STATIONS, MISSIONARIES, AND OTHER LABOURERS, APRIL 30, 1872.

* * By MISSIONARY, is to be understood one in Holy Orders; and by CATECHIST, one who engages in such religious care and instruction of the people as may be consistent with his character as a Layman. The letter (m) means Married.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Females; such as, cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing Female Adults.

A STATION, is the place at which a Missionary or European Catechist is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers sent from Europe show the date of their first leaving Europe.

The asterisk (*) denotes that the Missionary is on his way out. The mark (+) that he is on his way home.

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by a Patron or Patrons, a Vice-Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church.

II. The office of PATRON of the Society shall be reserved for such Members of the Royal Family as may honour it with their protection; and that of VICE-PATRON for His Grace the Primate of all England, if, being a Member of the Society, he shall accept the office. The PRESIDENT shall be such Temporal Peer or Commoner as may be appointed to that office; and VICE-PRESIDENTS shall consist of all Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, who, being Members of the Society, shall accept the office; and of such Temporal Peers and Commoners as, being also Members, shall be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upward, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upward per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas, or upward, Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying to the amount of Fifty Pounds, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upward shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate to the General Committee, proper persons as Patrons and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents for the Society in the principal Towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; the other Committees as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee; and Three, each of the others. In cases of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex officio, Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society, of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the Names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued: The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary*.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee; and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. That all questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between any Colonial Bishop and any Committee of the Society, shall be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, whose decision thereupon shall be final.

XXXIII. That the object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations, and explained in Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Report.

The proposed reference shall be made, through His Grace the Primate, by the Committee, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the Committee may deem advisable; and the Committee will be bound so to refer all questions, falling within the scope of the Rule so understood as aforesaid, which the Colonial Bishop shall require them to refer.

While all decisions of the Bench of Bishops on questions so referred will be considered by the Committee as binding on them and their agents or representatives, the Colonial Bishops or other Ecclesiastical Authorities, unless concurring in the reference, cannot properly be considered as so bound.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The following passage, from Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Annual Report, illustrates the practice of the Society in reference to this Rule:—

"The Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] our Missionaries: these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same Colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church."

APPENDIX II. TO THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT.

REFERRED TO IN THE NOTE TO LAW XXIX.

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

It is the object of the following Remarks to show, that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognized in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognized co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in MATTERS ECCLESIASTICAL; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant Church, a Lay-patron selects and presents "his Clerk"—as the Clergyman is technically called—to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every Church—the Churchwardens or Sidesmen—whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle, that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the Four following Heads:—

I. THE COLLECTION OF THE HOME REVENUE, AND THE DISBURSEMENT OF IT ABROAD.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. THE SELECTING AND EDUCATING CANDIDATES FOR MISSIONARY EMPLOYMENT.

In this department there is no necessary encroachment upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment; and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates; and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth:"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London "sends forth" every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their Foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a SENDING FORTH of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign Stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognized the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour; so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President—December 17, 1836—in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognized Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation, or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those—the Committee and Secretary—who still stand in the relation of Lay-patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop* or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask [to receive]."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms: "You seem to me to lay down the principle most correctly..... This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I report all the proceedings of the diocese."—9th June, 1836.

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a licence, or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries; the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837,—

"We are not to take for granted, that discretionary power will be abused; but, on the contrary, to provide, by a cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an occurrence. If the event of arbitrary conduct should arise, or be supposed to arise, the remedies are—public opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop—and the Society's refusing to make other appointments and locations than those unreasonably objected to. Nothing is the least likely—and probability is the guide of life—to arise—to impede or cramp the Committee; since they unquestionably and avowedly possess, The choice of men.—The appointment of spheres of labour.—The Temporal power, including pecuniary support."

* The Three Bishops of India, and the Bishop of Australia, are the Presidents of the Corresponding Committees in their respective dioceses.

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands towards its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a Beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is, in a sense, perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Missionary Committees," says his Lordship, "have a far greater latitude in India than any Lay-patrons at home. Upon presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, the Patron at home is functus officio. The Clergyman is removed, on being once instituted and licensed, totally and for ever from the Patron, and is transferred to the superintendency of the Bishop. The Patron has nothing whatever more to do with him. But in India, the Committee is (1) the continued paymaster of the Missionary after he is duly licensed;—for institution and induction there are none. (2) They correspond with him. (3) They supply him with Catechists. (4) They report his chief proceedings home. (5) They propose removals and changes of Station to the Bishop. (6) They exercise, unavoidably, an influence which does not belong to the mere Lay-patron; and are aiding, in a variety of ways, to the comfortable and honourable discharge of the Missionary's most exalted and most spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those Stations which are Extra-diocesan; i. e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such Stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission of Travancore; which as an independent state, not forming part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made, on behalf of the New Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia, who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly satisfactory to me that our friends at home are taking a view of these things which proves them to belong, not only to a MISSIONARY, but also to a CHURCH Society." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta—Letter, May 28, 1837: “The boundaries of the power of Committees, as they approach to those of the Bishop, can be ascertained, in many points, only by time and observation.” Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society; and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—“The principles of our new relations are now fully recognized: the details will soon find their level.”—Letter, 9th June, 1838.

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church*. Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this TRANSITION STATE—from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour. This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach. In an interview with the Bishop of Barbadoes—April, 1835—this point was expressly alluded to: and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, “that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary’s services.”—(Extracts from Committee’s Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society, according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee’s using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper Candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So, also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops—as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson—that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceedings.

It seems impossible to supersede this conventional understanding—as it may be termed—till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, not of confusion, but of peace, and “the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls,” unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause—“that all and every of these may, in THEIR SEVERAL CALLINGS, serve truly and painfully, to the glory of His name!”

* The American Episcopal Church has, in Convention, thus identified itself with a Missionary Society.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, April 30, 1872, being the Seventy-third Anniversary—

The Right Hon. the EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair,

VICAR OF ST. AUGUSTINE, Highbury.

On the Motion of the LORD BISHOP OF RIPON, V.P., seconded by His Grace the LORD ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY, V.P., and supported by J. H. KENNAWAY, Esq., M.P., it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of the Meeting be given to the Rev. Thomas D. Bernard, for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to His Grace the Vice-Patron; to the Right Hon. the President and the Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies.—[See List, p. iv.]

On the Motion of the LORD BISHOP OF RUPERT'S LAND, V.P., seconded by the REV. E. C. STUART, Secretary to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting desires to acknowledge with devout thankfulness to Almighty God the many encouraging indications that the work of evangelizing the nations through the agency of this and other Missionary Societies is exhibiting year by year a firmer foundation and an increased power of self-expansion, so as abundantly to repay the sacrifice made by the Christian Church to this cause. Among these indications may be noticed the foundation of self-supporting and self-governing Native Churches, the number, zeal, and efficiency of native evangelists and pastors, and the resuscitation of counter efforts among the heathen for the support of their false religions.

On the motion of the REV. TOWNSEND STORRS, Missionary from the Punjab, seconded by the REV. W. F. TAYLOR, LL.D., Vicar of St. Chrysostom, Everton, Liverpool,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the present aspect of the Mission field, which is the world, calls for the devotion to its service of the highest intellectual and linguistic talents which are to be found in the Church at home, united with a constraining love of Christ and deep compassion for perishing souls; it being clear, from experience, and from the Word of God, that such devotion to the work abroad will be no loss to the work at home, but will be abundantly compensated by the quickening of faith and by a larger outpouring of the Spirit.

At a Second Meeting, held in Exeter Hall, on the Evening of the same Day—

J. D. ALLCROFT, Esq., F.R.A.S., in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Henry Townsend, Missionary from the Yoruba Mission; Colonel W. J. Martin, late of the Peshawur Mission, and the Rev. CANON BARDSLEY, Rector of St. Ann's, Manchester.

PSALM VIII. 4.

“WHAT IS MAN, THAT THOU ART MINDFUL OF HIM? AND THE SON OF MAN, THAT THOU VISITEST HIM?”

WE are here for the sake of man—not of any class or race of men, but of man, as such. So wide is the scope of the Gospel, the commission of Jesus, and the charity which concurs in His designs. This truth our Society understands and maintains. Dropping all limitations, preferences, and selections, save those imposed by Providence in the course of practical action, it has asserted this universality of right in “the common salvation” for all nations under heaven: and thus we meet in the grand and elevating consciousness that we are here for the sake of man, witnesses that God has been mindful of him, and, in some sort, instruments by which God may visit him.

We know that our duty to maintain this witness and fulfil this ministry arises immediately from the revealed will of God, the professed intention of the Gospel, and the distinct commission of our Lord. Nor is it only a matter of obedience. All the motives of action, all the habits of thought, all the sympathies, aspirations, and affections which are generated by evangelical faith, converge upon the Missionary work, and expand to its unrestricted universality. But underneath these practical principles of ours, underneath these communications of the will of God, underneath this Gospel itself, lies the answer to the question, "What is man?"

It is first an exclamation of wonder (for wonder suggests inquiry); and how naturally has it risen to our lips, when, looking up to the heavens of the Lord, the vastness and majesty of creation have sunk into our souls! Since the world began the same heavens have looked down upon men with the same silent witness and the same solemn appeal. "There is neither speech nor language where their voice is not heard." And there has been always the same response; the same sense of the immensity of creation and the insignificance of man; and, in hearts which know the Lord, the same adoring wonder at the love which He has revealed, and the destiny which He has bestowed. Perhaps at this moment some one walking through English fields, under the darkening sky and the brightening stars, breathes forth, as the voice of his own heart, the words uttered by the Jewish king and shepherd 3000 years ago: "When I consider Thy heavens, the work of Thy fingers, the moon and the stars which Thou hast ordained;—Lord, what is man that Thou art mindful of him? and the son of man that Thou visitest him?"

If this is the emotional language of wonder, it is also the deliberate language of faith. The question seems suggested, How can the great Creator of this glorious universe concern Himself with such a being as man? But Faith does not admit it for a moment. She keeps firm hold of the truth on which she lives, "Thou art mindful of him—Thou dost visit him."

Since the words were uttered the temptation which they suggest has grown ten thousandfold more strong. Pardon me if I represent it to you in the lately published words of one of our first scientific men. (I say, Pardon me, for, in an assembly glowing with the joy of faith, words which intimate its absence must seem like a sudden chill.)

"Transferring thought from our little sand-grain of an earth to the immeasurable heavens, where countless worlds, with their freights of life, probably revolve unseen, the very suns which warm them being scarcely seen by us across abysmal space; reflecting that beyond these sparks of solar fire suns innumerable may lie whose light can never stir the optic nerve at all; and bringing this conception face to face with the idea that the Builder and Sustainer of it all should contract Himself to a burning bush, or behave in other familiar ways ascribed to Him—it is easy to understand how astounding the incongruity must appear to the scientific man. . . . Under the pressure of the awe which this universe inspires, well may we exclaim, in David's spirit if not in David's words—When I consider Thy heavens the work of Thy fingers, the moon and the stars which Thou hast ordained, what is man that Thou shouldest be mindful of him? or the son of man that Thou shouldest so regard him*?"

No! that is not in David's spirit any more than in David's words. "What is man that Thou shouldest be mindful of him?" means that the supposition is inadmissible. "What is man that Thou art mindful of him?" means that the fact is certain.

And what a fact it is, as we know it now! If since the words were uttered the immensity of creation is no longer an indistinct unmeasured mystery, but a subject of exacter knowledge and of calculations which overwhelm the mind, so also it is with the immensity of the love of God. Revelation has enlarged itself to the eye of faith as Nature to the eye of science; and to us, "Thou art mindful of him" implies all the grace of the Gospel, and "Thou visitest him," the incarnation of the Son of God.

For us, then, the question in the text is changed from an exclamation into a grave inquiry, not an abstract inquiry to be answered by scientific treatment and metaphysical exposition, but an inquiry which assumes the facts of revelation, which asks for an answer only in relation to those facts, and expects the answer from God, to whom the question is addressed? “What is man that Thou art mindful of him? and the son of man that Thou visitest him?”

To the abstract question we know what sort of answers are afloat. Theories of various centres of creation, or of physical development and natural selection, are brought to bear upon human nature, and a history of the descent of man is founded upon the material side of his nature, with an admirable affluence of observation, but with an extreme tenuity of reasoning. I will say nothing of these theories, or of their practical effect upon our code of duty to our fellow-creatures, specially upon that part of it which we recognize to-day. I would only fix your attention on the answer which Revelation has given to the question which itself has raised (for its great strength lies in its internal consistency and the correspondence of its constituent parts).

To human nature, as it appears in the Bible, there are, so to speak, two sides; one creating the necessity for the intervention of Divine love, and the other its fitness—perhaps its possibility.

The vanity and sinfulness of man might be known without the Bible, but are nowhere else so touchingly expressed or so profoundly interpreted. This character of man is implied in the tone of the text, and (still more distinctly than appears in our version) in the two different terms, alike translated “man,” and which both designate him on the side of his weakness and earthliness. We are used to these voices, and are ever adopting them as our own. “Man that is born of a woman hath but a few days to live, and is full of trouble; he cometh up like a flower and is cut down; he fleeth as it were a shadow and continueth not. His foundation is in the dust, his days but a span long, his life a vapour; he is shapen in iniquity, is under a law of sin; and death reigns over all his generations.”

Melancholy words! melancholy truths! But that which makes them melancholy is the consciousness of something else in our nature utterly at variance with these conditions. This, which men in their own thoughts doubtfully guessed and incoherently expressed, the Word of God announces and defines.

Hear how the Psalmist half answers his own question, reflecting with admiration on the singular position accorded to man, standing between the spiritual and the animal creations, allied to the one and supreme over the other: "Thou hast made him a little lower than the angels" (or, perhaps, "Thou hast made him to want but a little of God"—of a divine standing and character). "Thou hast crowned him with glory and honour. Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of Thy hands. Thou hast put all things under his feet."

This is not mere poetry. He read the truth and the nature of this dignity in his own Scriptures.

In each of the two Testaments certain statements on the nature of man are laid as the foundation of all that follows. The Bible is the history of man in his relations to God, and the ground of that history is this—"God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness. So God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him." These words express not (as some think) the goodness of his moral state, his original righteousness—that negative and infantine goodness which yielded to the first trial, and immediately passed away—but the essential constitution of his nature: for it was in his nature itself, and not in the goodness of it, that man differed from all else that was created. Moreover, this description is more than once applied to him in the Holy Word long ages after that goodness had been lost. Here, then, is the foundation for all that follows, all the discoveries of the capacity of man, whether for good or evil, all the dealings of God with him, the mercy and the judgment, the misery of the fall and the glory of the recovery. More particularly, here is the ground for the stupendous method of the Redemption itself, for it cannot surely be thought that God could be "made in the likeness of men," unless in some sense man had been "made in the likeness of God."

Proceed to the New Testament. It contains the history of this manifestation of the Son of God, and the Holy Ghost has given, in a few brief words, a preface to that history which shows us, so to speak, its fitness in the whole order of things.

The prologue to St. John's Gospel not only affirms the pre-existence, essential divinity, and distinct personality of the Eternal Word, but also asserts His original and antecedent relation to the creation into which He enters, and to man whose nature He assumes. "All things were made through Him, and without Him was not any thing made that was made. In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. That was the true light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world"—or, as I believe the words ought to be rendered (still leaving unchanged the truth on which I would fix your thoughts), "The true light which lighteth every man" (every human being) "was coming" (was then personally coming) "into the world." There was, then, in human nature, as such, a certain presence or effluence of the Word. Before His personal coming into the world, His "life was the light of men," "the true light, which lighteth every man." Whatever light, that is, lingered in the human conscience, whatever knowledge of truth, sense of truth, kindred with truth, capacity for truth, remained in this fallen nature, the Eternal Word was its origin, the Son of God its author. It is this original essential relation to our race which is the ground of the Incarnation itself, and the cause that, having taken flesh, He is the head and representative of all mankind, and the propitiation for the sins of the whole world.

I say, then, that the question, "What is man that Thou art mindful of him?" has received from Revelation a distinct answer corresponding to the wonderful story which it has to tell us of this mindfulness and visitation of God.

It is in contrast with this high place in creation, and this original relation to God, that the poverty, the vanity, the shame, the guilt, the death of man strike the reflecting mind with such painful amazement and such keen distress. The Word, which gives so glorious an answer to our question, straightway changes that glory into shame. As soon as it has said, "In the image of God made He man," it tells of the fall, and the ruin which ensued. As soon as it has said, "In Him was life, and the light was the light of men," it tells how that "light shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not." The darkness, the moral darkness of man's fallen nature comprehended it not—took it not down into itself, so as to yield to its power and be changed from darkness into day.

No; indeed it did not. How great is that darkness! I speak now of men as they were before the true Light came into the world, and as they are still where that Light has not reached them. You know how the prophets speak of the world; how, to their eyes, "darkness covered the earth and gross darkness the people;" how men were "sitting in the region and shadow of death;" how even the brightest promises assumed the previous existence of the deepest depression and gloom. "He will destroy in this mountain the face of the covering cast over all people, and the veil that is spread over all nations. He will swallow up death in victory, and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces." These are the tears (to use the words of Davidson)—"the tears of Nature and her children, weeping amid their ruins."

Oh, if there are any who know the truth of these descriptions, you surely are the men! Your eyes are fixed by duty, compassion, and interest in the work you do, on the scenes in which you do it—those lands of darkness and regions of the shadow of death. The negro, sunk to the lowest in his mean revolting Fetishism; the Hindu, corrupted and enslaved under the superincumbent mass of his accumulated ancestral superstitions; the Chinese, contemptuous in his petty worldliness and spiritual insensibility; the Maori, fierce in his strong savagery; the American Indian, sad as his own deserts, roaming in his desolate gloom—you have watched them all with that searching observation which a practical purpose gives. You have not merely looked on the outward life, whether picturesque or revolting. You have penetrated to their thoughts and their beliefs. You have asked what are their relations with Him who made them, how far they feel after Him and find Him, what are the principles whereby they live, and what the hopes wherewith they die.

By all that you have seen there, you have been saddened, inexpressibly saddened, but you have not been repelled. When our Missionary on the Pacific saw, at his first arrival, the dusky tribe gathering for its cannibal orgies, and followed, with fascinated eye, the crouching forms, like wild beasts, stealthily moving and then springing on their prey, he still remembered that these poor wretches had been made in the image of God, and believed that there was something in them responsive to the word of His truth. He has not believed in vain. The happy scene presented by that now Christian community, on his late return, will help to cheer our meeting to-morrow.

For us there have been no different species of mankind, no wrong races to be counted hopeless, and regarded as alien to ourselves ("Homo sum, humani nihil a me alienum puto" has for Christians a deeper meaning than its author could understand). It is all one family, whose common history we know, and whose nature its common Redeemer has assumed. Under whatever aspect man appears, he is still man, of whom God is mindful, and whom God has visited ;—and that is what we have to tell him.

II. Consider now this truth. I have spoken of the question in the text; I speak now of the assertion, "Thou art mindful of him; Thou dost visit him."

It is, first, an assurance which we accept for ourselves, the ground of our peace and hope; then an assurance which we entertain for others, the spring of all Missionary action; lastly, an assurance which we convey to them, the good tidings which we bear. In this last point of view we will now regard it.

“God is mindful of you. God visits you.” This has always been the message. Already in the first moments of the fall its anticipatory utterance forbid despair and fastened on the sinking heart of man. It was the message from the burning bush to prostrate Israel in the house of bondage. It was the substance and the soul of the long succession of prophecy. It was realized in the manifestation of Jesus Christ, and constitutes the glorious Gospel of the blessed God which is committed to our trust.

I believe that, as a Society, we have understood it. I believe that our Missionaries have understood it. I believe that their primary message to the heathen has always been, not “you must be mindful of God,” but “God has been mindful of you;” not “you must seek after the Lord,” but “the Lord has visited you : He has come to seek and to save that which was lost.” The faith of this, once awakened in the heart, is the effectual power for return and restoration. Not by proving the folly of heathen thought, the shame of idolatry, or the guilt of its attendant sins, not by appealing to the desire to save the soul, not by urging the claims of duty, righteousness, and truth—necessary as these methods are, and great as is their power in the work of conversion, yet not by these methods is the decisive victory gained. Leave man to feel that for a return to God it is he who is first to move, he who is to provide or propose conditions of peace, and you will see him paralyzed, disheartened, or repelled. Make him understand that God has done it, and if that faith be taken into his heart for his own personal use, he is reconciled already, he is alive unto God, and the powers of eternal life are unfolding in his soul. Brethren, whatever may be told us to-morrow of effort, whatever of success, we shall know to have been based on this testimony of the Gospel of the grace of God, and that certainty will be the ground of all the confidence we shall feel in the effort, and of all the satisfaction in the success.

Consider next how this faith is taught in the Bible.

Nothing is more admirable in that book than its harmonious combination of truths which seem to exclude each other; for instance, the truths of which we have been speaking—the glory of the God of the universe and His mindfulness and visitation of man. This combination is never more striking than when we think of it as a fresh discovery presented to the mind of a heathen.

What! are you going to take from him his familiar deities, which, however grotesquely conceived, shape themselves to his eye, reside in his clumsy temple, and haunt the trees before his door, and to raise his thoughts to one God without body parts or passions, inhabiting eternity, present in the immensity of space “a King eternal, immortal, invisible, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto, whom no man hath seen or can see”? Science, sweeping with her eye the vastness of the universe, cannot elevate and spiritualize the idea of God as does this book from which you would teach the world. It is magnificent, but is it not oppressive? The heart of your catechumen sinks. Can this God of all things be a God for him? What is become of the association of the divine with human feelings and human life? I think I hear him crying, like one of old, “Ye have taken away my gods which I had made, and the priest, and ye are gone away—and what have I more?—and what is this that ye say unto me, What aileth thee?”

A religion of science might leave him thus, but not the religion of the Bible. There, we have scarcely heard that God created the heavens and the earth before we find Him reasoning with the woman and the man, and the Voice, which said, “Let there be light,” is walking in the garden in the cool of the day. He who answers to “What is thy name?” with “I am that I am,” adds immediately, “I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. This is my name for ever, and this is my memorial to all generations.” The result of the entire Old Testament (its “effect,” if I may so speak) is a sense of the unspeakable nearness of the God who seemed so distant, His kind mindfulness of man, His constant visitation of man, His intimate association with all his history and inward converse with his heart.

Are there in these interviews and interventions of God condescensions which seem strange—what the objector calls “familiar ways of behaving Himself”? Yet these divine familiarities work their end and create that living commerce of man with God which the Psalms exemplify, which all the pages of Scripture exhibit, and which they still awaken in the hearts of those who read them. Wisdom is justified of her children: and a soul restored to its relation with the Father of Spirits, and to its place in the scale of spiritual being, satisfies all demands of the argument from final causes.

What a change has come over life and death, over earth and heaven, over things present and things to come—to the poorest negro woman who says, within herself, “I am poor and needy, yet the Lord thinketh upon me. Thou art my God and I will thank Thee; Thou art my God and I will praise Thee.”

This is the general effect of the Scripture-teaching—but what is its creating cause? O Saviour of the world! it is Thy presence in these Scriptures. They testify of Thee. The one great proof of God’s mindfulness of man, the one great act of His visitation is the foundation of every other. When the Son of God came to visit us in great humility, when He was made man, when He was made sin for us, when He was crucified, dead, and buried, when He rose again for our justification, and ascended up far above all Heavens that He might fill all things, the seal was set to every other word of God’s kindness, to every other act of His care. Then it appeared that God was mindful not only of our superficial, transient miseries, but of the deepest necessities of our ruined nature, and, to meet those necessities, had visited us not by any intermediate agency, but by His coeternal Word, “the brightness of His glory and the express image of His person, by whom also He made the worlds.” This is what we have in our thoughts when we look up to Heaven and say, “What is man, that Thou art mindful of him; and the son of man, that Thou visitest him?” We see man, to all appearance, under the guilt and burden of sin. “But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death," putting away sin by the sacrifice of Himself. We see man under the power of death, and the creation of which he is the head in the bondage of corruption. But we see Jesus crowned with glory and honour, and, having overcome death in His own person, waiting till that last enemy shall be subdued under His feet. And this Jesus is man Himself, the Head and Representative of man, and he that believes and is baptized is associated to the history and the destiny of His humanity. The believer, the true believer, has died to sin in the death of Jesus, and is risen again in the resurrection of Jesus, and lives to God by the life of Jesus, and is righteous in the righteousness of Jesus, and holy in the Spirit of Jesus, and adopted in the Sonship of Jesus, and is a sharer of His final victory, and joint-heir of His eternal and glorious kingdom. The sense of these truths present to the soul, the experience of them as part of the inward life, is described as "the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ being with our spirit;" and this opens out into the enjoyment of "the love of God," and of "the fellowship of the Holy Ghost;" and these three agree in one; for the doctrine of the holy, blessed, and glorious Trinity, which is sometimes represented as an abstract speculation, separating the Godhead from human feelings and human life, does, on the contrary (as a matter of fact) create for believers a more living, penetrating, and intimate association with God than can even be imagined without it. These are the things which are freely given to us of God. They belong equally to all mankind, and man who knows them is made the witness to man who knows them not. •

You have understood this duty and are banded together to fulfil it. Surely this is the best of all Guilds and Brotherhoods—doing the best work that is carried on in the earth. Shall the Missionary interest decline? Shall our numbers be suffered to dwindle? our hands to wax feeble? our means to run short? Some say it is to be so. Let us arise and call upon God to renew the power of His Spirit upon us, and let us exhort one another, while it is called to-day.

Keep before your minds the results to which you minister, while witnessing to men in darkness that God is mindful of them, and becoming honoured instruments by which He visits them. It is a ministry of blessing to man individually, to man in community, and to man in eternity.

1. The individuality of man is a solemn thought. As to our spiritual state and eternal sentence, we are each of us alone before God. We die alone and go alone into His presence. Would that we felt it more! It is the same with each man and woman among the millions who crowd the earth. Think, then, of the separate souls whom you may help to save; whose peace with God, whose life towards God, the Word you send may instrumentally create. You know it does create them where it is received in the power of the Holy Ghost. Say that in many cases it is received only in its simplest elements and with imperfect apprehensions: yet even "little children" in Christ Jesus "have known the Father, and their sins are forgiven them for His name's sake."

2. Think also how your work tells on man in community. By his nature, and by the will of God, man lives in communities, and his very faith is gregarious. The Lord's command is to "disciple all nations" (not merely individuals), and, after a certain amount of success, the work assumes that character with a necessity which you cannot avert. Even now whole villages and classes of men claim Christian instruction from our Missionaries. Select and test your converts in these first days, when it is in your power to do so, but you will soon find what it is to have cast your net into the sea where it must gather of every kind, both good and bad. In a very few generations the rising tide of promiscuous human life will have rolled its various contents into your churches. The future history of races which you Christianize or help to Christianize, of churches which you found or help to found, cannot indeed be foreseen, but you know what Church history has been and what human nature is. Still you are sure first, that when you have introduced the Word of God into the mind and habit of a people, its future must be far happier and nobler than its past; next, that if corruption should ensue, this Word has a recuperative power, and can from time to time beget its own reformations of religion ; and, lastly, that, if a large amount of merely nominal Christianity should supervene, still the elect of God will be in the midst of it.

3. Finally, think of the issue of your work on man in eternity, on the individual and the community in the world to come. There is the true destiny and real life of man. To this the inspired commentator applies the words of our Psalm : “To the angels hath He not put in subjection the world to come whereof we speak ; but one in a certain place testified, What is man that thou art mindful of him ? and the son of man that thou visitest him ? Thou madest him a little lower than the angels, Thou crownedst him with glory and honour ; Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet.” We can but scantily interpret the precious intimations of that restored world and regenerated humanity—but creation waits for the manifestation of the sons of God, as the sons of God wait for the manifestation of their Lord. Let all your lines of thought, of work, and of hope converge upon that day. So it was with the holy Apostles, so let it be with you. As the true result, so the true worth of all things will appear at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all His saints. Then all confidence in His word, all obedience to His charge, all endeavours for His glory will be justified in their pre-ordained results ; and the work of faith, the labour of love, and the patience of hope will shine in their issue and be crowned with their reward.

“Wherefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as you know that your labour shall not be in vain in the Lord.”

“Now unto Him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto Him be glory, in the Church, by Christ Jesus, throughout all ages, world without end.”

REPORT,

&c. &c.

THE particulars of the Society's Income for the year which has closed are as follows:—

Benefactions	13,735	12	11
Legacies	16,247	3	4
Other sources	6,222	8	2
	£149,697	16	5

In addition to the above, the Committee have to acknowledge with much thankfulness a donation of 2,000*l.* stock from the Rev. H. Houghton, the interest of which is to be applied to promoting the study of the Scriptures in Hebrew and Greek at the Lahore Divinity College and the Fourah Bay College, Sierra Leone; they have also received an anonymous donation of 2,000*l.* to the Japan Mission Fund; making the gross receipts for the year 153,697*l.* 16*s.* 5*d.*

The General Income, as compared with that of last year, shows a decrease of 1,731*l.* In Benefactions there is a decrease of 1,848*l.*, in Legacies an increase of 3,356*l.*; but the returns from Associations have this year fallen to the point reached in 1865, and are 3,163*l.* below last year, and 4,000*l.* below the average of the last five years.

The Committee regard the amount of last year's Expenditure, 154,000*l.*, as the average rate required to maintain the Missions upon their present scale; and are glad to find that the increase in this year's Expenditure may be considered as chargeable to Capital account, being due to the erection of necessary buildings at Lagos, and in the Ningpo Mission.

Under all these circumstances the Committee have determined to make grants in aid of the General Mission Account from such special Funds as are available for the purpose. These are, the China Fund, the Opium Refuge Fund, the Japan Mission Fund, and the Buildings in the Missions Fund. The Committee find that the Expenditure chargeable against these Funds, but paid out of the General Fund, amounts to 6,887*l.* 17*s.* 8*d.* This sum has therefore been transferred to the credit of the General Fund, leaving, with last year's deficit, a balance against the General Mission Account of 946*l.*

The Financial Statement is as follows :—

Ordinary Expenditure of the Year	157,132	16	10
	7,435	0	5
Appropriations from Special Funds	6,887	17	8
Deficit, 1871-72	547	2	9
Deficit, last Year	399	6	1
Balance against General Account, 1871-72	946	8	10
Ordinary Income	149,697	16	5
For Special Objects :—
Japan Mission Fund	2,000	0	0
Hall and Houghton Fund	2,000	0	0
	4,000	0	0
Total Receipts	£153,697	16	5
Persia Famine Relief Fund	£2,948	16	11

PATRONAGE.

The Bishops of Cork, Cashel, and Tuam, have been appointed Vice-Presidents of the Society, together with the Right Hon. Lord Cairns, Rowland Smith, Esq., M.P., and Lieut.-Gen. Sir A. Cotton, K.C.S.I. The Committee have to lament the loss by death of the Bishop of Cashel, Bishops Short and Smith, Sir Thomas Dyke Acland, Bart., and Sir Hugh Hill, Kt., Vice-Presidents of the Society.

* The Local Funds raised in the Missions, and expended there upon the operations of the Society, independently of the General Fund, are not included in this statement.

The Committee have nominated as Honorary Governors for Life:—The Rev. Thomas Green, M.A., late Principal of the Islington Institution, now Vicar of Friezland; Rev. E. Lombe, M.A., Rector of Swanton Morley; Rev. C. Marson, M.A., Vicar of Clevedon, Somerset; and the Rev. J. W. Reeve, M.A., Minister of Portman Chapel, Baker Street, Marylebone.

SECRETARYSHIP.

The Rev. J. Barton having proceeded to Madras to relieve the Rev. P. S. Royston, the Committee have appointed the Rev. H. Wright, M.A., Vicar of St. Nicholas, Nottingham, Honorary Clerical Secretary of the Society. As Mr. Wright was not able to enter at once on his duties, and the Secretariat was temporarily weakened from other causes, the Committee have requested the Rev. P. S. Royston, and the Rev. E. C. Stuart, late Corresponding Secretaries in Madras and Calcutta, to act as Secretaries in London for a few months, pending further arrangements.

ISLINGTON INSTITUTION.

The Committee deeply regret to announce that the supply of Candidates for Missionary work has been unusually small. No University Graduate has offered himself; and the average number of students resident at Islington College throughout the year has been only twenty-three, as compared with thirty-six or forty a few years back. The Committee earnestly invite the attention of friends throughout the country to this fact.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

Twenty-two of the Society's Candidates were admitted to Holy Orders during the year; five by the Bishop of London; four by the Archbishop of Canterbury; seven Native Africans—four by the Bishop of Sierra Leone and three by Bishop Crowther; two natives by Bishop Gobat; one native by the Bishop of Calcutta; two natives by the Bishop of Madras, and one native by the Bishop of Rupert's Land.

I. Native Church within the Colony.

THE most prominent facts of the year in Sierra Leone are those connected with the welcome presence and active labours of the newly-appointed diocesan. Bishop Cheetham has not only visited every parish of the colony, and confirmed one thousand candidates, but has devised and set on foot various schemes for promoting spiritual growth in the Church, and the social improvement of the population. On this subject one of the Missionaries remarks as follows, under date Nov. 1871:—

At the close of last year we were looking forward with anxiety and great interest to the coming amongst us of our newly appointed Bishop, Dr. Cheetham. I say with anxiety, because the Native Church and the Society's work required the guiding hand of a man not only "full of faith and of the Holy Ghost," but also of ripe judgment and practical good sense; energetic in working, and fertile in mental resources. Such an one, thank God, came amongst us. Long may he be spared by Christ's help to "consolidate the Native Church of West Africa, and to extend the work of Missions over the degraded nations of Africa!"

The Rev. J. A Lamb adds the following particulars:—

In July, 1871, the Bishop held a clerical meeting at Bishop's Court, at the time of the Native Pastorate Anniversary Meeting. The foundation of many good works was laid on that occasion. Amongst others (1) a Sierra Leone Church Almanack for 1872, 2000 copies of which are now on sale at 2*d.* each. (2.) A Sierra Leone Church Magazine, which is to begin in January. (3.) A Provident Society for sickness and old age, on a satisfactory working footing, to embrace Native Pastors and Agents in its beginning, but ultimately to include a much wider circle. Upon this matter the Bishop has spent much labour to make it a good working concern, with the object of superseding, if possible, the miserable "companies" which hang like pests upon the community, but which the people naturally cling to as established systems. (4.) A Church week, which should include Bishop's visitation and a clerical and lay Conference. This Church week took place in October. It began with an ordination on the 22nd (Sunday), when Mr. Sunter was admitted to Priests' Orders, and two West Indian Missionaries from the Pongas to Priests' and Deacons' Orders respectively. Mr. H. Johnson preached the ordination sermon. On the Monday the first stone of Brookfields Church was laid by the Bishop, in presence of a large assembly, to whom he delivered an animated address. On the Tuesday the Bishop held his visitation, and delivered his primary charge, which was very able and practical.

The Clerical and Lay Conference, referred to by Mr. Lamb, occupied the following Wednesday and Thursday. The devotional exercises were found to be spiritually profitable. Valuable papers, bearing on evangelization, education, the promotion of industry, and the development of the material resources of the country, were also read by two African clergymen, an African layman, and the Government Director of Public Instruction.

The income of the Native Pastorate Auxiliary has increased from 270*l.* to 400*l.* On the other hand, the contributions to the Missionary Auxiliary have declined from 400*l.* to 300*l.*; a diminution which is perhaps attributable to the temporary absence, in England, of the Native Secretary, the Rev. J. Quaker.

II. Congregations still connected with the Society.

The congregation of Trinity Church, KISSY ROAD, is under the pastoral care of the Rev. T. Oldham. In his annual letter Mr. Oldham, as will be seen from the following extract, makes no attempt to conceal weak points. Still, on the whole, there is much to encourage.

It is now more than ever important that the intelligent and pious among the laity should be encouraged to take an interest and an active part in Church and Mission work. At the beginning of the year I formed a parochial Committee, consisting of eight members of the congregation and the Society's agents connected with the district. We have worked together harmoniously, and not without some benefit to the district. But I will not conceal from the Parent Committee that one of our chief difficulties is the finding, even in our large congregations, of individuals possessing piety enough and spirit enough to help us in our Master's work. During the early part of the year we were much cheered and encouraged by many of those who had lapsed into sin coming forward, and with tears deploring their sins and seeking full membership with the Church. I cannot but hope that some of these, at least, were truly penitent, earnestly desiring henceforth to lead "a godly, righteous, and sober life." It was also encouraging to see the number and demeanour of the young men and women who came forward for instruction preparatory to confirmation. Besides the general instruction in class, I saw every candidate in my study, and spoke to each one very seriously and plainly. I could not but feel that some of the ninety-four candidates were under the Holy Spirit's influence, and would joyfully confirm the vows and promises made for them at baptism, with the full intention of living to Christ. The scene in the cathedral on the morning of the ceremony, when nearly 300 candidates assembled, was inspiring in a high degree. The Bishop's address was excellent, and the devout demeanour of the candidates pleasing to see. When the rite was being administered, many were in tears—tears of joy, that they were enabled thus publicly to consecrate themselves to Jesus. Some of the confirmees were already communicants, and the remainder became so immediately. But I am sorry to add that some of these newly confirmed young people of Trinity Church soon ceased "to run well." I had to suspend them from membership for immorality, and some older communicants as well, for the same cause. I am much afraid that gross sins are too lightly regarded by the professing Christians of Sierra Leone.

The new Infant School has now been completed, mainly at the expense of the congregation. The subscriptions to the Native Pastorate Auxiliary have also been good.

At PADEMBA ROAD the attendants at public worship (including those at the out stations) are 680, the communicants 350. The following extracts are from the Annual Letter of the Rev. J. Johnson, the Native Curate :—

An interesting confirmation Service.

On the 23rd of March last his Lordship the Bishop held his first confirmation for the churches in the city at the St. George's Cathedral; the confirmed were about 300 persons, most of them were of ages varying between fifteen and twenty; of this number 160 were from Christ Church and its outstations. The service performed on the occasion was as solemn as it was interesting and instructive. Most of the candidates were dressed in white, a fit emblem of a pure heart and life. Every one of them seemed to have felt the solemnity and importance of the occasion; some shed precious tears of sorrow and of joy. The Bishop's address, founded on Psalm cxliv. 12, was practical, earnest, and impressive. I cannot describe the joyful emotions of my heart when I saw so many of those whom I have in conjunction with others watched over for many years, kneel reverently before the Bishop, and in the face of the Church receive the imposition of hands, and enjoy the Church's prayer for Divine protection after they had confessed to their baptismal obligations; it was a rich reward to patient toil and hopeful sowing of the seed of eternal life. The number of our communicants is now 311, and the average number of attendants at our monthly celebrations is 200. Of several of them it may be said that they are growing in grace, and distinguishing themselves by their humility, patience, prayerfulness, loving-kindness, and liberality; others are trying to follow them, showing that they also have received some measure of grace.

We were favoured in May last with the visit of two Native Missionaries from the Niger Mission. In one of them, the Rev. Mr. During, we have a peculiar interest; he had been a member of Christ Church. Although we do not contribute specially towards his pay, yet we look upon him as our representative in that important mission. There had been three: one is already in glory, and another has retired.

Brookfields has been hitherto an out-station of Pademba Road. The commencement of the erection of a new church here has been already mentioned. When completed, it is proposed to transfer it, as an independent district church, to the Native Pastorate.

Respecting Kroo Town, Mr. Johnson writes :—

Effect of open-air preaching.

The work is becoming hopeful: some of the Kroo men have been baptized and confirmed. During the last dry season I had open-air preaching there every Sunday afternoon, hoping thereby to reach some of those who would not come to the School Chapel to join us in our devotion. The congregations were generally good, and the attention given to our message was satisfactory. A few months ago a Christian resident at Kroo Town said to me: "Your preaching in the open air at Kroo Town is being blessed; the people's hearts are restless."

III. Education.

The Local Government renders important aid in this department, by liberal pecuniary grants and competent inspection. The self-supporting GRAMMAR SCHOOL continues to give a high education, on a Christian basis, to more than 100 pupils. Three European ladies are employed in the FEMALE INSTITUTION, where thirty-three pupils are receiving a superior education. The Rev. M. Sunter, who is at present in charge of the FOURAH BAY COLLEGE, has been very much laid aside by the fever of the country. He hopes, however, that he is now acclimatized, and looks forward to regular work for the time to come. He writes:—

There are nine students at the present time in residence. The studies for the third or highest year embrace the following subjects: Holy Scripture, with Scott's Commentary; the Greek Testament, with special regard to the doctrines therein contained; Hebrew; Butler, and Pearson on the Creed; constant exercise in writing essays and sermons. There is only one student in this year. He has had instruction in Timneh, and speaks the language fairly. The students are continually engaged in Evangelistic efforts. They visit the people in the neighbourhood of the college at Cline's Town, take part in conducting a week-night service, once a month have a Missionary meeting in our little chapel at Cline's Town, and take part in the Sunday-school as well as the Sunday services. Four of them go to Kissy Road every Sunday, and assist in the Sunday-school. The senior students preach at Cline's Town Chapel, each in turns; the one who will leave us at Christmas assists me in the classes. I have to report favourably of their general good conduct and amenability to discipline; and I may remark that the alacrity and cheerfulness with which they undertake their several duties is especially pleasing to me.

It is regarded by the Committee as part of the work of the Fourah Bay College, that the Principal should instruct and examine the readers and catechists employed in the Mission. Mr. Sunter thus reports on this head:—

The first examination will be held at Fourah Bay on the 1st April, 1872; the second on the 1st October following. The subjects are specified to the agents half a year previously by the examiner. I have chosen for the first examination in April next:

The Book of Genesis, St. Matthew's Gospel, the Mizan-ul-Haqq, Parts I. and II. At the request of the Bishop, I have also undertaken to examine the catechists, and those engaged in catechetical duties, in connexion with the Native Pastorate. We shall by this means provide for the further extension of their theological knowledge, and what is even more important, we shall be able, we trust, to ascertain what advance has been made spiritually by each labourer. They will return to Fourah Bay periodically, which will go far towards keeping up their connexion with it, and making it a great Missionary centre. I shall also be able to gain knowledge of each, and ascertain their needs and the difficulties which they encounter; this being so, I trust to be able to encourage them, and materially aid them in their work.

IV. Evangelistic work beyond the Colony.

North of Sierra Leone, in the BULLOM country, the Society's work is carried on by an African clergyman (the Rev. H. Boston) and five assistant teachers. The Gospel is proclaimed to the Native heathen population, and efforts are made for the good of the settlers from Sierra Leone; most of these latter being already nominal Christians. The adherents and communicants belong chiefly to the class last named, and are reckoned respectively at 532 and 162. The corresponding numbers last year were 504 and 142. Mr. Boston, however, could then report five adult baptisms for the year; now, only two. The Bishop of Sierra Leone visited Bullom in April, 1871, and confirmed fifty persons. Five of these were Bullom natives. Mr. Boston's congregations support a Native Evangelist, who has been labouring steadily among the heathen, sometimes alone, sometimes in company with Mr. Boston, ever since the close of the year 1870. The message has been well received in some places, and several adult heathen are under instruction. Yet, in the journals and reports of this year, there is more frequent mention of disinclination to accept a Christian teacher, than in former communications. This is, perhaps, especially the case among the Mohammedans. The following, from the journal of a Native teacher is an illustration:—

Feb. 14, 1871.—Reached Yaroka after one o'clock p.m., and were introduced to Pa Shenah the chief. He received us warmly, and was glad of the visit; and when the object of our coming was told, he promised to assemble his people in the evening, at their return from business. At my request, he provided us a house for our lodging, and I gave him for it presents amounting to half-a-crown. The chief was very kind and hospitable to us. He sent me some dinner and visited us in our lodging, where we had some interesting conversation on religious topics and other things secular. The chief assembled the people after dinner time. Men, women, and children, more than a hundred in all, came together. It was a pleasing sight. Fire was kindled, and we had candle lights to lighten the place. I addressed them from the words in Acts xvi., 30, 31—the enquiry of the Philippian jailor and the Apostle Paul's reply. Mr. Johnson also spoke, and read the Ten Commandments. They listened attentively, and seemed interested. The business ended in conversation, after which a man, whom I doubted not to be a Mohammedan teacher, stood up and spoke to the people, repeating something of my discourse, and urged them to accept what they heard as words of unmixed truth. The chief thanked us after this in the name of all his people, and told me that, as Mahomedans, they should not consent to receive a Christian Teacher among them; but would be always ready to hear any one who comes as we do to show them the true way to God.

