PROPER FORM OF A BENEFACTION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

IN consequence of some late decisions with regard to charitable Legacies, it has been found necessary, in order that a Testator's benevolent intentions may not be frustrated, as has been the case in several instances, that the following forms of Bequest should be substituted for that hitherto printed in the Society's Reports.

No. I.—Form of Bequest of a Common Legacy.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of a voluntary Society meeting in or near London commonly called or known by the name of "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East" the sum of Pounds *free of Legacy duty for the general purposes of the said Society† to be paid within calendar months next after my death. And in order that the said Legacy [or Legacies] for charitable purposes may be paid in full I direct the same together with the Legacy duty thereon to be paid exclusively out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may be bequeathed for charitable purposes and in priority to all my Debts and funeral and testamentary expenses and all other Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society [or each of the said Societies] shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy [or Legacies respectively].

No. II.—Form of Bequest of the Residue, or a Share of the Residue.

And in order to give full effect to the bequest hereinafter contained for charitable purposes I direct that my Debts, the expenses of my funeral and of the probate and execution of this my Will and the Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto shall be paid out of such part of my personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may not be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the primary Fund‡ and in case only of the same being insufficient for payment thereof then out of such part of my personal Estate as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the ultimate Fund; and subject as aforesaid, I give and bequeath unto the Treasurer for the time being of a voluntary Society meeting in or near London called or known by the name of "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East" for the general purposes of the said Society such part of my residuary personal Estate as by the Laws in force may be bequeathed for charitable purposes [or if a share only of the residue be intended to be given, then, instead of the words in Italics, say, "such sum of money as shall be equal to (one-fourth or one-half, according to the intention) of my whole residuary personal Estate to be paid exclusively out of such part thereof as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes or such less sum as the said last mentioned part of my personal Estate will extend to pay"]. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general residuary personal Estate I bequeath the same &c. ||

* If so intended.

† If there be other charitable Legacies, they may be here added thus—"and to a certain other voluntary Society" &c. "and I direct each of the said several Legacies hereby bequeathed for charitable purposes to be paid" &c. as in the remainder of the above form.

‡ In case there be other charitable Legacies, insert here, "other than and except charitable Legacies."

§ If it be intended also to charge the Debts and Legacies on real Estate, then add "and in the next place out of my Freehold and Copyhold Estates."

|| The latter Clause to be filled up according to the Testator's wishes; but it must not be for any charitable purpose.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May the 1st, 1849, being the Fiftieth Anniversary—

The Right Hon. the EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair,

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY ONE OF THE CLERICAL SECRETARIES
AND THE REV. JOHN VENN, M.A., PREBENDARY OF HEREFORD, AND ALSO THE THIRTY-FIFTH

CHAPTER OF ISAIAH,

The LORD BISHOP OF NORWICH being obliged to leave the Meeting, gave a short Address, and afterward,
On the Motion of the RIGHT REV. THE LORD BISHOP OF WINCHESTER, V.P., seconded by the RIGHT REV. THE LORD BISHOP OF CASHEL, V.P., it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of this Meeting be given to the Rev. John Harding for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to His Grace the Vice-Patron; to the Right Hon. the President and the Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies. [See List, p. iv.]

*On the Motion of the RIGHT HON. THE EARL OF WALDEGRAVE, V.P., seconded by the

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the spirit in which the Jubilee of the Church Missionary Society was celebrated, both at home and abroad, and the liberal contributions which have been made to the Jubilee Fund, constitute a special call from the Lord to this Society to enlarge their exertions, in dependence upon His blessing, for the conversion of the world; and will justify their sending forth at once an additional band of men, both to reinforce and to extend their Missions.

On the Motion of the REV. HUGH STOWELL, M.A., Minister of Christ Church, Salford, Manchester, seconded by the REV. WILLIAM SMITH, one of the Society's Missionaries from Benares, North India, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting looks forward with deep interest and thankfulness to the appointment of Missionary Bishops to preside over Missionary fields of labour, as in China and Prince Rupert's Land, as affording the means, under God, of the speedy confirmation and settlement of Native Churches under Native Pastors; and they record their earnest hope that West Africa—the earliest of all the Society's Missions—may soon enjoy the ministrations of a resident Bishop.

On the Motion of GURNEY HOARE, ESQ., seconded by the REV. HENRY TOWNSEND, one of the Society's Missionaries from Abbeokuta, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the opening prospect of sending Missionaries into the interior of Africa, with the Scriptures in the native languages, affords a cheering hope of arresting, at their very source, the evils of the Slave-trade, and of repaying the just and righteous debt which England owes to Africa, and which the Fathers of this Society, at its very foundation, set forth as the first Missionary obligation of the Church of England.

At a Meeting of the Society, held at Exeter Hall in the Evening of the same Day—

The Most Hon. the MARQUESS CHOLMONDELEY, one of the Vice-Presidents, in the Chair,

A PORTION OF ACTS XI., AND EXTRACTS FROM THE REPORT HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. JOHN VENN—

On the Motion of the VEN. THOMAS DEALTRY, D.D., Archdeacon of Calcutta, seconded by the REV. JOHN TUCKER, B.D., one of the Secretaries, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the late events in the Punjaub, as well as the present state of security in which, by the special providence of God, India is apparently held by the Protestant country of Great Britain, place our Church and nation under a peculiar responsibility to convey the Gospel to her numerous tribes and nations.

On the Motion of the REV. DAVID ANDERSON, D.D., Bishop Designate of Rupert's Land, seconded by the REV. RICHARD DAVIES, M.A., Vicar of Brenchley, Kent, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That, adverting to the peculiar character of the Society's field of labour in North-West America, the isolated position of the several Stations, and the comparatively advanced state of Native Agency, this Meeting especially rejoices in the extension of the Episcopate to Rupert's Land; and earnestly prays that this measure may be blessed to the bringing of numbers of Christ's sheep, who are dispersed abroad in the midst of that vast wilderness, to the fold of the great Shepherd and Bishop of souls.

On the Motion of the REV. CHARLES HODGSON, M.A., Rector of Barton-le-Street, Yorkshire, seconded by the REV. WILLIAM CADMAN, M.A., Minister of Park Chapel, Chelsea, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting, while it would thankfully acknowledge what God has wrought in these latter days by His Spirit and His Gospel in the world, cannot but contemplate the millions of Heathen and Mahomedans, to whom we have free access, but to whom no Messenger of Salvation has been sent by us, with feelings of humiliation; and desire to impress on one another, and on their Christian brethren, the obligation laid upon us at this time to be more constant and earnest in prayer to God, to pour forth His Holy Spirit, and greatly to increase the number of faithful Missionaries.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate, to the General Committee, proper persons, as Patrons and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents for the Society in the principal Towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; the other Committees as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee; and Three, each of the others. In case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex-officio, Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society; of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued: The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.*

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. That all questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between any Colonial Bishop and any Committee of the Society, shall be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, whose decision thereupon shall be final.

XXXIII. That the object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as, in any other respect, to alter the principles and practice of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations, and explained in Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Report.

The proposed reference shall be made, through His Grace the Primate, by the Committee, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the Committee may deem advisable; and the Committee will be bound so to refer all questions, falling within the scope of the Rule so understood as aforesaid, which the Colonial Bishop shall require them to refer.

While all decisions of the Bench of Bishops on questions so referred will be considered by the Committee as binding on them and their agents or representatives, the Colonial Bishops or other Ecclesiastical Authorities, unless concurring in the reference, cannot properly be considered as so bound.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The following passage, from Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Annual Report, illustrates the practice of the Society in reference to this Rule:—

"The Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] our Missionaries—these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same Colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church."

APPENDIX II. TO THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT.

REFERRED TO IN THE NOTE TO LAW XXIX.

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

It is the object of the following Remarks to show, that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognised in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognised co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in MATTERS ECCLESIASTICAL; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant Church, a Lay-Patron selects and presents "his Clerk"—as the Clergyman is technically called—to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every Church—the Churchwardens or Sidesmen—whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle, that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the Four following Heads:

I. THE COLLECTION OF THE HOME REVENUE, AND THE DISBURSEMENT OF IT ABROAD.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. THE SELECTING AND EDUCATING CANDIDATES FOR MISSIONARY EMPLOYMENT.

In this department there is no necessary encroachment upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged, that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment: and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates: and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London "sends forth" every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their Foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a SENDING FORTH of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign Stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognised the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour; so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President—December 17, 1835—in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognised Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those—the Committee and Secretary—who still stand in the relation of Lay-Patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop* or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask [to receive]."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms:—"You seem to me to lay down the principle most correctly. . . . This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I report all the proceedings of the diocese."—9th June 1836.

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a licence or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries: the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837:—

"We are not to take for granted, that discretionary power will be abused; but, on the contrary, to provide, by a cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an occurrence. If the event of arbitrary conduct should arise, or be supposed to arise, the remedies are—public opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop—and the Society's refusing to make other appointments and locations than those unreasonably objected to. Nothing is the least likely—and probability is the guide of life—to arise to impede or cramp the Committee; since they unquestionably and avowedly possess, The choice of men—The appointment of spheres of labour—The temporal power, including pecuniary support."

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands toward its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a Beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is, in a sense, perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

* The Three Bishops of India, and the Bishop of Australia, are the Presidents of the Corresponding Committees in their respective dioceses.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Missionary Committees," says his Lordship, "have a far greater latitude in India than any Lay-Patrons at home. Upon presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, the Patron at home is functus officio. The Clergyman is removed, on being once instituted and licensed, totally and for ever from the Patron, and is transferred to the superintendency of the Bishop. The Patron has nothing whatever more to do with him. But in India, the Committee is (1) the continued paymaster of the Missionary after he is duly licensed;—for institution and induction there are none. (2) They correspond with him. (3) They supply him with Catechists. (4) They report his chief proceedings home. (5) They propose removals and changes of Station to the Bishop. (6) They exercise, unavoidably, an influence which does not belong to the mere Lay-Patron; and are aiding, in a variety of ways, to the comfortable and honourable discharge of the Missionary's most exalted and most spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those Stations which are Extra-diocesan; i.e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such Stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras, to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission in Travancore; which, as an independent state, not forming a part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made on behalf of the New-Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia; who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly satisfactory to me, that our friends at home are taking a view of these things which proves them to belong, not only to a MISSIONARY, but also to a CHURCH Society." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert, that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta—Letter, May 26, 1837:—"The boundaries of the power of Committees, as they approach to those of the Bishop, can be ascertained, in many points, only by time and observation." Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society: and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—"The principles of our new relations are now fully recognised: the details will soon find their level."—Letter, 9th June 1836.

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church.* Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that, in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this TRANSITION STATE—from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour.

* The American Episcopal Church has, in Convention, thus identified itself with a Missionary Society.

February 1839.

This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach. In an interview with the Bishop of Barbados—April 1835—this point was expressly alluded to; and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, "that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary's services."—(Extracts from Committee's Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society, according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee's using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper Candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops—as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson—that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceeding.

It seems impossible to supersede this conventional understanding—as it may be termed—till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, not of confusion, but of peace, and "the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause—"that all and every of these may, IN THEIR SEVERAL CALLINGS, serve truly and painfully, to the glory of His name!"

NAMES OF MISSIONARIES AND OTHER LABOURERS, AT THE SEVERAL STATIONS OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY: 1849.

* By MISSIONARY, is to be understood one in Holy Orders; and by CATECHIST, one who engages in such religious care and instruction of the people as may be consistent with his character as a Layman. The letter (m) means Married; (w) Widow.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Females; such as, cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing Female Adults.

A STATION is the place at which a Missionary or European Catechist is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers sent from Europe show the date of their first leaving England.

The asterisk (*) denotes that the Missionary is on his way out; The mark (†) that he is on his way home.

RECTOR OF ST. ANDREW BY THE WARDROBE,

1 THESSALONIANS III. 12, 13.

AND THE LORD MAKE YOU TO INCREASE AND ABOUND IN LOVE ONE TOWARD ANOTHER, AND TOWARD ALL MEN, EVEN AS WE DO TOWARD YOU : TO THE END HE MAY STABLISH YOUR HEARTS UNBLAMEABLE IN HOLINESS BEFORE GOD, EVEN OUR FATHER, AT THE COMING OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST WITH ALL HIS SAINTS.

THE dispensation of the Gospel is rightly designated an economy of grace. In every part it is a developement of grace. For not only when we search into its origin are we conducted back to a purpose of mercy framed "before the world began;" not only in the redemption which it proclaims do we witness a "love that passeth knowledge," and, in the sanctification which it secures, the fruit of that "love shed abroad in the heart by the Holy Ghost;" not only is that "eternal life" which consummates the grand design "the gift of God through Jesus Christ our Lord;" but when we go more into details, and observe the methods of the Divine conduct, as seen in the superintendence of the Church, and as attested in the experience of every believer, how forcibly are we struck with the constantly-recurring illustrations of one grand pervading principle, and are constrained to feel that "Grace for Grace" may well be written as the motto of the whole.

Among the manifold illustrations, however, of this principle of grace, we recognise, as one of the most important, a certain property which it has pleased God shall attach to whatever acts of obedience to Himself He prompts His children to perform. We allude to a peculiar influence, a reflex influence, which attends those acts, and which goes immediately to advance the doers of them still further in the ways of godliness. Those dispositions which the Holy Spirit teaches the Lord's people to cultivate, and the deeds which He enables them to execute, are all made to have a re-action on themselves, promoting directly their greater conformity to the Divine will; so that all holy and charitable works, done under the inspiration of the Spirit of Christ, are themselves replete with seeds of blessing for the Christian man's own soul, and minister to the augmentation of his personal sanctity. Grace thus reproduces itself, if we may so speak, fulfilling our Lord's declaration, "Whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance."

The passage which we have chosen for our text this evening will be found to contain a remarkable representation on this point. It will be observed that, in the former of the two verses before us, St. Paul is expressing his fervent desire for an enlarged manifestation, among the Thessalonians, of that love, not only toward the Church, but also toward all mankind, which ranks so high in the scale of evangelical duty. "The Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you." And then, in the latter verse of the text, the Apostle explains the reason of his solicitude. Why did he pray so earnestly that the Lord would make the love of the Thessalonian Christians to abound? "To the end," he continues, "that He may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all His saints." St. Paul felt sure that just as they advanced in the exercise of true charity toward others, so would they be carried on toward that perfectness in which, as he believed, they were destined to stand before God in the day of Christ's appearing. The two parts of our text, therefore, taken together, embody that very principle in the dispensations of God with His people to which we have adverted. The grace that is exercised in the actings of obedience becomes a means of still further advancement. Or, to state the truth as it is exhibited in the text, with reference to one particular duty, the re-action of Christian love is progression in holiness— and this, whether in the case of the individual believer, or of the Church at large.

We propose this subject, brethren, for your present consideration, because we regard it as eminently appropriate to this occasion. Our conviction is strong, that nowhere will clearer evidences of the sanctifying power of Christian charity be found, than in connexion with that work of love which we are here assembled before God this evening to promote. The history of Missions furnishes, as we believe, no ordinary proofs of that reflex influence of which we have spoken as attending the efforts of the Lord's servants to do His will. Moreover, the period at which, by the good hand of God upon us, we have now arrived in this sacred enterprise, affords peculiar advantages for observing its beneficial effects upon those who have been engaged in the prosecution of it. The experience of fifty years is now before us. Let us stand still awhile to acknowledge what the Lord has wrought for our fathers and ourselves, in permitting them and us to put our hands to this blessed endeavour. And let us pray that the retrospect may stimulate every heart to new exertion, in full assurance that the more abounding our love toward our fellow-men, the larger shall be the recompense of good returned upon our own souls. "Whoso is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving-kindness of the Lord."

The two chief topics of our discourse, then, will be these—

FIRST, THE NATURE OF THAT LOVE IN WHICH ST. PAUL DESIRED THAT HIS BRETHREN MIGHT ABOUND; and

SECONDLY, THE SANCTIFYING EFFECT WHICH HE ANTICIPATED FROM ITS INCREASE.

We shall view these topics in immediate connexion with the Missionary cause, and then

CONCLUDE WITH A FEW REFLECTIONS IN ESPECIAL REFERENCE TO OUR OWN CIRCUMSTANCES AT THE PRESENT TIME.

We have to consider,

I. THE NATURE OF THAT LOVE IN WHICH ST. PAUL DE-

SURED THAT HIS BRETHREN MIGHT ABOUND. "The Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you."

The Apostle's words will be found to suggest three prominent characteristics in the principle which he had in view. They are these—Spirituality of intention, Unrestrictedness of attachment, Progressiveness of operation. And in all these points we shall be able to trace an exact correspondence between the love that lived in the Church of St. Paul's day, and that which now finds its expression in the work of Missions.

1. And first, the love of which the Apostle spoke was a principle of Spiritual intention. This we infer from its declared origin. It came not of man, but of God. "The Lord make you to abound in love." And here, in fact, lies the root of difference between Christian love, and all inferior emotions. "That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." Carnal minds may have their charity; but it is a charity which looks on men as nothing more than flesh and blood, endowed with certain intellectual faculties; and therefore, when it has consulted for their physical comfort, and for their mental cultivation, it has reached its limit. Devout yet unenlightened minds will have their charity; but, like their "zeal of God, not" being "according to knowledge," it goes about to withdraw men from gross immoralities, and to make them observant of a form of godliness, but beyond this it sees nothing to desire. Now, the charity that is born of God will act in correspondence with the mind of God. And how has that mind discovered itself in its dealings with men? Assuredly God has not failed to provide for their physical happiness, or for their intellectual improvement, or their moral amelioration; but then He embraces all these as the consequents of another, and an infinitely higher purpose, namely, the restoration of the soul to conscious, peaceful, holy, and eternal union with Himself. Yes, the recovery of that fallen soul to fellowship with God—this, and nothing short of this, is the intention of the Divine love. What else but this was the end of that most amazing act of God toward man, the sacrifice of His Son? "Christ hath suffered," it is written, "the just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God." And what but this is the design of the whole revelation of Gospel truth? "That which we have seen and heard," saith St. John, "declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with His Son Jesus Christ."

In harmony, then, with this design, will be the intention of that love which the Spirit of God implants in the hearts of His people. Such as the fountain is, such will be the stream. It was so in St. Paul's time. The charity of the Church was moulded then after the image of God. Its care for man was a care for man's soul. Lower considerations fell into their place as the necessary accompaniments of this. But the main concern of all true Christians for those whom they loved was to see them brought to God. The common charge of all the members of the Church was the promotion of each other's fellowship with God. Toward those that were "without" they were taught to "walk in wisdom," their "speech being alway with grace;" while among those "within," the "exhorting one another," the "admonishing one another," the care to "comfort one another," and to "pray one for another," are represented as the habitual tokens of mutual regard. All their intercourse, all their influence, came under the bias of a new affection—an affection itself begotten of God, and consequently directed, after the pattern of His love, to bless and save the souls of men.

And is not this precisely the principle in which the work of Missions has its origin? Is it not a principle pre-eminently spiritual in its intention? So that, while it compassionates the physical miseries of men, their mental debasement, and their moral perversion, and by its humanizing influences is everywhere ministering to the relief of these ills, lifting the slave and the savage into freedom and civilization, and inviting the children of barbarian ignorance to the enjoyments of literature and science; it yet looks on all such benefits as incident indeed to its design, but as immeasurably subordinate to that which is its true mark and aim, even the conversion of the heart to God, through the attraction of the cross of Christ. Thank God, such has ever been the character of this Society! Civilization has not been its object, although civilization has always followed in its train. But its one paramount solicitude has been, "to open the eyes of men, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith." And here, therefore, lies the identity of Missionary zeal among ourselves with the love of apostolic times; and here the token of its heavenly birth, that it counts all things lost, if the soul of man is not brought to God in Christ, sanctified and saved.

2. A second characteristic of the love which the Apostle had in view was its Unrestrictedness of attachment. It suffered no limitation. Commencing with the Church, it stayed not there, but embraced the world. "The Lord make you to abound in love one toward another," and not only so, but "toward all men." The charity which God inspires not only leads His people to care for their brethren in Christ, but impels them to go forth beyond this circle, and to pity all mankind.

That such was the love awakened in the Church of the Apostle's day we have sufficient evidence. It is true, that a recollection of the situation in which the first Christians stood might lead us to expect among them less of what we perhaps ordinarily mean by Missionary exertions than among ourselves. Gathered, as they had been, from out of the midst of Judaism and Paganism, they saw tens of thousands of yet unevangelized people on every side of them. Their Missionary work, therefore, would naturally partake more of a home character than would be the case with such as, like ourselves, are privileged to dwell in an already Christianized land. But it is exceedingly instructive to observe the energy with which their love for souls began to operate. Even in the face of persecution, when the Christians of Jerusalem were scattered abroad, it is recorded of them that "they went everywhere preaching the word;" and with such faithfulness, that God vouchsafed them very large success, for "the hand of the Lord," it is said, "was with them, and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord." The Thessalonian converts were no less distinguished by this same activity of spirit. Their's was a communicative Christianity. The Apostle bears them this witness—"From you sounded out the Word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to Godward is spread abroad." It is plain, that strangers who came into their city did not leave it without hearing, by their means, of "the living and true God." Moreover, we learn that the Christians of the Apostle's day not only acted as witnesses for truth to the Jews and Pagans about them, but that they were wont, according to their ability, to succour those whom God had called to travel into other lands as preachers of His Word. Thus we find St. Paul writing to the Corinthian Church, and expressing his hope that, as their "faith increased," he should be "enlarged" by them "abundantly to preach the Gospel in the regions beyond them." In like manner, St. John speaks of servants of Christ, who "for His name's sake went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles;" and whom their brethren, therefore, "ought to receive," that so they might be "fellow-helpers to the truth" on 'her errand of mercy through the world. Their love in this way extended itself far and wide; a love that "would have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth."

O that that love had never waxed cold! For then, what a contrast to its actual state had the condition of our world presented now. Eighteen hundred years of aggressive faith and charity—what a change would they have wrought on the face of the habitable globe! The Word of God could not have returned unto Him void; and our Missionary Map had by this time exhibited a complexion, how different from that which now, alas! pains the eye, and wounds the heart, of all that have any true love to God or man. But the enemy knew well how to keep the world in darkness, by dividing the Church, and corrupting the faith. Dissension first, unhallowed speculation next, afterward gross and appalling superstition, and, to speak of ourselves, when that superstition had been removed, a supervening coldness and formality—these paralyzed the Christian body, and froze its very heart of love. And thus the Missionary cause has almost from the first been suspended; the work has comparatively ceased; and now, at this late era in the history of man, we are but, as it were, beginning again the evangelization of the world—that true evangelization, we mean, which was commenced in apostolic times; not the annexation of ignorant crowds at the baptismal font to the outward communion of the Church, but the subduing of the consciences and hearts of men to that “glorious Gospel of the blessed God,” which, while it “brings salvation, teaches” them “to deny ungodliness and worldly lusts, and to live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world.” But, blessed be God! the latent spark has been rekindled; the Spirit of the Lord has fanned the flame; and the Church of Christ is sending forth her messengers again to the east and to the west, to the north and to the south, resuming the execution of her Lord’s too-long-forgotten charge, “Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature.” The yet unbelieving Jew, the idolatrous Heathen, the deluded Mahomedan, people of every colour and of every clime, are once more the objects of Christian commiseration; and our Missions are the proof that the charity of saints is still the same as at the first, a principle of unrestricted interest in the souls of men.

3. A third characteristic of this principle, as exhibited in the text, is its Progressiveness of operation. Let it live, and be in healthy action, and that action will be one of advancing power. This the Apostle intimates, not only by supplicating for his Thessalonian converts that the Lord would cause their love to be increasing and abounding love, but by instancing also his own example. His desire was that they might “abound in love, even,” said he, “as we do toward you.”

St. Paul was indeed a bright exemplification of his own maxim, “Charity never faileth.” He alludes to his feelings toward the Church at Thessalonica, and it is in our power to trace the fact, that during the twelve months which had elapsed since he preached Christ in that city, his attachment to the souls whom God had given him there had exceedingly strengthened. His personal intercourse with them had been but brief: a few weeks were too long for the enemies of the Gospel to tolerate his presence in the place, and he was forced to flee to the neighbouring town of Berea. Thither they pursued him, and he was compelled to escape to Athens. Thence, after enduring the scorn and derision which rival schools of philosophy united to pour upon his testimony, he passed to Corinth; and there, in the midst of its profligate idolaters, and contradicting Jews, he determined to “know nothing save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified.” But throughout this eventful year, and notwithstanding this continuous succession of labours and trials, the Church at Thessalonica was gaining only a firmer hold on his remembrance. While at Athens, he had sent Timothy to visit them, that he “might know their faith;” and Timothy had now returned with “good tidings” of their stedfastness; and apparently it was his report that originated this epistle—an epistle breathing throughout the spirit of one, who was indeed “willing to have imparted” to his fellow-men “not the Gospel of God only, but his own soul also.” It is a beautiful illustration of the fidelity of St. Paul’s affection for a people whom he had “begotten through the Gospel.” “We give thanks,” said he, “to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers, remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.” And again he declares how, in all his own “affliction and distress,” he comforted himself with the contemplation of their faith; “for now,” said he, “we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.”

Nor was it toward the Thessalonians only that St. Paul’s attachment was of this increasing character. Epistles which he subsequently wrote to other Churches, while prosecuting his ministry in Greece, in Asia Minor, or at Rome, give evidence, that, notwithstanding the enlargement of his work, his devotion to his converts was every year becoming more and more fervent. The stream of his charity both deepened and widened at the same time. We think that we read the fact in the growing tenderness and strength of his expressions.

Thus, in an Epistle dated four years after these to the Thesalonians, he addresses the Galatian Church, "My little children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you." Two years afterward to the Corinthians, "Ye are in our hearts," saith he, "to live and die with you." Four years after to the Philippians, his "dearly beloved and longed for," he writes, "Yea, and if I be offered on the service and sacrifice of your faith, I joy and rejoice with you all." And then two years more, and he is in bonds at Rome, and testifies to Timothy how ready he stood to suffer to any extent in the service of his brethren—"Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sakes, that they may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory." No trial, no pain, should be too great for him to bear, if only they were saved. From first to last we witness in St. Paul a love that knew no change, save that of perpetual enlargement. His words in the text were truly spoken; his charity proved itself to be a principle of constantly progressive operation.

And may we not recognise, brethren, the same progressiveness as a feature of the Missionary principle among ourselves, identifying it with the spirit which actuated the Apostle of the Gentiles? May we not, for example, point to many of his followers, the preachers of Christ's Gospel to the Heathen at this day; struggling as they often are with external discomforts, with bodily infirmities, with domestic trials; afflicted beyond expression with the spectacle of myriads "wholly given to idolatry;" depressed with horrid scenes of human degradation incessantly before their eyes; frequently standing almost alone, the witnesses for truth and holiness, in the midst of falsehood and impurity; wrestling "not against flesh and blood" only, "but against principalities and powers, the rulers of the darkness of this world," spirits of wickedness that scarcely seem any longer invisible, where their presence and power are such felt realities; and yet, notwithstanding all this, as year after year rolls on, how do we see one and another of these dear brethren only growing more devoted to his work, more attached to his charge, and more resolved to count not even his life dear unto him, if he may but win another soul to Christ. Yes, and when, worn by care and labour in some ungenial clime, they have been compelled to recruit both mind and body by a visit to their native land, how often have we witnessed, with joy and gratitude on their behalf, the eagerness with which they have hailed a permission to return; proving that whatever the charms of the country of their birth, the ties of kindred, and the comforts of Christian society here, all have been far outweighed in their esteem by the delight which it is to them "to preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ." Cheerfully have they surrendered again all the temporal and spiritual attractions of home, and bidden dearest friends farewell, that they may go back even to "where Satan's seat is," and there renew their struggle with him and with his legions, for the rescue of the "souls that are ready to be slain." It was much to go thither at the ~~first~~, to wage that war; but to return to the conflict demands and proves a principle of stronger growth. We glorify God in them.

But it is not only in our brethren who labour abroad that we witness the progressiveness of Christian love in connexion with the Missionary cause: we trace it again in the collective mind of the living portion of the Church at home. Especially since the opening of India to "the messengers of the Churches," leading, as that event did, to the formation of the Auxiliaries of this Society throughout the kingdom, the spirit of Missions has been gathering strength among us continually. Would that the advance had corresponded in any due proportion to the obligations of our own position, the demands of a perishing world, and the encouragements of a faithful God! But, nevertheless, it were ingratitude not to acknowledge the power with which the Lord endued His servants to persevere and prosper in their undertaking, until to Africa and India were successively added Ceylon, New Zealand, the shores of the Mediterranean, and the West Indies—not to mention other fields, of less magnitude indeed, but not of less devotion—and now, at length, while God is cutting asunder those bars of iron which have kept in all past time the gates of China closed against His truth, lo! Christian love is already on the threshold of that prison-house of souls, eager to publish to three hundred and sixty millions of idolaters "the only name whereby we must be saved."

And shall we not once more confess, with humble thankfulness, those additional tokens of advance which our Jubilee commemoration has so recently brought with it? Truly that day was a day to be much remembered. Who of us will ever forget the solemn, yet gladdening sensations awakened within us, as we thought that, while that morning's light was breaking on ourselves, a little band in the far East had already made the first oblation of praise and prayer; and then that presently our brethren in India had been taking up the strain; and then from Africa and Egypt there were voices mingling with our own; our scattered congregations in the West succeeding these; and finally, the thousands of New Zealand in full chorus, as the day declined, were sending up their loud Amen to that one unbroken tribute of thanksgiving, which, for four-and-twenty hours continuously, had been entering into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth. Angels never witnessed such a spectacle on earth before. And if Christian prudence, taught by observation of human nature even at the best, warns us against too sanguine an expectation under circumstances so greatly calculated to excite; still, on the other hand, we may not put from us the cheering facts to be recorded of that festival, now that it is past; the chastened, the devout, the spiritual tone of mind which marked its celebration; the open and earnest confession of pure scriptural truth with which it was accompanied; and the extension of effort by which it has been followed. Surely there is reason to say, with confidence, that our Society has gone forward this year with no faltering step; that the charity of the Lord's people among us has shown a manifest increase; and that God has indeed been reviving His work in the midst of these days.

To Him, then, let us render the homage of our adoration. Let us praise Him for these proofs that the love which gave our Missions birth, and which sustains them still, is the same progressive principle that animated Christian hearts in apostolic times. And if, dear brethren, you are able, like St. Paul, to trace the expansion of that principle within your own breasts; if it is yours to feel personally conscious of a deepening anxiety for the souls of men, a more earnest, more sedulous, more self-denying care to have them saved in Christ for ever; then let your hearts again be raised in thankfulness to Heaven for the grace thus given to you of God; for assuredly He grants no sign of His goodwill more full of blessing to His people, than that increasing and abounding love which knits the soul in closer union to Himself. "He that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him."

And this reflection leads on our minds to the second portion of our text. Let us proceed, therefore, to notice,

II. THE SANCTIFYING RESULT WHICH ST. PAUL ANTICIPATED FROM THAT INCREASE OF LOVE WHICH HE INVOKED UPON HIS BRETHREN FROM THE LORD. "To the end He may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even the Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all His saints."

The advancement of their holiness, then, was the effect which the Apostle felt sure would follow on the increase of their charity; a result which he sought with the deepest anxiety, because in his view it was blended with prospects most awful, and with hopes most glorious. Separated as he had been from these Thessalonian Christians, and not knowing whether he should ever be permitted again to see their face in the flesh, he rejoiced in looking onward to a day when he and they should meet, a day of unspeakable grandeur and gladness, that day when Jesus shall appear "the second time without sin unto salvation;" and when, His Church being gathered together unto Him, He shall "present it unto Himself a glorious Church, without spot and blameless." Most ardently desiring, therefore, that all the brethren to whom he was writing might then be found of their Lord in peace, the Apostle prayed that their hearts might now be established in holiness; and, in order to this, that the charity which was in them might abound. The practical truth therefore, as we have observed, which St. Paul exhibits here, is this, that the re-action of Christian love will always be a still further progression in holiness. It is so with individual believers, and equally so with the Church at large.

A striking passage on this point will be familiar to all our minds in St. Paul's fourth chapter of his epistle to the Ephesians. It forcibly shows the connexion between the corresponding growth of love and holiness in Christians individually, and in the Church collectively. "Speaking the truth," saith he, "in love, we grow up into Him in all things, which is the Head, even Christ." Believing men, that is to say, maintaining their profession in a spirit of sincere and active charity toward others, advance personally in union and conformity to Christ their Lord. "From whom," the Apostle proceeds, "the whole body, fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body to the edifying of itself in love." In other words, just as each member of the Church, advancing in love, grows up into Christ, the body of the Church will be obtaining compactness and vigour, and the edification of the whole will be the blessed consequence.

We would invite you, beloved brethren, to consider this truth as it is illustrated in the history of our Missionary proceedings.

1. And in the first place, let us look at the question in its relation to our individual piety. We would ask, In what respects does that "love toward all men," which engages us in the work of Missions, tend to promote our personal holiness?

And we answer primarily, that it must be promotive of holiness because it quickens within us the spirit of prayer. The first expression of true pity for a world in peril of destruction is prayer. One glance at its millions, lying in their heathen state, all ignorant, depraved, and hopeless, how does it hasten every child of God to his Father's feet, there to pour out his lamentations for lost men, and to implore for them the Divine interposition. And so the Lord would have it be. How emphatic was that intimation which He gave to His disciples, as to the immediate effect which He would have awakened in their minds by the sight of large numbers of their fellow-men waiting for salvation. "The harvest," said He, "is plenteous, but the labourers are few." What then shall His followers do? Rush at once to the field, and thrust in their sickles? Nay, their Master seems to reply, Be your first effort that of prayer. "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He will send forth labourers into His harvest." The lesson is for the Church in all ages; and the impulse of every heart that is taught of God responds to it at this hour. The thought of seven hundred millions of men still covered with the shadow of death, forty thousand of them day by day passing into a dark eternity, compels us to plead urgently with the "God of the spirits of all flesh," beseeching Him without delay to multiply His heralds of salvation, and to let their glad tidings be proclaimed in every land. Nor is this all; but when the men of God's sending have gone forth, and we are fain to follow them with a felt concern and sympathy, how quickly do the claims accumulate for our reiterated intercessions! From every region of the world alike we hear the cry, "Brethren, pray for us: pray for us, that the Word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified." Our souls are stirred within us to answer to the call, and thus an interest in Missions keeps us continually returning to the throne of grace. Experience also soon convinces us that it is this spirit of supplication which is the very life of the Missionary cause. In this element it was, as early records show, that our own Society was reared; and in it has lain its strength. The Lord has taught us well that the measure of our power is in the intensity of prayer; He has taught us that the conversion of the Heathen is furthered most, when the children of God are most importunate with Him for the outpouring of His Spirit on the "dark places of the earth." And because of this peculiarity in the work, because of the way in which it brings us before our God in incessant solicitation on others' behalf, therefore the effect upon ourselves is redundant with blessing. It is a divine ordinance that intercession for another shall always enrich the suppliant's own soul. The very exercise lifts us into a sphere beyond ourselves; it corrects the selfishness of our nature; it raises us above the world; it keeps us near the throne of God; we breathe the atmosphere of heaven; and a growing elevation of spirit and character must ensue.

Again, the work of Missions brings us into a conscious co-operation with God Himself. "We are labourers together with God," said St. Paul. The representation is true not of Apostles only; it applies by analogy to every one who takes his part, however humbly or remotely, in that extension of the Gospel in which the Apostles were employed. If, indeed, the evangelizing of the Heathen were an adventure of human speculation, then our partnership in it would be with man only. But if the Lord has gone out before us, then, when we enlist among the friends of Missions, we enter into association with none other than the Most High God. We are come to "the help of the Lord against the mighty." Our faith is sensible of this; and hence, as we become more deeply implicated in Missionary concerns, the consciousness rises of an alliance with God. All the varying incidents of the work assist to realise the fact. Every difficulty prompts one appeal—"Arise, O Lord, maintain Thine own cause." Every success elicits one confession—"This is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes." The condition of mind thus induced is that of a sensible nearness to Him "whose name is Holy;" and holiness, therefore, is the result. The hearts of many here, we trust, have found it to be so. God grant us to manifest more of this reflected sanctity; so that in all our endeavours in His service, ever mindful that we are working with Him, we may receive a holier impression from such heavenly intercourse, and be "changed into the same image, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

Again, the history of Missions familiarizes our minds with the operations of the Divine Spirit upon the souls of men; and this contributes, in an eminent degree, to our own experience of the things of God. The details of Missionary intelligence constitute a living picture of the work of grace. The weight of Divine truth, its effect upon the human conscience, the adaptation of the Gospel to the wants of awakened men, the power of the blood of Christ simultaneously to comfort and to sanctify, the warfare of the flesh and the spirit, the devices of the tempter, the triumphs of faith, and at length the destruction of the power of death—these and other kindred verities are brought out, in the Missionary story, with a simplicity and a force irresistibly arresting; and all this tells at once for our own edification. As we view the developement of the Divine work upon others, we are led to ask, What correspondence to it may be traced in our own spiritual state? Self-examination is thus promoted; and admonition, and instruction, and consolation are conveyed. How often in this way has a deficiency been detected, a difficulty solved, a direction gained, an encouragement received, a resolution confirmed, a fear dispelled! It can never be told on earth to what extent the Lord's people, by reason of their interest in the Missionary cause, have thus been blest. How many of yourselves, brethren, have learned some of your choicest lessons from those truthful sketches, which the Missionary pen has drawn from the interior of some once heathen heart, which you have helped to turn to God. For "as in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man."

We mention these, then, as some of the peculiarities in the Missionary cause which render it essentially sanctifying to those whose hearts are given to it. Their acts of fervent intercession, their consciousness of co-operation with God, their habit of observing His work of grace in others, must minister good to their own souls. They have their "fruit unto holiness."

2. But we remark, further, that as it is thus with Christians individually, so is it with the Church collectively. For the holiness of a community is, in fact, the aggregate result of personal sanctity among its members. As they severally thrive, the whole body is strengthened. As the number is multiplied of those who love to pray for others, and to work on their behalf with God, and to watch the wonders that He doeth for the children of men, the face of society around receives a corresponding complexion; a zeal for God is called out; a habit of caring for souls is established; attention is drawn to the spiritual condition, not only of those that are far off, but of those also that are near; Home-Missions spring up in various forms, the fruit of Missions to the world; and the fountain which has been pouring forth its streams to fertilize some distant wilderness, overflows with living power to bless its native soil.

The religious history of our own country has exhibited a striking example of this. Let us call to remembrance what was the condition of England at the period just previous to the rise of our own, and other similar Societies. What a palsy was resting on the Church; what a depravation of morals had infected all classes of the people; what fears oppressed the hearts of the loyal and the good, that their land would surely fall a prey to the tyrant demon of continental infidelity. Our fathers "trembled for the ark of God." But "when the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord," it is promised, "shall lift up a standard against him." A standard was lifted up. Jehovah gave, as the Psalmist speaks, "a banner to them that feared Him, to be displayed because of the truth;" and on that banner was written, as with the finger of God, "Unto me every knee shall bow:" it rallied the armies of our Israel, and Amalek was discomfited. So that, as it oft-times happens in the night of nature, when the sky is wrapped in deepest shade, the bright and morning star is even then on the horizon, in like manner was that depth of spiritual gloom to be broken by a burst of light unequalled since the Reformation. The spirit of Missions was the day-spring from on high that visited us; a spirit not indeed altogether unknown before, but grievously damped and enfeebled by manifold unfriendly influences: now, however, its fervour was kindled anew, and its flame supplied with a fresh and copious flow of grace; and the junction of the last and present century became illustrious for the formation of Institutions, appearing in quick succession, and all aspiring, either by the voice of living witnesses, or by the translated volume of the written word, to fill "the earth with the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." Then it was, we may surely say without presumption, that from England's coasts the Apocalyptic angel spread his wings, and rose into "the midst of heaven, having the everlasting Gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people."

And from that selfsame period, let us now inquire, What has been the history of vital Christianity among us? O may we not well believe that, at that identical moment, a voice was heard from the midst of the throne, directed toward our chosen land, "From this day will I bless thee?" For truly from that day "God, even our own God," has blessed us. His Spirit has been descending upon us in continually increasing shower; and, notwithstanding many, too many causes for shame and grief which still remain in the midst of us, it cannot be denied that the last fifty years have been years of manifest spiritual advance. And this, too, in obvious connexion with the Missionary cause. For not only is it to be noted, in the primary stage of this revival, that the very men whom God raised up to be the moral saviours of their land, were also those whose spirits He was stirring to enterprise the evangelization of the world; but, of later years, the growth of piety in our country has visibly gone hand in hand with the exertions which have been used to send Christ's Gospel through the earth. The various expedients which have been found necessary to this end, our Missionary Meetings, Missionary Sermons, Missionary Publications, have given an impetus to the cause of God among ourselves, the ultimate effects of which no mortal eye can follow. Who shall tell in how many a family, in how many a parish, the first introduction of the Missionary cause has proved to be the dawning of a day of mercy never to be forgotten? Who shall say, with how many of our children the first buddings of Christian emotion have burst under the impression of some Missionary tale, that has touched the susceptible heart, and secured it ever after for the Lord; or how many of maturer years, and even of hoary age, whom the cares and pleasures of this life had woefully estranged from holy things, the Missionary's plea for Christ, and for immortal souls, has roused to seek their own salvation, and taught them thenceforward to live for God? Or who shall know, with how many of our pastors, the patient continuance in well-doing witnessed in their Missionary brethren, and the power of Gospel truth evidenced in their ministry, have become the stimulus to greater efforts of self-denying zeal, and a closer adherence to the "simplicity that is in Christ"—a blessing to themselves and to their flocks. Omniscience alone can estimate, and eternity alone disclose, these blessed details.

And then, too, while awakened consciences and tender hearts have in this way been moved to care for the Heathen in their distant darkness, gradually there has been created a sense of responsibility toward others also, even hundreds of thousands of our fellow-countrymen, who, although living everywhere around us, were scarcely in less need of our pity than the miserable tribes of savage lands. And seriously thinking men have been struck by the inconsistency of proposing to teach the inhabitants of other climes, while their own people were destroyed for lack of knowledge; the inconsistency of sending the preachers of God's Word to foreign shores, while throngs of their own countrymen were year by year landing on those same shores, but only to proclaim the darkness and depravity which England yet tolerated within her own borders. The very Heathen, indeed, have not been backward with the sarcasm, "Physician, heal thyself;" and Christian men have felt its justice. The consequence has been, that, while distributing the bread of life to strangers and foreigners, we have learned to feed the souls that were dying at our own doors. And very instructive it is to observe, how the foremost in this work of godly patriotism at home are universally the well-known and long-tried friends of Missions for the world.

And thus, in every way, individually and collectively, our "love toward all men" has re-acted with a blessing on ourselves. It were hard perhaps, in some respects, to say which have been most benefitted, the Heathen through us, or we through them. But assuredly we have found it to be a faithful saying, "He that watereth shall be watered also himself."

Under the persuasion, then, the thankful persuasion, of this truth, let us, as we proposed,

CONCLUDE WITH A FEW REFLECTIONS IN ESPECIAL REFERENCE TO OUR OWN CIRCUMSTANCES AT THE PRESENT TIME.

We shall advert to some practical uses to be made of our subject in its bearing on Ourselves — our Society — our Church — our Land.

And in the first place, has not our text suggested a thought for us, as Christian men, to ponder in its bearing on Ourselves?

Brethren, your judgments, we believe, will go with us in saying that the present day is one, in which we all have the greatest need to be looking narrowly to our own spiritual condition. There are mischiefs abroad peculiarly calculated to war against our souls. An intense secularity besets us on every side. The world rests not day nor night in her pursuit of self-aggrandisement; and the believer has to live in the midst of that world exposed to this depraving contamination. Enormous luxury, too, is another feature, and another sin of our times; and Christian society, alas! is not proof against the snare. And then, beside these, there are influences of a different character in active operation; influences which, however they may seem at first sight to be mutually opposed, have a secret affinity, which causes that they shall seldom show themselves far apart. On the one hand we have a revived superstition, setting credulity in the place of faith, and attributing to physical acts in religion the efficacy of Divine Grace. On the other hand, there is a rising scepticism, which, while it revolts from the excesses of this superstition, would rid itself of whatever, in belief or practice, its own misnamed intellectuality will not accept. Against these evils, not to name others also, the man of God needs every counterpoise. We want, my brethren, every help to keep our minds steadily fixed upon essential truths, and eternal realities. We want every assistance in the cultivation of that life of God within us which shall repel, at one and the same time, the secularity and luxuriousness that tempts the flesh, and the superstition and scepticism that would poison the spirit. In a word, we must avail ourselves of every aid to practical piety. Behold, then, in the Missionary movement one chief means which the Lord has given us to that end. Let us throw ourselves into it more heartily, and God will bring us nearer to Himself. Let it not suffice us to be merely the members of a Missionary Society, but let us aim to imbibe more of the pure Missionary spirit—a firm belief of “the wrath of God revealed from Heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men ;” a deep compassion therefore for the millions of idolatrous and polluted Heathen ; and an ardent longing by all means to save some. This simple, single-hearted zeal is the temper of the man who is “blessed in his deed.” It is upon this temper that our personal profiting depends. Let us entreat God to inspire a larger measure of it within our breasts ; and let us seek to stimulate it in ourselves, by often meditating on the actual condition of whole nations, those realms of darkness, where Satan at this moment is revelling in the ruin of the souls of men. O for hearts to burn within us as we think of a Christless world ! Then our interest in Missions should prove a singular safeguard to our own souls. The strong perception of spiritual and eternal things would be a principle of powerful antagonism to all the corrupt desires of the flesh and of the mind. And not only so, but it would move us to those particular feelings and actings which God, in His mercy, greatly overrules to His children’s advancement. It would prompt us to that bountifulness of giving, which the Scripture testifies that “God is not unrighteous to forget.” “He that soweth plenteously,” it is said, “shall reap also plenteously ;” and what we lend unto the Lord in silver and gold should be paid us again in the gifts of His Spirit. Beloved brethren, let us count on these gracious returns, for God has bidden us to do so. Let us look for them this evening. Let us give to-night, in the sure belief that sacrifices made in love to Christ, and for the souls of men, are ordained of God to bless ourselves. Are there hearts here present in which the pulse of Christian love is quickening, and prompting them to bring a larger offering to the treasury of the Lord? O may no chilling parsimony come in to check the emotion, and rob them of their blessing. Give, my brethren, give as you purpose in your hearts; devise liberal things, and prove your God herewith, "if He will not open the windows of Heaven, and pour you out a blessing." Nor let it be in our acts of giving only that we cherish such expectations; but let us go to our Meetings, and to all our other engagements in the Missionary cause, earnestly seeking a growth in grace by their means. Let us carry ourselves as men who believe that in such a work they are associated with their God; suppressing, therefore, whatever tends to levity of thought, or earthliness of motive, or mere excitement of the flesh, and asking and expecting a holier tone of mind as the result. And thus looking to ourselves, and taking heed to our spirits, we shall "not lose the things that we have wrought, but receive a full reward."

