PROPER FORM OF A BENEFACTION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

No. I.—Form of Bequest of a Common Legacy.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East the sum of _____ Pounds free of Legacy duty* for the general purposes of the said Society to be paid within _____ calendar months next after my death, exclusively out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may be bequeathed for charitable purposes and in priority to all other payments thereout but to be subject to abate proportionably with other Legacies in case my general Personal Estate shall be insufficient for payment of them all in full. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society [or each of the said Societies] shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy [or Legacies respectively].

No. II.—Form of Bequest of the Residue, or a Share of the Residue.

And in order to give full effect to the bequest hereinafter contained for charitable purposes I direct that my Debts, the expenses of my funeral and of the probate and execution of this my Will and the Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto† shall be paid out of such part of my personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may not be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the primary Fund‡ and in case only of the same being insufficient for payment thereof then out of such part of my personal Estate as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the ultimate Fund; and subject as aforesaid, I give and bequeath unto the Treasurer for the time being of The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, for the general purposes of the said Society, such part of my residuary personal Estate as by the Laws in force may be bequeathed for charitable purposes [or if a share only of the residue be intended by the given, then, instead of the words in Italics, say, "such sum of money as shall be equal to (one-fourth or one-half, according to the intention) of my whole residuary personal Estate to be paid exclusively out of such part thereof as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes or such less sum as the said last mentioned part of my personal Estate will extend to pay"]. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general residuary personal Estate I bequeath the same &c. §

* If so intended.

† In case there be other charitable Legacies, insert here, "other than and except charitable Legacies."

‡ If it be intended also to charge the Debts and Legacies on real Estate, then add "and in the next place out of my Freehold and Copyhold Estates."

§ The latter Clause to be filled up according to the Testator's wishes; but it must not be for any charitable purpose.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued: The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.*

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. That all questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between any Colonial Bishop and any Committee of the Society, shall be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, whose decision thereupon shall be final.

XXXIII. That the object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as, in any other respect, to alter the principles and practice of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations, and explained in Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Report.

The proposed reference shall be made, through His Grace the Primate, by the Committee, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the Committee may deem advisable; and the Committee will be bound so to refer all questions, falling within the scope of the Rule so understood as aforesaid, which the Colonial Bishop shall require them to refer.

While all decisions of the Bench of Bishops on questions so referred will be considered by the Committee as binding on them and their agents or representatives, the Colonial Bishops or other Ecclesiastical Authorities, unless concurring in the reference, cannot properly be considered as so bound.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The following passage, from Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Annual Report, illustrates the practice of the Society in reference to this Rule:—

"The Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] our Missionaries—these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same Colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church."

APPENDIX II. TO THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT.

REFERRED TO IN THE NOTE TO LAW XXIX.

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

It is the object of the following Remarks to show, that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognised in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognised co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in MATTERS ECCLESIASTICAL; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant Church, a Lay-Patron selects and presents "his Clerk"—as the Clergyman is technically called—to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every Church—the Churchwardens or Sidesmen—whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle, that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the FOUR following Heads:

I. THE COLLECTION OF THE HOME REVENUE, and THE DISBURSEMENT OF IT ABROAD.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. THE SELECTING AND EDUCATING CANDIDATES FOR MISSIONARY EMPLOYMENT.

In this department there is no necessary encroachments upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged, that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment: and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates: and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth:"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London "sends forth" every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their Foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a SENDING FORTH of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign Stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognised the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour; so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President—December 17, 1835—in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognised Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation, or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those—the Committee and Secretary—who still stand in the relation of Lay-Patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop* or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask [to receive]."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms:—"You seem to me to lay down the principle most correctly..... This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I report all the proceedings of the diocese."—9th June 1835.

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a license or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries: the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837:—

"We are not to take for granted, that discretionary power will be abused; but, on the contrary, to provide, by a cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an occurrence. If the event of arbitrary conduct should arise, or be supposed to arise, the remedies are—public opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop—and the Society's refusing to make other appointments and locations than those unreasonably objected to. Nothing is the least likely—and probability is the guide of life—to arise to impede or cramp the Committee; since they unquestionably and avowedly possess, The choice of men—The appointment of spheres of labour—The temporal power, including pecuniary support."

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands toward its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a Beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is, in a sense, perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Missionary Committees," says his Lordship, "have a far greater latitude in India than any Lay-Patrons at home. Upon presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, the Patron at home is functus officio. The Clergyman is removed, on being once instituted and licensed, totally and for ever from the Patron, and is transferred to the superintendency of the Bishop. The Patron has nothing whatever more to do with him. But in India, the Committee is (1) the continued paymaster of the Missionary after he is duly licensed;—for institution and induction there are none. (2) They correspond with him. (3) They supply him with Catechists. (4) They report his chief proceedings home. (5) They propose removals and changes of Station to the Bishop. (6) They exercise, unavoidably, an influence which does not belong to the mere Lay-Patron; and are aiding, in a variety of ways, to the comfortable and honourable discharge of the Missionary's most exalted and most spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those Stations which are Extra-diocesan; i.e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such Stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras, to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission of Travancore; which, as an independent state, not forming part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made on behalf of the New-Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia; who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly satisfactory to me, that our friends at home are taking a view of these things which proves them to belong, not only to a MISSIONARY, but also to a CHURCH SOCIETY." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert, that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta—Letter, May 26, 1837: "The boundaries of the power of Committees, as they approach to those of the Bishop, can be ascertained, in many points, only by time and observation." Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society: and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—"The principles of our new relations are now fully recognised: the details will soon find their level."—Letter, 9th June 1836.

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church.* Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this TRANSITION STATE—from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour.

* The American Episcopal Church has, in Convention, thus identified itself with a Missionary Society.

This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach. In an interview with the Bishop of Barbadoes—April 1835—this point was expressly alluded to; and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, "that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary's services."—(Extracts from Committee's Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society, according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee's using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper Candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So, also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops—as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson—that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceedings.

It seems impossible to supersede this conventional understanding—as it may be termed—till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, not of confusion, but of peace, and "the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause—"that all and every of these may, IN THEIR SEVERAL CALLINGS, serve truly and pain-fully, to the glory of His name!"

February, 1839.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May the 3d, 1859, being the Sixtieth Anniversary—

The Right Hon. the EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair,

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. JOHN VENN, M.A., PREBENDARY OF HEREFORD,

On the Motion of the DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH, V.P., seconded by the REV. T. RAWSON BIRKS M.A., Rector of Kelshall, Herts., it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of this Meeting be given to the Lord Bishop of London, for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to His Grace the Vice-Patron; to the Right Hon. the President and the Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies—[See List, p. iv.]

On the Motion of the REV. THOMAS VALPY FRENCH, M.A., Missionary from Agra, seconded by the LORD BISHOP OF LONDON, V.P., it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the remarkable events in India during the last two years, and the manifest blessing of God upon the inadequate efforts hitherto made for evangelizing that vast country, present the strongest grounds for renewed and enlarged efforts in that sacred cause.

On the Motion of the RIGHT REV. BISHOP PAYNE, from Liberia, seconded by the REV. CHARLES B. LEUPOLT, Missionary from Benares, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That while this Meeting recognises in our Indian dependencies the first claim upon our Missionary zeal, it deprecates all thought either of checking increased effort for Africa and China, or of overlooking the claims of Japan, and every other unevangelized country.

On the Motion of the LORD BISHOP OF CARLISLE, V.P., seconded by the REV. W. WELDON CHAMPNEYS, M.A., Rector of St. Mary's, Whitechapel, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That adverting to the need of an enlarged annual income, and of a greatly increased supply of Missionaries before the Society can fulfil the obligations recognised in the preceding Resolutions, this Meeting would humble themselves before the Lord on account of national sins and shortcomings, and devoutly express their confidence that, as He has saved India to Great Britain, and opened to her Africa, China, and Japan, so He will pour out a spirit of more self-denying liberality, more fervent prayer, and more devoted zeal for the extension of His kingdom.

PSALM II. 8.

AND THE UTTERMOST PARTS OF THE EARTH FOR THY POSSESSION.”

EVERY one must have been struck with the appropriateness of this second Psalm, when it occurred in the regular services of yesterday, our day of thanksgiving. Speaking of the great victory of Christ our King, of the establishment of His power over all the earth, in spite of the raging of the heathen, and the vain things which the people imagine, it seemed well suited for that day of rejoicing in which we commemorated God's great goodness in scattering the devices of the heathen in our Eastern Empire. There are also words in it, in the eleventh verse, which, incidentally, and quite unconnected with the general subject, might have seemed to speak to us yesterday with remarkable force. Looking forward as we do from a day of rejoicing into a future, dark with gathering clouds, what more appropriate warning for our rejoicing than those words of the eleventh verse, “rejoice with trembling”—mingle with your joy that fear which, in godly hearts, makes men cling only the nearer to the Lord who controls all dangers? But it is not so much any incidental words of the Psalm, as its general tone, which seemed so well suited for us yesterday—better suited, perhaps, you may think, for such a thanksgiving as brought us together yesterday, than for our meeting here to-day; since, yesterday, we spoke of one of those rare occasions on which the kingdom of Christ is upheld even by carnal weapons, when the thought of the maintenance of Christ's power was associated with the remembrance of the shouts of victorious soldiers and the groans of the dying—strange sounds to be heard in the kingdom of the Prince of Peace. So that the Lord—who is revealed in this Psalm as the Lord of terror, breaking the power of his enemies with a rod of iron, and dashing them in pieces like a potter's vessel—seemed, through the events for which we were yesterday offering up our thanks to God, not inappropriately to have shown Himself, even in these latter days, to be one who can use even carnal weapons for the destruction of all who rise up against him.

There is something certainly very remarkable in the tone both of this Psalm, which speaks of Christ's kingdom, and of the hundred and tenth, which speaks so distinctly of His priesthood, in that both of them represent the Lord as a conqueror, as establishing Himself above the nations; and the images which are used are applicable to a temporal conqueror, to one whose kingdom may almost be thought to be of this world, established in the greatness of its strength through the weapons which this world wields. Here are words in this Psalm which it is well for us to note in this view:—"Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. . . . Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish by the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little." And look also at the hundred and tenth Psalm, which speaks so markedly of Christ's priesthood—"A priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek;" a subject, we might have expected, which would have called forth images of peace, while the triumph of Him is celebrated, who gained his greatest victory by the sacrifice of Himself upon the cross, and the lowly submission of His holy nature to that humiliation which He bore for our sakes. Even in that Psalm we have words which speak of a great and terrible conqueror:—"The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath. He shall judge among the heathen; He shall fill the places with dead bodies; He shall wound the heads over many countries." These Psalms, then, compared together, are well suited for the subject, with its terrors, which called us together yesterday. But our thanksgiving is not for one day only, but for all our lives. Let us this night, when we are gathered together to speak rather of those peaceful triumphs which the Lord Jesus in His humility wins day by day, by the faithful preaching of the Gospel, still turn our thoughts for a moment to the great changes which have been wrought even by Christ revealing Himself in the terrors of war. Let us trust that in our Eastern Empire, for the time to come, the events for which we yesterday thanked God will not merely be remembered on account of their terrors; that travellers in the East in future times may not merely point to the scenes, the names of which will be for ever dark on account of the crimes which were perpetrated in them, or terrible from the thoughts of the heroic bravery by which the perpetrators of these crimes were punished and subdued; but rather let us trust, that when men pass these places in times to come, they will see in them the gradual growth of an improved Christian civilization—a civilization real, because it is Christian; and will tell one to another that these are places where the British race were indeed greatly wronged, but where, like Christian men, they paid back to those who wronged them the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ; giving, instead of the evils they received, the greatest of all blessings. And as, in our own neighbouring island, the memory of God's judgments, in the famine sent some years ago, is kept alive in the sight of all by the gradual improvement which has spread through the land from that time to this, so let us trust that in India also these two gloomy years may be marked by the commencement and the carrying forward of many great Christian improvements scarcely to have been hoped for, had not God brought us through these years of trouble to a more glorious rest, and a fuller enjoyment in India of the blessings of His Gospel than was ever known before.

But this Psalm is not merely suggestive of our victories through Christ's power. We all know that it is, perhaps above all others, a Psalm which speaks of the Messiah. It is shown to be a Psalm speaking of the Messiah, by every proof which can be adduced, and we may well recur to it, and we shall find it full of suitable Christian thoughts at every time when we speak of the victories of Christ, won in His quietness as well as in the display of His power. First, this Psalm is proved to speak of the Messiah, the King, by the internal evidence; for of course there is no one else to whom the language of the Psalm can in its fulness apply. David, established in his strength and reposing after his victories, answers not to the idea which is expressed in this second Psalm; and even his magnificent son, reposing on the victories which his father had won, and himself spreading his kingdom far and wide, is but a poor type indeed of Him whose glories are here set before us. Again, as all know, the Jews at all times thus understood the words before us, tracing the glories of the Messiah's kingdom in this opening of the Book of Psalms. Again, in this Psalm we have for the first time two names which were especially given in after times to the Lord—the name of Messiah, or the Anointed, and the name of the Son of God. "Why do the heathen rage . . . and the rulers take counsel together against the Lord and against his Anointed?" "Thou art my Son: this day have I begotten thee." "Kiss the Son, lest he be angry." These two names, Christ, and the Son of God, by which we recognise the Lord of Glory, first appear before us in this Psalm, and from this Psalm we trace them onwards through the rest of the Bible, darkly, perhaps, in the Old Testament, clearly in the New, familiar to all Jews from the time when David wrote this Psalm; till at last, at the end of our Lord's earthly life, we find both names united. The 63d verse of the twenty-sixth chapter of St. Matthew brings both the names together, when the High Priest says to the Lord, "I adjure thee, by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God;" that is, whether thou be He who is spoken of in the second Psalm. Again, we have throughout the Scriptures, traces that the imagery of this Psalm was perpetually recurring to those who were speaking to one another of the Messiah and His power, whether it be in the Acts,* where we have St. Paul quoting the words of this Psalm, and applying them to Christ's Easter victory—and hence it is chosen for one of our Easter Psalms—or whether it be in the Hebrews,† where we have it brought forward to show the great majesty of Christ the Son of God; or whether it be in the Revelations,‡ where He who is the Word of God is set forth, under images taken from this Psalm, treading down all enemies, and ruling them with that rod of iron which is here spoken of. Wherever we turn, we find that the imagery of this Psalm, applied to Christ the Messiah, was familiar to the Jewish people, and from them is incorporated into the Scriptures of the New Testament. So clearly, by every proof, is this Psalm shown to have Christ for its subject. Still, it cannot be denied that in most of the places where this Psalm is referred to, it is rather the terrors of Christ's reign, than the victories of his meekness, that are set before us. In one remarkable place, however, which it may be well to turn to—the fourth chapter of Acts and the 24th verse—we have another aspect given to it. The multitude of the disciples, when they were gathered together to receive the Apostles Peter and John, who had been brought before the Council and dismissed, when they heard the report of how God had sustained them against the enemies who had brought them into the judgment hall, we read, "lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is: who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things? The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ." They quote this Psalm, and then give us their view of the fulfilment of it in the 27th verse—"Of a truth against thy holy child * Acts xiii. 33.

† Heb. i. 5.

‡ Rev. ii. 27, xii. 5.

Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together." They saw no inconsistency between the humiliation of the lowly Jesus, bearing all that was put upon Him, and conquering the wrath of His enemies by patient submission even unto death, and the glories of that kingly power which are spoken of throughout this Psalm. The greatest victory of the Messiah was won through His death and humiliation.

Are we, then, to suppose that this Psalm, and the language in which it speaks of Christ's victory, is perfectly fulfilled in the death and resurrection of Christ, and in His purely spiritual triumphs, or are we to consider that a great outward fulfilment of this prophecy still remains? A day is coming, certainly, when He who was first manifested in His humiliation will be manifested also in His awful power; when He who is preached as the lowly Jesus at last shall bring the time of His long suffering to an end; and having borne patiently with His persecutors for many a year, shall at last unbare his arm, and come with judgment, with those terrors of which, in its most literal meaning, the imagery of this Psalm speaks. All Christians expect that the Lord Jesus will at last be thus manifested in vengeance. This is certainly the literal fulfilment of this prophecy. And besides this fulfilment by Christ's outward conquest, when He comes as a judge and a stern avenger, no doubt also the outward glories of His kingdom will be manifested by that other process, by which, when all men's hearts throughout the world are brought to love and acknowledge Him, the outward appearance will speak of that which the grace of God has formed within. The eleventh chapter of Revelations teaches us to look for a time when the kingdoms of this world will become all incorporated in Christ's kingdom. The preaching of the Gospel of Christ is steadily bringing on that day when we shall have a fulfilment of the prophesying of this Psalm in the way of natural consequence. When the Gospel has been preached through the whole world, and those who have resisted the Gospel are removed by Christ's power, the whole of this earth will testify in its outward form, that it is the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ. "The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. And the four and twenty elders fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned." All things tend towards this great consummation. The sum, then, of the whole is—throughout this Psalm we are taught to look forward to the time when all outward things shall speak of Him, who, having at last subjugated all hearts through the preaching of his Gospel, and by his power removed all who oppose Him, shall reign for ever and ever over a regenerated earth, manifested with all the outward power of a King and a Conqueror, even because his spiritual power has at last prevailed over all obstacles.

Now, seeing that the Psalm which speaks of this happy consummation is so full of images of an outward and earthly conqueror, it is not unnatural that the Jewish people should have been much inclined to look for a temporal deliverer. No wonder that, in the days when the Lord came, every Jew should have been looking for a conqueror, who, by the arm of strength, was to free him from his Roman masters; no wonder that men like Herod should have availed themselves of the general expectation of the Jewish people, to put forth their own claims to be regarded as this outward conqueror; no wonder, when even the blessed Apostles themselves could not divest their minds of the thought that it was an outward kingdom which the Lord had come to establish. When Satan dared to tempt even the Lord Himself with the promise of this outward kingdom—"All this power will I give thee"—no wonder that there should be a tendency in human nature to look to the outward, and visible, and palpable establishment of the Gospel, rather than to its establishment in men's hearts. Truly the outward spread of the Gospel, the establishment of Christian institutions, is full of blessings for the people who enjoy it; so full, that at times we are almost led to think that we may use the arm of carnal power for the establishing of these spiritual blessings; no wonder that men in darker ages have thought that it was a good thing, even at the point of the sword, to force men to become Christians; no wonder, that in those adventurous times when men first went forth to seek a new world in South America, they should have thought it a great glory for the cross of Christ to take possession, even outwardly, of another continent, and should have gloried that they were privileged to erect the outward sign of our salvation as the symbol of their new dominion. But it is very important for real Christians at all times to remember, that whatever blessings may come from these outward manifestations of a kingdom—however we may thank God that, through them, even an imperfect Christianity is spread, and children, who might otherwise have been born where Christ was totally unknown, are brought within the reach of some Christian influence,— though these blessings, coming from the outward propagation of the Gospel, are so great,—yet the Lord has most distinctly said that his kingdom is not of this world; and we begin at the wrong end when we attempt to force the Gospel by any means but that of the quiet preaching of its truths, with earnest prayer, which are the weapons of the Christian Missionary. We are indeed to wait upon God's providences. The Missionary is to follow closely in the track of those who, for their own selfish purpose, either by commerce or by war, extend the power of the nations that are nominally Christian. But the Missionary knows, and all who faithfully help his cause know also, that it is through the weapons of prayer, and the faithful preaching of the Word, that his cause must prosper. We hold, indeed, that all men who have temporal power given to them, and are themselves Christians, are bound to use that power for opening up new routes through which the Missionary may travel. But we look to the quiet preaching of the Gospel and the power of prayer as the weapons which the Missionary is to use. And at all times it is very important for us to remember, in our heart of hearts, that our work is a spiritual work.

When men form themselves into great societies, with vast arrangements for business; when they meet together on great anniversaries, and friends, coming from various quarters of the kingdom, feel the excitement of such meetings, apart even from the spiritual purposes for which they are assembled; it is well for us to call solemnly to mind that our work is indeed a spiritual work. It is well for us, on this first day of these anniversary meetings, to be gathered together in the house of God, that we may sanctify them all by a near approach to Him through prayer and praise, and by dwelling upon the word of God.

Sometimes you hear men speak as if this work could be accomplished even by outward means. How commonly is it said, "Strange, that when there are young men ready to go forth as soldiers or civilians, wherever they are wanted for their country, there should be so much difficulty in obtaining Missionaries." But it is well to call to mind that a man who might make an excellent soldier, or an excellent civilian, will not do for a Missionary, unless the Spirit of God be burning brightly within his heart. It is a spiritual work in which we are engaged, and it is only by having men enlisted in it whom the Spirit of God teaches and guides, that we shall really prevail.

The thoughts connected with this subject are searching thoughts. What is it that will make our young men able to go forth as Missionaries? Our having Christian homes in which they are trained. And what is a Christian home? A house which not only has the outward signs of Christianity, in family prayer and the reading of the word of God, but in which the parents are themselves real Christians. Are we looking forward to the spread of the Gospel of Christ through our Missionary efforts? We all have forced upon our hearts the plainest and most practical of all common lessons—that if we would have this Missionary work prosper, the Gospel of Jesus Christ must be in our own hearts. How else do we expect to prosper in our work at home? We rejoice to think of the assistance which is given us by all the arrangements of an Established Church; we rejoice to have every help and assistance which learning can give; we rejoice to see the outward zeal which manifests itself so peculiarly in this age in building to God's honour churches and schools, and in adorning the nation with all the outward apparatus of a Christian life: but is not the thought forced upon us continually, that these outward things will not avail, unless in our own inmost heart the Gospel of Jesus Christ be working? So then, at this time, when we gather together to encourage each other in our Missionary work abroad, we shall be brought to shame, by the very nature of the work in which we are engaged, unless we know that, in our own families and our own hearts, there is that zeal for Christ which we profess our desire to spread throughout the world. Let us begin, then, the anniversaries of this week by searching our own hearts: let us look carefully to our own spiritual progress. Our weakness, our deep sense of our abiding sin, how should it humble us in the sight of God, when we take upon us to do his great work! And, humbling us, it will bring us to prayer, and prayer will give us strength. Let each of us, who desire to spread Messiah's kingdom throughout the world, resolve, as in the sight of God, that we will earnestly strive to advance it in our hearts and in our families; and then, from these centres, blessings will spread far and wide throughout the circles in which we move, and great indeed will be the work which Christ will then enable us to do. Stedfast in His cause ourselves, we are called upon to pray for others at a distance. Let us pray earnestly, every man for his own soul.

THE Committee have again the happiness, through the good hand of God upon their work, to announce a rising income. The Financial Statement is as follows—

| Total received in the United Kingdom, £146,376    | 9       | 1  |    |

The ordinary income is the highest which the Society has ever received, excepting that of last year, of which it falls short by 8698%. That year's income, however, contained an extraordinary donation of 10,000%.

It is matter of great encouragement that the Associations have this year contributed a far larger amount than in any previous year: exceeding that of last year by 6030%, and the average of the last five years by 8783%.

If the local contributions raised and expended upon the operations of the Society in the Missions, especially in India, be taken into account, which may be estimated at above 15,000%, this would bring up the general aggregate to 161,376%.

In announcing this result, it becomes a grateful duty on the part of the Committee to acknowledge the valuable services of their fellow-labourers, the large body of collectors, male and female, adult and juvenile, to whose varied, gratuitous, and untiring efforts, through the Divine blessing, must be mainly attributed a total amount of contributions to the Society this year which surpasses all previous experience.

Amidst the devout and grateful feelings which arise upon a review of this large sum, the Committee must confess some feeling of regret that they have not to announce its complete expenditure; and that they have not to report such an increase of Missionaries sent out to India as to have exhausted the Special Indian Fund. But during the last year, so many Missionaries have been removed by sickness and death from the Missions, while the supply of new Missionaries has been so scanty, that the number of European agents actually employed at this time is less than it was last year.

The scanty supply of men would fill the Committee with a sense of humiliation before God and this Meeting, on this occasion, if they were not also able to announce that they have at this time so large a number of accepted candidates, who will be prepared to go out in the course of this and the following year, as will, under God's blessing, remove the reproach, and soon exhaust the funds in hand. There are at present under preparation for going forth, fifteen young men of the University of Cambridge, while several others have declared their intention of offering themselves for the work; two have offered themselves from Trinity College, Dublin; and there are thirty-five other accepted candidates. So that this year has been signalized by the increase of Missionary candidates no less than by the largeness of the income.

The Committee would render humble thanks to the Lord of the harvest for these concurring blessings, of an increasing income, and an increasing supply of men. They receive them as answers to special prayer, for the supply of all their wants, and for the extension of the kingdom of His dear Son.

| Expenditure.....     | 120,342  | 3  | 5  |
| Balance in hand..... | £1,746   | 14 | 5  |

The balance in hand on the 31st March 1858 was, as appears by the last Report, 1444*l.* 18*s.* 11*d.* These two sums amount to 3191*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* The Committee have transferred 3000*l.* of this amount to the Capital Fund; which, with this addition, amounts to about 40,000*l.* This increase of the working capital was rendered necessary by the fact that, during the last two years, it has not been sufficient to meet the inequalities of the income and the expenditure during the early part of the financial year; the monthly expenditure being equable throughout the year, but the monthly income much below the average until the last quarter of the year. It was a recommendation of a Special Finance Committee in the year 1841, that the Capital Fund should at least equal one-third of the annual expenditure.*

SPECIAL FUND FOR INDIA.

A Special Fund for India was commenced in 1857 for strengthening and enlarging the Indian Missions. The amount received on this account up to 31st March 1858 was 24,717*l.* 16*s.* 11*d.* The amount received during the financial year now reported upon is, as has been seen, 24,287*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.*; making a total of 49,005*l.* 8*s.* 2*d.* Out of this amount the sum of 3500*l.* has been estimated as the expenditure consequent upon the enlargement of operations in India. The Committee have also regarded this fund as available for the sustaining of the Missionary operations of other Protestant Societies, which, without such assistance, would have been compelled to contract their operations in India, through the failure of their local resources during the mutiny. They have therefore granted 1000*l.* for the maintenance of the Mission at Chota Nagpore, which has suffered greatly. This Mission had been long supported by the exertions of the venerable M. Gossner, of Berlin, who both selected, trained, and sent out Missionaries, and collected in Germany a large portion of the means necessary for their support. M. Gossner's failing age induced him to make the unexpected proposal to your Committee to transfer to the Church Missionary Society, the whole of Chota Nagpore Mission, with its agency, comprising several European Missionaries, and a body of several thousand native converts and inquirers. The Missionaries were quite willing, if so transferred, to have conformed to the Church of England; but after communicating with the Calcutta Corresponding Committee and other friends of Missions on the spot, it was thought best that the Missions of M. Gossner should continue upon the footing of a German Mission. M. Gossner died during the progress of these negotiations; but an independent Society in Germany has been formed for the support of the Missions, and in the mean time the grant of this Society enabled those Missions to be carried on without check, and a very large blessing from the Lord has rested upon them.†

Under similar circumstances, a grant of 500*l.* was made out of the Indian Fund to the Mission of the Rev. H. Moegling, in Coorg, South India, which had been maintained for several years by local funds, which failed during the mutiny. Mr. Moegling was anxious to have joined the Church Missionary Society, and to have transferred his Mission to their support; but it appeared to be a more advisable measure to connect himself with the Basle Missionary Society, from which Society the Coorg Mission had originally been an offshoot.

A third Mission, which has been assisted under similar circumstances, is a small German Mission in Assam, to which 100% has been granted out of the Indian Fund.

A grant of 250% out of this Fund has also been made to a new Society—THE CHRISTIAN VERNACULAR EDUCATION SOCIETY FOR INDIA. The formation of such a Society was first suggested in a Minute issued by this Committee, Sept. 29, 1857, in reference to the duties of the Christian Church on the breaking out of the mutiny.* It was thought that the circumstances of India presented a special obligation and opportunity for the union of all Protestant and Evangelical Missionary Societies in one common effort to promote a Christian vernacular education for the masses of India, by supplying trained schoolmasters, suitable school-books, and, as far as the funds might allow, grants-in-aid.

The Society was happily inaugurated in May 1858, and has been zealously advanced by the disinterested and invaluable labours of H. Carre Tucker, Esq., of the Bengal Civil Service, to whom this Society, and the cause of Missions generally, is deeply indebted for unwearied personal assistance, as well as munificent donations, during the long period of his official career in high positions in the North-west Provinces.

The expenses of those publications which have been issued by the Committee in support of a Christian policy in the Indian Government, and especially for the removal of the interdiction upon the use of the Bible in Government schools, have also been charged to the Special Indian Fund. The following statement exhibits the account to 31st March 1859—

ISLINGTON INSTITUTION.

After the retirement of the late Principal, the Rev. C. F. Childe, the Committee appointed as his successor the Rev. Thomas Green, M.A., of Brasenose College, Oxford, Incumbent of Friezland, near Manchester. He had already shown himself zealous, able, and successful in the training of Missionary candidates by preparing several Catechists for Africa, some of whom are now faithful labourers in the Yoruba Mission. The Committee have also appointed their valuable and long-tried senior tutor, the Rev. J. G. Heisch, to be Vice-Principal of the Institution.

The number of students resident in the Institution for a longer or shorter period, during the past year has been forty-nine; the average number in residence twenty-eight: the number of students who have left the Institution for their stations, nine.

There is a supplementary class of students under the care of a clergyman, preparatory to their admission into the Institution if found suitable, or to their being sent out as catechists into the Missions. This supplementary class attend the Bible lectures of the Principal in the Institution, and are under his general direction in their studies.

The total number of Missionary candidates now at the Universities, in the Institution, and in the supplementary class, is far larger than at any former time.

THE MISSIONARIES' CHILDREN'S HOME.

The number of children in the "Home," has varied between seventy-five and eighty. One promising child has been removed by death, the first during the ten years of the existence of the Institution.

SIERRA-LEONE MISSION.

THE native church in the colony of Sierra Leone is so far advanced that it should now be left to its own resources for the supply of pastoral ministrations to its own population. It is only as the nursery of native Missionaries, and as the basis of Missionary operations to other parts, that the colony can be regarded as a suitable sphere for the operations of a Missionary Society. The Committee are therefore taking measures, in conjunction with the Bishop, to place the government and support of the native church upon a footing independent of the Society, retaining only a Mission church in Freetown, and those higher educational institutions which may furnish a supply of native teachers.

Much, undoubtedly, remains to be done to bring the population of the colony wholly under Christian instruction, and to sustain the spiritual life of the native church; but, for the accomplishment of these important objects, the Bishop and native clergy, and not the Society, must be held responsible. The Committee, therefore, no longer record the details of pastoral ministrations, which in former years have formed the staple of the West-Africa Mission reports. They propose only to point out general features of progress, and measures for Missionary extension, such as should characterize a native church, designed, in the good providence of God, to be the evangelizer of other African tribes.

During the last year the Mission establishment has been reduced by the removal from the list of two clergymen at home, who, after twenty years' labour in Africa, are unable to return. It has been increased by the addition of one clergyman and two European catechists. Two European ladies have also joined the Mission, to superintend female education.

Mr. Bultmann continues to superintend the Sea District; Mr. Rhodes the village of Wilberforce and its hamlets. Mr. Caiger has charge of the Pademba-Road church; Mr. Black is stationed at Kiskey; and Mr. Hamilton at Waterloo.

General Features of Progress.

The Bishop of Sierra Leone, in a charge lately delivered to his clergy, has borne the following testimony to the state of the colony and the work of the Society—

To every friend of Missions, Sierra Leone has long been a familiar topic. In my native land I have often read, and heard, and spoken, of the work that the great Head of the Church has been doing in this portion of his vineyard; and being no stranger to Mission fields I feel it my duty to state that my expectations were not in the least too highly raised as to the state of things which I should find in this colony. I feel, my reverend brethren, that we have indeed abundant cause to thank God for the blessing He has vouchsafed to the labours of our predecessors, many, very many of whom are gone to their reward.

After noticing some social improvements, the Bishop adds—

But more than all this, when we witness the crowded congregations in the Mission churches, when we see the people kneeling universally in prayer, hear the almost too-loud response from nearly every lip, and then the warmth and heartiness of the song of praise, and again meet so many—two-thirds, or sometimes three-fourths of the adult congregation—crowding to the table of the Lord, many with the marks of former heathenism in their faces ;—what Christian, I ask but would thank God for these things, and would see, in these great results, the value of Missionary labours in general, and would acknowledge the unmistakeable mark of the Divine approbation on the efforts and scriptural principles of that great Society which has been such an honoured instrument in the hands of God for planting the church of Christ on these shores ?

Another witness who may be quoted is the Rev. Samuel Black, who for many years was a much respected member of the legal profession, in the town of Belfast, and an active supporter of all its local charities. He has devoted himself as a Missionary to the spiritual welfare of Africa. He may be regarded, therefore, as a very competent judge of the social progress of the colony, and of its commercial prospects. He thus writes—

I have now been in this colony above a year, during which time I have been no inattentive observer of the occurrences taking place around me. I believe the prospects for Africa were never more hopeful. If the finding of gold in Australia was the means under God of raising a colony to the position of an empire, what may we not expect when the cotton plant of Africa begins to be cultivated and made a source of legitimate commerce ? Religion and commerce going hand in hand will soon, indeed, raise the country to a position which some of its warmest, and steadiest, and best friends may never have expected to behold in their day.

Mr. Black also gives the following encouraging account of his first entrance upon the charge of the station at Kiskey, of which, as he reports, the communicants amount to 817—

After my arrival I was waited upon and presented with an address from the young men of the congregation, which was not only most encouraging, but breathed throughout a kind and Christian spirit. They stated their willingness not only to give me every assistance in their power, but also their readiness to engage in any work which I might consider best calculated to advance the cause of Christ among them. I felt my soul greatly refreshed by the tone and spirituality of the address.

The Rev. G. R. Caiger, who has charge of the Pademba-Road church and district, thus anticipates the gradual extinction of heathenism in Freetown—

Brookfields is the stronghold of heathenism in my station. I believe the work of God is going forward there. There is much to be done amongst them. With the exception of here and there a house, we have tokens of heathenism on all sides. Many are exceedingly savage, and, with the exception of the Romanists, I know of no people who so violently resist every effort to extend the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. The grace of the Saviour, however, is sometimes seen in softening the hearts of these people, and I have great hopes of seeing the face of that district entirely changed. God has done great things for this colony: still we look for the complete fulfilment of the promise, "The heathen shall He give for His inheritance." For this we pray; for this we labour and wait.

EDUCATION.

The education of Sierra Leone is to be regarded, not only in its relation to the 40,000 inhabitants of the colony, but to distant parts of the African continent. Hence it has been the wish of the Society to establish a normal system of education in all its branches, namely, a normal village-school, a grammar-school, a training institution for school-masters, seminary for theological students, and an institution for female education.

It has been found, however, by experience, very difficult to keep up a supply of suitable theological students. The Committee, therefore, took advantage, during the past year, of the presence in England of the Principals of the Fourah-Bay College and of the Grammar-School to review their various educational establishments. It hence appeared that the present state of the colony would scarcely support two such collegiate establishments as the Fourah-Bay Institution and the Grammar-School; whilst the latter institution was the more popular from its position in the heart of Freetown, and the more general character of its education. It has been determined, therefore, to remove, for the present, the theological teachers and students into Freetown, in order that the whole educational staff of the Society may be brought to bear upon its population. It is hoped that education may be thus more generally diffused, and its standard raised; and that, out of such an educated community, the faithful Christian men whom God calls to the ministry may eventually present themselves in greater numbers for a special theological training. Fourah-Bay will be thus, for a time, suspended as a theological college.

The experience of the Committee has been the same in this Mission as in many others. A collegiate system of training youths for the ministry has failed in providing a supply of humble-minded spiritual agents. In the Missions of the Society it has been found preferable to select the agents to be trained in theology from men of more mature Christian character, who have exhibited the divine gift of aptness to teach, in the offices of catechists or Christian visitors, and to give them a special course of theological study of one or two years; while they at the same time keep up the habits of instructing others in catechetical work, or in teaching schools, under the eye and direction of their tutor, who thus becomes a preceptor in pastoral theology, as well as in scholastic.

During the past year, owing to the absence of the Principal, and the uncertainty of future plans, the number of students at the Fourah-Bay Institution has been only six, three of whom, in the course of the year, have been placed out as catechists.

The Grammar-school.

During the absence in Europe of the Rev. J. Millward, the Grammar-school has been under the management of the native tutor, the Rev. J. Quaker, who thus reports its state for the half-year ending 30th September 1858—

The present number of pupils on the list is 70, of whom 38 are boarders.

The Grammar-school has thus kept up its number of pupils, and its financial position is higher than that of any previous half-year since its foundation.

Excepting a brief interruption of eighteen months' absence in England, I have been here, both as a pupil and a teacher, since the commencement of the school in 1845; and have had, in consequence, an opportunity of watching its proceedings twelve long years. Therefore, should I be allowed to bear my humble testimony to its progress, and the generally good effects produced from the instructions imparted to, and received by, the more than 300 pupils who have been admitted within these walls, I would not hesitate to say that the Lord has crowned the labours of his servants with an abundant success.

Mr. Millward, upon his return to the school in November, writes—

It gives me great pleasure to state, that, so far as I have seen, the Grammar-school, is in a very satisfactory state. In the annual examination, at the end of last term, the pupils acquitted themselves very creditably. His Excellency the Governor (who had been present at the examination), with whom I conversed on the subject, told me that he was quite astonished at their intelligence. "They can learn any thing," he said "I had no idea that you had such youths." He gave 10*l.* for prizes, which will be distributed in books.

Female Institution.

The annual report of Miss Sass, the superintendant of the Female Institution, states—

The number of pupils in this Institution has varied during the last year between 28 and 35; from 22 to 29 being boarders.

All the children are engaged in acquiring a knowledge of those branches of English education which will be found most useful to themselves and others in after life. They learn writing and arithmetic, grammar, and geography ; general information is conveyed to their minds by means of object lessons, reading, and conversation ; but the word of God is put before all ; and they are entreated daily to seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness. Plain needlework we consider of the first importance. Some of the children learn French and music, and progress remarkably well.

Two girls from Fernando Po have returned home, and we have good accounts of one of them, that she carefully and industriously keeps her father's house, and assists him nicely in the store ; he is a native merchant. She was with us about three years, and her sister, a very clever and intelligent girl, will follow her next month, and I have no doubt will be as useful as the elder one.

On the whole, the conduct of most of the children has been tolerable, though not altogether satisfactory. They are often wild and disorderly, but we have had fewer cases of dishonesty and deceit and falsehood than is usual in the course of the whole year. So we thank our gracious God, and take courage.

The Industrial Schools for liberated African boys, at Kissey, under Messrs. Bockstatt and Knödler ; and that for girls under Mr. Clemens and Miss Kœning, have continued to give satisfaction. The expense of the board and clothing of the children is defrayed by the Government.

Yoruba services within the Colony.

Liberated Africans from so many different tribes and languages comprise the population of Sierra Leone, that religious instruction is given in the English language, with which they all soon become partially acquainted. It has always, however, been regarded as an important matter to institute services in the native languages where it can be done, both for the benefit of those who understand the English imperfectly, and also to encourage such of them as may emigrate to their native tribes to carry with them the example and habit of native services. Mr. Black thus notices a Yoruba service held at Kissey—

Isaac Spencer, the Aku (Yoruba) catechist, holds a service in the school-room beneath the church, for the benefit of the Aku-speaking population. This man's appointment, which was merely by way of an experiment, has turned out most satisfactory. He has a congregation of about 100, and they are steadily increasing.

Commencement of a Popish Mission in Sierra Leone.

It is now more than forty years since the labours of this Society, and of other Missionary bodies in England, were first devoted to the formation and fostering of the native church in Sierra Leone. That church has already sent forth one vigorous branch to the Yoruba country, and another to the banks of the Niger. High hopes are entertained of its enlarged usefulness. At such a time it is that Rome has cast its evil eye upon this Protestant colony; and though but a very few Roman Catholics can be found in the mixed population of Sierra Leone, she has appointed a large staff of Romish Missionaries, comprising a bishop, priests, and so called sisters of mercy, to settle in the colony, to open schools, and to introduce her fatal teaching and her pernicious ceremonies. It is thus that Rome ever attempts to bewitch those "who have begun to run well," and to check the rising energy of Protestant Missions. It is the more noticeable, that at this very time, when Rome has made this aggression upon the toleration of a Protestant colony, she has sent forth another Mission to the Roman-Catholic colony of Fernando Po, on the same West-African coast; and, as her first act, has expelled from thence a long-established Protestant Mission, and prohibited the exercise of the Protestant religion.

EXTENSION OF MISSIONARY EFFORT BEYOND THE COLONY.

TIMNEH MISSION.

Magbeli.

The Rev. J. S. Wiltshire, of African descent, returned from the West Indies to his station at Magbeli in the early part of 1858. The Mission is at present in an incipient state, but the Missionary is gradually gaining the confidence of the people, and, it is hoped, will be soon prepared to make more vigorous efforts for its extension—when he shall be furnished with the word of God in the Timneh language, and with native teachers to labour among the people. A large proportion of the inhabitants of the country are Moham-medans, whose opposition to Christian truth is here, as elsewhere, more determined than that of the heathen.

Mr. Wiltshire has visited, from time to time, Rokelle and other places in the neighbourhood. The Bishop paid a visit to the station in June last, and encouraged the Missionary in his labours.

Mr. Wiltshire gives the following report of his proceedings at the close of the year—

The school numbers 39 children, viz. boys 23, girls 16; of Timnehs there are 14; Half Timnehs 8; and from Sierra-Leone 17; total 39. Of these, 11 are connected with the Industrial-school, and live with us.

The attendance at public worship has been on the increase since my last report. A few Mohammedens occasionally attend service, and show a more friendly disposition than before. Many of them have promised to send their children to school. The majority of them prefer sending their female children, as they require the males to be trained up in the absurdities of Mohammedanism, to uphold, as they say, the principles and customs of their forefathers. We hope that much good may be done even in this way, and that these females may become Missionaries to their people, and be the instruments, under God, of spreading the truth among those who are hiding themselves from, and rejecting it.

The people at Rokon are still looking forward for the fulfilment of the promise of opening a school there. The house has not been built, as was contemplated, owing to the death of Bey Simrah and other unforeseen circumstances. A large country-house has been placed at my disposal, in which the school will be kept, and Divine service held, until further arrangements are made. There are other districts seemingly favourable, at which it is intended to open Sunday-schools for the present. May the blessing of God prevent and follow them, and further the progress of his work in this Mission and elsewhere!

The Committee have recorded from time to time the assistance which the Mission in Sierra Leone has rendered to its offshoot in the Yoruba country, by the supply of native labourers. Several Christian visitors and schoolmasters have been thus transferred, and are pursuing with good effect their Missionary labours. The last Report mentioned that the native Minister, the Rev. J. C. Taylor, had joined the Niger expedition, and that other native ministers had volunteered to follow his example. Two were selected—the Rev. Messrs. Cole and Thomas. They were subjected to many rough trials in their passage up the Niger; and the Committee regret to say that the trial proved too severe for their zeal. Upon reaching the station at Onitsha, where all their real difficulties were at an end, they turned back and went home to Sierra Leone. This disappointment will be overruled for good if it teach the native ministers of Sierra Leone to “count the costs,” and to be prepared “to endure hardness” before they offer themselves for Missionary work amongst their countrymen.

Mr. Hinderer visited Sierra Leone at the close of 1858, to obtain fresh labourers for the Yoruba Mission. The following interesting account of his visit to Benguema is given by a native catechist, Mr. Charles Davies, and of the effects of addresses to the Yoruba people in their own tongue—

Though the notice of Mr. Hinderer's coming, which I gave to my people, was short, yet before he arrived the church was crowded with people waiting with earnestness to hear the blessed word spoken to them in their own tongue. The attendants on this occasion were comparatively so many that our small place of worship would hardly afford a sufficient room for the whole. The people were very much delighted with the service, only it was a pity they could not respond to the Liturgy in Yoruba, as none in the whole church was possessed of a Yoruba Prayer-book but the officiating minister. Mr. Hinderer's text was taken from Psalm xcv. 1—7, a text well adapted for bringing in an especial manner before our people, in this town, their duty. On this text he discoursed in Yoruba with such a fluency and perspicuity, that every word went with force into the ears and hearts of our Yoruba hearers, who could not but, under the very discourse, testify in words their consent to all that was being spoken. Whenever the preacher in the course of his delivery would ask the question, "Abi be ko, or, Be tie ko? Abi olito koi?"—"Is it not so? is not this true?" Then you would hear throughout the assembly, "Betie ni oto ní."—"So it is, this is true," and so forth. When he would have stopped discoursing and asked whether he should stop, the whole assembly with one voice declared, "Ma wi lo."—"Go on speaking." Yes, the service of this afternoon was indeed a very interesting one; and I trust that the precious and blessed seeds thus purely sown in the hearts of our people may find in them a fruitful soil.

A similar instance of the interest which was raised on behalf of the Ibo Mission on the Niger, by an address in that language, is recorded by the native catechist, Mr. W. Quaker, at Hastings—

The people having expressed a wish to hear something of the Niger Mission, I wrote to Mr. Taylor to invite him over, who accordingly came and performed the duties of the day. In the evening he read the prayers and preached in the Ibo language from Psalm cxxvi. 3, translating into English each sentence as he went along. Very attentive and glad were the people, especially the Ibo tribe, to hear for the first time the word of God preached in their own tongue; and so affected were some of them that they shed tears of joy. Collection was made to aid him in his new Mission.

Feb. 23—To-day I received an additional collection for Mr. Taylor. Martha Harris, a communicant, came and delivered me twenty shillings, saying, "Master, as Mr. Taylor spoke of buying a bell for the Niger Mission, so I give you this money to send to him, to help to get one. I wished very much to have got some clothes for the poor heathen children, but I have not the means just now. God knows my heart. I think," continued she, "that I ought to do something for my country-people, because, before we became what we are, it was a work of great self-denial on the part of good men. 'As we have freely received, so let us freely give.'" I received the money from her hand, and said, "God bless you, and make you abound in every good work and word!"*

General Review of the Yoruba Mission.

THE state of the Yoruba Mission has continued very encouraging. There is still enough to try the faith and patience of God's people, but much to stimulate their hopes and prayers. The Missionary staff has been materially weakened in point of numbers; while the Committee have not had it in their power to make any addition during the year 1858. The Rev. S. Crowther has been absent at the Niger. One European catechist, Mr. Carter, has been removed by death, and two others of the same class of labourers have returned to England. Two labourers at home, a Missionary and a schoolmaster, have been obliged to give up all hope of returning. Nevertheless, the work of evangelization has been largely advanced. All the old stations occupied by European Missionaries, Lagos, Abbeokuta, Ibadan, and Ijaye, have been sustained; the number of converts has been increased; and the work has assumed a more matured character. Two new and important advanced stations have been occupied by Europeans, namely, Ishaga and Oyo, and several additional out-stations towards the interior have been brought within visitation. Two out-stations only near the coast, have been relinquished in consequence of the intrigues of the crafty and powerful slave-trading chief, Kosoko.

* Further particulars respecting the West-Africa Mission may be found in the "Church Missionary Record" for 1858, pp. 257 and 313; in the "Record," for 1859, pp. 5—22; in the "Church Missionary Intelligencer" for 1859, pp. 164—168; and in the "Church Missionary Gleaner" for 1859, p. 2.

The material prosperity of Lagos and Abbeokuta has also been largely increased by legitimate commerce, which has accompanied the introduction of Christianity. The trade in cotton, commenced by the operations of the Society's Industrial Institution, has rapidly outgrown the need of further encouragement. Numerous machines for cleaning and pressing cotton have been imported; several European traders have established themselves in Lagos and Abbeokuta; and there is every prospect of a speedy development of the rich resources of the country. A bi-weekly post for letters has been established between Lagos and Abbeokuta, and the road through these towns to the river Niger, at Rabba, has now been traversed by several single Europeans without difficulty; and native messengers have, month by month, carried the letters to meet the mail from England. Dr. Davis, R.N., medical officer of the Niger Expedition, in an official report to the Admiralty, dated July 20th, 1858, gives the following account of this road, and of the country through which he travelled—

The road is no new one recently opened: it has been for the last 200 years the highway from Rabba to the coast, and that by which Kano and Sokoto have been supplied with European goods. During the late civil wars the road was unsafe, but now that peace is re-established the various paths are crowded with travellers and traders, who pass along in security and confidence. The almost inexhaustible wealth of the country—palm oil, shea-butter, ivory, cotton, &c.; the disposition manifested by all classes, Pagans and Mohammedans, to welcome white men; the curiosity of the people, their comparative amiability, their wish to be instructed in our arts and holy religion; point out Yoruba as a good field not only for mercantile, but for Missionary operations. The country is not more unhealthy than other inter-tropical regions.

Sudden commercial prosperity must be attended with many incidental evils. Pride and love of money may turn the heads of many, and even native teachers may be allured by the higher gains of trading to desert the service of Christ. But these are evils which the Gospel has often contended with and triumphed over; and should its blessed influences continue to prevail amongst the natives, the commercial relations of Yoruba with far distant tribes will open new channels for the diffusion of Gospel light. The advance of legitimate trade will most effectually tend to the suppression of the accursed slave-trade, and will keep open the highways into the interior, to be trodden by the feet of them that bring good-tidings.

LAGOS.

During the first part of the year 1858, the Rev. G. F. Bühler had charge of this station: during the latter part the charge devolved upon the Rev. J. A. Maser. As this is the focus of all commercial interests, so the evils have been most manifest in the distraction of mind and covetous passions which have been engendered. The Missionary has, however, met with some instances of encouragement, and the services of the two places of public worship in Lagos have been fully attended.