The catechists at the out-stations of Robanny and Robenkeh report an improvement among the Sierra Leone immigrants as regards observance of the Sabbath and attendance at public worship; while, at the former of these two places, seven heathens and four Mohammedans have put themselves under Christian instruction.

The QUIAH Mission is now divided into two parts: North Quiah, of which the Missionary is the Rev. Charles Knödler, and South Quiah, where the work is carried on by a Native brother, the Rev. John C. Taylor, late of the Niger Mission. At the date of writing his Annual Letter Mr. Knödler had not yet received any of the natives (Timnehs or Temnes) into the visible Church of Christ. But there were thirteen catechumens whom he hoped to baptize in a few weeks, contemporaneously with the completion and first use of a church now building at Ma-Kibit, the central station. Two of these candidates for baptism are sons of an influential chief, who have their father's consent for the step they are about to take, and who appear to be true spiritual converts. The few Sierra Leone settlers in the country are not neglected. From among this class there are eight communicants, and the number of attendants at public worship is increasing.

The effect produced by the restoration of North Quiah to Native authority is, in a Missionary point of view, of a mixed character, though perhaps on the whole beneficial. Mr. Knödler writes on this subject:—

North Quiah is again entirely under the sway of its Native chiefs, and some of the consequences which I conjectured from the change of government have been already realized. The population is increasing, and though there is still plenty of room for new settlers, yet we do not now so often run the risk of making a long journey, and meeting after all only a few more or less deserted villages. We have opportunities of preaching the Gospel to larger numbers of people than formerly, and the Word of God is heard by many with attention and apparent approval. But, at the same time, violence and superstition, being no longer kept in check by an enlightened and Christian Government, have their free course and produce their effect. Slavery is re-established, and public prosecutions for supposed witchcraft again take place. A case, similar to one that I mentioned in my last annual letter, occurred a few months ago at Benkia. Eight persons were accused of practising witchcraft, and very cruelly treated. The chiefs did not venture to burn them, as they formerly would have done, but intended to sell them into slavery. I interfered in these proceedings, and succeeded, though not without pecuniary sacrifice, in rescuing an old man who is our neighbour, and whose wife and children were under Christian instruction, and regular attendants in church and class. One of the prisoners deliberately drowned himself with the stocks on his foot, others were redeemed by their friends, but one poor woman, whose redemption-money was not paid at the stipulated time, is again in stocks.

On the whole the chiefs seem to wish to be on friendly terms with us, and though they take generally very little interest in personal religion, they give us full liberty to preach the Word of Life wherever we can collect an assembly of hearers, and often they are listeners themselves. The king of the Quiah Country, "Bey Canta," who formerly showed much animosity towards us and our work, lately sent one of his young sons to me to be educated, and I think at the same time to give me some proof of being now well disposed towards us.

Mr. Knödler's labours have been interrupted during the year by failure of health, and consequent occasional absence.

In the SHERBRO MISSION, which lies to the south of the colony, civil war has broken up the out-stations, and driven the Society's agents within British territory. But the Committee are happy to report that the Native Missionary attached to the Sherbro, the Rev. H. Johnson, has devoted his time to the translation of the Scriptures into the Mendi, a language spoken over a great extent of country. He has sent home a Gospel and the Acts of the Apostles, and the Epistle to the Romans, which are highly commended by the Society's veteran African linguist, Mr. Schön. The Bishop of Sierra Leone has recommended that a European Missionary

LAGOS.

LAGOS continues to be a scene of commercial activity and progress in civilization. Two more churches have been erected, mainly at the expense of the Native Christians ; outward attention to religion is generally increasing ; and indications are not wanting of true spiritual life. Bishop Cheetham held his first visitation on this part of the coast in November and December of last year. He confirmed 450 candidates, who came forward in nearly equal numbers from the two sections of the Native Church, those speaking English and those speaking Yoruba. On Advent Sunday the Bishop admitted four tried Native teachers to deacons' orders—Messrs. T. B. Wright for Lagos, S. Pearse for Badagry, D. Williams for Abeokuta, and D. Olubi for Ibadan. There are now nine African clergymen in the Yoruba Mission. The Church Council was remodelled on a firmer basis, and a Clerical and Lay Conference stirred up and exhibited the zeal and intelligence of the leading members of the Native Christian community. The Missionaries speak of the Bishop's visit as a "time of refreshing." Further particulars are given by Mr. Nicholson, who writes:—

The Bishop held four confirmations, two in Lagos, one at Ebute Metta, and one at Badagry. The two in Lagos were held at Christ's Church and the Bread-fruit Church. The one at Christ's Church was for the English-speaking candidates, and was held on St. Andrew's-day, November 30, when 220 candidates were confirmed. The service at the Bread-fruit Church was held December 5, and was for the Yoruba-speaking candidates; 160 were confirmed. At Ebute Metta about seventy, and at Badagry thirty-six, were confirmed. All these services were marked by great solemnity, and will be long remembered by those who were concerned in them.

Churches connected with the Society in Lagos.

The five principal congregations are those of Faji, Bread-fruit, Ebute Ero, Aroloya or Palm Church, and the new suburb Ebute Metta.

Faji has been under the care of the Rev. H. Townsend. The communicants number nearly the same as before, 126. There have been no adult baptisms during the year.

The intelligence given in the Rev. L. Nicholson's annual letter from Bread-fruit is very satisfactory. He writes:—

An African Sunday-School.

The year past at this station has been one of progress. Our Sunday services are very crowded. From 500 to 600, even 700, are the numbers who come from Sunday to Sunday. The Sunday-school has increased very much this year. The average attendance is 350, though sometimes as many as 420 are present, at least half of whom are adults. This is a means often blessed by God to gather in souls. Heathen people passing in the street are drawn in by the sound of voices they hear; and we have always a class ready for such people, so that as soon as they show themselves they are at once asked in, and a teacher tells them of Jesus who came into the world to save sinners. Several have been baptized who were first so brought to Jesus. There has been an increase of eighteen in the number of communicants, from 226 to 244. I trust the majority of these are walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost. Some are real Missionaries to their heathen neighbours, seeking to show them the folly of idols, and the blessedness of trusting in Jesus, the Saviour of Sinners. There is one old woman who continually seeks to do this wherever she may. If she meets a heathen she will at once seek to win that soul to Christ; and if she observes charms on the person she speaks to, she will say, "I will give you a better charm than all you have; come and learn about the God of the Bible, and that God will be your best charm: He will keep you from evil always." Thirty-one adults have been received into the visible Church by baptism. Many of them were slaves, who were living in the interior, and ran down to Lagos for freedom. In finding civil freedom they have found the spiritual freedom of the Gospel, the glorious liberty of the children of God.

zeal of Lagos Native Christians.

The whole number of Native Christians connected with Bread-fruit congregation, including children, is 700.

The Native Christians connected with Ebute Ero are 195 in number, fifty of these being communicants. Mr. Morgan, the Native Pastor, gives no account of the spiritual state of the congregation. There have been five adult baptisms during the year, one of these being a native of the place, and another a Hausa Mohammedan. Ten Catechumens are seeking admission into the Church.

Aroloya (or Palm Church) and Ebute Metta.—These two congregations—the former long established, the latter in a new suburb, consisting largely of refugees from Abeokuta—were united under the care of the Rev. J. A. Maser, a suitable Native Pastor not having been found. The Native Christians aggregate 270. Of these 202 are registered as communicants. Ten adults have been baptized during the year. In both districts the congregations have increased. In Aroloya, which is an important and rapidly-growing quarter of Lagos, a new church, built mainly by local contributions, was opened for public worship for the first time in April, 1871, in the presence of the then Governor-in-Chief, Sir Arthur Kennedy. Still greater advance has been made at Ebute Metta. Mr. Maser writes:—

The little bamboo chapel is now quite filled on Sundays, and needs enlarging. The members have willingly assisted in preaching at Ido Island, and also in working in the erection of a Church at Otta, on the same island, together with the chief there, so that it could be opened on the 7th of December by the Bishop of the diocese, while here on a visit. The chief himself was baptized on the occasion, with two more adults (who are his near relatives) and his four children. Mr. Coker, who has been Mr. Wood's assistant, at the Training Institution hitherto, will now occupy the Island, which contains about 900 inhabitants, among whom, according to the census of 1868, there was not a single Christian.

It has been recently thought desirable to occupy Ebute Metta more strongly, stationing there a European Missionary who may make it a centre for Evangelistic work in the neighbouring country. The Rev. E. Roper, formerly of Ibadan, has been appointed to the post.

Education.

Twelve students are receiving instruction in the Training Institution. Its Principal, the Rev. J. B. Wood, in his annual letter, writes as follows:—

The work has gone on much as usual during the year, except that, as you are aware, I was through ill-health compelled to lose about seven weeks' work in the early part of the year; this of course interfered with the ordinary routine of the Institution. As will, perhaps, always be the case, some of the students have worked heartily and have needed no spur, whilst others have shown less earnestness than could have been desired. The moral conduct of the students has been upon the whole satisfactory. At the end of September four students who formed the senior class received appointments; one to Ake, Abeokuta; one to the Breadfruit Station, Lagos; and two to the Training Institution itself. Mr. Daniel Coker, who was assistant in the Institution, has been set apart to assist Mr. Maser in carrying on the work at his several stations. The appointment of the two students to the Institution is only a temporary arrangement, and made in prospect of further changes contemplated. A step untried here before has been lately taken; a preparatory class has been formed. This has been necessitated by the lack of a sufficient number of older and more experienced candidates for admission into the Institution, and the low attainments of those who have formerly been admitted. At present we cannot afford to confine ourselves to the reception of those candidates only who have been out in life and learnt something of the world; the supply from that source is too limited. Our probable course in future may be this:—To have a preparatory class with a limited number of pupils; to have several out as pupil teachers, who may be afterwards received into the Institution for further training; and to continue to receive as heretofore older and more experienced candidates, where they can be had. This will sufficiently indicate to you that we are ready to avail ourselves of any material which may be forthcoming, and are desirous to make the most we can of it. We do not wish to confine ourselves to any one source of supply, or work by any rigid rules in seeking those who shall in future be prepared for carrying on the Society's work in this Mission. I am sure that we have had your prayers in our behalf during the past year, and that I shall not ask in vain that we may be remembered by you at the Throne of Grace during the year on which we now enter.

The Grammar-school has been removed to a more favourable locality, and the number of students has risen from twenty to forty. The fee for education is one guinea per quarter.

During the year 1871, the Female Institution had been under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, who added this to their many other duties. The Rev. A. and Mrs. Mann having been specially appointed to the post, arrived at Lagos in the latter end of January of the present year, and took up their residence in the new (then unfinished) building, where this branch of the work is henceforth to be carried on. They hoped to admit resident pupils on the 1st of March.

BADAGRY.

For some years the work at this station seemed almost hopeless. By the mercy of God, there are now not a few signs of spiritual life and movement. Eight adults have been baptized during the year. The Bishop of Sierra Leone, who visited the place during his stay at this part of the coast, and confirmed thirty-six candidates, writes: "Mr. Pearse seems working well. Our service was most interesting." The ordination of Mr. Pearse has been already mentioned.

ABEOKUTA.

The hopes entertained twelve months ago of political changes in Abeokuta favourable to the Mission, cannot be said to have been as yet fulfilled. The European Missionaries are still excluded, and the condition of affairs continues to be unsettled and uncertain. Yet the Bishop of Sierra Leone was able, in writing from Lagos last December, to state (as the general opinion in Lagos) that matters at Abeokuta were more hopeful, and that Mr. Townsend would probably be allowed to return thither before long. Since then, Bishop Crowther (of the Niger) being unable to return from Lokoja by water, in consequence of the steamers running aground, came to Lagos by an overland route, visiting Abeokuta (as well as Ibadan) on his way. The visit will be best described in the Bishop's own words:—

Leaving Ibadan on the tenth day with the Are's messengers,

Bishop
Crowther

we entered Abeokuta the next day, January 30, when we were escorted into the town by a company of fifteen horsemen of the chief's messengers, mercantile agents, and Christian converts, with every demonstration of joy and gladness. The town was divided into two parties opposed to each other, each contending for the right of receiving and lodging us in their quarters; but that there should not be any quarrel on our account, the Alake and his adherents, for peace sake, yielded to their opponents to receive and lodge us wherever they pleased; so we were lodged at the Wesleyan Mission House near the quarters of Solanke, the War Chief. Here we were visited by numerous friends from all parts of the town, and loaded with presents from chiefs, from other old friends, and from Christian converts. We left here on the eighth day. The interval gave me an opportunity of a Lord's-day, when I preached in Ake Church in the morning of the 4th Feb., it being Sacrament Sunday, and administered the Lord's Supper to 166 members, assisted by the Rev. D. Williams, the Native Pastor; in the afternoon I preached in Igboire Church, the Rev. W. Allen being too unwell to take duties; and at their own request I addressed the converts of the Wesleyan Mission in their chapel on Sunday evening. During our stay at Abeokuta, I visited and inspected all the stations of Ake, Ikija, Igbein, Igboire, and the small chapel built at Kemta through the exertions of Mr. George, the catechist.

The Bishop had several interviews with the chiefs on political matters, and was entrusted by them with (at least professed) overtures of reconciliation with the British Government. But the result of these negotiations is extremely doubtful.

The activity, and even the advance, of the Native Church, has continued throughout the year. There have been in all twenty-nine adult baptisms. The registered Native Christians amount to 1552, the communicants to 638. The corresponding numbers, as given last year, were 1003 and 453. Probably the difference arises, in part at least, from a change in the mode of reckoning. It is pleasant to remember, however, that the Ebute Metta congregation at Lagos, which was formed in the first instance mainly of Christian refugees from Abeokuta, has also largely increased during the year. The Native Ministers are the Rev. W. Moore (who reports respecting Ake, Ikija, Igbein, and Oshielle), the Rev. W. Allen (who has charge of Igboire), and (now, ordained Deacon on the 3rd of December, 1871) the Rev. D. Williams, formerly catechist of Ake.

Mr. Moore, as a Christian patriot, is deeply grieved at the conduct of the Native rulers. He writes, November 29, 1871:—

The discouragement we have to reckon upon is from the doings of the rulers of the nation. Though they have not prevented us Natives from preaching freely, yet we feel that they show disregard for God their Maker and Preserver in that they have persisted in shutting out the European Missionaries. The nation which knowingly refuses to hold the servants and the things of God sacred will not long enjoy His favour. The mind of the Lord is fairly made known respecting such like nation in Malachi ii. 2, "If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart to give glory unto my name, saith the Lord of Hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and will curse your blessings."

Mr. Moore's reports of the stations under his charge are as follows :—

The Mission work at OSHIELLE, I am happy to state, is going on as hopefully as ever. Since my last report I have had the pleasurable task of baptizing five adults and eight children here. The congregation consists of 150 souls, of whom eighty are communicants. Two persons died in the faith of the Gospel during the year. One of these was a leader of the congregation, whose death took place very suddenly and unexpectedly, so much so, that the blessed Saviour's kind admonition was brought very vividly to recollection, "Watch, therefore, for ye know not the hour when your Lord doth come." It occurred on Sunday the 20th of August last; he returned from his farm on the previous Saturday evening quite well, and was on the Sunday morning in very good health, and attended the early morning prayer between six and seven o'clock. After the prayers he stood at the church door, and spoke to those of the congregation who were indifferent in their attendance on the means of grace, urging them to be more careful about their soul's salvation. He returned to his house quite well; but about half an hour after an excitement was seen among his friends, which drew many of the Christians to the spot. There they met him (Abel Lasope), who had been speaking to them not quite an hour ago, a lifeless corpse. "Behold, I come as a thief: blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked." Of AKE station I may pleurably record that the congregation in connexion with this station and its branch, Iporo Church, number upwards of 800 souls, of whom about 270 are communicants. Mr. D. Williams, the catechist in charge of this station, is now gone to Lagos to be received into the ministry. The event will, I trust, confer spiritual blessing on the Ake district, the King and the state elders of which are very friendly to the Christian cause. The IKIJA station continues to be kept up by Mr. Samuel Cole, the Catechist, and old Mr. William Goodwill, a Christian visitor. There are 169 souls in connexion with the church in this station, of whom eighty-three are communicants, seventeen candidates for the Lord's Supper, and six candidates for baptism. The new church which has been in building by the Christians of this station will, D.V., be opened for divine service on the 14th day of December next. Igbein station, under charge of Mr John King, contains some thirty-four Christians, twelve of whom are communicants, and four candidates for the Lord's Supper, and three candidates for baptism.

The next extract, referring to the liberality of the Christians, again makes mention of Igbein, and speaks also of a new out-station between Abeokuta and Lagos :—

The Christians of this country zealously performed their duty in contributing toward the Native Pastorate Fund. Also during the year under review two new preaching places have been added to the Abeokuta Mission, viz., 1st, the Igbein Church, which was commenced and completed this year, and was opened for divine service on the 13th October last; and 2ndly, a new station, which has been recently taken up at the Christian Balogun's farm, some thirty miles or so in the southern direction towards Lagos. The agent who has been sent there by Mr. Townsend has since sent me several letters, which inspire great hope that the place will prove a channel of conferring spiritual blessings to many Egba heathen farmers, who inhabit that quarter in great number, most of whom seldom visit Abeokuta once or twice within a whole year. It is also the means of imparting spiritual comfort to many of the more aged Christians, who have farms in that quarter, and are unable to travel the above-mentioned distance weekly to attend the means of grace.

The erection of places of worship at Igbein and Kemta, has drawn away some that used to attend at IGBORE. But the congregation still numbers 300, and the communicants nearly 150. In the farm villages connected with the Igbore Christians there are several inquirers and candidates for baptisms.

Few passages in this volume will be read with more pleasure than the following from Mr. Moore's annual letter :—

Brotherly feeling between Christians of rival towns.

The Ibadan Christians had, on hearing part of the contents of a letter which I had sent to Mr. Olubi in the latter part of the year 1869, sent a deputation of four individuals to the Christians of Abeokuta, at the beginning of the year 1870, to settle that there should be mutual union between them, and the deputation was joyfully received by the Christians here. The settlement was accordingly made, and the deputation returned home with joy, and carried back the good news respecting the same to their brethren. So they have since then borne Christian good-will towards each other. So it was that the headman of all the Christians of Abeokuta, thinking to make the union a little warmer, as he said, bought a load of salt and sent it as a present to the Christians of Ibadan in the middle of August last; because salt is used to make things savoury, and to preserve from putrefaction. The Ibadan Christians gladly received the same, and they in return sent twenty-four large kola nuts. (N.B.—Presents of kola nuts in this country are the emblem of good-will and unfeigned love.) There is a saying of the ancients respecting this: "Good words bring out the kola nut from the bag, but bad words bring out knife from the sheath, or arrow from the quiver." The kola nuts were sent with the following message: "However great misunderstandings may be among the heathens of Abeokuta and those of Ibadan, let unity and peace be among us Christians of the two rival cities, for we are the followers of the 'Prince of Peace.'"

IBADAN.

The reports from this station are incomplete. It has now its Native Minister, the Rev. D. Olubi, whose ordination at Lagos has been mentioned in the report of that station.

Bishop Crowther's visit to Ibadan in his overland journey from Bida to Lagos, is thus described in a letter from himself:—

We met with a hearty reception from the Are Kakanfo, his chiefs, and the Christian converts; the latter had gone a great distance on horseback to meet us on the way. The Are had already arranged with the Rev. D. Olubi, the Native Pastor, to receive us into the Mission House, where we found ourselves once more in a civilized dwelling, and enjoyed the luxury of sitting on chairs at, and taking our meals on a table, after a squatting position on mats of nearly three months. The interval of ten days, when messengers were sent to Abeokuta and Ijebu by the Are to ask for us a pass down to Lagos, gave me an opportunity of two Sundays at Ibadan, which were well spent. On an intervening Tuesday, arrangements were made for a confirmation service, when ninety-four candidates were confirmed; after which 107 members partook of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Bishop
at Ibadan.

The Rev. H. Johnson of the Sherbro Mission, an African Clergyman who was an acceptable deputation for the Society in several pulpits and platforms in England in the years 1868 and 1869, visited Ibadan in the early part of 1871. It was in Ibadan that his father, a faithful catechist, concluded his earthly labours. Mr. Johnson received courteous treatment from the chiefs, was warmly welcomed by the Native Christians, and administered the Lord's Supper to ninety-nine communicants.

What is described in the following simple narrative has doubtless frequent parallels in Christian countries, but yet will be noticed with interest:—

to an afflicted Native
Christian.

May 22.—We were informed that one of our converts at the Kudete Church was drawing back. Messrs. Okusinde and Johnson, with myself, went about twenty miles on horseback in search of him, and found him in his farm busily engaged. He was very glad to see us, and by request called his brothers and neighbour farmers together. We opened with prayer, and asked the man why he was not seen in the church on Sunday for these many weeks back. He proceeded to relate his crosses, which however are great, viz.—the death of his father, his wife, and his children, the debts he owed in redeeming his mother who was caught by the Ijebus when there was war between Ibadan and Ijebu, which caused him to put one of his brothers in pawn. He himself was nearly killed by a leopard some time ago in his farm while he was fast asleep. It gave him a severe cut on the head. Besides all this, scarcity of food for him and his son, and no clothes to cover themselves. All these put together sorely depressed him, and he was obliged to confine himself in the farm till such time that he shall get over it to come home. “Yes,” I replied, “the trouble is great, but not to be compared with that of Job. Remember Him who was rich, yet for our sakes He became poor, that we through His poverty might be rich;” and explained to him a few verses of Isaiah liii. He was greatly impressed with these truths, and has since attended the services regularly with two of his brothers.

Another incident depicted in Mr. W. S. Allen’s journal, painfully exemplifies the cruelty still abounding in the dark places of the earth:—

the dark
the earth.

Feb. 9.—In my rounds this morning I met a poor aged sickly woman who fell down in the street dying. About twelve children stood around her, and began to throw stones at her. I reproved them, and related to them the story of Elisha; how he was mocked by some wicked children, and two she-bears came out of the wood and tore forty-two of them. I then turned to the women and spoke very seriously to them for not reproofing the children. “Who can tell how his latter end would be? Though this woman is a slave and has nobody to care for her, yet the eye of the Lord is on her. Never draw God’s vengeance upon yourselves and the children by instigating them to do mischief, but learn to love and feel for each other as Christ loved and felt for us.”

OTTA.

The difficulties, together with the grounds for hope and the tokens of Divine Blessing that attend the work, are clearly set forth in the annual letter of the Native Minister labouring at this place, the Rev. James White. Mr. White writes under date November 20, 1871:—

The Committee need not be informed of the trying nature of the soil which it has pleased the Lord of the Vineyard to appoint me to cultivate. In this respect it is like the places situated on the sea coast, and which have once been under the baneful influences of the slave trade. Lagos was once the seat of that abominable traffic in human flesh. Otta is the connecting link between it and the interior on the mainland; consequently the Gospel has found but little relish among the inhabitants of these places, and the cry for the revival of the slave trade is incessant. The Otta race was from the first opposed to the Gospel, being notorious for their gross idolatry and sensuality. At Sierra Leone they were among the last to pay any heed to the preaching of the Gospel, and the consequence is, those of them who have returned to their fatherland have brought back their idols with them, and are strenuous opposers to us. Of above forty individuals of this tribe, who have come here from Sierra Leone, I know of two individuals only, a man and his wife, who embraced the Gospel in that colony, and who still continue members of our Church. Nevertheless the Gospel has done, and is still doing its work, and every year's experience has confirmed the declaration, "So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it." Sixteen years ago, when I first came here, we had no Church, and our devotions and services had to be performed in the verandah of our old house, where half a dozen men joined my little family. Two of these were natives of Otta, converted at Sierra Leone, and the remaining four were converted at Abeokuta. At present between seventy and eighty persons (three-fourths of whom are natives of Otta) assemble every Lord's-day for Divine Service in a mud-wall church, which we trust will before long give place to a superior and more durable edifice. I am thankful to be able to report that the conduct of our converts in general has been satisfactory, and that throughout the year I have hardly any cause of complaint against them. One of our communicants, a native poet and musician, who has composed several of our Church hymns and songs, has been very zealous in recommending the Gospel to his countrymen. I have also perceived some change for the better among the female portion of the heathen population. They were formerly deeply prejudiced against the Gospel; now that prejudice seems to be gradually dying away. Formerly one great barrier in the way of the men was the fear of losing their wives, who are ready to forsake them the moment they become Christians. Again, one of the principal chiefs, called the Onisata, has again and again brought before the chiefs and elders the subject of observing the Christian Sabbath, and of attending the House of God on Sundays, in several of their meetings. It appears that they are not unanimous on the subject, but a few of them have agreed to his proposal, and have now and then made their appearance at church.

Success

Missionary under serious difficulties.

At Igbessa, an out-station from Otta, the native teachers have met with determined opposition, and have been further tried by domestic and personal afflictions. One incident is painfully characteristic :—

Heathens "married to idols." Bishop Crowther had sent some clothing to the Native Teacher, Mr. Cross, to be distributed among some of the children who were prevailed upon to attend school, as a kind of encouragement to them, but they returned the clothes to Mr. Cross, by order of their parents, saying, "We have been married to idols, and have nothing to do with Books."

The Committee must not close their notice of the West African Missions without drawing attention to the treaty just concluded between the Dutch and British Governments, by which the Dutch cede to Great Britain their colonies on the Gold Coast, so that in future all the European settlements in West Africa, from the Gambia to Lagos, will be either under British rule, or under British protection. British Christians are surely bound to send the Gospel to those who have thus become their fellow-subjects. New settlements are forming, which, with the fresh impulse given to trade, give promise of becoming rivals to places of older growth. One of these is Queenstown, at the mouth of the river Volta, which is between Cape Coast and Lagos. Those on the spot able to judge predict that Queenstown will become a very important place; and Bishop Cheetham is very anxious that preachers of the Gospel should go with the first settlers, and sow the good seed from the very beginning.

NIGER MISSION.(Commenced 1857.)

*Conducted by Native African Teachers, under the superintendence of the Right Rev. Bishop Crowther.NIGER.

THE Missions connected with the River Niger comprise five principal Stations, at each of which Native African Missionaries are located in the midst of the heathen, and are making solid progress in gathering together a few intelligent and faithful converts. Bishop Crowther visits the Mission once a year ; but this year he was unexpectedly detained in the upper part of the River Niger by the grounding of the steamers in their descent, and was obliged to return overland to Lagos. From this cause the usual Annual Reports of the Mission have not been received. But out of this catastrophe good has arisen, as will be seen by the accounts given below, as well as by what has been already mentioned respecting the Bishop's visits to Abeokuta and Ibadan.

Writing from Lokoja, at the confluence of the rivers Niger and Tshadda, under date October 30th, 1871, Bishop Crowther had given the subjoined most interesting review of the attempts that had been made for the last thirty years to evangelize and civilize these parts of the African continent. To those who remember the earnest prayers and disappointed expectations of 1841, it is a remarkable instance of God's way of hearing the petitions of His people :—

In October, 1841, the great expedition, consisting of three steamers and a schooner, which was amply fitted out to accomplish many philanthropic objects in these countries, was in God's mysterious providence, disabled, and had to return down to the coast paralyzed and dejected : humanly speaking, the door of further attempts to benefit the natives appeared finally closed, as the climate had proved inimical to European constitution ; destructive, in fact, to health and life : further efforts, it seemed, would be impracticable.

A period of thirteen years was allowed to pass, when the late Mr. M'Gregor Laird, encouraged by many friends of like mind, and generously backed by Government, renewed the attempt in 1854, Within a period of thirty years, the same month, October, 1871, what a change in the state of things from what it was then! Four trading steamers, a hulk, and a schooner, are now employed doing business in the river, having trading establishments at Onitsha, Lokoja, and Egga, carrying on remunerative trade with the natives, making several trips up and down the river during the season, to supply the stations with English goods, and carry away produce from the coast. One steamer has visited the Tshadda branch, and returned with an encouraging promise of good trade at another visit. The ivory traders, from far interior countries eastward, travelled many days' journey to the markets now opened with European merchandise, met (both parties making a profitable trade) returned for further supplies, and anxiously wait for the returning season. The production of Shea butter in the upper, and palm-oil in the lower parts of the river is on the increase yearly. Native mercantile local agents are employed to collect produce during the unnavigable season of the river; the steamers are manned with Kroomen and native sailors from the coast, but officered with Europeans, performing the navigation of the ships, and as supercargoes to direct the trading department, as responsible representatives of the firms in Europe: all this is done with little or no casualties to the ships.

Our Mission stations at Lokoja and Onitsha continue to disseminate the seed of the Christian religion among the mass of heathen and Mohammedan population. The stated observance of the Lord's-day in these stations is silently producing a change in the times of the native market-days in the neighbourhood, which are not attended by the Christian converts if it fall on the Lord's-day, and some strangers have been led thereby to attend Divine worship.

After this short review, may we not exclaim, "What has God wrought on behalf of His own cause!" and raise our Ebenezer to His praise, saying, "Hitherto the Lord hath helped us."

It was very shortly after writing the above that the Bishop received intelligence that the steamers "Victoria" and "Rio Formoso" had run aground between Lokoja and Egga. He therefore resolved to attempt returning to Lagos by the overland route. Accordingly he made his way to Bida, the royal capital, partly by a mountain road and partly by canoes. He was kindly received by King Masaba, who helped him forward in every way. The following brief account has been given by the Bishop of this enterprise, and of the success which God was pleased to grant to it. The Bishop writes from Lagos, which place they reached safely on the 8th of February:—

The kindness and attention we meet with from King Masaba of Bida was beyond expectation. From the date of our returning to Bida to our departure (though the King himself was under the Hospitable fast during the Ramadan month) he did not neglect sending us conduct of large supplies of provisions of every kind, both cooked and African, uncooked, that we might not be in want. The care he took in Mohammedan, and sending messengers to Ilorin to make inquiry as regards heathen chiefs the safety of the road through the Yoruba country, to be certain of our safe passage unmolested; the free carriage of our loads by his subjects through his dominions to Ilorin; and his supplying us with twelve horses gratis for the journey, as a token of gratitude to Her Most Gracious Britannic Majesty the Queen for her kindness to him during the last nine years; all these acts proved King Masaba to be really grateful to her Majesty's Government for the expenditure of money and lives to improve his country by the introduction of civilization and legitimate commerce among his subjects.

At Ilorin, where we remained for nine days, we were most hospitably entertained by the King and the war chief. On our leaving this place, in the afternoon of the 12th of January, we were escorted out by a company of horsemen for two hours to a halting-place for the evening, when a messenger was added to that of King Masaba to guide us to Ogbomosho, where we were heartily welcomed into the town, and hospitably entertained by the chief and his elders. King Masaba's and Ilorin messengers returned to their masters from this place.

After resting for two days, we left for Iwo, accompanied by a messenger from the chief of Ogbomosho. We entered Iwo the second day. The chief in his turn showed kindness and hospitality; he took the opportunity of our presence to give us a message, requesting a direct intercourse with Lagos through the river Oshun, not far from his town, which he said might be opened from the coast for canoe navigation. The third day he sent a messenger to accompany us to Ibadan.

The visits to Ibadan and Abeokuta have been already described. The cost of these tokens of respect to a Christian Bishop, and a subject of Queen Victoria, on the part of heathen African chiefs, is estimated by Dr. Crowther as between 400*l.* and 500*l.*

BONNY.

The new church, erected under the superintendence of the Rev. D. C. Crowther, was opened for public worship for the first time on New-year's day, 1872.

AKASSA, BRASS, AND ONITSHA.

From the cause mentioned above, the Committee are not able to furnish any report of these stations.

LOKOJA.

The work at this station is still advancing, though amidst many difficulties ; and with prospects for the future which are, humanly speaking, uncertain. At present King Masaba protects the Mission, but were that protection, from any cause, withdrawn, it is difficult to anticipate the consequences. The labourers at this remote outpost specially need the prayers of the Church.

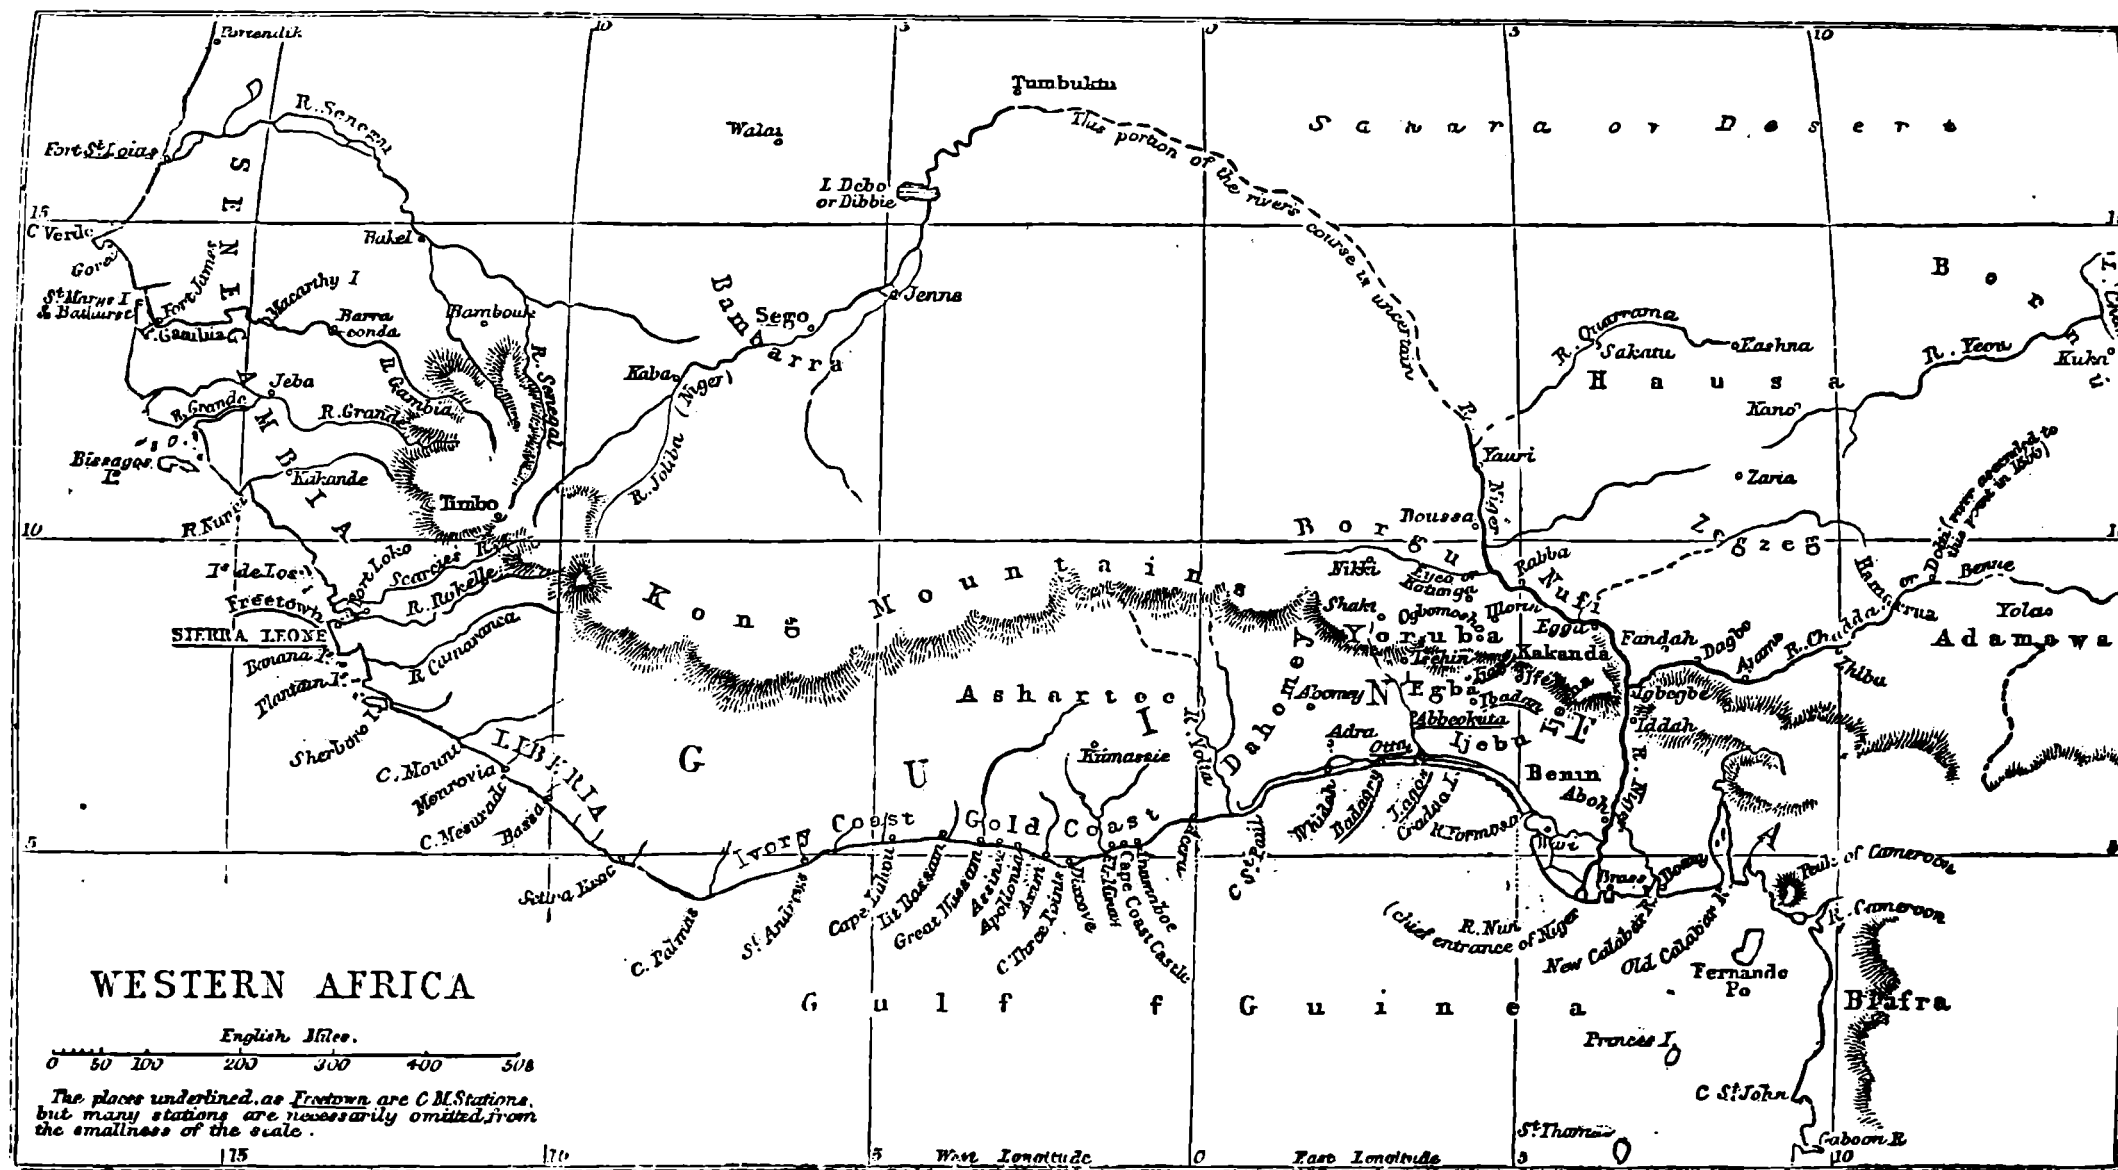

The following extracts from Bishop Crowther's letter, November 28, 1871, will illustrate what has been said :—

Though some of the surrounding tribes are by no means free from petty quarrels among themselves, there is peace between them and Lokoja. The Mission work has been steadily continued during the last twelve months ; within which period baptisms of forty-seven persons, men, women, and children, have taken place at the station, mostly from the Bunu tribe, among whom was Salamaleiku their chief, who was baptized by the name of Cornelius. A small body of this tribe had taken refuge at Lokoja, with Salamaleiku their chief, when the place was settled upon by the late Dr. Baikie and held as a Consulate. Being heathen they were much oppressed by their Mohammedan rulers, and so prepared for the reception of the Gospel of peace. "To the poor the Gospel is preached ;" and so it has been with them.

On the 1st of September the above-named chief died ; and from all accounts he was steadfast in the faith of a crucified Saviour to the end, though he had not joined the Church till the eleventh hour. He had been a sufferer for some time, in health as well as from the oppression of the Mohammedans ; but he had fully weighed the truthfulness of the Christian religion, and proved the all-sufficient provision made in it by Christ as the only hiding-place and ark of safety to all tempest-tossed souls.

The successor to the late chief has also attached himself to the Mission. The little place of worship used by these Bunu converts was burnt down in the former part of 1871. A new one was soon erected in its place ; but this is already too small for the growing congregation, and will shortly be succeeded by a larger building. The same thing may be said respecting Trinity Church in the Mission premises. Forty-one persons communicated there on the 15th of October, during the Bishop's visit.

The children growing up at Lokoja all speak Nupe and Hausa. They find no difficulty in acquiring Yoruba, and those who attend the Mission School (at present twenty-three in number) also learn English. What follows will be read with interest. Bishop Crowther writes, Oct. 11th:—

October 11, 1871, at half-past twelve the Industrial Institution opened, at which twelve boys were present. They were employed working for two hours, till half-past two, when they were dismissed. Two boys were set to work a cotton-gin, one at each handle, while the third fed the machine with cotton; in the meantime the others were employed in picking seeded cotton with their fingers, previously cleanly washed to prevent their soiling the wool. This will be repeated every other day, viz. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, two hours each day, in all, six hours at work in the week and nineteen at their books in the school. They have also been employed in picking pepper (capsicum baccatum, red-bird pepper), separating the green unripe ones from the ripe red, so as to send the best specimens to test the English markets. Two of the boarders gathered the first crop for specimens from the pepper-trees in their garden on this occasion. There are other things which they shall be taught to do in the Institution as we proceed step by step. While the boys were employed as above, the girls were at their plain needle-work, making shirts, or washing and ironing.

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

(Commenced at Malta in 1815.)

- I. Turkish Mission.—II. Greece.—III. Asia Minor.—
IV. Palestine.

I. Turkish Mission.

CONSTANTINOPLE.

European Mission Establishment :

Rev. Sigismund Wilhelm Koelle, Ph. D. (m), to West Africa, 1847 ; to Palestine, 1856 ; to Constantinople, 1862.

DR. KOELLE, still without any European coadjutor, has laboured at Constantinople during the year with his usual zeal and ability ; but the encouraging symptoms reported twelve months since have not yet been followed by the success they had seemed to foretoken. The little band of Native Christians numbers thirteen, of whom four are communicants. Dr. Koelle gives no special account of their spiritual condition, but thus describes the public ministrations which they attend :—

Our Turkish Sunday service has been continued as heretofore. I went through the greater part of the Epistle to the Hebrews, as specially setting forth the all-sufficient sacrifice of our great High-priest, of the very need of which the self-righteous Mohammedan is ignorant. Our room was generally filled by Greek and Armenian Christians, who come uninvited ; whilst of Mohammedans there were occasionally present as many as five or six, more frequently only one or two, and sometimes none at all.

Molla Ali (or, as he may be now called, Ibrahim Effendi) whose baptism took place in March, 1871 and was recorded in last year's Report, is employed in evangelistic efforts among the Persian residents. Two other catechists labour among the Turks. Dr. Koelle remarks respecting them as follows :—

My native helpers continue to move about day after day amongst their Mohammedan country-people, seeking, in the private manner to which Turkish law restricts us, to draw their attention to the only way of salvation through faith in Christ. Once a week each of them reads to me the account of his daily doings, which are indeed of rather a uniform character, but still show that here and there seed-corns of the word of life can be dropped into an opening heart.

Most of Dr. Koelle's own time has been occupied in the preparation of religious books in the Turkish language. The circulation of Christian books, especially on the Mohammedan controversy, has continued uninterruptedly, and no month has passed without some copies being sold to Turks or Persians. "The latter have imitated the Turks," says Dr. Koelle, "in seeking to neutralize our books, publishing here a refutation in Persian composed by a member of their legation."