Again, the subject of our discourse suggests a reflection in respect of our Society peculiarly appropriate to its present circumstances.

During the past year God has been very graciously enlarging its coasts, opening for it in various directions new prospects of succour, and materially adding to its list of friends. And we have ventured to speak of this as an encouraging proof that the measure of Christian "love toward all men" is rising among us. We trust in God that the event will justify our hopes. Nevertheless, it cannot be denied that Societies may increase, as ours has done, in patronage, in funds, in agency, and yet their spirituality may not equally advance. The suggestion, therefore, will not be thought ill-timed, how much we need at such a period to "watch and pray;" to watch, lest in any degree we lose the simplicity and fervour of our love; to pray, that in proportion to the enlargement of our Institution may be the increase of its holiness—its constancy, we mean, to evangelical truth and vital godliness. Let us therefore charge it on one another to make this a subject of special supplication at the present time. O let us earnestly beg for our Society the pervading unction of the Holy Ghost; that every new Association as it is formed, and every new member as he is enrolled, may strengthen us the more to “hold the faith in unity of spirit, in the bond of peace, and in righteousness of life.” Then shall we have cause to remember our Jubilee, not merely for the extension which it brought to the Society in its external form, but most of all for the wider diffusion of “that excellent gift, without which whosoever liveth,” whether individual or Society, “is counted dead before God.”

But again we view the subject before us in reference to our Church.

We love the Church of England. The founders of our Society loved her. They claimed for her no superhuman perfection; but for fidelity to truth, for purity of worship, and for adaptation to the work of permanently planting the Gospel in the world, they knew no communion to compare with her. We inherit their attachment. Our heart's desire and prayer is that our Church may arise and shine, and be made yet more than ever a praise in the earth. And we cannot but think that at the present moment God is beckoning her to a position such as she never yet has occupied. At home, her strength was never greater; abroad, her acquisition of power is unparalleled in all her past history. Only may grace be given her to use her influence aright, and we know not the limit of her spiritual prosperity. Brethren, this prosperity is what you fervently desire. How, then, shall you promote it? Our text will direct you. Would you see your Church established in holiness? Then labour to increase her “love toward all men.” In other words, foster in her bosom the spirit of Missions. Call her children to “look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.” Bid them to remember that a Church is not an institution designed merely to benefit her own members, but rather that her purpose is through them to bless the world; that this is the vocation of a Church, to be a city set on a hill, a light to them which are in darkness; and that it is just as she fulfils this vocation, that her light within will burn the brighter. The talent used shall prove a talent multiplied. Give what she may to the Heathen, it shall be recompensed tenfold into her own bosom. Even her sons, let them go to the ends of the earth, she shall have them still for sons; and not only so, but, as the Psalmist prophecies, she shall make them "princes in all lands;" they shall extend her dominion, even the kingdom of her Lord, and send her back rich blessings to compensate her sacrifices. O that our younger brethren, just entering into her ministry, would turn their thoughts to the peculiar honour and blessedness of a Missionary ministration! Often they are told that the Church wants them at home; but let them reflect, the Church at home will receive from them a twofold service, if God shall call them, and they shall go, to "open the door of faith unto the Gentiles." Their post shall then be one of double honour, and of double usefulness. We pray them to believe us when we say, that among their senior brethren there are not a few, who, with the views which they have now gained of the Missionary calling, would gladly, if they might, change places with them, in order that, entering upon life anew, they might spend it, or at least some portion of it, as Missionary ministers in distant lands. May God give to the Church of England, for her own sake, a larger supply of members devoted to this cause, and especially of youthful, vigorous, educated ministers, ready to say, "Here am I, send me." The Gentiles then shall come to her light, and kings to the brightness of her rising, for the glory of the Lord shall be seen upon her.

We touch upon one point more, the relation of our subject to the prospects of our Land.

In what a position has Britain been standing since we last assembled here! With an earthquake heaving all around her, the mighty God has kept her feet. The convulsion, however, has not ceased. Even at this hour, while Anti-christ is struggling for his sceptre in the West, and the False Prophet of the East holds his throne with feebleness and fear, the "distress of nations" nearer to ourselves has created a "perplexity," through the gloom of which no mortal ken can penetrate. At such a crisis, what shall be the anchor of our hope for England's preservation? The world may smile, but we answer without hesitation, for it is the testimony of the Divine word, and of all our past experience, the guarantee of England's peace is her attachment to the service of God. Her piety is the pledge of her stability. But if so, and if, as we have seen, our social religion has advanced these fifty years in union with the Missionary cause, then we come at once to the conclusion, that the extension of that cause must rank among the chief means for securing to our country the defence of Heaven. And, oh, if England would but hear the summons which God is giving her now, by a concurrence of mercies, and means, and opportunities, such as no other nation possesses, to go forth as His Missionary to the world; if she would identify herself in this way with Jehovah and His truth; then she could never fall. Heaven's own consistency forbids the thought. He who said of that most exceedingly wicked city of ancient times, even on her very first profession of repentance, "Should not I spare Nineveh?" would He consent to say of Britain, if only she will keep His charge, and be His witness to the nations, "I have no delight in thee?" Nay, but His message to her should rather be like that which was sent to the devoted governor of Judah, under circumstances not dissimilar—"Speak to Zerubbabel, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth; and I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms; and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother: In that day will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, and will make thee as a signet, for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of Hosts." Brethren, as men who love their country, do we pray that such may be her mercy? Then let us seek to strengthen her alliance with God, by engaging her children more and more in the sanctifying work of Christian Missions.

And thus, on every account, for the safety of our Land, for the prosperity of our Church, for the advance of our Society, and for the profit of our own souls, shall we not pledge ourselves anew this night to labour and to pray, more fervently than any of us have yet done, in this hallowed cause? Our call to duty is, in this instance, as in every other, a call to blessing ; and the grace that moves us to obey will be a sure foretoken of greater grace in store. We shall find it a true proverb, "There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth;" for the Lord of the harvest Himself shall "multiply our seed sown, and increase the fruits of our righteousness."

REPORT,

&c. &c.

THE Committee meet their friends upon this occasion under circumstances of very special interest; for they have to present the Report of the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society during the Fiftieth Year—the Year of Jubilee. Their first expressions must be those of praise and thanksgiving to the Lord for His abundant blessing upon the Society during this season.

JUBILEE COMMEMORATION.

The Committee having been instructed, at the last Anniversary Meeting, to arrange and set on foot some plan for suitably commemorating the Jubilee of the Church Missionary Society, entered upon the work with some misgivings and much solicitude. The commercial and manufacturing interests of the country were under depression, the political horizon all around was convulsed with storms, and even the sky of England was overcast: under such circumstances, it was impossible to foresee what might be the situation of the country after the interval of a few months. Yet the Committee ventured to fix upon a day, at a sufficient distance of time to allow of communication with the remotest Missions of the Society, and also intermediate between the two Anniversaries at the commencement and close of the Jubilee Year. The first of November appeared to the Committee suitable in these respects, while it was also a day set apart by the Church for the commemoration of the one union and fellowship of the Saints throughout the world. The Committee therefore recommended that day to be observed by the various friends and Associations of the Society throughout the wide extent of its operations, as a season of special humiliation before God for the inadequacy of our past efforts for the conversion of the world, yet of gratitude and praise for what had been accomplished by His grace through the instrumentality of the Society; and at the same time as an occasion of special contributions, and of renewed efforts, for the furtherance of our holy cause.

The Committee in the next place procured from different friends short and popular Tracts to explain and advocate the claims of the Society, together with prayers and hymns suitable to the occasion. These were widely circulated, and with the best effect. The cordial thanks of the Society are due to the zealous friends who, as the authors of these publications, materially promoted the commemoration of the Jubilee.

Several important cities and towns announced their proposed arrangements for the celebration of the season in printed circulars and advertisements. The Parent Committee abstained from dictating any particular mode of commemoration, or from supplying Deputations for Country Associations. The zeal which was manifested in the various parts of the country was therefore perfectly spontaneous and voluntary; and proved the Society to have a hold upon the affection and sympathy of the pious members of our Church, to an extent far beyond our previous anticipations.

On the appointed day the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, the Vice-Patron of the Society, preached the Jubilee Sermon before the Committee, in the Parish Church of St. Ann, Blackfriars, the Church in which our first Anniversary Sermon was preached in the year 1801 by the Rev. Thomas Scott. The Archbishop of York, and many other Prelates, took part, in their several Dioceses, in the celebration of the season. In most of the large towns of England, and in many villages, the day was observed by Public Services in the Churches and by appropriate Meetings; so that our Jubilee wore the appearance rather of a festival appointed by authority than of a voluntary commemoration of a private Society. A spirit of devout gratitude, of fervent prayer, and of enlarged zeal, appeared to animate the friends of the Society in all their Meetings.

On this occasion the cause of the Society was introduced for the first time into many towns and pulpits, and many new friends and subscribers were added to our list.

The Committee had the honour of enrolling, for the first time, on the list of the Church Missionary Society, the name of HER MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY; who, with Prince Albert, transmitted a joint donation of 100*l.* to the Jubilee Fund, through the collection at Windsor.

The day was also observed abroad—in Amsterdam, by members of the Dutch Reformed Church; in Bâsle, and at Mangalore in India, by members of the Lutheran Church; in Jerusalem, on Mount Zion, by the Christian company connected with the Anglican Bishop; and in the various Missionary Stations of the Society throughout the world. The Native Christians united in the same prayers and hymns which were used in England, translated into their own tongues. The day was also celebrated at sea, on board a vessel conveying a company of Missionaries to their destination; and on the banks of the Indus, by a number of devout soldiers of different regiments, on their march to the battle-field of the Punjaub, who met in the tent of an officer, to unite in praise and prayer on behalf of the Church Missionary Society.

STATE OF THE FINANCES.

INCOME.

The ordinary Income of the Society, for the year ending March 31, 1849, notwithstanding the extraordinary efforts in behalf of the Jubilee Fund, has been sustained at the same amount as last year. The Statement is as follows—

I. GENERAL FUND, paid to the Parent Society.	89,767	7	5
II. SPECIAL FUNDS, ditto—
Fund for Disabled Missionaries, &c. 1003	11	5
China-Mission Fund	804	17	5
Pratt-Memorial Fund	17	12	0
	1826	0	10
III. LOCAL FUNDS, raised and expended in the Missions,	9410	0	2
Total of the ordinary Income.	£101,003	8	5
JUBILEE FUND, to May 1, 1849	53,127	10	0
Total raised on behalf of the Society . .	£154,130	18	5

EXPENDITURE.

The Expenditure of the Society corresponding with the first head of Income (I.), including also the Expenditure on account of Sick and Disabled Missionaries, has amounted to 87,441*l.* 8*s.* 2*d.* The portion of the Income applicable to these purposes being 89,767*l.* 7*s.* 5*d.*, there remains a surplus of Income under these heads of 2325*l.* 19*s.* 3*d.*

The Expenditure on account of the China-Mission Fund has exceeded the amount collected for that Mission by the sum of 1082*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.* This surplus has been taken out of the capital of that Special Fund. It will require the renewed exertions of the friends of the China Mission to raise a sufficient amount to meet the demands upon that Fund, as the Committee, relying upon such assistance, contemplate a considerable enlargement of that Mission during the present year.

The experience of another year has confirmed the Committee in the conviction that it is essential to the prosperity of the Society to increase the Capital Fund.

DECEASE OF MISSIONARIES.

The Committee have to record the removal of the following individuals, who have died in the Lord, and now “rest from their labours”—

ISLINGTON INSTITUTION.

Of this important branch of the Society's machinery we are thankful to be able again to present a satisfactory account. The Principal writes, in his Report for the year ending April 1849—

It is not possible for the Principal to review the twelve months which have just passed without feelings of peculiar interest and of special gratitude. The Institution has been permitted to share in the spiritual exercises with which the Pentecostal year of the Society's history was solemnized; and tokens are not wanting that it, in some measure, participated in the Pentecostal blessings of the commemoration.

At no period within the Principal's experience would a survey of the Institution have suggested better hopes for the future, than during the Jubilee year just closed. He grounds this judgment, not so much upon the observation of any thing very striking either in individuals or in the body, as upon the facts that the necessity of a far higher standard of devotedness is recognised, and that there is a perceptible increase of the spirit of prayer, both private and social, with a view to its attainment. Never did a gracious and covenant-keeping God create such desires, and fail to satisfy them.

The usual studies of the Institution have been pursued with diligence. The discipline has been maintained in its integrity, and without difficulty.

The number of Students resident at the commencement of the year was 22. During the year 17 have been admitted on probation or for examination, of whom 11 remain. Twelve have left for their Stations abroad, so that the present number is 21.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

During the year eight of the Society's Students at Islington have been admitted to Deacons' Orders by the Lord Bishop of London; and one European Catechist to Deacons' Orders by the Lord Bishop of New Zealand.

PATRONAGE.

During the year the Lord Viscount Midleton, who was long an active and zealous member of the Committee, has been appointed a Vice-President of the Society.

The Committee have also appointed to the office of Honorary Governor for Life, as having rendered very essential services to the Society—

The Rev. Dr. Steinkopff, a friend of the Society from its first institution, and through whose instrumentality the Society was introduced to that connexion with the Churches of the Continent which has been the source of many blessings.

The Venerable Archdeacon Dealtry, of Calcutta, whose zealous labours for the Society in India have rendered much advantage to our cause. And

The Rev. Richard Davies, our late valuable Secretary.

SECRETARYSHIP.

The Rev. Richard Davies having resigned the Secretaryship of the Society, in consequence of his appointment to a parochial charge, the Committee appointed the Rev. John Tucker as Secretary, and the Rev. H. W. Fox as Assistant Clerical Secretary.

It pleased God to remove Mr. Fox into His own immediate presence after a few brief months of labour, which had been yet enough to raise high hopes of the advantages which the Society would have enjoyed from his services.

The death of the Assistant Secretary occurring at the close of the year, when there was an unusual pressure of business, the Committee gladly accepted the able assistance of the Rev. Joseph Ridgeway, M.A., one of their Association Secretaries, whose family circumstances obliged him to reside for a time in the neighbourhood of London. By this temporary arrangement the business of the Society is carried on without interruption, until the Committee are enabled to make some permanent appointment.

General Review of the Society's Labours.

It is now above thirty years since the Church Missionary Society undertook the religious instruction of those slaves who might be captured at sea by British cruisers, and liberated at Sierra Leone. The Colony is comprised in a promontory, which is about twenty-five miles in length and fifteen in width. Cargoes of slaves have been each year imported into the Colony; and notwithstanding continual emigrations, the population now amounts to nearly 50,000. The Colony is divided into parishes. There is one chief town, and numerous villages. In the early years of this Mission the mortality of the Missionaries, and the limited funds of the Society, prevented the complete ministerial occupation of the country: many important villages were left without Teachers, and with very inadequate pastoral superintendence.

In this our Jubilee year we are enabled to announce the cheering fact, that there is a Missionary Establishment in every one of the parishes, and that each important village has been occupied by our Christian Teachers.

Another year of health has been granted to the Missionaries: no one has been removed by death; and the Committee have been able to send out one additional Missionary. The town of York, on the sea-coast, and Wilberforce, near Freetown, have been occupied during the last year.

A good general view of the Mission is given in the following Annual Report of the Sierra-Leone Church Missionary Auxiliary Society, presented to a Meeting held at Freetown on the 15th of February 1848. The numbers have been corrected to the end of the year.

Within the Colony there are 120 individuals employed in this Mission, including 22 Europeans, of whom 10 are Ordained Missionaries. These occupy 14 principal Stations and 12 minor ones, making, in all, 26 towns and villages where Christian instruction is imparted, and the Services of our Church performed.

The general attendance on the Means of Grace is most encouraging. Several of our Churches will contain 800 or 1000 people, and every Lord's-day morning these are not only well filled, but some of them much crowded. A large number of the attendants are possessed of Bibles, Prayer-books, and Hymn-books, which they have learnt to read chiefly by means of our Sunday-schools, and thus are intelligent worshippers in the sanctuary. They are able to appreciate the beautiful Services of the Church; they can sing and pray "with the understanding;" and not a few, we believe, pray also with the spirit.

The number of those who participate in the sacrament of the Lord's Supper is 1806: including Bananas and Ricketts there must be about 2000. These are chiefly Liberated Africans—a class of people who have valued the privileges conferred on them by the Society, and profited by them, more than any other class in the Colony. Regarding the former condition of these persons, and judging fairly of their present state, their moral and spiritual improvement, we think, is quite equal to what might reasonably be expected. In so large a number, doubtless there are some who are only nominal Christians; but there are many, we know, who are devoted and exemplary. The power of divine grace has led many to cast away their idols to the moles and to the bats, to sit at the feet of Jesus, and learn of Him. The genuineness of this change has been testified both in life and death.

In order to lead our converts in holiness, and to improve their knowledge of divine things, in addition to the ordinary Means of Grace they are weekly assembled by the Missionary for Christian instruction.

In addition to the Communicants, there are almost as many more who have enrolled themselves as Catechumens for Baptism and the Lord's Supper. These are also met weekly by the Missionaries and their Assistants for catechetical instruction. Great pains are taken, and they are greatly needed, to bring their dormant and untutored minds to apprehend spiritual things. We urge upon them to attend our Sunday-schools, and to exercise themselves at home, that they may learn to read; and when we meet them in the week, we seek, in the most familiar manner, to make them acquainted with themselves and with God their Saviour. From most of them we require, before they are baptized, as great an amount of knowledge as, from the constitution of their minds, it seems possible for them to attain: hence some of them are Candidates for many years. If we would receive men in their ignorance, we might probably any day double our number.

There are connected with the Mission 17 Day-schools, containing 1636 boys and 1274 girls; total, 2910. Increased attention has this year been paid to the state of our Day-schools, by the appointment of two Clergymen as Inspectors, who will every year examine and report upon their state.

Some Results of these Labours.

Out of so large a population of professed Christians, many of whom have been baptized in infancy, it is manifest that the inconsistencies and ungodliness, which prevail even in the most favoured parishes of Christian England, will be found in Sierra Leone also, to try the faith and patience of our Missionaries. And yet there is abundant evidence that the grace of God accompanies the ministrations of His Word, and that the standard of moral and religious attainments will at least bear comparison with that in any part of the mother country. Sometimes instances occur, where the contrast, between the state of things in England and in Sierra Leone, may read a lesson of reproof, which it will be well for us at home to lay seriously to heart. One of the Missionaries gives, in his Journal, the following history of a visit paid by a Sierra-Leone convert to England—

Aug. 12, 1848—To-day a Colony-born young woman, one of my Communicants, called upon me. She has just returned from England, and is full of joy on getting back to her parents and her own country. A few months ago she was invited to go with a European family, proceeding to England, to take care of their child. A desire to see a country so much and so highly spoken of here, and a willingness to oblige, appear to have been the principal motives which induced her to go; for the circumstances of her family are such as to render it unnecessary for her to go into service. In this situation she was exposed to great temptations, from which she was mercifully delivered. The voyage, and her residence in England, were seasons of great affliction to her. She particularly mentioned, with regret, that when they arrived in England she was not permitted, while in this service, even once to go to any Place of Worship. She also related, with abhorrence and surprise, how the people of England work on the Lord's-day, and said that she would go no more to England. Encouragement in our work, of a spiritual nature, is at all times pleasant, but it is especially refreshing in times of trial. "I remembered your advice," she said, "and never forgot to pray and read my Bible. God has been very good to me, in bringing me back to my own country." I told her that she had not been among the good English, or she would have received different treatment. She now attends the House of God every Lord's-day, and is one of my best Sunday-school Teachers.

Exercise of Christian Discipline.

Christian discipline is maintained in the Native Church at Sierra Leone to a degree which is scarcely attainable at home. Any palpable inconsistency of behaviour, in a professed member of the Church, is noticed and reproved; and if not corrected, the individual is removed from the list of members. This is so often the means, under God, of bringing the careless or disobedient to a better mind, that in most of the Congregations there is a class of penitents called the "backsliders' class," who are under instruction and probation previous to their re-admission to the privileges of full membership. From the Rev. N. C. Haastrop's Journal we select the following extracts—

April 24, 1848: Easter Monday—The Passion-week has been to us a season of great spiritual blessing. On Good Friday, after Service, I had a meeting with the backsliders, and in the evening another with the Monitors, after which eight of the former were restored to their position. Saturday evening was employed in preparation for the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, which we celebrated yesterday morning. In the evening we closed this holy season with considering "The power of the resurrection of Christ," and we resolved, through His grace, henceforth to "seek those things which are above."

Aug. 13: Lord's-day — I went to Wellington this morning, to preach, and administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. I received two backsliders, and admitted seven Colony-born young women to the Sacrament. The latter have, during the dry season, attended my class of Colony-born females at Kisse, and since the rainy season Mr. Attarra has had them under particular instruction. I put a few plain questions to them concerning the nature of the Sacrament, which they readily and satisfactorily answered. After some conversation, and a few admonitory remarks, I gladly admitted them to the Lord's Table; and I do trust this day has been to them, as to myself, a season of refreshing from the presence of the Lord. About 170 persons knelt down as guests at the table of their Redeemer.

General Desire of Adults for Instruction.

Another peculiar feature in the West-Africa ministrations is the earnestness and perseverance of adults to obtain religious instruction. In most of the Stations there are Adult Sunday-schools. The following extracts refer to such Institutions. With respect to the Regent-Square Sunday-school the Rev. T. Peyton writes, in his Report for the Quarter ending September 1848—

This School continues to enjoy many tokens of the Divine favour. Three months ago the number of adults was—females 81; males 243. These numbers could not be increased for want of room. Since then, another piazza of the Regent-Square house has been walled up on the ground-floor, and I have thus been able to make arrangements for five additional classes. The number now on the books is—females 92; men 295; total 387; an increase of 63 in the quarter. Of these adults now under instruction, 323 are reading the Old and New Testaments, and 64 Simpson's Primer and other elementary books. The School is divided into twenty-six classes, and taught by the pupils and assistants of the Grammar-school, who attend with exemplary diligence to their duties, and exhibit an earnest desire to promote the present and eternal happiness of all their countrymen who are placed within the range of their influence. Sunday-schools are here a signal benefit to the people. Through the divine blessing on this part of Missionary usefulness, they elevate the Natives in scriptural intelligence and in knowledge of the Truth. On no department of Missionary labour do I look with more pleasure and interest, than on that which embraces in this Colony the instruction of the people in Sunday-schools; and no part, perhaps, has yielded more fruit to the praise and glory of God's grace in the edification here of Christ's Church, and in the conversion of souls to Him, than the efforts which are made in this branch of the Society's operations.

The Rev. C. F. Ehemann, who is stationed at York, in his Report for the Quarter ending September 1848 says—

On the 2d of July we commenced our Sunday-school, with but a few men, who have, however, since increased to 163 on the list, with an average attendance of 110. Under the blessing of God, much good may be effected through it among the people, for there is hardly one able to read a verse in the Bible correctly. It is cheering to see their anxiety to receive instruction. One day I heard a man speaking to others about our Sunday-school, telling them how things were carried on; and then he said, "Every one ought to go to that School: there you can learn something." On another day a man came to buy a Primer; and when I advised him to attend School regularly, that he might learn something, he replied, "Please, Sir, do you think me go buy a book, if me no want to learn?" When those who can read in the Bible are catechized from some part of Scripture, the delight and pleasure they take in it can be seen from the eagerness with which they give their answers. Our Day-schools at present have 183 children on the list, with an average attendance of 150.

Gratitude of the Africans toward their English Benefactors.

Many instances are recorded of the gratitude felt by the Converts toward their Christian Instructors, and of their spiritual compassion for their unconverted countrymen. One specimen may be given, in the words of Mr. T. King, a Native Teacher. His mother had been discovered at Abbeokuta in a state of slavery, and redeemed by the kind exertions of the Missionaries there, and received under Christian instruction. This intelligence was conveyed to Mr. King in a Letter from the Rev. S. Crowther, and called forth the following warm-hearted burst of feeling—

Mr. Crowther told me that my mother has been attending Divine Service every Sabbath since they found her. For this my heart glowed with gratitude the most inexpressible, considering myself under double obligations, which I shall never be able to pay, to the British Nation; who, after delivering me from perpetual slavery, to which I was doomed by cruel men, with swords in hand, laboured hard also, and, as I have reason to believe, rescued me from the slavery of sin and Satan by the life-giving sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God. And yet this is not all; but has sent the same message of truth to her from whom my life is derived, which I hope and pray that it will produce its wonted fruits in her—even inward and spiritual change. May heaven still favour the British Crown with additional renowns, and her Church with increasing converts! As Joseph's afflictions and advancement was over-ruled by the all-wise Providence, and proved a means of saving alive not only his father's household, but also much people of Egypt and other neighbouring countries; so the Abbeokuta Mission will prove, under God, a means of saving the nation and our people, not only from bodily, but from spiritual slavery of sin, and famine of the Word and Bread of Life.

Gratitude toward spiritual benefactors, which survives the lapse of many years, may be regarded as an evidence of the reality of the benefit which had been communicated. The following passage is from the Journal of Mr. J. Bartholomew, a Native Teacher—

Whenever I go to Charlotte it reminds me of the late Mr. C. Taylor, who laboured here, and whose memory is still dear to the inhabitants. He has been very successful among the people of this town; so that by the instrumentality of his religious teaching many were brought near to the Saviour. In the middle of the year 1825 he left the Colony, on account of ill health, for England, when it pleased God to remove him to another and a better world while he was on the sea, having left the Colony a fortnight before. As I was present with him until his last breath, the people would inquire of me, whether the body of their beloved master was conveyed to England. I told them that it was buried in the grave of the sea till the resurrection day, when sea, and land shall give up their dead. As long as

Charlotte shall have existence, I believe this faithful and eminent servant of Christ will not be forgotten by them. How beautiful and bright is that illustrated passage of Scripture, "Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the Word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation: Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever."

At the close of his Journal Mr. Bartholomew adds—

I acknowledge the receipt of a volume of the Family Commentary on portions of the Pentateuch, by the late Henry Thornton, Esq., M.P., which I received safely last August. May the Holy Spirit assist me when I shall read this valuable work, which will essentially contribute to my teaching my countrymen!

Individual Cases of Piety.

A few individual instances of the operation of Divine Grace upon the hearts of Native Converts, will conclude our review of the pastoral ministrations of Sierra Leone. The Rev. C. T. Frey reports—

Dec. 27, 1847—I went to see a Communicant of Waterloo, who a few days ago was suddenly taken ill. When I entered the room he said, "I am very glad to see you, Sir, for I feel that I am about to depart from this world. I do not fear: no, I am rather glad to go. I know that I am going to Jesus, to the friend of poor sinners, as I am. I have nothing in the world on which my affections rest: it is only my Saviour I am looking to. I thank my God that He brought me to this Gospel Colony. In my own country people know nothing about Christ, and about the true God: they die without hope." Before I left him I read a portion of the Scriptures, and engaged in prayer.

Dec. 28—This evening the sick man sent for me to go and see him. On my arrival he said, "Sir, I have yet a few more words to mention in your presence before I leave this world. To-night I believe I shall die: therefore I desire to see you once more." Pointing to one of his country-people—the Popoes—who is also a member of the Church, he said to him, "My Brother, we have been brought in the same ship to this Colony by God's good will: we have since that been walking together for nineteen years: we have joined Church together, and have found Jesus Christ our Saviour, who has died for us upon the Cross. I am very thankful that I came to this knowledge while I was well and strong: now, it would be too late for me. I am going to die; but I do not fear. Jesus is with me: now I shall see Him face to face. Do therefore not cry, but be glad for me. A dear wife I have to leave behind: her I put into your charge. I hope she will serve her Saviour until it shall please Him to call her unto Himself. May God bless her! You, my Brother, I trust, will make it your duty to serve Christ faithfully all the days of your life." Many others of his country-people being present, who are not members of the Church, he said to them, "My dear country-people, I am dying; but before I go I wish to tell you that you must try to serve the true God. He so much loved you that He gave His only-begotten Son for you: therefore you must love God and serve Him. If you always refuse, the bell on the Church, which always calls for you, will be a witness against you." Finally, he turned to me, shook my hand, and thanked me much for all that I had done in his behalf. Having offered up a prayer I left him, much impressed with what the Lord had done among us. The next morning the man died.

The Rev. D. H. Schmid writes—

March 3, 1848—I went this morning to visit a woman who had the sad misfortune, seven years ago, to lose her sight. On asking her whether she knew Jesus, she said, "I do not know what to say. Do I say I know Him, I fear I speak untruth, for I do not know Him as I ought to know Him. Do I say I know Him not, it is also not true, for I know and feel His presence." When I asked whether she felt it a great loss that she cannot read the Word of God, she said, "I feel it much; but now and then I am comforted by one of my sisters, who are in the habit of coming to me, and reading to me a part of the Holy Scriptures." Though deprived of the sight of her eyes, I always find her comforted in Him who came into this world "a light to lighten the Gentiles."

March 12: Lord's-day—I went to see the blind woman, and read to her a part of the Holy Scriptures. I also spoke to her about the salvation of her soul, which she had found in Christ Jesus. She listened attentively, and answered my questions in a most pleasing way. No doubt her afflictions have had a great influence upon her husband, who is a Candidate for Baptism; so that by her blindness she has become a profitable leader of the blind.

The Rev. J. Beale writes, respecting one of his people—

April 5, 1848—I felt much for one of my own people who is confined to her house, unable to walk, in consequence of dreadful ulcers on her legs. Her patience is indeed remarkable. She repeatedly said to me, "If Jesus not been with me, where should I have been now? Sometimes, when the pain bad, I tumble, tumble, from side to side, and I not able to put foot down. Then I cry, 'Do, Lord!' and I not able to pray no more than that. Then Jesus hear me, and He give me ease. Sometimes He comfort me so that I not think it is me have sore, it must be other person."

The Rev. T. Peyton records a touching notice of a little pupil of the Grammar School, of twelve years old, who died in a happy state of mind. He had kept a Journal, in which the following entry had been made a few months previous to his own death—

Jan. 18, 1848—To-day I went to Regent Square to see my Master, who was very ill; but when I reached there he was so ill that no one could see him except the doctor. I was very much troubled at this, and I did pray very much, the same evening, that the Lord might spare my dear Master's life to teach us again.

Education.

The system of education established by the Society in the Colony of Sierra Leone is of a very extensive and complete character.

Each village has its Day-school, where promising children are retained as Monitors. At Freetown there is a Grammar-school—where a superior education is given in science, and in Latin and Greek—in which half the pupils pay for their education. The other half consists of promising boys from the village Schools, who are maintained by the Society with a view to their preparation as Native Teachers.

The Institution or College of Fourah Bay is designed for preparing young men for the Native Ministry, chiefly as Missionaries to the interior of Africa, by a regular theological training, and the study of Hebrew and Arabic.

There are two Female Schools of a superior kind. One is established at Kisse, where a few girls are boarded and trained to industrial habits: the other has been just established in Freetown, where the pupils will pay for their education. The Committee have been induced to establish these Female Schools from the conviction that the education and training of Christian mothers is essential, on various accounts, to the establishment of any Native-Christian Church.

The system of religious instruction and education in Sierra Leone is not to be viewed merely in respect of the inhabitants of the Colony. In that point of view it may be thought that the education is of too high a standard. The chief importance of Sierra Leone, and that which the Committee have ever kept in view, is its relation to the interior of Africa. To cherish a Missionary spirit among the inhabitants of the Colony, to train up Native Missionaries for carrying the Gospel among their countrymen, are the objects for which the Society at home, and their Missionaries abroad, pray and labour. For this end it is that we endeavour to enlarge and invigorate their minds by a sound literary education, and to qualify them—by the knowledge of the Arabic, and of the original languages of Scripture—for the difficulties with which they may be called to contend in their Missionary excursions among Mahomedan tribes, and the more civilized kingdoms of the interior.

Fourah-Bay College.

Notwithstanding the utmost exertions of the Rev. J. Beale, the work at the new building has proceeded but slowly. This circumstance, and the absence of the Rev. E. Jones on a visit to Europe, prevented the admission of fresh pupils. Upon the return of Mr. Jones, in August last, he was able to inhabit the house at one end of the new building; and the building itself was opened for the reception of Students on the day of the Jubilee commemoration, November the 1st.

Native Languages of Africa.

In reference to the hope, already expressed, that Sierra Leone may become a centre from which the light of Divine Truth may stream forth along the coast, and into the interior of Africa, it is evidently most important that the native languages should be studied, and that preparations should be made for presenting the Scriptures to the native tribes among which Missions may be established. Some progress has been made in this work in former years—by the Rev. J. F. Schön in Haussa and Sherbro, by the Rev. S. Crowther in Yoruba, by the Rev. C. F. Schlenker in Timneh, and by the Rev. J. U. Graf in Susu.

A great advance has, it is hoped, been made during this year by the adoption of a recognised system of orthography*, the want of which had been a great impediment to the study of the native languages, and had often rendered the labours of one translator comparatively useless to another.

The Rev. S. W. Koelle has been directed to give his chief attention to the study of languages, and to introduce among the pupils at Fourah Bay the grammatical study of the native languages in which, by birth or other circumstances, they may be more immediately interested. He has himself commenced the study of the Bournu—a language spoken in the interior, to the East of the Niger, in the neighbourhood of Lake Chad. Respecting the selection of this language Mr. Koelle writes—

It is natural that the Committee should expect to hear what may be said in favour of this selection, and what against it; and therefore I shall acquaint them both with our hopes and fears on the subject.

The Bournu nation seems to be the largest and most powerful throughout Central Africa. My interpreter asserts that even the mighty kingdom of Haussa is tributary to it, and that both Begharmi in the east, and Mandara in the south, acknowledge their dependence upon Bournu. From what I heard of a Bournu man, who some months ago came to this Colony, the Bournus lately gave a striking proof of their great power, by a victory which they gained over the numerous and warlike tribe of the Fulatahs. The Fulatahs, or Fulahs, appear to be wandering hordes, living on spoil and their herds, dispersed throughout Middle Africa, from the shores of the Atlantic between the Senegal and Niger, as far eastward as Begharmi and Fittre. Further to the east they do not seem to live, for my interpreter was told by pilgrims to Mecca that the road beyond

* Vide Appendix.

Fittre was quite free from them, and altogether open. Now, about a twelvemonth ago these Fulatahs conquered New Bournu, and took possession of it. When the King of Old Bournu heard this, he raised an army, and expelled them from the Bournu territory altogether.

Though it cannot yet be said with positiveness what relation the Bournu language bears to other African languages, yet it seems very likely that a language spoken in the heart of an extensive continent, by a large population, is affined to more languages than one spoken on the shores. Before such a relationship can be ascertained, however, it is necessary that more neighbouring languages should be drawn from their obscurity by being reduced to writing. Hausa alone I was enabled to compare; but did not find that affinity which I expected. I heard, however, that in districts bordering on Hausa both languages are so amalgamated that the Bournus and Haussas understand each other.

As regards the use of the language for direct Missionary operations, there is a prospect of getting a road into the country. Our brethren have already advanced from Badagry to Abbeokuta in the Yoruba Country. The distance between Yoruba and Hausa is not so very great. Mr. Schön is studying Hausa, in order, as I heard, to proceed to the country as soon as his health be restored. Now, as the Bournu Country immediately borders on the Hausa, it would seem easy to advance to Bournu so soon as Hausa shall have opened herself to the messengers of peace. By these three languages, then—the Yoruba, Hausa, and Bournu—we should be enabled to proceed from the coast into the very heart of Africa. And surely, if the object of Missionary work cannot be any thing short of this, “that the Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations,” we cannot always remain merely on the coasts, but must at last penetrate into the hearts of continents.

There is another road leading to the Bournu Country beside that just mentioned. It is the road from the Mediterranean Sea along the chain of hills and oases which divides the Sahara into two parts. This road was mentioned to me by Mr. Richardson, an African traveller, about twelve months ago. He said that regular caravans go on this road to Bournu from Tripoli, and to Tripoli from Bournu, and that he himself had seen Bournu merchants at Tripoli who had come that way. That there is such a road, and that it is much made use of, appears also from the statements of my interpreter; for he asserts that “plenty traders” come from the north to Bournu. The majority of them are called Kandins. They are of a tawny complexion, and often stay several years in the country, till they have collected much wealth. But frequently also White People travel on the same road. They are much esteemed by the King, and by all the people. As long as they stay in the country, which is generally only a few months, they regularly attend the mosque. The chief thing that the White Men get from the King and the people is slaves. They pay for them coined money—copper, silver, and gold—clothes, guns, and other articles

The Bournu people are said to entertain friendly feelings toward the English; and Mr. Richardson told me that he found the Bournu traders quite willing to take any Englishman from Tripoli to their country.

This expected friendly disposition of the Bournus toward the English is also the reason why their language deserves the decided preference before that of the Fulahs, which is likewise supposed to be extensively spoken.

In reference to the prospect of a Mission to Bournu, Mr. Koelle makes the following remarks, in the spirit of a true Christian Missionary—

The time will, I believe, at length come, when also in such entirely Mahomedan countries as Bournu the banner of the Cross will be unfurled; but whether the time is still distant or just at hand I cannot say. The Lord knows it, and will reveal it to His believing people when it is necessary. Meanwhile, the Bournu language might perhaps yet be made use of for direct Missionary work; for some Heathen tribes under Bournu government are said to understand it likewise. Should the Committee think it advisable for me to go on with this language, and should no Mission be begun in Hausa, I would not feel indisposed to proceed to Bournu by way of Tripoli; for I am daily more convinced, that a residence in the country is absolutely necessary before a translation of the Holy Scriptures can be ventured upon.*

ABBEOKUTA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived in 1845.)

Trials, and present Position, of the Missionary Force.

At the commencement of the year 1848 two European Missionaries—the Rev. I. Smith and the Rev. J. C. Müller—with their wives, arrived at Badagry. Their arrival had been long anxiously expected for the strengthening of the Mission. But sadness soon followed the joy of this event. In the course of three weeks Mrs. Müller was attacked by fever, under which she sank, and the alarming illness of Mrs. Townsend obliged her to return, with the Rev. H. Townsend, to England. The Rev. C. A. Gollmer had already been six years in Africa, and therefore his return for a season became necessary for the preservation of his health. Thus the Mission was reduced in efficiency by the loss of those who were acquainted with the Yoruba language, and much of the time of the new Missionaries has been necessarily occupied in the acquisition of the language. The discharge of Missionary duties has mainly rested upon the Native Teachers. These Teachers are, however, experienced Christian men, who have been long trained to the work in Sierra Leone, the Rev. Samuel Crowther being at their head. Mr. Müller at once proceeded to Abbeokuta. Mr. Smith remained at Badagry.

BADAGRY.

The Missionary work at this Station exhibits the same character as in former accounts: the progress is far slower than at Abbeokuta.

Public Services—Character of the Badagrians.

A small Congregation of Christian Natives, who have returned from Sierra Leone, assemble in the Church, to whom Mr. Gollmer ministers. Mr. Marsh preaches every Sunday under the tree, which was first selected by Mr. Crowther as a convenient spot whence the message of the Gospel might be proclaimed to the inhabitants of the town.

On some occasions the attention of the people is encouraging. Mr. Marsh addresses his countrymen with great solemnity and force. One Sunday, having comparatively a large and attentive Congregation, he preached upon the text, Luke xiii. 3, "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish;" and some of his auditors often cried out during his discourse, "God have mercy upon us!"

Many opportunities also occur of conversational preaching, in occasional interviews with the inhabitants.

The general state of the inhabitants is thus affectingly described in a Letter from Mr. Marsh, dated April 13, 1848—

The state of the inhabitants of Badagry is the same—the people are still regardless of the Word of God. No Sunday scholars from among them. There is no one who would come willingly and voluntarily to our Church. We repeatedly go after them; but all our efforts seem to be in vain. "Compel them to come in" is the injunction: this I desire to keep in view. The inhabitants being very idle and indolent are, of course, really miserable; and misery makes them to look more after eating and drinking. Their forefathers have been accustomed to sell slaves, and therefore they think they must also keep to that trade, or any other lawful trade with Europeans; but they are to do almost nothing else.

Education.

The chief encouragement of the labour of the Missionaries at Badagry is in connexion with the Boarding-school. At the close of the year 1847 Mr. Gollmer writes—

As regards our Society's boarders, I have much pleasure in stating that this is the most promising branch of our labour, and to a considerable degree counterbalances the discouragements we meet with from the adults. By the blessing of God I have received so many children as to make up for the loss we sustained the quarter before last, and our number is again 26. Ten other children are promised me, and I hope we shall soon get at least some of them. The conduct of the children has been, on the whole, very good. I believe they love me as I love them. One thing I know, they will all instantly obey me in whatever I may have occasion to command them. One needs to be very kind and indulgent, and at the same time very strict and firm, with these dear children, to bring them somewhat into order; and I think I may say, without assumption, that we have succeeded to a great degree in weaning them from the evil propensities they were indulged in at home; have accustomed them to decency, honesty, and politeness; and impressed them with the truth of God's eternal Word. Fourteen of them can read the Bible, and several others will very soon be able to join the second Bible class. The rest go on tolerably well. The elder boys speak English fluently, and their writing is not bad, considering. I must here give credit to Mr. Marsh's unwearied and unceasing exertions in bringing our children forward. I am sure our School, considering its infancy, confers great honour on him, and I think it deserves to be noticed. With what a feeling I behold these dear children I cannot express; but God knows that they are dear to my heart, and that I send many a prayer to the throne on high on their behalf. Oh, if they all would become preachers of righteousness—what a triumph! But many times I fear and tremble for them. I can only commend them to God and the grace of His Word, to whom I desire to commend myself and all of us for evermore. Amen!

ABBEOKUTA.

General View of the Mission.

The disposition of the inhabitants of Abbeokuta toward the reception of the Gospel continues to be of the most encouraging kind. The Rev. J. C. Müller, after several years' experience in Sierra Leone, thus describes the state of things at Abbeokuta—

March 7, 1848—I can safely say that the Yorubas are a superior class of people to all our African brethren I have ever met with. There is hardly an objection to the preaching of the Gospel in Abbeokuta. The minds and the hearts of the people seem to be prepared for “the truth as it is in Jesus:” they are not so dull and corrupt as those on the coast. This is not my opinion only, but it is a fact which the brethren Townsend, Crowther, and William Marsh testify, and a stranger need not reside here many days before he can find it out himself.

Shortly before Mr. Townsend's departure he thus described his labours, and the value of his Native Assistants—

I have Service in Ake Church twice on Sunday, and once on Thursday afternoon. In Ikija Chapel there is Service on Sunday morning and Friday afternoon, and in Toko Chapel on Sunday afternoon and Wednesday afternoon. I am assisted in keeping these Services by my Native Assistants Andrew Wilhelm and Wm. Goodwill, who interpret for me when I officiate myself, or, in my absence, hold the Services themselves, for which they are well qualified. God has greatly favoured us in giving us such helpers. To bring forward our native helpers, and to make them chief instruments of communicating the Truth to their country-people, is, I think, a duty; for God has doubtless raised them up, and many others in Sierra Leone, for this purpose. To encourage and direct them seems to be the chief work of Europeans here. In conversation, Mr. Philip, one of the Schoolmasters just come from Sierra Leone, expressed great surprise at what he saw in this country—far beyond, he said, what he could have thought of seeing.

The Day-school, since the arrival of the Schoolmaster from Sierra Leone, has increased. I have been enabled, since his arrival, to send Andrew Wilhelm round to people in our neighbourhood to persuade them to send their children to School. The chief obstacle seems to be the want of parental authority: many say that they are willing, if we can only persuade the children to come. I doubt not that, after exercising patience and forbearance until the children become acquainted with our School, the words of Sodeke will be fulfilled—we shall have more children than we shall be able to teach.*

*First Adult Baptism in Abbeokuta, the Mother of the

In a Letter of the Rev. Samuel Crowther, he mentions that his mother had renounced idolatry, and had given evidence, under an attack of serious illness, that all her hopes were in the Lord Jesus Christ.

It was an arrangement between Mr. Townsend and Mr. Crowther that the former should instruct the class of Candidates for Baptism, and the latter the class of Candidates for the Lord's Supper. Hence Mr. Crowther's mother was placed under the instruction of Mr. Townsend; and he waited till he could satisfy himself that she and other Candidates had acquired a sufficient knowledge of the elementary truths contained in the Creed, to answer with intelligence and sincerity the questions of the Baptismal Service. At length, on the 6th of February 1848, immediately before his return to Europe, Mr. Townsend selected five adults — three women, of whom Mr. Crowther's mother was one, and two men—for administering to them publicly the rite of Baptism. Mr. Crowther fully concurred in the delay of his mother's baptism, though, during her illness, he had determined, in case of extreme danger, to baptize her upon his own responsibility, as Mr. Townsend was at that time at Badagry.