The out-stations connected with Lagos have been the only ones throughout the Yoruba Mission in which serious obstructions to the Gospel have arisen. From Ikorodu and Ofin, in the Jebu country, the native teachers have been expelled through the intrigues of Kosoko. At Badagry there is the same disregard of Christian instruction as in former years. The promises made to Bishop Weeks, which induced him to plead for the continuance of the catechist, have been forgotten, and the Gospel has made very little progress, though it was the first place visited by the Missionaries, and for several years the scene of their zealous and faithful exertions. At the close of the year it was visited by Mr. Maser, who writes—

The services and Sunday-schools during the Sabbath were better attended than I had anticipated. I saw several lads who were reading the English Bible well. The day-school is attended by fourteen children. I visited the chiefs of the place, and addressed the people in the market. Though these chiefs have often been visited, and the people addressed many times, without apparent result, yet I think the work here should be continued, as they are still anxious that we should dwell among them. Perhaps if they were addressed in their own tongue, the Popo, they would be stirred up to think more about their eternal interests.

OTTA.

One out-station, however, connected with Lagos, has afforded much encouragement. Otta is under the care of an able and zealous native minister, the Rev. J. White, and his labours have made a manifest impression upon the town, have won the confidence of the chiefs, and have brought several converts into the fold of Christ. The following extracts from Mr. White's journal will show the favour which he enjoys from the king, and from some of the chiefs of the town, which, in African society, is of great importance—and musicians. Our friends who are acquainted with the past history of Otta will rejoice to hear this, and call to mind the saying, "Is any thing too hard for the Lord?"

July 24—In one of my visits to the people during the week, I spent several hours with the king Oyede. Last Sunday he sent his grandchild to church with another little boy, and on their return home after the service, he questioned them on what they had heard at church. The little boys gave him an account of it, which His Majesty related to me. I resumed the subject, which was about the rebellion of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, and the divine judgment with which they were visited, from which circumstance I took occasion to exhort him and his attendants. He afterwards desired me to sing to him two of our church tunes, which he selected himself. I did so, and he and his people readily and heartily joined in the singing, having known them from their being frequently used at church before he was made king.

Sept. 9—The chiefs paid me a visit to-day. Among other things, I spoke to them of God, and asked them why they have not attended church as before, since the confusion in the town has subsided. They made several excuses; but the chief Onisaṭa advised me to leave all things to God, who will, and who has already, begun the work of Himself. Then, alluding to the prosperous state of our converts since their conversion, he thus remarked: "Others will see it, and turn to God." I told him that I know that God will work in his own good time, but it is also our duty to fulfil our part, and that I wish them to set the example by coming to church themselves. They promised me they would, and left us.

Mr. Maser records a visit to Otta in the following satisfactory terms—

Sept. 12—Had the communion at Otta, after having preached from Matt. xxvi. 27. I was much gratified with the liveliness of this small congregation. Paid, in the evening, a visit to the chief of the place, who seems to be a respectable man. He is one of those few chiefs who take a manifest interest in the Christian religion.

ABBEOKUTA.

The four Missionary districts within the town of Abbeokuta have been occupied as in former years. The Rev. H. Townsend, at Ake; the Rev. C. A. Gollmer, at Ikija; the Rev. T. King, at Igbein; and the Rev. T. B. Macaulay, at Owu. At each station there is a church and congregation, and each Missionary is cheered by occasional additions to the number of baptized converts, and sometimes by signal instances of the power of Divine grace. The following independent testimony has been borne to the state of the congregation at Ake by Dr. Davis, in the letter from which a quotation has already been given—

May 23—Rode early on to Atade; breakfasted there at a neat house of a black man, agent of the Church Missionary Society. About three P.M. I entered Abbeokuta, a city that quite came up to all the expectations raised by what I had read of it in Miss Tucker's book, Dr. Irving's letters, and the Missionary Reports. To my great surprise and pleasure, I met Consul Campbell at Mr. Townsend's, and I soon felt at home with him and Mr. and Mrs. Townsend. In the evening we went to church: the service was conducted and the sermon preached in the Yoruba language by the Rev. H. Townsend. I was much struck with the good singing and the hearty utterances of the responses by this crowded congregation. The language is sweetly musical (there are so many open vowels), and as all join in the chants and hymns, the effect is impressive and noble, perhaps the more so from one's not expecting to hear it in Africa.

Mr. Townsend, in his last letter (Nov. 20, 1858), thus faithfully reviews his labours—

There is a steady increase in the church, and fresh openings for usefulness in new unoccupied ground frequently presented to us, far more than we can take advantage of. There is a great increase in the material prosperity of the country, but, with it, additional and increasing manifestations of dishonesty.

Mr. Gollmer has very successfully exerted himself to promote a Missionary spirit among his people, and to spread the knowledge of the truth on every side. The following extracts are full of promise, and afford a noble example for the imitation of every Missionary. "Branch out," he writes in his journal, "is our watchword."

Sept. 6, 1858—A happy Yoruba Missionary meeting. According to notice (we assembled at our church this evening: most of our congregation, both old and young, were present. After singing and prayer, I briefly addressed the meeting. O——, our senior Scripture reader, rose and spoke of our rights and privileges as Christians, and warmly recommended our proposal to choose one from among their number, and send him in the name of the Lord to preach Jesus to the heathen of the towns around us, and to make a collection for his support. The many cheerful and smiling countenances showed that they approved of the subject; and to help them to give vent to their pent-up feelings, I said, "Who agrees with the proposal? Show it by lifting up the right hand." In a moment every right hand went up with cheering, seconded by not a few left hands. We now asked the meeting to choose one from among their number. One of the elders rose and said, "We do not know who is fit, but any one you will choose, if he is willing to do God's work, we will gladly send him." Hereupon, I said, "I propose Laye to you; if you agree to receive him, show it by lifting up your right hand," which was done as before. I now called upon Laye, whom I had placed close to us, to say whether he was willing to receive the commission. He replied,

“ I know nothing, and am unfit for the work: I am unable to do any thing of myself; but I am willing to do the work of God with all my heart, trusting the Lord will help me.” I rose, gave Laye the right hand of fellowship, and, addressing the meeting, said with deep emotion, “ In your name I receive Laye into the service of God, the Lord being his helper.” Our schoolmaster added a few words on the solemn and important act we performed, and encouraged the people in showing themselves worthy of their calling. The meeting was now called upon to make a collection to raise a fund for the support of the newly-chosen Scripture reader: for this purpose the names of both communicants and candidates for baptism, male and female, were called, and each said how much he or she would give, which was noted down. Our school-children were asked whether they wished to have a hand in this good work, when they entered upon the business in a spirit worthy of an adult, and, one after the other, promised a contribution almost beyond their means. And now an animated and cheering scene ensued: the mothers wishing their infants on their backs, and other absent children, to have a share in it also, called out one after the other, “ Put down a penny for my child,” “ twopence for my two children,” “ sixpence for my three children,” &c., so that the share of the children and infants in this good work is considerable. All our people, I may say, gave cheerfully and liberally according to their means; and it was very encouraging to find that the amount raised was not only sufficient for the support of the Scripture reader for one year, but sufficient for two years. D——, our Scripture reader from Ishaga, rose and briefly addressed the meeting, relating how kindly we were received in all the towns we visited lately, and how gladly the people listened to God’s word, and that there are many openings to preach the Gospel. Our schoolmaster closed the meeting with prayer, remembering especially our newly-chosen Scripture reader, that he may have grace to do the work of a true evangelist. In explanation, I should say that Laye is a pious man and a worthy member of our church. I had previously spoken to him on the subject, with a view of engaging him for the Society, and he was quite willing to do the work of God. He was also acquainted with the object of our meeting to-day, and prepared to be called upon to express his sentiments on the subject.

Sept. 21—A——, our Scripture reader, returned from his round of twelve towns lately visited by me. Our Scripture reader at Ibara was out re-visiting ten towns in another direction, and proceeds to-day to take a turn in re-visiting the round of the above-named twelve towns. I am anxious each town should be visited at least once a month. Our Scripture reader at Ilaro, is visiting a number of towns in that direction, so that we have at present three different districts, with about thirty towns to visit. It is my duty and pleasure to state that our Scripture readers prove effectual helps in disseminating the Gospel. I could only wish I had a good staff of them. I could find work for twice the number I have.

Jan. 9, 1859—By God’s assistance I was enabled to accomplish, at least in part, my long-cherished desire to visit from house to house, and preach Christ to those who will not come near. During seventeen days I spent from four to five hours daily, visited eighty different compounds and houses, and spoke the word of God to about 500 souls, high and low, bond and free, many of whom listen attentively to our Gospel message. May the seed thus sown bring fruit in due season! By these visits I was convinced more than ever that this is "the real Missionary work." We may remain here from year to year, and attend to our stated duties, viz. "feeding our little flock," without doing much for the mass of the people. I feel we must go after them, and urge them to come in, by faith in Christ. Opportunities to preach the Gospel presented themselves during my visits, which I could not have otherwise had.

In conclusion, I would acknowledge the goodness and mercy of God towards us, bearing with us under all our infirmities, protecting us in the hour of danger, when the heathen raged and sought to devour us, helping us to do our work, and making our strength equal to our day in sickness and in health, and keeping us in his blessed communion; for which, as for every known and unknown blessing to me and my family here and at home, our relatives and our church, I desire to be truly thankful.

Mr. King thus records the baptism of converts—

Aug. 1—There was an occasion of great joy to-day. I had the pleasure of initiating thirty-five persons into the visible church of Christ by the ordinance of baptism—twenty-seven adults, and eight children. In order to have the services as distinct as possible, I had arranged to baptize the adults in the morning, and the children in the evening. It was about five weeks ago since I selected the adults, and I have been giving them special instruction. With regard to the amount of knowledge they have acquired in the principles of the engagement they have now to undertake, and their consistent conduct, as far as human knowledge goes, I hope and trust they will prove worthy partakers of this sacrament, by receiving the internal washing of the Holy Ghost.

The journal of Mr. King supplies us with the following example of steadfastness in a female convert—

I was not a little comforted and encouraged in my spirit to-day at the firmness of Harriet Oshunremekun, one of my members, who has been suffering extreme pain from one of her eyes for three months past. As is always the case, her heathen relatives ascribed this to nothing else than the just resentment of Oshun, her renounced goddess. In addition to the many teasing reproaches encountered from them on account of the new religion she has embraced, all which she bore with utmost patience, a very ensnaring proposal, I was informed to-day, was lately presented to her. Her unconverted sister earnestly but secretly begged that Harriet would consent to her making sacrifice on her behalf, without any interference whatever, so that it might not come to the knowledge of her Christian friends. To put a total stop to all proposals of the kind in future, Harriet would not have her objection so secretly made as was the proposal. She boldly told her sister, that whatever illicit steps she might undertake in that respect, the responsibility must be for herself; that, should it seem best to the Lord to take both her eyes, she would gladly acquiesce in that rather than going back to the devil, whose services she had once renounced. According to the Saviour's saying, she would rather lose both her eyes in order to gain Christ and eternal life, than, having both, be cast into the pit of destruction. "I have already sworn obedience to Jesus," said she, "and I will never deny Him." Previous to her baptism in January last, her fortitude and sincerity were similarly tested in the first instance. She was then sick. Her neighbours and relatives construed it to be the displeasure of Oshun, whose services she has renounced. To this she used to reply, "I prefer dissolution to attain the kingdom of heaven, rather than being reconciled to the devil." Thus she remained unshaken in mind till she got better from that sickness.

Mr. Macaulay records a public baptism of converts in his district—

May 23: Whit-Sunday—I was thankful for the privilege and opportunity vouchsafed for admitting into the holy sacrament of baptism, this morning, during divine service, thirteen candidates—six men and seven women—who had been under a course of instruction for two years, and had given satisfaction, both in their general conduct and proficiency. May the Lord uphold these his servants with his free Spirit!

Education.

The Rev. G. F. Bühler has charge of the seminary for giving a superior education to promising youths. In his report, September 30th, he thus describes the progress of his undertaking—

The number is at present 17; the majority are from Abbeokuta, but some come from Lagos, two from Ibadan, and one from Ijaye. Considering that several of them did not attend any school before they were received into this, and that they had very little knowledge, and could neither read nor write, though already sixteen or eighteen years old, and that they had grown up amongst ignorant and superstitious people; then, looking at them now, though small and deficient their knowledge, in some respects, may be, yet there is sufficient proof of their diligence, and that diligence has been crowned with average success. There are some amongst them who are well gifted, and have made very satisfactory progress in their studies, and who give much hope for their future usefulness in this Mission.

In my teaching, I lay particular stress upon Scripture history, to give them a good and practical knowledge of it; and they, to my great delight, show a great and increasing interest. At the same time other important branches, as catechizing, reading (English and Yoruba), and writing, geography—especially biblical geography—history, and the art of teaching generally, are not neglected. Respecting their moral and religious character, I often wish to observe more of the presence of the Holy Spirit, and more of that love of Christ which constrained Paul (2 Cor. v. 14). But when comparing them with their heathenish companions, with whom they have grown up, they are really a light, and there is such a contrast, that I thank God for what they are, and I take new courage.

In the morning they attend prayers in the church: in the evening they have prayers amongst themselves. Some of the youngest attend morning and evening prayers in my house, with my servants and boarders. They likewise attend regularly monthly and weekly prayer-meetings.

On Sunday they are usefully employed in the Sunday-schools at Ake and Ikija, which work they do with diligence and zeal. In the evening I now and then call one or the other to me for private intercourse respecting our duty as Christians and as labourers in the Lord's vineyard. There is a praiseworthy zeal in several of the older pupils to sow the good seed of God's holy word amongst their countrymen whenever opportunity is afforded. My assistant teacher, Mr. Allen, gave me considerable assistance in school as well as out of school. There can be no doubt that much will depend in future upon this school. There is much temptation for them to pride, on account of their acquiring more knowledge than many of their companions; and also temptation to leave Missionary work and to engage in trade, which seems to offer much more profit. May the Lord enlighten them more and more with his Holy Spirit!

I stedfastly hope, and I pray to God that He may bless this work, and that his Holy Spirit may guide us in all things, and lead us into all truth.

At the close of the year the number of pupils was nineteen, two being supported by their parents. Mr. Bühler hopes that several will be sufficiently prepared to take the charge of schools in the course of the present year. He has already gone through the whole Bible with them, several being able to read English; and to the rest lectures have been given in Yoruba, and the English text has been translated by the pupils acquainted with both languages.

Missionary Tours.

The Rev. C. A. Gollmer has made extensive Missionary tours to the west of Abbeokuta. He travels accompanied by a party of native Christians, who serve to spread the knowledge of the truth more extensively, and to explain it more clearly to their countrymen than the white man could do. In a few instances the reception of the Missionary party was not encouraging, but in the great majority of cases they were warmly welcomed, and earnestly invited to establish a permanent Mission. Mr. Smith, an European catechist, who accompanied Mr. Gollmer, thus describes the departure from Ishaga—

August 5—Mr. Gollmer and I, with a caravan of twenty, started on a Missionary tour, passed through a village, Ibese, and arrived at Ilaro at five o'clock in the evening. During the journey I employed myself in praise, meditation, and prayer—in singing praise to my God, in meditation upon his holy word, and in prayer for God's blessing upon the important errand we were going on. The day before leaving, one of the members came and asked me if I should go with Mr. Gollmer. I told her I should. She then made this reply, "I shall be hungry before you come back." In the evening another came and asked the same. I answered yes. She then said they should get cold if I stayed away too long. I told her I was only leaving them to visit the "regions beyond," and I hoped soon to be restored to them again; and while I, as their shepherd, was absent, I hoped they, as well as myself, would pray that Jesus Christ would be with them, who is the great and good Shepherd.

Ibara, Aug. 8—According to arrangements with the king and elders, we assembled under a large tree in the spacious market-place, for Divine service, and the hand-bell I brought with me did good service in calling the people from the various parts of the town together. There could not have been less than from three to four hundred men, women, and children, standing and sitting around us in a circle. I read part of the prayers, including our Litany, which I always think the heathen must like for its comprehensive and charitable character. I then preached in Yoruba from John iii. 3, and, for the better understanding of it, I asked D——, our Scripture reader, to re-preach my sermon. The people being still attentive, I called upon J——, another Scripture reader, to speak a few words more on the same subject; and seeing that the people would listen longer, I quietly called A——, a third Scripture reader, gave him my book, pointed to John iii. 16, and asked him to say a few words on the love of God to sinners. The elders and people were very attentive, and did not appear weary, though the service had lasted two hours.

The next extract will present the preaching party in a night encampment.

Igbogila—On our journey to this place we met with a long string of Ketu traders. After dark, the different parties lit about half a dozen fires close in front of us, partly to cook their supper, and partly to warm themselves. When all were settled, I called my little force of five Scripture readers, and begged them each to join one of these different companies, and tell them of God's love to sinners.

A happy scene ensued, and I must say it did my heart good to behold the triumph of the Gospel after the troubles of the day.

One further extract must be added to illustrate the clear understanding which the people have of the glorious characteristic of the Gospel as a message of peace—

On one occasion, towards the close of the service and preaching this evening, the chief and one or two of the elders, and a number of people, loudly exclaimed, "Peace, peace," "we take, we take," "we believe," "we trust," "Jesus," "Jesus," "we take, we believe," which quite created a sensation among the assembly, and not a little touched and cheered our hearts. We returned home with thankful hearts for the triumph of the Gospel this day.

Even when one of the party is laid aside by illness, his zeal is not slackened. Mr. Smith writes—

August 12—In the morning I went with the interpreter into the town, and told the people of the Dayspring from on high who has visited us, after which I became a little unwell. The chiefs came to visit us, and Mr. Gollmer spoke to them at length of the things pertaining to their souls' salvation, and the visitors went out into the streets and lanes, and sowed the good seed there. While I was laid on my bed poorly, they were speaking the word publicly. I engaged in prayer privately that God would bless openly. In the evening, Mr. Gollmer and the visitors went to the lower town, and spoke to the people there the good tidings of salvation. I could not go myself, but I asked God to send his Spirit to accompany them in my stead. We were received in these two places with jealous fear, but yet with kindness, and Mr. Gollmer returned their kindness another way; and the people seemed to have a different opinion of us when we left from that they had when we went.

IBADAN.

The Rev. D. Hinderer gives the following general account of this station at the close of the year—

Our regular attendants have risen to 130 and 150: the same number, with the exception of the aged and the more recent inquirers attend also Sunday-school, both morning and afternoon. Besides Sunday, our people are regularly instructed on Saturday evening for an hour in two classes, viz. that of communicants and that of candidates for baptism and the Lord's supper; the former by one of my Scripture readers, the latter by myself. My candidates for baptism have increased during the year from about 30 to 50: of these I had the happiness to receive 14 into the visible church of Christ, by baptism, on the first Sunday in Advent. That was a happy and blessed day to us: it was, though a small number still, yet the largest that has been baptized at a time in Ibadan, and I humbly and thankfully take it as an earnest of still brighter days. As to the conduct of our converts, I cannot but be satisfied: it is good as far as human eyes can see, and in individual cases there are signs of decided vital Christianity. So, for instance, in one quarter of the town we lately found they had formed a prayer-meeting of their own accord, and without our knowledge, for some time : they meet on a Sunday evening, after all the services are over. The way I found it out was this. One of the men comes every Sunday on horseback to church, and for this simple reason, that he has nobody left in the house to take care of the animal, as all his household, wife, and children, and two slaves, come with him to church, and stop from morning till evening. One Sunday evening I said to some one, "Go and tell so and so he must not gallop away from the church; it is not proper;" when the answer was, "Oh, but he must make haste, because all the company his way meet for prayer in his house before they disperse to their respective houses."

This station has suffered a great loss during the last year in the death of the catechist, James Barber. The following affecting notice of this event is given by the Rev. F. Bultmann, of Sierra Leone—

We received tidings of the sudden death, on the 21st of June, of Mr. James Barber, at Ibadan. We reckon him as belonging to us of Sierra Leone, because the greater part of his life was spent among us, and many are the happy recollections we have of his memory. Though born and bred in heathenism (for he was a liberated African), he became a very Timothy, not only for early piety, but especially for that character which the Apostle so extols in him (Phil. ii. 19—22). Nowhere, indeed, have I met with one more disinterested, and less seeking his own, than kind-hearted Mr. Barber. Our Christian intercourse ceased only with his death. "Your last letter to poor Barber," writes William Moore, from Oshielle, "did not reach here till his death, which overtook him while walking in the street, bearing an errand of the Mission to the King of Ibadan." And Mr. Hinderer, on the same day (the last of June), writes—"You will be sorry to hear of the sudden death of my active and faithful catechist, James Barber, on Monday, the 21st. He was very cheerful and full of heart all that day, more so than usual. At four o'clock in the evening he was talking with us, just as he was going out into the town, and, half an hour after, he was brought home lifeless. You may imagine what a shock this was to us all, especially to his poor widow, who is left with five children. From his liability to swooning fits, we often thought he would die thus; and he himself used to say to his wife that he should not die at home, but in the streets; but he did not mind as long as he died in his Master's work, for he knew he was safe, through his Saviour, in God's hands. And it is a comfort to us all to know that he died while about his Master's work. I have lost a very active, faithful, and disinterested helper in him, and his usefulness in Ibadan seemed to increase every day. He was much known and respected all over this large town, and was just about to begin a station for himself in the same town, about two miles and a half from this."

At the conclusion of his annual report, Mr. Hinderer writes—

In the room of poor Barber I was happy to find the two Scripture readers whom I had brought from Sierra Leone tried their utmost to help me in every way. For a time I had Bible lessons with them three or four times a week, with a special view to the treatment of the subjects for addressing our congregation, as well as a heathen audience in the open air and in people's compounds. This, together with our little prayer-meetings for the same object, they seemed very much to enjoy. My schoolmaster also joined in the same meetings and lessons, and ever since they address my congregation on Sunday afternoon, taking it by turns, while I take the morning services. They do it with great ease, and evidently to much advantage. I wish I could give you little specimens of their discourses: I am sure it would cheer your heart, notwithstanding that much would be lost by a translation into our comparatively stiff European language. They also were diligent in going among the people in the town, to prosecute what we may call conversational preaching both in the streets and in the houses.

Missionary Tour.

Mr. Hinderer has made an interesting tour, which occupied five weeks, and was extended to an ancient town, Ifa, famed as the birthplace of the Yoruba nation and of all mankind, and the fountain of all religion. It may truly be said to be the place "where Satan's seat is." The place boasts of 400 celebrated idols, each of which require one human being annually as a sacrifice, besides casual ones on extraordinary occasions, but especially upon the death of the king. Here Mr. Hinderer spent several days, and proclaimed the message of peace to multitudes of the inhabitants. Of his last interview with the king he writes—"He thanked me for my message, and expressed his hope that God would help us white people to do all that was in our hearts concerning them, for he was sure it was good, and that if a Missionary should settle amongst them, they would receive them with all their hearts."

On reaching the most easterly point of this tour, where the mountains are in sight which overlook the River Niger, Mr. Hinderer thus records his feelings—

I could not help wishing, hoping, and praying, that it would please God to make a way, and gives us the means of occupying the towns I now visit with the message of the Gospel, within a short time; and then, that, by a second move, we might be able to reach those blue and distant mountains, and possess the land, as far east as the Confluence, for our gracious King, Jehovah, Lord of all.

IJAYE.

Ijaye is still oppressed by the cruel and iron rule of Are. The credit of having a white man resident in his town was his inducement to invite and admit a Missionary ; but, ever since, it has been his policy to exert a secret but much-dreaded power in holding back his people from openly professing Christianity. Those few who have braved his terrors are subject to much persecution, and often forcibly prevented from attending the means of grace. With so many towns favourably inclined to receive Christianity, it may be thought that our Lord's rule of action should be applied, and the Missionary be removed to another place. But on the other hand, the occupation of Ijaye is regarded as necessary for free entrance into towns beyond it, and the withdrawal of the Missionary might probably lead to troubles and bloodshed at some of the neighbouring stations. The Rev. A. Mann, after a visit to Europe, returned to this station in April 1858. He thus describes his arrival, and some of his subsequent trials—

April 29—After a tedious but safe journey from Lagos to Abeokuta, and thence to Ijaye, we arrived here this evening. The people of the compound, and almost all the church people, met us on the road. By the mercy of God I was again amidst my congregation. The prospects for the future were not bright; the long-used burden was to be taken up again; but still I rejoiced in hope, and remembered the words of Jesus. Patience and faith of the saints is here required, as the only means to escape a fatal despair.

August 26—There is, no doubt, too much fear of man on the one side, and a bold wickedness on the other. Three women had made a nice beginning, but the dread of the chief lies too hard upon them. The cruel system of punishing whole compounds for the offence of a single offender is increasing the fear of man.

Sept. 18—Being laid up with sickness, I had a visit from the two highest men of the town after Are. I was pleased with this, knowing well that they could not come without the knowledge of their master. We had a long conversation. The fear of Are, they confessed plainly, hinders people from attending to the good word we speak. Conversing with the son of Are on the word, he said, "We know it is a good thing, but Are ki je—does not allow."

OYO.

Oyo is important as the residence of the king of Yoruba, who retains a nominal superiority over all the Yoruban kings. The population is estimated by Dr. Davis at 40,000. It has therefore been thought advisable to occupy that town as a Mission station, with a view to an advance to the towns beyond it, some of which give a better promise of fruit. Mr. Meakin, the European Catechist, has been placed there, being introduced by Mr. Townsend. The king keeps up a large number of retainers, who live by plunder, and the town is filled with lawless oppression and tumult. During the early part of the year, Mr. Meakin was able to visit and preach in various parts of the town and neighbourhood, and was generally well received. About forty adults have placed themselves under instruction, but their progress in acquiring the art of reading is slow. The women show greater quickness than the men. Towards the close of the year, Mr. Meakin was obliged, by ill health, to spend two months at Abbeokuta. During his absence the Mission premises were burnt down by an incendiary. This event was, however, overruled for good. The king showed much sympathy and kindness to the Missionary, and sent several times valuable contributions of timber and thatching for repairing the damage. This turned the public in favour of the Mission, and many, who had previously feared to visit or assist the Christian party, now openly support them.

The following extracts from Mr. Meakin's journal are gratifying, as showing how useful a labourer in the Mission field a zealous Christian man may prove, even though he be selected, as Mr. Meakin was, from the midst of the workmen of a factory, and trained only in a Bible class at the parsonage of Friezland.

Jan. 4—Had many visitors this morning, to whom we spoke, hoping that the Gospel might prove the savour of life to their souls, and not death unto death. In the afternoon the king sent for us to speak with him. We conversed long together—about three hours—first, on the Gospel of peace, to which he and his wives listened attentively; and afterwards on religious liberty and the protection of the people. He said, that if any one attempted to molest us, or any person listening to the word of God, we must report it to him. He expressed his surprise that the words which I had spoken agreed with those spoken by the Missionaries who have visited him heretofore. He told us he liked our words, and said we had spoken the truth, and we were his true friends, because we had asked nothing for ourselves, but all for his country's good. He concluded by hoping that God would assist us, and spare our lives.

Jan. 18—I found, on my return home, about twenty men awaiting me, to see me and hear what I had to say. I spoke some time to them of their lying vanities, and told them of the peace they must make with God ere they have that peace which they now seek. One of them remarked, as he went out of the compound, that if they came to hear that word from me, they should throw Shangos, Ifas, and all their gods away, for the word was too strong for them.

June 14—A distant relative of the king's sent his boy this morning to be taught in school. He, the father, is a regular attendant on the Lord's-day, with his wives. We have several boys who are slaves and pawns, who work for their masters early in the morning, and come to school afterwards. I am often encouraged by hearing them sing when they are from school, at work, or otherwise, "There is a happy land, far, far away," &c., and even I heard one passing under the town wall repeating the Lord's prayer one time as I stood on the opposite side. I often wish I had the means to redeem one or two of the most promising of them; but this, as well as every other difficulty, I endeavour to surrender into the hands of Him who is all in all.

July 11—A conference seems to have been held amongst our nearest neighbours as to what should be done, whether to serve God or go on as they are. The decision was as might be expected from natural hearts; but at any rate this has increased my hope. Their chief reasons were, that they were afraid of death by turning from the commands of the king, and that they would not be the first to turn to us. Many people are afraid of the king, but my comfort is, "All that the Father giveth shall come unto me." May God soon gather them unto Himself!

Aug. 28—The town is in an unsettled state, through a rumour raised by some ill-disposed persons, to the effect that I had stolen children, and nailed them in a box, and sent them to Lagos. The king was faithful in searching the matter, having called all the gatekeepers of the town, elders, and chiefs, to ask if they knew any thing of the matter. The gatekeepers said we brought boxes in, but took none out. They passed a vote of confidence in our favour, and in the evening the king sent for Wilhelm, and told him that if any one interfered with us, or spoke against us, it was equivalent to speaking against him; and in the evening of the next day the crier was sent into the markets, and said that if any one was found guilty they would be sold as slaves, and their houses broken, for we brought people back instead of taking them away. This the king did of his own inclination. All that I said was, that I was sorry they (the people) had beaten one of my boys for the matter. Would that the king was as zealous for the word of God! I cannot get to see him, as I desire to speak with him; but of one thing I am certain, that all that is said, is spoken over again to him by the different persons who go to him: thus an under-current is running, of which I know nothing, but which will redound to the glory of God.

Sept. 1—A friendly Mohammedan, who has been much here, brought me a present of eggs this morning: he is an Haussa, but speaks Yoruba perfectly. We had some conversation about the different languages, when he informed me that the priests of Mohammed were trying to write Yoruba in the Arabic character, as they had done Haussa. We had a long conversation on persecution, as he had told me once before that he would come to be a Christian, were it not for fear of his friends who would persecute him. I related to him the story of the three Jewish children, and of Daniel, which much surprised him.

ISHAGA.

Ishaga is an important town on the west of Abbeokuta, and, like Oyo, it has become the station of an European Catechist during the last year. Mr. J. Smith resided, on his first arrival in Africa, with Mr. Gollmer in Abbeokuta, to acquire the language, and become well acquainted with the people and the circumstances of the country. After being thus initiated for ten months into the work of an evangelist, Mr. Gollmer selected one of his most promising out-stations, at which a native teacher had resided for a year or two previously, and accompanied Mr. Smith to the proposed scene of his future labours. The following extracts from the journals of Messrs. Gollmer and Smith afford a graphic description of this new and encouraging opening. Mr. Gollmer writes—

Jan. 28—The king, with twelve of the chiefs or elders of the town, came to visit us this morning. I was saluted as an old friend, they remembering my having passed through the town twelve years ago. We had a long conversation: questions, similar to those put at Ibara, elicited the best of testimony from the king and elders as regards the character of the Society's agent here. I thanked them for their kindness to our Scripture reader and our few converts, allowing them quietly to serve their God, and for granting them protection. Hereupon I introduced Mr. Smith, and said that he was come to live with them and to teach them the way of peace, if they would receive him. Mr. Smith having expressed his earnest desire to stay with them, if they would permit him, we asked them to consult together about the important subject, and to-morrow we would come and hear their answer.

Jan. 29—Was glad to see all the young converts and others attending the early morning prayers at six o'clock. At nine A.M. a messenger came to call us to the king's palace. We went, and found the king with all the elders and principal men assembled in one of the open piazzas of an inner compound. We were received in a most friendly manner, and all gave us a good shake by the hand. This ceremony being over, I said we now desired to hear from them whether they will receive and take care of Mr. Smith, and allow him to preach God's word everywhere; whether they will proclaim full liberty to all to come and hear God's word, and suffer no one to be persecuted on account of his or her becoming a Christian; whether they would grant us a piece of land to build a house for the service of God, and assist in its erection, &c. "We take him," "We take him," "and will do all you say," was the hearty response of the whole assembly, all holding up their right hand in confirmation of their promises, as I desired them. We then rose and shook the king and elders by the hand, thanking them for their kind promises. After this I commended Mr. Smith to their care and attention, and entreated them to hear and believe God's word.

During this visit Mr. Gollmer examined for baptism ten adult converts, the fruit of the labours of the native catechist; and, on the evening of the same day, eight children. Mr. Smith thus describes the zeal of chiefs in providing a building for the public worship of God, and the first celebration of the Lord's supper in this new African station—

April 5—We told the king and chiefs at the king's house we wanted to begin digging mud while the rains were on, and while the ground was soft, for the building of a new church; and as we were in a strait for men, we hoped they would take counsel together, and, according to promise, see if they could not afford us some men to labour.

April 6—The council proclaimed in the town that the labouring men must prepare themselves against a certain day to go and labour for the white man.

The day having arrived for the labouring men to come to work, the king and chiefs came, and the labourers followed—not less than 300 men—and the same day, I think, digged sufficient mud for the entire church. I did not pay them in cowries or money, lest the headmen should reap the benefit, and the poor labourers get nothing for all their toil; but bought country wine and beer to the amount of 15s. 6d., and gave it to one of the headmen to deal out as he thought good: by this means all shared in the benefit. All were very highly pleased, and very well satisfied.

May 21—The king, and chiefs, and labouring men, came to mix the mud they had previously dug. When they first proclaimed in the town for the men to go to work for the white man, many of them disobeyed. A few days after, the headmen sent Oro into the town to keep the people in their houses, while they extorted a certain amount of cowries from each of those who had disobeyed orders. This caused many more to come the second time than did before. We had the first time about 300 men, but more than twice that number came the second time, besides women and children. The women and children came to carry water, while the men spread the mud and water and mixed them together.

Aug. 1—Mr. Gollmer took the morning service, and preached from John vi. 53-56, and, for the first time in this place, administered the Lord's supper to nineteen communicants, ourselves included. This was a season of great refreshing to my own soul, and, I trust, also to the souls of all. In the evening I addressed the congregation from John xv. 4, 5.

Translations of the Scriptures into Yoruba.

The Rev. T. King, the native minister, is gradually proceeding with the translation of the holy Scriptures. During the past year the books of Proverbs and of Daniel have been sent home to be printed. On sending the last book home Mr. King wrote, December 3, 1858—

I hope the translation will be at once put to press. You cannot sufficiently conceive the avidity with which translations are bought by our people. Whenever a new translation is seen in one's hand, the whole of our people, for fear of going without, come forward in crowds. Exhaustion must put a stop to the demand. Many, in case of an insufficient supply, are ready to leave their cowries till more copies come to hand. Those who come care not only for themselves, but also for the absent. A husband or wife never forgets an absent partner, nor a father or mother an absent child. Even the Hymns printed at Ake a few weeks ago were similarly bought, with such eagerness that I could not keep one for myself till I had sent to Ake more than once for a fresh supply.*

No European Missionary has as yet joined this Mission.

The Rev. Samuel Crowther and the Rev. J. C. Taylor, native Ministers, with the help of six native teachers, have made an auspicious commencement of the Mission. The foundations of a large Missionary scheme have been laid with great wisdom, foresight, and patient perseverance, by the Rev. Samuel Crowther. He has been supported and encouraged in all his plans by Dr. Baikie, R.N., who commands the Niger expedition, and by the other officers composing it, especially by Lieut. Glover; and by the zealous co-operation from home of Macgregor Laird, Esq., the enterprising and philanthropic merchant who took upon himself the commercial responsibilities of the expedition, with far better prospects of opening a trade which might lead to the Christian civilization of Africa, than of reaping any personal benefit from its results.

* Other notices of the Yoruba Mission will be found in the "Church Missionary Record" for 1859, pp. 22—25, 32—50, 65—73, 131, and 159; and in the "Church Missionary Gleaner" for 1859, pp. 15, 21, 34, 67, and 85.

So rapidly has the Mission been developed, that, within the first year, the Committee are able to report three stations as fairly commenced—Rabba, in the Hausa and Nufi tribes, as the centre of operations, being, in geographical position, also the centre of an immense traffic between the coast and the interior of Africa; the Confluence, of the Niger and Tshadda rivers (or Gbegbe), which comprises the Nufi and Kakanda language; and Onitsha, in the Ibo country.

RABBA.

Rabba, and the camp of the shipwrecked crew of the "Dayspring," have been the chief places of Mr. Crowther's residence during the last year. He has not had a sufficient supply of native teachers to occupy Rabba. His only assistant is the Hausa convert, Abbega, who accompanied Dr. Barth to England, and received baptism under the instruction of the Rev. J. F. Schön, at Chatham.

The importance of Rabba is very great, from its geographical position, and as the emporium of a country much more advanced in civilization than is generally supposed.

Such is the traffic between Hausa and the Yoruba country, that, at the single ferry at Rabba, about 7000 beasts of burden are supposed to pass in six months; the revenue arising from the various ferries along the Nufi portion of the river during that period of time amounting to not less than 8800 dollars.

The traders have very little to do with farming or working canoes, but pursue, as their chief business, buying and selling: of these, the women are the most active. They deal not only in cloths of native manufacture, but also in such European goods as they can purchase from traders from the coast. The men, many of whom are both weavers and tailors, deal in tobes, shirts, country cloths, and other garments used by men, while the women are mostly engaged in country cloths and caps for both sexes, beads, and other like articles in the shape of jewellery.

Mr. Crowther enumerates the produce of the country. In the interior, the palm-oil trees almost entirely cease, except on the banks of rivers, &c.: shea butter-trees take their place in great abundance. Cotton may be grown to any amount, if there were a demand for it: at present the people grow but a scanty supply for home use.

In a letter, dated March 30th, 1858, Mr. Crowther gives the following account of the preparation of a Mission station at Rabba—

Since I wrote last I have paid another visit to Rabba, at which place I have spent four days among the people. I lodged in the house of Ndeshi, the chief, who was very kind to me. On announcing to him my intention of having a Mission station among them, quite distinct from that which they had offered as a factory six months ago, because a factory and school-house should not be so near to each other, he was so glad, that he at once gave me permission to walk about all the ruins of the western part of Rabba, and choose the most eligible spot for our purpose.

Having fixed upon a place on the cliff, which can easily be enclosed on three sides, to prevent interruption and annoyance from the beasts of burden which overspread the ruins in search of provender, the place being both dry and airy, and not exposed to constant fires, which now and then break out among the thick group of huts, I applied to Ndeshi for it. He accompanied me to the spot with several of his head chiefs, and granted the land for the use of the Church Missionary Society. He said all the western division of Rabba belongs to him as chief of the Nufi population, whereas the eastern division belongs to the Felanis, who are still in the camp at Bida. Some hundred huts have been erected within the last few months.

As the huts of the people have but one entrance, and no ventilation of any kind, and no verandah to shelter the walls, in consequence of which they are close and uncomfortable, especially when the only entrance is blocked up by constant visitors, I have arranged for five conical huts to be built on the Mission ground, for the use of any one who may be sent here, or for the accommodation of visitors from the Yoruba Mission. The huts will be got up for the small sum of 6*l.*, and in an improved state: thus the place will be kept up, till better supplied. Ndeshi, the chief, has undertaken the work, and, if his people are faithful to their promise, they will have completed them when I return to Rabba after Easter, as I intend to do.

At a later date Mr. Crowther writes—

I am now residing at the temporary huts I have made here. The Ramadan fast was over at the appearance of the new moon. The holiday preventing the Hausa caravan from Kano being crossed on Saturday, many of these strangers spent most part of their time with me in the Mission premises, and the time was most agreeably spent in conversation on religious matters. I brought out my Arabic Bible, the meaning of which I was enabled to give them from the English translation column, both in Hausa and Nufi, as occasion required. I may sum up the whole in a few words. Rabba is admirably selected for the purposes intended, as a station for diffusing Christian knowledge by conversation with the people of the many tribes of the interior who cross from this to Illorin in the pursuit of their trade, as well as among the native population of the Nufi nation. What remains for the Society to do is to station a person of the right sort in this central position, whose kind, intelligent, and Christian influence will dispel the mist of misconception and prejudice against the Christian character, which has long been hanging over the minds of these poor secluded people, either by wilful misrepresentation, or prejudice imbibed through the doctrine of Mohammed. The heathen population will be able to judge for themselves: with them we shall have to do more directly.

A letter of the Rev. S. Crowther, dated Rabba, August 16, 1858, relates the following remarkable providence in conciliating the goodwill of a powerful chief towards the Mission—

A circumstance occurred last week, which is working very much in our favour just at this time. Nine carriers, employed by Lieutenant Glover, with passports from the Consul, arrived from Lagos by land through Illorin to this place, with provisions for the expedition. On Monday, the 12th instant, Bube, a very respectable and sensible Felani, who commands all these parts of the country in the absence of the kings, arrived here on his way to them at Bida. The ears of Bube had been filled with all kinds of reports concerning us; and so he passed through Rabba to see for himself. He took a walk to the river-side, and saw some of these carriers, and inquired who they were; so they told him their history. Among them he recognised two of his own soldiers, who were captured during the Umora war about two years ago, and sold away; and learned that they had been protected through the influence of the British Government, and that many more were ready to follow their example, if the king would only listen to what the British Government said to them. Bube exclaimed "Is it true that the English do this? I lost forty men in that war, and would gladly pay any amount to recover some of them. I want to see the mallam who received and lodged you here; and I shall repeat all this to the kings at Bida." In the afternoon I paid him a visit at his lodging, accompanied by the carriers and other native members of the expedition who are living here with me. We withdrew into the back yard, where I told him who I was, and what was my work, as well as the benevolent proceedings of the British Government, who seek the welfare of every nation and people. The men who accompanied me, composed of Mohammedans as well as Christians, bore testimony to all my statements; and so delighted was the Governor, that he rose up, took a fowl, and presented it to me, pleading absence from home as a reason for the smallness of the gift. He promised to tell Sumo Zaki and Dasaba all he had seen and heard. I treated him also, according to his rank, from the limited means I then had. He left me early the next morning, and halted at a village, from which place he sent a message to me to send four men to fetch some rice for my use, and told me to pay no attention to what anybody might say to me, but to make myself easy: and so he went on to Bida.

These carriers were slaves, who have escaped from their Portuguese owners at Porto Novo, &c., in the Bight of Benin, and taken refuge at the British Consulate at Lagos, from whence they got passports to this place.

I continue to keep service every Lord's-day, in the verandah of my hut, with the native members of the expedition, and some of the carriers who are living here with me. As the carriers do not understand English, I preach in English and Yoruba at the same time, that both parties may be benefited. One of Mr. Glover's Felani interpreters, a very respectable Mohammedan, who speaks English, is an attentive listener: he now and then gives assent to the Gospel truths by audible exclamations in the course of my preaching.

In the autumn Mr. Crowther was able to visit the Confluence and Onitsha, and afterwards to return to Rabba at the close of the year, where he learnt that king Same Zaki had died. He was unable to see the brother king, Dasaba. No opinion can be formed as yet of the effect which the death of the king may have upon the state of the country. Mr. Crowther was about to visit Abbeokuta when he last wrote, and he thus describes the state of things at that date—

In spite of misrepresentations from the enemies of Christianity, the Mission huts are frequently visited by very large numbers of caravans from the interior. Abbege is very useful here: last Sunday there were several groups of visitors around him, with whom he spoke on religious subjects, and read to them portions of the word of God from the New Testament in Hausa. I have instructed him to tell the people who Christ is, and what He teaches in his Gospel, and leave them to judge for themselves; leaving Mohammed and his doctrines alone, for we have only to deliver our message, and that from the word of God. We have always had listening ears, and confession of self-condemnation was made by many hearers. If we can do nothing more for the present at Rabba than spread the truth of the Gospel among the thousands of the interior in this way, ought we not to be thankful?

The Confluence, or Gbegbe.

Native teachers were left at this station upon the first ascent of the "Dayspring," July 1857. Mr. Crowther kept up a communication with the place, but was not able to visit it till October 1858. He thus describes his visit—

On the 16th October we anchored off Gbegbe (or Igbebi), at the Confluence, and I was glad to meet three Christian visitors, James Thomas, Edward Cline, and Jacob Newland, who were waiting for me. The first step I took was to find them a more comfortable hut to lodge in than the one in which I met them. While arrangements were making about removing the Factory to the opposite shore, to prevent collision with the natives, who were attracted by such a large amount of goods to lounge about and gaze into the stores, which led to temptation and attempt at stealing; I was busy arranging with Ama Abokko to secure the ground I selected last year for the Mission premises, and to engage for materials to build a small dwelling-house and a little schoolroom, all which was satisfactorily settled; but the building must be deferred for six weeks, till the farmers have reaped their corn and yams. Abokko wished to know if I wanted to build immediately. He then would have ordered the corn to be rooted up at once; but as the corn has been in the ground seven months already, and there only remain about six weeks more to reap it in, I considered it would be painful to the feelings of the farmers to see the result of their labours thus destroyed. Although I might have paid for them, yet there is nothing so satisfactory to farmers in this country as to gather with their hands that which they have planted; and, besides this, it will require some six weeks before materials are sufficiently collected to erect the buildings. I acknowledged Ama's kindness by suitable presents, and remunerated the farmers for the labour they had expended in clearing the ground now made over to the Church Missionary Society. I made plans of the buildings, and took some goods from the factory to defray the expenses of materials till my return from Onitsha.

The three Christian visitors, James Thomas, Edward Cline, and Jacob Newland, all speak Nufi. The former is of the Bunu, a tribe of Kakanda, and as both the Nufi and Kakanda languages are spoken at Gbegbe and the neighbourhood, they have commenced already to make themselves useful. Mr. Preddy, who was left as schoolmaster at Gbegbe during our ascent, was very useful; but a fire which took place, which involved all in trouble and privation, was a drawback to his school-keeping: however, he managed to get among the Bassas, through the means of W. Parker, the Bassa interpreter, who had lost all he had during the fire, and was obliged to get among his countrymen and work in the farms for his own support. As soon as the three Christian visitors reached Gbegbe, they also soon found their way among the Bassas, to whom they spoke the word of God. Their chiefs expressed a wish to see me when I came to Gbegbe, which I would have gladly done, but the arrangements for this station took all the short time the steamer staid, so that I could not do so at this time, but sent them a few handkerchiefs for presents, through James Thomas and Edward Cline, with a promise to visit them at my return.

Mr. Crowther staid a month at this station, on his return up the river, at the close of the year; after which he wrote—

At Gbegbe I met the Christian visitors doing well; but one of them, Mr. Newland, was suffering from a bad leg, and could not move: the other two, Messrs. Thomas and Cline, had been actively engaged among the people, and made several visits among the Bassas. On the 5th of January I paid a visit to the Bassa town of Kpata, on the hill, about three miles on the back of Gbegbe, and was very kindly received by their Chief Età: the other chief, Yankpa, was not at home, absent in his farm. It being harvest time, every one was busily engaged gathering in their rich crops of yams and corn. The population of Bassas inhabiting the hills and the foot of the mountains cannot be less than 50,000, living in about ten towns and villages between Idda and Gbegbe. Their suspicion of strangers entering their towns arose from the wrongs they had suffered from their neighbours through their simplicity; but as soon as they knew we were men of peace, who seek their welfare, we were at once welcomed among them, and they promised to receive a resident teacher among them. On my return to Gbegbe, immediately we commenced erecting a temporary house for the Society's agents, because I wish to remove them from the hired huts, so as to make them more comfortable and independent in the Mission premises, and enable them to receive visitors more conveniently: seven days' hard work soon made the temporary house habitable. It was occupied on the 15th, and on the 16th of January I opened Divine service in the shed attached to the house in the place of a verandah.

ONITSHA.

The Rev. J. C. Taylor and Mr. Simon Jonas were left to commence a station at Onitsha, upon the ascent of the "Day-spring" in July 1857. Thus thrown entirely upon their own resources, and often reduced to considerable straits for want of food, they were nevertheless enabled to maintain their position, and to act with much wisdom and perseverance. The first direct intelligence which reached the Committee was a letter from Mr. Taylor, dated August 26, 1858—

I am glad of this opportunity to report to you that this station is now becoming an important one. Your letter revived my spirit, and quickens my mind to go cheerfully to work. I can assure you that God has opened a wide and extensive field for spiritual usefulness in Central Africa, which now calls loudly upon the Christian church to double its exertions. I have won the hearts of nearly all the native chiefs, and have their minds towards the work of God. Everywhere there are decided pantings after the bread of life. Repeated calls have been sent to me from the right and left in this district for teachers to be placed over them. Some of these calls have been sent to me from fifty to eighty miles inland. I do now appeal to the church for men to come forward and join us in this holy cause. The field for Missionary usefulness is such as to justify the choice of this settlement as bearing the impress of the finger of God in selecting it. In the readiness of the people to hear the word of God their idols have been despised. The leaven of divine truth is spreading its savour among them. The children are apt to learn, and the young men are willing to be taught the handicraft of Europeans, such as carpentering, &c. Spiritually, all conspires to raise our expectation for the speedy redemption of Africa. In a temporal point of view, I presume to say the trade of the place will amply repay any merchant.

I bless God that I am now (Aug. 26) privileged to admit two men as candidates for baptism who have given decided proofs of sincerity. Their idols are now in my possession. Oh, if I had more help here I could have placed them among the 40,000 souls at Onitsha alone. The work which the Lord has opened before us is wonderful indeed so much so, that my tongue is too small to utter them, and my pen insufficient to describe them.

In the translation department I have nearly completed the selection of the prayers of the Church of England to the Burial Service.

Upon Mr. Crowther's arrival at Onitsha in October, it was decided that Mr. Taylor should return to Sierra Leone to bring back his family, and that Mr. Simon Jonas should return for the same purpose to Fernando Po.

We regret to state that this useful man (Mr. Jonas), whose faithful services have been frequently acknowledged, both as an interpreter during three Niger expeditions, and as a valuable assistant to Mr. Crowther in his translations, died at Fernando Po ten days after his arrival there. He was about to return to Onitsha with his family, when it pleased the Lord to remove him from his labour on earth to rest above. Mr. Taylor testifies regarding him, that he was a real helper in the work of God, and laboured diligently.

Mr. Crowther spent six weeks at Onitsha after Mr. Taylor's departure, and bears this satisfactory testimony to Mr. Taylor. "He has exerted himself in this place to his own credit, as well as to the admiration of all the gentlemen connected with the expedition." Mr. Crowther left the station under charge of Mr. J. Smart, an old and experienced Christian visitor, assisted by Mr. William Romaine, a schoolmaster. A school was commenced November 15. He gives the following description of the station—

The Mission station is just outside the town, and is about midway between the extreme east end of the town and Laird's port on the bank of the river. As the Mission house fronts the highway there are always many visitors passing to and fro, which gives ample opportunity of speaking to them on the subjects of the Christian religion; and during our morning family prayers, at seven A.M., there is scarcely a morning without having some of the passers-by calling in, and joining us at prayer.

