two classes of the School, which serve as a powerful stimulus to young men, not only to exert themselves for their own improvement, but also to continue longer at the School, at the time of life when their minds are most capable of benefitting by the instructions in Christian truth which they then especially receive. The happy result is seen in the case of the first holder of one of these scholarships, whose baptism has been recorded. The Association also supports the Christian Boys' and Girls' Schools at Mirzapore, at a cost of 150l. per annum; beside another branch of Missionary labour of a peculiar kind—namely, the employment of Native Scripture Readers to give Christian instruction to native servants employed by Christian families in and about Calcutta. It is stated, in the Report of the Association—

This is done by sending the Reader, at an hour convenient to the family, to read and explain the Holy Scriptures, and give Tracts and other useful books to the servants of any subscriber who desires thus to perform to his domestics one of the first duties of a Christian Master. The system has been found to work well, and to give great satisfaction; and several conversions to Christianity have been, by God's blessing, effected through its means. The number of servants thus instructed weekly is from 500 to 600.

The Association expended, during the last year, about 650l. in these objects. It is separate from, and additional to, a Calcutta Church Missionary Auxiliary, which collects funds generally for the purposes of the Society throughout North India. At such a season of financial pressure as the present, the Committee feel themselves called upon specially to notice such zealous and effective local assistance for relieving the Society of the expense of some departments of its labour.

AGURPARAH.

General View—Schools.

This Station continues under the care of the Catechist Mr. De Rozario, who gives the following encouraging Report for the last year—

This year has been, I am thankful to say, another prosperous season in all the departments of labour. The number of Communicants in the Church is double that of last year. The spirit of Christ seems to be working in the hearts of most of the youths in the higher classes of the English School; the desire for Biblical instruction has been great; the open declaration even of young boys in favour of Christianity is remarkable; while the actual conversion of three young men has inspired the Labourers with joy and gratitude. The number of boys in the English and Vernacular Schools is increased.

Further evidence is given of the popularity of these Bible Schools in the following words—

It is a fact that the very Brahmins who three years ago refused us a place for a School in the midst of them, have lately invited us to take it. Formerly they would not send their children to the Agurparah Bengalee School because I introduced a Christian Teacher into it; but now they have actually broken up other Schools, conducted by Heathen Sircars (Accountants, Teachers), by sending their children to our School. The Penhetty School has been purposely built and let to us by a Brahmin.

Of the English School Mr. De Rozario records the following simple but interesting story, which may well excite a lively hope that the Spirit of the Lord, whose office it is to convince men of sin, is present to bless the instruction communicated to the children—

A lad of the fourth class, twelve years old, was once found arguing with Brahmins in his village, and a rumour was immediately spread abroad that he was going to become a Christian. His elder brother, of the first class, himself almost a Christian, to ascertain the extent of the young lad's knowledge of Christianity, asked him why he spoke against idolatry. "Because," answered the lad, "it is sinful." "Allowing that," said the brother, "cannot you worship one God, as Deists do?" "That's true," rejoined the lad; "but who will make an atonement for my sins?"

BURDWAN.

The Rev. Messrs. Weitbrecht, Geidt, and Bomwetsch have continued at this Station during the year, while the Rev. F. Schurr has been transferred to the Krishnaghur District.

Mr. Weitbrecht has charge of the Christian Congregation and general work of the Mission, and Messrs. Geidt and Bomwetsch are chiefly engaged in Schools.

Native Congregation—Preaching to the Heathen.

The state of the Native Congregation is reported to be the same, with very slight variation, as it was last year.

Preaching to the Heathen has been continued in the bazaar of Burdwan, and in journeys through the villages. Mr. Weitbrecht reports—

Sometimes we meet with attentive hearers, and now and then there appear symptoms of the heart being touched; at others, the Brahmin, “in the gall of bitterness,” blasphemes and abuses; but this is now a rare occurrence: they more generally turn off with a contemptuous smile, or stand aloof altogether. Meanwhile, the increasing number of Natives who are acquainted with English, and despise idolatry, is acting as a leaven upon the population in gradually working out the anticipated new state of things.

Education.

The Orphan Boys’ School contains 39, and the Orphan Girls’ School 35 pupils: the former give some hope of a supply of Native Teachers. There is also an English Boys’ School, and five Vernacular Schools, containing an average attendance of about 300. On one evening of the week all the Christian Teachers attend the Missionary, to receive instruction in the portion of Scripture to be taught in the following week in the Schools, and to pray together.

The Infant School was under the care of an interesting young Native, who was trained in the Home and Colonial Infant School in London, named Rabee. Mr. Weitbrecht writes—

The Infant School is attended by 40 children. Rabee, the Teacher, has been ill since July. She is suffering from a lingering disease, which she appears to have inherited from her parents, who died of consumption. She feels happy and peaceful in contemplating her approaching end. Her faith has reality: she knows the Good Shepherd, and is known of Him. To such a believer death has lost its bitterness. Her cheerful demeanour, and pious exhortations to the children and those who visit her, make her still useful in her sphere.

Missionary Tours.

Mr. Weitbrecht made a short tour into the District lying west of Burdwan, and toward the close of the cold season went down the banks of the Damoodah River to Calcutta—in the latter tour being accompanied by Mr. Geidt. These Missionary journeys offer great opportunities of arousing the native mind, and promoting a spirit of inquiry. A preparation is thus made for the willing, and in many instances eager, reception of Tracts and portions of the Word of God; and frequent meetings with Natives who have received an English education afford proof of the mighty change which is passing over the native mind in India. Whether that change will be for the better, by advancing toward the Truth, or whether for the worse, by plunging them into a hopeless infidelity, seems to depend upon the efforts which are made in the present day to diffuse among them the light of Divine Truth. Mr. Weitbrecht writes—

At the town of Bancoorah I preached and conversed with the Hindoos, great numbers of whom assembled. While I was addressing them they listened quietly, but became exceedingly noisy and rude when I gave away Tracts. Still, I sometimes discover pleasing proofs that these silent messengers of Divine Truth are read with attention, and made the subjects of serious reflection and conversation among the Natives.

Two other extracts from the communications of Mr. Weitbrecht are given, to show the increasing attention and interest which the Christian Missionary now excites among the Natives of India. He writes, Jan. 12, 1847—

After walking an hour we entered Shahbazaar, a large Mussulman village, and visited a large mosque in ruins. While we admired the elegant workmanship in the walls a crowd of people gathered around us, with whom Mr. Geidt conversed, while I drew together another assembly on the roadside, to whom I delivered the message of the love of God with considerable acceptance. At ten o'clock we reached Barumba. It is surprising to observe the dense population, one crowded village after another, along the plains of the Dammoedah. Six years ago I preached here under the portico of a temple, and before my sermon was finished was saluted with rubbish and brickbats. Accordingly I made up my mind for similar treatment; and my anticipations were strengthened by a crowd of impudent boys, who insisted upon peeping into our tent from behind trees and mudwalls. Never, however, was I more agreeably disappointed; for this was one of our greatest preaching-days. After four o'clock we sat down on the steps of a Siva temple, and the people increased in number every minute: during the last half-hour there must have been at least 500. When I opened the book to read, I called upon the hearers, "If you promise me to listen quietly, I shall tell you something interesting and useful: it concerns your eternal happiness." The promise was given from many a lip; and I read the parable of the unfruitful tree, which cumbered the ground. I never have had a more attentive set of hearers in the open air: many expressed their approbation. A respectable Baboo appeared to be much impressed, and asked for a Gospel as a great favour: in return he offered his plantain-garden, with the fruit, for our accommodation. I afterward took a walk with this sensible Hindoo through the village, explaining to him some particular portions of the Christian faith. The pressure for Tracts was very great. After the preaching was over Mr. Geidt spoke with a large number separately, who listened with equal attention.

A few months since I met with twelve hopeful youths, who all spoke English, in a village near Chinsurah. I found them sitting in a court-yard, playing cards. I gave each a New Testament, which they gladly accepted. One of them, who was peculiarly pleasing, conducted me to his father's house, where he said I should find a goodly number of people assembled, who would be glad to hear the Gospel. I went, and was not disappointed. "Sir, they all want to hear you," he said, "because they have heard that you are the Padre Sahib of Burdwan." I read Paul's sermon to the Athenians, and exhorted them to pray to Him "in whom we live, and move, and have our being." With one exception, the audience was quiet and well-behaved: an old Brahmin, with an ugly, forbidding countenance, interrupted me much, and was very insolent. When I explained the objectionable character of idol-worship he became enraged, and desired me to march off. My young guide said, "Sir, don't mind this old fellow, with his long black teeth: he is a very passionate man, and always renders himself disagreeable." On leaving the house, I presented the owner with a Bengalee New Testament, which gave him much pleasure. "Sir," said the youth, "I am giving lectures to the inferior classes in this village." I inquired on what subjects, and was answered, "On astronomy, geography, and divinity."—"What branches of geography do you teach?" "The roundness of the earth, which I teach by showing a ship sailing on the ocean. You know," he added, "my stupid countrymen believe the earth to be three-cornered. Then I teach the motion of the heavenly bodies, and the unity of God; and then I show them that all the stories of the Hindoo gods are false."—"Do the people listen to you?" "O yes, sir! the inferior people render themselves very quiet, and like these things; but that ugly old Brahmin is opposed to it, and tells my father to punish me because I do not prostrate myself before him." He continued to inquire, "Will you soon come to our place again? I should like to see you often. I want some reverend gentleman to guide me." I advised him how to deliver his lectures in future with greater advantage and profit to his hearers; and he promised to read to them frequently from the New Testament. On returning to my tent he introduced me to some of his young companions, who held the same religious opinions with him. These youths will doubtless turn the scale in the public mind of Bengal. What a contrast between this sensible lad and the old bitter Brahmin!

KRISHNAGHUR.

Increase of Missionaries and Communicants—Return of the Romish Backsliders.

The Committee are happy to say that, in the course of the last year, the number of Missionaries in this District has been materially increased: three have been added to the five previously located in it—the Rev. F. Schurr having been transferred from Burdwan, the Rev. J. Innes from Calcutta, and the Rev. G. F. H. Ansorge having joined the Society in India. This increase of Labourers was only completed at the close of the year, so that the full effect cannot be expected to manifest itself till another year. Much encouragement has, however, been granted, both in present results and in the promise of future success. The number of Communicants has increased from 403 to 524. The Native Converts who had been for a time drawn aside to Romanism have all returned to their former Pastors.

General View of the several Districts.

The Rev. C. H. Blumhardt writes, respecting the Sudder Station—

In my Bengalee Congregations I have also received encouragement, and hope that God is working in and among them. I am rejoiced to say, that on the 6th of January I had the great satisfaction of receiving 59 individuals back into our Communion from those who, a year before, had turned Romanists; and I have since had no reason to be sorry for having done so, for they all have remained steadfast, with the exception of one notorious character. It is also perhaps worth mentioning, that the house commenced by the Romanists two years ago is in the same unfinished state as last year. I can boldly say that their influence in our District is gone.

In a Letter to the Archdeacon of Calcutta Mr. Blumhardt thus describes the circumstances of the return of these persons into the bosom of the Protestant Church—

Being anxious to make this truly happy occasion as solemn and public as possible, I gave to the penitents two months' previous notice, and instructed them in the importance of the step they were about to take. On the Lord's-day prior to their recantation I published in the Church the names of all those whom I was willing to re-admit, and called upon the Congregation to acquaint me of any impediment on account of which they would object to look upon them in future as their fellow-brethren in faith, doctrine, and communion. Service commenced at twelve o'clock; and it was a truly interesting sight to see all the penitents sitting in front of the communion table, humble and contrite, as I trust and believe they all were. Nearly all the Christians from the villages and this place were present to witness the ceremony, and to me it was a scene of joy which melted my heart.

The Rev. H. C. Krückeberg also reports that 70 persons in his district, who had been for a time perverted to Popery, had all been received back again.

Two other encouraging features in the work of this Mission may be mentioned; namely, the establishment of Christian villages, and the introduction of Christian Schools into heathen villages at the express desire of the heathen inhabitants.

In respect of the first feature the Rev. C. T. Krauss gives the following Report of the Kabastanga Station—

I would first express my thankfulness to Almighty God for the measure of success—if not in point of numbers, yet, as I humbly trust, in spiritual advancement and order—that He has been pleased to vouchsafe to the labours of those who have been permitted to engage in carrying on the blessed work among a benighted people.

The Christian Congregation has assumed a somewhat different aspect from that of former years, from the fact that above 120 persons have settled near the Mission premises, having removed from several villages; and their houses form a Christian Village, the external appearance of which strikingly contrasts with that of the comfortless abodes of the Heathen. The number of souls in this Christian village is 367, all of whom are baptized except one single person, a new Inquirer not yet prepared for that sacred rite. Their methods of support are miscellaneous. The new village has chiefly been raised by the contributions of some kind friends, to assist each family with one or two rupees for building their houses, which otherwise they could not in their poverty have done. Many others are desirous of gathering together in one place.

And the Rev. C. W. Lipp writes, in his Report of the Rottenpore District—

The new village adjoining the Station now contains 40 houses. The number of persons in this village and on the Mission Compound, including the children of the Schools, is upward of 300, who regularly attend Morning and Evening Prayers, and two Services on the Lord's-day at the Station Chapel. Of most of these Christians who live near me I can speak with satisfaction.

The second encouraging feature alluded to above is thus described by Mr. Lipp—

Some Village Schools have been commenced this year among the Heathen. The inhabitants of some large and respectable villages have repeatedly asked me to establish Schools in their villages, and three such Schools have been commenced, comprising, in all, above 200 boys. Many of the boys learn English. There are several villages within a few miles from this Station, beside those mentioned, in which Schools have been asked for; but I could not comply with their wishes for want of funds.

In a later communication Mr. Lipp alludes to the increasing desire of the Heathen for the establishment of Christian Schools in their villages, adding—

I have eight boys in my Boarding-school, that are now fit to be employed [as Readers and Schoolmasters]. They have been long enough at School, and room is required for other boys. The buildings for such Schools will be provided by the Natives, and books and stationery will also be paid for; but I could not yet bring them to pay for Teachers.

The Rev. J. G. Lincké also writes—

Our work among the Heathen is but small; but in three populous heathen villages Day-schools have been established during the year, in which Christian books and Scripture history are read, introductory to the Bible itself.

Baptism of a young Brahmin—Excitement of Inquiry.

Among the encouragements of this Mission, during the last year, may be mentioned the baptism of a young Brahmin, a pupil in the English School at the Sudder Station, and the first-fruits of that means of conversion. He is now pursuing his studies with a view to future employment as a Teacher, for which he appears to be well fitted. His conversion seems to have excited a spirit of inquiry among the other boys; and this was deepened by another event, which occurred within the same month, of a very different character. One of the Teachers in the same School was suddenly seized with a malady which carried him to the grave in a few hours. The Missionary visited him just before his death, and asked him what were his hopes of salvation; when he replied, in desponding words, "O Sir! I have no helper." This young man had been brought up in the School, and about two years ago had very serious impressions; but the Vedantists of "Young India" established a Congregation in Krishnaghur, and this young man joined them. He thus quieted his conscience by having abandoned Hindooism and become a Deist, or a self-righteous Pharisee, which, in the hour of death, left him to exclaim in despair, "Oh! I have no helper."

BENARES.

The Christian Village at Siga,

In the last Report it was stated that an important step had been gained in the establishment of a Christian village, and the erection of a Church, in connexion with the Mission premises at Siga.

This village has been increased in the number of houses; but, owing to the removal of nine families to another Station, the number of inhabitants still remains below 300.

The Rev. C. B. Leupolt speaks of the spiritual and social state of the people as gradually improving, and the Prayer-Meetings as more frequently visited, and proving a blessing to the Minister and people. These statements are supported by such notices as form

“The . . . simple annals of the poor.”

One fact must not be omitted, as it serves to show the gratitude of the Christian Natives of India toward their British benefactors. Mr. Leupolt writes—

Our people have evinced a nice Christian spirit. When I lately mentioned to them the distressed state of the Irish, they immediately showed a willingness to contribute something for their relief. I sent a paper round, and they collected among themselves upward of 80 rupees.

This sum of 8%, be it remembered, was the produce of poor cottagers, all supporting themselves, as day-labourers, upon a few shillings a month.

The removal of the nine families from the Christian village was occasioned by a change of employment. The Orphan Establishment has carried on, for several years, a carpet manufacture; but as this did not afford sufficient employment, and as many suffered in health from the sedentary occupation, the Church Missionary Local Committee at Benares procured ground at a village twelve miles distant, where the families have been located, with every prospect of supporting themselves by agricultural labour—the Missionaries engaging to make the best provision, which the circumstances of the case will allow, for their being effectually superintended, for their enjoying the Means of Grace and regular Christian instruction, and for the education of their children.

Orphan Institutions.

The Orphan Institutions contain 55 boys and 44 girls. Respecting the former Mr Leupolt states—

We have advanced a step toward the end which we originally proposed to ourselves, having set aside five boys to be trained for Readers and Teachers. They learn the theory of Mission Work during the day, and in the evening they accompany us to the city to learn the practical part of the work.

Preaching to the Heathen.

This department of labour has especially devolved upon the Rev. W. Smith, who is about to return home on a visit for the recovery of his health. In his last Report he states—

I am thankful to say that I have had more encouragement in my work this year than ever I had before. “When the Lord turned again,” says the Psalmist, “the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream.” Such, indeed, has been my case. I have had Brahmins, young Pundits—three in number—kneeling with me in prayer at the feet of Jesus. Thanks be to God! who has at length vouchsafed to give some testimony to the word of His grace. Kashi (Benares) must, sooner or later, bow before Him who is "heir of all things." There are certainly symptoms of a shaking among the dry bones. Hence I have several times doubted whether it were my duty to go home this year; but I have thought, again, that this arose, perhaps, only from my self-esteem, and the importance I attached to my own doings. I am thankful that dear Brother Leupolt, in prospect of two new Missionaries joining us, now on their way, has expressed his determination to supply (D.V.), at least in a great measure, my place in the city. This is a very great comfort to me.

And at another date Mr. Smith writes—

May 9, 1847—The work in the city is very encouraging, and has been so increasingly ever since I came in for the hot season. Two or three times this week, after I have finished one address, people have asked me to begin again, and say more.

Respecting a Candidate for Baptism—one of the three young Brahmins mentioned above—who has given great promise of sincerity and future usefulness, Mr. Smith writes—

There are two young friends of his about his own age—23 years—whom he has brought several times to visit me, and with whom he seems to have taken a great deal of pains. He hopes they will join him in taking what to them is, emphatically, the awful step. Of one of them, indeed, he feels quite confident, "because," he says, "I know he prays;" but the other, he fears, does not. I earnestly beseech all Christians who may read this, while they thank God, to pray for them and for Benares; for the time for the Lord to have mercy upon her, I do believe, is approaching.

The following is a striking instance of the good sometimes resulting from the distribution of religious books—

March 20—A morning or two ago, Mr. O., the Magistrate, told me a pleasing incident which he had just witnessed in the jail here. On one of his visits to the rooms where the prisoners for life are confined, he ordered the place to be cleaned out; when, among other things, a copy of St. Luke's Gospel, and a Tract entitled "Who is the Son of God?" were turned up. Mr. O. asked whose they were, and was informed that they belonged to one of the prisoners, a Brahmin, who read them to his fellow-prisoners every night, by the light of the lamp, and who had also written out copies of the Gospel for others.

In reporting a conversation with an interesting inquirer after the Truth Mr. Smith writes, May 30—

Among other things I was encouraged to hear him say that several Pundits, and others whom he knows, are beginning to entertain great doubts about the truth of their religion. But then, he says, they dare not speak out—not even one to another—because they cannot trust each other: if a man says ever so little on the subject he is at once abused, and put down as a Christian. He said he should like to have some talk with an English infidel, to know what he had to say against Christianity.

During the cold season Mr. Smith itinerated as usual. Accompanied by the Native Catechist Tryloke, and one of his Christian boys, he visited altogether between 200 and 300 towns and villages, and "saw no cause for discouragement."

Education.

Beside the Orphan Schools, several Vernacular Schools are supported in the city; but the chief educational establishment is Jay Narain's College and Free School. The number of Students is 320, and during some parts of the year it has verged upon 400. The only limit is the difficulty of superintending so extensive an Institution, by only two European Missionaries, in such a climate as India.

The studies comprise, beside the native languages, the usual branches of an English education. Bible history, and the doctrines of Christianity, occupy the chief position; History, Geography, English Composition, Euclid, Algebra, Mechanics, and Astronomy, are included. Public examinations are held, at which the European officers of the Company's service, and many of the superior Natives, attend. The Annual Report of the progress of the Schools is very satisfactory. The Rev. P. L. Sandberg, the Superintendant, writes—

That this Institution has conferred great temporal benefit on the native community here, and the surrounding country, is a fact which cannot be contradicted; for there is not a public or private office or employment which is not filled, more or less, by young men who have received their education in Jay Narain's School. Most of the Teachers now employed in Schools established by other Societies were once pupils in our Institution; and in this manner it has extended, and is still extending, its beneficial influence far and wide. Considering the little help it has received, and the few Labourers who have hitherto been employed in it, it has not been behind other Institutions of a similar kind in conferring spiritual benefit on those who have come under its influence.

After referring to three or four encouraging instances of conversion, which have occurred in the course of the last few years, Mr. Sandberg proceeds—

It often surprises me that a School like ours, professing to teach Christianity, should possess the confidence of the native mind to such a degree as to make those willing, who can afford it, to pay a higher monthly fee than that which would admit them into our Government School here—which I am ready to testify is, according to the Government plan of education, most efficiently conducted. But I think the reason of this preference, if it may be called preference, arises from our School being a child of their own—one which has sprung from among themselves, whose growth they have watched, and whose grateful returns they have experienced. Should we not avail ourselves of this feeling, so that Jay Narain's College and Free School—a name which is loved by the enlightened part of the Natives here, and uttered by them with respect—may be the place from which messengers of a Crucified Redeemer may go forth to proclaim the Gospel through the length and breadth of the land?

CHUNAR.

Removal of the Rev. D. Hechler to this Station.

This Mission has been placed upon a more satisfactory footing, during the past year, by the appointment to it of the Rev. D. Hechler from Benares. He took charge of his work in April 1847, and was received with much affection by the native flock. He is abundantly encouraged in his work. The attendance at Divine Worship varies from 60 to 70, and there are about 40 Communicants.

Several Schools are connected with the Mission, and Mr. Hechler has introduced the important measure of throwing the support of one School, of 70 boys, entirely upon the native flock, who pay the Master and all expenses connected with it, under the superintendence of the Missionary.

JAUNPORE.

The Rev. R. Hawes has laboured for another year as the single Missionary at this Station.

Christian Congregation—Preaching to the Heathen.

The Native Christian flock is still very small. The Gospel has been proclaimed in the thoroughfares of the city, and by Missionary tours in many villages; and, though no direct fruits have manifested themselves, the Missionary speaks of many indications of an approaching change, which encourage the Labourers “patiently to tarry” the season.

Education.

This department of Missionary labour has been favoured with much success during the last year, in the increase of scholars and their progress in study. Mr. J. P. Cæsar has charge of the Jaunpore Free School, containing 178 boys, and states—“The School is better attended than at any time since its transfer to the Mission.”

The superintendence of a new School has been undertaken by Mr. Hawes at Azimgurh, which forms a connecting link between the Missions of the Society at Jaunpore and Gorruckpore; being 40 miles from the former and 60 from the latter. The expense of this School, 100 rupees a month, is guaranteed by a Local Committee. It was formerly a Government School; but the aid of Government has been withdrawn. There are 140 boys on the books, and the system of education is conducted upon the same scriptural principles as govern all other Schools of the Society.

GORRUCKPORE.

Arrival of Mr. Acheson.

The European Catechist, Mr. Acheson, mentioned in our last Report, arrived with his wife at Gorruckpore in May 1847, and in the evening of the same day accompanied the Rev. J. P. Mengé to the farm, the special sphere of his future labours.

Mr. Mengé has performed the ministerial duties of the Station, which consist of—preaching to the Heathen, in a Chapel situated in a great thoroughfare, three times a week, Charles Dass, the Head Catechist, assisting; itinerating among the neighbouring villages; and holding conversations with Hindoo and Mussulman Inquirers. No decided cases of conversion have been as yet granted to these labours.

The Farm.

This occupies a portion of land granted to the Society by Government, on which the Christian Natives have been located as agriculturists. Mr. Acheson writes—

On my first visit to the farm I was introduced to 30 families, consisting of 98 souls; to which number if I add the Orphan Boys, some of whom are on the farm, and others in the Station, the total will be 129. It was indeed gratifying to me to behold the pretty white Church, standing close to the jungle; but it was far more gratifying, and is still so, to observe the regular attendance, orderly demeanour, and cleanly appearance, of the poor Native Christian agriculturists, who are found in their places Sunday after Sunday in this House of God.

Mr. Mengé has held a full Hindoostanee Service in this Church every Lord's-day, and has conducted a Catechetical Lecture on one evening of the week.

Hitherto Mr. Acheson has resided at the Station; but arrangements have now been made for his residing at the farm, by which a more constant and careful superintendence of the Christians will be practicable. A dwelling-house is being built upon a part of the farm which is reported to be healthy; and a Christian village is being formed in the neighbourhood of the parsonage, to which the Christian Natives will remove from their present abodes. It is hoped that, by this means, the Native Christians may be strengthened and advanced in their spiritual attainments, and so exhibit a glimmer of light to the surrounding district, and furnish Native Teachers for the Schools.

Education.

Mrs. Mengé has an Orphan Girls' School, containing 18 pupils. There is also a large English School, supported partly by the Society, but chiefly by the European residents. This School is under two English Masters.

AGRA.

During the last year this Mission has been under the care of three Missionaries — the Rev. Messrs. Pfander, Hørnle, and Schneider. The Rev. F. A. Kreiss, having recruited his health in Europe, has now returned to his duties in the Mission.

Christian Congregations.

It is stated—

No peculiar troubles and trials have marked the history of the past year; and the work, in all its different branches, has been carried on quietly and steadily.

There are two Christian Congregations. That in the city of Agra has been regular and attentive, amounting on an average, at the Sunday-Morning Service, to about 45, and in the evening to 23. Five adults have been baptized; but some removals have taken place through death and other causes. Of the other it is reported—

The Congregation at Secundra has not only increased in numbers, but also in stability, and it is hoped, also, in the enjoyment of spiritual blessings.