While the Turks still reject the Gospel, there are some indications of a religious movement among the Persians. Dr. Koelle writes :—

One who escaped imprisonment by a timely warning from some one who knew what was impending, left off coming to me for instruction, but still visited us occasionally and expressed his conviction of the truth of Christianity. A few weeks ago, before returning to Persia, he consulted with me whether, as religion was a mere personal affair, he might not be baptized privately, without any strangers knowing about it, so that afterwards he could remain in his social position as before. But bearing in mind that “baptism doth represent unto us our profession,” I did not feel justified to administer it upon such an understanding, and counselled him to seek more grace by prayer and the reading of God’s Word, till either religious liberty could be enjoyed in his country, or he was prepared to profess Christ at any risk. In the same way I had to decline the application for baptism of an aged Persian trader, who, for more than a year, had been coming to our Mission-house for religious discussion, because I could not discern in him evidences of that spiritual awakening which seeks Jesus the Saviour of sinners, but rather feared he might be chiefly actuated by secular motives. There are several Persians here who favourably incline towards Christianity, and occasionally visit us, sending friendly messages, without as yet placing themselves under regular Christian instruction.

II. Greece.

SYRA.

(Commenced in 1830, while Greece was a part of the Turkish Empire.)

European Mission Establishment :

Rev. Frederick A. Hildner (m), 1829.

The Rev. F. A. Hildner, who has been labouring in the Ionian Islands since the year 1827, and at Syra itself, under the Church Missionary Society, since 1833, has been employed for the last few years in superintending a school of 140 children, and in promoting the circulation of Holy Scripture. In a public examination of the schools, held in July, 1871, the Civil Authorities and the Archbishop expressed themselves not only pleased with the progress of the children, but also very grateful to the Church Missionary Society for the help thus rendered to the general spread of education in Greece. Many of the former pupils of the school are now employed as schoolmistresses elsewhere, and thus have the opportunity of diffusing more widely the Scriptural instruction they had themselves received. It is intended, however, that this Mission should cease with the personal labours of Mr. Hildner.

III. Asia Minor.

SMYRNA.

(Commenced in 1831.)

European Mission Establishment :

Rev. John Theophilus Wolters (m), to Persia, 1832 ; to Syra, 1837 ; to Smyrna, 1842.

Rev. Theodore Frederic Wolters, 1860.

Rev. Robert Henry Weakley (m), to Constantinople, 1860 ; to Smyrna, 1869.

The Society's Mission in this ancient town is aimed at the Mohammedans. Though none of these have during the year come forward as candidates for baptism, there are increasing symptoms of the rise of a spirit of inquiry amongst them. Mr. Wolters, sen., writes as follows :—

Favourable religious movements among the
dans.

I again offer the tribute of praise and thanksgiving to God, who has, as it were, smiled upon our work, and has not left us without much encouragement in it. How long a time have I spent in this part of the Lord's vineyard, and from year to year my complaint has been, "The door to the Mohammedans is still closed!" Now it appears to be gradually opening. Individual souls are coming under the influence of the Gospel, and the truth as it is in Jesus may be pressed upon their minds and consciences. The New Testament and our religious books are gaining greater access to them, and we hope and pray that the word and truth of God may have still greater access to, and be glorified among them. This encouraging feature of our Mission is a very great comfort to me, having been standing here so many years, as it were, on the watch-tower, and the answer to the question, "Watchman, what of the night?" being always "The morning cometh, and also the night." The night is still dark and dreary, but the eye of faith and hope sees the dawn of an approaching morning and day of grace for this benighted land.

Messrs. Weakley and Wolters jun., bear a similar testimony. "Never since the Mission was established," they observe, "has there been so much intercourse with Mohammedans in Smyrna as during the past year."

Descending to particulars, the Missionaries, after mentioning that the political changes consequent on the death of the late Turkish Premier, Aali Pasha, seem likely to have a favourable bearing on the work, give the subjoined account of the operations of the year:—

The year was commenced with a new aggressive effort. A house was found and taken in the main thoroughfare to the bazaar; the lower part fitted up as a shop for the sale of Scriptures, and the upper arranged to afford dwelling for the catechist and a room to receive inquirers. A conspicuous signboard was hung over the door, announcing in several languages that the holy books were to be obtained within, and striking passages of Scripture in Turkish were hung on the wall outside. A young man in the employ of the Mission was installed as salesman. Mr. Weakley, occupied with literary work, awaited visitors in the inquirers' room, while the catechist, Belisarios, went about in the Turkish quarter, the khans, bazaars, coffee-shops, railway stations, and dervish convents, in search of Mussulmans to whom he might speak some of the words of life, and whom, on their interest being aroused, he might direct to the Mission-room. The Lord has blessed this plan of work hitherto. A steady succession of visitors have conversed with the Missionary throughout the year, both Turks and Persians, the latter of whom have shown much serious thoughtfulness. A few individuals avowed themselves convinced of the truth of Christianity, and put themselves under instruction with a view to baptism; but after a few readings they kept away, giving as the reason of their absence, not a change of purpose or conviction, but the present pressing fear of their fellow Mussulmans, who had begun to talk about them. Inter-course is, however, still kept up with these persons. An attempt was made to establish a Sunday service, but without success. It was found that Mohammedans were at present unwilling to meet one another for such a purpose and that they could not be depended upon to attend at stated times. The failure to obtain a nucleus of inquirers or hearers, as the germ of a future congregation, although disappointing, is not disheartening. There is good reason for thinking that the present state of things is transitional. The general and friendly reception of our zealous catechist is an indication of this. At the beginning of the year he often met with coldness and repulse in his endeavours, and had many fruitless days. Now he seldom goes out without gaining the ear of some new acquaintance, and suggesting truths and counsels to the minds of several whose confidence he has already acquired. This ever-widening circle of Christian influence—the influence of a zealous native among and upon natives—may be thankfully and hopefully regarded as the gradual breaking up of a hard and hitherto impenetrable soil for the planting of the Word; the preparation of the Mohammedan mind, both in its cold, stern, orthodox, and its preferred mystic phrases, for the Gospel of the kingdom.

The sale of the Scriptures has equalled, that of controversial religious books has far exceeded, the average of former years. Missionary tours among the country towns have been to a great extent interrupted by the absence of the younger Mr. Wolters in England during a part of the year.

Mr. Wolters, sen., remarks as follows on the state of the Greek Church :—

the preaching of the word of
Greek Church.

During a period of more than thirty-one years, I have been an attentive observer of the Greek people and Church, and I do not hesitate in expressing my conviction that the truth is gradually penetrating into the ancient structure of the so-called orthodox and apostolic Church. I say “so-called,” because at present there is indeed very very little of apostolic doctrine and practice. But there is at the same time an increasing conviction among the people that they are in a sad state, and that a change for the better is highly necessary. The means to bring about this change are not clear to their minds ; but the chief means they consider to be, the Christian training of the rising generation, the education of the clergy, and the preaching of the word of God in their churches. Τὸ κήρυγμα τοῦ Λόγου τοῦ Θεοῦ is the expression they use.

IV. Palestine.

(Commenced in Jerusalem 1851 ; Nazareth 1853.)

European Mission Establishment :

Rev. F. Augustus Klein, (m), 1851.

Rev. John Zeller (m), 1855.

Mr. James Huber (m), to West Africa, 1850 ; to Palestine, 1853.

JERUSALEM.

The Missionary at this station is the Rev. F. A. Klein. Mr. Klein returned to Jerusalem after a brief furlough, in April, 1871. The following extracts from his Annual Letter tell their own story :—

Our work in connexion with the Arab Protestant Congregation has been going on as usual. Numerically, it has remained about the same : some of its members have been removed by death, or have been excluded on account of the little satisfaction they gave me after a longer time of probation, or have left of their own accord, not having found with us the temporal advantages they enjoy in the Latin, Greek, and Armenian Churches ; while a few new members have been added. In some I am happy to see the fruits of the Spirit, and a steady growth in grace; while, on the whole, we require and still pray for a more abundant outpouring of the Holy Spirit to vivify the good seed of the Gospel which we are privileged in a variety of ways to sow in the hearts of those who come in contact with us. The Arabic services have been regularly held in our temporary chapel, and the attendance, by the members of the congregation as also by strangers from the ancient Churches, by Moslems, and even Jews, has been most satisfactory. The chapel has, in fact, become too small, and we therefore look forward with much delight and thankfulness to the erection of a larger and more convenient church for our Arabic services. Our native brethren were delighted and much encouraged by the welcome news that the Society had undertaken to appeal to the liberality of Christian friends in England for the necessary funds.

Our Bible and Religious Book Dépôt has continued to work most satisfactorily. During my absence no new supply of books could be provided, but on my return I ordered a new stock of religious and educational books from the American press and other quarters at Beyrout. Dr. Thomson, of Constantinople, also supplied me with Bibles and New Testaments in various languages, and I am now waiting for some boxes of Arabic Bibles and Testaments from Constantinople and London. Our former shop in the city had become too small; but I have had the good fortune to find a most suitable magazine just outside the city, close to the Jaffa gate, where any body going to or coming from Jaffa must pass; and I am glad to say that our book-shop and reading-room becomes more and more attractive. Professors of the Turkish Government School, disciples of the Greek Orthodox Seminary, Armenian Priests and Bishops, and Moslem Effendis, continue to visit our Bible Dépôt, and to buy Bibles and New Testaments. Success of a Missionary book-shop in Jerusalem.

The work at our out-stations is going on quietly and as usual. At Ramallah there is a small congregation, and a well-attended and promising boys' school, under the superintendence of our Native catechist and schoolmaster. Our catechist also regularly visits the villages, Moslem and Christian, of the surrounding district. The Beit Sahûr school, which I visit occasionally, has as yet a very small attendance, but is recovering slowly, and is of importance as a centre of Missionary work among the grown-up people. Again and again we receive invitations from various villages. Formerly Missionaries in this country begged the people to receive them and allow them to open schools among them, but they were too fanatical to receive them. Now they invite and urge us to come and help them, but, unless in rare cases, we must send them back disappointed, on account of the want of means and proper agents. Desire for Christian instruction.

We are two ordained European Missionaries in this country, and I would not recommend a greater staff of ordained European Missionaries unless new fields and new branches of Missionary work be taken up; but the want of Native Agents, properly trained, to work as schoolmasters, colporteurs, catechists, and to become ultimately Native Ministers, we all painfully feel. Under these circumstances I was most thankful to have the Committee's sanction for the formation of a Præparandi class to be trained under my superintendence for evangelistic work. I am happy to say that I have now received four pious intelligent and promising young men of this country who receive instruction partly from myself, partly from my native assistant. When, after some months they have a little practice in expounding the Word of God, I intend to send them occasionally to some of the neighbouring villages, where they will have opportunities of doing the work of evangelists; and for the present I have asked them on Sunday afternoons to take their Bibles and throw out the nets of the Gospel among their countrymen as they walk and sit about the trees outside the city.

NAZARETH.

Notwithstanding many and varied difficulties and disappointments, a marked though slow progress has resulted, under God's blessing, from Mr. Zeller's energetic and persevering labours. He writes :—

The year 1871, though, on account of the famine prevailing during the winter, one of the saddest within our remembrance, has also been marked by peculiar mercies, as we were permitted on the 1st of October to open the new church, and witness at the same time the ordination of the first two natives of this country.

The opening of the new church is thus described by an eye-witness :—

a new
Nazareth. The opening of the church was fixed for October the 1st. Already before sunrise the guests flocked in from the five out-stations of the Mission, attired in their best apparel of bright hues and in different costumes. Their happy and astonished looks showed, even from a distance, that this day was one of peculiar interest to every Protestant, for the first of their native brethren (and a European catechist) were to be admitted to the order of deacons. Surprise and admiration about the now finished church was painted in every face. The sun had just risen, shedding its first splendour over the silvery white form of the new church, which seemed to remind us of the words of the Psalmist: "This is the day which the Lord has made;

we will rejoice and be glad in it ! Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord ! O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good : and His mercy endureth for ever." A few moments more and the church was surrounded by a great multitude, of whom the one had this, the other something else, to observe and admire. Especially interesting to them was the inscription in Arabic over the portal, executed with masterly skill by the native teacher of the Mission school : " God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth " (John iv. 24). These words seemed to rivet their attention, and were at the same time conducive in preparing their hearts for the solemn service which was about to commence.

The time fixed for the service had arrived, and the bell of the schoolhouse gave the signal for the beginning of the service. In a few minutes the church was densely filled. Soon the sweet sound of the harmonium, played by Mrs. Zeller, filled the church, and the boys of the Mission school sang the hymn in Arabic— " Hallelujah, praise and honour be to God," &c., while the Bishop, with Messrs. Klein and Zeller, and the three candidates for ordination, entered the church and took their seats in the choir. The whole congregation joined in singing a beautiful Arabic hymn containing the prayer, that the Lord of glory might be pleased to look down from His holy throne and bless this house for His service, and fill it with His glory. The Rev. F. A. Klein, from Jerusalem, then read the prayers, but the lessons were read by the native deacons. Then Mr. Zeller preached a sermon, which was listened to with much attention and quietness. His text was taken from Luke iv. 18, 19 : " The Spirit of the Lord is upon me," &c.

After the sermon followed the ordination. During the Ordination Service great stillness prevailed, for every one felt the solemnity of this holy rite, and seemed aware that the Lord was present in the still breathing of His Spirit. At the conclusion of the ordination we celebrated the Lord's Supper, at which about seventy people participated.

The new church is very well attended, both by strangers and by members of the congregation.

The preparation of Native agents and the independence of the Native Church are kept in view. Mr. Zeller writes :—

A trial was made since the beginning of the year with a class of Præparandi pupils, which gives us hope by-and-by to supply the great want of educational teachers.

We exerted ourselves also in promoting the establishment of a Church Council, and in initiating a more independent action of the Protestant congregation. With the accomplishment of this a desirable and most difficult part of our work would be fulfilled. It must be seen whether, under the present Government, a more independent organization of the Protestant community is possible. Many difficulties have to be overcome before the Native Protestants

can manage their own affairs. There are against us the strange prejudices of the natives, their inveterate habits of indolence and inertness, and the customs of the country which fetter independent action and hinder any free association; there is the increasing poverty of the natives (not a single rich man being among the Protestants); there is the opposition of the Government; there is of late the crusade of the Greek Bishop, which has intimidated the members of the Church Council so much that most of them wish to resign their post.

Other efforts for the Protestants are thus described:—

We have profited by the long winter evenings to gather the people round us and teach them, not only in our regular weekly Bible classes, but also by lectures upon Bible and Church history, and other subjects. The week of prayer at the beginning of the year was kept here as usual, and regularly attended by from thirty to forty people (many of whom took part in the prayers), and we hope not without leaving permanent impressions. A reading-room, furnished with a selection of Arabic and some English books, maps, diagrams, and pictures, is a great desideratum.

A pious native Bible-woman has, during the course of the year, assisted Mrs. Zeller in visiting the women in their homes at Nazareth and the out-stations, in keeping a weekly Bible class and prayer-meeting, and in nursing the sick of the congregation. The Bible class is now attended by twenty-two women and girls. It seems that the ice is breaking, for the women begin to show an interest for religious things, and are now coming regularly to church.

Messrs. Huber and Michael Kavar preached the Gospel at our out-stations, Reneh and Monjedel, regularly. The Protestants of Jaffa attend the service at Nazareth; those of Kefer Kenna (Cana) gather for prayers in the house of Elias Saphury.

The congregation at Shefamer is under the charge of the lately-ordained catechist, Seraphim Bontaji. He had again to change his lodgings, and, with it, the congregation their place of worship. The inconveniences and difficulties connected with these constant changes are felt to be a considerable obstacle in the regular working of the Mission there. The congregation therefore bought a suitable piece of ground on which they have begun with the erection of a house. The Native Pastor, Seraphim Bontaji, is anxious to proceed with the building next spring, but seeing that this is impossible without liberal assistance from our friends in England, I join him in the petition for contributions for this purpose. Shefamer lies in a commanding position between Caiffa and Acca, overlooking the whole bay and both these important ports, and is, on account of this situation a convenient station for our Native Pastor, as he can easily reach these places from Shefamer and continue there his evangelistic efforts.

The educational efforts of the Society meet with increasing acceptance in Northern Palestine. Mr. Zeller writes:—

This progress made in our schools at Nazareth and the out-stations, Shefamer, Reneh, Monjedel, and Jaffa, is satisfactory, and, especially in the two first places, very encouraging. Only quite lately the Greek Bishop of Nazareth prevented by violent means forty boys from attending our school, as they wish to come to our school in preference to the Greek school; yet the gap will probably soon be filled up.

The Society for Promoting Female Education in the East supports, at Nazareth, a girls' orphanage, with twenty-four children, and a girls' day school, with an average attendance of seventy.

The Native Protestant Christians of the Nazareth district number 420, of whom sixty-eight are communicants. The former number is diminished by thirty from last year; whether owing to persecution or to stricter discipline does not appear.

The following review by Bishop Gobat of the past history of the Palestine Mission, may well conclude this section of the Committee's Report:—

Having observed, on a previous stay of some months in this country in 1827, the gross darkness, superstition, ignorance, and vicious life in which the people of this land were sunk, I resolved, on being sent to Jerusalem, to do all in my power for them; but I found it difficult to begin anything for want of instruments, till I found a poor man, who, having some years previously got possession of a Bible, had quietly read and searched its contents, and come to the knowledge and love of the truth. I sent him as a Scripture-reader into the country in the winter of 1847-48, and, wherever he went, he found access to the yet unprejudiced people. When he opened his Bible in the streets or public places of the towns, villages, and camps of the Arabs, people flocked around him and hearkened, sometimes with general emotion, whilst some who could read purchased Bibles. The priests were asleep, and the field was white for harvest. I hastened, therefore, to request the Church Missionary Society to send labourers to this field. But about three years elapsed before they could send them, and these again required a long time to learn the language. Meanwhile, I had opened schools at Nablous, Nazareth, &c., and collected a few individuals in several places, as in the towns just mentioned, and in Jerusalem. When Missionaries came in 1851, I advised

them to take those three places as their head stations, which they did ; the Rev. F. A. Klein at Nazareth, Dr. Sandreczki at Jerusalem, and the late Bishop Bowen at Nablous. This was the origin of the Mission to the natives of Palestine. The hierarchy had already been roused from their slumber when these Missionaries arrived. We have laboured since then under many difficulties, and despite powerful opposition, which I will not now describe. Suffice it to say that there are now about one thousand native Protestants disseminated in Palestine, chiefly in Galilee. It was not my object to draw proselytes out of the old Churches, but to introduce the light of truth into those abodes of error and darkness ; but as their heads would not allow the Gospel truths to come in, those who loved the truth were at first cast out, and afterwards went out of their own accord. But what shall I say of these native Protestants ? If measured by the standard of truly converted people in England, &c., or by that of the Bible, most of them will be found to come short of it ; and yet they must be under the influence of grace, for they not only attend regularly public divine services, but a goodly number have introduced family worship in their homes ; they also show respect and love for the word of God, and, what is perhaps a still surer test of sincerity, they are most of them losers in temporal matters by being Protestants. I could give particulars to show that the Lord is blessing our work on individual souls.

THE Society's work in Western India resembles, in many respects, that which it carries on in the North India Missions. Several remarks applicable to its general character will therefore be found at the commencement of the North India Report.

BOMBAY.

The Rev. J. S. S. Robertson is the senior Secretary and the senior Missionary of the Western-India Mission. The Committee trust that this Mission may long enjoy the benefit of his long experience and great knowledge of the native language and character, as also of the affectionate esteem in which he is held by the Native Church, by his brother Missionaries, and by local European friends. Since the issue of the last Annual Report the Society's staff at Bombay has received a valuable accession of strength by the return of the Rev. T. K. Weatherhead. Mr. Weatherhead was instructed by the Committee (in accordance with his own wishes) to labour for the benefit of the English-speaking natives in Bombay, as well as to hold the office of joint Secretary with Mr. Robertson. In the former of these two duties Mr. Weatherhead, it is hoped, will be assisted by the position which he holds as minister of the Mission church, where divine service is held in the English language. This church serves as a rallying-point for the local friends of the Society, and may possibly attract some English-speaking inquirers among the native population. Mr. Weatherhead also received a special commission to forward the development of Native Church agency in some other parts of the Western-India Mission. Difficulties have arisen in carrying out some of these plans, but the objects aimed at have not been lost sight of.

Native Christians in Bombay.

The Rev. Appaji Bapuji ministers as before to the Marathi Christian congregation. In respect of visible fruit he has little to report. The Native Christians number seventy-eight, thirty-three of these being communicants. There has been one adult baptism during the year.

Work among the Mohammedans.

The Rev. J. G. Deimler, who returned to Bombay (after two years' absence) in December, 1870, has charge of the Hindustani Mission, that is to say, of the Mission among the Mussulman population. Efforts for the Mohammedans have been carried on by the Society's agents in Bombay for several years, but with frequent intermissions. There has never been more than one European Missionary engaged in it; and the Native helpers have been few, and have not had the advantage of such regular instruction as would be supplied by a Præparandi Institution. It is not to be wondered at, therefore, if visible results are still scarcely perceptible. The native converts, including three Christian teachers and their families, are only seventeen in number. Five of these are communicants. Mr. Deimler thus speaks of his efforts for their spiritual welfare, and of his helpers in the work:—

There are two divine services on Sundays, and once a month the Lord's Supper is administered. I give, four times a week, catechetical instructions in the evening, of which the catechists, their families, and inquirers, avail themselves. Besides, I teach twice a week the catechists in Scripture and theology; and each Saturday an hour is spent in hearing the reports of the catechists, and in taking counsel upon the best method of labouring during the next week. Only in a full, sound, scriptural and spiritual instruction I see the means of resuscitating, deepening, and building up our native helpers and Christians, and of making them firm against any wind of doctrine that may come upon them. In March I received on probation as catechist a promising young man, who was supplied with very good certificates. His final acceptance is pending an examination, and the approbation of the Corresponding Committee. I wish to record my opinion that it is necessary that two catechists go together on their errand of proclaiming the Gospel amongst the many low and malicious Mussulmans in this city, for their own safety. A couple of months ago Mr. Jones, formerly of the East African Mission, was transferred to my superintendence. His labour is amongst the East African Christians on the line of railway, among the East African Christians here, and amongst the many East African Mussulmans dwelling in Bombay.

There has been one remarkable adult baptism during the year, which shall be described in Mr. Deimler's own words:—

The young man I baptized is Mirza Sulaiman Ali Ghor ^{A remarkable baptism.} a grandson of Bahadur Shah, late king of Delhi, and at this time, to my knowledge, the nearest male relation in India of that royal house. At the time of the mutiny he was about nine years of age. At the recapture of Delhi, his mother, Begum Zinat Nisa, drowned herself in a well with his little sister. His father was Mirza Faqra Wali-Ahad, heir apparent to the throne, who died a couple of months before the mutiny. Mirza Sulaiman was taken captive with his brothers and his grandfather to Rangoon, and remained there for the period of twelve years. On being released, he returned with his brother, Mirza Ali Ashkar, to Calcutta. He used to receive a pension of 50 rupees per mensem from the Government, but owing to his brother's absconding from India, his pension was confiscated. Dissatisfied, and without means, he left Calcutta for Bombay, intending to proceed to Mecca and Constantinople, with the hope of meeting his brother. Here in Bombay, after he had been on several occasions our vehement antagonist in street preaching, he came to our house, and remained here for instruction. In Rangoon he had become acquainted with the New Testament, and here with us he showed, by his walk and conduct the sincerity of his desire to become a Christian. Thus, after due instruction during a few months, I baptized him in December last. I trust God will give him grace to live and die a true Christian, and to attain after this life, full of vicissitudes, a crown of life which fadeth not away. There is something melancholy in this story; and humanity is touched with pity for this young, poor, and hapless scion of the once famous imperial house of Tamerlane and Akbar: however, in this picture a golden star of hope is glittering, the name of which is, faith in Jesus Christ. Mirza Sulaiman is very desirous to receive education, and attends the Robert Money School.

Respecting the instruction given to candidates for baptism Mr. Deimler makes the following important remarks:—

I am fully persuaded that the ministry of reconciliation committed to us, as also the nature of the spiritual life which is to be raised in the candidate, require a very thorough preparation, especially if we consider the utter ignorance of the faith, and the serious and fatal misconceptions rampant in the minds of Hindus and Mussulmans on the nature of God, and the salvation of man. Without enlarging on the subject, I wish to remark that the salvation of man rests on a series of divine acts culminating in the person and work of Christ. These acts of salvation save only those who believe, and, that men may be able to believe, they must receive the knowledge of these divine acts, and the understanding of them. Consequently the ambassador of Christ has to inform men of these divine acts for their salvation, and especially of the person and work of Christ, and to explain them; and this the more so as most of them on the part of Mohammedans have undergone alteration by omission, addition, and perversion. I therefore consider preparation for baptism a most important work, which ought to be accompanied with much earnestness and prayer. I am happy to say that the catechists assist with heart and soul in this work of instructing the inquirers and the candidates for baptism. In fact it is our holy joy, and a work much to be desired above all others, to give instruction to inquiring minds before baptism, or to teach them to observe all things whatsoever Jesus has commanded after baptism. Should individuals leave us again without receiving baptism from our hands, we do not regret the pains we have taken, because they carry with them the seed of God, which perhaps, in God's providence, will one day hereafter spring forth and bear fruit to the man's salvation.

Public preaching to the Mohammedans has been persevered in amidst much that might dishearten.

Difficulties of public preaching to Mohammedans.

Street preaching has been carried on as regularly as other urgent and useful duties allowed, in the evenings and mornings. The number of hearers varied from a few to more than a hundred. The greater portion of them are Mussulmans of the Concan, of the lowest, most degraded, and bigoted class perhaps in the whole of India. We never leave, after preaching before the American Mission chapel, in the neighbourhood of which many of the Mohammedans of the Concan live, without receiving a hooting from them. We consider it a success if we are able to carry our preaching to the end without interruption. Friendly discussions on account of the unreasonableness and maliciousness of these people are almost out of the question. At one time we had to give up for a fortnight preaching altogether, and even mere reading, owing to a conspiracy for interrupting us and driving us from the spot. Comparing the experience of the past ten years, I am inclined to think that the bigotry and the enmity of this class of Mussulmans against Christianity has greatly increased: whether this is an indication of their feeling their own weakness, and a desperate struggle against the power of truth, I am not prepared to avow, though wishing to hope.

Mr. Deimler thus concludes his Annual Letter:—

My plan, in humble and prayerful dependence on God, for the future, is to make the instruction of inquirers our prime business, to carry on more systematically visiting the jail, the hospital, and the native houses; to institute as much feasible house visiting of Mussulmans as soon as I can obtain a conveyance, so as to bring the Gospel to bear especially upon the higher classes in private intercourse; to continue to instruct the catechists and the Christians in the compound; to carry on street preaching, though not perhaps so regularly as hitherto; to visit places in the neighbourhood where Mussulmans live; and to establish a congregation of East Africans. Mrs. Deimler having studied Hindustani for nearly a year, though under many hindrances, is hoping soon to commence zenana visiting.

Robert Money School.

The Rev. T. Carss is still the Principal of this Institution. Besides Mr. Jackson, of whom mention is made below, Mr. Carss is assisted by thirteen native teachers (one Protestant, one Romanist, one Jew, and ten Hindus). The Rev. H. C. Squires was sent out towards the close of the year 1870 to co-operate with Mr. Carss in the spiritual portion of the work. After residing some months at Nasik for the purpose of learning the language, Mr. Squires has now entered on the field of labour to which he was appointed.

Mr. Carss reports as follows:—

The pupils of this institution may be thus classified:—Brahmins, 50; other Hindus, 179; Romanists, 49; Mohammedans, 21; Jews, 17; Protestants, 15: total, 331.

The studies are as follows:—Religious instruction: Bible, Evidences, Barth's Bible Stories. Languages: English, Latin, Sanskrit, Marathi, Gujerathi, Portuguese. History: Rome, Greece, England, India. Science: Elementary Chemistry, Astronomy, Natural Philosophy. English: Reading, Writing, Dictation, Grammar, Analysis, Composition, Etymology, Paraphrase, Geography, Translation from and into the Vernaculars. The principal secular class-books are:—Macaulay's Essays, Lamb's Tales from Shakspeare, Vicar of Wakefield, Pope's Homer's Iliad, Cowper's Works, Deserted Village, a Play of Shakspeare, Smith's Greece, Smith's Rome, Government Educational Series, Arnold's English Grammar, Morrell's Analysis. Among the religious class-books, are Angus's Hand-Book and the Christian Vernacular Education Society's series.

During the year new standards of greatly-increased difficulty have been introduced by Government. They are, in my opinion, unfavourable to sound scholarship; but my chief objection to them is, that they will multiply and magnify those hindrances to direct Mission work which have existed ever since our connexion with Government. At the same time I freely confess that the whole subject is one of no ordinary difficulty, seeing that to give up our connexion with Government would be tantamount to giving up educational work altogether. It appears to me that it is only in a large city like Bombay, where numerous rival institutions abound, that connexion with Government impedes the work of an Educational Missionary. I think the best plan is to accept of circumstances as they are, to adapt ourselves to them, and to go on encountering difficulties and disappointments, looking for guidance and support to Him from whom they are never sought in vain.

It is my pleasing duty to bear testimony to the zeal and faithfulness with which Mr. Jackson has carried on his work. Although Mr. Jackson worked from the first as hard and as long in school as he does at present, yet at the end of his first year his knowledge of Marathi was fully equal to that of many Missionaries who have devoted a year exclusively to the study of the language. Mr. Squires has also commenced his work in the school. I trust the Divine blessing may rest upon our united efforts.

Work among the Women.

Mr. Carss writes:—

Work
Bombay.

The work among the women of Bombay seems to be most interesting and hopeful. My wife's school for girls is in a very flourishing state as regards numbers and efficiency. Mrs. Carss visits the homes of many of her girls, where she finds a hearty welcome; she has also admission into the houses of many respectable natives. A new feature of the work is, that a few come to our own house, and freely talk about religion. We have had several opportunities during the year of conversing with native ladies, and even with whole families, in our own home. I have generally been present on these occasions, and I have been delighted to see the apparent eagerness with which they listened to the truths of the Gospel. Mrs. Carss also takes the deepest interest in the work of the Bible-women: she often accompanies them on their visits, makes every effort to cultivate an intimate acquaintance with them, and is rewarded by their entire confidence and love.

Evangelistic efforts by Native Christians.

The Western-India
Native
alliance.

A movement, important from its nature rather than its extent, has lately risen amongst the Native Christians of Western-India, which the Committee would desire to notice, though it is not specially connected with the Society's operations. An association has been formed, termed The Western-India Native Christian Alliance, whose members (all natives) belong to various Protestant denominations, and whose object is to set on foot and maintain evangelistic efforts among the heathen and Mohammedan population of India, which shall be carried on by the Native Christians themselves under their own management and with their own funds. At present, however, the Alliance has no agents (paid or unpaid) who can give their whole time to the work. Mr. Appaji Bapuji takes much interest in the scheme.

NASIK OR SHARANPUR AND JUNIR.

MALLIGÂM.

The labourers in this district during the year were the Rev. C. S. Cooke (European Missionary), the Rev. Shankar Balawant (Native Minister), and twelve subordinate Native Christian agents. The position of the ordained native brethren in the Deccan Missions is still unsettled; but it is hoped that plans for calling forth the corporate action of the Native Christian body may before long be carried into effect. Mr. Cooke's Annual Letter indicates activity and watchfulness; but when it is remembered that the Native Christians number 111 souls, all of them converts (or their children) within the last few years, that of these no less than thirty-nine are communicants, and yet that there were only two adult baptisms during the twelve months under review, it cannot but be feared that there must have been a serious decline of the expansiveness and aggressiveness that once existed in this Native Church.

The central station is at the Malligâm cantonment, where there are thirty-five Christians and three schools, attended by 146 children, of whom twenty-six are girls. In the town of Malligâm there are twenty-one Christians. Among the out-stations are Dhulia, the chief town of Kandeish, and Sâkurwadie, twelve miles south of Malligâm. The catechist of Sâkurwadie, by name Shantwân, died last year. His history, as given in the following extract from Mr. Cooke's letter, is deeply interesting :—

Many years ago Shantwân was a palki-bearer, &c., to a pious Indian officer, who gave him a Bible and some tracts. On his return to his village he carefully studied the Word, and became convinced of his need of the Saviour. He was, however, afraid to embrace Christianity, but sought to live in accordance with the teaching of the Scriptures in secret. He was a man of great influence among his own people (the Mahars), and taught several of them the truth. Through his instrumentality six of his followers embraced the faith, and were publicly baptized, while he himself was still afraid to take this decided step. When the Missionary used to visit the village in which he lived, Shantwân would leave it, afraid that he should be induced to receive baptism. In 1866 he thought he was dying, and summoned his children to take him into Malligâm, that there, before his death, he might confess his Saviour by being publicly baptized. The sacrament of baptism was duly administered to him before a number of Europeans and natives, who came to see this remarkable man make his confession of faith. Through God's providence his health was now thoroughly restored, and after some time he was appointed as a Scripture Reader of the Society. The little congregation at Sâkurwâdie of eighteen Christians is the fruit of his labour since 1866. Shantwân's death was sudden, but peaceful. He stated, shortly before his death, his belief that the Saviour had gone to prepare a place for him, and that now He was coming to receive him unto Himself. He summoned his children, told them that Jesus was calling him, but that before departing to Christ he wished to leave them this text, which they were never to forget, "He that cometh from above is above all." He then requested them all to leave him, as he wished to be alone with God, and shortly afterwards he entered into the "joy of his Lord."

Each out-station, as well as Malligâm itself, is a centre for evangelistic work, arrangements being made at every one of them for the frequent preaching of the Gospel in all the villages within six miles distance. Longer preaching expeditions are also made by all the agents, as well as by the Missionary himself. Mr. Cooke thus refers to one effect of his labours in this branch :—

Bibles purchased by heathen peasants to be the common property of the village.

With the catechists Anund and Samuel I spent seven months of the year on a Mission tour. Many copies of the Word of God and tracts were purchased throughout the district. To induce the heathen to buy copies of the Scriptures we reduced the prices very considerably, selling a Marathi Bible for 9*d.* or even 6*d.*, and a New Testament for 3*d.* or 4*d.* In many of the villages we visited, copies of the Word were purchased for the use of each village generally, and in some, where there were none who could read, copies were bought with the hope that, when less illiterate friends visited them, the Word might be read aloud for the public benefit. Thirty Bibles and thirty-six New Testaments were thus disposed of.

In connexion with this subject the distribution of God's Word, Mr. Cooke mentions the following very remarkable incident, an evidence, at least, of the religious susceptibility now existing in many parts of India. Dusuruth, a native of a village about thirty-six miles from Dhûlia, accidentally, while visiting Nasik, came into the possession of a copy of the Old Testament. "On returning to his village," Mr. Cooke writes—

Dusuruth carefully studied this book. He became convinced of the folly of idolatry, and felt persuaded that there is but one God. He explained his views to many, and was joined by several in this belief. They now united in worshipping the Deity on the Jewish system [as they supposed] and held regular meetings for the offering of sacrifices. Dusuruth, some months ago, visited Dhûlia ^{Story of} where he heard there are several Christians who read the Bible. On ^{Dusuruth.} inquiring where they lived, he was shown the catechist's house. Great was his surprise on hearing from our catechist, Krisnaji, that if he had read the second part, viz., the New Testament, he would have understood how all these sacrifices had been done away in Christ. Krisnaji then unfolded to him the truth as as it is in Jesus, and pressed upon him to put his trust upon the atonement of Christ, who "now once in the end of the world hath appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself." Dusuruth was much affected by what he heard, but was obliged soon to leave. He again returned in the evening about eight o'clock, and passed a great part of the night in conversation with the catechist, and did not leave his house until early in the morning. Again, at ten o'clock he returned, and stated that he wished much to spend a Sabbath with the Christians, but that the Government business which brought him to Dhûlia compelled him to leave that day. He then purchased a copy of the Bible and Prayer-book from Krisnaji, and urged him to visit him at his village as soon as possible. This the catechist promised to do. Though the village is fifty-six miles from Dhûlia, yet the catechist took an early opportunity of visiting Dusuruth. On arriving at Dusuruth's house, Krisnaji found that he had left for Dhûlia. At Dhûlia, Dusuruth heard that the catechist was at his village, and hastened back to meet him. He then informed Krisnaji, that after his previous visit he assembled his followers, and retired as usual with them to a private place, there to make their usual offering. As they were sacrificing, Dusuruth's son became very ill, and they all returned with him to the house. He, however, became worse, and died suddenly. Dusuruth says that he believes he was thus punished by Jehovah for daring to offer sacrifices after it had been explained to him that they were done away with in Christ. I am anxiously watching for further news of this man and his followers; and great will be our thankfulness if they boldly come forth, and declare themselves to be Christians.

AURANGABAD.

The Rev. Ruttonjee Nowrojee and the Rev. Lucas Maloba, two native brethren, are at present in charge of the work in this district, the former being stationed at Aurangabad itself, the latter at the out-station of Buldâna. The wish of the Committee was that a Native Church Council should be established at this place, at the meetings of which Council a European Missionary from Bombay should attend as chairman. Various causes, among others the scarcity of food, and consequent scattering of the Christians mentioned in Mr. Ruttonjee's letter, have hitherto prevented this design from being carried into effect. The returns for 1871 give the following statistics:—Communicants, 50; baptized persons, 268; catechumens, 3; baptized during the year, 21 adults, 13 children. The number of baptized persons, as given in the returns for 1870, was 190. The cause of the increase is not definitely stated, but the twenty-one adult baptisms appear to be indubitable ground for encouragement and thankfulness. Mr. Ruttonjee writes:—

Owing to the scanty monsoon, the country for miles around has lost its early and latter crops, causing much distress amongst all classes of people, especially amongst the Christians, who chiefly belong to the poorest class of the native community. Cultivation came to a dead stop, and with it all resources of employment were cut off. Many Christian families were compelled to migrate to distant places in search of food and employment, and such as remained in their respective villages found it necessary to live upon unwholesome things to satisfy the cravings of appetite. I am thankful to state that my appeal in behalf of these poor sufferers has met with a liberal response from a few charitable Christian gentlemen. I hope to be able to use the money with a judicious care so as to make it go a long way, not only in relieving present distress, but also in furnishing some with means to earn an honest independent livelihood.

deaths of Native
Christians.

Several deaths occurred during the past year. Some of long established character, who rejoiced our hearts by their Christian life and conversation, have gone to their final rest. One of these was Mr. Cornelius, Adjutant Jemadar of the 3rd Regiment Hyderabad Contingent. He was an earnest-minded Christian who had gained general respect and esteem by his uprightness of conduct. He strove at all times to preach the unsearchable riches of Christ to all who came within his reach. The enemies of the cross could not resist the wisdom with which he always spoke, for he had this advantage, that what he preached with his lips he exemplified with his life. During his long illness I had frequently visited him, and ever found him patient and resigned. I was with him when the last messenger came to summon him away. There was no terror, no perplexity as to his salvation through the blood of the Lamb; the dark valley of the shadow of death was lighted up by the Redeemer, and all was joy and peace. The bright heavenly expression that was on his face after his soul had left its tabernacle of clay bespoke more of sweet sleep than of death. Many a heathen looked on with wonder, exclaiming, "We naturally turn away in disgust from beholding the face of a dead man, but the calmness visible on this face induces us to look on it with peculiar pleasure." The second happy death was that of our old evangelist, Ramji Sinday. He was a veteran servant of the Lord Jesus. He had lived long to see many brought into the Church by his instrumentality. He has left his autobiography, which I hope to be able some day to translate into English for publication, and I have no doubt but that it will be read with deep interest by many. The people of his village, from the highest to the lowest, respected him for his worth, and on his death they all mourned for him, declaring that "in him they had lost a great and a bright light." The third death was that of Narayan, father-in-law of Ramji Sinday. He was remarkable for his childlike simplicity and humble piety. For days before his death he could not move from his bed, but just before his departure he rose and dressed himself and walked out of the house, to the great astonishment of his friends. On their remonstrating with him against the advisability of leaving his bed, he told them not to stop him, "for he was only going home, his own sweet home." He walked a few yards from his cottage, and then sat down, as his spirit, without the least struggle, fled peaceably to his Maker.

As regards evangelistic work, Mr. Ruttonjee reports that it is not yet possible to preach publicly in Aurangabad itself. A colporteur, however, is usefully employed in the city by the Tract Society. Meanwhile the public proclamation of the Gospel meets with no hindrance in the country districts, and seems to receive increasing attention. Three Bible-women are employed in this work, besides four catechists or readers, and two unpaid evangelists. These labours have not been without fruit. Among the newly baptized is the widow of the Adjutant Jemadar mentioned above. One or two others, recently added, rejoice the Native Minister by their consistent lives and Missionary zeal.

A European head-master has been lately obtained from Bombay for the Aurangabad school.

In the out-stations, Sâigam, Ambekhol, &c., advance is making in the education of the children of the Native Christians; but there is nothing further that calls for notice.

SINDH MISSION.

KURRACHEE.

The work of the Society at this important and thriving commercial emporium has been continued with vigour, and (thanks be to God) with some success, notwithstanding the weakened condition of the agency employed. On this subject the Rev. James Sheldon (who is at present without any European coadjutor) remarks as follows:—

There is a peculiarity in our Kurrachee Mission, which should, I think, be mentioned. It is the great difficulty of maintaining an effective staff of agents. Our European brethren have suc-

Need of

cumbed to the climate ; Mr. Goodall first, and then Mr. Bardsley ; both after a few years' labour, from the effects of diseases either engendered or developed by our trying climate. Again, within two years, Mr. Croley left on sick leave, not to return ; and this year Mr. Roberts, after an alarming illness, has been recommended by the medical men not to labour in Sindh. Only one Missionary therefore, with a weak Native Christian Agency, is left to meet the requirements of a large Mission ; and he is almost overwhelmed with its details, when he should only have its guidance, and at a time, too, when as the work is developing, there should be direct personal influence brought to bear on individual minds, with a view, by the blessing of the Holy Spirit, of bringing home and establishing the truth in the hearts of our inquirers. I do not think a large European staff is necessary. Two Missionaries, and, if possible, a schoolmistress, will suffice for the present. The great desideratum for the Mission is effective native agency. A few earnest spiritually-minded men who can sympathize with their fellow countrymen, in their various difficulties and temptations, seems to me to be the great instrumentality needed. To raise up such a staff has long been my aim, but my efforts have in a measure failed. Now hope is again revived. During the year two promising converts have been baptized, and I trust that one or both of them will devote themselves to the Lord's work.

The Committee have designated the Rev. A. E. Cowley to co-operate with Mr. Sheldon. They also fully agree with Mr. Sheldon as to the utility of well-taught and well-trained native agents, whether paid or unpaid. Here lies one main cause (under God) of the great comparative success in the South Indian Missions. Low repute of Native Christian agents will not, as a rule, be found in any Mission where due care has been exercised in their selection, and proper provision made for their instruction and preparation.

Proceeding to other subjects, Mr. Sheldon writes, in the same letter, dated December 1871 :—

The native congregation has had many trials. The breaking up so many Government establishments, consequent on the reductions in the Province, has compelled some of our Native Christians families to leave Sindh ; and has reduced our number of bonâ fide Native Christians to forty-five, with eighteen communicants. Our congregations have, however, been throughout the year good, being swelled out by the attendance of our unbaptized adherents, and other natives. The native offertories and subscriptions amount to nearly 400 rupees.

The English service has been very well attended ; indeed, sometimes the church has been full to the doors. The deep interest taken by this congregation in our work has greatly helped and encouraged us. In a place like Kurrachee, where we have a large European and Eurasian population, and an ever increasing number of English-speaking natives, I think a stated English service, so long as it occupies a subordinate place in the Mission, of the greatest importance. It gives a status to the Mission, and gathers around us firm supporters.