* Vide p. 35 of the Forty-fourth Report.

On Sunday, the 6th of February, the day appointed for the baptisms, a large Congregation, above 250, assembled in the Church for the Afternoon Service. The three women were neatly dressed in white. Their names were Afala, Mr. Crowther's mother; Ibikotan, the wife of the man in whose house Mr. and Mrs. Townsend had lodged upon their first arrival; and Ige, a married woman between 50 and 60 years of age, mentioned by Mr. Crowther as first applying for instruction on the 16th of November 1846.* She had proved a regular attendant upon instruction ever since, and was of a very energetic character, always pressing upon her acquaintance the importance of Christian truth, and bringing them with her to Church and to the class of Candidates.

The two men were Aina, mentioned by Mr. Crowther, in a Letter of September 15, 1847, as having been brought before the Magistrates for throwing away his gods†; and Bankole, a native of Abbeokuta, who had been brought to desire Christian instruction by the labours of Andrew Wilhelm, the Native Catechist, before the arrival of the Missionaries in Abbeokuta—probably, therefore, the first inquirer who had turned from idolatry to serve the true God. His name signifies, in the native tongue, "The builder of a house or family." May he and many more of the inhabitants of that land prove the builders of a "spiritual house" unto the Lord!

The custom of the country is for each individual to have his proper name: there are no family names in use. The baptized persons, however, will henceforth take their native names as surnames, which will continue with their Christian offspring. The Rev. Samuel Crowther chose the Christian name of Hannah for his mother: the two men were named respectively Thomas and Edward, out of the personal regard and respect of the Missionaries for those two firm and Christian friends of the African race, Sir Thomas D. Acland, Bart., and Sir Edward N. Buxton, Bart.

* Vide p. 251 of the "Church Missionary Record" for November 1847.

† Vide p. lxxv of the last Report.

The Baptismal Service for Adults had been translated for this occasion into Yoruba by Mr. Townsend. The Service was divided between Mr. Townsend and Mr. Crowther, Mr. Townsend baptizing the adults, and Mr. Crowther baptizing four young children, his own nieces, lately redeemed by him from slavery, and toward whom he therefore stood in the relation of a father, by the customs of the country.

Mr. Crowther concluded the Service by preaching to the assembled Congregation an impressive and appropriate sermon, which was listened to with the deepest attention by all present.

Encouraging Progress of the Mission.

The Rev. J. C. Müller, after several months' residence at Abbeokuta, thus writes, in a Letter dated Sept. 18, 1848—

A period of seven months has elapsed since I was permitted to enter upon active duties at our beloved Abbeokuta. On reflecting upon the past time, and looking at the steady progress of Missionary labours at the present, I cannot help exclaiming, with amazement, "What hath God wrought!" After Mr. Crowther and myself had divided the Candidates between us, thirty-one were left to my charge. The number of Candidates has since grown to 95 at Ake. The Sunday-schools and Divine Services at Ake are uncommonly well attended, so much so, that we must meditate upon enlarging our Place of Worship there. Our weekly Services at four different Stations within my parish are crowded by people from different parts of Abbeokuta. We are at present building a sort of Chapel at Kesi, at my own expense. I commenced preaching the Gospel there four months ago. It is a rich, a plenteous harvest. We are, besides this, much encouraged by the attention of the people when we preach the Gospel to them in the markets, and in their own dwellings.*

State of the Schools—Erection of a Chapel.

THE Society's School Establishment at Syra has proceeded in its usual quiet and useful course : no interruption has been given to the free communication of scriptural instruction. The number of scholars has been between 500 and 600. As a model School it exercises an important influence upon the educational system of the kingdom of Greece ; and as a training establishment it sends out, from time to time, Teachers who have learned, it is hoped, to value and to teach scriptural truth.

A Chapel has been built, adjoining the School premises, by means independent of the funds of the Society, for the use of the English and German residents at Syra, and the seamen who visit the port. Mr. Hildner officiates as the Chaplain, and many Greeks occasionally attend the Services.

Present Aspect of the Mission.

The Missionaries employed in this Mission, the Rev. J. T. Wolters and Mr. C. Sandreczki, have continued their labours, as in former years, with their Native Greek Assistant, Mr. A. Dalessio. They avail themselves of all opportunities of conversing with the inhabitants of various neighbouring countries who visit the port of Smyrna, and they circulate the Scriptures and Tracts to a considerable amount.

The condition of the Eastern Churches, and the need they have of direct Missionary effort, are well described by Mr. Wolters in the following extract from his Journal—

Nov. 22, 1848—A short time ago the Greek Patriarch was deposed, and for very good reasons. How painful is it to see a Bishop, and even a Patriarch, “greedy of filthy lucre!” The Porte, in her official document authorizing the Synod of the Greek Church to elect another Patriarch, has given very good exhortations to the Synod, reminding them of the sacred duties devolved upon the spiritual head of the nation, and that they should take care to elect a person whose character would warrant the fulfilment of these sacred duties. Thus “the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through” those who profess and call themselves Christians.

To-day I heard that the Armenian Patriarch has also been deposed. I have been often led to reflect on the state of the Eastern Churches. Many Protestant Christians, both clergy and laity, seem to think that there is a considerable difference between the Church of Rome and the Churches of the East; but a sojourn of sixteen years in different countries of the East, during which time I have had uninterrupted occasion to observe the life and conduct of Eastern Christians, of all classes of society, has brought me to form quite a different opinion. I do not hesitate to assert, that there is no essential difference between these Churches and the Church of Rome: they are—I speak of the Greek and Armenian Churches—as deeply corrupted, both in doctrine and practice, as the Church of Rome is, and perhaps more degraded in certain respects. “The whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint. From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.” There is only one help for these Churches—Christ and His Gospel. The Gospel must be made known to our Eastern brethren—the Gospel in its fulness, in its simplicity, in its purity. Christ must again be preached in these Churches.

Perfect liberty of conscience has been granted by the Sultân to all his Christian subjects. Is not this a remarkable fact? Is it not a call to Protestant Christians, and especially to those of the Church of England, to arise and let their light shine in the countries of the East? Or shall we leave our brethren of the Eastern Churches to perish for lack of knowledge?

There is an important point bearing upon Missionary efforts among the Christians of the East. They live in the midst of thousands of the followers of the false prophet of Arabia, and exhibit to them nothing better than a mere caricature of Christianity. Now the command of Christ, “Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature,” is of so general a nature, that the Mussulmans are certainly included in the number of those to whom we are in duty bound to make known the way of salvation.

It is a well-known fact, however, that the open and public preaching of the Gospel in Mahomedan countries is as yet impracticable: all that can be done is in an indirect and preparatory way. I do not mean to say that opportunities may not be found of declaring the truth as it is in Jesus to single individuals among the Mussulmans; but to public and open preaching the door is closed. If the Lord do not open, no human effort can. But He who opened China, will, in

His own good time, open Turkey and other Mahomedan countries. In the mean time our duty is plain. While we hope, and pray, and labour, as far as possible, for the Mahomedans, we ought not to pass by a door of wide and extensive usefulness which the Lord has opened already among the Christians in Turkey.

Visitation of the Cholera.

In the course of last summer, the city of Smyrna was visited with the cholera in a severe form. A very large proportion of the population fled, through the fear of contagion; and from the same cause the sick were, for the most part, deserted by their friends, and left to perish without help. Mr. Dalessio, with his wife, exerted themselves with exemplary zeal to relieve the distresses of the sick; visiting them at their houses, and administering medicines, and at the same time directing their minds to the sinner's refuge, and only foundation of hope and peace, in the time of trouble.

Missionary Tour.

An interesting Missionary tour was taken by Messrs. Sandreczki and Dalessio, during the month of October 1848, through Sardis, Philadelphia, Attalia, Magnesia, &c. During the course of this tour they had many opportunities of communicating Christian instruction to individuals, and of distributing the Sacred Scriptures.

Conflict of Toleration and Fanaticism.

The Missionaries speak of many indications of a weakening of the hold of Islamism upon the Turkish population, and of the progress of the principles of toleration in the policy of the Sultân. But there still remains a fearful amount of bigotry, and a spirit of persecution, among the great mass of the people—and especially on the part of the local Governors—which presents as yet impenetrable barriers to the progress of the Truth. In confirmation of this view we may insert the following notice from the Journal of Mr. Wolters—

Dec. 9, 1848—Our attention was directed to-day to an article in the Greek Newspaper of Smyrna, relating the story of a Turk having been publicly executed at Constantinople because he had spoken against the Mahomedan religion. The poor man had been brought before the High Council of the Ulêmas and the Sheigh-ul-Islam, who, after investigating the case, gave their verdict—"guilty of death." Accordingly the man was beheaded in one of the public squares of Constantinople. We have not been able to ascertain the particulars of the case. Whatever they may be, it is a sad instance of Mahomedan intolerance and fanaticism, which, for the present at least, close the door against every effort of direct Missionary labours among the Turks.

THE labours of the two Missionaries, the Rev. W. Krusé and the Rev. J. R. T. Lieder, have been continued in their respective departments.

Visitation of the Cholera.

In the summer of last year the city of Cairo, as well as the whole of Lower and Middle Egypt, was subjected to a fearful visitation of the cholera. The season was peculiarly unfavourable, being the time of the inundation of the Nile, when considerable exhalations rise, and also of the Ramadan, or month of abstinence, when the rigid Mussulman fasts from day-break to sun-set, denying himself even a draught of water. The cholera commenced in Cairo and its environs on the 14th of July, and continued to rage for two months. The Letters of the Missionaries thus describe the severity of the disease, and the consternation of the inhabitants—

The appearance of this dreadful scourge in Egypt was as sudden as if it had fallen from heaven, and as unexpected as unprepared for. No one would believe the reality till its ever-frightful ravages too clearly proved the fact. It caused a fearful excitement, not only among the Europeans, but also among the whole population. The Cairo statistical accounts of its progress began with four deaths, and rose as high as 372 per day; and during the first forty days of its ravages there fell 9000 victims. The ravages of this evil have not been confined to the poor and miserable: it has proved itself here no respecter of persons, desolating the houses of the noblest Beys and Effendis, as well as those of the commonest Fellahs. A great many of the wealthier Europeans, and not a few of the grandees of Egypt, fled. Ibrahim Pacha went to the island of Rhodes, near Asia Minor; Abbas Pacha to Upper Egypt; Sheriff Pacha to Arabia; and others to solitary stations in the desert. The old viceroy, Mehemet Ali, alone remained in Alexandria with his daughter.

I have been informed that the Court Physician of Abbas Pacha, a man of high moral character, has carefully investigated all the reports of deaths from the cholera in the towns and villages of Middle and Lower Egypt, and the result is, that no fewer than between 180,000 and 200,000 would seem to have been swept away. In many villages, especially in Lower Egypt, where there were 600 souls, 400 died, while in not a few not a soul remained alive.

The Missionaries remained at their post during this fearful visitation, and administered relief, instruction, and consolation, as far as they were able. Mrs. Lieder and two female servants were attacked in one of the houses of the Mission, and Mr. and Mrs. Krusé in the other; but their lives were mercifully preserved.

Coptic Institution.

The object of this Institution was to afford Christian training and instruction to young Candidates for the Coptic Ministry, and thus, by improving the character of its priesthood, to meliorate the condition of that Church. It was intimated, in the last Report, that the Committee had reason to believe that the Institution had failed to accomplish this object. In a Letter dated Jan. 27, 1849, Mr. Lieder says—

I now see clearly that it could not be otherwise; for how was it possible that a youth, whose mind has become enlightened by an education founded on the Word of God, should or could ever enter into the service of such a deeply-fallen Church.

As this was the most expensive establishment in the Cairo Mission, and had failed to yield the fruit that was expected from it, it has been closed.

Boys' Day-school—Girls' Day-school.

The Boys' Day-school, from the time of its commencement to September last, has afforded instruction to 1530 youths, chiefly the children of the poor. Many of the pupils are now respectably employed in the service of the Government, as clerks, copyists, and accountants; but in accomplishing the great object which the Church Missionary Society had in view, in thus affording to the young Natives the benefit of a scriptural education—namely, that they might become “wise unto salvation,” and remember their Creator and Saviour in the days of their youth—it does not seem to have been successful. A reduction of the expenditure connected with the Cairo Mission having become necessary, this School has been closed by the Missionaries, in order that the Girls'-school may continue in full operation. There are Native Schools for boys, in which the pupils receive some education; but the Church Missionary Society's School for the education of females is the only Institution of the kind in Egypt.

Mr. Lieder makes the following Report for the year 1848—

The Girls' Day-school has considerably suffered during the course of the year; first from the cholera, by which not a small number of its inmates were called into eternity; and afterward by an odious attempt of the Government to seize girls for employment in the service of the Pacha, which prevented the parents allowing their daughters to attend the School, particularly if they lived at some distance from it. Though the School is now again in a satisfactory condition, it has not yet regained the full number of its former attendants.

This School, which I always considered as a prominent part of the Cairo Mission, is under the special care of Mrs. Lieder, assisted by her friend Mrs. Tyler. The school-hours are from eight to twelve A.M. and one to four P.M., with the exception of Saturday, when there is no School. One-half of the time is used for mental instruction, and the other to teach the pupils English and Native sewing and embroidery, and other useful female occupations.

Ministerial Labours—Bible Class.

Mr. Lieder reports—

As my time is now far less occupied with the care of Schools, I have turned my mind to more general objects of the Mission. In order to get easy access to the many, Christians of all denominations as well as Mahomedans, I have begun again to give medical advice to all who desire my help; by which means I have daily opportunities, in a direct or indirect way, to plead, in conversations and by reasoning, the cause of Christ.

In the Chapel I occasionally assist my colleague, Mr. Krusé, and I have myself begun, in a private way, a Service every Sunday evening, in the Arabic language, in a room of my house.

Finding, with pleasure, that several considerably advanced scholars of the former Coptic Institution, whose parents live in Cairo, remain gratefully attached to the Mission, and attend regularly, beside the Arabic, the English Service on Sundays, I have opened for their benefit an English Bible Class three times a week, from seven to half-past eight in the evening.

Labours of the Rev. W. Krusé.

The following extracts are from a Letter of the Rev. W. Krusé, dated Feb. 7, 1849—

You will have seen that the cholera has visited Egypt. Of our small Congregation, several have been taken from us, so that our Chapel is now but thinly attended. Yet withal we have much cause for thankfulness when we look among our Missionary circle; for although most of us have been more or less affected by this complaint, yet we are all spared to praise our God for His wonderful care over us. Still further cause for gratitude have I that the Lord has vouchsafed me strength according to the day, and enabled me to go on alone in the Meeting-room, since I have been compelled to give up my assistant. My visitors, both in the afternoon and evening, continue to attend regularly; and I am glad to observe that some appear to be really anxious for the Word of Truth.

Profession of Protestantism by two Roman-Catholic Priests.

I lately received a Letter from a traveller in Upper Egypt, informing me that a Roman-Catholic Priest, a Missionary of the Propaganda, was anxiously desirous to see me there. He had learned that, through me, two Priests of his order had been sent to Malta, and become Protestants; and he wished to hear something more about the Protestant Religion. In order to make this clear to you, I think it necessary to give you an outline of this occurrence.

When I was travelling in the Faïoum, in 1846,* I met there a Roman-Catholic Missionary, who almost daily visited me. At first I looked upon him with suspicion, but he soon proved himself to be a serious inquirer. Shortly after my return to Caïro, he obtained leave of absence for a change of air. He soon came to see me; and at his third visit he brought another of the same order, whom he introduced as the Secretary of their Bishop. He made many minute inquiries respecting our Church; and after several visits both declared that they saw the errors of their own Church, and that henceforth they were Protestants. In the following year I went to Lower Egypt†, and on my way thither, at Alexandria, I met the aforesaid Secretary, who was more than ever convinced of the truth of our religion. I felt it my duty to assist him as far as I was able, and obtained for him Letters of recommendation to the Bishop of Gibraltar. He succeeded in escaping to Malta, where he was received into the Asylum, under the patronage of the Bishop. In the mean time the other Padre, the Missionary of the Faïoum, had been made Superior, or President, of the Propaganda Convent at Caïro; but, soon after the escape of his companion, it became known that he also maintained Protestant principles. This brought the Bishop up in great haste to Caïro, who, instead of going to his own residence at the Sardinian Consulate, took up his quarters in the Convent, declaring that he felt so grieved at the loss of his Secretary, that he was determined to reside there for the future, and do penance, and that he would watch more strictly over his Clergy, that they should have no more communication with us. His first act was to depose the Superior, whom he sent, in charge of a confidential monk, to Bethlehem, to get him out of our way. Subsequently, being encouraged by a Letter received from his companion at Malta, he shaved off his beard, dressed himself in civil clothes, and, under the protection of a German Clergyman, succeeded in escaping to Malta, where he also was received into the Asylum.

In the month of August last I received a very large parcel of printed pamphlets, written by the ex-Secretary, who had resumed his family name, in the form of a Letter, showing the errors of the Roman-Catholic Church, and giving his reasons for embracing the Protestant religion. Between fifty and sixty of these pamphlets were directed to the principal Roman Catholics, whom he personally knew, consuls, doctors, &c., and also to the Priests of the Propaganda. These Letters made a great stir among the Roman Catholics. The Priests have busied themselves to find an able man to reply, which I hear has been done, but in a very weak manner.

How much do I wish that I could report such a stir among the Copts! However, we must hope that the day is not far distant, for it appears evident to me that the light of truth is spreading far and wide among them, but their Priests remain in the dark: they are the last in coming to the light. Yet I have latterly seen, with much satisfaction, one Priest regularly attending the Meeting-room, and diligently reading the Word of God. In our conversations he has often surprised me by the progress he has made. Yesterday he declared to me, "Here alone I can breathe freely: anywhere else I cannot speak what is in my heart."

Reported Expulsion of Roman-Catholic Missionaries from Abyssinia.

Mr. Lieder mentions a report of events which may prove to be the commencement of an important era for the Church of Abyssinia.

My correspondence with some of the Coptic Bishops in Upper Egypt has been carried on, I believe, in a satisfactory way. You will be much interested to hear that I last month received a very important Letter from Amba Salame, the Metropolitan of Abyssinia, in which he states that he is still in Tigre, though urgently invited by Ras Ali to return to Gondar. He informs me that he now fully hopes to succeed with Ubieh to banish from Abyssinia the Roman-Catholic Priests: indeed, later Letters have arrived, which state that it has been already done; that Padre Jacobi, with a number of Priests, have arrived at Massowah; and that Prince Ubieh has ordered those Abyssinians who turned Roman Catholics, and who will not return to their own Church, to leave the country together with the Priests. This news produced in Cairo a startling and chilly sensation among the Roman-Catholic party.

Apparent Missionary Openings in Syria, &c.—Visit of the Rev. J. Bowen.

In connexion with the Mediterranean Mission, the Committee have to report that they have received letters from Bishop Gobat, of Jerusalem, urging the Society to turn their attention to the openings for Missionary labours among the Greek Christians in that neighbourhood, and among the Arabs beyond Jordan.

Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has also transmitted to the Committee a Despatch from the Consul-General of Syria, representing the openings for Church-of-England Missions in Mount Lebanon; and another Despatch from the British Consul at Mosul, representing the willingness of the Chaldean Christians to receive instruction from Church-of-England Missionaries. The Committee have further received Letters direct from the Ecclesiastical authorities of the Chaldean Christians at Mosul, pleading for the extension of the Society's aid to their country, for the education and scriptural instruction of the people.

The past experience of the Society renders them very cautious of trusting to apparent openings among the Eastern Churches. The existing Establishments of the Society, in the various Mission-fields, have also the first claim upon their funds. Yet the Committee were unwilling to appear insensible to the calls addressed to them. In this state of things it is peculiarly gratifying to the Committee to state, that they lately received from a Clergyman, the Rev. John Bowen, the very liberal offer of going out for a few years, at his own expense, to act in any part of the world, and in any capacity, which the Committee might determine upon as most serviceable to the cause of Missions. The Committee gladly availed themselves of this offer, by appointing Mr. Bowen to visit, as a Christian friend, the Society's Missions in the Mediterranean, to reside for some months at Jerusalem, and then to visit Egypt and Mosul. A well-qualified Interpreter, himself a converted Jew, trained for Missionary work, has been engaged to accompany Mr. Bowen; and the travellers had already reached Smyrna at their latest advices.

Mr. Bowen proposes, under Divine permission, to return to England when he has completed his tour, probably at the conclusion of two years. The Committee will then be in a position to determine whether any further measures can be adopted for Missionary labours in Syria or Mesopotamia.*

Mission Establishment :

3 Ordained European Missionaries.

1 Lay European Assistant.

THE Rev. Dr. Krapf and the Rev. J. Rebmann have continued their zealous and devoted labours in this Mission. The Rev. J. Erhardt is on his way to join them, together with an European servant as a Lay Assistant in the Mission.

Missionary Work at New Rabbai.

The Missionaries have persevered in their endeavours to impart Christian instruction to the few and scattered individuals of the Wanika Tribe around the Station. Several attempts have been made to establish Schools, but with very little success. More is done by conversational preaching among the adults, wherever a few can be gathered together.

Mr. Rebmann was anxious that some notice should be taken of Christmas-day 1847, and therefore composed a short verse in the Kinika language—

Let us be joyful ! let us be joyful ! Christ has been born !

Men all, men all, thus, thus they have been loved !

The children readily learned to sing the verse, and the attention of the parents was thus in some measure directed to the advent of Christ. Mr. Rebmann writes—

Thus, in the year 1847, the first Christmas song has resounded on the Wanika mountains of Eastern Africa, from the mouths of its sable children. O that the lovely echo of that joyful song might soon be heard in the innermost parts of that benighted and hapless continent !

The last communications of the Missionaries speak of a few hopeful young men who appear to be earnest in seeking the Truth. But the indifference and degraded moral character of the majority of the people are very discouraging.

Missionary Tours.

As soon as the Missionaries had established the Station of New Rabbai, they began to turn their thoughts to the tribes in the interior, and to devise schemes of Missionary operations for compassing the whole land.

The Committee have received deeply-interesting accounts of five tours, in different directions.

Toward the north, a coasting voyage was made by both Missionaries at the close of November 1847, and a journey into the interior, in the same direction, in February 1848.

Mr. Rebmann on two occasions penetrated into the countries lying to the West—on the first occasion (Oct. 1847) to the distance of 100 miles, on the second (June 1848) to twice that distance.

Dr. Krapf made an extensive tour to the South in the course of last year.

The Committee desire to express their cordial approbation of these enterprising tours, which were planned in faith, and accomplished in a spirit of perseverance and self-denial for which they bless God. They trust that enough has been discovered to show the Church at home what abundant openings, and fair prospects, exist for carrying the blessings of the Gospel from the East coast into the interior of Africa.

In the voyage toward the north, the Missionaries landed at several towns on the coast. The emotions excited in their minds, when within sight of the Galla Country, are thus described in a Letter from Dr. Krapf, dated Dec. 9, 1847—

At the northern bank of the Killefi the Dahalo Country begins, and in the west the Galla territory of the Berrarata tribe. Having passed the Killefi, we saw to the north-west the top of a high and black mountain, which rose behind a lower mountain range that springs out from the Wanika Country, and is a continuation of the mountains of Rabbai, Ribe, Kambe, Dshibana, Dshogni, and Kau-ma. On the top of the said black mountain the town Sabaki is said to be situated. It is the place to which the Galla resort in all weighty concerns referring to their tribe; and no doubt many destructive war expeditions have been planned there; and the terrible Moru or High Priest, in the Druid manner of old, has inspected the entrails of slaughtered animals. Who can know how much misery and woe may have gone forth from this university of the devil? for such places are the high-schools of the Heathen, and these are entirely under the influence of the father of lies and murder. But we will not despair, for we know our Lord Jesus Christ, who has given His life also for the Galla, can and shall in His time erect an evangelical school at Sabaki. The spirit within us sighed for the coming of this time, and in the name of our Master we took already possession of the place, though at present we cannot even think of setting our foot on that part of the Galla coast, from the ferocity of its inhabitants. But we were as sure as Abraham of old, when the promise concerning the possession of Canaan was given him. "Ask of me, and I shall give Thee the Heathen for Thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Thy possession." This we did by asking our Heavenly Father that the Galla Nation might soon be given for His Son's inheritance. Pray we did for a country inhabited by murderers, by wilful man-slayers, who consider their work on earth to consist in killing, as surely as the Wanika tribes consider their business to be in cultivating the soil. Indeed we felt ourselves very uneasy in sailing along the Galla coast, not so much on account of our personal danger, but especially by reason of the shocking stories which our well-versed pilot related to us, and which I know were perfectly true. No doubt the first Missionaries of Germany, on passing its frontiers, had similar feelings rising up in their minds; but the Lord has heard their prayers, which, if I may use the expression, are the birth-place of the Christian developement with which a country may be blessed in after ages. Whatever the world may say or think, yet it is certain that the invisible roots of a nation's regeneration from heathenism, its resurrection from death, lie in the deep sighings and sympathies of the Missionary. In his mind the Lord is risen from His sanctuary on high, in order to regenerate a nation—whose Church history begins there.

The reputation gained by the British nation for its endeavours to suppress the Slave-Trade is thus referred to—

Our pilot told us, with much emotion, that, had not the English put a stop to slavery in this quarter, the Spaniards and French would not allow the Natives to sit down quietly with their wives and children: for these Europeans did formerly carry their slave mania to such a pitch, that they caught fishermen at sea. This perfectly agrees with Captain Owen's statement in his book on East Africa. Women sold at Zanzibar their husbands, and vice versâ. When they heard a fiddler coming with a European slave-buyer, money thrown into the hand of a woman or husband dismembered a family in an instant. Thanks to God, things have taken a better turn through the instrumentality of Great Britain! She has now honour and a good renown in East Africa, and large principalities are desirous of putting themselves under British protection; while the French, Spaniards, and Portuguese are ill-spoken of, and their memory will be stigmatized from generation to generation. O that English philanthropy and statesmanship might take to heart this important testimony of a Suáheli sailor, who himself was formerly a slave! O that England would increase and continue showing the world the influence of truly Christian principles! Her reward would be, that the nations, of their own accord, would seek for her tutorship. Let no one say that the uncivilized tribes of Africa do not look upon what England is doing. Oh! they watch and mark every step she takes, and a silent love for her is implanted in their minds. O that England's statesmen could see, and if they cannot see, yet believe, that well-doing to the world at large will profit their nation more than temporal advantages.

The journeys to the westward opened a new country, of which the physical character, and the disposition of the inhabitants, present facilities for Missionary enterprise of the most encouraging kind. Members of the Wakamba Tribes with whom the Missionaries are in continual communication, carry on a commercial intercourse between the sea-coast and the main body of their tribe, which lies from 400 to 600 miles distant in the interior. From them the Missionaries learned that the roads, which had been long infested by hostile tribes, had been lately rendered safe. Mr. Rebmann's first journey was to the Taita Country, about 90 miles due west from the coast. Three groups of mountains—of a height of 4000 to 5000 feet—forming a triangle, inclose the Taita Country, whose inhabitants are estimated at 170,000 souls. The language belongs to the Suáheli family. Mr. Rebmann was pretty well understood, speaking in the Kinika dialect. Mr. Rebmann thus concludes his account of this excursion, in a Letter dated Oct. 27, 1847—

As to the question of establishing a Mission at Taita, I can only say that there exist no difficulties that would render it altogether impossible. On the contrary, there are some encouragements held out to the Missionary, that might induce him to wish to begin his work there as soon as possible. For,

1. There is not so much of the Mahomedan influence, which among the Wanika proves a considerable barrier to the introduction of Christianity; for whenever we are speaking of Christ to an Emnika, he immediately thinks that Christ was our Prophet just in the same way as Mahomed was the Prophet of the Suáheli.

2. The Taita people live in compact villages, more than is the case with the Wanika tribe of Rabbai, which is very much scattered indeed on their plantations, so that the Missionary can scarcely ever address himself to a considerable number of hearers.

3. The character of the people is free from that savageness which would render it unadvisable for one or two individuals only to reside in their country; and rather displays much composure, gravity, and quietness, as is generally the case with people living in mountainous countries.

4. The climate may be considered excellent, and at some places I believe something of alpine air and alpine water are to be enjoyed, while the productions of the country would afford the most necessary articles of food.

In Mr. Rebmann's second journey, in April 1848, he explored the country beyond Taita, called Jagga. He travelled on foot, with much difficulty and painfulness, through a thick and thorny jungle, by a path scarcely discernible—the Natives themselves, in describing it, used the significant expression, "The way has died"—encamping by night under the rocks or trees, amidst the tracks and lairs of the beasts of the African forests. This occupied seven days. The Journal notices, on the 3d of May, "Amidst a strange growling of lions very near to us—roaring I never heard one—we broke up, to continue our journey in the wilderness." These dangers were, however, not so trying as the frequent practice of sorcery and augury, which Mr. Rebmann was constrained to witness in his interviews with the Natives, and even among his own native travelling companions. On one occasion he writes, in his Journal—

The Taitas are entirely captured in the dread of sorcery; and a great deal of the guilt devolves upon the Mahomedans of the coast, who, on visiting the Natives inland, bear them out in their superstitious ideas and practices. Oh, how is the whole land groaning in the expectation of its Christian cultivation! But I have already delivered it to Emmanuel: His it must be, and perhaps very soon.

The latter part of the journey was less difficult—in a more open country, and under the exhilarating influence of alpine scenery. Mr. Rebmann writes—

Having ascended the second range of mountains, I again felt quite delighted at the fine scenery around me. I felt as if I walked in the Jura mountains, in the canton of Bâsle, so cool was the air, so beautiful the country. I walked over the hills and dales of Taita, in Eastern Africa, not very distant from the equator, as easy and happy as there.

Mr. Rebmann had now more frequent opportunities of visiting native villages, and conversing with the inhabitants. The following may serve as a specimen of his mode of imparting instruction—

May 7: Lords'-day—A lovely morning. I felt as if nature was solemnizing with me the day of the Lord. In the morning I had again opportunity of explaining to some people the great object of my journey. I generally do this by showing them my Bible, and telling them that this book contained the Word of God, which showed us the way to heaven. This book I would translate into their own language, instruct their children in reading, and acquaint old and young with its contents. Our forefathers had lived in the same condition as themselves until they had received that book, which transformed their darkness into light. I did not intend to stay with them now; but that, after some time, I myself, or a friend of mine, would dwell with them, to instruct them in the good Word of God. Having heard thus much of the object of my journey, they generally rest satisfied; so that if I endeavour to speak more to them, to set forth the love of God in sending His Son for the salvation of man, they seldom will pay any more attention. They then look at the things about me, or enter into a conversation with my people on the few earthly things with which alone they are acquainted. Very little can be done with these people on mere visits: you can only inform them in general of the great objects of the Mission, which, indeed, is enough to justify those visits. But in order to impart to them some real knowledge of the Gospel, you must necessarily dwell among them for years. I prayed that Ethiopia might soon stretch out her hands unto God.

The journey from the Taita to the Jagga Country occupied five days. On the third day the following incident is recorded—

The mountains of Jagga gradually rose more distinctly to our sight. At about ten o'clock—I had no watch with me—I observed something remarkably white on the top of a high mountain, and first supposed that it was a very white cloud, in which supposition my guide also confirmed me; but having gone a few paces more, I could no more rest satisfied with that explanation; and while I was asking my guide a second time whether that white thing was indeed a cloud, and scarcely listening to his answer that yonder was a cloud, but what that white was he did not know, but supposed it was coldness, the most delightful recognition took place in my mind of an old well-known European guest called snow. All the strange stories we had so often heard about the gold and silver mountain Kilimandjaro in Jagga, supposed to be inaccessible on account of evil spirits, which had killed a great many of those who had attempted to ascend it, were now at once rendered intelligible to me; as of course the extreme cold, to which the poor Natives are perfect strangers, would soon chill and kill the half-naked visitors. I endeavoured to explain to my people the nature of that "white thing," for which no name exists even in the language of Jagga itself; but they at first appeared as if they were not to trust my words at once. Soon after we sat down to rest a little, when I read the 111th Psalm, at which I had just arrived in my daily reading. It made a singular impression on my mind in the view of the beautiful snow mountain so near to the Equator, and gave, especially the sixth verse, the best expression to the feelings and anticipations I was moved with.

On the 13th of May Mr. Rebmann reached the Jagga Country, which he found to be surrounded by a trench and rude fortifications on the accessible side, guarded by soldiers. He was required to wait until the king should be informed of his arrival. After about an hour he was brought into the presence of the king, and received a friendly welcome. On the next day he thus describes his second interview with the king—

May 14—On my request, the steward of the king brought me a small vessel of "Mawāri," a beverage prepared of bananas, when I had some opportunity of speaking out for what purpose I had come to their country. But these people are so ignorant, and estranged from all things of a higher and divine nature, that it is extremely difficult at the beginning to convey to them any religious truth, especially if the conveyer is, at the same time, not acquainted with their own language; for though the Jaggas have some knowledge of the languages spoken on the coast, with which theirs is evidently much related, that knowledge generally will extend only so far as trading business is concerned. The best opportunities of imparting to them some religious knowledge, I always found those when I was asked by them in some way or other. Such an opportunity I had now, when the king's people inquired of me with the help of what weapons I had reached their country. My guide having first answered them, that I had carried nothing with me but my umbrella, I myself, pointing to heaven, told them that I had confided in nothing but on "Eroōva"—the first meaning of which I was told to be "sun," the second "heaven," and the third "God!" Thus there would be but one word in the Kijagga language, not only for the Creator and one of his works, as in the Kinika language, but also for two works, so clearly distinct from each other. My astonished hearers replied, "On nothing but on Eroōva?" "Yes, on nothing but on Eroōva, for He is above all things; and wild beasts, as well as evil men, are all in His hands." They appeared as if they could not believe a declaration so new and strange to their ears. I next showed them my Bible, telling them that the word and will of "Eroōva" was written in that book in my own language, but that we were now writing it in Kinika, and intended to do the same in the Kijagga language, in order to make known to them the contents of the book. Upon this I declared to them the will of God in general, and was speaking of the coming of Christ into the world to save sinners, when they turned off their attention. The darkness and ignorance of this people are so great, that my visit among them can have no other but a preparatory effect only. They now asked me whether it was true that in my country there were people tall enough to lay hold on the sun; whether grass, &c., was to be found there. In Taita, the Chief Mainna had been told, on the coast, by the idle and mendacious Suáhelis, that the Europeans were cannibals!

May 16—At noon the king paid me a visit in my dark and sequestered hut, situated in the midst of a forest of banana-trees. Every little thing I had with me attracted his attention, especially my blanket—which he fain would have taken from me, had I not refused it—a candle, and an umbrella. After he had finished his inspection, my guide told him that I wished to get his permission to walk about a little in the village and the country; when I took my Bible in my hand, and said, that it was to that book that we “Wasingu” (Europeans) owed the things he had just seen. It was a small thing to me to see his country; but what I wished for was to teach him and his people the contents of that book. Our forefathers had lived in the same ignorance as themselves until they had received the Word of God, as contained in that book. At the conclusion the king was asked whether he would like that some teachers, like myself, should come and dwell in his country, for the purpose of imparting instruction to him and his people; which was immediately answered in the affirmative. The king took my Bible in his hand without the slightest fear with regard to sorcery, and seemed much pleased in turning its leaves to and fro. He is a very brisk young man, whose countenance bespeaks much intelligence and benevolence, giving him an appearance worthy of a king.

Mr. Rebmann’s last interview with the king is thus described—

May 24—Having for the last few days been continually told that the king would call on me directly, I waited the more anxiously for him as I wished to get his permission to take my departure as soon as possible. He at length made his appearance, in the afternoon, when he was told again that in coming to his country I had no other object in view but to teach him and his people the words of the book I carried with me, which had made our ancestors intelligent and wise, and which showed us the way to heaven. The young monarch took it again in his hand, amusing himself by turning its leaves to and fro. I continued to say that I had not come to him in my own name, or in that of my king, but in that of the great “Mangi” (king) in heaven, whose name was Jesus Christ, and who was the Son of God; I myself was His “Msoro,” which significantly implies both the idea of a slave and soldier, in accordance to the singular relation in which all male subjects of Jagga stand to a considerable number of small kings. My guide translated these words to the king and his ministers in a very accurate manner, so that they perfectly understood all that I had said. Every word was new and striking to them. I sought to speak further to them, but whenever these people have understood a few principal points, they content themselves, and turn their attention to something else. The Mangi and his councillors left the cottage to have a private consultation with my guide—whom of course, as an old acquaintance, they still trusted more than myself—at the end of which I was told that the Mangi was ready to receive my brother or myself as teacher into his country, and that, accordingly, we should not go into any other country. Upon this I was informed that the king desired me to stay two days longer, to which I reluctantly submitted, reminding him how anxiously my brother was waiting for me at Rabbai. He however graciously allowed me to walk out into the country as much as, and whenever, I pleased. I felt very grateful for the favour I had found with the Mangi, and sighed within me, “O God, let soon the glory and salvation of Thy great name be made known to this people!”

Before Mr. Rebmann left Jagga, he ascended a neighbouring summit, about 2000 feet in height, and surveyed the grand and extensive panoramic view which presented itself, stretching in various directions from the mountains on the sea coast far into the dark interior of Africa—mountains capped with eternal snow above his head, and a beautiful lake at his feet. He thus closes the description—

On the top of the mountain where I stood I kneeled down, and prayed, from all my heart, “Our Father, which art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come.”

He returned in safety to the Mission Station by a somewhat shorter and easier route. The Missionary prospects connected with this country are thus summed up—

The feature by which the Jaggas are most distinguished from the Wanika, Wataita, and Wakamba, is their form of government. The most striking contrasts in the landscape, between the most extensive and uniform plains and bulky and lofty mountains abruptly rising from the same, even above the line of eternal snow, are alike represented in the social and political relations of the inhabitants of those sequestered regions. While the loosest forms of republics are to be met with among the Wakamba, Wanika, Wataita, and some part of the Tarés—so much so that among the Wakamba only very few individuals are invested with any degree of authority and superiority, this degree keeping pace with the degree of property in flocks of cows, goats, and sheep, thus representing the most uninterrupted plain in landscape—the Jaggas go to the other extreme of elevating one individual to such a political height from themselves, as, with the exception of his Wandjama (privy councillors), to be nothing more than slaves. The joy of the Mangi is the birth of an Msōro (which means, as I have said, at once a soldier and a slave). All male children, therefore, as soon as they no more want the mother’s care, are required to live together to be early trained in the service of the king, by standing watch at his several dwellings, and the country, by forming aqueducts through the plantations and dwellings in the whole country, and keeping in order the trenches surrounding each separate kingdom. The like form of government, I am told, prevails in the mountainous Ugono Country, only a short day’s distance from Jagga. Of the Kisungu mountain I could get no information bearing on the subject. Thus the political relations of those two countries most harmoniously correspond to the snow-crowned Kilimandjaro with regard to landscape. Even the women are wholly at the disposal of the Mangi; so much so, that no marriage can take place without his will and sanction.

There are no compact villages or towns in Jagga; but the people live in separate yards, containing from one to three or four cottages, which are fenced up against wild animals, especially hyenas, which are said to succeed sometimes in snatching away sheep and goats. Each yard is occupied by a special family; and the distance of one yard from another may be estimated from five to ten minutes on an average.

A Missionary stationed in Jagga will experience facilities which are looked for in vain in the republics of the Wanika, Wakamba, and Wataita. How fast will the Jaggas build a habitation for him, and do all business necessary at the commencement of a new Station, if he only has the king for his friend! Though, on the other hand, we must not forget that, in case the Missionary should unhappily incur the displeasure of the despotic monarch, the difficulties will be infinitely greater than among any tribe with a republican government.

Affectionate intercourse between the Missionaries in East Africa and those on the coast of Western India.

The Rev. C. W. Isenberg, who is now labouring as a Missionary at Bombay, was formerly the companion and fellow-labourer of Dr. Krapf in Abyssinia. His affection for his Missionary brother, and his anxiety for the evangelization of Eastern Africa, has not abated. Between the East-Africa and Western-India Missions it is pleasing to trace the interchange of kindly sympathy and brotherly interest. Our friends on the lonely shore of the African Continent receive from Bombay grateful supplies to meet their temporal necessities, and our Labourers at Bombay are benefited by earnest and heart-stirring communications from East Africa, well calculated to call forth Christian principle into increased energy of action. Under date of Sept. 16, 1847, Dr. Krapf, in acknowledging the receipt of some packages forwarded by the Corresponding Committee at Bombay, says—

The air of the higher land we now inhabit is excellent, and all that we need is a little variety of wholesome food, when we may enjoy as good a state of health as in any part of Africa. In process of time we trust to become more independent of the importation of food from abroad, when vegetables, &c., shall have been planted in sufficient quantity. Potatoes, for instance, grow very well when there is plenty of rain. This plant will become of importance to the numberless tribes of East Africa. There are immense uncultivated tracts of land left at present by the Natives to elephants and other wild beasts. This great wilderness will, by the blessing and victory of the Gospel, be converted into a garden of Jehovah. True, this work in East Africa, in the present stage, resembles an infant still lying in the cradle; but notwithstanding, it is the work of that Infant who lay at first in the humble manger at Bethlehem, and who ultimately ascended up to the throne of glory, having spoiled principalities and powers. Without this view it would be almost impossible to bear up in this dark and comfortless continent. But the Gospel is a "power of God;" and shall evince itself in East Africa, as it has been effective in the conversion of many a Black Man in the south and west of this continent.

The greatest triumph of the Cross of Christ is still to be achieved in the dark places of Africa: it shall not tarry; but the men appointed to gather in the harvest must not shun nor shrink from the most vigorous struggles of body and mind to be encountered in their Master's service.*

THE Rev. J. Mühleisen has been obliged, through ill health, to return to Europe; but the Committee are very thankful to report that the Rev. J. S. S. Robertson—who laboured for several years in connexion with the Money School at Bombay, but who was compelled to return home in the year 1843, through the failure of his own health and Mrs. Robertson's—has been enabled to return to India, with his wife, and to resume his labours in the Mission, where his return was welcomed by many who gratefully remembered his former zealous and efficient instructions. He proceeded, soon after his arrival, to Nassuck.

The Society's Stations are at Bombay, Nassuck, Juneer, Malligaum, and Astagaum.

the Money School, the Rev. C. W. Isenberg has been enabled to devote his attention to the general Missionary work in Bombay, and the superintendence of the Vernacular Schools.

Preaching, and other Missionary Labours.

Preaching in the native languages has been carried on, during the past year, more extensively than before. The religious Mahratta Meetings on Sunday afternoon have been continued, and additional Weekly Mahratta Meetings have been commenced on Monday evenings. Regular Mahratta Services for Native Christians on Sunday mornings were also commenced, at the close of the year, at Trinity Chapel. The Native General Hospital has also been visited by the Missionaries and their Assistants, and the Synagogue of the Native Jews.

Thus the precious truths of the Gospel have been proclaimed in various directions. One instance of conversion, of a very encouraging kind, is reported by the Missionaries, of a Tamul youth, John Christian, formerly called Shunker Krishna, who was received into the Church by baptism on the 3d of June, and soon after died in humble reliance upon Christ as his Saviour.

For the purpose of diffusing Missionary information, and exciting a Missionary interest among the Christian community in Bombay, a Monthly Periodical, the "Bombay Church Missionary Record," has been published—under the sanction of the Committee of the Bombay Auxiliary Church Missionary Society—and widely circulated; the whole expense being defrayed by private subscriptions.

With the same end in view, Monthly Missionary Meetings have been held at the Money School, to promote a Missionary spirit "by united prayer, by the testimony of the Scriptures, by considering its holy commands and its blessed promises, by looking at what God has done, and weighing what is still to be done." "It deserves mentioning, that, for the greater part of the past year, the children of the Indo-British Schools have furnished a good number of attendants. This ought to be encouraged. To plant Missionary principles in the mind of the rising generation is of great importance for our future prospects; for it is to them we must look for the future supply of Missionary Labourers, as well as for the preservation of the Missionary principle."

Education.

The Money School, having received during the last year the whole time and attention of the Rev. T. Jerrom, has been brought into a state of greater efficiency. The number of scholars at the close of the year was 128. The instruction has been extended in the scientific department; and a good hope is entertained that it will still more fully realize the object for which it was instituted—the imparting a superior education, based upon Christian truth, to the native youth of the Presidency.

The Lord Bishop of Calcutta, in his late Metropolitan Visitation to Bombay, went to the Money School, and “put various questions on religious and secular knowledge to the scholars, and addressed each class with words of encouragement, especially urging the necessity of true religion. He inquired into the general state of the Mission, and expressed his firm hope that, at no distant period, success would be much more rapid and extensive than at present; though he, standing on the brink of eternity, should not live to see it. The conviction he expressed here—as on every occasion where we had the privilege of being present—that this was his last visit, as he called his Charge his dying Charge, could not fail of imparting a peculiar solemnity to all he said, and rendering it peculiarly impressive.”

There are fifteen Vernacular Schools under the Society's care, superintended by the Missionary, and conducted by one Catechist, one Assistant Native Catechist, one Female Superintendent, and fifteen Native Schoolmasters and Schoolmistresses; viz. five Mahratta and two Guzerattee Schools, containing 407 boys; eight Mahratta Schools, under Miss White, containing 206 girls, and—in the Infant department—110 boys; total, 723 children. The Bombay Report states—

The instruction given in these Native Schools has hitherto been only of an elementary kind. It is intended to introduce, also, a certain amount of geographical and historical study: the chief aim, however, is to teach the scholars to read and understand the blessed Word of God.

NASSUCK.