An evidence of the most pleasing and hopeful kind is given by the Missionaries in support of this statement; which encourages the hope that the Orphan Establishments—which the Committee were compelled to speak of in their Report two years ago with some misgiving—may yet fulfil the expectation under which they were formed, by becoming the nucleus of Missionary operations in the numerous surrounding heathen villages. Mr. Hørnle writes—

A spiritual growth is perceptible in the members of the Congregation, and that not only in the general improvement of their character and conduct, but more especially in the fact of several having expressed a desire to serve the Lord in His vineyard, by preaching the Gospel to their benighted countrymen. They offered themselves as Candidates for Mission work, not in the hope of temporal gain, for they all had good and promising situations in the Printing Press, but, as I sincerely hope, from purer motives, having the glory of their

Saviour and the promotion of His kingdom at heart. Three of them were received on probation. One is in the city with Mr. Pfander, who gives him a good testimony, and two are with me at Secundra: they also go on well.

It is further stated—

With them the first attempts have been made of establishing a Mission, in connexion with the Secundra Congregation, in one of the adjacent villages.

Mr. Hœrnle mentions a pleasing fact—that several families, who left Secundra last year through dissatisfaction at the strict Christian discipline exercised among them, have all rejoined the Congregation, which now consists of 59 families.

Orphan Institutions at Secundra.

The Orphan Institutions contain 70 boys and 31 girls. In each School the death of a child has occurred, in which a blessed testimony has been given that the instruction and prayer bestowed upon them have not been “in vain in the Lord.” The boy was blind; but able to support himself by work. He was well-behaved and shrewd, and while he attended School he had learned—by hearing the other boys read and repeat their lessons in the New Testament, and with the aid of an extraordinary memory—to recite any chapter which he had heard in the School. He died of brain fever, which deprived him of his senses during the greater period of his illness.

Printing Establishment.

The Printing Press at Secundra, which is worked by the Native Christians and the Orphan Boys, is able to support no fewer than 62 workmen; one half of the number being married. It has, after struggling through many difficulties, at length got out of debt, and has begun to give some support, in the way of repayment, to the funds of the Orphan Institution.

Preaching to the Heathen.

The glad tidings of salvation have been proclaimed by the Missionaries to many attentive hearers in the city, the villages, and at the Melas or Fairs. Mr. Pfander writes—

Not much fruit of this labour is yet visible; but yet the people listen.

MEERUT.

The Rev. R. M. Lamb has continued his labours at this Station, assisted by a Christian Reader.

Services, &c.—Baptisms—Communicants.

In the beginning of July 1847 Mr. Lamb commenced Hindoostanee Service in the Chapel on Sunday and Wednesday evenings. Seeing how much such a Service was required for the Native Christians who did not understand English, he made an effort to read the prayers in Oordoo much earlier than could have been expected, and, from the first, all who attended both heard and understood the Service read in their native language.

Since July, also, a few girls have been regularly instructed by Mrs. Lamb every morning.

During the year four adults and four children have been baptized. One of the adults was considered by Mr. Lamb a very interesting case. He received the name of Paul, and has continued to walk consistently as a Christian, trying also to persuade others to become Christians.

There were 17 Communicants when the Lord's Supper was last administered.

HIMALAYA MISSION.

The dissolution of the Himalaya Corresponding Committee, and the proposed arrangement for the future management of the Mission, were referred to in the last Report. This arrangement was carried into effect in March 1847, and the Himalaya Mission has since stood on the same footing, with relation to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as all the other Missions of the Society in Bengal.

The Mission is divided into two parts—the Rev. M. Wilkinson and his son being stationed at Simla, and the Rev. J. D. Prochnow having charge of the original Mission Station of Kotghur.

SIMLA.

The work at this Station consists of Schools, and preaching in the Bazaar. Mr. Wilkinson has a School in his own house, consisting partly of boarders and partly of day-scholars, which he considers as a promising branch of labour. There is also the School at Theog, on the Kotghur road, about twenty miles from Simla. Of these Schools Mr. W. Wilkinson has the charge.

The Rev. M. Wilkinson has been much engaged of late in making Missionary tours; and he has met with numerous opportunities of making known the Gospel, not only to the lower classes, but also to the chiefs and principal residents, in the various native states in the neighbourhood of the hills. The Mission is at present in a state of infancy, and Mr. Wilkinson appears to be feeling his way, watching for the indications of Divine Providence, and not to be as yet in a position to judge of what course can be pursued with the best prospect of success in the prosecution of Missionary operations in those parts.

KOTGHUR.

Mr. Prochnow has been a good deal impeded in his work this year by providential visitations of sickness in his family. One of his children was removed by death on the 14th of June, and another was dangerously ill for seven weeks, but at last was mercifully restored to health. In consequence of this sickness Mr. Prochnow was obliged to take his family to Simla, returning to Kotghur at the beginning of October.

The School has been progressing very satisfactorily during the year. Since April it has had the advantage of a resident European Teacher, Mr. Voss, and the number of boys has increased from 7 to 27. In the Girls' School there are 19 girls.

Many excursions have been made during the year to villages in the neighbourhood of the Station, and the message of salvation has thus been proclaimed to some extent among the Hill People.*

MADRAS AND SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1814.

Mission Establishment :

25 European Missionaries.	9 East-Indian Catechists and other
4 East-Indian Missionaries.	Teachers.
5 Native Missionaries.	2 East-Indian Female Teachers.
2 European Teachers.	106 Native Catechists.
1 European Printer.	359 Native Teachers of all classes.
4 European Female Teachers.	65 Native Schoolmistresses.

* Further accounts of the Calcutta and North-India Mission are given in the "Church Missionary Record" for June 1847, pp. 121—129; July 1847, pp. 147—152; and August 1847, pp. 169—174.

Ordinations—Increase of Native Labourers.

Before the Bishop of Madras left India he held an Ordination, at which five of the Society's Catechists, three being Natives, were admitted to the Order of Deacon; and two Deacons, one a Native, to the order of Priest. Of these seven persons, five had received their education wholly at the Madras Institution, one had been partly educated at the Cottayam College, and the other had been wholly trained at that Institution.

This seasonable supply of Labourers was distributed throughout the Mission in the following manner—

The Rev. J. B. Rodgers, Deacon, and the Rev. Devasagayam Gnanamuttoo, Deacon, were stationed at Madras.

The Rev. James Spratt, Priest, was appointed to the Meignanapooram District of Tinnevelly.

The Rev. Jesudasen John, Deacon, to the Palamcottah District.

The Rev. G. Matthan, Priest, and the Rev. James Chandy, Deacon, to the Mavelicare District of Travancore.

The Rev. J. E. Sharkey, Deacon, to Masulipatam, the seat of the Teloo goo Mission.

While the Committee unfeignedly thank God for this accession of Labourers, especially of Native Missionaries, viewing it as a signal answer to prayer, and a token of increasing blessings; they would remind their friends that, far from regarding the accession as a reason for relaxing exertions at home, it is rather to be viewed as a call for increased exertions, since it proves the enlargement of the work, and forms an additional motive for keeping up the supply of European Missionaries—upon the principle that India can only be effectually evangelized by an extensive system of native agency under European superintendence.

MADRAS.

The Madras Mission has been better supplied with Labourers during the last year than in any previous period.

Return of the Rev. J. J. H. Elouis—Permanent Engagement of the Rev. J. Bilderbeck.

The Rev. J. J. H. Elouis returned from the Cape to Madras on the 18th of March 1847, with recruited health, and has devoted his labours to the pastoral and Missionary duties connected with the Church Mission Chapel in Black Town.

The Rev. J. Bilderbeck has become permanently connected with the Society. His labours are chiefly directed to preaching to the Heathen in Black Town, and to the recently-established Christian School and Congregation among the people who have removed from Tinnevelly to Madras for the sake of employment, and who now form a community called "The Tinnevelly Settlement." Mr. Rodgers and Mr. Devasagayam Gnanamuttoo render efficient help to each of these Missionaries, in their respective departments.

Labours of the Rev. J. Bilderbeck.

The following passages present a view of the Missionary labours of Mr. Bilderbeck. In a Letter dated Dec. 31, 1847, he writes—

You will observe a sensible increase in the number of our Congregation and School-children, compared with the returns of the previous half-year; but this is owing to the accession of eighteen families at Korakapetta, who have now placed themselves under our instruction; while the establishment of additional Schools has also augmented the number of our children.

Our reception among the Heathen has been, on the whole, very encouraging. We have gone from street to street, preaching without molestation or hindrance. With some we have observed a spirit of inquiry already stirred up by it, and this, too, of no transient character; for they have come again and again to listen to us, not only during our occasional addresses to them, but also during our stated fixed Services for their benefit, and that of our Christian people. Indeed, several of them, at the Tinnevelly Settlement particularly, have been of late so accustomed to mix themselves with our Christian worshippers, that, but for their outward badge of heathenism, it would scarcely be possible to distinguish them from the rest. The School-room in which we assemble is already too small for them, and on every occasion we feel the need of a more commodious house for this purpose; for we are persuaded that we shall soon be able to fill a place nearly three or four times that size, if we have the means of erecting one. It is not our wish to spend our money in costly buildings; but we should be very well satisfied if the Lord, whose are the gold and silver, would incline the heart of any of His stewards to give us just so much as would be enough to build us one large square room, covered with tiles, and supported by plain walls, with a couple of doors and windows on each side, and all finished in as simple and unpretending a style as possible. We shall want no pulpits, desks, forms, or punkahs;* but just a little chair and table will do.

Within the last half-year I had the privilege of receiving two adults into the fold of Christ's flock by baptism. Their history is deeply interesting. Both belong to the Tinnevelly people, and have been long under preparatory instruction. One is the aunt of a man whom I baptized on the 1st of January last. The other case was that of a man—a noble and lively soul he is! He keeps a bazaar, and is a merchant by trade; but such was his conviction of the excellence and truth of Christianity, that he continued to bear witness for it long before he offered himself to be baptized. He had cast away all his heathen badges; attended the Means of Grace most regularly; always closed his bazaar on Sunday, though the day on which he knew he might sell more freely; joined the company of Christians, and did much to befriend them; would declare the Truth openly among his heathen neighbours; and if he found any Christians looking dull he would reason with them, and tell them they had abundant cause to rejoice, and to be joyful in God their Saviour. In short, he is a lovely character, and for the Truth's sake has endured even much persecution from his friends and neighbours. They have repeatedly endeavoured to establish charges against him at the police; but he has as often come off honourably acquitted.

The Institution.

It was mentioned in our last Report that, in consequence of the failure of a sufficient supply of pupils, it had been determined to suspend the Institution for two years. The Rev. J. H. Gray took this opportunity of returning home; and since his arrival in England he has been compelled, by family circumstances, to relinquish his connexion with the Society, after having faithfully and efficiently promoted its objects, for nearly eight years, as Principal of the Madras Institution.

The resumption of the Madras Institution must now depend upon the acquisition of a suitable Principal, as well as upon the future circumstances of the Mission.

TINNEVELLY.

Statistics of the Mission—General View.

The number of Districts is now eleven, the Nulloor District having been subdivided during the past year. The Ordained Missionaries number 14, the same as last year, beside other European and East-Indian Labourers.

During the year the number of baptized persons has been increased by about 100, and now amounts to 11,600. The number of Communicants has been increased by 269, and amounts to 2621. The number of unbaptized persons, however, under the pastoral care and instruction of the Missionaries, has fallen off to the amount of above 2000; some having been driven back by persecution, and some having forsaken the good way through the “love of this present world.” Of the baptized persons it does not appear that any have gone back.

The general character of the Missionary proceedings during the last year has been healthy and peaceful. The violent outbreaks of a persecuting spirit, and the gross acts of oppression, of former years, have been restrained ; but yet sufficient impediments lie in the way of an open profession of Christianity to check the advance of half-hearted inquirers, and to cause some of them to go back, and walk no more with Christ—sufficient, also, to test and prove the sincerity of the faithful.

Cessation of Open Disturbances in the Nulloor District —Effects of the late Persecutions.

A few extracts from the Report of the Rev. P. P. Schaffter, whose District was the chief scene of disturbance, will confirm this statement. It will present, also, some general views of the Mission work in Tinnevely. Mr. Schaffter writes, Sept. 22, 1847—

It is a cause of deep gratitude toward the Lord, that the disturbances which have so long agitated the Nulloor District have subsided. Peace may be said to be restored even in those places where Christianity has its most inveterate enemies, and which have been the principal scenes of outrage and open persecution.

In the interval of peace and quietness which, in the mercy of God, we now enjoy, we are able to form a more just estimate both of the painful and happy results which the late disturbances and consequent transactions have had on the work of the Lord in the Mission.

Among the painful effects of the late troubles, is, the relinquishment which some thousands of those who had recently professed Christianity have made of their Christian profession. It is painful, chiefly on account of the circumstance that many of these had a sincere regard for Christianity, but were yet too ignorant of its true nature to think it worth while to suffer much in order to secure its advantages. Another unfavourable result is a general impression, which both the Christians and Heathen have received, that the protection afforded to Christianity in this country is but a partial and precarious one. This impression may be wrong ; but it exists in my district, and is of course productive of presumptuous confidence in the Heathen, and discouragement and apprehension in the Christians. It is indeed one of the causes which induce many of the latter to forsake Christianity, though they have at the time nothing particular to suffer from it, and which prevent many well-disposed Heathen embracing it.

On the other hand, I am happy to be able to express my conviction that some gracious designs of the Saviour have been attained, in the Nulloor District, by the late afflicting dispensation. Many professors, unworthy of the Christian name, have by that means been separated from the Church ; having left of their own accord, or been excluded from it—disorder itself having become the means to lay open their hypocrisy and wickedness. Others have been led to self-examination, to see more of the sinfulness of their own hearts, and to seek more earnestly for the grace of God in Christ. Some, also, who know the Lord, have been deeply humbled by a sense of their spiritual miseries, and have been made conscious how very unfit they were to fight the battle of the Lord, and to stand in the evil days. They have felt the need of a closer communion with Christ, and consequently of more prayer, renunciation of the world, self-denial, and faith. In general, I may say, very many in the Mission have received a more correct idea of the nature of the kingdom of God, as a kingdom which is "not of this world," and have seen the necessity to cease from an arm of flesh. In this respect the late trials have effected what, in the usual course of things, our preaching could never have done. I could produce instances to substantiate every thing I have here advanced.

Owing to the perpetual opposition of the Heathen, but very few people have ventured to place themselves under Christian instruction during the year. Still some have done so ; and many more, it seems, are waiting at the threshold for a favourable opportunity to enter. The work of instruction, which had been much checked in the Congregations by the disturbances, is again going on as in former days ; and the progress which some have made in committing the Catechism to memory, and in the understanding of those truths necessary to salvation, is truly pleasing. In those Congregations where female teachers are stationed, the improvement in knowledge among the women is evident. The attendance at Church, also, is on the whole cheering, chiefly so on the Lord's-day ; though the number of those who rather absent themselves, to attend to their worldly labours or amusements, is here and there considerable too.

Trials in the Surrandei District.

The Rev. T. G. Barenbruck thus describes, at the end of December last, the kind of persecution to which the Native Christians in his District are exposed—

The Congregation of Samboorvadacurry, which was a very large one, is still in an unsettled state. It contained at first about 400 persons, and afterward increased to 800, at a time when but one Catechist could be sent to instruct them. This has now again been reduced to nearly the former number ; chiefly in consequence of the opposition of the Heathen, who, beside preferring false complaints against the Christians—to answer which above 40 persons of that Congregation were summoned to Trivandrum, a distance of more than 100 miles, and detained there six months from their families and employments, while not one of them has been convicted of the charges brought against them—have, among other acts of violence, murdered a Christian, for the sole reason that, having embraced Christianity, he declined any longer to perform gratuitous service in the heathen temple. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that many, who feel a conviction of the truth of Christianity, fear to make an open profession of their faith.

Incursion of Popery into the Kadatchapooram District.

One of the Districts—that under the charge of the Rev. John Devasagayam—has been exposed to the incursion of Popish emissaries. He writes, Sept. 22, 1847—

I have heard that seven families have resolved to join the Roman-Catholic Priest, who has bought a piece of ground at a small distance from Kadatchapooram, and has advanced money to them to build houses and dig a well. The ringleaders refused to come to me. They are led by a spirit truly unworthy of Christians, and appear to be prepared and determined to injure the rest of the people, and to disturb the peace of the village. During the following days, at the time of Evening Prayer, I took care that our people should be sufficiently instructed with regard to their duty to be watchful, and to pray for Divine Grace that they might be preserved in the right way; and that the ungrateful backsliders might be taught their misery, and brought back again into the right way. We trust our gracious Lord, to whom the malicious attempts of our enemies are known, will not fail to hear our prayers in this time of trial. It is no small comfort to me to see that so many of our people are well acquainted with the greatness of the folly of Popery, and with what the Bible teaches us of our own blessed Faith. The lesson of the day—Matthew xxiii.—gave me, on this and the following days, both in the morning and evening, abundant materials for teaching our people how to distinguish false teachers, the doctrine they teach, &c.

Increase of Inquirers in the Panneivilei District.

The Rev. J. T. Tucker, on the 12th of April 1847, gives a more cheering account of the progress of Mission work in his District. He writes—

Since I last wrote to you, many persons have applied to me for Christian instruction, and I have received, within the last fortnight, no fewer than 280 souls. Most of these reside in the northern part of my district. I have only recently paid a visit there, and, to my great joy, find the Heathen in many parts prepared to renounce idolatry and profess Christianity. This movement is not in one particular part, but I may say in all parts. I attribute it, in a great measure, to a system I have lately adopted—viz. sending each Catechist once a week to heathen villages, and places where the message of salvation through Jesus has never before been proclaimed, although the people may have heard something of our Religion. I expect to receive as many during the coming month as I have during the past fortnight. However, I look upon these events with trembling as well as with joy, because persecution, in some form, must necessarily follow; or, if not persecution, Satan will use his subtlety to lead these young Converts to forsake the Truth.

General View of Missionary Success in Tinnevelly, and Proofs of its real progress.

A proper estimate of the nature and progress of the change “from darkness to light” in the moral state of Tinnevelly, can only be obtained by placing ourselves a few years back, and reviewing the interval. The Journals of some of the Missionaries supply us with such retrospects. The Rev. G. Pettitt writes, Feb. 16, 1847—

I can scarcely close this Report without looking back upon the last twelve years, during which time I have been spared to labour as a Missionary in Tinnevelly. I went with a heavy heart, with fear and trembling, under the painful circumstances of that time ; I leave it—for a time only, I trust—with unfeigned thankfulness to God, rejoicing greatly in the goodness and merey which He has been pleased to bestow, both upon us who have occupied the field during the period just mentioned, and those honoured servants of God who preceded us in the good work, and whose footsteps we have endeavoured to follow as they followed Christ. When I commenced my labours there were already about 8000 souls under Christian instruction, in connexion with the Church Missionary Society: the good work has gone forward, more Labourers have been sent forth, and now there are nearly, if not quite, 30,000 souls in connexion with us. Great pains have been taken to prepare Catechumens for baptism, and a large number have been admitted into the Christian Church. Still, we cannot say that all these, nor even all those who are baptized, are truly converted, and children of God by a saving faith in the Lord Jesus Christ; and we therefore entreat the earnest and unceasing prayers of all our Christian friends for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon this large number of persons who have honestly renounced heathenism, and are brought under Christian instruction and Christian discipline; for by Him alone can our feeble labours prove effectual to their salvation.

A testimony to the same effect is given by the Native Missionary, the Rev. Devasagayam Gnanamuttoo, lately ordained Deacon, who was brought up from childhood in the Christian Schools in Tinnevelly, where his parents reside, and received his final education in the Madras Institution. He writes, July 9, 1847—

This evening I arrived at Palamcottah, and had the pleasure of seeing the Rev. Messrs. Newman and Jesudasen, as well as many of my old friends. From this date to August 17th, on which day I left Palamcottah again for Madras, I had the happiness of visiting, in Tinnevelly, eight principal Mission Stations, together with several villages belonging to them, and ten Missionaries, beside many Catechists and Schoolmasters. I saw abundant cause to thank God for having graciously looked upon my native place, and upon my countrymen. For, in the first place, there is a great change in the general appearance of Tinnevelly. During the past ten years I have travelled between Madras and Tinnevelly five times—that is, three times to and twice from Madras—by different roads, and I am pretty well acquainted with Madras, having been a resident in it for several years. I have seen at Madras, and on the roads which lead from Madras to Tinnevelly, many heathen temples, both large and small; but none of these places is so famous for idolatry and superstitions as was Tinnevelly about sixteen years ago. Then, in a village containing hardly thirty houses, there would be no fewer than six devil-temples, some of them roofed, some inclosed with a small parapet, and others having neither of these, situated in the open field ; where the people, at the appointed seasons, used to worship, and offer sacrifices to devils. But now, instead of devil-temples, the country is interspersed with good-looking Churches and Prayer-houses, where the true God is worshipped, and with School-rooms where children are taught to fear God. In villages whose inhabitants are partly Christian and partly Heathen, one or two devil-temples still remain, but miserably forsaken and neglected : the Heathen themselves have very little regard for them. And in those villages where the people are all Heathen, though the devils are worshipped, and the devil-temples are still standing, they are much decayed. The people have not much faith in their Swamies. The general talk among them is, that devils have now forsaken their temples, owing, as some do not hesitate to assert, to the introduction of Christianity. Many worship neither devils nor the true God ; but are a kind of atheists.

Another cause of thankfulness is, the increase of education. Tinnevelly was once remarkable for its ignorance. A few years back, one among twenty-five males could hardly be found who could read his own name ; but now, not only men and young women, but even many old women, can read the blessed Word of God. Those who were once deceiving the ignorant people are now at a loss. The people now begin to inquire into the truth of the things proposed to them. The secret, as I conceive, of the many complaints made by influential Heathen against the Missionaries and their people is, partly, that while the people were ignorant these Heathen used to oppress them, unjustly deprive them of their property, and treat them just as they liked ; but since the prevalence of education, the people, having become capable of thinking for themselves, and understanding matters as they are, have, in consequence, learned to plead their own cause, and stand against their oppressors.

A third cause of thankfulness is the improvement of habits and moral conduct. Whatever claim the Hindoo religion may have regarding the former of these two, it has no claim whatever for the latter. A well-educated Heathen will utter such filthy and indecent words that a Christian would be obliged to shut his ears. Their dishonesty, their lying, cheating, swearing falsely, and numerous other vices, remain with them as entire as ever. I know a case of a Heathen addressing a Native Christian, and saying, in connexion with a certain matter, "You would not tell lies as we do ; but relate the matter just as it happened." This man would never have said so, I mean sincerely, to an educated Heathen.

A fourth, and chief cause of thankfulness, is, the advance of spiritual Religion. The main object of the preaching of the Gospel is to bring perishing souls to Christ. To bring them to the communion of the Church, or to the assembly of Christians, is of very little consequence, and serves no purpose, unless they are brought to Christ, the Physician of souls. But, "my Word shall not return unto me void" is the assurance given by the Lord, and accordingly it has produced many fruits in Tinnevelly. Although I did not remain long enough to know the spiritual state of Tinnevelly thoroughly well, yet the anxious attention of the Christians to the precious Word of God, their obedience to it, and the good report given about many of them, compel me to come to the above conclusion. Although we cannot search into the heart of any one, yet when a person hears our Lord's words attentively, and follows Him, according to the description given by Him of His sheep, Christian charity teaches us to believe that that person belongs to the fold of Christ.

One of the most hopeful features of the progress of the work is the interest which is increasingly taken by the Native Christians themselves in the conversion of their countrymen; manifested in united prayer on behalf of the Missions, and by zealous personal exertions for its promotion.

The Rev. J. Devasagayam thus writes, on the first day of the year 1847—

According to previous notice, we had a second Meeting in the Church at twelve o'clock, which was attended by many of our people. It was chiefly to pray for the conversion of Heathen, Papists, Mahomedans, and Jews. Our people began to see their duty toward their neighbours, and several of them, who live by trading, promised to take Tracts for distribution. The Catechist, and several head people, resolved to meet every Wednesday evening, an hour before the Evening Service, for conversation and prayer for the conversion of the Heathen.

Three months later than the preceding the same Native Missionary reports, March 22, 1847, the following interesting fact—

My Catechists and Schoolmasters have resolved, in reliance on the blessing of the Lord, to support a Reader, and have already commenced a collection for that purpose among themselves and their people. They have, with my consent, appointed an elderly pious Christian to that office, and have paid him three rupees for the last month. We commenced it with the earnest desire, accompanied by prayer, that Native Christians may be interested in the Christian duty of supporting their Catechists. We trust the Lord will not despise "the day of small things," but so bless the little seed that it may bear abundant fruit in due time.

Other illustrations of a similar spirit are thus recorded by the Rev. J. T. Tucker—

Feb. 20, 1847: Toryoor—This village is the centre of a little district of itself; inasmuch as the Congregations, under the charge of the Catechist, are scattered about in four or five villages, each within the distance of three miles. There seems to be a Missionary spirit among the few who are Christians, and a very great probability that they will prove successful Missionaries. The main instrument in collecting the present converts is a man of Toryoor, named Sattia

Nadan. He is the son of an old Catechist, who laboured faithfully for some years in the Nulloor District. The father, on his death-bed, gave a strict charge to his son respecting his faithful adherence to the Gospel; and the son has obeyed his dying parent, not only by remaining faithful himself, but by proving himself a light to his heathen neighbours. There are now upward of sixty people in Toryoor and the neighbourhood who have been led, in a great measure, to listen willingly to the glad tidings of salvation through the instrumentality of this one man; and it is a pleasing feature in his exertions, that he endeavours to spread the knowledge of the Gospel among all castes. The present Congregation consists of a mixture of Retties, Sattees, Maravers, Shanars, and Pariars. Sattia Nadan himself is of the Shanar caste. He possesses a little property in the village, and out of it makes a livelihood.

April 10—I preached in the evening, at Panneivilei, on Mark xvi. 15, 16. I spoke principally of the necessity of praying for the Heathen; and on coming out of Church, David, the Headman of Panneivilei, said, “I have been a Christian about twenty years. I was the only one in this village and neighbourhood at first. I have always prayed that the Heathen might give up idolatry and learn the Vedam; and see how many Christians there are here now! I shall yet pray that the Lord will be pleased to convert many more of my friends, and I know that He will do so.” An olla* came from Samuel, the Catechist at Asoor, stating that thirty-six families of Maravers had come to him, and requested to be instructed in our religion.