The strictness with which the law against touching the people from the white man's country, or stealing their property, is observed at Onitsha, is really surprising. Mr. Thompson, a colony-born young man, of Yoruba parents, and member of the church, is Mr. Laird's agent at this place. He is assisted only by two liberated Africans. Although he has many hundred pounds worth of property about him in an insecure skeleton shed, and he is about a mile distant from the town, yet he feels as secure there as if he were in a well-secured store in a populous city. He was never molested. For want of casks, hundreds of pots of palm-oil are lying about in the oil-shed. I have not heard that he ever lost any of them. The fact is, our Mission house and the factory have become neutral ground, on which contending parties meet and talk together as friends. To their own surprise, they themselves have remarked the change, and foretold that it is we who shall put an end to their old grudge and quarrels inherited from their fathers. I have been asked by the King of Onitsha, and by some of his chiefs, to interfere in the settlement of some of their quarrels with their neighbours, but have declined, and could only promise to tell Dr. Baikie of it as the right person, having also means at his disposal, who might advise them to be at peace with one another for their own good, and for the good of the country, as well as for the interest of trade.

Mr. Crowther earnestly pleads for the means of establishing another station at Idda, between Onitsha and the Confluence—

The urgent request I must make for Idda is for two Christian visitors, of upright principles, speaking the Igara language, or any other willing to make himself useful by acquiring the language, to mingle among the people as representatives of the church, so as to redeem our words and fulfil our promises made since 1841, seventeen years ago. There seems to be a very great change taking place at Idda just about this time. There were never, at any former expeditions with which I have been connected, so many large trading canoes here as at this time. There have been upwards of sixty large canoes, either stationary or moving up and down the river, since last week, but there is no improvement as yet in the face of the town.

Mr. Crowther thus sums up his review of the happy commencement and progress of the Niger Mission—

Notwithstanding adverse circumstances by the wreck of the "Day-spring," and subsequent sufferings from sickness, privation, and disappointments, the burning of the town of Igbebe and the factory, with all the property therein, and consequent destitution, sickness, and death of some of the sufferers, is it not cheering, on the other hand, that the natives have not molested us, and that the messengers of the good tidings of salvation are listened to and invited by the natives of the interior parts? Can calls be more loud, and invitations more urgent, from the Niger to the church, than these glaring facts? The two most important points of this noble stream, namely, the Ibo district, above the Delta, and Rabba of Nufi, below the rapids of Kowarra, are secured. Let constant communication be kept up between them, and the whole of the intermediate stations are made sure. Further exploration to the upper parts of the Kowarra is made easy, having Rabba as a starting-point. May the Lord incline the hearts of His servants to offer themselves for his service to reap the fields which are white already to harvest! To God be glory for what is already done!*

EAST-AFRICA MISSION.(Commenced 1844.)Mission Establishment.The Rev. J. Rebmann (m) 1846.

THE Missionaries were driven away by intestine war from the East-Africa Mission station of Kisuladini, on the coast opposite to the island of Mombas, at the close of 1856. The Rev. J. Erhardt returned to Europe, and was transferred to the North-India Mission. The Rev. J. Rebmann remained in the island of Zanzibar, engaged in perfecting his translation, in faith and hope that the Lord would yet open East Africa again to the messengers of the Gospel. At the close of the year 1858, circumstances favoured Mr. Rebmann's re-visiting his old station, as internal peace had been restored. The single convert, Abbe Gunga, who fled with the Missionary, and remained with him some time in Zanzibar, had returned to the station in April 1858, but Mr. Rebmann had received no intelligence from him. He thus describes his feelings in the prospect of re-visiting the station—

My first impression was rather melancholy. Here then, I thought, we are to begin again after all; here, where years pass away before you see again the face of a Christian and civilized man; here shall we wholly depend again—as to our outward existence, with all its complexity of nameless wants and cares as brought on by the every-day life—on men of Mohammedan and heathen ignorance, degradation, and misery, to whom the very thought of seeking the welfare of others has hitherto been utterly strange, and hidden from all their conceptions; and who, therefore, could not but judge us to be altogether such as themselves, that, though just and true in our daily conduct, we could not, in coming to their country, have any other object in view but our own gain. But thine, O Lord, is the kingdom, and Thou layest its foundations in secret, in the hearts of individuals and nations, when all the world is still blind and deaf to it. Thou hast a work to be done in East Africa, and hast called us to do it, and others are at Thy command! Remembering this, and the providential leadings and dealings of God with this Mission within the last few years, my melancholy gave way, and I took courage.

But the Lord had prepared better things for the patient and faithful Missionary than his fears had suggested. The Lord can take up his own work where we leave it, as well as when we are doing it. Mr. Rebmann thus describes the encouragement which awaited him—

I had the great pleasure to find that since the return of Abbe Gunga and Muamuamba in April last, three new men had joined them, and among them was, truly enough, the very man who, on the previous evening, had bowed before me. His name is Zûia. He looks a most serious and steady man. Together with Dena, who for some years before we left seemed not far from the kingdom of God, there are now six men more or less ready to become Christians. The wife, also, of Abbe Gunga I found clothed and in her right mind. She had thrown off all the badges she wore of the nine evil spirits, of which she had been taught by the native doctors to believe herself possessed. How cheerful and happy she now looked, who was once so sullen and dark!

Towards noon the chief and his brother came to greet me. They truly were rejoiced at seeing me again; and when I had told them the object of my visit, to ascertain whether they wanted me or not, the chief pointed to the men who were sitting before me, and said, "Look, these you have got already: the covering they have on their heads is their sign of having 'entered the book.'" The covering consisted of mere rags, roughly made into caps. The custom of the Wanika strictly requires them to be bareheaded. "Others," he said, "are only waiting for your return, when they will also enter the book;" a statement which was repeated by many. "Entering the book," has now become their own standing expression for becoming a Christian.

In the evening I visited Rabbai Mpia, where there was a drinking company of the old men, but nearly all of them rose to shake hands with me, and seemed delighted at seeing me again. The place is now better inhabited, but still forms only what I call a small village of about 150 or 200 souls.

Of his translational labours Mr. Rebmann writes—

I have finished the translation of the Gospel of St. Luke into Kisuáheli, and have been most agreeably surprised to find how beautifully the word of God reads in that language also. I intend to send it to Bombay by April next, to have it printed, especially for the Africans in that place. For its orthography, I have adopted the standard alphabet of Dr. Lepsius, as nearly as the Kisuáheli language admits it. As an appendix to the Gospel, I intend to print the elements of a spelling-book, for which two leaves will be sufficient, nothing being required but the alphabet, and a number of syllables. Every consonant (with but few exceptions) being followed by a vowel in this language, a quick boy will learn to read within a month's time, as I have had several proofs among the Wanika, and also among the Suáhelis. I believe the Africans in Bombay may still become an important help to us in East Africa. Let us work on humbly and quietly, and the glory of the Lord will appear unto his children.*

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.(Commenced at Malta in 1815.)Turkey.CONSTANTINOPLE.First occupied 1819, relinquished 1821, re-occupied 1858.European Mission Establishment :

Rev. Charles Gottlieb Pfander, D.D., (m), to Persia 1825 ; to Constantinople 1858.

THE Committee are happy at length to announce the recommencement of a Mission in Constantinople. The Rev. Dr. Pfander having visited Smyrna and Constantinople, on his way from India to Europe, in the early part of 1858, was enabled, upon his arrival in England, to enter with the Committee upon the question of the enlargement of the Turkish Mission. In the autumn of that year he proceeded with his family to Constantinople, to commence a Mission to the Turks. He proposes to devote his attention, in the first instance, to the translation of his works on Mohammedanism into Turkish and Arabic ; also to the opening of a bookshop, to be kept by a native convert, where inquirers may be met ; and generally to embrace all opportunities of controversy with those who may be willing to listen to a Christian teacher. It is hoped that, in the course of another year, a second Missionary may be placed in another part of Constantinople, where also a book shop may be opened, and one or two converted Turks may be employed as colporteurs and Scripture readers. The state of the Turkish population will require in the first operations much caution and wisdom.

Greece.SYRA.(Mission first commenced 1830.)European Mission Establishment :

Rev. F. A. Hildner (m) 1829.

The school under Mr. Hildner continues to afford a scriptural education to between 200 and 300 girls, many of whom afterwards become teachers. The expenditure upon this establishment has been gradually reduced, till at present it is confined to the personal allowances of the Missionary. A school for the benefit of the Greek community could not be regarded as a proper object of this Society; but it was commenced when Syra was a port of the Turkish empire, and contained a large Mussulman population. The school is now supported by local resources. Mr. Hildner having laboured so many years at Syra, and, exercising an important influence upon education in the kingdom of Greece, the Committee think it right to continue his salary while he remains at this post of labour.

SMYRNA.

(Commenced in 1829.)

European Mission Establishment :

Rev. J. T. Wolters (m), to Persia 1833; to Smyrna 1837.

The Rev. J. T. Wolters has continued to conduct the Mission at Smyrna, with the assistance of Mr. Dalessio and Mr. Montesanto at Cassaba, who are both Protestant Greeks. Mr. Wolters' son, who acted as a catechist, has entered the Islington College for preparation for holy orders.

Mr. Wolters holds a Greek service every Sunday, at which ten or twelve native Protestants attend. He also takes part occasionally in the English services at Smyrna, and at the village of Bournabet, where Charlton Whittall, Esq., has built a church for the benefit of a large European population.

There is little visible result from year to year of the patient labours of the Missionary, who has been carrying on the work for more than twenty years; but yet there are sufficient indications of the preparation for future results.

Mr. Wolters states, in his annual letter at the close of the year—

Conversational preaching has been for years past, and still is, the chief means of bringing the subject of religion before the minds of the people with whom we come into contact. This is not difficult. In speaking with an Oriental upon any subject, it is easy to give a religious turn to the conversation. This we do in all our intercourse with the people, whether it be in private or more in public, as in the bazaar or in the coffee-house; and I am happy to state that such opportunities of conveying religious truth to the hearts and consciences of men have not been wanting during the past year. Mr. Dalessio at Smyrna, and Mr. Montesanto at Cassaba, have been much engaged in this branch of our Missionary labours. Our book-shop also has often proved a suitable place for holding religious discussions with individuals. At Cassaba, Mr. Montesanto has taken some books and tracts in his hands, and gone among the people to speak with them, and they have not refused to listen.

From Smyrna Mr. Wolters writes—

The Turks, I am sorry to say, have been, and still are, very inaccessible; but both here and at Cassaba conversations have been held with a few of them. I hope the door is opening for more aggressive steps in our Turkish Mission. Every year develops something which indicates the gradual decline of Islamism, even in the minds of the Turks themselves. So, for instance, they are now making an effort to establish schools for the education of their females, a thing unheard of until now in this country. Yet the mind of the Turk is not changed. The Sheikh-al-Islam, and the great and influential bodies of Ulêmas, Mullahs, and Dervishes are the same, and perhaps more infatuated and fanatical than before.

Mr. Wolters has devoted much of his time to the translation of useful tracts into Turkish and Greek; and, through the book-shop and colportage, there have been sold or distributed 272 copies of the Scriptures in various languages, in whole or in parts, and 1300 religious books and tracts.

Mr. Wolters thus states his views of the future enlargement of the Turkish Mission—

I would recommend, next to Constantinople, the region of the Seven Churches, where, with the exception of Thyatira, the Americans have as yet no Missionaries. There are the towns of Pergamos, Magnesia, Cassaba, Philadelphia, Denizli, Aidin, Thyra, Baidir, Odemish, Sokia, and Scala Nova (new Ephesus), inhabited by Turks and Christians. Each of these places has only been visited occasionally by the Society's Missionaries; most of them are not far distant from each other, and a Missionary residing in one might easily and frequently visit two or three others. I can hardly expect that this fond hope of mine—to see all these places taken up as stations—will soon be realized. But I do hope that the Lord has reserved a great and blessed work for the Church Missionary Society in Asia Minor, and that He will accomplish it through their instrumentality in his own time.

PALESTINE.

*European Mission Establishment.*The Rev. W. Krusé (m) 1825, to Egypt; 1852, to Palestine.The Rev. Dr. S. W. Koelle (m) 1847, to West Africa; 1856, to Palestine.The Rev. F. Augustus Klein (m) 1851.Dr. Charles Sandreczki (m) 1838, to Syra; 1851, to Palestine.Mr. James Huber (m) 1850, to West Africa; 1853, to Palestine.Mr. Muller (m).

The chief difficulties with which Missions in Palestine have to contend arise from the political state of the country, and from the revived activity and wealth of the Oriental churches, especially of their convents. These difficulties increase year by year. The past year has been marked by numerous outbreaks of violence and lawlessness in all parts of the country, and by the utter inefficiency of Turkish authority for the preservation of social order. Such a state of society gives shelter to religious persecution, prevents the open preaching of the Gospel, and in many other ways hinders the progress of scriptural truth. The Oriental churches seem also to be aroused from their former lethargy, and one section being backed by the influence of France, and another by that of Russia, and supplied with ample means, as well as with teachers and sisters of charity, they exert themselves to counteract Protestant Missions by the employment of able controversialists, as well as by bribery and intimidation.

Under these circumstances, the Missionaries of the Society naturally plead for increasing the strength of the Protestant Missions, so as to give confidence to the native Protestants that they will receive friendly protection; and that the Missionary establishments will be permanent, and not liable to be withdrawn, so as to leave the converts at the mercy of their persecutors.

It is, however, to be remembered that the original and main design of the Mediterranean Mission was to reach the Mohammedans through the revival of true religion among the Oriental Christians, and that there has been hitherto no appearance of any such effect. The pastoral care of nominal Oriental Christians, who may wish to declare themselves Protestants, would of itself form no proper branch of the labours of this Society. The aim must be to influence the influential classes of society. While at one or two chief stations, such as Jerusalem and Nazareth, the Arabic Service of the Church of England should be established to exhibit a standard of spiritual worship, and to afford inquirers the opportunity of hearing the preaching of the word of God, it must be regarded as the chief object of the Missionaries to bear witness for the truth among the influential classes of society, Christians and Mohammedans, by conversation and Bible readings, by the education of promising youths of those classes, by a liberal and wide distribution of the Holy Scriptures, and of works adapted to Mohammedans, and by Missionary tours to seek out and to encourage such inquirers as may appear to be evidently under the teaching of the spirit of God.

Jerusalem.

The Rev. F. A. Klein and Dr. Sandreczki have continued their labours in their respective departments at this station.

Mr. Klein gives a pleasing account of the native Protestant congregation of fifty souls to which he ministers in Jerusalem. It comprises 22 adult males and 15 females, making, with 14 children, 51 souls. In his annual letter Mr. Klein writes—

Though the members of the congregation have their national and individual sins and weaknesses, not a few of which ought to be, and in fact are, a subject of constant self-humiliation to the minister; yet I can say of them that their outward conversation is honourable, their knowledge of the truth on the whole satisfactory, and their Protestantism sincere.

During the year a room has been specially set apart and fitted up for Divine service, which appears to have had a good effect upon the congregation, and to have attracted a few strangers also to attend Divine service.

On several occasions there has scarcely been room enough for the whole audience. Whenever the caravan comes from Salt, the ancient Ramoth Gilead, I have a few of the wild-looking Christian Bedouins of that region. It appears that one of the Jerusalem congregation is a merchant, whose business occasionally takes him to Salt. He has many friends there, and, during his stay there, he has meetings on Sundays and on week-day evenings for the purpose of reading the Scriptures and praying. His fervent love to the word of God, and his knowledge of the same, would put many an European Christian to shame.

Mr. Klein visits the various villages and out-stations. Nablous is still closed against Missions; but a school is kept up in the place by the Bishop.

Bethlehem.

At the out-station of Bethlehem there are six adult Protestants and a school. They are visited by Dr. Sandrecski weekly, and occasionally by Mr. Klein.

Ramleh.

At the village of Ramleh there are eight Protestants and a larger number of regular inquirers. An European catechist has been located here. The school is encouraging: there are several Moslems in it, who attend the Bible instruction, learn verses of the New Testament, and sing Christian hymns.

Jaffa.

The Rev. W. Krusé remains at this station, but he meets with little encouragement. The people flock to him to obtain bodily relief from his skill in medicine, and he has thus abundant opportunity of speaking to them upon their souls' health. But none afterwards attend with any regularity the ordinances of grace. Mr. Krusé's age prevents his travelling. There is a boys'-school, but the attendance is very fluctuating.

Khaiffa.

The Rev. Dr. S. W. Koelle has continued to labour at this station during the last year. His progress in the Arabic language has enabled him to converse much with the people; but the results of his labours have been discouraging. The single Protestant family which formed his congregation last year has removed, and no others have joined. A Bible class and a singing class failed to attract any attendants after two or three meetings. He visited all the neighbouring towns and villages—Shefamer, Magdal, Yagur, Belad-eh-Sheikh, Azfia, Tere—but could nowhere find persons willing even to listen with attention to the message of the Gospel, or to give him encouragement to renew his visits.

Dr. Koelle thus sums up his reasons for regarding Khaiffa as a station not presenting a sufficient field for the labours of the Society—

My residence here has not, as far as I know, elicited a single spontaneous inquiry after the truth; and my offer of the Scriptures to the people, house by house, at a mere nominal price, has been met by a repulse. The population of Khaiffa is supposed to amount to 3400 souls. Of these one half are Mohammedans: the others are divided into three bodies—the Catholics (Greeks), the Greeks, and the Latins. Each of these three parties has a separate church, with its staff of priests, and a school. The Catholics are by far the most numerous, the Greeks the more wealthy body, and the influence of the Latins is seconded by the French and Austrian consuls, by the large convent on Mount Carmel, to which will soon be added a hospital and girls'-school, already in course of building, and which is to be under the management of French nuns.

What amount of spiritual tyranny and bondage must we not look for amongst so small a population from such an agency of three churches, all jealous of each other, and, if possible, more jealous of intruding Protestantism. Add to this the dependence of the people in a worldly point of view. One is living in a house provided for him by the church; another receives an allowance in money; a third holds, or hopes to hold, some office from his church; a fourth looks to it for protection against the unjust or just claims of the powers that be. The political state of the country also aids the existing churches in keeping a tight hold on their people. He only who possesses the new life from God is likely to be fully emancipated from this thralldom.

Nazareth.

The Rev. J. Zeller has been absent on a visit to Europe during the whole of last year. Dr. Koelle has had the superintendence of the station, and has visited it occasionally from Khaiffa. Mr. Huber and Mr. Müller have resided in the place, the former acting as an efficient catechist from his knowledge of the Arabic.

At Nazareth great fluctuations have occurred in the Protestant congregation. One influential member separated himself from it after a few months' trial of its discipline, and carried away more than seventy of his dependent followers. It appears that he had applied for pecuniary assistance to pay off a debt, and, when this was refused, he sought to make a better bargain with another church, so that the congregation fell from 130 at the commencement of the year to 40 at its close. Dr. Koelle visited Berkin, Toran, and Olam from Nazareth, but at each place the prospect was, in his judgment, most discouraging.

The following are extracts from the annual letter of Mr. Huber—

At the beginning of the 'past year, we had a large number of the Greeks, who, on account of some quarrels concerning the taxes between themselves and the headman, wished to write their names with ours and thus become Protestants. For several weeks they attended divine service and the Bible class regularly, but gradually they became indifferent, and most of them returned again to their former church. This happened before Mr. Zeller went away from here, and the few who yet remained after he had left returned also when they had to pay the taxes which were demanded of them before joining us in spite of their becoming Protestants. Neither Mr. Zeller nor I believed or expected that all of them would remain with us; for the experience of four years had taught me already many a lesson, and neither the swearing by the beard nor by any thing else could induce me to believe them. We hoped, however, that at least a few would remain with us, but even this was not the case.

The average attendance at our place of worship was about twenty. The schools, on account of the children's great irregularity, are not what they ought to be; for it depends on the free-will of the children whether they choose to visit the school or not, and only very few of the parents compel them to do so. The priests of the other congregations frighten the parents of the children by threatening them with excommunication if they send their children to the Protestant school, and now nearly all the other churches have a school of their own. There are, however, a few children visiting the school regularly, and they learn something.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. J. R. T. Lieder (m) 1825.

Mr. Lieder continues to reside at Cairo. He is unable to pursue active Missionary labours, but his influence is beneficial over the Coptic Christians; and especially over the Coptic patriarch, who has introduced Bible instruction and the study of the English language into his theological seminary. The Committee hesitate, therefore, to remove Mr. Lieder, as the alternative would be to place him on the retired list.†

THE Rev. J. S. S. Robertson continues to discharge the office of Secretary to the Bombay Corresponding Committee. The Annual Report of the Committee notices the death of one who had been a member for the last seven years, Major-General F. P. Lester. In reference to his death, and that of another zealous friend of the Mission cause, Dr. E. W. Edwards, the Report states, "In them our dear native converts ever found a large share of the genuine brotherly love which distinguished the Apostolic age."

Since the last anniversary, two Missionaries have been added to this Mission, the Rev. R. Galbraith, M.A., Trinity College, Dublin, assigned to the charge of the Money-school; and the Rev. L. and Mrs. Hofer, stationed at Junír. The Rev. J. Sheldon has also returned to the Mission at Sindh, from which he had been separated for a time through severe illness.

The Annual Report of the Bombay Corresponding Committee gives the following view of the Mission during the year 1858—

It is still God's holy will to keep us in an attitude of expectation: we see little fruit ripening in the vineyard which our Missionary brethren are so laboriously cultivating. An inspection of our statistical tables will bear witness to only a small increase to the number of our little flock of native Christians the numbers being, in 1857, 313, with 71 communicants; in 1858, 374, with 84 communicants.

The subject of vernacular schools for heathen children has, during the year, engaged much of the attention of the Corresponding Committee, as well as that of some of the Missionaries. It has been felt that the old system of having these schools taught chiefly by heathen masters ought to be abandoned; and that it would be better to maintain only such schools as can be provided with suitable Christian teachers. The work in which we are engaged is a work of faith; and unless we have believers to carry it on we have little reason to expect the Lord's blessing upon it. Experience has clearly shown that unchristian and unspiritual agents are a mere dead weight upon our Missions. The Lord by his Spirit quicken all who are engaged in this holy warfare !

BOMBAY.

The native Christians of Bombay fluctuate in numbers, owing to the migratory habits of many of them: 11 native Protestants from other parts have, during the year, joined the congregation, and 3 adults have been added by baptism. The native Christians in Bombay, numbering 186, are under the pastoral care of a native minister with the general superintendence of a Missionary. Divine services for the native congregation are held in the hall of the Money-school. The Rev. Daji Pandurang, is the native pastor. The Rev. C. W. Isenberg is the superintendant of the Mission. The Rev. J. G. Deimler is also stationed in Bombay, and a Tamil catechist is employed among the Tamil and Malabar Christians. Mr. Isenberg reports—

Pastoral intercourse with our native church-members has been maintained by the Rev. Daji Pandurang and myself; and I hope that, by the blessing of God, it may have contributed to strengthen the bond of union between them and ourselves, and their love to the Lord and to one another. They require much looking after, weak beginners as most of them are in Christianity, and exposed as they are to innumerable temptations on every side in Bombay. I beg to commend them to the faithful prayers of the Committee, that the Spirit of God may be vouchsafed to them in an abundant measure—in order that the torpor which is still hanging on many of them may be dispelled, that they may be roused to devote themselves entirely to God, to live in him alone, and thus become a light in the Lord, by which many of their still benighted brethren may be enlightened and led to the Saviour.

The Missionaries avail themselves of the usual opportunities of addressing the heathen in places of public resort. The native minister, the Rev. Daji Pandurang writes—

I preach publicly on the esplanade on every Thursday evening. We always have good audiences. Several of our hearers are present every Thursday, and put to us a number of questions, which we have to answer over and over again. We have very often among our hearers young men educated in the Government Institution; and it is sad to hear them often making mention of infidel books. I am sorry to say the infidelity of Europe has found its way to India. Some of these young men often bring forward passages which appear to them contradictory, from the Bible, written on a sheet of paper. We explain them, and try to set the truth before them.

Education.

The Robert-Money Institution has, during the whole of the last year, been under the able and devoted care of the Rev. A. Frost, with his native assistant, Mr. Wilson. The other Missionaries have also rendered great assistance by taking certain classes in the school. The number of scholars has not increased. Mr. Frost gives the following wise reason in explanation—

As the time is now approaching when I resign the charge to my successor, I would here briefly state some of the chief objects which I have endeavoured to keep steadily in view, to render this Institution deserving of public sympathy as a branch of Mission work.

The Bible has been read with me daily by all the monitors and first class, and its doctrines and precepts explained and enforced, according to the ability God has given me. The other classes have been daily instructed in the Scriptures by the Christian teachers connected with the Institution, and the whole Christian portion of the school has been assembled at the close of each day, and the Scriptures read and expounded to them in the native language. I have endeavoured, by taking an equal share of actual teaching, to stimulate all my helpers to diligence, and, by punctuality, practised and enforced, to secure an increased efficiency in the machinery at our disposal. I have weeded out all incorrigibly idle and irregular or ill-conducted boys. And thus, though sacrificing, in some measure, the number on the muster-roll, the boys in actual attendance are more regular and diligent, and the masters encouraged in their duties. I have daily taught the senior boys the Evidences of Christianity, and in doing this my object has not been so much to prepare them for such examinations as at times take place, as to lead the youths to habits of thinking, and to assist them in exercising a right judgment in all things. In the steady pursuance of this plan I received much encouragement from the Rev. Messrs. Fletcher and Boys, the chaplains, who kindly examined the Institution, first for the Government grant, and afterwards for the Corresponding Committee, and who spoke with much pleasure of the general intelligence throughout the school, and especially of the first class, to whose improvement my own endeavours, and those of my valued assistant, Mr. Wilson and the Rev. Daji Pandurang, have been mainly directed. In all my duties I have endeavoured to win the confidence and regard of all alike, and gradually and imperceptibly, as it were, to influence their minds for good. In the pursuance of the above plans, I have, I believe, been carrying out the wishes of the friends of such institutions as the Money-school; for thereby the youths have been receiving the leaven of Christ, by which the moral tone is unquestionably raised, though we continually mourn that the bold, open profession of Christianity does not more frequently follow: at the same time, we have the comfort of knowing that the seed of life is sown, and may yet be watered from on high, and spring up we know not how.

It has been my earnest prayer, that during my connexion with the Institution, at least one youth might come out from heathenism and embrace Christianity. I have earnestly desired this, for the strengthening of my faith, and an encouragement for future exertions. This desire the Lord has been pleased to grant, convincing a youth of the goldsmith caste of the sad folly of idolatry, and showing him that there is only one name whereby he can be saved.

Mr. Wilson writes—

Our number in the school has been somewhat diminished and very fluctuating. This may be accounted for by the introduction of the books of the Madras series, which are of a religious character, and partly by our exacting from the boys the admission and monthly fees. Though they are very trifling, still the Hindús cannot fully understand why they should pay for their education. The admission fee is only one rupee, and the monthly fee two annas (threepence). These fees we have to exact to fall in with the wishes of Government, in hopes of receiving the grants-in-aid.

Some of our pupils are very promising, and give us great hopes of their conversion. They are competent by head-knowledge to appreciate the claims of Christianity, but their hearts have not as yet been touched by the grace of God, which alone can influence them to break through the trammels of idolatry and superstition, and embrace the mild doctrines of Christianity.

Our work is indeed a work of faith. Year after year passes away without any visible signs of success. But the Lord can own and bless our labours, and He will do so. Some of our old pupils, who have left us for Government employment, pay us occasional visits. The religious instruction imparted to them when they were in the school carries with it no little influence in their characters. The general deportment of young men educated in Government or other private institutions is very different. In the one you observe something that is ennobling, whereas the self-conceit and pride of the other are intolerable.

Mr. Sargon has continued his labours in visiting, inspecting, and teaching in the vernacular schools, and in holding conferences with Jews in connexion with the Beni Israel school.

Mrs. Jerrom's Native-Female Orphanage.

Mrs. Jerrom conducts an Orphanage which contains above 60 children, 23 being rescued African slaves. She has had some encouraging instances of piety in the children, especially in some of the Africans "who died from deep-rooted sickness brought on by cruel treatment during the time they were in slavery."

Miss White superintends eight vernacular schools in Bombay, containing 334 children, more than half of whom are girls. Of these schools Mr. Isenberg writes—

An immense deal of good has been done by these schools. Many a child has taken an amount of Christian truth and feeling with her into her heathen family, which, in many instances, has proved still working, under the greatest opposition, even after several years.

NASIK.

The Rev. W. S. Price has been in charge of this station, residing at the Christian village called Sharanpúr. The Rev. A. Davidson has itinerated in the neighbourhood. Mr. Isenberg visited the place in November last, and his long experience as a Missionary gives great value to his testimony. He thus reports upon the state of things—

Nov. 10, 1858—This day the foundation of the Mission establishment of Sharanpúr, four and a-half years ago, was commemorated. First, the usual morning prayer with the congregation was conducted by myself. Then followed breakfast. At eleven o'clock came the annual meeting of the whole church in Mahrathí, opened with singing and prayer, by the Rev. W. S. Price, who, after prayer, read Rom. xii., and remarked upon it. He then addressed the meeting on the occasion, pointing out with what thankfulness, humiliation, and holy resolutions this day ought to be spent—a very touching address. Then I addressed the Christians and heathen, for several Hindús and other non-Christians were present. After me followed Sorabji, who especially addressed the heathen, inviting them to adopt that religion which had produced the work which had then grown up before their eyes. Krishnaji concluded with prayer. We have witnessed in this little Sharanpúr a very nice and promising work of the Lord, a considerable advance upon what we saw there three years ago. This little native church stands there, a shining light in the surrounding darkness, and several of its members are, under the wise and faithful superintendence of their pastor, engaged in rendering active and increasing services in the blessed work of spreading the knowledge of the Saviour. Though the Brahmins in the town continue to oppose the progress of Christianity, their day is on the decline: they cannot prevent the spread of the Gospel in the villages, several of which are desirous of having native schools, with Christian masters, established among them. The Orphanage and the industrial school are training young persons, who promise to become very useful in the dissemination of Christianity; and the village, where about fourteen families are already settled, is in a fair way of becoming a nursery of truly Christian life. Mr. Price has been remarkably sustained in his work under great difficulties.

Mr. Price, in his annual report, gives the following account of this work—

The native church has received some accessions during the year. The spiritual condition has, I am happy to believe, improved in a greater degree. I trust I may confidently say that the people are all better-informed and more consistent in their conduct than they were a year ago. The means of grace have been duly attended, and the year has been marked by the absence of any case calling for severe discipline. So far well, but much remains to be done—much to be undone; and when we consider the influence for good or evil which the conduct of native Christians must have on the surrounding heathen, there is abundant reason to pray for the continued sanctifying operation of the Holy Spirit. I may mention as pleasing signs of progress in the right direction—

1st—That the people have contributed out of their poverty towards the monthly pay of a Colporteur and Sunday-school reader. The man employed was formerly a Mang, but has for several years been a steady earnest Christian. Since his baptism he has learnt to read, and is now, I trust, usefully employing his new talent.

2nd—Several men who were dependent on the Institution for employment and support are now established in business on their own account, and supporting themselves and their families respectably without further aid.

3rd—Two of the young men who have learnt trades in the Institution have married young women from the Orphanage, and settled down at Sharanpúr. I include this among “pleasing signs of progress,” because marriage in which the parties are allowed to choose for themselves is a great innovation upon native custom, and also because I hope for much good from the creation of this new class in the native church—a class i. e. between the better educated catechists and the very poor and ignorant, who have hitherto formed the majority in the church.

The Orphanage has been carried on as formerly. During the year there have been four admissions. Two boys, Carrapil and Johann, have been transferred to the Money-school. At first, the Bishop, with his usual kindness, undertook to pay for their support in Bombay; but after a few months they passed a creditable examination, and obtained each a Bishop’s scholarship. I have been much encouraged by receiving a most favourable report of them from Mr. Frost.

The Industrial Institution has developed itself more fully, and is, I am thankful to say, answering its proper end. A number of boys from the Orphanage, as well as several children of native Christians, are duly apprenticed, and learning various trades. Employment has also been found for a good number of native Christians and persons under Christian instruction. Orders for work have only been limited by our means of executing them, and there is every prospect of the Institution becoming self-supporting in a reasonable time.

Of schools for heathen boys there were six under my supervision in Nasik last year. They were all closed a few months ago, in consequence of the refusal of both masters and scholars to admit low-caste boys. The panic would have lasted but a day, and I should have succeeded in breaking through the exclusive system for ever, but for the existence of a Government school, in which it is still maintained, notwithstanding the order of the Director of Instruction to the contrary. As a proof of the inconsistency of Government in this matter, I may mention that two Christian boys were refused admission to the Government school, and that, though I appealed in their behalf to the Director of Instruction, the grievance has not yet been removed. So much for the “religious neutrality” of Government. Having obtained a master who has no scruples about caste, I have opened another school, but as yet it is poorly attended ; and so long as Government perseveres in fostering the prejudices of the Brahmins, I cannot hope for much success in carrying out the principle.

In direct evangelistic labours among the heathen, we have pursued a more systematic course than in former years. The villages within a reasonable distance around Nasik have been divided between myself and catechists, so that each may be visited on a stated day every week. In this way the word of life has been more regularly, and, I trust, more effectually proclaimed than formerly. The work is encouraging. In several of the villages the people look forward to the visit of the Christian teacher, and listen at least with attention to his preaching. In two or three of the places so visited, there are some whose hearts seem touched by the truths they have learned, and who are more earnestly inquiring for the true way: of these we have hope.

In conclusion, it is but right that I should bear testimony to the zeal and diligence of my dear native brethren and assistants. Sorabji and his wife, and Krishnaji, have all, in their respective posts, most cheerfully done their best to carry out any plans and directions in connexion with the various operations of the Mission. Ruttonji, though not strictly an agent of the Society, his salary being provided by the Bishop, has taken an active part in preaching the Gospel to the heathen, whilst at the same time pursuing such studies under my direction as are calculated to fit him for more extensive usefulness. It remains for me only to commend myself and my work to your best sympathies and prayers; and hoping that we may have grace to labour together with singleness of heart for the one grand object of promoting the glory of God in the propagation of the everlasting Gospel.

The Bishop of Bombay lately visited Nasik, and spent four days at the station examining the work and encouraging the labourers. He has forwarded the following account of his visit—

With Mr. Price's Orphanage, Industrial Institution, and native village, I was deeply interested. There was a healthy, practical tone about the proceedings, and an energy and happiness pervading the place, which contrasted forcibly, not only with the habits of the unchristianized, but even with those of the christianized natives also, when not drawn out and trained to diligence in business in unison with religious instruction. In the present instance, the instruction seemed to me to be very carefully and scripturally given. I made it my endeavour to satisfy myself on this point, and to ascertain that the secularities of the place were all in subordination to the one thing, the saving of the souls collected there. And this I do quite feel is the case. I spoke with all the native assistants in the Mission, and each morning examined the candidates for confirmation; and the conviction brought to my mind was, that certainly hitherto to teach and to preach Jesus Christ is the grand end to which every thing else is subservient. It gave me pleasure also to find that, day by day, the work of evangelization in the villages around is kept up with regularity. The native assistants go out to the places assigned them, and Mr. Price accompanies now one and now another, so as to make his Christian villages a little centre from which truth is continually radiating into the vicinity.

Mr. Davidson has forwarded his journals, which afford, on the whole, some encouraging prospects. The following extract is especially hopeful.

Sinnur, Nov. 22—Was visited by a patriarchal weaver, and all his large family, about twenty people. He said that he had heard that a preacher of religion was in the town, and he wished to become acquainted with the doctrines of Christianity. He stayed above two hours with me, and invited me to his house the next day, promising me a large congregation. Preached in the Maha Wada: found most of the people gone to the railway works at Rassara. A bigoted old Eskar said he would never embrace a religion that permitted the killing of animals, especially fowls and cows.

Nov. 27—Visited again by the old weaver, who stayed a long while, and asked me again to come to his house. Went, and found all his family and relatives met together. I cannot help trusting that this man is a sincere inquirer after truth, and there are hopeful signs of his being soon an anxious inquirer. May the Holy Spirit take of the things of Christ, and show them unto him!

JUNIR.

The Rev. C. F. Schwarz, and the native minister, the Rev. James Bunter, together with a catechist and reader, have laboured at this station. The encouragement has been very small; the disappointments many and grievous. There appears to be a peculiar hardness of heart and opposition to the truth throughout this district, very trying to the faith and patience of the spiritual labourers.

Mr. Schwarz reports respecting the work in the town—

With regard to our preaching in the town, I have so arranged with my native helpers, that the Gospel is daily proclaimed in some place or other, and, when rain does not hinder, four of the neighbouring villages are visited in a week: twice a week Mr. Bunter goes abroad with Shunker Nana or Ramji, and twice I go myself, with one of the latter alternatively.

There is an unspeakable indifference prevailing in the town, as well as abroad. No one seems to take to heart the word of life. How long it will be so is an often-repeated question with me; yet the answer is with the Lord, and to us it belongeth to be faithful, trusting in the word of promise that all the earth shall see the salvation of God. Oh for an outpouring of the Holy Ghost upon his servants and handmaidens employed in the Gospel cause, to be able effectively to cry aloud and not to spare, to lift up our voices like trumpets, and show the people their transgression and their sins!

Mr. Bunter thus describes his Missionary tours—

During the year now come to an end, I went on four preaching tours with Mr. Schwarz, and declared the name of our Lord Jesus Christ and his meritorious death in more than seventy-five villages of the district. In some places I found a good opportunity to converse with the people, and sometimes I was engaged nearly a whole day with them. Some villages have been visited from four to five times by me during the last twelve months, but I generally do not go more than forty miles from our station.

Amidst the many discouragements which the journals of the Missionaries record, it is difficult to say which is most prominent, the horrid idolatries of the untaught heathen, or the no less horrid blasphemies of the educated native infidel. The following passages from the journal of Mr. Schwarz are given as specimens of each—

Amongst those who opposed us were several whom I can liken to men intoxicated to such a degree, that they no longer know what they talk. But by what spirit have they become such? is it by genuine Brahminism? No: it is by that demoralizing infidel spirit which has been spread all over the country, and is still spreading over it, by the Poona college-bred schoolmaster, brought up and entertained by our enlightened Government.

The last place I preached at in the morning was near the temple, and it was there that I saw many abominations, which provoked my innermost heart. It is one thing to read about idol-worship, and about the filthy practices connected with it, and another to see it with one's eyes. The madness of the people seems great in men and women throwing themselves in a pool of dirty water, bathing themselves, and believing thereby to become clean from sin, whilst their body becomes covered with mire. However, this is trifling in comparison to what takes place in their holiest, or rather vilest custom of all.

Failure of the School.

Our Marathí school has been discontinued. The reason was, in short, this, that a Christian master was put in the place of a heathen one. The prejudice of the people in general, and the hatred of the Brahmins in particular, dispersed the attendants entirely; and after some time of patience I closed school with six or eight irregular Musulman boys, who were for some time the only attendants. The reply of several of the parents of our former pupils, when asked for what reason they had withdrawn their children from our school I have found very suggestive. It was the following—"With great pleasure we have sent our boys to your school till you have employed a Christian master: now we can send them no more, for though our boys have formerly been instructed in your religion by Mr. Bunter and yourself, we have nothing to fear for them, for you came for an hour, and went away again; but now it is different." I believe the people have thereby expressed the sad fact that a heathen master generally destroys what the Missionary endeavours to build up. For some time I tried to open school for the Mahars and the shoemaking class; but partly their aversion to education, and partly their prejudice against a Christian schoolmaster, suffered not my plan to come to any thing; and thus our Mission is left without a school.

MALLIGAUM.

The Rev. E. Rogers, assisted by the native minister, the Rev. Appaji Bapuji, have laboured at the station during the last year, making extensive Missionary tours in the surrounding district.

Mr. Bapuji reports of his department of the labour—

We have had a small congregation, and for the benefit of it I have a daily public worship at nine o'clock, and two regular services on Sundays, in which Mr. Rogers and I officiate in turns. The usual attendance on Sunday is about twenty, including the heathen.

We have not had the privilege of baptizing any person during the past year, but we have now more persons who appear to be earnest inquirers than we ever had before.

SINDH MISSION.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. A. Matchett, 1852.
Rev. A. Burn, B.A., 1852.
Rev. J. Sheldon, 1854.

Mr. P. Goodall, 1854, Trained school master.

This Mission has for another year been crippled in all its operations by the want of labourers. During the first six months the Rev. A. Matchett was the only European Missionary. In May the Rev. A. Burn returned to resume his duties. At the close of this year, the Rev. J. Sheldon, having recovered his health, also returned to India. Dr. Trumpp was also able to return in recruited health: but his labours have been transferred to Peshawur, where he will still pursue the printing of his Sindhi books, referred to in the last Report.

The native minister, the Rev. Mr. Seal, and Mr. Goodall, an European schoolmaster, were the labourers at this station till the return of Mr. Burn. Mr. Seal reports—

In submitting my report for the year just closed, although I am not able to mention any thing of a cheering and stirring character, yet I can humbly state that some advance has been made, and some ground gained in the enemy's territory.

The services in the Mission chapel have been conducted as usual, only that I have been obliged to give up one of the two English services. Since last May, Mr. Burn has kindly taken the whole of the English services. Our congregation in all numbers twenty-seven adults and seventeen children, of whom thirteen are native Christians. About eight Hindús and Mussulmans generally attend the native services.

Bazaar preaching has been regularly carried on ; and, during my absence on tour, it was continued by the Rev. A. Burn, who returned from England in May last, and Mr. Goodall. At times we had hardly six individuals to hear us ; while at others a hundred might have been numbered of those who flocked around us. I had more visitors last year than in any of the former. The only visible good that is as yet observable, as the effect of frequent conversation, is the lessening of the prejudices of some, and the free acknowledgment of a few that the truths of Christianity cannot be shaken.

Mr. Seal has paid Missionary visits to two important towns in the neighbourhood of Kurrachí—Tatta and Mirpur Bathora—remaining several weeks at each place, and having constant opportunity of preaching and conversing with the people.

Mr. Burn writes—

If any thing can be said of progress, it is, that our visits are no longer strange, and our message is supposed to be known, though the little interest aroused shows too truly that its importance is hidden from them. On Mr. Seal's return, I could not but feel what an immense advantage native agency gives us : his addresses, exposures, and explanations, came with a force few foreigners can bring to bear. Mr. Seal has a few round him who may be said to be inquiring and learning something about Christianity.

My attention and time were given chiefly to getting a double edition of St. John's Gospel in Sindhí printed in our Mission press, in the Kurrachí and Arabic characters. The first was completed without much difficulty ; and on our first taking copies into the bazaar to read, attention and interest were at once raised, and the pleasure and surprise manifested by those who heard and read them was an encouragement to proceed with the work of supplying them with God's word in their own tongue. In printing the edition in Arabic characters we met with unexpected difficulty in getting a writer for the press. We hail the expected arrival of Dr. Trumpp's improved works in Sindhi, and his new Sindhi type, as a fresh engine of influence.

Kurrachi School.

Mr. Goodall, at the close of the year reports—

Notwithstanding many difficulties, I am happy to say the school has steadily progressed in point of attendance; and the number of boys at present receiving instruction (39) is as great as could conveniently be accommodated in the small space which is occupied in the verandah of the Mission chapel. I think I may also say, with equal confidence, that the improvement of the boys during the same period has kept pace with the increase in attendance.

Mr. Burn reports of this school—

My own experience of the work in our own Mission school was encouraging. For some time I took the Bible lessons with the two first classes. At first they were ready to raise objections whenever an opportunity occurred; but after reading with Mr. Seal for some time, there was a manifest change in their manner and feeling: they were often amongst our hearers in the bazaar, and on several occasions, seeing us waiting to address the people, they brought us hearers.

I cannot but think that such a school must be one of the chief instrumentalities for influencing the population of large native towns at a stationary Mission, by means of the amount of information and better feeling communicated by the scholars to their families and acquaintances.

Hydrabad and Shikarpur.

Mr. Matchett reports the number of native Christians as still only 5 adults and 6 children. The time of the Missionary, and of his assistant, is wholly devoted to preaching to the heathen and Mohammedans. Mr. Matchett writes, in his annual letter at the close of 1858—

I am sorry not to be able to report the conversion of any of the heathen, or any remarkable circumstances connected with our Missionary work in Upper and Middle Sindh, during the past year.

In the beginning of 1858, the catechist, Abdullah Athim, and I remained at Shikarpur for nine weeks, preaching daily in the bazaar, or at the gates of the city. We then visited the important towns of Sukkur and Rori, on the Indus, and, after a stay there of several days, returned by boat to Hydrabad.

During the hot season, bazaar preaching was carried on regularly at Hydrabad, except when illness prevented. The people have uniformly listened to me quietly, sometimes entering into discussion, and on other occasions making no remarks. During the last year, and during former years, the people of Hydrabad have manifested no anger at our mode of preaching, or at our treatment of their various systems of faith.

For some time during the year the catechist has been occupied translating into easy Hindustani, Archbishop Whateley's admirable little book on the Christian Evidences. It is now nearly ready for printing. Abdullah, who is well acquainted with the native mind, says, that although written for Christians, it will be of great benefit to the Moslems and the heathen; and that the principles and arguments of that treatise, set forth as they are there, cannot fail to commend themselves to the native reader, if he is not too bigoted, and, with God's blessing, to produce a powerful effect on his mind. *

CALCUTTA AND NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

BENGAL.

Arrival of the Bishop of Calcutta.

The Bishop of Calcutta, and Metropolitan of India, Dr. Cotton, the successor of the venerated Daniel Wilson, has arrived at his see, and entered upon his important labours, since the last anniversary. He has kindly become, at the request of the Committee, President of the Corresponding Committee for North India.

The Bishop issued a pastoral address upon his arrival, Nov. 23, 1858, from which the Committee desire to put upon their records the following weighty passage—

The clergy of India have before them two great objects: first, that of bringing the Gospel practically home to the hearts of all who call themselves Christians; and next, of extending among the heathen, by all legitimate means, the knowledge of God's revealed will. Though for each of these duties in this country a separate division of the Christian ministry is directly responsible, yet the two are in fact inseparably connected: both are equally under the care of the Bishop, and it is impossible for any one rightly to discharge the one unless he also appreciates the greatness of the other.

Enlargement of the Mission—Ordination of Native Pastors.

The Committee are not able to announce any increase during the year 1858 in the number of European labourers in North India, the retirement of several having balanced the addition of new Missionaries. But it is hoped that in the course of the present year a material increase will take place. Nevertheless, the Committee are thankful to report that, through the blessing of God, the pledge to enlarge the North-India Mission has been in part redeemed by two important steps in advance, namely, the opening of a new Mission in Oude, at Lucknow; and the ordination of three native teachers to minister to native congregations which had been already formed, and were waiting for their pastors. Both these measures benefit the Mission in the North-west Provinces, the chief seat of the late mutiny.

The Mission at Lucknow will be noticed in the review of the operations in the North-west Provinces. The ordination of the native ministers took place at Calcutta, and the circumstances connected with it claim for it a special mention in an introductory notice of the North-India Mission.

Hitherto there had only been two natives of North India ordained in connexion with this Society, Abdool Messeeh and the Sikh, Daoud, and they had continued, after their ordination, helpers to European Missionaries. But in the present case three congregations of native Christians were pastorless, owing to the lack of European Missionaries; and the Society's Mission was able to supply experienced and long-tried catechists, to be ordained by the Bishop of Calcutta as native pastors in the native church of India. One of these congregations was composed of those who had been employed at Agra upon the printing-press of the Society, and who followed the establishment to Allahabad when the seat of Government was removed. The Secretary of the Government, and another civilian, collected them together each Sunday for many months, for religious instruction and worship, till the catechist was ordained as their pastor.

The second congregation was that long established at Chunar, where the Society formerly maintained an European Missionary, till the great need of men elsewhere forced the Committee to give up this place as the station of an European Missionary. The native flock was kept together by the occasional visits of the Missionaries from Benares. The catechist, Davee Solomon, has now been ordained as their pastor, and is settled among them.

The third congregation is peculiarly interesting, as having sprung out of the mutiny. A few months before his death, the Rev. R. M. Lamb had baptized a few converts at Mirzapur, thirty miles from Mirut. When the rebellion burst upon the district they fled to the hills. There a Christian gentleman, who possesses landed property in the Dehra Doon, invited them to settle as agriculturists, and to form a native Christian community. They were soon joined by other native Christian fugitives, and they now number about 150 members; and the catechist, Tulsi Paul, long associated with Mr. Lamb, is now their settled ordained pastor.

These native pastors have not received an European education, nor adopted European habits. They occupy their true position in the midst of their countrymen. It is hoped that they will soon receive their support from local funds, and thus form the first genuine native churches in North India. Thus, in the wonderful providence of God, in the midst of the mighty rebellion for extirpating Christianity root and branch from the soil of India, there has been planted the hopeful commencement of an independent native church: and a commencement being so happily made, there is every prospect of the example being shortly followed in many more instances. "The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence, the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass."

This great and palpable token of encouragement is the more satisfactory, as accompanied by a general state of things in India more favourable than before to the progress of evangelization. The able Secretary of the Corresponding Committee in Calcutta, the Rev. G. G. Cuthbert, to whose zeal, activity, and intelligence the cause of the Society has been greatly indebted during the late crisis, thus describes the effect of the mutiny upon Missions.

“ The extraordinary and terrible events of 1857 appear likely to inaugurate a new era in connexion with Christian Missions in India. The attention that has been called to the subject, before too much disregarded both at home and in this country; the evident bearing of the spread of Christianity in it upon the safety and happiness, if not the very continuance of Europeans in the land; the evident regard shown by natives in many places to Missionaries above every other European; the now palpable fact that there are many native Christians in the country; the generally excellent conduct of those Christians all through the late fearful struggle; and the desire on the part of Government officers and others to obtain native Christians for offices and employments which, it is felt, cannot be so safely entrusted to any others of the native population; these, with other circumstances, have combined to give Christian Missions a new status in public estimation, and a new footing in the land different from what they held before.