The Rev. C. C. Mengé has had the charge of the small Christian flock at this Station, and the superintendence of the Missionary work, assisted, for a part of the time, by the Rev. E. Rogers.

Native-Christian Congregation—Preaching to the Heathen.

The Christian Congregation, in point of numbers, remains much the same as last year: two have been added in the course of the year, and two have, alas! returned to heathenism. “In order to show that this Congregation values the Gospel, which it has received by the agency of the Church Missionary Society, the converts, though poor themselves, collected, on occasion of the Society's Jubilee, the sum of 17 rupees 12 annas (about 1*l.* 15*s.*) toward the Jubilee Fund.”

Means have been employed for encouraging industry in the poor native converts in the Asylum, by the introduction of spinning, &c.

During the past year the preaching of the Gospel has been carried on by the Missionaries and Native Catechists. Four times in each week they visit different parts of the town; and those who wish to inquire further into the truth of Christianity are invited to the Mission-house. Fifteen hundred Mahratta Tracts, and 500 copies of various portions of Scripture in Mahratta, have been distributed. In a communication dated June 30, 1848, Mr. Mengé writes—

We are here like a city placed upon a hill: many eyes are upon us. It behoves us, then, in all things to glorify the name of Jesus Christ by a good conversation. Upon the whole, I rejoice at what God has done in Nassuck, and take courage. I find a great difference in the behaviour of the people toward us now, compared with what it was twelve years ago, when I first came to Nassuck. At that time, people used to show their hostility against the Missionaries by throwing stones, calling them names, and tearing Religious Tracts before their eyes. Now, we are treated with respect whenever we address the people, many listen quietly to the preached Word, pronounce it good, and desire to be further instructed. Religious Tracts are thankfully received, and we have grounds to think that they are read and approved by many.

Education.

The number of Divinity Students, comprising those who are employed as Catechists, amounts to seven: their progress during the year has been reported as satisfactory. Mr. Mengé writes, at the close of the year—

A new Mahratta School has been commenced at Shinner, twenty miles south-west of Nassuck, which is attended by 60 scholars. There are now in connexion with the Nassuck Mission, 3 Mahratta Schools, 1 Hindustani, and 1 English School, in which altogether about 300 youths are instructed in the principles of Christianity. In the English class there are not a few young men who at times have expressed a desire to be baptized, and then drawn back again from fear of the consequences. Several youths at Nassuck are, I believe, in that undecided and unhappy state—convinced that Hinduism is false, and yet without the necessary moral courage publicly to renounce it, and to embrace the religion of Jesus.

Visit of the Bishop of Bombay.

This branch of the Mission was visited, during the month of April 1848, by the Lord Bishop of Bombay, when he confirmed seventeen Native Christians in the Mission Chapel. The Divinity Students were examined by him in Sanscrit, Biblical History, Biblical Geography, and Greek Grammar. The Assistant Catechists were also examined in Doddridge's Evidences of Christianity, and Burton's Church History. With the results of these examinations the Bishop expressed himself satisfied. The state of the English School, as to the progress and attendance of the scholars, was not so satisfactory.

JUNEER.

By the removal of Mr. Mühleisen, the superintendence of this Mission has been necessarily confided to the care of the lately-arrived Missionary, the Rev. E. Rogers, whose time was much occupied by the study of the language, and his own preparation for Priests' Orders. Under such circumstances, little progress can be expected. Mr. Rogers has been assisted by Mr. J. Wilson, an Indo-Briton, and Dajee Pandurung, of the Nassuck Mission. Mr. Rogers reports—

Many of every caste, from the Brahmin to the Mahâr, have visited the Missionary, and some have listened with apparent interest to the glad tidings of salvation. Others, however, have been enraged by the announcement of the Gospel; and not unfrequently insult and abuse have been applied to frighten him into silence, and menaces to check the intercourse of inquiring Natives with the Missionary. In the villages, the people listen with more attention. Some of the poor villagers have appeared deeply affected, when they have heard, for the first time, of Him who left the throne of His glory to suffer and to die for men.

In the School of Juneer there are 79 boys. There are two other Native Schools; one at Sawergaum, a village about six miles distant, at which the average daily attendance of boys is 35; and another at Serolee, about three miles distant, which is attended by 26 boys.

MALLIGAUM.

Origin of the Native-Christian Congregation.

Missionary labours were commenced at this Station by the Chaplain, the Rev. P. Anderson, who baptized a few converts, and then applied to the Bombay Corresponding Committee of the Church Missionary Society for help to provide for the well-being and growth of the little flock. Upon this, the Society's Native Catechist, James Bunter, was sent. The Rev. C. W. Isenberg visited the Station in September last, and found the Catechist diligently instructing the converts, and reading the Mahratta Service in the Church, for their benefit, every Lord's-day. He was also in the habit of going, several times in the week, to different parts of the town, to preach the Gospel in the streets and public places. The number of converts, at the time of Mr. Isenberg's visit, amounted to 21; but owing to removals, the number fluctuates. The Station will be henceforth occasionally visited by the Missionary at Nassuck.

Astagaum is an inconsiderable village twelve miles from Ahmednuggur. Mr. B. White, whose voluntary Christian labours first awakened a desire for instruction among the Natives, now occupies the Station as the Society's Catechist.

Baptism of four Converts.

At the end of August last the Rev. C. W. Isenberg visited the Station, and baptized four Converts from Hinduism, of whom he gives the following report—

These persons had been well instructed by the Society's Catechist. Three of them had furnished abundant proofs of the sincerity of their profession; and the youngest, whose own mind is not so fully developed yet, was so much under the guardianship of her aunt, a worthy and long-established member of the Church, that it would scarcely have been justifiable to refuse her desire for baptism. On the following Lord's-day, September the 3d, a little infant, whose father had been for a considerable time a Candidate for Baptism, and herself under the same guardianship as the preceding girl, was likewise baptized into the death of the Saviour. This little Church now consists of twelve members, not including four others who were baptized, but discontinued their connexion with it—three from fear of persecution, and one on account of bad conduct. Those who have remained are in a delightful state, though much exposed to annoyances, vexations, and persecutions from their heathen neighbours. Among the latter, however, there are many of whom there is reason to hope that they have received the truth of the Gospel, and are waiting for favourable opportunities to come forward and openly join the Church.

Mr. Isenberg has furnished an interesting account of one of these converts, written by himself, in which he states—

I am at present forty-five years of age. I have been seeking the way of salvation since I was twelve years old, and laboured in vain for a period of thirty-three years. During all that period I was under the instruction of many Gurus, and sought on all sides for salvation; but to no purpose. At length my soul was satisfied by the knowledge of Christ. "Seek, and ye shall find:" Matt. vii. 7.*

Zeal and Liberality of Friends in India toward the Cause of Missions.

THE friends of Missions in North India have, during the last year, shown a noble zeal in our cause. No sooner was it known that the Parent Society was unable to make up the deficiency of their Local Fund, and had even been obliged to diminish by 400*l.* the annual grant from home, than it was determined by the friends in Calcutta to make a special effort—though they were themselves in the midst of a season of extraordinary commercial embarrassment and alarm—to prevent any contraction of Missionary operations. The effort was completely successful. Sufficient funds were supplied for releasing the Calcutta Committee from their pecuniary difficulties, and the work of the Mission was continued unimpeded. In the course of the same year nearly 700*l.* was contributed to the Jubilee Fund. The whole amount therefore raised for the Church Missionary Society, in a year of unusual financial pressure, has reached 2000*l.*, being a larger sum than in any former year upon record. Such a testimony of confidence in the Church Missionary Society, by those who have the best means of judging, by actual observation, of the value of its labours in India, is most encouraging—satisfactory to the Committee, and a cause of praise and thanksgiving before God.

General View of the Mission.

The Society's operations in North India have not been marked, in the course of the last year, by any striking features. The work—in its various branches of preaching, and discussion with intelligent Heathen or Mussulman Natives, of pastoral instruction, and of education—has been steadily pursued at our various Stations by 28 Ordained Missionaries, 12 European, or superior East-Indian, Catechists and Schoolmasters, and 240 Native Teachers. The Native-Christian flocks have received few accessions. The number of converts reported as actually baptized within the year does not amount to 50; but there is abundant evidence of a steady progress in Christian knowledge and attainments in the Native-Christian community. The Churches are becoming better established; the Members are more industrious, and do more for their own self-support; and the rising Christian generation gives the promise of abundant fruit from their early Christian education in the Mission Schools.

But though the baptisms of adult converts are, comparatively speaking, few; yet a very numerous class are brought, by the preaching of the Missionaries, and by other means of instruction, to a conviction of the truth of the Gospel, and to abandon idolatry, though they are not yet able to encounter the persecution and temporal loss to which an open avowal of Christianity would expose them. Many of this class, though still unbaptized, in their dying hour call upon that one only Name whereby we must be saved. Such a fact surely addresses an affecting appeal to the Church at home, to pray continually for such an outpouring of the Holy Spirit as may give strength and courage to the heart, as well as light to the eyes, of those who listen to the Gospel.

CALCUTTA.

During the past year the Rev. S. Hasell has been associated in the labours of this Mission with the Rev. T. Sandys. The Rev. J. Long returned in October.

Christian Congregations and Boarding-schools.

The three Christian Congregations at Trinity Church, Mirzapore, Agurparah, and Thakerpuker, have received stated pastoral instruction. The number of Communicants has not increased: it is still about 40 in each Congregation. The two Boarding-schools for Christian children at Mirzapore, numbering 25 boys and 25 girls, respectively, are reported to be in a satisfactory state.

Confirmation.

The following interesting account is given in the Report of the Corresponding Committee for 1848—

The Lord Bishop held a Confirmation for Native Christians in St. Paul's Cathedral, Calcutta. It was the first occasion of Divine Service being held in that noble building in the Bengali language. There was a most decorous Congregation of about 200 Native Christians, who completely filled the body of the Church: 160 of them had been prepared for Confirmation—85 men and youths, and 75 females. They came from the Church Missionary and Propagation Societies' Stations in Calcutta and its immediate neighbourhood. Fifty of the Candidates belonged to the Church Missionary Society. The Bishop addressed the Candidates through the interpretation of the Rev. T. Sandys. We could not help feeling, on this occasion, as we surveyed the assembly, that we were realizing the commencement of those happy days, when the most important of the three ultimate objects for which the building is designed will be fully attained, and a Congregation of native worshippers shall habitually frequent this sacred temple, to offer up prayers and praises, and sing "Thou art the King of Glory, O Christ!"

Preaching to the Heathen.

The preaching of the Gospel has been carried on in many parts of Calcutta, especially at Tuntunia Chapel, and has been, generally speaking, well attended. The Report of the Calcutta Church Missionary Association states—

When the Gospel is now announced, it generally meets with civility and attention; and when this is compared with the reception it often met with in former years, it appears evident that a change in favour of Christianity is gradually taking place in the minds of the people. Formerly, opposition and abuse were frequently manifested; but during the past year this has been greatly diminished, and many have expressed themselves favourable to Christianity, and have desired Christian Teachers to visit them, and to give them further instruction.

Education of Heathen Boys.

The Mirzapore English School has been under the care of the Rev. S. Hasell during the greater part of the year. It has somewhat declined in numbers, and now contains about 200 scholars. The diminution has been owing to various causes; among others, to the opening of a large opposition School, or College, established by a wealthy Native in the neighbourhood.

Mr. Long was received, on his return to India, with great joy by his former pupils. He has resumed the superintendence of the School, Mr. Hasell continuing to render his very efficient assistance as Second Master.

There is another English School at Dum Dum, from which three young men, two of them Brahmins, have, during the last year, openly embraced Christianity, and received baptism in Trinity Church.

There are six Vernacular Schools in Calcutta and its neighbourhood, containing about 350 pupils. The Scriptures are studied in all.

Bible Distribution among educated young Hindus.

This Committee have never ceased to enter their protest against the exclusion of the Bible from the scheme of education supported by the Indian Government, as equally at variance with the principles of true policy and of the Christian faith. It is therefore with unfeigned satisfaction and praise that they notice a growing desire, among the native youth, for scriptural instruction, and that those who have been precluded from that privilege in the School seek and obtain it elsewhere. Our Missionary Mr. Sandys writes—

In addition to my ordinary Missionary occupations, the duty falls upon me, as Bible Secretary of the Calcutta Bible Association, to supply the native youth of Calcutta with the Word of God. Great numbers of these youths flock from all parts of the adjacent country to the Colleges and Schools in Calcutta, for education in English literature. Many of them hear of the New Testament, and desire to possess and read it for themselves. The number of such applicants for the Word of God, who have been supplied therewith, was, in 1846, about 1500; in the following year 600; and in the present year, up to November, 400; making, in all, 250 youthful applicants for the Holy Scriptures at the Church Mission premises, who have been supplied with the Word of God in the course of three years.

Christian-Instruction Association.

The Christian-Instruction Branch of the Calcutta Church Missionary Association has employed four Native Scripture Readers, under the immediate direction of Mr. Sandys, in visiting the houses of Subscribers for the purpose of reading the Holy Scriptures to their native servants, and others, of whom about 500 or 600 hear them weekly. A new field has been this year entered upon, by the appointment of a Chinese Christian as a Reader and Disseminator of the Holy Scriptures and Religious Tracts among his countrymen, who reside in considerable numbers in the city of Calcutta, and who seem willing to give ear to the Word of Life. Mr. Sandys writes—

I have several times accompanied Eyin, the Chinese Reader, to visit the Chinese in Cossitollah and Chinapara, and found that they generally gave the Reader and myself a welcome reception, readily took the books, and very generally seemed pleased with our visits. There is reason to believe that the books given are read by many.

AGURPARAH.

General View.—Education.

The Calcutta Report states—

This picturesque and most interesting Out-Station of the Calcutta Mission still continues under the care of Mr. F. De Rozario, whose zeal, conscientiousness, and efficiency in his charge, are sufficiently evidenced by the admirable order of the whole Station, and the progress of the pupils in the large [English] School for heathen youth, which is the main feature of the work in this place.

Mr. De Rozario has been assisted by eight Native-Christian Teachers. The Station is statedly visited by the Missionaries from Calcutta. The Congregation is composed of 50 adults, of whom 40 are Communicants.

The average number of pupils in the English School is 170. Beside these, there are 100 boys in two Vernacular Schools.

Hopeful Instances of Conversion.

Two instances have occurred at this Station which illustrate the extensive influence of Christian instruction, even among those who do not openly profess the faith by baptism.

A young Brahmin, who had been eight years under instruction, was removed from the School by his friends, just as the Word of God appeared to exert an ascendancy over his heart and conduct. He was soon afterward attacked by fatal illness, and in the midst of his heathen friends made an open confession of faith, declaring his entire reliance on the all-prevailing merits of Christ, and his desire for baptism; but death prevented the accomplishment of that desire.

Another Convert was a sepoy, and subsequently a durwan (gate-keeper), who for two years pondered in his heart upon the Word of God; but, when dangerously ill, came to Agurparah, as he said "to end his days among Christians." This was only eight days before his death. "He received further instruction," says Mr. De Rozario, "with avidity, and found Christ precious to his soul. He acknowledged his sins freely, repented heartily, believed firmly, prayed earnestly, hoped stedfastly, and died a happy death on the third day after his baptism."

BURDWAN.

Weakening of the Missionary Force—General View.

The Missionary body at this long-established Station has been again reduced, by the removal of the Rev. C. Bomwetsch to the Solo district of the Krishnaghur Mission. This took place in February last. The Rev. J. J. Weitbrecht, so long labouring here, was attacked with bronchitis in August, and obliged to visit Calcutta for medical advice, and take a sea voyage for the restoration of his health. He returned without having derived as much benefit as was anticipated; and a river excursion being recommended, he has proceeded with his family up the Ganges, and is now making a short stay at Purneah, within sight of the majestic Himalayas. Meanwhile, the various branches of the work are conducted by the Rev. B. Geidt alone. Mr Weitbrecht reports—

The general aspect of this Mission is much the same as last year. Mr. Geidt and myself are now conducting the work, with the assistance of our Native helpers. The Lord has graciously supported and strengthened us to continue casting abroad the precious seed of the Word in hope. We cheerfully rely on His promises, firmly believing that He, who is "the faithful and true witness," will at length vouchsafe the long-desired and prayed-for blessing.

We could wish, regarding a portion of our Native Christians, that they more fully appreciated their privileges ; and we sometimes feel deeply concerned at their want of spiritual life and energy ; but this is what we cannot give, and long experience has convinced me that, in the present state of progress, we must be contented with “small things.” Our Monthly Missionary Prayer-meetings have often proved blessed seasons of refreshment : the fervent prayers offered up by some of our Native-Christian brethren have cheered my heart.

There have been added to our Church, by baptism, three adults—viz. a married couple and a widow—after long preparation. Their life and conduct, since their baptism, has given us satisfaction.

Education.

Education for Christian children is provided in a Boys'-school, containing 34 pupils, a Girls'-school, containing 33, and an Infants'-school, attended by 40 children.

The latter School had been under the care of a promising young Native named Rebi, who was trained at the Home and Colonial Infant School in London. She died of a lingering illness at the close of last year. Before this event the Missionaries reported of her—

She bears her long-protracted trial with meekness and patience, and is delighted when visitors pray with her, and speak to her of Jesus. She seems to have a sweet assurance that this refining process is for the glory of God, and shall tend to her salvation.

Education for heathen boys is provided by an English School, containing 82 pupils, and in five Vernacular Schools, in which 250 boys are instructed.

Preaching to the Heathen.

The Rev. B. Geidt reports upon this branch of Missionary labour—

There are two fixed days, Tuesday and Friday, on which we preach in the bazaar of Burdwan, about two miles distant from our Compound. We begin by reading the Bible. At the commencement, nobody is present ; but after a few minutes a number of those passing by stop to listen. One of our Catechists addresses them, another follows him, and then the Missionary speaks. Preaching being over, we allow them to bring forward objections, which are then answered. These disputations often grow very warm. If I can help it, I quit the place without entering into “questions,” in order to leave on their minds the impressions they may have received. We remain for two hours on the spot, but only a few of the hearers will listen to the end : others come and go. I have seen some of the people very attentive, who seemed to feel what they had heard, while the hearts of others appeared like stones, resisting every impression. Though the number of those who receive a real abiding blessing on these occasions seems to be very limited, yet I am convinced a great deal of good is done, by making the people acquainted with the great plan of salvation, and preparing the ground for a better time to come. People in general acknowledge the truth of our religion, and do not dispute the third part as much as they did, I understand, ten years ago. Sometimes questions are put, clearly showing a hidden desire after something better than Hinduism.

On the other evenings of the week I go into the villages around Burdwan, sit among the Natives, and begin to talk with them, commencing with a few common questions in order to attract their attention; thus affording me the means of introducing the subject of religion. In one village, especially, the people are occasionally inclined to make their gods the topic of discourse. In refuting their arguments, Mr. Wilson's exposure of Hinduism has proved a good help.

KRISHNAGHUR.

The Rev. C. Bomwetsch having removed from Burdwan to assist the Rev. J. G. Lincké in the Solo District, each of the larger Districts has been provided with two European Missionary Labourers. By their means more effective attention is given to the pastoral charge of the large rural Christian population, and also more labour than hitherto has been devoted to direct Missionary work, both of preaching to the Heathen and of establishing Village Schools for the instruction of the children.

State of the various Districts.

A more intimate and close inspection of the behaviour of the Native Christians, and the protracted pains bestowed upon their instruction, serve to force upon the Missionaries the painful conviction, that a large portion of those who are Christians in name are destitute of all spiritual life, and that too many dishonour their profession by their conduct. Very many, who resolutely renounced heathenism, and earnestly desired baptism, have been content with the outward sign, and have become lukewarm and indifferent to Christian Ordinances, and to the Word of Christ.

A few out of the mass comfort their Ministers by their evident desire to profit from their instructions, and by their progress in Christian attainments. Of the rest the Missionaries can only speak with hesitation or with sorrow.

And is not this the experience of every zealous and laborious Minister at home? Abroad, as well as at home, the tares will spring up with the wheat. Abroad, as well as at home, it is vain to attempt to erect a visible Church, of none but living stones, such as form the true Church of Christ. The inference we would draw in respect of Missionary work is to extend our labours; to cast the net more widely, that there may be the larger amount of good after it shall have been separated from the worthless; to enlarge our field of cultivation, that we may have a more plentiful harvest of the sheaves to be gathered into the Lord's garner.

The Committee feel it right to lay before their friends their discouragements, as well as their brighter prospects. Mr. Lincké, of Solo, whose district contains 1169 Christians, reports—

With regard to the greater number, and that by far, it must, alas! be said, the hard-hearted sinner is heart-hearted still; and the cold and indifferent professor, cold and indifferent still.

The Rev. C. W. Lipp, whose District contains 1500 Christians, reports—

The Christians have caused us many a grief and tear by the repeated weaknesses and unsteadiness which some have manifested; but at this we must not feel surprised or alarmed; for “many are called, but few chosen,” and their former habits cannot be relinquished at once. If rightly considered, we have, after all, cause to praise the Lord for what He has done; for, to our certain knowledge, the Gospel of grace has proved a blessing to some who looked to Jesus with hope and confidence in their dying hour: others love the Gospel, and endeavour to conform their lives to its precepts; but these, as may be expected, are the smaller number.

A small number of Christians from the more distant villages are present on Sundays in the Station Church; but those of the new village, near the Mission premises, attend the Divine ordinances daily, the average attendance being 380, including school-children. Would to God that they profited more by their privileges! for their progress, both in knowledge and the new life, is very slow. Yet, after all discouragements, we feel an assurance that our labour of love has not been altogether in vain. A small number appreciate our labour, and are thankful to God for sending the glad tidings of salvation to them.

Mr. Blumhardt reports more hopefully of his District, as follows—

I have, on the whole, every reason to be satisfied with the conduct of my Christians, and do believe that a work of grace has been commenced in the hearts of many, who are now “alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.” They are my “hope, and crown of rejoicing.” May the others, who are not yet so far advanced in Christian graces, be soon awakened by the Spirit of God, and join their brethren in faith, purity, love, and hope!

The whole number of converts in the Krishnaghur District is about 4500: of Communicants, 543. These numbers exhibit a decrease in comparison of those of the last year.

Native-Christian Contributions.

The Committee rejoice to notice, in the Report of Mr. Lipp of Rottenpore, some commencement of pecuniary contribution on the part of Native Christians toward charitable objects. They look anxiously for such fruits of true faith, as the best guarantee of the soundness and permanence of the work in which they are engaged. Mr. Lipp writes—

A few encouraging instances which spring up in this infant Church may be mentioned; viz. the Christians contribute monthly toward the support of their widows, and aged and infirm fellow-Christians, and were recently induced to give a mite toward the collection, made at the monthly Missionary Prayer-meeting, in behalf of a fund for supplying the sick with nourishing food.

Education.

The chief hope of these Missions consists in the efficient system of education adopted for the young. Nearly 600 Christian children, in about equal proportions of boys and girls, are trained in the different Boarding-schools under the immediate superintendence of the Missionaries and their wives. These, it is trusted, will furnish not only a generation of better-instructed Christians than their parents, but also a supply of efficient Native Teachers.

At the Sudder Station there is a large Day-school, in which the instruction is given in the English language, and a superior education imparted in history and science. This School is open to heathen boys, of whom a large proportion attend. The number of scholars is about 220. It is under the care of the Rev. J. Innes, who gives the following satisfactory report of the diligence and progress of the scholars—

Various improvements have been effected in our system, and in the general condition of the School, during the year; some philosophical instruments having been supplied, a little addition made to the Teachers' Library, suitable furniture provided, and a few scholarships established.

With regard to success, but little can be said. The boys are, no doubt, making advancement in their studies. The general examination last December was, on the whole, very satisfactory, and creditable to both Teachers and boys; but as to the higher object of the School, the conversion to Christianity of any of the boys, we can only say that Christian truth is presented to their minds, and urged upon their attention, and that the spiritual interests of the youths in the School are made the subject of earnest prayer to God. We hope to see a blessing descend on our unworthy efforts in God's good time, and that the Institution may become an instrument, in the hands of the Lord, for the promotion of His glory and the conversion of immortal souls.

I have lately been making an effort to establish a regular system of preaching in the Native Bazaars, in connexion with the School. For this purpose I have taken—at present on my own responsibility, as to funds—a suitable house in Gwarree Bazaar, newly erected, and well situated. To this place my Christian Teachers go twice in the week—on Tuesdays and Fridays—and I hope to accompany them, whenever I can, if the Lord blesses me in the study of the language, to take part in this important branch of Missionary operations. I have also established, from the commencement of the present year, a Bible Class with my Christian Teachers and a Native Convert in the School—five individuals in all—on two evenings in the week, Mondays and Thursdays. This meeting gives me much pleasure. We have here the opportunity of reading and speaking of the Word of God together; and I give such instruction and advice as appears called for. We conclude by addressing the Throne of Grace for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon our own souls, and upon the work in which we are engaged.

In the villages, the Vernacular Schools contain more than 1000 children in the aggregate, the great majority of whom are Heathen. The desire of the Heathen for the establishment of such Schools, in which Christian instruction holds a prominent place, is a remarkable sign of the change coming over the Hindu character. Mr. Blumhardt reports—

At the urgent request of some respectable Natives, I opened a Vernacular School in a village called Barrihooda. There are about 60 boys in daily attendance. Some respectable Brahmins of the village have, of their own accord, sent their daughters to the School, to be instructed also. This is a remarkable change of native prejudice in favour of the female sex, and may be looked upon as a beginning of the gradual downfall of Hindu superstitions.

Labours for the Conversion of the Heathen.

In former years the Committee have expressed their regret that it was not possible for the Missionaries to attempt the bringing in fresh converts from the mass of heathen population around them, since their whole time was occupied by the pastoral duties of the Christian flocks. But the report this year affords a good prospect of the accomplishment of this object. The increase of Labourers has enabled them to take up this branch of the work with vigour. Mr. Lincké reports of the Solo District—

In my last Report I expressed my sorrow that so little had been done for the Heathen and Mahomedans around us; but this time it affords me great pleasure to be able to say, that, almost from the day I wrote my last Report, arrangements were made, so that four times in the week our Readers have been sent with the message of salvation to their heathen neighbours, especially to such places, and at such times, as many of them come together for the purpose of buying and selling, viz. on their appointed market-days. Beside this, Mr. Bomwetsch has been very active, ever since he arrived here, in spreading the knowledge of Christ and His Gospel among the ignorant and poor villagers in our neighbourhood, and I hope our friends may one day hear of the fruits of this scattering of the seed of the Word of Life.

The same system has been pursued in the other Stations, as far as circumstances would allow. The importance of this branch of a Missionary's labour extends far beyond the direct results. It serves to keep up a Missionary spirit among the Native Christians; and trains, superintends, and encourages, the Native Teachers in the same work. The Report from Rottenpore states—

Native-Christian Assistants preach the Gospel regularly in the surrounding villages, and distribute Books and Tracts. The people generally are willing to hear, and with great civility acknowledge that our preaching is good and true. But here it commonly ends Some of these fellow-workers bear good characters, while others are weaker all require unceasing vigilance on the part of the Missionaries.

Upon a review of this Mission, the Committee perceive a solid ground for encouragement. The work is evidently progressing, though slowly. The foundation is laid for future expansion; especially in the next generation, when children educated upon Christian principles take the place of their Heathen and Mahomedan parents. But much yet remains to be done for the perfecting of the Missionary Establishment. There is as yet no Normal School for the preparation of Teachers, no Seminary for the training and education of promising Teachers for the Ministry. The Committee anxiously look for the time when the pastoral care of the Native-Christian flocks may be committed to Native Pastors, and when the European Missionaries may resume their appropriate office of breaking up the fallow-ground of heathenism, and preparing it for Christian culture. To justify the expectation of great results, adequate means must be applied to produce them. It is impossible not to acknowledge, with gratitude to the great Head of the Church, that His blessing has been here abundantly poured out upon the means actually employed. But this should be our stimulus to increased exertions and prayer, and an augmentation of the means and agency for accomplishing our glorious work.

BENARES.

The Christian Villages of Isáí Ganj (Sigra) and Gharwa.

The last Report mentioned the progress of the Christian village at Sigra, and the establishment of a new one in an agricultural district, twelve miles from Benares, which is called Gharwa. The number of Christians in the two villages is 253. In the past year there have been some trials and disappointments, and some encouraging tokens of the Lord's work in supporting His faithful servants through their last struggles. The Missionaries report—

While we have to lament the decline of some, and the fall of others, and have to sow the good seed in tears, we now and then also reap with joy. Many of our people are truly pious; and, with the exception of a few, all walk, outwardly at least, agreeably to the Gospel.

Respecting the new agricultural village the Rev. C. B. Leupolt reports—

Of our success in farming I cannot yet speak. Of those who were located at our village, three families left it; but the rest go on well, and have splendid crops this year. Our establishment outside consists at present of a European, Mr. Woods, and six native families. Three families will follow in a short time. Next year, D. V., we may be able to speak with more confidence. Hitherto my views have not changed upon this subject. I still think agriculture the most sure means of giving our Native Christians a footing on their fathers' soil, and a right to the land in which they were born. Meanwhile we go on labouring quietly, and trusting that the Lord will grant us His blessing, and make us also a blessing to all around us.

The conversion of a whole family has occurred in this village, which shows the importance of thus "branching out," and seeking among the Heathen those who are "of the truth, and will hear it." (John xviii. 37.) Mr. Leupolt writes—

When we took possession of Gharwa, we came into contact with many Natives in and around the village. Zalim Sing then observed, that those who knew us placed implicit confidence in our word. He further observed, that although Mr. Broadway might have crushed a man who had become his opponent, he did not; and although our opponent turned our assistance into a weapon against us, we forgave him, and Mr. Broadway helped him a second time. This led him to inquire into the motives which induced us to act with such disinterestedness; and amidst this inquiry he was gradually led to Christ. He is a simple-hearted, honest, and sincere Christian. About the propriety of baptizing his wife on the same day with him I had my doubts, for I could not, for some time, prevail upon her to reply to any of my questions; but when she began to speak, I was much cheered by finding her a woman of a great deal of mind. He was baptized with "his household"—consisting of himself, his wife, and child—on the 28th of May; and since then, Matthew, Elizabeth, and Hannah have given us joy. Soon after his baptism he was located on the farm, and bears a good report among his neighbours. He is kind, diligent, hardworking, and obliging, and, we trust, a sincere Christian. We all enjoyed their baptism much, and look upon the family as the first-fruits of our labours in the village. May it please God to prosper them! and may He open the hearts of many more, so that among the flourishing fields at Gharwa and its neighbourhood a garden of our God may be planted, bearing fruit to the honour and praise of His glorious Name!

Orphan Institutions.

The orphans are all baptized, and educated as Christians. The number in the boys' department is 48. The highest class, consisting of eight boys, has occupied much of the time of the Rev. J. Fuchs, in the hope that some of them may be trained as Teachers. His report of this class is very satisfactory—

Two of them have given me the conviction that the grace of God is working in them; and in the rest I observe a desire after deeper knowledge in religious subjects: they manifest a delight in the Word of God, which can make them wise unto salvation; and I even believe such a desire after, and delight in, Divine truth, as is the work of God, and not of man.

The girls' department contains 42 orphans, with whom 32 heathen girls have been associated. Mrs. Sandberg reports of them—"There are none remarkable for piety, and yet there is a general love for good things, and a right feeling prevailing among them; and we wait in hope."

Preaching to the Heathen.

The preaching in the Chapels and other places in the city has been carried on during the past year by Messrs. Leupolt and Sandberg, with the assistance of the Catechists. Of the general results of these labours Mr. Leupolt writes—

As to the preaching of the Gospel, I may say we have never been able to preach the Word so fully and freely, without being disturbed, as we can do now, in the evening especially. We—that is, myself, Mr. Broadway, and Catechists—preach often in turn, without a single objection being made, while the people all the time listen with the greatest attention. This is a great privilege and blessing, for it is not by arguments that souls are gained for Christ, but by the preaching of God's truth.

On the same subject Mr. Sandberg reports—

On Mr. Smith's departure, I endeavoured to supply his place, as far as I could, by preaching three times a-week in the evening; but since Mr. Wilkinson's arrival—who has taken my early morning duties at Jay Narain's College every alternate day—I have preached regularly three times a-week in the morning also.

In December 1847 Mr. Sandberg left Benares on a Missionary tour. He writes—

From Mirzapore I went along the left bank of the Ganges, this part of the district not having lately been visited by Missionaries. Mr. Mackay and Triloke accompanied me. We preached morning and evening, and generally to large and attentive audiences of villagers. The less frequented the places were by Europeans, the more simple and earnest the people appeared. We never met with any thing approaching to insult. I was particularly pleased with a village called Juddupore, where I should say the men of nearly the whole village came out, and formed a large circle around, listening very attentively to each of us, questioning us earnestly, and receiving books thankfully. May the Lord bless His work among this people, for His Name's sake !

Both Missionaries unite in reporting—"The prospect before us is brighter than ever it was."

Cases of Adult Baptism.

There have been, also, some remarkable and visible tokens of the Divine blessing, in the conversion and baptism of individuals, in addition to that of the family at Gharwa, already related. The young Brahmin, referred to in the last Report as having been under Mr. Smith's instructions, was removed to Jaunpore, in order to receive baptism.

The history of another Convert is given by Mr. Sandberg. He had noticed a young Brahmin listening with deep attention to one of his discussions in the city upon man's need of a Saviour: he afterward spoke with the listener upon the same subject. The young man then visited him at his house, and became a regular and attentive hearer. He was a member of one of the numerous Hindu sects, being a follower of Pran Nath. The sect, though very small in Benares, is opulent, having the trade in diamonds with Bundelkhund—their founder's country—almost exclusively in their hands. The inquirer was a clever young man, well acquainted with the Hindu and Mahomedan writings, and holding a respectable position in society, possessing the confidence of the native bankers as a diamond-broker. This young man, with a full knowledge of the temporal sacrifice which a profession of Christianity would entail, persevered in his inquiries after the truth; and declared himself willing to give up, for the sake of Christ, his lucrative occupation, if that should be the alternative, and become a Teacher in the Mission Schools. His wife, his mother, and two young sisters, determined also to cast in their lot with his. At length, after two months, he took the decisive step of residing in the Mission Compound, but only his wife and one sister accompanied him. The whole sect were then in a state of fearful excitement, and threatened to take legal proceedings in the case of the wife. Her resolution failed; but he calmly declared that, though his wife should now change and go back, his determination would not be shaken. "When I first heard the word," he said, "it was as though a dart had been shot from a strong bow, and pierced my heart. I had no rest, and could do no work, until I had made up my mind to this step. And shall I now go back, because of their empty threatenings!"

After a full course of instruction and preparation, he was admitted to baptism. It was a season of great joy and solemnity. His answers to the usual questions were given distinctly and fervently. At the same time he removed his Brahminical thread, and laid it down by the font, never again to be put on; thus by a visible token confirming his verbal renunciation of Satan and all his works.

The Missionary who had been the instrument, under God, of his conversion, adds—"This day was the birth-day of my eldest child, who was taken from us about two years ago: God thus gave us another son, one in the faith and bonds of the blessed Gospel."

Another affecting case has occurred of a Mahomedan Convert, a relative of the Delhi royal family, who had six years before received a New Testament, and three years afterward a book entitled, "An Inquiry into the True Religion," given to him by Mr. Smith with the request that he would read it with prayer. This he did, was gradually convinced of the truth of Christianity, wrote to the Missionaries, and, after a time, visited and resided with them, and was baptized. Then his troubles began. His relatives came one after another, cursing and abusing him bitterly. His aged mother, above eighty years old, declared that she would destroy herself, and attempted to do so. His strength was shaken, and he removed to the residence of the Missionary at Jaunpore; but soon he removed from thence, at the instance of his relatives, and is now a fugitive.

Education for the Heathen.

Jay Narain's College and Free School has been carried on with success for another year. The number of pupils has been larger than last year: at one period there were 400 pupils, and at the close of the year 350.

It is a fact which should be generally known, that, though this School is presided over by Missionaries, and though the Bible is taught, and every other branch of knowledge is made subservient to leading the students to embrace Christianity, yet a great proportion of them are Brahmins; and there is not a single boy in the College whose caste is lower than that of a Kaist. Many pay for their education, and the free scholars are of the most respectable portion of the inhabitants of Benares.

In this School there are many indications of a favourable impression toward Christianity upon the minds of the pupils, even though they do not openly confess the faith. One youth of fifteen, in the course of the year, declared upon his death-bed that he died trusting only in Christ for salvation, though he could not, alas! encounter the opposition of a relative to his baptism.

JAUNPORE.

The Rev. R. Hawes for another year laboured singly at this Station. He has now returned home in consequence of the impossibility of his wife's rejoining him in India, and the Station is left without a Missionary to superintend it; and this, at the time when its prospects were more promising than ever.

Mr. Hawes has been assisted in the School department by Mr. Cæsar. He has kept up the various other branches of the Mission, and has itinerated during the cold season through the surrounding country.

Christian Village—Trials of Converts.

The commencement has been made of a Christian village in the Mission Compound. The young Brahmin, alluded to in the Benares Report, has since his baptism continued steadfast and consistent in his profession.

Another convert has been added to the Church by baptism, whose case illustrates the difficulties and trials which oppose the conversion of the Natives.

The convert was a Bania. He had visited the Mission on two or three occasions, and appeared to be almost a Christian. At length he expressed his determination to procrastinate no longer; and as he had a knowledge of the essential truths of the Gospel, and appeared to all to be sincere, he was baptized. Mr. Hawes writes—

He brought with him his wife, and a beautiful little boy, to the Mission premises, when he had made up his mind to be baptized. After his baptism, his wife accidentally saw him receiving water from a man of lower caste, and immediately requested him to take her to her friends. He tried in vain to alter her determination: despite of all the argument and persuasion used by the other Native Christians and myself, she insisted upon the man taking her back to her family. He has now left us for that purpose, and most likely will have to return without wife or child.

Preaching to the Heathen.

The preaching upon the bridge, and at other places in the city, has been kept up as in former years; and there has been manifestly a cessation of the opposition which once existed. The villages in the neighbourhood have been regularly visited; and here the work has been of a more hopeful character this year than formerly. Extensive tours have been taken during the cold season, and the Missionary found everywhere willing and attentive listeners. A few reviled and blasphemed, but these were exceptions to the general experience. In some instances the Gospel message was evidently a "joyful sound" to the people. One such case is thus recorded—

At Badaura, a large village peopled chiefly by the Chatrya class, the Headman entered into discussion with the Catechist in a peaceable manner. The result was favourable. We went further on in the village, and came to another large group of hearers ready for our arrival. Our stay with them was most interesting. They listened attentively both to my discourse and the Catechist's, approved heartily of Christian doctrine, and, like the villagers of last evening, affirmed that they would join us in this worship if we could remain among them. I could scarcely believe them, and yet they appeared sincere in the profession they made. The results of our visits yesterday and this morning have surprised me not a little. I hesitate between hope and fear; but while thus wavering and uncertain, I cannot but feel greatly encouraged, and discover here great cause of thankfulness to God, that we have in these two days witnessed a nearer approach to the embracing of the Gospel than I have ever yet known since I began to visit the villages. Here, as far as I can see, are several individuals in these villages in a state of preparedness to receive Christianity; their prejudices to all appearance softened down, and their minds convinced of the need of a Saviour, and the suitableness of the Gospel-plan of salvation—yea, more than this, promising to join in our worship, should we remain among them.

Education for the Heathen.

The English Free School has been going on satisfactorily. The number of scholars is 147. It is reported—

Although there have not been any actual conversions, as far as the public profession of Christianity is concerned, yet some of the senior boys are fully convinced of its truth, and two youths have declared their intention of renouncing Hinduism, and embracing Christianity.

The Azimgurh School was transferred by the Government to the Mission in October 1847. Mr. Hawes states—

During the past year we have succeeded in getting the School into good order, and establishing the same rules and discipline that regulate our other Schools. The Scriptures and other religious books are read without hesitation. At my late visits I have found the boys very fairly acquainted with the early facts of the Bible, as also with the essential doctrines of repentance and faith in Christ for salvation; which is cause for thankfulness and encouragement, when contrasted with the total exclusion of the Word of God but a year or two ago, and the then inimical feeling of the boys toward Christianity.

The number of pupils is 165. Mr. Cæsar adds—

Although many boys have left the School on account of discipline, yet not one has done so on account of the introduction of the Scriptures and religious books. On the contrary, many of them take great pains in preparing their Scripture lessons, and are much pleased when the time of their examination arrives.

Three Branch Schools, containing 245 boys, complete the Missionary Establishment at this Station.

GORRUCKPORE.

The Rev. J. P. Mengé and Mr. Acheson have laboured at this Station.

Native-Christian Establishment at the Farm.

The Native-Christian Congregation is located at the Farm at Basharatpore, and amounts to 126 souls. As regards its outward appearance, this Settlement has become a very different place, during the last year, from what it used to be in years past. A Mission-house and native cottages have been built, and a better state of order introduced, by the labours of Mr. Acheson, who devotes his whole time to this department, though he has not yet been able to reside in the house. Services are held at the Church on the Sunday, and on two evenings in the week, and a Day-school has been commenced.

Preaching to the Heathen.

Mr. Mengé devotes his attention to the Bazaar-preaching, which has been carried on during the year, with scarcely any interruption, on three days in the week. In this he is assisted by his Native Catechists. Many interesting discussions have been carried on with learned Natives, though Mr. Mengé generally discourages discussions in the bazaar, and “endeavours to prevail upon those who are anxious for it to visit him in his own house, as there any argument can be better explained.”

No actual conversions have taken place during the year.

Education for the Heathen.

The principal change in the arrangements of this Mission, during the year, has been the reception by the Society into their sole charge of the large Christian School or Institution, established about three years ago—and since, in a great measure, supported—by the zeal, labour, and liberality of H. C. Tucker, Esq., the resident Judge and Magistrate, and by him now transferred to the Church Missionary Society. The School contains about 168 boys, nearly all Hindus and Mussulmans. The English, Persian, Urdu, and Kaithee languages are taught, and an English Schoolmaster has been retained, who was brought from England by Mr. Tucker.

CHUNAR.

This old-established Mission, planted and affectionately tended to the last by Daniel Corrie, and the scene of the Rev. William Bowley's zealous and devoted labours, continues under the Rev. D. Hechler's care, who has been much tried by illness both in his own person and his family. His Report of the Station has not yet been received.

AGRA.

The division of labour in this Mission, and the working arrangements, are well devised. These arrangements provide full employment for four Missionaries; but during the last year one of the number has been absent; as, upon the return of the F. A. Kreiss to the Mission, the Rev. C. T. Hœrnle began to prepare for his departure, with his family, for a visit to Europe.

The Mission Station at Secundra is five miles from the city of Agra. A branch of the Mission is established within the city.

At Secundra there are two Christian Institutions—one for orphan boys, and the other for girls—and a printing-press, worked chiefly by youths and boys brought up in the Institution, but conducted by a Superintendant, who is supported by the profits of the press. These establishments have given rise to a Christian village and Congregation, comprising 67 families and two widows, with their Church and Infant-school.

The Governor-General, Lord Dalhousie, in his progress up the country, accompanied by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-west Provinces, visited the Secundra Mission. "His Lordship expressed himself very much satisfied with all he saw, and was particularly pleased with the Christian village. He went into one of the houses to see its arrangements, and was surprised to find it so neat, books on the shelves, &c. It was the first Missionary Establishment he had seen."

The local Annual Report commences with the following wise and Christian remarks—

The Committee of this Association, in laying their Report of the past year before their friends and supporters, desire, above all, to express their gratitude to God for having again supplied them with the means of carrying on their labours, and having allowed them quietly to pursue the same in the different departments without interruption.

No marked events have taken place, either in the Mission or in the Orphan Institutions ; but the quiet and steady prosecution of labour, as detailed in the Reports of the Missionaries on the various branches of their work, is not therefore the less a mark of the Divine blessing, and an earnest of the promised abundant harvest. We are generally too much disposed to look for stirring and extraordinary effects, and to undervalue quiet labour in the ordinary and regular way. The former God will bring about in His own time, as we know from the word of prophecy : in the latter, we have to prove our obedience, faith, and love.

The Establishments at Secundra are superintended by the Rev. Messrs. Hœrnle, Kreiss, and Schneider, the Rev. C. G. Pfander having the care of the work in the city of Agra.

There are 56 boys in the Institution, and 21 girls. Their conduct has been, on the whole, satisfactory. The Congregation has had an increase of 10 families—8 being from among the orphans—and one Mahomedan and one Hindu Convert. The Infant-school contains 15 little children of Native Christians.

Establishment in the city of Agra.

A piece of land has been added to the Kuttra Mission Compound in the city, in order to enlarge it, and to render it more salubrious, and thus to ensure the permanence of this establishment in the heart of the city. It was commenced by the late Bishop Corrie in the year 1813, when he was Chaplain of this Station, and was first superintended by the pious Abdul Messih.

Mr. Pfander gives the following Report of his charge—

The services of the Kuttra Chapel have been carried on as formerly, and continue to be regularly attended. The Congregation now consists of 74 adults and 29 children, including 3 East-Indian families. The average attendance on Sunday morning is 60, and in the evening 26. One of the two families who last year, in order to avoid discipline, left the Kuttra Compound, has apostatized, and joined the followers of the false Prophet. The Mahomedans, however, appeared to take little notice of it, and, as far as I could learn, afforded no pecuniary assistance to the family. They probably knew the circumstances under which the family left us, and could therefore not consider their accession any cause for exultation. Six adults and three children have been baptized.