Desire to possess the Scriptures.

A desire to possess the Holy Scriptures, and to promote their circulation, is another encouraging indication of the progress of true Religion in Tinnevely. The Rev. Stephen Hobbs writes, at the end of December 1846—

The contributions of the people during the past year to the various Societies have been very creditable, especially to the District Poor Fund and Church-Building Society. They have also cheerfully responded to my appeals on behalf of the Bible Society, from which they have obtained such unspeakable blessings. The readiness of the educated young people to purchase the Scriptures is a good proof that they begin to set a higher value upon them than formerly, and I confidently expect to discover, from time to time, many instances of their being “able to make wise unto salvation.”

The Rev. J. T. Tucker writes, March 11, 1847, to the same purpose—

The Catechists and people have shown a great degree of willingness to aid the several Societies established in the Mission. They have willingly joined the Tinnevely branch of the Bible Society, and contributed about forty rupees in aid of its funds. There is a great demand for Bibles in my district, there being yet several Christian villages, and a few Catechists, without a complete Bible.

* A letter written on an olla—the leaf of a tree.

Opening of two Station Churches in Tinnevelly.

The opening of a Church at a Missionary Station, which may prove a Mother Church to the humbler village Chapels, is always an occasion of great encouragement to the Congregation. These Churches, it must be remembered, are erected at a small cost to the Society, the chief expense being defrayed by local subscriptions, and the contributions of Native Christians. The Rev. E. Dent writes, Nov. 15, 1847—

With gratitude to Almighty God, I have to communicate the pleasing intelligence of the opening of my new Church at Dohnavoor on the 6th of October last. By Divine mercy I have been enabled so far to complete it as to have it dedicated to the service and worship of God, after having been for three full years engaged in its erection. At my request thirteen Clergymen, of both Societies in Tinnevelly, attended, beside myself. People from the several Congregations of the district were also invited, and about 600 came; who, with those of Dohnavoor and Nallamaram, and some from the other districts, may be said to have amounted to 1000, and formed the Congregation.

The Rev. J. Thomas thus announces a similar event, in a Letter to the Rev. T. G. Ragland dated Dec. 17, 1847—

I have been so busy for the last ten days as not to have found a moment's leisure for writing. We had a very large gathering on the 9th for the opening of the Church, which was literally crammed by upward of 2000 persons. The day was the happiest I have spent in India. The Rev. E. Sargent preached an excellent Sermon, and the Communicants amounted to 408, beside Europeans. The utmost propriety prevailed.

Educational Establishments.

The INSTITUTION for the training of Catechists has been under the superintendence of Mr. Sargent, at Suviseshapooram, during the absence of the Rev. G. Pettitt in Europe. Seven Students, who are all married, reside near his house, and receive instruction in theology and the practical duties of the ministry. In a Letter dated Nov. 24, 1847, Mr. Sargent gives a satisfactory report of the behaviour of the Students—

My burden has been considerably lightened by the cheerful acquiescence of the Students in every plan that has been recommended. In the face of many difficulties, arising from age and moderate abilities in some, and want of studious habits in all, there has been a steady desire after knowledge, and a persevering application to study. We have no idlers among us, and even in their recreations endeavours have been made to prevent the idle lounging, to which Natives are so much addicted, by each Student having a garden of his own, which he cultivates, and by which exercise, also, he benefits his health.

It being a matter of great importance that the wives of the Students should be able to read, during one hour every day they receive instruction from a master, and three times a week Mrs. Sargent has them with her, when they read the Bible, and are catechized upon what they read.

To keep up among the Students the habit of expounding Holy Scripture to the people, the Evening Prayers in the Suviseshapooram Congregation are conducted by them alternately every other day.

The study of English is the chief difficulty with which the Students have to contend.

In Theology the Thirty-nine Articles are taken as the ground-work. We have gone through Gray's "Key to the Old and New Testaments;" and we meet for an hour every Sunday, and go through a portion of Bridges "On the Christian Ministry." As the Rev. C. J. Rhenius has commenced a course of Lectures on Church History, for the Catechists of the District, the Students attend there once a week.

The Rev. R. L. Allnutt, who had charge of the HEAD SEMINARY, has been compelled to return to Europe by the failure of his health. The Rev. W. Clark, educated at Islington, and lately ordained by the Bishop of London, has been appointed to the charge of this important Institution for the education of promising Christian boys, and has sailed for India. In the meantime it has been under the care of Mr. Hufhton, and other European Assistants, whose services were engaged in India. The number of pupils is 45. A public examination took place on the 7th of January 1848, of which the result was satisfactory.

The ENGLISH SCHOOL FOR HEATHEN BOYS has continued under the charge of Mr. W. Cruickshanks and his Assistants. It has pleased God to bless this Institution, during the last year, to the conversion of three of the scholars. The circumstances are full of promise for the future prospects of the Mission, as the boys educated in this School are of a superior rank to those of the Village and Christian Schools; but it would be premature to enter into fuller details at present. The conversion of these pupils at once caused the withdrawal of many of the rest, diminishing the number by about one half; but many of the pupils are beginning to return, and the number to rise to its former height.

Female Education.

Increased efforts have been made in this department of labour. An Assistant, Miss Hawkins, has been sent out to help Miss Giberne in the management of the Normal Female School at Kadatchapooram.

The importance of female education impresses itself upon the mind of the Committee in proportion as the work of evangelization advances. In every Heathen and Mahomedan nation the condition of the female sex is one of degradation, both social and intellectual. But, as soon as Christianity begins to exert its benign influence, the wife becomes the companion of the husband, and often, in the best things, his guide, as well as the most effectual teacher of the rising generation. Upon this subject the Rev. J. T. Tucker writes—July 3, 1847—in describing an examination of Miss Giberne's School—

I believe all present would join with me in saying that much praise is due to the Giver of all grace, for raising up such an important establishment in our Tinnevelly Mission as the Normal Female School. It is only those who witness the difference between an uneducated heathen and an educated Christian woman in Tinnevelly, who can at all appreciate the very great importance of giving to the present rising generation of native girls a sound Christian education. The uninstructed woman is careless, shy, proud, dishonest, and withal a slave to her husband; whereas the well-instructed Christian woman shows her superiority over her neighbours at once by her neatness, openness, and general behaviour. Moreover, I believe it has pleased God, in many instances, to bless the instruction given to children to the salvation of their souls. The examination of the School was conducted by the Rev. Messrs. J. Thomas, E. Sargent, J. Spratt, and E. Dent; and they all expressed themselves gratified with the progress that had been made.

And Mr. Sargent reports, at the end of December 1846—

The mere external effects of Christianity are obvious to all who may travel in these parts, and pass through the various Christian and Heathen villages. The women, especially, seem to be rapidly rising above their heathen neighbours in intelligence, and in some approaches to civilized social life; and they are, in most instances, in advance of the men in their respective Congregations. They are known, in many instances, to have been the stay of a Congregation, when, from the pressure of some external temptation, their husbands were hesitating to backslide. Although a Native may never consult his wife as to any worldly engagements, yet, in matters of a religious character, I imagine they pay no little deference to their opinion and expressed wish; and it is especially necessary, on this account, to use our best efforts in Native-Female education; giving, if possible, such a tone and character to the minds of those who are now children, that they may act as leaven in the mass of their own people, and carry them forward toward a higher standard of Christian intelligence, morals, and godliness. Allied to this, though not perhaps so promising a sphere, is the education of widows; but I have been unable, as yet, to do more for them than for other women in the Congregations.

With regard to Mr. Sargent's concluding remark it must be remembered, that the widows of India are, for the most part, those whose betrothed husbands have died while both parties were yet in childhood; and being debarred, by Hindoo law, from marrying again, they form a kind of outcast class, neglected and degraded beyond the usual lot of Hindoo females. In more than one of the districts means are employed for their instruction. The Rev. Stephen Hobbs writes, at the same date—

Our Widows' Class is proceeding very satisfactorily. The usual attendance is about 90, and the effect of the instruction which they receive is becoming more visible in their behaviour and appearance, both at the weekly assemblies and in their respective villages. Their attention to the Sermon which I preach to them on Friday mornings is very gratifying, and indicates at least some developement of their intellectual powers, and doubtless, also, a growing appetite for Divine knowledge.

The Press.

The Committee have the melancholy task of reporting the death, on the 26th of May, of Mr. J. M. Weiss, the Superintendent of the Press, who had for many years faithfully served the Society in the same capacity at Malta. Mr. Weiss was engaged in superintending a new building for the Press at Palamcottah, which was necessarily suspended upon his death, as well as the general operations of printing. The Committee, however, have succeeded in procuring the services of an experienced printer, Mr. J. Bensley, who sailed for India in November last to succeed to the duties of Mr. Weiss.

Concluding Cautionary Remarks.

The Committee cannot close their account of the Tinnevely Mission without, as on former occasions, guarding their statements from being misunderstood as if they represented a state of advancement and purity beyond the truth of the case. The description of the change from a state of heathenism to that of a profession of Christianity is always liable to such misrepresentations by superficial readers. The Committee are well aware that the Native-Christian Church is still in its infancy; that the attainments of the mass of professing Christians are very low; that the bright examples of the power of the Gospel, in some special instances, only show that the work is of God, and encourage us to redouble our diligence in the use of the appointed means for building up the Native Converts in their most holy faith—and especially to be much in prayer to "the God of all grace," that

He may sustain, and sanctify, and crown with His blessing, the labours of the Missionaries.

TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN.

At the commencement of the last year this Mission was weakened in the number of Missionaries by the return of the Rev. J. Peet to England for the benefit of his health. It has since received an accession of Labourers in the two Native Ministers whose ordination has been reported. Two additional European Missionaries have also been appointed to it—the Rev. E. Johnson, who was formerly stationed at Benares, but who found the climate of North India unsuited to his constitution, and the Rev. J. Harding, from Islington.

A Map of the Society's Stations in Travancore will be found appended to the present Report.

COTTAYAM.

Cottayam College.

This Institution may be said to have at length produced the first-fruits of its operations, in the ordination of the Rev. Jacob Chandy, who was altogether trained in the Travancore Mission, and resided at the College for two years and a half before his ordination. The Bishop's examining Chaplain kindly favoured the Principal of the College with a written testimony of the "great satisfaction" he had received from the examination, as showing "both an intellectual and experimental acquaintance with his Bible, clear views of Gospel truth, and sound information."

The Missionaries speak with much hope of the future usefulness of the Native Ministers, and express their earnest desires that many may be raised up equally well qualified for the work. The Committee cordially respond to the sentiments expressed by the Rev. J. Chapman upon this subject, in a Letter dated Dec. 20, 1847—

Let us have a high standard for Native Ministers. In the dearth of Labourers, and under the pressure from without, the temptation is strong to lower the standard. This, I am persuaded, is a mistake, and will afford no real relief. The standard of acquirements may admit of much latitude: that of high moral fitness admits of none. Better to be without Ordained Assistants than to be shackled with those of whom we need to be ashamed. Yet let us not despair. I would advocate caution; but I would also hold out a well-grounded hope—a hope founded upon the general principle that Christ will not forsake His Church, but abundantly supply all its need—a hope founded on what we are privileged to see of the actual working of this principle. For there is a goodly promise of some to whose future usefulness we may look forward with a reasonable confidence. Let us pray for them, that they may be spared to the Church, and that grace may be given them for the higher ministrations of the work of God.

With reference to the present pupils of the College Mr. Chapman reports, in the same Letter—

They are able to read, with little or no difficulty as to language, most parts of the Greek Testament, and the simpler portions of historical works, such as Xenophon's Anabasis; but digressions, such as that on the character of Cyrus in the First Book of Anabasis, are not so readily mastered. With General History, Geography, and the History of the Church, they are tolerably well acquainted; and we have lately given much attention to the historical portion of the Evidences of Christianity. Beside its general importance, this subject is now making an unwonted call upon the attention of Christians in India. I have it on high authority that "efforts are now making by some of our countrymen, and by educated Natives, to spread infidel principles." My informant goes on—"I have been much concerned to learn, that not only are Natives, and some of the lower class of Europeans and Indo-Britons, supporting the objections of Natives to forsake their own superstitions, but are promoting hostility to Christianity in particular, by publishing extracts from the works of European infidels. I have heard of young educated Natives obtaining lists of European infidel authors, in order that they might send for their works." I had sometimes doubted whether it were expedient to burden an inquiring Native with objections which I had thought never likely either to occur to him, or to be brought before him; but I am glad that my doubt was over-ruled even before this information was received. There is every need to put our Christian pupils, as well as the Heathen, as fully as possible in possession of the entire subject. The junior classes of the College, and the general oversight of the lower or School department, since the death of my lamented friend, the Rev. J. Johnson, have continued under the care of Mr. Thomas Spratt. I have reason to be most fully satisfied with the state and prospects of this department of the establishment. I could name several lads of much promise, and there is every room to hope that in due time a useful body of men will issue forth from our walls for the service of the Church in Travancore.

Cottayam Village District.

This District remains under the charge of the Rev. B. Bailey. No marked events have occurred in its circumstances during the past year.

Cottayam District, and Pallam.

The Cottayam District has continued under the care of the Rev. H. Baker, jun., in addition to his own District of Pallam; but the charge of both Districts is too extensive to allow of an efficient superintendence. Mr. Baker's visits to the distant Congregations are necessarily at long intervals. In the new Congregation at Ericarte there is a large and rich party of Syrians; and the Headman of the village having joined the Church, the Congregation and Schools are well kept up. In the Congregation at Changnacherri, the most important Station in this District—being the most populous, and entirely Roman Catholic or Mahomedan—much difficulty has been experienced in obtaining ground for a Church. After a site had been procured, the discovery of the ruins of an idol temple, though half a mile distant, and in the midst of the jungle, was a sufficient cause with the Authorities to set aside the purchase.

MAVELICARE.

During the residence of Mr. Peet in England this District has continued under the care of the Rev. J. Hawksworth, assisted by the two Native Clergymen. The Rev. G. Matthan has been placed at the important Out-station, Mallapalli, which was suddenly deprived by death of the pastoral care of Luke, the Syrian Priest who had for some years faithfully ministered among the people. Mr. Hawksworth writes, Sept. 20, 1847—

He had been well educated, was familiar with Portuguese, Latin, and Syriac, and was possessed of abilities decidedly superior to those of any other Native whom I have met.

Visit of the Rev. G. Matthan to Tinnevelly.

Mr. Matthan, upon his return from his ordination at Madras, visited Tinnevelly, and spent a short time among the Christian villages. He thus describes—in a Letter dated May 28, 1847—the beneficial effects of such intercourse between Native Christians of different provinces—

We found the people very desirous of knowing the state and prospects of Christianity in Malayalim, and in this laudable curiosity we were glad to gratify them. We also requested their prayers for our infant Church here, that God may turn the present confused state of affairs in the Syrian Church to the advancement of the kingdom of His dear Son.

I am quite satisfied that our late tour has greatly benefitted us, by enlarging our views of the mighty work we are engaged in, and by strengthening our confidence that God will not fail to bless the faithful labours of His servants. We would also hope that we have been in some measure useful to the people whom we visited. Our account of the Syrian Church gave them an additional proof, and one which will have great weight with them, of the truth, as well as the antiquity, of the Christian Religion.

Our people here appear much pleased with the account we give of the Tamul Christians. It is really encouraging to them to know that so numerous a body of Christians, professing Protestantism, exists at a distance of no more than a week's journey. We try to raise the sympathy of these for those also, that there may be a fellow-feeling between all the members of Christ. May God inspire all His people with brotherly love, that they may help one another, especially by prayer!

Case of the Maramana Congregation, and the Syrian Church generally.

In the last Report notice was given of the overtures made by the Congregation at Maramana to join the English Church in a body; and it was stated that the issue of the matter was very uncertain. No subsequent step has been taken toward such an union, though many of the congregation attend the Services of the Missionary in a neighbouring Church.

In the same Report the Syrian Church was described as "coming into a transition state." This expression has appeared to some persons liable to an interpretation more hopeful than the real circumstances of the case justify. The Committee are desirous of keeping, at all times, within the strictest limits of truth, and are thankful to any one who may point out, in a friendly spirit, any inaccuracies into which they may fall. It gives them peculiar satisfaction when such correction of too sanguine statements comes from one of the Missionaries themselves, whose labours they are reporting. This has been the case in the present instance. The Rev. J. Chapman has expressed his fears lest the language of the last Report should be misunderstood, and has accompanied his strictures by general remarks, to the justice and importance of which the Committee fully respond. He writes, Aug, 28, 1847—

That there is a shaking among the Syrians is beyond all question; and at this moment, throughout the length and breadth of the country, they are in great commotion. But there is no reason to think, with regard to the majority, that questions of doctrine, or of real Religion, have any thing to do with the matter at all. There are three contending Metrans, each having his partisans. The whole country is divided; some crying one thing, some another, but the greater part not knowing what they would have. In a few villages around our Mission Stations there is an interest excited in behalf of pure Religion; but I think the hesitation of the Maramana people last year may clearly teach us, that even with these the attachment to Syrianism is not only natural, but very strong. They wish for the truth, but they would rather have it in a measured degree, and much obscured, in connexion with Syrianism, than brighter and fuller in connexion with the Church of England. It should be remembered that the removal of positive abuse is the utmost to which any reform among the Syrians has ever gone, and I believe, if left to themselves, they desire not to go any further. They will put down their chartums (masses for the dead) and rend their curtains, and put their Services into Malayalim, putting out objectionable prayers; but this is only a negative reformation. The grand principle of Protestantism, justification by faith, will not pervade their Liturgies—Christ crucified will not be set before the eyes of all. With the most, the question that excites them is merely one of party spirit; with the best, it is such a reform as will excuse them for remaining in communion with their own Church. An intelligent conviction of the importance of securing the vital principles of Gospel truth, is, I fear, but too little abroad; and I can hear of not more than three or four Catanars at all hopeful, nor are the people of more than a few villages alive to any necessity for a change. If by “transition state” be meant general disposition either to come over to the English Church, or to welcome a doctrinal, a true Protestant reform, I fear it is incorrectly employed.

I would say then, first, that the entire Syrian Church is in a state of great disorganization; and that the Syrian population, near our Missions, are generally much dissatisfied; and some, yea many, are seeking after the Truth—or at least are well disposed. Secondly, that any overtures from the Church through its heads, acknowledged or striving for power, ought to be received with much distrust, and entertained with reluctance, rather than sought for; and that even advances from individual Churches are doubtful, in the offer and in the issue. But, thirdly, that we ought steadily to adhere to the plan of operations adopted in 1838, and now most satisfactorily at work, inviting the people to come out from Syrianism, and straining every nerve to extend and strengthen our own Church in all its fulness and integrity. I would rather see the people come over by twos and threes, or tens and twelves, than by thousands. I feel confident we shall succeed better in our warfare by cutting off details than by encountering masses; till desertions shall have so weakened the force of the adversary, that he will muster but a skeleton of his former array.

ALLEPIE.

Report by the Rev. H. Baker.

The Rev. H. Baker has continued in charge of Allepie. On the 14th of May 1847 he writes—

Allepie is a Station that is thought too little of, probably owing, in some measure, to its not being a very desirable place to live in; but as a firm footing has now been gained, and there is prospect of much good being done—now that its days of infancy are passed, and it has gone through a severe trial—I am of opinion it ought to be well supported. It is by no means an unhealthy place. In the heathen village of Rayalpooram the Readers are attended once a fortnight, on the Thursday, by from 20 to 30 adults, and by as many of the School-children. We want only a greater number of faithful Native Labourers, and I am persuaded the blessing of God would not be withheld. The Congregation of Allepie had its origin in the conversion of some of the poor people belonging to the Sircar Hospital, which was for some years under the care of the late Rev. T. Norton. Subsequently to this, others have been baptized, and there is now a good number of these poor people, who—from the great distance of the place where they live, and the miserable state to which disease has reduced them—are unable to attend the public Means of Grace. For these a small Place of Worship should be especially provided, and a Reader appointed to reside among them. The purchase of a piece of ground, and the erection of a small Chapel, might be accomplished for about 500 rupees. There are many others in the Hospital who would attend, beside the children belonging to the School in that neighbourhood; and thus the Word of Life might be brought home to many who have lost all prospect of happiness here, and prepare them for a more glorious and happy life hereafter.

TRICHOOR.

Report, by the Rev. H. Harley.

The Rev. H. Harley continues in charge of this Station, in the Cochin territory. He reports, July 2, 1847—

Through the blessing of the Lord we have been enabled to pursue our daily duties through another half-year; and, as opportunities have presented, have proclaimed that only name by which men can be saved. Several individuals have been brought within the pale of Christ's visible Church, and we would humbly trust that, as they become further instructed, they will become established, strengthened, settled in the true faith. I would here observe, that the Natives do not now appear to be so tenaciously attached to their superstitious creeds as formerly, and external circumstances concur, in some measure, still more to loosen their blind adherence to mere forms of Religion.

On our first arrival here, it was difficult to gain access to the general mass, as the Natives could not conjecture what our motives could be for our gratuitous distribution of books, which were always received with hesitation and fear. By our constant residence here, this mistrust on their part has in some measure been overcome.

Those already baptized are, we trust, improving under the Means of Grace. Divine Service on the Lord's-day has been well attended, and the number of Communicants has averaged about 32. The adults have also been regularly instructed on the Lord's-day afternoon, and the female part of the Congregation have been daily taught from twelve to two o'clock—i. e. as many as are able to attend, and when other duties do not intervene.

On the 12th of September Mr. Harley reports—

After reading the Second Lesson I administered the rite of Baptism to 17 individuals, including children. The adults were all converts from Heathenism, and had been under instruction for some time.

TELOOGOO MISSION.

MASULIPATAM.

Failure of the Rev. H. W. Fox's Health.

The Rev. H. W. Fox resumed his Missionary duties at this Station at the commencement of 1847, and the Mission was further strengthened by the addition of the Rev. J. E. Sharkey, after his admission to Deacons' Orders. For a short time, therefore, the various departments of labour were efficiently sustained; but the Committee regret to state, that ere the close of the year the health of Mr. Fox gave way, and, after trying a visit to Madras, he has been obliged to return home without the prospect of being able to resume his Missionary labours.

Tamul and Teloogoo Services.

The Reports of the different Labourers employed in this Mission show a small, but it is hoped a sure, progress, in the various branches into which it is distributed. The Rev. R. T. Noble, in a Letter dated Jan. 13, 1848, reports that the Tamul Service conducted by Mr. Sharkey had an average attendance of 14 adults. The Teloogoo Services conducted by himself were attended by 12 adults, beside the School children. The Native Christians had begun to unite in praising God in Hymns, set to familiar English Psalm and Hymn tunes—such as the Old Hundredth, Cambridge New, &c.—by which their devotion was enlivened, and an additional manifestation afforded of communion with the Church at home. A new and improved version of the Prayer-book in Teloogoo has been made by H. Newill, Esq., of Guntoor, who has printed and supplied it to the Congregation free of cost.

Preaching to the Heathen—Missionary Tours.

While Mr. Fox remained at his Station his labours were devoted to direct Mission work among the Heathen. He writes, March 27, 1847—

My employment is, to go out before sunrise into the town, which is close to my house, and there spend an hour or two in conversing, preaching, and disputing, with a crowd of people in some corner of a street. I get ready listeners, though not so favourable ones as in the villages: nevertheless, I make the name of Christ known to many, and give away a few Tracts. Nearly the whole day I am engaged with visitors in my house: many boys from the English School come and spend hours with me; and I have visits from many grown-up Natives, with whom I have long and interesting conversations.

Mr. Fox made several extensive tours through the villages in the surrounding country, and visited some of the most famous idol festivals. On these occasions he had many opportunities of declaring the Truth, both to Mahomedans and Hindoos, and generally received respectful attention. One specimen may be extracted from his Journal during a visit to Mangalagherry in company with the Rev. W. Gunn, an American Lutheran Missionary from Guntoor—

March 1, 1847—The better to get at the people, I pitched my tent in a grove of tamarind trees, in sight of the great temple, and just outside the crowd. Here I had crowds of listeners. As many as could find room sat down in my tent: the rest crammed all the space round about the doors on each side of the tent, and looked in through the windows. I must have had from 50 to 60 people at a time, most of them attentive, and continuing for a length of time: among them were a good many women. I continued for an hour and a half or more, at a time, to preach to them, about idols, sin, and Jesus Christ the one sacrifice for sin. When I was tired I read to them the Ten Commandments, explaining and applying them, or else a Tract, commenting on it as I read. The crowd being great, the noise from the distant crowd reaching the tent, and my audience being not so much before me as at my right hand and left, I had to exert myself much, and to shout loudly: this, with a temperature of about 94°, was exhausting; and when the two days were over I was greatly fatigued, and my throat very sore. But it was a subject of great rejoicing that I had been permitted to preach Christ to such great numbers, who had never heard of Him before, without obstruction or opposition. Though I sat preaching in Satan's own seat, yet he seemed to be restrained, and the power of God to be withholding him, that he should not work out his malice against the Gospel or its minister.

Education—Vernacular and English Schools.

Two Teloo goo Vernacular Schools for boys have been established, and a Girls' Day and Boarding-school by Mrs. Sharkey. It is the first of the kind ever opened at Masulipattam, and has struggled into existence through many difficulties.

The English School was making good progress till the beginning of June, when—in consequence of one of the boys in it seeking baptism, and another youth, not connected with it, breaking caste, and staying in the School-house in the service of one of the Assistants—several of the more advanced scholars left the School. After a few weeks, however, many returned, and the places of the remainder were more than supplied by fresh scholars. The number increased to 65; 28 being Brahmins, 30 Soodras, 2 Komities, 4 Mussulmans, and 1 Christian. The School gives much satisfaction to the Missionaries, and the examinations, which have been attended by the European residents, have done great credit to the zeal and efficiency of the Teachers.*

COMMENCED 1818.

Mission Establishment:

10 European Missionaries.	†88 Native Teachers of all classes.
†22 Native Catechists.

THIS Mission has been strengthened during the last year, the Rev. J. T. Johnston having returned to his Station at Nellore, and the Rev. Isaiah Wood, an ordained Student from Islington, having been added to the Mission; while the Rev. R. Pargiter has been permanently connected with the Society, and Mr. Collins has been admitted to Deacons' Orders by the Bishop of Colombo.