“ With regard also to the native population, and its state of feeling, we think it is beginning to appear that the position of Missions is being altered, and that for the better. It is true that in some places there has been manifested more plainly than ever a great deal of animosity and bitterness against Europeans and their religion, as belonging to them; and in a few, but only a few instances, Missionaries when out preaching have met with an amount of rudeness and violence not usual of late years, yet notwithstanding that it is the judgment of persons well acquainted with the native character and feelings that the present excited and embittered state of mind will gradually subside; and in the mean time the respect of the more reflecting natives for Missionaries, for Missions, and for Christianity itself, is certainly on the increase.

“ The people are too keen-sighted not to have perceived that the Missionary is their friend, sincere and disinterested, however little disposed they may still be to accept all that his friendship offers them; and the personal feeling of confidence and regard extends itself insensibly to his principles, the religion he preaches, and even, in a measure, to the country to which he belongs.

“It is certain that in many places attention and deference have been shown to Missionaries and catechists in their preaching, and appearances of increasing inquiry have shown themselves, Christian books have been received, and even purchased by the people, to a greater extent than was usual before the late troubles. This may perhaps be traced to various causes: it is our concern to record the fact with thankfulness and with hope.”

Employment of Native Christians as a Police force.

The Government of Bengal having determined to raise a semi-military police battalion at the head-quarters of every district, to guard the treasures, jails, and public offices, and to suppress affrays and public disturbances in the district, Mr. Hodgson Pratt, magistrate at Húghly, applied to the Corresponding Committee to assist him in raising a corps of native Christians. In a letter addressed to the Committee, he stated—“I want to increase in every possible way the links of attachment between ourselves and the native Christians, and to raise their social and political condition in the eyes of the population generally. It will do us good, as well as the native Christians, for it will increase the true brotherhood, and it will tend to give the native Christians more self-confidence, and a right sort of self-respect, when they see that the British Government places special confidence in them. Due care for their spiritual welfare may be provided by stationing a Missionary at Húghly, and the whole corps may meet for morning and evening prayer with the assistance of a catechist.”

Upon this invitation a number of native Christians from the Kishnagurh districts enlisted in the force, to the number of about one hundred. A native catechist was placed among them, and Mr. Sandys and Mr. Milward visited them alternately, and held Divine service for them in the church at Chinsurah. On one occasion the prisoners broke out into mutiny, and attempted to overpower the guard and make their escape; but the Christian police stood firm, and repressed the attempt, and were rewarded by the magistrate for their courage and fidelity by an increase of pay. The corps has been since removed to Sorry Bheerbúm, which is much regretted, as placing them beyond the superintendence of the Missionaries.

CALCUTTA.

There has been no change in the labourers at this station, except the departure of the Rev. J. Vaughan in the middle of the year, to seek the recovery of health by a voyage to the Cape. The Rev. Messrs. Sandys and Long continue their usual labours. Messrs. Greaves and Milward are supported by the Cathedral Fund, and devote their attention more especially, the one to the educated natives of Calcutta, and the other to the English schools at Kidderpur and Allipur, lately under the care of the Cathedral Mission. Mr. Sandys reports that there have been no events of special interest during the past year, and no increase of the congregation at Trinity Church, which averages about 100, the whole number of native Christians being 300; but many are in service or employed on board ships.

Mr. Greaves has charge of the church in Cornwallis Square, where a small native congregation attends. He also preaches frequently out of doors to the heathen, having acquired considerable facility in the use of the Bengali language. Mr. Greaves makes the following remarks upon the baneful effects of education, without Christian influence, upon the native mind—

In the case of the so-called educated natives of Bengal we have clear and painful evidences of the fact, that the acquirement of secular knowledge will of itself do nothing to humble the pride of man's heart, and overcome his enmity to the truth of God. Alas! in many instances the opposite effect is produced, and the notion, which self is so ready to exaggerate, of acquired superiority removes him but further than before from that childlike spirit which our Lord declares to be necessary to a reception of the Gospel. Thus we have reason to be rather pained than surprised when we find the youth of this country, notwithstanding their educational advantages, still taking offence at the humbling doctrines of the cross, and, although they have cast off their faith in Hindúism, yet refusing to take their stand under the banner of Christ. That an idol is nothing in the world, a little secular knowledge soon convinces them; but the value and the love of the Saviour can be revealed to them only by the Almighty himself. What, then, is the course to be pursued with regard to men of this class? Surely not to relax our efforts on account of the small encouragement given among them; but rather to resolve more prayerfully and faithfully to bring before them the Gospel of Christ in its simplicity. We should, as Missionaries, in our intercourse with them, beware of ever suppressing the great subject of religion for fear of giving offence. There is a temptation to this, inasmuch as the Babú will cultivate the society of a Missionary so long as unpleasant topics are not thrust upon him, and he can further his own worldly views. Intercourse on these terms, however, is purchased at the expense of Christian faithfulness; and therefore, although a plain-spoken representation of the danger of rejecting the Gospel will repel such as do not desire the knowledge of the truth, it is the wiser and safer course, and may, by the blessing of God, be the means of awakening some to care for the things that belong to their peace. Whatever may be wanting in the way of mental development has, in the case of this class of men at least, been abundantly supplied. What the Missionary should aim at is, to take advantage of this intellectual improvement for inculcating strongly and earnestly, as opportunity offers, the plain truths of God's word. He should, in dealing with them, maintain boldly his proper character, not as an educationist, but as an evangelist; as one, the sole business of whose life is to make known the Gospel of the Lord Jesus, and to declare that neither is there salvation in any other. This testimony, faithfully and fearlessly given, the God of truth has promised to bless, and is sure to bless, according to the good pleasure of his will.

And, finally, the experience which we obtain of the insufficiency of all human efforts, if unattended by the quickening power of the Holy Spirit, to turn the hearts, whether of the educated or the ignorant, should lead us to more earnest prayer that the Lord will stretch forth the right hand of his power, and make that word which is the sword of the Spirit effectual to the overthrow of men's lofty imaginations, and the erection of Christ's kingdom in their hearts. Thus may we be gladdened by seeing one and another, even from among the worldly and selfish Babús of Calcutta, submitting themselves to the Gospel, and becoming humble followers of the meek and lowly Saviour.

Mr. Milward has a small but increasing native congregation, who meet for worship in the Allipur school-house, and in ministering to whom he has often himself been much refreshed. He also gives much attention to out-door preaching. He has been encouraged in his work by the conversion and baptism of one of the scholars in his "English" school, a Brahmin youth, between eighteen and nineteen years of age, who appears to be a promising convert.

Itineration.

During the cold season all the Missionaries were engaged in making tours in different directions, and were generally much encouraged in the work. Mr. Vaughan writes—

I have just returned from a little Missionary excursion in company with the Rev. A. Stern. We sailed about fifty miles up the river, visiting and preaching in all the principal towns and villages on the banks. It was throughout a very interesting tour, and it is no small cause of gratitude that we were enabled at all to itinerate after a period of such fearful excitement. But so it is, we were permitted to go from village to village preaching the glad tidings of salvation without any interruption, without a word of abuse or complaint (except on one occasion, from an old Brahmin, who trembled for his craft). The people, in almost every instance, not only permitted us to preach to them, but declared a readiness to listen; for we generally began by the remark, "We are Padrís—we have come to speak with you about the religion of Jesus Christ." Instantly the reply was given, "Very good, Sahib, sit down and deliver your message." Some one would then bring us the best seat at hand, and thus we began to preach to the people seated or standing around us.

A greater misrepresentation could not be given than to say that the people are offended by the visits of a Missionary: I believe the reverse is nearer the truth. They have no objection to any man who comes to them openly declaring himself a messenger of Christ. We had no difficulty in getting congregations: wherever we went the people always listened with attention.

Mr. Milward closes his account of a Missionary tour with remarks which sadly confirm the fear expressed by Mr. Greaves, of the prevalence of dangerous opinions in Bengal.

On the close of this preaching tour, I desire to express deep thankfulness to Almighty God for the attention which has been shown in most of the congregations we have met with. We have seen much to encourage and make us thankful as regards the increased willingness with which the truths of the Gospel are received. Perhaps the day may not be far distant when there shall be a general stirring amongst these dry bones, and when many shall cast away their long-venerated idols to the moles and to the bats. I can truly say, as a German brother observed, that I never felt like a Missionary till this time, when I have been in and out amongst the people, declaring to them, in their own tongue, the wonderful mystery of redemption—God manifest in the flesh. Certainly this is the highest, as it is to me the most delightful branch of Missionary work, and I should truly rejoice and be thankful if my whole time were devoted to it. There is one thing which has struck me much during my visit to these villages, which is the progress which is being made by Socinianism amongst the Hindús. The system is well adapted to attract the more educated portions of the natives, for it suits those who are too much enlightened to believe in Hindúism, and yet too worldly to make sacrifices for Christ's sake, and enables them by an easy compromise to quiet their consciences, whilst they do not forfeit the good opinion of their fellow-countrymen and co-religionists; for it seems that the Hindús, if they do make any objection at all to their friends and relatives embracing Socinianism, yet entertain very different sentiments towards it, from those which they feel towards Christianity. It is becoming, therefore, increasingly important that our native Christians should be thoroughly instructed in the fundamental truths of Christianity, especially in those which relate to the divinity of our Lord, that they may be able to render to every man a reason for the hope that is in them; and that Missionaries also should be versed in the controversy with Socinianism, as well as with Deism, for in these two ways is the great enemy of souls spreading his nets now in this land; and it is to be feared that many are falling victims to one or other of these damnable errors, and that not a few, perhaps, who were not far from the kingdom of God, have been led astray into one of these specious, but soul-destroying paths.

Education.

The English school in Amherst Street has increased in the number of pupils, though fees of an increased amount are now required. It has 400 scholars, a larger number than for many years past. There are 17 schools in connexion with the Calcutta Mission containing about 1600 children.

Agurpara.

This station continues under charge of the catechist, Mr. De Rozario. About 77 native Christians belong to the station. The school is conducted in a satisfactory way. It had considerably fallen off in numbers, in consequence of the opening of other English schools by Government grants-in-aid; but it is now recovering its attendance, and the other schools are fast declining. There have been no conversions among the pupils, and no additions to the small community of native Christians. It is visited periodically by Mr. Sandys.

The large Mission-house afforded accommodation to the Missionaries who arrived in India in the midst of the mutiny, and were unable to proceed to the North-west Provinces, to which they had been designated. The Rev. T. G. Gaster remained there nearly a year; the Rev. T. Tuting and C. G. Dœuble for shorter periods. The time of these Missionaries was devoted to the study of the language, but they found so many natives who understood English, that they instituted an English service, and held Bible classes, and in other ways initiated themselves in Missionary labours. Mr. Gaster bears an honourable testimony to the Christian character of the catechists in charge of this station.

It is impossible to say too much in commendation of the unwearied and zealous labours of Mr. De Rozario and Guru Churn, of the true Christian spirit which both manifest in the conduct of their work. It was a great privilege to be placed at first in contact with such devoted men; and I believe we shall ever feel indebted to them for the bright example set us of earnestness and prayerfulness in the prosecution of Missionary work in India.

Thakerpuker.

Mr. Long makes the following important remarks upon the nature of his work—

I have carried out the plan for the last year and a half, in my own district, of leaving the preaching to native Christians to the catechists, while I go and preach to the heathen. I give these catechists instruction on the materials for their sermons. I am satisfied of the success of the experiment as a training for a native pastorate, and as teaching the native Christians to look more to indigenous resources.

I have been struck painfully during the past year with the tendency among our native Christians settled in compounds to rest contented with their own Christian privileges, without an effort to act on the surrounding Hindús and Mussulmans.

In preaching among the heathen I have been very much encouraged in endeavouring to act on the principle which our Lord laid down—"without a parable spake He not unto them." What stirring scenes and awakened attention have I met with in this practice! I have for two years been preparing a work for the use of natives, to explain and illustrate Scripture truths through imagery, similes, &c., drawn from Bengálí and Sanskrit works. It has cost me much work, but it has been profitable to my own soul, and it has opened out new ways of impressing the minds of the people.

The Thakerpuker district extends from Akra in the north-west to Bakra on the south, which is about eighteen miles from Calcutta. The district embraces a circumference of forty-five miles. Mr. Long's extensive and intimate acquaintance with the native character gives weight to the following remarks—

Several Christian families have emigrated to the Mauritius. I am glad they have shown so much enterprise. Several cases of outrageous plunder of some of the Christians by zemindars have occurred this year. I took the cases up to the Court, and, through having a magistrate and judge well acquainted with the villainy of the zemindars, the Christians obtained their rights, and their oppressors were punished. But the zemindary and indigo planting systems are tremendous obstacles to the spread of Christianity among the ryots, and to the creation of a Christian tenantry able to pay for Christian ordinances.

With respect to native Christians supporting their own pastor, there are few able to contribute to it; and I fear that, as long as the incubus of European Missionaries as pastors is kept, with all its deadening depressing weight on a native church, there will be fewer still willing. I see all around me that Mussulmans and Hindús support their own system and priest; but then they have the management of these things themselves. I take my own share of the blame, but I fear there is too much truth in what an intelligent native Christian said publicly some time ago. European Missionaries have spoiled the native churches. I have heard the same sentiment, however, echoed by members of Missionary deputations to India. I have an illustration of this in my village vernacular schools. Before I took them up, the boys paid their teachers three or four rupees a month: now that I have adopted them, I cannot realize more than eight annas in fees. The boys say it is the Sahib's school, and we cannot make the same exertion as when they were our own. I have done all I could in the district to make the natives feel that every thing they could do themselves, they should do; but still the feeling is deep-rooted—it is the Sahib's church, and every thing is by his hukam. I believe, were the native pastorate established, it would cause a new feeling of responsibility and exertion to arise, and natives would do many things in a cheaper and more direct way than we European Missionaries, who think (not I) the Anglo-Saxon model the best mould for a native church. I long most ardently to see an ordained native pastor settled at Thakurpuker.

Kistopur.

The native Christians at this village, about 100 in number, are of the poorest class. A scripture-reader and school-master resides amongst them. A native catechist from Calcutta visits them weekly, and Mr. Sandys from time to time. "I spent" (writes Mr. Sandys in his annual letter) "a week in visiting them, as well as in addressing the heathen, and giving them books, at least such as could read, of which the proportion is but small. Both the native teachers stationed among them I believe to be faithful men, desirous of showing the way of life, and diligently labouring to do so."

This station has been under the charge of the Rev. B. Geidt and the Rev. A. P. Neale. All the Missionary operations and schools have been kept up as in former years.

Mr. Geidt reports—

Our congregation, numbering 233 souls, with few exceptions, have walked orderly. A number have family prayer in their houses, and endeavour to bring up their children aright. They all earn their own bread, and support their children. The prayer-meetings, conducted among themselves in the village, and the classes for men and women held in our own house, have been well attended, as also the Sunday-school and the services at church. We have now with us three families of inquirers from Dandul, sixty miles from hence, in the neighbourhood of Ranegunger. I have frequently sent there some of our catechists and readers, and some time ago I heard there were several families there wishing to join our Mission, whereupon I ordered two of our men to bring them here. They are now under instruction, and their children attend the school. I hope soon to add them to our congregation by baptism.

Bazaar preaching and itinerating among the villages have been kept up by both Missionaries.

At the close of the year Mr. Geidt again writes—

I have had a number of inquirers during the year, and though all did not prove sincere, and some left again, yet our hearts have been rejoiced by a number of baptisms. On Dec. 5, I had the privilege of baptizing sixteen souls, namely, seven adults with their children, and two orphans. Altogether there have been thirty-seven baptisms last year, which is the largest number I have had in any one year.

Mr. Neele mentions as an encouragement in his labours the formation of a Bible class for the educated heathen young men, at the request of three teachers in the Rajah's Vedantist school, at which they and several of their companions have readily attended for several months.

Mr. Neele has also, during the last year, laid the foundation, it may be hoped, of a new station. He thus describes the circumstances of its formation—

The history of its formation is briefly this: during a preaching tour I visited Memaree, a large village about sixteen miles to the east of Burdwan: a considerable number of thickly-populated villages are scattered in the neighbourhood, the people therein living of course in the darkness of heathenism or Mohammedanism, and but rarely visited by an evangelist. The village of Memaree is, however, easily accessible by the railway, it being a station upon the line. It therefore occurred to me that by this means I might be able frequently to visit the place, and thus carry on Missionary work there, and from thence take the Gospel to the villages around. It appears to me, that in addition to regular Missionary operations in the Sudder Station, and itinerating work among the villages, a Missionary should endeavour, so far as time and opportunities permit, to gain a regular footing in some stated places in the outlying district, that thus, under God's blessing, he may be able to leaven with a knowledge, at least, of Christian truth a greater portion of the people at large. It was with this view that I formed the design of establishing a kind of out-station at Memaree. I have opened in the village an Anglo-vernacular school, i. e. a vernacular school with a department attached for those desirous to learn English, and willing to pay a higher fee for the same. It was my full intention to commence a purely vernacular school only, but I discovered that in this case I should fail to obtain the co-operation of the people of the place, which, in the outset at least, was essential. A site for the school was obtained, and upon this I have erected a little one-roomed tenement as a retreat on the occasion of my visits to the place. The school-house has been erected by the inhabitants of the village, entirely at their own expense: some of them gave straw, some gave bamboos, bricks, or other materials, some gave labourers; and so by slow degrees the work has gone on. The tardy progress of the building has caused considerable delay in the completion of my plans. I often, indeed, almost regretted that I had not put up the school myself, for it is only by dint of constant exhortations that I have been able to keep the people to their promise. I have obtained from Mr. Schurr, a native-

Christian catechist, who is located in the village with his family. He will preach in Memaree and the surrounding neighbourhood. He also assists in the school, taking the teaching of the Scriptures as his special portion of the work. It is my hope that he will be enabled, not only by the direct preaching of Christ, but also by a godly life and conversation, to produce amongst the people a favourable impression of Christianity.

Education.

The English school at this station has gone on satisfactorily during the last year. Mr. Neele has the superintendence. "The work connected with it," he writes, "is of an encouraging nature, owing to the circumstance of the large number of boys and youths of a respectable standing in native society, who are, by means of the school, brought under Christian influence and teaching. They are, indeed, in too many instances, in consequence of the fears of Hindú parents and guardians, early removed to non-religious schools; but on this account I have made a more especial effort to imbue them early with at least a knowledge of Gospel truth. The state of the upper classes has been more satisfactory during the past, as compared with former years."

There are several vernacular schools for boys and girls, containing more than 800 children; and Mrs. Neale superintends an infant-school and an Orphanage, the latter institution being supported by friends.

An interesting attempt has been made by Mrs. Neele, and with encouraging appearances of success, to establish a school for Hindú girls at about a mile from the Mission station. It is thus described—

After some few failures and disappointments, we obtained a plot of ground for the purpose, and erected a small house thereon. Timidity and suspicion at first deterred the mothers from sending their children; but by a little kindness all their scruples were overcome, and a number of about twenty children now attend daily: more might doubtless be assembled were it not for the early age at which the Hindú girls marry; and after that time they will seldom continue their attendance. In a few cases, however, they do. It has sometimes happened that the mother of one of the children has come running into the school with much concern, to say that the child's husband has arrived, and will be angry if she does not come at once. Afterwards, upon this formidable husband's being seen, he has turned out to be a lad of some twelve or thirteen years of age. The children, when first brought together, were the wildest and most unruly set of little things imaginable; but in a short time they wonderfully improved. A respectable young native-Christian woman, educated in our girls'-school, acts as teacher, and Mrs. Neele visits the school two or three mornings in every week. The instruction is of course of a simple kind ; the elder class is, however, able to read a little and to do plain needle work : all are instructed in Bible history, chiefly with the aid of Scripture prints, in which they take much delight. The expenses connected with the school are but small : these are also supplied by subscriptions from England.

KISHNAGURH.

The changes which have taken place in this district are, the departure of the senior Missionary, Mr. Krückeberg, on a visit to Europe, his station of Chupra being placed under the superintendence of Mr. Hasell ; and Mr. Bomwetsch's resignation of the charge of the Santipur Institution to his coadjutor, Mr. Stern, that he may devote himself wholly to itinerating among the heathen.

The employment of some of the native Christians in a police force by the magistrate of Húghly has been already noticed. The magistrate of Kishnagurh endeavoured also to raise a similar body ; but as most of the available men had gone to Húghly, he could only obtain eighteen or twenty, with a few for higher offices. It is a step gained in favour of Christianity, that native Christians are thus sought for by the public authorities, even beyond the supply which can be obtained.

When the first awakening at Kishnagurh took place, in 1839, about 4000 professed themselves inquirers. The whole number of native Christians at present is estimated at 5000. The stations are reckoned as nine ; viz. Sudder station, Santipur, Chupra, Nuddea, Kapasdanga, Ruttonpur, Joginda, Bollobpur, Solo.

Romish aggression.

Last year Mr. Blumhardt, of the Sudder station, had to lament the loss of some of the more unsteady members of his native-Christian flock by the seductive influence of the Romish Missionary, who had again, after an interval of some ten years since his first unsuccessful attempt, been stationed at Kishnagurh. In the report of this year, however, he says—

It is somehow gratifying to find that most of them are already dissatisfied with their new creed, and have expressed a wish to come back to our church ; and some of the parents have already, of their own accord, removed their children—six of them from the Priest's school—and brought them back to mine, begging me to receive them again. Knowing the unstableness of the character of the natives, I have taken some precautionary measures to secure the permanency of their children's stay in my school, whom they cannot now remove from me without some punishment.

It will, I am sure, be also a satisfaction to our friends to learn, that, during the course of the last year, not another of our Christians has joined the Romish church. I may also further add, that the Priest has no influence whatsoever among the natives of either high or low rank; and they look upon his mode of conducting Divine service as a semi-idolatrous worship. Many have often very properly remarked to me, that if they were to give up idol-worship and embrace Christianity in the shape of Romanism, they would fall into a worse kind of idolatry, and forfeit also one privilege they now possess, namely liberty of conscience.

If the native Christians of this district be regarded as the pastoral charge of the Missionaries, they present a very discouraging picture. Mr. Lincké, who has laboured for twenty-six years in India, reports—

It is now more than twelve years since I was stationed in my present district. Upon the retrospect, I find that our machinery is more complete than it was: especially our Christian schools are better regulated and more uniform, and infant-schools are established at every station. But with regard to the congregations, I hardly know what to say. There is no doubt they have improved in Christian knowledge, but in their lives they show very little improvement. Confining myself to Bollobpore alone, I fear there is a retrograde movement, instead of an advance, visible, especially during the last four or five years.

Mr. Linké then mentions, as proximate causes of such a lamentable state of things, the oppression of landlords, and the death of the excellent catechist Luke; and he makes the following remark in reference to the future prospects of the Mission—

The longer I live among this people, the more I see and feel the great importance and necessity of their having native pastors. An European can never be to them what a pastor ought to be. But a native, if he be a man of the right stamp, may answer their requirements. A native may go into their houses at all times, and occasionally take a friendly meal with them, by which he would at once engage all their better feelings, and thus obtain a direct access to their hearts, and, by mingling with his people, would be in the best possible position for acting like the woman in the parable, who took leaven and hid it in three measures of meal till the whole was leavened. Our people need the influence of living examples, raised up from amongst their own countrymen, and living in daily intercourse with them.

Mr. Hasell, confirms the view of Mr. Lincké, especially of the paramount importance of placing the congregation under native pastors.

The weak point of the Mission is, I think, in the teachers. They are, as a body, intellectually and spiritually weak; but they are willing and anxious to improve themselves. It must be, however, a slow process. During the year I have given a good deal of time and attention to all the native agents, both male and female, and have been encouraged to hope, that, after some years of patient labour, if our endeavours be blessed by the Lord of the vineyard, we may see some practical results. The great want for all such congregations as that of Chupra, is not European labour. My firm conviction is, that we neither understand the inner working of the native convert mind, nor does he understand ours; so that we have, in truth, but very little in common. Our great want is well-instructed readers or teachers, not so much learned men, as men taught in the things of God—taught by the Spirit, loving their Bibles, walking by faith, sustained by prayer, and exhibiting, in a warm, loving disposition, the power of grace in their souls. Our churches will never shine as lights in the world till then. It is nothing to say the Christians living near the Mission house are better behaved than those in the villages: external pressure of itself, if no other influence did, would make them so. We want European superintendence, and native labour, and all will improve. Our people here have troubled me very much, simply because they do not understand our intentions.

Of the 599 in the congregations, 119 live in six out-villages: many never go to church, either to be married or to have their children baptized; and, when visited by either the Missionary or the reader, but very few care to assemble for prayers. My fear is that the Karta Bhojah element is still at work among a great many of them; but it is impossible to ascertain particulars. Those who belong to the sect are under such solemn vows not to divulge its secrets, that I question whether Europeans will ever be able to eradicate it. Natives, under God's blessing, may, and to them we must look. The congregations in point of numbers are somewhat reduced, owing to various causes—deaths and removal to other places. The police corps at Húghly and Kishnagurh have taken some. During the year only one adult has been baptized.

Mr. Schurr gives a more favourable account of the three stations under his charge, two of which are under the pastoral ministrations of native catechists. It may be owing to that circumstance that his report is somewhat more encouraging than that of his fellow-labourers.

In connexion with these stations there are about 2000 nominal Christians. About 1200 of them are living near the Mission premises: the others are scattered in various villages among the heathen. Most of them withdraw altogether from us, and do not differ from their heathen neighbours. Those living near to us attend the church ordinances, and a slight improvement in their knowledge and conduct is perceptible.

In the Kapasdanga congregation, where Mr. Schurr himself resides, the catechist and readers have conducted themselves as true Christians, and earned the respect and gratitude of both Christians and heathen around them. A few members of the congregation have shown some signs of a new life. The rest, with two exceptions, have been moral, tolerably correct, industrious, and attentive to their various domestic duties. The Sunday services have been well attended, and the average of adults at the daily evening devotions has been about twenty. There is now a considerable amount of Scripture knowledge among the whole community; and a few have family-worship, and read the word of God at home; but the majority still lack true repentance and a living faith.

Feeling the great want of an outpouring of the Holy Ghost, some two months ago I made an agreement with the catechists of the three stations under my charge, to have prayer-meetings every Wednesday night, to ask particularly for his special favour. The meetings have been well attended, and the Lord has granted much blessing in them. The brethren Lincké and Hasell have also joined with us in this exercise at their own stations.

In the Ruttonpore congregation the catechist in charge has proved a faithful servant of his Master in heaven, so far as man can judge. Two or three teachers are like-minded with him, though not so well grounded in Christ. The members of the congregation have been externally moral, but very deficient in the fruits of the Spirit. However, Bible knowledge is increasing, and several individuals have decidedly improved in conduct, and shown a regard for God's word. The people are generally poorer than those at Kapasdanga or Joginda, owing, I believe to the inferiority of the soil.

In the Joginda congregation the catechist and his wife have faithfully performed their duties in the fear of the Lord. His wife has, in imitation of Mrs. Schurr, collected those women who are willing to repeat the sermon and listen to some admonition and Christian anecdotes. I was pleased to find one Sunday some twelve women sitting around her, with many children. The work of the Lord can, in this country, not prosper, unless the natives themselves take a lively interest and active part in all such religious exercises. We show them this way, and then we put them to walk in it, which some have begun to do.

The catechist goes also to the heathen with his message of peace and love, and is always respectfully received. In fact, during the last few months, the natives have become much more friendly and polite to the Missionaries and their agents than they were in former years, and listen willingly and attentively to the Gospel message. But, alas! they have no feeling of sin, and no compunction for it.

If it be inquired how far the native-Christian church in Kishnagurh exhibits a living witness of the blessedness of Christianity, so as to allure the heathen to embrace the same truth, it must be confessed that the reports of the Missionaries are very discouraging. Some of them represent the prevailing nominal Christianity as a stumbling-block to the heathen, and despair of any impression being made upon the surrounding population through the agency of the native church. The senior Missionary, Mr. Lincké, whose words have been already quoted, writes thus—

Our stations hardly look any longer like Mission stations. They have more the character of country parishes, especially as there are no inquirers anywhere, neither is there any enlarging of our borders, except we consider the opening of a heathen school in some new village or street. Some of us are very much inclined for leaving these congregations altogether to themselves, and turn to the heathen, as they hardly see any likelihood of doing them good any longer: and yet, at the same time, they do not feel sure, nor sufficiently warranted to take any decided step in that direction. This feeling is by no means of a recent origin, but has more or less occupied our minds for some years past, and is only getting stronger and stronger as time wears on. Whenever two of us meet we sit down only to lament over the low and lifeless state of our people, and the sad disappointments we so frequently meet with in our work. But how to bring about improvements we feel entirely at a loss. That we make it a subject of prayer, yea, of special prayer I need hardly say; and we do purpose and hope to pray yet more and more for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon all of us, knowing that this alone can prove effectual.

The Committee enter these sentiments in their Annual Report, that they may stir up the hearts of Christians in England to unite their prayers with men who are thus ready to faint under the burden and heat of the day,—that God may revive his work, and sustain the faith and hope of the labourers.

At the same time the Committee are far from acquiescing in the very discouraging tone of the Missionaries. They receive from other quarters assurances that some aspects of the work are brighter than the humble and devoted agents of that work represent it to be. The Committee refer to the testimony of the Bishop of Victoria, given in their Annual Report of 1854, after his personal inspection of the work. They refer also to the testimony of a planter given to the Bishop of Victoria two years later, and recorded in the Annual Report for 1856. They refer also to the behaviour of the converts during the mutiny, and to the individual instances of true Christianity, which have been recorded from time to time in the publications of the Society. Even in the midst of the discouraging reports of the present year, Mr. Schurr is able to state—"The heathen prefer Christian labourers to heathen, saying that they perform their work more regularly and faithfully. I have this information and testimony from credible heathen sources."

The Committee fully concur, however, in the conclusion to which the Missionaries are brought, that there needs a change of system in the Kishnagurh Mission, by a fuller organization and employment of native agency. Upon the first awakening in Kishnagurh the district was arranged in divisions, upon the principle of parishes in England: an European Missionary, with his house, his church, and his schools, was placed in each division. The main hope of deepening and extending the work consisted in the direct influence and ministrations of the European Missionary upon the native converts. This hope has, after twenty-nine years, been proved a failure. Had the strength of the European Missionaries been devoted to the stirring up an aggressive Missionary spirit amongst the people themselves, and to the training up an extensive native agency, and to itineration among the heathen—which is now all the desire of the Missionaries—the result might have been, under God, more satisfactory.

The Committee have a strong conviction of the truth of the position laid down by their Kishnagurh Missionaries, which a survey of Missionary operations throughout the whole world confirms, that the proper function of the foreign Missionary to the last is that of awakening individuals, and prompting and training those so awakened to spread Christian truth amongst their countrymen; that as soon as there are converts enough to form congregations, they should be taught to meet together for mutual edification, with one of themselves as a Scripture-reader, catechist, or, eventually, pastor; and that the direct ministrations of foreign Missionaries in native congregations have not only a tendency to check native ministrations, but to check the internal growth of native Christianity.

Every effort must be used to cherish among converts an aggressive Missionary spirit. Without this, a native church, though sheltered within the precincts of a Missionary compound, and instructed by the ablest Missionaries, will never flourish. The confessions of the experienced Kishnagurh Missionaries remarkably coincide with the histories of the wonderful success of Christianity amongst the converts of Madagascar, when separated from their Missionaries, and amongst the New Zealanders and Karens, whose voluntary native teachers out-ran the Missionaries in spreading the Gospel in "regions beyond" them.

Under this view of the case, the Parent Committee hope that their faithful senior Missionary in the Kishnagurh district will not leave the native Christians "to themselves," but, having organized a system of native ministrations, will still exercise an oversight and influence amongst them; and, being more at liberty to itinerate among the heathen, that he will impart to the teachers and people of his old congregations a portion of his own refreshed Missionary zeal.

Education.

The chief educational establishment is that for training native teachers at Santipore. The annual examination of this training-school took place at Midsummer. The Rev. G. G. Cuthbert and the Rev. T. Sandys attended. Forty-eight youths were present, and passed a very satisfactory examination in general and Scripture history and chronology, Church-of-England theology, geography, grammar, Sanskrit, and music. About twelve new students were admitted, after examination, from the various Kishnagurh Mission stations. Those who have been sent out as teachers were also assembled, in order to test their progress in study and general improvement, and to receive further counsel. The European teachers are assisted by two or three very efficient teachers trained in the Institution itself.

The Rev. A. Stern, in his annual report, notices this interesting circumstance—

Some weeks ago, at the time of the annual large Mela, which is held here in honour of Krishna's licentious deeds, and on which occasion people from all the surrounding country, and from distances even as far as sixty miles, flock to this place, I took the elder boys out to preach, and I was much pleased with their readiness to give an account of their faith. Near the chief temple of the place you might have seen gatherings in various places. Here our preacher and some boys proving the worthlessness of Hinduism, and setting against the deeds of Krishna the holy life of our Saviour: there our master, Tooshto (formerly a pupil of the training-school), and some other boys, endeavouring to touch the hearts of the idolaters by describing the sufferings of our Saviour. Again another crowd of people listening attentively to what our boys tell them of the kingdom of heaven, and expressing now and then their satisfaction with the reasonable words they hear from these youths. It is our prayer that the Lord may choose and prepare some of them for the work of preaching to the heathen. Mr. Bomwetsch's example has stirred up the minds of several of his former pupils, who would gladly give up teaching, and be engaged in preaching only.

The English school at the Sudder station is under the care of the Rev. S. Dyson, who thus reports the result of an examination of the school—

Their knowledge of the Gospel they professed to have studied was considerably beyond what would be thought fair; and would have stood competition with that of many Christian boys in Christian schools. How far it has taken possession of their hearts, or whether it will ever be their professed creed and religion, it is not for me to conjecture, though many have been apparently seriously impressed, and many have left the school with a secret conviction of the truth of the Gospel. A love of the present world, and fear of present privation, keep down and smother these convictions: still, for my part, I cannot but think hopefully of the large class of young men who have gone forth from our schools imbued with a knowledge of Christianity. In so far as they are not against us, they are for us, and it is not difficult to imagine circumstances arising which may make it easier for them to enrol themselves on our side.

The school was examined by the Rev. G. G. Cuthbert, in June, who reported “that the answering of the boys generally was very creditable indeed, especially in scriptural subjects, although others were by no means neglected.”

Each station has its vernacular schools: several of them also boarding-schools for Christian boys and girls.

Mr. Hasell has kept up his Sanskrit school at Nuddea. The number on the books is 204. The Government gives a grant-in-aid of 100 rupees monthly, and the fees amount to 25 rupees monthly. Six of the lads went up for examination at the Government normal school at Hoogley and five obtained scholarships. The great drawback upon the school is the removal of all the quick boys at an early age, so that all the older boys are dull or idle. Nevertheless, Mr. Hasell is able to state, “Our work at Nuddea is likely to have a great influence upon the younger class of the pundits.”

Mr. Schurr thus speaks of the promise which the schools of his district afford—

The schools are the most promising portion of our work, though preaching to the heathen is not neglected. The children learn the truths of the Bible most willingly, and generally like them. They also carry these truths home, and repeat them to their parents and others, for which they are frequently reproved by them. But the ground and foundation of heathenism is gradually being undermined, and a correct conception of the nature of Christianity is perceptibly growing among the people. Almost all now allow, that the Bible is true, but that it is difficult to observe its precepts. The people are also acquiring a sense of the nature and guilt of sin, and their consciences are slowly awaking. We can, therefore, pronounce Mission work in Bengal as “a great success,” though the success is not so easily perceived by superficial observers. We must still wait for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, and, with his mighty influence, nations may be born in a day. This is our constant and earnest prayer.

BHAGULPORE.

The Rev. E. Drøese and the Rev. J. Erhardt have discharged the Missionary duties of this station. Mr. Drøese thus reports the state of the native congregation during the last year—

The native-Christian congregation at Bhagalpore numbers now 230 souls. Forty-three were, during the year, added by baptism, 14 receiving the holy rite as adults, the rest as children. The number of communicants is 31.

The conducting of our Hindustani Sunday services is very much improved by the good singing we now have, Mr. and Mrs. Erhardt having taken great pains in teaching the people chants and tunes.

The attendance, too, at the Sunday services is much better than in previous years. This is owing, no doubt, in a great measure, to the good example set to our native-Christian soldiers by their European officers, who, whilst looking to the soldiers regularly attending public worship, themselves join in our Hindustani Sunday services.

The preaching to the heathen has been much interrupted during the last year through the failure of the health of Mr. Drøese.

There is at this station an orphan institution supported by local contributions, containing seventy-seven children; and the Missionaries have also charge of about fifty Hill-boys, who are fed and clothed at the expense of Government, and taught together with the orphan boys.

Education.

There are three boys'-schools at the Station; two vernacular schools, containing about 160 boys; and a central school, in which English, Persian, and Hindi are taught, containing 114 pupils. There is also a girls'-school, containing 79 children, superintended by Mrs. Drøese and Mrs. Erhardt.

Mr. Erhardt reports of the boys'-school—

Our schools are composed of Mohammedan, Hindu, and Pahari boys and some Santal youths. From the general spirit pervading the schools, we may take courage and go on. Native holidays receive no attention, and it is gratifying to see that the English classes often attend school in preference to joining in holidays and pujas. Caste has always been discountenanced, and the Brahmin and Pahari sit side by side, reading the same Gospel. The most hopeful members of our schools, with regard to embracing Christianity, are the Paharis, commonly called Hill-boys. During the course of last year, we had the pleasure of receiving four of them into the fellowship of the Christian church ; and, by the blessing of God, more will take the same happy step. In diligence and application the Hill boys are by no means inferior to Mohammedans or Hindus ; and as they have a peculiar facility for acquiring the English language, they are generally the best in this department. It has been a rule, which is still continued, that no Pahari boy is to be admitted into the English department until he is able to read and write the Hindi, and knows the common bazaar accounts.

Santal Schools.

Notwithstanding the setting aside, by the late Court of Directors, of the arrangement made by the Governor-General of India for the education of the Santals through the agency of the Church Missionary Society, the Missionaries of the station have persevered in their endeavours to accomplish the work, as far as their limited means and opportunities have allowed. The reports of the year bear testimony to the success of their efforts. Mr. Drøse writes—

The schools in the Santal district are now 12 in number, and the registers of the several schools show an aggregate of 331 boys. This is tolerably good. Only three or four of the schools have made any thing like satisfactory progress : in the rest the work goes on but very indifferently. We require good teachers, and until we have succeeded in getting them, not much must be expected from our school work among the Santals.

At present we have five young men whom we are training for the office of village school teachers. They might even now be put to the work, as they know more than most of our Hindu teachers do ; but as these young men are willing to embrace Christianity, we intend to keep them some time longer under instruction, that they may be instructed for baptism, and further, be well taught in the truths of the Gospel, so as to enter upon their sphere of labour. When I go into the Santal district I take them with me. Thus we have much opportunity given us to influence and train their minds, and we are happy to say they come up to our expectations.

Mr. Erhardt also gives the following very interesting account of the five Santal youths—

The Santal scholars are, with one exception, grown-up youths, who have come of their own accord to be educated for the Society's work in the Santal country, and I cannot speak too highly of their diligence, regularity, and good behaviour.

These five youths present a most striking difference between themselves and the other natives of Hindustan. It is well known that the Mohammedans and Hindus are sharp and alert as boys, but when they are fifteen or sixteen years of age, they remain not only stationary, but their mental powers seem to decay. These Santals are, every one of them, above nineteen years ; nevertheless, they prosecute their studies with a zeal and success that is most surprising. And then, they care not only for secular knowledge: they search the Scripture with the same will with which they apply themselves to arithmetic. We do not know yet what work Providence has allotted to this peculiar nation. They will have schools; they will be taught; they are open for the Gospel; and, when they have received it, they will have character and power to exert a mighty influence over the torpid masses of Mohammedans and Hindus. ;

II. NORTH-WEST PROVINCES.

The North-West Provinces comprise eight principal Districts, viz. Agra (commenced 1813); Merut (1815); Benares (1817); Gorruckpore (1823); Juanpore (1831); Kotgurh (1847); Jubbulpore (1854); Lucknow (1858).

European Mission Establishment in the North-west Provinces.

Rev. W. Smith (m) 1830.

Several important changes and events have occurred in the North-west Provinces during the last year, affecting the operations of the Society.

The commencement of a new Mission at Lucknow is the great event of the past year.

The change of the seat of Government from Agra to Allahabad has diminished the importance of the former city; and has created an urgent obligation upon the Society to open a Mission at the latter, to which many of the native Christians have removed, following the transfer of the press, or attached from other causes to the seat of Government.

The Committee of Jay Narain's College thus refer to the departure from India of H. Carre Tucker, Esq., Commissioner of Benares, who, while aiding every good work, manifested a special interest in Jay Narain's College at Benares. "By the institution of liberal prizes, and by his personal labours in preparing vernacular school-books, he conferred a lasting benefit upon the cause of Christian education in the North-west Provinces. On these accounts, we beg to offer to Mr. Tucker our warm and grateful acknowledgments, and to God our praises for the blessings which He has disposed and enabled him to be the instrument of conferring."

BENARES.

The Missionary staff at this important central station has been much weakened during the last year by the departure of Mr. Leupolt—first to Lucknow, and subsequently to Europe: also by the removal of the Rev. W. Storrs to the Lucknow Mission. The Rev. B. Champion has been added.

The congregation of native Christians at Sigra, comprising 150 souls, has given the Missionaries much satisfaction by their consistent conduct. They elect amongst themselves a small Committee, or "Panch," for the regulation of the community. "They act," write the Missionaries, "according to laws agreed upon among themselves; and we may be sure that the more native Christians become independent of us, and manage all their own affairs, the better it will be for them and the Missions at large." The affection exhibited by the flock at the departure of Mr. Leupolt, under whose pastoral care they had been for many years, was a sufficient proof of the sacred and mutual bonds by which they had been united. Mr. Leupolt writes—

As regards my experience, I assure you I do not think that any congregation in the world could express more gratitude towards any one, or show greater love than our people have shown me. Many a prayer was offered up at our parting, many a blessing uttered, and many a parting tear shed.

Preaching to the Heathen.

The state of the country has prevented the Missionaries from making tours, but preaching in the city has been kept up under the direction of the Rev. W. Smith, who writes—

I am thankful to say that I have been enabled to labour much as usual during the past twelve months, though, now that I am completing my twenty-eighth year of Missionary service, I feel years telling upon me.

Our preaching-places and chapels have been kept open as usual, and, upon the whole, pretty well attended. I am building two places in the city in which to locate catechists; and propose to place one or two others in rented houses, as we did some years ago. Altogether, though we have been repeatedly beaten off at various points, we are gradually and slowly, but surely getting a broader and firmer footing in the city, and in the minds of its inhabitants too. Our moral influence is increasing, and our people are coming to be recognised as a sect among other sects with which the country swarms, and not, as hitherto, mere outcasts without any religion at all.

We have one or two inquirers and candidates for baptism, but I fear they are not of the right kind.

I have given much time and strength this year to writing and revising books.

Education.

Jay Narain's College—This important educational department has suffered through the diminution of European labourers at Benares. Mr. Hubbard was removed from it to supply the place of Mr. Leupolt at Sagra. Mr. Leupolt had also himself greatly assisted in teaching the classes. After his departure, therefore, the whole burden of superintendence fell upon the Principal, the Rev. C. F. Cobb, who could not have carried on the Institution without the able and zealous assistance of Timothy Luther, the native schoolmaster, lately in charge of the school of Azimgurh. The number of scholars has not recovered from the depression during the mutiny: it amounted, at the close of the year, to 370. A commencement has been made of a normal class with 12 pupils, including some of the masters and the head English scholars. They are practised for one hour a day in giving gallery lessons, in the hope of fitting them as schoolmasters. A training-master sent out by Government, Mr. Fraser, late of the Glasgow Training Institution, being detained several months in Benares, kindly volunteered, with the sanction of Government, to help in introducing this branch of instruction. Mr. Smith has given addresses once a fortnight to the whole school on scriptural subjects.

At the commencement of the present year a satisfactory examination of the school took place, in the presence of many Europeans, General Campbell presiding. An interesting circumstance connected with the examination was an address made at the close by a native of high standing who had been present, Babu Shama Churn, lately native Judge at Azimgurh, and now at Benares. After the distribution of prizes, he stepped forward, and, with a loud voice and good delivery, spoke in English as follows—

Ladies and Gentlemen—Your presence in this meeting at once shows the good effects of the Christian religion. You are come here for the purpose of improving the welfare and happiness of a race that, only a short time ago took up arms against you, and tried to eradicate you from this country; but in return for all that, you are seeking their prosperity and happiness! I cannot ascribe this to any thing else but the influence of the Christian faith, and I hope that my countrymen will mark this most benevolent and charitable act on your part, and learn to be grateful and loyal to the British Government; and I sincerely hope that the moral principles inculcated in the Bible may be taught in all the colleges in India. And to you, my dear boys, I beg to impress on your tender hearts that you can never expect a better Government than the British, and that, therefore, you ought to be thankful to the Almighty God for the preservation of the British authority in India.

Now this was read, not only before the English gentry assembled, but before 400 or 500 natives, of whom some 50 were students of the Government College, their Principal also being present.

The Principal of Jay Narain's College has also nominally the superintendence of the three branch schools of Azimgurh, Juanpore and Zufferabad, until a Missionary can be assigned to these stations. The school at Zufferabad was uninjured during the mutiny, and it has been carried on by one of the former teachers, a Hindu; from thirty to sixty boys have attended. But being forty miles from Benares, it cannot be visited by the Principal. The schools at Azimgurh and Juanpore, which formerly contained 200 scholars each, are, however, wholly suspended through the effects of the mutiny. At Azimgurh nothing is left of the fine school and library, and master's house, but bare walls. At Juanpore the rebels spared the roof as well as the walls, but every thing else is gone. Nothing but the want of a Missionary to superintend these schools prevents their being re-opened. Mr. Cobb writes—

The Director of Public Instruction was more than ready to recommend to Government the renewal of the grants-in-aid, but was obliged to decline forwarding my applications because the Society were unable to guarantee the proper management of the schools. At both stations friends have been ready to subscribe if a Missionary could be located. The former pupils have been anxiously waiting the re-opening. Thus friends and pupils are disappointed, and the Lord's work stands still. The buildings are, at both stations, at present occupied by Government Tahsili schools, according to an arrangement proposed to me by the Sub-Inspector, a native gentleman. He obligingly undertook to employ as many of our former masters as he could, and to close his schools as soon as ever the Mission was prepared to resume its former ground; but, as he himself remarked, of course he could not introduce the Bible and our Christian books, because they were not sanctioned by Government as class-books.

The Orphan Boys' and Girls'-School have been conducted with success: they contain about 100 children. The boys are all brought up to industrial employments. The most promising are formed into a normal class, to be employed as native teachers. One of the three lately ordained deacons was brought up in this Orphanage.

A Native Girls'-School in the city, under the care of Mrs. Smith, is progressing steadily. There are 120 girls on the books. About twelve girls leave the school every year, who have all been taught to read and write, together with the elements of Christian truth, the Ten Commandments, and the Lord's Prayer. The Government give a grant-in-aid to this effort in behalf of the too-long-neglected cause of female education.

Chunar Branch Mission.

This out-station has been under the charge of the catechist Solomon, who reports—"Many thanks to the all-seeing God, who has given us much rest now, and ease from interruptions. The number of the souls in this congregation is about sixty. The number of communicants upwards of twenty." Mr. Leupolt adds, "I have endeavoured to visit Chunar once every month, and have been much pleased with every branch of Solomon's labour." Solomon has now been ordained as pastor of this flock.

Ghurwa Branch Mission.

This branch Mission has been, as in former years, in charge of the catechist David Mohun. It can only be visited during the cold and hot seasons: at other times the country is under water. The catechist reports—

I have been permitted to labour another year in the noble work of preaching the Gospel to my countrymen. Though the state of the country was somewhat precarious, yet wherever we went we were attentively listened to, kindly treated, and very much respected. The Gospel has been preached two miles round our village. Though we have no serious inquirers at present, yet there are many who are fully convinced of the truth of Christianity. But that curse of India, caste, prevents them from making an open confession of the Redeemer of the world. May God give them understanding, that they may soon run to the Refuge of their souls! We have a small congregation of twenty souls, including children; and I am happy to say that they are very much respected by the heathen round Ghurwa. They even send invitations to us to attend their marriage feasts. In conclusion, I beg every native and European Christian who takes an interest in the Saviour's cause, to pray more for the conversion of the heathen, that the sons and daughters of India may be partakers of that eternal salvation bought by the precious blood of Jesus Christ.

The writer of this report is now the ordained pastor of the native Christians at Allahabad.

JUANPORE.

All Missionary operations have been suspended at this station since the mutiny. The Mission premises continue in ruins.

JUBBULPORE.

This station was under the sole charge of Mr. Rebsch, an European catechist, until the Rev. E. C. Stuart joined him in March 1858.

Mr. Rebsch writes—

I have not perceived any change since the outbreak of the great revolution in the minds of the people here. A number of them have always been friendly and well-disposed towards us; and others, among whom are the richer classes and Government officials, appear indifferent, and only cast a contemptuous look upon us when they see and hear us addressing the masses. Frequently we meet with people who appear to receive our message with delight, but they do not follow up the word.

Mr. Stuart's testimony is to the same effect—

After an absence of fifteen months, I saw little on returning here to indicate the momentous struggle through which this station, in common with all others in Central and North India, had passed during the year of my absence in Europe. True, in the roofless and blackened walls of dawk bungalows destroyed in the Mirzapore Road, I saw, as I journeyed here, the tracks of the rebels. But at the station itself, mercifully preserved from scenes of violence, all wore the same bright and peaceful aspect as in more tranquil days. Nor was the bearing of the people towards the Gospel messengers visibly changed. As in former years, we have reason to be thankful that the people meet us in a friendly spirit, and that there is but little of frivolous or contentious disputation. Of inquirers some have turned back from us when they found no worldly advantage was to be obtained. Others seem content in the border-land—neither Hindus in faith nor Christians in practice. Among these borderers, I fear we must include the three or four families at Gurrha, of whose baptism we were sanguine two years ago. The iron chain of caste still holds them bound.