There have been three adult baptisms during the year. Of two of these Mr. Sheldon gives an interesting account:—

One of them is a Mohammedan Sayad, of fair education, really one of the people, who has been brought up in their midst and knows their language and habits. He was admitted into the Church on Easter Sunday, and has ever since been both consistent and useful. The other was baptized to his great joy on Christmas-day. He is the adopted son of a rich Bawa, who is in possession of considerable property near Porebunder. Being an intelligent and well-instructed Brahmin, who can read Sanskrit, and is well versed in the Shastras, he is likely, if he continue firm in his Christian faith, to be very useful. The account of his conversion is interesting. His statement, which has been confirmed by persons living at Porebunder, is, that two years ago he had given to him a Christian tract, which, after he had read it attentively several times, gave him a general idea of the Christian religion, and led him to entertain doubts of the truth of the Hindu Shastras. Just then his father fell ill, and a Native Christian doctor, who was living at Porebunder, called in to attend him. From him the son gradually learned more on the subject of the tract, and gathered boldness to speak to his father about his doubts. This led to remonstrance, and subsequently to confinement, which was continued over three months. The father finding his son firm, treated him harshly, until at length the latter left his home, and sought the protection of his friend the Christian doctor, who sent him hereto Kurrachee for instruction. After a probation of over three months, he was admitted with the hearty approval of the Native Church into the congregation by baptism. He returns almost immediately to his native country, and his rejoining us is doubtful. Should we eventually secure his services, he will prove, under God, a valuable helper. May God indeed raise up for us evangelists and pastors of the flock!

Conversion of a Mohammedan of high rank.

One remarkable feature in Kurrachee is the existence of several “adherents,” who cannot make up their minds to ask for baptism, but yet regard themselves as Christians, regularly attend Christian worship, and, in many ways, give their support to the Mission. They are referred to in the subjoined passages from Mr. Sheldon’s Annual Letter:—

The knowledge of the Christian religion is spreading. Of that we have evidence on every side, in the deep interest in our work shown by natives of every class, as well as in the increasing number of our adherents. Amongst our Hindu followers are several who wish to be baptized could they be only allowed to retain caste. I have letters before me from one of our adherents who tells me of his preaching the Gospel to his fellow-countrymen in Cutch. He seems to long for baptism, but, being a Brahmin, shrinks from breaking caste. Amongst those living in our own immediate neighbourhood are many quite as earnest as this Brahmin. They have advanced beyond the status of inquirers, and may be called adherents. They are in everything, but the name, outwardly professing Christians, attend our classes, meetings, and services; speak of the Church as “their Church,” and subscribe to our Native Fund. For their benefit, as well as for those whom they bring with them, we are delivering a series of lectures on the evidences of Christianity. It surely must be a hopeful sign to see a large schoolroom well filled with English-speaking, and in many cases well educated natives, who come for the express purpose of listening to a lecture on the Christian religion. Only recently a lay friend spoke to them most earnestly on the all-importance of conversion and an open avowal of Christ, and the impression made was most marked. This is the spirit at present at work amongst the people.

Meanwhile there is no abatement in the desire entertained to reach those still uninstructed :—

The evangelistic work of the Mission in the Bazaars has suffered in consequence of so much of our time being necessarily given to other departments of the Mission. My great desire was to give my best strength to it, and such was our arrangement, when Mr. Roberts’s health failed, and again the school work devolved upon me. The Bazaar-preaching has, however, been continued, though not so uninterruptedly as in former years. The two readers whom I have now studying with me will, I hope, soon be qualified to help me in this most desirable department of our work. Kurrachee is a large scattered place containing seven or eight suburbs, some of them with large populations. In any scheme for working the whole efficiently, each suburb must be considered as a separate town or village, and as soon as possible placed under the care of a resident catechist, who should aim at gathering around him his own little flock.

Lastly, as regards the educational branch of the Mission, Mr. Sheldon writes :—

Our Schools are fairly efficient, and our funds equal to our wants. In our three schools we have an effective staff of thirteen teachers, who have done their utmost to help us. Chiefly to their efforts we owe the large attendance of 305 scholars at present in the schools, and the largest Government grant we have ever received.

The Children's Home has been kept up. Our members are small, but our object is to have as many as we can support and care for, with a view to some of them becoming native agents. We have at present only seven boys.

HYDRABAD.

The Rev. G. Shirt and the Rev. A. Yarnold are the Missionaries at this station. Mr. Yarnold joined the Mission in March, 1871.

Mr. Shirt thus describes the general aspect of the work :—

The year just passed would almost appear to the eye of man as one of barren labour; and, if we had not the glorious promises of Holy Scripture, we might almost join our own voices with those who hesitate not to say that God's blessing does not rest upon our efforts. We have not, it is sad to say, had any converts from the ranks of heathenism; nor have any of the followers of the false prophet done more than, now and again, confess they did not know for certain that their own creed was true. Still, though we are called upon to hammer, as it were, the hard surface of granite, we have at times felt that this hard conglomeration of error must and will dissolve before the glorious power of the Gospel of Christ.

There are but seven Native Christians connected with the Mission. A vernacular service is held for their benefit, which they regularly attend. They also contribute to the support of a Christian colporteur.

As regards preaching to the heathen, Mr. Shirt reports as follows :—

We have given a good deal of time to this work. In Hyderabad, we have kept up a constant witness, securing as a rule attentive audiences—so attentive indeed, sometimes, that we cannot help feeling that a work is going on in the minds of our hearers. But so dead are the people to the usual workings of the human conscience and to acknowledge God's holiness, that little can be expected until they are pricked in the former, and are led by the Spirit to see the latter. Several towns and villages, far away into the country, have been visited by us. The Word has been preached, tracts and parts of the Scripture sold, with what result our heavenly Father alone knows. This, at least, we are permitted to see, that men who have heard us in the country sometimes seek us out in Hyderabad. On every hand we can testify to an increase of knowledge. May the Lord hasten the time when it shall take effect by leading men to the cross of Christ!

Attention to the Gospel and increasing knowledge of the Gospel
among the heathen.

In the cold season Mr. Shirt preached in many of the towns and villages of Sindh. He generally met with respectful and attentive audiences, and had occasionally interesting conversations with individuals. Many scoff and show utter indifference ; but, though none seem as yet under any deep spiritual concern, there are those, among both Hindus and Mohammedans, who recognize, to some extent, the excellence of the Gospel and desire further knowledge.

The Schools are next mentioned in Mr. Shirt's Annual Letter. The Boys' School, it will be remembered, suffered a shock from a cause the repetition of which is earnestly to be prayed for—the conversion and baptism of one of the teachers. Mr. Shirt now writes :—

The Boys' School at Hyderabad has gone on steadily towards gaining its former position ; there being nearly 130 boys on the list, chiefly Hindus. The Scripture lessons have been willingly, and on the whole attentively, listened to in all the classes ; and a Bible-class held on Sundays is also generally well attended. One young man, formerly a pupil of the school, gave us great encouragement for a time. He applied for baptism, came regularly for prayer and instruction, manifesting at times a readiness almost to go through fire and water ; but, alas ! as the end of his probation drew nigh, he slackened in his attention, and finally withdrew, alleging that we had no right to expect him to break caste.

Other schools are thus referred to :—

The Girls' Schools, one in the Mission-house and one in the city, both continue to give satisfaction. In the city school the girls are all Hindus, and some have made such progress that their ignorant mothers pronounce them perfect. The girls who attend the school in the Mission-house are Christians, Hindus, and Mohammedans. The Kotree Mission School is in a better state than it was last year. The establishment of a Government Anglo-Vernacular school there, instead of injuring our school, as was expected, has, on the contrary, done it good.

Mr. Shirt has long desired to have a Boarding School. It is to be regretted that, owing to the small number of Native Christian families, none but orphan children can be obtained. Two such are now supported by a local friend.

General view of the Society's Work in Northern and Western India.

THE general characteristics of the North-India Mission may be illustrated in some degree by comparing them with those carried on in the provinces and Native states attached to the Southern Presidency. The differences between these two portions of the Mission field are numerous, and arise from various causes. In South India the work has been longer established. Not only were the Society's operations, at least upon a large scale, commenced here at an earlier period, but these had been preceded by other men's labours into which the Society entered. Its South-Indian Missionaries have therefore had longer experience of their own, and have profited also by the example of their predecessors. The training, and consequently the employment, of Native Christian agents has been eminently successful in South India, a success visible alike in number and in efficiency. The climate also, and other circumstances (especially in Tinnevely), have favoured the residence of European Evangelists among the village population, the lower classes of which have been found, in most parts of India, more willing than their countrymen generally to accept Christian instruction. And lastly, as a consequence, it may be, of the facts and circumstances just specified, accessions to the visible Church have been far more numerous than in the northern districts. In Northern India, on the other hand (including under this term not only Bengal, the North-west Provinces, and the Punjab, but also Sindh, Bombay, and the Deccan), cities and large towns have been the chief fields of labour. Native agents have been comparatively few. Institutions for training them, until lately, scarcely existed, and even yet are on a very small scale. The Native Christians, omitting those brought up in Missionary Orphanages, are found in scanty numbers. At the same time, preparatory movements among the leading classes of the general population are on a larger scale, attract more notice, and seem more strikingly to portend important changes rapidly approaching.

I. The Society's Agents actually at work in Northern and Western India during the past year have been 58 European Missionaries and Missionary Schoolmasters, and about 380 Native Teachers. At the chief Missionary Stations the main features of the work are the same every where. There is the English College, or Anglo-Vernacular School, whose object it is to preach the Gospel to the higher classes and to raise up agents of superior qualifications. Sound secular education is here offered on payment of a moderate fee, while at the same time, without disguise, the pupils are made acquainted with the Gospel, and affectionately urged to accept it. In Vernacular Schools the same thing is attempted for children of both sexes among the poorer sections of the population. Daily, too, the Christian preacher takes his stand in the open street, or in some well-placed wayside chapel; while, as each cold season returns, evangelistic excursions are made in surrounding districts. In some places, notably in Calcutta, the Missionary visits the houses of influential Natives, and make the glorious theme of a Saviour's love the subject of friendly and familiar conversation. The advance of education renders it increasingly possible to distribute by sale copies of Holy Scripture and Christian tracts and books. Mention must not be omitted of the work in the Zenanas, or among native ladies of rank and wealth. Some wives and daughters of Missionaries are thus employed. The Theological College at Lahore, the Cathedral Mission College at Calcutta, and the Mission among the Santals, branches of work differing widely one from another, may be regarded as specialties, and will be more fully noticed in the body of the Report.

Such is the field and such the mode of working it. In this respect the Committee have little or no change to report during the year just concluded. But,

II. Some new hindrances have arisen. A scarcely expected Hindrances phenomenon is the revival, from whatever cause, especially to the progress of the Gospel in North India. in Calcutta, of professed attachment to Hinduism amongst men of education. The great national festival of Dûrga has been celebrated with more pomp and parade than for many preceding years. In the early part of last year a distinguished M.A. of the Calcutta University sat for hours in public at a famous shrine of Kali, attired as a devotee of the goddess, in silent contemplation of her virtues. But, it should be added, these supporters of orthodox Hinduism are rarely found amongst those brought up in Missionary schools. Avowed atheism is also on the increase. Steady, well-conducted family men deliberately profess their disbelief in a personal God and a future state, and their intention to live only for time, like the beasts that perish. The new sect of Brahmists, or Indian Deists, seem to be receding farther from Christianity, and for the most part oppose Missionary effort more bitterly than before. In the Mission schools increasing difficulty is found from the almost exclusively secular character of the University examinations. In some parts of India Mohammedan bigotry is extremely strong, if not increasing. It is amongst them that the cavilling opponents of the street preacher are usually found.

III. Notwithstanding these difficulties, the Committee thank God for many encouraging symptoms. With all their Diminished atheism, or deism, or increased display of Hinduism, the animosity against the Gospel in Calcutta. Hindus of the upper classes in Calcutta do not now manifest the same kind of bitter animosity against the Gospel which was so prominent ten or twenty years ago. "Every thing of coarseness and ribaldry in their allusions to our holy faith," says Mr. Vaughan, "is, as a rule, carefully eschewed." "We have not met with one during the past year," he adds, "who

Deists.

vilified the character of Christ, or the religion which He founded; but we have met with many who spoke with the highest respect, some even with veneration, of both." And though the Brahmists of Bengal are more than ever opposed to the simple Gospel of Christ, they feel the want of positive theological teaching, and have therefore instituted public examinations for their own body in such works as "Butler's Analogy," "Tulloch's Theism," and Ram Mohun Roy's Precepts of Jesus. In public preaching to the heathen the Missionaries in many places—though not in all—observe among their hearers an increase of inquiry, of knowledge, and of assent. In several of the Mission Schools a reverent and attentive demeanour is noticeable on the part of the heathen pupils during religious instruction. It may be added, that efforts are making, with hopes of success, to enlarge the University course of examination, by introducing into it, as optional subjects, branches of knowledge that will involve the study of Holy Scripture. There is also reason to believe that Government will take somewhat less direct part than it hitherto has done in the higher education. This will place Missionary Colleges on a more advantageous footing. Other hopeful indications, as regards individual inquirers, and as regards desire for Christian instruction in some of the rural districts, will be found in subsequent pages of this Report.

At most of the Mission stations in North India, and sometimes at a distance from Mission stations, are to be found waverers and secret believers in the truths of Christianity, especially among the educated classes. They read the Bible in secret; they stealthily listen to the preaching of the Word; from time to time they visit the ambassador of Christ. One of these, still shrinking from the reception of baptism, lately made the strange request that he might be permitted to partake of the Holy Communion. Mr. Sheldon of Kurrachee, speaks of a somewhat similar class, who "have advanced beyond the stage of inquirers, and may be called adherents, though still unbaptized."

IV. As regards the extension of the visible Church, adult baptisms in Northern and Western India have not been numerous. Among the village population this may be accounted for in various ways. Various circumstances seem to prevent the European Missionary from taking up his residence in the midst of them; while competent Native Evangelists are still few in number. Those Christians that have been gathered out in the rural districts do not, as a rule, endeavour to evangelize their heathen countrymen.

In the towns, though the power of the Word is felt and many minds are stirred, nothing but the special putting forth of the energy of the Holy Spirit will enable a man to face the violent opposition to which actual baptism would expose him. This will appear from several illustrative instances that will be described in connexion with the different Missions in which they occurred. The year has not been without some striking triumphs of the converting grace of God.

V. The Native Christians in Northern and Western India number about 12,500; of these about 2650 are communicants. In this department the Committee's plan, to which God, they humbly trust, has led them by experience, is as follows:—As soon as inquirers or converts are gathered together, they are at once to be organized, however poor, and however few in number, on some system of union, co-operation, and mutual edification. The Missionary and his Native helpers are to visit and instruct them as frequently as convenient; but there should be a union amongst themselves, and a joint service of God, independent of the Society's agents. The principle itself meets with general approval. Difficulties in carrying it out arise from the submissive and dependent habits of the Natives of India, and in the lower classes, from whom many of the converts come, from their extreme ignorance. The selfishness and lack of public spirit produced by Hinduism does not wholly leave them when they enter the Christian Church; and it is easier to flesh and blood to rely on the supposed wealth of an earthly Society than on their Divine Invisible Head and Redeemer. Yet these difficulties are in the course of being vanquished. As examples may be mentioned—the Trinity Church Congregation at Calcutta, the Church Council at Agra, the Santâl Christians, and (in a lower degree) the peasant converts of the Krishnagar districts.

These are grounds for humble thanksgiving to the great Lord of the harvest. Yet the Committee desire to see in North India a greater activity on the part of Native Christians in evangelizing their countrymen. They would rejoice to hear of a larger number of unpaid preachers. As regards salaried agents, an increase is needed in the number of those possessing higher qualifications. This is to be sought for by prayer, by careful selection, and by previous instruction. Encouraging examples are supplied not only by Tinnevely and Travancore, but also in North India itself, by the Santâl Mission. The Committee therefore earnestly desire and pray that the Training Institutions at Krishnagar and Benares, and the new College at Lahore, may be vigorously maintained and enlarged, and may be prospered by the good hand of God, and that all engaged in them may be abundantly endued with the grace of the Holy Ghost. Respecting the European agency needed for this purpose, Mr. French writes, "What I am especially anxious about is the sending forth from amongst our best theological students in England and America a few men, but a few, who have grappled in personal spiritual experience with the great mysteries of faith—as our dear brother Knott did, whose loss we must still mourn—and have been taught the solution of many or all of them in wrestlings of soul in their closets, on their knees, with an open Bible before them, and yet who are not indifferent to the struggles of the past, so as to appreciate their moral and spiritual value—schooled of the Spirit, even more than in the studies of seats of learning, to fight the good fight of faith. Others of great force of personal character, of love and holiness, and of administrative ability, are useful, very useful also; but we crave a good and large proportion of the first. Our Universities seem asleep on this point."

The Society's North-India Missions have recently sustained a very severe loss, which the Committee have already referred to in a Minute drawn up when the sad tidings first reached them, and dated January 8, 1872. It is as follows :—

"The Committee have to record the death of another most valued friend in the Ven. J. H. Pratt, Archdeacon of Calcutta, who died during his visitation in North India. He was a son of the Rev. Josiah Pratt, the second Secretary of this Society, who, under God, had the chief part for nineteen years in fixing its principles and modes of Missionary action. At Cambridge Mr. J. H. Pratt obtained high honours and the reputation of a mathematician of the foremost rank. He was fellow and assistant tutor of Caius College, but the prospects and enjoyments of a college life were unhesitatingly resigned by him at the invitation of Bishop Daniel Wilson, his father's old friend and former pupil, to go out as his domestic chaplain. He was soon afterwards made Archdeacon of Calcutta. When resident in that city he was a regular attendant at the Corresponding Committee of this Society, and in course of time visited and made himself thoroughly acquainted with every Mission in North India. He thoroughly adopted and maintained the principles of the Society, and greatly helped its cause by his wise counsels, varied experience, and sound judgment. To every Missionary he proved himself a cordial and sympathizing brother, and encouraged them in their work by his official influence and support. As an author, Archdeacon Pratt acquired considerable reputation by a work he published in early life in the higher department of science, entitled "Mathematical Principles of Mechanical Philosophy;" whilst in India he kept up his reading and knowledge of the progress of science, and brought all his resources to the aid of the Christian faith. He printed an admirable answer to the scepticism of the day in a work entitled "Scripture and Science not at Variance," of which the sixth edition has lately appeared. In conjunction with his brother, was published a Memoir of his venerated father, which admirably reports and illustrates the early history of the Church Missionary Society. After thirty-four years spent in India Archdeacon Pratt was to have retired this summer; and the Committee, while bowing in humble submission to the Divine will, and thanking God for past benefits, deeply feel the loss they have sustained in being deprived of the anticipated advantage of his knowledge and wisdom as a brother counsellor in their deliberations for the work in which they are engaged."

CALCUTTA.

The Missionaries in connexion with the Society at the Indian metropolis were, at the close of 1871, the Rev. E. C. Stuart (the Secretary), the Rev. J. Long (senior Missionary), the Rev. C. Bomwetsch, the Rev. J. Vaughan, the Rev. S. Dyson (Principal of the Cathedral Mission College), the Rev. J. Welland (lately returned from England), the Rev. F. J. De Rozario (at Agarpâra), the Rev. Dr. Bauman, the Rev. S. T. Leupolt, and the Rev. E. K. Blumhardt (the three last-named co-operating with Mr. Dyson in the College). A faithful and well-educated Native brother, the Rev. M. S. Seal, ministers to four congregations, in Calcutta and its suburbs, which are the fruits of the past labours of the Society's Missionaries. Another Native Pastor, the Rev. Rajkristo Bose, is similarly engaged at the Salt Lake. In the above catalogue one name will be missed, that of the late Rev. T. Sandys. The local Calcutta Report thus speaks of the grace bestowed on this departed brother, and the circumstances of his removal:—

The Rev. Timothy Sandys, after completing a period of more than forty years' labour in India, during which time he had only once visited his native land, returned to England a few months ago. The same earnest spirit that had marked his earlier years attended him in green old age. He left the shores of India with a full resolve of returning to resume his much-loved labours. He evidently wished to labour in the land of his adoption "until his change should come." The Master ordered it otherwise. From the time of his arrival in England Mr. Sandys was constantly employed in advocating the cause of Missions in different parts of the country. Whilst proceeding on this errand on the 4th November last, a fall from the vehicle in which he was riding caused such severe injuries as, a few days after, resulted in his death. Thus the summons was given, "Come up higher." The passage was rough, but the end was peace, and his expiring words, "No pain," might be interpreted of the departing spirit as well as of the sinking body. He was going to that blessed land where there is "no more pain." To those who knew the honoured veteran, no eulogy of his character is needed. His virtues were just those which pre-eminently marked the advanced Christian. Humble as a child, he never sought his own glory; unselfish to a degree, he would make any sacrifice to help or comfort others. The buoyancy of spirit which never flagged ever showed itself in the bright cheerful smile which lit up his kindly features. He was in faith most simple, in piety most devout, and "in labours more abundant." The great day will declare that those labours were not in vain in the Lord.

death of a

Native Congregations.

Among the Native Christians connected with the Society in Calcutta, there are trustworthy indications of spiritual growth, as well as manifest improvement in other respects. Mr. Vaughan thus speaks of the Trinity Church congregation, which to his regret (a Native pastor not having yet been obtained) is still under his own immediate care:—

As regards the moral and spiritual state of the congregation, we may say that, in point of morality, we believe the people occupy a position not inferior to that of any Christian community with which we are acquainted. As regards real spiritual life, what shall we say? Alas! there are many dead souls among us; the majority, we fear, are such; but there is a little body of earnest, godly souls who feed on Christ, and live for His glory. These are our comfort, our joy, and crown; and these are the salt of the Church as well as of the world. May the good Lord increase their number!

As regards the temporalities of the congregation, and its advance towards a state of healthy independence, every thing is pleasing and hopeful. We cannot doubt for a moment that God has been our Helper in this respect, and to Him would we render all the glory for the good which has been achieved. A few years back the members of Trinity Church were as thoroughly dependent and grasping as any of their brethren in the least favoured portion of the Mission field. The idea of giving for God's cause they scouted as preposterous, but the idea of receiving in all possible ways from Mission funds they regarded as right and natural. A free education for their children, and, in the majority of cases, food and clothing besides, were considered a legitimate recompense for their having allied themselves to the Church. Books and medicines, and sundry other perquisites, were all freely bestowed: once upon a time they claimed rent-free houses also as a right. Of course, there was no gratitude in those days; paupers are never grateful; neither was there any self-respect, and socially and morally their standard was very, very low. The poor people had no notion of the simplest sanitary laws. They squatted in wretched hovels with floors of black damp mud; those dens had scarcely any ventilation; not a road or a drain was any where to be seen. Nobody will wonder that, with such a state of things, disease and death were familiar objects: the burial register of those years gives an average of over twenty deaths yearly, or nearly ten per cent. of the whole population. The present death-rate is not quite three per cent. This last interesting fact is mainly owing to the improved social and sanitary condition of the people and their dwellings. Every trace of the mud hovels has disappeared. In their stead rows of substantial brick cottages, well raised, and containing from one to six rooms, with all necessary out-offices attached, have been built. Good pucca roads and drains run throughout the whole village; trees have been planted; the municipal water has been introduced and so arranged as to flush the leading drains, as well as supply the population with wholesome water.

Calcutta
Native
congregation.

How has all this been brought about? The voluntary contributions of the people themselves, supplemented from other sources, have enabled us to carry out these reforms. About seven years ago a few, more advanced than the rest, came to see that it was a blessed thing to give as well as receive; these influenced others; the new feeling grew; subscriptions grew with it. Donations, thank-offerings, and monthly contributions began to flow into the Church's coffers. A thousand rupees from the Church Missionary Society swelled the amount and commended the effort; generous Christian friends also encouraged and aided the rising zeal of the Native Christians. When the question arose as to the investment of the money raised, the idea of a permanent endowment for the support of a Native Pastor was resolved upon. The Native Christians agreed to abolish their mud cottages, to be replaced by the substantial houses above described. This was a trial of principle, for they would have to pay heavily for the increased comfort: to the loss of their cottages would have to be added a fixed monthly rent, to be paid for the future. The rental accruing was to form the permanent income for the maintenance of the pastor. The scheme has been carried through, and, by God's grace, has nearly reached its completion. Altogether about 26,000 rupees have been raised and expended on the scheme. Of this sum, about 12,000 rupees, in the shape of subscriptions, donations, and rent, have come out of the pockets of the Native Christians—a fact which, considering the comparative poverty of most of them, is not a little surprising and pleasing. About 5000 rupees have been received from other sources as contributions in aid. The remaining 9000 rupees has an interesting history of its own. This sum of money, originally collected for the benefit of the Krishnagar Mission, had lain for years inert in the hands of the Corresponding Committee of the Church Missionary Society. The Committee agreed to advance that sum as a loan to our Building Fund; whilst the Native Pastorate Fund Committee, on their part, agreed to pay interest at the rate of 5 per cent. on the loan. This they are paying, and the Krishnagar Mission will yearly reap the benefit.

The voluntary contributions of the people, and the rental combined, represents an annual income of about 3000 rupees, or 250 rupees a month. Deducting the interest on the Krishnagar loan, and leaving a margin for repairs, an ample income remains for the support of the Native Pastor. A comfortable parsonage has already been built for his use. Unfortunately, a suitable man for this post has not yet been found; but it is a comfort to know that as soon as the Lord of the harvest sends the right man, every thing is prepared for him.

It is not a little pleasing that the Trinity Church Native Pastorate Fund Committee have con amore proposed to encourage their poorer brethren in the Salt Lake district by doubling the amount of their monthly subscriptions out of their own fund. This is as it ought to be: having achieved their own emancipation, they stretch out a loving and liberal hand to aid others less advanced.

It will be seen from the above that the Parent Committee's proposal for the establishment of a collective fund and a federal organization in connexion with the Native Christians of Bengal, or at least of Calcutta, has been to some extent set aside for the present as regards the Trinity congregation. The Committee still believe that their own plan is preferable and will be ultimately adopted. Union is strength. Notwithstanding this, they can heartily join with Mr. Vaughan in thanking God for the result that has been obtained. Moreover, it will have been observed that the principle of non-isolation, of union and co-operation with other congregations, has not been lost sight of.

The suburban and rural stations or out-stations of Kidderpore, Thakurpukur, Akra, and Panchla are at present under the care of the Rev. M. S. Seal. He reports of the pastoral work as follows :—

I am thankful to report that the congregation at Kidderpore is getting on very satisfactorily. There are 116 souls in connexion with St. Barnabas' Church at Kidderpore, including the people of the out-stations of Akra and Panchla; communicants, 35. The congregation contributed during the past year Rs. 217. 12.; viz., to the Church Fund, Rs. 138. 13., and offertories for the poor, Rs. 78. 15. There have been two services on Sundays and one on Wednesday evenings.—A service in English on Thursday evenings has been conducted throughout the year, chiefly by the Rev. F. R. Michell, for the benefit of those European and Eurasian Christians who reside in the neighbourhood of St. Barnabas' Church. The English-speaking native Christians also attend this service, and it exercises a wholesome influence on my congregation.—Two men (one of them a Brahmin) have been admitted into the Church of Christ by baptism. It is cheering to be able to state that both these, and Bisheshwar Bhattacharjea, the young Brahmin whom I baptized in 1868, are, by Divine grace, maintaining a consistent Christian walk.

Some of the Christians at Akra were excommunicated years ago, and they kept themselves away from us. One of them, the man most addicted to vice, has been the foremost to apply for re-admission: he is now regularly attending the public ordinances. I hope he will lead a consistent life in future, and his companions will follow his good example.

The congregation at Thakurpuker consists of 239 persons. Of these, 39 are communicants. They are scattered in several villages, and assemble on Sundays at Thakurpuker for Divine worship. They are visited in their respective villages occasionally by myself, and twice a week by the catechists, who instruct them and pray with them. They have contributed during the year Rs. 93. 14. 9. towards the Church and the Pastorate Fund, which shows that their liberality has increased.

Kristopore and Terulia are two village congregations near the Salt Lake under the pastoral charge of the Rev. Rajkristo Bose, who was ordained deacon two years ago, and the circumstances of whose conversion were mentioned in the last Annual Report. The character and position of these Native brethren are thus described in the Local Report :—

Those poor people have been engaged in fishing in the Salt Lake for generations back: living, as they do, cut off from the rest of the world by miles of dreary swamps, their position is any thing but favourable to their advancement. They are, as a rule, very ignorant, and the majority, we fear, have little spiritual life; but they are simple and affectionate. They seem to value their pastor, and yield to his gentle, persuasive influence. He is thoroughly impressed with the importance of training them, poor as they are, to give for God's cause. A Church Fund has been started, and already fifty rupees are invested in the Government Savings' Bank on its account.

The aid given to these poor fishermen by the Trinity Church congregation has been already noticed.

Evangelistic Work.

Accessions from the heathen still continue. Forty adult baptisms have taken place in connexion with the Trinity Church congregation alone. Nineteen of these are young women in the Foundling Asylum. Mr. Vaughan thus describes the circumstances that led to their receiving Christian instruction :—

During the past year there have been in connexion with this congregation fifty-six baptisms: of these not fewer than forty have been those of adults. It is our constant endeavour to admit into the communion of Christ's Church only such as are earnest and sincere. We reject none who come to us for instruction: we encourage them to come and to remain under Christian teaching: but we feel it is due to them, and due to the Church, not to precipitate the solemn act of initiation.

The terrible famine which, some years ago, devastated Orissa, threw upon the hands of Government several hundreds of orphans. Upwards of a hundred were admitted into the Foundling Asylum. As their support was to depend upon the interest of the surplus of the Famine Fund, a Committee, composed of Christians, Hindus, and Mussulmans, was formed for the management of the school. Great were the searchings of heart and the clamour of tongues when the question of the moral and religious training came before the Committee. Many of the poor children had been snatched from the jaws of death in the fields and on the public roads. Their parentage was unknown: who was to certify to their caste? The Hindu members knew not how to meet this difficulty; on the other hand, the Mussulmans could not claim them, for they had clearly not been of Mussulman origin; but when a Christian member proposed to cut the gordian knot by training the girls as Christians, both Hindus and Mussulmans scouted the preposterous idea. Although, however, these two parties were one in opposition to Christianity, they could not agree among themselves as to the solution of the grand problem. After considerable bickering and heart-burning, the non-Christian members, in hopeless disgust, retreated from the field. An excellent Christian lady, the sister of one of our Missionaries, now took charge of the Institution; with diligence and discretion she inaugurated a system of Christian training which has been successfully carried on by others, and the result has justified the scheme. Nothing more has been done than to teach the truth to those poor orphans. In no case has a profession of Christianity been urged upon them; the Word of God has been left to do its own work. As the girls have grown up to years of discretion, they have, one by one, elected the faith of Jesus as their own, and begged admission into His fold.

The following passages from Mr. Vaughan's Report will be read with still deeper interest:—

Of the remaining twenty-one adults who have been brought into the fold of Christ, several are the fruit of hospital ministrations, one is a leper, others have heard the Word in other ways and under other circumstances. We trust, however, that all these have in simple trust laid hold of Christ, and that they are living upon Him by faith.

One case calls for more than a passing notice. Some few months ago a native of respectable position and good education came to us, not as an inquirer, but as a believer. He was a man of mature age: as a boy he had studied in the Free Church Institution. It does not appear that any deep impression was produced upon his mind, but the living seed was sown. He still for years passed as a good Hindu, and joined in idolatrous worship with his friends; but his mind was not at rest. As years advanced his thoughtfulness increased; disgusted with Hinduism, he listened to the fair promises of Brahmoism; he tried in vain to be satisfied with the husks which this system presented; he was still hungry, thirsty, and sad. Thus disappointed, he turned his thoughts to Christianity. He conversed from time to time with Christian men, who pointed him to the Cross. He was already in heart a Christian when we first saw him: his object was to obtain admission to the Church in Christ's appointed way. He was a married man with two children, and he had every reason to apprehend that, if his decision were known by his wife's relations, they would prevent her joining him. His baptism was deferred for nearly three months, in order that he might obtain a more thorough grounding in the economy of the Gospel. During this time he succeeded in bringing his wife and children. Every thing seemed promising: the woman was content to live with her husband, and even began to read Christian books. At length, about a month ago, the husband was baptized. Now came the fiery trial. The following morning the father and brothers of the wife, accompanied by others, went to the house, and, by terrible threats and awful anathemas, preyed upon the fears of the poor woman. The scene was most distressing: the Christian partner, in the meantime, clasped his eldest child to his breast, knowing full well that to keep his child would be to retain his wife. At last, by one combined furious rush, the Hindu relatives overpowered the distracted father, tore the child from his arms, and before aid could be procured they had carried off both wife and children. From that hour to this he has seen them no more. With the advice of his friends, the convert took steps for the recovery of his eldest child, a girl of about nine years; the other child, as an infant, would have to remain with the mother until its fourth year. No sooner were his Hindu relatives aware of his intention than, in order to frustrate his aim, they hurried on a marriage, and, before any thing could be done, the poor little girl had become the property of a Hindu husband. Thus blow after blow fell on the head of the Christian confessor; but he stayed himself upon his God, and left his trouble in His hands. But another and a darker tale has yet to be told. One day the convert showed us a letter which he had just received from a very old friend, the editor of a Hindu paper. Nothing could be more cordial and affectionate than the epistle: its import was to invite our friend to half-an-hour's conversation on a matter of some importance. The Hindu and Christian met, and, during a quiet walk, the former proposed that they should just call at a friend's house. The two entered; no sooner had they got into the interior of the house than a body of strong men seized the convert; he struggled and cried, but it was only to bring others to aid the foul attempt; whilst he was thus held a stupefying draught was poured down his throat. He soon became insensible, and was in that state cast out upon the public street: the passers-by were, of course, meant to draw what seemed the most obvious conclusion as to his state. But the Judge of all the Earth will do right, and, severe as have been the trials of this convert, we doubt not that he will, after possessing his soul in patience, see a silver lining to the dark cloud.

It is worthy of notice that some of the leaders in these acts of violence were members of the Brahmo Somaj.

The modes of work in this department are thus described:—

Domiciliary Visitation is, so far as we at present see, the only way of reaching the upper classes of society. Native gentlemen will not stand with the vulgar herd to listen to the message of life spoken in the streets and bazaars: they will not attend lectures, nor do they, as a rule, care about reading books. They will not visit the Missionary: what, then, is to be done? Manifestly the Missionary should visit them. This we are doing. From day to day the Word is carried to the very homes of the respectable classes. The best plan is for the Missionary to go on foot in the early morning or in the cool of the evening. As he quietly wends his way along the narrow streets and lanes of the native quarters, he will come upon little knots of respectable natives sitting in the porch or verandah of their houses; he may join himself to one of these little parties, and by a few hearty, cheerful, common-place remarks, secure a footing; in all probability a seat will be offered, and thus he will find a pleasant opportunity for edifying converse. He can gradually introduce the grand object of his visit, and he will have the satisfaction of laying the claims of the Gospel before a number of thoughtful and intelligent men, who have, perhaps, never heard the Truth plainly stated before. We are convinced that such labour is not in vain in the Lord. We do not remember having encountered a single instance of rudeness or open profanity during the past year: as a rule, respectable and educated natives listen with respect and attention to the message.

During the past year domiciliary visitation has been developed among an entirely different class of the community. The females in Hindu families are well looked after by the various zenana agencies at work in this city, but as yet next to nothing has been done for Mohammedan women. In the immediate vicinity of our Mission compound a considerable Mussulman population exists; none of them are wealthy, though some are well to do; but all, except the very lowest, affect the seclusion of their women. An attempt has been made to bring light and life to those women. A Christian woman has been visiting them regularly for some nine months past. She has been received for the most part with kindness, and listened to with quietness.

Wayside and Chapel preachings.—This work has been regularly carried on. Day by day the Gospel is preached in the highway, and bazaars of the city, and on four evenings in the week the chapel (now lighted with gas) is opened for the same holy object. It would be difficult to number the thousands who have come during the past year heard the joyful sound. Many people have asked what fruit attends these public preachings. We honestly reply, we cannot tell the results of all this preaching, that is, not all the results; but we can say without doubting, that there are results real and precious. The life-giving Word reaches myriads of ears which would otherwise have remained up to death strange to the sound. We could tell of the diffusion of Gospel influences in localities far distant from the spot where the Word was spoken to which they owed their birth; and we are not unable, also, to tell of those who have been gathered into the visible Church as humble followers of Jesus, who have traced back the salvation of their souls to the Word which they have heard at the corner of some street or in a crowded bazaar. The area of operation has been considerably extended by the visits of the native preachers to the villages around this mighty city. By the means of the three converging railways, the glad tidings have been carried from time to time to districts thirty or forty miles distant.

Cole Preachers.—The interesting labours of these simple men have gone on very hopefully throughout the year. They, too, have struck out new lines of usefulness. Formerly their efforts were confined to visiting their immediate countrymen, some thousands of whom dwell in Calcutta and the suburbs, and who are chiefly employed as Dhangars by the Conservancy Department. In addition to their care for these, the preachers have commenced visiting the hordes of up-country shoemakers who carry on their craft in the city. These men are, socially, quite on a par with the rude aborigines; moreover, they all speak Hindi, a language with which the preachers are thoroughly familiar. The shoemakers club together, and hire sheds in which they live and work: in some of those sheds as many as twenty or thirty workmen are to be found. The preachers go from shop to shop, and whilst the industrious moochees toil for the bread that perisheth, the simple messengers of peace deal out to them the Bread of Life. —Some months ago those preachers heard a rumour of a colony of Coles in the neighbourhood of Barrackpore. They set out in quest of their unknown brethren. Sure enough, they found the colony, and established a good understanding with the colonists. The history of those Cole settlers is interesting: their traditions reach back some fifty years or more. About that time an indigo-planter, who carried on a factory a few miles from Barrackpore, engaged a number of Coles at Chota Nagpore to come and work in his concern. At length the planter died, and the affairs of the factory were wound up. The Coles had by this time got little cottages and homesteads of their own: though they loved their native hills, they were unwilling to abandon the property they owned in the plains. By-and-by they took kindly to rice cultivation, and finally they settled down where they are, in a village which has now reached considerable proportions: there are between 300 and 400 persons, all of Cole extraction, living on the spot. Though surrounded by Hindus, they are distinct from them in their habits, and, as it appears, have not learnt to copy their religion. They were right glad to welcome their Christian explorers: since then the Cole preachers have repeatedly visited them, and spoken to them of the Way of Life. Of the few converts who have rewarded the efforts of the Cole catechists in this city, one is a fine specimen of simple earnestness. The history of his conversion was related in our last Report. It was therein stated that he had embraced Christ at the risk of losing his wife and children. Happily, his wife returned to her Christian partner, and has, with both her children, been admitted to the Church by baptism. It would seem that, like Joseph, he commended himself to the good graces of his employers; for, very soon after his baptism, he was made a sircar with Dhangars under his control. Henceforth he began to speak a word for Christ as he pursued his vocation. On one occasion, quite incidentally, we were passing a native gentleman's house, when the sounds of earnest exhortation fell on our ear: we turned to see the speaker. Who should it be but the Dhangar convert! He had before him a number of high-caste educated Bengalis, and he, a despised and illiterate Cole, was teaching them high and holy truths in a way which commanded both their astonishment and respect. We heard from another source that certain respectable natives had expressed themselves as utterly astounded at the intelligence and earnestness which his addresses display. They put the same question as was once put 1800 years ago, "Whence hath this man this wisdom, never having learned?" Truly, in Christ fools become wise and the wise foolish; and no wonder, for "the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men" (1 Cor. i. 25).

The work in the Hospitals and Leper Asylum continues as before. One leper has been baptized during the year, making forty during the last decade. Ten of the adults baptized in 1871 were inmates of the Alms House, or, as it is now called, the House of Industry. One of those residing in it, a blind old man, was mentioned in the last Report. He is again referred to as follows:—

Only the other day we were called to the bedside of one of John's disciples. The patient was an old grey-headed Mussul-^{Conversion of an aged Mussul-}man, who had for twelve years resisted all the exhortations of his sightless instructor. At last the truth had forced its way to his heart: clasping his hands, he, with the utmost earnestness and simplicity, avowed his entire belief in Jesus as the Son of God and the Saviour of the world, and besought us to admit him by baptism into covenant relationship with that Saviour. He said he felt he was dying, and he could not die out of Christ. He was baptized, and a few days after passed away.

Education.

In this department the most prominent place will naturally be given to the Cathedral Mission College. The Principal (Rev. S. Dyson) was assisted by the Rev. Dr. Bauman, of the Berlin University, and by the Rev. S. T. Leupolt and the Rev. E. K. Blumhardt, graduates of Cambridge. Mr. Neele, who was on the staff in the preceding year, left in March, 1871, to take charge of the Mission in Burdwan. Mr. Dyson and his colleagues have struggled with undaunted perseverance against many difficulties. Extracts are appended from his Annual Letter.

The number on the rolls in March, when Messrs. Neele and Miller left, was 144; in September, when we commenced our test examination, it was 107. The attendance always diminishes as the year advances. Making due allowance for our disadvantages, I think the attendance is satisfactory.

On March 10 we had a public meeting for the distribution of prizes. The Bishop of Calcutta kindly took the chair, and after distributing the prizes, gave an animated and instructive address to the assembled students. Among the prizes were two presented by the Bishop himself; a gold watch to the best student in the senior department, and a silver one to the best student in the junior.

For the lower intermediate examination, that known as the First Arts, we had thirty-three candidates; of these, two, being ill at the time of examination, did not present themselves. Of the 31 remaining candidates, 12 passed successfully, 4 in the 2nd grade, and 8 in the 3rd.

Twelve candidates went up for the B.A. examination: of these three were successful, two in the 2nd grade and one in the 3rd; we had also one M.A. candidate, who took up history and passed in the 3rd grade.

As regards spiritual results, Mr. Dyson's remarks deserve serious attention.

Importance of Mission colleges and the difficulties

I have little to add to what I have said in previous years as to the direct Mission results of the college teaching. We are very much hampered by the university regulations; the university curriculum is long and arduous; in a Mission college it is an incubus resting upon professor and student alike. The student scarcely dare, under fear of failing in the university examination, and thus marring his prospects for life, give due and becoming attention to the scriptural instruction which does not count in the university, and the professor is obliged, by the conditions of the Government grant, and his natural desire for the welfare and progress of the institution, to give a vast amount of labour and time to secular study and instruction, and thus evangelistic labour is carried on under extremely unfavourable conditions. We ourselves of course are as well aware of all this as other people, and would like that these heavy conditions were lightened, (of which we see little prospect,) but till some other easier and at least equally effectual way of influencing the classes we reach be pointed out, we cannot help thinking it cowardly or unfaithful to abandon the plain path of duty because it is rugged. My colleague (Dr. Bauman) and I are satisfied we are doing a good work. Amid so many drawbacks and difficulties, our scriptural teaching in the college, direct and indirect, does exercise great influence, although, to be sure, very little of the immediate result of our efforts is immediately perceptible by us or presentable to other people. Our students come to us from all parts of Bengal, and when they have finished their University course they are scattered all over the country, and it is only accidental, as it were, that they again come under our notice; and yet information does reach us from time to time that the seeds of truth sown in college classes are not immediately snatched away or lie useless and barren.

The Committee would earnestly beg for the Cathedral Mission College, the intercessory prayers of all those interested in Indian Evangelization.

There is at Calcutta an English School, intended primarily for the children of Native Christians, but which Hindu and Mussulman boys are also allowed to attend. The Calcutta Association Report thus speaks of it:—

Whatever may be thought of the policy of school-work among heathens, there cannot be two opinions as to the importance and even obligation of maintaining good schools for the children of our Native Christians. Without education our Christians must continue to grovel in the lowest scale of society; they must remain poor, and in this country to be poor means to be dependent. An ignorant and impoverished congregation may have piety, but it lacks the power of self-support, and still more, of liberality in the spread of the truth. It is a mistake to suppose that, because “to the poor the Gospel is preached,” the recipients of the Gospel should remain in that category. Our holy religion has promise both of the life that now is and of that which is to come; it enriches its faithful followers in faith, and has an innate tendency to enrich them in other ways too; it has enriched the world in science, philosophy, poetry, the arts, and commerce more than we can describe. The Missionary therefore has a mighty auxiliary on his side; let him foster and aid this essential tendency, and his people must rise; and then if, together with mental and social advancement, spiritual graces also advance, he may rest assured the day will come when the Church will cast off its swaddling bands, and develop a healthy manhood of independent action and vigorous effort.

children of Native
Christians.