General View—Decay of Idolatry.

The progress of the work throughout the Mission has been, on the whole, satisfactory. The decay of idolatry, and the general inclination of the native mind toward the profession of Christianity, are facts which become more and more apparent. Upon the first point the Society's Senior Missionary, the Rev. W. Oakley, thus writes, June 4, 1847—

It is perhaps not easy, in the present day, to form a correct estimate of the positive results of Missionary labour in India. From all I can learn and see, I am inclined to the opinion that the general result of education has been to place an immense multitude of the rising generation in a kind of transition state; that is, they have given up Heathenism externally, they no longer prostrate themselves before an image of mud or stone, but they are not Christians. Atheism, or an entire disregard of Religion, seems to be the real state of very large multitudes in the present day; and this is perhaps what might naturally be expected. Any system of education, which at all expands the mind, will lead persons of reflection to reject the grosser forms of idolatry; but nothing less than the grace of God can lead men to truth and holiness. This doubtless accounts for the fact, which is somewhat remarkable, that by far the greater part of the children educated in our Schools—I speak more particularly of Ceylon—seem to live quite as regardless of Religion as those who have not been favoured with a religious education.

The present state of India is one which should call forth the best energies, and the most fervent prayers, of God's faithful people. Heathenism has received a blow from which it can never recover. It is fast losing its hold of men's affections. The priests themselves admit it. We occasionally see a bold display in its favour, as if to raise the spirits of its votaries; but it amounts to nothing, and soon dies away again. There has been something of this kind within the last fortnight in Kandy. Several villages joined together to make what they now consider a grand offering at the chief Buddhist Temple in this town. It was paraded through the streets with elephants, and torches, and banners, and music; but the next morning all had passed away, and it seemed to be almost forgotten. Scarcely eighty years since an offering made to Buddhu within a few miles of this town was the formation of a temple, about forty feet long and twenty feet wide, containing a number of Heathen deities, the chief of which is a figure of Buddhu, thirty-six feet long and well-proportioned, and the whole is an excavation of a solid granite rock! Such offerings to the Devil have, we would hope, passed away for ever. In proportion as education spreads, the temples seem to fall into ruin, and the people have now great difficulty in keeping them in repair. New ones, except on a very small scale, are nowhere seen. I was very much struck with this some years since, when travelling in South India. Several new pagodas were visible; but they were all small ones, and would bear no comparison with the ancient ones. We now wait for the refreshing breath of Heaven. When the Spirit shall descend upon us from on high the dry bones around us will live, and there will then appear "an exceeding great army."

Commencement of a Revised Singhalese Version of the Scriptures.

For some time past the Missionaries of the Society have seen the necessity for a revision of the Singhalese Version of the Scriptures, and the Old Testament is now in progress. The principles adopted in this revision are, to reject the Honorifics, to preserve the Hebrew form of expression, and to make the translation as nearly literal as possible, following the example of the translators of the authorized English Version. The Rev. J. F. Haslam, assisted by the Rev. C. Senanayaka, at Cotta; the Rev. W. Oakley, assisted by the Rev. C. Jayesinhe, at Kandy; and the Rev. C. Greenwood, assisted by the Rev. A. Goonesekera, at Baddagame; are the Missionaries engaged in the work. They will seek the advice and co-operation of other learned Natives, and will occasionally meet at Cotta to compare their notes and confer on any matters likely to advance the work in hand.

In reference to the principles on which this work is conducted the Bishop of Colombo writes, May 1, 1847—

The more calmly I deliberate upon the subject, the stronger becomes my conviction that your ground is the only strong ground on which a translator of God's revealed Word of Truth can take his stand. It is one of principle—of intelligent and faithful principle.

COTTA.

The Missionaries of this Station, the Rev. Messrs. Haslam and Taylor, have been absent for long intervals, on account of their health or that of their families. At the close of the year, however, four European Missionaries, and the Native Assistant Missionary, the Rev. C. Senanayaka, were engaged in their several departments of labour.

Annual Report for the Year 1847.

The Annual Report speaks in encouraging terms of the result of the Missionary labours during the last year. It is stated—

At some of our villages the number of adult attendants has considerably increased during the past year, and we hope that at all of them regular and fixed Congregations have been formed.

We think we may say that the Missionary prospects at this Station are, upon the whole, more encouraging than we have known them before. The people around us are willing to receive Christian instruction to any extent to which it can be imparted. It is true there are as yet but few of them who can be regarded as true and living members of Christ's Church; but we hope that the number of such is increasing, chiefly by means of the Christian instruction of the rising generation. Humanly speaking, the great desideratum at this Station is the bringing a greater force of instruction to bear upon the surrounding ignorance. The people are willing to listen to us whenever, and as long as, we are able to speak to them about the truths of Christianity; but they most emphatically need "line upon line, and precept upon precept." The very simplest and most elementary truths of Christianity need to be inculcated, not merely on the Sabbath, but day after day, and we might almost say hour after hour, even in those who have professedly been members of our Congregations many years.

Commencement of a Church at Yakbadda—Other Openings.

Mr. Haslam, in a Letter dated Aug. 13, 1847, gives the following encouraging facts—

About a fortnight ago, we commenced building the first of our village Churches in connexion with this Station. It is at a place called Yakbadda (Devil's Jungle), where we have had a School for many years. This place, or somewhere in its neighbourhood, would form a very good Branch Station, when we are able to establish such around Cotta, which is very desirable. Favourable prospects for extending the Cotta Mission seem to be indeed opening around us. Only a week or two ago Mr. Collins went out to a sugar estate, about eight miles from Cotta, and not far from Boratergomua, where the people are very desirous that we should establish a School and have Divine Service. One of the proprietors of the estate told him that, if we wished to establish a Branch Station there, he would give all the labour, stones, and timber necessary for a Mission-house and small Church, and would, moreover, be happy to superintend the building of them.

The Institution.—Annual Examination.

This important branch of Missionary labour, in which promising Native Youths are trained for becoming Teachers of their countrymen, has been conducted by the Principal, Mr. Haslam, with the assistance of the Rev. A. D. Gordon. By the last accounts the number of students was 19. The Institution has not been without its trials. A spirit of insubordination was at one time manifested among the pupils, which compelled the Principal to send away two senior students. This wholesome discipline soon restored good order among the rest of the students. In June 1847 the Bishop and the new Governor of Ceylon favoured the Institution with a visit, to assist in the annual examination. The Bishop kindly sent the Society the following animating account of the day, in a Letter dated June 26—

We had a most gratifying day on Tuesday last, the day appointed for my examination of your Institution at Cotta. Soon after the arrival of His Excellency, Lord Torrington, to assume the reins of Government in this Colony, I expressed to him my hope that he would visit on that occasion the most hopeful, as well as most fruitful, of the Missionary establishments of our Church under his rule. He promptly and gladly assented to my proposal; and, accompanied by Lady Torrington and Sir James Emerson Tennent, the Colonial Secretary, he drove out to Cotta, in spite of a most unfavourable morning during the change of our Monsoon, which has been more than usually tempestuous. I had preceded them, with Mrs. Chapman, to breakfast with Mr. Haslam, its highly-valued Principal, and to devote the whole day to the examination. We commenced about ten o'clock with the Greek Testament. The sixth chapter of St. John was not only well construed, but intelligently explained, and the answers, both to questions of scriptural illustration and philology also, were certainly much beyond what I anticipated. In fact, I was unconsciously led on, by the accuracy of the students' answers, to a course of examination to which I should not, but for their success in its commencement, have thought of subjecting them. It was, however, in its result, the more satisfactory on this account, and thoroughly tested the accuracy of their knowledge, and excellence of the system.

The examination was weak in no part. All was equable and good. In distributing the prizes for the year, I was glad of the opportunity of presenting to His Excellency your own Native Missionary, Comel Senanayaka, who was present, as among the first-fruits of my own Episcopate as well as of the Cotta Institution. The Governor then addressed them in earnest and impressive language, awarding the full meed of thanks and praise to your earnest-hearted Principal. We all returned, thankful, I hope, for a day of much gratification and good promise.

The Principal and Tutor, in their Annual Report of the Institution, state—

We can speak favourably of the general conduct and diligence of the Students, and we look forward with considerable hope to the time of their becoming, before long, useful assistants in the Mission. Twelve of their number are Communicants; and, except on one occasion, when they were led, by bad example, to join for a time in insubordinate proceedings, their conduct has been generally steady and consistent, so far as we have been able to observe.

KANDY.

General View.

Mr. Oakley, assisted by the Native Missionary, the Rev. C. Jayesinhe, conducts this branch of the Ceylon Mission. In a Letter dated Oct. 13, 1847, Mr. Oakley thus writes—

Our Congregation on the Mission Premises, on the Lord's-day morning, continues very good, and those who attend appear to be very attentive. On Sunday morning last the Congregation was larger than could well be accommodated in the present building. The number of children who attend our Schools is still small, nor is there a prospect of its being increased at present. But although I am not yet able to write in very glowing terms of the state of things here, I think I may with truth say that the Station is, upon the whole, in a more healthy state than I have seen it since I have been here. May the Lord continue to prosper our efforts in His cause, and may He grant that a still greater blessing may rest upon our people, that many more around us may soon be turned "from darkness to light, and from the power" and service "of Satan unto" Himself!

Nominal Christianity at Kandy.

In the last Report an allusion was made to the exercise of strict discipline over the Native Christians, descendants for the most part of ancient Dutch Missions, in order to raise the tone of spiritual religion. A case has lately occurred which both shows the necessity of discipline, and illustrates its practice. A man, nominally a Protestant Christian, was reported, by a Native School-Visitor, to have been guilty of an act of Heathenism. He prepared, at considerable expense, a shed, or room, and collected a large number of people to listen to the reading of passages from heathen books, which, among the Heathen, is considered to be a very meritorious work. This took place on a Saturday night, yet he, with his wife and child, were in Church on Sunday morning. As the man was not a Communicant Mr. Oakley was somewhat at a loss how to act in the case; but eventually, after reference to the Bishop, it was determined to adopt the course described in the following report—

The man was required to confess his sin in the presence of the Congregation, and promise, by Divine assistance, never to indulge in such abominable practices for the future. After due instruction on the subject, the man stood up in the Congregation, acknowledged his guilt, and requested to be re-admitted into the Congregation, under promise of avoiding such practices in future. He was accordingly re-admitted, and has conducted himself properly ever since.

Erection of a Church at Gatambe.

It is always encouraging to hear that Native Converts exhibit so much affection for Christian Worship as to make self-denying efforts toward the erection of their Churches. Some instances of this kind are now apparent among the Christians of Ceylon. Mr. Oakley reports that he has commenced a Church at Gatambe, a village three miles from Kandy, where a small School had been carried on for the last fifteen years. The expense was to be about 300*l.*, of which the Natives in the neighbourhood raised the large proportion of 114*l.* Mr. Oakley writes, in a Letter dated October 13—

In addition to the sum above mentioned as having been subscribed by the Natives, I may add that they have, at their own expense, cleared and newly fenced the whole of the ground on which the Church is erected, consisting of about an acre and a half, including the burial ground. They are now preparing a fresh subscription list to build a small Schoolroom on the same premises; as the one hitherto used, a mere mud building, being contiguous to the Church, must be removed as soon as the Church is opened for Divine Service.

BADDAGAME.

The Rev. C. Greenwood continues at this Station, assisted by the Native Missionary, the Rev. A. Goonesekera. The Rev. I. Wood and Mrs. Wood were added to the Station at the close of the year. In a Letter dated May 25 Mr. Greenwood thus describes the character of his work—

We have enough of encouragement to keep us from despair; but nothing to cause the exultation of pride: many times “faint, but still pursuing.” Our work still bears a chequered appearance, and I have now to tell of some hopes and some fears. Blessed be God! the former predominate.

Testimony of the Rev. J. T. Johnston.

The following is the satisfactory testimony of an experienced brother Missionary—the Rev. J. T. Johnston—upon his return to Ceylon after a visit to England. In a Letter dated Sept. 8, 1847, he thus writes—

I felt extreme pleasure in paying my first visit to Baddagame, where Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood gave us a hearty welcome. I attended their Services on Sunday in the Church, and although, owing to the harvest, the Congregations were smaller than usual, they were attentive. A rather singular coincidence occurred between my first visit to Cotta, in 1840, and my visit to Baddagame at this time. On both occasions I was privileged to hear a Native Ordained Clergyman proclaiming the truths of the Gospel. On the former occasion I heard the Rev. C. Jayesinhe, on the latter, the Rev. A. Goonesekera. After Service I went to Mrs. Greenwood’s Girls’ School, and questioned the girls upon the Sermon. I was really much delighted with the answers, even the little ones showing that they had some remembrance of the Sermon. On Monday the Rev. E. Newman, of Palamcottah, who was sojourning here, and I examined the Seminary boys; and their general knowledge of Scripture, of Geography, and the outlines of English History, was extremely creditable. Both of us felt much satisfaction, and I could not help comparing, in my mind, what I had but lately seen in England with what I now heard. The comparison was not very favourable to our Schools at home, as a whole.

Female Education.

On this head it is stated, in the Annual Report—

Mrs. Greenwood meets a number of elder girls, once a week in the Vestry, with a view to impress upon their attention the importance of making Religion a personal concern—a point which is more than ordinarily overlooked by a people trained up in the notions of merit and irresistible fate. The meeting was commenced with a view to the instruction of the married females connected with the Station, several of whom are respectable in rank, but very ignorant. Many promised to attend, and indeed some did so; but it was always so irregularly as to be disheartening: and they gradually declined in their attendance till the meeting would have come to nothing, had not the elder girls of the School been taken for instruction in a manner which could hardly have been done in the Schoolroom.

NELLORE.

This District is inhabited by a large population speaking Tamul. The Rev. Messrs. Johnston, Pargiter, and O'Neill reside at separate Stations—Chundicully, Nellore, and Copay; and their labours extend over about 30,000 inhabitants.

Chundicully.

Mr. Johnston only returned to this Station at the close of the year. He speaks of the very serious disadvantage arising to the flock from the recent changes of Missionaries, and from the interval during which there was no resident Missionary. The Roman Catholics, also, are making great efforts, on a far more extensive scale than our Mission, to seduce the people. It is remarked, in the Annual Report—

While there is something to call for thankfulness, there is much to excite our fears and to demand more earnest, unceasing, and self-denying exertion.

Nellore—Enlargement of the Church.

The Church at Nellore has been enlarged—almost rebuilt—by the exertions of Mr. O'Neill, to which the Natives gave liberal contributions. In a Letter dated Dec. 8, 1847, Mr. O'Neill writes—

Without trespassing on the Society's funds for more than 50*l.*, we hope to have a Church, though devoid of elegance, still possessing all the appearance of neatness and order. It is now seventy feet long—including the chancel and tower about ninety-two feet—by thirty-one feet wide. It will seat between 300 and 400, and with a gallery at the west end—which at present I must not hope for—would seat about 500. It will, when finished, be a silent witness to the truth of the Gospel in a part of the province where Heathenism is rampant.

In his Journal Mr. O'Neill thus relates the Baptism of Six persons.

On Christmas-day, being one of the days on which the rite of Baptism is administered, the Services and Sermon for the day were adapted to it. Previous notice having been given of it, the Church was well attended. Seven were baptized, of whom six were Boarding-school girls, and one adult. Of Chittumbilam, the adult, I feel a persuasion that Baptism was to him the ratification of truths firmly believed and prayerfully acted on. Though not subject to severe persecution here, his case still proves that a profession of the faith of Christ requires more than mere idle assent. There is enough to try sincerity where there is an honest open avowal. His nearest relatives, since the day of his baptism, have looked reproachfully on him, and tell him he is no longer to be looked on as a friend, but a stranger, for "he has broken the links of his caste." Others proceed still further, reviling him, and telling him he has proved traitor to his profession. I trust, however, that he will be enabled to act toward all with wisdom and Christian simplicity.

Mr. Pargiter has undertaken the formation of an Out-station at Copay, in the vicinity of Nellore. He writes from his new Station, Dec. 9, 1847—

We arrived here on the 11th ult., before the commencement of the rains. I hold Service on the Lord's-day morning, at half-past eight o'clock, in the verandah of the house, the only suitable place we have at present, and I am thankful to say it is well attended. In addition to the school-children there are from 30 to 50 adults generally present, and, though all heathen, they manifest a great desire to hear the Gospel. For some time past there has been an evident disposition manifested to become acquainted with Christianity, whether from disinterested motives or otherwise remains to be proved. We are glad, however, to catch hold of any indication of good, and if we can secure the attendance of the people on the Services of the Gospel there is a hope of their salvation. The heavy rains have prevented me from attending the Out-school Meetings since my arrival. From these Meetings I expect considerable good to arise. The Services partake more of a colloquial nature than the regular Services of the Lord's-day, and by this means truth is very frequently elicited, and the views, and feelings, and opinions of the people are more easily ascertained. Experience has proved to me that we must not depend for success and great results on the regular Services of the Lord's-day. These are of essential service to the Native Christians and servants of the Mission; but, if the Heathen are to be brought out of their native darkness, the villages and hamlets must be thoroughly fermented, and "precept upon precept, line upon line," enforced and explained.*

Reinforcement of the Mission.

It is with peculiar satisfaction that the Committee are able to state that the China Mission has been strengthened during the past year by the addition of three graduates from our Universities, in full Orders, who in November last embarked for Shanghai; and, it is to be hoped, have ere this arrived at the distant scene of their future labours. One of them, the Rev. W. Farmer, B.A., with Mrs. Farmer, will remain at Shanghai as coadjutor to the Rev. T. M'Clatchie, who has hitherto had to experience the continued disappointment of long-deferred hope of aid. The Rev. R. H. Cobbold, M.A., late Curate of Melton Mowbray, where his pastoral labours are held in affectionate and grateful remembrance, will proceed, in company with the Rev. W. A. Russell, B.A., by an early opportunity, from Shanghai to Ningpo, to commence the second Station of the China Mission in that place. During the temporary detention of Messrs. Cobbold and Russell at Shanghai, the four Missionaries of the Society will form themselves into a Committee for deciding on the plan and site of a Church at Shanghai, which is immediately to be commenced for the accommodation of the numerous Chinese attendants on Public Worship. It is to be hoped that ere long a similar place for Divine Worship will be required at Ningpo; and that, with the necessary offerings of gold and silver, the prayers of the little company of the Lord's remembrancers will frequently arise before God on behalf of these our brethren.

Labours of the Rev. T. M'Clatchie.

Mr. M'Clatchie, in his communications to the Society, reports that his present room for Divine Worship continues to be crowded by attentive and willing listeners to the message of the Gospel; and that he is frequently visited by respectable Natives for conversation and discussion on religious subjects. Thus he writes, May 29, 1847—

My little lodge is now crowded to excess every Lord's-day: the people crowd in, until actually there is not even standing room. Romanists frequently come to hear me preach. A very respectable woman came the Sunday before last, and after Service I invited her and some others up stairs to see Mrs. M'Clatchie, when we had some interesting conversation together. On last Sunday she came again, and brought a friend with her to attend my Service. They both seemed interested. I have had a new teacher for a short time, who seems very much interested in the doctrines of Jesus. He asked me to baptize him; but I could not conscientiously do so yet. I told him the necessity of faith and repentance in order to a right reception of that Sacrament, and gave him some books on the subject. He is always anxious to speak about the interests of the soul; but, alas! I know the Chinese too well now to be very sanguine of the result. It is wonderful how deeply the feelings of love and adoration of Confucius are implanted in their hearts. The doctrine of intrinsic righteousness, which he taught, is a sad obstacle to the reception of the Gospel. I have had many conversations on the subject with my teacher, who now confesses that he thinks it untenable; but still there is an evident reluctance exhibited to confess that Confucius taught any erroneous doctrine.

And of his translational labours he states, in the same Letter—

I have now finished the Morning Service and the Collects in the Shanghai dialect. My teacher is very much pleased with the Morning Service, which I completed yesterday, and says that there is not a single expression in it which the Chinese cannot understand. The Rev. C. Gutzlaff's translation of our Liturgy is excellent: nothing can possibly be better. I have taken it as the ground-work of my Shanghai version. Many phrases, such as "a broken spirit," "the rock of our salvation," &c., gave me a great deal of trouble; but I have got these ideas in local idiom at last. I am about to send a copy to the other Episcopal Missionaries here, in order that they may criticise it. The change from the local dialect into the literary style can be easily effected at any time, and then it may be read and understood by the whole empire. Mr. Gutzlaff's, however, is quite sufficient for that purpose: my teacher praises it very much. I was not myself aware of its existence until a few months ago: it only exists in MS. as yet.

Disturbances at Canton—Safety of the Society's Mission.

The recent disturbed state of the Chinese populace at Canton has been viewed with serious alarm by many Christian persons in this country, as likely to throw an impediment in the way of Missionary proceedings in China. Those disturbances are not, however, likely to cause any interruption to the Missionary work in the Society's Stations at Shanghai and Ningpo, which places are nearly a thousand miles distant from Canton, and contain a race of people happily free from the hatred of foreigners which distinguishes the mob at Canton.*

General View.

THERE have been no fresh disturbances in the Northern District since the suppression of Heke's revolt. The outbreak in the South, in the Valley of the Hutt—alluded to in the last Report—has also been quelled; but in each case much excitement and unsettledness remains. A formidable insurrection has taken place on the Western Coast, at Wanganui, of which an account will be given in connexion with the Missionary Station at that place. These events are here alluded to, to remind the Society's friends of the difficulties which still beset the Missionaries, and which hinder the progress of the Gospel among the Natives.

In those parts in which there has been comparative quietness, an evident progress has been made in the religious improvement of the Natives, and the ground lost during the previous commotions has been partially recovered. The late trials proved a sifting time: multitudes have fallen back into a mere nominal profession of the faith—some few have apostatized to their old heathen practices—and some have been purified, and their Christian graces have shone forth with the lustre which marks the power of a Divine operation.

Interest of the Governor in the Society's Operations.

His Excellency Governor Grey has manifested a very lively interest in the Society's operations, having visited many of the Missionaries at their Stations, and encouraged them by his counsel and by pecuniary assistance. He has frankly communicated to the Society his views of what seemed to him to have been objectionable in the conduct of some of the Missionaries with reference to land purchases; but at the same time bears this honourable testimony to the labours of the Society, and to the great results which, under God, have been accomplished through its instrumentality, in a Letter to the Honorary Clerical Secretary dated April 12, 1847—

* Reprinted from the last year's Report, except the Eastern District.

I am delighted to hear that the Society do not intend to withdraw from the great and good work which they have entered upon in New Zealand. I shall always cheerfully bear witness to the great amount of good which the Society has effected in New Zealand, and reflect with pleasure that there are many among its Missionaries whose character and labours must long live in the recollection of all who take an interest in the human race.

Correspondence on Education between His Excellency and the Rev. R. Maunsell.

The following correspondence between Governor Grey and one of the Missionaries will still further evidence the interest taken by His Excellency in the social and religious improvement of the Natives, and will, at the same time, afford some deeply-interesting facts connected with the same. On the 25th of January 1847 the Rev. R. Maunsell wrote to His Excellency—

SIR—The urbanity with which you condescended, in my late visit to Auckland, to explain to me some of your views respecting the native race, and the kind offer you made of assisting me in any way that was in your power, have encouraged me to write this Letter to your Excellency. The subject will, I trust, commend itself as deserving attention, and will also be an apology for my thus trespassing upon you.

I believe I am right in concluding that you assented to the remark that I took the liberty of then making to you, that the position in which the New Zealanders should be regarded was not very dissimilar from that of a ward in Chancery—from this simple reason, that, no matter what moral advance they may have made, their character, until properly disciplined, will always exhibit a strange mixture of the craft and spirit of the man, with the improvidence and fickleness of the child. If, therefore, left to themselves, there is reason to fear that they would soon alienate their lands for any bauble that might at the time excite their desire; and though they got a fair equivalent in money, yet, when they found hereafter that nothing now remained to them, and that their properties thus sold were increasing in value, it is more than probable that a strong feeling of discontent would arise in their minds, particularly against the Government, whom they are taught to consider as their friends and guardians.

That the Government should therefore maintain a check upon their sale of lands is, I think, most desirable.

It will, I trust, be also admitted, that, while the Government remunerate themselves for their expense and trouble by a share of the produce of the land sales, they are also bound to provide that the Native should get a fair benefit from this disposal of his properties.

What should be the nature of the good thus derived to the Native is the question on which I desire now to offer a few remarks.

I admit that the making roads, and carrying out other such useful works for the benefit of the country, is, in a certain sense, a good rendered to those of the Aborigines who are owners of property in the neighbourhood of those improvements, or who are employed in works connected with them.

Still it is not, I consider, the good now most suited to their present condition; for—to keep up the original idea of guardianship—we should not consider that those guardians were best consulting the interests of their ward who simply aimed at increasing the value of his estate, without preparing him for its proper enjoyment.

What the Aborigines now most need is, education—education, not only for their own sakes, but for that also of the Colony.

They need it for their own good; for it is clear this state of nonage ought not always to last; and the only reason why they are considered unfit to use their properties is, because they are uneducated.

It is needed for the sake of the island at large; for who cannot see how intimately connected it is with the interests of a country, whether nine-tenths of its population be wild, lawless, roaming warriors, disturbed themselves, and disturbing others, or whether they be induced to settle down as useful members of society, fearing God and respecting lawful authority.

That neither fear, political management, nor the prospect of gain, can produce this result, is, I am satisfied, well known by yourself, from the intercourse you have already had with a people more easily daunted, and perhaps of less impetuous passions, than the New Zealanders.

The great nations of Europe have taught us a lesson which I trust will not be forgotten in the government of this deeply-interesting country. They show, by the efforts they are making to promote education, that they are of opinion that it is the interest and duty of the State to help forward the moral culture of its subjects.

A chief reason, I suspect, why so little has been done hitherto toward the education of the Aborigines, is from an impression that there are Religious Societies in operation which will adequately attend to that duty. This opinion, I am sorry to say, is far from being correct.

That a great deal has been done is as much a source of wonder as of gratitude. On this head, however, I shall not enlarge, after the high terms in which your Excellency was pleased to speak to me in reference to our labours. Still, a statement of the case will, I am sure, evince how deeply we need a large and immediate increase to the means we have now in operation. I will confine myself to the labours of the Church Missionary Society, with which I am connected, and with which I am best acquainted.