To give the Congregation more stability, and to make them assist me in the general superintendence, I have established a Punchayet,* chosen from among themselves, the members of which act at the same time as Churchwardens. In all cases of discipline, as well as in admission to baptism, and to the Lord's Supper, if the persons are not sufficiently known to me, they are consulted. For the last two years the Congregation has contributed regularly to a Church fund, partly by monthly subscriptions, and partly by collections made at the Church. This fund is under the management of the Punchayet. From it the expenses for furnishing and lighting the Chapel are defrayed, and from the surplus aid will be afforded to the poor of the Congregation, in cases of urgency. Since the commencement, 320 rupees have been collected, of which 32 rupees have been raised by monthly subscriptions from the Native-Christian Members; 150 rupees are collections at the Church, and at marriages, the greater part of which has been given by East-Indians attending the services; and the remainder is made up of donations and subscriptions from friends. From this fund, 196 rupees have been expended for the Chapel in the way mentioned above.

General View.

The following general view of the Missionary work within this Station is given by the Missionaries—

The conduct of the orphans and adult Christians has been steady and satisfactory, to which the activity and vigilance of the Punchayet have contributed in no small measure. Christian order and discipline have been maintained by its advice and regulations, which were readily observed by most of the members of the Congregation.

What we require is a greater measure of spiritual life, faith, and love to God and man. Over the comparative want of these virtues I have often lamented, and feel constrained to do so again. Notwithstanding, I am confident that in the hearts of a few the Holy Spirit has commenced a work of grace; and this is a matter of gratitude to the Lord. In the midst of these few—when we have been assembled to read the Word of God, and to pray for ourselves, for the spiritual welfare of the whole Congregation, for the conversion of the heathen world in general, and for the regeneration of India in particular—I have often been encouraged by the earnest and Christian spirit evinced in their prayers: I may add, that we have often felt the Lord present among us. But others have not yet come further than a mere outward profession of Christianity; and with regard to these, it has often appeared to me as if I were trying to tie up to the tree the fruits which it ought to bear of itself. However, of this much I am sure, that the Lord has commenced a good work at Secundra, which He will not leave unfinished.

Labours among the Heathen.

In regard to this branch of labour Mr. Pfander writes—

The preaching has been regularly carried on, by myself and Catechists, in the same manner as in former years. The Chapels in the city, the bazaars, and the river-side, together with the adjacent villages to the north and west of the city, are daily visited during the hot weather; and in the cold season preaching is extended to the villages, towns, and melas at greater distances. The result of this preaching cannot, however, be represented by figures, nor estimated according to the few Converts who are yearly added to our Congregations.

One and another now and then comes forward from the dense multitude around us, and is "added to the Church" as the gathering-in of the first-fruits of the coming harvest, and as an earnest of those better and more glorious days, promised in God's word, when nations shall be born in a day, and all knees bow down before the Lord.

The controversy with the Mahomedans is at rest for the present. Though considerable notice has been taken of my reply, which appeared last year, no new controversial publications have issued from the Mussulman presses of these parts of the country, nor have I heard of any one having taken up the subject. The only move on their side has been a public discussion, to which I was invited by a Moulvi, who had come from Lucknow, and by a learned Mussulman from Delhi, and which was attended by about 30 persons, most of the higher classes of the Mahomedans of this place. It lasted two hours, and the principal subjects brought forward by them were, the doctrine of the Holy Trinity, and their assertion that our Scriptures have been adulterated. Not much real benefit was obtained, as was to be foreseen. I trust, however, that the hearers went away with the impression that we are at no loss to answer gainsayers, and that we know how to give "a reason of the hope that is in us."

Mr. Hærnle reports—

I have made four Missionary excursions during the cold season—one to the Dussera Mela at Bhurtpore, one to that of Buldeo, one to Deeg and Goberdhun, and one to the southern districts of Agra. In all these places I had a great many opportunities of proclaiming the Way of Life to Hindus and Mahomedans. Many listened with attention, while others objected; but upon the whole I have been much encouraged.

In my last Report I mentioned an attempt which I had made to locate two pious Native Christians, who had offered themselves as Candidates for the Missionary work, in the village of Runcotta, two and a-half kos* distant from Secundra, with a view of preaching the Gospel in that and the neighbouring villages, and opening a School. This has since been done. Through the kindness of the agent of the parties to whom the village belongs, I obtained a piece of ground, upon which two houses for two Native-Christian families, and a Schoolroom, which serves at the same time as a Chapel, were erected. The whole is surrounded by a wall, and forms a nice little Mission Establishment. The expense of these buildings was defrayed by subscription from Christian friends at Agra, and the Congregation at Secundra. When every thing was ready for the reception of the two families, a Farewell Service was held in the Church, and instructions were delivered to them; after which they proceeded to their new sphere of labour. They were accompanied by several members of the Congregation, who evinced a lively interest in this tender branch Mission, which issued, as it were, from themselves as the tree. The work allotted to them comprises, making known the Gospel at

* Kos—a road measure, generally estimated at forty-two to the degree, but differing in almost every province. It may be computed as being never under a mile, nor more than two miles.

Runcotta and seventeen other villages in the vicinity; keeping a School for such boys as may wish to attend; visiting the people in their houses, as far as possible, for the purpose of holding conversation with them upon the way of life, and rendering themselves useful to them where and whenever an opportunity may occur.

The scheme has since undergone many a trial from various sources, reminding me of the words of our Saviour, "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit." The School never succeeded well. It had at first 18 boys; but it appeared that the people expected to be paid for sending their children to the School; and when they saw that this was not intended, they kept them back, and it has never since numbered more than 12. The preaching of the Gospel has been attended with more success. At Runcotta, as well as the seventeen other villages, the people like to hear the Word of God; and whenever our Christians come to make it known to them, those who are disengaged readily assemble.

Employment of the Orphans.

The necessity of finding employment for the orphan children trained up in Christian principles, without the risk of throwing them into heathen connexions in order to obtain a livelihood, led to the formation of a printing-establishment, and other trades: the experiment was a very important, but a very critical one. The press has succeeded even beyond expectation. The Government printing is executed by it. The profits are sufficient to support its working, and to give important aid to the Mission work. During the last year it has thus contributed 350*l.* in clear profits to the Mission fund of the Station. It also provides employment for a smith's and carpenter's shops.

The general question of the proper employment of Native Christians is one which frequently presses itself upon the attention of the Committee, and they are glad to place upon record the following very judicious remarks of the Agra Association upon this subject—

Beside the press—including typographic and lithographic printing, type-casting, and bookbinding—there are now in the Orphan boys' department only carpenters, blacksmiths, and a few tailors. A great deal of work done by the two former trades is for the press, and the tailors' work is altogether for the Institution. Land cultivation has at last been given up altogether; partly on account of the many unfavourable seasons, but principally because it is less remunerative than the press. The land-cultivators, finding they could not earn so much, with all their hard labour, as those of their fellows engaged in the press, became discouraged and dissatisfied with their work, and no alternative remained but to give it up. Land-cultivation is without doubt the most desirable branch of industry for a Native-Christian Settlement; but then it should be commenced in a favourable spot, with a good soil, and no manufacturing settlement connected with it, that the attention may not be distracted, but the whole body united in this one pursuit. It would then, no doubt, succeed, and be far preferable to any trade, or printing, or manufacturing establishment; as it would—at least in the end—make the Native Christians independent of the Committee's or Missionary's help and assistance, and secure a permanent and fixed occupation. The most flourishing trade establishment may from some cause or other lose its work, and then the whole Settlement depending on it is broken up, and the Congregation dispersed. But a Christian village engaged in agriculture is safe from such changes, and has the means of self-support and permanency in itself. As, however, land-cultivation has been found impracticable, the Committee are the more thankful that their attention has been early directed to the establishment of a press; and that, under the Divine blessing, it has so prospered as already to give employment and support to seventy Native Christians. It promises fair to afford permanent work to the whole Christian Settlement at Secundra, and support to the Orphan Institutions, so long as the same amount of work can be secured for the press which it now enjoys.

MEERUT.

The Rev. R. M. Lamb superintends this Mission. The small Christian Congregation has been somewhat reduced by the removal of some of the regiments; but the Chapel and Hindustani Service have been regularly attended, and two adult converts have been added to the Church by baptism.

Preaching to the Heathen.

Mr. Lamb has been assisted in this work by his converted Munshi, who has continued steadfast in his Christian profession since his baptism. They have also made a Missionary tour together in the neighbourhood, and have met with some encouragement. But the Mission is still feeling the disadvantage of the four years' suspension of operations which preceded Mr. Lamb's arrival in 1847. His time has also been necessarily much occupied by the acquisition of the language.

HIMALAYA MISSION.

SIMLA.

Death of the Rev. M. Wilkinson.

The Station of Simla was under the care of the Rev. Michael Wilkinson, one of the oldest and most zealous and unwearied of the Missionary Labourers in India. For twenty-five years he had been employed in the work of the Society, first at Gorruckpore, and for the last five years at Simla. Though at the age of about fifty-four, and with a frame and health much broken by the influence of the climate, and a life of labour, he continued his exertions with a truly Missionary activity and zeal. The last communications received from him state that he had made, during the past year, fourteen or fifteen excursions into the interior and around Simla, visiting the different Ranaships. He had established eight Schools, altogether, in his Mission; and during the year had translated the Morning and Evening Services of the Common Prayer, the Collects, and Catechism, into pure Hinduí. He had often expressed a desire to die in his work, and this was literally fulfilled. He joined in the celebration of the Jubilee at Simla on the 1st of November, and was about to proceed on a Missionary excursion to visit a large Mela; but feeling himself unwell he desisted from his purpose. He became seriously ill on the 4th of that month, and died during the next night.

Mr. Wilkinson had befriended the cause of Missions by his pen as well as by his labours. His "Sketches of Christianity in North India" have stimulated the Missionary zeal of many others. May the example of this much-honoured servant of God lead many to enter into his labours!

Mr. Wilkinson's Reports are of a discouraging nature as to the Missionary prospects of Simla. Owing to local and peculiar circumstances, the native landowners are opposed to the establishment of Schools. Hence it will be given up as a Station, and the operations of the Society will be concentrated at Kotghur.

KOTGHUR.

The Rev. J. D. Prochnow and Mr. J. Voss, an European Catechist, have continued at this Station, though Mr. Prochnow has suffered much interruption through sickness in his family.

Labours among the Heathen.

As no Converts have yet been made, the work at this Station is wholly devoted to the instruction of the Heathen. Missionary tours have been made in the surrounding districts; but as the Missionary subject is altogether new in these parts, it is met with opposition in some parties, and by indifference in all.

Schools for boys and girls have been established, which, from the thinness of the population, have but few scholars.

Mr. Prochnow endeavours to win the confidence of the people by the exercise of his medical knowledge and skill; and he thinks that the success of the experiment would justify the appointment of a medical man as a Missionary Labourer at this Station. The actual field of labour is, however, of an unpromising kind in many respects. The value of the Station must rather be contemplated in reference to its position as an advanced post toward Tartary and the mountainous districts of the Punjaub, and as affording peculiar facilities for the preparation and distribution of the Scriptures and Tracts in those regions.

MADRAS.

Reinforcement of this Station.

THREE years ago the Committee, in their Annual Report, laid before the Anniversary Meeting the lamentable, and, to the Church of England, reproachful state of the vast Heathen and Mahomedan population of Madras, then scarcely touched by Missionary labour. At the expiration of thirty-two years since the commencement of the Society's operations in South India, the Mission at Madras was in a very feeble and contracted condition. In the next year the Madras Station was wholly deprived of European aid, by the failure of health of the only Missionary upon the spot. In the following year, however, the Mission began to revive in its efficiency, by the return of Mr. Elouis in improved health, and the accession of Mr. Bilderbeck. And now the Committee have the unfeigned satisfaction of reporting, that, by the ordination of two of the Society's Students in Madras, four Ordained Missionaries, have been zealously labouring in this Mission, which has consequently assumed a vigorous and cheering aspect.

The Mission has been separated into two divisions, one of which is superintended by the Rev. J. J. H. Elouis, assisted by the Rev. Dewasagayam Gnanamuttoo; the other by the Rev. J. Bilderdeck, assisted by the Rev. J. B. Rodgers.

Christian Congregations.

Mr. Elouis, in the review of his labours for the year 1848, reports "a very marked improvement among the people" as the result of increased Missionary agency. The Congregation at the Church Mission Chapel, Black Town, includes 178 adults, of whom 82 are Communicants. Mr. Bilderbeck also—who, with his Assistant, holds eight stated Services each week—reports, that at the Chapel at John Pereira's "the Tamul Services have of late been marked by a sensible increase in the number of those who attend, and by a growing attention to the ministry of God's word and ordinances." At the Tinnevely Settlement, "for want of a suitable place, we still meet only in our thatched School-room, which on the Lord's-day is sometimes so filled that several are obliged, for want of room, to stand outside." This "Settlement" is rapidly increasing by a constant succession of emigrants from the south, most of whom know something of the Truth from having heard the Gospel in their own country.

The whole number of Native Christians in Madras, including children, is 464; of Communicants, 114.

Direct Labours among the Heathen.

All the Missionaries and the Catechists have taken part in labouring among the Heathen, and in preaching in the public thoroughfares. Mr. Bilderbeck has also made two Missionary tours. There is often much opposition on the part of the Brahmins; but of the people generally Mr. Bilderbeck states—"Almost everywhere our reception has been kind and favourable." The Rev. Dewasagayam Gnanamuttoo reports—"As far as I can remember, the disturbance, opposition, and questionings have occurred just after the mentioning of the truth, that salvation is to be obtained only through Jesus, the crucified Son of God. If we declare any other truth but this, we have very few, or no opposers at all."

The Rev. J. B. Rodgers, lately ordained from the Madras Institution, in his Journal gives several interesting and instructive specimens of the mode in which these discussions are conducted. Sometimes he gains their attention by reciting stanzas out of their popular devotional poets, and giving an account of their works; showing that the grand point at which the Hindu devotees aim—abstraction from the earth, and things earthly—is an impossible attainment, and, even if it were attainable, it could not in any degree atone for guilt. On one such occasion he reports—

Two young men were very warm in defence of their system, and mentioned the names of several devotees who had attained to this state, and of some who, while in it, had suddenly disappeared from earth, and were supposed to have been absorbed into the Deity. After eliciting concessions to the high repute in which one of their celebrated devotees is held by themselves, and the authority which his writings carry, I repeated to them a remarkable confession of his, in which he laments the struggle of corruption within him. His words are to the following purport—"When I become so far abstracted as to be no longer under the control of my senses, reckoning things that be as though they were not, and long to continue in this state, during even the twinkling of an eye, alas! my wicked propensities contend within me." This citation was followed by silence, of which I availed myself to tell them of the only means provided for the atonement of guilt, and the subduing of our natural corruptions. As my object was accomplished when I had done this, I seized the earliest opportunity to leave.

At another time Mr. Rodgers describes his frequent visits to a private School, kept by an intelligent young Native, who has undertaken to teach English on his own account, and has met with much encouragement among his heathen countrymen. He was himself taught in one of the Christian Schools in Madras, and is well read in the Scriptures, but has not embraced Christianity. His supporters will not on any account allow him professedly to teach the Bible; but he has always a copy of it by him, and uses it as a book of reference. In the course of his teaching he reads the greater portion of the historical books to his pupils, in explaining allusions to Scripture, which frequently occur in the class-book they use. Mr. Rodgers writes—

He has always received me gladly, and has never objected to the introduction of religious topics in conversation either with him or his pupils. In speaking of the rite of sacrifice, as performed by the Jews, I availed myself of the opportunity to preach Christ and Him crucified; catechizing his pupils, in fact—they were 25 in number—as one would do a class of Christian boys, and by way of questions and answers saying all that one would wish to say in a studied address. Surely we can never feel sufficiently thankful for the many doors quietly opened to us for preaching the Gospel, in the midst of all that external opposition to it by Heathen, and, one is ashamed to add, by professing Christians too.

Mr. Elouis and his Assistant pay weekly visits to two benevolent Institutions—the one a poor-house, in which they have a few Christian converts; the other, an hospital for lepers. In the latter, though a scene of constant and severe suffering to the wretched patients, they have found one only to receive the blessed remedy which would lighten their bodily sufferings, and cleanse them from a worse leprosy within.

Yet, through the labours which we have described, during the last year only two adult converts have been added to the Christian Congregations; and two or three who have removed to other parts have been received and baptized by other Missionaries.

The Native Missionary, the Rev. Dewasagayam Gnana-muttoo, late Student of the Madras Institution, makes the following just reflections upon this small amount of visible success—

In conclusion, I am obliged to remark, that the fact of our not having been able to add to our number by the baptism of any from heathenism, may probably prove a temptation to slacken the hands of Missionaries, and to discourage the heart of the Christian friends who have hitherto prayed and denied themselves for the sake of the people at Madras. But we can easily get over this difficulty, if we just consider that, in this prejudiced place of Madras, none would be inclined to receive Christ but those who are fully convinced of the truth of the Gospel, and who are, by the grace of God, enabled to overcome difficulties and oppositions, and are determined to follow Christ amidst all sorts of temptations and trials. We have the comfort, however, of knowing, that a very few at least, on whom our labours have been bestowed, and for whom our prayers have been made, have since embraced the Christian religion, and remain faithful in their profession, though not in connexion with us from whom they received their first instructions. Another comfort is, that the Lord gives us the hope that the seed sown will sooner or later produce its fruit, and the harvest be reaped, though not perhaps by us.

TINNEVELLY.

The number of districts is the same as last year, namely, eleven. The number of Ordained Missionaries has been increased by the location in this district of two of the Ordained Students of the Madras Institution. It now amounts to 16.

General State of the Districts.

The review of this large and important Mission during the past year presents a different aspect from that of any former period. We cannot record the heart-stirring intelligence of large accessions of inquirers, nor of violent persecution on the part of the Heathen. There has been external quietness, and the Missionaries have been enabled to devote increased attention to the internal work of instruction and Church discipline. The results have been, a more intimate knowledge of the state of the Congregations, the detection of latent evils, and a general sifting of the people: many have been separated from the Church. The great enemy of the Gospel appears also to have changed his mode of assault. A system of petty persecution on the part of small heathen landlords, and of the inferior officers of police, has produced many defections.

In the last Report it was stated, that, though many inquirers had gone back, it was hoped that none of the baptized Christians had apostatized. This statement cannot be repeated: many, even of those who had been baptized, and had appeared to walk well for a time, have apostatized to heathenism, through the operation of the above-mentioned causes.

At the same time, a further diminution in the number of converts is continually taking place through emigration to Madras, Ceylon, and other parts.

Statistics of the Mission—Decrease of Inquirers.

The whole number under Christian instruction in Tinnevely, at the beginning of the year 1848, was 25,528: at the beginning of the present year it was only 23,373. This exhibits a considerable decrease in the numbers professedly under Christian instruction. If we refer back to the number in January 1846, we find it to have been 30,698; so that in three years there has been a falling-off of nearly one-fourth. It is satisfactory, however, to be able to add, that the number of baptized converts has been steadily increasing; so that the decrease is wholly in the class of inquirers. The number of Communicants has also increased.

A comparison of the two periods exhibits the following result—

Inquirers	20,140	11,596
Baptized	10,558	11,777
Communicants	1,872	2,634

A few extracts from the Journals of the Missionaries will illustrate the general statement which has been given. The Rev. P. P. Schaffter thus describes the state of the Nulloor District, June 30, 1848—

The peace which the Nulloor Mission enjoyed, at the time I wrote my last Report, has been continued without interruption ever since. But I shall here again remind our Christian friends, that that peace is not to be attributed to a diminution of hostile feeling against Christianity in the minds of the leading members of the Heathen community; but it is rather owing to the circumstance of no numerical increase having taken place to stir up their malice and hatred. On the contrary, the statistical returns show a considerable decrease. How far, at that rate, peace may be considered a blessing, is a point rather difficult to be determined. Still it is welcome, as it affords a favourable opportunity to attend without opposition and interruption to the work of religious instruction, both in the Congregations and Schools.

After describing the trials which the people of one village had undergone through an extensive conflagration, and which the whole district had suffered through the prevalence of the small-pox, he adds—

These poor Shanar Christians are, in more respects than one, the counterpart of the Israelites in the wilderness. When the hand of the Lord is heavy upon them, they pray, and apparently humble themselves; but no sooner is the burden removed than they relapse into their former state, and forget the Lord, who brought them out of the house of bondage. But here we ought not to forget that their position, both in a religious and civil point of view, is also much the same as that of the Jews then was: like them, they have just emerged from a double bondage. Their hearts are still degraded and slavish; and it follows that, for want of better motives, punishments are required to keep them in some degree of order, and to urge them on their way. However, it would be unjust to say that they are all of the same description. We have also some Calebs and some Joshuas—people in whom the spirit of grace, working along with the Word, has supplied better motives; and these walk worthy of the Lord in time of prosperity, as well as in time of adversity.

The Rev. J. T. Tucker thus speaks of the Panneivilei District, July 26, 1848—

The statistical returns show a decrease of the unbaptized to the number of 375, and an increase of the baptized to the number of 125: by deducting the latter from the former, there therefore remains a decrease of 250 souls under Christian instruction. I am sorry indeed to have to report such a state of things; but I consider it as one of the least evils that might arise in the Missionary work, and one that we must always look for, where so many come over at once from Heathenism to Christianity. This decrease has taken place among the hundreds who joined us last year, and has arisen, in a great measure, in consequence of the troubles that the young converts have had to sustain. In one village, however, it was the love of heathen ceremonies that induced all the Christians in the place to return to their idols. The wife of the Headman died, and a Zemindar sent him a sum of money to celebrate the funeral rites according to the heathen custom, which temptation he could not resist; and as the people of the whole village joined him, I felt compelled to withdraw the Catechist. Although I have met with all these things to discourage me, yet I would thank God that there are so many who remain firm to their profession of the Gospel, and appear to value Christianity.

The Rev. John Dewasagayam, in a Letter dated Aug. 15, 1848, gives the following account of his district, Kadat-chapuram—

Although 107 souls, both backsliders and others, who had long despised the Means of Grace, have been removed from the list during the last half year; on the other hand, 90 have come under Christian instruction. Most of the people continue to value the ordinances of Christ. I am happy to find many of them really willing to spare no pains to commit their lessons from the Scripture and Catechisms to memory. But with regard to the work of the Holy Spirit, who alone enlightens the mind and the heart, it is to be discovered only in a small number of our people, which, I need scarcely add, pains me not a little.

The Rev. James Spratt, who has charge of the Meignanapuram District, in a Letter dated Nov. 4, 1848, writes—

In conclusion I would add, that we are not able to give a glowing account of the piety of our people, nor adduce many instances of persons acting upon high Christian principle. So far, indeed, from this being the case, we have to mourn over the comparative want of vital godliness in our Congregations, and the disappointment we are frequently called upon to suffer regarding those of whom we had hoped favourably. Notwithstanding all this, however, we are not left without encouragement. We believe there are a few persons in most, if not in all, our Congregations, whose lives declare them to be the children of God. We know that the means which we use for the establishment of Christ's kingdom are of Divine appointment, and that we are consequently warranted in looking for success to attend our labours. What we chiefly desire, therefore, is, that our Christian friends will continually bear us, our people, and our work generally, in remembrance at the Throne of Grace; praying for the abundant outpouring of the Spirit in His gifts and graces upon our infant Churches, and the complete establishment, in the hearts of our people, of that kingdom which is "righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost."

Exercise of Christian Discipline.

A few instances of the discipline exercised by the Missionaries will serve to give a further view of the character of the work; and to show that the Missionaries are very wisely determined to maintain a high standard of Christian profession, rather than to swell the numbers of the Converts. Mr. Schaffter writes—

Those who I thought applied to be received from worldly motives I have refused to admit; and these amount to more than 50. This has been the case at Kuruvenkotei, where several of the backsliders have repeatedly applied to be received again into the Congregation. I have reason to think that their motives for rejoining us are not of the right kind, therefore I have not received them; allowing them, however, to attend Church, that they may be helped to a better mind, or remain without excuse.

In Tullukkapetty I have been obliged to exclude a great number from the Congregation, on account of their taking an active part in a marriage performed in a way perfectly heathenish. This has been for a long time a very unsatisfactory Congregation. In other Congregations, also, a few have been excluded from similar causes.

The Rev. James Spratt reports a case, in which the Christians had been guilty of a violent assault, even in their Church, upon a heathen landlord, with whom they had had a long-standing dispute. Mr. Spratt adds—

Taking into consideration the aggravated circumstances connected with the assault, and the generally unsatisfactory character of the people, and judging it to be a favourable opportunity to convince the Heathen that the injustice of Christians would meet with no toleration from us, I immediately resolved to renounce all connexion with them, and in consequence removed both the Catechist and the Church. The result has been all that I could have desired: there has been perfect quiet ever since. The ringleaders in the assault have been tried at Palamcottah, and punished.

The Rev. John Dewasagayam, in a Letter dated Aug. 15, 1848, describes the following very touching case of penitence after the exercise of such discipline—

An old person, a member of the Congregation at Adeikalapuram, who was a Communicant, and whom many considered a real Christian, has shamefully fallen during the last year; that is, he went once, many months since, to the devil-temple, and was himself one of the dancers. I was in consequence obliged to excommunicate him. A few days after this, his son, thirty-five-years old, who was once a Reader, but afterward a backslider, was suddenly visited by that awful messenger, death. The Heathen, who at first had used deriding words, saying, "See what a devil-dancer is your old and faithful Christian!" began immediately to turn from their derision, and to say, "See how dreadful a thing it is to blaspheme the living God!" They soon, too, witnessed the bitter repentance of the old man, and pitied him. We trust the blessed Spirit taught him what he was; and that we have cause to hope that his repentance was sincere. With tears he requested me very often to pardon him, and to permit him to attend the Church. I refused to do so. He sat at the door of the Church for several months, although many, observing his deep penitence, begged of me to pardon him. Thankful for the wonderful mercy he had received from the Lord, I did at length permit him to enter the Church, and afterward to come to the Lord's table. Before his fall he was self-righteous; which had obliged me to speak to him often, and to tell him plainly that he was in a dangerous position. He did not seem to understand me, or rather thought that I was mistaken. But I trust the Lord has overruled his fall for good, and taught him what he really was, granting him grace for sincere repentance; which was not, alas! the case with his unhappy son. I have a number of other instances, which compel me to wonder and to adore that Divine compassion with which the Lord, as a good Shepherd, seeks out the lost sheep of every class, showing that the souls of the rich and of the poor are of equal value in His sight.

Grounds of Encouragement.

The latest accounts which have been received are of a more encouraging complexion. Mr. Schaffter writes, January 1, 1849—

You will be pleased to see, by the half-yearly returns of this district, that there has been an increase in nearly every department of the Mission since last June. This, joined to the circumstance that with one or two slight exceptions we have enjoyed peace and quietness, seems to indicate that the late unfavourable reaction is now fully over, and that the balance is again inclining in our favour.

There are also some cheering instances in which the cause of the Gospel is gaining new ground, and hopeful Converts have been brought under Christian instruction. The Rev. E. Newman describes such an instance in his Journal, March 1848—

While at Alvarneri, twenty men came from a heathen village called Malakullam, stating that they, together with their wives and children, and other inhabitants of that place, amounting in all to nearly 200, were desirous of becoming Christians. The reason assigned for this apparently sudden change was, that they had learned something of Christianity from their relatives at Alvarneri, and, being convinced of its truth, they had all determined to embrace it. This declaration, so unexpected, was very encouraging; but as the profession of the Natives of this country cannot always be relied on—it not unfrequently happening, when a large body of persons come over together, that they have some secular object which they hope to obtain by doing so—I did not at once consent to receive them.

I dismissed the men without giving them any definite answer; but, after their departure, directed the Assistant Inspecting Catechist to wait a few days, and then go to the village, and endeavour to discover their real object in coming. He having done so, and reported that there did not appear to be any dispute or any secular cause, and that the people had destroyed all their idols, I this evening rode over to the village. On reaching it, accompanied by the Headman and others I visited their different devil-temples. The idols had been everywhere dethroned, and most of them demolished. We returned to a shed which they had erected as a temporary prayer-house. Here, all the men and most of the women being assembled, I inquired if they all, as with one mind, would embrace Christianity. To this they replied in the affirmative. It was next proposed that they should deliver over to me all their images, dolls, cloths, &c., used in devil-dancing, which was immediately done. After other promises—among which were, that they would observe the Lord's-day, attend Divine Service, learn regularly, and send their children to School, if I would give them a Teacher—they all sat down, and I addressed them briefly respecting the One True God, the creation of the world, the introduction of sin and man's consequent condemnation, his subsequent redemption by the blood of Christ, and the free offer of salvation which God now makes to all those who truly repent, and believe the Gospel,

Whether they will continue firm in their profession is of course doubtful. Most probably some will return to their old ways; but should they all ultimately forsake us, the demolition of their idols is surely a point gained, as it must shake their confidence in gods who cannot help themselves. Who can tell but the truths which they have now been hearing may be blessed to some poor hearer, and hereafter produce fruit to the glory of our God? Now is the time to sow the good seed. May the soil be prepared by the Holy Spirit from on high, and we have grace and strength given us to labour while it is called to-day!

A few instances may be given of the power of the Gospel over the hearts of the Converts. The Rev. John Dewasagayam thus describes the death of an old Christian—

Sept. 30, 1848: Lord's-day.—An hour before the Morning Service Abraham fell asleep in Jesus, and entered into his eternal rest. He was a real Christian, and his end was peace. His two sons, one of whom is one of my Schoolmasters, and a pious man, did him what service they could during his illness, by reading to him the Holy Scriptures and books of devotion. He found the example of Job particularly useful. His patience, his resignation, his trust in the merits of our Saviour, his longing for the time of his departure out of this world, and of his entrance upon the enjoyment of rest, were evident to many who visited him. In the evening I performed his Burial Service, which was attended by many of our people of both sexes, and also by many of the neighbouring heathen. I spoke to them freely about Abraham, who had shone as a light among them. He was one of the first settlers in this village—Kadatchapuram. When I administered the Lord's Supper after the Morning Service, I also spoke a few words to my Communicants about our dear Christian brother, who had been with us the last month, but was now gone to his rest. It was a sweet recollection to us, that one of our body had left us that very day for the presence of his blessed Saviour, and was then adoring Him in the midst of saints and angels.

On another occasion the same Missionary reports, March 10, 1848—

I have the pleasure to inform you that a number of women of family, with several pious wives of the Catechists at their head, commenced, on New Year's-day, a meeting which they call "Mothers' Meeting," to pray for their children; and have resolved to have this Meeting twice a month. My wife has presided at it, and been much affected with witnessing the anxiety of the mothers for their children. I could not help hearing it from my wife with tears of joy.

Mr. Newman thus describes the death of a Convert in his district—

About two years ago, a man residing at Paykullam, 'a heathen village adjoining Asirvathapuram, put himself, together with his family, under Christian instruction, all his other relatives still remaining heathen. For a year and a half he continued, without any great exertions being made by his friends to reclaim him to the ranks of heathenism. At the end of that period his health began to decline, and his relatives and neighbours became urgent in their entreaties that he would sacrifice to the devil, as nothing but that could restore him. He refused. The disease increased: still he steadily refused to listen to these attempts to draw him from the Truth; and a few days since, finding his end approaching, he called his son, a lad of about fifteen years of age, and demanded of him whether it was his intention to remain a Christian, or to return to heathenism, after his death. The son answered that he was determined to continue a Christian. His father replied, "Thou art a wise fellow;" and further expressed the hope that he would continue firm. The dying man next sent for his wife, who appears to have had some lingering desires for idolatry. After exhorting her not to return to heathenism, he made her swear that she would continue in the Christian religion. He soon after breathed his last, I would hope in reliance on Christ as his Saviour, and, contrary to the wishes of his heathen relatives, received Christian burial.

Education.

The Native-English School at Palamcottah has been conducted as in former years, greatly to the satisfaction of the Missionaries, by Mr. W. Cruickshanks; and continues to exercise an important influence upon a class of the heathen population at the town of Palamcottah, who can seldom be brought within the sphere of the labours of the Missionaries.

The Seminary at Palamcottah is designed to be a nursery for the Institution for training Native Teachers. It has been placed under the charge of the Rev. W. Clark, who arrived in India last year. The number of pupils was 41. The School having been long left without a Superintendant, and Mr. Clark having so recently entered upon his charge, he is not able as yet to make a full report of the state and prospects of the School.

The Institution for training Native Catechists for the efficient discharge of spiritual duties has been conducted at Suviseshapooram by the Rev. E. Sargent, as Acting Principal until the Rev. G. Pettitt's return to India. The number has been necessarily limited, under present circumstances, to seven or eight. In a Report dated July 1848, Mr. Sargent notices the difficulties with which he has to contend in communicating information to the students through the medium of Tamul, from the paucity of books in that language. The tutor has to dictate every comment on Scripture, and all information upon subjects of church and general history, and in almost every other branch of study. The Report concludes with the following candid and sensible remark—idea of the prospects of the Institution as it now is. If you want men, some to be ordained in the course of a couple of years or so, others to fill, first of all, the office of Inspecting Catechist; if you require these men to have a fair knowledge of the Word of God, its evidences, its doctrines, a general knowledge of history and geography; if you expect them to be able to read the Bible in English, and other easy books; if you require men under the influence of sound principle, men fearing God, humble, and devoted to His work—the Committee will not, I trust, be disappointed in the men as a body who are now being educated. But if you expect that they will attain to any proficiency in the abstract sciences, or in the dead languages, or even in English beyond what I have mentioned, then these are not the men for your purpose, nor is the agency which you have appointed able to accomplish it.

Suffer me to be plain in conveying to the Committee a distinct

Female Normal School—This important branch of the Mission has been carried on with great efficiency by Miss Giberne at Kadatchapuram; but the Committee regret to state that the failure of her health has obliged her to return to England. They hope to be able shortly to supply her place.

An examination of the School took place at Midsummer 1848, by four of the Missionaries of the district. The Rev. E. Sargent thus sums up the result of the examination—

To the Examiners—who were able to compare what they there witnessed with what they knew to be the state of heathen girls, and even of Christian girls who have not the opportunity of being educated—there was much that presented itself as a legitimate ground for rejoicing; and this demands our gratitude to God, who has thus far prospered the work of His servant. Taking all things into consideration—the efficient agency by which the School is being conducted, the increasing desire on the part of the native females after education, and the prayerful interest which we are persuaded many Christian friends take in the progress of this Institution—we feel fully warranted in expecting great things compared with what we have as yet experienced in these parts; not only with reference to the progress of knowledge, but of that which is of far greater importance, the formation of character on Christian principles.

At the close of the year Miss Giberne was able to make a satisfactory report of the state of the School, which contained 26 Normal and 35 Infant-school children. She reports—

The longer I labour here, and the more the Schools improve, the more I seem to have faults to correct. Nevertheless, when I look back a few years, to the time when the Normal School was established, and recollect the unruly girls of fifteen or sixteen years of age whom I had then to break in; and see around me now well-behaved girls of the same age setting the younger ones an example of neatness, obedience, diligence, and order, to which their Teachers have scarcely attained; I am both surprised and thankful, and can only say, "What hath God wrought!" It is a great labour to look into every little matter myself, which teachers and servants would do in England; but it is quite necessary, and I sometimes feel that I am repaid for it. Of course there is great room for improvement; and it is only on looking back some years that I can see so great a change.

The Press.

The press has been put into a state of efficiency by Mr. Bensley, the Superintendant, and is reported to be in full employment; but no account has been yet received of the works which have been issued.

TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN.

The Rev. J. Peet returned in the course of the ~~last~~ year to resume his labours in this Mission.

COTTAYAM.

Cottayam College.

This important Institution has been carried on as in former years, under the able superintendence of the Rev. J. Chapman, assisted by Mr. Thomas Spratt. No marked events have been recorded.

Cottayam Village District.

Our venerable and faithful Missionary, the Rev. B. Bailey, still continues to labour at this Station, as far as his strength will allow and his time can be spared from the completion of his important work, the English and Malayalim Dictionary. When this work shall have been published, Mr. Bailey will have laid a foundation for the labours of future Missionaries, as well by his version of the Holy Scriptures, as by the facilities which he has given to the study of the native language, of which the fruit will appear long after his personal labours shall have been closed.

At Cottayam village there is a Normal Female School, superintended by Mrs. Johnson, widow of our late Missionary, the Rev. J. Johnson. The following interesting account of the School is given by Mrs. Johnson's father, the Rev. H. Baker, Oct. 20, 1848—

Being lately on a visit at Cottayam, I was requested to examine Mrs. Johnson's Girls'-school, and to make my report to you regarding it. The School consists of 43 girls. In the first class there are eight, of from nine to fourteen years of age. These I examined in their reading of the Holy Scriptures, in Watts' Scripture History, Geography, and smaller Catechisms. The children all appeared healthy and happy, and seemed to look up to Mrs. Johnson as their best earthly friend. She spoke of their general conduct as being good; and of several, in particular, she said she hoped their minds were under the influence of the saving grace of the Gospel. From the several encouraging circumstances she related I think there can be little doubt of it. I assure you it rejoiced my heart to see a daughter of mine so well employed, in so holy and so good a cause; and to behold so goodly a prospect before her of an abundant harvest in due time. And it is encouraging to know that the Girls'-schools in the other Missions are in like measure promising. Gracious fruits have already appeared to reward the toil of those who labour, and to encourage those who contribute to our funds, and pray for the Divine blessing on us and ours.

Cottayam and Pallam District.

This District has been under the charge of the Rev. H. Baker, jun. In a Letter dated Aug. 14, 1848, he gives the following sketch of his labours—

My several returns will show you that we have not lost ground for the last ten months. I would fain hope that we have secured the positions gained. The great evil I have to complain of is a want of principle, not only in religion and morals, but in the whole tenor of native life and action.

At Collatta, where several families had joined the Mission, Mr. Baker placed a pious Native Catechist, to superintend them more effectually. The result was, that some of the families withdrew, on the plea that their own way to heaven was "easier" than that which the Missionary inculcated. Mr. Baker continues—

My Readers and one Assistant continue teaching. They come to me on Monday for instruction, and read a copy of their Sermons of the preceding day. I hope that these men are progressing in their Christian character and experience. The other Assistant I have suspended, and shall, I fear, have eventually to dismiss him on account of his "worldly-wise" disposition.

I have baptized 35 individuals belonging to Changnacherry and Pallam. They had been under instruction above a year, and were enabled to give reasons for the faith they were about to profess. They had been Chogans. Two I had rescued from slavery very accidentally. After baptism, eight couples were married. I have had every reason to be satisfied with their after conduct. Persecution has been employed against them, and money offered them: but they are as yet stedfast.

I made some journeys lately into the more remote part of the Station; and have been much cheered with the prospects of usefulness before me. One of these was to some small colonies of poor Heathen living in the mountains east of Pallam. They are called Hill Araans, and live by cultivation. The Sircar requires each individual to furnish a certain quantity of wax and honey, and also to assist in catching wild elephants: they are otherwise free, not even paying the land-tax. I had had repeated applications from the Headmen of these people, living in five different hills; asking for Schools, instruction in religion, and protection against some powerful neighbours, who sadly oppress them. My object was to find whether the protection required had not suggested the request for Schools. In some measure I think this was the case; but when one of them, the head of thirty-two families, said, "Sir, we worship our ancestors, beside other gods of the Nairs, &c.; we know nothing aright; will you teach us, or not?" and when another said, "The cholera last year, and the fever this spring, killed all but two of my relations: they died like beasts, and we buried them like dogs. Ought you to neglect us?" could I do otherwise than promise to teach them, as far as practicable? They all live in the Pallam District, in dense jungles, generally on steep mountains, and all agreed in one request—for instruction and protection. They stated that they wanted no pecuniary help, as their hill sides gave them abundance of rice. All they wished was to know how to serve God aright, and to be obliged to render obedience to no other than the proper Sircar officers. About 500 individuals are willing at once to come under instruction, and offer, as a proof of sincerity, to make over all their houses and land to the Society.

MAVELICARE.

This District has been under the care of the Rev. J. Hawksworth, assisted by the two Native Ordained Ministers, the Rev. George Matthan and the Rev. Jacob Chundy. The Rev. J. Peet, upon his return from his visit to England, resumed the superintendence of the Mission.

Report by the Rev. J. Hawksworth.

The Rev. J. Hawksworth reports respecting the District, July 21, 1848—

The visible success of this Mission during the past half-year has been almost exclusively among the Heathen. Of these, ten men, six women, and thirty-one children, have received baptism; and, by their quiet, consistent conduct, have continued to adorn the doctrine of their Saviour. Most of them are from our last-formed Outstation at Krishnapuram. Their constant attendance at Church, some coming ten and others fourteen miles, has been very gratifying. At the same time the great distance, and the increase in their numbers, have made it very desirable that they should have a Chapel erected for them. Toward this object they have offered to subscribe according to their power; and a respectable Syrian, residing in the neighbourhood of the most distant of these converts, came here last week for the purpose of making over one of his compounds as a free gift to the Mission, on the understanding that a Place of Worship be erected thereon. The document transferring the ground was duly drawn out and signed in the presence of witnesses. The site being the best in that neighbourhood, I offered to purchase the ground; but the man refused to sell it, declaring that he came purposely to give it freely for the cause of Messiah. I had only seen the Syrian once before. We then met at the house of a heathen convert, and conversed on the difference between vital godliness and the "form of godliness" without the power.

During the past half-year I have visited the Mallapalli Out-Station three times. It enjoys the benefit of a resident Minister, the Rev. G. Matthan. The regular attendance at Church has increased; the Schools are getting on well; and until recently the Congregation has been preserved from oppression. The distance of this Out-Station prevents my visiting it frequently; but it always gives me great pleasure to see our people there. They are warm-hearted mountaineers, and I am persuaded many among them know and love the Truth.

ALLEPIE.

Failure of the Rev. H. Baker's Health.

The Rev. H. Baker continued his labours at this Station until compelled, by the failure of his health, to resign the charge, after an unusual length of Missionary labour in South India. The arrangements for the supply of Mr. Baker's place have not yet been completed. The Rev. E. Johnson has entered upon the duties of the Station. A letter from Mrs. Baker, dated November 16, 1848, gives an affecting account of their departure from the Station—

On the 9th of this month we left Allepie, where we have been stationed for nearly three years, during which time we have become deeply attached to the people, and they to us. I need not tell you with what regret we bade farewell to the dear children in the Schools, especially to those in the East-Indian Day-schools. They all wept most bitterly at parting. The day before we left, two of the elder girls were married. I sincerely hope they will prove, by God's blessing, useful and worthy members of the Congregation at Allepie, and that the instruction we have given them may not be in vain.

TRICHIOOR.

Encouraging Account of a recent Convert.

In the Report of this district last year, it was stated that the Rev. H. Harley had admitted many Heathen to baptism. The particulars of one case have been since received, and prove it to have been an important accession to the Christian Church. It was that of a Nambouri Brahmin, with his wife and an infant son. The Brahmin is of the highest caste, being a Nambouri Paad, and he had been for two years under Christian instruction. At length he sacrificed his property, and gave up all in order to embrace "the truth as it is in Jesus." His wife is a woman of great piety and good sense, able to read Malayalim with the greatest fluency, and even difficult works in that language, which few heathen females are able to do. The Brahmin was named Cornelius, and his wife Cornelia. The fact of a high-caste Brahmin having come over to the Christian religion has tended, in some measure, to lessen the prejudices which previously existed in the minds of the Heathen toward Christianity.

Many months after the conversion of this person, Mr. Harley visited the village in which he had resided. There he found that his sons had inherited his property, that they had burnt their father in effigy, and would not acknowledge the relationship which existed between them.

Further Encouragements at this Station.

At several villages in the neighbourhood of Trichoor Mr. Harley has preached with much encouragement.

Many of the Roman Catholics have been very anxious to have copies of the Gospel to read, and some among them were so urgent that they requested the Reader to lend them his for a short time. Mr. Harley had the satisfaction of thus introducing many copies into circulation in the neighbourhood. The following extract from a Letter dated Jan. 2, 1849, will show how rapidly the work has advanced among the Roman-Catholic population—

I informed you in my last of the Roman Catholics at Moolicherry, in the Yenamarkal district, wishing to join us; and we have now 326 souls who have come over to the Protestant faith. They are firm and stedfast. I have been preaching in this place for several days, and on Lord's-days there is no place sufficiently large to hold the Congregation. We have resolved to build a Church here, and the people have given ground for the purpose. The erection of a Church will, however, take some time; and until this is finished it is absolutely necessary to build a place for the people to assemble in.

The Lord in His mercy has made a very important opening for us. We have now, in connexion with this Mission, nearly 600 souls, and I expect that we shall have a very important addition to this number in a few months. The Reader whom I propose to place at Moolicherry is a good man: I would not employ any but spiritual agency.

TELUGU MISSION.

MASULIPATAM.

The Missionary Agents are the same as last year. The work is of the same character. The two small Native-Christian Congregations, Tamul and Telugu, have received some addition, and now number 79 individuals.

A very painful case of apostasy has occurred, in the very first convert baptized in the Mission, in 1844. He was a young man who for three years was remarkable for his industry, carefulness, and honesty, and his diligent study of the Bible; but he afterward gradually relapsed into sin, and into heathenish practices.

Labours among the Heathen.

The Rev. J. E. Sharkey reports upon this subject—

With reference to street-preaching we have nothing new to communicate. Till lately, it was our practice, in our conversations with the adult population of this town, to begin with a description of the utter depravity of man; then to state the holy character of God—how His infinite justice, without adequate atonement, was prepared to doom sinners to eternal misery; and then to introduce the doctrine of the Cross. But now we begin with Christ, and make the Cross the centre of every other doctrine. It is, I trust, our humble and prayerful desire to go to the Heathen with a sense of our weakness and foolishness, remembering that the Lord is our wisdom and strength to put to silence the wisdom of this world, and to add to the Church such as shall be saved. We continue to be received with civility, and at times with much attention.