GORRUCKPORE.

After the recovery of this station by the British authorities, the native Christians returned from their dispersion, and the Rev. H. Stern soon afterwards rejoined his people. He thus commences his annual report—

The year opened with the most gloomy prospects. The whole Mission was then broken up; wild beasts had entered the Lord's vineyard. The native church was dispersed, and the congregation as a flock without a shepherd; the church building desecrated, and the Mission property destroyed. The servants of God were humbled to the dust, and the enemies of Christ triumphantly said, "Where is now their God?" Such were the circumstances under which the year now past opened. But how differently are we situated at its close! The Mission re-established and in working order again: the native church, as we trust, much benefited by the late trials, preserved, and gathered together again under its pastor: the schools re-opened, and filled with more numerous scholars: the Gospel again proclaimed among the people: the Mission property partly restored and the whole Mission respected, and its restoration welcomed even by many Hindus and Mussulmans. To the Lord be all the praise and glory!

The native Christians number 225 souls. As to the religious aspect of the congregation, I am thankful to say, that, not forgetting all our besetting weaknesses and manifold shortcomings, it has given me every satisfaction. Often, when I am deeply distressed at seeing that from about 200 Protestant English Christians, who are in the habit of attending the English service here, only 10 and sometimes only 5 join in the communion, I am cheered by observing that, from among 200 native Christians, of whom about half are children, 45 attend the sacrament. The fact needs no comment.

At Basharatpore, 11 families have again settled on their farms, and several more are ready to follow their example as soon as arrangements can be made. The village, however, is still in ruins, the church not repaired, and that settlement is a reproach among the heathen.

The English vernacular school, at Gorruckpore has been re-opened after six months' interruption. It numbers now 177 scholars. All our school-books and school-materials having been destroyed by the rebels, we labour under many disadvantages. Yet, by the blessing of God, we are recovering gradually: we receive a Government grant-in-aid of 100 rupees per mensem, and also have received 500 rupees as a donation by Government towards replacing our school furniture and books. Our usual school-buildings being occupied by English troops as a hospital, the school at present is held in the Imambara, a sacred building which was placed at our disposal, free of rent, by Ahmad Ali Shah, a Mussulman Fakir, and great friend of our Mission. The Bible is thus read in English, Urdu, and Hindi daily in the Imambara, which otherwise only serves the interests of Mohammedanism. Six vernacular schools have also been re-established, so that there is a grand total of 450 scholars, more than we had ever before.

We have had many instances in which the heathen and Moham-medans showed great kindness to the native Christians during the late disturbances. It was by the timely warning of a man in the service of the rebel-chief at Gorruckpore that the native Christians at Basharatpore were enabled to make their escape. The Kazi of Chupra placed his house, free of rent, at the disposal of the Missionary and his fugitive flock.

A respectable Darogah, an inhabitant of this town, hid, protected, fed, and clothed the family of a native Christian who could not get away with the rest during the whole time this station was in the hands of the rebels up to the day in which it was re-occupied by the English authorities. The same individual also tried to dissuade the rebels from desecrating the Mission church, but without effect, the new communion-table of which church is made up of wood presented by a friendly native, whilst the new pulpit is made of wood intended by the rebels for gun-carriages, to be used against the Christians.

Other instances of friendly feelings, amidst the general disaffection, have also become known. Many of the teachers and of the boys concealed their books, or took them into the villages. Some teachers and servants saved several valuable things belonging to me and to the Mission, having concealed them in their houses, on which account they became suspected by the rebels, and their houses were searched, and, in several instances, looted. Such cases might be multiplied. If the late rebellion has exhibited the native character in its worst aspects, it has also brought to light many a secret friend to Christianity, and decided many a wavering character. Where war abounded, we may trust in the Lord the time is not far off when there, also, grace will abound much more. Already hopeful signs are visible. A Jemadar, who, to save himself from the fury of the rebels, shut himself up in his house here during the time of the rebel government, found the time passing heavily, and commenced reading an old Bible which had been for several years in his possession, and its perusal has created in him the desire to become a Christian, and he is a man not far from the kingdom of God.

AGRA.

Changes have taken place at this station, both in respect of the Missionaries and of the circumstances of the place. The removal of the seat of Government, and the destruction of the Mission property at Agra, have induced a large body of native Christians connected with the press to remove to Allahabad. It seems doubtful, also, whether the class of scholars for whom the College was designed will not be so much diminished at Agra, that there will be scarcely room for the two institutions of a Government College and the Church Missionary College. Of the labourers, Mr. Hærnle has come to Europe, at the invitation of the Agra Bible Society, to carry the Urdu New Testament through the press, with a view to its more speedy publication than could have been effected in India under the present circumstances.

of the country; and Mr. Schneider was compelled, by the failure of health, to go to the hills for more than four months in the course of the year. Mr. Leighton has been transferred to Umritsur. In order to replace these removals, and to provide for the temporary removal of Mr. French, three new Missionaries have been added to the station, namely, the Revs. Messrs. Shackell, Fynes-Clinton, and Gaster.

The church in the Kuttra was restored, and re-opened for Divine service 11th of April 1858. The congregation, numbering 250 members, is under the charge of Mr. Schneider. The numerous congregation which assembled in the morning service testified their joy and gratitude in a liberal collection of 206 rupees; and many of the Christians formerly at Secundra have taken lodgings near the Kuttra, to be near the church.

With the beginning of the year preaching to the heathen was resumed in the city by the Missionaries and catechists. In the course of the year there have been fifty baptisms, eleven of them being adults.

The Rev. T. V. French writes respecting the labour at this station—

Although we have no ingathering of the people by tens, and almost by hundreds, into the fold of Christ, as is being now experienced in the Merut Mission, yet the year has not been altogether a barren one. I have baptized seven adult converts. Two of the converts are munshis of considerable ability and attainments, and are entrusted with the leading Persian and Arabic classes in the college, which is a source of great satisfaction and thankfulness to me. It may please God eventually to make use of both of them as evangelists or pastors in his church. They have paid very great attention to the vernacular, theological, and scriptural lectures, which I have held twice a week through the greater part of the year. The regularity of their attendance at all Christian ordinances, and intelligent appreciation of the word preached, is really edifying. A third munshi, of less powers and acquirements, is also about to take charge of one of the lower vernacular classes in the college. The whole of these have forsaken all for Christ, and have suffered very bitter reproaches for His name's sake.

My bazaar preaching has, on the whole, been better received, and more largely attended than in any former year, though the same absence of fruit characterizes it, and I cannot, therefore, feel any material encouragement from my recollections of this branch of labour. A fortnight's journey among small towns and villages, most of which I had visited on several former occasions, left rather a better impression on my mind, and a more hopeful anticipation of days when many shall of themselves come and say, "Let us go up to the house of the God of Jacob, and He will show us his ways, and we will walk in his paths."

The Agra College.

Mr. French reported of the college in May, that there were about 160 to 170 pupils; at the close of the year, the numbers fluctuated between 200 and 240. Two of the best pupils, who had been six or seven years under instruction, had been sent out as teachers, one to the Church Missionary school at Peshawur, the other to Umritsur; a third is a teacher in the college. All have given great satisfaction; so that the college is partly answering the purpose of a normal school for Christian teachers. "I trust," writes Mr. French, "some more schoolmasters will yet be raised among my pupils; still we see no native preachers rising up from our midst, and all beneath this yields us very inferior satisfaction."

In the review of his work, Mr. French writes (May 24)—"I feel greatly the importance of a few such Collegiate Institutions as we have. The road seems to open and widen as we look forward to more extended usefulness. But all betokens a very gradual and often painful process towards the great result. Meantime, what a comfort is it to rest upon words such as I was preaching from last evening to our native congregation, 'Behold, I create the smith that worketh in the coals, &c., no weapon that is forged against thee shall prosper.'"

MERUT.

The Rev. A. Medland is the only Missionary at this station. He returned to it, from a visit to the hills, as soon as it was considered safe to recommence Missionary operations. In his annual letter he reports—

At the commencement of the present year, an appeal having been made to the residents of the station, and liberally responded to, the Mission school was again opened, and divine service resumed in the Hindustani chapel. After some further delay, the school premises in the city, which had been destroyed during the outbreak, were put in thorough repair; and, with the concurrence of the Commissioner and Magistrate of the district, the school was re-opened. Notwithstanding the inconveniences arising from the want of books and maps, the whole of our former supply having been destroyed, the school has continued to increase very steadily, and now numbers 99 on the books.

At Merut it has pleased God to awaken in the neighbourhood of the station, through an agency altogether independent of the Mission, a remarkable and most promising Christian movement among the villagers. About the time of the outbreak an old native Christian went to a village called Mulliana, about three miles from Merut, and on going away left some books, amongst them the Gospel of St. Mark and the Book of Proverbs. The old man had been baptized thirty years before, but had turned Fakir, and mixed up idolatry with his Christianity. God was pleased to grant a blessing to his own word conveyed by this unworthy channel. Two or three of the men of the village read the books, and became so far convinced of the truth of Christianity that they came to the Mission compound to make further inquiries. The Missionary was at the hills, but Joseph, the native catechist, spoke to them, and invited them to attend the Sunday services, which they did at once. Upon the return of Mr. Medland he fostered the spirit of inquiry, and visited the village weekly. At several other villages a similar spirit of inquiry has sprung up, so that, at the close of the year, Mr. Medland is able to give the following account of the movement—

Up to the present time, 13 men, heads of families, have been baptized, and 4 men and 13 women are under instruction, and will, D. V., be shortly baptized: these, together with their children, form a little congregation of about 50, who observe the Sabbath, and assemble from day to day to worship the only true God, through the only mediator, Jesus Christ. A catechist and his wife have been placed at Mulliana, who have laboured well to instruct the people, especially the women, whose progress in learning to read, knitting, and committing hymns and portions of Scripture to memory has been very satisfactory. A neat gothic church, from designs by W. B. Harrington, Esq., of Roorkie, is well-nigh completed, and will shortly be opened for Divine service.

At Khunker Khera, a village beyond the European line, a similar spirit of inquiry has for some time existed, several have come under regular Christian instruction, and, up to the present time, 3 men, 1 woman, and 5 children have been baptized, and there is every probability of several more coming forward for admission into the Christian church. Through the kindness of the Collector of the district, a suitable spot of ground has been obtained on which it is proposed to erect a school-house and a dwelling for the catechist, who will, it is hoped, be shortly located there. In addition to the baptisms already alluded to, seven adults from different places have also been admitted into the Christian church. Amongst them are two Mussulmans, the one a regimental Munshi from Bareilly, who had been for some years a student of the Holy Scriptures, and who, during the outbreak, had afforded assistance to a native Christian whilst in concealment; the other was a respectable Munshi from Delhi, possessing a certificate from the late Mr. Jennings, the Chaplain, testifying to his sincerity and consistency.

The movement at Mulliana, and the erection of a church there, has been attended with the most beneficial results in a Missionary point of view : intelligence of it has reached various places in the district, and many have come, in one instance from as far as Delhi, to see and make inquiry, and also to have intercourse with the Missionary. In two or three villages beside those already named a spirit of inquiry is beginning to manifest itself, which will be encouraged and promoted as far as it possibly can. The great drawback at the present time is the want of duly qualified, sincere, and consistent native agents, who might be located in places where the people manifest a desire to hear and to receive instruction.

A short tour has recently been made in the district by the Missionary during which 22 different towns and villages were visited, five only of which had been previously visited or preached in. The people, with scarcely an exception, manifested a most respectful bearing, and listened generally with much attention to the truths declared unto them. It is worthy of remark, that, throughout the tour, the Mussulmans, who have invariably been the bitterest opponents to Christianity, did not manifest the slightest opposition.

In reviewing the efforts of the past year, we have every reason to thank God and take courage. Not only has the whole of the Mission machinery been again set in motion, but we have been encouraged by no small addition to our numbers. The expectations for the future are bright and full of promise, and in the strength which God alone supplies we desire to go forward, feeling assured that all that has recently taken place is being over-ruled for good, and will eventually be found to redound to God's glory, and the great increase of his church from amongst the inhabitants of this unhappy and idolatrous land.

It is many years since this Society has had to record so remarkable a movement towards Christianity in Northern India. It has been awakened by a divine interposition. The blessing has been poured out by the Lord upon the very spot in which the mutiny first broke out, and the first blood of Christians was shed. Surely these are significant tokens of the purposes of God in the afflictions which He sent upon us, and of the lessons which He designs them to teach.

LUCKNOW.

The Corresponding Committee in Calcutta have taken prompt measures to accept the invitation of the excellent Chief Commissioner, Sir R. Montgomery, and to redeem the pledge given by the Society to open a new Mission in Oude. Relying upon fresh Missionaries being sent from home, they have weakened for a time the Benares Mission, by detaching Mr. Leupolt to visit and report upon Lucknow, and by removing Mr. Storrs permanently into Oude, a measure which the urgency of the case would alone have justified. Mr. Leupolt paid his visit in September : Mr. Storrs followed shortly afterwards. The Rev. J. P. Mengé, who had returned to India after a visit to Europe, was assigned to this Mission; and the Rev. W. J. Ball, who has suffered from the fever of Mooltan, has removed to Lucknow, with the prospect of preserving his health in that locality.

Mr. Leupolt proceeded to Allahabad and Cawnpore, and, as he passed over from thence into Oude, he was reminded of the first act of Columbus when he landed in America; and his earnest prayer was, "Let this country be soon thine, O Lord, and its inhabitants soon acknowledge thee to be the Lord!" He received a Christian welcome at Lucknow from the Chief Commissioner, and from other friends of Missions amongst the authorities of the place; and on the 24th of September, the eve of the anniversary of the relief of the garrison of Lucknow by Havelock, a Church Missionary Association was formed, with the Chief Commissioner for the President, and a strong local Committee of other Christian friends of the cause. The sound of distant artillery was still heard at Lucknow, of troops engaged in the suppression of parties of rebels. Everywhere there were the recent marks of the bloody and desperate struggle between British authority and a rebel province, in this last portion of the battle-field. Under these circumstances the Society's Mission was commenced. Mr. Leupolt writes—

On the 14th September we commenced Mission operations in the city by way of preaching. We have since continued to go out. We have large, attentive, and orderly congregations. Wherever we come, seats are offered to us. There is as yet no arguing. We declare boldly salvation through a crucified Saviour. We have taken charge of a congregation of Christians collected together by one of the chief officers of Government. What has God wrought! Last year at this time Satan's servants reigned here: now Christ's servants. Last year it was death to any European who showed his face at Lucknow: this year we are preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ with all confidence, no one forbidding us.

Some of the confiscated buildings were procured as a Mission house under the sanction of Government, and the Mission was in a few weeks happily inaugurated, under the fairest prospects of future and rapid progress. At the close of the year Mr. Mengé writes—

When in Cawnpore, we heard all kinds of suspicious rumours, and even then I imagined that no Missionary could think of preaching publicly in Lucknow, at least for a year to come. How much, then, was I astonished, and how thankful to God, when I found out that I not merely could preach the Gospel in the bazaars and thoroughfares of Lucknow, but that many seemed to listen with real attention and pleasure. You can hardly put yourself into my situation; for when, some years ago, before the mutiny, I resided in Gorruckpore, I heard the most awful accounts of the state of Lucknow. I was told, for instance, that very few could walk about in this city without being armed; that the most expert thieves and cut-throats of India were to be found there; that the most degrading vices were publicly indulged in; that no Missionary could think of preaching publicly in Lucknow without endangering his life, &c. And now, after the mutiny, when one would imagine that the people would be more exasperated against the English than ever, and hate Christianity with a more deadly hatred, I have seen hundreds listening to the Gospel with wrapt attention. Even the most unpalatable doctrines to a Mohammedan, the divinity and cross of Christ, which I endeavour to bring prominently forward whenever I preach, do not seem to produce any thing like a feeling of disgust and hatred in them. Again, after visiting a Nawab, I have been obliged on my return, when quite dark, to pass through such narrow lanes, unarmed and quite alone, as I should not like to pass through in London, and yet nothing has harmed me, and the persons I met went respectfully to one side. Again, I have met with civility from several natives of rank, and it is my earnest wish to visit all those who appear to be influential men in Lucknow, and who do not object to my calling upon them. I have already visited three Nawabs, and given to each a copy of "Pfander's Mizan-ul-haq." A few respectable natives and several others have already visited me, and two of them appear to be sincere inquirers. May the Lord send us many of such as shall be saved!

KOTGURH.

The station at Kotgurh was, for the first nine months of the year, under the charge of Mr. Hœrnle. Upon his departure for England, Mr. Keene undertook the charge. Connected with this station, there are about 10 or 12 native Christians; 2 schools at Kotgurh, 1 at Theog, and 2 at Simla. At each of these 3 places there are European schoolmasters, supported by the Gorton Fund. The whole number of scholars is between 70 and 80.

Mr. Keene spent six months at Simla before he removed to Kotgurh. He preached in the bazaars, and to the various Hill people and servants who flock to Simla during the season. "Could a pious catechist," he writes, "conversant with the Hill dialects, be stationed at Simla, his labours on Sunday among the Jampanis (bearers), and during the week, in reading the Scripture to the servants at the different gentlemen's houses, would assume a most important character." There have been no baptisms in connexion with the labours at this station, and scarcely an inquirer. The importance of this station, as Mr. Keene observes, consists in its position as an out-station towards Thibet and China, through which travellers, the greater part of them Buddhists, are constantly passing to those countries. The Moravian Missionary Society has a station on the borders of Tartary, but still in British territory, Killang, fourteen or fifteen marches north of Kotgurh.

III. THE PUNJAB.

The Punjab Mission comprises four principal stations—Umritsur (commenced 1852); Kangra (1854); Peshawur (1855); Mooltan (1856).

Changes in the Mission.

This Mission has been suffering through the removal and illness of the Missionaries. The Rev. Robert Clark has been absent in England. The Rev. Messrs. Keene and Ball have been obliged, through the failure of health, to retire from the district, the one to spend some months at Kotgurh, the other to Lucknow. The Rev. J. Leighton has been transferred from Agra to this Mission. At the close of the year Mr. Clark returned to Peshawur. Dr. Trumpp was shortly expected to arrive, and two younger Missionaries, Messrs. Tuting and Bruce, were added to the number.

UMRITSUR.

The Rev. A. Strawbridge has been in charge of the native-Christian church at this station during the last year, assisted by the native deacon, Daoud. In the middle of April he was joined by Mr. Leighton, who undertook the superintendence of the English school. The Mission work has met with a sore discouragement by the fall of a native Christian, on whom great reliance had been placed. With such trials the Lord has always permitted his church, even in its infant days, to be visited. They teach all parties to walk in more humility and dependence upon his grace.

Mr. Strawbridge also speaks of the diminished number of native Christians at this station, owing to many having enlisted in the army, or become writers in Government offices, after the publication of Mr. Montgomery's Memorandum on the employment of native Christians. He writes—

The result on the whole has been most favourable. It has aroused our people to a sense and feeling that they both can and must do something for themselves, and work for and eat their own bread. It is a matter of sincere thankfulness to me that all have turned out well. We have heard of no complaints against any, but, on the contrary, the officers with whom the soldiers are serving have spoken of them as quiet and brave men.

The Missionaries have kept up preaching in the city and bazaars. Mr. Strawbridge writes—

We have located one of our assistants in the large serai near the city gate, where he not only comes into contact with travellers from Cabul, Cashmeer, and other distant parts, but large congregations are assembled every evening, and Jesus, and Him crucified, is preached.

Mr. Leighton writes of the same work—

We meet at the serai with merchants and travellers from all countries round about India. On a late occasion we had interesting conversations after preaching with merchants from Candahar. The serai is therefore a place from which Gospel seeds may be carried to a great distance. Upon the whole, there appears here in Umritsur an earnest and often intelligent desire to learn the distinctive features of the new covenant. The effect of the mutiny here seems certainly to have acted in making the people more serious and earnest in their inquiries. May the Lord send his Spirit to accompany his word, that it may not be in vain!

An interesting baptism has taken place at Umritsur of one of the privates in the 24th Punjab Infantry. "For nearly a month," writes Mr. Strawbridge, "while this regiment was here, the Gospel was preached to the men daily, and many of them expressed a desire to be further instructed. One only, however, was baptized. At his baptism many of his comrades were present; and I was informed that upon his return to the lines he was received in the most friendly manner."

Education.

The School at Michaelmas contained 65 pupils. It has since increased, under Mr. Leighton's care, to 105; of whom 51 were Hindus, 30 Sikhs, and 20 Mussulmans.

Though the Bible is taught to all, several intelligent youths have left the Government school to join the Mission school. "The school is important," writes Mr. Leighton. "It secures a respectful and attentive hearing for us in the city; and it is a most useful and necessary instrument whereby to correct erroneous impressions that may be abroad among the people regarding either ourselves or our doctrines."

Mr. Leighton continues to preach in the city, and purposes to devote his vacations to Missionary tours; rightly observing, "The school gives me a keener enjoyment of preaching; and preaching sends me back with a more Missionary spirit to the school."

Two female schools in the city, and two village vernacular schools, are also maintained.

KANGRA.

The Rev. J. N. Merk has continued in the sole charge of this Mission during the last year. The small Christian congregation of twenty-six natives has given him both comfort and disappointment; but on the whole he speaks encouragingly for the future. His school has recovered the depression which it suffered during the mutiny; and as he has now engaged the services of an efficient native-Christian schoolmaster, there is every hope of its success. The local funds at this station cover all the expenses of school, catechist, and reader, and incidentals amounting to more than 150% a year. Mr. Merk thus describes the results of his preaching to the heathen—

In the earlier part of the year I made two preaching tours. On my second journey I visited Mundee, a pretty considerable town, very seldom visited by Europeans, the capital of the independent Hill-tribe of the same name. From the beginning of the hot weather to the beginning of the rains, a number of melas take place in the neighbourhood of Kangra. Nearly all of them I have visited. Never before have I found the natives so attentive and civil as this year. They seemed often to be quite glad when they saw us coming, and we were generally occupied the greatest part of the day in preaching and conversing with them, without ever experiencing the least unkindness. Never before have we found the people so eager to obtain books and tracts.

PESHAWUR.

During the past year Mr. M'Carthy and Colonel Martin have been the only Missionaries at the station. Mr. Fitzpatrick, however, was at Peshawur for a good part of the year, to give that important frontier station the benefit of his Missionary experience and zeal. Thus the preaching of the Gospel was kept up throughout the year. Mr. Tuting joined the Mission, and Mr. Clark returned to the station, at the end of the year. Dr. Trumpp was also on his way to Peshawur. His department will be chiefly that of translations and other linguistic labours.

This Mission has ever had a special regard to the Affghan tribes, and has borne the name of an Affghan Mission. In the course of the last year the first-fruits of the Affghans has been admitted to baptism. A native officer, Dilawar Khan, in the distinguished Guide corps, having doubts of the Mohammedan religion, before the outbreak, sought and received religious instruction from British officers of rank. He afterwards was instructed by Dr. Pfander. Before he was prepared for baptism he was ordered to the siege of Delhi. He survived that bloody conflict, and was promoted to be Captain (Subadar) for his valour. Often, amidst the pauses of that memorable siege, did he take out Dr. Pfander's book to study the argument in favour of Christianity. At length, upon his return to Peshawur, on Whitsunday 1858, he made an open and bold profession of his faith in Christ, and has since walked consistently with his Christian vows.

The English School at Peshawur has been carried on with great zeal and success by Mr M'Carthy. At the close of the year it was examined in the presence of the Lieut.-Governor, Sir John Lawrence, who gave this description of the school—

I was much struck when last at Peshawur with the improvement which had taken place since Mr. M'Carthy had taken charge of it. At this school, in the very heart of the city of Peshawur, I found a considerable number of the boys fairly acquainted with geography and our literature, and, what was still more remarkable, reading and understanding the New Testament. At this school I found three boys, one the son of a Tükuder, the second of a Jemadar, both of the Kilat-i-Ghiljī regiment of infantry, and the third the son of a Toule : all three were Mohammedans.

The last intelligence from Peshawur is of a very cheering kind : it is conveyed in a letter of Mr. Clark, dated Peshawur, February 8th, 1859—

We have many encouragements. Your heart would have been warmed had you been with us to day when . . . . But I have found by experience that the less said about such cases the better. Those converts whose names are never known grow in grace and Christian virtues.

I went to the house of one of the Christians, the Qazi, and saw there a sight I had never seen before in Peshawur—seventeen men, Persians and Affghans, from both city and country, sitting round him, while he explained to them most beautifully, in Persian, 1 Cor. xv. ; they listening with the deepest attention, and apparently assenting to every thing he said. Oh, if only God's Spirit were poured out, what might we not expect, even in a very short time ! How much we need the prayers of our English friends ! The number who pray for us here is greatly increasing. There are in this station alone more than 500 private soldiers who give to Missions sums varying from 3s. to 24s. a-year each, and many, or rather most of these, pray for us : as one or them said the other night, "We never meet, Sir, without praying for your work among the heathen ;" and they meet every night for prayer.

MOOLTAN.

During the early part of 1858 this station was occupied by Mr. Fitzpatrick. There is no school, no native converts, nor a catechist as yet, attached to the station. The Missionary preached in the city ; and also held a service in Hindustani at the station church, for the benefit of the Eurasian soldiers. In April Mr. Fitzpatrick removed to Peshawur, but he was about, at the close of the year, to return to Mooltan.*

General Missionary Conference in South India—Testimony to Success of Missions.

IN the beginning of May 1858, a conference was held, at Ootacamund, of the Missionaries of various Societies labouring in South India and Ceylon. Thirty-two Missionaries, belonging to eight different Societies of all denominations, and representing different nations—English, Scottish, German, and American—the greater part of them men of long experience, met together to confer upon the past results of their labours; to compare their various modes of operation; and to contemplate the work which remains to be done for the evangelization of Southern India. A fortnight's conference has been recorded in a volume, full of information and of statistical returns, from which the following passage presents the general results in a short epitome—

Let us now collect our statistics, and state what is the result of Missionary operations; not for our own praise, but for the glory of Him without whose blessing all our works would end in vanity and confusion. We have, then, as the fruits of Missionary labour in Southern India and the entire Island of Ceylon—

(1) More than 100,000 persons who have abandoned idolatry, and are gathered into congregations receiving Christian instruction.

(2) More than 65,000 who have been baptized into the name of Christ, and have thus publicly made a profession of their Christian discipleship.

(3) More than 15,000 who have been received as communicants, in the belief that they are sincere and faithful disciples of Christ.

(4) More than 500 natives, exclusive of schoolmasters, who are employed as Christian teachers of their countrymen, and who are generally devoted and successful in their works.

(5) More than 41,000 boys in the Mission schools learning to read and understand the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make them wise unto salvation.

(6) More than 11,000 girls rescued from that gross ignorance and deep degradation to which so many millions of their sex in India seem to be hopelessly condemned.

Looking at these leading results, may we not exclaim, "Surely this is the finger of God?" Here are the palpable evidences of the Divine power of the Gospel—evidences which are yet destined to constrain many a heathen to abandon his idols, and turn to the now despised and hated name of Jesus.

But we desire especially to invite attention to what yet remains to be done. Much ground is yet unoccupied, and many of our present stations are weak and languishing for want of a sufficient staff of labourers. In the whole of South India, including Hydrabad and Nagpore, we have a population of forty millions of people; and, were the present Missionaries equally distributed over the whole, they would not exceed four to the million. But such an equal distribution is neither desirable nor possible. Large centres of population and influence must be efficiently occupied, and fields which the Lord has already blessed should be diligently cultivated. To do this, a large addition to our own strength is needed, while still more labourers are required to take possession of the new ground. Thus, then, it is abundantly evident that a great work yet remains to be done, even in Southern India, the scene of the first and most successful Missions; while in Central and Northern India it is still greater. We have said nothing of Ceylon; but much that has been said respecting continental India applies equally to it. We earnestly call on our friends in Europe and America, therefore, to redouble their efforts, and widely extend their operations.

Fanatical Outbreaks against Native Christians.

Amongst the events in South India, the Committee refer with deep regret to two fanatical outbreaks against native Christianity, the one at the town of Tinnevely, the other in Travancore. In both instances the conduct of the offenders is under judicial inquiry: the Committee do not, therefore, enter into the particulars of the cases. These outrages, however, afford no indication of the general disposition of the people: they arose from a sad misconception of the Proclamation of our gracious Queen; and their prompt suppression, and the explanations to which they have led, will, it is hoped, be greatly to the advantage of the cause of Christianity.

Statistics of the Missions of the Church Missionary Society in South India.

Passing from the general statistics of all Missionary Societies to those of the Church Missionary, which comprise about one third of the whole, the Committee are thankful to be able to report a material increase upon the returns of last year. The "Madras Church Missionary Record" makes the following remarks—

The statistical table presents, we trust, cause for continued thankfulness to the Lord of the harvest. There have been added upwards of 900 souls to the number of baptized. The number of communicants has been augmented by upwards of 200. We also rejoice to see that the cause of female education, that most important branch of Mission work, appears to have been progressing, not only by the establishment of a normal female training-school at Palamcotta, but by an increase of the staff of native mistresses, and of the roll of school-girls.

The friends at Madras have given a convincing proof of their zeal for female education, by undertaking to defray the entire expense of this part of the Society's operations by local contributions. Their appeal to the public contains the following statement—

The branch of native-female education will require the sum of 10,000 rupees per annum, in order that it may be efficiently maintained, and that sum exceeds the average contribution from this Presidency. Trusting, however, that the character and importance of the work will call forth the effectual aid of many persons who take less interest in general Missionary work than in native-female education, they have determined to make the effort; and they earnestly appeal to all philanthropic and Christian persons to help them therein. Already some 3350 girls are taught in these schools, about one third of whom are directly under the daily instruction and constant influence of the Missionary's wife in the station boarding-schools. The importance of maintaining and increasing this effectual means of blessing whole future generations is apparent to all.

In respect of the general aspect of the Mission, the Madras Corresponding Committee thus write—

With reference to the Missions of our own Society, which, by the good hand of our God upon us, are considerably the largest, both in respect of agency and adherents, to his name only be the glory, we have to record a year of ordinary tranquillity and average progress. The work has gone on as usual, though deepening rather than extending. Indications, of more than ordinary promise, have presented themselves that the Gospel is gradually touching the higher as well as the lower classes of the community. The standard of individual piety in the congregations, of educational efficiency in our Christian schoolmasters, of spiritual qualifications in our native readers and catechists, is, we think, rising, by God's blessing on the means used for this purpose. We record with much thankfulness the arrangements which have been made for the establishment of a Vernacular Preparandi Institution in Travancore, under the charge of the Rev. J. Hawksworth, and of a Vernacular Female Training Institution in Palamcotta, in memory of Miss Tucker, under the Rev. Ashton Dibb. These institutions assume an increased importance, when we remember the impulse given to Christian vernacular education by means of the Society recently established in England under the joint influence of all evangelical Missionary bodies.

I. MADRAS.

European Mission Establishment for Madras :

Rev. J. Bilderbeck (m) East Indian.
 Rev. T. Foulkes (m) 1849, temporarily in Ceylon.
 Rev. L. Cradock (m) 1854.
 Rev. P. S. Royston, B.A., 1855, Secretary of Corresponding Committee.
 Rev. R. H. Vickers (m) 1855.
 Rev. J. Gritton (m) 1856.
 Mr. G. Walker (m) 1855, English schoolmaster.
 T. T. Ford, Esq., 1858, Lay Secretary of Corresponding Committee.
 Miss Giberne, Female School.

The Mission at Madras has been in a very weak state during the last year. There are four stated congregations, the Mission Church, Trinity Chapel, Tinnevely Settlement, and Mount Road, with six or seven preaching stations. The number of native Christians amounts to 695. The several departments of labour require three Missionaries to discharge the full amount of work ; and during the last year the whole of the Mission has rested upon the Rev. A. Younker, assisted by the Rev. J. Gritton for a portion of the year ; Mr. Bilderbeck having been obliged to visit Europe for the recovery of his health ; and Mr. Foulkes also being absent on account of his health. Under these circumstances, the Committee have not been furnished with particulars to insert in the present Report.

Mohammedan Mission.—The Harris School.

This school for Mohammedan youths is under Messrs. Cradock and Walker. It was visited by Lieut. Col. A. C. Penny, Government Inspector, in February, who reported that the school was amply supplied with books and apparatus, and would accommodate 200 scholars ; but that only 10 were presented, out of 13 on the books, for examination. The small number of scholars he attributed to the bigotry of the Mohammedans, and the largeness of the fee—8 annas (1s.) per mensem ; and he advised a reduction, which was made in September to 2 annas. The result was beyond all expectation. Applications for admission became so numerous, that the Principal thought it advisable to stop the admission when it had reached 50, in order to reduce the school to order. Mr. Cradock notices a peculiarity in the case of the Mohammedan children, that the pride of their race fills them with extravagant notions of their power to acquire knowledge in a short time ; and when, on trial, their expectation is disappointed, they sink into despondency, and discontinue their attendance ; while the sons of labouring men, having less of this pride, make better progress. Mr. Cradock writes—

Those who have never been necessitated to labour, but have lived on their father's pensions, or the allowances of the Nawab, seem mostly incapable of sustained effort; but there are some exceptions. There are two or three who cannot be much less than thirty years of age, very fair and respectable in their attainments in their own literature, who have made great progress in a short time. In general, I may say that the prospects of the Harris school are very encouraging. Should it please the Holy Spirit to open their hearts that they may take heed to the things they have heard, a harvest will be one day reaped that will gladden the hearts of those to whom God may appoint the honour of gathering it in.

II. TINNEVELLY.

The Mission is divided into 12 districts, viz. 1. Palamcotta; 2. 3. 4. Mengnapuram, Asirvadapuram, and Satthankullam; 5. Kadachapuram; 6. Suviseshapuram; 7. Dohnavur; 8. Paneivilei; 9. 10. Pannikullam and Paneivadali; 10. Nullur; 11. Surandei; 12. Sivagasi. Dates are not given, because these Districts have been formed by successive subdivisions of the Tinnevelly District.

The twelve districts into which Tinnevelly is divided remain as in former years. The Missionary labourers have been strengthened by the return of the Rev. J. T. Tucker, with renewed health, after his visit to England. The Rev. A. B. Valpy also, having passed his examination in the vernacular, has been placed in charge of a district. Three districts are under charge of the Rev. J. Thomas, and two under the Rev. J. Whitchurch.

The Committee review with special interest the annual reports of the Missionaries labouring in Tinnevelly. It is here that the work of modern Missions is on its trial; that a native church is presented in its most settled and advanced condition; and that the Missionary machinery is on the largest scale, and in the best working order. The Committee feel the sacred obligation which rests upon them, not only to give to the Church at home a faithful report of the progress of such a work ; but also to point out the indications of its future extension throughout the whole district, or, at least, of the aid which the native church may afford to the evangelistic efforts of foreign Missionaries. And, further, the Committee desire to look beyond this particular field, by gathering lessons from the working of the Tinnevelly Mission, towards the solution of the great problem of the world's evangelization. With this view, the Committee will arrange their notices of this Mission, so as especially to illustrate these points—

(1.) The preparedness of the native churches in Tinnevelly for future extension.

(2.) The slow rate of progress at which those churches have hitherto extended themselves amidst surrounding heathenism.

(3.) The prospect and indications of a more rapid extension, and of the ultimate triumph of the Gospel throughout the whole district.

(I.) The preparedness of the Native Churches in Tinnevelly for future extension.

The Committee have abundant testimony before them that the religion of the native converts is of that genuine and lively character which fits a church for imparting the light to others. In forming, however, our estimate of their spiritual condition, we must bear in mind that the converts are mingled with a heathen and Mohammedan population in the proportion of about one in thirty, out of a population of one million and a-half. At the principal Missionary stations the converts have naturally gathered together, and formed Christian villages. At greater distances they form only a proportion of a village ; and, in a multitude of cases, only a very small proportion, down to two or three individuals in a cluster of heathen villages. It is clear that the same spiritual growth cannot be expected in the scattered Christian population as in that portion of it which is collected together under full pastoral ministrations.

The 28,800 native Christians of Tinnevelly are distributed through 541 villages. They have 386 churches or prayer-houses, and nearly 5000 of their children attend Christian schools.

A paper, drawn up by Mr. Sargent, and laid before the conference, presents a graphic description of the work.

A dry statement of figures will not interest all minds ; but the subject before us is one, not of sentiment or speculation, but matter-of-fact. True it is, that no amount of figures proves the condition of true religion: that must rest on its own intrinsic evidence. But taking the lowest view possible, is it not a great point gained, that, go in almost any direction from a Missionary station, we come to villages in which, more or less, individuals possessing the Gospel reside, who have given up all connexion with idolatry, who hear and learn the word of God daily, who unite daily in Christian worship, who place themselves under moral discipline, who contribute liberally of their small means for the support of religious objects, and who afford the Missionary the full opportunity of acting towards them the part of a Christian pastor? Is it not a great point gained, that, whereas hitherto our heathen munshis have been proof against all the influences of the Gospel, and, secretly and indirectly, our greatest hindrances, we have six from among this class of men in Tinnevelly who embrace the Gospel, and break off from all their heathen connexions, besides several others of highly respectable families, giving up, as it were, their all to profess Christ?

The paper of Mr. Sargent notices, also, a proof on a large scale—

An inspired writer has supplied us with one mark by which to judge of the progress of the Gospel in a given place. It is recorded in Acts xix. 19, 20, "Many of them also which used curious arts brought their books together and burned them before all men; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver. So mightily grew the word of God, and prevailed." Now I have no doubt that if the idols which have been demolished, and the appendages of demon-worship which have been at different times given up to the Missionaries in Tinnevelly, were taken into account, they would amount to several thousand rupees. But, added to this, the yearly contributions from our native Christians for religious purposes form no small item in our Mission accounts. For the year 1857 they amount to Rupees 7698.8.8. (£769) Now, knowing as we do the tenacity with which every native holds his money, is it not resonable to consider the liberality of our converts an evidence to some extent that they value the Christian privileges which, by the goodness of God, they were permitted to enjoy?

Amidst the annual contributions noticed above, a portion is contributed to Missionary purposes; but the last year afforded a special opportunity to the Christians of Tinnevelly to show their sympathy for the native Christians in North India suffering under the mutiny. On several occasions they made collections amongst themselves, amounting to nearly twenty pounds, which was sent to Mr. Cuthbert, the Secretary of the Corresponding Committee in Calcutta, to be distributed by him. Mr. Pickford, in transmitting the collection of his district, writes, 8th June 1858—

The remittance derives peculiar interest from the fact that it is entirely a native expression of Christian sympathy, no European suggesting or assisting, I believe, in any way. Mr. Savari-royan tells me, that on the day appointed as a day of humiliation, and subsequently, he put the privileges and obligations of the Christians in the south, and the dangers and sufferings of Christians in the north-west, before the congregations, catechists, and schoolmasters; and the result appears in the former and present remittance. I have the pleasure of enclosing a cheque for Rs. 31.10.0; Rs. 30.1.0 contributed by the people, and the rest by the girls', being the savings of the children from their allowance of rice.

The religious condition of the converts bears a favourable comparison with that of parishes in the church at home, under the pastoral charge of zealous and faithful ministers. There is, of course, much nominal profession, much inconsistency, but the communicants bear a large proportion to the whole body, and they are subject to a strictness of discipline not attempted in the church at home: as a body they may be pronounced advanced Christians. The Rev. J. T. Tucker having returned to his Mission, after three years spent in England, during which time he acted as curate of a well-worked rural parish in England, writes, in his last annual letter—

I meet the communicants once a month, on the Wednesday previous to every sacrament Sunday, the women at noon, and the men at night. The meeting with the communicants is the very crown of our work. It is then I can perceive how attractive is the glorious cross of our Lord Jesus Christ: it is then I can perceive the silent tear falling down the believer's cheek when listening to the account of the suffering Son of God: it is then I perceive eyes sparkling with love and gratitude to that glorious God-man for suffering such agony for them.

Many striking instances occur in the journals of the Missionaries of the visible grace of God (Acts xi. 23.) in individuals, sustaining the soul in grief, inspiring love to their enemies, giving victory over temptation, and cheering the hour of death with perfect peace and lively hope.

The Committee, however, proceed to notice another striking feature of the advanced state of this Mission.

There are in this Mission nine native pastors, who have now for several years exercised their ministry amongst their countrymen. It is hoped that the next ordination of the Bishop of Madras will add several others to the number. It is important, therefore, to record the testimony of those Missionaries who have had the means of judging of the efficiency of the native pastorate. The Rev. J. Thomas thus writes in his annual letter—

The native clergy move about regularly, and it is to them that we must look for fulfilment of pastoral duties, as it is impossible for an European to do all the work: indeed, the charge I now have embraces the districts formerly occupied by three Missionaries. I cannot help thinking, however, that we have been led to this course of action by God's overruling providence, for the employment of native pastors seems to have been gradually forced upon us by the removal from the field of European Missionaries: and now that the experiment has been made, and I think with success, the difficulties which appeared at first have been removed, and the system may with advantage be enlarged. But I think that my charge at present may be considered as about the maximum; not from the difficulty of doing the spiritual work, but from the impossibility of attending to the troubles, quarrels, complaints, persecutions, &c., of such a mass of people, who will come a distance of five or six miles to complain of the most trivial thing: they are just like children. I am doing all I can to make them think and act for themselves, and great progress has undoubtedly been made in this respect; and now, excepting in cases where persecution or troubles arise on account of the Gospel, I resolutely refuse to interfere.

You will be able to gather what my estimate is of the native clergy from scattered remarks in this letter and my report, and that I feel quite satisfied of the success of the system, if sufficient care be exercised in the selection of our men. Undoubtedly some part of the success will depend upon the European Missionary, with whom they are appointed to work. A show of authority, with an habitual effort to make the men feel that they are occupying a subordinate position, with little or no responsibility attached to it, would, I think, be highly injurious. "My native deacons" is a phrase which I have heard, but which I consider unbecoming, and one which indicates a course of action on the part of the Presbyters, which must prove fatal to ultimate success. On the other hand, to regard them as brethren and fellow-labourers in Christ's vineyard, with much affection and confidence; to speak the truth in love to them, when needed; to pray with them and for them; is the course I have endeavoured to pursue, and, through God's blessing, it has proved quite successful after a trial of eight years, during which I have had altogether six of the native brethren labouring with me, and no misunderstanding has taken place between us. To God be all the glory!

The Rev. J. Pickford also records a similar testimony—

I have derived much assistance and comfort from my fellow-labourer and associate in the ministry. Many opportunities have occurred of observing the worth of his character. Gentle and conciliating in his manner, I have gathered many lessons of instruction by observing the consideration and excellent judgment he has manifested in his dealings with the people.

(II.) The slow rate of increase in the Tinnevelly Native Church.

The Committee must in the next place direct attention to the slow rate of progress at which these churches are extending themselves amidst surrounding heathenism. For the last ten or fifteen years the number of the baptized and the number of communicants have steadily increased, but the number of inquirers has diminished; so that the whole number under Christian instruction has fluctuated, and has sometimes receded. The average rate of increase for the last ten years has scarcely exceeded 500 per annum, at which rate the evangelization of all Tinnevelly would be indefinitely postponed.*

There has been little sensible impression made in the native town of Tinnevelly, adjoining the head-quarters of the Mission at Palamcotta. An outbreak of fanatical violence, within the last few months, at the burial of a native Christian, has exhibited the bitter enmity against Christianity which lurks beneath the surface of native society, even in a town accustomed for nearly forty years to the residence of Missionaries in their immediate proximity.

There has also sprung up of late years a formidable antagonism to Christianity, in the young men who have been nurtured under the fatal government system of a godless neutrality.

"I have been thirty years in India (writes the Rev. P. P. Schaffter, December 17th, 1858), but I have nowhere found among the Hindús such bitter opponents to Christianity, and railers at its glorious truths, as those who have imbibed some of the learning of the Europeans without their religion, and this is the invariable experience of all the Missionaries with whom I have spoken on the subject."

The discovery of the slow rate of increase in the native church of Tinnevelly led Mr. Ragland to devise his scheme of itineration throughout a defined heathen district, apart from the formation of Missionary centres and Christian villages. He and his two European and many native assistants have for five years traversed the northern parts of Tinnevely, paying two or three visits yearly to 1500 villages, and bringing the message of salvation to the doors of their habitations. But even the results of this agency, tried under a combination of holy devotedness, of consecrated talents, of patient perseverance, and of prayer "without ceasing," do not exhibit a more rapid increase.

These considerations have led the Committee to the anxious inquiry, What are the indications and prospects of the complete evangelization, even of such a forward district as the province of Tinnevely?

And here they frankly avow, that if it were not for the sure promises of a faithful God, neither they, nor their Missionaries abroad, could entertain the hope of any speedy result. But those promises, and the light of God's word, revealing the working of His unseen hand in past dispensations of grace, revive their hopes, and enable them to discover and to point out the indications of a brighter day, and of a more rapid diffusion of Christian truth, through the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the means in operation.

(III.) The prospect and indications of a more rapid extension of the Gospel in Tinnevely.

Among the indications of a more rapid extension of the Gospel in prospect, the Committee, in the first place, refer to the confident tone in which all the Missionary labourers speak of a favourable change in the feelings of the people. In one of the papers given in at the late conference it is thus stated—"We are encouraged in the work by what has been, under the blessing of God, already accomplished, and by the persuasion that in many minds there is a preparedness for what may be called a moral crisis, when thousands who now hold back will rush in as with a flood" (p. 333). Many Missionaries look forward to the time when some native Luther may be raised up to shake the public mind, and to draw forth hundreds of thousands to a confession of the truth. Other Missionaries fully expect that when native Christians have attained a higher social position, to which they are rapidly rising, the rest of the population will flock to the gates of the church of Christ. All these various prospects bespeak the latent conviction that a crisis is at hand. Even the awful events in North India during the last year have had a salutary influence in the South. The senior Missionary, Mr. Schaffter, thus alludes to them—

I humbly trust that there has been a marked blessing upon the work in this district during the current year. The opposition of the heathen to the truth and to our congregations has been less bitter; while their attention to the preaching of the Gospel has been more encouraging than it was last year. No doubt the momentous events which have taken place in India, and by which the pride of the enemies has been in a measure confounded, have been instrumental in working the change in the temper of the heathen. Since the beginning of January last, no less than 360 people, mostly from heathenism, have joined themselves to Christianity in my little district, while a great many more show a desire to do the same, but, for various reasons, have not yet been received. Our congregations also have been favourably affected by this return of confidence. Disorders of every kind are on the decrease. Many, who were still listless and halting between two opinions, appear now more settled. Diligence in learning the Catechism and attending on the means of grace has increased; and, notwithstanding the great scarcity which during the whole of the year has afflicted this land, contributions in behalf of various good objects have been fully kept up, and, I may add, without any effort of my own, for the pressure of want which I saw about me made me unwilling to press any object except the relief of the poor.

Again, the state of preparedness already described of the native church for future extension, is itself a divine pledge that an open door will soon be set before it.

Should such a crisis take place, and the number of inquirers largely increase, as some anticipate, the value of a well-organized Mission for giving direction and stability to the movement would be incalculable. Under such prospects, no part of the system would prove more-important than the educational establishments; and these are in Tinnevelly on a scale, and in a state of efficiency, already beyond the wants of the Mission itself. The Committee will, therefore, on this occasion, confine their annual review of the Tinnevelly Mission to a description of these establishments, in order to confirm the position they have laid down.

Tinnevelly Educational Establishments.

1. The Palamcotta Preparandi Institution is under the care of the Rev. E. Sargent, assisted by the Rev. H. Dixon. Each year it becomes more efficient in providing a course of theological and general study for those who are to be employed in spiritual work as catechists, and ultimately as native pastors. The instruction is wholly in the vernacular language. During the course of seven years, 177 students have been admitted, of whom 90 have entered into the employment of the Society, 55 being catechists, the rest school-masters; 50 remained in the Institution at Midsummer 1858. Half-yearly examinations are made by several of the Missionaries. The important bearing which this Institution has upon future extension, will justify the recording of the following testimonies from the different examiners.

Mr. J. T. Tucker, who conducted the examination in January 1859, concludes with this statement—

I only wish it were in my power to write in a sufficiently interesting manner to draw the attention of our Christian friends to remember this most valuable Institution when praying for others at a throne of grace. Here are pious young men gathered from all parts of the provinces for the purpose of being instructed more fully in the Scriptures. Many of them are able to answer almost any question of Pearson on the Creed, Paley's Evidences, Scripture and Church History, and from the Thirty-nine Articles. Surely such knowledge, with the blessing of God, must, if zealously and prudently scattered by these men, prove a great blessing to all those places where they may be hereafter located as catechists. Let us ask the glorious Lord of the harvest to send forth each one with a heart full of love to Christ, zealous for his glory, and endued with the wisdom of the serpent, and the harmlessness of the dove.

Mr. Schaffter says, after an examination on the Epistle to the Romans—

A good number of the students stated the great truths of our holy religion in a very clear manner, so that I found a few of the essays a real treat, while others expressed themselves in a more confused manner. But not one of these essays would leave on the mind the impression that the writer is at all unsound in his views. This must be especially said as regards the great doctrine of justification.

Mr. Clark examined the first class in Pearson on the Creed, and says—

Considering that they were examined in the whole book, they have answered as well as could be expected. There were a few defects, but these, do not detract from the general excellence of the papers. The students have stored their minds with many texts and arguments, which will be of great use to them in their future labours.

Mr. Thomas says—

I examined the nine students of the first class in Paley's Evidences; the questions were well answered by the students, and all, except two, obtained high numbers. These failed by mistaking the drift of the questions, but otherwise did very well. Although the examination was in the Tamil language, the subject was as thoroughly understood as if English students had answered in their own tongue. This shows that the vernacular may be made, equally with the English, the vehicle of communicating instruction of the highest kind.