During the past year we have had to struggle with special difficulties in working the school. For the first few months the numbers rapidly grew, and at length we numbered about 200 pupils. Then came the heavy rains—a deluge such as Bengal has not known for twenty years; upon this followed sickness; many of the boys were struck down with fever themselves, or called from school to attend upon their suffering relatives. At the same time a new school was opened in the neighbourhood by Babu Kesab Chunder Sen. At first the fees of that school were fixed at the same rate as ours: so long as this rule remained we contrived to hold our own, but by-and-by our Brahmist friends reduced their fees by half the amount. Now came the hour of trial. Of course, daily scriptural instruction is a sine quâ non in our school; whereas the pupils of the other school are free from this rule. This exemption, together with the inducement of half charge, sufficed to reduce our attendance roll by some sixty or seventy boys. This represented a reduced income; and though we had before, aided by a monthly grant from the Association, made both ends meet, we could now do this no longer. We are most thankful to say the Society has kindly come to the rescue, and, besides paying off the deficit which had accrued, has, by a liberal grant, enabled us to employ a qualified Christian head master, a B.A. of the Calcutta University. The former head master was also a B.A., but he was a Hindu, and a heathen head master in a Christian school seemed anomalous.

As regards the educational status of the school, we have every reason for thankfulness. Last year we sent up six boys to the entrance examination, and two of them passed in the second division. During the present year our entrance class has been so small, that we were not able to send up more than three boys to the University examination; but we are happy to find that of those three two have passed, and one of them in the first division. The youth who has thus distinguished himself and brought credit to the school is a Christian, a worthy son of a worthy father. We trust he will obtain a scholarship in the Cathedral Mission College, and so be enabled to carry on his studies to a much higher standard.

Two Hindu Girls' Schools are held in the Mission Compound. One of these is for families belonging to the upper classes, and contains about 35 girls, several of whom are Brahminies. Every day they have a Bible lesson, and "it is refreshing to see," says the Local Report, "how intelligently some of them answer questions on the history and doctrines of the Book of Books." The attendance of late has been considerably reduced in consequence of a case of conversion.

Agarpâra.

The Rev. F. J. De Rozario (a highly-esteemed East Indian brother) is still labouring at this station, though temporarily absent for health's sake at the time of writing his annual letter. The Native Christians number 173, of whom 50 are communicants. During the year there have been five adult baptisms. "The adult part of the congregation," writes Mr. De Rozario, "is comparatively small and poor. The best of them find employments readily elsewhere, as readers and teachers." As there is thus at present no prospect of their supporting a salaried Native Pastor, Agarpâra would seem to be a place where the organization of voluntary unpaid Native readers and teachers seems especially desirable. Mr. De Rozario thus writes respecting himself:—

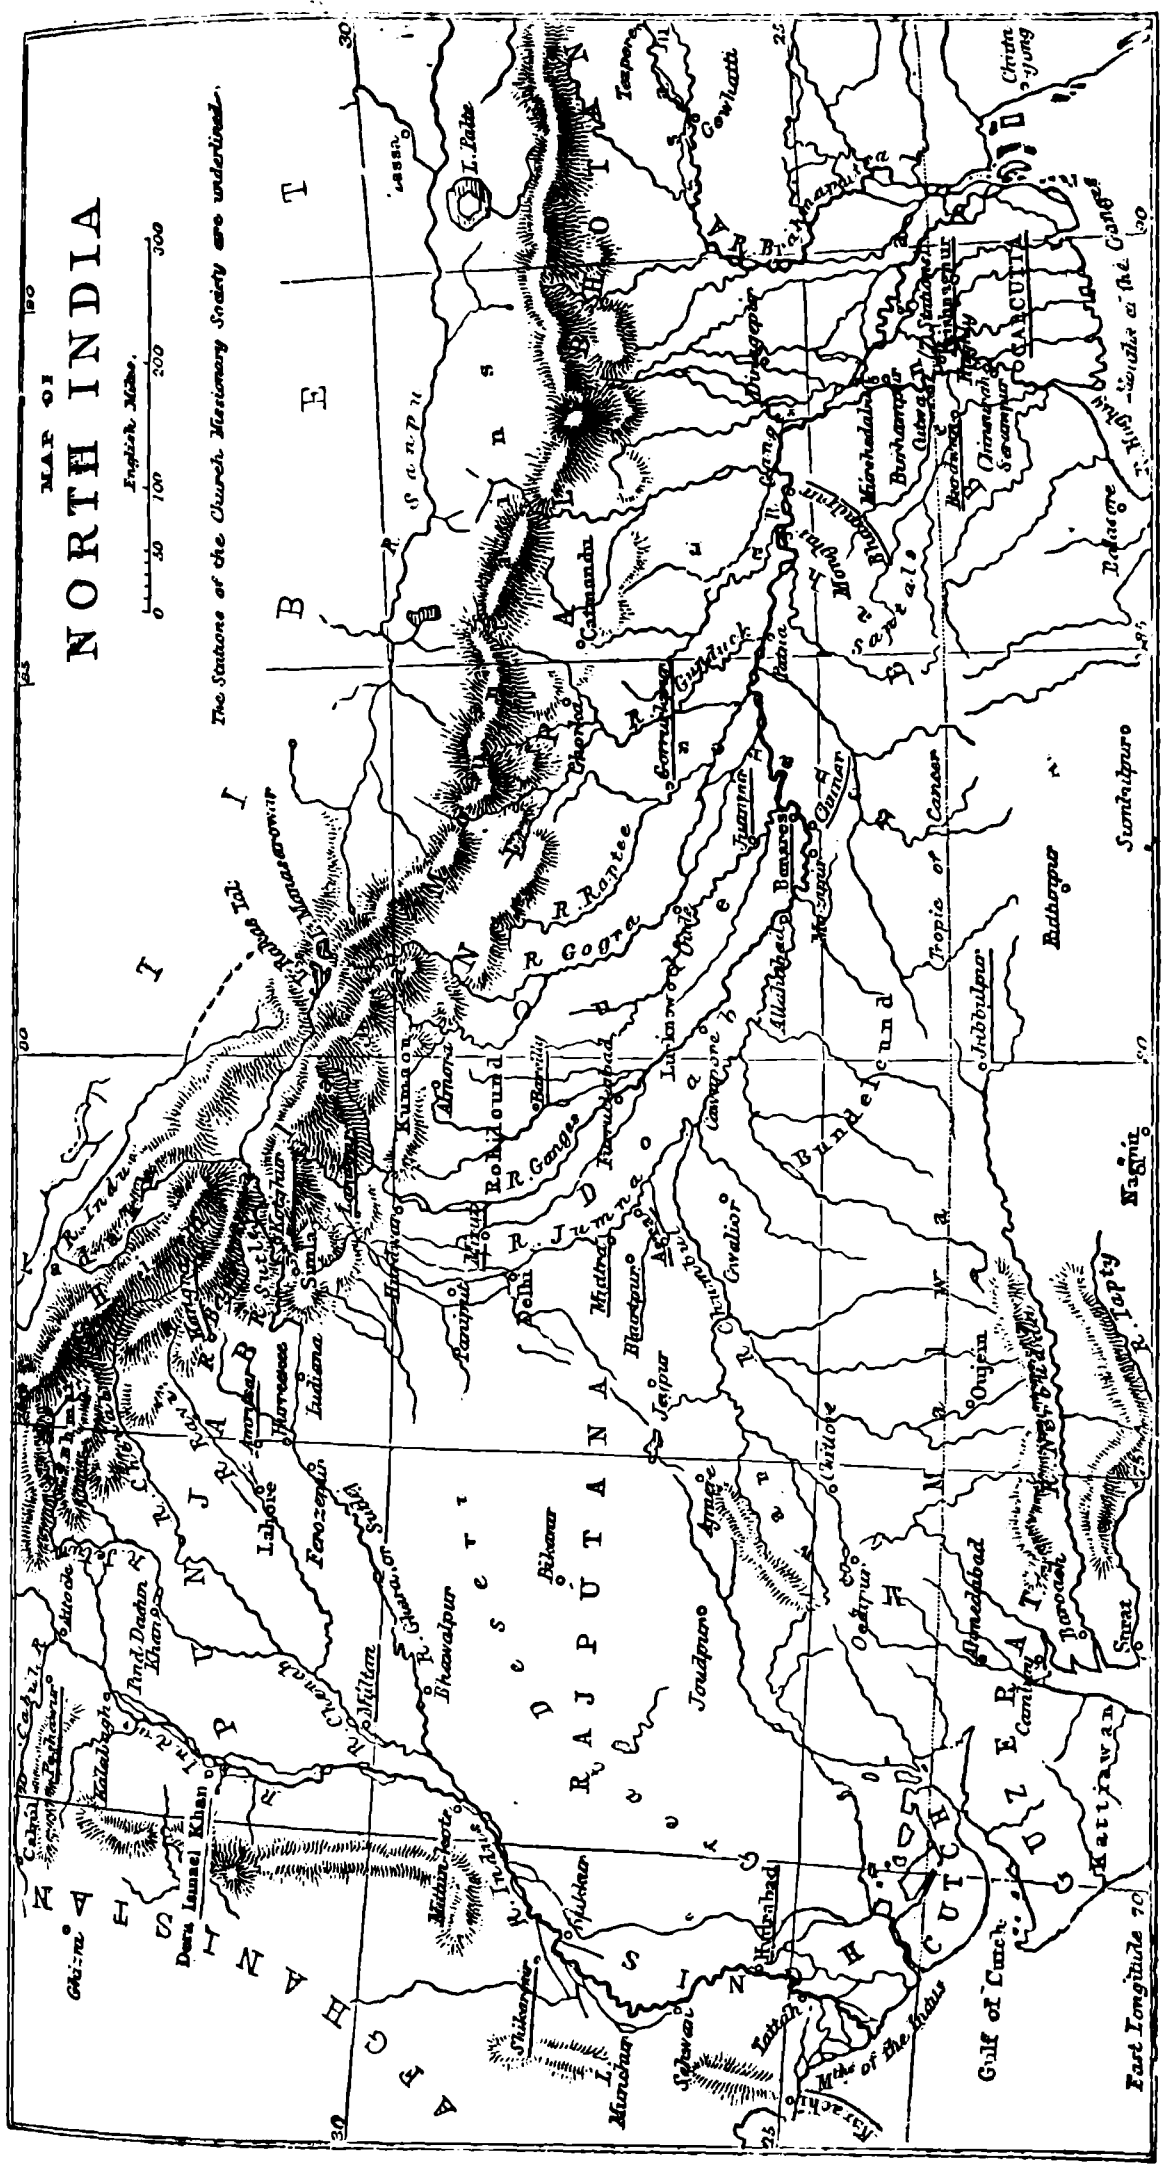

After twenty-nine years' residence at Agarpâra, without any material change, I was obliged to obtain leave for two months to come up to the upper provinces for the purpose of invigorating my material system for any further work of an evangelistic character that it may please the Lord to employ me in. I am now in my sixty-sixth year, and thirty-eighth of Missionary career. Although I am no longer capable of any very active labour such as I delighted in for years, yet my desire to obey the Lord's command has by grace increased with age and labour, so that my only sorrow now is, that I cannot do as much as I could wish; at the same time I know that the Lord's strength is perfected in our weakness.

Mr. De Rozario also superintends eleven day schools containing 693 children. He estimates that the expense of each child to the Society is two rupees annually. On this subject Mr. De Rozario adds :—

We are sadly in need of efficient Christian Bengali teachers for vernacular schools, but they are not available just now for two reasons : one is, that most of our intelligent Christian young men, like their heathen countrymen of the same class, prefer English to Bengali, the study of the former being more attractive and lucrative ; the other is, the smallness of salary which satisfies a heathen purely Bengali teacher, but does not the Christian for several good reasons. This accounts for the greater success of Government normal schools than Missionary ones.

Owing to the number of Mission Schools in North India, and the comparative fewness of Native Christians, the demand for Native Christian teachers is much greater than for heathen teachers, and the former can therefore obtain higher salaries.

KRISHNAGAR.

Three European Missionaries are engaged in this Mission district. The Rev. C. H. Blumhardt has charge of the Sudder congregation, that is to say of the congregation at Krishnagar town, amounting in number to 370 ; the Rev. F. Schurr of the 3500 Christians in the villages ; and the Rev. F. Gmelin of the Educational department.

In the Sudder congregation there are 73 Communicants, but its numbers have not been replenished during the year by any adult baptisms. Mr. Blumhardt writes :—

The conduct of the Christians at this station has, I may safely say, been most satisfactory ; and I do sometimes perceive sure signs of vitality and real growth in grace, of knowledge, and love of Christ, in some of them, which amidst occasional disappointments—to be expected even from the most advanced body of any Christian Church—make me trust that in the kingdom of heaven, when the whole company of the redeemed shall stand before the throne of God, some of our Krishnagar brethren also will join in the song with that mighty host in singing, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive honour, and glory, might, and dominion for ever and ever."

Preaching to the heathen in the bazaars has been carried on by myself, my catechist, and two readers. The two latter go every morning for two or three hours into the town and neighbourhood, visiting in turn all the chief places once in every week. My catechist generally accompanies me when I go to my bazaar chapel, which is situated in the centre of the town. We always take our stand at the entrance to the chapel on the road side, and in a few minutes a number of passers-by generally stop to hear what new thing we have to tell them. The catechist usually commences by reading a portion of Scripture, making a few explanatory remarks upon it. I cannot, of course, on such occasions prepare myself for any particular subject for discussion, as I can never know what objections or inquiries I may have to answer. A short time ago I had one evening an assembly of hearers before me in the open street, upwards of fifty persons. My catechist, as usual, tried to lead their minds to a sense of their sinfulness, the awful consequences of sin, and the free offer of salvation through Christ. One of the hearers tried continually to interrupt him: "But what will become of those that have never committed any sin?" At last I took up the subject and addressed the assembly something as follows: "I am quite surprised to hear that any of you should believe, or think, that there are men in this world who have never committed sin. This is quite against your own religion, for why do you offer up sacrifices and oblations to your deities, if you can reach heaven by meritorious works, or if you consider yourselves sinless and holy beings? But, now, let me just ask you one question. Is there any here present who can say that he has never committed sin, I mean such and such sins (and here I repeated the moral law of the Ten Commandments)? If there is any among you who can say that he has never broken any of these Commandments, let him hold up his hand." I looked around, but there was none who could do so: so I said, "Well, then, you all acknowledge that you are sinners. Well," I continued, "neither can I lift up my hand, I am a sinner like you. But I know One who came into this world, and lived in this world, but never committed sin, even the Lord Jesus; and He was not only sinless, but came into this world to take away sin, and to save all that come to Him. I have come here for the very purpose of making Him known to you, that you might not die in your sins, but live." I had then at once an opportunity of preaching the Gospel of a crucified Saviour in its length and breadth, and all listened attentively, some occasionally nodding their heads to each other in signs of approbation, others murmuring; and, again, others walking off grumbling to themselves as they walked along.

The schools under Mr. Blumhardt's superintendence consist of a boarding-school for Christian girls (numbering fourteen pupils), and a mixed day-school for Christian boys and girls (numbering thirty-seven children). Three Christian widows are also under training as teachers, who accompany Mr. Blumhardt's two daughters in Zenana visiting.

Of the Christians in the outlying villages Mr. Schurr reports:—

The state of the Christians in general cannot be pronounced satisfactory, but a spiritual improvement in individuals is on the increase. In some congregations some earnest Christians assemble in their houses for edification. This is in my opinion the most hopeful sign.

The Ordination of the Rev. Molam Biswas was mentioned in the last Report. Another Native brother has since been raised to the same position. Of his selection by the Native Church an interesting account is given in the minutes of the third half-yearly Meeting of the Krishnagar Church Council. After detailing the satisfactory condition of the Church Fund, largely due to local European liberality, the Minutes proceed as follows:—

The following four questions were laid before the brethren:—
 First, which congregation in the District is anxious to have an ordained Pastor? Secondly, which of the five congregations is most deserving to receive a Pastor first? Thirdly, will the congregation thus chosen willingly promise to pay monthly the sum of Rs. 5 towards the salary of their Pastor? Fourthly, what man would the brethren in council consider best qualified for the sacred ministry, and to be recommended to the Church Missionary Society for ordination? Native Church Council at Krishnagar.

The first question was answered in the affirmative by the representatives of the Ratanpur, Solo, and Jogindo congregations. The representatives of the Chapra congregation could not give a decisive answer, but would give one six months hence. The representatives of the Bollobpur congregation advocated an amalgamation of four congregations to be under one Pastor, whom they would support entirely in coin and kind.

The second question was answered almost unanimously in favour of the Ratanpur congregation.

The third question was answered by the representatives of the Ratanpur congregation, who expressed a willingness to pay Rs. 5 per month towards the salary of this Pastor. The fourth question was unanimously answered in favour of Shartok, the present Catechist of Ratanpur. The offer for this sacred appointment was also accepted by Shartok himself, whom we now therefore recommend for holy orders. A kindly spirit of love and unity was observed throughout the whole time the meeting lasted.

Mr. Schurr has also laboured among the heathen in the town of Krishnagar, preaching in the streets and visiting private houses. He speaks of some as being hopeful inquirers.

BURDWAN.

In last year's Report it was stated that on the lamented decease of Mr. Greaves, his place at Burdwan was supplied by the Rev. A. P. Neele. In the all-wise but mysterious providence of God, Mr. Neele, after some months' work and a short sea trip, has been medically prohibited to remain in this important but insalubrious station.

Though no convert is reported as having relapsed into heathenism, the Native Christians have from various causes diminished in number. They now number 227, of whom 70 are Communicants. One cause of diminution is the epidemic that has now raged in this province for two or more years. Mr. Neele reports favourably of the conduct of the Christians. There has been no adult baptism, and there is at present only one inquirer. The epidemic appears to depress the people without turning their attention to religion. The same cause has unfavourably affected the Anglo-Vernacular School, and the other educational efforts of the Mission. Nothing special is reported from the out-stations of Bancûrah and Mancûr. Another out-station is to be opened at Râniganj.

BHAGALPUR.

The Rev. E. Dröese has spent another year of patient toil at this Station without much visible fruit. On this subject he writes:—

May the Lord hasten the time when Missionaries will be able to say not only that preaching has been carried on, but also, that through the preachings of the word, such and such numbers have been added to the number of God's people! The Missionary knows that such a time will come. He therefore goes on in his work far more rejoicing in being privileged to be in the Lord's hand an instrument to prepare the way for the coming of the Lord in power, to the hearts of the people, than sorrowing at not being permitted to see just now the fruit of his labour.

Two adult baptisms have taken place during the year. There are no important variations in the statistics of the Mission generally, as compared with previous returns. Independently of the 120 orphan children, the Native Christians are registered at 201; of whom 156 are at Bhagalpur, 32 at Jamalpur and Monghyr, and 12 at Lachmipur. The earliest converts belonged to the Paháris, a hill tribe living in the neighbouring highlands. It does not appear from Mr. Drøese's report in what proportions the Native Christians whose numbers are given above are Paháris, or adult orphans, or accessions from other quarters.

Of the congregation at Bhagalpur itself, Mr. Drøese states that its members generally are consistent in their outward behaviour, and that a few give more evident proof of being God's own children. But he laments deeply that "almost all of them" are so "careless and regardless about the spread of Christ's kingdom among their countrymen." At Jamalpur the state of the Christians is not encouraging. But a faithful catechist being lately appointed, who will be under the guidance of the zealous Chaplain of the place (the Rev. James Love), hopes of improvement are entertained. At Lachmipur the voluntary Catechist mentioned in the last Report has now taken employment under the American Mission elsewhere. Another unpaid agent has supplied his place.

Preaching to Mohammedans and heathen has been carried on regularly by the Missionary, the Catechist, and the Reader.

In the schools, exclusive of the Orphanage, 180 heathen and 40 Native Christian children are under regular Christian instruction. The following extract from Mr. Drøese's Report is interesting and suggestive:—

Of the three Bazaar schools, one has gone on remarkably well for the latter half of the year. The Native Christian Teacher who was in charge of the school till April, had to be dismissed for neglecting his work, and for misbehaviour. On his place being filled up by a young man educated at the Benares Training Institution, the school soon assumed quite another aspect, both as regards the number attending, as well as the boys' acquirements and behaviour. By the end of the year the boys showed they had been in the hands of a master whom they could respect and love, and the number of boys had risen from about twenty to above seventy. This considerable increase, it must be noted, has been brought about without the aid of a Hindu guru. The teacher in charge has only a Native Christian lad to help him in the work.

Utility of Training Institutions.

The Anglo-Vernacular School has suffered from the death of Mr. Leach, its pious and devoted head-master. It has an average attendance of sixty boys.

SANTÂL MISSION.

The Rev. J. D. F. Hœrnle, the Rev. J. Brown, the Rev. A. Stark, and a new Missionary, the Rev. H. Davis, are the present staff of this Mission. The statistics as given in Mr. Hœrnle's Annual Letter (Jan. 1872) are 855 Native Christians, 262 Communicants, and 17 adult baptisms. The conduct of the Native Christians has been "satisfactory on the whole." Mr. Hœrnle and Mr. Stark are stationed at Taljhari; Mr. Brown was for most of the year at Nya Dumka, but is now at Hirampur. In the Taljhari district Mr. Hœrnle takes the pastoral work, Mr. Stark the educational, Mr. Hœrnle also has charge of a class of young men in training for the pastorate. He hopes they will be ready for presentation to the Bishop by the end of 1872. May grace and wisdom be given to them; as also to all concerned in putting them forward, -that none may either be thrust prematurely into offices to which God has not called them, or be kept back unduly!

Importance and difficulty of cherishing spontaneous activity in an infant
Church.

The present position of the Santâl Native Christian Church is critical. The problem is how to introduce regularity of instruction and worship, and at the same time to keep up that free and spontaneous evangelistic zeal which is (or until lately has been) so cheerfully conspicuous among individual, unofficial, unpaid, Santâl Christians. The former of these two objects is, comparatively speaking, easy of attainment. Not so the latter. Let young men, well conducted and carefully trained, be placed out as pastors in different centres, paid from a fund entirely under the control of the European Missionary, subordinated altogether to him and regarded as his agents, and a certain kind of regularity will most probably be the result. But would not the Santâl Christians gather from this that henceforth all is to be done for them, and that they are to be relieved from all responsibility as regards supporting their own Church and spreading the Gospel among their countrymen? Or at any rate that nothing more can be required from them than punctual pecuniary payments to their ecclesiastical superiors? Would they not thus sink into the same state of apathetic dependence which is deplored in some other Native Churches? The Committee do not suppose that the Santâl Missionaries are blind to this danger, but they are led to make these remarks by the observation of what has taken place in other Missions. The Committee would affectionately urge therefore on the attention of the Missionaries the necessity of fostering and keeping alive the spirit of independent action and of individual zeal. This is the object aimed at in the suggestions contained in the Society's Minutes on the Organization of Native Churches; suggestions approved (and partly originated) by several experienced Missionaries.

As regards the character of the Christian community, the Committee are glad to quote the following independent testimony of a well-educated "Free Church" Native Minister, the Rev. J. Bhattacharjya.

The words of the prophet, "The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose; it shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice with joy and singing," may be said to have been literally fulfilled in regard to Taljhari, which but a few years ago was a barren desert, but which is now turned into what may be termed, "The Garden of the Lord." Its large mission compound contains a good many bungalows, great and small, for the accommodation of all its inmates. These buildings serve as dwelling-houses for the missionaries and their assistants, for church meetings, for schools for males as well as females, and for a dispensary. A beautiful church is now in the course of erection, which will give an additional charm to the place. But the most beautiful sight, which refreshes the heart of the Christian, is the body of the Santâl converts, who, a short time ago, were no better than the wild beasts of the forest, but who have, under the benign influence of Christianity, become distinguished for gentleness, meekness, humility, sobriety, and other Christian virtues. There is such a marvellous change in them, that even a most superficial observer cannot help noticing and admiring it.

The new church is not quite ready; the want of funds has prevented it, but I sincerely hope in a short time we shall be able to have services in it. If some friends at home would help us, I should be very thankful, for the schoolroom is a very inconvenient place for Divine Service, as it is too small.

The visible obstacles to progress in this Mission are, (1) The drunken habits of the Santâls, and (2) The dislike of innovation, especially among the elder females. On the other hand, the desire for education, which is very strong among the younger men, is a great help to the Missionary. But the fruit which the Society looks for can only be produced by the Spirit of God.

II. North-west Provinces.

The North-west Provinces comprise ten principal Stations, viz. Benares, 1817; Agra (commenced 1813); Meerut (1815); Gorakpur (1823); Jabalpur (1854); Lucknow (1858); Allahabad (1859); Azimghar and Juanpur (1831); Fyzabad (1862).

BENARES.

The European labourers at this Station on the Society's list during the year were the two senior brethren, now well advanced in years, the Rev. W. Smith and the Rev. C. B. Leupolt, the Rev. H. W. Shackell, the Rev. R. A. F. Hoernle, and Mr. John Treusch ; to whom may be added Mrs. Low, who takes charge of the Normal School for Girls. There are also two Native Pastors, the Rev. D. Solomon and the Rev. S. Nand.

Both Mr. Smith and Mr. Leupolt strongly urge that this Mission should be strengthened, especially as regards the evangelistic part of the work. The ordination of Samuel Nand as Pastor of the little congregation assembling at St.

Thomas's Church, in the city itself, which took place in March, 1871, was mentioned in last Report. Since that event, so pleasing in itself, and especially cheering to Mr. Smith, with whom this esteemed Native brother had been previously associated, nothing special is reported of the Native Christian congregation, except that the Church Council has been remodelled, and the pastor's salary increased. Of the preaching department, Mr. Leupolt reports, in his usual graphic style:—

Preaching Department.—I am thankful to say I have, through God's mercy, been able to go regularly during the year to the city. Myself and teachers, Padri Solomon also joining, meet every Tuesday and Friday at three o'clock for prayer. During this meeting we mention the subject we intend to bring before the people in the city; in turn read a chapter and a hymn or two, and two of us engage in prayer. We then go usually together, but occasionally divide into two parties. The congregations have not been large, from fifteen to fifty or sixty; at one place we have sometimes a larger number. The people are attentive, but now and then a caviller makes his appearance. Among the cavillers there was a Mohammedan, who, under pretence of requiring information, disturbed us a good deal. The information which he required was an explanation of the Trinity. When he first came I argued the point with him, but, though he had nothing to reply, on his return he always asked the same question again. At last I declined arguing the point with him any longer, and as he appealed to the people I settled our dispute by a parable. Of late he has been a silent hearer. The parable is substantially as follows: A fatal disease is devastating a kingdom; every remedy applied by the people proves ineffectual. The king, therefore, devises a specific, and commissions several physicians to administer it to the dying people. But a learned man, unconcerned about the people, urges upon one of the physicians to give him information about the king and his mysterious existence. The physician complies with the request, and spends his time in explaining inexplicable mysteries; meanwhile his patients die. The king, hearing of this, sends for the physician and addresses him thus: "Sir, what is your commission?" Answer: "To administer the specific to the sick." "Did you do it?" "Please, your Majesty, no; for a learned Moulvi required information about your Majesty's existence and life, and in giving that I had no time to administer the medicine." "What then became of the people?" Answer: "They died." Hearing this the king looked upon the man with indignation and said, "What? You saw the people dying around you, you had the remedy, and knew that there was no other by which the people could be cured, and yet you spent your time in conversing about mysteries far beyond your comprehension? The people, indeed, died in their sins, but you are guilty of their death, and their blood rests upon your head; away, therefore, with you!" Now say, my friends, did this fellow not deserve death?" "He did," was the exclamation of some. But I continued, "What is the meaning of this parable?" "You need not explain this," said a young man, "its meaning is plain. Instead of disputing about the Trinity you wish to preach the Gospel, for we are the dying, and the Gospel is the remedy." "You are right," I said, and opening my New Testament and pointing to it, I said to my opponent, "here is my commission, it is to preach the Gospel. The people are dying, and I must administer the specific." He tried once or twice more to interrupt us, but the people said, "Silence, they have to administer the medicine."

Amidst many difficulties Gospel truth is making progress among the people. The other day, when Rahim Bakhsh was speaking of the death of Jesus, he was interrupted by the question, "Why did Jesus die?" Several of the hearers answered, "Why do you ask this question? You know the answer, He died for the sins of the people." Padri Solomon added, "Friend, the time is passed for asking this question." The people agreed with this, and we were allowed to speak on.

Mr. Smith has been similarly engaged, and has also extended his efforts to the neighbouring districts. As regards the results of these labours, he gives the following interesting particulars:—

Conversion
through teaching in a Mission English
School.

We have had in the Church of St. Thomas's during the year nine baptisms, viz., three adults and six children. The adults were Tara (now Josiah) Datt, and his wife, and the wife of Bishêshwar Babu, formerly a pupil in Jay Narayan's College, and now a writer in a Government office. Josiah Datt is a Brahmin of a good family, and shows every mark of being a truly converted man. He was for some six months in constant intercourse with Samuel Nand, at St. Thomas' Church, before I returned from the hills. Two months after that I baptized him. He traces the commencement of God's work in his heart to impressions received in the Almorah school of the London Missionary Society, under the Rev. J. H. Badden. He is employed as a teacher in Jay Narayan's; and, besides that, goes with us to preach in the city. He manifests zeal, and love, and capability. His wife, too, is a pleasing young woman, and of good understanding.

Mr. Smith writes again:—

I think the work is encouraging. Quite lately, as we were preaching, two respectable Hindus not only stood forward denouncing idolatry, but boldly took their stand with us, advocating to a great extent our sentiments. Not long ago a number of Panjabi devotees, after a long, temperate discussion, during which it came out that they had read more or less of the New Testament, said, as they were going away, that if convinced by sufficient arguments that Christianity, and Christianity alone, is the truth, they were ready to embrace it.

Respecting the Training Institution, Mr. Leupolt writes as follows :—

The Normal Boys' School has of late not answered my expectations. Two reasons, among others, may be assigned for it.

1. The original plan of making it a joint training school for readers, catechists, and schoolmasters, as it is now done in Palamcotta, was never carried into effect. If the two branches, that of training schoolmasters, and that of training readers and catechists, be united, which is not difficult, as they have many lessons in common, the institution may yet prosper.

2. Another reason is, the demand for Vernacular teachers is limited, and their pay usually small. A boy with a smattering of English receives higher pay, or at the least equal pay, with the best educated Vernacular teacher; hence smart lads are not desirous of entering a Vernacular Training School. At present the superior lads who received a Vernacular education in our training school are all English teachers. Such is the case at Bhagalpur, Gorakpur, Lucknow, &c. The demand is for English teachers.

The Normal Girls' School continues to prosper. Mr. Leupolt writes :—

Of this institution the Government Lady Inspector, Mrs. Graves, reported in December, 1870, as follows :—“This institution still continues to do its excellent work. From the commencement to this day, the number of girls that have entered the Institution is 105. Of these, thirty-three have been sent out as teachers, and are engaged at different stations; thirty-one have left, some of whom died, others married, and forty are now in the school. I need say nothing more than that the school maintains its former efficiency.” Since then the school has increased to forty-nine, and the institution has been carried on efficiently during the year. Of these forty-nine girls, some will go out as teachers, four are going to be married (three of them to schoolmasters) and no doubt others will take their places. Besides the daily lessons, we have continued our lessons on Biblical Theology, and the girls take a great interest in them. Every doctrine of Christianity is stated, explained, and proved by texts from the word of God. These lessons, whilst they are grounding the young in the truth, teach them to search the scriptures, and see whether these things are so. The girls are cheerful and happy, and their conduct has been satisfactory. In the needlework department the girls do well, and I may say almost excel; and their curries are not to be despised, two girls in turn constantly attending the kitchen and housework.

When writing his last Annual Letter, Mr. Leupolt was looking forward to the relinquishment of his work, at least for a time, after forty years of Missionary life. He therefore thought it a fitting season to compile statistics showing, as far as possible, the results of the Society's work at Benares since the commencement of the Mission. The total number of persons that have been added to the visible Church, including the departed as well as those still on earth, is reckoned at 1451. Of these, 655 were baptized children of Christians, 664 were orphans, and 131 were converts from preaching and schools. Of the orphans, seventy-seven afterwards became Mission agents; of the converts from preaching and schools, fifteen.

The Committee have not thought it right to spend the Society's money on Orphanages. But when Christian philanthropy has brought orphan children together, no attempt has been made to prevent the Missionaries from striving to lead those little ones to the Shepherd of the flock. It will be seen from the above tables that such efforts have been graciously blessed by the Lord of the Harvest. Two of the Native Ministers in the North-west Provinces were once children in the Benares Orphanages.

The Bazaar Schools, ten in number, give a Scriptural education (in the vernacular) to 229 children. The Rev. Rudolf Hoernle superintends them. The expenses of these schools are almost entirely met by grants from Government and from the Christian Vernacular Education Society of Allahabad.

Out-Stations.

At Gharwah (where there are thirteen Native Christians), the agents employed in making known the Gospel to the heathen are a Catechist, a Reader, and a Superintendent of Bazaar Schools. The Catechist, who has been recently appointed, and is highly spoken of, will also attend to the spiritual interests of the Native Christians, stirring them up to do something for their heathen countrymen.

At Chunar there are 44 Christians connected with the Society, consisting of East Indian pensioners and their families. The Society has also a Mission School here, which, however, is not attended by any of the Christian children. The scholars number 191, of whom forty-two are Mohammedans, and the rest Hindus. The head-master and one other of the twelve teachers are Native Christians.

AZIMGURH AND JUANPUR.

The Rev. W. G. Mallett has still the supervision of these combined stations. Hitherto the former has been the residence of the European Missionary; but it has now been decided that the head-quarters should be at Juanpur. At Azimgurh there are forty-five Native Christians and twelve communicants; at Juanpur, thirteen Native Christians and six communicants. One adult baptism has taken place during the year.

The most prominent feature in the year's history has been one not strictly of a missionary character—the devastation produced by floods. The greater portion of Azimgurh was saved through the strenuous exertions of the British authorities, who protected the town by enormous embankments. At Juanpur, on the other hand, and in its neighbourhood, the destruction of property was terrible. The Mission School building was entirely swept away. The scholars were re-assembled after a time, but in diminished numbers.

Preaching in the streets is carried out in both cities almost daily; and in the cold season the Missionary, accompanied by Native helpers (some of them volunteers) carried the “glad tidings” into the adjoining country as far as Lucknow, Fyzabad, and Sultanpur.

GORAKPUR.

The work at this station has been carried on, as in the former year, by the Rev. H. Stern, assisted by Mr. W. Bauman. The latter has not only superintended the temporal concerns of the Christian settlement at Bashâratpur, to the great relief of the Missionary, but has also been enabled by the successful acquisition of the language to take part in the work of evangelization.

The following narrative of the conversion and baptism of one of the teachers in the English school presents several features of special interest and significance:—

I have now the pleasure to tell you of the addition of another worthy convert to the church. Before the close of the year, on Thursday last, I had the privilege to baptize my second master, Babu Gopal Chander Ghôs, who has been for the last five years mathematical teacher of the school. On the occasion of his baptism the church was crowded to overflowing: besides the native Christians, some 300 or 400 Hindus and Mohammedans were present. The Babu is a well-known man here, and has many friends, and possesses much influence. His conversion, therefore, caused no small stir. Both he and I addressed the whole assembly. The good feeling evinced on the occasion on the part of even high native officials and other private parties is a sure sign of the favour with which the spread of Christianity is contemplated. This event might have been expected to withdraw some of the pupils from the schools; but none remained away, and yesterday we had as large an assembly at the examination as ever. About 500 boys were present, and many respectable natives attended.

Help rendered to a Missionary by an English planter.

Mr. Stern's Annual Report describes another most interesting and remarkable scene, when, through the kindness of an English planter, himself an earnest Christian, he had an opportunity of addressing a large audience of native gentlemen. They came from various places in the neighbourhood, some travelling several miles for the purpose on the invitation of Mr. Stern's host, to hear an address from the Missionary. Great was Mr. Stern's surprise and delight when he found a large and intelligent congregation assembled under the ample shade of a wide-spreading tree to receive from his lips a message from God. He was listened to with profound attention, and, so far as he could judge, a favourable impression was made. It was a striking instance of the influence for good which a European settler living amongst the people may exert by the force of a consistent Christian example.

Mr. Stern pleads earnestly for assistance, especially in the school department. The education of the district is practically in his hands, and he is most desirous of handing it over to a fully-qualified schoolmaster, who would make this his special department.

ALLAHABAD.

The Native Christians of this place are nearly all of them the product of the Agra Missionary Orphanage. Their number varies from year to year, owing to their migratory habits. At the close of 1869 they were reckoned at 430; in 1870, 401; in 1871, 459. The communicants numbered respectively, 138, 140, and 160. They appear to exercise little or no evangelistic influence on their heathen neighbours. Only one adult baptism took place during the year. Yet their Pastor, the Rev. David Mohun, himself once a Benares “orphan,” is able to speak of some in whom there is an evident work of grace.

In matters of a more external kind there is cause for thankfulness.

It is a pleasure to acquaint you that at last we have been permitted to commence operations on the new site which has been allotted to us for our church, school, village, parsonage, &c. The foundations of the school and of the new village have been already laid, and we trust will be finished within two or three months. The church and the parsonage have not been commenced yet; but we hope, if it please God, to begin soon. What a comfort will it be to see our Christians settled on the new site, and to have a place of worship of our own, after having suffered so many inconveniences for the last thirteen years!

It has been, however, a sorrow to Mr. Mohun that time has been taken up in superintending these buildings which would otherwise have been given to evangelistic labours among the heathen.

The Allahabad Anglo-Vernacular School has been ably superintended by Mr. A. H. Wright. It contains 180 scholars, and has been favourably reported of by the Director of Public Instruction.

Respecting the religious instruction, Mr. Wright states :—

Throughout the year a Scripture lesson has been given to every pupil each day in the vernacular, which, as a rule, they have understood and appreciated much more than if the same religious instruction had been given in English. As a rule, our Mission pupils enter with great zest into Scripture lessons, and answer very satisfactorily so long as the subject is one of morals; but they hang down their heads immediately, and refuse to answer, if any doctrine of their own religion is assailed, or any of the distinctive doctrines of Christianity is pressed upon them for acceptance. This year we have been reading St. Luke's Gospel and the prophecies of Christ.

Effect of Scripture lessons in a Mission
School.

Only the other day one of the richest men in Allahabad came to me, asking that his son might be admitted. He was a thoroughly orthodox Hindu of the old school, and was evidently very anxious that the boy should get a good idiomatic knowledge of English; but equally anxious that his religious opinions should not be disturbed. His first question was, “Do you make the boys pray, and will my boy be forced to pray?” His next, “Will he read the Bible and become a Christian?” After explaining to him that the school was established for the very purpose of disseminating Christian truth and to instruct Hindu and Mohammedans in what we considered the truth, I told him that we did not force Christianity down the throats of our pupils, but placed our views plainly and honestly before the boys, and then left them to exercise their own intellects in the matter. He soon after left, promising to send his son; but probably he will never come. One of my teachers was in the room at the time, a Brahmo. He attacked the orthodox Hindu, and told him that the Mission school would be false to its profession if it did not endeavour to make known Christian truth, and that it was the duty of every liberal-minded man to be conversant with other views besides his own, and not to shut himself up in his own narrow creed.

JABALPUR.

The Rev. J. Stuart was the solitary Missionary at this central and important post during the past year. Consequently a multiplicity of work devolved upon him; but it is satisfactory to learn from the concurrent testimony of the late Archdeacon Pratt and of the Secretary of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, both of whom visited the station during the year, that the work in its various branches has developed satisfactorily. The Native Christians number about thirty adults and sixty children. Under a well-qualified East Indian schoolmaster the important English School bids fair to regain the high position which it formerly held when the senior Missionary was able to devote much of his time to its superintendence. The various branch schools in which the vernacular is the medium of instruction have been brought more thoroughly under Christian influence, and girls' schools have been successfully worked.

The famine orphans, who in the previous year were a source of so much anxious solicitude, have made much improvement in health and in training. Only a select number have been retained to be specially trained for Christian work in the villages. The others, both boys and girls, have been drafted off to the Central Orphanage at Secundra. For the accommodation of those who are retained, two well-planned and substantial buildings have been erected by funds raised through Mr. Stuart's exertions. In one of these a neat chapel is used for the Sunday Services of the Native Christians mentioned above.

The Mission to the neighbouring Gonds—a tribe of hill people, the simplicity of whose social habits and truthful character have frequently attracted notice as marking them out as a promising field for Missionary enterprise—has not yet, owing to the weak staff of the Mission, been taken up with any systematic and sustained effort. The return of Mr. Champion will, it is hoped, lead before long to a beginning being fairly made. Previous to his recent visit to England he made several exploratory journeys into the jungle-tracts inhabited by the Gonds, and found much to excite his interest and his hopes.

LUCKNOW.

The Rev. J. Fuchs and Mr. Weber have carried on their various branches of the work in this great Mohammedan city. Happily a strong Mission of another Protestant Society occupies part of the extensive field. There is more than room for all. The weak state of the Mission had long called for a reinforcement, and accordingly the Rev. J. P. Ellwood was appointed to this station and joined the work in May. He was able at once to take part in religious services held for the benefit of the poorer class of Eurasians, and which are attended also by English-speaking natives, as well as to afford Mr. Weber some assistance in the school.

Mr. Fuchs writes hopefully of the spiritual growth of the Native Church, and mentions some pleasing instances of living Christianity amongst the despised class of regimental bandsmen, both at Lucknow itself and in some of the out-stations. Meetings for prayer and mutual edification have been kept up, often under circumstances which would discourage any not thoroughly in earnest.

The interesting work of instruction in the Zenanas has made good progress in Lucknow, and has now reached to the Mohammedans. While Mrs. Fuchs's health permitted, she actively engaged in this work as well as in the superintendence of schools for Mohammedan girls. But the work amongst the women in their own homes has been mainly carried on by the ladies of the Normal School and Indian Female Instruction Society, who here, as in some other stations in North India, work in co-operation with this Society, and form a most important auxiliary in the great enterprise of carrying the Gospel to the people of the land of every rank and degree.

The Committee would refer with deep sympathy to the heavy domestic afflictions of their Missionary, Mr. Fuchs, first in the alarming illness of Mrs. Fuchs, compelling her return to Europe, and then in the death from typhoid fever of a son who had lately returned to his parents in India, followed by the lingering illness, also terminating fatally, of a beloved daughter. In the midst of these severe trials he was enabled by God's grace to persevere in his work.

Amongst his other occupations he found time to write and publish a reply to a work of mischievous tendency, mentioned in last Report, a defence of Mohammedanism by a Mr. Davenport. This book, written in English, has been translated by some educated Mohammedan, and diligently circulated with much triumph as a testimony to the Koran by an Englishman. Mr. Fuchs has written in Urdu a temperate and sensible reply to its flimsy arguments, or rather gross mis-statements.

FYZABAD.

This station has continued to be visited by Mr. Fuchs, and is still without a resident Missionary. The Native Catechist labours faithfully, and a little company of Christian drummers meet with him for divine service on Sundays. The Missionary has never failed on his visits to get a good audience in the bazaar, and the neighbouring town of Ayjodia, of classic fame in Hindu mythology, continues to present a most interesting and inviting field for evangelistic labours amongst the many Hindu devotees and pilgrims who flock to it from various parts. A remarkable revival of Hinduism at this place (which is to be witnessed in the building of many new temples and fresh adornment of ancient shrines) is mainly attributable, no doubt—not to any increase of religious faith or feeling, but—to the growing wealth of the country, and to the security afforded by British law in what was pre-eminently, under Native rule, a lawless province.

AGRA.

The Annual Letter from this central and important Station is, as on former occasions, the joint contribution of the Rev. C. E. Vines, Mr. R. J. Bell, (Missionary Schoolmaster), and the Rev. Joseph Jacob (Native Pastor).