The field of labour of this Society may be described as being all that portion of this island, excepting a few places occupied by the Roman Catholics, which lies to the eastward of a line drawn from Cape Maria Van Diemen down by Kaitaia on to Waimate; thence nearly direct to Auckland; from thence to the mouth of the Waikato River; up the Waikato; on to Taupo; down the Wanganui to its mouth, and along the Western Coast to Port Nicholson. That is to say, we occupy upward of five-sixths of this island, an island nearly as large as Great Britain. We occupy it with twenty-four men, ordained and Catechists, two of whom are unable from sickness to continue any longer in the field, and others are unable, from the same cause, and age, to attend to their heavy duties.

On the Mission 10,000*l.* is spent annually by the Home Society, and this sum is appropriated to the providing and maintaining residences for the Missionaries, to the salaries of the Missionaries, to their travelling and all such contingent expenses; to the building, repairing, and maintaining Places of Worship; and to the keeping in operation a press for printing the Scriptures, and other useful books in the Maori tongue. More than 500*l.* also of this sum is devoted to the maintenance of Schools.

All the Stations, except two, are occupied but by one Missionary, and the average size of his sphere of labour is larger than an English diocese. On him alone rests every kind of duty connected with the Station, secular and spiritual, and more than a third of his time is occupied in visiting the different Native Settlements.

With so many distracting cares, it is clear that he cannot pay steady attention to any one locality, or to any School on that locality. The Native Teachers, it is true, are useful; but their characters are too unstable, and their knowledge too scanty, to enable us to look for any thing that is permanent or solid from them. To add to our difficulties, the people are, in the majority of the districts, so scattered and so migratory, that the instances are but few in which Day-schools of any magnitude are capable of being conducted with regularity. The only satisfactory way in which education can be brought to bear on this population is through the medium of Boarding-schools. In establishing these we are met by the insuperable difficulty of heavy expenditure and contracted means.

Though many attempts have been made, no system has been yet brought into action by which a School can be maintained at less than six pounds per annum for each child. The school at Kaitaia is the only exception I am aware of. In that Institution 20 children are maintained and boarded at an expense of two pounds per child; but this is owing to there being two Missionaries on that Station—men not only active, but skilled also in manual occupation; and thus able to avail themselves of local advantages.

To what source we are to look for the support of Schools is a question that has been for some time anxiously discussed in this Mission. From the Home Society, considering the heavy demands upon them from other, and densely-peopled, quarters of the world, we cannot expect any increase of their grant. Indeed, they have more than once intimated a desire to be relieved from the burden of this Mission, that they might bend their attention to new fields, in which the need of Missionary labour is more urgent than it is even in this island. Our local resources your Excellency is, I dare say, well aware, are very scanty, while the calls for instruction are more urgent. Our present position may therefore be not unaptly described by the homely, but strong proverb, of the Jewish King—"The children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth." We have brought the people into condition for receiving instruction, and are now unable to administer it. What the coming years will witness is a matter of deep anxiety. The fear is, that circumstances, now so favourable, will not be found to continue if unimproved.

Under these feelings I have taken the liberty of bringing this question before your notice. I have been told that my labour would be lost; but, as I believe your desires are with us, I venture to hope you will make an effort to have that done for the Aborigines which is but common justice on the part of their protectors and guardians—the British Government, who have (mainly through Missionary influence) obtained from them the voluntary cession of such a large measure of control over their properties, and who are now receiving 20,000*l.* per annum from them in the shape of taxes; a sum of which I was not aware until I heard it from your Excellency, and on which I leave it with your Excellency to say whether my memory has misled me.

How much should be given, and how it should be given, are two questions which, if properly settled, might perhaps open the way to our receiving the assistance we need. I am in great hopes that in this matter but little difficulty will be found; and that we have, in the proceedings of the Government at home, a sufficient basis for a satisfactory arrangement.

Fearing, however, that having thus intruded upon your attention I have exhausted it, I will not enter upon these and other questions connected with this subject, until it be ascertained that the Colonial Government are ready to lend their aid toward the civilization of a people in whom we hope they are as deeply interested as ourselves.

Begging, therefore, from your Excellency a favourable consideration of this question, I remain,

(Signed)

R. MAUNSELL.

To this Letter his Excellency, on the 12th of February, returned the following reply—

Government House, Auckland.

MY DEAR SIR—I have not so much time as I could wish to reply to your very interesting Letter of the 25th ult. I can perhaps, however, in a few words convey to you the substance of my views, and of my powers to act, in reference to the subject to which you allude.

Firstly, I think that we shall shortly receive from the Natives 20,000*l.* a-year in the form of taxes; but at present I doubt if we receive from them more than from 12,000*l.* to 15,000*l.* per annum.

Secondly, I quite agree with the main features of your ideas respecting the necessity for educating the Natives; and my most earnest desire is to introduce a good permanent system of education into New Zealand; but this can only be done by having a fixed and unfailing fund devoted to this purpose. At present such a fund could not be obtained from the revenue; but if the Colony continues to prosper, and the revenue to increase, as at present, in two or three years' time a considerable annual amount might be voted for that purpose. I need hardly say that I anxiously watch for the moment when I can safely do this.

I quite agree with you that the land fund should be partly expended for the good of the Natives in some other mode beside making roads ; and this is provided for by the Government. Fifteen per cent. of the land fund is to be devoted to the good of the Natives, half of the remaining portion to emigration, and the other half may be devoted to public works, or to the good of the Natives. When we have again a land fund, I will, if I am here, take care that a fair proportion of it is devoted to educational purposes ; but it will require a year or two of peace and prosperity before people will purchase much land.

In the meantime I must beg you to accept my thanks for your Letter, and my excuses for so hurried an answer. In fact, the subject alluded to in your Letter could be only satisfactorily discussed in a long conversation, which perhaps we may contrive to have upon my return from the South, where I proceed to-morrow.

Believe me, &c.

(Signed)

G. GREY.

General Prevalence of Christianity in New Zealand.

The Rev. O. Hadfield, whose acquaintance with the native character entitles his opinion to great weight, thus describes, in a Letter dated March 8, 1847, the general state of things in New Zealand—

The collateral effect of Missionaries' labours on the best-informed and most respectable Settlers is very great—greater, perhaps, than they would themselves be willing to allow ; for they cannot shut their eyes to the effects produced upon the Natives. May not one effect, even of this, under the Divine Blessing, be to lessen that prejudice against Missions which has hitherto prevailed too much in the nominally-Christian world, and, if so, materially to help forward and facilitate the great object ? I generally endeavour to view subjects dispassionately, and am not conscious that I am too sanguine ; but I confess I think that, in a Christian point of view, the late untoward events in New Zealand have been considered too important. I certainly have a much stronger conviction of the reality of the hold that Religion possesses over the professing Natives, since the late disturbances in this part of the country, than I had previously. Last winter, while war was going on in the neighbourhood, Governor Grey visited Waikanae on the Lord's-day, and attended the Native Church and School. It was conducted by a Native Catechist, Levi Te Ahu, a man who has conducted himself invariably in the most Christian manner ever since his conversion seven years ago. On his return to Wellington the Governor came to me, and expressed himself as altogether astonished that such a change could have taken place in a barbarous people in so short a time. I believe that Christianity is extending itself in New Zealand ; and I cannot, with some, allow myself to doubt it merely because some temporary disturbing forces may occasionally appear to arrest its progress. I should have little hesitation in undertaking to maintain the position, that, cæteris paribus, Christianity has made a more rapid progress in New Zealand than it has ever made in any other country since its first proclamation by the Apostles. I have made this assertion here several times, when conversing with intelligent men of extensive reading, and it has been acquiesced in. I merely make this remark, because I fancy I have seen, in some English notices of New Zealand, a kind of commiseration for the obduracy of New Zealanders; when all impartial and competent judges must be astonished at the remarkable progress, in both religion and civilization, which these people have made. Some people, however, persist in observing and reasoning from the worst specimens, and thus mislead both themselves and others.

Future Internal Management of this Mission.

Measures have been adopted for the future management of the affairs of this Mission, which will, it is hoped, under the Divine Blessing, materially increase the efficiency of our operations. Hitherto that management has rested with each of the four local Committees within the districts into which the island is divided. A Central Committee has now been established, consisting of five Clergymen, the Bishop being President. Mr. George Clarke, formerly a Catechist of the Society, having resigned the Government office of Protector of the Aborigines, has been appointed Secretary of the Central Committee, and agent for the management of the property of the Society. It is hoped that the increase of Christian residents in Auckland will soon give the Society the assistance of a few Laymen, as members of the Central Committee, the benefit and importance of such assistance having been long experienced in the Corresponding Committees of India.

Northern District.

General View of the Waimate.

The buildings at THE WAIMATE, which were taken possession of by the troops, have been again occupied by the Missionaries and Schoolmasters. The Rev. R. Burrows writes, in a Report for the year ending June 30, 1847—

Of late there has been an increase in the attendance on our Lord's-day Services. We wish we could say there has also been an increase of spirituality among the members of our Congregation; but we fear that many have "a name to live while they are dead." It is matter for rejoicing, however, to find, after such a sifting time as we have had, so many who still come within the hearing of the Word of Life.

An adult Sunday-school is held every Sunday between the English and Native Evening Services, which is generally well attended: we sometimes number 60. Our Monday-Morning School, which is held immediately after Morning Prayer, varies from 20 to 50, according to the weather and other circumstances. We have also a Monday-Evening School, which chiefly consists of Native Teachers of the different villages and the Natives of the Settlement. We are now going through Genesis, in which they are much interested.

Notwithstanding, therefore, that we have our discouragements—arising from the worldly spirit of many of our baptized Natives, the backsliding of others, and the hardened state of those who are Heathen by profession as well as in practice—we trust we may still “thank God and take courage.”

Death of a Pious Aged Female at Paihía.

Archdeacon Henry Williams thus reports, at the end of December 1846, the case of a Christian Native woman who for a long period adorned her profession of the Christian faith by a consistent life—

On Lord's-day the 30th of August we carried to the grave one of the most interesting characters of our New-Zealand family—Ana, the old widow of Te Koke, the former Chief of this part of the Bay. Her husband died about eighteen years since, and for the last twelve years Ana has generally resided near us, having embraced Christianity among the early members of our Church. She was the old lady who pleaded so earnestly with the late Rev. S. Marsden that a Missionary might be sent to them, on the death of her son when residing with Mr. Marsden at Paramatta, previous to my arrival in New Zealand. For a long period before her death did this good creature conduct herself with great propriety, taking quite a lead among the women, not only of her tribe, but those around: she was treated with the greatest possible respect by all, being a woman of rank. When we first landed at Paihía we had frequent evidence of her natural violent temper, in her disturbing our domestic establishment; but, under the influence of the grace of God, she became possessed of a child-like simplicity and faith, seeking to order her walk and conversation by the precepts of the Sacred Volume, referring all her difficulties to us, and always manifesting a cheerful readiness to act by our advice. She always showed great concern for the welfare of her people, particularly in the last disturbance, during which time she resided with us. Her presence, we considered, was of great protection to the Settlement during the late very trying period. She had a matronly charge in the Girls' School—to keep the children within bounds by her presence. She was always in her place at the Service and at the Sunday-school, and, though too old to read well, could always find the chapter and follow the reading, and felt very uneasy if any thing prevented her being able to do so. She was very diligent with her needle, could sew very nicely, and did a great deal of work from time to time. She knew many portions of Scripture by heart, and in her illness spoke of the 14th chapter of St. John as giving her great comfort. She was upward of 60 years of age when she died.

Missionary Aspect of Kaikohi—Notices of Heke.

The Pa of the well-known warrior Heke is situated at the Station of KAIKOHI. In the last Report reference was made to the disastrous effects, upon the moral and religious character of the people, of the excitement caused by the insurrection. The Reports of the past year furnish many additional testimonies to the same effect. The following affecting passage may be given from the Journal of the Rev. R. Davis—

Jan. 8, 1847—Dark as is every thing around us, I have met with a circumstance to-day which I did not expect to find. I went to visit one of Heke's men, from Waimate, who is very ill. He had not been baptized, nor had he ever, to my knowledge, made any profession of Religion. He soon began to express to me his desire to be prayed with, and lamented his having been led into sin, and kept in it. He said, "When we lived at Waimate together all was well: it was but a little, and I should not have joined the party. But I did join it. We turned to ridicule good things, and now all is wrong. It is true, from the commencement of the war to the present time I have never left off praying." I asked him whether, if God should restore him, he should be able in future to withstand temptation. He replied, "Past experience will allow me to promise nothing." This circumstance leads me to hope that there may be still more dormant religious influence among that party than manifests itself.

In Oct. 1846 Mr. Davis had the happiness of assisting in the reconciliation between Heke and the Governor. His Excellency sent a special messenger to Heke and Kawiti, and the Chief who had fought on the British side—Thomas Walker—was to follow. The following notices occur in Mr. Davis's Journal—

Oct. 3—This morning I was informed that a special messenger had arrived with a Letter to Heke; that he had arrived in company with Kawiti; that a meeting was about to take place here, and that Walker was on his way. Toward the afternoon some people assembled in our little paddock, and in a short time Heke rode in, in full dress as a Chief. After salutation, and he had smoked his pipe, he requested me to furnish him with the materials for writing to the Governor and others, from whom, he observed, he had received satisfactory Letters.

Oct. 4—Heke attended Service, after which I passed to the place where the party had assembled. Old Heke appeared pleased to see me. With the party of Chiefs I saw several members of my Congregation, who had been missing from the Morning Service, and expostulated with them, requesting that they would all attend in the afternoon.

Oct. 6—Heke was with me this morning, and spoke freely of those who first led him astray by setting his mind against the Government.

Oct. 7—This morning Walker and party made their appearance, with a white flag flying. They were received in the usual way, and soon had beef and potatoes set before them. Great satisfaction seemed to be manifested by all parties. All appeared pleased at the prospect of peace.

A few months subsequently Heke visited the Bay of Islands, with a large armed party of 400 men, to remove the bones of his ancestors to his newly-adopted abode in the interior.

In Mr. Davis's Report for the year ending June 30, 1847, he thus alludes to the conduct of Heke, and to the state of his District—

Heke appears to be well disposed. He has selected a piece of ground at Hikurangi, and has cleared it. He has invited the scattered parties in the neighbourhood to come and live with him at the place, where it is his intention to build a Place of Worship. If the people agree with him in these points—namely, to come and live altogether at the place, and attend the public worship of God—he has made up his mind to continue there: if they object to attend the worship of God he intends to seek for another place of abode.

The blessing of peace has been continued to us, nor do we ever remember a period in which the Natives treated us with greater respect. The ruffled face presented by the state of affairs at the close of the last year has settled down into a calm. On Sundays our Communicants and Catechumens have been regular in their attendance at Divine Service, and the Congregations have retained their numbers. At our weekly Meetings, of which we have three, there has been an improved attendance. The Sunday-school has also increased in numbers, and a growing desire is, we hope, manifested toward God. Hitherto Divine Service has been held in the Schoolroom, but it is far too small for the purpose. I therefore proposed to the Natives that I should pay them for sawing the timber for a building 44 feet long by about 21 wide, if they would engage to procure shingle and erect the building with my personal assistance. To this proposal they agreed, and 4605 feet have been sawn, for which the sum of 14*l.* 18*s.* 4*d.* has been paid.

On the necessity for this new Church the Rev. J. Matthews thus writes, while on a visit to Kaikohi—

Aug. 2, 1846: Lord's-day—I preached twice to full Congregations, the people treading upon one another, and loudly calling for a new Church. The Natives were very attentive.

Kaitaia.

The Station at KAITAIA repays, in the rich encouragement it affords, the zealous exertions of the two Missionaries who are there stationed. In their Report for the year ending June 30, 1847, they write—

In a temporal point of view our Natives suffered severely from the total failure of the potato-crops. The Christian Natives bore this severe affliction with admirable patience, and many a Christian among them confessed that it was for the hardness of their hearts that the land had become barren. Happily for them the wheat-crops succeeded well, for flour has been their chief support. This still leads to further good, as we observe that the cultivation of grain is much on the increase, and we feel persuaded that our people plainly see, that to be blessed with the Word of God—to enjoy the Means of Grace—to be industrious—and to reap the reward of sowing to the Spirit—is far better than serving the Devil, quarrelling and fighting, and walking in all “the lusts of the flesh.”

During the last three months we have distributed among our Natives about 200 Testaments, beside a number of valuable Tracts and Catechisms, which have been eagerly sought after. The Prayer-book with the Psalms has been especially prized. We have disposed of about 100 of them, and, to satisfy those who have none, we are obliged to excite their hopes with the promise of a speedy and full supply of them from England.

The Native Teachers have as usual afforded us their services, and on the whole their conduct has been agreeable to their profession. Every Saturday they have met in the Settlement to receive instruction, to enable them the better to instruct others. They seem to prize these meetings; and although they thereby lose a sixth portion of their time, yet I have heard them talking it over that, throughout the year, many of their neighbours were not so well off for food as they. We feel bound to thank God for the effectual assistance which these Native Teachers have willingly given to this portion of the Lord’s vineyard.

On Lord’s-day the 7th of February Archdeacon H. Williams, assisted by the Rev. J. Matthews, administered the Lord’s Supper to 208 Communicants. In the evening of the same day he admitted into Christ’s visible Church 51 adults, most of whom had been Candidates for Baptism two or three years. This, in the presence of a large Congregation, was a very solemn Service, and likewise an imposing sight.

The method employed by Mr. Matthews for training up his Native Teachers deserves especial notice. The heads of the Native Sermon are printed by the Missionaries, by means of a private press, each week, and explained at the Teachers’ Meeting, so that the subject is talked over by the Native Teachers in all the villages around the Station. Mr. Matthews writes in his Journal, May 23, 1846—

These printed heads of Sermons are of the greatest use to our Teachers; for those who have learned their value, even if they are not present when the subject is considered, are able to understand them, and one Teacher explains them to another. Many of our Native Teachers are, by these means, under the teaching and assistance of the Holy Spirit, able Ministers—or, I should say, Preachers—of the Gospel. Sometimes, when I have ridden eight or ten miles, and have arrived too late, I have stood outside the Chapel and listened to the Native Preachers with great delight, and even with astonishment.

Mr. Matthews mentions the following interesting case of the power of Religion under severe pain—

July 21, 1846—I went to see a blind Native named Job. This poor man is afflicted with excruciating pains in his limbs; but I found him, as to his soul, in a very prosperous state. He said that God's Word brought him joy, and that it was impossible for the Word of Truth to become error. I asked if any one had prayers with him. The Chief of the place, sitting by, an unconverted man, but otherwise very civil, said, "He is in too much pain to pray: his pains, when they come on in the evening, make him cry out so that we can hear him all over the village." I replied that pain would not cause a Christian to leave off praying, but the contrary. Poor Job spoke out words which more than paid me for going eight miles to see him. He said, "I have not left off praying, neither shall I. My praying secretly is like wrestling, as when one man wrestles with another." This is the first time that I have heard a Christian Native compare prayer to "he mea mamai" (hard fighting, or a taking hold of another). The unconverted Chief, a relative of Job, seemed quite pleased that Job had spoken out his mind, and replied, "Secret prayer he can manage; but the other, outward"—meaning prayers from the book—"he cannot, and there is no one here to help him." This poor man, I am thankful to say, has a pious son, who, with our appointed itinerant Teacher, frequently visits him and his neighbours on the Lord's-day.

On another occasion Mr. Matthews reports a visit to Kororarika to preach on the Lord's-day. The smallness of the Congregation, only twenty Natives, discouraged him, and he proposed to go to Paihia for the Evening Service; but Tamati Waka (Thomas Walker), "the princely-minded man" who had assisted the British Troops in their contest with the insurgent Natives, said, "What! go back without giving us a second Service?" "I always feel it hard," writes Mr. Matthews, "to deny a Native a good request, and I consented to stay. They were very attentive, and I was glad I had remained."

Middle District.

General View.

The general character of the Mission in the Middle District is thus described by Archdeacon Brown at the close of the year 1846—

Amidst much to deplore—in the lukewarmness of some, the backsliding of others, and the insidious and stealthy progress of Popery—there are yet some encouraging features in the Archdeaconry—an increase in the number of Communicants, a desire on the part of the Heathen to have their children baptized, and the zeal which many of the Natives are showing in building Chapels. The baptisms during the year have been 85 adults, and the Communicants number nearly 500.

The Rev. T. Chapman reports, respecting the District—

Nov. 8, 1846—Never was our constant presence more required among the Natives than now. The Warekura, i.e. the Christians, are become a large body; and the operation of a few more years, as appears probable from what is before us, will bring the whole of the New Zealanders into the general class of Christians, either as Protestants or Papists. During every journey I take I discover some new giving way in the tottering building of Heathenism. About four years ago I visited an old Chief, and found him using a rudely-formed bone fork to take up his food. I asked him of what it was made. "It is part of the thigh-bone of an enemy," was his reply. The other day this man was among the Congregation where I was spending the Lord's-day, particularly well-dressed, quite the superior Chief, and willing to hear such instruction as might be given him."

Present and Past Condition of the New Zealanders contrasted.

It is natural that an European should forget the striking contrast which the New Zealander's present state exhibits in comparison with his former condition. It will be interesting, therefore, to hear a Native's account of the change. Archdeacon Brown writes, July 30, 1846, while on a Missionary tour—

Matthew, who was formerly a Native Priest of considerable eminence at Tauranga, but who has now for some years been a consistent professor of the truth as it is in Jesus, gave me some interesting particulars, on our journey, of the traditions, derived from their forefathers, of the peopling of this Island, and of the desperate wickedness which marked their former character. "You are not satisfied with us," remarked the old man; "and you often express a fear that our Religion is only lip-service—that it has no root in our hearts. You forget what we were, and what we have thrown away; our cannibalism—our murders—our infanticide—our tapus—which were gods to us. What prevents our return to these but Religion?" I felt the force of the old man's reasoning. I saw how possible it was to form a very wrong estimate of the progress of these people, as a nation, "from darkness to light, from the power of Satan unto God"—that what Judson so emphatically calls "the constant friction of the Missionary grindstone" may often render us unfit judges of the national progress—that we are, perhaps, prone to dwell too much upon the inconsistency manifested by individuals—to think their ingratitude of a deeper hue than it really is—to look for the "full corn in the ear" when the blade has but for a short time sprung up; forgetting, as Matthew says, what they were, and forgetting, also, another strong incentive to perseverance in our labours—that many in New Zealand have, by omnipotent grace, been already won from the lowest depths of degradation to shine as jewels in the mediatorial crown. Turning from a conversation on the manners and customs of the Natives, old Matthew inquired what constituted a Chief, a gentleman, among the English. I told him that many were so from birth; that others were deemed so from the wealth they possessed; that others, who possessed neither of these advantages, were yet esteemed gentlemen from their good conduct. "Then you have three roots to your tree," said Matthew. "We have but one—our ancestors. Money," added the old Chief proudly, "could not make a New-Zealand Chief." "Nor good conduct either," I replied. The old man laughed, and concluded that the English wanted one root less to their tree of Chieftanship, and the Natives one more.

Christianity of an Aged Woman.

The Rev. R. Maunsell writes, in a Letter dated Feb. 2, 1847—

I humbly trust that there is some good leaven at work, and that we shall meet some of these poor souls hereafter in Heaven. Yesterday this thought was strongly forced upon my mind, as I was talking with an aged native woman of considerable rank—a great-grand-mother. My attention was drawn to her about three years ago in a casual visit which I paid to a little Native Settlement near this place. I had no expectation that such an old person could be brought to think on things so new to her; but I asked if she knew any thing about the way to Heaven. I was astonished at the promptness and correctness of her reply. "What did Christ do for you?" I then asked. "He was nailed to the cross."—"Do you pray to Him?" "Yes, always."—"Repeat your prayer." She repeated a most simple and spiritual effusion, which she said she was in the habit of offering up when by herself. "And who taught you all about these things?" "I used to go and sit outside the house while my daughter was talking with the women; and by that means I came to know about these things." She was afterward baptized by the name of Elizabeth, and has always been a most regular attendant on the Lord's Supper. The poor thing is now, I fear, on the point of death. While listening to her in prayer yesterday I could not help being struck with the sincerity and fervour of her address—"Let me lean, lean upon Thee. Hold me up on one side: hold me up on the other side. Wash my heart with Thy blood."

Labours of the Rev. G. A. Kissling.

The Rev. G. A. Kissling remains near Auckland, as his health will not permit of his removal to a distant Station. The Rev. C. L. Reay has been transferred from Nelson to occupy the District at Hicks' Bay formerly committed to Mr. Kissling. Mr. J. Stack has been obliged to leave New Zealand through ill health. Mr. Kissling is endeavouring to procure the erection of a Native Church in Auckland, of which he writes, July 7, 1847—

Nothing of the expense, I hope, will fall on the Society; while our Christian Natives will have a place in which they may attend the preaching of the Gospel, and the other Means of Grace so needful for them in the midst of error and corruption. The Bishop, the Rev. S. Williams, and myself, have alternately attended to the Service at Auckland, and we have often as many as 160 Natives assembled in a School-house on Sundays. My other Native Congregation—at Orake, nearly twenty-five minutes' ride from our house—is also promising. They have a pretty Chapel, built of wood, the Bishop having borne half the expense, and the rest the Natives themselves. In making a collection among the latter Congregation for the Hospital at the College, on a sacramental occasion, they contributed 2*l.* 8*s.* 6*d.*—a fair index to their good feeling.

General Report of Opotiki.