2. The Training Institution for Vernacular Schoolmasters was last year under the charge of Mr. Sargent, with the assistance of Mr. Goodall, a trained schoolmaster from Highbury. At the commencement of the present year the Rev. T. Spratt undertook the charge of it, having just returned from England, and having made himself master of the system. It has been only three years in operation, but from thirty to forty schoolmasters have been sent out, and forty students remain. This Vernacular Training College has a model and practising school attached to it. The importance of such an Institution in connexion with Missions has become the more urgent, from the great impulse given to education in consequence of the encouragement of Government, and the pecuniary emoluments attached to their certificates. An extract from the journal of the Rev. J. Pickford will afford an illustration of this remark—

The schoolmasters are an improved and improving class; nearly all have passed the Government Inspector's examination, and are now receiving the grants-in-aid, which, as they will depend for their continuance both on their own improvement and the progress of the schools under their charge, will, I doubt not, prove a strong stimulus to exertion. To promote this as far as possible, I have myself appointed certain periods for examination in geography, arithmetic, and grammar.

2. The Native English School, so long ably and zealously conducted by its blind teacher, Mr. Cruickshanks, has experienced a great blessing during the last year. A youth, who had been converted in a native-English school at Strevillipatūr, in North Tinnevely, was sent to the native-English school at Palamcotta, for his further instruction. This alarmed the rest of the scholars, and the numbers fell off; but, through the signal goodness of God, it seemed also to bring to a crisis the movement towards Christianity which had been going forward in the minds of others at Palamcotta, and several of the pupils of the school, the school Munshi, Ganapathy, and another, the master of a small native-English school in the Sepoy lines, and formerly a pupil of this school, openly embraced Christianity.

The conversion of the Munshi is an important and significant accession to the cause of truth. A native convert, of some standing, writes respecting it—"When I think upon his conversion, I wonder how great and abundant are the power and grace of God in bringing souls to Him. I clearly perceive the powerful work of the Holy Ghost upon his heart. Let all glory and honour be to the Almighty God, the author and finisher of our faith and good works!" Mr. Cruickshanks writes—

This Munshi, with his wife and child, was baptized June 13th, and he has since been progressing very satisfactorily. His conversion has made a great impression on the native mind, and he leaves no means untried to improve it for the spiritual benefit of those who come in his way. If the Lord please, his efforts, under the Divine blessing, will produce effects that will astonish as well as delight us. He is growing rapidly in grace, and so is his wife, who is a very nice person. Both, indeed, were, even as Hindús, considered amiable; and, as Christians, are already beginning to adorn the Gospel.

All these converts, with several others, fourteen in number, paid me a visit in a body on New-year's day. All of them had embraced the Gospel within the last two years, including several Munshis who had once belonged to my school, but who had been more or less acted upon by religious influences emanating from it. I received them as well as I could, and said a kind word to nearly every one of them. God bless them all! May He keep them stedfast in the faith, and bring them to his heavenly kingdom! Had the friends of Indian Missions seen them so contented and happy, how they would have thanked God for having been in any measure the means of introducing so many precious souls into the light, peace, and joy of Christianity.

The effect of these conversions upon the attendance of pupils was, as usual, a large temporary defalcation. At the commencement of the year they amounted to 123. After the conversions they fell to 90, then to 50; but at the close of the year the numbers began to recover, and on the 28th of December they had reached 80. The success of the school as a place of general education is thus alluded to by Mr. Cruickshanks at the close of his report—

It must be gratifying to the friends of the school to learn, that of fourteen passed candidates for admission into the uncovenanted civil service belonging to the Collectorate of Tinnevely, ten either are or once were our pupils. And here I will add an extract from a letter I have lately received from a friend on the subject. He says—"I am very glad to find, from the 'Examiner' newspaper, that among the 200 and more candidates that passed for admission into the Government uncovenanted service, the boy that got the greatest number of marks was one educated in your school."

4. The Village Schools in Tinnevely also bear a high character, as appears from "The Report on Public Instruction, published by authority, for 1857-58," from which the following extract is taken—

Among the schools aided during the past year are the village schools supported by the Church Missionary Society, and by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, in Tinnevely. I stated in my last report that 66 schoolmasters and 8 schoolmistresses, employed in schools supported by these Societies, had passed the prescribed examination for the grants sanctioned in the extract from the Minutes of Consultation under date the 23d August 1856, No. 1012. Towards the close of the year, 179 other candidates for these grants were examined by the Inspector, of whom 80 masters and 17 mistresses of schools supported by the Church Missionary Society, and 35 masters and 6 mistresses of schools supported by the Propagation of the Gospel Society, or 138 in all, passed according to the prescribed standard. The Inspector states that the number of pupils under the instruction of the masters and mistresses who were examined by him amount to nearly 3500, exclusive of those under the instruction of teachers, to whom grants were awarded last year. In the course of his tour he examined many of the schools, and records his opinion in the same words and on the same grounds as the late Inspector, that "this is the most successful improvement of indigenous education,"—meaning by this term, I presume, the education of the village population—'which has yet been made in India.' He adds, that, as far as he can judge from notes on the records of his office, he has reason to believe that the candidates who presented themselves this year for examination came up much better prepared than did those who were examined by the late Inspector last year. This he attributes to the course proposed for examination being better understood.

5. The department of Female education has received its complete appliances during the present year by the establishment of a training institution for schoolmistresses. The friends of the late Miss Tucker—who had promoted the cause of female education in India, amidst many other works of piety and charity, with singular wisdom and zeal—desirous of forming some memorial of this excellent lady, have raised a fund for the establishment of a "Sarah-Tucker Institution" in Tinnevely, "in testimony of their affection and respect for her memory, and in the earnest desire and prayer that the whole may be regarded as a humble endeavour to glorify God, both in recording the grace given to His beloved servant, and in promoting the spiritual welfare and encouragement of his church in India." Suitable premises have been procured for this Institution in Palamcotta. The Rev. A. Dibb and Mrs. Dibb, with the assistance of Miss Meredith, have undertaken the care of the Institution.

Upon this review of the educational apparatus in Tinnevely, the Committee will only further observe, that, should it please God to send down revival blessings upon the native church, so as to supply the educational institutions of this and kindred Societies with pupils truly alive to God, they are capable of pouring forth such supplies of well-trained teachers as could not fail to change the aspect of the province of Tinnevely.

The foregoing considerations lead the Committee to urge upon the church the prospects of the Tinnevely native church, as needing increased prayer in its behalf, for an outpouring of God's Holy Spirit, and for a revival of his work. They plead also the same consideration as a loud call upon the church at home to send out reinforcements to the Missionary band, which has so nobly sustained a hard-fought conflict, and has now so near a prospect of final victory.

III. NORTH-TINNEVELLY ITINERANCY.

Rev. D. Fenn, M.A., 1852.

Rev. R. R. Meadows, B.A., 1852, on his way home.

Rev. W. Gray, M.A., joined in India, 1858.

The department of the Mission known under the name of the North-Tinnevely Itinerancy has suffered the severe loss of two of its valuable agents. The Rev. T. G. Barenbruck, having returned from Europe in restored health, had just entered upon this work; but before a month had elapsed he was cut down by cholera. He had proved himself a zealous and efficient Missionary in his former term of labour in Tinnevely; and as the son of one of the earliest Missionaries, and born in the country, his ministrations were very acceptable to the Christian converts. Much was expected from his experience and abilities in his new sphere, but an all-wise God took him to an early rest. Within a few months of his death it pleased God again to afflict this district by the sudden removal of the father of this branch of the Mission, the Rev. T. G. Ragland, Senior Fellow of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, and honorary itinerant Missionary. He had brought to the work of the Lord a richly furnished mind and talents of a high order; but these were sanctified by a large supply of the Spirit of Christ, in all meekness, and patience, and love; so that he appeared to be a pillar of the work which could be ill spared. Yet he has been removed, and the work now rests more than ever upon the arm of the great Architect, who will choose his own instruments in building his spiritual temple.*

In addition to these losses, Mr. Meadows has been compelled by the failure of health to return to Europe. Thus the whole burden has fallen upon Mr. Fenn and the native assistants, though the Committee trust that they shall be able in the course of the year to send additional help. The Rev. W. Gray, who joined the Society in India, has been already appointed by the Corresponding Committee to this sphere of labour. It was a part of the original plan, that whenever it became necessary to form a district, a station Missionary should be appointed, independent of the regular system of itinerancy. Sivagasi was the first place which seemed to require a resident Missionary. It was therefore placed first under Mr. Every, then under Mr. Barenbruck. Each having been removed by death, the charge devolved for the first half-year of 1858 upon Mr. Ragland, who writes—

If, indeed, it had not been for the help of my native brethren, each of whom has united with preaching to the heathen the regular oversight of a number of congregations and Mission agents, I should have felt it quite impossible to attempt to carry on the work. With regard to the congregations, there is much in them to make me sad; with here and there, however, a bright spot calling for thankfulness, and inspiring hope. I cannot undertake to strike the balance between the encouragements and discouragements.

Among the encouragements, Mr. Ragland mentions the satisfaction which he had received from the native catechists and schoolmasters; and several cases of the consistent Christian behaviour of individuals. As a specimen of the wisdom and caution of this late eminent Missionary, the following paragraph from his report may be added—

At Tenmalei several persons had been under Christian instruction, without coming forward to baptism, for a great many years—some as many as ten years. This, whatever might be the reason, seemed such an utterly undesirable state of things, that I thought it my duty to state to those of the members, that if, when I examined them at the expiration of three months, there was any one of them whom I could not bring myself to baptize, I should feel myself obliged thereupon, and at once, to strike out his name from the list of persons under instruction. This was announced to them at an evening service, during which I read and spoke a few words upon the Epistle to the angel of the Laodicean Church, one abounding with appropriate passages—"Because thou art lukewarm I will spue thee out of my mouth;" "As many as I love, I rebuke;" "Behold, I stand at the door and knock." And at the same time I begged the readers and the few of the congregation whom I had any hope of as being Christians indeed, to do what in them lay to help these poor probationers, by exhortation and by prayer for them. I am thankful to say, that, when I examined them at the end of the three months, I was able to baptize them, with three or four of their children, and with considerable satisfaction. One of them, however, whose name was Sini, had begun, a short time before I gave the warning, to manifest a better mind. The occasion of the change in him was rather singular. He was an Iluvan, and had been sent with a message to the house of one of our itinerating brethren, a Vellarlan. He arrived late at night, expecting to be left, being of low caste, to care for himself with regard to lodging and food, and even if water were given him, it would, he imagined, be only poured out for him to catch in his hands as he could. But instead of this, the catechist's wife, with a true Christian spirit, compelled him to come in and to sit down, and to eat and drink out of their own vessels. After telling this to her husband the next day, Sini added something to the following effect—"I have long known Christians, but I never knew what true Christianity was before. I will be a Christian myself now."

* A brief memoir of Mr. Ragland has been published, which is reprinted in the "Church Missionary Intelligencer" for February 1859.

After mentioning also some cases of disappointment and of unchristian behaviour in the native converts, Mr. Ragland thus concludes the last report, which he wrote only a few weeks before he was taken to his glorious rest and reward—

I do not wish to over-rate the faults of our poor Christians: still less do I wish it to be supposed that I should be much better myself if placed in like circumstances. I have stated facts as they are, or at least as they appear. And deeply thankful shall I be if what I have written only stirs up hearty prayer on our behalf. We all need it; and I cannot say who, whether Missionary, or the other agents, or the baptized, or the inquirers, need it most.

At the close of the year Mr. Fenn commences his report by alluding to the fact, that at the early part of the year there were four European Missionaries engaged in the work, with the prospect of a fifth; but at its close that he remained as the only European Missionary to sustain the work for which five had been designated. Referring to these events, he writes—

Such striking interpositions of Divine Providence, following so closely one upon the other, and preceded as they were by our dear brother Every's death in the previous year, are surely not without a meaning. I cannot but encourage the hope, that, in the removal of these human aids, the great Head of the church is about to show the lighting down of His arm, and that in some remarkable way, so that we shall all have to sing a new song, even that He hath done marvellous things," and that "his right hand and his holy arm have gotten him the victory."

While the European agency has been diminished, we have had a considerable increase of effective native helpers from the congregations in the south. Besides seventeen monthly catechists, who have come from time to time, as in previous years, from different Mission districts, we have had three permanent itinerating catechists, sent and supported during the last ten months of the year by the Native Church Missionary Association. They are located in three widely-sundered parts of the Itinerancy, and constantly visit every heathen village within reach of their respective neighbourhoods. Besides these, we were joined, on the very day of Mr. Barenbruck's decease, by Mr. W. T. Sathianadhan, an accepted candidate for the Ministry, son-in-law to the Rev. J. Devasagayam. He is now, like Messrs Joseph Cornelius, and V. Devanayagam, in charge of a division of the district, superintending the five or six congregations, with the Mission agents, contained in it, and constantly preaching to the heathen of that division. In consequence of these reinforcements, and by a careful arrangement, we were able, during both half-years, to visit, as in former half-years, every village and hamlet of the Itinerancy, numbering above 1400.

In regard to the heathen, I think it deserves mention, that although they have now heard our message at least once every six months, for four, and in some parts for five years, there seems to be as great a readiness to listen as ever: they do not appear to be wearied of the old story, repeated though it be for the tenth or twentieth time. In some instances there is a thoughtfulness apparent which encourages the preacher; but in very many cases it is clear that the message has been thoroughly understood and is remembered. Thus, our systematic itinerancy has, under God, effected all that man can effect. It has told men, in such a way as to bring it home to their understanding and to convince their judgment, of their danger, and of the only way of salvation. Once or twice declaring the message would not, I conceive, have accomplished this; but it would seem to be the result of constant repeated preaching at regular intervals, sometimes by Europeans, sometimes by native agents, accompanied by the distribution of Scriptures and tracts. It is, of course, not very easy to decide exactly the amount or the value of this result; but two circumstances have a good deal impressed my own mind in connexion with this. First, that Mr. Meadows, on his way to Madras a few months since, was much struck with the very different way in which his hearers, in villages a little off the road, listened to the Gospel, from that in which it is heard by the people of our district. They seemed to know nothing about what was said, and to be hardly able to comprehend it; while here there is a degree of intelligence and a measure of response, which shows, if I may so say, that preaching has prepared the way for preaching. The other fact is, that Joseph Cornélius, our oldest Tamil associate, told me lately, that whereas, at first coming into the district, five years ago, he found it necessary to employ many illustrations in order to arrest attention, and indeed to make the truth at all comprehended, he now finds that a simple unadorned statement of Christian facts and doctrines gains the same attention, and is evidently understood.

With regard to the Mission agents of the district, when I compare them as they are now, with what they were when we first entered on our work five years ago, I cannot but thank God, and take courage. At times I am inclined to think this the most hopeful feature of progress of any that I can point to. Five or six unsatisfactory agents have at various times resigned or been dismissed, and in their place have been found as many as ten efficient labourers, all of them, I believe, true children of God, and some of them first-rate catechists. Some of these have been supplied by my brother Missionaries in the South, they having freely given them up for duty at this outpost of the Tinnevely Mission. Three of them, as I mentioned above, are supported by the Tinnevely Church Missionary Association. The funds of this Association are just now in a particularly flourishing condition. After paying off all the year's expenses, including the month's salary, and batta of the seventeen monthly catechists, as well as that of the three permanent agents, it was found that there was a balance of Rs. 1300 in the Treasurer's hands; and it was resolved at the annual meeting last month to send four additional permanent itinerators so soon as volunteers for the work can be found. Thus the number of seven itinerators supported by the native Church may be completed. With such a reinforcement, in addition to the regular catechists of the congregations, I feel that we may still provide for the Gospel being statedly preached over the whole ground, notwithstanding the serious diminution of our European force.

I wish distinctly to state that I cannot for a moment regard the experiment, which was commenced this time five years ago, as having proved in the least a failure. The fact that there are now 637 baptized Christians in a district in which there were then about 400, and that there are fifteen or twenty villages in which there are now Christians, which were then entirely heathen, speaks for itself. And the amount of knowledge of Christianity diffused through the district is, I believe, as real, though perhaps a less tangible result. Nor do I feel in the least discouraged that more has not been accomplished. More, much more, will, I believe, soon show itself. My native associates, and the catechists from the south, are equally convinced with myself of the wisdom of the plan, and equally hopeful of speedy results. But at the same time, it is, I think, a matter well worthy of consideration, whether our itinerating has not done its work, and whether the pillar of cloud is not lifting up itself, and calling upon us to strike our tents, and plunge deeper into the wilderness of heathenism.

If the Missionary were one who had thoroughly entered himself into the itinerating plan, he might, with the assistance of these coadjutors, continue to provide for the periodical visiting of every heathen village and hamlet throughout the district. Such of the European itinerators who still wish to preach the Gospel not where Christ is named, and who sigh after the "regions beyond," would then be free to launch forth to some part of the Tamil country in which heathenism is still undisturbed. And thus the North Tinnevely itinerancy might repeat itself in South Arcot or Chingleput.

Indirect influence of North Tinnevely.

One example may be given of the reflex benefit to the Missions in the south, of the employment of catechists in the itinerancy of the north. Mr. Dibb writes, October 14, 1858—

A few days ago, a catechist of the Dohnavur district, who had been up to the north with Mr. Ragland for a month, came to me shortly after his return, accompanied by another catechist, and made a proposal. He said he had been thinking much about the heathen of our own district, and thought it much to be regretted that more was not done for them. He said he had, during the single month of his sojourn in the north, declared the substance of the Gospel to a greater number of souls than he had done before during the whole three years of his appointment as catechist. Taking this to heart, he had proposed to his companion, who immediately consented, that they should offer their services as itinerating catechists in the Dohnavur district. I at once showed him the Madras almanac, in which I had been marking the population of the district, estimated at upwards of 193,000, out of whom, young and old, only about 2000 are under Christian instruction, and of whom perhaps about another 30,000 or 40,000 occasionally hear us preach. I may be mistaken, but I much fear that all the rest know nothing of Christianity but the reports that get abroad concerning it, that is to say, really nothing, so far as the soul is concerned. Thus I showed him that I shared his concern, and we knelt down to pray the Lord of the harvest that He would send forth more labourers into his harvest, and give them more abundant and increasing success. I got a letter from him this morning, hoping that, at least by January 1859, the necessary arrangements for such a plan may be complete.

IV. TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN.

 Rev. H. Andrews (m) 1855.
 Rev. J. H. Wilkinson (m) 1858.
 Mr. P. G. Schaffter, 1857, Printer.

General remarks.

During the last year several changes have taken place in this Mission. The Rev. E. Johnson has been compelled by the health of his family to return to England. The Rev. R. H. Vickers has been removed to Madras. The Rev. J. H. Wilkinson has joined the Mission. The Rev. H. Harley has removed for a season to the hills; and the Rev. J. G. Beüttler has the charge of Trichur, as well as Kunnankullam.

The annual reports of all the Missionaries in Travancore exhibit a gradual but slow progress. Without attempting to describe each station, the present review will record only a few of the leading features of the work.

Contrast between the past and present time.

The Rev. David Fenn having attended the Ootacamund conference, before returning to his Mission in North Tinnevely, visited Travancore, which had a peculiar interest to him, as it was the scene of his father's labours between thirty and forty years ago; and one of his father's associates, the Rev. H. Baker, still survived to welcome him to the Mission, who was led by this visit to take the following retrospect of his lengthened labours—

A son of one of our former Missionaries visited us a short time ago, and was inquiring minutely into the changes that had taken place here since his father's time, first in regard to outward things, and then with regard to those of greater importance; and I was much struck with the magnitude the work had assumed. The thing had grown up under my own eyes, and I had failed to notice its steady progress. Let us give to Him the praise to whom it is due. May He vouchsafe us more grace in our own souls, and a greater measure of blessing on our work, that not only we, but all the inhabitants of the land, may be constrained to exclaim, What hath God wrought!

Progress of the Mission.

The Rev. R. Collins incidentally alludes, in a late letter, to the progress of the Mission—

Of the success, under the loving protection of the Almighty, of our organization, it need only be mentioned, that at the present moment a new edition of 6000 Family Prayers are ordered to be printed, to enable us to form at least some estimate of its measure. Or take another fact, of a different but not less striking nature—Last Sunday, in the Mission of Cottayam, no less than two hundred slaves worshipped God with tears (this is no figure of speech), and listened with intense earnestness to that tale, which has melted so many hearts, as no other tale can. And these are independent of many others of the same caste, who meet at Mundakayam and Tiruwella. Who shall say that God is not stretching forth his mighty arm over this people? The slaves mentioned, it should never be forgotten, have joined from entirely disinterested motives: moreover, some of them lately bought a piece of ground on which to build their church or school, for no less a sum than thirty rupees, or thereabouts.

Increase of Christian Literature—The Press.

Mr. Baker writes, in his annual letter at the close of the year—

I am happy to report that we are gradually getting a good set of school-books in the native language.

The business of the Press is going on steadily. Our new American printing-machine is now in daily use, and we hope soon to get all our work done by it. The labour of turning it is almost too much for the ordinary natives of this country. The new edition of the Old Testament for the Bible Society has been printed as far as Esther. The monthly periodical is carried on. A work by Joseph Fenn, a native in the public service, who died some time ago, has been reprinted for his son; and there are several other works in the press for the School-book Society and others. We have no lack of work, either in the way of printing, book-binding, or founding of type, and our stock of supplies is again nearly complete. A few things most needed we have just written for. We have the same trial in regard to workmen in this department, that we complain of in regard to Mission assistants. There are new presses being set up in various places, as well as by the Government, and the demand for good workmen at liberal wages is common. In one respect we cannot but rejoice at this, as, by means of these presses, knowledge will spread, and the number of readers be increased, and fresh ways of access for the word of God into the dwellings and into the hearts of the people will be opened up throughout the length and breadth of the land.

A Native Pastor's Report of his Charge.

The Rev. Ooman Mamen thus writes in his annual letter—

I am sorry to say, that, though it is sixteen years since a Protestant congregation was formed at Codukalaguy, not a single heathen was added to the church. The greater part of the inhabitants of the village are Sudras, and our people live interspersed amongst them. In all our prayer-meetings we pray for them. I know not whether our careless profession of the Gospel be a stumbling-block for them. I cannot forbear mentioning here that one evil in the Travancore Mission which affects the progress of the evangelization of the country, is, that the Syrians, who form the first-fruits and majority of our congregations, generally have a natural apathy to the heathen. The preciousness of Christ is not sufficiently impressed upon their own minds, so as to stir them up to communicate to others what they freely received. The influence of caste is another hindrance to the progress of the Gospel: hence, if people of one caste profess Christianity, they have no natural influence over, and sympathy with, people of other castes, so as to diffuse it among the population at large.

The Principle of Independence and Self-support encouraged in the Converts.

The Rev. J. G. Beüttler, who has charge of the Kunnankullam district, writes—

I report, with thankfulness to God, that the people connected with the Mission have, on the whole, gone on satisfactorily. They attend church regularly, and prayer-meetings are held in their houses. During the week they follow their various occupations, being burdensome to no man.

In all my schools the paying system is regularly carried out. It is true the amount of fees is but small, but the acknowledgment of the principle is every thing. So far from suffering in numbers on this account, the attendance at my schools has been increased, and, in one case, doubled. As I am very careful in the selection of my schoolmasters, the people know that they may safely commit their children to them. Several earnest applications for schools I cannot comply with, simply because I have not the proper agents. My maxim, both as regards readers and schoolmasters, is, better none than suspicious ones. I support one master by the fees collected.

A new church has been erected by Mr. Beüttler's exertions, at a cost of 350*l.*, of which only 80*l.* was contributed out of the Jubilee Fund: the remainder was collected from friends. Mr. Beüttler reports—

The building stands upon a hill overlooking the large town, and I am told the bell is heard on Sunday in every house throughout the bazaar. The opening of it, on the 21st of October, was very interesting, our whole Missionary staff, both European and native, being assembled for our quarterly meeting. We had, as usual, an English service and sacrament; and in the evening a Malayalim Missionary meeting, where most of our friends spoke. May this outward material temple be blessed to the preparation of those spiritual temples in which the Holy Ghost shall glorify both the Father and the Son!

The Hill Araans, and the Slaves

Mr. Fenn thus alludes to the Mission among the Araans and the slaves—

In the evening I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Baker, jun., the Missionary of Mundakayam. This interesting station, situated among the hills, twenty or thirty miles east of Cottayam, though only recently occupied, is among the most promising in the whole Malayalim country. I was very sorry that the season of the year precluded my paying it a visit. It was a satisfaction to be able to hear from the Missionary's own lips an account of its progress. Once every half-year, public baptism is administered to those who have been sufficiently long under instruction, and who are judged suitable candidates for the rite. On the last two or three occasions there have been as many as seventy each time; and on the next, which will take place in September, a still larger number, it is expected, will be found fit.

The diligence of these poor mountaineers, in committing to memory their appointed lessons, is very praiseworthy. Among the converts are one or two who were formerly devil-dancers, and I was told that the confessions made by these men of their sensations and emotions while waiting, perhaps in vain, for the afflatus, or while actually under its influence, are, as might be expected, very remarkable. Some of the new converts at Mundakayam are slaves; and I was much interested to find that the movement which some years ago began, if I remember right, at Tiruwella, has been spreading as far as the hills, and that from thence there has come again a reflex influence upon the slaves in the low country; for last year, at a certain season, some heathen slaves went as usual from the low country to work in the neighbourhood of Mundakayam: there they found that their friends and relatives had embraced the new religion. They were so much pleased with what they saw of it, that, on returning to their own homes, they sought for instruction in Christianity for themselves and their children. This has happened both in the Cottayam and Pallam districts, and the new congregations from this despised class fill the Missionaries' hearts with hope. They work for good, also, in another way, as the students at the College have evinced a desire to help forward the work, and are not ashamed to be seen talking kindly to a slave inquirer ; and this, surely, is something gained, when we consider how defiled and polluted these poor creatures are considered to be by all other classes of Travancore. Nowhere, perhaps, has caste such a strong sway.

Mr. Matthan, writing from Mallapalli, August 11, 1858, states—

You also kindly inquire about the state of the slave congregation in this neighbourhood. Though I cannot report of any tensive or remarkable movement now going on amongst them, I am thankful to say that the footing we have got among them is being strengthened. As it was in this place, where slavery exists in the most rigid form, that an opening was first made for the introduction of the Gospel amongst this poor degraded class of people, a severe persecution was raised by the masters against the converts, many of whom were in consequence compelled to seek shelter in Mundakayam, and other places. This greatly thinned our numbers in this place, and has given a temporary check to the movement, but it has been productive of the greatest good ; for the runaways, as in the time of St. Stephen, carried the knowledge of the Gospel with them wherever they went, and spread it among their fellow-slaves in those places. It was thus that congregations were formed in the above-mentioned two places.

Another of the native pastors, Mr. Oomen Mamen, thus describes the same work—

The interesting sight of a large number of slaves who crowded the church, their order and solemn manner, made such a deep impression upon me, that I could not but give myself quite up to the current of my own feelings. The prophecy in Isaiah xxxv. is strikingly fulfilled in the case of these poor slaves—"The eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. For in the wilderness shall waters break out and streams in the desert, and the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water." I took the morning service, and at noon Mr. Peet came and baptized sixty-two of the inquirers, and united thirteen pairs in marriage. A good number received the memorials of our Lord's death. Some of these poor slaves are exposed to painful trials, their masters, though professedly Christians, wishing to compel them to remove the landmarks of others' paddy ground, to steal the crop of their masters' enemies, and sometimes to conceal smuggled tobacco.

I beg to state a few remarks upon Christianity among the slaves generally. First, that, like all our converts from other classes, the slaves gain nothing temporally by becoming Christians. They serve the same master, receive the same wages, and hold the same position of outcasts. Secondly, their character is visibly changed : polygamy, drunkenness, and theft, which are their predominant vices, are discontinued in many. Lastly, the rapid progress of Christianity amongst them in so short a time, is, in a great measure, attributable to the pious efforts of the slaves themselves, under God's blessing.

Education—Cottayam College.

The Rev. D. Fenn visited this college, and gives a passing but valuable notice of its progress. The number of students is 68.

Some few years ago, various circumstances combined to reduce this college to a very low state; indeed, it was little, if at all, better than an ordinary station boarding-school. The last two or three years it seems to have been steadily recovering. Mr. Collins was giving a lesson to the first class, while I was there, in "Paley's Evidences" and, in Greek, in St. Matthew's Gospel: they seemed thoroughly to enter into both subjects. The second class were employed in writing a prose paraphrase of a rather difficult piece from Pope: many of them did it very creditably.

The college was examined in Aug. 1858; and the report of the examiners bears testimony to the efficiency with which the establishment has been conducted.

As the main object of the college is to supply the Mission with competent native agents, the following remarks of the Principal are recorded with much satisfaction.

You will not be surprised, when I remind you that I have been here only three and a half years, and that I found the first class still comparatively children, and that I have not sent out more than two of my boys into Mission work. But yet I feel grateful to God when I am able to say, that already we are commencing a little work abroad, a work which has not been forced, but which has grown up silently and unobtrusively, fostered, I must feel, by other care than man's. I refer to the fact that several of my boys gladly, and, as I believe, most eagerly, go on Sunday mornings, some a distance of three, and others a distance of eight miles, to teach, or, in fact, to preach, to two congregations of slaves each numbering at present about one hundred persons. The slave schoolmasters at these two places are supported entirely by subscriptions from the college. I hope, then, that there is at least some little evidence that the great object for which I labour, and pray, in the college—namely, that my boys should grow up not only Malayalim, Sanskrit, Greek, and English scholars, but that they should be prepared, under the Holy Spirit's guidance, ere long, to bear something of the "burden and heat of the day" in our Lord's mighty harvest-field—is in some measure understood and appreciated by them. For, as I have already said, their present services are almost entirely voluntary, (their teaching in the slave schools being at their own request,) and are rather sanctioned than prompted by me.

Mr. Fenn notices another branch of education, which is not less important than the training up of native teachers as catechists and pastors.

During the day I saw Mrs. Collins' little boarding-school for girls. Its object is to educate the children of the native clergy, and the wives or sisters of the more respectable among the college students. For notwithstanding the many girls' boarding-schools in the Mission, it would seem that the wives of some of the Mission agents, and even some members of the families of the native pastors, are still uneducated.

Prospects of the Syrian Christians.

Mr. Fenn was led to form a hope that the Syrian church might yet be visited with light and reformation. He thus explains his views—

Three things that I heard in this place concerning the Syrians encouraged me to hope that their church may even yet be eventually reformed. I do not mean to assert that such things have not existed in times gone by. If they did, their recurrence now seems to me equally a matter of thankfulness, if not equally of hopefulness. They seem to me to show that a knowledge of the truth is circulating among the people; and if so, though it may be in vain to expect any thing from the unprincipled clergy of the church, yet why may we not hope for some movement among the laity, similar to what took place not many years ago among the Armenians of Asia*Minor?

Of the points to which I allude, the first is, that the Syrians are fond of reading our books. I was told that there is hardly a house in Kunnankullam where some portion of our Scriptures would not be found, and that in walking along the street of an evening one hears in many houses the voices of the inmates engaged in family prayer, the book they use for this purpose being one prepared by our Missionaries. A tract "Identity of Romanism and Heathenism," recently translated from Tamil into Malayalim, has been largely read by the Syrians. To this reading of Protestant books the Cattanars offer no opposition, though they have, at least in Kunnankullam, prevented some who had begun to attend the services at our church from continuing to do so. The Syro-Romanists, on the other hand, are strictly forbidden by their priests from reading any "Cottayam books."

A second encouraging feature is the readiness of the Syrians to reform some outward abuses. When Mr. Beüttler first came to this place, Sunday trading was almost, if not quite, universal: now in consequence of his remonstrances, it has ceased. There was also at that time, in the Syrian Church, a shrine erected over the tomb of some priest or bishop, which was the object of reverence. Mr. Beüttler used to speak about the sin of praying to or for the dead, and there was a party in the place who desired to see the shrine removed. The superstitious part of the community would not, however, yield the point. Things went on thus for some time, until at last a body of the iconoclastic party, entering the church at night, demolished the shrine, and its fragments were found next morning scattered about the town.

The third hopeful sign is the willingness of the Syrians to have their schools superintended by the Missionary, as evidenced in the case of the two schools above mentioned. In spite of all such hopeful indications, however, experience seems to have taught the Travancore brethren to look for stable converts, rather from among the heathen than from the Syrian Church. Let us pray, that whether from Syrians, Romanists, or Heathen, the great Head of the Church may speedily grant a Pentecostal increase to the little flock in Kunnankullam. "The number of the names together" are now literally "about 120." Oh that we may soon hear that there have been "added to them three thousand souls!"

In connexion with this subject, the following extract from the letter of a native Missionary will be read with interest—

May I relate a little about the progress of the good work begun by the late Abraham Malpan of Maramen, who was personally known to you? The Liturgy and general practice of Maramen is an anomaly in the Syrian Church. The new Metran might have levelled it to the state of other Syrian churches, were it not for the interference of the faithful parishioners.. It is nearly two years since they employed a pious and active Scripture reader, who was trained and previously employed by the Missionaries of the London Missionary Society. The whole parish is now in an awakened state. A Sunday-afternoon Bible meeting was commenced as early as the beginning of 1857. The Lord's-day is very solemnly kept. The priest and people have permitted the reader to preach in their church publicly. Nor is this all. Daily evening prayer-meetings are held at present throughout the whole parish. What an interesting sight is that of the villagers meeting together in one house in the solemn evening, not to eat or drink, nor to dance or be merry, but to hear the precious word of God, and to pray to their common Father!

COCHIN.

A congregation of native Christians at this place, numbering 326 souls, forms the native pastorate of the Rev. George Curean, under the zealous and enlightened superintendence of the Rev. Thomas Whitehouse, the chaplain. Trials have arisen within the native church from the infirmities of professing Christians; and only a small increase has been added from the surrounding heathen; the members of the Syrian church in this neighbourhood appear to be more than ever opposed to Protestant truth, even those amongst them who have been taught in the Cottayam college. Yet Mr. Curean is able to state the following encouraging circumstance in connexion with his congregation:—

Amongst the good results of our work here, I have an encouraging particular to bring before the friends and supporters of our Mission. The people seem to realize the maxim of our Lord, "It is better to give than to receive." Almost every one of them came forward last year to add their mites to the "Native-Pastors' Endowment Fund." We have not had many conversions from heathenism, though we have several catechumens under instruction.

Mr. Whitehouse also writes at the close of the year—

Though we cannot boast of much increase in numbers, I believe I can corroborate the statement of my native brother that there is a growing improvement among our people, and the moral tone of the public opinion of their little community, I believe, is every year rising, and they are beginning more truly to understand that a Missionary Society is not formed to supply the temporal wants of the few in this land, but to preach the Gospel to every creature, and to constitute, as soon as may be, self-supporting Christian congregations, who shall, in their turn, freely give to others that which they have freely received themselves. I hope the day is not far distant when we shall, in this place, realize all this, should God spare us to labour in India a few more years.

V. TELUGU MISSION.

The Mission comprises 3 stations, viz. 1. Masulipatam, 1841; 2. Ellore, 1854; 3. Bezvara, 1858.

Mission Establishment:

Rev. R. T. Noble, B.A., 1841.

Rev. J. E. Sharkey (m) }
Rev. T. Y. Darling (m) } educated in India.

Rev. C. Tanner (m) 1857.

Rev. F. W. N. Alexander, B.A., (m) 1857.

Mr. Francis Goodall 1856 trained schoolmaster.

MASULIPATAM.

During the last year important steps in advance have been taken by the occupation of Ellore by the Rev. F. W. N. Alexander, with Mr. T. Howley as master of the native-English school; while Bezvara has been occupied by the Rev. T. Y. Darling, with Mr. Culling as master of the native-English school. The native-English school at Masulipatam has been carried on as in former years by the Rev. R. T. Noble, assisted by the Rev. C. Tanner, W. E. Jellicoe, Esq., late of the Civil Service, and Mr. Francis Goodall. The Mission at Masulipatam and its neighbourhood is conducted by the Rev. J. E. Sharkey.

Mr. Darling, before his removal to Bezvara, continued his labours in preaching to the heathen in the city and neighbourhood. He speaks of the increased difficulty of dealing with those who have imbibed the principles of Vedantism. "How much" he exclaims "Vedantism pervades the minds of the whole mass, with a few exceptions of the Telugu people! How great an obstacle this to the spread of the truth! How great an incentive to vice! 'Not by power, nor by might, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord,' else I should despair of the conversion of a single man of this class."

English School.

The following honourable testimony is borne to the efficiency of this school in the "Report on Public Instruction, published by authority, for 1857-58."

There is no school in my division in which so much is taught. In the higher classes a comparatively-speaking high standard is being gradually attained; and in the junior classes the meaning of their English lessons is more thoroughly explained to the boys than in any school with which I am acquainted. The actual quantity of each subject gone through in each class is perhaps not so great as it is in some schools; but that is a necessary result, both of the extent of the curriculum and of the thoroughness with which the different subjects embraced in it are taught. It is satisfactory to find that so well-conducted an institution has been enabled to extend its operations, and that the value of the instruction imparted in it is fully appreciated by the Hindu community, as evidenced by the greatly-increased attendance, notwithstanding the establishment of the rival school in the Pettah.

The attendance had increased from 120 to 170 since the Inspector's previous visit.

Female School.

Mrs. Sharkey's female boarding-school has continued to prosper. It contains 59 girls. Mrs. Cotton has kindly presided over the public examinations for the last six years. At the close of 1858 she again presided, and states in her report—

I have just returned with far more mixed feelings than I think I have before experienced in my six years' constant visits to Mr. and Mrs. Sharkey's girls'-school, from what is probably the last examination I shall attend there. Never had the whole scene appeared brighter to me. Most ardently did I desire that our loved friends might long be spared to assemble round them those groups of young immortals, and gradually pave the way for a wider growth of heart and intellect by the culture of their daughters, in the thousands of native families in this district who have only this one school to afford them such aid.

It was painful to hear Mr. Sharkey's reference to the general darkness now existing, that while his school consisted of but 59 girls, there were 20,000 uneducated and uncared-for women in this town alone, and 166,000 in the district, and that among these some 16,000 were widows; some of whom were, perhaps, only a few months' old, who, from their childhood upwards, would know nothing but degradation and contempt.

The same school was examined in October 1858 by Captain R. M. Macdonald, Government Inspector of Schools, who reports upon it—

I have in my former reports borne testimony to the excellence of the instruction imparted in this school, and to the care and attention which are bestowed on the pupils by Mr. and Mrs. Sharkey. Every year I see some improvement in it, new branches of study being introduced into the higher classes, and a higher standard being by degrees attained in the lower. The school appears to me to be in as satisfactory a condition as it would be possible to wish.

Ellore.

Mr. Alexander has been devoting his time to the acquisition of the language. He furnishes a few particulars of the place, which prove that it must be regarded as a stronghold of Satan. The population is about 20,000, in the proportion of 16,000 Hindus to 4000 Moslems. Mr. Alexander adds—

Ellore and its inhabitants are notorious for robbery, violence, and falsehood. This I know to be actually the case, for every intelligent native speaks in the same strain. As to the quarelling, it seems never to cease: on all sides the noise of combatants may be heard, women being generally foremost in the affray. Socially, too, the people of Ellore are much inferior to the natives of Masulipatam.

Other places have had the benefit of Christian influence and example, the incalculable benefit of living witnesses, to shake the strong foundation of heathenism. Other places have had Missionaries openly attacking Satan's stronghold, preaching that mighty word which is the power of God unto salvation, snatching prey from the mighty in the face of an astonished people, scattering good seed by Bibles, tracts, &c., distributed on all sides. But Ellore has never been even so far blessed. Once, indeed, God seemed visiting this place with returning mercy, when the Rev. Mr. Grönning, Lutheran Missionary, was established here, but after a very short time he departed in search of a more fruitful field. Again, the Rev. G. English was sent with the glad tidings of salvation, but his attention was almost entirely confined to the English school; so that, with the exception of an occasional visit from Mr. Sharkey, the people remain in all their primeval darkness, grossly bigoted and blindly attached to the soul-destroying superstition of many ages.

Bezvara.

The town of Bezvara has been added as a station of the Telugu Mission. It is an important place, and the centre of a populous district. The Missionaries from Masulipatam had been in the habit of paying occasional visits, and though the distance is forty miles, those visits had been on an average once a year. In February 1858, the Rev. T. Y. Darling commenced his residence at the station. He found thirty-four native Christians to form a congregation, but as they had been living without any regular ordinances of grace, they have required much patience and watchfulness in the Missionary. Mr. Darling has established an English school, which was at first much opposed by the Brahmins, on the ground of its scriptural instruction, and an attempt was made to set up another school in opposition, which soon failed. At the close of the year there were thirty-one youths. "It is a matter of thankfulness (Mr. Darling writes) that we have now the sons of the great and the rich people, as well as a few poor but respectable boys of the lower castes, reading together in the school." Mr. Darling has also visited thirty neighbouring villages, some of them once, others many times. The district comprises 115 villages, with a population of 42,328 souls.*

General view of the Ceylon Mission.

THE Missionary strength of the Ceylon Mission has been reduced during the past year by the absence of the Rev. C. C. Fenn upon a short visit to England, and the failure of the health of Mr. Bren, which has compelled him to retire altogether from the Mission. During the year, however, Mr. Higgens was able to return to his work at Kandy, and a new Missionary, Mr. M'Arthur, has been sent out in the place of Mr. Bren. The general aspect of the work in the island has remained as in former years. The Cooly Mission in the coffee estates exhibits increasing importance and encouragement. Mr. Whitley paid a visit to the Tinnevelly Mission at the commencement of the year, and having spent about three weeks in examining the work at several of the principal stations, he made the following remarks upon a comparison of the work in Tinnevelly with that in Ceylon—

In reviewing all that we saw during our stay in Tinnevelly, it is impossible not to thank God, and take courage. Most undoubtedly the Gospel has advanced, and the Holy Spirit has begun to cause "the desert to rejoice and blossom as the rose." Making every deduction for mere formalism and nominal Christianity, we must believe that there is much of vitality about the religion of these tawny inhabitants of the palmyra plains. Some of them have stood the test of persecutions before which, I fear, the faith of many professedly Christian Europeans would have quailed. Notwithstanding this, I am far from supposing that the contrast with the christianized parts of Ceylon is so very unfavourable to the latter. It has, perhaps, been too common to assume, that, in their natural and spiritual aspects, Ceylon and Tinnevely must be reversed : that whereas, in Tinnevely, the works of grace are beautiful, but those of nature are unattractive to the eye ; in Ceylon the latter are lovely beyond description, but spiritually it is almost a desert. We ought not to indulge such feelings. Our schools among the Singhalese, our week-day and Sabbath congregations, our native Missionary Associations, the undoubted piety of some of the converts—all lead us to believe that a blessing has been vouchsafed, and that, in answer to our more united and more earnest and frequent prayer, the Holy Spirit will be further poured upon us. There are obstacles here which are not found in many parts of Tinnevely—the chilling influence of Buddhism, the independence of the natives, the influence, alas ! of unconverted, indifferent, and even immoral Europeans. Taking into consideration these circumstances, we feel that we ought not to be weary in well-doing, in preaching in and out of season the simple doctrines of free and full salvation in Christ, believing that in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

COLOMBO AND COTTA DISTRICT.

Colombo.

The Rev. H. Whitley has charge of the Mission church in Colombo, and the Mission in Slave Island, connected with it. At the close of the year he writes—

The average morning congregation at the English service has been 100 ; that in the evening, 77. The sum of 334*l.* has been raised in Colombo during the year, for work in connexion with the Society's labours.

The Tamil congregation has been, I am thankful to say, increased. The church has served as a rallying-point for the members of native congregations migrating from Tinnevely during their sojourn in Colombo. The Singhalese congregation is not so large, though I do not know the cause of the decrease. Not long ago I baptized three young men who had been some time under instruction, and gave us reason to believe they were sincere.

In a later communication Mr. Whitley writes—

While another year's labour in ministering to an English congregation has not led me to love less the work of evangelizing the heathen and the care of the native Christians, it has shown me more than ever the importance of this branch of my duty. Whatever tends to the spiritual welfare of one's own countrymen—whatever builds them up in the maintenance of the doctrines of the Bible—whatever sets before them the redeeming love of Christ—urges that as a constraining motive for their constant, prayerful efforts for the salvation of souls—this must be real Missionary work ; work which a Missionary not only may, but, in some circumstances, must engage in, if he heartily desire the conversion of the degraded heathen.

The Missionary work of the Cotta station has been carried on by Mr. Wood and the native minister, the Rev. C. Jayesinhe.

The report of the Rev. I. Wood, for the year ending September 30th, 1858, presents some discouraging features. These the friends of our cause will bear in mind, and carry with them before a throne of grace, that it may please the great Head of the church to animate the sluggish souls of those who know enough virtually to renounce the faith of their fathers, but not enough to grasp the hope that is in Christ Jesus. Of one of his principal congregations he writes—

Out of one hundred and eighty families in Etul Cotta, forty-four only have joined us. Our progress among them has been slow. Mr. Collins commenced Missionary work in this village in 1847, when from four to seven individuals used to meet on Sundays in a verandah to hear him preach. A short time after that, schools were opened, and some of the people began to show a greater desire to hear the word of God. Thus a small congregation was gradually formed, and has since been kept together. Those who have not joined us manifest an utter indifference to all religion. They have learned enough of Christianity to undermine, and, in some instances, to overthrow, the hold that Buddhism formerly had on their minds; but the majority of them appear to have no desire whatever to advance further. If, however, the state of the village when our services and schools were first commenced be considered, this is something gained.

Some months ago the names of eleven members of this congregation were struck off the list for being present at a heathen ceremony for the recovery of a sick relative. When this was announced to them they endeavoured to prove that there was nothing in the ceremony derogatory to their profession of Christianity. The fact is, that, like the majority of the people in the immediate neighbourhood of the compound, they thought that some of their heathenish practices might be well grafted upon their Christianity. The prevailing opinion in and around Cotta is, that the being half Christian and half Buddhist is far better than being either decidedly Christian or Buddhist. Between the two they fancy that certain deliverance from future punishment must be obtained.

There are forty-two schools under Mr. Wood's superintendence. The number of children on the list is 1427, of whom 641 are girls. Respecting this department of vernacular education Mr. Wood writes—

Our great want, which must be met by some means before long, is training establishments for masters and mistresses. If we can get assistance from the Christian Vernacular Education Society for India there will be no difficulty in forming such an establishment, with a good vernacular school in connexion with it, for masters at Cotta, and a similar one for mistresses in Slave Island, Colombo. Promising young persons of both sexes may, I think, be easily found, who would gladly avail themselves of such institutions for the purpose of fitting themselves for educational employ. There is a thirst for knowledge abroad which cannot be met by the very limited attainments of our present agents. Every effort, therefore, ought to be put forth to meet this emergency.

A portion of the Cotta district is under the charge of the native minister, the Rev. C. Jayesinha, comprising thirteen congregations and about 700 worshippers, with nineteen schools and about 600 scholars. He thus mentions the zeal of the people in one of his villages to enlarge their church—

The church of Talangama, which was built in 1850, having needed repairs and enlargement, the congregation contributed 20% out of the whole cost, which was 80%. It can now hold 250 persons very conveniently. The zeal displayed by the congregation at the erection of the church, as well as their consistent Christian conduct, have become, under God, the means of inviting the careless and the profligate to attend to the things belonging to their salvation. May our God cause his face to shine upon us, till his house is filled up with worshippers!

This important Educational Institution is under the charge of the Rev. Christopher C. Fenn, assisted by two trained schoolmasters, Messrs. Barton and Sorrell. At Midsummer Mr. Whitley took the temporary charge during Mr. Fenn's visit to Europe. Mr. Fenn's report of the Institution for the first six months of the year states that the number of pupils is about 120, 50 being boarders. The numbers are at present twice as great as they were five years ago, which is owing to the increased desire of education among the higher classes of the natives of the island. The time the pupils remain is comparatively brief, not being more than two or three years; but all receive instruction in the simple evidences of the truth of Christianity, and in Scripture. All pay for their instruction, except a few pupil-teachers, and others who are training as schoolmasters. There is a model or practising school connected with the Institution. Seventeen young men are now in the employment of the Society, who, during the last five years, have been pupil-teachers in the Institution. The main purpose, therefore, has been attained, of training up native agents, particularly schoolmasters. But Mr. Fenn admirably expresses the sentiments of a true Missionary in these words—

I feel less disposed than ever to be content with any amount of secular prosperity, increase of numbers at the Institution, rapid progress of the students in secular knowledge, increased attendance at congregations and schools, while brokenness of heart for sin, humble affection to the Saviour, zeal for his honour and glory, give so few satisfactory indications of their presence amongst the pupils, or amongst our adult native Christians.

Mr. Fenn also reports—

At the commencement of this year a confirmation was held. About fifteen or twenty young people belonging to the Institution were confirmed. Six or seven of this number became communicants. Of some of these I hope well. Perhaps a still more hopeful sign is, that ten or twelve of the students are now voluntary Sunday-school teachers in the neighbouring villages. This was not altogether a spontaneous movement, but took place after my having brought it before them collectively at the English sermon on Sunday evening early in this year. None, however, were individually addressed on the subject. There is reason to fear that two or three of them came forward only to gain the favour of an earthly superior, or at best to please a person to whom they thought themselves bound to show gratitude; but I hope that some of them at least were actuated by a better motive.

It must be admitted, however, that we still look in vain for any decided indications of genuine conversions among the students. I do not say there are none such: there are certainly some hopeful symptoms; but there seem to be no marked proofs of there being any such. Still I doubt not our heavenly Father is working in the way that his infinite wisdom sees to be the best. In connexion with this, I may mention, that during these eight months a former student, employed as master of the model vernacular school, voluntarily offered himself for catechist's work. One or two others have also expressed a similar wish; but I feel more than ever the need of earnest prayer to God that He would send forth, if it seem good to Him, native labourers into this portion of his vineyard.

During the last half-year the Institution was under the care of Mr. Whitley, who writes—

Our numbers have been much the same, about 120 boys altogether, of whom 46 are boarders. The whole work of the Institution is most interesting. Many of the boys listen very attentively to our Scripture lessons, and of some we have hope that a good work is begun in them. Of the majority, however, we cannot say much more than that their conduct and progress are generally satisfactory.