The pastoral work has, as will be supposed, devolved principally on the last named of these three brethren. It is thus touched upon in the Report:—

The Church Services and the weekly prayer meetings have been conducted as usual. In the total number of the congregation there has been a decrease [from 410 to 320]. This is chiefly owing to the Christian drummers [or bandsmen] of our regiment having become unwilling to attend the services of the catechist resident in cantonments. Some of them, who know a little English, prefer to attend the service in the English Church, and the others go nowhere. It has therefore been thought advisable to remove their names altogether from our returns. The number of the communucants has increased since the institution of a monthly administration of the Holy Communion. There has also been an increase in the average number of partakers.

The Church Council seems now a firmly-established institution. A vigorous Native Church Council. The discussions at its meetings have been interesting, and we may hope profitable. One of its late meetings was attended by the Bishop of Calcutta, as a visitor. He approved of the decision arrived at by the Church Council on two important questions, which show the difficulties of the Church from having a weight of almost lifeless Christianity hanging on its skirts. Many Armenian and some Roman Catholic Christians have attached themselves to our community, and have spread to some extent false notions concerning the efficacy of the reception of the Holy Communion on a death-bed. Consequently there have been cases in which we have been called to administer it to a dying person, who may have been indifferent in attendance on the means of grace, and is too ill to receive instruction. The Church Council decided in the reference of Mr. Jacob that they would support him if, in the exercise of his discretion, he thought fit to refuse in any such case to administer the Holy Communion. Another matter referred by Mr. Vines concerned the baptism of children, one of whose parents only has confessed Christianity, and remains united to his unbelieving partner. The Christian parent does not always wish to insist on the baptism of his children, and practically it has been found that after baptism such children have in some cases been removed entirely from Christian instruction. It was decided that a Christian parent should be exhorted to have his children baptized, but should give a written expression of his wish that his children should be brought up as Christians, besides the ordinary precaution of having god-parents.

The Roman Catholics are strong here, and influence largely the East Indian community. They do not work amongst the Natives. The Armenians gathered a large Christian community in former years, by bringing up Native children in their families. They are now divided between the Roman Catholics and Protestants; but lately a priest has come from Persia to look after them.

On another department of labour the Missionary writes as follows:—

Evangelistic Work in the form of preaching in the bazaars and suburbs of the city has been carried on throughout the year, with occasional interruptions. The rule laid down was, that the suburbs should be visited in turn by a catechist every morning, and that there should be preaching in the bazaars of the city on three evenings in the week. To gather a congregation we sometimes adopted the novelty of commencing with a hymn, in which we were joined by Christian boys whom we took with us. Another (though generally profitless) mode of gaining a congregation, is controversy. A great number gather when they see an argument going on, but they do not always stop to hear the exposition of the Gospel, with which we may endeavour to conclude. In one way or another, we have generally succeeded in collecting hearers. The Word of Christ has been preached, and the love of God set forth before men of all classes of society. Among opponents the Mohammedans are most conspicuous. Sometimes a discussion arises between two different members of our audience, and occasions a good deal of excitement, but as this is generally from the views of one of the disputants being too much in accordance with our own to please the rest, it is not an unpleasant kind of interruption, and affords us a better opportunity of proclaiming our message.—Several journeys have been undertaken for preaching the Gospel in smaller towns and villages.—A new field for preaching has been opened up at Tûndla, the junction of the E. I. R., where the line branches to Agra, and twenty miles distant from this city. Many Bengalis are collected there, who are connected with the railway. They are educated, and generally separated from their families, which renders them more accessible to our efforts. There are at present two whom we know as inquirers into the truth of Christianity. In endeavouring to influence these Bengalis, Mr. Vines has received help from a Bengali convert, now resident in Agra, who, after receiving baptism in Calcutta, fell away and denied his profession of Christianity. Induced by the example of the Bengali lady baptized here last year (November, 1870), he on Christmas day (1870) made again a public profession of Christianity in our Mission Church, and has since walked humbly and truly as a Christian, though he is in a position of great trial and difficulty. He is in the employment of a fellow-countryman, who professes to be an atheist, and who scoffs at the Christian religion.—Mr. Jacob has been to Gwalior twice, combining pastoral and evangelistic work. He has found opportunities of proclaiming the Gospel in the towns and villages on the way, and has ministered to members of the Christian community in Dholpur and Gwalior, left without the means of grace.

The Missionaries justly remark that the evangelistic and educational work are closely connected. Where Native Christians are few in number, the main object of Mission schools is to bring the Gospel to the heathen. Yet these brethren rightly observe:—

It is a great source of pleasure to us that the head student of the college, now reading for the B.A. degree of the University of Calcutta, is a Christian, as are also some other of our students whom we regard as diligent and promising pupils. The conduct of these, and their attention to religious duties, leads us to hope that some of our senior Christian students will hereafter work for the evangelization of their fellow-countrymen.

The Report continues :—

Amongst our heathen and Mohammedan pupils we have had mingled encouragement and discouragement. It is difficult for those to change their habits who have been from childhood conversant with vice in its worse forms. Some, upon whom we had hoped that our instructions had made more impression, have miserably disappointed us. Several others have left us with, we trust, higher notions of morality, and with faith shaken as regards their own superstitions, and feeling after the higher hopes which we set before them. We may say that though in regard to saving truth a mist may hover over the minds and perceptions of some of these young men, yet in their replies and inquiries we now and then get bright glimpses of the presence and power of Divine light. If thoughtfulness and a becoming mien approaching reverence during the Bible lesson may be considered indications of mental and spiritual action, our Christian friends may still earnestly hope and pray for our success. On earth we may not see all we desire or expect, but work done prayerfully and with faith for our Lord's glory, we feel cannot be unproductive of good. A number of our old students are now masters of schools in various parts of North and central India. They carry with them a liking for the studies and instructions received from us, and impart the same liking in a diminished degree to their own pupils.

Effects of Christian teaching in the Agra Mission
School.

The Director of Public Instruction speaks very highly of secular teaching at the College, remarking that it "still maintains its high position, and is foremost among the aided Colleges of these provinces."

Speaking of the Agra Mission Schools generally, the Report observes :—

The number of boys studying in our schools has somewhat diminished, and we anticipate still further diminution as the native employés of the different offices, which have moved down to Allahabad, are able to obtain accommodation for their families there. The number of girls under instruction has increased. There are this year sixty-seven, while, last year, there were only twenty-six. The majority of these are Mohammedans; we have not been able to establish any school for girls amongst the Hindoos.

MATTRA.

A Native Minister, the Rev. Madho Ram, is placed at this Station, which lies to the N.W. of Agra, at a distance of thirty-five miles, and contains a population of about 51,000. The Native Christians are thirty-nine in number. Fifteen of these are Communicants. There have been no adult baptisms during the year. "The flock in this place," says their Pastor, “is very small and not very strong in the faith; the Christian friends must pray for them.”

ALIGARH.

This town is situated fifty-five miles to the north of Agra, and contains a population of about 48,000. As mentioned in the last Report, the Rev. J. D. F. Hoernle was in charge here for about a twelvemonth ending in the early part of 1870. The Rev. S. Carter then became Missionary of the Station. In the mysterious providence of God, Mr. and Mrs. Carter were removed by death just when they seemed to be entering on their work in June and July, 1870. Mr. Hoernle has, therefore, resumed superintendence.

The Native Christians of Aligarh and at the out-station of Soran number about fifty. The Soran Christians have come out from the sweeper caste. Their number is slowly increasing, and Mr. Hoernle mentions that he had the pleasure of baptizing a few adults amongst them at the commencement of 1871. Soran is a large village, forty-two miles from Aligarh, on the Ganges. Pilgrims who wish to bathe in the sacred river resort thither in great numbers, and receive religious ministrations from the Brahmin priests, who form a considerable part of the population of the place.

Mr. Hoernle thus describes the work and the field of Aligarh and the Mission district of which it forms a centre:—

The work in Aligarh is, compared with that of other stations, little, and the Mission there is still in a state of infancy. It is almost entirely evangelistic, preaching to the heathen and Moham-medans. This was regularly attended to by me during the hot and rainy season, at least as far as possible, in the city of Aligarh. I had two Colporteurs paid by the North India Bible Society. They were daily to be seen in the city with books, which they offered for sale. They also addressed the people in the bazaars and other places. As a rule, I found the people willing and ready to hear, as well in the city of Aligarh as in the district.

There are several large and important towns in the Aligarh District which ought to be taken up as out-stations of the Aligarh Mission. I often thought of doing so, but could not, because I had no proper men for the work, and no funds for engaging them.

MEERUT.

The Mission district of which Meerut is the head-quarters, comprises, besides the cantonment itself (with its two neighbouring out-stations of Maliyâna and Kanker Khera), Ikla, 28 miles distant, Annfield, 125 miles distant, Galanthi, recently added, and now also, since the death of Mr. Carter, Bulandshahar and Secanderabad.

The Rev. C. T. Hoernle, an experienced and devoted labourer, is the Missionary of the Station. Mr. Hoernle is assisted, as before, by Mr. Zenker, the zealous and efficient European schoolmaster, by Pastor Abel at the Cantonment, Pastor Jeremy at Ikla, and by a Catechist (recommended for ordination) at Annfield. Miss Zenker is engaged in Zenana teaching, and a Bible-woman is also employed under Mrs. Hoernle's superintendence. The returns give the following statistics:—Native Christians, 783; communicants, 374; adult baptisms during the year, 9, children under instruction, 532.

III. The Panjâb.

The Panjâb Mission comprises seven principal Stations—Kôtghar, 1847; Amritsar, commenced 1852; Kangra, 1854; Peshâwar, 1855; Mûltan, 1856; Derajât, 1861; Kashmir, 1863.

KÔTGARH.

From this remote and solitary outpost, where the Rev. W. Rebsch is now stationed, the light of Gospel truth is silently spreading amongst the hill people of the Himalayas. In many of the hamlets scattered over the surrounding hills and valleys, Christian schools have been established. These afford an effective point of contact between the Missionary and the people—a fulcrum for the one engine by which the moral and spiritual elevation of a population sunk in much ignorance and superstition can be achieved, the pure Word of God. “Its entrance giveth light,” and many encouraging proofs of its influence occur to cheer the labours of our Missionary. There is now a steady demand by the pupils for Christian books and portions of the Scripture to read in their homes during the long winter months of indoor occupation. Thus they become Scripture-readers to their families, and on many a village an audience is prepared to listen with intelligent apprehension to the Gospel message from the lips of the Missionary or the Native Preacher. On Sundays the children from all the nearer schools assemble at the Mission-house, and are present during the service. This has hitherto been held in a school-room, but Mr. Rebsch is now building a Church, the funds for which he has raised chiefly from amongst the summer visitors at Simla.

The Calcutta Corresponding Committee have endeavoured to meet the growing demand for schools by the appointment of a young German schoolmaster, Mr. Beutel, to assist the resident Missionary.

KANGRA.

The Rev. J. N. Merk is the Missionary of this Station. The Native Christians connected with it are twenty-five in number, ten of these being communicants. There were four adult baptisms during the twelve months to which Mr. Merk’s Annual Letter refers. They all took place early in 1871, and one of those thus brought into the Church was the young man, a teacher in a Mission school, whose baptism was mentioned in the last Annual Report. The other three were his wife, his uncle, and his sister. It is sad to say that the three youths who broke caste together with the newly-admitted brother, not only failed in accompanying him to the baptismal font, but have since openly turned back and sought re-admission into Hinduism.

The following extract from Mr. Merk’s letter is also painfully interesting:—

Baptism deferred till too late. The case of one man I cannot omit to mention. He was a jeweller, and a very respectable man of Kangra. He repeatedly said to me, “Tell T— (one of the young men) that I hope he will become a Christian; my heart is with him.” This man, the jeweller, is no more. I had known him for years, and lately went often to see him. He was ill of consumption. Sometimes he read the Gospels with me, even before others. Some time before his death, when he was still well enough to sit up, he would bitterly cry and confess that he believed in Christ. He so expressed his faith in Christ, that a friend, an officer, who went with me to see him, told me he was convinced that the jeweller would become a Christian. But he was rich, respected, and influential. He was continually watched by his relatives, and delayed taking the decisive step, until he was too ill and weak for it, and was taken away by death.

Mr. Merk is mainly occupied in preaching to the heathen. In the five colder months, much of his time is spent for this purpose in the district; during the remaining part of the year he preaches chiefly in the bazaars of Kangra in the immediate neighbourhood. Advantage is also taken of the annual commercial fair at Palampore, and the religious fairs at Kangra and other places. At these last, the attendance, though large, is diminishing, a fact which the natives themselves attribute to the preaching of the Missionaries.

LAHORE.

The Native Church at this Station has its own Native Pastor, the Rev. Joseph Kadshu, from whom, however, the Committee have not received any Report or Annual Letter.

Lahore is the seat of the newly-established Theological College, in which three European Missionaries are employed: the Rev. T. V. French, the Rev. R. Clark, and the Rev. R. Bateman.

Mr. French's Report will have been eagerly looked for. He writes as follows:—

A few words must now be said as regards the results of our year's experience. Though I do not think it could be spoken of as brilliant and flattering, yet it is fairly cheering and re-assuring. Our greatest number of fully-received students has been ten. There is a tendency to become stationary at that point, but at present we are likely to grow to twelve or fourteen. The number rejected is larger than of those accepted; and other causes prevent our looking at present for large numbers. (1.) The agency of catechists is becoming generally distrusted, perhaps unduly so, and almost in all stations their number is largely reduced; and the few that remain can ill be spared by the Missionaries, to whom they render great service as being in daily and hourly contact with the people and cognizant of their wants. (2.) Our Presbyterian brethren, too, are preparing to start a college of their own, and will do so doubtless promptly and effectively, as they have largely replenished their forces lately. Allahabad is to be the seat of their Central Training School. (3.) Nor are we anxious to draw Christian youths away from the various useful secular posts they are filling, unless God Himself draw them by inspiring a ardent longing to give themselves to His work. It is pleasant to see a few gladly throwing up prospects of worldly gain and honour, for the joy and privilege of being heralds of salvation to their countrymen. But we should like to see Christians distributed through all departments of civil life, and exhibiting in each the special traits of excellence which its relations to the Gospel give scope for.

Character
Divinity
Lahore.

Thus much about our numbers. As regards the character of our students, I think we have even more cause to feel cheered and encouraged. Intellectually, the average excellence is far superior to what I expected: and the power to store up in their memories, and give forth, thoughtfully and independently, what they have learnt, and to think out fresh and original modes of exemplifying and applying principles, has often proved to me interesting and instructive. We have promise of two or three excellent linguists as far as the original languages of the Bible go; and about two-thirds are making fair progress in both. Some are too old to do much at languages, but in depth and reach of thought and clear apprehension of truth, stand foremost. We could not have looked, I think, to have such uniform satisfaction in the moral bearing and blameless consistency of our students, in their unanimity and harmony, their regularity and good discipline, and that without any excessively strict and rigid rule; and on the whole, their religious growth and advance in the knowledge and love and obedience of the truth, has been gratifying and edifying to us. This as a whole, for of course there are varieties. The hardest rule to keep unbroken has been that which forbids unauthorized preaching in the bazaars, that is, their making experiments in it by themselves, without our being present to moderate and correct. They come out in turns with us, and take their part in addressing the people. Two evenings in the week we have conversational Bible classes, when all are encouraged to speak and open their minds freely without the restraint of the class and school room. It is easy to see that they know what a right method of teaching ought to be: and that they would not be satisfied without a careful digesting or orderly arranging of the topics treated of in each day's lecture, and such a pointed and distinct expression of each, as enables to grasp the thought in all its bearings. This involves a good deal of labour in preparation. The ardent and laborious pursuit by most of our students of the branches of knowledge brought within their reach has been beyond all praise. Our vacations are of use, the longer one at midsummer in giving the students leisure for re-writing and re-casting their notes, which are rapidly written down from the lips of the lecturer, and also in making a beginning with fresh students who, whilst journeying with us, may be brought to the point at which they can join the class afterwards to advantage; and the shorter ones, in increasing their practical acquaintance with their future work, and helping to keep alive the glow of their Missionary zeal. Most of our students were Mohammedans originally.

I should mention that our little College Chapel was opened for the first time on Sunday evening, February 19th, our conference of Panjâb Missionaries being then for the first time assembled in Lahore. Mr. Clark preached the sermon, and Mr. Keene and myself took the rest of the service. Our brethren, the American Missionaries, with some friends from among the civilians, were present, about 100 in all, natives and Europeans, of whom about half joined with us in the Lord's Supper. It was a joyous occasion of thankfulness, and was the first thing which made known the existence of our school in Lahore, which was doubted of and rather ridiculed before.

Equally interesting are Mr. French's remarks on public preaching :—

About the preaching in Lahore it is not easy to speak. It has been steadily kept up in connexion with the College as a part of our training, besides the constant connexion into which it brings us with the people of the city. Daily occupied as we are in the study of God's Word, it would be hard if Lahore reaped no fruit from our researches: and a great refreshment, I can say, we often find it to disburden our hearts of the pent-up fire which every entrance into the "penetralia," the glowing hearth of God's living oracles, must engender and quicken. I find a great difference here from what we experienced in Agra. Here the opposition is far more bitter and systematic and concentrated; there, our preaching was usually treated, if I remember right, with supreme contempt: and we had nothing like the congregations which often gather round us at the Lahore city gates. One blind Mollah, who has a large band of disciples, appears to distribute them in stations along the haunts most frequented by Missionaries, to hinder the Gospel from being heard, and to arouse antagonism and disgust by all available means. In one place counter-preaching has been lately attempted, as in Lucknow and elsewhere. There is an increasing dread of the preaching and of its effects; and I am satisfied that, in spite of themselves, many do listen eagerly to longer or shorter portions of our addresses, and carry away impressions, though they dare not stay long; for they tell us that lately the Mollah referred to threatened to disannul the marriages of all who listened to Christian preaching. All this is so much evidence to the secret power which it is felt the Word of God possesses. Public preaching at Lahore.

No one could travel through the country, as we do, without constantly observing traces of a wide-spread spirit of curiosity, not as yet to be dignified with the name of inquiry. At railway-stations men will come up to us and say, "Teach us, teach us." "Teach us what?" we reply. "Teach us about God, God's Religious movement in the Panjâb.

truth, God's way." To an Englishman of ordinary bearing, it is not at all likely any thing of this sort would occur: it would be incredible to such a one. The people detect a Missionary at once, and will often make friends with him and question him, if he lays himself out, and is open to it. At present the want of sympathy and congeniality between the rulers and ruled (rather than positive dislike or bad feeling); the distaste of the European community as a whole for Native Christians; the great disadvantage of the position the Native Christian believes himself to occupy as regards advancement in State employ, and as regards getting his right in case of disputed property in law courts, which relations often take violent possession of, or fraudulently withhold from the Christian proprietor; and more than all, the ungodly and too often immoral example of Europeans—intensify to an incalculable degree the reluctance to side openly with Christ, which is created by caste distinctions, by threatened breach of all social ties, by the sapping of all ideas of immutable truth and morality, by thousands of years of religious trifling, and endless manufacture of all kinds of false faiths, Atheistic, Deistic, Pantheistic, Polytheistic, and by the natural hatred of the carnal heart to the pure, loving, truthful Word of God. One of the ablest native heads of education in this province said to me, not long since: "It would spoil all my chance of promotion if I were to become a Christian. I should be detested and despised by my European superiors. Besides," he said, "some of the Government School teachers are like heathens: when we used to read Milton, and an allusion to the Bible had to be explained, my teacher would mock and make all sorts of fun."

There have been some adult baptisms:—

Adult baptisms at Lahore.

Of the five adults who have been baptized, two were from Bahawalpur and Mûltân: one a youth from the Mission School at Mûltân, nephew of the chief Mollah of the school: another was one of the Persian teachers at the Bahawalpur school. A third was a Babu of the Brahmo Somâj, to whom a letter of Tyndale to the martyr Frith before his execution was blessed; though probably he had had drawings of heart to Christ before. A dream also made a great impression upon him. He seemed a little vacillating at first, and had a great fight of affliction and temptation to pass through; but he seems now full of love, faith, and zeal. He showed me, some days ago, a few copies of cheap Gospels which he had purchased to send by post to his friends. A fourth is a brother of one of our students, and is less educated than the others, but has stood his ground well, and is very regular in attendance at the means of grace, private and public. The fifth was a youth from Bunnoo.

Of the last case Mr. Bateman gives a full account:—

We have had the happiness of reaping fruit of the Derajat

Mission in Lahore. A little boy of high family (a Sayad, or Conversion of a lineal descendant of Mohammed), listened to Bruce's preaching years ago, in the Bunnoo district. He was touched by the manner, rather than the matter, of the address, for he was too young to understand much. He got into the Bunnoo Mission School, at its first establishment, but before he had fairly learnt his letters, his father discovered a dangerous leaning towards the Padri Sahibs, which led him to remove his son. So he went to his village, and lived on the farm for six or eight years, but the early impressions never left him. Meanwhile the Missionary was removed from Bunnoo, and not even a Colporteur ever traversed the district. However, last year, 1869-70, he came in company with his brother to Sheikbudin. There he saw both Brodie and myself, but did not make himself known. In the end of 1870 he went to Dera Ismael Khan, and sought intercourse with Brodie. He was soon found out and prevented from continuing his visits. Thence, determined to cast in his lot with Christians, he fled to Multan, and after receiving some instruction from Mr. Briggs and his excellent wife, went on to Bahawalpur, where he found several good Christians, and decided to be baptized. For this purpose he was sent here, and put by Clark under my care. I instructed him for a month and then baptized him, his Bahawalpur friends standing as witnesses. It was very pleasant to see the combined avidity and meekness of the lad both before and after baptism. I have good hope that God has much work for him to do hereafter among the hardened Bunnoochees. He was, as I said, kept in ignorance of even the rudiments of knowledge by his father; and it is a hard trial, but one from which he has never flinched, for him, now eighteen years of age, to begin at the very bottom with boys of eight, and learn his letters. In June I sent him to Amritsar, where he is now attending the Mission School.

AMRITSAR.

The Missionaries at this station at the close of the year 1871 were the Rev. W. Keene and the Rev. T. Storrs; Mr. Bateman having removed to Lahore, to give assistance to the Theological College at that place. There has been no marked progress in the form of accessions to the Church, nor is mention made of any perceptible growth in the spirituality of the Native Christians. Through the spread, however, of Female education, and more particularly, the prosperous advance of the Lady Lawrence Memorial Schools under the care of Mrs. Keene, a new and important field is opening up for the preaching of the Gospel.

In reference to the Pastors and Congregations, Mr. Keene reports as follows:—

We have, as you know, two ordained native ministers at Amritsar. The Rev. Daud Singh has hitherto been the recognized pastor of the church here; while the Rev. Moulvi Imaduddîn assisted in the services of the church, and, by advice, counsel, and information, in the general furtherance of the work, devoting the substantive portion of his time to controversial writing. Imaduddîn was baptized on 29th April, 1866, and was ordained 3rd December, 1868. He accepted the native pastorate of the church at Amritsar 15th November, 1871, the Rev. Daud Singh's connexion with the congregation as pastor ceasing 16th November, 1871. The latter is now appointed to labour in the district among the Sikhs. The Moulvi has great ability and receptive power. Let us not, however, place any dependence on man, however promising, nor on any organization, however complete; but let our whole dependence be on the Lord. I would especially ask you to remember the new pastor at the throne of grace. The Spirit of Christ can alone repair the fearful ravages that Satan has made in the moral and spiritual natures of the people of this country.

Of the Educational department Mr. Storrs writes:—

Disappointments in a Mission
School.

In the Amritsar Mission School, this year has been peculiarly one of disappointments. At its commencement there were one or two among the heathen teachers, and two or three among the elder boys, of whom we hoped much; but our hopes have not been realized with regard to any of them: none of them have been admitted by baptism into the Church of Christ. More than one have come very near, acknowledging more or less openly the truth of Christianity and the necessity of baptism; but there they stay, hesitating to give up all for Christ, and act upon their conviction. There is indeed no wonder that men of timid disposition, as one or two of them are, and lacking, as is the case with nearly all natives, what is called moral courage, should shrink from the ordeal they would have to pass through; for were they baptized, the excitement in the city would, no doubt, be intense, all of these young men being of respectable families. One does indeed feel that, in their case, nothing but the grace of Christ would be sufficient for them. One of them has, since leaving the school, fallen back into indifference, if not unbelief; another has, I fear, fallen into gross immorality. One, who is now at Lahore, seemed at one time to be on the very point of leaving all and following Christ; but just at the moment when he seemed to have made up his mind, he fell back, and has now, I believe, joined the Brahmos. Brahmoism is, however, not in favour here; I think, at any rate, in the Mission School. It is felt to be a mere subterfuge; and when, not long ago, one of the Brahmo leaders was lecturing here, it was interesting to notice on which side the sympathy of all, or nearly all, those connected with the Mission School was engaged. It is very trying to be disappointed so often: we can only commit to the Lord His own work, and wait His will.

Moreover, the attendance this year, instead of having increased again, as we hoped it would, is still lower than it was last year, the average attendance in the main school being only 119 against 125 of last year. This is owing to a combination of circumstances into which it would be impossible to enter here fully. Among them I may mention the facts, that we have now four Christian masters, that our fees have been raised very considerably during the last few years (while those in the Government School have been relaxed rather than otherwise), and that the staff at the Government School has of late been considerably strengthened, there being now three Europeans, all men of education. To these may be added, that an English education is no longer, as it once was, the road to speedy and lucrative employment. My school came off well on the last entrance examination of the Calcutta University, five out of seven having passed, and four of these in the second class. This year, again, three out of four who went in for the entrance examination of the Panjâb University College have passed. Scripture has been regularly taught in all the classes, and that only by Christian Teachers. We have this year instituted a regular course of study in Scripture for the whole school, so that the boys may not be perpetually going over the same ground, as they are otherwise liable to do.

The only matter worthy of notice in connexion with our other Amritsar Schools is the establishment of a superior central branch school, to enable boys to continue their studies, without being obliged to leave their native shop accounts or to study English.

The out-station schools at Narowal and Jhandiálá have been going on, on the whole, satisfactorily. In the Jhandiálá School we have now a Christian head-master, who promises to be useful. The Native Christian who was engaged in teaching Scripture there has been removed, and is now the master of the Boys' Orphanage.

At Narowal, the out-station mentioned above, there are also several inquirers.

MÚLTÂN.

Mr. Wm. Briggs, the energetic and Missionary-hearted European schoolmaster at this station, was single-handed until the spring of 1872, when the Rev. G. Yeates returned to his former duties. The readers of this report will join with the Committee and Mr. Briggs in thanking God for the success given him. He writes :—

Six young men have made a profession of Christ in baptism during the year. Five of them were connected with the school; one as a teacher, and the sixth came from the direction of Bannu. They are all doing well. Talib Masih, the same as Allah Taway, of whom I wrote in last year's report, is still with Mr. Rogers in the Amritsar Training Institution, who speaks very favourably of him as a student and a Christian.

In the Mûltân English school there are 106 boys. About forty of these are Mohammedans. Every boy receives instruction in Holy Scripture.

The school at Bahawalpur has somewhat languished, owing to its distance from head-quarters and the failure of its Native head-master. The Shujabad school, on the other hand, is in good condition.

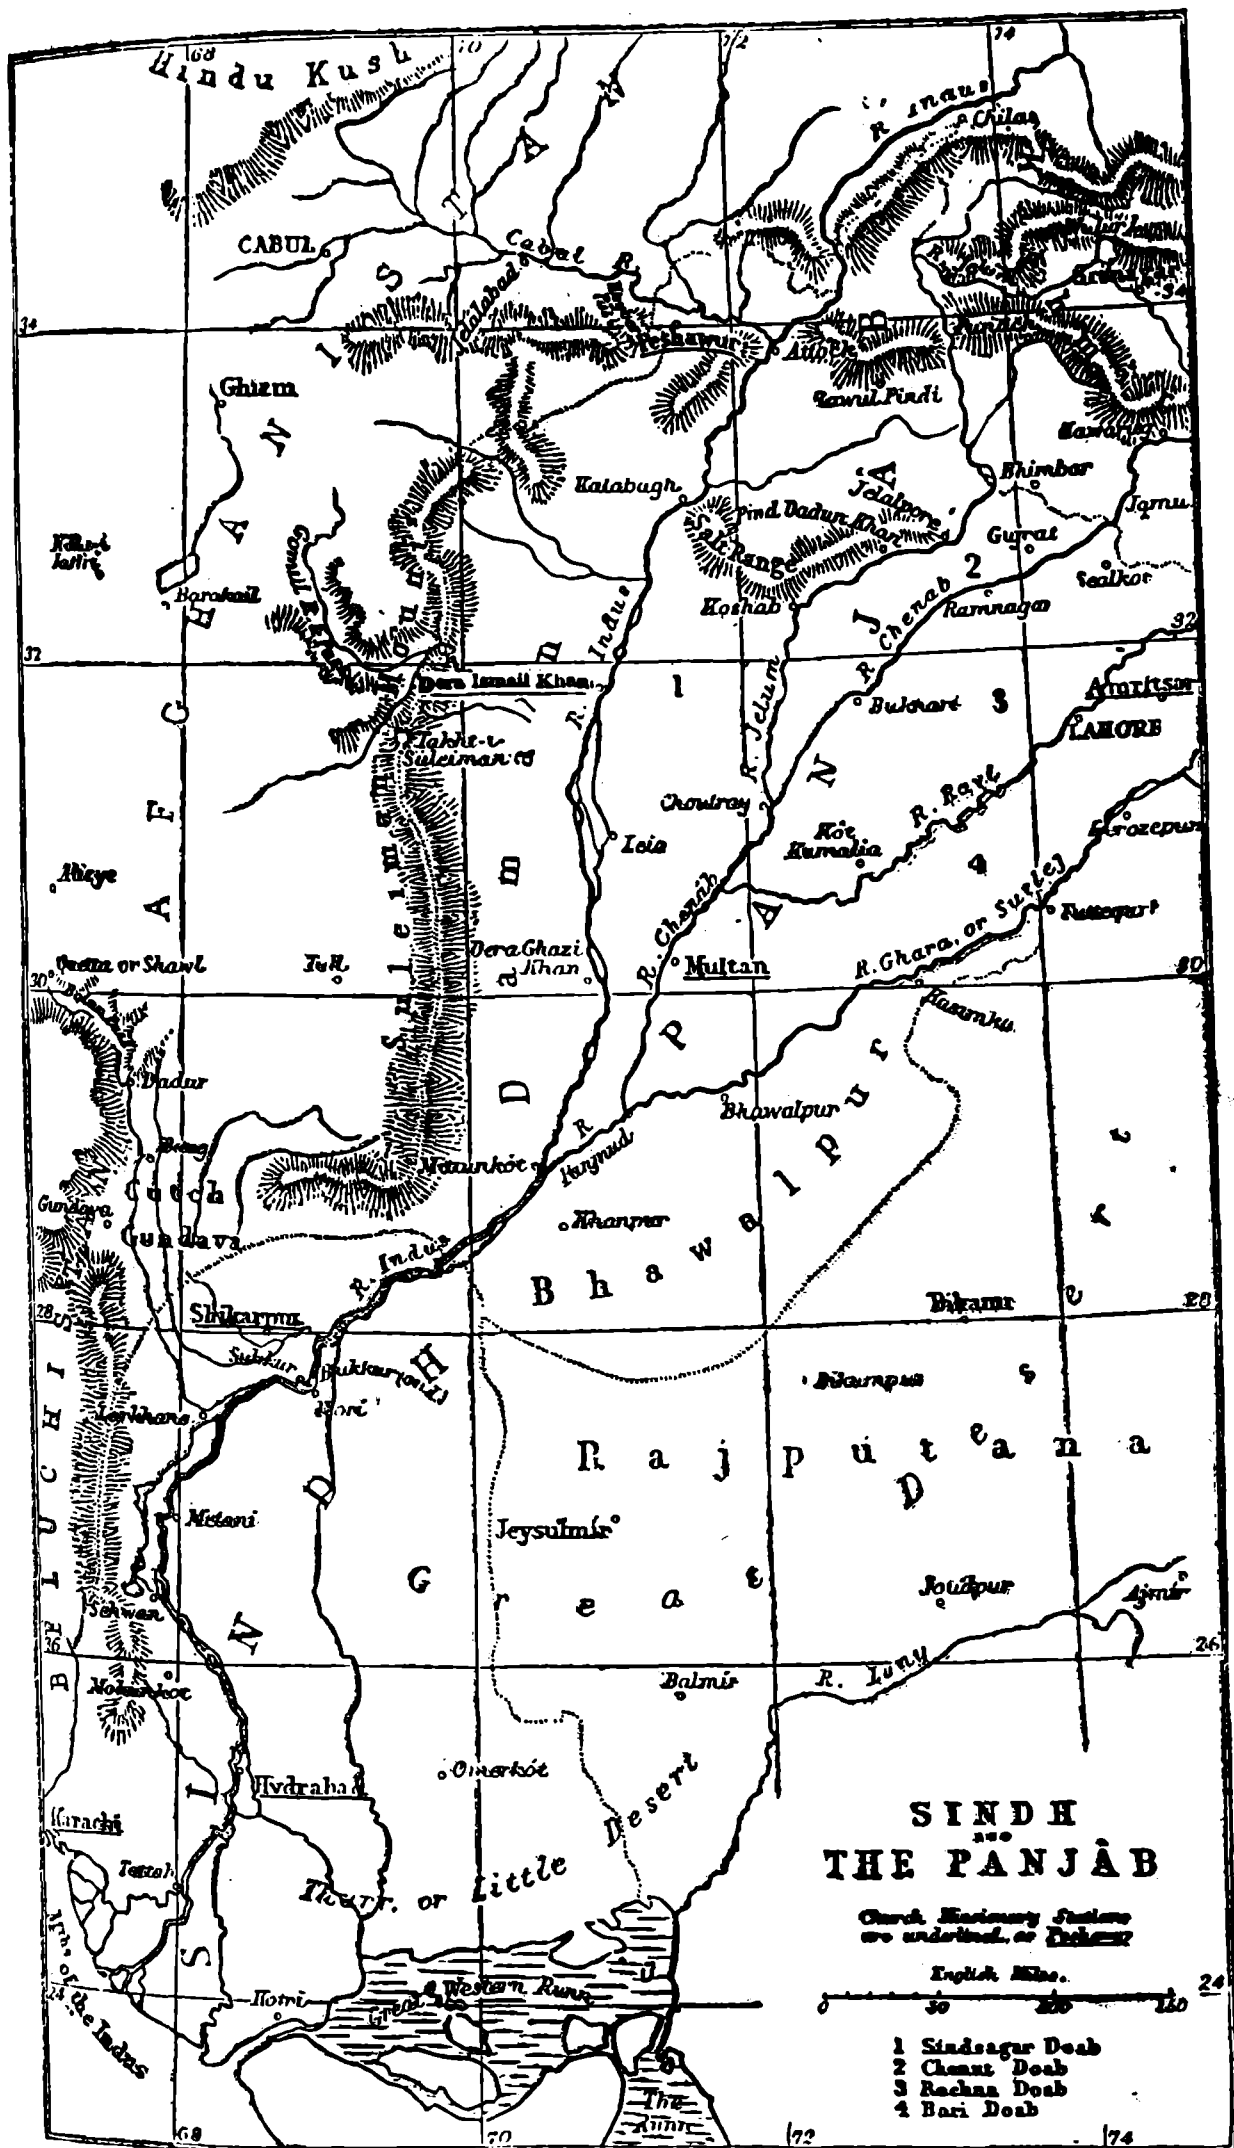

The Mission schools meet with encouragement from the provincial authorities. To quote again from Mr. Briggs' letter :—

The educational Darbar alluded to in my last came off with great éclat in April, the commander of the division presiding. A large number of civil and military officers, ladies, and all the principal Native gentry of the district were present. About Rs. 80 in prizes were distributed to the boys of the Mûltân and Shujabad schools. Of this sum, Rs. 60 were given by Government on the recommendation of its officers in the educational department. Sports, speeches, sweetmeats for the boys, and fireworks, were the order of the evening. The Mûltân Municipal Committee, following the example of the Shujabad Committee, have voted me a monthly grant in aid, from the next year's budget.

The following paragraph will also be read with much pleasure :—

Female Schools.—This important and interesting branch of Missionary work is slowly though surely progressing. There are still only five schools in existence, but they are in a more encouraging condition than they were last year. My wife reports great improvement in reading, and also that some of the girls have begun to write, which is another step in the right direction. The want of good female teachers is still a very serious drawback to the satisfactory development of female education in Mûltân, and Mrs. Briggs is arranging to start a normal class as soon as I can draw a municipal grant for the purpose. Her plan is to induce, if possible, about ten or even eight respectable women to put themselves under instruction, with a view to their being employed as teachers of girls' schools. Scholarships will be given under certain conditions, and a good female teacher will be got to instruct them in Persian, Urdu, and other subjects usually taught in Elementary Vernacular Schools.

It will be a happy day for Mûltân when competent Native Christian female teachers can be obtained for its Mission schools.

DERAJÂT.

There is still (sad to say!) only one Missionary at this station, the Rev. D. Brodie, who resides, as before, at Dera Ismael Khan. Mr. Brodie feels the inadequacy of his own unaided powers for this important field, and for the work which had been previously set on foot. He much needs the sympathy and prayers of the friends who read this Report. The Native Christians number thirty-five, and there are (as when the last return was made) eight communicants.

The following extract from Mr. Brodie's letter will be read with combined feelings of sorrow and thankfulness:—

I spent the greater part of last cold weather in tents in the district of Esan Kheyle, and there saw a good deal of the people, and gained their confidence. I was attracted to that place by the fact that the new convert, Abdûl Masih, was living there with his family, in daily expectation that something would be done by the authorities towards giving him the land of which he had been deprived. I was most thankful to find, in the midst of his poverty and persecution, he had still remained faithful, convincing those around him that there is reality in his convictions, and at the same time proving to them that the persecutions of the world for righteousness' sake are very real also. I am persuaded that the former feelings have great weight with many; but the latter, for the present, outweigh and keep them down. I see this from the manner in which men privately express their thoughts and feelings, and have had a special proof of it in the case of a young man, who now for the third time came ostensibly to get a situation, but really to throw in his lot with us, and who yet turned back again, ere he had made what, in a worldly point of view, would have been a fatal step. Words cannot describe, at least in small space, what persecutions Abdûl Masih and his family have undergone. The mere taking of his land is nothing in comparison with what he suffers in other ways. Imagine living amongst your friends, and yet being cut off from them all by a boundary which whoever dares to pass is regarded by the others as an unbeliever and a reprobate. Imagine being regarded as unclean, so that any thing you touch is polluted, and unfit to be eaten or drunk by the elect (as Mohammedans call themselves). Imagine being in nightly danger of losing your life at the hand of an assassin, and daily subject to all the petty annoyances which neighbours can give. Imagine having the whole country ready, on oath, to deny every word you say, and to rob you of every thing you have, as opportunity offers. Imagine being afraid to take medicine or food from the hands of any save a wife or child,—I say, imagine all these things, and you will have formed some slight idea of what Abdûl Masih has suffered.

Persecutions undergone by a convert from Mohammedanism.

Public preaching is carried on regularly in the Bazaar by the catechist.

The Native doctor engaged last year in the branch Medical Mission at Tank is now at the Lahore college. This “opportunity for further training,” says Mr. Brodie, “will be very beneficial to him, and, with God’s blessing, to the work also.”

Two hundred and fifty boys and twelve girls are under instruction in the Schools; but the Missionary is not satisfied with their condition.

PESHÂWAR.

The Missionaries in charge of this station are the Rev. T. R. Wade and the Rev. T. P. Hughes. They are assisted by a highly-esteemed unordained Native brother, who (it is hoped) will be admitted to the diaconate in the course of the present year. The Honorary Catechist, Babu S. L., was removed from the district for a few months; but has again returned, and is rendering help as before. The Mission has sustained a severe loss in the removal to her heavenly rest of Mrs. Wade. The local report observes:—

Mrs. Wade possessed more than ordinary qualifications for Missionary work; and at once applying herself to the acquirement of the Hindustânî language, devoted herself with the greatest energy to the superintendence of the girls’ schools. But “God’s ways are not as our ways.” At the very commencement of a life of active Missionary labour, the Saviour whom, having believed in, she loved and served on earth, called her to a higher and more perfect service in heaven. She fell asleep in Jesus on Sunday, October 8th, 1871. Her loss has been deeply felt by all who knew her, and her bereaved husband and sorrowing relatives have our most sincere and heart-felt sympathy.

The same report thus notices the Native Church:—

Our small Native Church in one way resembles the early Christian Church at Jerusalem. It consists of people of various nations and languages. For in our small Christian congregation we have the Pathân of the Peshâwar District, the Afghân of Cabul, Panjâbîs, Hindustânîs, and Armenians. Amongst the latter is one young man who was baptized in the city of Cabul by the Rev. J. N. Allen, chaplain to the troops under the command of General Nott in 1842. Since that time several of the Armenians now in Cabul have been baptized by the Peshâwar Missionaries, as they have not been visited by any of their own clergy for many years.

Those members of our congregation who reside in Peshâwar have been very regular in their attendance at public worship, and most of them have lived in a manner consistent with the holy name they bear. We have been disappointed in several catechumens who last year gave great promise. Some are held back by the fear of man, whilst others proved unworthy.

As regards Evangelistic work the Peshâwar Report remarks :—

The work of evangelization is carried on by means of itinerations through the surrounding district, preaching in the city bazaar or market place, the distribution of the sacred Scriptures and other Christian books, and scriptural instruction in our schools.

The operations of the Peshâwar Mission are carried on in the very stronghold of Mohammedanism. Some have thought that a people who are not involved in the impiety of atheism nor the darkness of idolatry would be the more ready to receive the doctrines of our true faith. The Missionary labourers of Peshâwar, however, have almost daily experience that the spirit of Islamism is unchanged, and that amongst the professors of this creed there is still the same hostile relation to Christianity as when they were a united people fighting under the banner of the "Prophet" against the Cross. Mohammedanism is the "counterfeit of truth," for whilst it professes to receive our inspired books and to acknowledge our Saviour, it virtually rejects both. Unlike Hinduism, the creed of Islam admits the truth of no other faith, so that whenever the Christian advocate comes in contact with the defender of Mohammedanism, the contest must be sharp and stern. On the other hand we not unfrequently meet with men, who, although they move amongst their own people under the garb of Mohammedans, are merely deists, who seeing how utterly impossible it is to reconcile the statements of the Christian Scriptures with those of the Koran, have settled down to infidelity. We could give several instances of Mohammedan Moulvies who have not hesitated to declare themselves deists. Worldly considerations, however, keep these men in communion with Islamism.

Mr. Hughes has made extensive Missionary itinerations during the year, has been kindly and hospitably received in nearly every village that he visited, and has been permitted freely to speak to the people on religious subjects. The following is an extract from his journal:—

In nearly every village I have been able to speak to numbers of people at the Guest-houses or Hujras. In the evening, when the work of the day is over, the people collect at these places and are often willing to listen. The great source of opposition is the Moulvie (priest). These men are generally bitterly opposed to all inquiry and search after truth. Many of them seldom leave their mosques, and consequently know very little except the ordinary teaching of the Mohammedan creed as taught in their popular works. Some little surprise has been expressed at my so frequently discussing with Moulvies inside their mosques; but it is not generally known that many of the Moulvies in these parts have a very serious objection to discuss religious subjects beyond the sacred limits of their places of worship. It is considered more dignified for the Moulvie to ask me to come to him, than that he should move out of his sanctuary to meet a Christian teacher. I am therefore frequently invited to the mosques, and never attempt to enter without the permission of the Imám (priest) in charge. Some of these interviews have been of a most interesting, and, I hope also, of a profitable nature.

In the schools there are 402 boys and 140 girls.

GENERAL VIEW.

THE yearly statistical tables for the South India Mission present the following results.—Native Christians, 56,483; Communicants, 10,303; Adult Baptisms during the year, 1,128; European Missionaries in the field, 29; Native Ministers, 50; Native Christian Agents, 904. The increase in the number of Native Christians has been about 2,000 during the last twelve months. In respect to the advance of Missions generally in South India, Lord Napier, Governor of Madras, in addressing a body of Missionaries connected with the Gospel Propagation Society, has lately given the following testimony :—“The progress of Christianity is slow, but it is undeniable. Every year sees the area and the number slightly increase. The Gospel is brought more and more to the doors of the poorest and most ignorant outcaste people. I cannot but believe that the time may come when these classes, who have no real religious belief, and no place in the social hierarchy of their own country, will be attracted in great numbers by the truths, the consolations, and the benefits of the Christian faith. The advance of Christianity has at all times been marked by occasional fitful and spasmodic movements in India. The present period is one of moderate progression; but it does not exclude the expectation of rapid and contagious expansions, such as were witnessed in the sixteenth century in Malabar and Madura, in the last century in Tanjore; and more recently among the Shanars in the south."