The following are specimens of the mode in which the Missionaries are sometimes received in their visits to the villages, in their Missionary tours. The attention excited by their visits in some places, and the organized opposition which exists in others, alike prove that their labours are beginning to tell upon the people. Mr. Sharkey reports—

Jan. 13, 1848—This morning we walked to inspect a neighbouring village. On our return to our tent, we saw advancing toward us quite a cloud of people. Led by some of the chief men of the village, a hundred or more of the villagers called to know our errand. At our request they all sat on the ground—some of the more respectable on palmyra mats which we spread out for them. Finding them all so well-behaved and respectful, I addressed them for a full hour on the main points of our religion. I was listened to with some attention, and without a single objection. Several then received Tracts from us, and all dispersed in good order. We were asked several questions, prompted, we were sure, by something more than that idle curiosity for which the Hindus are remarkable. We were asked if the Government paid us our salary; if it assisted us in any way to undertake our Missionary tours, and to secure a hearing from the people of each village.

In the evening we visited two villages. In the first, Coduru, we met with a somewhat ungracious reception. . . . We were soon salaamed by one of the Zemindar's Peons, who informed us that some of the Brahmins of the village had been to Madras, and that they had brought back with them the strong feeling against Christianity which the heathen community there cherished. He further told us that the village had received instructions from Madras, strongly cautioning the people against affording the Christian Missionaries the remotest encouragement.

Jan. 18—At my tent, on my return from Pramaru, I had a conversation with half-a-dozen attentive listeners. The question, as it was this evening, has often been put to me, "What, then, are we to do?" Whenever I hear it, it is with feelings of mingled joy and sorrow; of joy, that they were stirred; of sorrow, that, like the young man whom our Lord loved, they went away not willing to part with their false refuges and hopes.

Education.

There is a large English School, containing above 70 scholars, and two smaller Vernacular Schools—one for boys, the other for girls. The Rev. R. T. Noble writes, Oct. 10, 1848—

Our last examination—in May—was, I think, one of the most satisfactory, and by far the best attended, of all we have ever yet held. There are still a very considerable number of expectants for the vacancies in the lower classes.

At the latest date, March 9, 1849, he reports—

There never has hitherto been such a growing daily demand as now for admission into our English School.

Appeal for Prayer at Home.

Mr. Noble, in his Letter of Oct. 10, 1848, makes the following affecting appeal for the prayers of Christians at home—

I know that you do not think our work easy; but still, few indeed have any idea of its difficulty. Of all men, none are so exposed, none so beset, as the Missionary. I do believe he is the very butt of all Apollyon's fiery darts. But why so much on this subject? Only that it may move your prayers and those of others for us, that we may do battle manfully for the Lord, and in His spirit. To teach and to preach are comparatively easy; to buy, and to build houses and bridges, easier still; but to be holy, to be spiritual, to have no idols, to live unto and on Christ, how hard a work; but oh! how glorious.*

Trials in this Mission.

LAST year we had the satisfaction of reporting, that the effective force of the Mission had been increased by the arrival from England of the Rev. J. T. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston, and the Rev. I. Wood, while Mr. H. Collins had been admitted to Deacons' Orders. We regret to say that our expectations of witnessing a commencement and persevering continuance of energetic effort, for the good of the people of Ceylon, have been disappointed. The Mission is again reduced to a crippled state. Mrs. O'Neill, whose qualifications for the service to which she had devoted herself were of no ordinary character, has been removed by death; and Mr. Johnston has been constrained to leave Chundicully, in order to accompany to England Mrs. Johnston, whose state of health precluded the possibility of her remaining in Ceylon. The ill health of Mr. Collins has rendered it necessary, in the opinion of his medical advisers, that he should cease altogether from Missionary work; the Rev. F. W. Taylor, on account of Mrs. Taylor's continued illness, is on his way, with his family, to England; and the Rev. J. F. Haslam has been compelled to spend much time at Nuwera Ellia, chiefly on account of the protracted illness of Mrs. Haslam and one of the children.

Under these painful circumstances, Mr. Wood has been transferred from Baddagame to Cotta, to assist in the duties of that Station during Mr. Haslam's absence; while the Rev. R. Bren and the Rev. G. Parsons have been assigned by the Committee to the Ceylon Mission in its present state of urgent need, and are expected to sail from this country shortly.

COTTA.

The Christian Institution.

There are now in the Institution eighteen youths, varying in age from fifteen to nineteen years. Mr. Haslam's absence through ill health, and his labours in the revised Singalese Version of the Scriptures, have prevented his devoting the time and attention to the pupils which he has done in former years. The Rev. A. D. Gordon, Mr. Haslam's Assistant, writes, in a Letter dated Sept. 15, 1848—

There are now five whom we are training specifically for Catechists, providing them with a knowledge, through the English language, of Scripture History and Antiquities, Evidences of Christianity, Ecclesiastical History, &c.

The state of the Institution generally is reported as encouraging, but no particular events have occurred.

Congregations.

At the Cotta Mission Church the Services have been continued as usual. The average number of attendants has been 155, including children. The present situation of this Church being very inconvenient, as regards the mass of the people, it has been determined to erect another Church in a more eligible site.

The whole field of labour connected with this Station has been divided among the European Missionaries. These districts have been again subdivided, so as to place the different villages under the special charge of the different Native Catechists. This plan will soon, it is hoped, be further perfected by the residence of the Catechists in their several districts, for the constant superintendence of the people and the Schools. Such a system, under a vigilant European superintendence, has been always found the most effectual for the religious improvement of the people.

The Report of the Cotta Station for the year ending December 1848 states—

There are nineteen Congregations assembling every Sunday at the out-villages connected with the Station. The average attendance at the whole of them, during the past year, has been 1185, including children. We believe that in most, if not all, of these Out-Congregations, we can observe an improvement as regards regularity of attendance, as well as orderly behaviour and apparent attention to the Service. We have, however, much difficulty in keeping the members of our Congregations separate from heathenism. There are still too many of them, who, we have reason to fear, do not feel the necessity of entirely abstaining from the superstitions of Buddhism and devil-worship, which they see continually practised around them. Many, even of those whom we hope are not altogether insincere in their profession of Christianity, are yet too weak in the faith to stand firm against the persuasions of their relatives and friends, who invite them to join or assist them in heathen ceremonies. We have frequently great difficulty in getting at the truth with regard to these matters, and consequently in enforcing that discipline among our several Congregations which the nature of the case so urgently demands. Yet we think we have reason to hope that, compared with their state some years ago, our Congregations are improved also in this most important matter, and that there are now more than formerly there were—though the number is still but small—who feel, at least to some extent, the necessity of keeping themselves separate from heathen abominations.

The present number of Communicants is seventy. During the past year 266 children and eighty-four adults have received Christian baptism in the different Congregations connected with this Station. The infants who have been baptized were all the children of regular attendants on our Services. The adults were chiefly, if not all, persons who, though professing Christianity, had not been baptized in their infancy; and they were all required to attend regular instruction in the truths of Christianity for some considerable time previous to their baptism. We have much pleasure in being able to state, that several of those who have received adult baptism not only remain with us, but are the most steady and satisfactory of our people, and have shown a wish to obtain further instruction, with a view to their receiving the rite of Confirmation.

Opening of three Out-station Churches.

In the last Report mention was made of the commencement of a new Church in one of the villages, called Yakbadda. The opening of this Church is thus described in a Letter from the Bishop of Colombo, dated Jan. 15, 1848—

We yesterday opened the first of the new Churches—for I hope it will be only the first—in connexion with the Cotta Mission, built from the fund which originated with Mr. Trimnell. The Church is about four or five miles from Colombo, and three from Cotta, and is situated in a picturesque spot on the summit of a hill, in the midst of an inhabited jungle, the inhabitants of the village being almost all Christians. It is in the district of Wellicaddē, in which is situated the Colombo jail, served every Lord's-day from your Mission; and the village of Yakbadda (or Devil's Jungle) has been long gained, we hope, from his kingdom whose profane name it bears, and has been one of the Out-Stations of Cotta, with a School and Weekly Service, for some time. The Missionaries met me, and were almost all there; and the Sermon which I preached was interpreted for me by your estimable Native Assistant, Mr. Senanayaka. The little Church was quite full, and being an eventful day for the Natives of so quiet a village, it seemed to awaken a lively interest among them. The Patriarch or Headman was introduced to me by Mr. Haslam. He is a faithful and pious old man. He gave the ground himself; and having formerly built the School, and now witnessed the completion of the Church, expressed himself quite happy, "at the end of his days, to walk to heaven." There is something deeply awakening and comforting in witnessing the full simplicity of faith of one who, having early been brought to see the light, has walked consistently and trustfully "even to the end." Beginning with the School, he has now helped to complete the Church—a light set on his native hill to give light and blessing, we trust, for ever to all around.

The buildings hitherto used for Divine Service have been open School-bungalows, low buildings with a dwarf mud wall, covered with a thatch of cocoa-nut leaves called cadjan. The desire to have more appropriate buildings erected is very general in the Out-Stations, and may be regarded as an encouraging sign of increasing interest in religion, and a pledge of the permanency of the work. A second Church has been built at Kalapaluwana, a village in Mr. Haslam's district, where they have had a School and Congregation for the last ten years. The Natives freely and gladly contributed to it in different ways—more in ground, materials, labour, &c., than in money, of which in some retired districts they make but little use, their dealings with each other being more frequently by barter than in coin. It was opened for Divine Service on the 18th of September by the Bishop of the Diocese. The Cotta Missionaries, in their Annual Report, write—

We are glad to be able to state, that the completion of this little Church has been followed by a considerable increase in the number of regular attendants.

At another village, Borella, in Mr. Gordon's district, a Place of Worship has been built, which is well attended. At two other villages ground has been given, materials promised, and subscriptions are being made; and at Nawala, a village within daily access of the Mission premises, and containing the earliest Congregation of the Cotta Mission, a Meeting was held with a similar object in view. Resolutions were moved and seconded by various Members of the Congregation. One of them said—

It is but just and right that the Church Missionary Society should expect that we should exert ourselves for the continuance of our Christian privileges, as a proof of our having been benefited by the instructions imparted, and also as a test of our religion being somewhat practical; and if we have derived any benefit from Christian instruction—if Christianity has any influence on our minds—it is just as impossible for us not to do these things, as for a good tree not to bring forth good fruit.

Education.

Beside Vernacular Schools at this Station there is an English School, which is an important branch of Missionary work. It has been thought right to draw a distinction between this School and the Vernacular Schools, in which latter the instruction is altogether gratuitous. The present Superintendent therefore has demanded a small fee of 4*d.* per month from each pupil, to be paid for the future in advance. It is gratifying to know that the advantages of the School have been so far valued, that the payment has been for the most part cheerfully made, although it has slightly affected the number of the scholars. The number of pupils is sixty-four. The most promising of the boys are received from this School into the Institution on probation. There are now five ready for admission.

The number of Out-schools connected with this Station is now 26, of which 15 are Boys' Schools, and 11 Girls' Schools. The average attendance amounts to 353 boys and 135 girls. The want of better qualified Schoolmasters is greatly felt by the Missionaries.

KANDY.

The Rev. W. Oakley, assisted by the Native Missionary the Rev. C. Jayesinhe, continued in charge of this Station until Mr. Taylor's return to Europe, when he removed to Cotta to superintend the general business of the Society.

The Committee have long anxiously inquired for a Clergyman of some experience in the Church at home who might be appointed Secretary of the Corresponding Committee in Ceylon; and thus, among other advantages, relieve the Missionaries from the necessity of frequent removals from their Stations in order to discharge these duties.

Congregations.

There are at Kandy six regular Congregations, of which the principal is that which assembles at the Mission premises on the Lord's-day morning. The average attendance is about 100. There is also one held in Kandy jail, at which from 60 to 70 prisoners attend. Mr. Oakley reports—

The people who attend our Congregations on the Lord's-day are not merely Catechists, Schoolmasters, and others who are employed by us, or in some way connected with us, but chiefly those who are wholly independent of us.

Adult Baptisms—The Kandians.

Three Adult Baptisms have taken place during the past year. They were the descendants of nominal Christian parents, their baptism having been neglected in their infancy. There are, at present, five Candidates for Baptism. Two of them are Kandians; the other three, children of nominal Christian parents. Of the Kandians, one is a woman, who has been living for the last fifteen or twenty years with a Christian man, to whom she wishes, after her baptism, to be married according to the rites of the Christian Church. The other is a young man, the son of a Kandian Chief. He has been educated in the Government School in this town.

It is with much interest we notice the fact of individuals from among the Kandian population presenting themselves as Candidates for Baptism. By the name of "Kandians" are distinguished the inhabitants of the central provinces of Ceylon; a race not originally distinct from the Singhalese of the maritime parts, although differing considerably in appearance and customs. As objects of Missionary operation they have hitherto received but little attention, the labours of the Missionaries having been almost exclusively directed to the sojourners from the maritime provinces, who reside at Kandy and other places in the interior, and who are chiefly nominal Christians.

Opening of the Gatambe Church.

In the last Report there was a notice of the commencement of a new Mission Church at Gatambe. It was opened for Divine Service on the 1st of January 1848. In a Letter dated August 5, 1848, Mr. Oakley states—

The Congregation which assembles in the little Church every Sunday afternoon is, as nearly as possible, double what it was before the Church was erected. The Service is conducted on alternate Lord's-days by Mr. Jayesinhe and myself.

General View of the Station.

Mr. Oakley gives the following candid review of his Station in a Report at the close of the year 1848—

It is a cause of regret that so little of an interesting character is to be communicated; yet there are perhaps sufficient indications of improvement to justify the hope that our labours have not been in vain. The state of the different Congregations has been, on the whole, satisfactory. The average number of attendants has been considerably greater than last year. The state of the nominal Christian families in the town is, in many respects, better than in former years. Comparatively few families are now living without Christian marriage, and, with the exception of the Washer-people, but few children are left without Christian Baptism. In the Schools there has been a slight improvement; but the temptations to the older boys to engage in trade and business, are still too strong to be overcome by their present desires for intellectual improvement. The late disturbances in the interior for some time interfered both with our Congregations and Schools, many of the families in the town and neighbourhood having removed for a time to the maritime provinces; but they have since returned, and are now pursuing their several occupations as formerly.

BADDAGAME.

It will have been perceived that the late Reports from this Station of the Society have been far from encouraging. The apathy of the Singhalese, and their utter indifference to all spiritual religion, though they have been for the most part nominal Christians for generations past, have been very disheartening to the Missionaries; and lead the Committee to consider whether any new mode of carrying on the work may be adopted, or whether, indeed, the Society should any longer continue its expenditure, where its labours appear to be so little heeded, while in many other parts of the heathen world the people are thirsting for instruction, and calling upon the Society for fresh Labourers.

The Rev. C. Greenwood is assisted by the Rev. A. Goonesekera. At the close of the year 1848 Mr. Greenwood reports—

Congregations.

The register of Congregations shows that the number of adult attendances has been nearly stationary. Several have come, lately, who were not previously accustomed to do so. As, however, temporal advantages enter so largely into the calculations of the Singhalese, the feeling is rather of fear than of hope with respect to their continuance.

District Visiting has continued to be diligently carried on, throughout the period now under review, by the Native Clergyman and Catechists—the European Missionaries giving such time to it as their other duties rendered possible. Perhaps nothing can be more trying to patience and love than this branch of Missionary labour among the Singhalese, for the dry bones of the valley of vision could scarcely manifest greater indifference and unconcern, than the people around us do to our invitation and message. It is often with a heavy heart that the Christian Missionary returns home from his labour, casting in his mind what can be done for such a lifeless mass, and longing for the gift of that Spirit, which alone can make them feel or even think. Hopeless, however, or at least unsatisfactory, as is his work, with faith strong in the promises nothing can check his endeavours; for, believing that labour is his duty, he still perseveres—against hope, believing in hope.

Educational Department.

The Seminary continues to afford encouragement by the diligence and general conduct of the lads, the present number of whom is twelve.

The Girls' School has continued under the charge of Mrs. Greenwood, who daily spends some hours in it. Many of the girls have made very satisfactory progress in learning, and the acquaintance with Scripture truth, on the part of those of the higher classes, is very satisfactory. When last reported to you, the number on the books of this School was 70. In consequence, however, of an attempt to discontinue the custom of giving clothes twice a year, and to require a monthly payment of 1½*d.* from each child of the upper classes, and about 1*d.* from those of the lower ones, the number, in one month, fell from 83 to 30.

General Review.

On the whole, it is believed that Heathenism is losing ground among the surrounding population, and that that ground is being occupied by nominal Christianity; and so far there is ground for thankfulness and encouragement. But because the religion of most of these professing Christians is destitute of the vitality which genuine Christianity possesses, our work is in an unsatisfactory state; and—although the stranger meets with much to please, and even those who are acquainted with the real state of the work know of much to be thankful for—the painful conviction forces itself too frequently upon us, that the people look upon our residence among them only in the light of a worldly advantage.

CHUNDICULLY AND NELLORE.

Providential Trials at these Stations.

It is in this district that the chastening hand of the Lord has been most painfully stretched out. The Rev. J. T. Johnston, upon his return from England in Sept. 1847, resumed the charge of Chundicully, and the Rev. R. Pargiter proceeded to occupy a new Station at Copay. Upon Mr. Johnston's departure, Copay was necessarily left destitute, in order that the more important Station at Chundicully might be sustained. The Station of Nellore has suffered a severe loss in the death of Mrs. O'Neill.* In reference to these afflicting circumstances, our Missionaries thus commence their Report for the year 1848—

We have to prepare this Report with a dark cloud hanging over our prospects. All our fond expectations have been mysteriously blighted, and, according to human calculation, the interests of the Mission thrown into the background. Our spirits are damped, and our hopes disappointed; but we trust our love for the work is not diminished, nor our faith in the goodness of our Heavenly Father, and His promises with regard to the establishment of His kingdom, in the least degree lessened. These serve to remind us more fully that the work is the work of God—that He will have all the honour of it—and that He is able to carry it on in the inscrutable, but wise, arrangements of His Providence. Our hearts have been stricken, and we trust chastened, by these mysterious dealings, and we would feel that they are but the calls to more devotedness of life, more holiness of heart, and a more entire consecration of ourselves to the cause of Christ. The language of our Redeemer is more deeply impressed on our minds, that we must work “while it is called to-day, for the night cometh, when no man can work.” But amidst all these painful dispensations of Providence, the review of the past year is calculated to awaken feelings of gratitude in our hearts for the continuance of God's blessing, and for any degree of success which has been vouchsafed to our labours.

CHUNDICULLY.

Mr. Johnston was able to report a manifest progress in the attendance and attention of the Congregations during the brief period of his labours among them. The Out-schools were reduced in number, upon the principle that it is far better to maintain only such Schools as can be efficiently superintended, than to enlarge the number. Mr. Johnston reported favourably of the Seminary, to which he devoted a considerable part of his time and labour.

* Intelligence has arrived, since this Report was delivered, of the death of Mrs. Pargiter.

One little boy from the Seminary, who was confirmed by the Bishop, requested to be admitted to the Lord's Supper, and gave much satisfaction to Mr. Johnston by his intelligent and solid answers. Mr. Johnston writes—

He said he wished to receive it that he might receive food for his soul; and upon asking whether prayer and reading the Bible would not support us, he answered, "Yes; but the Lord's Supper was appointed by our Lord as a special medium for the communication of spiritual strength." Upon questioning his motives and desires, I asked him whether he, as others had done, might not by and by be sorry for having come, and might not change his mind, pointing out the awful consequences of such a course. To this the little boy replied, with a really sweet simplicity, "If the wish be given to me of God, Sir, He will not let it change." He is only fifteen years old, and is a truly prayerful boy, and has moreover, I believe, produced a good impression on his mother, who has latterly abandoned the temple, although formerly one of the most rigid. She has not, however, come out to our Services.

Activity of the Heathen.

A very remarkable change has of late taken place in the feelings of a portion of the heathen inhabitants, in reference to Christianity. In the place of indifference, a spirit of active opposition has been manifested. Some encouragement may be derived from this circumstance, in the hope that Christian instruction has begun to tell upon the people, and that Satan is alarmed for his kingdom. It is also always found more easy to gain the attention of the mass of the people when a stir is made, even by the opponents of the truth. At the same time, the tender principles of recent Converts will the more need the fostering care of Missionaries on the spot, and the prayers of Christians at home. Mr. Johnston thus writes—

You will wish to hear of the state and feelings of the Heathen. I never knew so great a spirit of activity. Certain young men are rising up, and endeavouring to revive the straitest sect of the Hindus. They have regular weekly Sermons in the principal temple at Jaffna, and unusual efforts are being made, not only defensively, but aggressively. The other night, a leader, in his address, urged upon all the duty of trying to restore to the faith of their forefathers those converted under the Missionaries. Two or three are regularly going through the Bible with a view to find out objectionable passages.

The Rev. J. O'Neill also thus refers to the same subject—

A direct opposition has lately been manifested against Christianity. Several of the principal persons have combined to prevent, if possible, attendance on Christian Worship, and, the better to secure their object, have agreed to impose a fine on any who should attend either at the Church, or any of the Out-Services at the School Bungalows. This, however, has not operated according to expectation ; and there is no doubt that this opposition will eventually turn to the furtherance of the Gospel. . . . Leading persons have succeeded in forming a kind of Society, for the avowed object of protecting their own system and opposing us. Exclusion from the ordinary means of recognising caste, in the event of refusal to be fined for attendance on our preaching, is one of the conditions of this clan, and it has had the effect of temporarily thwarting our efforts in this place. . . . The events of the past year have shown a disposition on the part of some to take away our Tamul Schools, and place them under a direct heathen training ; and they have actually commenced hostilities, by establishing a School at Kycolah in opposition to our own, and attempted a like annoyance by keeping up a small one just opposite the Mission-house at Nellore. This opposition has led to the necessary suspension, temporarily, of one School ; but the others have proceeded as usual.

Formation of a Native Missionary Society.

While the enemy is exciting the bigotry of the heathen in opposition to Christianity, it is peculiarly satisfactory to be able to report, on the other hand, a fresh manifestation of zeal on the part of the Native Christians. In a Letter dated June 3, 1848, Mr. Johnston reports—

A new Native Missionary Society has been formed by some of the members of my Congregation here, to which all connected with our Mission have joined themselves. It originated in the minds of two of the most respectable independent native members of my Church ; and as it is formed for the sole purpose of aiding the Missionary cause, by providing funds for the establishment of Schools, and the location of Teachers in districts now entirely neglected, I feel a deep interest in it. I think it is in this respect singular, as, beyond the statement of Christian duty in regard to the world at large, no express plan was laid down by me ; so that the credit of the conception is altogether due to the native members referred to. They held a Meeting last Thursday (Ascension Day) in an “upper room” of the house of the Modeliar at which formerly I held Meetings for religious worship. Mr. O'Neill, Mr. Arndt, the Colonial Chaplain, and I, with about fifty Natives and three or four burghers, were present. It was a very orderly and intelligent Meeting. All the proceedings were in English, and a decorum was observed which would have done credit to any Meeting in England. The sum of 36*l.* was subscribed in donations, beside about 3*l.* in monthly contributions. The analogy between this Meeting and that of the Disciples before the out-pouring of the Holy Spirit at the feast of Pentecost—in its place, time, and design—is striking. May it be watered by the fountain of all grace, and, though now but as the small mustard-seed, go on expanding and expanding, till, like some noble tree, it cover the ground with its branches! I hope it may prove an "Indian Church Missionary Society."

NELLORE AND COPAY.

Congregations.

The average number of attendants at Public Worship at Nellore remains the same as last year, about 200. The Missionaries write—

Though there has been no numerical increase during the year, yet it is evident, from our acquaintance and conversation with the people around the Station, that there is a feeling existing in the mind which is indicative of progress; and that the truth of Christianity, though not verbally expressed, is undoubtedly entertained by numbers, who, from their connexion and position in society, are prevented from openly professing it. There is evidently a preparatory work in progress.

No members have been admitted into the Church at Nellore by baptism. There are, however, some Candidates, who have been retained as such from a conviction that it is preferable to err on the side of caution, than to admit to the privileges of the Church without sufficient evidence as to fitness and character. The number of Communicants continues about the same as last year.

The number of Communicants at Copay has increased from 14 to 19. Five who were Candidates for Baptism, and who had given satisfaction, were admitted into the Church. Two of these were the wives of Schoolmasters, one of whom had been brought to embrace Christianity chiefly through the instrumentality of her son, who for some years has been one of the most hopeful persons employed in this Mission.

Preaching in the School Bungalows, at the different villages, has been attended to as in former years.

Education.

The average number of children in the Tamul Schools is between 500 and 600: of those in the English School, about 130. One of the most hopeful and important branches of education is the Female Seminary at Nellore. When it is remembered that such an Institution prepares Christian mothers for the rising generation, the following remarks of the Missionaries at this Station will not appear too strong for the occasion—

We reported of the Female Seminary, last year, as one of our most hopeful branches of labour; and further experience of the character of the people, and their real wants, only confirms and strengthens this conviction. It is, we believe, calculated to be of essential service to the Mission, and one of the chief means of raising the people, both morally and intellectually. It has been calculated, from experience and observation, by some of the oldest Missionaries in the Province, that the training of one female is, on the whole, equivalent in value to that of five boys; and we think future years will prove the truth and correctness of this remark.*

CHINA MISSION.

Mission Establishment :

4 Ordained European Missionaries.

Appointment of a Bishop for China.

THE Committee have to record, with unfeigned satisfaction and praise to God, that the Rev. George Smith, M.A., lately the Society's Missionary in China, has been appointed as first Bishop of the United Church of England and Ireland in China. The title will be taken from Victoria, in Hong Kong, which will be the seat of the Bishopric, and where a College will be shortly established, of which the Bishop will be the Principal.

The Bishop will, however, visit the other five Ports; and the Committee anticipate, under God, many and great advantages to their Mission from this auspicious event.

The three Missionaries whose departure was announced in the last Report, through the good providence of God arrived safely in China on the 17th of April 1848. After remaining a few weeks at Shanghai, Messrs. Cobbold and Russell proceeded to commence a new Station at Ningpo. Mr. Farmer remained at Shanghai.

The afflictive hand of God was, however, soon stretched over this infant Mission. Mr. Farmer's health had suffered as soon as he reached the tropics on the voyage. Soon after his arrival his illness increased. He was about to visit Ningpo for change of air; but the medical certificates allow little hope of his being able to remain in China.* Another Ordained Missionary, the Rev. J. Hobson, has been added to this Mission.

SHANGHAI.

The Rev. T. M'Clatchie has at length succeeded in obtaining, after many obstacles and disappointments, land for a Church and residence. The land for the Church is eligibly situated in the city, the land for the house in a healthy part of the suburbs. The building of the house has been commenced; but, as in every other incipient Mission, Mr. M'Clatchie laments the necessity of giving more time, than he can willingly spare, from his Missionary duties, to the superintendence of the workmen.

General Missionary Operations.

In the mean time Mr. M'Clatchie continues to hold his Service in his present residence, where the room is generally well filled with attentive hearers. The Rev. W. Farmer thus describes the Service, in a Letter dated June 30, 1848.

Mr. M'Clatchie both converses and preaches in Chinese with the greatest apparent ease and fluency. He has also written Tracts and translations in it, which are highly commended by those competent to judge. It seems a great pity that he has not a larger Place of Worship, and situated in a less secluded position than his present one. I trust, however, that this will soon be provided. The people who attend the Service appear to listen as if they understood what was said, and altogether conduct themselves with much propriety and decorum. They never comment at the time on what is said, but speak afterward about it. Some of those, who seemed to manifest much anxiety about their souls, turned out to be opium-smokers; and, when called on to test their sincerity by giving it up, declared that, although most anxious to do so, it was quite impossible. So here we find, that where there is no caste, as in India, and no love of ardent spirits, as in many other parts of the world, to prove a bar to the reception of the Gospel, Satan has sufficiently accomplished his object by means of this poisonous and intoxicating drug. "The Lord," however, "knoweth them that are His," and, in His own good time, He will make His Word effectual for the calling out a people for His name from the millions of China.

Mr. M'Clatchie has prepared and printed a Tract in Chinese, which is read by the Natives with much interest, and has been highly praised by many native scholars. The following is the history of its composition—

* Accounts have since been received that Mr. Farmer left China in March by the Steamer, and died on the passage.

My Teacher, a strong Confucianist, told me one day that several persons objected to the doctrines which I preached on Sundays. I made him write out the objections, and spent each evening with him in composing my answers. I carried on the controversy in this manner, until the Confucianist declared they had no more to say in favour of their doctrines. My Teacher declared that he gave up Confucius, and would henceforth follow Jesus. I had great hope concerning this young man; but how mysteriously does our God work! I was obliged to dismiss him the other day, in consequence of discovering that he is addicted to opium-smoking. This vile opium is the most formidable enemy we have to contend with in China.

Christian Inquirers.

No baptisms have yet taken place by Mr. M'Clatchie. He has rightly judged that peculiar caution is to be exercised in the first instance, lest the foundation of a Christian Church should be laid with unsound materials. The hasty baptisms of the Romanists are a standing warning to the Protestant Missionary. There may be, undoubtedly, danger on both sides; but the Committee trust that the probation interposed in this case, before baptism, will prove in the end a wise arrangement. Upon this subject Mr. M'Clatchie writes, March 18, 1848—

I have had several Inquirers during the past year. Two are, I trust, going on steadily, and anxious to learn the doctrines of Jesus. They desire very much to be baptized into His Church. I pray God to give them grace that they may be enabled to persevere stedfastly in their course. We feel our hands very much tied indeed without the Word of God. We cannot expect great results until we can put that blessed book into the hands of this people, to shine upon the path and thus to "guide their wandering feet into the ways of peace."

The following is a more detailed account of one of the Inquirers—

A man who lives in the neighbourhood called on me a few weeks ago, and handed me a paper, on which he had drawn up a request that he might be admitted into the Church. He gave me, in his paper, the title usually given to the Romish Priests, and mentioned his desire to enter "the religion of the Lord of Heaven." He stated that I had now been more than a year "exhorting men to be righteous," and that he was surprised that no one seemed at all affected by what I preached. He told me that in his family there were "three mouths," and that they all wished to know what they should do in order to qualify themselves for baptism; and that many in the neighbourhood were waiting to see whether he would be received, and intended, in such a case, also to apply for admission. I told him, in the first place, that our religion—which I always designate the religion of Jesus—was not the same as that of the Romanists; that we worshipped but one God, and considered the Virgin Mary merely in the light of a dead woman : we did not dare to give her those attributes which belonged to her Creator, nor to worship her. I explained to him that the qualifications for baptism are faith and repentance, and requested him to come as often as he pleased to my house, to study the doctrines of Jesus ; and said that if I saw sufficient evidence of his sincerity, I would be most happy to receive him into the Church of Jesus by baptism. He has, since then, attended Divine Service regularly, and we have had many conversations together, and also reading and prayer. We are now reading the Ten Commandments.

The course of study which I intend to pursue with any Inquirers whom the Lord may please to bless us with, will include the Ten Commandments, the Creed, and the Lord's Prayer. We all admire the beauty and scriptural nature of our Creeds ; but it is the Missionary alone, perhaps, who can fully estimate their value. Placed in the midst of a heathen people, some of whom may be anxious to learn the nature of Christianity, his first question naturally is, How shall I give these people, in the clearest manner, an epitome of the doctrines of Christianity ? Thanks be to God ! He has blessed our Church in the possession of Formularies by which we may in a few moments instruct inquirers in the principal truths of the Gospel ; and in this respect He has given us a considerable advantage over those who are either too proud or too ignorant to see and estimate the value of these portions of our Liturgy. The Commandments are designed to convince men of sin—the Creed teaches, in a few words, the doctrines of Christianity—and the Lord's Prayer supplies the wants of those who, feeling their lost and ruined state by nature, and believing on the Son of God, desire to know in what manner they may address the Throne of Grace, and obtain a rich supply of all their wants. As a preparation for prayer, I always commence my Service on Sundays by reading the Ten Commandments. I then charge every individual present with having broken them. I declare God's sentence against such, and proclaim that the only way in which they can escape is by obtaining pardon through the precious blood of Jesus. Then I invite all present to unite with me in praying for mercy through the blood of the Lamb, using, for that purpose, our beautiful "General Confession." How beautifully, after the conviction of our depravity has reached our heart, comes in the humble acknowledgment, "We have erred and strayed from Thy ways like lost sheep. We have left undone those things which we ought to have done, and we have done those things which we ought not to have done, and there is no health in us !" If it should only please the Spirit of the Lord to breathe on the hearts of those present, how earnestly, after such a confession as this, would the unanimous cry arise, "But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us miserable offenders !" Then should we see the work of the Lord prosper, and then would the voice of prayer and praise constitute the constant music of this now benighted and unhappy land.

Visit to a Company of Players.

it gives an interesting sketch of Chinese manners, will show also the readiness and candour with which the message of the Missionaries is received by the Chinese; and the confidence in their good-will with which the Missionaries are themselves inspired.

I met with an incident the other day, which shows how firmly Satan retains the souls of his slaves in his grasp, even where they have some desire to get free. As I was passing by a temple in this city, I heard the noise and beating of gongs, which always accompanies the performance of a play in honour of their gods. I entered, and, instead of going among the crowd, I ascended the stage, and went behind the scenes. In a moment I was surrounded by the manager, and those members of the company who were not engaged in acting. Wherever my eye rested, I beheld some grotesque figure. Here were men dressed like women, having small shoes attached to the soles of their own. There stood others dressed in the curious but rich costumes of the most ancient dynasties, even so far back as the time of the three kings and five emperors—the earliest period spoken of in Chinese history. Young men made old by long beards, &c.; women, priests, beggars, and high Mandarins; all came flocking round me, offering a seat, and some tea, and all very anxious to know who and what I was. Our conversation was somewhat as follows—“What’s your name?” “My name is ‘Mo.’” —“Where do you live?” “At the great south gate.” —“What business are you engaged in?” “None.” —“Indeed! how do you get some rice, then?” “My own countrymen present me with money.” —“Oh! then you are a beggar?” “Yes, living on the bounty of Jesus, who inclines the hearts of His people to send me here to teach the Chinese how they may be saved.” —“Ah! Jesus must be excellent. Who is He?” “The Son of God, who came down from heaven, led a life of sorrow, and was nailed to a cross, in order to atone for our sins, and to bring us to heaven.” Here several endeavoured to change the conversation; but he who was apparently the manager took me aside, made me sit down beside him, and, having commanded silence, said, “You speak about going to heaven.” “Yes, in order to enjoy everlasting happiness.” —“But how can we get there?” “By repenting of your sins and believing on Jesus.” —“Do all foreigners believe in Jesus?” “Alas, no! Many are mere professors.” —“Ah! strange! It must be good to believe in Jesus? Do foreigners smoke opium?” “No.” After some further conversation, I gave them some copies of the Ten Commandments, and took my leave, inviting them all to come to my house. The manager came to me after a few days had passed, and told me that he wished very much to be delivered from his slavery to opium. I asked him why he wished to be cured of opium-smoking. He answered, “Because it is too expensive.” I endeavoured to point out to him the insufficiency of such a motive, and told him that we should forsake our sins from love to Jesus. He seemed most anxious to get away from his enemy, but he could not summon up resolution enough to go and reside in an hospital for a short time, in order to be cured. He asked me, among other questions, whether, in case he should become a disciple of Jesus, he must also wear a foreign dress like mine. I told him that Jesus required a change of heart, not a change of dress, in His people. He several times expressed a wish to come frequently, and to be instructed previously to being baptized; but I could see plainly that he was halting between two opinions. After a long conversation he went away, and I have not seen him since.

NINGPO.

Messrs. Cobbold and Russell left Shanghai on the 12th of May by sea, and arrived at Ningpo on the 15th, where they met a kind and Christian welcome from the American Missionaries already labouring in that city. Under their advice they took up their abode in a Taouist temple, where there were vacant rooms which are frequently occupied by strangers. It was several months before they could procure another suitable residence. On the 25th of September they write—

We have succeeded in procuring a house within the city, situated advantageously, close to the great street which runs through the city from east to west. We have a very favourable opinion, from Dr. Macgowan, of the healthiness and general desirableness of the locality.

In a subsequent Letter—December 28, 1848—Mr. Cobbold writes—

The centre part of the house, on the ground floor, we are fitting up as a temporary Place of Worship. It will hold about fifty persons; and on the first Sunday in the new year we hope to commence a Public Service, either morning or afternoon, as we find most convenient. As we get stronger, we shall increase our Services.

Commencement of Direct Missionary Work.

On the 29th of January Mr. Cobbold was able to convey the happy intelligence that he had commenced a Public Service. The Committee regard it as a special cause of praise to God, that their Missionaries have been enabled so soon to qualify themselves for this work. Mr. Cobbold writes—

We commenced on the first Sunday of the year, and had a very good and orderly Congregation. Our order of Service is as follows—Short prayer, Ten Commandments, General Confession, and Lord's Prayer: this by one of us alternately. Then follow the Creed, Scripture, preaching. We accompany the reading of the Ten Commandments and Creed with observations explanatory of the meaning; for though we read these in the colloquial dialect, yet there are, of course, many things unintelligible to a heathen. This order of Service is sometimes somewhat interrupted, and must depend upon our Congregation. We can seat fifty, and there is standing-room for several more. Last Sunday we had quite a hundred, and all standing up, many of them through eagerness to hear. For myself I may say I have great encouragement in this Service, as well as in the study of the language generally. In an orderly discourse I have not any difficulty in making myself understood. One of our servants is very jealous over me; and if I say any thing that is not quite clear, I am sure to hear of it. This is a good thing, as I am thus able to detect my teacher when he puts in a little too much of the literary phraseology. I have two or three times read what he has given me, and been called to account for it by this servant.

Beside this Service, I endeavour, as I find opportunity, to declare the Gospel in the crowded places of the city and outskirts; but here my faith is very weak, and I need continually to be stirred up. It is so against the flesh and blood to go out among a bustling people, and endeavour to turn their thoughts away from perishing things to those which endure for ever. Here I need your prayers.

NEW-ZEALAND MISSION.

Mission Establishment :

17 Ordained European Missionaries.	311 Native Catechists, and other
10 European Catechists and Teachers.	Teachers of all classes.
3 European Female Teachers.	47 Native-Female Schoolmistresses.

Internal Management of the Mission.

THE Central Committee, to which allusion was made in our last Report, has been organized in New Zealand, consisting of the Bishop as President, and five of the Missionaries. Various important measures have been discussed, with a view to the increased efficiency of the Mission, and to an improved system of education for the Natives. It has been proposed to establish at the Waimate a Training Institution for Native Teachers. Such an Institution the Committee regard with deep interest, and trust that it may be speedily brought into effective operation, and that the Divine blessing may abundantly rest upon it. A Training Institution for Native Teachers is the crowning work of a prosperous Mission.

General View of the Mission.

In judging of the state of the New-Zealand Mission, it is important to bear in mind that the Missionaries have not been able for several past years to occupy any new ground: they have been only able to maintain the old Stations. Our Annual Reports cannot, therefore, present the record of the conversion of heathen tribes, but only the history of the progress of Christianity among a half-civilized people, who, a few years ago, received the Word with joy. Our Lord has forewarned us what to expect in such a case—A sower went out to sow his seed. The green blade soon clothes the whole tract of land; but after a time the withering influence of a stony soil, and the barrenness of the thorny ground, change the aspect of the field, and disappoint many a fair hope. We are now arrived at that period in the history of the New-Zealand Church.

Northern District.

General View.

Archdeacon Henry Williams, and the other Missionaries of the Society, occupy the same Stations in the Northern District as in the last Report. Some of these venerable men have now laboured for thirty or forty years, and they are no longer able to take the active part they once did in the instruction of the Natives. The unsettling effects of the late war appear to be gradually passing away, and the confidence of the Natives toward the Settlers is returning. The later Reports are of a more encouraging character than those of an earlier date in the period now under review. The Bishop of New Zealand has recorded this testimony in a lately-printed Journal—

It seems as if Providence had adapted our successive Governors to the course of events for the time being. Capt. Grey has made a good use of the allies whom Capt. Fitz-Roy conciliated, and has conducted an inevitable war with spirit, and at the same time with moderation. The result is, that a far better feeling exists between the two races than at any time within my knowledge of the Colony.

Interview between Governor Grey and the Chief Heke.

The following account of an interview between Governor Grey and the celebrated Heke is given by the Rev. R. Burrows, in a Letter dated May 8, 1848—

Governor Grey paid us a visit last week, when he met the Chief Heke for the first time. His Excellency invited him and his wife to breakfast with us, which invitation was accepted. A meeting between the Governor and Heke had been long talked of and desired by the Natives; for although we have had peace for some time, they did not consider it as permanent until the Governor and Heke had, to use their own expression, “shaken hands.” The Governor expressed himself much gratified with his visit, and Heke told me that he also was much pleased with the Governor. He said his interview with him had tended to remove those false impressions which he had entertained of him, and his intentions with regard to the Natives.

His Excellency's object in visiting the Waimate was not expressly to see Heke, but to take a survey of the surrounding country, and to see the various Native Settlements. Our Natives were much pleased with his visit. He encouraged Heke, and those with him, to occupy their lands as they did before the war; and promised them that, so soon as he saw them permanently settled, he would build a hospital for the benefit of their sick, and encourage their moral improvement in every way possible. He attended our Morning Service, and showed his approbation of our Girls'-school by leaving a sovereign to be spent for its benefit.

Kaikohi—Baptism of a Chief and his Wife.

The Rev. R. Davis resides at the Station of Kaikohi, the spot to which Heke retired after his last conflict with the British troops. He speaks of some encouragement, though surrounded with trials and apprehensions. In taking a general view of his work he thus laments his distance from Christian brethren, with whom he might take counsel in such seasons—

Little do those children of God in happy England know—surrounded as they continually are by those of a kindred spirit, who are ever ready to assist to bear their burden—what the poor isolated Missionary has to contend with in a country like this. “Brethren, pray for us.”

April 30, 1848: Lord's-day—I went to Otaua, and baptized the Chief Toinga and his wife. This man was for years a regular attendant at the Church at Waimate; but although requested to add his name to the list of Candidates for Baptism, he always refused, and manifested what was considered a self-righteous spirit, often saying that time would evince that many of those who were flocking to baptism were no better than himself. Alas! those words proved but too true. At the commencement of the war he remained with us at Waimate. He did not take any part in the war until he found that the English and the loyal Natives had combined for the destruction of Heke. At the close of the war Heke wished me to visit his eldest brother at Matarawa. Here I found Toinga and his blind wife, with a few others. He expressed much pleasure at seeing me, and acknowledged that the deliverance they had received was from the goodness of God. They were requested to turn to the Lord. Toinga said, “How can we sinners, with the blood of the slain running at our feet, do any thing, unless some one will come and wash away our sins?” After having explained, and promised to visit them, he replied, “Do you not remember, when you requested me again and again to be united to the Church, that I then told you I could not, because I saw that many of those who had been baptized had deceived you, and that there was evil working among us? You have now found this true; but I shall hold out no longer. It is now my wish to seek God with my whole heart.” His wife at that time appeared to be the most forward of the two. She was soon affected by the whooping-cough. I visited her, and she was considered in danger. One of her friends took a Roman-Catholic Priest to baptize her; but to this Toinga would not consent. The Priest, on his return, called on me, and faithfully told me where he had been, his reason for going, that he not had been allowed to baptize her, and that he thought her a fit subject for the holy ordinance. Some weeks ago, when I visited them on a week-day, I found Toinga alone at his plantation. After I had spoken to him on the love of Christ in providing a way of salvation, he observed—pointing to a high hill not far distant, one side of which was a mass of perpendicular rock—“My heart is as large and unmoveable as that hill, in seeking after Christ.”

Progress of the Work at Kaitaia.

The Station of Kaitaia continues to prosper. The Rev. J. Matthews writes, April 13, 1848—

I am very thankful to say that our Natives are progressing in the good way. They are attentive to the Means of Grace, and live in peace. Our tribes in this respect have been wonderfully blessed. But it is nothing less than the faithful preaching of the Gospel, by ourselves and our Native Assistants, which has effected this good work, through the blessing of the Holy Spirit. Not unto us, unworthy sinners, but unto His Name be all the praise!

We have a School in our Settlement, which is partly maintained by the Natives themselves. At the late administration of the Sacrament a good collection in food was made, probably worth 15*l.*—and without proper funds no School can be carried on well. I am thankful to say that our Natives appreciate, in some degree, the object of the collection. Many of them brought, instead of a basket of potatoes, to redeem the shilling ticket put in the plate, a bushel of wheat, “running over.” I weighed one of them the other day, and the Native Christian was quite pleased to find that his bushel weighed 78*lbs.* This last season they have been blessed with abundant crops, in wheat, kumera, corn, and potatoes. Many small vessels have come, and returned filled with grain and potatoes for the European market. I think that the Natives of our District cultivated not less than 300 acres in wheat, all spade work! This is a great increase from the first two quarts which I sowed to rear seed for them. Civilization, together with evangelization, is an immense blessing. Surely, when the Natives have enough, and to spare for their hungry White neighbours, it shows that they must have made great advances in civilization; for the marks of a savage include both bad clothing and little food.

In the same Letter Mr. Matthews gives an interesting account of a New-Zealand Chief's wife, which exhibits the native character in its darker shades. The fact therein recorded, that the dying example of the venerable Charles Simeon, of Cambridge, was made profitable to a New-Zealand heroine in her last hours, cannot fail to suggest thoughts of that communion of saints by which all are “made one in Christ.”