BADDAGAMA.

The Rev. G. Parsons has superintended this district. The native minister, Mr. Goonesekera, has resided at Baddagama, and has conducted the Mission in that neighbourhood. Mr. Parsons has directed his labours to the villages upon the coast. Mr. Parsons reports upon the whole district—

A retrospect of the year ending September 30, 1858, enables me to report that our work throughout the combined districts of Baddagama and the maritime ports has been on the whole progressive and encouraging. And when we reflect that the district had been for two years without European superintendence, and that during the greater part of the past year the European Missionary has been laid aside from active labour, it is doubly encouraging that we are able to report that our work is in a flourishing state. The average attendance at Divine service has increased from 86 to 156, in consequence of the opening of one or two new preaching-places. The aggregate number of communicants has increased from 54 to 59. Eight young men and women have been added by baptism, chiefly in the neighbourhood of Baddagama. Five schools—two for boys and three for girls—have been commenced during the year in promising localities.

Mr. Parsons has established schools at several villages on the coast, the schoolmasters of which are encouraged to make known the Gospel to the heathen generally. In some cases a Scripture reader is connected with the school; and the Missionary occasionally resides for a few weeks at the village; so that such schools become centres of evangelistic labours.

Mr. Parsons writes, in the review of his labours—

Our hopes of the adult population are still very small, if not even less than hitherto. One here and another there, serious inquirers or willing listeners, is all that we can point to. The majority seem deaf to our entreaties and blind to their danger. In many parts commercial enterprise has, during the last two or three years, superadded worldliness to carelessness about the truth. Nevertheless, we have abundant encouragement to go forward.

We have great encouragement from our schools, and feel confident that, when properly managed, they are the most hopeful means employed of teaching the Gospel. But these schools must have the constant superintendence of earnest-minded Christian teachers, otherwise they are useless as a means of evangelizing the pupils.

The number on the books has risen from 334 to 620 during the year: the average attendance from 214 to 367 only, because the new schools were at first thinly attended.

The increase in attendance is principally of girls. Last year there were 95 girls in attendance: at the close of the year, 309. This is a circumstance for which we are especially thankful. The want of more girls'-schools has been felt for some years past; but the difficulty of finding young women qualified to conduct these schools was so great, that we were not able to establish more than two schools for girls in the whole district.

Mr. Goonesekera writes respecting his department of the work—

In looking back on the past year with reference to the result of the Mission work at Baddagama, I find I cannot record any great success; but there have been a few individual conversions to Christianity, and some pleasing circumstances calculated to cherish the hope that the good and gracious Master of the Mission field is gradually preparing the way for a greater display of his converting grace. This may be inferred from a view of the past year's labours and their results.

Mr. Goonesekera has for several years carried on, with much success, a system of cottage lectures in the hamlets of the neighbourhood. Respecting this department of labours during the last year, he writes—"Cottage lectures, which are held regularly every week, have been to the adults what the schools are to the children, for they are collected together and taught, as if they were a class of children, in some part of the true religion, either by explaining a portion of Scripture, or by reading a religious tract, or by inviting their attention to some erroneous part of Buddha's doctrines."

Last year the number of cottage lectures was sixteen, whereof three were discontinued this year, their object having been attained, which was to induce them to a voluntary attendance at some place of divine worship, the services of the conductor being required for other parts. Eight others having been opened in the course of this year, the present number is twenty-one. The attention of the people attending these lectures has generally been better than what it was last year, and also the spirit of religious inquiry has been more roused, and, from the answers given to the questions put to them during the lectures, it appears some improvement has been made in the knowledge of morals and the true way of salvation.

KANDY.

The Rev. W. Oakley conducts the station duties of Kandy. In his annual review he cannot report any satisfactory progress, either in the congregation comprising between 300 and 400 souls, nor in the schools comprising 137 children. There were nine adult baptisms during the year: one was interesting, as being that of a Kandian, who had been for many years a Buddhist priest. "He is a man of considerable intelligence. He is well acquainted with the chief truths of the Christian religion, and appears very serious, and most anxious to benefit his countrymen. As he is possessed of property he is in no way dependent on the Society." Another interesting case was that of the daughter of a Kandian chief, "a person of considerable intelligence, and possessing a good knowledge of the Gospel. Her baptism took place in the midst of the congregation, on Sunday, Dec. 26th, and on the following Wednesday she was married to the son of a Kandian chief, who had been baptized some years since."

The retrospect of the year leads Mr. Oakley to speak of trials which may well call forth the sympathy and prayers of Christian friends.

During the past year I have met with considerable disappointment in some of my native assistants, and this, combined with the very small number of native labourers at this station, has greatly retarded the progress of my work here. I have funds in hand for a native pastor's salary, but see no prospect of meeting with a person whom I could recommend for the office. We had hoped to be able to nominate to the Parent Committee two or three young men for the office of deacon, who have long been engaged in the service of the Society, but for the present we are obliged to defer it. I have also large funds in hand for female education, but cannot possibly obtain suitable mistresses.

KANDY.

Itinerating branch of operations.

The Rev. E. T. Higgins, who in former years superintended the Itinerating department of the Mission, was absent in Europe during the year 1858. Upon his return to Ceylon at the close of the year, he writes—

During my absence in England this branch of the Kandy Mission was carried on by two native assistants, who are supported entirely by contributions from our native-Christian congregations in Cotta and Kandy. Mr. Oakley kindly undertook to superintend them, and I am thankful to say he expresses himself satisfied with the manner in which they have carried on their work. Their field of labour has been the district of Harris pattua to the north-west of Kandy, the whole of which I had previously visited three times, and as they were able to go through the whole district again once during the past year, the Gospel has now been preached four times at least in every principal village, and a large number of Christian books and tracts circulated among the people. The result of this, so far as we can learn at present, is, that many of the people are beginning to acquire a knowledge of the Gospel, and about a dozen different individuals, living in various villages throughout the district, express a desire to inquire more fully into the truth of our religion. My native assistants have now commenced visiting the villages in the same district again, and will, I trust, be enabled to go through the whole before the end of this year. By this means we hope that whatever knowledge has been already communicated will be deepened and increased, and that many others may be brought to learn something of Gospel truth.

The Kandy Collegiate School is under the charge of the Rev. J. Ireland Jones, who also assists in general Mission work. The object of the school is the same with the numerous "English" schools in India, namely, by giving a superior education, united with scriptural instruction, to influence for good the higher classes of native society, and diffuse a Missionary influence in quarters which would not be otherwise accessible. Mr. Jones gives the following account of the school—

The Kandy Collegiate School was opened November 13, 1857. The number of boys was at first 31, but rapidly increased. The average number on the books during the year has been about 75. The average attendance lately has been nearly 70, but this has been only for a few weeks, and now the numbers are less, the daily attendance keeping about 60. Of these, a fair proportion are Kandians and others Singhalese: the greater number, however, are European descendants; there are a very few Europeans and Tamils.

In his annual letter, Mr. Jones writes—

The year that has passed has been one with many blessings and privileges, not the least of which is having been permitted to take part in our glorious and happy work. I am fully persuaded, that, could the really earnest young men of our Universities and schools know how much joy and peace there is to balance all the trials and difficulties of a Missionary life, there would be among them a much more general and fervent desire to embrace it. There are, it is true, trials and temptations, but I find them lie far more in myself than in my work. May God give me strength day by day to strive against and overcome them!

The last term closed satisfactorily, as far as the examination went. The students were examined by the Chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Simons, and Mr. Sharpe, Deputy Fiscal. Both seemed very much pleased, and Dr. Simons remarked that he had never heard the answering equalled in Ceylon. I was glad that one subject, in which my own class answered admirably, was Christian Evidences. In some few who attend there seems a quiet earnestness which leads one to hope that, under the blessing of the Holy Spirit, they may yet give themselves entirely to Him. The three instances I have specially before me are all Kandians, of pure families. How much might these young men effect were their hearts truly dedicated to the Saviour! I want to see in them more feeling of their need of, and more earnestness of love to Jesus. I trust that with the new year new diligence and more spiritual life may begin, both in us and in those under our care.

TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

The principle in which this branch of the Mission is established is, that the Society appoints the Missionary, and pays his stipend and all his personal allowances, while a local fund, raised by the planters and other friends, bears the whole expense of the catechists' schools, and other charges of the Mission. The local fund amounts to between 300*l.* and 400*l.* a year. The average number of catechists, in the employment of the Mission, throughout the year, has been ten. All the coffee estates, in number about 500, in the Western, Central, and North-western Provinces, have been visited during the year several times. The number of Coolies is estimated at 80,000. Mr. Hobbs, the superintending Missionary, directs the catechists, receives their journals, visits throughout the district, and holds a Tamil service in Kandy on the Lord's-day. He reports most favourably respecting the diligence and faithfulness of the catechists. "Their reception by the European managers of the estates, by the conductors, and all the Tamil people, has been most courteous and kind. The cheerfulness with which the people listen to the preaching of the Gospel by the catechists is very gratifying, and the effects are beginning to develope themselves far and near." There have been many instances of conversions in Ceylon, but by far the greater part of the Tamil Christians on the estates have migrated from South India. The number of professing Christians reported in the several years during which the Mission has been conducted is as follows—in 1856, 381; in 1857, 504; in 1858, 651; of whom 344 are baptized.

Two extracts from the journals of Mr. Hobbs will illustrate the nature of the work—

June 13—At half-past five, Catechist A——n preached to the coolies assembled in this (the C.) estate. I have never heard a more suitable address. It was faithful and affectionate, simple and forcible, and most evangelical, from the text, "Neither is there salvation in any other." I added a few words. Another catechist was present, a young man, the most recent arrival. I was very glad that he had an opportunity of hearing such a sermon from the veteran.

Nov. 11—We have had the privilege of preaching the Gospel, during the three months last past, to about 65,000 different individuals, who, almost without exception, have listened with attention to the message. Mr. Tytler, who was present at the meeting, reminded me that, while walking with me through one of his estates a short time since, he had pointed out the site of an old devil temple, deserted, and so ruined that scarce a stick remained, standing or fallen. He said that subsequently, in a conversation with one of his people on quite a different topic, some allusion was made to devil worship, and that the man said, "We have left that now." Mr. Tytler asked why, and the man replied, "We knew no better before these catechists came, but now it is all useless and wrong." Mr. Tytler asked them, "Why do you not profess yourselves Christians?" The man said, "We are afraid of our relatives on the coast." A great impression has doubtless been produced, and I pray God it may be permanent, and that the people may not only forsake their vanities, but be led by the Holy Spirit to believe in Jesus, to the saving of their souls. And this is, I believe, the devout wish and earnest prayer of every Catechist employed in the Mission.

The Tamil congregation in the town of Kandy has progressed satisfactorily throughout the year. The average attendance has been about 70, and, on some occasions, about 100 have been present. The services have been held in a small room, lent by the Society for the purpose.

JAFFNA DISTRICT.

This district has been deprived, through the afflictive dispensation of God, for a portion of the year, of the presence of European Missionaries. For the first half-year, Mr. Pargiter being absent in England, the Rev. R. Bren was alone in charge of the whole district, and in the full hope of remaining at his station until Mr. Pargiter's return. The Parent Committee also assigned another Missionary, Mr. M'Arthur, to the district, in the prospect of Mr. Bren being compelled by his health to retire. A sudden accession of illness precipitated this retirement, and Mr. M'Arthur arrived in Ceylon a fortnight after Mr. Bren's departure. Shortly afterwards he embarked from Jaffna to the opposite coast, to meet his wife, but was carried by a violent monsoon to Calcutta. Thus the Mission was again deprived of European superintendence. Under these circumstances, Mr. Foulkes went from Madras to Jaffna to supply the vacancy. Mr. M'Arthur reached the station about the same time.

Notwithstanding the absence of European Missionaries, all the regular services were carried on by native teachers. The Committee have not, therefore, received an annual report of the station, but a letter of Mr. Bren during the first part of the year will supply a few interesting particulars.

Copay, April 10—We had a very interesting day at Copay on the 17th of March. At the request of the chief persons connected with the congregation, a special day and service was appointed for the bringing in of the first-fruits. When the heathen commence their harvest they put aside a certain portion for their temples, gurus, &c. We felt that the custom of offering the first-fruits to God was good, and called upon all the members of the congregation to do so. When our converts renounced heathenism, they seem to have renounced also every idea of their doing any thing for the church or service of God. We hope this will be a means of bringing them back to a sense of their duty, and break through the impression that the Mission is bound to do everything for them. The youths in the Institution decorated the church, and at the appointed time it was very interesting to see the people assembling, bringing with them baskets of puddy and vegetables, bunches of plantain, cocoa-nuts, &c. We had an interesting service. I addressed them from Proverbs iii. 9, 10, pointing out the duty and benefit of honouring God with the first-fruits of all our increase. After the sermon I went to the communion-table and read the offertory sentences, while the people brought up their baskets of produce, &c. Those who did not bring paddy, &c., gave money. We collected altogether to the value of 2*l.* 10*s.* All seemed pleased and interested. We hope that the good work will go on, and increase yearly.

Another interesting fact in connexion with this congregation is their desire to do something for the spread of the truth amongst their fellow-countrymen. They think by self-denying effort they can raise about 1*l.* a month, and wish to support an assistant catechist in one of the out-villages. I advised them to begin to pay part of the salary of their own catechist, who is now acting, to a great extent, as their native pastor. They agreed to do so, with the understanding that what may be thus saved to the Mission in Hensman's salary should be employed elsewhere in the district. I trust that this arrangement will be a step towards obtaining a native pastor for the congregation. It has been the custom for so many years to do every thing at Mission expense, that it is difficult to make the people feel that they are the parties interested in the church, pastor, &c. Let us hope that a better state of things may soon be produced.*

Rev. P. Ansorge (m), to Bengal 1845; to Mauritius 1857.

General View.

The Coolies from India, who emigrate for a few years to the Mauritius, are estimated at 143,000. The Mission has been established upon the same principle as the Cooly Mission in Ceylon, namely, that the Society shall bear the expense of the European Missionaries, but all other expenses of the Mission, such as catechists and schools, are to be defrayed by a local fund, which is gradually increasing, and now amounts to 117*l.* per annum. Mr. Hobbs labours amongst those who speak Tamil, and Mr. Ansorge amongst those who speak Bengali or Hindustani.

Labours among the Tamil Coolies.

Mr. Hobbs has resided at Moka, where he has a congregation of from fifteen to twenty-five Tamil-speaking Christians. The greater part of his time is spent in itinerating amongst the different plantations, to preach to the Coolies, who are scattered in small groups over the island. The whole number who have embraced Christianity amounts to 114; but everywhere Mr. Hobbs meets with attentive hearers, and with every encouragement from the hospitality and countenance of the planters.

At the close of the year Mr. Hobbs writes—

I am thankful to feel myself in a far more favourable position, as regards my work, than I was at the beginning of last year. I had then made only one or two tours in the country. I had to look for openings in the different localities, and now I have a footing in almost every direction, and I have no difficulty in obtaining fresh introductions to any extent. My Sundays being now at my disposal, I am able to visit three or four camps on that day. I spend an hour or more in each. I find it as I expected, by far the most favourable time to meet the people, and engage in quiet discourse with them. I usually get a little circle of eight or ten persons around me. What more could a Missionary desire at the outset than such an open door, and such ready access to so great a number of quiet listeners to his blessed message.

Labours among the Coolies from North India.

The work amongst the Coolies from North India is under the charge of Mr. Ansorge, who, in addition to the Bengali language has acquired the Hindustani. He finds many from the North-west Provinces, as well as from the Punjab; but as there is often a mixture of natives of all parts of India on the same estate, his ministrations can only reach a few in each locality. Those, also, who have embraced Christianity, either in India, or since their arrival in the island, are so scattered that it is difficult to collect a congregation together at any one spot. Efforts are being made to induce a few Christian Indians to form a Christian village where they might be brought under regular ministrations, and schools might be established, and eventually a supply of native teachers be raised up to carry on the work. But hitherto the plan has not been carried into effect. The emigration dépôt is still used for Divine service, at which a congregation of thirty to thirty-five adults generally attend. The total number of Christian Indians connected with this department of the Mission is 104. A few schools have also been established. Mr. Ansorge speaks in high terms of the zeal and efficiency of the catechist Kooshallee, by whom he is assisted.

Mr. Ansorge writes, after an excursion of three weeks, in which he visited various estates, and addressed many thousand natives of all parts of India—

On the whole the examination has been a very encouraging one. On almost all the estates I found parts of the Scripture, either Nagari or Hindustani, or Bengali in the hands of some Indians.*

General remarks.

IN the last Report the Committee had to announce the loss or withdrawal of five out of nine Missionaries attached to the China Mission, while only two had been sent out to supply their place. The Committee regret to add that they have not yet been able to complete the original number. During the last year, only one Missionary, the Rev. George Smith, has been sent to China. Yet the events which have occurred in China during the same interval have been such as to fill every faithful Christian with the ardent desire to send forth a large band of Missionaries to enter in at the open door, which the Lord has set before his church, through his over-ruling providence, in the late military and diplomatic events connected with the Chinese empire.

The Bishop of Victoria, with his characteristic energy and Missionary zeal, proceeded to the north of China to watch the course of events, and to consult with and animate the Missionaries, and to urge a more effective appeal to the church at home. In a letter, addressed to the Archbishop of Canterbury, dated from Shanghae, October 18, 1858, the Bishop makes a stirring address to every Christian heart, of which the following are extracts :—

In taking a general review of the recent treaties formed by Western Powers with China, I may state at the very outset that I regard the provisions of the new British treaty (so far as we have been able to gain a knowledge of the details from semi-official authority here) as eminently calculated to encourage the church at home to new and enlarged Missionary efforts, and to arouse the Christian youth of Britain to a more adequate and prompt response to the demand for additional labourers.

The wider openings of these eastern regions to Missionary labour is an animating topic, on which I could glowingly enlarge, as a call to more adequate efforts on the part of our own church. But I confess that I have gathered lessons of moderate expectation from the fruitlessness of my past appeals for help. In the tenth year of my Episcopate I behold but few signs of any great and sustained movement of our church for the evangelization of the Chinese race, or for our entrance upon the recent Missionary openings in Japan. My dear and valued fellow-labourers sent out to the China Mission do but scantily fill up the breaches made in the ranks of our church by disease and death. But six Church-of-England Missionary clergy are spread along the stations on this extended coast, of whom two have been only six months in the country. It is indeed a satisfactory result to my mind to see chaplaincies instituted in the Chinese cities, and the British communities supplied with the means of grace. I rejoice, also, in the increasing number of labourers in connexion with other Protestant Missionary bodies, and the marked success which, in some cases, has resulted from their attempts. But as to Missions of our church among the Chinese, after fourteen years since my first landing on these shores, I still see (with the one exception of the Church Missionary station of Ningpo) but little progress made, and but inconsiderable results achieved. I feel no despondency as to the certain final success of our work as the cause of God Himself. I am sustained by the assurance that God is working out his purposes of mercy and love to our race in these passing events of the East; that this our fallen world shall one day become a temple worthy of its holy and beneficent Creator; and that this vast pagan empire, now an exile from the great community of Christian nations, shall hereafter participate in the promised outpouring of God's Spirit upon all flesh, and in the predicted blessedness of the renewed earth "in which dwelleth righteousness." But I deplore the want of an adequate supply of labourers to enter upon these fields "white unto the harvest;" men suited, by mental habit and by bodily strength, for this peculiar mission; men whose faith has been long strengthened by secret prayer, and whose love to Christ has been long watered by the heavenly dew of spiritual communion with God; men willing to forego (if needful) the comforts of domestic life, and ready to yield to the possible requirements of a "present necessity," in being free and unfettered by family-ties in their itinerancy in the interior from place to place. Once more I reiterate the appeal to the church at home—"The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few." Once more I appeal to British Christians, that while India is claiming her meed of Missionary sympathy and evangelistic help in this her day of trial, China may not be overlooked or forgotten in their prayers, nor her 400 millions receive less than their due amount of consideration and thought in the counsels and deliberations of our Church-of-England Missionary Committees.

One serious question arising out of our relations with the Chinese appears to have been excluded from all mention or allusion in the published Articles of Treaty. So far as we can judge on the spot (the text of the British treaty not having yet been officially made known to the foreign community in China), the opium question has been ignored, or kept out of sight; but it is difficult to think that this topic can have been altogether excluded from past discussions, or that, in the pending negotiation of a tariff, in the Supplemental Articles of Treaty here at Shanghai, Lord Elgin will continue to exclude the subject from a positive and final settlement.

I would mention, in terms of the deepest respect, the name of a British Plenipotentiary who has won so distinguished a place in public estimation by his highly successful career. I fully believe in the benevolent highmindedness which has actuated him in his difficult and honourable course in China. I know, by friendly conversation and by private correspondence, the mode of solution which, on the whole, he deems best for terminating a great and admitted evil. I know, too, that some of the most intelligent and zealous Missionaries, labouring for the welfare of the Chinese, wearied and perplexed by the view of the sad collateral effects of a smuggling system almost virtually legalized by the indifference or the corruption of the local mandarins, have deemed it expedient to succumb to an unavoidable evil, and to limit and check, by the regulations of a legalized Custom-house tariff, the spread of a moral mischief now utterly beyond control.

I confess, that it is with mingled pity and shame, that I contemplate the affecting spectacle of a pagan Government, almost powerless in the means of resistance, and feeble in the arts of war, thus humiliated, weakened, and overpowered, and the top-stone thus finally set on the pillar of our own inconsistency and disgrace, as a people placed in the vanguard of Christian nations in our dealings with this race. The year in which this monument may possibly be erected in commemoration of the final act in the series of wrongs perpetrated on the millions of China will singularly enough be marked also by the extinction and corporate death of the East-India Company. Our Anglo-Indian revenue from the growth of the poppy has been the chief plea and prop of the opium-smuggling trade in China. What we failed to relinquish on the ground of Christian principle, will probably be wrung from us by the defensive action of the Chinese Government itself. The eventual withdrawal of the Imperial prohibition against growing opium in the eighteen provinces has been a remedy long available and within reach. Embarrassed and overcome in the long contest with native and foreign contrabandists, it is not improbable that the Chinese Imperial Government may at length have submitted to a termination of the struggle; an addition to the impoverished exchequer in the shape of a regulated tariff-duty be preferred to the continued prevalence of a lawless smuggling of the prohibited drug along the sea-board; and opium at last be recognized among the legally-permitted indigenous produce of China.

It is satisfactory to know, that, both in the British and in the American treaties lately concluded with the Japanese, an article exists expressly prohibiting the importation of opium; and that thus, by the humane policy of Christian negotiators, Japan, hitherto exempt from this form of intemperance, will, in all probability, be saved from one class of evils which has resulted from our intercourse with China. Unprecedented privileges have been recently granted to Christian Missionaries within the newly-opened ports of Japan.

The "Bombay Guardian" takes the following useful retrospect of the gradual opening of Chinese Missions, and their present prospects—

China has at length consented to abandon her exclusive policy, and enter into the brotherhood of nations. Ambassadors are to be allowed to reside at Peking, Christianity is to be everywhere tolerated, converts are to be protected, and foreigners are to be allowed to visit all parts of the empire. It will of course be for some time a question how far these documentary concessions may become practically available. The Imperial Government is weak. Nevertheless, it is a matter of very great congratulation that it should have been brought to make treaties, in which it virtually abjures those pretensions that have hitherto shut up the vast populations of China against western influence. We have here another example of the very remarkable, but much-overlooked fact, that when the people of God have earnestly set about the work of carrying the Gospel to any country, the means of doing so are soon provided . . . . . It is about half a century (1804) since the first Protestant Missionaries, Morrison and Milne, went to China. Canton, or rather a small quarter of it, was then the only spot accessible to Missionaries. The New Testament was printed in 1814. The first convert was baptized in 1815. Gradually the field has been widened, and the number of Missionaries increased; but it will still be found that the increased attention of Christians to the country preceded the providential movements which tended to enlarge the field of their labours. About twenty Protestant Societies have now sent Missionaries to China, in number altogether about 200; and a careful and thorough revision of the entire Scriptures in Chinese was completed and carried through the press about four years ago. A fund has been raised for printing a million of copies of the Chinese New Testament. Four years ago, we were hoping almost every thing from the success and policy of the Tae-Ping-Wang party; but God has brought about the liberty that was sought, in a very different way.

FUH CHAU.

The Rev. M. Fearnley has remained the solitary Missionary of the Society in the large and proud city of Fuh-

Chau. Another Missionary, the Rev. G. Smith, joined him at the close of the year. The labours of the Mission have not as yet brought any converts into the fold of Christ. The operations are therefore confined to the preaching to the heathen, and the distribution of tracts and Scriptures, which Mr. Fearnley has been enabled to persevere in amidst many discouragements and causes of depression. The Bishop of Victoria hopes to visit this station in the course of the present year, and he will then consult with the Missionaries upon the question, whether this station should be continued, or whether the Missionaries should remove to a more promising field.

The following is a specimen of the work in which Mr. Fearnley is employed—

For this two months past I have gone day by day to the same street, and the same place in that street. Formerly I used to go from street to street—one street to-day and another to-morrow. But now I go every day to the same street, and, as I say, to the same place in that street. And, curious enough, the place I have fixed upon for my preaching-place is the gateway leading to the temple of Confucius. Certainly the Chinese are a tolerant people, and we cannot be too grateful to the Almighty that such is the disposition of this people, that they are so ready to hear opinions condemnatory of their practices, and yet offer no violence in resentment of them. This may be partly owing to their timidity. They fear foreigners, and it must be a great provocation indeed that would induce them to lift up their hands against them. However, from whatever cause their abstinence from violence arises, it is very convenient to the Missionary. He can always obtain an audience, and need never fear violence to his person. At the same time, the enmity of their heart against the Gospel is as intense, I doubt not, as that of any people on the face of the globe. In the mean time, the conduct of this heathen nation shames that of some Roman-Catholic kingdoms, who forbid the public enunciation of any doctrines but their own.

NINGPO.

The Rev. W. A. Russell and the Rev. F. F. Gough have continued their labours at this station. In the month of February they were joined by the Rev. G. E. Moule. The Mission is carried on in the city of Ningpo, and at an out-station in the Seen-po district, at which a native teacher resides, and which is occasionally visited by the Missionaries.

Ningpo was visited by the Bishop of Victoria in March 1858, when he held a confirmation for the native Christians. Respecting this the Rev. W. A. Russell writes as follows, March 30—

Thirty-two were confirmed on the occasion, who, after the ceremony, listened with marked attention to a very suitable address delivered to them by the bishop, through me as his interpreter, dwelling especially on the importance of private prayer, family religion, and a careful perusal of the word of God. His lordship also held a special service the following Wednesday, for the confirmation of two more, who had been absent in the interior, at our out-station of Seen-po, and who could not get to Ningpo in time for the Sunday services. On this occasion, too, the bishop made some very appropriate remarks to all assembled. In the afternoon of the same day his lordship gave a feast to all the native Christians, in a school adjoining my house, and, when over, held a conversational meeting with them, at which all were invited to make such inquiries, and to give utterance to such sentiments, as they thought proper. Six of them spoke on the occasion. At the close the bishop remarked, that about twelve years ago he was living in their city—the only English Missionary—enfeebled in body, and unacquainted with their language, and therefore could only lift up his heart to God in fervent prayer for their conversion; and that now, in what he this day witnessed before him, he saw an answer to his prayers, as well as much ground, with reference to the future, to hope for still greater things. He trusted that when they again met he should have the privilege of finding their spirituality much deepened and their numbers much increased. His lordship then called upon our catechist, Bao Sin Sang, to conclude with prayer, which he did in a very solemn and appropriate manner.

The following Saturday the bishop left us for Shanghae, leaving behind him, as I trust, a blessing to ourselves and to our little body of native Christians.

Mrs. Gough gives the following lively picture of the Missionary work in a letter, July 20, 1858—

My husband has for some time past gone daily to the Mission chapels in the city, it having been arranged that one or other of the three should be opened every morning and evening for preaching to the heathen. On these occasions an address is given by one or more of the native Christians, who is either preceded or followed by a Missionary. When his health will permit, Mr. Russell attends, and Mr. Moule is also sometimes present. A spirit of inquiry, and a greater measure of attention than formerly, seems to be manifested by the hearers, and some interesting questions have been put at the close of these gatherings. In my girls' day-school we have also had some encouragement. For nearly three years no fruit has appeared; but we felt it a privilege to scatter the seed, and now five girls have come to me to tell me they want to become the disciples of Jesus. We feel that, with the young, peculiar caution is needful; but we have reason to believe that with most, if not all, there is a real change of heart.

My number has now increased to forty, and, having dismissed the female teacher, I take charge of this school myself, and find the work both interesting and profitable, since, by teaching others, I am constantly gaining in the knowledge of the local dialect. The girls'-school, near the South gate Mission chapel, is going on very nicely under the care of their Christian teacher, who was baptized some three months ago by the name of Ruth. The number varies from twenty-five to twenty-eight, as I profess to limit it to twenty-five.

In the month of September 1858, Mr. Russell and two native assistants visited the Seen-po district. The following encouraging notices of this visit will show how promising an opening it presents for Missionary work—

Starting from the Ling-ngoh-Kong causeway a little after sunset, the following morning, September 5th, about seven o'clock we reached our Kwan-ha-wei station. When breakfast and family prayers were over, our converts and others from the surrounding neighbourhood began to assemble for the regular morning service, which, in my absence, is conducted by one of the native assistants. Not anticipating my arrival at this time, they seemed agreeably surprised to find me once more among them, after an interval of some months, and gave expression to their feelings in the warmest and most friendly manner. About half-past ten I commenced our church service in a room off the house appropriated to this purpose, capable of accommodating about 100 persons, and which, on this occasion, seemed to be quite full, the greater number being unbaptized, both men and women, in a more or less inquiring state of mind.

On this visit two aged inquirers were admitted to baptism, of whose state of mind Mr. Russell thus speaks—

Examining two old men, candidates for baptism, one especially seemed quite satisfactory. From whatever direction I questioned him, he seemed to lay hold of the atoning work of Christ with an unmistakable tenacity as what constituted his great need.

The native teachers thus estimate the character of the people of this district. Mr. Russell writes—

On the way we had a good deal of interesting conversation together as to the future prospects of Christianity in the Seen-po district. Its features of difficulty and encouragement were treated by the assistants, as it appeared to me, in a very sober and sensible manner. The bold and impetuous character of the people was dwelt on as involving one of the chief difficulties, as here, too, might also consist one of the principal grounds of encouragement. In this respect they were peculiar, and required peculiar treatment, containing a mixture of boldness and sternness, with gentleness and meekness.

Mr. Russell had many opportunities of addressing large and attentive audiences in two other large cities in this tour, and was filled with hope as to the future. He concludes the account of his tour with this animated appeal for help—

We who are on the spot, and who move about the villages and cities of this teeming population, and witness the myriads upon myriads of our fellow-men who wander about here as sheep without a shepherd, scattered about in the dark mountains of a senseless superstition or a cheerless philosophy, without a single ray from the Sun of righteousness to shine upon their path, or a single word from the lips of the Good Shepherd to comfort and encourage, do indeed feel towards them deep sympathy and compassion, somewhat similar in kind, if not equal in intensity, which of old the great compassionator of men Himself felt as he looked upon the uncared-for and perishing multitudes of Judea. But how can we, a little band of Missionaries, few, weak, and powerless as we are, at all meet the wants of these countless myriads? This we cannot possibly do of ourselves: we can only, on their behalf, lift up our earnest and piercing cry to the great Lord of the Harvest, that he would be graciously pleased to thrust forth in goodly numbers, able and faithful labourers into this vast harvest-field, and give effect, at the same time to our loud expostulations with the churches of our native land, and the people of God everywhere, to come over and help these poor, lost, and perishing ones.

The Bishop of Victoria, who visited this out-station, with Mr. Gough, at the close of the year, writes—

In the chapel of the little humble abode which I have called the Mission house, and which is a small native house, containing, besides the catechists' quarters, only one little spare room, which served both as a sitting-room and a dormitory to Mr. Gough and myself in common, I attended a gathering of converts and neighbours, seventy-four in number. After Mr. Gough's prayer, I addressed them through him, and made many suggestions to them as to the course of duty in their peculiar circumstances, especially dwelling on the desirableness of each believer endeavouring to bring ten others to a knowledge of the truth before my next visit.

I was much struck with the unsophisticated character of this people, and noticed with great satisfaction and thankfulness the proofs of the moral influence of our Missionary brethren, in the kindly welcome which the Chinese in this neighbourhood gave to Mr. Gough, and in the hearty goodwill and interest with which they inquired when Mr. Russell would pay his next visit to them.

Native Catechists.

It is a peculiarity of the Chinese Mission that the converts exhibit an intellectual power and force of character which eminently fit them for becoming teachers of their countrymen. The more that the Missionaries become acquainted with the interior life of China, the more they become convinced that the instruction imparted upon the Chinese system, preposterous as it appears to us in many respects, yet carries with it the substantial benefits of education, and trains and disciplines the mind to think and to argue soundly; a discovery which opens a bright prospect for the evangelization of China through native agency.

The following extracts from the journal of Mr. Moule, who has had much ministerial experience at home, will illustrate this statement—

My Missionary work, if it may yet be called so, has been the taking a share in the duty of presiding where the churches are opened to the heathen passers-by. My share has been four afternoons a week at the church. My coadjutor, on whom, of course, the chief part of the speaking has fallen, is the Catechist Bao. I suppose every one who has had any degree of Christian intercourse with Bao has formed a high opinion of his natural gifts, both of intellect and of utterance, as well as of his thorough earnestness and whole-heartedness in his Master's cause, and love of the word, and trust of God. In respect of utterance, methodical unfolding of his subject, and eloquent, however vernacular, expression of his ideas, he astonishes me every time I listen to him.

I insert an abstract from my journal, kept while intinerating. "Oct. 26th—Entered a tea-shop, and whilst I sat down and drank tea, the catechist Bao made a long address to a crowd that filled the shop and its entrance. His speaking was full and clear on the threefold salvation—1. from an evil heart; 2. from evil customs; 3. from deserved doom.

"On another day Bao got up and spoke to a large crowd as follows—He was an under letter-carrier. God had sent tidings of grace and salvation to the world. The news first reached a foreign people: it was transmitted thence till it reached England: English disciples had carried it to China. At Ningpo he himself had received and understood the news, and now he was gladly employed in carrying it round to make it known to his fellow-countrymen. He then repeated the essential characteristics of this letter of grace.

"Nov. 11—We went to the temple: there the audience was larger than yesterday. I read Luke xxiv. 46, 47, and, after a few words, handed it over to Bao to explain. He thereupon made a remarkable speech, of probably more than hour long, with marked attention. The reality of Jesus' protection; the evils of idolatry, and of all sin; the evidence of this in the comparative conditions of England and China; the true Supreme; the true and acceptable offerings, viz. 1. a clean heart; 2. clean lips; 3. a clean life; the inability of man to bring them; the grace of Christ and the power of faith;—were all set forth with great power, and with more or less of fulness and simplicity. In the afternoon, at the Confucian Temple, in the midst of a larger and more restless audience, two or three persons were remarkable for their patient attention to Bao's long address. We were on the spot probably three hours, engaged the whole time either in direct address or conversation."

Mr. Russell, in his annual letter at the close of the year, writes—

With reference to the little body of native Christians, both here and at our out-station of Seen-po, the additions to it during the year have been nine adult males, five adult females, and five infants. During this time only one member has been removed from us: he died of cholera a few weeks after his baptism, with a well-grounded hope, through the Saviour of sinners, of admission into the ranks of the church triumphant.

At present we number altogether sixty-two adults. Of these, five have been diligently and faithfully, as we trust, according to their respective talents and qualifications, prosecuting the work of evangelists among their countrymen, giving us a large amount of satisfaction, on the whole, as to the efficiency of the agency we thus employ.

To this number of evangelists or catechists we have just added another, whose name is Ling-teh, a young man about thirty, one of our first converts, who, for more than ten years, has proved a most faithful servant to me. I should have reluctantly parted with him, did I not feel that his extensive acquaintance with scriptural truth, his meekness and gentleness of character, his high reputation for fidelity and integrity of purpose amongst the members of the church, as well as amongst those who are without, and especially his sincere desire, as far as possible, to promote the cause of Christ amongst his countrymen, clearly indicated him as one who was likely to render us valuable and important aid in the carrying on of our work.

The next point which I would take up is the methods we have been employing during the past year, more immediately for the conversion of the heathen. These have principally consisted, as in former years, in public preaching in our chapels when at home, and in temples in the open air when itinerating in the country, in private intercourse with the natives whenever and wherever practicable, and in the distribution of books to the few who seemed able to read them. In all these departments of labour we have had more or less encouragement from time to time, and especially in the two former.

Our public audiences have, I think, been more numerous and more attentive than during the previous year; and I might also say the same of our private conversations with individuals; and the result of both at the present time seems more encouraging than for some time past, in the enlarged number of apparently sincere inquirers after truth, and sincere applicants for baptism. Here I might also add the increased willingness of the better classes to associate with us, and the increasing confidence they seem to repose in us, as indicating some hope in a direction hitherto the most hopeless of all. Within the last year I have been called upon by several of the gentry, merchants, and literary men of Ningpo, which is quite a new thing in the history of our intercourse with this people.

The Bishop of Victoria thus describes the state of the Mission after his second visit, at the close of the year 1858—

My visit to Ningpo has been very refreshing to my mind. The labourers are a body of holy, active men, and any station formed in that province, and supplied with a native assistant from thence, would be five years in advance of any new station which could be formed in a strange province, by Missionaries newly arrived, and having every thing to achieve without such help.

The Bishop, with his wife and little daughter, proceeded from Ningpo to Shanghai by an inland route, in order to visit several important cities, and to judge of the prospects of Missionary extension in that direction. He was accompanied the greater part of the way by Mr. Russell and some of the native teachers. He has directed the attention of the Committee to two immense cities, Shaou-hing and Hangchow: of the latter a description is given in a subsequent page: of the former he writes as follows—

On the noon of the following day we approached the city of Shaou-hing, the capital of the department of that name, and estimated to contain one million of souls. This rapid sketch of our daily movements prevents me from entering into a detailed description of this city and its environs, as it came upon our view when we approached its southern suburb. Mr. Russell and myself walked for two miles along the bank of the fine spacious canal, lined with streets containing a busy, well-clad, and apparently thriving population, and abounding with corroborative evidence to support its claim to celebrity as among the most beautiful and the most literary departmental cities of the empire. A view from the top of the city-wall, which we entered by the eastern gate, afforded us an opportunity of surveying with the eye its extensive line of wall, extending forty-two Chinese li, or above fourteen English miles in circuit, running over the sides of hills, and enclosing their well-wooded undulations in its girth. Here there is a vast population, of friendly demeanour and high intellectual refinement, accessible to the instruction of the foreign Missionary. As we mingled with a group of well-dressed people on the parapet, listening to the words of my companion, and readily volunteering information on the city and its inhabitants, I could not but feel the wish that our highly-educated British youth at the great seats of academic learning could behold this noble sphere for their dedication of the highest talents of ability, energy, and zeal, to the honourable endeavour of making known the Saviour's name among this highly-interesting but pagan district. Shaou-hing enjoys no mean celebrity for the intellectual character of its citizens and scholars; and the proof is seen in the fact, that the proctors and learned civilians employed in the law-courts are supplied in great numbers from Shaou-hing for the whole empire.

SHANGHAE.

This station can scarcely be said to have been worked as a Mission during the last year. A single Missionary, the Rev. J. S. Burdon, was stationed here, and he was employed, with the consent of the Committee, as acting chaplain to the English residents, in order to enable the chaplain, the Rev. J. Hobson, himself a zealous Missionary, to visit England. In the autumn of the year another Missionary, the Rev. W. H. Collins, arrived; but it pleased God shortly afterwards to afflict Mr. Burdon by the death of his wife, the second he has lost during his brief residence of five years in China. As soon as he was released by the return of the chaplain, Mr. Burdon made a Missionary voyage to the mouth of the Yang-tze-kiang. This excursion was important, as showing that the authorities at all the cities and towns visited, acknowledged that the Missionaries were at liberty to travel in virtue of the late treaty. Mr. Burdon was accompanied by Mr. Aitchison of the American Board of Missions. The excursion occupied about three weeks. They visited Soo-chow, one of the most important cities in the empire, which is regarded by the Chinese with feelings of love and veneration. Their proverb, that there is "Heaven above, and Soo-chow and Hang-chow below," as places of the highest happiness, shows the estimate in which the Chinese hold these two cities; and they have been among the last places in the neighbourhood of the open ports to open their gates to the intrusive foreigner from the west. Upon reaching the city of Chin-kiang, which is the old port of Nankin, and the key of the Yang-tze-kiang, they were not allowed to proceed further north on account of the vicinity of the rebels. At the conclusion of the account of this excursion, Mr. Burdon writes—

Our journey homeward was varied by our choosing a route very little, if ever before, taken by Missionaries. We visited several large towns and cities, at some of which there had never been a foreigner before, and we were freely permitted both to preach and to distribute books. We finished with a second visit to Soo-chow.

I hope to be able soon again to send accounts of places opening up to Missionary effort, but in the mean time I would close by making a simple remark, and asking a simple question. My remark is, as will be easily anticipated, that this vast empire of China, with its 400,000,000 of immortal beings, is now open in its length and breadth to the Missionary of the Gospel. As far as travelling is concerned, no let or hindrance is put in our way, except that arising from the civil commotions, which every lover of China must desire to see removed, by the dispersion of those who have so long disturbed the peace of millions. There is hardly an important city that we visited at which a judicious man, by kindness, and patience, and prayer, might not be able to establish himself; and, by living amongst the people, far from all foreign influence, gain a permanent footing, first for himself and then for the Gospel that he brings. I could mention many places in this immediate neighbourhood that ought at once to be so occupied; but as it is well to be moderate in our expectations, I shall notice only one. Soo-chow, from its position, the number of its inhabitants, and its influence on so many millions of Chinese, ought to be the first place thought of in a movement of our Mission from Shanghai. There will be some difficulty in at first establishing ourselves, but I have not a doubt that, by care and prayer, we should soon succeed. Again, there is a vast country to the north of this, with its newly-opened ports, by which we shall have access to the interior there. I sometimes feel inclined to be sorry for those of our brethren who have to travel over hundreds of miles, and have to endure many hardships, even in the seeking out a few of their people to whom to teach the way of life, and to wish that we had some of them here. People meet us at every step, and the Missionary's mind is apt to become bewildered at the immensity of the field before him.

In the view of this, my simple question is, are we to have the men to occupy these cities, and to take possession of this empire in the name of the Lord? For many years have we been praying for the result which has been brought about, and how are we prepared to meet it? Our own Mission here consists of two men, and one of us is necessarily, for some time at least, tied to Shanghai by a Missionary school. Many other Missions in Shanghai are almost equally weak, and I sometimes fear that next year will see very little advance made on the territory now opened to us. I know that a great deal depends on those who are at present in the field, to draw forth or damp the energies of the churches at home. If we on the spot show no disposition to avail ourselves of the opportunities of usefulness of which we talk so much, our fellow-Christians at home will not be very ready to do so either. But if we branch out from our hitherto settled habitations, and scatter into the various places that are ready to receive us—those “regions beyond” which as yet know but little of Christianity except its name—I have confidence in the zeal and love of Christians at home that they will not leave us long without assistance, or suffer us to fight single-handed against Satan in his very seat.

During the Bishop's visit to Ningpo, at the close of the year, he took advantage of the presence of several Missionaries to hold a conference on the best principles of extending the Mission. The Bishop has embodied the result of the conference in the following important document—

1. In the prospect of the wider opening in the ensuing year to the labours of Christian Missionaries, the principle of concentrating our Missionary force upon one province of this vast empire, and the occupation of one large tract of country having a population of homogeneous dialects, with an adequate number of labourers, seems preferable to a dispersion of our number over widely-remote provinces, in untried localities, and amid a population of dissimilar, vernacular tongues.

2. That the province of Che-keang, occupying a central position in respect to the rest of China, and numbering a population of twenty millions, among one-third of whom the Ningpo dialect is spoken, with slight modifications, forms a vast field of labour, likely to absorb all the present available labours of the Church Missionary Society; and that, therefore, it seems expedient that the efforts of the Society should now be mainly directed towards planting a strong Mission over this extensive region.

3. That Ningpo appears to present many advantages as a convenient basis of operations, in conjunction with Hang-chow, the provincial capital, distant about 100 British miles to the north-west, for the extension of Mission work into the interior. The former city is the most advanced of the present stations of the Society—in the number of the Missionary clergy, native converts, catechists, and probationists for the Christian ministry, in the publication of books of Christian doctrine in the Roman character adapted to the local dialect, and in the tried friendliness and accessibility of the remote rural populations. The latter city enjoys a repute and influence second in a literary point of view to none in the empire. Its population is estimated at above two millions; its dialect is not greatly different from that of Ningpo, nor likely to be found greatly different from that of Shanghae, being situated at an intermediate point between the two places. Hang-chow, also, not being included among the newly-opened ports, and being shut out by its difficult navigation from all prospect of a foreign mercantile community, is likely to retain its present isolation from the disturbing influences of mercantile positions on the sea-coast.

4. That in view of the above-mentioned reasons, we consider the immediate occupation of Hang-chow as a second basis of Missionary operations as very expedient. From Hang-chow a course of systematic co-operation might be carried on with the brethren at Ningpo in a common and united advance upon the interior of the empire.

5. That the subsequent gradual occupation of the several foo, or department cities, by one or more European Missionaries, and the location in the several heen, or district cities, of each department, of a native deacon or catechist, under the supervision of an itinerant superintending European Missionary, commends itself to our judgment, as a plan of operations which affords the best prospect (under the Divine blessing) of fully evangelizing the native population and of securing paramount Missionary results.*

NEW-ZEALAND MISSION.

European Missionaries first arrived in New South Wales, 1810; proceeded to New Zealand, 1814.

---

The Mission is divided into four districts, namely, the Northern, Middle, Eastern and Western districts.

General remarks upon the whole Mission.

THE New-Zealand Mission continues to be the source of much praise, mingled with much anxiety; of praise for the past, of anxiety for the future.

When the Bishop of New Zealand arrived in his diocese, seventeen years ago, he published this statement—"We see here a whole nation of pagans converted to the faith. A few faithful men (the Missionaries of this Society), by the power of the Spirit of God, have been the instruments of adding another Christian people to the family of God." When, four years ago, the Bishop of New Zealand, and the late Governor of the Colony, Sir G. Grey, attended a meeting of the Committee, they bore united testimony to the conversion of the whole Maori population. They spoke also of the advanced civilization of the natives, so as to be able, with proper assistance from the civil and ecclesiastical authorities, to support their own Christian teachers, and to maintain, under God, the permanency of the native-Christian church. They pleaded only for the continuance of the Missionaries during the transition state from a Mission to an independent native church.

The Society was therefore entitled to expect a speedy release from further responsibility, and from the large expenditure which it had hitherto devoted to New Zealand. But your Committee regret to state that neither the civil nor the ecclesiastical authorities have as yet completed their part of the work, so as to enable the Church Missionary Society to hand over to any settled system the communities of native converts hitherto dependent upon their ministrations.

During the last few years little has been done to impart to the native population the benefits of the British law and constitution, in the place of their native laws and customs, which they threw off with the adoption of Christianity. For instance, for the settlement of disputed land claims, they have anxiously sought some mode of arbitration suited to native capacity, instead of the musket and tomahawk, which they formerly applied to the solution of all difficulties. They have desired also to have native magistrates to redress personal wrongs, as their chiefs were accustomed to do. But these measures have been very partially introduced. A constitution and a Parliament have been given to the settlers, but as yet the native race has had no part in these constitutional privileges. These things have unsettled the natives, and have induced them to meet together, and consult upon the election of a native king, with no intention of rebellion, but simply to meet the difficulties of their position, by having a chief magistrate under Queen Victoria. Hence, at a large assembly of tribes, they determined to give that officer the name of Father.

The Committee deeply regret the continuance of the unsettled state of the native church in New Zealand. It is manifest that the work of Missions can never be extended far beyond the minute fraction of the heathen world already occupied by Mission stations, if, as in New Zealand, a whole generation of converts are to be dependent upon the foreign Missionaries for their pastoral and spiritual guidance. Measures must be adopted for organizing a native church, and instituting a native pastorate, so that the men and means supplied by Missionary Societies may be set at liberty for the regions beyond the existing native churches. The Committee do not wish to cast upon other parties any blame which attaches to themselves, as having the ultimate management of the Mission, for this unsatisfactory state of things. But they look forward with a confident hope that a remedy may be found now that the Northern Island has been divided into three Bishoprics. The province of Wellington has been constituted a Bishopric, to which Dr. Abraham, the Archdeacon of Auckland, has been consecrated. The Eastern and part of the Middle Missionary Districts have been constituted a separate Bishopric, to be called the See of Waiapu, to which Archdeacon William Williams has been appointed Bishop, and will be consecrated, by Divine permission, in New Zealand, very shortly. The remainder of the Northern Island will remain under Bishop Selwyn. All questions relative to the settlement of the native church upon an independent and self-supporting principle may now be discussed in the several dioceses, with the advantage of greater experience, and of more frequent conferences between the Missionaries and the Ecclesiastical authorities than formerly. May the great Head of the Church preside over these deliberations, and grant success to the measures which may be adopted, that the conversion of New Zealand to the faith of Christ may still remain to the praise of His glory!

The Committee are always thankful to receive and to record the testimony of independent witnesses to the character of their Missionaries, and of the work in which they are engaged; especially when such testimonies are published through other channels than our own records. Such an independent testimony has lately appeared in the public prints, in refutation of many anonymous or ill-informed writers against Missionaries. A gentleman of position and intelligence, resident in New Zealand, wrote to his brother, G. Armitage, Esq., of Huddersfield, a Justice of the Peace for the county, the following words—

I was inclined to think, when I first came to New Zealand, that the Missionaries were rather lax in their duty, but personal observation has taught me the contrary. To the Missionary we owe the peace and prosperity of this colony: they are ever found on the side of law and justice, and the advancement of this interesting people in civilization is mainly owing to their untiring and unceasing efforts. I do sincerely believe—not in the common cant of the phrase, but in reality—that God has blessed their endeavours to win souls to Christ in many instances, and I should think it a national loss if they were withdrawn from the island. These are my candid opinions, and you may make what use you like of them; and, I may add, my opportunities of judging are very great, as I am in daily intercourse with the natives, and I am in no way interested in the matter.