The Native Church.

The Native Christians attached to the Society in Madras are connected with the Madras Native Church Council, a body presided over by a European Missionary with two assessors, but otherwise elected by the Madras Christians themselves out of their own body. Their pastors are two in number, the Rev. W. T. Satthianâdan, and the Rev. V. Simeon. The number of souls under the pastoral care of these brethren is 704, of whom 298 are communicants. The increase on the numbers given in the previous Report arises mainly from the addition of the congregation of Royapuram (a northern suburb of Madras) previously ministered to by a European Missionary. There have been twelve adult baptisms during the year, and the contributions to religious purposes for the same period have amounted to about twelve hundred rupees.

The subjoined extract from Mr. Satthianâdan's Report will be read with much interest:—

I am thankful to inform you that a marked growth is visible in my own congregations in Madras. You are already aware that on the 20th November, 1870, three adults and three children, belonging to respectable classes of the Hindu community, were admitted into the visible Church by the rite of baptism. That scene is still fresh in my mind, and will never be effaced from my memory. I am truly thankful to be able to state that, notwithstanding the many temptations and trials to which they were constantly exposed from their heathen relations, they have been strengthened from on high, not only to be faithful and steadfast, but also to witness for Christ, and to recommend the Gospel to their heathen relatives and friends by their consistent walk and conversation. The mother of one of these, the young widow from Sadras, who at first was very dark and bigoted, after a long course of probation and instruction, has followed the noble example of her daughter and granddaughter by embracing the same faith, and sharing in the same trials, joys, and hopes of the Gospel. She was baptized last September by the name of Arulai. What a beautiful illustration this of the power and divinity of our holy religion! The little granddaughter catches a ray of light, as it were, in her class, and carries it home to the mother, and both show it to the grandmother, and the holy fire is thus kindled in the bosom of all the members of this interesting little family; reminding us of the first disciples at Capernaum, Andrew calling Simon, and Philip calling Nathaniel with the memorable words, "Come and see."

Mr. Simeon's labours have also met with encouragement:—

This year two heathens were converted to Christianity; and two persons came over from Romanism to our Protestant faith. The two heathens who were converted to Christianity are brothers. They were for more than two years reading religious tracts, Scripture portions, and occasionally they had the opportunity to listen to the street-preaching of the catechists, and that of the Missionaries. At last they changed their mind to become Christians. Their Romish relatives urged them to become Roman Catholics. Meanwhile they heard about the several rules and regulations of the Church of England. Then at once, both of them came to my house with the members of our congregation, and told me that they were ready to become Christians, and regretted not having been brought up in the Christian faith in their earlier days. I conversed with them for awhile, to know their real object, and knelt with them in prayer. They seemed earnest and sincere. They professed their adherence to the Protestant faith before a large congregation, and were baptized. On the same evening, at their request, I went with the catechist and held a prayer meeting at their house. They have since been very punctual attendants at divine worship. These two newly received brethren were the means of bringing over the two Romanists mentioned above. May the Almighty pour down abundantly His Holy Spirit on those who have come to be followers of His Son, and bless us in wisdom and in piety !

Mr. Sathianâdan, however, has to lament a serious evil, which has lately become conspicuous in the Native Christian community. He thus describes it :—

There is a peculiarity in some sections of the Tamil Native Christian Church, the contemplation of which tends to cast a gloom over one's mind ; I mean the position which the abominable system of caste has assumed in the Church, which necessarily stunts its growth and checks the onward progress of vital religion. You may have heard of a certain native Christian of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, named Arumanâyagam, but better known by his official designation "Sattam pillei" (a Tamil word, which means a monitor), that noted separatist in the Tinnevely Church. In propagating some of his extravagant theories, which were in opposition to the simple and sublime doctrines of the Gospel, he broached the novel position that the Shanars belong to a superior race. Since then, this idea has been afloat in various parts of the country, and discussed and agitated in various circles of that community, till at last one of them, an agent of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Trichinopoly, has written a book of seventy-six pages, called "Sandârmarahu," or the "Pedigree of the Sandars or Shanars," in which he strives to prove that the Shanar race originally migrated from Scythia, and were descended from Brahma, and from the sun and the moon, through Rama, the great Puranic god of the Hindoos ; and that they belong to the second of the four grand divisions of caste, viz.—the Kshatriya race, of the same pedigree as the Maharajah of Travancore. Instead of proving, as a Christian should do, that the whole system of caste is utterly baseless and false, and that it is opposed to the genius of the Gospel, he, in fact, seeks to uphold it, and to build this extraordinary theory upon it ; and yet, I must say, that there is a secret feeling of sympathy in the theory of the book, a sympathy very generally felt and sometimes openly expressed, on the part of the community the superiority of whose birth it thus seeks to advocate. Then there is the reaction, which is quite perceptible in the patrician aristocracy, endeavouring to trample down the plebeian assumption. I noticed a tendency to this state of things in my late tour, especially in Tinnevely, and, in my conversations with several influential parties, sought to point out the evil ; but such feelings are not easily eradicated at once. The Missionaries and the native clergy need great wisdom in dealing with this question. They must by no means tolerate it ; and yet at the same time they must not adopt any harsh measures in their attempt to crush it. This is what we must expect at a time when education is effecting such a mighty revolution in the national mind of India, and the Native Church is in a transition state; but the Lord who brought light out of darkness, and beauty out of chaos, is able to overrule all this for the advancement of His glory and the spread of His kingdom in this benighted land.

State of the Heathen.

The Brahmo Somâj movement has extended to South India. Its history in Madras is thus given by Mr. Saththianâdan :—

The Brahmo Somaj at Madras.

The Brahmo Somâj movement is making fresh efforts in this city at present. Its origin is as follows: When Babu Keshub Chander Sen, who has lately made a great sensation in England, visited this city about seven years ago, he delivered one or two lectures against caste and idolatry, and commended to the notice of his countrymen the tenets of Brahmoism. The result was the inauguration of a fraternity called the “Vêda Somâj.” Some of the educated Hindus who composed this Somaj carried on its operations with earnestness and zeal for some time, and published a monthly magazine in Tamil and Telugu. After the decease of two of its leaders the Somaj suffered a collapse, and the magazine was given up, and all operations were suspended. Last year another Bengali Babu, who visited this city, delivered two lectures, and urged his Hindu countrymen here to revive the association. His appeal had the effect intended. The “Veda Somaj” has been commenced de novo, under the altered designation of “South India Brahmo Somaj,” and the magazine started again, and branch associations formed in two or three important towns in the presidency. So the movement is going on with fresh vigour and energy. A marriage has been lately celebrated, the first of its kind here, which was remarkably free from those heathen ceremonies and pompous extravagances which generally mark Hindu nuptials, and conducted in a manner which resembled Christian weddings. Weekly prayer-meetings are held, lectures delivered, essays written with a view to propagate their peculiar principles and tenets. They discard the Bible as “paper revelation,” and pretend to submit to the dictates of reason and intuition. The views and principles peculiar to the schools of Bishop Colenso and Theodore Parker have been reproduced on the Indian soil, and to a certain extent stereotyped by the theistic doctrines and worship which characterize the creed of the educated few here. You must not suppose that it touches the masses at all; in fact, they only number fifty members.

Mr. Saththianâdan adds :—

The bulk of the people are still as conservative as ever; wedded to the idols, and addicted to the superstitions and prejudices of their forefathers. Oh, for another Pentecostal effusion, when all the teeming millions of India shall forsake their man-made religion and philosophy (falsely so called) on the one hand, and idolatry and superstition on the other, and with child-like simplicity and humility embrace the truth as it is in Jesus!

The Itinerancy.

There are at present two Missionaries attached to the Itinerancy, the Rev. D. Fenn and the Rev. W. P. Schaffter. During a large portion of the year Mr. Fenn was diverted from this work to the duties of the Madras Corresponding Secretariat; Mr. Royston, who had filled that post for many years, having been compelled, by failure of health, to return to England.

It will be seen by the following extracts from Mr. Schaffter's letters, that there are indications of at least "a shaking among the dry bones" in some parts of the field. He writes, under date Nov. 14th, 1871:—

I have now been engaged seven months in this work. It is therefore not premature to state the opinion which my first impressions of the work suggested to me. The faithful preaching of God's Word in every town village and hamlet round Madras has not been in vain. This work has been carried on for the last three or four years. When I accompanied Mr. Fenn on our preaching expeditions I noticed two things—1st, that he was no stranger to the audience, no matter what village or town that audience belonged to; and, 2nd, that the people knew the message he had come to tell them. In many places I found that I had not to tell them of Christ, and what He had done for them, for that they seemed to know, but to urge on them the necessity of accepting Him, as their responsibilities were great in knowing the way of salvation and then rejecting it.

As all around Madras the Gospel message had been made well known, and as in some places there seemed to be a desire on the part of some people to have schools opened in their villages, and as that desire seemed to be closely connected in their minds with the idea that they would at the same time be placed under more immediate Christian instruction; Mr. Fenn and I, after some deliberation, determined to establish schools wherever we found hopeful openings. Thus, during the last six months, five places have been occupied by us.

The first is entirely inhabited by high-caste people. Not only has a school been transferred by them to the Mission, but the people have actually given us ground to build a house for a catechist, who not only teaches the children Scripture subjects, but also has a fair opportunity of preaching to the people of the village, and also of going morning and evening to the surrounding villages, and telling them the Gospel message. In another village the high-caste people have given us a house to keep school in, and also a house for the catechist to live in. We have placed a young man there, and the school is beginning to flourish. The Pariahs of a third village invited us to send them a teacher, and have raised a wall for the school, this being all they could do themselves (being very poor) to show their desire for instruction. We have appointed an elderly man to the place, who lives in a small hut the people vacated for him. He has begun his work in right earnest, and has already a goodly number of boys in his school. In another place we have also, on the express wish of the people, opened a school, the people building the school-house, with the help of a small grant from us. In the village lives one of our readers, who daily gathers the people for Christian instruction. Two men from this place attended last Sunday Divine service for the first time, with the intention of offering themselves as soon as possible for baptism. Although there is every hope that a great number in this village will soon declare themselves Christians, yet they have not formally placed themselves under Christian instruction. At the fifth village an elderly catechist, just arrived from Tinnevely, has been stationed. As soon as the rains cease a house will be built for him, with the help of the people of that village, on ground given by them for that purpose. From that centre he will itinerate to villages within a radius of five miles. All these catechists and readers thus located, will, for the time being, spend the greater part of their time in instructing the people amongst whom they live, and thus try and establish themselves and their work; and then turn their attention more to the villages within a radius of three miles.

There have been trials and difficulties in the Itinerancy, in connexion with some of the inferior Native agents, who though (it is believed) men of piety and zeal, are encumbered with caste prejudices of a kind not only painful to the Missionary but offensive to the higher classes among the heathen.

Work among the Mohammedans.

There are now 117 Mohammedan boys and youths in the Harris School, the largest number yet recorded on its books. The fees, also, have been further raised. Evidence is thus furnished, it is believed, of an awakening interest on the part of a special and peculiar class of the Mohammedan community in the important subject of solid education for their rising generation. The introduction of Arabic studies into the school curriculum seems to have enlisted the sympathies of the Mohammedan gentry, who now are willing not only to be present at the public prize-giving, but also to take part in the examination, and to supply a medal for proficiency.

The Committee have designated a second Missionary to the work among the Mohammedans of Madras, with a view of supplementing the educational agency of the Harris School by more general efforts among the adult population, as suggested by the Rev. E. Sell in a previous Report.

Education.

The Society's Vernacular Schools in Madras were in the year 1869 under the charge of the Rev. R. C. Macdonald. During Mr. Macdonald's absence in England they are supervised by Mr. Schaffter, who reports of them as follows:—

These schools are established entirely for the poorer classes, who cannot afford, or think it beyond their position, to send their children to one of the many institutions in Madras which aim at higher standards of education. I have thus eighteen schools under me, with 698 children learning in them, taught by twenty-eight masters and two mistresses. All these schools are vernacular ones, although in a few of them a little English is taught to the higher classes. Our principal aim is to instruct the boys, who are mostly heathen, in the Bible; and to effect this, Mr. Macdonald introduced a plan of paying the masters on the result system in Scripture subjects, in the same way as Government has organized the system of payment by results in secular subjects. This plan has worked well, as is shown by the children obtaining at the quarterly examinations, on an average, equal marks in Scripture, as they have done in reading, writing, and arithmetic. The schools were handed over to me in a thorough state of efficiency, and I was not long in finding out that much time and care must have been spent by my predecessor in working the schools up to their present standard. The Word of God, that true knowledge which, with God's blessing and His Spirit's teaching, can enrich the soul, is thus daily impressed on the hearts and minds of nearly 700 children. Let us trust and pray that the seed thus sown will bring forth fruit.

Zenana work in Madras is still in its infancy. As far as the Society is concerned, it was commenced three or four years ago, by Mrs. Andrews, the widow of a devoted labourer in the Travancore Mission. On Mrs. Andrews returning to England, another lady was found to occupy her post, who gives the following interesting particulars:—

We have now thirty-three pupils in about fourteen different houses. The greater proportion of them are but beginners: and only six or seven learn English, as it is necessary they should learn to read and write their own language fairly before commencing English. They are all, I believe, of the Vellâlar caste, but there are sub-divisions which are puzzling for Europeans to understand; and caste, I trust, is losing ground to a great degree among the educated natives at least. I do not find any objection made to shaking hands with myself, except in one case where the family are, or consider themselves, superior on account of their eating no meat; nor do I find any objection made to reading, or hearing read, the Gospel, Scripture stories, or religious tracts or tales. In one or two cases real interest, I hope, is felt in the Gospel narratives and religious books: in most cases, however, they would prefer the secular teaching alone. In one case the mother of the young girl who is my pupil is a very superior woman, though nearly uneducated: she seems to have a higher standard of right and wrong than most heathens, and cordially approves of the moral precepts of Christianity, and acts up to this her knowledge. I go out every day in the week except Saturday from about 1 P.M. till 4 P.M.; before that time they are engaged in cooking and eating. On Hindu feast-days, when the male members of the family are at home, and there is more to be done, I do not generally go. However, in some houses they say, "We women do not take part in the ceremonies, and we have leisure. Do come as usual:" so, of course, I do. There is, I think, very little real belief in Hinduism among them; but custom, and the fear of consequences, prevent all from becoming Christians who have not become anxious for the salvation of their souls, nor felt the burden of sin and need of a Saviour. I do not think results must be looked for much at present, though, as God has promised to hear the prayers offered in faith by His servants, if we are more instant in prayer, we ought to expect an answer. What I mean is, that we must not be discouraged, as we are often inclined to be, at the seemingly small results of much time and labour; but work on, and pray more and more for wisdom to direct and carry out our operations, and wait for the time when God shall pour out largely of His Spirit for the conversion of many souls to Him.

Mrs. Saththianâdan is actively and successfully engaged in the same work on a larger scale. Fifty Native young ladies are taught by her, or under her superintendence, at their own residences. She has also three day schools for girls of the higher ranks, as well as two for children of a humbler class.

Ootacamund.

The Rev. A. James, a Native brother, has charge of the Tamil congregation at this place, and labours also among the heathen. A large portion of the population are servants of European residents. Mr. James writes:—

The number of the congregation on the roll is 227; ninety of these are communicants. One adult and twelve infants were added to the number of the congregation through baptism. The number of attendants at public worship has increased. One of the Mission Agents and two lay-members conducted Sunday Service for about six weeks, when I was away in Tinnevely on private business. When the Secretary of the Madras Auxiliary Bible Society expressed a wish to appoint a Bible woman in this place, to distribute the Scriptures and to speak of the Saviour to her fellow-creatures; I gave notice to my congregation that anybody might come forward to undertake this precious work. An old woman above sixty years of age, and just such an one as is described in 1 Timothy v. 9, 10, offered her services. Since last March she has carried on the work with diligence and cheerfulness.

Ootacamund.

The Native Christians of Ootacamund recognize the obligation to give of their substance to the Lord's service, having subscribed during the year upwards of 270 Rupees.

In the schools there are 97 boys and 23 girls. Liberal aid is received from Government on the payment by results system. Most of the children are heathen or Mohammedan. They "gladly buy the Scriptures, and read and commit to memory the appointed portions."

II. Tinnevely.

The Mission is divided into 9 districts, viz. 1, Palamcottah; 2, Mengalapuram; 3, Suviseshapuram; 4, Dohnavur; 5, Paneivilei; 6, Panikullam; 7, Nallur; 8, Surandai; 9, Sivagâsi.

General.

In this Mission there is ground for thankfulness and also for serious concern. In some places relapses have taken place. One district returns 900 fewer than it did three years ago. The increase of communicants is only sixty-five in 6,000; while caste feeling is, in some places, strong, and, in the opinion of some of the Missionaries, becoming more intense. On the other hand, the number of children attending school has largely increased; and there is much that is cheering in individual instances. It may be added that, notwithstanding defalcations, the whole number of adherents (not including heathen children attending schools) has advanced during the year by 125, and now amounts to 38,821.

The Mission has been somewhat severely tried by the absence of several of the European Missionaries. Seven years ago the number in the field was thirteen. It is now only six (including a valued Lay Agent, Mr. Kember). This reduction was partly intentional, in order to call into exercise the powers of the Native clergy, whose numbers have been increased during the same interval from twelve to thirty-three.

In reference to the future disposition of the European Missionary Staff in the district, one of the most experienced Tinnevelly Missionaries urges that any new men who may be sent out should 'give themselves wholly to evangelistic work for the first five or six years,' after which, on further experience they might be able, if necessary, to take part in assisting and advising the Native Church and its officers. The Committee are quite disposed to accord with this view.

The Rev. E. Sargent, the senior C. M. S. Missionary of this province, makes the following remarks on the progress of the Gospel in India—remarks which, though referring to India at large, may not improperly be inserted in this place, as showing the aspect under which the general subject presents itself to one viewing it from a Tinnevelly stand-point:—

Thoughtful minds have enumerated several circumstances which providentially served to facilitate the progress of the Gospel when first the heralds of Christ made their appearance in the world. Now let us consider how far these same facilities are gathering around us here. The fact of the then known world being under one government, the Roman, under which free access was open from one country to another, and parties could travel without let or hindrance from city to city and province to province, protected by one common law, has been mentioned by some as a providential fact of great importance in the infancy of the Christian Church. Well, we have the same facility here. The British flag affords protection to all, from the Himalayas to Cape Comorin; only with this difference, that the exclusiveness of caste prevents that free intercourse between man and man which the Gospel so absolutely demands: and yet we have, to some extent, a set-off against this circumstance, that nothing could have been a greater hindrance to the acceptance of truth by the learned in those days than the fact that that truth was propounded by despised Jews. The prevalence of one language, the Greek, has been urged by some as another facility to the spread of Christianity. Well, what is more striking in the present day in India than the avidity with which English is studied in almost every city of this vast country? And as regards the population generally, there is that which has the pen of a ready writer, available by every Missionary Society; for the power of the printing press is bringing Christian truth within the reach of almost every man that can read, in all the various languages and tongues of India. Our Bible and Tract Societies are thus sending preachers to every house to speak "the wonderful works of God" to every man in the language wherein he was born. The dissatisfaction of men in general with the old systems of philosophy—the drifting off from the old moorings of established opinions and usages—the preparedness which was carrying on in so many towns by the exhibitions of the purer worship of the Jewish Synagogue, and the reading of the Old Testament Scriptures, are points which we must admit more or less smoothed the way for the progress of Gospel truth in the first ages of the Church. Now what is more strikingly evident than that in the present day the condition of India agrees in a remarkable manner with the state of things as above described? How seldom do we find a Hindu defending idolatry but on the ground of custom, or as the first step in the effort of the human mind to reach the Being who is incomprehensible, just as we require a ladder or steps to gain any point above us, admitting by this very argument that spiritual worship bears the higher character!

But, in judging of results, we must not omit to take duly into account the obstacles which the Gospel has had to overcome in this country, of which the western heathen world knew nothing. Here, from time immemorial, the evil effects of caste on the character of the people have grown with their growth and strengthened with their strength. Every social act has been cramped and fashioned in this unchangeable mould; all the finer sensibilities and emotions of our nature have become a mere name, except where family ties are concerned; enterprise in any shape for the good of others was an unknown thing; religious rites and worship had scarcely any reference to spiritual blessings here, or future blessings after death.

Then comes the question, has Christianity produced any change in these matters among its converts? I deliberately answer, it has. First of all, we have so many thousands of souls who have been reclaimed from idolatrous worship, who day by day hear the pure word of God, and profess a belief in the truths of the Gospel. Among these again, we have, more or less in every congregation, those who place a simple reliance on Christ for salvation, who love His name, and strive to serve Him in their humble spheres. Among these, the secret and faithful ones, we have those more enlivened and enlightened, who care for the salvation of others, and who make efforts to live not only for their own but for others' good.

The Tinnevelly Native Church has to mourn the removal, last August, of one of its most faithful pastors, whom to human judgment it seemed little able to spare, the Rev. V. Sandôsham, who died in Dohnavur, the same district where he first began to labour as a catechist. He was a singularly able preacher, unsurpassed, many think unequalled, by any of his countrymen. Mr. Sargent gives the following account of his last hours:—

hours of a Native
Pastor.

At times he lay as if he were insensible, then again he seemed to revive. On one occasion he asked in a significant manner, "Whose house is this?" The attendant replied, "It is yours." "But" he rejoined, "the Master of all says I am not to dwell here." Then, asking for his watch, and looking at it as if for the last time, he smiled significantly, and gave it back to be put in its place. Seeing his family in deep distress, he called his daughter close to him, and said, "Read that passage in Job about my Redeemer living." She turned over the leaves, but not remembering the chapter, he said, "Look to chapter xix., 25th verse." She found the place, and read the words, "I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth," &c. Then he told her how she was to act in caring for her brothers and sisters, and gave some other directions generally about his family affairs. He was fond of repeating the expression "Jesus, good Master." Next day, very early in the morning he asked to be taken into the church. He made this request so repeatedly by word and gesture, that at last they carried him there as he was, on his cot. He looked around at the chancel the pulpit and the desk, and then gave his hand to Moses (the catechist) as a token of farewell, adding, "The passage to heaven is now short." The people around began to weep; but he said, "Fear not, the Lord is with you;" and taking the hand of one of the converts who had lately come over, he added, "I am now hastening to Heaven." The change was visibly near, and Moses, the catechist, called on all present to join in prayer as he commended the soul of their dying Pastor into the hands of the Saviour whom he had loved and served. With sorrowful heart and weeping eyes they all knelt down in their little church, where oft they had heard the loving message of salvation from the lips of their pastor; and as they rose from their knees the last sigh was heard, and those lips were closed for ever, till the day come when the Redeemer shall be revealed, when his eyes shall see Him, and he shall praise Him for ever and ever.

PALAMCOTTA.

The Rev. E. Sargent, the Rev. T. Spratt, the Rev. A. H. Lash, and Mr. T. Kember were the European Missionary force at this place during the year under review. Mr. Sargent, jun., renders valuable help at the printing press. Mr. Sargent, sen., has since then returned home on well-earned furlough; and his duties have devolved upon the Rev. A. Dibb (formerly of Dohnavur), who has recently returned to South India after recruiting his health in England.

Native Church.

As will be seen by the extracts given below from Mr. Sargent's Report, the Native Christians of this district are ranged under four Pastorates, together with the congregation which belongs to the town of Palamcotta and which was ministered to by Mr. Sargent himself. The whole body is connected also with a Native Church Council, of which Mr. Sargent was the chairman. Mr. Sargent writes:—

Our present numbers in this division amount to 4,317, making an increase of 165. In our returns I think it needful to explain that the number given as children is great, owing to the fact that every young person is classed under that head until he or she marries. Consequently some five or six hundred of those classed as children in the list of this district are above fifteen years of age, and some of them even twenty. In two new places we have lately had nearly thirty families who have placed themselves under Christian instruction, but till we know more about them, and see that they really mean what they say, we have not included them in our present list. The return for Palamcotta Mission Station itself amounts to 686.

Alvarnéri, containing 1,506 souls, under the Rev. M. Perianáyagam.

Tinnevelly, containing 1,188 souls, under the Rev. J. John.

Areikullam, containing 453 souls, under the Rev. J. Samuel.

These pastors look to me for counsel and advice, but otherwise the management of their congregations and schools is confided to themselves. In my intercourse with them, the great point I have always endeavoured to impress upon them is their accountable-ness, not to man, but to the Great Shepherd who has appointed them to feed His sheep and cherish His lambs; and I believe they are all conscientious in the discharge of their duties, though there is not in all of them that earnest vigour of which our late brother, V. Sandosham, was so bright an example.

We have much to encourage us in the quiet, steadfast, and pious walk of several of our congregations; and when all is peaceful, there is a real pleasure in going about from congregation to congregation. But every now and then troubles arise in regard to tenant rights, and then the easy way in which false complaints can be got up and made successful against these poor people is truly distressing. Sometimes our people have themselves to blame for their troubles. Apprehensive of the landowner disturbing them in their present tenure, they set up claims for higher rights, and so a chronic state of agitation is kept up in some localities. These are things that produce much sorrow and anxiety in the mind of the Missionary.

Work among the Heathen.

Under this head Mr. Sargent writes as follows:—

Missionary value of the
Book.

Work among the heathen has been very efficiently carried on by a catechist employed within the last three months, a man full of Christian experience and zeal. Not a few have been stirred up to the consideration of the claims of the Gospel; but I am also encouraged by the fact, that not only catechists by profession, but others also, such as shopmen and butlers, are taking their part in the good work.—One instance I must mention. A youth, twenty years old or more, came to me a few weeks ago as I stood in my verandah, and said he wished to speak with me privately. I took him into my study, and saw that he was much excited, for he trembled all over. He said, “Sir, I have daily business which carries me to the house of a gentleman. The butler there is a Christian, and he has always been telling me about the Védam, insisting upon its being the only true religion. In a spirit of controversy I have always always opposed and gainsaid what he advanced, but some days ago he gave me a Prayer-book to read. I took it home and read it, and at once I felt a powerful conviction that, with such a book in my hands, I can never sin again as I did before. I have read many of my heathen books, but in none of them have I ever met with the smallest argument against sin or dissuasive from it; but this book is full of expressions against sin, and prayer for deliverance from it. I cannot rest any longer as I have been. This matter has so affected me, that I have lost all appetite for my food, and I feel as if I could think about nothing else. I must be a Christian: you must give me baptism.” He intimated at the same time the great dread he felt of his relations knowing his intentions: he could hardly feel sure of his life. I endeavoured to assure him that though his relations would not be pleased, it was absurd to think that they would injure him in the way he thought. I recommended his telling them fairly what he intended doing; to begin his profession by openly attending church; and I said that when he knew enough of the doctrines of the Gospel, I would baptize him. I prayed with him, and sent him away. He came to church, but his relations got round him like bees, and his timid spirit is unequal, I fear, to the combat. What pleased me much in this case was to have evidence thus brought before me that I was not the only Missionary in the place trying to do good. A butler was also at work, and I could not but wish him God speed. Another point so pleasing in this case was the impression made on the mind of the young man by the perusal of the Prayer-book. I trust I shall never forget, whenever I use that good old book, the argument which the young man drew from it.—I know also that one of our Native Christian shopkeepers has a class of six or seven young Hindus, who meet him every Sunday to converse about Christianity. Disturbed in their minds, they are trying to satisfy themselves with the fancies of the Brahmo Somâj, but the result is hopeful in favour of the truths which they learn about Christianity. His nephew, who had long resisted the conviction which intercourse with him had produced, determined, a few months ago, to embrace the Gospel; but, afraid of his other relatives, who are still heathen, he went to Madras, got baptized there, and returned to this place.

Educational Institutions.

The Vernacular Training Institution, containing forty-one students, and under Mr. Sargent's superintendence, has for its object the instruction and training of all the spiritual agents in the Tinnevely Mission and Native Church, as also of the masters of the purely Vernacular schools. These two branches of the work have been tentatively amalgamated. Two separate Institutions may again become necessary, even though both should be placed under one head. Meanwhile, it is the general and apparently well-grounded belief, that those Tamil Christians who are called to preach the Gospel in their own language, should receive theological instruction in their own language, however well acquainted they may be with English, and however desirable such acquaintance with English may be.

The English Institution has also a twofold aim. It supplies a superior general English education, combined with daily Scriptural instruction, for all youths, Christian and heathen, that are willing to pay the required fees; and, at the same time, it admits a class of Christian young men who undergo such special training as may qualify them to become teachers in English schools, whether on their own account or in connexion with the Mission. The number of students is 243, of whom 80 are Protestant Christians. The Principal is the Rev. T. Spratt, who is assisted by Mr. T. Kember, and by fifteen Native Christian masters. In secular education the progress has been good. In reference to matters of higher importance Mr. Spratt writes:—

Spiritual value of Missionary English Schools.

There can be, I think, no question but that dangers and temptations to subordinate higher Missionary results to success in the University examinations strongly offer themselves. But I submit that these temptations are only incidental, and to be viewed, not so much as objections against Government aid as reasons for increased watchfulness over our educational work both on our own part and on the part of those who have the management of the affairs of Missionary Societies. I see that it is proposed to attach to large Missionary schools in the Presidency towns Missionaries whose sole duty shall be to impart scriptural instruction. This seems a desirable arrangement; yet those Missionaries who feel an aptitude for secular teaching may, I think, devote much of their time to it without any compromise of their Missionary character, because the text-books prescribed by the syndicate of the Madras University afford ever-recurring opportunities for bringing religious and Christian truth before the minds of their pupils, and I am not sure whether the truth so prescribed does not come home with more power than when urged in connexion with a professed scripture lesson. It, so to speak, takes the pupil unawares, and reaches him when his mind is on the full stretch of attention. We know that during the set Bible lesson our non-Christian pupils not unfrequently encase themselves in prejudice, and bestow on the lesson the minimum of attention which the skill and earnestness of the teacher will permit.

Attention of pupils in a school arrested by the cha-
the Saviour

In the scriptural instruction of my own class I have persevered with the plan of endeavouring to reach the heart and conscience, rather than to inform the intellect. In the course of my expositions to my own pupils, the character of the Saviour has stood out more intelligibly before my own mind in its sublime and holy and Divine features, and I seemed almost to have a new power of expression given to me as I perceived that the attention of both heathen and Christians was arrested by the description. From one of our Christian students I heard by letter, when on the Pulney Hills, that my Bible lessons had often “gone through” him; but as yet the heathen have “given no sign.”

Our hopes were, indeed, raised at one time by the declared intention of one of the class to profess himself a Christian. The report of his intention was brought to me by two or three of our Christian youths, and it was truly gratifying to witness the eagerness and anxiety and sympathy they displayed on behalf of their heathen fellow-student. The youth himself came to me several times, and I deemed it only right to put very decidedly before him the duty of "counting the cost." I endeavoured to correct any false notion he might possibly entertain as to the footing on which he would be placed after he became a Christian; for several have been keenly disappointed after their baptism, because they did not experience all that attention to which they thought themselves entitled for becoming Christians. I hoped from what I saw that the young man would have had the moral courage to declare himself on the side of Christ, but the first announcement to his friends of his wishes and intentions was the signal for the fiercest opposition. His brother declared that he would "kill him" sooner than let him be a Christian. This youth's courage evidently failed him, and he has now left the place with his brother.

An almost-Christian driven back by threatened persecution

The Rev. A. H. Lash and Mrs. Lash continue their labours in the Sarah Tucker Institution. The great encouragement that has been graciously vouchsafed (encouragement at least of an outward character) will appear by the extracts herewith given from Mr. Lash's Annual Letter:—

Course of Instruction.—Few changes have been made in the course of instruction during the past year. I have, as before, devoted my attention especially to Bible teaching, training, and composition in the vernacular and English, in the first class; securing progress in the other branches by a system of bi-monthly examination. I have observed considerable improvement in some of the students in their power of collecting information for themselves and imparting it by means of lessons, or written compositions. The "Bible essays," and the "lesson sketches," which the students have to prepare, I find very useful, both in teaching the girls how to educate themselves, and stimulating them to acquire knowledge. I have paid considerable attention to English, as an increasing number of the students are sought for in marriage by English-speaking agents, and in higher class schools a knowledge of English is most useful.

The Students.—During the past year fifteen girls have left us, and thirty have been admitted; our present number, including the three pupil teachers, is seventy-three. These are not all in what are termed the institution classes; the nine who form the lowest class are below our standard in age and qualification; but we find it desirable to have children of every standard of attainments in the Institution, to afford the students opportunities of practising teaching.

The Affiliated Schools.—Under this head we have to report encouraging progress. During the year eleven new schools have been established; one school, connected with the affiliated schools the previous year, has been given up, as the attendance was unsatisfactory, and the teacher had to be removed. We have at present fifteen schools thus connected with the Institution, with 374 names on the books, and an average daily attendance of 275; 151 of these children are heathen; in these numbers sixteen little boys are included. The number of female teachers employed in these schools and the Institution is twenty-one; all these, except three, have been in the Sarah Tucker Institution.

Importance of female
education.

Four of these new schools are established in the large heathen towns of Tinnevely, Strivagûndam, and Ambasamûdrum; these schools are principally attended by caste heathen girls. This is a step in advance, and, I trust, will usher in a better state of things in the Tinnevely Mission. It has been a fact greatly deplored in the history of our Missions, that so few of the inhabitants of the large towns have been induced to embrace Christianity. For example, in the three towns mentioned above, where the Gospel has been preached for more than forty years, there are not 100 Christians, exclusive of the Mission agents. Our converts for the most part have been from the lower classes and the small villages. The inhabitants of the large towns are by no means ignorant; thousands of them have been instructed in Mission schools, and have a remarkable knowledge of the Scriptures, and a strong bias towards Christianity. They frankly acknowledge the absurdities of their creed, but they are withheld from taking the final step by a thousand ties. And perhaps the most powerful of these is the influence of their female relations; for while the man has advanced, the woman has stood still; he has learnt to appreciate to some extent the worthlessness of his former superstitions, the narrowness of caste prejudices, the simplicity, beauty, holiness, and truth of the religion of Christ; but she is still in the dark. On her these considerations have exercised no influence. All her power, which is very considerable, is employed on the side of darkness. But now, as I said before, there are signs of a change. Until this year it has been found impossible to establish girls' schools in the large heathen towns. Mr. Sargent assured me he had tried in vain to establish a girls' school in Tinnevely. Female education is so contrary to all former Hindû notions and customs that it cannot be forced upon the people; any movement in such a direction would only excite suspicion and insure defeat. They must apply for it themselves. I think they are beginning to do so now. There are signs, not in Tinnevely only, but throughout India, that such is the case. Our part will be to supply the want, as it begins to be felt, by establishing girls' schools in all directions.

Further to illustrate this change I will mention one or two circumstances which attended the opening of some of the above schools.

At Tinnevely I was unable to be present at the opening of the first school. The heathen Tahsildar, however, attended, and spoke strongly to those assembled on the advantages of female education; he also sent his daughter to the school. Fifty girls are now on the books of the Tinnevely (town) schools.

In the town of Strivagûdam, last year, Mr. Simmons and I vainly endeavoured to establish a girls' school. Mr. Simmons even moved a schoolmaster into the town, in order that his wife might be available as a schoolmistress; and I, having visited the town, thought the school was established, and mentioned it in my report; but it fell to the ground. We found it impossible to procure a suitable place for a schoolroom, and the inhabitants would not send their girls. This year, however, the tide has turned: through the kindness of Miss Usborne we were enabled to build a schoolroom, and last month Mr. Simmons and I, having given previous notice, met the principal inhabitants of the town in the room. The Mûnsif, Tahsildar, and other leading men of the town, welcomed us very kindly, and, after speaking to those assembled in favour of female education, they thanked us for the trouble we had taken to benefit their town. There are now twenty-five children attending this school, which is under the charge of one of our trained mistresses.

I hope, with God's blessing, to open several more schools during the coming year, and to provide work for some ten or twelve girls who have obtained Government certificates, and will leave us in March next. I think, if possible, we ought to open at least ten new schools every year, and thus by degrees bring the rising generation of females in Tinnevely under the influences of the Gospel. I am also anxious to admit more young girls into the boarding classes of the Institution. Owing to arrangements we have made, we can now accommodate ninety with comfort. So many districts are now being left without resident Missionaries, that the Institution is of growing importance for the higher education of the daughters of Mission Agents, as well as for the training of students sent from the boarding schools.

The Committee will be thankful to hear that the testimony borne by Missionaries, Native Clergymen, and others, as to the efficiency and good conduct of our young trained Mistresses, has been in every case satisfactory; and I have myself, on the whole, been satisfied with the results of my periodical examinations of the new schools.

General.—In addition to the mistresses mentioned above, six are employed by the other Missionaries. One conducts a school in Ceylon, and Mr. Clark was kind enough to forward me a letter from the coffee planters, who have established the school, speaking highly of her efficiency and zeal. We have had applications from Madras, Madura, Arcot, and Ootacamund for mistresses, but have been unable to supply them, as the applicants were unable to offer employment to husband as well as wife, and it would not have been safe to send unmarried girls. It would be well if we could get together a class of respectable widows, and train them as mistresses, in order that we might supply schools at a distance.

As regards primary education, Mr. Sargent is able to report favourably of the schools throughout the district. It is an interesting fact that his own boys' boarding-school, containing forty-two children, is supported entirely by subscriptions from Australia.

MENGNÂNAPURAM.

The Rev. J. D. Thomas is the Missionary of this station. In the district named from it, there are 8,566 Christians (with 1,690 Communicants) in fifteen Pastorates connected with the Church Council, while 4,109 Christians (with 461 Communicants) are under the Missionary's own supervision. The adult baptisms for the year were comparatively few; twenty for the Pastorates, and fourteen for the Mission. Mr. Thomas's position as Chairman of the Council enables him to report of the whole district collectively.

Mr. Thomas thus speaks of the Native Church.

The District Church Council has met regularly four times in the year. There is no doubt that many of the members appreciate their work more and more, and take an intelligent part in the transaction of business, and are, I would hope, acquiring habits of self-reliance and independent action. But one longs to see more self-extension in the Native Church.

With reference to the sums of money collected during the year, it is necessary to mention that there are various funds and objects for which collections are made. Sometimes these have been united together, and the aggregate sum has been regarded as the amount collected by the people for "religious objects." Again, at times, only some of these, or perhaps only one, has been mentioned; so that, in comparing one year with another, apparent anomalies arise and cause uneasiness. The amount collected at the annual sangams in the different villages during the year 1871 is Rs. 2,760 . 7 . 10. This may be regarded as the "sustentation fund," and consists of the voluntary donations of the people towards the maintenance of religion. Of this sum Rs. 2,000 have been voted to the Native Church Fund for the support of pastors and teachers; the balance, Rs. 760 . 7 . 10., to the United Districts Church Building Fund. Whenever a new church is required, or an old one needs repairing, the people of that village give a certain proportion of the expenses, according to their circumstances, either in work, materials, or cash, and the other portion is paid out of the fund in hand. Thus the churches are built and repaired by the people of the district, without aid from the Church Missionary Society, and become the property, not of an individual congregation, but of the district as a body corporate.

The most regular objects for which subscriptions are annually raised may be brought under five heads. First, the "Sangam;" second, the "Church Collections," under which might be included "Communion Offertory," "Poor Fund," "Thank-Offerings," "Marriage Fees," and "Church Lighting;" third, "Building and Repairing of Churches and Schoolrooms, and Gifts to Churches;" fourth, "Bible and Tract Societies;" fifth, "School Fees."

The Christians of the Megnânapuram Mission and Pastorates are, for the most part, orderly and steadfast in the outward profession of Christianity; but there are a few instances of those who have been led, when suffering from severe continued illness, into the sin of sacrificing to evil spirits and offering to devils.—One man, the son of an old catechist, and who had himself borne a good character, was taken ill with a long and trying sickness. He had used native and English remedies, but without beneficial results. At last, in an evil moment, he was persuaded to give an offering to a demon. He was put out of the congregation. He grew worse and worse, and for a time the hand of the Lord seemed to be heavy upon him. His body was worn to a mere skeleton, his worldly welfare failed, his friends forsook him, and his enemies evil entreated him. While in this wretched condition he was led to feel the heinousness of his sin, and I hope truly repented. His anxiety to rejoin the Christian Church was very great. He always used to come and sit down on the door-step of the church, listening and taking part in the services of the sanctuary. Once, when I was spending the day at a village near his, he managed to drag himself to the place of worship where I was officiating. He came to me afterwards with tears in his eyes, acknowledged his sin, and how the Lord had punished him for it, and begged to be re-admitted to the congregation. The catechist gave an encouraging account of him. I felt it was no longer necessary to keep him out, and gladly received him back, after due warning and admonition. He was greatly rejoiced, and all went smoothly. At length, his sickness increased, and the impress of death was upon him. At this time the catechist visited him frequently, and on one occasion, while speaking of the nearness of the last enemy, he said, "You have been very sinful, and now your end is approaching: what is your hope?" His reply was, "Yes, I know I have sinned greatly, but I trust in the merits of my Saviour, who died for me; that is my hope." Shortly after this he passed away happily, trusting in Jesus.

The following passages from Mr. Thomas's Annual Letter will be read with interest:—

I have had a little trouble this year in one of our oldest congregations with reference to caste. The people objected to a schoolmaster whom I had appointed, as they regarded him of lower caste than themselves; and they absolutely refused to allow his wife, a girl educated in a boarding-school, to draw water at "their well," and made a compact together that they would neither come to church nor allow their children to attend school ~~unless~~ I removed the master. As the village itself and the well in question are the property of the Mission, I was determined not to give in, and immediately sent for the Deacon Pastor of the place and the ringleaders of the disaffection; spoke to them seriously of the folly and sin of their acting in this unchristian way, told them that the schoolmaster to whom they objected was a fellow-pupil with their pastor in the boarding school, and had learnt in the same Institution; that they had each eaten food cooked by the other; that I could not for a moment tolerate such conduct; that I held the pastor responsible; and that if there should be any recurrence of it, I should recommend his instant removal, and leave the young schoolmaster in the village to protect the Mission property, and have service with such people as were willing to attend. This, I am happy to say, had the desired effect, and things have since gone on smoothly. The schoolmaster has a large and flourishing school, his wife draws water at the well, and the people come to church as usual.

Estimate by a heathen judge of the position of a
teacher.

I would here also mention a case showing a heathen official's estimate of the position of a Christian Teacher. One of our catechists had to appear as a witness before him in the Court, and had, as is not unusual, to wait a long time before he was called up. The presiding official saw him standing idle, and asked him if he had brought his Bible with him. On receiving a negative reply, he reprimanded him for his neglect, and for losing the opportunity of proclaiming the Gospel to the assembled crowd outside; and said further, "I dare say you envy my position and salary, but yours is the higher office: you serve the King of kings, and look for your better reward hereafter; whereas mine is only temporary." He had been educated in a Christian school, and knew what the truth was. Doubtless there are many like him, who may perhaps be almost persuaded to become Christians, but are fast bound by the trammels and fetters of caste and the world from confessing the Saviour before men. It is very lamentable to think of the very many highly educated natives, many of them holding high positions under Government, who are without hope and without God, tossed about on the boundless, restless sea of infidelity.

Of the School department Mr. Thomas reports:—

Education has been vigorously pushed forward in our vernacular day-schools and in the boarding-schools. I have not thought it advisable to place the boys' boarding-school, or most of the village day-schools, on the result system of grants-in-aid. There is no doubt that for a given time of, say, three or four years at most, the system pays remarkably well; but, owing to the standards being difficult, it is necessary to cram the pupils to a very high pressure, in order to make them pass a new standard every year. There are four standards, which a pupil is expected to pass in as many years. If he misses going up one year, he loses the grant for it; if he has been successful in each standard, he is debarred from going up again. He is supposed to be sufficiently educated by this course of four years' cramming; but surely we cannot consider this all the education he wants. It is well known that this forcing system does not produce such permanent results as a more thorough, steady grounding in knowledge. This I look upon as the great defect of the result system.