Opotiki, and the surrounding District, are under the care of Mr. J. A. Wilson, whose Report for 1846 is as follows—

The late conflict between our countrymen and the Aborigines, at the two extremities of the Island, appear in no way to have diminished either the friendship or confidence of the Natives toward the Missionary character in this Bay. At the Waimana a principal man, with two more who were active some time since in erecting a Chapel for the Roman-Catholic Priest, have renounced their former errors and joined our Services. They lately sent the Native Teacher to Opotiki for copies of the Scriptures. I gave him eleven Testaments, and promised some smaller books as soon as they should be received. At Maraenui, also, I am pleased to see that a number who had lapsed into Heathenism are gradually returning. This change has been effected by the example of their old chief Wakatane, a man probably upward of 90, and who has of late become a regular attendant on the Lord's-day Services. At Te Kaha, at least for a season, the Papists have met with greater encouragement than in any other part of this District. Their numbers amount to about 50; but as the system is chiefly supported by small presents, their sincerity and continuance may justly be suspected. At Otamarora, Wakatane, Waimana, and Tonupahore, their cause has somewhat declined, and at Maraenui and Otaware it has failed altogether. The Bishop of New Zealand visited the District in February last, and admitted several to Confirmation. Our Chapel is now finished, and is an exceedingly good specimen of native workmanship. It is sufficiently capacious to contain 900 or 1000 people. The Natives of Tonupahore are also building one of durable frame-work, which will very easily contain the whole population. My visits through the district, during the past year, have occupied ninety days.

Peculiarities of New-Zealand Missionary Life.

A few graphic sketches of the peculiar nature of Missionary labours in New Zealand will be read with interest: they are taken from the Journal of Mr. J. Morgan. During a Missionary excursion Mr. Morgan writes—

May 19, 1846—I held Evening Prayers, and addressed the Natives, at the Wera-a-Hatana. A fire having been made in the large but low house, we assembled, and held a Bible Class. Half smothered with smoke, I looked back to Ireland, and in my mind contrasted the Scripture Lectures delivered by many of the Parochial Clergy, in their comfortable white-washed School-rooms, with our smoky hut. I felt, however, no desire to exchange situations.

And again, while on a journey to Rangitoto

Aug. 20, 1846—After breakfast I started for Wawarua, which place we reached in the afternoon. I held Evening Service, and addressed the Natives; and afterward we assembled at Watikena Ngaware's house, and held a Bible Class. The heat was very great, and about 60 persons having assembled, the house was quite full. It was, however, pleasing to see a number of them with their Testaments open in their hands, especially when I looked back to two or three years ago, when the owner of the house, who is now the principal Teacher of the place, offered so much opposition to the Gospel. Then, after Service had been held in this very house, he would occupy the remainder of the evening in arguing against and opposing the Gospel. The readers formed two circles, one around my candle, and the other around a native lamp. Our Bible Class continued for an hour, and was closed with singing and prayer. Several then put questions to me respecting the meaning of various parts of the Testament; and having spent about an hour, and being nearly exhausted with the heat and closeness of the house—a ware puni, or warm sleeping-house—I proposed to withdraw; but to this they objected, the lights not being burnt out. Having remained until the candles went out, I retired to my tent. A few of them followed, and kept me engaged, talking on various subjects, until 11 o'clock. I was much pleased to find that since my last visit Watikena had not been idle, several Heathen having joined them.

The labours of a Missionary in New Zealand are often extended over distances, and are accompanied by hardships, of which few situations at home can afford a parallel. The two following passages will illustrate this—

Aug. 16: Lord's-day—A cold morning. I rode to Ngahuru-huru—4 miles—and held Morning Service, after which I called to see two sick Natives. I then rode on 10 miles to the Wanake—very cold in ascending the mountain—and held Evening Service with the Orakau Natives, who are now planting there. I reached home two hours after dark, having ridden 28 miles—fully equal to 35 miles on an English road—beside holding the two Services.

The day's work described below occurred at the close of the visit to Rangitoto just mentioned—

Aug. 23: Lord's-day—Otoru. I held Service at seven o'clock with a solitary European who is living here, and then Native Morning Service. I afterward visited Rawiri, and then went to see a baptized old woman, who is unwell, at Wakataratara, a quarter of a mile from Otoru. I found her sitting with another very old woman, a Roman Catholic. After a short conversation, I asked the latter how her sins were to be cleansed away. She replied, "By my good works." I then put the same question to the other, and she replied,

“By the blood of Christ.” I exhorted her to cleave to Christ as the oyster cleaves to the rock, unmoved and unshaken by the waves which roll over it; and reminded them both of the burial of a companion yesterday, only a few yards from the spot where we were then sitting. Having taken a little refreshment I started, and after a ride of twenty miles, in the face of the gale, I reached Orakau for Afternoon Service, glad to have crossed the rivers before they became flooded. It was after sunset when I left that place. The night grew very dark, and the rain came down heavily. My horse, however, knew the road, and turned when I could not see to guide him; and through mercy I reached home in safety. After tea I held English Prayers with my family and Europeans on the Station.

Native-Christian Feasts.

It has long been a custom in New Zealand for the Christians occasionally to assemble from the various parts of a District at the invitation of some leading person—who provides a homely but abundant feast for the occasion—and to spend one or two days together for the purpose of religious improvement and encouragement. A Missionary is always present, and Public Worship and catechizing occupy a large portion of the time and attention of the assembly. These meetings are termed, in the native language, Nga Huihuinga—Gatherings together. The Rev. T. Chapman thus relates one which he attended—

Dec. 1, 1846—I received an invitation from the Teacher of Oine-mutu to attend a Huihuinga of Warekura—the visitors to be invited to come on Saturday and remain till Monday morning, and the food to be got ready, and every possible preparation to be made, on the Saturday. These little Meetings—for this is the third of a series—arose out of a cycle I drew out last year, in which I divided the District into parties, to meet together at certain periods, myself hoping always to be present. This I could not carry out, in consequence of broken health and interruptions, and now one division have made a cycle for themselves.

Dec. 5—I left home for the Huihuinga, and reached in time for Evening Prayers, at which about 200 were present. It was very gratifying to see little parties, after the Service, squatting in groups, chatting, as happy as warm weather and plenty to eat could make them. Their New Testament had done this for them.

Dec. 6: Lord's-day—I held Morning Service, when the Chapel was filled to suffocation, about 320 people attending. They entered by tribes, their Teachers heading them—these being marshalled, on their reaching the doorway, by the Teacher of the place. Nothing could be more orderly. I preached to them “Jesus,” and they were very attentive. After Service all were arranged in double rows, and abundance of food placed before them: the same order had been observed at breakfast. The food was cooked at the boiling spring close at hand. After dinner we held School, 275 attending. I took the children, and questioned them upon the Trinity. I found a few who had a clear knowledge upon this head, and but a few. The Teachers took the other classes, after which followed the Catechism, and reading in the New Testament. I then held Afternoon Service, and baptized nine children. I was very thankful to see so good a day, and I pray God to feed these infant Churches with "the sincere milk of the Word."

Archdeacon Brown gives the following narrative of a similar scene at Matamata—

June 16, 1846—I held a full Service this morning with the Natives, of whom there were 1000 assembled in their noble Chapel. What a contrast, in numbers and manner, with the first Congregation to which I preached on this spot, composed of a few boisterous savages drawn together by the one feeling of curiosity! Now, the various tribes—sworn enemies in past years, and delighting in scenes of cannibalism which even to this day produce, in the remembrance, a sickness of heart—marched up in silent order, and with military precision, to occupy the different parts assigned to them in the Chapel. The Hymn was sung to a native tune, in which the whole Congregation joined, and the effect was most thrilling. There was but I would fain hope the richer music, the more delightful melody, of grateful hearts. Their responses to the Liturgy were equally striking, and not less so their attention to the address. The feast afterward was on a most liberal scale—5000 small baskets of cooked potatoes and kumera (the sweet potato), upward of 400 pigs, and eels by hundreds and thousands. In the evening we again held Service, when Mr. Chapman addressed them.

June 17—After Morning Service, nearly 900 Natives stood up in classes, and a large proportion repeated the Church Catechism, read a chapter in the New Testament, and were examined at considerable length on the principal doctrines of Christianity. After School the Natives partook of a short meal, and then the speeches of the leading men of various Tribes commenced. Their orations, however, were in a great measure destitute of that energy to which they owe their interest to strangers, of whom several were present from Auckland. To Mr. Chapman and myself it was a pleasing circumstance; for their energy is usually embodied in recriminating language, or angry threats, or haughty defiance. On the present occasion they had to welcome their friends, and to express mutual resolves that peace might be lasting among them; and cheering was it to hear one Chief after another acknowledge that peace never could have been concluded among them had not both parties embraced the Gospel. After the Meeting had closed we adjourned to hold Evening Service at the Chapel, where I again addressed the noble Congregation. Captains Nugent and Wilmot were present at the examination. They have been three months on a journey through the country from Port Nicholson, and on several occasions experienced rather rough usage from the Natives; but the unfavourable impression produced by such conduct has, I believe, been much weakened by what they have this day witnessed, and with which they expressed themselves much gratified.

June 18, 1846—Several thousand large baskets of raw potatoes and kumera were brought out this morning, and arranged in a line, as a present to the Rotorua Tribes. To these were added ten casks of tobacco, and a large quantity of clothes, shoes, umbrellas, &c. The variety of dresses displayed during this feast was very great, and in some instances marked the ingenuity of the native character. One man had cut up a scarlet comforter, and converted it into a pair of stockings—not very warm ones, certainly, but as well calculated to keep out cold as ladies' open-work gloves. Another Native had made himself a waist-coat from a red comforter; and another had on a pair of black stockings, and, in order to show as much of them as he could, had fastened his white trousers above his knees. The dress of the Native Teacher, William Thompson, with whom the feast originated, was a striking contrast to some of the party, being a most respectable suit of black clothes.

Native Teachers—Encouragements and Trials.

Many instances occur of the zeal of the Native Teachers, which encourage the hope that a Native Ministry will ere long be raised up, and sufficiently trained to carry on the work which now rests upon European Missionaries. Mr. Morgan writes, Sept. 16, 1846—

Horomona Marahau, my blind Teacher, returned from the Thames. I immediately proposed that he should proceed in a week or two to Wawarua, and remain there for about six months, to endeavour to establish the new Congregation. He immediately agreed to my proposal, and inquired when he was to start, saying that at present he should probably be carried away by the flood. I replied that he might remain until the rivers became knee-deep, on which he exclaimed, "Oh! if they are up to my middle that will be sufficiently shallow for me to cross." It was pleasing to see the poor old blind man so zealous. I promised to provide him with a guide to lead him on his journey of 37 miles.

Yet, as in the Christian's course his best comforts are sometimes permitted to be transformed into his severest trials, in order to teach him the great lesson of placing his hope in God alone, so, in the case of the Native Teachers, instances occasionally occur in which their misconduct becomes the bitterest pain, reproach, and hindrance of his work. Such an instance is related in the Journal of Mr. Morgan, accompanied by reflections which will serve to stir up the prayers of many at home.

distant village had fallen into adultery, and that the husband of the woman had threatened to burn down the Chapel. Three Chiefs, however, belonging to the tribe, declared their determination to protect the building. The Missionary, cast down in spirit, after having sought direction in prayer went to the village. The Chiefs who had interfered to protect the Chapel, while they lamented the fall of the Teacher, expressed their determination to do all in their power to restore order in the Congregation. The village prayer-bell was then rung, and the Natives assembled, to the number of 60 or 70, from the several villages within half a mile of the bell. A Bible Class was held, and prayer offered up. After this Service one of the Chiefs addressed the people, reminding them that only one man had fallen, and urging them, as a body, to remain steadfast. Another Chief, who was unable to attend through illness, sent a messenger to tell his people that it was his intention to persevere in his profession of Christianity, die, and be buried outside the Chapel. This was the determination of all present, and the Missionary was much comforted in the hope that this sad event might serve to prove the soundness of the main body of Christian Natives. He adds the following remarks—

Trials of this kind are the most severe that a Missionary is called to endure. When he volunteers to proceed to distant Heathen lands to preach the Gospel of Christ, he does so with the feeling that in all probability he will be called upon to sacrifice his life to the perniciousness of a foreign climate, or perhaps to die by the hand of the savage; but he seldom looks forward to the trial of seeing the leaders of the little flock he may be permitted to gather overtaken by temptation, and, by their fall, giving cause to the enemies of the flock to blaspheme. The hopes of a Missionary are, under God, fixed upon those who appear to be raised up as guides to their countrymen. Without a Native Agency he feels that his own labours are comparatively vain; for, alone and single-handed, he is unable to attend to the individual wants of a people scattered over a country 30, 50, or 70 miles in length. Hence he rejoices at finding some to whom he may commit the daily care of a portion of his scattered flock. Year after year they appear to “run well,” many are added to the fold, and admitted, by baptism, into the Church of Christ. The Missionary already looks forward to the glorious harvest which he hopes to reap, and rejoices in the prospect of entering the heavenly garner with his arms filled with the golden sheaves. But perhaps he has been tempted to trust in an arm of flesh, or has not given all the glory of his apparent success unto God. In the very hour of rejoicing God may be saying unto him, “Cease from man, for without me ye can do nothing.” The worm of temptation is about to destroy his gourd. The person or persons on whom chiefly his hopes were centred for building up the infant Church, and leading many souls to glory, are overtaken by temptation. They “did run well:” what has “hindered them?" They appeared, to human eye, as the choicest trees in the vineyard of the Lord. They had budded and blossomed, and there was a promise of abundance of fruit; but suddenly, in an unexpected hour, the keen south wind nips the fair blossoms—temptation comes, and under its cold and chilly blasts the trees he had watched over, and watered from year to year with so much care, wither and die. He lives, while they stand fast in the Lord. If these die, he is almost tempted to exclaim, Where are the fruits of my labours? If the shepherds fall and perish before the storm, what will become of the few sheep in the wilderness? whither will they be scattered in the "dark and cloudy day?" His only hope is in his God and Saviour, who "gathers the lambs of His flock with His arms, and carries them in His bosom." These trials lead the Missionary to humble himself before God. He seeks Him in more earnest prayer, beseeching Him to breathe by His Spirit upon the dry bones, that they may live. Satan has prevailed for a season; but the promises of God are sure. Supported by His infallible Word, he is enabled still to persevere in his work, knowing that the Word of the Lord shall "not return to Him void, but that it shall accomplish that which He pleases, and shall prosper in the thing whereto He has sent it."

Eastern District.

General View.

In a Report for the year 1846 Archdeacon W. Williams has given a general review of the state of this District. Referring to the Bishop's Confirmation in the early part of the year—when 1560 were admitted to that rite—the Archdeacon remarks that the preparatory instruction given was an occasion of calling back the minds of many, who had become careless, to the consideration of those vows which they had made in Baptism; and that there is good reason to trust that the event has been blessed to the confirmation of many in the faith which they had professed: He thus proceeds—

The administration of the Lord's Supper is found to be a powerful means of strengthening and refreshing the Members of our infant Church. The Communicants are always subjected to previous examination, which tends to prepare them for partaking of this Ordinance with greater solemnity. It is much to be regretted that circumstances do not permit a more frequent celebration of it. The number of Communicants during the year has been 1632.

But while we notice points of a favourable character, it is necessary to state, also, that there is much to mourn over. Many of the Heathen Natives continue strenuously to resist the Gospel, and are even less accessible than formerly; and of very many of the Christian Natives it may be said that they are "neither hot nor cold." They occasionally attend the Service of the Church; but it is to be feared that, while they have "a name to live, they are dead." There still remains a goodly number of those who seem to "hold fast the profession of their faith." They live under the influence of Christian doctrine and Christian example, and in them, it may be hoped, will be fulfilled the promise, "Then shall they know, if they follow on to know the Lord."

A casual observer, who has not the means of knowing what the Natives once were, will often express an opinion unfavourable to the progress of Christianity. He meets with persons, bearing a Christian name, whose conduct is opposed to a Christian spirit, and he ventures to give a character of the whole from these unfavourable cases. The true Christian is one most unlikely to put himself in the way of such persons; but he will be found by those who look for him.

The Station of Waitangi, in Hawkes' Bay.

The Rev. W. Colenso is stationed at Waitangi, in Hawkes' Bay, one of the least promising Stations in the island. The extent is very considerable, the population scattered, and hitherto it has been chiefly visited by Papists and European Settlers. In a Letter dated June 18, 1846, the necessity of an improved system of Schools is strongly urged by Mr. Colenso, and in the mean time he adopted the following expedient—

I collected nearly all the Native Teachers and Monitors of the District, 20 in number—some having travelled about 200 miles to come hither—and held a School with them five hours daily during a fortnight. By this means I have advanced a step toward unity of teaching and doctrine.

In the same Letter Mr. Colenso, reviewing his labours in this District after a period of eighteen months, thus writes—

Since I came into this District I have baptized 106 adults and 95 children. With every one of the former I have had much searching examination, and felt satisfied that they had at least a good head-knowledge of the way of salvation. I have married 35 couples. On my coming here I found there were five half-finished Chapels throughout the District. There are now eleven finished, and seven in course of erection. In almost every village I have a daily Adult School, which is well attended; and I have at present about 200 Candidates for Baptism. I have many enemies, and have been in bad health; but I am again pretty strong, and hope to work a little longer for the glory of God in pointing poor sinners to Christ.

And again, describing a branch of Missionary labour of an unusual character—

I have, from my arriving in New Zealand, always encouraged Letter-writing among the Natives, often sitting up late to answer their numerous Letters. I have reason to believe that a Letter is likely to do more good, to cause more thought, than half-a-dozen Sermons—such being read to all, and by all who can read, over and over again.

I have now by me more than 1000 Letters from New Zealanders, some of which, from my older correspondents, exhibit the working of the native mind. Shortly after I came here I received a Letter from the Teacher of Wairapa, containing a long list of different texts of which he wished to know the meaning. Pressed as I then was for time, I answered his Letter, which, though I condensed as much as I could, took about twelve pages. To my great astonishment I found, on visiting those parts, that several copies of my answer had been made by the Natives.

Western District.

This District has been still very scantily provided with Missionaries. The Rev. O. Hadfield remains on a sick bed in Wellington, forbidden by his medical attendants to exert his bodily strength. His active mind, however, is still engaged in devising methods of advancing the religious and social improvement of the Natives; and the great influence which he had gained over all classes, before he was laid upon a bed of languishing, is still exercised for the pacification and encouragement of the Native Tribes throughout his late extensive District.

Mode in which Christianity has been extended in New Zealand.

The Rev. C. L. Reay has been removed, as stated in the last Report, to the Eastern District; but in his last communications from the Western District he relates a circumstance which strikingly illustrates the way in which Christianity has spread in New Zealand. He writes, during a visit to Massacre Bay, May 25, 1846—

At Waikato I met a steady, intelligent Native, Abraham te Matimati, who was baptized by me some months ago, and travelled down, with a young man named Libni, to his own people, about three weeks' journey down the West coast. He brought me a Letter from Mr. Charles Heaphy, who has since returned, after spending some days at Araura, where he found several who had never before seen a White Man. He tells me these are all desirous to see me, regular in their worship, and anxious for baptism. Abraham has given me a list of 75 in all who belong to that Pa. See how, in an almost miraculous manner, a knowledge of the Gospel spreads among the Natives of these isles! Abraham came northward to see his friends: he also saw the work that was going forward, heard the glad tidings, and believed: he hastened down to tell his people, and I recommended Libni as his companion, because he was well able to read, and well reported of. Now, from distinct and independent testimony, we learn how their communications and conduct have affected all their fellows. Lately I have heard that a few years ago that part of the coast was deemed most savage; insomuch that sealers have for weeks and weeks lodged upon the Black-reef, not venturing to land lest they should be destroyed. Now, Mr. Heaphy reports that not only did they hospitably entertain himself and his fellow-traveller, Mr. Brunner, but that, when they were leaving, all the inhabitants escorted them a day's journey, carrying supplies for them. Not many weeks have elapsed since one of the principal Teachers in Queen Charlotte's Sound wrote to me, to say that a native vessel had come up from Port Cooper, the crew of which were all desirous of baptism, and that they wished for a Teacher and for books.

Although there is much reason to fear that the progress of colonization will diminish the gross number of professing Christians, there is abundant reason to hope that God will not permit the fountains of life to be dried up. The number of Communicants, and of individuals pressing for baptism, still continues to increase; and the title to participation in those Sacraments is strict morality and constant attention to religious duties, in addition to their profession of faith.

About the same time he writes, in his Journal—

I cannot but trust that a great work is going on. I rejoice to behold a very inquiring spirit among my people, and it is accompanied with a great love of prayer. I am thankful that this is spreading in every direction. May the Lord own the work! Last night, long after midnight, I heard some praying most fervently.

And again—

I am much pleased in being able to remark that my Teachers have greatly improved in preaching; and this not only in fluency, but in the spiritual character of their discourses. I make a rule of calling upon them alternately to preach before me every week, allowing them to select their subjects. This causes them to take a passage and think over it several days before they are called upon; and thus many of their discourses are such as make a strong impression upon their hearers.

Celebration of Christmas-day 1846.

On Christmas-day 1846 there was a large assembly of Native Christians at Wanganui, to commemorate a Saviour's birth. Mr. Taylor thus describes the Meeting—

I commenced the Service this morning by eight o'clock, having had my pulpit carried out into the field, where there were nearly 2000 persons assembled. This was by far the largest meeting of Natives ever held in this part, and was very impressive. It was collected from all the various tribes which inhabit this part of the island, who, but a few years ago, could not have been induced to meet on any terms; but now, to honour and obey our common Lord and Saviour, they were content to sit quietly by each other's side as brethren. I felt my weakness and responsibility here, with this great multitude assembled in the wilderness, and fainting for lack of food; and with Moses I was tempted to exclaim, "Who am I, that I should stand up for this great work." But I trust I rested on the promise, "Certainly I will be with thee;" and I do hope the Lord fulfilled His word, and enabled me to become the unworthy instrument of setting forth His righteousness to men. I had a very attentive Congregation, and I trust some seed then sown will take root in the various places to which it will be carried. I afterward administered the Lord's Supper to 382. They completely filled the building, and the heat was very oppressive; but I felt it a season of strength and refreshment.

I immediately afterward crossed over and gave an English Service. The Commanding Officer told me that the soldiers could not attend, having to inspect their arms, &c. The Congregation was very small—not more than twenty out of a population of 400. What a contrast to the Congregation I had just left! Two soldiers only attended; but those two appeared to have a concern for their souls. I thought of the old world: out of its myriads, eight only entered the ark; so I consoled myself with my few "sheep in the wilderness." The Natives who accompanied us asked who were the Heathen now!

In the afternoon a second Service was held by Mr. Taylor among the Natives, when several lapsed members were restored to Church communion, and 88 adults and 57 children were baptized. Most of the adults were aged persons, who had been under instruction for a long period. It was after sunset before the Service terminated. The day was a season of much spiritual blessedness, and it led to events of a still more interesting and important character.

Offer of two Natives to proceed as Missionaries to Taupo—their Murder while on their Journey.

On the morrow the Native Teachers assembled to hold, with their Missionary, a special Prayer-meeting, before they separated to their several Stations. At the conclusion, four of the Teachers came forward and offered themselves as Missionaries to their heathen countrymen, especially to those at Taupo, who had long been their bitter enemies. Two of the number were accepted by the Missionary, because he had full confidence in their spiritual state and knowledge of the Gospel; and they were solemnly commended to the care of the Most High.

The two Native Missionaries—of whom one was called Manihera (the native pronunciation of Maunsell), and the other Kereopa—were induced, by the advice of a near relative of the tribe which they proposed to visit, to defer their journey until he should have been before, and returned to them. They consented; but remarked, that, though they deferred the journey, they could not forget that they were tapu to the Lord, i.e. devoted to the work.

On the 6th of February 1847, Manihera, accompanied by Kereopa, left on their Mission of love. They designed to remonstrate, with their countrymen who still opposed the British Government, against commencing hostilities, as well as to exhort them to embrace the Gospel. For this purpose they visited Rangihacata, the famous warrior, in his stronghold, and endeavoured to persuade him to give up his aggressions upon the English, that war might cease among them. The old Chief replied to their address by laying his hand edgewise on the back of his own neck, intimating to them that they were in some danger of losing their lives. He afterward became more civil, though he paid no heed to their advice. They then visited the Rev. T. Chapman at Rotorua, with whom they stayed a few days. He was much pleased with them. They then visited another warlike Chief, Te Heuheu, at Taupo; and thence proceeded to a third notorious warrior, Herekieke, at Tokanu. On the part of this Chief and his tribe there had been an hereditary enmity against the tribe of Manihera, for the father of Herekieke had been killed in battle by the latter tribe, and his widow still survived, and instigated her companions to seek revenge. On their journey the two Teachers preached at Motutere. The people of this place, fearing for their safety, endeavoured to persuade them not to visit Herekieke's Pa; or at any rate to go first to Pukawa, where they would find Iwikau, who was a good man, and would give them a welcome reception. Manihera replied that he ought to go to Herekieke's Pa first, as he came to preach to the wicked. In the course of his preaching, Manihera said that he apprehended the time of his departure to be at hand—that either on that day or the next he should be an inhabitant of the unseen world. But he pursued his journey. Ten Natives belonging to Taupo, of the Christian party, accompanied the Missionaries. A Heathen party, however, of Tongariro, who had declared their intention to waylay them, sent out a party of thirty to secrete themselves in the bush; and as soon as the Christian party approached, they fired upon them. Kereopa was shot dead upon the spot. Manihera was wounded, and the enemy rushed upon him, and struck several fatal blows upon his head with their hatchets. One of their ten Christian conductors was the foremost, and his cheek was grazed by a bullet. The other nine were a short way behind, and upon hearing the report of the guns they rushed forward, when the murderers made off. Mr. Chapman was immediately informed of the event, and thus describes the death of Manihera, and the excitement which it produced among the Christian and friendly Natives—

Poor Manihera, upon the rest of his party reaching him, was tying his head—which was dreadfully cut—with a handkerchief. He gave Wiremu, the man whose face had been grazed by a ball, his Testament, and some papers he had with him—a kind of Journal—telling them that his Testament was indeed great riches ; and, shaking hands with them, as a mutual token of love one toward another as Christian brethren, he leaned his head aside and died. No murmur escaped his lips. He died a Christian soldier, having his harness on, and prepared for the battle ; and not less so his companion in arms and in death.

Upon the news of this sad event reaching Wanganui, the Rev. R. Taylor thus wrote—

March 22—This evening, William and several others came to me, after prayers, to say that news had just arrived of Manihera and his companion Kereopa having been murdered at Tokanu by some of Herekieke's tribe. They went to proclaim the Gospel to their hereditary enemies—theirs indeed was a Mission of love. The Natives of Orona took up the bodies, and carried them to Te Rapa, where they interred them by the side of Abraham, the Christian Chief who was overwhelmed [by a falling cliff] in the same destruction with Te Heuheu, and over whom I read the Funeral Service when I was last there.