Noble's wife was brought to our Settlement two months previous to her death, so that we had a full opportunity of visiting her. She proved to be a most unpleasant personage to visit. She had been an extraordinary character in her day. Being the eldest daughter of the oldest branch of the Rarawa Chiefs, she was rich in slaves and landed possessions, and had great influence. From our first coming here she had been a sore scourge to her meek husband, from the pride and other bad tempers which she would at times manifest. This evil likewise extended to those tribes in more immediate connexion with her. But she was, nevertheless, a most kind and industrious woman—kind to strangers, both European and native. You may judge of her native character when I relate that, a little before we arrived here, she took a gun and shot a handsome young woman, whom her husband, fresh returned from victory at Taranake, had taken as a second wife. She moreover did this black deed in the presence of her husband! She died at the age of “half her days,” and almost, if not quite, upon the very spot where she had shed the blood of another. In her illness she clung to life, and her will greatly rebelled against the Most High. She was that kind of person, that she always told her thoughts, whether good or bad. She read, prayed, and strove to repent; and sometimes talked affectingly, and seemed very glad to be talked with, and to have suitable portions of Scripture pointed out. She appears to have been blessed with resignation and comfort during the few remaining days of her life. I found the account of that venerable Minister the Rev. C. Simeon, as given in the “Record” Newspaper, to be one of the best things to relate to her. Both she and her husband were astonished at the humility Mr. Simeon manifested.

Mr. Puckey, who assists Mr. Matthews has furnished the following account of their labours at this Station in a Letter dated May 8, 1848—

Our prospects, I am happy to say, are quite as bright as ever they were: the work of the Lord is surely prospering in our hands. Several Government people have visited us, and been much pleased with the School, and the appearance of every thing. I am sure they have returned with different feelings from those with which they came. Europeans say that they think the New Zealanders a very tame and inoffensive people. So they are; but they should have come to live among them thirty years ago, before the influence of the Gospel manifested itself. I remember to have been in bodily fear for a month at a time, and was not sure of my life for half an hour; but the case is vastly different now. The Saviour is loved by many hundreds; and God, I hope, who is a spirit, is worshipped in spirit and truth. The blessing of the Lord is resting upon our labours.

Almost every village has its respective Teacher, and every Saturday that Teacher is at this Station at nine o'clock, sometimes earlier. Many of the Teachers have to come ten miles: some have horses, some have not. Every Teacher returns with a printed Sermon, which is printed on the Friday previous. Two, or sometimes three hours are employed on Saturday in explaining every particular minutely, so that, generally speaking, they are well qualified for the Sunday's duties. Never have we omitted, since we have had the press, thus to improve the Saturday. I attribute the progress of our Natives, in a spiritual point of view, principally to the Sermons thus issued. The explanation has always been commenced and concluded with prayer. May our God still bless us, His unworthy ones, who are less than the least of all His servants in this land!

Middle District.

General View of the District.

Archdeacon Brown, in a Letter dated Feb. 25, 1848, gives the following General View of the District—

The state of the New-Zealand Mission at this time calls upon the Church for active sympathy and fervent prayer. Disease and death have made sad inroads in our small circle, while the increasing weakness of several other members seems to give warning, that ere long they will “rest from their labours.” In the Rotorua District, too, an alarming quarrel has lately sprung up, in which arms have been resorted to, and several Natives have fallen—one of them, the Teacher at Epeha. What may be the result we know not; but a bitter spirit has been engendered, which excites the fear that war will be renewed in this District. Still, “our eyes are unto the Lord.” An experience of nearly twenty years in the Missionary field has taught me to be less elated with success, and less despondent with apparent failure, than when I first entered upon my work. Let the “seed” we sow be but “precious,”—the unadulterated Gospel of Jesus Christ—and, though scattered in weakness, and watered with tears, we may rest assured that it will ultimately spring up and bear abundant sheaves for the heavenly garner. I trust the Society will make an effort to fill up the vacancies to which I have alluded. May it be with men “full of faith and of the Holy Ghost,” “baptized for the dead,” and “willing to spend and be spent” in the service of our Redeemer!

At the end of an extensive journey, made at the close of 1847, the Archdeacon records—

I reached home in safety, after a journey of much mercy, which has occupied me six weeks. I was privileged to “preach Jesus” nearly sixty times, and to admit into the Church 71 adults and 130 children. The increase, too, of Communicants enables me to thank God and take courage; for they are not admitted to the Lord’s Supper simply because they present themselves, but are subjected to a careful examination as to their views of the Sacrament, and inquiries made before the Church concerning their general walk and conversation. In 1845, during the same journey the Communicants amounted to 180; in 1846 to 200; and in the present year to 312.

Auckland—Labours of the Rev. G. A. Kissling.

The Rev. G. A. Kissling has been labouring among the Natives in Auckland and its neighbourhood, and has been rendering assistance to the Bishop in the tuition at Bishop’s College, in the vicinity of which he resides. He has succeeded in raising subscriptions for the building of a Church, without expense to the Society, for the benefit of the Natives in Auckland.

The Bishop thus describes his duties in a lately-published Journal—

On the next hill to the eastward a wooden Chapel is now rising, intended chiefly for Native Services; and built by a subscription raised among the inhabitants of Auckland by the Rev. G. A. Kissling, who has now the charge of the Natives of this neighbourhood, and of those who resort to the town from a distance. The sum of 400*l.* has been raised, which is sufficient to meet the estimated expenses.

From the hill at the back of St. Stephen's Chapel the view opens to the eastward over the shallow mud-flats of Hobson's Bay, to the native villages of Orakei and Okahu, with their wooden Chapel built last year by contributions of the Natives themselves, with assistance from the Governor and the Church Fund. It is usually crowded every Sunday, and I am most thankful to observe the improvement which is visible in the people since Mr. Kissling came to reside and minister among them.

Rotorua.

The Rev. T. Chapman, in a Letter dated January 26, 1848, writes—

With gratitude to God we record that quietness and peace are general around us, and that the Natives are beginning to turn their attention to the civilizing labours of agriculture. They are also showing at this time much eagerness to possess small coasting vessels, thus preparing themselves for higher steps in commercial enterprise.

We thank you for the warm sympathy expressed toward us in your Letters. We have our trials, and among these the laxity discoverable in a large portion of our Infant Churches—drawn away by the temptations connected with the rising importance of the Colony—is not the least. We find other “light afflictions;” but, however tried, we desire to stand fast in the full assurance of hope, knowing that we shall yet reap if we faint not.

The Waikato District.

The Rev. R. Maunsell reports of his District—

Many of our young men are desirous of attaining knowledge, particularly the knowledge of the English language. In no part of our District have we lost ground. The attendance on the means of grace is as regular as usual. The aid of Government is now likely to be obtained in our efforts to establish Schools, and we trust we shall yet see Schools more generally established, not only in this District, but also through the whole island.

Eastern District.

This District has been greatly afflicted during the last year by the removal of two of its Labourers. The Rev. C. L.

Reay was removed by death in April 1848—the first Missionary of the Society who had been carried off by disease in New Zealand since the commencement of the Mission in 1814.* Mr. Stack has been obliged to return to England in consequence of a serious indisposition, which it is feared admits of little hope of future labour. The other Missionaries remain as in the last Report.

State of the District—Urgent Need of Labourers.

At the close of the year 1847 Archdeacon W. Williams writes—

We have had, during the year, a strong effort made by the great enemy to hinder our work. Two Heathen Chiefs have revived the practice of tattooing, which had been laid by for six years, and they succeeded in drawing aside many young persons, both male and female, to submit to the operation. Some of these are baptized Natives, or the children of Christian parents. Out of this evil, however, much good has arisen; for the Christian party made a vigorous stand against the attempt, first in using every effort to prevent their relations from falling into the snare, and subsequently by refusing to hold intercourse with them when those efforts were fruitless. After this state of things had gone on for more than six months, these people expressed a wish for reconciliation; and now again there are some, at least, who are in the way to receive good, and perhaps may be brought to true repentance.

Upon a review of the state of the whole population I think we have much reason to take courage. We have peace and quietness in our borders, and order and regularity in the use of means; and while we see the endeavours of Satan manifestly foiled, we may hope that the work of God's Holy Spirit is proceeding. We do not see the growth of the forest tree, but if its girth be measured we may mark its progress. The direction given to us is simple—to work while it is called to-day, and God has promised that our labour shall not be in vain. In the morning, therefore, we sow our seed, and in the evening we may not withhold our hand, for we know not whether shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good.

In reference to the loss of Mr. Reay the Archdeacon thus writes—

⌚ This event again places our District in much difficulty. Our little band of four individuals is in charge of a line of coast of four degrees of latitude, but the actual distance from north to south is 480 miles. It is true, the population is small, and is confined almost exclusively to the coast, and by comparison with other parts of the world the importance of such a field may seem small. But there is this striking difference in our case, that more than three-fourths of our Natives profess Christianity, and that out of the 12,000 people, old and young, there are 1960 Communicants.

* The Rev. J. Mason was drowned in passing over a river.

At Waiapu the Natives have been under much disadvantage. The work of instruction was long carried on by Native Teachers alone, and the three Missionaries who, in succession, have since had the care of them were much interrupted in their work by ill health. I venture to hope, not only that the idea, which was expressed some time ago, of withdrawing your Mission from New Zealand—on the ground that, as a British Colony, the work should fall into other hands—is abandoned; but further, that you will be prepared, under our very pressing difficulties, to send us two or three really substantial men to fill up some of the gaps which now exist; for on the efficiency of your Mission, under God's blessing, I believe will depend the existence of the Native-Christian Church.

Much of this country will remain without the boundary of colonization, simply because it is not worth colonizing, and such portions seem to be as properly a Missionary field as can be found. The Natives are not in any degree nearer to that desirable condition of supporting a Ministry among themselves than they were when they just professed Christianity. All, I conceive, that can be expected from them for some time to come will be, when they erect their own Place of Worship, and contribute toward the support of Schools for their children.

The fact that England has colonized New Zealand, and that the change thus made in the country casts a number of difficulties in the way of the growth of Christian principles, is of itself a strong reason why the benevolence of the Christian community, through the Church Missionary Society, should be continued to them. I do not hesitate to say, that if Missionaries had not preceded colonization, and obtained, through God's blessing, a strong hold upon the minds of the Natives, that the people in immediate contact with our English Settlements would have been almost destroyed in this short space of time by the overwhelming progress of vice; and that if the Natives were to be left to their own resources the worst consequences might be apprehended.

In making this strong assertion it may be necessary to explain that I do not attribute any blame to the Government. There are many most important measures, for the benefit of the Natives, which have been taken by the Government; but there are under-currents which the Government cannot check. Take, for an example, the Natives living within and near to the town of Wellington. Of these I believe by much the larger number profess themselves to be in connexion with the Church of England. They have Native Teachers who have some little communication with Mr. Hadfield, who sees them as he lies upon his bed, and they have three visits from myself and Mr. Colenso during the year. The Clergyman of Wellington treats them with much kindness, but he cannot preach to them. They keep up their worship, however, with regularity; but it is a hard struggle for them, beset as they are on every side by evil examples. If these Natives are to be left to themselves, the consequence may be inferred from what has already taken place at the first onset of the Colony. Nearly all the young females were swept off by the White People, so that now there is a large number of young men, between the ages of twenty and thirty, with no prospect of marriage.

At a later date the Archdeacon reports—

I am thankful to report favourably of the Natives generally. In my late journey from Wellington to this place I saw most of the Christian Natives, and I believe that, with such an allowance for backsliders and the lukewarm as are to be expected in every community, there is yet a large proportion of those who walk as becometh the Gospel. We have not matured Christians, but there are many babes in Christ, who are always ready to be instructed. New-Zealand Christians cannot be compared with the early Christians of Greece and Rome in the Apostle's days, many of whom were ready almost immediately to become teachers of others. There is a degree of dulness in elderly people whose minds have not been subjected to any kind of discipline in youth, of which those can form no conception who have not been in the habit of trying to instruct such persons. Hence it would be in vain to expect to find, from among them, any agents who can fill up the vacancies occasioned by the death or removal of the first Missionaries.

The question may be asked, Why have not the Missionaries done more to bring forward some of the young persons, who, many of them, exhibit no ordinary degree of intelligence? I will answer for myself. "They made me a keeper of the vineyard, but mine own vineyard have I not kept." Fancy a Clergyman being required to itinerate from London to Edinburgh and back on foot, and to Southampton and back again, officiating at places on the road varying in distance from ten to twenty miles—my route is rather longer than this—and then, when he is at home, having charge, in addition to all other matters, of 300 Candidates for Baptism, and of 700 regular attendants at Bible Classes, who have been left in the interval, not to the care of a competent Curate, but to teachers who require themselves to be taught "which be the first principles of the oracles of God!" This answer may perhaps suffice.

Uawa.

Mr. C. Baker gives the following account, in a Letter dated Feb. 17, 1848, of the field of his labours—

During our absence, though only a little more than four months, several of the Communicants fell into the snare of the devil, and others had, in some measure, given way to superstition. I am happy, however, to find that none of the parties have gloried in their shame, nor continued from under the Means of Grace. I trust that all have seen the folly of that species of superstition which had obtained some place among them.

Previous to my leaving the Station, preparations had been made for the baptism of a good number of adults, who had been under a course of special instruction for some considerable time—none for less than a year. In the month of December, therefore, the Archdeacon baptized 61 adults; and, but for the necessity of returning home from Uawa, he would have proceeded to Tokomaru, there to administer the Lord's Supper, and to receive a good number of adults into the Church by baptism.

Since the last baptism at Uawa, many have come forward to seek for special instruction as Candidates. A weekly class has been opened for their instruction, and we may hope that in due time another goodly band will come forward as fit members for Christ's visible Church.

In taking a review of the past year, I see much that calls for heartfelt gratitude. There has been some advance upon the strongholds of sin, and we may hope a little spiritual improvement on the part of those professing Christ. Our Native Converts are too prone to regard forms and ceremonies as the chief matters of consideration in religion. To be spiritually-minded is a precept not very well nor generally understood. Many are found willing to conform to the outward observances of religion, but at the same time show but little signs of life from the dead. Our only hope is, that He who hath so far blessed the people by disposing them to use the means, will pour out His Spirit upon them, and give them to feel the power of His saving grace.

I am much discouraged at the low condition in which the Natives continue, without any apparent desire to better their circumstances. Frequently have I pressed upon them, both in public and private, the importance of cultivating their lands to a greater extent, of building better houses, and living in separate families; but, at the same time, concentrating in villages, and paying more attention to cleanliness. I regret to say, that while they are peaceable in their lives, and attentive in general to the ~~Means~~ Means of Grace, yet they evince a total indifference to their personal comfort and respectability—many persons, crowding into one hut, scattering themselves abroad into little parties, settling down in their poverty and dirt, improvident of the little they possess, and yet covetous for more, without laudable efforts to obtain better things. It will be seen that idleness is the parent of all these evils of which I complain. There are some few exceptions to be made in these remarks, but the advance to a better state of things is, where I am, very slow.

The Waitanga District.

The following is the Report of the most distant and least promising Station of this District, which is occupied by the Rev. W. Colenso—

The state of the Natives throughout the District is, on the whole, cheering. Some few, on whom I would fain hope the Divine and blessed Spirit hath breathed, now begin to stand out in bold relief from the heterogenous mass, and this little phalanx, the comfort of my heart, stands firm, and is increasing. They are still, however, but children, and need careful fostering. The public roads and works about Wellington, on which several hundreds of Natives have been employed during the past and present year, have been the occasion of abominable evils. There many have made shipwreck of their faith, more especially the poor Natives of Port Nicholson, Waikanae, Otaki, and the mouth of the Manawatu River. Few, however, of the Christian Natives of this district have hitherto sought employment upon these works, and of those few some have relinquished it with disgust.

The Rev. O. Hadfield is still confined to his sick bed. The Bishop of New Zealand, in his lately-published Journal, thus speaks of his visit to Wellington—

My dear friend Mr. Hadfield was still alive, but the symptoms of his disease had shown no signs of improvement. But it was a great blessing to hear that I might again enjoy the benefit of his counsel, and listen to the wisdom of a Christian's death-bed. For four years his whole life has been nothing more than commentatio mortis.

The only Missionary of the Society labouring in the Western District is the Rev. R. Taylor. The late Stations of Mr. Hadfield at Waikanae and Otaki are occupied by an Assistant Missionary, the Rev. J. Williams, son of Archdeacon W. Williams.

General View of the District.

Mr. Taylor gives the following general view of his District, in a Letter dated Feb. 21, 1848—

Relative to the spiritual state of my District, while there is much to comfort, there is also much to grieve the Minister. On my return from Auckland, I was much pained to see what a change had taken place in the Pas most nearly connected with the European population. The open profligacy of many, who, from their station, ought to be ashamed of their conduct, has had a very bad effect on the native mind. The lamentable disregard of the Sabbath, open immorality, gaming, drinking, blaspheming, &c., first shocked, and then encouraged the Heathen to imitate, and professors to become indifferent to religious duties. I am, however, thankful to say there are some tokens of returning love to God, and an increasing attendance on the Means of Grace. Our Schools are again beginning to flourish; and while some, who were foremost, are now falling behind, those who were behind are advancing forward. The arrival of Mr. Baker's eldest son, to assist in the care of the Schools, will, I trust, give new energy to them.

Except Rangitokie, I think I may confidently say the good work is going on in my District. I have been much comforted by the evident love of prayer manifested in every direction.

At a later date Mr. Taylor reports—

The spiritual state of the District was very gloomy: the adversary threatened, and seemed ready to make an end. But the dark clouds have rolled by, and the sun again shines upon us. Blessed be the name of the Lord for all His mercies! Much of that deadness and indifference to religious duties, which we had to deplore, have given way to a spirit of earnestness and love of prayer, the Scriptures are diligently read, and the Means of Grace attended to. This is not only the case with the Natives who declined taking any part in the late war, but even among the others, many, I am thankful to say, are diligent in prayer and supplication at the throne of grace.

This awakened state has been more especially manifested in the increased attendance at the Lord's Table. Never have so many previously commemorated a Saviour's love in this District, and never have I been so strict in my requirements.

I am happy, also, in being able to report, that the love of private prayer is increasing, and that many appear really to begin to appreciate the privilege of going to the throne of grace, where they can ever obtain all that they truly need.

On the other hand, however, there is much to demand and compel the Missionary to pursue his way with fear and trembling. The Natives seem now to have access given them to the tree of good and evil. Even in their heathen state, it is doubtful whether they were so fully acquainted with that depth of depravity which they now see daily and openly displayed by those who call themselves Christians. Their open efforts to poison the Native's mind and corrupt his morals render the Missionaries' duty a very anxious one. Their evil influence on the rising generation is especially to be dreaded; and it is here I feel I can say very little that is satisfactory. Most of those who have fallen, both male and female, have been of this class.

Influence of the Gospel.

The Journals of Mr. Taylor afford some interesting and encouraging instances of the grace of God, in individual cases, and give a lively view of the nature of his labours. The martyrdom of Manihera was related in the last Report. Under the date of Dec. 27, 1847, Mr. Taylor writes—

I gave poor Manihera's widow a gown. She is regarded with the highest respect, as having been the wife of so good a man. Even the clothes, and different articles belonging to him, are treasured up with the greatest care: it shows how relics first became prized, and how easy it is to pass from a natural regard for the mementos of the beloved dead to a superstitious reverence, where the heart is unrenewed.

I noticed little heaps of a large kind of Haliotus, or mutton-fish, shells, in each kumera ground. On inquiring the reason, I was told they were used to shelter the tender shoots from the heat of the sun; "and," said my informer, "is it not like the work of grace in the heart, which needs to be sheltered beneath the wings of the Almighty to be brought to maturity?"

In January 1848 Governor Grey and Lieutenant-Governor Eyre visited the Station of Wanganui. Governor Grey and Mrs. Grey were the guests of the Missionary, and attended the Native Service and School at half-past six in the morning. "The Natives," writes Mr. Taylor, "are perfectly delighted because he has taken up his abode on this side, and call him their Governor." The Missionary Station is on the opposite side of the river from the English Settlement of Wanganui. A meeting with the Native Chiefs was afterward held at the Mission-house, when the terms were agreed upon for the sale of the land which had so lately caused war and bloodshed in that district, and the whole matter was arranged to the satisfaction of both parties.

This Settlement appears to have had a very blessed effect upon the heathen Natives, who had formerly entered into the contest with the settlers and military. The following notices refer to such instances—

Feb. 17, 1848—I took Mamaku Tinirau, and most of the hostile Chiefs, with me to Morning Prayer, and afterward I heard them say their Catechism. It made me smile to see the men who, a few months before, had been the terror of this part, and were the leaders of hostile tribes to battle, now sitting like children at my feet, and repeating their Catechism. Though there is much deadness in general to spiritual things, still here was some proof given of what the Lord can do when He pleases, and how infinitely more powerful is the Word of God than the power of man. All the threats and efforts of our countrymen had no weight with this Chief, neither had the repeated invitations of our Governor availed to bring him from his fastnesses to make peace; but the Word of God does more—it bends his stubborn knee in prayer, it opens his lips to acknowledge, in answer to the question, Who is Christ? that He is the Son of God and the Saviour of the world. Afterward I crossed over with Mamaku, and all the Chiefs, to see Major Wyatt, who shook hands with them, and said he might come, and stay with them when he pleased, without fear.

I invited the Major to cross over and attend a Meeting, which I had summoned, of all the hostile and friendly Natives, that I might speak to them plainly of the folly and wickedness of war, and the blessings of peace, and try to bring them all together; for, though peace is now made between the Natives and Europeans, a very hostile feeling still exists among the Natives one toward another. He attended, together with several of the other officers.

June 24—I examined Tinirau as a Candidate for Baptism. This man is a principal Chief of Pukeheka, and was one of the leaders of the hostile Natives in the late war. It was he who threatened to burn my house, and kill me, as a payment for Maketu's death. This morning he sat meekly at my feet, and promised to renounce the devil and all his works, and to live soberly, righteously, and godly, the rest of his life, as a follower of Christ. This is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

At a still later date, Aug. 29, 1848, Mr. Taylor writes—

It will be satisfactory to the Society to learn, that the principal Chiefs engaged in the late war are all either Candidates for Baptism or attendants on the Means of Grace. This has afforded me much comfort.

In the afternoon a number of the Ngatiawa came to see me, thinking it a desirable thing that they should partake of the Lord's Supper before they left, that they might be strengthened in their faith, and so not forget God in this migration. I proffered to administer it to them to-morrow, if they would come this evening to be examined, which they thankfully promised to do, although it is three miles from their encampment, and a disagreeable journey to take on a dark and very cold night. About fifty came.

The following extract will show that the Missionary zeal for the conversion of their countrymen, which animated the souls of Manihera and Kereopa, has not departed from their comrades—

May 12, 1848—Aperauiko, from Hikurangi, called. He states that the principal Chief of Patea, in the interior, has arrived, together with several others of that place; that the object of his journey is to solicit me to send them a Teacher; that they look to me for assistance, as I was the first to pay them a visit. My Natives at Hituranga immediately held a meeting, the result of which was, that if I select any one from my Teachers there, he will be ready to go, as they are all interested in the welfare of that place, and I have only to say who shall go in order to be obeyed.

A few instances are added of the operation of Divine Grace in enlightening the minds of the Natives.

Feb. 26—After Morning Service I examined Candidates for the Sacrament until dinner. One old man gave as a reason for wishing to be baptized, that he wanted to kill his native heart; that formerly he had a very blood-thirsty disposition, and just now his neighbours had behaved very ill to him, having killed many of his pigs; and therefore he wished to be dead in Christ, that his desire of revenge might be destroyed within him.

July 28—The Native Teacher, Abraham, in speaking of the people of God, said they were always to be distinguished from the people of the world. He made use of the following simile—that, however great the flood might be in the Wanganui, and however muddy the water, yet still there was always a narrow stream of clear water flowing in the centre, which continued uncontaminated by the turbid flood, so as to be plainly perceptible: so, he said, however circumstances may compel the Christian to mix with the world, he will still be equally distinct from its ways and practices.

The Bishop's Visit to the Station lately occupied by the Rev. O. Hadfield.

The Bishop, in a late visit to the Station formerly occupied by the Rev. O. Hadfield, and now by the Rev. S. Williams, thus describes the scene—

Even the absence of my dear friend Mr. Hadfield from the spot so intimately connected with his memory does not impair the interest with which I visit from time to time this field of his exertions. The fruits of the Divine blessing upon his work are still visible; and Otaki is still a green spot in the midst of a crop which seems to be withering away because it had “no root,” or “deepness of earth.”

Arriving alone at Otaki, and with no messenger to announce me, I found my people, as I should always wish to find them, engaged in the active service of God. A party of about 300 men, headed by the old Chief Te Rauparaha, were busily engaged in raising, by their own native methods, the heavy pillars for the support of the roof of their new Chapel. A joyous shout of welcome burst from the whole party, when I came unexpectedly into the midst of them. My old friends and scholars all crowded round me; and among them one of the dearest of them all, Benjamin Hapurau, who, from the time of his leaving the College, has steadily taught the Village School of 150 children, without expecting or receiving any remuneration whatever. One of the College Deacons, the Rev. S. Williams, is in charge of the Station, and well reported of by every one. All the old men, who at first resisted the spirit of improvement, had now joined in the work, and were actively engaged in building the Chapel. The streets had been laid down by a surveyor, and each family had been allowed to elect its own allotment. The town, however, has not yet assumed a regular appearance, as the streets are not cleared, nor the houses built. The machinery of a water-mill was already on the spot; but it was agreed by common consent that the Church should be finished first, and that then all should unite in the other works of public interest, such as the roads and the mill.

The evening of this day closed most delightfully with a full class of Candidates for the Holy Communion, whose earnestness in seeking spiritual truth filled my heart with joy and thankfulness at the prospect of so much spiritual good.

Celebration of the Jubilee in New Zealand.

The tidings of the proposed Jubilee did not reach Auckland till just before the appointed celebration. At many of the Stations the news would not arrive till after the day had passed. Intelligence has not been since received from them. On the 1st of November the Bishop wrote to the Secretary in the following terms—

We have this day offered up our tribute of prayer and thanksgiving in the College Chapel on the occasion of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Society. The notice only reached me late at night on the 30th of October, but I lost no time in inviting Mr. Kissling, Mr. Burrows, and Mr. Ashwell, to meet at the Holy Communion in the College Chapel, and to unite with our collegiate body in offering up a special prayer compiled for the occasion from the Prayer-book. We had also thoughts of sorrow in the midst of our joy, for on the very same day—viz. Monday, Oct. 30—the news reached us of the serious illness of three of our brethren. We added, therefore, prayers with especial reference to our afflicted brethren. It was altogether a day much to be remembered.

Large purchases of Land by Missionaries.

In the Report presented in 1847 the Committee explained their views with respect to the large land purchases of some of the Missionaries of the Society, which they had obtained for the support of their families, who were growing up as settlers in New Zealand. The Committee had hoped that the measures which they had adopted would, ere this time, have closed all questions upon this subject, as far as the Society is concerned. They regret to say, that three or four members of the Missionary body have felt it necessary to keep open these questions by an appeal to the Courts of Law, on the plea of vindicating their own character, and the just claims, as they regard them, of their families.*

WEST-INDIES' MISSION.

THE report of the operations of the Society in the West Indies will be confined to British Guiana, the Station of Rural Hill, in Jamaica, having been transferred to the Lord Bishop; who has undertaken to provide for its spiritual charge, and the Station of Prattville being partly provided for by other funds.

Trials of the Mission.

The many friends of the Society who have taken a deep interest in the history and prospects of the British-Guiana Mission, will hear, with much sympathy, that it has pleased God to visit that Mission with many trials and difficulties during the last year. The temporal prospects of the Station of Bartica Grove have caused the Missionaries great anxiety and perplexity. The proximity of a penal settlement, and the association of the Indian convertswith ungodly Europeans and others, engaged in the wood-cutting establishments, have long proved a hindrance to the religious improvement of the Native Church. But it has appeared of late that the Station will have other difficulties to contend against, in the failure of means for the subsistence of the inhabitants through the want of sufficient land

Under these circumstances, it becomes an anxious question whether the Station should be removed, or what other means should be adopted for the preservation of the rising Christian Church among the Indians; so that it may fulfil the hopes in which it was founded, of becoming a focus of light to the scattered aboriginal inhabitants of that district.

The health of the Rev. J. H. Bernau, also, which had suffered since his return to his Station, was more seriously affected at the beginning of this year, so that he was wholly arrested in his labours, and prevented from taking an excursion into the interior, for which he had made his arrangements.

Under these afflictive circumstances, it is a matter of unfeigned thankfulness that the arrival of the Rev. J. J. Lohrer, as an assistant to Mr. Bernau, at the close of last year, and the assistance which had been previously procured in the Colony through the services of an European Schoolmaster and Schoolmistress, have sustained the Mission, as well as comforted and strengthened the heart of the zealous Missionary who has so long cultivated that spot, and with such rich encouragement in former years.

In a Letter dated Oct. 2, 1848, Mr. Bernau writes—

We have felt that holy hands have been lifted up on our behalf, and that the Lord hath not left Himself without witnesses among this people; for there are those who truly wish to serve their Saviour in sincerity and truth. We could indeed desire to see more of a devotional spirit among them, and the fruits of the Spirit more manifest in their life and conversation. At the same time, we ought to remember that they are as yet only babes in Christ, and must not be taxed beyond their strength; for, as charity believeth all things, it would also lead us to hope that in due time we shall be permitted to see them go on unto perfection.

On Easter Sunday I had the joy of baptizing into the death of Christ four of the dear little girls, who seem to promise fair that they may hereafter be found in the likeness of His resurrection. The fifth disappointed our hopes by showing a refractory spirit, and was on this account set aside for a time. She has since left the School, but now and then comes to the Sunday-school and Church. I attribute her conduct, in a great measure, to the bad influence of her parents, who seemed to have turned aside from following Christ. They have also removed a little boy from the School. On Whit Sunday five adults were admitted into the Church by Baptism, one of whom, the son of Captain John, had been brought up in the School.

First Impressions of the Rev. J. J. Lohrer.

The Rev. J. J. Lohrer thus describes his first introduction to the Mission, in a Letter dated Dec. 28, 1848—

Early in the morning of the 22d I saw the place distinctly; and when I looked at the neat Church—thought of the few who were accustomed there to worship the God of truth—placed before my eyes the abject state of the different Indian tribes—and remembered that I in my weakness and unfitness was going to work among them—I could not suppress the tears that rolled down my cheeks. But the nearer we approached, the greater was my joy and gladness; and on setting my foot on shore I felt so thoroughly convinced that this place was appointed for me by the Lord, that nothing was left to me but to humble myself before my Divine Master, and give glory to His great name. Mr. and Mrs. Bernau, with their two lovely children, received me most kindly. At eight o'clock I accompanied them to Morning Prayer, after which Mr. Bernau introduced me to the children, and bade them shake hands with me. In the afternoon Mr. Bernau took me to the Carrabeese in the place, telling them that I should be their future Dominie.

On the 23d I was visited by eight men and two women of the Carrabese Tribe, to welcome me, and prepared to preach my first Sermon on the next day, Sunday. I was quite astonished at seeing such a well-ordered Congregation, of about 200 persons altogether. It was a very pleasant Sunday indeed: my text, 1 Cor. xi. 2, seemed to me most appropriate for the occasion, and the people who could understand me listened with devotion, while all were very attentive, and behaved as a Congregation of the Lord. Christmas-day was a day of great delight to me, and no less a day of grace and edification. We celebrated the Lord's Supper, of which about seventy persons partook, and in the evening we assembled the children in the Girls'-school, and gave them a little repast. I have never seen children so well behaved in Europe on such occasions. After they had taken their simple meal, I addressed them for a few moments. I brought before them the blessings of the Gospel which they enjoy, by asking them where and what they would be now if English Christians had not sent them Missionaries; and I told them, especially, of the interest English children took in them. The hymns which they sang were charming.

Visit of Indians from the Pomeroon.

Mr. Bernau was encouraged, in the course of the summer, by the arrival of a party of Carrabeese Indians from the Pomeroon river, to settle at Bartica Grove.

An old Carrabeese Captain, from the Pomeroon River, has lately come here; and, having made up his mind to settle, prepared his field, and again returned to his people, requesting that Erie (the Christian Chief) might be permitted to accompany him, as a similar report to that I have before mentioned had been circulated in that quarter, and he was anxious that they might be convinced by Erie that it was false. This I readily granted, and he was absent six weeks, returning the day before yesterday, accompanied by some thirty people, who have come with the intention of preparing their fields, returning for a short time, and then taking up their abode with us. The Lord grant that so it may be! They have brought with them six children, whom they placed at once in the School, promising to leave them during their absence; the old Captain having previously left five, and of a more tender age than they are usually willing to part with them.

The sequel of this history will at once illustrate the temporal difficulties connected with the Station, and the disappointments to which the Missionaries are subject. In a Letter just received from Mr. Bernau it is recorded—

We have had our trials. As regards the Mission, the season has been very sickly, and many are still suffering from fever. The party of Carrabeese, also, whom we mentioned in a former Letter, suffered so much from sickness, and complained so much of the difficulty of obtaining food for their families, that they have again returned to the Pomeroon, taking also the greater number of the children with them, although we did what we could to persuade them to leave them with us. There was, however, one case which interested us. Three children belonging to one family were in the School; and, when the parents had made up their minds to leave the place, the father told us that he had determined to allow the children to remain. The mother opposed his intention; but he answered, "I will leave my boy, that he may be taught in the School." She became angry; but he resolutely answered, "I was brought up in ignorance by my parents, and now I am without understanding. I am not willing that my children should remain so. You may therefore choose one of them, and the others I will certainly leave." Mr. Lohrer felt very happy that he thus proved that he had yet a little understanding. The boy is at present very diligent, and makes rapid progress.

Encouraging State of the Female School.

Many interesting particulars are furnished in the Letters of Mrs. Bernau respecting the Female School, which is efficiently superintended by herself and Miss Dawson. In a Letter dated June 26, 1848, Mrs. Bernau says—

Our hearts have been much encouraged of late in this department of our Missionary sphere. To God be all the glory! It gives us heartfelt pleasure to see the Indians' natural state of awful degradation, which is really but a little removed from the brute creation—the laxity of any thing like discipline—their obstinacy, proud independence, slothfulness, and want of civility—all gradually giving way to obedience, comparative industry, and increasing affection among them.

Their knowledge of Scripture is highly satisfactory; and although it is difficult to break through their extreme reserve, and to draw answers from them, yet on special occasions we are permitted to see the fruit of Mr. Bernau's labours in this branch. I often wish the kind friends of Missions in England, who furnished the means for procuring a magic lanthorn for them, could be wafted hither when it is exhibited; as they would be much gratified to hear them recognising each of the histories connected with the Scripture slides, and talking over them—the darkened room, and the joy they feel, breaking down the reserve which, at other times, they cannot conquer. They generally conclude with a hymn, and also with the most enthusiastic clapping of hands, of which, in their natural state of apathy and indolence, you would really think they were incapable. On these occasions we have the joy of hearing that much Scripture truth is treasured up in the minds of these dear children; and we cannot but hope, that when their hearts shall be touched by the Spirit, and given up to the Saviour, through whose mercy they enjoy their present advantages, they may be made a great blessing to the many who are yet in heathen darkness.

Miss Dawson, in a Letter dated June 27, 1848, also writes—

When I first took charge of the School, in August of last year, it consisted of 24 boarders and 12 day-scholars. Since then, some, being grown up, have left. Two have died, and others have been taken from School, to ramble with their restless relatives or friends, just when their improvement was beginning to be perceptible. For a few months our number was in consequence very low; but having lately received a few additions, we are again on the increase, having at the present moment 21 boarders, and 11 day-scholars. Most of these are Indians, a very few coloured, the rest Half-caste and of Indian extraction.

The accounts of this School continue to be of a very encouraging character.*

THE Settlement at the Red River has been tried by another year of distress, through the deficiency of the harvest of 1847. The want of food greatly affects Missionary labours; for the Indians are driven to seek subsistence by the chase, or by fishing upon the lakes. In these occupations whole families engage, and are dispersed throughout the country, so that the Schools and the Congregations are materially reduced, and habits and connexions are formed which are unfavourable to the quiet progress of a Christian community.

THE UPPER CHURCH.

Of the four Churches in the Settlement, the one called "The Upper Church," in the neighbourhood of which there is the largest portion of the Settlers, has been under the care of the Rev. William Cockran, who acts as Chaplain of the Hudson's-Bay Company, and receives his support from that body.

Mr. Cockran having been for many years a Missionary of the Society, and feeling the same interest as ever in the conversion of the Indians, favours the Committee with his advice on many important matters; but the circumstances of his Congregation, and the statistics of his Communicants and Schools, can be no longer regarded as belonging to the Society's operations. This Church will cease to be a Mission Station. It is peculiarly gratifying to the Committee to be able to record the following testimony of Mr. Cockran as to the state of the Congregation when thus placed upon an independent ecclesiastical footing, after having been first collected, and brought to maturity, by the labours of the Society—

The whole population conform their external deportment to the Word of God. There are no habitual drunkards; no Sabbath-breakers; no profane persons, who take the name of God in vain; no illegitimate children; no turbulent seditious characters; no vagrants who endeavour to sponge a living out of their more industrious brethren: all have such a respect for their characters as steadily to pursue their duties; and many of them are deeply influenced by the fear and love of God, and are endeavouring, through His grace, to live sober, righteous, and pious lives.

Mr. Cockran having been for many years a Missionary of the Society, and feeling the same interest as ever in the conversion of the Indians, favours the Committee with his advice on many important matters; but the circumstances of his Congregation, and the statistics of his Communicants and Schools, can be no longer regarded as belonging to the Society's operations. This Church will cease to be a Mission Station. It is peculiarly gratifying to the Committee to be able to record the following testimony of Mr. Cockran as to the state of the Congregation when thus placed upon an independent ecclesiastical footing, after having been first collected, and brought to maturity, by the labours of the Society—

The whole population conform their external deportment to the Word of God. There are no habitual drunkards; no Sabbath-breakers; no profane persons, who take the name of God in vain; no illegitimate children; no turbulent seditious characters; no vagrants who endeavour to sponge a living out of their more industrious brethren: all have such a respect for their characters as steadily to pursue their duties; and many of them are deeply influenced by the fear and love of God, and are endeavouring, through His grace, to live sober, righteous, and pious lives.

May it please God so to bless the labours of the Society everywhere, that, when Mission Stations are transferred to a settled ecclesiastical system, they may be thus delivered up as well-cultivated gardens of the Lord, thickly set with trees of righteousness of the Lord's planting!

THE MIDDLE AND GRAND-RAPIDS CHURCHES.

The Middle Church and the Grand-Rapids Church are under the care of the Society's Missionary, the Rev. R. James, who resides near the latter. The Churches are about six miles apart. Owing to the circumstances of distress already alluded to, the Indians have been wholly dispersed, and the labours of Mr. James have been bestowed upon the European settlers and the mixed race. The importance of bringing the latter race under the influence of Christian instruction is very great. They will soon form the chief staple of the native population, and may furnish us with our best supply of Native Teachers. The Committee are thankful, therefore, to observe, that Mr. and Mrs. James have formed Bible classes for their benefit—the one of young men and the other of young women—numbering about twenty each. Many of the attendants, Mr. James writes, come a distance of five or six miles, are very regular, and give much encouragement.

The eagerness of the people to obtain instruction is testified by the following notice of a common habit in respect of the pastoral visits of their Ministers, which many a parochial Minister in England would rejoice to see amongst our own people at home—

As I am unable to visit each family in my charge as frequently or regularly as I wish, they generally find out my presence at any house I may visit, and in a few minutes the room is filled with neighbours, who evidently rejoice to listen to the Scriptures read and explained, and to join with me in prayer to God,

THE INDIAN SETTLEMENT.

The fourth Church upon the Red River is situated about 13 miles to the north of the Grand Rapids. Here the Congregation is Indian. They exhibit a noble testimony to the power of the Gospel to civilize the manners, as well as to sanctify the hearts, of the wandering savage. The Rev. J. Smithurst has continued in charge of this Settlement. He gives the following general account—

Taking the Indian Settlement generally, there are many marks of improvement, in a religious, moral, and civil point of view. If there be much to discourage, and to try both faith and patience, there is much over which we ought to rejoice.

The Services of the Church, and the state of the Congregations, are thus described—

Divine Service has been performed twice in the Church on Sundays. The first Service is at ten A.M., and is wholly in English: it is attended, when all the Indians are at home, by about 350. The Afternoon Service is at two o'clock, and is in Indian. I read the prayers, and the Schoolmaster reads the Lessons and a sermon. The sermon is generally prepared by myself and the Schoolmaster on a Saturday, and is often a translation of part of Mr. Jowett's Christian Visitor. The attendance at the Indian Service varies from 80 to 130. There is also a Service in Indian at the School-room on Wednesday evening. I read a part of the Liturgy in Indian, and the Schoolmaster reads a Sermon. When all the Indians are at home this Service is well attended; but as many of them are absent from Monday morning till Saturday night we have often but a slender audience. This will continue as long as there is such a scarcity of provisions.

During the year there have been twenty-one Baptisms—two adults and nineteen infants.

The number of Communicants continues as before, 86.

The School, which contains 68 children, in nearly equal proportions of boys and girls, has suffered in some degree, during the last year, from the illness and death of an exemplary Schoolmaster, Mr. Cook, who had zealously and efficiently discharged his duties since the first institution of the School in 1833.

First Missionary Meeting, &c., at Red River.

The North-West-America Mission was commenced twenty-five years ago; but owing to the isolation of the people from the rest of the world, and the poverty of the Indians, no attempts were made to interest them in the general work of Missions until last year, when it was determined to bring the subject forward in sermons and a Public Meeting. The result was very gratifying. The first Public Missionary Meeting ever held in Prince Rupert's Land was assembled in the Rapids Church, the number present being about 350. The collection amounted, beyond all expectation, to 10*l.* 9*s.* 2*d.*, and, together with the collections after the Sermons, the sum of 21*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.* was subscribed. "One good old man said it was all too little to offer to the Society, but that it was a beginning, and he trusted the Society would forgive them for not stirring sooner."

One of the Country-born Schoolmasters addressed the Meeting in these words—

When I compare the Settlement at present with its state twenty years ago, I am full of wonder at the change, and full of thankfulness to that Society which has effected it. It is true we have done nothing for the Society, and it is equally true we were never asked. For the first time to-day the people of Red River are called upon for their offering. Let us seize the opportunity, my friends. The way is open; and never let it again be said of us, You have done nothing for that Society which has for twenty-five years been dispensing among you the bread of life.

CUMBERLAND STATION.

The Rev. J. Hunter has continued his labours at this remote and isolated Station. During the winter of 1847-48 it pleased God to visit him with affliction in the loss of his wife. The Station also suffered under the trials arising from an unusually long and severe winter.

Mr. Hunter thus reviews the progress of the last year—

The winter was both unusually long and severe, accompanied with constant wind and snow, the latter averaging from three to four feet in depth. The Indians suffered much, both from sickness and starvation, but they bore it with Christian patience and resignation. They are far more industrious than they were in former years, and are thereby improving their temporal condition. Several rafts of timber have been brought down this summer by them for their houses, while others are completing the houses they commenced last year. They also manifest a strong desire to obtain cattle.

In spiritual matters we have had ample encouragement to prosecute, with greater earnestness than ever, our “work of faith and labour of love,” both among our own people and the surrounding Heathen. The few Indians at this place who are still heathen are from time to time applying for Christian instruction and baptism; while the Moose-Lake Indians are also following their example. A great and effectual door is indeed open for the preaching of the Gospel at this Station.

The Services have been continued as usual. On the Lord’s-day we have prayers about seven o’clock A.M., and two regular Services. On week-days we have prayers every evening at sunset. These Services are well attended, especially during the summer months, when occasionally from 200 to 300 are present. The Indians are very devout and attentive during the Services, and are becoming more cleanly in their persons.

During the past year I have been privileged to baptize 10 men, 12 women, and 43 children, making in all 65 persons. These, added to the 359 last reported, make a total of 424 who have been baptized at this Station. It is most encouraging to witness the anxiety manifested by the parents to get their children baptized. All this shows that the Indians truly value Christianity, and appreciate its ordinances. The number of Communicants last reported was 46: 12 have been received during the year, and 2 have died, which leaves 56 as the present number on the books. The number of Communicants is steadily increasing.

The Indians are very serious and devout at all our Services, but especially at the Lord’s Table. Then, many a tear may be seen stealing down their cheeks, while some give utterance to their feelings by loud sobs. I have every reason to believe that their sorrow is of that description "which worketh repentance unto salvation, not to be repented of."

Mr. Henry Budd continues to perform the duties of Schoolmaster and Interpreter. In the Day-school the number of children on the books is 85. The children are remarkably fond of reading, which is evinced by their anxiety to take their Bibles and Testaments with them to their homes, where, on calling, I very frequently find them reading their books.

Mr. Hunter is preparing for the erection of a Church; and he mentions the pleasing fact, that, upon proposing the subject to the Indians, the Chief gave a horse, and the subscriptions in work were equivalent to 28*l*.

Visit to Moose Lake.

Mr. Hunter visited the Indians at Moose Lake in the autumn of 1847, where many Christian families were encamped with the heathen tribe. He spent several days among them, and witnessed some distressing exhibitions of the power of heathen superstition, and the idolatrous practices in cases of sickness. He closes the account of his visit with these remarks—

We sometimes read glowing descriptions of the Indians when in their natural condition; but I observe nothing in them to justify such accounts. They are poor, wretched, and miserable; the slaves of superstition; depending for their subsistence upon chance; without any settled habitation; and very frequently, especially during the winter, reduced to a state of starvation: from want of proper clothing, and exposure to the severe winters of this country, many of them die. "The worst condition of civilized man is better than the best condition of the unimproved savage."

In a spiritual point of view, they are wretched indeed, without hope and without God in the world, the slaves of superstition, and led captive by Satan at his will. True it is they acknowledge the Great Spirit, but all their rites and ceremonies have reference principally, if not exclusively, to the Evil Spirit. In this particular their conduct coincides with heathen nations in general, who manifest more anxiety to appease the Evil Spirit, to whom they attribute all their misfortunes, than gratitude to the Good Spirit, from whom they likewise acknowledge all their blessings to proceed.