NORTHERN DISTRICT.

Stations in the Bay of Islands occupied in 1814, since abandoned.

The present Stations in the District are, 1. Paihia, 1823; 2. Waimate, 1830; 3. Kaitia, 1834; 4. Kaikohi, 1842.

European Missionaries :

Archdeacon Henry Williams (m.) 1822.

Rev. Richard Davis, 1823.

Rev. Joseph Matthews (m.) 1831.

Rev. C. P. Davies (m.) engaged in New Zealand, 1842.

Mr. W. G. Puckey (m.) 1823.

Archdeacon Henry Williams, who resides between Paihia and Waimate, reports of the stations in the Bay of Islands—

I have much pleasure in announcing an orderly and quiet deportment of our people within the district in immediate connexion with myself. Their general improvement has been very manifest. The tribes who were engaged in the late war are more attentive, and I hope their desire for Christian knowledge is increasing. There has been a more general interest amongst the people in seeking for Divine knowledge than has appeared for some years past. We hope a good work is going on. Once each quarter the communicants from the distant villages are assembled at Paihia and Kororarika for examination, which is always attended with beneficial effects. At these two places I meet on an average about 160 communicants, though the whole number exceeds 300. Several deputations from different places on the coast have been to me, expressing their desire that I would again visit them, and collect them together; for which purpose I have ordered a small vessel to be built, which is now nearly finished. I am thankful to say the influence of the Papists in this district amongst the natives has ceased, though still existing among certain Europeans. The reason assigned by the priest is the knowledge possessed by the people of that heretical book "The Maori Testament."

An abridgement of English law in Maori has been circulated among the people by the Government, and several native assessors or magistrates have been appointed, with great advantage to the district. This is gradually undermining their old customs, and will work well. The people appeared pleased with it, and give much study to the import of the book.

The stations in the Northern District were visited by the Rev. R. Burrows, the Secretary of the Mission, in May 1858, who reports—age. He complains of the want of spiritual life among his people ; but, at the same time, he speaks with pleasure of the assistance he derives from the native teachers, and of the comfort and satisfaction he often experiences when meeting them for prayer and reading the Scriptures.

The Rev. R. Davis labours with earnestness, and surprises us by the long Missionary journeys he is able to make at his advanced

At Paihia, the Rev. C. P. Davies occupies the Mission house, and does such duty as he is able. He is a great invalid, and his life seems to hang as it were by a thread.

Mr. Davis alludes in his reports to the formidable disputes which had arisen in the district upon the land claims between different tribes, and different individuals of the same tribe, which often threatened bloodshed, which had hitherto been mercifully averted by the exercise of Christian principle. One such instance recalls the name of a chief well known by his visit to England in 1818, in company with the notorious Shunghi.

The quarrel had run rather high between the chief Waikato, who formerly visited England, and other chiefs of the same tribe. Land marks had been put up by the one party, and thrown down by the other. In the latter part of the month of August we visited Tepuna, and the different parties met to be examined for the Lord's supper. In the midst of the meeting, Waikato came and saluted all those who were antagonistic to him, and observed, "Whatever may become of the land, let peace be made with our bodies!" This caused much rejoicing to the whole party ; and, on the Sunday following, they partook together of the sacred emblems of the dying love of Jesus.

Mr. Davis, in his annual letter, refers to the death of a native teacher, which, like many other such instances, shows that fitting instruments are not wanting for the formation of the native pastorate, if fitting measures be adopted.

Kaikohe has suffered what appears to us an irreparable loss in the death of our teacher there. He had been long suffering in his health. On inquiry, I found that one of his near relatives had fallen into a grievous sin. This shock proved too much for his weak frame to sustain. His spirits sank, and he lost his appetite. At the time of his death much lamentation was made over him, and very justly, for he had been to the people a faithful friend. He said to them, "Weep not for me : with me all is well. Weep for yourselves." Dear man ! he is gone, and is now where there is neither sin nor sorrow. I doubt not but that he was one of God's jewels. He truly sighed for the sin he saw around him. He was one of the highest grade of society, brought up in the Society's school at Kerikeri, and was always from his youth a quiet, consistent character. He possessed a deeper knowledge of Christianity than any native I ever conversed with. He was about 44. His name was Nopera Turi.

Mr. Burrows also visited the station at Kaitaia, at the northern extremity of the island, of which he reports—

At this station I found Messrs. Matthews and Puckey labouring much as usual. The former continues to be the guiding Missionary, and is steadily prosecuting his work. His weekly meeting with his native teachers, to instruct and prepare them for their work on the Sabbath, in their different villages, is the most interesting part of his station duties. By this regular course of instruction, which has been carried on by Mr. Matthews for the last twelve years, most of the teachers have acquired an amount of scriptural knowledge which I have seldom met with elsewhere.

In visiting the different outposts of his district, Mr. Matthews labours under great disadvantages from not being in full orders. He often meets with cases of old and enfeebled members of the church, who are unable to go to the settlement church to partake of the Lord's supper, when a Missionary in full orders visits Kaitaia to administer that ordinance, but who would receive strength and comfort from the ordinance if they had it within their reach. In nearly every distant village are to be found some, who, from age or sickness, cannot travel so far. Only a short time before my visit in March, Mr. Matthews had received information that some of his people, who, in consequence of living so far from the station, had not partaken of the Lord's supper for several years, and, a young Wesleyan Missionary having passed through the village, had availed themselves of his offer to administer it to them. I mention this fact to show the practical results of keeping an old Missionary fifteen years in Deacons' orders. Another consequence is the discouraging effect it has upon the Missionary himself.

MIDDLE DISTRICT.

There are eight stations in this district: 1. Hauraki (mouth of Thames), 1833; 2. Tauranga, 1835; 3. Rotorua (Maketi), 1835; 4. Waikato, 1840; 5. Otawhao, 1841; 6. Kaitotehe (Taupiri), 1843; 7. Auckland, 1845; 8. Taupo, 1855.

Mr. C. S. Volkner (m), engaged in New Zealand.

The Bishop of New Zealand has conferred on the Rev. G. A. Kissling, the Archdeaconry of Waitemata. He will continue to reside at Auckland, and to train native theological students for ordination, as well as to discharge the pastoral duties of the native congregation at St. Stephen's church. Four services are held each Sunday in St. Barnabas church, two in English, and two in Maori. The Archdeacon complains that the natives in Auckland show less and less desire to attend the means of grace. They live wandering lives in a kind of gipsy life. The English congregation of St. Barnabas contribute 100*l.* a year to the Society, in consideration of Mr. Kissling's services.

Mr. Kissling has also eight married native theological students under his roof, who are preparing for ordination, and are employed by him in visiting their countrymen and teaching in schools. These students give great satisfaction.

Mr. Burrows, besides the duties of the Secretaryship, and the visiting occasionally the stations of the Society, keeps up native services in four of the villages near Auckland. The congregations at these villages are encouraging, and have given proof that the native Christians are both able and willing to exert themselves, when properly urged, for supplying their own spiritual wants. He states, that at one village, Pukaki, the people, numbering about ninety, have subscribed for a church, in money and materials, 120*l.*, and intend to complete it at a cost of probably 200*l.* At another, Mangareo, a congregation of 120 souls have raised 130*l.* towards building a stone church.

No changes have been made in the location of the Missionaries in this district. In several parts of the district, especially those under Archdeacon Brown's and Mr. Chapman's charge, there have been violent disputes and bloodshed respecting land claims, as in the Northern District. When the last accounts were written, these disputes were a cause of great anxiety to the Missionaries, as, during their continuance, the excitement of mind and the construction of fortified Pas, led to the neglect of public worship.

The Bishop visited the various stations of the district during the year, holding confirmations, and encouraging the Missionaries in their labours.

I continue to assemble the native teachers on Saturdays, and to devote three hours daily to the instruction of two teachers, who have resided with me, and to one of whom I am looking forward as a candidate for ordination. My daughter has continued to instruct eleven girls, who are supported by a grant from Government. On the 12th of December the Bishop gave us one of his welcome visits, and confirmed thirty-seven natives. He had, a few days previously, confirmed thirty-two at two of my out-stations.

Mr. Maunsell reports much encouragement in the out-stations of his district of Waikato. He writes—

Though I cannot say that there has been a revival, yet I may safely affirm that at no time have I seen greater interest in religious matters. The candidates for the Lord's supper and for baptism are more numerous than usual.

We have begun in this station the plan of parents' paying school fees for their children. We were met with storms of objections when we announced the contribution to be paid was sixpence per month. The amount is only a trifle, but the principle and the habit are worth all the trouble that the step has involved. Mothers now come quietly, bringing their sixpence, two shillings, and sometimes two shillings and sixpence.

Mr. Maunsell also mentions a very pleasing and encouraging fact, that the Church Missionary Association in Hobart Town has offered to maintain a native teacher in New Zealand by contributing 50*l.* a year. "If," he writes, "other churches can be induced to follow the example of our friends in Hobart Town, this country may yet, before we are called away, be studded with a goodly number of efficient natives, ready to take up our work as we relinquish it."

Mr. Ashwell gives an encouraging account of his district of Taupiri.

My schools and district give much encouragement. To God be all the glory!

I am thankful to say the Bishop has received two of my teachers, brought up in the school, as candidates for the ministry. My faithful Seth, my fellow-labourer in the school for the last ten years, is one of them. I do not know a more consistent Christian, either among Europeans or natives.

I trust there are signs of spiritual life among my people generally. During the past year I have baptized ninety-five adults, and forty-five children. There are still twenty adult candidates for baptism. Religious services have been well attended, and the communicants of the Lord's Supper have increased. Thirty natives have been confirmed, and the native teachers have been very regular in their attendance at our monthly Missionary prayer-meeting. Many wild young men have been induced to attend church, and not a single case of drunkenness has occurred in the district.

The report of Mr. Spencer describes the religious state of natives, who are more removed than in other parts from the influence of settlers, and gives an intelligent view of the encouragement and discouragement of his work.

In the course of the past year, in addition to the attention usually bestowed upon the lake and river settlements, I have visited some mountain tracts, which have been designated the New-Zealand Alps, where a considerable number of inhabitants are widely scattered, formerly dependent upon Whaiti and Opotiki stations.

Evidences are not wanting of the saving benefit of introducing scriptural instruction and scriptural worship, even among those wandering upon high mountains and dwelling in dark vallies, among whom are found the practice of daily family worship, the observance of the Sabbath, and intercommunication of scriptural knowledge. These, though only external observances, are very general, and there is reason to believe that, in a multitude of instances, the heart is influenced. Expressions of deep religious feelings are seldom heard, but the proprieties of a Christian deportment, and a practical recognition of Bible obligations, are very apparent. The worn and defective Bibles show at once how well they are read and highly they are valued, and there is difficulty in replacing them with new ones. A general state of peace among the inland tribes, leading them to disperse, combined with the feeling that their native land titles should have secured particular attention, have for some time past operated unfavourably for their assembly on Sundays, and consequently some good places of worship have been neglected, and suffered to fall to decay. Yet it does not appear that the state of religion has suffered in proportion to these external disadvantages, as reading the Scriptures and worship are generally kept up. It is hoped, from recent indications observable in various places, that they, as a people, will ere long settle into a more regular Christian community than ever.

Of Taupo, which is the most recent station, Mr. Grace writes—

The year now closed has been marked by a steady progress rather than by any thing particularly striking. There has been an increased attention to spiritual things; attendance at the adult classes for scriptural instruction has greatly increased; candidates for baptism have become numerous; some of the native teachers have shown more diligence in their work; and a growing interest has been manifested in our industrial school.

EASTERN DISTRICT.

This district was first visited by Archdeacon William Williams in 1834; by his brother, Archdeacon Henry Williams in 1838; by Archdeacon W. Williams in 1839, who commenced residence at Turanga January 1840.

The district comprises six stations—1. Turanga, 1840; 2. Opotiki, 1840; 3. East Cape, 1842; 4. Uawa, 1842; 5. Wairoa, 1844; 6. Heretaunga, 1844.

European Missionaries :

Archdeacon W. Williams, Bishop designate of Waiapu, D.C.L. (m) 1825.

Rev. James Hamlin, 1825.

Rev. W. L. Williams, B.A. (m) 1853.

Rev. Samuel Williams (m) born in New Zealand.

This district has suffered beyond any district in New Zealand from the removal of Missionaries. During the year, Archdeacon William Williams and his son have not only had the charge of their own large district of Turanga and the collegiate school for native teachers at their station, but also the superintendence of the other stations to the East Cape, and, for a part of the year, the station of Wairoa to the south.

It is hoped that, under the new ecclesiastical arrangements, this district may be better provided with ministers, both European and native. Archdeacon William Williams has furnished the following report of the year—

In the district of Turanga, including Uawa and Tokomaru, there has been much to contend with; a strong conflict between light and darkness, between the power of Satan and the Spirit of God. In my last report I mentioned that superstitious practices had sprung up, being a power which was supposed to reside in certain persons of holding intercourse with the spirits of the departed. For a time very many were led away by the delusion, but, like the spirit-rappings, and other similar practices elsewhere, it has been short-lived, and may now be said to have ceased. But that state of mind which was favourable to the reception of one class of errors, and which indicates an absence of the Spirit of God, is unhappily too ready to take up something else; and so it has proved in this case. A return to the old heathenish practice of tattooing has been set on foot by an old practitioner in the art, chiefly for the sake of the gain he could make by it, and great numbers have been led away by the snare, thinking it creditable to be in this respect like their fathers before them. All this shows a looseness of principle, an absence of a desire to walk worthy of the vocation wherewith they were called. As might be expected, there has been extreme apathy among them, and, in many, an entire renunciation of Christian profession. One effect of these proceedings is to bring out more to view the opposite course, which is happily pursued by many: and it may be hoped that, under God's blessing upon the preaching of His word, a reaction will take place, and that many of those who have been led away may be brought back again to the truth. The communicants during the year have been 339 in number.

The natives of East Cape have been altogether under the care of the Rev. Rota Waitoa and the native teachers, and, during my visit through that district, I was much gratified by the general appearances. There are doubtless many things which need improvement, which would escape the observation of an occasional visitor, but there is one point which cannot fail to attract notice. The natives generally throughout that district have honoured God in the erection of decent places of worship, which have called forth much effort, and a large expenditure of money, and God seems to have returned a blessing upon their heads, so that there appears to be a more general attention paid to religious duties, and the natives have been preserved from some of the snares which have fallen upon other places. The number of natives whom I have admitted to the Lord's supper during the year, at Waiapu, is 700, but a return of the baptisms has not yet been given.

It becomes a matter of serious importance to inquire how suitable provision is to be made for these native districts, particularly in the prospect of but a limited provision on the part of the Society. When the supply of Missionaries was most effective, that supply was but scanty, as compared with the parochial system in England. The deficiency was met in the only way practicable, by native teachers. But those teachers were not regularly prepared for their work. They were such natives as seemed to be best informed in the different villages to which they belonged. They were very imperfectly taught, and could not therefore teach much. And in a majority of cases they have grown weary of their work, and have resigned their post to others not better qualified than themselves. It may be asked, Why have we not made provision earlier for this necessity? I will speak for the Eastern District. I came to it in the year 1840, and for some years I occupied it alone, having to travel continually north and south. In time I received assistance, and Missionaries were located at Waiapu, Uawa, Wairoa, and Heretaunga. It was proposed that a central school should be carried on at Turanga as far back as 1844; but it was not till 1854 that a second Missionary was placed at Turanga, so as to render it possible to carry on this work. From that time we have struggled on, in the face of many obstacles. But we have not lost ground. We have gradually advanced, until our school is now in working order, and is beginning to show good results. The current expenses of the school are heavy, inasmuch as all the scholars have to be clothed and fed, because it is not otherwise possible to bring them together, owing to the native habits of living scattered over a wide extent of country. These expenses are met by a grant from Government. The numbers, therefore, are regulated by the extent of the grant. By a new arrangement which has been promoted by the present Governor, there will be a more equitable distribution of the funds, and it is hoped we shall now be able to increase our numbers. If our present plans can be continued without interruption, there is every reason to believe that a better class of schoolmasters for the villages will be provided, as well as pastors, who may gradually fill up the vacancies which occur. Already many applications have been made for natives who have been some time in the school, to take charge of distant villages, for the people begin to appreciate their superiority over the old teachers. We see much reason to rejoice in our prospects. God has raised up assistance for us in quarters from which we did not expect it; and it is abundantly clear that His good hand is with us, and that His blessing will accompany our efforts.

The Rev. J. Hamlin was compelled to leave his station in April 1858, on account of the dangerous illness of his wife, and to proceed to Auckland, where she died in August. He was detained by family matters for the rest of the year. In the early part of the year the following interesting notice occurs in his journal—

On the 8th of January, after some days' preparation, I left the Wairoa station with a party of more than 200 natives, and proceeded by sea to Ahuriri, to endeavour to bring about a reconciliation between the contending tribes of that district, to whom many of our party were very nearly related. Though the usual forms and ceremonies of ratifying a peace were not entered into while we were present, we had the satisfaction before we left to witness the cessation of hostilities, and the arrangement of the preliminaries necessary to the establishment of that desirable object. The movement did not originate with me. Our natives laid the plan, and invited me to accompany them. I preached to whites and natives where we touched on our way to and from the place, whenever opportunity occurred.

The important station of Opotiki is still without a resident Missionary, and can only receive occasional visits from Missionaries on either side. In the course of last year Mr. Burrows visited it, and gives this report respecting it—

Opotiki presents an interesting field of labour for an active Missionary, and I trust ere long some one will be found to supply Mr. C. P. Davies's place. It has now been left nearly three years without a resident Missionary, with a Romish priest living in the midst of 500 natives. The population at Opotiki is concentrated, and Whakatane is easy of access from it, so that one Missionary, able to travel, might be placed in charge of both districts. I spent a week at Opotiki, and on the Sabbath I had a congregation of 300.

Our people here are urgent for a Missionary. The two native teachers appear simple and right-minded men, but they require teaching. I had them with me almost every evening during my stay. I returned from this place to Tauranga, and visited all the settlements on the coast between the two stations.

In travelling from Tauranga to Otawhao (Mr. Morgan's station), I passed through that part of Archdeacon Brown's district, in which the natives, on Christmas-day last, subscribed 75*l.* towards a Missionary stipend. I conversed with some of the principal men on the subject of their wish, which is to have a Missionary residing amongst them. They told me, that when the Bishop was last with them, he promised them, that as soon as they would raise half his stipend he would supply them with a minister: that they now hoped to do so, and were waiting for their Missionary. They have arranged to meet on Christmas-day of each year, by which time they hope to raise at least an equal sum to that already subscribed. This is a step in the right direction, and I hope, that as soon as these people are prepared to fulfil their part of the arrangement, the Bishop will be able to fulfil his.

WESTERN DISTRICT.

District first visited and occupied by Archdeacon Hadfield, November 1839, at Kapiti. This district contains 4 stations: 1. Wanganui, 1840; 2. Otaki, 1842; 3. Pipiriki, 1856; 4. Papawai (Palliser-bay) 1856.

Ven. Archdeacon Hadfield (m) 1833.
 Rev. R. Taylor, M.A. (m) 1836.
 Rev. W. Ronaldson (m) 1855.
 Mr. James Booth (m) 1852, Schoolmaster.

This district has now become part of the new Bishopric of Wellington. Archdeacon Abraham being in England before his consecration, at the same time with Archdeacon Hadfield, the Committee had the great advantage of a full conference with them both on the future management of this part of the Mission. The Bishop designate expressed his desire to co-operate with the Society for the settlement of the native church, and, with this view especially, to give every encouragement to the seminary for training native teachers under Archdeacon Hadfield at Otaki.

During the last year, the district being deprived of Archdeacon Hadfield's presence, the whole Mission on the west coast devolved upon Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Taylor, in his annual report, notices the grievous inroads of Popery, which, availing itself of the political agitation of the natives respecting the appointment of a native king or father, has gained over many proselytes upon the most unworthy motives. "It is to this circumstance," writes Mr. Taylor, "chiefly, if not entirely, that they owe the encouragement they, the papists, have received. Their present position appears to be rather a political than religious one. Their followers are entirely ignorant of the nature of the faith they have adopted, and, when spoken to, can only say their's is the mother church, and our's a rotten branch." The bitterest feelings have also been engendered in the minds of the natives who have embraced Popery against their Protestant countrymen, so that feuds have arisen, and several deaths have ensued.

Mr. Booth is established at Pipiriki, on the Wanganui river, where he has a school containing between twenty and thirty pupils, many being adults. He has also an adult Bible-class, and holds services both at his own village and in many of the neighbouring, and in some of the more distant native settlements. The following is an extract from his annual report—

Our daily morning and evening services are well attended. There has been an increased attendance during the year. We have always full and attentive congregations on Sundays. My visits to the neighbouring pas have been very frequent this year. On visiting a pa, Protestants and Romanists all come to church, and I have many a precious opportunity of explaining a free Gospel salvation and the errors of Popery. The errors of Popery are now exposing themselves to the natives in a most unpleasant way. They have noticed that the religion of the Gospel is a religion of peace; but since Roman Catholics came into the river, there has been nothing but one quarrel after another. The priest sets the Protestant chiefs at defiance, and calls on the Roman-Catholic natives to support him. The consequence is, that all the Roman Catholics in the river are at war against the Protestants.

The Rev. R. Ronaldson was placed by Bishop Selwyn at a station, Papawai, to the east of Wellington, where he has a wide district with a scattered population. There have been, during the last year, many causes of excitement amongst the natives, chiefly in respect to their land claims. There is a lamentable state of apathy and indifference to religious instruction, which is hardly to be wondered at, as the visits of the Missionary can only be made periodically, and he has no schools, nor even the opportunity of a regular service at a Mission station, his time being laid out between Europeans and natives, and his Sundays spent at four different places each month. It is hoped that, under the new ecclesiastical

THE Mission to North-west America stands in marked contrast with that of China. The extent of country is about the same. In North-west America the inhabitants consist of about 140,000 Red Indians, scattered over their hunting grounds, with a few hundred settlers on the banks of the Red River. All the intellectual knowledge of the Red Indians has been conveyed to them by the Missionaries, who think it much if the Indians can spend a few months under their instruction, it is often only a few days: whilst in their Missionary tours they are compelled to travel over one hundred miles of desert to converse with a few families. In China, 400,000,000 of immortal souls are crowded into the same extent of country; cities exist with one or two millions of inhabitants; a common written language spreads over the whole country; the Chinese have an indigenous education; and a high intellectual cultivation forms the aristocracy of the empire. Yet it appears, from the statistics of this Society, that North-west America has a far larger number of our Missionaries sent to it than to China, and absorbs nearly a double amount of expenditure.

This contrast has been pointed out by our Missionaries labouring in China, and the question has been also put at home, Why should we not transfer our resources to the field which offers such immeasurably larger opportunities, and where the number of souls to be benefitted is in the proportion of two or three thousand to one?

The answers to this inquiry are,—that the Society entered upon the North-west-America Mission when China was not open; when other Mission enterprises were only in their tentative stages; and because the providence of God was manifested in many special instances in the early history of this Mission, and the fruits of his Spirit were very brightly exhibited in many of the Red-Indian converts. Those also who have watched the progress of the Missionary zeal in the church at home during the last half century will testify that the touching histories of the West-Africa, the New-Zealand, and the North-west-America Missions of this Society, like those of the South-Sea Islands and of Burmah in the records of other Societies, have been, under God, the chief materials in kindling that flame of Missionary zeal which now happily takes a wider range, and begins to estimate the Missionary enterprise in reference to the ultimate purpose of God that “all men should come to the knowledge of the truth.”

There is clearly, therefore, an obligation upon the Society to keep up its North-west-America and New-Zealand Missions, so far as may be necessary to prevent the work already accomplished from receding, but at the same time to take prompt measures to place these native converts upon a self-supporting system, so that all the energies of the Society may be concentrated upon the great centres of the human race, and its resources distributed where they may be most effectual in establishing the spiritual kingdom of our Lord in the hearts of his intelligent creatures.

In the different stations of this Mission the work has proceeded as in former years. The zealous and enlightened Bishop of the diocese throws his warm sympathy into every part of the work, and, in his long voyages and sledge excursions, encourages the Missionaries as well by his refreshing personal intercourse as by his noble example of self-denial and disinterestedness. A change has been made in the location of the Missionaries, by placing the Rev. Mr. Watkins at Cumberland and removing Mr. George to La Prairie and the operations of the Society have been pushed out in the direction of Mackenzie-River and the polar seas by the bold enterprise of Archdeacon Hunter.

Printing of the Scriptures and Prayer-book in Cree.

Mr. Gardiner, who was sent out last year, having received holy orders from the Bishop of Rupert's Land, Mr. Mason was enabled to leave his people at York Factory under his charge while he visited England, chiefly with a view of carrying through the press, in the syllabic character, translations of the Holy Scriptures and Prayer-book in the Cree language. The whole of the New Testament has been thus printed at the expense of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and 2000 copies will be sent, by the ships of the present season, to Rupert's Land. At the same time Mr. Mason has carried through the press a large edition of the Common-Prayer Book in Cree, printed at the expense of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge; and an edition of the same transferred into the Moose dialect at the expense of this Society. Mr. Mason has also in readiness the translation of the whole Bible. The Committee have therefore sanctioned his remaining in England until he can carry back with him the whole Bible, printed in a character easily read by the people, and easily taught to each other without the intervention of European teachers. Such a gift the Committee regard as of inestimable value to any people, and they desire to record their solemn thanks to Almighty God for employing their agency in accomplishing the work.

RED-RIVER DISTRICT.

The stations of this district are St. Andrew's, formerly the Grand Rapids, 1832; The Indian Settlement, 1833; Portage la Prairie, 1856. Out-stations, Islington, Fort Alexander.

The Mission Church of St. Andrew's has been under the charge of the Rev. W. W. Kirkby during the absence of Archdeacon Hunter.

The Bishop of Rupert's Land bears this testimony, in a letter dated Feb. 11, 1859—

I paid my annual visit to St. Andrew's on January 9th, the second Sunday of the new year. We had a noble congregation; the church well filled in every part. At the close of the morning service our communicants were 161. The day closed Mr. Kirkby's fourth year of labour since ordination—four years of very devoted labour on his part, and of labour very fully appreciated by the people on their's. Of this I feel quite sure, from conversation with some of his flock. He has filled up the duty well in Archdeacon Hunter's absence.

There is a model and training-school at St. Andrew's, designed for supplying schoolmasters and native teachers for the whole Mission, which is under the charge of Mr. C. B. Mayhew, from the Highbury Training College, who writes, at the close of 1858—

In forwarding my report of the model-school to the Committee, I cannot but acknowledge, with deep gratitude to Almighty God, the signal encouragement which I have realized in my work during the past twelve months. The heartfelt satisfaction expressed on the part of the parents, the testimony of strangers to the good behaviour of the children, the manifest improvement in their intellectual and moral condition, and the earnest hope and firm belief that many have, with Mary, chosen the "better part," are tributary branches, each swelling the main stream of encouragement. The number of scholars is 62.

The Indian Settlement.

This station remains under the watchful care of the Rev. Mr. Cowley, assisted by the Rev. H. Cockran, the native deacon. The Bishop paid it a visit in the beginning of the present year. His report is full of encouragement. In the letter from which we have already quoted, he says—

My visit to the Indian Settlement took place on Jan. 30 (1859). My last visit to them had been in Dec. 1857—a visit noticed by the Society in their last Annual Report. How refreshing was the sight of the congregation once more, every pew filled, and many still floating in, who were contented to remain in the aisles and near the door. The new large stone church is thus scarcely sufficient for the entire number of the worshippers. My text was, "Lord, it is good for us to be here;" words which, I trust, all present felt. There was then the administration of the Lord's supper, of which 127 communicants partook. But the especial feature of interest on the occasion was, that my young friend and former pupil, the Rev. Henry Cockran, was with us, assisting. We were there together, the native minister, the English Missionary, and their Bishop—a strong, threefold cord. There was the ripened experience and mature wisdom of Mr. Cowley; there was the hearty utterance of our young friend, who could speak as a brother to his brethren in their own tongue. He interpreted for me, with great ease and fluency, and then assisted at the communion, taking the cup with Mr. Cowley, while they each repeated the words in the Indian language. His own aged mother was among those to whom he carried the cup: his father, from infirmity, was absent. In the afternoon he read prayers for me, when I preached again from the words of St. Peter, "The end of all things is at hand;" using him as before as my mouthpiece and channel of communication. Mr. Cowley had left us, and gone up the river to officiate at Mapleton, five miles above.

At the conclusion of the day I could not help exclaiming, "This is the perfection of work in a foreign land: here we have indeed 'the mouth and wisdom' in happy combination—the mouth and ready speech of the Indian, the wisdom and experience of the European. Oh that we might always have it thus! Such were my own feelings at the time, and of this truth I have since had an accidental confirmation from another quarter.

Mr. Cowley writes in encouraging terms of his Indian pastoral charge. One extract from his journal is worthy of insertion in this brief report.

July 17—In conversing with Pigwys the other day, he observed, "The settlement is strong. The small-pox has twice lately spread around, but it has not touched the settlement: it is strong by prayer." "It is prayer that gives it stability," was the import of his remark. May we ever be thus strong! I do trust there are among us many that pray. While standing at the kitchen doorway, between five and six o'clock in the morning, my attention was arrested by the well-known tune St. Augustine, and scarcely had the music died away, than a single voice was heard in prayer. The distance was considerable between me and the person praying, but at the close I could recognise distinctly the Lord's Prayer. Whether this arose from the swell of voices, or from familiarity with the words, I cannot tell; perhaps from both: but it was very delightful to witness a day of toil thus commenced by a poor Christian Indian family.

Portage la Prairie is now under the resident superintendence of Archdeacon Cockran, whose age and length of service prevent his travelling as in former years. He is assisted by Mr. George, who, in the course of the year, removed from Cumberland, upon the arrival of M. Watkins.

The out-station of Islington is under the charge of the Rev. Robert M'Donald, who was born and educated in the country. He reports at the close of the year—

During the last year there has been very slow, yet perceptible progress. There have been three cases of hopeful conversion; and there are a few who appear to have a growing delight in the service of religion.

Prayers are held every evening during the week, when a hymn is sung, a portion of Scripture is read and expounded, and prayer is offered up.

The out-station of Fort Alexander has been visited by Mr. Cowley, and one or two of the Ojibwa Indians have been admitted to baptism.

MANITOBA DISTRICT.

This district is under the charge of Mr. Stagg, who reports of it at the close of the year 1858—

The conduct and attendance of my people at the means of grace have been truly encouraging. Indeed, on the whole, I feel that the attendance at public worship has been more regular and steady than that of any previous year. This morning (merely to give an instance) we had nearly thirty at prayers in our house. Daily evening worship has been held as usual in our school chapel, and well attended. Our school goes on well, and the children progress nicely.

I venture to hope that you see and feel that success attends our labours at Fairford. Wishing to ascribe all praise to the "First Great Cause," still I feel it only just of me to say that one great reason of our progress is, that I do not work alone. My native helpers are very consistent Christians, and are always ready to every good work. We see defects in them, it is true, and have to pray for humility for them; but on the whole their conduct is very encouraging, and certainly they are very prayerful. Again, our old people try in every way to hold up my hands, especially our chief, Woodhouse. The influence of this good old man is undoubtedly very great.

We feel much encouraged with our adult classes. We have the young men three evenings in the week, and give them instructions in Scripture, writing, arithmetic, and dictation. Mrs. Stagg has also a class of young women, several of whom are married.

On the 11th of March the Bishop held a confirmation here. Thirty-nine were confirmed, twenty of whom understood English. These the Bishop confirmed first. The remaining nineteen, who understood Indian only, then knelt reverently around the communion rails, among whom was our chief. It was indeed a happy service. Oh that it may prove a lasting blessing to all!

CUMBERLAND DISTRICT.

This district comprises Christ-church, Cumberland, Nepowewin, occupied by the Rev. Henry Budd, and Moose Lake, by a native teacher.

The change of a minister, even in the church at home, generally creates for a time an unsettledness in the people: it also often discovers evils which grow up imperceptibly under the ministrations of a faithful pastor, but, as soon as his paramount influence is removed, they may become apparent. From the tenor of the letters written by Mr. Watkins, since his removal to Cumberland, it would appear that somewhat of the same experience is found in his Mission station. The Committee have not as yet received such full accounts as to enable them to make a report of the station of Christ-church.

Of the Nepowewin Station, Mr. Budd reports at the close of the year—

The few Indians, of whom I informed you in my last that they were convinced of the superiority of the doctrines of the Gospel above their own false mythology, are still going on well, and, after some more instruction, I hope to baptize them. They are ready to put off the yoke of human inventions, and exchange that for the yoke of Christ, which is easy. The few converts we have here give general satisfaction: they form part of my congregation on Sundays and on week-days. They mix much with their heathen neighbours, and they have had grace to keep faithful.

Our little school, which is perhaps the most hopeful part of our charge, is going on as usual, and if we had the means of carrying it on efficiently, it would be very encouraging. The Indian children take up any thing they are taught very fast.

The Committee feel assured that the hearts of many readers will be lifted up in response to the appeal with which this native minister concludes his annual letter.

And now, my dear sir, I would beg for a continued interest in your prayers. Pray often for us, that the merciful God may condescend to bless our humble efforts for the good of the Indians around us: pray that the presence of the Almighty may be with us in every trial and every difficulty: pray, also, that our dear people may have grace and be enabled to continue faithful unto death, that they may receive the crown of life: and pray for the poor heathen around us, that their minds may be inclined to receive the truth as it is in Jesus, and be made partakers with us in the blessing of the Gospel.

ENGLISH-RIVER DISTRICT.

The Rev. R. Hunt continues to labour at this remote station. His faith and patience, as well as his Christian firmness, have, during the past year, been more than ever called into exercise, partly by the non-arrival of his annual supplies, but chiefly by the misconduct of some of his erring flock; and lastly, by a solemn visitation, singularly heavy in a station so circumstanced as that at the English River, which, in a moment, deprived the Mission by death of two of its ablest hands. His own words give a lively description of his labours and trials.

In secular things, ploughing, planting, fishing, and work at the church, are going on. In spiritual things the conduct of some of our dear people reminds us very strongly of the Israelites, just after their exodus, whom, degraded and debased by hard bondage, nothing but tangible motives could move to follow the pillar of fire, and who had to be driven as well as led, frightened as well as fondled. Our heavenly Father does not leave us without strong fleshly as well as spiritual motives to hold Him fast in our wrestling hands; and unless we had the comfort of his presence and promised help, both flesh and spirit would faint: we are often obliged to go softly, and halt, from the failure of human power.

Mr. Hunt describes at length, in his journal, the tendency which still exists among his people to yield occasionally to the power of ancient heathen superstitions. The same tendency is lamented by Missionaries in all parts of the world as evident in those who have long lived in heathenism before their knowledge of Christianity.

YORK-FACTORY DISTRICT.

During Mr. Mason's absence this station has been under the charge of the Rev. J. P. Gardiner, who has not yet sufficiently acquired the Indian language to itinerate.

Before Mr. Mason left, he had the satisfaction of "driving home the last nail" of the new church. He reports favourably of the general state of the Indians who reside at the factory, or visit it occasionally. As a specimen of these occasional visits, the following notice in his journal may be recorded—

May 24, 1838—A band of our own Indians arrived, and I questioned Janet Anderson to see if she remembered what had been taught her last summer. Without a single mistake she went through the whole of the Catechism. While in the woods during the winter, they say they had family prayers regularly every day, and rested every Sabbath, and derived great comfort from reading the portions of God's holy word in the syllabic characters.

JAMES-BAY DISTRICT.

Mr. Horden is assisted in this extensive district by the Rev. T. H. Fleming, and by an European who joined the work in Rupert's Land. The posts visited can hardly be called out-stations, as in many of them there are no regular native teachers stationed. The following annual report of Mr. Horden, at the close of 1858, gives an interesting account of their important and multifarious labours—and between us we have travelled more than three thousand miles within the year for Missionary purposes. The following posts have been visited—Albany (three times), Martin's Falls, Kenoogoomissee, Flying Post, New Brunswick, Hannah Bay (twice), Rupert's House (twice), Fort George, Great Whale River, and Little Whale River, while to some of the Indians of Mistasene, Nitchekwun, and Tamiskama, was the Gospel proclaimed. These posts, which are very far apart, show the immense extent of this district, and the difficulty of preaching the Gospel through its entire limits; but, with the help of God, much can, and I trust has been already effected. The more I have occasion to observe it, the more I am able to see the great advantage of the syllabic system, which is now, with rapid strides, travelling through the whole length and breadth of this district. It is known by some Indians at almost every post mentioned above; and last summer I had the happiness of seeing that, in the case of the Mistasene Indians, it, with very little assistance indeed, had been the means of conferring on them a knowledge of the requirements of Christianity. My journey to Whale River, in which I was accompanied by my whole household, was pleasant and profitable. At Rupert's House, and both Whale Rivers, I saw and instructed many Indians, several of whom were glad to receive the words of the Gospel. At each of these posts there are tares, and they are numerous at Whale River.

We have been enabled to entirely carry out our intentions

In translations I have been enabled to accomplish quite as much as I had expected, having translated the whole of the Prayer-book, with the exception of the Psalms. The greater part has already been sent to England, and the remainder I intend to send by the next opportunity, hoping that it may be printed this winter. I must not omit to mention that I received great assistance from Archdeacon Hunter's translations, and that the translation of the Gospel of St. Luke and John was left with me by the Rev. E. A. Watkins.

We have printed the Gospel of St. Matthew, and revised and printed nearly the whole of St. Mark's Gospel. Portions of the other two Gospels have likewise undergone revision, and I yet hope to print them both before the summer. It will be very hard work, but I should much like to get it done, as I wish to have nothing to do with printing next winter, but to devote it to other and equally necessary labour.

In my last I spoke of an extra service I had commenced for the benefit of the Norwegian servants of the Hudson's-Bay Company: it has been continued ever since. We have sometimes a large number present, and I trust some good has been effected.

Mr. Fleming gives a journal of several tours in which he had opportunities of making known the Gospel, and of admitting many into the church by baptism. The following is one such occasion at Flying Post—

June 25, 1858: Lord's-day—Early Indian service at a quarter before seven A.M., at which all at the post were present, with one or two exceptions, and most attentive. Indian service again at eleven A.M., at which all were present. At this service I had nine baptisms: five of the recipients were natives and four Indians. The latter were all from Matawegamingue, and, so far as I could see, pleased me very much. An old man and his wife, whom I met on the third day of my journey, I baptized by the names Adam and Eve, being both old, and the first ever baptized at Flying Post.

Missionary Journey of Archdeacon Hunter to the North.

Many reports having been brought to the Mission at Red River of the willingness of the Indians in the extreme north of the Hudson's-Bay territory to receive Christian instruction, of the favourable disposition of the Company's officers in those parts to encourage Missionary labours, and also of the great efforts being made by the Romanists to pre-occupy the field, Archdeacon Hunter offered himself for an exploratory journey and voyage, which involved much personal sacrifice, and a separation from his family of probably sixteen or eighteen months. It will be seen, however, that he does not regret the undertaking.

The Archdeacon writes from Portage la Loche (lat 56 N. long. 109 W.) July 31, 1858—

I am writing to you now from the Long Portage, about 1500 miles on my way to the Mackenzie River. We arrived here on the 26th instant, making the journey about fifty days from Red River to this place. During the latter part of the journey we had very wet weather, almost constant rain daily, which, with mosquitoes and sand-flies, rendered travelling any thing but pleasant. We generally left our encampment about three o'clock in the morning, and continued journeying on till eight and nine o'clock at night: thus we sat sixteen and eighteen hours daily in an open boat, and sometimes in very heavy rain. The number of portages we have crossed is about forty-eight: in English River we made three and four daily. Sometimes half the cargo, at others the whole of the cargo, together with the boat, had to be taken across the portage.

On leaving here we shall go down the current rapidly: five days will take us to Athabasca Lake, another five days to Great Slave Lake, and about five days more to Fort Simpson, on the banks of the mighty Mackenzie River.

All the gentlemen in the district, with one exception, are Protestants, and the majority of the men: and they are all anxious, and even zealous, for the establishment of Protestant Missions throughout the district. They will subscribe largely, according to their means, towards this object, and will furnish wood and boards for the buildings. They recommend that two married Missionaries should be sent out; young men, with good health and active habits, and having an aptitude for acquiring languages. If they come, I promise them one of the most interesting and enterprising fields of labour in the whole country. With the love of Christ in their hearts, and an earnest desire for the salvation of souls, they may here have the high privilege of being instrumental in gathering an abundant harvest of souls into the granary of the Lord. I had previously recommended single men to be sent out, but, in consultation with the gentlemen here, they say young married men would be the best, and, if possible, two to be sent out at once. I leave it now for our friends to say whether this effort shall be made in vain. Shall the church of Rome be allowed to enter and occupy one of the most promising fields of Missionary labour in the country? Shall the labours of your Missionary, after leaving wife and children and home for sixteen months, and travelling thousands of miles in the coldest region in the country, be in vain? After the principal posts have been visited, and suitable spots selected for stations, and the Indians encouraged to believe that a Protestant Missionary will be located amongst them, shall we withdraw, and allow thick darkness to enclose them in on every side? Impossible! It cannot be so! The stones, or rather the ice, of Mackenzie River would call out against us.

I never regret that I have offered myself for this work, and feel daily more and more thankful as I penetrate into new regions never yet trodden by the foot of a Christian Missionary. Mackenzie River has never yet heard the Gospel from the lips of a minister of Christ. Oh that, when privileged to open its blessed truths to their ears, it may be accompanied with the life-giving power of God's Holy Spirit, and sink deeply and permanently into each one of their hearts!

A second letter has been received from the Archdeacon, dated Fort Simpson, Mackenzie River, December 1, 1858. After the last date he proceeded on his voyage through Lake Athabasca, Great Slave Lake to the Mackenzie River, and arrived at Fort Simpson on the 16th August, a distance of 2250 miles from Red River. Two Romish priests had accompanied the brigade, and declared that they would do all in their power to counteract the establishment of a Protestant Mission. Mr. Hunter thus expresses his feelings on this occasion—

Aug. 17—Rose and commended myself and this special work afresh in prayer to God, seeking Divine wisdom and grace to direct and aid me each day that I continue in the district, that I may be privileged to sow the seed faithfully, and that it may spring up to the praise and glory of God. Here, in the far North-west, the Gospel finds, on the first time of its publication, representatives from the two opposite and diametrically opposed churches: the true and false Gospel coming into conflict at this extreme outpost, like two waves rolling from opposite directions of the ocean which here meet and dash against each other. May God give me wisdom under these circumstances! The half-caste French servants and their wives will do all they can for the priests, sending the Indians to them, and so forth. But if once a Mission is established here, and the language mastered, all will go on well, with the blessing of God.

A week after this date the Archdeacon had the happiness of admitting into the Protestant church the only Roman Catholic gentlemen amongst the officers of the Company in this district. On the same day he received a written statement, signed by all the officers of the district, expressive of their desire for the establishment of Protestant Missions throughout the whole of the territory, and their willingness to support them.

On the 25th August, the Archdeacon left Fort Simpson on a visit to a more distant post, Fort Liard, where he spent three weeks, and had many interviews with parties of Indians, of the Sikanese and Slave tribes; and then returned to Fort Simpson, where he spent the winter, opening a school for the Indians, and holding Divine service with the officers of the Company. He purposed, in the summer of 1859, to proceed 550 miles down the Mackenzie River to Fort Norman and Good Hope, within the Arctic circle, before returning home.

FORT SIMPSON, ON THE PACIFIC.

The circumstances connected with the formation of this Mission were given in the last Report. The district has become now well known as the colony of Columbia, and the see of a Bishop, who has expressed his interest in the operations of the Society, and his desire to give them his sanction and encouragement.

Mr. Duncan still continues his labours alone. The Committee have been unable to provide him with a coadjutor. Beset on every side with the difficulties peculiar to a new Mission struggling into existence among a totally unenlightened and all but savage people, he is winning his way, meeting each new complication as it arises with wisdom and love, and assisted from on high, as well in his own spirit as in the unmistakeable interpositions of a God of providence, and the more hidden, but not less discernible workings of a God of grace.

The first steps in the commencement of a Mission amongst any new tribes of the family of man must always have a peculiar interest. They are the first pages of a volume of ecclesiastical history.

The first indication of a change of mind in any of the Indians, after more than twelve months' patient labour, is thus recorded in Mr. Duncan's journal—

Nov. 16, 1858—The season in which the deep heathenism and darkness of this people is manifested has just set in. My heart was gladdened, however, to-day by the chiefs of our tribe coming to my house to say that they had made up their minds to abandon these sorceries, or medicine work. Since then I have heard of another tribe that has made the same resolution; and on a visit to an old chief yesterday afternoon, I gathered from him that his tribe were meditating the same thing. Thus I feel thankful to God that one heathenish custom, and that one decidedly the most gross and deeply rooted, is tottering, and ready to fall, since three tribes out of the nine here have already declared against it.

Mr. Duncan thus describes an interesting pastoral visitation to the huts of the Indians—

I had a delightful round to-night. I was in nine houses. I found myself able to hold conversation and give instruction in the Indian tongue with some freedom, in one house especially, which was a chief's. When I was seen going in, a number of his people followed me, and we soon formed a large group round the fire. I had some difficulty in commencing, but, when that was overcome, I felt quite at home in addressing them. I laid down our condition and remedy plainly before them, and exhorted them frequently to mend their ways. I was greatly delighted with the response they made. One man held both his hands out before him, and then gave them a sudden turn over, exclaiming, thus it was going to be with the hearts of the Chimsyans soon. The old chief, too, with his eyes upon the ground, listened very attentively; and after I had begged them to desist from some of their bad practices, such as prostitution and rum-drinking, he, very chief-like, reiterated to them something of what I said. I returned quite cheered at what I had seen and heard.

The celebration of the first Christmas amongst the Indians is thus described—

Dec. 25: Christmas-day—Yesterday I told my scholars to bring their friends and relatives to school to-day, as I wanted to tell them something new. I found a strong muster when I arrived at the chief's house, and a long train of all ages followed me in. We numbered over 200 souls. I felt the occasion to be a very important one, and longed to turn it to some good account. We did not read as usual, but I tried to make them understand why we distinguished this day from others. After this I questioned the children a little, and then we sung two hymns, which we also translated. While the hymns were being sung, I felt I must try to do something more, although the language seemed to defy me. I never experienced such an inward burning to speak before, and therefore I determined to try an extemporaneous address in Chimsyan. The Lord helped me : a great stillness prevailed, and, I think, a great deal was understood of what I said.

At the close of the year the school had so far prospered, that Mr. Duncan was able to report—

On the 11th of January I was obliged to divide my scholars, they became so numerous; and for some time I had males in the morning and females in the afternoon; but I have now both at the same time, a few having gone away after food, &c. In all, I may say that I have had about 300 under instruction, but now we are reduced to about 230, and very soon I shall lose all but about fifty, for a month or six weeks, that time being an important season with all the Indians up the coast.

I feel exceedingly thankful for the improvement the Indians have made, both in school and in the camp.*

CONCLUSION.

YOUR Committee on this occasion will make no concluding reflections, as in ordinary times. This is a day of speaking events, of startling facts. The peace of Europe, after forty years, is broken. Two of the great

* The North-West-America Mission is noticed also in the “ Ch. Miss. Rec.” for April, May, and June 1859; in the “ Ch. Miss. In.” for Nov. and Dec. 1858, and Sept. 1859; and in the “ Ch. Miss. Gleaner” for May and July 1859.

Powers are in conflict in Northern Italy. Every wise man sees in these events the arm of the Lord revealed. Your Committee have laid before you the recital of the great things which God has been pleased to do, throughout the Gentile world, by your agency. They leave these facts, amidst the great transactions of the world, to speak for themselves.

All flesh may hear that voice, of which a Prophet speaks —“The voice of the day of the Lord,”—a voice, which, while it teaches the inhabitants of the world wisdom, by terrible things, animates the heralds of mercy to make their proclamation:—“We have a strong city: salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks. Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in.”— Isaiah xxvi. 1, 2,)

And the tumult louder grows,
Through the earth our God is sending
News of Peace to heal our woes :
Sounds of mercy sweeter are,
Heard amidst the din of war.”

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE Committee of the Church Missionary Society request the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations to transmit to the Society's House in Salisbury Square, as soon after the 31st of December as possible, the Contribution Lists and Accounts of their respective Associations, written legibly, to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. The names of the present Officers and the date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed should be specified. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

The Society's General Accounts are closed on the 31st of March, and all Moneys and Lists belonging to the year must be received at the Society's House by that date, in order to the Lists being inserted in the Report.

The appending to the Annual Report of the Lists and Accounts of the Associations is a general acknowledgment to the Local Contributors that their Contributions have been received by the Parent Society; and the Committee are desirous of preventing the dissatisfaction which they are aware is occasioned by the omission of the Lists in the Report in consequence of the Money or the List having been received after date, and too late for insertion.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, it is manifest that the Accounts of the Branches must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of the Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

To prevent mistakes, it is requested that Branch Associations will in every case forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society.

The Committee return their cordial thanks to the Treasurers of Associations, and to those friends who kindly fill the office of Secretary—an office which, they are well aware, draws largely on the time and attention of those who occupy it, but on the efficient discharge of the duties of which the prosperity of an Association chiefly depends.

*** The Committee would be glad to receive information respecting any names in the List of "Benefactions of former Years," which should be expunged, or altered, from death or other causes.

N.B. Benefactors of Ten Pounds and upward, whose Names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will now find them in the List of "Benefactions of former Years."