It was love for immortal souls which caused Manihera last Christmas to offer himself as a Missionary to his ancient enemies at Taupo. Poor fellow ! love to God and man beamed in his very countenance, and was manifested in all his actions. He has fallen in the good cause, and deep sorrow rests upon all the Christian Natives for their loss ; but can we doubt their title to the martyr's crown ? Will He, in whose cause they have shed their blood, suffer them to go unrewarded to the grave ? No : the blood of the saints is the seed of the Church ; and Taupo, and this nest of murderers too, must become the possession of the Most High. May the Lord strengthen me to be His unworthy instrument in turning these children of darkness to the true light ! I rejoice to hear that Herekieke, the Chief of Tokanu, was not there at the time, and was very angry, on his return home, at the base murder. His mother was the chief cause of the crime. Her husband was killed in fighting with poor Manihera's tribe ; and hence her deadly hatred. I wrote a Letter to Manihera's friends, and have appointed to-morrow evening for a Prayer-meeting on the occasion.

March 23—This evening I held the Prayer-meeting on account of Manihera's death. William and John Williams, two Native Converts, offered up very appropriate and fervent prayers. I read the account of the martyrdom of Stephen, and preached on the subject ; showing that, as God orders all things, so He will overrule this for good; that Saul was not only consenting to Stephen's death, but the keeper of the garments of those who stoned him, and yet that very man became, in after days, the chiefest of all the Apostles. And so may this tribe, which has consented to and joined in this cruel murder, hereafter become as eminent for its love of God and devotion to His service.

A few days later the event is again mentioned in Mr. Taylor's Journal.

April 1—In the morning a large Meeting was held relative to the Taupo murders. I received a great many Letters from the Ngatiruanui, all written in a very pleasing tone, relative to this sad affair. The result of the Meeting was, that they should be guided by me. William made use of a very good simile, to show that, although a Minister or Teacher might be taken away, yet that event, however deplorable, would not hinder the Gospel. He said that a Minister was like a tall Kahikatea tree full of fruit, which it sheds on every side around, causing a thick grove of young trees to spring up; so that, although the parent tree might be cut down, its place is thus soon more than supplied by those which have proceeded from it. Another said, "If a soldier of the Queen were to be murdered, and we were bid to rise, should we not do so? And now that a soldier of Christ is murdered, should we sit still? When Paul, the teacher of Onetea, was drowned in this river, did not his friends come and carry his body to be interred in his own place? and shall the bodies of Manihera and Kereopa be left among the Heathen?" Another said, "Don't think about the bodies of our companions. Though they are decomposing among our enemies, yet their spirits are alive with God. I know what we should have done in former days; but what would have been the good? If we fight, we only increase our sorrow by multiplying the dead. Let us not fear those who can kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. Let us listen to our Minister, and take his advice." Tahaua said, "At Baptism we are made soldiers of Christ. The soldiers of the Queen perish; but the soldiers of Christ live for ever. Manihera is a true soldier of Christ." Another said, although their blood had been poured out on the earth it was no proof that God was angry with them; for Christ's blood also was shed—that the blood of the people of God fertilized the earth; and although these two were dead, we should not be discouraged, but send two more to preach the Gospel; and if they also were killed, two more; and if they perished, to keep supplying their places until summer came, and then perhaps their enemies would give in and be converted.

Visit of the Rev. R. Taylor to the Scene of the Murders.

Mr. Taylor, having to attend a meeting of Missionaries at Auckland, determined to travel across the island, through the Taupo District, with the view of allaying the excitement caused by these murders, and of fulfilling, as far as he was able, the mission of the native martyrs, by promoting peace and a friendly feeling toward the English. He was accompanied by two Teachers and other Natives, and, during a part of the way, by the Rev. J. F. Churton. Many threats were uttered against him at different stages of his journey, and many apprehensions for his safety were excited in the minds of the friendly Natives; but he thought it right to go forward, and to accomplish his purpose. He left Wanganui on the 5th of April; and the following extracts from his Journal give a graphic and highly interesting description of his journey—

April 20, 1847—On the skirts of the forest we found a little village called Poari, where we met a very hospitable reception. Although it was not three, we were constrained to stay the night to hear the news from Taupo. A rumour had reached them that I was coming at the head of three or four hundred men to avenge the death of Manihera. The people sent a message hence to Pukawa, to say that we should be there to-morrow.

April 21—We left about eight o'clock, and two hours' walk brought us to our destination. Heuheu received us in a very friendly manner, and after the usual tangi (cry) was over he addressed us in a very long speech. He said that the great and lofty had fallen, and that all were dark on their account. He bade us welcome, whatever might be the object of our coming—whether to cover up, or uncover, the crime. He said, "This land has been polluted with blood from the time of our first ancestors to this day. My brother, my child, my father Te Teira*, welcome! Go you to Huiatahi†: you are strong: I cannot. Don't say I conceal my thoughts." William and Tahaua both answered him, and then beckoned to me. I told them that this was my second visit on account of the dead; first for Te Heuheu, now for Manihera and Kereopa: that the falling of a mountain crushed the one by the will of God; but that the others were basely murdered when they only came as messengers of peace: that Heuheu did not gain his rank by murder—that he was too noble to pollute himself by such means: that if a tribe seek to prosper by murder, it is as if a man were to expect his house would stand firm though built on a bog: that I was indeed sorrowful, not for Manihera and his companion—they were happy, and had received their reward—but that any should be guilty of such a crime: that they had heard a rumour that I was coming with several hundred men to avenge their deaths: I had indeed come, and they beheld my party! our only weapon was the Word of God, and we had come, not to judge, but to make peace—judgment we left with God: that I was not sorry for the indignation the Natives of the other side had shown against the murderers—the dead were their guests, and they were murdered in their presence: had they not shown their indignation, I should have thought they had connived at the deed: but that we came to make an end of the quarrel, and the terms were, that peace must now be made with the Ngatiruanui—it was now purchased with the blood which had been shed.

April 22, 1847—About an hour's pull brought us to Tokanu. We passed by the mournful scene of Heuheu's glory and destruction: the grass has not yet grown on the common tomb of his tribe.* The long-extended line of clay, which has covered up his Pa, forms a striking monument to remind us that "in the midst of life we are in death." The surrounding lake is strictly tapu, and the wild fowl, as if conscious of their security, allowed us to pass by without taking wing. When we entered the Pa, which we did in a long line headed by myself, we received a suspicious welcome from a few females. We sat down in silence: the usual crying when friends meet was omitted. Opposite to us were Herekiele and the murderers of our poor friends. Not a word was spoken on either side for full a quarter of an hour. Every now and then a few more arrived, most carrying their guns. At last Hemapo, the next to Herekiele, arose. He acknowledged the sin committed, and deplored that we—his relatives, and a Minister—should thus be compelled to come without exchanging the usual tangi, and giving the accustomed welcome. He said much more; but as I did not like, on this occasion, to take notes—when we knew not how we were to be received—I cannot remember the rest. Tahaua [Mr. Taylor's companion] now arose, and spoke for some time in a very sensible way; telling them that their present work was of a new kind—that even their forefathers would have been ashamed of it—and that therefore our coming was in a new way; that had not love filled our hearts we should not have come at all; that now we could not give our hands, nor join in the cry of friendship. One of the opposite party then got up, and said that we were going to Auckland to get Te Werowero to come against them; that they were all one; they were prepared for the worst; they were not sorry for the deed; and that they could not forget the death of their friends. Te Huiatahi said his heart was not at all dark for the deed; that it was done; that he did not wish to continue the evil, or to carry it further—it was agreeable to their ritenga (custom). Next William, and then another of my Natives, spoke, and then I addressed them. I told them that this was my first sorrowful visit to their place, but that still it was a visit of love, or I should have stayed at home: that we, it was true, did not tangi with our eyes, but we did with our hearts: that we had come, not to judge, but to avoid further shedding of blood: that the dead were the servants of God, and died in doing their duty: that we left vengeance to Him who has said, "Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord": that I trusted they would be led to see the enormity of their crime, and repent of it: that now the blood of Kereopa and Manihera had been shed, they could not be brought again to life on earth—they were in the enjoyment of their reward, and it was great: that sufficient blood had been shed, and it was not my wish that any should rise to avenge their death: that they had killed them in accordance with their ancient customs, and I wished their blood to be the price of a permanent peace between their tribes, that henceforth love might prevail: that if my word was attended to, one of their Chiefs should go back with my children and make peace with the Ngatiruanui. Herekieke then arose, and said he agreed to all I had said; and although he was not one of the murderers—for if he had been at home he should have prevented it—still it was done by his tribe. He agreed to my proposal, and henceforth the Ngatiruanui might come to his Pa, and they should be welcome. He thanked me for coming, and hoped, now that they had agreed to my word, we should eat with them and exchange salutations; that one thing only remained, and that was to know whether the Ngatiruanui would agree to my proposal. Aperaniko here jumped up, and said that I was the Ngatiruanui; that I came as their representative; that they left all with their Minister; and that whatever he did they should agree to. I then told them that, sorrowful as their tribe was, it sought no revenge, but left all to God. I arranged that William and Tahaua should return, and finally settle who should go with them as an ambassador of peace; and then, though pressed to eat or to shake hands, we arose, and silently returned to our canoe. They followed, and bade us farewell. I was thankful that the affair had so far terminated satisfactorily. I felt that I carried my life in my hand, and I cannot feel sufficiently thankful for this answer to my prayers that I might be made instrumental in putting an end to what threatened to bring on a general war. The Christian Natives, both here and at Rotorua, and even Waikato, were prepared to rise. I rejoiced to see their abhorrence of the deed; but if they were to take up the cause, the evil would only be increased.

Thence we went to Waiariki, the place where our dear departed friends last slept, and near to which they are buried. A neat double fence surrounds the sacred spot. We sang a hymn standing around it, and then I addressed our party from the words, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours." Many a tear was shed. We kneeled down, and I offered up a prayer—that the same hope which sustained Manihera and Kereopa, and carried them triumphantly through, might sustain us in our dying hour, and that their precious blood, here poured out, might not fall into the ground in vain, but be blessed to the conversion of those by whom it was shed, and become the means of dispelling the darkness of this tribe to spiritual things.

Hence, about three o'clock, we reached Wai Marino, a Christian Pa, where a very indignant feeling prevails on account of the base murder. They doubt the sincerity of the parties; but still, I think, will accede to my wishes. We have been hospitably entertained, and remain here for the night. In my sermon I told them that if they were to take up arms to shed blood they would just be doing what the Devil would wish them, as the most likely way of getting them again into his power. I addressed them from the verse, "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth."

April 23, 1847—We reached Motutere about noon. Here we had the usual cry, and then speeches. They first bade us welcome, but inquired the object of our coming. Was it to see the Church trampled under foot, and the servants of God slain? was it to give our hands to the murderers? If this were the case Rangipo would be closed to us, and there would be no coming here in safety. Others spoke in the same strain. William and Tahaua answered them. I told them I might also ask them what was the good of their words. Did God establish His Church here that it might continue war? was not the Devil the author of it? had they not sufficiently felt the evil of it in former days to prevent their commencing it again? would God permit His Church to be trampled under foot? could they extinguish the light of the sun? God was the Head of the Church, and we were the members of the body—was it right that the members should act without the head? The foundation of the Church was love—would it be seen if we rose up and killed each other? Was it not safest to leave all with God, and to show all men that we possessed the true faith of God in our hearts? This terminated the conversation.

April 25, 1847—I wrote a Letter to Mr. Chapman, to Hikairo, and to all the Teachers of Rotorua, persuading them to have nothing to do with taking up arms to avenge these murders, but to leave all with God.

Mr. Taylor's stay at Auckland—Disturbances at Wanganui.

Mr. Taylor's subsequent proceedings are thus narrated in a Letter dated Wanganui, May 31, 1847—

I left Taupo with the conviction that those "gloomy hills of darkness" would soon be made light by the bright beams of the Gospel. I was accompanied to Auckland by a Native, who was deputed by his tribe to attend the Central Committee, and apply for a Minister to be sent to Taupo. I was grieved to find that the Bishop's College had been visited by a malignant fever, which had attacked twenty-three, and had cut off two of their number. I went to Mr. Kissling's, where I took up my abode. I then waited on the Governor, who kindly pressed me to make Government House my home: I accordingly stayed there a portion of my time. I felt much pleased with the evident interest which the Governor took in the welfare of the Natives, and the various plans he had for their improvement. He showed me the design he had drawn for a Hospital for Natives at Wanganui, and made many inquiries as to what I thought would benefit the Natives. The sad news of a barbarous murder committed upon a Settler's family at Wanganui hastened my return, and put an end to our holding the preliminary Meeting of the Central Committee. The Governor kindly offered me a passage in the "Inflexible" Steamer to Wanganui, in which he also went himself; and grieved was I to find, on my arrival, what a change had taken place since my departure. A Chief had been nearly killed by the carelessness of a young midshipman, whose pistol by some means went off; when another Heathen and hostile Chief immediately went and murdered the family already alluded to, in order to bring, as it were, the Christian Natives into collision with the military. I am happy to say, however, that my Natives, with a very laudable desire of vindicating their character, went and arrested the murderers, four of whom were executed. This act caused the smothered flames of war to break out. A large hostile force, amounting to 600, was soon collected, and commenced with burning the houses of all the Out-settlers, and slaughtering their cattle. Their feelings are very bitter also against this tribe for the part it has taken; and on my return I found Mrs. Taylor and the children gone to Wellington, and my house threatened to be burnt, as being connected with this tribe. The Settlement is in a sad state: it is filled with soldiers. Many houses have been pulled down, as obstructing the operations of the military, and others plundered. I feel myself in imminent danger, for I am determined to maintain my post as long as I can; but I am sensible I have not an hour to call my own. We need the earnest prayers of our friends that we may be preserved, or, whatever be the Lord's will, that we may be faithful.

After many months of apprehension, and occasional hostilities between the two parties, the Natives gradually withdrew into the interior, and the Settlement resumed its accustomed occupations and quietness.*

Return of the Rev. J. H. Bernau to the Mission—Failure of Mr. Sheldon's Health.

of labour at Bartica Grove. He arrived there in July last, accompanied by Mrs. Bernau, and Mr. John Sheldon, who was sent out to superintend the School. A few months after his arrival, however, Mr. Sheldon's health completely failed, and he has been compelled to return to England.

Schools—Communicants.

During Mr. Bernau's absence various causes had contributed to produce a lamentable falling off both in the temporal and spiritual condition of his Station. On the 12th of December he writes, respecting the School—

The number of children has greatly diminished in our Schools, there being at present 46 girls and 20 boys under instruction. Their behaviour at present is more conformable to order and industry, and often am I cheered by their affectionate expressions toward me.

The untimely death of Mr. Butler was mentioned in the last Report. Mrs. Butler, who had charge of the Girls' School, has been recommended to return to England; but her place has been supplied by a lady from Berbice, whose services Mr. Bernau was immediately enabled to engage. He remarks, in the Letter just quoted—

The Girls' School, I am happy and thankful to say, is in a promising state. Five of the girls have expressed a desire for baptism, and are now under instruction. I have also 8 adult Candidates under instruction from the Arrowaks, and 10 of the Carabeese. The prospects begin to brighten, the Lord be praised!

There has been a falling off in the number of Communicants. Their exact amount has not been ascertained; but the average attendance is from 50 to 60.

General State of Rural Hill.

At this Station the Rev. C. A. Cooper has continued his labours, without the occurrence of any remarkable event during the year. He writes, Sept. 17, 1847—

The Day-school at this period is remarkably small, the Adult Sunday-school unusually large, and the number attending the Catechetical instruction for adults being at least from 200 to 300. The whole Negro Congregation is divided into about twelve classes, each under the supervision of a trustworthy Communicant. From these I obtain an intimate knowledge of the private character of the people, and by their aid I am often enabled to rebuke a presumptuous attempt to partake of the Lord's Supper, or other privilege, without due preparation.

And again, on the 20th of December—

Beyond a limited increase in the members of our Communion, and I hope a growing attachment to the Church on the part of the Negroes, there is not much of an encouraging nature to relate.

As to the School, I regret to say it is not by any means progressing as I could wish. The depression under which the commercial interests of this country are labouring is felt by all. The merchants are withdrawing or greatly diminishing their advancements to the planters, and in consequence the Negroes have to credit their employers for many months.

Report of Prattville—Death of a Pious Negress.

Mr. F. Byrne has continued to occupy the Station of Prattville, and has transmitted the following Report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1847—

At the commencement of the year all were filled with painful anxiety respecting the probable abandonment of this Station in consequence of there being no means of support provided. But this anxiety was dispelled by the timely munificence of the Society, aided by a temporary grant from His Lordship the Bishop, which enabled me to proceed with my duties as usual.

The provision was hailed by the Congregation with deep gratitude and heartfelt delight, which they publicly manifested by returning thanks to God during Divine Worship. It had also the effect of stimulating them to increased energy in the "work of faith and labour of love." This was evinced by an active effort on their part to complete the improvements made in our Place of Worship, and to liquidate all demands on the Station from their own resources, they having received no aid from any other source whatever. They also entered into an arrangement to keep the Station in repair, and the premises clean. This they have accordingly carried out, by opening the different paths leading to the Station, and making a new and commodious road, of some length, through a steep hill of limestone, to the Chapel; which before could not be approached without much difficulty and danger on horseback, especially in wet weather, owing to the stony and narrow ascent.

healthiness, the Congregation most cheerfully declared their willingness to do all in their power for our benefit; and accordingly both males and females turned out for several weeks successively, and effected various improvements. The Station is now much more comfortable, because healthier, from the free circulation of the sea breeze, which before was intercepted by a close wood surrounding the residence, but which has been completely cleared away by the Congregation, so as to enable us to see the sea. Through the same kind aid, the dwelling-house, also, has been improved. These are proofs, beyond doubt, with many others previously experienced, that the people are not indifferent to the privileges which they enjoy; and that they are willing, as far as lieth in them, to secure the Means of Grace and the blessings of salvation through Christ Jesus.

One of our Sunday-school Teachers, a female Negro, has been lately removed by death, after a short illness, in the full assurance of a glorious resurrection. She was possessed of a pious and intelligent mind, and enjoyed a clear perception of salvation through the righteousness of her crucified Saviour and risen Redeemer. Her dying request to me, respecting her class in the Sunday-school, and the members of the Church, as also respecting her family, breathed forth a spirit of Christian love and heavenly-mindedness never, I trust, to be forgotten. She was a most humble and consistent member of the Church in which she was baptized, confirmed, and admitted to communion. I was much struck with the confidence she manifested in her Saviour's love previous to her decease. In reply to the question how she felt, she said, with a degree of fervour and confidence seldom witnessed, "The 'outward man' is fast perishing, but 'the inward man' is being renewed. I feel that my sins are forgiven; that the Saviour is with me, strengthening and comforting me. I am quite happy: I am going to be with the Saviour." A few moments prior to her death she took an affectionate farewell of all around her. A portion of the account of the Redeemer's sufferings was read for her, after which she was heard distinctly repeating Psalm xxiii. When her soul was committed, in prayer, into the arms of her Saviour, whom she loved in life and in death, with uplifted arms she exclaimed, "Come, come, Lord Jesus." The pains of death came on; when she, with her hand, again bade adieu to all around her, and, turning her face in solemn silence from the gaze of all, without a struggle her happy spirit took its flight into the blessed regions of eternal joy.

NORTH-WEST-AMERICA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1822.

Mission Establishment :

5 European Missionaries.		2 Country-born Teachers.
4 European Schoolmasters.		2 Native Teachers.

It has pleased God severely to afflict portions of the Mission, since our last notice of it, both by sickness and scarcity; but we have thankfully to record that the Missionaries themselves have been enabled to continue their labours without material interruption.

UPPER SETTLEMENT.

Return of the Rev. W. Cockran to the Mission.

The Committee are thankful to report that a year's rest and retirement in Canada have, by the blessing of God, produced so favourable an effect upon the Rev. W. Cockran's health, that he has been able to return to the scene of his former labours. Accompanied by his family, he arrived at the Red River on the 31st of July last, and entered upon the ministerial duties of the Upper Church and the Garrison of the Upper Fort, as Chaplain to the Honourable Hudson's-Bay Company. Although he will thus be engaged in ministering to the Settlers, rather than in direct Missionary work, the Committee trust that the Mission will derive great benefit from his presence and counsel, his thorough acquaintance with the Indian character, and the weight of his influence throughout the Colony.

GRAND RAPIDS.

The arrival of the Rev. R. James and Mrs. James in October 1846, and the favourable impression produced upon their minds by the appearance of the Station to which they had been appointed, were mentioned in the last Report. This impression was only further confirmed by more mature experience.

Services—Communicants—Schools.

Mr. James attends to the duties of the Middle and Rapids Churches, and the districts respectively belonging to them. Of the attendance on Public Worship at the Rapids' Church he reports in August last—

I have never yet seen a vacant seat on the Lord's-day. Be the weather what it may, rain or snow, storm or sunshine, frozen mercury or fever heat, the Church is more than full. Many have to walk five or six miles each way, and that often, in winter, through two or three feet of snow. These facts, together with their devotional responses and attention in God's House, are a source of the greatest satisfaction and encouragement.

The number and devotional character of the Communicants are to Mr. James a source of joy. He observes—

There is no one thing which so forcibly struck me among this people as their profound regard for the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. This regard I find, on examination, is not superstitious, and the result of ignorance on essential points; but, in almost every case, is wholesome, and, I believe, based on scriptural views of the nature and importance of that blessed ordinance. The Communicants live as becomes them.

Mr. James is not able to report so favourably of the Schools. Owing, in some degree, to the prevalence of sickness in the Settlement, the number of scholars was small, and their progress unsatisfactory. There was, however, a fair prospect of improvement in this respect, and a new School had been established in the upper part of the Settlement.

General View.

In a Letter dated Nov. 29, 1847, Mr. James writes—

The work of God goes on encouragingly and quietly. There is no instance of a drawback in any of my people; but the same Christian consistency of life, the same devout attention to the duties of Religion, and, I know, an increasing experience of its pleasantness and power. My people are all at home now. The hunters have returned from their successful slaughters on the plains, the fishers from the lakes, and the boatmen from the Bay. These occupations are any thing but favourable to the spiritual welfare of those engaged in them. I am glad to hear, sometimes, of instances of good arising from their Christian conduct when far beyond my eye. I never fail to tell them of the influence of example, and how important it is that their light should be always shining when mingling with men who despise the Gospel, or who have never heard it. The Churches are very crowded, especially the Rapids. I am sorry that another year must pass away ere the new stone Church can be opened for worship.

INDIAN SETTLEMENT.

Trials—General View.

The Rev. J. Smithurst has continued to labour at this Station, amid trials arising from sickness and scarcity. It may be hoped that these dispensations were sanctified, for Mr. Smithurst relates—

I have many a time, in conversation with the people, heard it remarked, "When we had plenty we were not thankful, and did not make a good use of it; and now God has taken away from us our abundance to teach us its value, and to make us use it better when He again sees fit to give us any thing."

In a Letter dated Nov. 25, 1847, Mr. Smithurst writes—

The attendance at Church on the Lord's-day is very good, and the Indians are still as attentive as ever to instruction; but in consequence of the scarcity of food they are so much dispersed during the week that I am unable to get them, as formerly, to attend my Lectures at the School on week-day evenings. Many go to the lake on Monday morning to fish, and return only on the Saturday. Others go to the pines to catch rabbits, and stay away also the whole week. These are trials both to them and to myself; but we must submit till God shall be pleased again to bless us with a good harvest. The harvest of this year has been a very scanty one. In about nineteen cases out of twenty the crops quite failed, scarcely giving back a quantity equal to the seed sown. I have great reason to be thankful that on the Mission Farm we shall have nearly 200 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of barley. The large quantity of wheat arises from my successful experiment of sowing 10 bushels in the autumn of 1846. All my Missionary brethren are depending upon this, and it will not be much for each when it has been divided, and a due supply of seed has been retained. For this supply, however, I know not how to express my feelings of thankfulness to our Heavenly Father, who, true to His promises, gives us our daily bread.

There are now two full Services on the Lord's-day at the Indian Church—the Morning Service being wholly in English, and the Afternoon Service in Indian. The attendance in the morning averages 300, and in the afternoon 180. I attend the Sunday-school between the Morning and Afternoon Services, and have my Bible Class at Church for an hour in the evening.

CUMBERLAND STATION.

General View.

The annals of this remote branch of the North-West-America Mission certainly form one of the most remarkable pages in Missionary history. In the principal Station and its dependent outpost—Lac-la-Ronge, 500 miles further in the wilderness—the single-handed Missionary, the Rev. James Hunter, has been permitted to baptize, during the last year, no fewer than 192 Indians, of whom 80 were adults. The latter had been carefully instructed in the leading truths of Christianity, and appeared to be truly desirous of adorning its profession by their conduct. Among the number were two leading Chiefs, whose influence would have great weight with their tribes. At the close of the year there were also 100 Candidates for Baptism under instruction.

Report for the Year ending August 1, 1847—Visit to a Christian Chief.

At the principal Station some progress has been made in the erection of the Mission-House, and the frame-work of the new Church has been put up. After referring to the great increase which has taken place in the number of baptized Indians connected with this Station Mr. Hunter remarks, August 1847—

The Means of Grace have been regularly attended, so far as circumstances have permitted; and the Christian Indians, although as yet but “babes in Christ,” appear to be growing in grace, and in the knowledge of Jesus Christ their Saviour.

The Public Services have been conducted as last reported. The average attendance on the Lord’s-day has been about 150 during the winter, and this summer, when the Indians returned from their hunting-grounds, we had about 250 present, beside a great number who, from the crowded state of the room, could not find admittance. I have also prayers every evening at sunset, and also on Lord’s-day mornings before the Sunday-school commences. These Meetings are well attended, and at all our Services the Indians conduct themselves with devoutness and propriety.

During the past year I have baptized 85 persons, 32 of whom were adults and 53 children. These, added to the 274 last reported, make a total of 359 persons connected with this Station. I have baptized two Chiefs, leading men among the Indians, whose example will tend very materially to strengthen our hands, and weaken those of the heathen party. There are still about 50 Candidates for Baptism here.