LAC-LA-RONGE.

This Station is under the charge of a Native Catechist, Mr. J. Settee. The Rev. J. Hunter has not been able to pay a second visit to it; but he gives the following account of it—

In communications which I have received from Mr. J. Settee, the Native Catechist located at this Station, he states that, amidst many privations and hardships, he has much both to encourage and cheer him in his labours among the Indians. The 107 Indians, whom it was my privilege to baptize last summer, continue steady in the profession of the Christian faith, and are regular in their attendance on the Means of Grace whenever opportunity offers. Both Settee and his wife have suffered from sickness during the year; but they are now in the enjoyment of health. During the winter months Mr. Settee was entirely dependent upon his own exertions for the maintenance of his family and the school-children, the Indians being under the necessity of leaving him for their hunting grounds. However, he persevered, and, by diligently attending his nets, he was enabled to maintain the establishment, and keep the children about him for instruction.

In the Day and Sunday-schools there are 31 boys, 24 girls, and 7 adults, making a total of 62. Three of these children are reading in the Testament, and the remainder in elementary books. Four write on slates, about 30 can repeat the Creed, Lord's Prayer, and Commandments, in English, and a great number of the adults can do the same. Mr. Settee continues to hold prayers every evening about sun-set, and also Services twice on the Lord's-day, which he states are well attended.

To show that the Lac-la-Ronge Indians are in earnest about Christianity, I will subjoin an extract from Mr. Settee's Letter, dated June 8, 1848. He writes—

Our Christian Indians are constantly on the watch to see a Heathen. As soon as they see one, they surround him, and endeavour to persuade him out of his evil ways, and become a praying man like one of themselves; praying at the same time that the Lord would convince and convert all the Heathen to worship and serve Him. James Halcott and the old men send their respectful compliments to you, and hope you will remember them in your prayers, and plead much in their behalf to get a Minister for them.

Openings further North.

Each succeeding year presents enlarging opportunities for usefulness among these suffering tribes, the impoverished remnants of a once-powerful race, who wander over the immense territories of the Hudson's-Bay Company. Mr. Hunter, in a Letter dated Aug. 3, 1848, says—

The openings which present themselves at Isle-à-la-Crosse and Fort Chippewyan are as encouraging as ever. A Chief at Fort Chippewyan, named Tripe-de-roche, sent to me this summer, requesting that I would send some one to teach them and their children the Christian Religion, as they were unwilling to attend the ministrations of the Roman-Catholic Priests. I have some reason to believe that this disposition is prevalent among the Chippewyans.

Mr. Hunter also reports the fact, that thirty-eight Indians visited Lac-la-Ronge Station, in the autumn of 1847, from the neighbourhood of Churchill River, for the purpose of receiving Christian instruction, and baptism. Mr. Settee wrote—"They were sorrowful when they returned without receiving that ordinance, and promised, on leaving, to come to the Station oftener, in order to receive instruction."

Movements of the Papacy.

The Roman-Catholic Bishop at the Red River, and his Priests, are making vigorous efforts to prejudice and pre-occupy the minds of the Natives, and to anticipate Protestant Missionaries in their exertions for the good of the Natives. The following extracts from Mr. Settee's Journal will clearly show to how much danger our Converts at Lac-la-Ronge are exposed, while destitute of a Minister, and left open to the intrusive visits of the Priests—

March 7, 1848—To-day a Roman-Catholic Priest arrived here from Isle-à-la-Crosse. He is going to visit the Indians at Deer Lake. He was telling our Indians that there were forty English Ministers who had embraced the Roman-Catholic faith.

March 12: Lord's-day—Very few of the Indians came to Prayers. They went to hear the Priest's discourse. They afterward remarked that it was like the sound of a drum to them—they heard the voice, but understood not a word.

April 1: Lord's-day—The few Indians about the place came to the Morning Service, and attended the Sunday-school; but in the evening some did not attend, being at the Fort, learning the French hymns, as I afterward heard.

Meanwhile our Catechist is making every effort, not only to hold together his little flock, but to meet, in some degree, the desire for instruction among the surrounding Heathen.

The Committee are very thankful that they are able to close these interesting extracts by stating that a Missionary in full Orders has been appointed to the Station of Lac-la-Ronge, and will, D. V., sail by the next ships.

MANITOBA STATION.

This Station, about 200 miles distant from the Red-River Settlement, is situated on the neck of land that intervenes between Lake Manitoba and Lake Winnipeg, at that portion of it where, at the north-east point of the Manitoba Lake, the waters find a passage—by some intermediate lakes, and Partridge-Crop River—into Lake Winnipeg. The abundance of timber in the neighbourhood, and the supplies of fish and wild-fowl to be obtained there, have rendered it a favourite resort of the wandering Indians; and it was accordingly selected by the Rev. A. Cowley as a suitable position for the commencement of Missionary effort. He became permanently resident there on the 1st of August 1844, and since then has been laboriously endeavouring to bring under Christian training and instruction these long-neglected Tribes.

The accounts of this Station have never exhibited much promise, and the faith and patience of the Missionary have been more tried than in other Stations of the country. The account for the present year is of the same complexion. Mr. Cowley writes—

I am distressed from time to time in having nothing to communicate but “lamentation, and mourning, and woe.” My people generally manifest the same indifference, apathy, and recklessness of character with regard to spiritual things, as heretofore. They are seldom near us for any length of time, but wander through the lakes and woods for months together in search of food. They say they do not forget what they hear while at the Station; but when I question them upon the most simple truths of our holy religion their ignorance is distressing, and when joined, as it sometimes is, with levity, truly heart-rending.

There are, however, a few, though very few, who pay more attention to what they hear, and conduct themselves with more decorum. During the past season but few Indians have come in, owing to their having met for the celebration of their religious ceremonies at another place.

Commencement of an Indian Village—School and Farm.

Yet the Lord has not left His servant without some evidence of his favour upon his labours. A small Missionary village has been raised around the Station. Mr. Cowley states—“There are seven Indian dwelling-houses upon the banks of the river, and I expect two others will be built this summer, beside our own School-house and Schoolmaster’s house, the trading establishment, and various out-buildings. This Settlement affords a small Congregation, who, however, meet together each Lord’s-day; and though the Communicants are but five in number, the Lord’s Supper is celebrated in the midst of the wilderness.” A School has been established, containing 35 children, in which several can read the English Bible, and write. As it is necessary to provide food for the children during the winter season, the Missionary is obliged to lay up a stock of fish, and also to keep a plot of ground in cultivation for potatoes and corn. In Mr. Cowley’s Report for the year ending July 1848 he thus describes the Mission Farm—

In order to be the better prepared for future contingencies, we have enlarged the farm this year. The whole of the land, beside the Schoolmaster’s garden within our enclosure, forms a square of about 297 yards by 290. This comprises the site of our house, outhouses, yard, garden, and farm. We have sown about seventeen bushels of wheat and of barley, and have planted twelve pounds of potatoes. If God grant us a fruitful harvest, we shall be prepared to meet the demands of the School without difficulty.

Prevalence of Idolatrous Practices.

Mr. Cowley has been distressed by the frequency of the idolatrous and superstitious exhibitions of the heathen Indians. His Journals contain painful descriptions of the Mitta, or Long Tent, as it is termed, which is the most solemn act of their religion, and consists of the sacrifice of a dog, with incantations performed by the conjurer or medicin man. Even some of those who have professed Christianity, in the time of extreme illness are prevailed upon, or forced, by their heathen relatives, to submit to this idolatrous rite. One distressing case of this kind occurred in the last illness of the wife of Jummia, one of the most hopeful Settlers.

Missionary Journeys.

Mr. Cowley has made excursions to the surrounding tribes, as far as the brief interval of the travelling season, and the necessary engagements of the Settlement, would allow. There are two localities, from four to seven days' voyage from the Station, which have been on several occasions visited, and where Mr. Cowley is most anxious that Schools should be commenced; namely, Shoal River, near Swan River, on the opposite side of Lake Winipigoos, and Berens River, on the opposite side of Lake Winnipeg. With respect to a School at Shoal River, Mr. Cowley says, in his Report—

I sincerely wish that we could get up a School at this place, on account of its vicinity to the Plain Indians, as thereby opportunities would occur of preaching the Gospel to many hundreds, if not thousands, of Indians, whom otherwise I fear we cannot reach. From what I hear of the general character of the Cree-Plain Indians, they are much more likely, humanly speaking, to embrace the Gospel than the Saulteaux, among whom we are labouring.

Appointment of a Bishop for Rupert's Land.

In closing their Report of the North-West-America Mission, the Committee have to express their unfeigned gratitude to God, that, after many years of expectation, a Bishop has been appointed to the distant region of Rupert's Land, and one who has long proved himself an intelligent and zealous friend of the cause of the Society—the Rev. David Anderson, M.A., who will shortly proceed to his interesting but arduous charge.

The chief want in this Mission has been long felt to be the formation of a Native Ministry. The labours of Mr. Budd and Mr. Settee sufficiently show how much may be done by Native Evangelists for their countrymen. Mr. Anderson's long experience as Vice-Principal of St. Bees College, will enable him at once to commence, and carry forward with the best advantage, an Establishment for the training of Native Ministers. He purposes to begin this important work during the first winter after his arrival, and in the subsequent summer to visit the distant Stations of the Society. The Committee look forward with much hope to the benefit which, under God, may accrue to the Mission of the Society, from the presence and paternal influence of a resident Bishop, and the administrations of his sacred office; and they anxiously commend this Mission to the prayers of their friends, that it may derive the full blessing which the prospect before it seems to promise.*

CONCLUSION.

In this review of the Missionary proceedings of the past year the Committee cannot speak of any great accession to the number of converts. But one important fact presents itself

* Further accounts of the North-West-America Mission will be found in the "Church Missionary Record" for January 1849, pp. 10—19; April 1849, pp. 89—91; and May 1849, pp. 109—115.

in respect of all the principal Missions; namely, the openness of the field, through the abatement of opposition, whether from the Priests of the ancient idolatries, or from the followers of the false prophet, or from heathen powers. Everywhere our Missionaries find willing and attentive hearers, and some individuals prepared to receive the Truth; everywhere there is encouraging evidence that a success, far beyond the natural adequacy of the means employed, is granted to the preachers of the Gospel in the nations of the world. The conviction forces itself upon the intelligent observer, that a basis for future operations has been gained, and that we need but additional Missionary agency on our part, and the outpouring of the Spirit from on high, to produce far greater results than we have yet witnessed. For these blessings we must look to the prayers and efforts of the Church at home. The onward movement abroad waits an onward movement at home. The Committee cherish a good hope that the Jubilee will prove a first step of such an onward movement.

The Committee have regarded it as a part of their duty to deliberate upon the appropriation of the Jubilee Fund, and to suggest to this Meeting such measures in the disposal of it as appear to them best calculated to advance the great design of the Society.

In their first Appeal for a Jubilee Fund they stated four objects as presenting special claims upon the Contributions of such an occasion—

- The support of Sick and Disabled Missionaries;
- The education of Missionaries' children;
- The endowment of Native-Christian Churches; and
- The erection of Missionary buildings.

They have reason to believe that these objects gave very general satisfaction, and served to stimulate the sympathy which was manifested on the occasion.

The Contributors had the option of selecting any one of the objects specified, to which their subscriptions should be appropriated. Nineteen-twentieths, however, of the Fund, have been left to the appropriation of the Committee—a proof of confidence which they highly appreciate.

1. For the first two objects specified above, a Special Fund was commenced about twenty years ago; and all the donations and subscriptions to it having been invested and accumulated, now amount to about 20,000%. It is proposed to increase this Fund by the addition of 20,000% out of the Jubilee Fund. The aggregate will be sufficient, it is hoped, to ensure—whatever fluctuations may affect the Society—a provision for the support of the Missionaries in the time of old age or infirmity, and for the education of their children.

Hitherto the expenditure for these objects—amounting at present to 5000*l.* per annum—has been taken out of the General Mission Fund; and often has it been painful, both to the Committee and to the Missionaries themselves, to feel that what is given to the Disabled, is subtracted from the active Labourers and from the work of Missions. This consideration has sometimes forced the Committee to exercise a rigid economy, even in cases where length of service or peculiar trials would have led them to deal with a more liberal hand.

For the future the expenditure for these objects will be taken entirely and exclusively out of the Interest of the Capital of this Special Fund, and the Annual Subscriptions and Donations which may be specially contributed to it.

Ever since the first opening of this Fund—a Fund for the benefit of men who, by leaving their native country to preach Christ to the Gentiles, have cut themselves off from the opportunity of making any provision either for themselves or their families—it has met with peculiar favour, and Contributions have flowed in. It is confidently anticipated that these Contributions will be continued even yet more liberally; and so, with the interest of the invested property, provide for this whole charge.

2. A portion of the Jubilee Fund will also be applied to provide a Building to serve as a Home and School for the Missionaries' children.

3. A sum will be devoted to providing Endowments for Native-Christian Churches in the Missions of the Society, on the principle of meeting sums raised on the spot. The Committee propose at once to devote 10,000*l.* to this object. They confidently anticipate that the knowledge that such a sum is available for this purpose will stimulate the Native Christians in Sierra Leone, Tinnevely, Krishnaghur, and New Zealand, to help themselves; and thus establish the self-supporting principle in all our advanced Missions.

4. A further sum will be appropriated to the fourth object specified in the Jubilee Resolutions, namely, Missionary buildings abroad.

The China Fund will still be kept as a separate Special Fund, supported by Special Contributions, and the Stock in hand.

By those financial arrangements the General Mission Fund of the Society will be set free from charges which have hitherto pressed heavily upon it, and a larger portion be allotted to the support of Missionaries abroad; AND SO THE JUBILEE FUND WILL AT ONCE CONTRIBUTE TO THE EXTENSION, AS WELL AS TO THE STRENGTHENING, OF THE MISSION WORK.

Under these circumstances, the Committee are happy to announce that the Society will be able to send out this year, in addition to the usual annual supply of men by which the Mission Establishments are sustained, TEN Missionaries.

For these men the Committee earnestly, solemnly, and affectionately appeal this day.

And where shall the Committee look? The Society's College at Islington can only supply the current wants of the Missions; and three or four years must pass away before Students can be there prepared to go out. To the Church at large, and to the Universities, the Committee therefore appeal: they appeal for men of experience, for men who are thoroughly and practically imbued with the true Church-of-England Evangelical principles. They are well persuaded that they can offer to such men posts of influence and importance, affording full scope for the highest attainments. Such an addition, at this crisis, to our existing Missionary force, would, under God, mightily help forward the impulse which the Jubilee Commemoration has already given to our work.

Where these additional men may be placed, with the best prospect of extending the Kingdom of Christ, will be a question to be carefully considered by the Committee. Many of our long-established Stations languish for want of additional help, and for want of an organized system for the education of Native Teachers, and of a Christian Literature for our Native Flocks. They are not strong enough to throw out their offshoots, after the example of Sierra Leone in the establishment of the Abbeokuta Mission.

Had Agra, at this crisis, sufficient strength, it might at once prove the basis for Missionary operations in the Punjaub. There is not one of our Stations in India which might not become a centre to the surrounding district, if it possessed a body of well-trained Native Teachers to itinerate, under European superintendence, and to "tarry," like the Missionaries of the Apostolic age, wherever an effectual door might be opened to them.

The Committee, at the commencement of the Jubilee Year, appealed for pecuniary contributions: these have been largely supplied. They now appeal for MEN to consecrate themselves to this holy work. The experience of Fifty years, which the Jubilee Year has prominently brought under review, has enabled the Committee the better to judge of the qualifications necessary to form an efficient Missionary; and, in faithfulness to the trust committed to them, they pledge themselves to use their best judgment in the selection of Missionaries; that they may select men well qualified, by the gifts and graces of the Spirit of God, for doing the work of Evangelists. Our appeal may this day fall upon the ear of some thus qualified. God grant that it may also sink into their hearts!

But every one who is here present may help in the attainment of our grand object: the Lord has Himself shown us in what way—"Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He will send forth labourers into His harvest." We this day renew our appeal, very often before made on occasions like the present, but now made under special circumstances. The Lord has made the openings; He has inclined the hearts of His servants to give the silver and the gold. To give the men is His own prerogative, "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He will send forth labourers into His harvest."

And let all act in the spirit of this prayer. Let fathers and mothers be ready to part with their children, as the children of this world part with theirs for prospects of mere temporal emolument and honour.

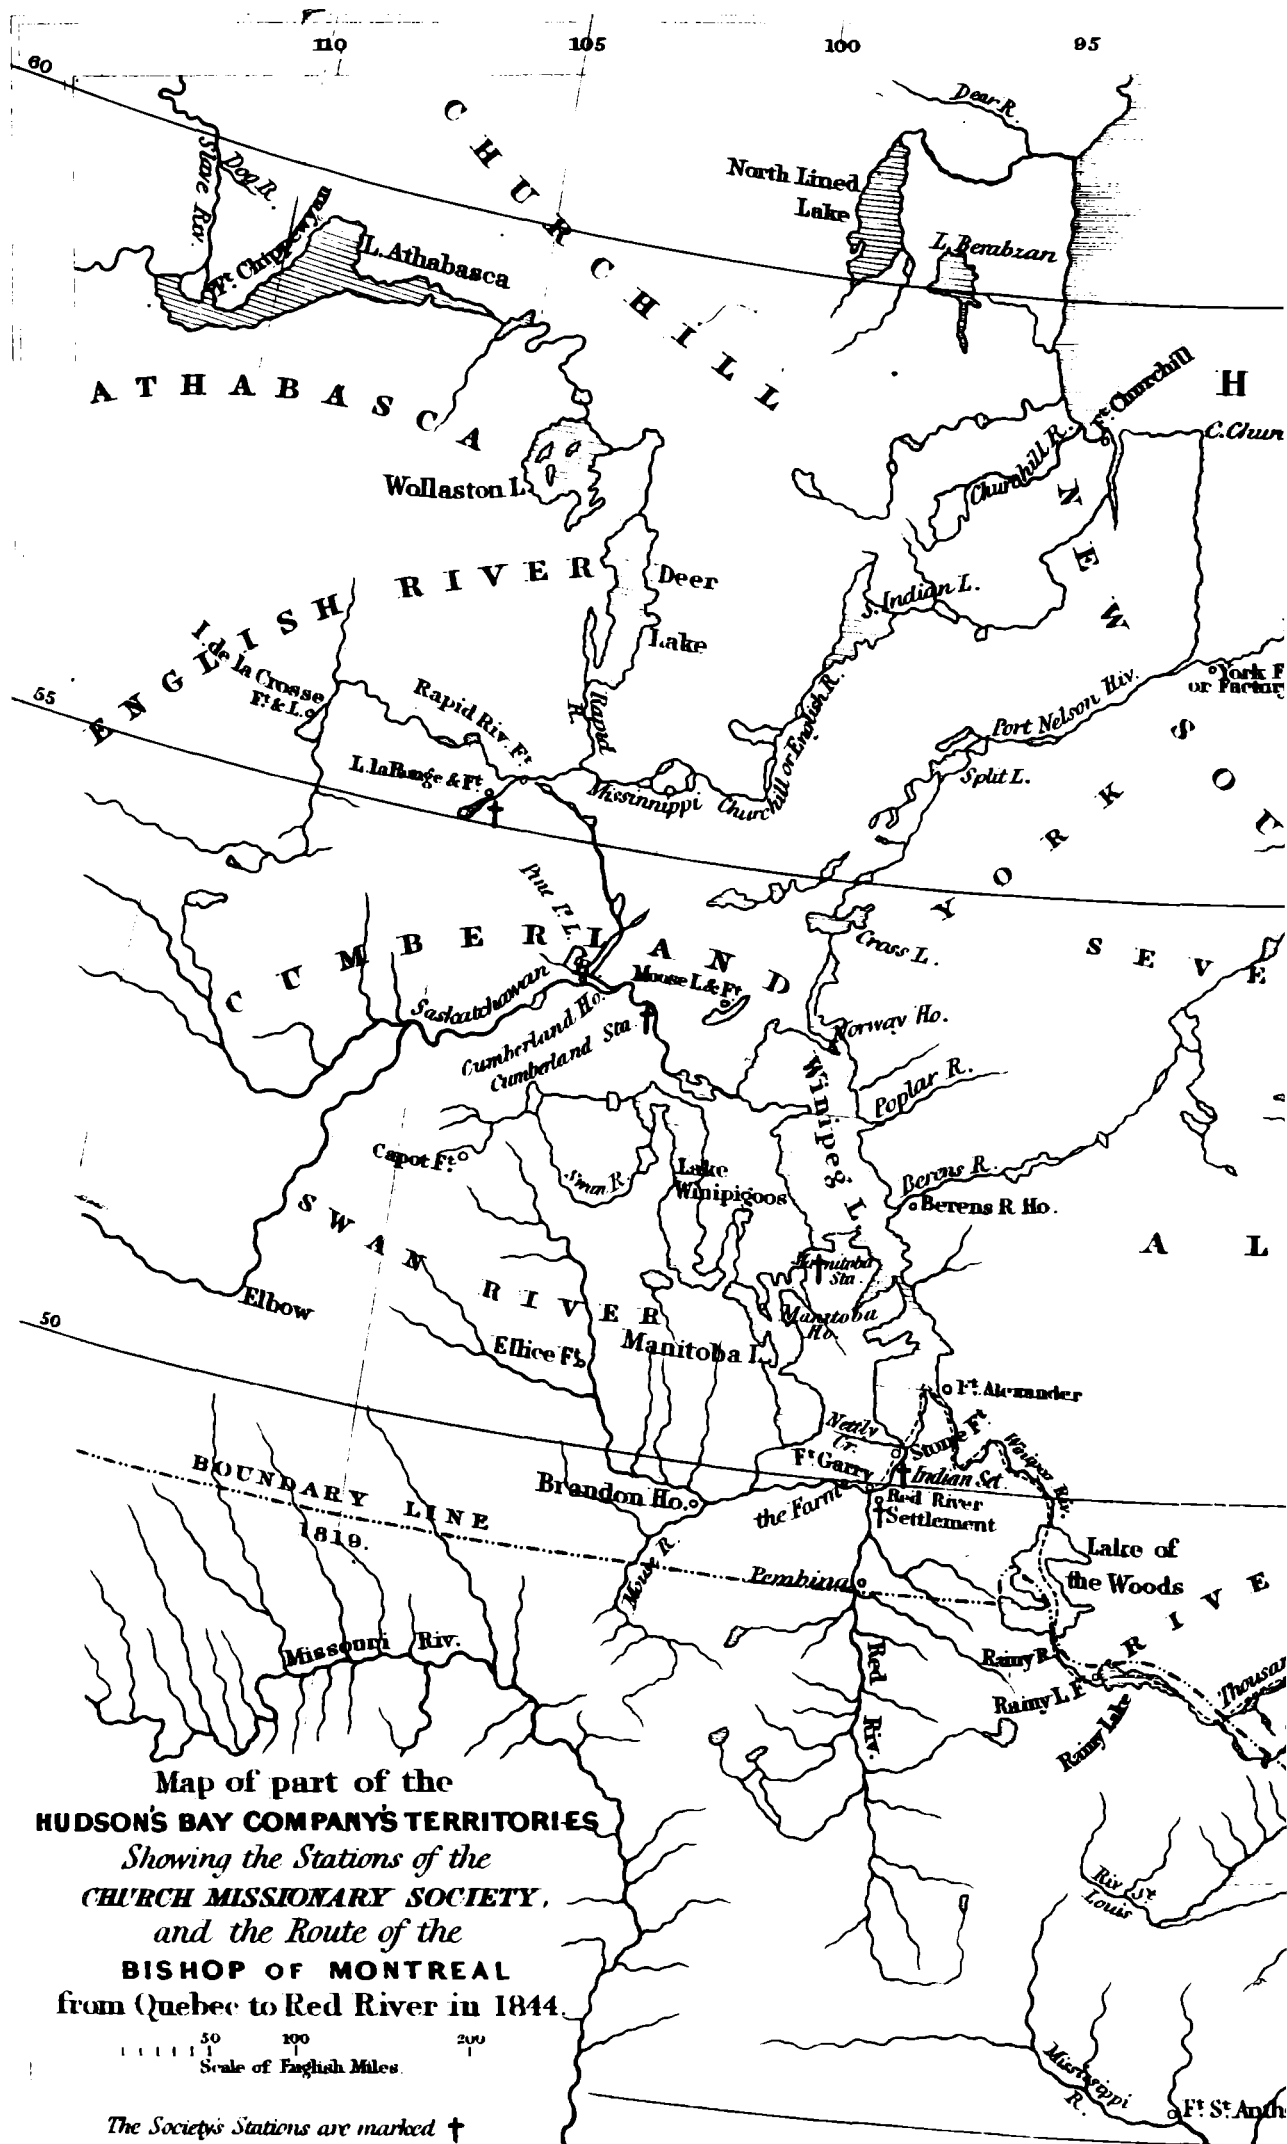

We plead under special circumstances in respect of the STATE OF THE WORLD at large, as well as of THE SOCIETY. In 1847, only two years ago, the Committee placed before the Anniversary Meeting many alarming facts respecting the progress of Popery in the Mission-field. Our Protestant Missions in Krishnaghur, New Zealand, and North-West America, were then threatened with the pernicious inroad of a gaudy and superstitious worship, too well adapted for ensnaring the minds of feeble Native Converts. It then appeared as if the battle between Popery and Protestantism was to be fought on the Mission-field as well as at home.

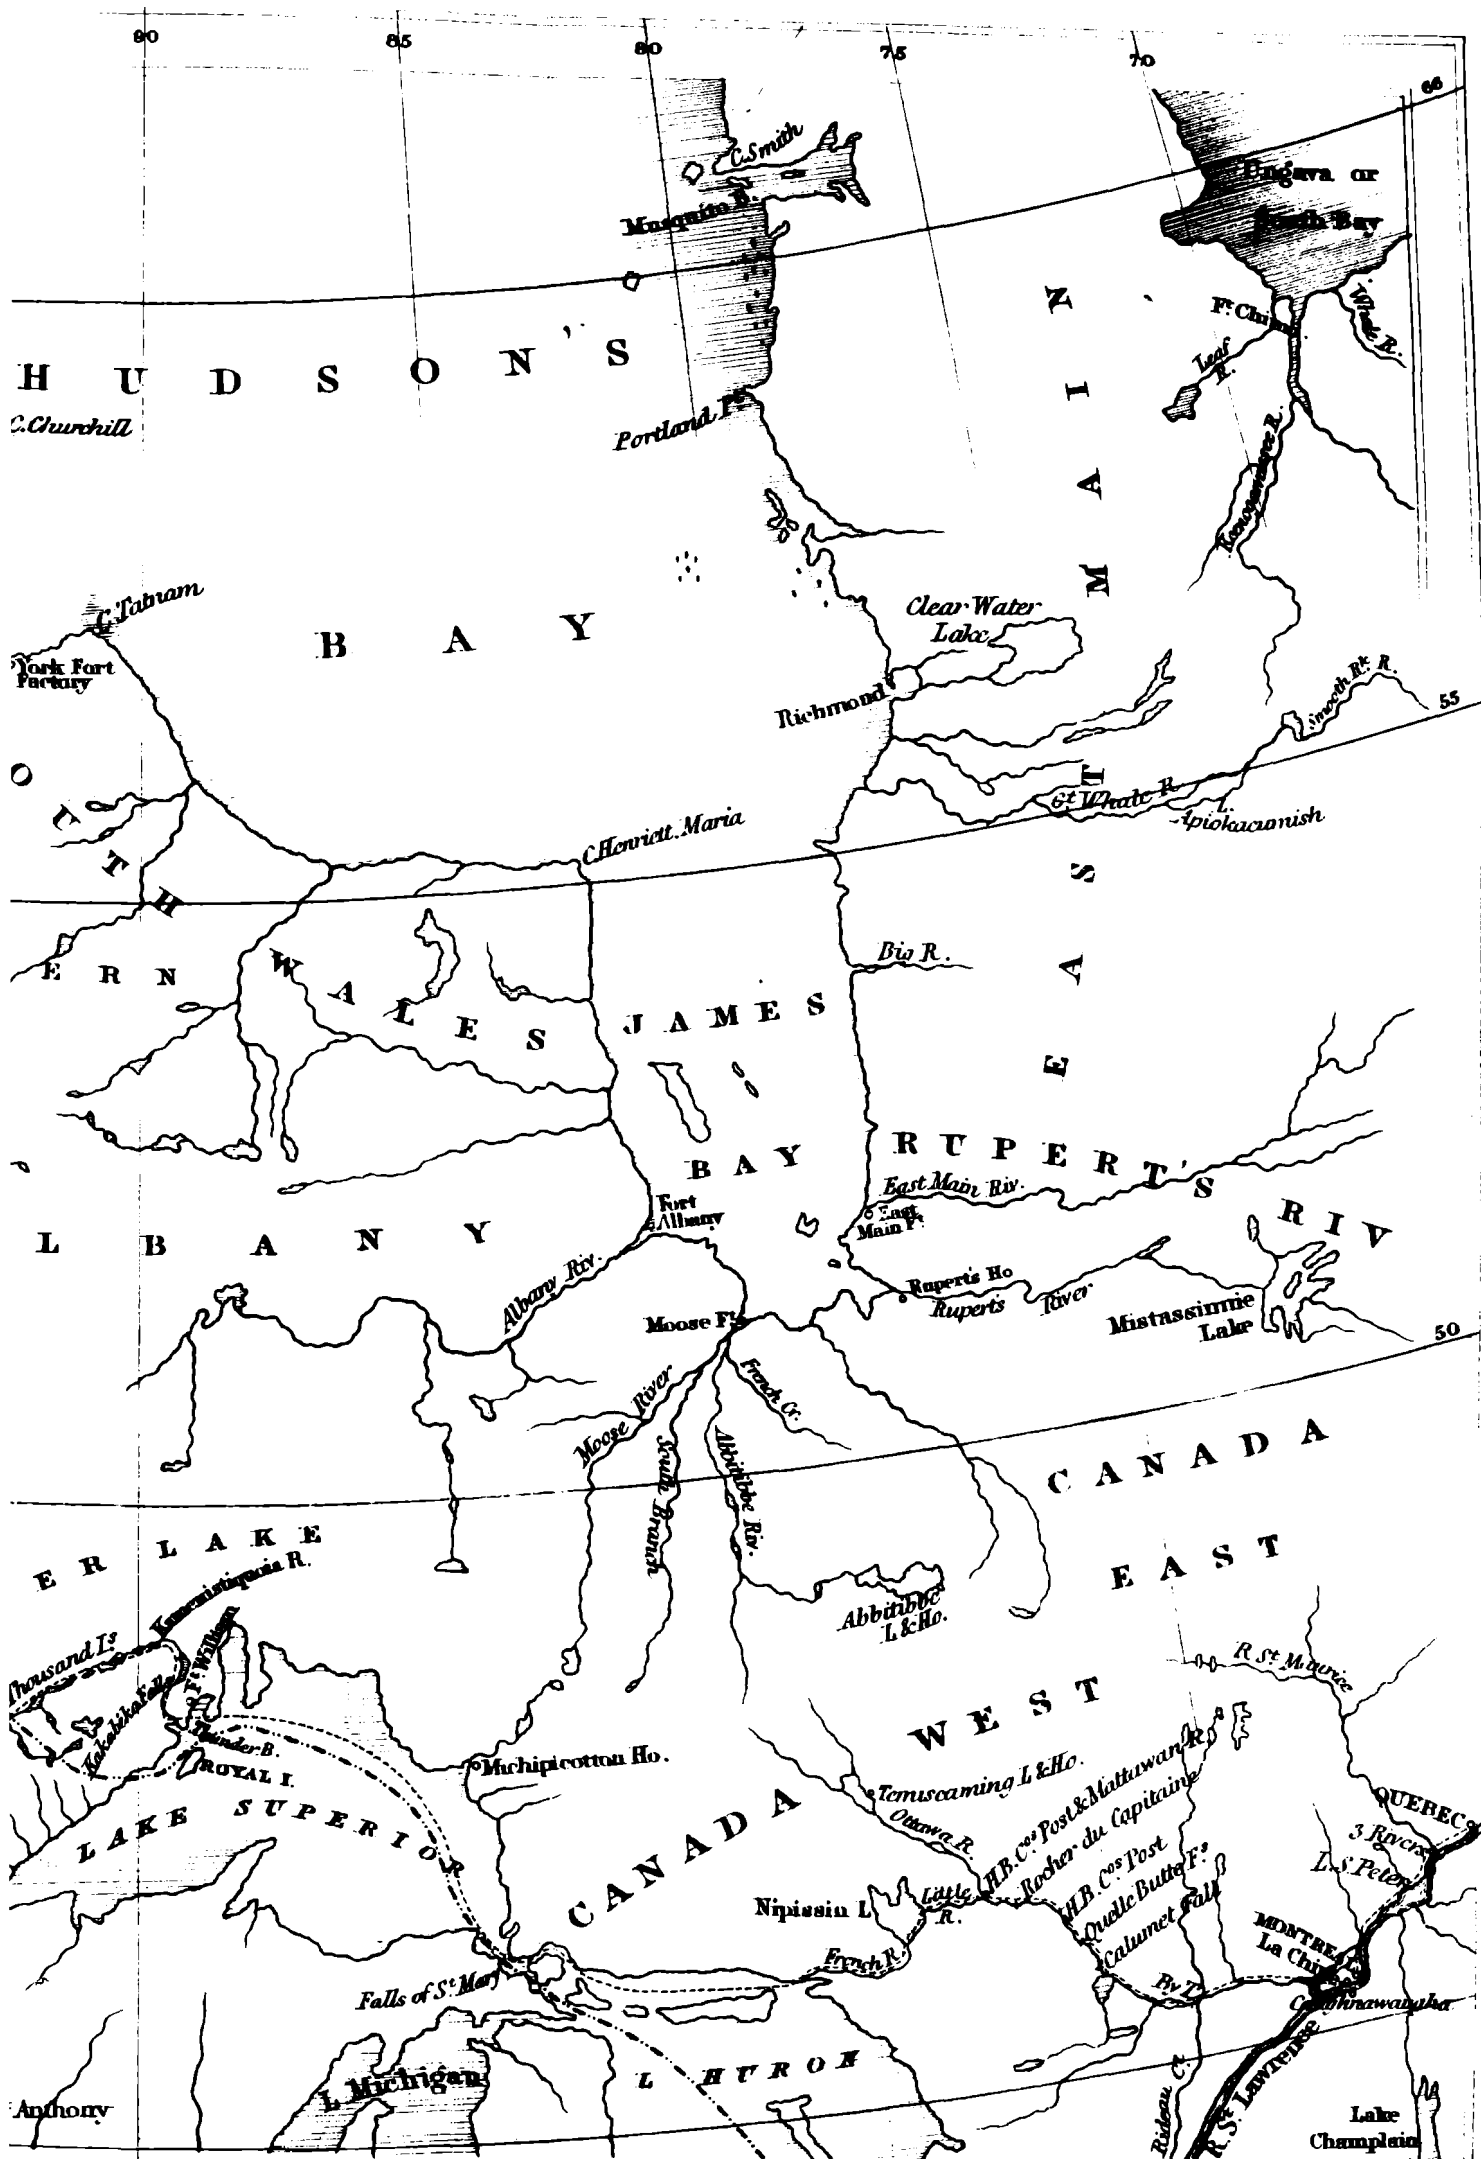

Your Committee are not prepared to say that such apprehensions have wholly passed away; yet, if we survey the Mission-field, there has been of late no fresh irruption of Popery: from Krishnaghur it has withdrawn; in New Zealand the Missionaries represent it as waning; and if we look at Europe, we see the College of the Propaganda, for a time at least, deserted, and France, the great support of Romish Missions, paralyzed. But let it be remembered, that though the power of Rome is now depressed, yet at any time there may be a tremendous recoil. This, therefore, is emphatically the day of Protestant England; and she will be equally blind and faithless if she do not know it. The hand of the Lord has put back the forces of our great antagonist. The hand of the Lord beckons Protestant England forward. Now is the time for increased effort: now is the critical moment when, if it were an earthly warfare, an experienced General would push forward his best forces, seize his advantage, and pre-occupy the ground.

The Committee cannot believe that in making this appeal, if it prove, through God's grace, successful, they incur the responsibility of weakening or impoverishing the Church at home. They are well persuaded that the promises of God guarantee a full recompense for every sacrifice which a Church can make toward the conversion of the world. They can appeal, also, to the experience of fifty years for abundant evidence of the fact, that our Browns and Buchanans, our Martyns and Corries and Thomasons, our Marsdens, our Hebers and Wilsons, have not been lost Sons of the Church at home; but have largely helped to quicken the love, and expand the hearts, and strengthen the hands, of their brethren who have remained in their native land.

The Committee do not fear the charge of presumption in thus making their appeal to the Church at home. The Lord has providentially given the Society such means and facilities as they had not ventured to anticipate, for carrying forward His work in the conversion of the world. Here they rest the strength and the justification of their appeal.

APPENDIX I.

(Vide p. lxvii.)

RULES FOR REDUCING UNWRITTEN LANGUAGES TO ALPHABETICAL WRITING IN ROMAN CHARACTERS; WITH REFERENCE ESPECIALLY TO THE LANGUAGES SPOKEN IN AFRICA.

1. THE want of a standard system of orthography has been experienced by all persons engaged in the study of unwritten languages. Each Translator having to choose his own system, it has not unfrequently happened that two or more persons engaged upon the same language have adopted different systems. This has prevented, in a great measure, the mutual assistance which the parties might have rendered to each other; and has retarded the formation of Primers and educational works, and the translation of the Holy Scriptures.

2. To obviate these difficulties, several of the Missionary Societies, whose Missionaries are engaged in Vernacular Translations of African languages, have proposed the adoption of a common system of orthography; to be regarded as a standard system, and to be employed, as far as possible, in all works printed under their sanction. If in any particular case deviations from the system be thought necessary by the Translators, it is proposed that such deviations should be referred home before their adoption in printed works.

3. The proposed system coincides in its main particulars with those which have hitherto been adopted by the Translators of African languages. It has not been attempted to form a perfect phonetic system, but one which practical experience suggests as the most expedient under all the circumstances of the case.

VOWELS.

4. Let the five vowels a, e, i, o, u, represent the sounds usually termed Italian as heard in the words—

	ENGLISH.	GERMAN.
a.	Bath, bat.	Vater, hand.
e.	Prey, bait, bet.	Stets.
i.	Ravine, beat, bit.	Lieben, Sinn.
o.	Home, boat.	Honig.
u.	Boot, full.	Hut.

5. It will be seen from the examples given above that the same letter represents slight modifications of each sound, such as are called full or long sounds, and short or stopped sounds. Each vowel sound may also be subject to slight variations, from accent, and from connexion with particular consonants. The letter r especially confuses the vowel sound which precedes it in the same syllable.

6. Besides these five vowel sounds there are three intermediate simple sounds, which, in some African languages, require distinct letters; and which may be represented by—

- a.* An obscure sound between a and u, as heard in the English but, sun.
- e.* A sound between the sounds of bat and bait (English). It is hardly distinguishable by an English ear from the latter sound.

It may be best represented by the English aye? when used to ask a question. In Germany it is well known as the sound of the letter ä, Vater.

- o.* A sound between a and o, as heard in the English words law, water, bought, not. It is represented in the Swedish language by å.

7. These vowel sounds may be conveniently arranged in the following order—

i	e	ε	a	ä	o	o	u
beat	bait		bath	but	bought	boat	boot
bit	bet		bat

It has been discovered that the same succession of vowel sounds arises from the gradual lengthening of a musical pipe of a particular construction.

8. There are two other simple vowel sounds, not included in this Scale, which do not occur in the English language, but are found in some African languages, viz.

- (1.) The German ü, Gute; French, une.
- (2.) The German ö, König; French, peu.

For these vowels the signs u and o may be respectively adopted.

9. Some vowel sounds are so indistinct that it is often very difficult to decide by what vowel they should be represented, and recourse must be had to etymology, or to instances in which the sound occurs under accent, or to analogy, for ascertaining the right vowel.

10. An apparent vowel sound sometimes accidentally arises from an imperfect attempt to combine two consonants, as in the pronunciation of the English word elm, often sounded el-um.

DIPHTHONGS.

11. Diphthongal sounds are formed by the combination of any two of the foregoing vowel sounds. They may be best ascertained, and tested, by first pronouncing each vowel distinctly and separately, and then making them gradually coalesce.

Thus, a—i :—(Eng.) Ah—ee, ai :—which forms the sound of the English i in ride, mile.

a—u, au :—forms the sound of the English ow in now.

13. When two vowels standing together are to be sounded distinctly and separately, let the usual mark of diæresis be employed; as, aï, aiï.

14. It has been attempted, in some translations, to express the slighter modifications of the vowel sounds by accents or other diacritical marks; but if perfect accuracy be aimed at, these marks will be multiplied to an indefinite extent; for it must be remembered that vowel sounds are not fixed and definite sounds, but that they gradually glide into each other. Besides which, diacritical marks should be avoided as far as possible, on account of their great practical inconvenience in printing and writing. They may be admitted into Vocabularies and Pronouncing Dictionaries, but not into books for the use of the Natives,—who will not need them when they have once learned to read. The same remarks apply to the division of syllables.

15. An exception must, however, be made when it is necessary to avoid ambiguity in the case of words spelt alike, but differing in signification according to quantity, or accent, or tone. In such cases diacritical marks may be necessary, or some other expedient in the spelling of the word may be adopted as a distinction. Yet it must be remembered that such ambiguities may often be allowed to remain without inconvenience, the sense and position deciding the signification; as in the English words read (verb active), read (participle), nōtable, nōtable, &c. &c.

CONSONANTS.

16. Give the usual sounds to b, d, f, h, k, l, m, n, p, r, t, v, w, y.

x, always as in amaze, rose.

h always have its distinct sound, as in hothouse, grasshopper, &c.

The usual sounds of c, q, x (English) may be represented by k, kwo, ks.

17. If it be necessary to provide for the sounds ch, sh, th, in which h has not its distinct sound :—for the first sound c may be used, as it has been rejected from the alphabet in its usual sound; for sh write s; for th, as in thin, write t; for th, as in thine, write d: in the one case the sound is dental, in the other palatine.

18. It is advisable, for the present, to represent compound consonantal sounds by a combination of consonants, rather than by any diacritical marks, or by new letters. The nasal sound of n may be expressed by ng. A sound is very common in many languages represented by gb, kp, &c. Such combinations appear clumsy, but we are not yet sufficiently acquainted with the varieties of African sounds, or with the construction of African words, to warrant a simpler notation.

19. The retention of these, and of other inconvenient combinations, will not stand in the way of the future adoption of any improved system of orthography. It will manifestly be a step gained toward such ultimate improvement, if all the present varied and varying systems can be referred to one common standard, and if a general understanding be introduced among the different Societies, and among other parties engaged in African translations.

* * Some misapprehension having arisen with regard to the Association Accounts appended to the Society's Report, the Secretaries beg to state that there is no connexion between the sum total of those Accounts and the sum total of Association Contributions acknowledged in the "Abstract of the General Mission Account" of the Parent Committee. The Association Accounts are made up at different periods, and their sum total thus necessarily varies from that acknowledged in the Parent Committee's "Abstract" above mentioned, which includes the actual payments made at the Society's House between April 1st and March 31st in each year, and is, therefore, quite irrespective of the periods at which, for local convenience, Association Accounts are made up and balanced. It frequently happens, however, that an Association remits the whole of its year's receipts during the Society's financial year (April 1 to March 31), in which case of course the total of that Association, given in its place in the Report, will agree with the total acknowledged in the "Summary of Contributions," &c. (which is only an amplification of the total acknowledged in the "Abstract"). Thus in the present Report the Bedfordshire Association Account (p. 16) shows a total of 165*l.* 6*s.* 6*d.*; which sum will be found to agree with the total acknowledged from Bedfordshire in the "Summary," it having been remitted to the Society's House between April 1, 1848, and March 31, 1849. On the other hand, the Chalfont St. Giles' Association Account (p. 23) shows a total of 19*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*, while in the "Summary" the total acknowledged from that Association is only 16*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* This arises from 3*l.* 2*s.* of the 19*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* having been remitted to the Society's House prior to April 1, 1848, and consequently being included in the last year's "Abstract" and "Summary." It would greatly facilitate a perfect agreement between the total of the Association Accounts printed in the Report, and the total acknowledged in the "Abstract" and "Summary," if all the Associations were to close their accounts on the 31st of December in each year. Time would thus be allowed to remit to the Parent Society the whole of the year's receipts before the 31st of March following, and nothing BEYOND the year's receipts should be remitted before the 1st of April.

The appending to the Society's Report of the Accounts of the Associations may be regarded as a universal acknowledgment to the Local Contributors that their Contributions have been received by the Parent Committee; though the circumstances above stated render it impossible that the totals of those Contributions should in all cases correspond with the totals acknowledged in the "Summary." It may be just mentioned, in conclusion, that an Account Current is kept at the Society's Office with each Association, by which the actual transmission of its receipts to the Parent Committee is shown.

N.B. Benefactors of Ten Pounds and upward, whose names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will now find them in the List of "Benefactions of Former Years."

ABSTRACT OF ACCOUNTS CURRENT OF THE MISSIONS, WITH HOME EXPENDITURE;

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1849.

* * The following Statement, compiled from the latest Accounts that have been received, is given with a view of exhibiting, somewhat in detail, the various heads of Expenditure in the several Missions, and at Home. It will be perceived, however, that the totals, both of the whole, and of each Mission, differ from the totals given in the Abstract of the General Mission Account (pp. 184, 186, 188, and 190). This arises chiefly from the Accounts of the Missions being made up to various periods; while the Society's Financial Year uniformly closes on the 31st of March.

The Establishment at each Mission Station may be seen by referring to pp. xvi. xvii.