Five new Communicants have been admitted during the year; adding whom to the 41 last reported, we have a total of 46. So far as I am aware, these persons are walking consistently with their profession, and endeavouring to “adorn the doctrine” of Christ their Saviour by holy and religious lives: deep personal piety is manifested by several among them. The seasons for approaching the Table of the Lord are highly valued: in many instances the Communicants come 200 or 300 miles for the purpose of being present.

In our Day-school we have at present 78 pupils—41 boys and 37 girls—being an increase of 13 since the last Report. In the Bible Class there are 5 boys and 9 girls, and in the Testament Class 8 boys and 6 girls: the remainder are reading in books and cards below the Testament. The children are making very satisfactory progress in their studies, and appear to feel a pleasure in attending the School.

In the Sunday-school we have 9 male adults and 30 females, in addition to the 78 attending the Day-school; making a total of 117.

The Mission Farm has been enlarged, and the Christian Indians are advancing in civilization. On this subject Mr. Hunter reports—

The frames of four houses have been put up by the Indians, and are now being logged. Several Indians are away, cutting wood for houses, which they intend to raft down the river. On their farms are growing excellent crops of wheat, barley, potatoes, and turnips; and some of them have horses, cattle, and pigs. They are now dressed in European clothes, and are abandoning their native indolence, and adopting more active and industrious habits. Many of them are excellent sawyers and squarers, and are able very materially to assist the carpenter in the erection of our new buildings. As in spiritual, so in temporal things, a great change is taking place among these Indians: this strikes me the more forcibly when I visit Heathen Indians, who have not had the like privileges.

The following extract from Mr. Hunter's Journal is an interesting case in point of the great temporal change here mentioned—

Jan. 5, 1847—I went with Mrs. Hunter to visit Charles Cook, the Rocky-Lake Chief, at his farm, about six miles from hence. The old man is now residing in a house which he has recently erected, in which we found a cheerful fire blazing, and his family seated around the hearth. They appeared to be both surprised and delighted with our visit, and the old man seated us near the fire. He has put up the house very well, and has a nice cellar in which he keeps his potatoes secure from the frost. Adjoining is another house, in which he keeps a pig that I gave him, and I have promised to supply him with a calf shortly: his sons lately purchased a horse for him. He has a large family, and was one of the first here who embraced Christianity. Before leaving we sang a hymn together, and engaged in prayer to our common Father.

Failure of the Efforts of the Papacy.

The Church of Rome has signally failed in its efforts in this quarter. On this subject Mr. Hunter states, in delightful contrast with his apprehensions mentioned in our last Report—

The house erected at this Station by the Roman-Catholic Priest in 1845 is still unfinished and unoccupied. The two Priests who passed through the Station last year on their way to the Île-à-la-Crosse, where they wintered, did not succeed in baptizing one person; since which time no Priest has visited the Station, although rumours are afloat that one is at present on his way to this place. However, all the Indians here, with the exception of one or two families, are either baptized or Candidates for Baptism; so that we may confidently affirm that the movements of the Papacy at this place have proved a complete failure.

Christian Deaths—Missionary Journeys.

Mr. Hunter's Journals contain notices of several Indians who died, as he has every reason to believe, "in the Lord."

Mr. Hunter made five Missionary journeys in the course of the year—two to Cumberland House, two to Moose Lake, and one to Lac-la-Ronge.

LAC-LA-RONGE.

The interesting circumstances under which the Rapid-River Indians first became acquainted with the truths of the Gospel were detailed in the last Report. Since then Mr. James Settee, the Catechist, has resided among them, and laboured diligently under the superintendence of Mr. Hunter, who, however, was only able, on account of the distance, to make them a short visit of three days.

Services—Schools—Annual Report.

The average attendance on Public Worship is about 60, although occasionally more than 100 are present.

There are 53 children in the Day-school, and about 15 additional in the Sunday-school.

In his Report of this Station for the year ending Aug. 1, 1847, Mr. Hunter writes—

I may here mention the gratifying circumstance, that all the Indians at Lac-la-Ronge have embraced the Christian Religion: there is not one Heathen among them. From all I saw, I am convinced that this change has been effected by the gracious operation of the Holy Spirit on the hearts of these Indians, convincing them of their sinfulness and danger, and leading them to embrace Christ and His "great salvation." There are 107 Baptized Indians, who value the Gospel, and are desirous of instruction and the Means of Grace, together with from 50 to 60 Candidates for Baptism, beside extensive openings for usefulness on every side; but no Minister of Christ to occupy the post. I must add, that two Priests of the Roman-Catholic Church are located in the neighbourhood, and are actively engaged in baptizing the Indians—suspending round their necks crucifixes of brass, which the poor ignorant Indian readily exchanges for his idol—and circulating among them written papers filled with hieroglyphics.

Since we have secured the Lac-la-Ronge Indians, they are drawing in their friends and relatives from all quarters; and were a Clergyman located in the neighbourhood I have no hesitation in saying that the majority, if not all the Indians included within the Île-à-la-Crosse District, would embrace the Protestant faith; for they are far more disposed to embrace the Protestant than the Roman-Catholic religion. I am led to hope and pray that our Christian friends at home will make some effort to send these promising Indians a resident Minister.

And in another communication, written during his visit to this place, Mr. Hunter makes the following appeal—

I must now address one word to my Christian friends at home, especially the members of the Church Missionary Society. These Indians have listened to the instruction of their Missionary; have believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, and are trusting in Him alone for the salvation of their souls; have been baptized in accordance with the commandment of their Saviour; and are now expecting and entreating for a Minister to be sent to them. Shall their expectations be disappointed?

The Openings at Île-à-la-Crosse and Fort Chippewyan.

During the winter Mr. Settee visited Île-à-la-Crosse. It appears that the Indians at this place and at Fort Chipewyan are very ready to receive instruction. The gentleman in charge at the latter place told Mr. Hunter that the Indians were still waiting for a Minister to come among them, and had already renounced many of their heathen practices.

MANITOBA STATION.

General View—Schools.

There has been but little improvement in the spiritual condition of this Station. The Natives, though willing to acknowledge that their welfare is the only object which the Missionaries have in view, are still unprepared to lay aside their deep-rooted superstitions, and accept the blessings which are offered them. The only exception is that of an Indian and his family, who have given proof of their sincerity by coming from Swan River, a distance of 200 miles, for the sake of obtaining Christian instruction. The father and two of his children have been baptized.

The Schools are in an improving condition. There are now 27 boarders and 15 day-scholars, making a total of 42. With respect to their progress the Rev. A. Cowley thus writes, July 21, 1847—

Those who continued with us during the past year have made considerable advances in their several branches of learning. Some read the Bible quite fluently, have learned all the Catechisms we have here, and know a great deal of the Scriptures. Others are following close after them in reading; but are more backward in writing and arithmetic. The remainder are progressing favourably.

Roman Catholicism.

It is painful to find that even in this distant spot Romanism is striving to erect its barrier against the progress of true Christianity. The following passage from Mr. Cowley's Journal will show what difficulties he has to contend with from this quarter—

What distresses me very much is the fact that they will not, or cannot, see that they are sinners before the Lord. I do not remember more than one instance since we have been here of an Indian directly acknowledging his sin. They generally think their own way as good—and nearly, if not quite, the same—as that which we read to them from the Bible. Their knowledge of the idolatrous practices of the Romanists in this country tends greatly to confirm them in these views, and to quiet their consciences in their own idolatry. Oogemah said to me the other day, "I have been to the first Church from the Bay"—a Romish establishment on the Assineboine, a short distance from the southern extremity of Lake Manitoba—"and seen their worship ; and I think those images which they use as likenesses of the gods they call upon very similar to the ones we use.”*

CONCLUSION.

THE Committee have now reviewed the proceedings of the past year. Though they have not been able to report great accessions to the class of Inquirers or Catechumens in any one of the Missions, yet in every one there has been not only an advance and consolidation of the Christian Churches, and of the Educational and other Benevolent Institutions, but an increase in the number of baptized persons and Communicants. There has also been abundant evidence of an awakened spirit of inquiry, and of a favourable disposition toward Christianity, among the surrounding Heathen. That which one Missionary reports respecting New Zealand may be said of almost every other Missionary field—It seems as if the whole population would soon become nominally Christian, either as Protestants or Papists.

The number of Ordained Missionaries now upon the field

* Further accounts of the North-West-America Mission are given in the “Church Missionary Record” for December 1847, pp. 286—301 ; and Jan. 1848, pp. 1—3.

amounts to 134, being a larger number than in any previous year. Fourteen Native Clergymen are included in the number.

In the last Annual Report the Committee described the gathering of hostile forces for a mighty contest between light and darkness; and now, at the close of the year, they are able to report that the band of warriors forming our Missionary body has been materially strengthened; and that the Missionary camp was never more efficient, nor better prepared for a fuller developement of its resources.

But here the Committee are checked, in the anticipations which would naturally arise, by that topic to which they referred at the commencement of this Report, and to which they are compelled again to recur—the Financial Position of the Society.

In the last Report the Committee had the privilege of congratulating the Members upon a most favourable financial position. This year our position has been reversed: partly by a falling off in the income; partly by an unforeseen increase in the expenditure; and partly by the depreciation of public securities. Christian fidelity and prudence suggest a contraction, instead of an enlargement, of the Foreign Operations of the Society; for the Committee conceive it to be their first duty to take measures for replacing this year's diminution of the Capital Fund, and for increasing its amount. For this purpose they must withdraw a part of the funds which would otherwise have been devoted to Missionary operations abroad. They have therefore resolved to appropriate all the Legacies to this object, until the Capital Fund shall have been made up to a sufficient amount.

Again—As the income of the Society is barely sufficient to keep up its present establishments, it will be impossible, until there be a prospect of a permanent increase of income, to send out any fresh Missionaries, except to supply actual and pressing vacancies. The Committee are prepared faithfully, economically, and diligently to distribute the funds placed at their disposal. But here their commission before God and man ceases. Beyond this limit they cannot knowingly advance. They cannot incur liabilities, or contract debts, which they have no means of meeting.

Such is the position of the Society at a time when its success is rapidly augmenting; when the Divine blessing is poured out more largely than ever upon its operations; and when there is on every side the most urgent and affecting demand for an enlargement of those operations.

The most striking evidence of a Divine blessing upon our Missions is found in the increasing number of the Communicants, who are only admitted to the Holy Communion after strict examination, and under the exercise of Christian discipline.

During the last five years the returns of Communicants from the several permanent Stations of the Society—omitting the West Indies—have been steadily advancing. Thus

1845		9058
1846		10,668

But during the same period the contributions of Christians at home, to sustain this advancing work, have been stationary in amount; for the large increase of income last year has been counterbalanced by the deficiency of the present. Had the Society only a circumscribed work before it, and were time of no account, we might rest satisfied with a stationary income. But with a field to cultivate, which “is the world”; with generations of fellow-men quickly perishing from “lack of knowledge”; with the strict command of Christ sounding in our ears, “Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature”; we cannot stand still.

Is this the season, it may well be asked, when the Society may slacken its efforts and settle upon its lees?

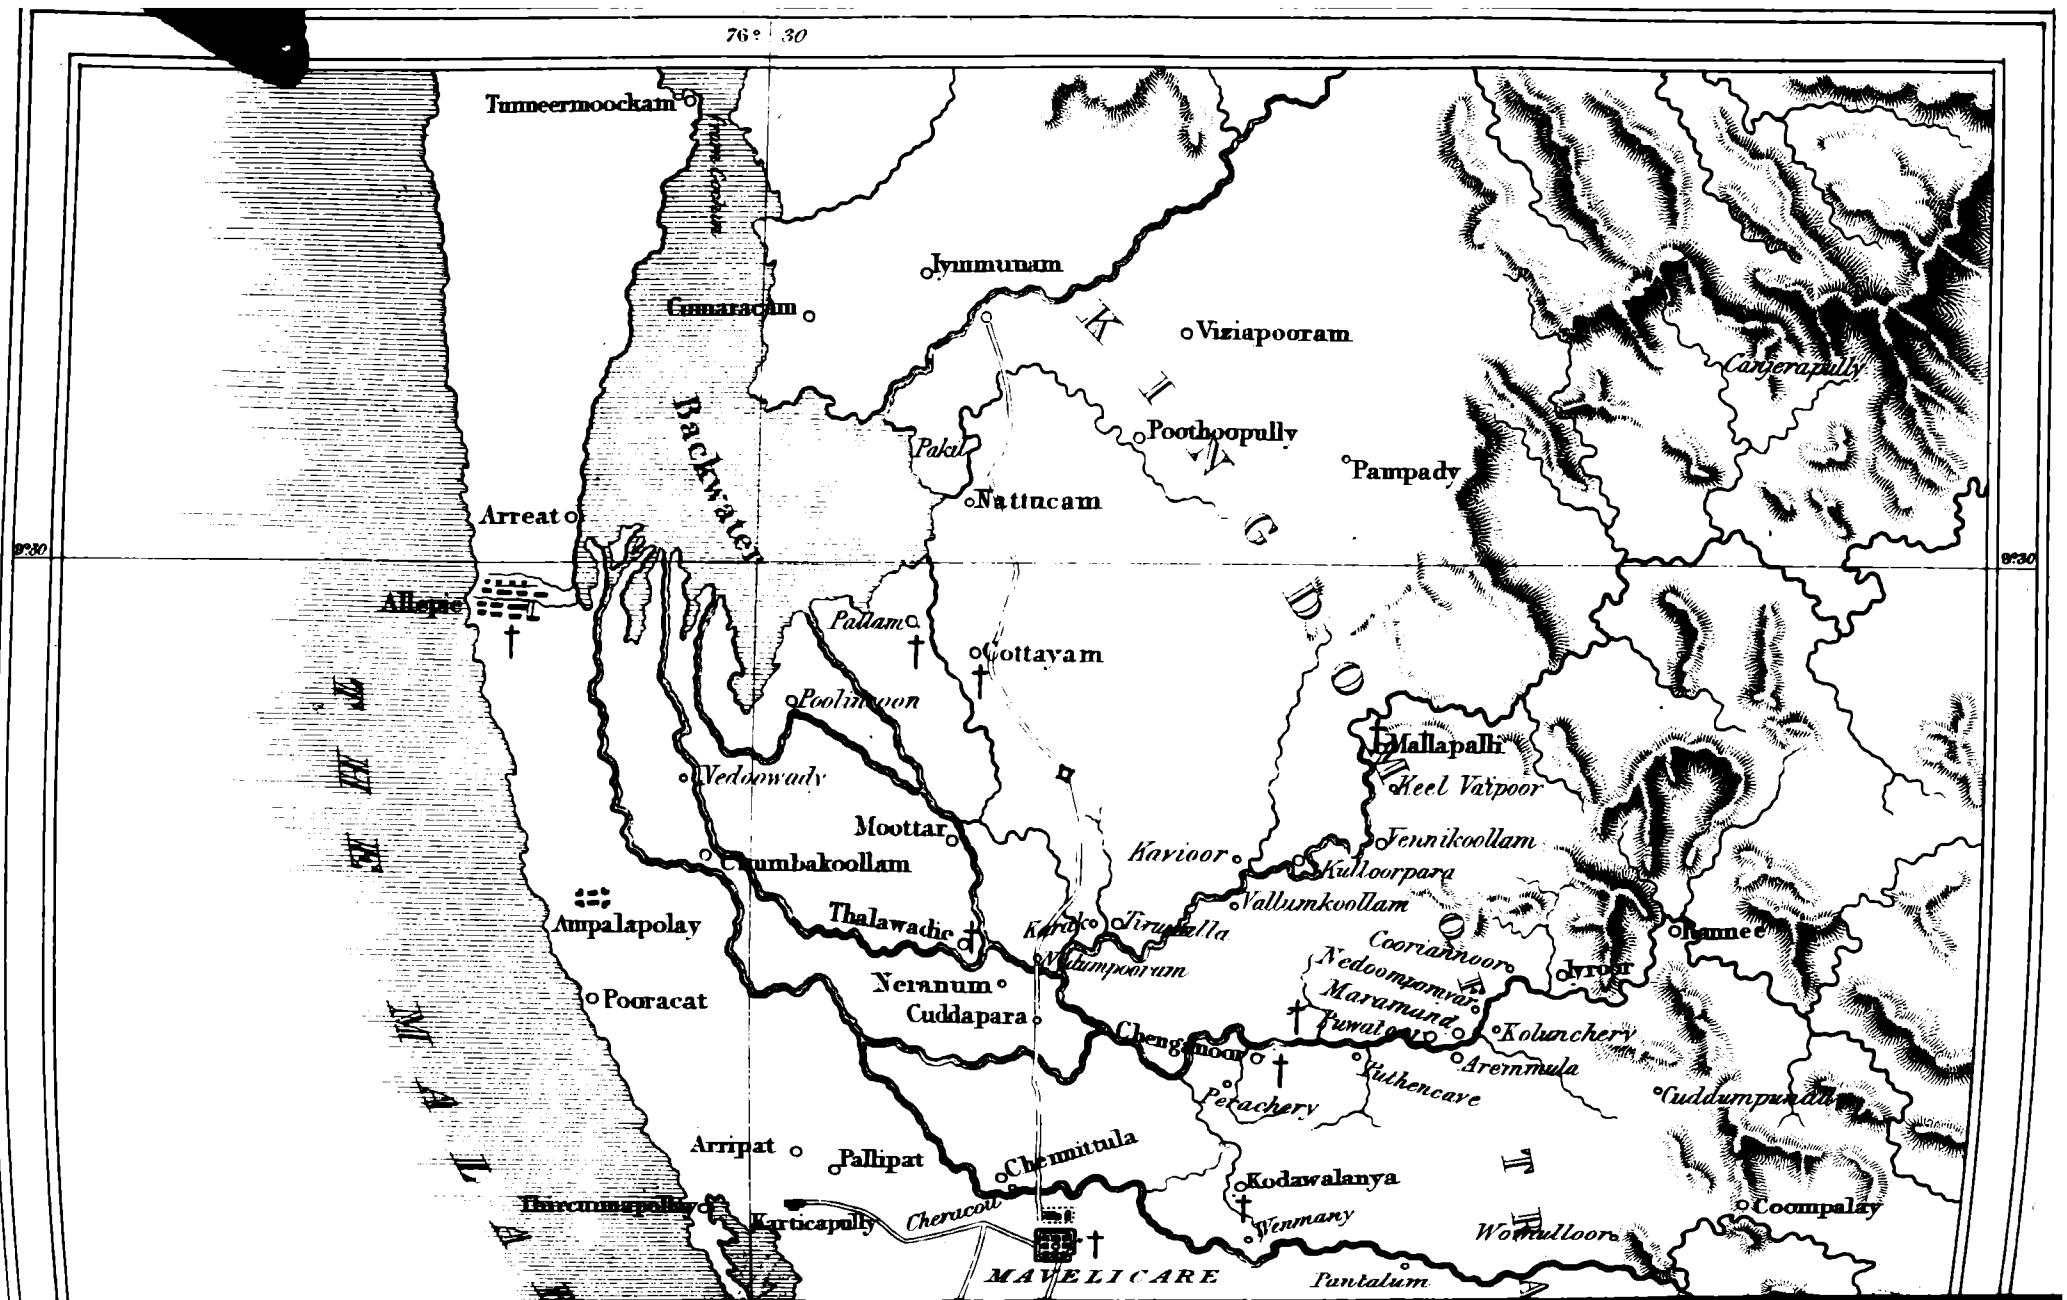

Surely it needs but little discernment to read our duty stamped in legible characters upon every opening before us, and upon every success which has been granted us. Onward is the word. Nor is it duty only on which we urge our appeal. When we contemplate the state of our beloved country, the plea of gratitude is no less urgent upon us to “abound in the work of the Lord.” Recovered from the peril of famine; preserved, hitherto, from domestic convulsions and foreign aggressions; and preserved, it may be, to convey a special blessing to the nations of the earth; shall we not render again to the Lord for all His benefits to us?

And there is yet another argument which the present season suggests to the members of the Church Missionary Society for some special efforts to advance our cause. In estimating the progress of a single Mission, we have found it useful to take a retrospect of a few years, that we might better learn what God hath wrought, and thereby gather fresh hope and encouragement to advance. Let us this day take a wider retrospect; and extend our glance—though a mere glance it must be—through the events of half a century to the date of the Society’s establishment. On that day, a few men of faith and prayer, not one of them having rank either in the Church or State—only twenty-five in number—met to pledge themselves to commence a Mission among the Heathen, and to lay down the principles on which they would act. Unlike other Societies which have come into existence under the guarantee of extensive patronage, this Society had no other guarantee or patronage than its principles. The Society has never shrunk from accepting the designation usually given to those principles, as emphatically Evangelical and Protestant.

The venerable fathers of the Society laid their plans before the Ecclesiastical Rulers of that day, soliciting their favourable regard of the attempt to extend the benefits of Christianity, and their permission that the plan might have its fair trial. For more than a year they suspended all further steps, till they received from the Primate of that day the assurance of a candid observation of their proceedings. And it would be an act of ingratitude, as well as of injustice, if the Society were to omit, on such an occasion as this, the humble acknowledgment of the candour with which their proceedings were ever regarded by the chief rulers of the Church, while they saw it right to withhold their full sanction from its constitution, as well as of the cordiality with which that sanction was ultimately conceded. This day, on which our Jubilee commences, by one of those concurrences of Providence which often mark a special epoch, we see before us this great Anniversary Meeting; and it is presided over by one whose presence combines the encouragement of a long-standing attachment to our principles with the sanction of the highest ecclesiastical authority. It is not for the Committee, at such a season, to raise the notes of despondency, as if the Lord had ceased His blessing. If He were pleased to put us aside, "would He have showed us these things?" Let, then, the financial check which we have experienced only serve to banish from our minds all confidence in any arm of flesh—the sin which easily besets a state of unmixed prosperity—and let it stir up the spirit of prayer and faith in which the Society was founded. Then may we reckon upon greater things than we have yet seen; AND THE PRESENT SEASON MAY FITLY BECOME THE OCCASION OF A GREAT SPECIAL EFFORT ON BEHALF OF THE SOCIETY, AND OF A FRESH IMPULSE IN ITS CHRISTIAN COURSE, BY THE ENLARGEMENT OF ITS HOME RESOURCES, AND A CORRESPONDING PROGRESS IN ITS FOREIGN SUCCESS.

The Committee cannot abstain from adding one final word, in reference to a subject doubtless present to the minds of all, which may well give support to the enlarged hopes and expectations which they have ventured to indulge. The scenes which Europe now witnesses cannot be more adequately described than by the pen of the Prophet Isaiah—"The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly." And it is in immediate sequence with these words that he adds, "Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed, when the Lord of Hosts shall reign in Mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, and before His ancients gloriously."

* * Some misapprehension having arisen with regard to the Association Accounts appended to the Society's Report, the Secretaries beg to state that there is no connexion between the sum total of those Accounts and the sum total of Association Contributions acknowledged in the "Abstract of the General Mission Account" of the Parent Committee. The Association Accounts are made up at different periods, and their sum total thus necessarily varies from that acknowledged in the Parent Committee's "Abstract" above mentioned, which includes the actual payments made at the Society's House between April 1st and March 31st in each year, and is, therefore, quite irrespective of the periods at which, for local convenience, Association Accounts are made up and balanced. It frequently happens, however, that an Association remits the whole of its year's receipts during the Society's financial year (April 1 to March 31), in which case of course the total of that Association, given in its place in the Report, will agree with the total acknowledged in the "Summary of Contributions," &c. (which is only an amplification of the total acknowledged in the "Abstract"). Thus in the present Report the West-Ham Association Account, printed at p. 15, shows a total of 34l. 13s.; which sum will be found to agree with the total acknowledged from West Ham in the "Summary," it having been remitted to the Society's House between April 1, 1847, and March 31, 1848. On the other hand, the Bayswater Chapel Association Account (which follows West Ham) shows a total of 133l. 7s. 8d., while in the "Summary" the total acknowledged from that Association is only 130l. 4s. 8d. This arises from 3l. 3s. of the 133l. 7s. 8d. having been remitted to the Society's House prior to April 1, 1847, and consequently being included in the last year's "Abstract" and "Summary." It would greatly facilitate a perfect agreement between the total of the Association Accounts printed in the Report, and the total acknowledged in the "Abstract" and "Summary," if all the Associations were to close their accounts on the 31st of December in each year. Time would thus be allowed to remit to the Parent Society the whole of the year's receipts before the 31st of March following, and nothing BEYOND the year's receipts should be remitted before the 1st of April.

The appending to the Society's Report of the Accounts of the Associations may be regarded as a universal acknowledgment to the Local Contributors that their Contributions have been received by the Parent Committee; though the circumstances above stated render it impossible that the totals of those Contributions should in all cases correspond with the totals acknowledged in the "Summary." It may be just mentioned, in conclusion, that an Account Current is kept at the Society's Office with each Association, by which the actual transmission of its receipts to the Parent Committee is shown.

N.B. Benefactors of Ten Pounds and upward, whose names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will now find them in the List of "Benefactions of Former Years."

XVIII.—FOREIGN CONTRIBUTIONS RAISED AND EXPENDED IN THE MISSIONS.*

* The particulars of these Contributions, given below, will in some cases be found to amount to a different sum from that given in the Society's General Mission Account, p. 185. This arises from the imperfect returns of the Local Contributions from the various Committees and Stations abroad—imperfect, at least, as they reach the Home Committee, although in the Missions, it is believed, full accounts are rendered by the Local Committees and others to the parties subscribing through them.

* It should be stated, in reference to the Expenditure of 1847-48, that, contrary to former practice, it was deemed advisable to introduce the amount of Bills of Exchange under acceptance at the close of the Financial Year, but not then paid: consequently by this arrangement the Expenditure of 1847-48, in comparison with other years, is increased by the outstanding Acceptances on 31st March, 1847, amounting to 8622*l.* 0*s.* 2*d.*, which, according to the plan since adopted, as before stated, would have been included in the Accounts of that year.

XXVII.—ABSTRACT OF ACCOUNTS CURRENT OF THE MISSIONS, WITH HOME EXPENDITURE;

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1848.

* * The following Statement, compiled from the latest Accounts that have been received, is given with a view of exhibiting, somewhat in detail, the various heads of Expenditure in the several Missions, and at Home. It will be perceived, however, that the totals, both of the whole, and of each Mission, differ from the totals given in the Abstract of the General Mission Account (pp. 182, 184, 186, and 188). This arises from the Accounts of the Missions being made up to various periods; while the Society's Financial Year uniformly closes on the 31st of March.