SUVISÊSHAPURAM.

No Report has been received of the work in this district. From other sources the Committee learn that Mr. Harcourt has met with many difficulties, which he is strenuously combating. They ask for prayer on his behalf.

PANEIVILEI.

In this district the Native Christians are 2,282, the Communicants 457, and the number of adult baptisms through the year 32. The children at school number 683 boys and 119 girls. The Native Agents are three Native Pastors and forty-eight unordained Teachers, besides six Schoolmistresses.

Mr. Simmons' very interesting Annual Letter is subjoined very nearly in extenso :—

The prosperity of the Native Church depends, under God's blessing, chiefly upon the character of the native agency. Native Pastors are of course picked men; they are chosen after a long and thorough trial. They are men above the average in grace and other qualifications. It would not therefore be fair to take them as a standard from which to draw conclusions respecting the entire native agency. I am very glad to be able to state that the conduct of the three pastors of the district has been such as to justify the confidence placed in them. I believe that they do their work honestly and humbly as unto the Lord, and that they can each in their respective measure say, "The love of Christ constraineth" me. I do not say that they have not individual failings or some of the national weaknesses. What European Missionary is free from such imperfections? Of two or three catechists, I may say I think that they are worthy of the higher office, wherever the district requires such an increase of the pastorate. One has been recommended by the Church Council for Ordination at the Bishop's next visit. Of the remainder, I hope well concerning some, though they do not manifest qualifications such as we wish to see in a pastor: a few are too old or uneducated, or otherwise deficient in character. Speaking of them as a body, there is much to be thankful for, though there remains much room for growth of spirituality and singleness of eye in the Lord's work. A few need the spur, and some are scarcely fit for their work; but as they have served the Mission according to their power for many years, it would be rather hard to turn them off. I wish I had more evidence or hope than I have, that many of them do their work from love to Christ, and from a real love to souls. I fear that Government Grants have had a great influence in secularizing our masters, or at least in making them think much more about high salaries than probably they otherwise would have done. It must be confessed however that Government connexion has stimulated them and us to larger educational results. Formerly the schoolmaster often taught very little besides the catechetical and scriptural lessons. I am sorry to add that I have had to suspend some for immoral conduct during the year.

The importance of the Church Council as a means of progress is increasing. I am happy to say that the unpaid members have shown much more interest this year. I endeavour to let them feel that they have a real power in organizing and conducting the affairs of the Native Church. These councils are producing a kind of reform which is not very popular with the paid agents. Formerly the catechist or schoolmaster was a sort of deputy of the Missionary, the executor of his will, sometimes in things temporal as well as spiritual. Thus he became invested with considerable authority; and this was not always wisely or lawfully employed. Power is often intoxicating. Now the tendency of the Council is to transfer this power from the agent to the lay members. The danger is that those into whose hands it is passing may become intoxicated, and use their influence to no better purpose.

There is no case in this district of an unpaid person performing the duties of a catechist or schoolmaster. A paid agent seldom if ever can be placed to advantage in his own village. But it is not to be inferred that unpaid members of congregations are doing nothing for the Native Church. In all congregations, from the least to the greatest, there are some who are doing good in various ways. The annual reports of the catechists lying before me bear ample testimony to this fact. They also show that there has been growth, not only in individuals, but also in congregations.

An experienced catechist writes of a congregation, concerning which three or four years ago I wrote "We see no signs of life in it," "They manifest great interest in the means of grace, and their zeal seems continually to increase." Another writes, "The Scriptures, which say, 'My Word shall not return unto Me void,' have been fulfilled in this congregation. During the year fourteen adults have been baptized, and nine have been admitted to the Lord's table. When these people came to Christianity, in 1860, almost all were drunkards: now a drunken man is not seen. Out of 162, 108 are baptized, and 26 are Communicants. Though many of them return home late from the fields, they wait anxiously for prayers, and we can hope that they 'worship God in spirit and in truth.'"

We have had more than usual difficulty in collecting money this year. This has arisen, not from less inclination to give on the part of the people, but from the great scarcity of money, owing to the low price of cotton, jaggery, and paddy, and from lack of work for the poor.

In the whole district there are twenty-six more Communicants than at the end of last year. Thirty-two adults also have been baptized; nearly all of these have been several years under instruction, and have been admitted to the sacred rite after giving reasons to hope that they are rooted in the Christian faith. In most, the measure of spiritual life has been small, but it does not seem to be scriptural to wait for full life ere admitting to the Church. No new congregation has been formed. Here and there individuals and families have joined existing ones. Some, whose steadfastness we suppose sufficiently tried, have been put on our register; so that there are 139 more in this year's returns as under instruction than last year.

The Gospel has been preached to the heathen. I have itinerated through all the district, accompanied by five or six catechists. We spent a fortnight in February, and again in September, in so doing. Mr. Isaac (one of the Native Pastors) and some catechists also spent ten days on a special tour. Besides these tours, all the agents have visited the heathen. Every village is apportioned to a catechist, and ought to be preached in, few or many times. We have sold 300 portions of Scripture and 2,000 tracts almost entirely to heathens; yet my experience does not afford any tangible proof that the masses, or even small portions, are visibly approaching the kingdom of God.

PANNIKULLAM AND SURANDEI.

The Rev. J. C. Mill was in charge of these districts during the year 1871. The Native Christians of the two districts number respectively 3,026 and 2,908, the communicants, 520 and 459, adult baptisms for the year 14 and 17.

Mr. Mill thus speaks of the congregations:—

Pannikullam district has ninety-six congregations, Surandei district fifty-five. The oldest are not always the most satisfactory although the more confirmed Christian characters are to be found in them. They (the latter) are generally such as have very little to say for themselves. Like myrtle leaves, they must be pressed to let out their sweet odour of Christ. Some with whose Christian talk I had been pleased some time ago, have grieved me by their inconsistent desecration of the Sabbath-day, and by hindering rather than promoting peace and concord. Each catechist has several Christian congregations to attend to, besides preaching to the heathen. The congregations among which the catechists reside are under daily instruction; other places obtain as much attention as it is possible to secure to them. In good congregations the Sunday attendance is pretty regular, in others rather fitful. Signs of healthy congregational life are seldom exhibited except in some of the very best. For example, in Pandavermangalam (Pannikullam district), and in Ukkran Kottei (Surandei district), whatever disturbs the spiritual welfare is sure to be resented by the whole body. The faulty member is brought before the elders, a panjayat of inquiry is instituted, and fair judgment is ordinarily awarded. Either the peccant member is willing to mend, in which case he is pardoned; or else as a festering limb he is cut off, that the virus may not spread.

A Native Church Council has now been established at Surandei. As regards the Church Fund, Mr. Mill regrets that he cannot report progress in Christian liberality.

There have been some accessions from the heathen:—

Two villages have been added to the visible Church since last February—Covinthapuram, of 222 souls, and Alempetti, of 62 souls. Both have now stood trial for several months and are doing well. On the spot where the village idol stood on a mound, a modest prayer-shed has been raised in Alempetti. Covinthapuram had a little temple which has been appropriated to Church purposes. Cappilianpetti is another village which has been added only of late, and properly belongs to next year's Report.

The Pannikullam Station Church spoken of in the last Report as contemplated, has now been commenced.

NALLUR.

This district is under the care of two Native Pastors (Rev. D. Gnânamuttu and Rev. A. Samuel) connected with a Church Council, of which the Rev. T. Spratt is the Chairman. When it is stated that in the Nallur district there are 103 villages having Christians, and 31 congregations, it will be seen that each of these brethren must have a parish of considerable size. Yet as the total number of adherents barely exceeds 3,000, and each pastor is assisted by a sufficient staff of catechists and readers, the present arrangement does not seem undesirable.

Among the 3,004 Native Christians of Nallur, 449 are communicants. Sixteen adult baptisms have taken place during the year.

On the slow increase in the number of Native Christians, Mr. Spratt remarks :—

I have endeavoured to learn what the agents considered the explanation of this fact. The general tenor of their remarks has been that the people have come to understand more of the character and requirements of Christianity, and specially that it is not designed to assist them in their worldly troubles. They therefore feel that there is no secular inducement to attach themselves to the Missionary. It is also thought that Christianity has suffered considerably in the eyes of the heathen through the unworthy and overbearing conduct of some of the agents in the early history of the Nallur district.

Yet there have been some accessions. Of one instance, the Missionary gives an interesting account :—

I have felt a special interest in the people of the village of Satpat, and I notice this case particularly because it is, I think, a representative case. A number of weavers were brought to my house one night by a catechist of Mr. Sargent's district. He told me that the men wished to place themselves under instruction; but no other reason could be given for this wish either by him or by the people, than that in various villages a number of their caste had become Christians, and that it would therefore be convenient and pleasant for them to be Christians also. I suspected there might be other motives, but I have not discovered any. I have of course seen them frequently, and I have always had pleasure from my visits to them. Women as well as men manifested great willingness to learn, and I was gratified to hear women who could not read repeat well the Creed the Lord's Prayer and several of the Commandments, and that after they had been only a short time under teaching. It is now upwards of eighteen months since they first came to see me. During this whole period they have suffered constant annoyance, I will not call it persecution, from their heathen neighbours. At first they would not allow them to put up a Prayer-house; a mob came together and pulled down what had been put up. Months elapsed before the authorities empowered the people to build. This second attempt was also opposed, but this brought punishment on the offenders. Next the poor people had six or seven of their houses burnt down, presumably by enemies, and last of all they were fined twenty-one rupees on a vexatious charge of having gone in procession along a road they ought not to have passed. With what justice this fine was imposed will appear from the fact that it was remitted on appeal to the European magistrate. On the 20th November, I baptized those families that seemed most prepared and most anxious for the rite, in all nineteen souls. I chose the occasion of the opening—for divine service and for a school—of a new building at Ambasamûdram, erected through the exertions of the Christian Thâsildar. The building was full, and each door and window was crowded by heathen spectators. Mr. Sargent gave the address on the occasion. My hope that these new Christians will not only continue steadfast, but make progress in Christian knowledge and duty, is greatly strengthened by the fact that they have continued firm in the midst of troubles. From us they got little or no help. I abstained on principle from giving any. We have in this instance an example of what has occurred again and again in this as in other Missions, of persons becoming Christians (in the first instance) with very little knowledge of what it meant, but who, after instruction, became both firm and intelligent disciples.

SIVAGÂSI.

This district consists of three large Pastorates: Sivagâsi proper (Rev. D. Devapprasâdham), Vâgeikulam, and Panciadi-patti. Mr. Spratt, of Palamcotta, is the Chairman of the Church Council. Some of the advantages of the Church Council are thus described by one of the Pastors:—

Advantages of a Church Council.

Our Church Council has regularly assembled four times this year in our respective stations. It is calculated not only to afford us an opportunity to know the state of our respective districts, but also to act as cordials to our drooping spirits, from the social meeting and conversation we have on such occasions. Our special thanks are due to Mr. Spratt, who, in addition to his own immediate duties in the Nallur district and in his English Institution, has also very kindly attended each council, cheering and refreshing our spirits with his presence and advice. It is, indeed, a treat to us, placed as we are in a corner of the district, separated from the society of Europeans or English-speaking natives, to welcome him once in three months in our stations, and have free conversation with him, mentioning to him our trials and difficulties.

Vâgeikulam.

The Rev. V. Dêvanâyagam is the Native Pastor and Evangelist of this division. He is (properly speaking) not an agent of the Society, but an officer of the Native Church connected with the Sivagâsi Church Council. The Committee are gratified that there should be officers of the Tamil Church holding such a responsible position. It is most desirable that those brethren to whom God has given ability to work on a large scale, should find scope for their powers in connexion with their own body, and not be compelled to look for it in the service of a foreign Society. How can the Native Church rise, if its best men are taken away from it? It should be borne in mind that, in the Church Missionary Society's nomenclature, the distinction between a Native Pastor and an Assistant Missionary is that the latter receives his pay from the Society, and the former from the Native Church Fund. Mr. Dêvanâyagam has nineteen native agents under his superintendence. Mr. Dêvanâyagam writes respecting the Native Christians :—

The number, as well as the general aspect of my Christians, is almost the same as in 1870. The number for that year was 1,110, and there are only twenty-three more for the present year. The communicants have increased from 115 to 127. There has, indeed, been a recent accession from three or four heathen villages; but I am reluctant to add their numbers to the present total, as I am not sufficiently satisfied with the stability of the character of these new comers.

There are in this district nearly 120 villages within an area of 200 square miles, and it is my ambition to see almost every one of them becoming a Christian village, having, at least, a few Christians in each, who might prove centres of light. I have already sixty such villages, in each of which there are a few Christians, and it is my earnest prayer that my hopes may soon be realized.

As regards my congregations, though I have to mourn over many who, like the way-side, stony-ground and thorny-ground hearers, are careless, unsteady, and worldly; yet I am thankful to say there are others who, like the good-ground hearers, are growing in grace and in the knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ, exhibiting in their daily life and character the fruits of the Spirit. The liberality of the people is one of the most hopeful and pleasing signs of their increase in grace and knowledge. Considering the peculiar scarcity of money this year, owing to the failure of the cotton crops, and the price of that article falling in the market, the people have given as far as their means could afford; and, in a few instances, even beyond that. One Christian gave the large sum of Rs. 21; though driven to extremity this year from causes mentioned above and from one or two other causes, he added a little more to his usual sum, quoting the words of the Apostle regarding the Churches of Macedonia.

Liberality
of Tamil
Christians.

Of the nineteen helpers above referred to, six are Readers, and the other thirteen Schoolmasters. They are well reported of. From the following extract it will be seen that Mr. Dêvanâyagam has unpaid helpers also:—

During this year two of my leading Christians were removed from this world of sin and sorrow. They gave me every reason to believe that they died in the Lord, having during their life-time lived on Him. One of the two was one of my unpaid agents, and was in the habit of preaching to his heathen neighbours and holding prayer meetings with the Christians in his village. It is my wish and prayer that I should be helped in the district chiefly by unpaid catechists. Thanks be to God that I have already some such, who render me the same help that a paid catechist does.

Preaching among the heathen has met with encouragement:—

I told you, in my last annual letter, that a good many people had become inquirers at a village called Viakavandanpatti, through the voluntary exertions of one man. I am now thankful to say that I had the privilege of baptizing a few months ago nine of these adults, together with five children, in one night, in the house of the Headman, as there is no church in the village. A pressing application is now made to baptize a few more in the same village.

The message of the Cross welcomed by the heathen in North Tinnevely.

There is one circumstance to which I cannot but refer without feelings of the deepest thankfulness—namely, that the bitter feeling of opposition exhibited by the heathen to the preaching of the Gospel is beginning to wear away. Wherever we go with the message of the Cross, we are welcomed as their friends and well-wishers; and in many places we are listened to with such great earnestness and attention, that we sometimes imagine we are preaching to Christian congregations.

Paneiadipatti.

This Pastorate is under the care of the Rev. J. Cornelius. This Native brother's annual letter gives so clear and succinct an account, that it is subjoined without comment and with but little omission.

My sphere of labour has been considerably enlarged since I wrote last. In consequence of Mr. Meadows' departure to his native land, nearly the whole of that portion of the district which was under his immediate oversight was placed under my care. As the present Chairman of the Church Council lives in Palamcotta, fifty miles distant from the Mission Station, I have to go and see after the boarding-schools in Sâchiapuram, besides visiting the congregations, &c. My sub-district at present extends from Virdupatti on the north to Coilpatti on the south, from Arupukottei-road on the east to Sevepatty on the west—that is, about thirty-four miles by thirty. It takes me more than two weeks to go round the whole.

I have under my pastoral care no less than 1,342 souls scattered in not less than seventy-five villages, and assembling for Divine service in thirty-three Churches. Nearly half of these are baptized, and more than one-fourth of the baptized are communicants. In ministering to their spiritual wants I am helped by sixteen catechists and readers, sixteen schoolmasters, and five schoolmistresses. The catechists and schoolmasters come to me alternately on Fridays, for mutual edification. On these occasions we converse about our work, consult about our difficulties, and strengthen each other, as we best can, by reading God's Word and by prayer. I also try at these meetings to impart such instruction as will be of use to them in their important work. This year we went over the first seven chapters of the Epistle to the Hebrews, the first twenty-five chapters of Genesis, and the first portion of the Book of Psalms. I need not say how beneficial these meetings have been to our souls; often, very often, we felt the presence of God in our midst, and acknowledged that it was good for brethren to come together in the name of the Lord. Our bi-monthly meetings, which bring together all the Mission agents, schoolmasters as well as catechists, have had the same happy tendency; not a few feel sorry that they could not come together oftener owing to the distance.

Of the congregations I have nothing very particular to say. There is apparent a general growth in grace, a deeper hatred of sin, and a wider separation from the ungodly. Heathen marriages, drunkenness, quarrels, desecration of the Sabbath, &c., are on the decrease.—I have been very earnestly praying that God would bring back some of the backsliders. This year I have an answer to my prayer. I have had the joy of witnessing three or four backsliders return to the fold they had forsaken, and with tears begging to be received into the Church.—The persecution I referred to in my last annual letter has been growing. I am thankful to add, however, that the Christians in Kanampatti received grace to be faithful under the trials, and to show that the seed did not fall on rocky ground. May these persecutions redound more and more to their spiritual growth, and to the glory of their Heavenly Father!

In two or three places we had accession from the heathen—more than fifty souls have placed themselves under instruction. As most of those are related to the Christians in my place (Panciadipatti) they will be under less temptation to forsake the profession they have adopted.

I am glad I can speak more hopefully of my schools this year; they have increased in number and in attendance. At one place, where there is a large school, and the boys are chiefly heathen, there was some months ago a car-festival with an idol procession; the parents, as usual, took their children with them to the Pagoda, but not a few were surprised to see them refusing to fall down and worship the idol and even rub ashes. "These idols," said they, "are blocks and stones, it is folly to fall down before them, there is only one true God."

TRAVANCORE.

General.

The Travancore Mission presents a cheering picture of outward and visible progress. The Native Christians have increased by 1,500 in the last twelve months, and now aggregate 14,500 persons. Of this number, 9,600, with twelve Native Pastors, are in connexion with the Church Council. The spiritual state of the Christians in the Travancore Pastors may be gathered from the fact, that one-fourth of the whole are communicants, and that their numbers have been replenished during the year by 470 adult baptisms. The Native Christians connected with the Travancore Mission are mainly of two divisions. (1.) Those who have come over from the Syrian Church. (2.) Converts from heathenism formerly belonging to the Chogan and Pulayan (or slave) castes. Slavery exists now in Travancore only in a modified form. The Chogans are a Hindu caste, holding the same controverted position as the Shanars of Tinnevely. Some from the Nairs, who are generally regarded as a higher class, have also been brought into the Christian Church. It may be added that caste feeling between Christians is much weaker in the Church of Travancore than in that of Tinnevely, owing to the fact that in Travancore, Christians have always been looked upon as forming a caste by themselves.

Within the ancient Syrian Church of Travancore an evangelical movement has arisen, and appears to be gaining strength. Several of its Ministers have discontinued superstitious usages, and are earnest preachers of the Gospel. Similar favourable indications, however, are not observed among the Syrians of Kunnankullam and the northern part of Cochin.

The Native Church of Travancore has recently lost one of its most efficient pastors, the Rev. I. Eapen. Mr. Johnson, of Allepie, who kindly nursed him at his own house during the last few weeks of his life, thus notices this sad event, writing on December 6, 1871:—

It is my painful duty to have to inform you that the soul of our dear brother, the Rev. I. Eapen, entered his rest this morning at six o'clock. I can truly say his end was peace. He asked me yesterday if I saw any change in him. I replied I did; that he was nearer parting with the cross of the world and nearer the crown of life. He smiled, and, after lingering some time, he asked the hour, after which he fell asleep. He was only thirty-four years of age, and had been in the ministry seven years. He leaves a widow and two young children. I have enjoyed being by his death-bed, and listening to his words of faith in Christ, and gratitude to all those who have helped him to live a life of faith on the Son of God. His loss will be great to the native church, as his natural abilities were of no ordinary standard, and he was universally loved and respected.

TRAVANCORE PASTORATES.

It has already been observed that the number of Native Christians represented in the Travancore Church Council is 9,600, and that these are cared for by twelve Native Pastors; that about one-fourth of the whole number are communicants, and that 470 adults have been added to them by baptism during the year. "It is just a year and two months," says a Native Minister, the Rev. G. Curian, "since our Pastorates and Church Council were established. The scheme is so much appreciated by the pastors and the intelligent portion of their flock, that they are at a loss to understand why such a good plan was not projected earlier." The chairman of the Church Council is the Rev. H. Baker; while the Rev. R. H. Maddox acts as the treasurer. These two brethren reside, one in the northern, the other in the southern division, of the district over which the pastorates range. They are, therefore, able to assist the Native Ministers. The (ultimate) ecclesiastical superior of the pastors is the Bishop of Madras. The practical working of the system is thus further described by Mr. Baker:—

As Chairman of the Church Council my duty is to convene the native pastors and the lay delegates alternately at Cottayam and Mavelikara, when Mr. Maddox, our secretary, joins us, and then subjects are discussed which relate to the whole Native Church, the raising of funds, rules for order, fees, &c., in order that no confusion or opposition of principle may arise, and that all may work on one agreed plan, and be thus an example for our successors hereafter and in God's time for the Syrian Church also. Mr. Maddox is general paymaster, treasurer, and bank accountant, and collects returns for the Church Mission. In our general meetings we humble ourselves before God, seeking His help with the aid of the old Litany of England; and after our deliberations are over, we dine together quite in the native style with curry and rice. Hitherto we have been, I think, decidedly making advance, both clergy and delegates speaking freely, and one or two matters have been checked, by which the efficiency of the pastorate work might have been injured.

On reviewing the subject of Pastoral work, I am fully of opinion that when such men as some whom I could name have proved themselves able and willing to guide a few congregations, and when they have able laymen to stand by them—while the presence of experienced European Missionaries will be necessary for some time—yet as much as possible the idea of these men being in any way curates should be done away. I also believe that native deacons, and even men in full orders, but such as cannot stand on their own judgment, might with very great advantage be curates or assistant missionaries in those districts where large numbers of small congregations require the European Missionary to neglect Mission work in order to look after church duties. All ordained natives might first be tried in this way, and benefit by the energy and regular habits of the English Missionary. Let the groups of pastorates be guided by the counsel of individual Missionaries of standing; but they all unitedly should form one Council, and be paid from one fund; union and strength accrue from it. In my own division I have some native clergy of large experience and powers, who have been trained to the work as catechists, and have managed congregations of from 400 to 800 people themselves with credit, keeping those committed to their trust together, increasing the number steadily, and having meetings of various kinds from house to house. To these have been assigned districts having a radius of a few miles from the parish church, giving them two or three catechists with a little chapel or out-station prayer house each, two or three vernacular schools to superintend, in fact, a model parish. I rarely interfere with them, and if any question arises it is entered into with the native pastor. I am only the adviser, but still I hold myself as the referee in all cases when required justly. I have some clergy only in deacons' orders; these, though in charge of similar parishes, I consider require more of my oversight, being younger men, not able to administer the Lord's Supper and not looked up to by the people as the others rightly are. We have gone on now some time on this principle. I cannot but say that it has fully succeeded; we mutually trust each other. Olesha, Pallam, Thallawadei, Mallapalli, Cochin, and Melkava are, I believe, faithfully and steadily thus carried on; their funds are increasing; there is less quarrelling among the members, I hope more faith; while apparently habits of prayer and devotion are becoming the rule.

Aggressive work, too, is carried on in these parishes with vigour. During the last eighteen months I baptized, in unison with the pastors at Mallapalli, Changanachéry, Pallam, and Olesha, 524 converts from heathenism, besides the children of the established congregations. These have been gathered from various castes; and if the agents had not worked faithfully, humanly speaking, they had been all left out in the dark still. I personally examined them, questioning them again and again on the Church Catechism and various articles of faith. Two and three years had these men and women been quiet, godly, simple professors of faith in Christ: they now witnessed a noble confession before crowds standing round. So, asking the old question Peter once asked, "Can any one forbid water that these should not be baptized?" my native brother and I stood side by side together, each baptizing in the name of that one Lord who had given us our commission.—I had formerly lived as the missionary at Pallam for twelve years; there was then a gang of men, regular pirates, in canoes on the backwater, receiving black mail from all the country round: they lived close to me. I had been concerned in having a number of them punished for house-breaking and cattle-stealing: this was from 1843 to 1855. Now, in 1871, as I entered the old church, Mr. Curian met me at the door, followed by his reader, both men gray in God's work. The next man my eye rested upon was an old Paravan, followed by a large number of his fellow-caste men and women; that man had been one of the old gang leaders, clever in escaping the meshes of the law, rarely ever caught. I only asked him one question referring to the past. "Do you remember old days?" "Yes," he said, "they are passed now." Old things had become new with him, but to me it told, God's promises are yea and amen to-day, as in past time.—At Olesha Mr. Thoma has many among the Palaries who were baptized, who used to grow rich by smuggling tobacco and pepper for native merchants, who kept in the background and whose deeds never appeared. Now these poor converts are clearing new land or cultivating the old paddy lands of their former masters for them. Mission work at least civilizes semi-barbarous people, thinking men ought surely to acknowledge this, if not more.

COTTAYAM.

The Cambridge Nicholson Institution, which has for its object the training of agents for the Mission and the Native Church, is at present under the charge of Mr. Baker, who longs for the return of its Principal, the Rev. J. M. Speechly. Mr. Baker gives the following account of it :—

When Mr. Speechly's health compelled him to go home, I agreed to superintend his work in the Cambridge Nicholson Institution with the help of Mr. Thoma, of Olesha, and to endeavour, as far as possible, to follow up the admirable plans he had established in it. Accordingly, the three masters there teach, Mr. Thoma spends two days in the week in it, and I am frequently in the place, not teaching, indeed, but examining progress, and seeing to the moral training and comfort of the boys. I only hope Mr. Speechly may soon return to take again his own very appropriate work. I do not, however, anticipate that either the teaching or character of the pupils will be found in any way to have deteriorated, though it of course admits of further improvement. There are now twenty-nine pupils. Of the [highest or] Reader Class, two only now remain, the rest having gone out to work. They read Epistle to Hebrews, Prophecy of Isaiah, Articles of Religion, Butler's Analogy, Ancient Church History, History of Christ in Sanskrit, Analysis of Scripture in Tamil. On Sundays they have regular duty in some little outlying hamlet of our people, or lead the reading and prayer in one of the large Bible classes I have formed among the Syrians round Cottayam.

The Principal of the Cottayam College (Rev. J. H. Bishop) is able to give a satisfactory account of the College in a secular respect :—

The number of boys on the rolls in the College Department is 59 boarders and 5 day pupils, and the number in the Grammar School are 55 day pupils and 9 boarders, making a total of 128 boys under instruction, who, with two exceptions, are Syrian Christians. On the 1st of January, 1871, the school fees were raised from $\frac{1}{4}$ rupee to 1 rupee per mensem for foundationers, and from $2\frac{1}{2}$ rupees to 3 rupees for non-foundationers.

The annual inspection has not yet taken place, and will probably be deferred till February. As the staff of teachers has been somewhat augmented, I trust it will appear that real progress has been made. One of the two boys sent up for the matriculation examination last year passed in the second class. Many lads, after leaving the College, and studying for a short time in Government High Schools, have succeeded in passing the University Examinations, but this is, I am told, the first time a boy has passed a University Examination direct from the College. The successful student was a son of the late Rev. J. Chandy.

Nor are signs wanting of spiritual fruit :—

It is interesting to trace the course of some of these Syrian lads after they leave the College, though I cannot speak satisfactorily of all. Many never reach the higher classes, and return to their homes or join other schools, and I hear no more of them. A few seek and obtain Mission employment. It is gratifying to me, from time to time, to hear from these lads. Some have frequently referred in their letters to the kindness and Christian help they have received from a British officer, whose weekly Bible reading and prayer-meeting they had been in the habit of attending. Some of them do, I know, endeavour to let their light shine in this dark land. I was particularly pleased with one lad, the head writer of a large coffee estate, who had gained the complete confidence of his employers, and was making efforts for the enlightening of some Nairs on the estate, and had so far influenced one that he willingly joined with him in his daily family worship.

Another work in which Mr. Bishop has been engaged is thus described by Mr. Baker :—

Mr. Bishop most kindly, during 1871, has undertaken a class to prepare young men for the ordination of Christmas, to be employed as pastors by the Church Council. Two from my pastorates are with him. I am greatly obliged to him for this, as his reading with them has improved their English, and enabled them to get regular habits of application and thought, which had been broken by some years' absence from their studies.

Mr. Bishop has, to his joy, found opportunities of labouring directly for the heathen also :—

I have had a little vernacular work, in a humble way, on alternate Sundays, in a slave school, and have endeavoured to follow Mr. Speechly's example of preaching once a week to the heathen. In the latter work I have been accompanied by the two young men who are reading with Mr. Caley and myself for holy orders; and occasionally one or two of the elder boys in the college have also gone with us. The heathen in and around Cottayam are very ignorant and prejudiced ; but it is my earnest desire to teach the college lads, that wherever they go and whatever may be their calling in this life, it is their duty to bear testimony for Christ and His Gospel.

Mrs. Baker, sen., has charge of the Cottayam Girls' Boarding School, where fifty-five students receive instruction (together with twenty-five day scholars) and undergo also a careful domestic moral training. Mrs. H. Baker also labours with great success in the department of female education.

MAVELIKARA.

The Rev. R. H. Maddox is the Missionary at this station. His valuable services to the Pastorate have been already referred to. Mr. Maddox takes charge of the work of the Society in the TIRUWELLA district, as well as in that of Mavelikara. The Native Christians in these two districts, not connected with the pastorates, number 1,478, of whom 163 adults were baptized last year, and 261 are communicants. Their spiritual condition is improving, and Mr. Maddox hopes, before long, "to form a good pastorate out of some of whom" he "had but little hope a short while ago." His work among the slaves is rapidly growing, and with its growth the difficulty also increases of obtaining suitable agents. To meet this need Mr. Maddox is erecting an inexpensive boarding-school, capable of receiving twelve boarders, to be selected from Christians that have come out from the slave caste. It will be under the superintendence of the Rev. J. Joseph, formerly a Brahmin, now a Christian Pastor.

The direct Missionary work of preaching to the adult heathen has been carried on with vigour.

My two Brahmin converts, itinerating readers, have been diligently at work, visiting a great number of fairs, markets, and festivals throughout the country. Their monthly reports show that their labours are really highly appreciated by all classes among whom they work. We have sold during itinerancies over 1,200 copies of the Scriptures, whole and in part, exclusive of smaller portions as simple Gospels: books and tracts to the value of over 100 rupees have been sold.

To these and similar efforts visible proofs of success have been mercifully granted.

During the year under review I have baptized 233 slave converts, including chiefly a few Chogans and one Nair family of four persons. I have 355 slave converts nearly ready for baptism, besides several adherents. The Nair family to which I refer is a respectable one, at Kodawalaniya, of some position and independent means. The head of the family, a young man of about twenty-five, was educated in our Mission School at Kodawalaniya. He says he never forgot the lessons he learnt in the mission school, and always intended, from the time he left school, as soon as he saw his way clear, to embrace Christianity. His wife was not allowed to join with him, but was carried off by her heathen relations as soon as they heard of her husband's intention. The young man's mother, aunt (with her husband), and younger sister have all joined with him. We hear of others among the Nairs, who, by this circumstance, have been roused to think more seriously of religion, showing a disposition to join.

Educational Missionary effort has been of various kinds.

There are a number of petty Rajahs both here and in the surrounding country, the younger members of whose families have often expressed to me their desire to learn English under me. Their position prevents them attending either the service or my mission evening school. I have twenty-two names of young men of this class who are ready to place themselves under my instruction, if only I can make suitable arrangements for them. I have put myself in communication with the British Resident on the subject, who takes a most kind interest in the matter, and is ready to help me as far as possible. Funds placed at my disposal for this object by a kind friend, and the promise of a fair amount in the way of "school fees," have removed many difficulties. I hope to commence my work very shortly.

My Anglo-Vernacular Mission Schools, one here at Mavelikara and one at Tiruwella, give me every satisfaction. During the year I have sent eight boys to the Cottayam College from this school. They all passed creditably the entrance examination, and were elected on the foundation. I have in the two schools 95 scholars, of whom 67 are day-boys.—There are 36 Vernacular mixed schools in my district, containing 972 boys and 155 girls. We have 30 girls in our Mission Boarding School.

ALLEPIE.

The Rev. W. Johnson is the Missionary at this Station. His Report is encouraging. The Native Christians in connexion with it number 503, of whom 112 are communicants. The advance shown by these numbers is partly due to immigration. There have been, however, twenty-eight adult baptisms during the year. It has not yet been found possible to locate a Native Pastor at Allepie; but a Native Church Committee has been formed, and is engaged, among other schemes, in raising a fund for the future Pastor's support.

The general community of Allepie is prospering in a temporal point of view. Good roads have been constructed in the town and its suburbs. Steamers call weekly at the port; and there are large exports of the productions of the cocoa-nut palm. The Native congregation participate in these benefits.

There have been some accessions from among the heathen both in Allepie itself and in the out-stations. To begin with the former :—

Two men formerly of the Nair caste have joined this congregation, and both have behaved themselves remarkably well, and are humble, consistent Christians. They have been admitted, by the rite of Holy Baptism, into the Church of Christ. One of these, a few weeks ago, married a girl descended from the Chogan caste.—A heathen Pulayan (slave) of this district was convicted of murder; while out in the harvest-field with his scythe, he stabbed his wife from feelings of jealousy. He was sent to the Quilon jail, and, through the faithful ministry of the missionary of the London Missionary Society there, was led to see his sin and his need of a Saviour. He has been now liberated, and is, I hope, a consistent Christian. His repentance seems sincere.—I have also been encouraged by the conduct of a Chogan lad and two women, who have been baptized during the past year.—An East Indian, his wife, and child, a Bengalee and his two children, also an East Indian lad, are under instruction, and will shortly, I hope, renounce publicly in the congregation the fatal errors of Rome.

On the other hand, seven persons who were at one time members of the congregation have either left this town, or have been again ensnared by the wiles of the devil.

There is encouragement in the out-stations :—

In a place sixteen miles south of Allepie I have opened a new prayer-house for converts from the Pulayan (slave) castes. About thirty-five souls joined, but, owing to the unsatisfactory conduct of one of my schoolmasters, only fourteen remain; the others, I hope, will rejoin in time. At the same place the stone foundations of a nice new church have been laid, and the congregation are now making every effort to raise funds to carry on the work. Converts are also increasing. Twelve miles north of this, at Mohamail, ten souls have placed themselves under instruction from the Chogan caste. They were brought by a distant relation who had himself only been lately baptized.

One special branch of evangelistic work is thus described :—

The work among the Mohammedans, in the midst of which is our church, is very difficult and trying. Their pride and ignorance, and that which they set their mind upon (a sensual paradise) tend to keep them from the simplicity of the Gospel of Christ. A short time ago I exhibited a magic lantern in the courtyard of one of the rich Mohammedan merchants, and they were greatly delighted at the view of scenes in the history of Abraham, Jacob, or Moses; but when we came to scenes in the life of our Blessed Lord and Saviour, their indifference was painfully apparent. I have been trying to obtain scholars in my school from these Mohammedans, and have just now twenty-three boys who are learning Tamil out of the books published by the Christian Vernacular Education Society. The Mohammedans fear that if their sons learn English they would become Christians.

The Schools are in an improving condition, containing 335 children; 296 boys and 36 girls. Of the boys the majority are heathen, but eleven only of the girls.

ALWAYE OR COCHIN ITINERANCY.

In this department the work is still quite in its infancy. The agency employed consists of a European Missionary, the Rev. F. Bower, and a staff of Native Christian Readers and Schoolmasters. There have been no adult baptisms during the year, nor have any come forward as candidates for baptism. Yet Mr. Bower is not without encouragement. He speaks with mingled hope and doubt of one influential heathen who seems to be an honest and intelligent inquirer; and he is able to state that "the Gospel message has generally been listened to with respectful attention by the majority of all classes." Some have also purchased tracts and religious books. There are eight boys' schools. The parents of the children appear to be mostly Syrian Christians, and "are beginning," Mr. Bower states, "not only to appreciate our catechisms but also to use our Malayalam Family Prayer-Book in their own houses."

TRICHUR.

Trichur, as its full name Trichewaparur implies, is the town of Siva, and here idolatry in all its hideous forms prevails. It is situated on the entrance to the backwaters of Cochin and Travancore, and, indeed, might be named the "key" to Cochin and the South. The public roads from north, south, and east meet here. Thousands of people, of all races and creeds, pass annually through the midst of it. A large granite pagoda stands in the centre of the town, and multitudes from all parts assemble here on stated festivals and feasts. These gatherings present good opportunities for the preaching of God's word. —Trichur, unlike Kunnankullam, contains no Syrians, but has an immense Roman Catholic population. The influence of these professing Christians is very bad. On every festival of the heathen a similar one is held by them. An intelligent heathen, and one of the richest in Trichur, remarked to me a few days ago that there was very little difference between the heathen and the Romanist, except that the former made their idols of stone, whilst those of the latter were constructed of wood.

The state of the Native (Protestant) Christians is not encouraging. Yet there are gleams of hope.

There are connected with this mission 450 people, including children, of whom sixty men and eighty-three women are communicants. There has been much to grieve and dishearten me in my work during the year that I have been in charge. The people had become careless and indifferent. Sins which ought not to have been named amongst professing Christians had crept in. Party feeling had sprung up. Drunkenness, with all its attendant vices, was prevalent. The house of God had been neglected. Prayer-meetings had become deserted. Though none had actually left the Church and mission, many had virtually separated from us. It was found necessary by the Bishop to excommunicate some and suspend others. This had a wholesome effect. But still there remained and does remain much that was bad, and which savoured not of Christ. And yet, as I look back upon the year, I am assured that God has been with us, and has not forsaken us. The house of God is now well attended, and all who are able to come are present at the weekly prayer-meetings, which are held in the house of every member in regular succession.

The Missionary has also been cheered by proofs of spiritual life amongst individuals; and during the year five adults have been baptized.

There are thirteen villages in the neighbourhood of Trichur where Native Christians are to be found connected with the Society. Some of these have stood firm under much persecution.

Mr. Smith has not been able to give much time to purely Evangelistic work; but it has been regularly carried on by the three readers attached to the Mission.

The Schools connected with the Trichur Mission contain 118 boys and 39 girls. In this department Mr. Smith wishes for improved agency.

KUNNANKULLAM.

The Rev. W. Hope, the Missionary of this Station, after describing the past year as “one of encouragement and blessing,” one in which “God has given us of His favour,” thus speaks of the pastoral work :—

The number of the congregation, including those under instruction, is 241, including 117 children. This, compared with our numbers last year, gives an increase of twenty-eight souls. This increase, though small when compared with the statistics of the southern stations, is a great cause of joy and encouragement, as the work here is of a very difficult character. There are eighty communicants, thirty-eight men, and forty-two women.—Two adult Christians have been taken from us by death this year. They both gave evidence on their death-beds that they had given their hearts to God. The face of one of them beamed with joy whenever I visited him. I repeated the words, “Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners,” and he answered, “Christ is every thing to me now; I am only looking to Him for salvation.” This was quite the statement of the old martyr, “None but Christ.”—Our people are, I trust, growing in grace, and being built up in their most holy faith. There is more union and harmony amongst them now. Quarrelling is much less frequent, many causes of offence having been removed; and when there are any disagreements, I always insist on our Saviour’s rule being first obeyed, “If thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone” (Matt. xviii. 15).

In the above extract mention is made of additions to the Church. These are further described as follows :—

Twenty-nine persons have placed themselves under instruction. Of these, one family was of the Sûdra caste, consisting of father, and mother, and child. Two families have come out from the Chogans; also an aged Chogan, without his wife and family. He could not persuade them to join, and so he left them. In addition to the above, two families of Pulayans (or slaves) have joined. This has caused us much joy, as now, with God’s blessing, many more of these despised people may be led to follow their example. There have been twenty baptisms during the year, five adults and fifteen children. Nine of these children are the offspring of Christian parents, the rest are the children of parents who have joined from heathenism. Fourteen persons are still under instruction, preparing for the holy rite of baptism. I feel persuaded there are a great number of heathen here who are convinced of the truth of Christianity, and would gladly profess the faith, if they could cast aside the fear of man. A very interesting instance in proof of this I have met with this year. An intelligent heathen mason, at the beginning of this year, earnestly begged for a copy of the Family Prayer-book, and he has assured me since he uses it daily. I have also given him a New Testament, which he has diligently read, but he cannot make up his mind at present to confess Christ openly. He told me that he had examined both the Roman and Syrian forms of Christianity, but would not embrace either of them, as he felt there was so much idolatry mixed up with their services. This man was one of the masons employed by Mr. Beuttler in the erection of the Church and Bungalow here.

Mr. Hope gives a sad description of the state of the Syrian Church in Northern Cochin :—

There is not a sign of spiritual life in the Syrian Church of this place. All is dark and dead within. Drunkenness and immorality exist to a painful extent. Litigation and its attendant evils, bribery and false witness, are rife among the Syrians. They also manifest much hatred to our people, and are jealous of any increase to our congregation. Their conduct very much resembles the Jews of old, who followed St. Paul about from place to place, to raise up persecution against him.

Educational work at Kunnankullam is less advanced than in the Southern Districts. The Scholars are 130 boys and 13 girls. But Mr. Hope has found the schools to be very suitable places for preaching stations and for attracting inquirers.

TELUGU MISSION.

General.

The Society's Telugu Mission has been graciously prospered during the year. In the villages, about 2,000 persons are now under Christian instruction, having renounced idolatry; and the past year has witnessed many signs of future more rapid and extended movement. The educational branch of the work has also met with blessing from above. Three young Brahmins have received baptism during the year.

MASULIPATAM.

The Society's European Agents at this station, in March of the present year, were the Rev. C. Tanner, who is the acting Principal of the Masulipatam English School, the Rev. W. Clayton, who is engaged in the district, and Mr. J. Thornton, who, besides assisting in the English School, has charge of the Vernacular Training Institution. Of the two ordained Native Ministers, one, the Rev. A. Bhushanam, is at work in the villages; while the other, the Rev. M. Ratnam, is an assistant master in the English School. Later accounts state that Mr. Kendall, who had recently arrived at Masulipatam, was about to help in the school. It may be added that the Rev. John Cain, who was appointed Rugby Fox Master by the Parent Committee, has been laid aside and has been recommended by medical authority not to return to educational work. None of these brethren have supplied the Committee with any Report or Annual Letter. From the statistical tables given in the Madras Church Missionary Record for January, 1872, it would appear that the Native Christians in the town and neighbouring district number 630; that of these, 96 are communicants; and that, during the year ending September 30th, 1871, there were fifteen adult baptisms. In the English School there were 270 pupils, and in the Vernacular Training Institution, with the schools affiliated to it, 157.

ELLORE.

The Ellore Anglo-Vernacular School is under the charge of the Rev. A. H. Arden. The other departments of the work devolved (during the absence in England of the Rev. F. W. N. Alexander) on the Rev. J. E. Padfield. The Native Christians numbered, at the close of September, 1871, when the last returns were made up, 489, and the communicants 59. There were 47 adult baptisms during the year. The corresponding numbers in the previous Report were 387, 49, and 12. Mr. Padfield's annual letter is deeply interesting. After speaking of the slight impression yet made on the middle and upper classes, and of the pain sometimes occasioned by evils within the infant church, Mr. Padfield continues :—

spread of the Gospel
villages.

We have much cause for joy and rejoicing at the workings of the Spirit amongst the poorer portion of the rural population here; the seed cast abroad in faith for a succession of some twelve years is now rapidly showing itself above ground, and there are abundant signs of a glorious harvest. From village after village the cry comes for a teacher and the word of life. No sooner is a fresh post occupied than urgent entreaties come from another still farther on, until our resources have reached their limits. Only the other day I had to tell the people of a village, who had often asked me to go to them, and who have given up their idols and keep the Sabbath, that I could hold out no present hopes of sending them a resident teacher; and this first from the lack of men, but chiefly for want of money; and this, although an ordinary Christian schoolmaster's wages, for village work, is only some 7 or 8 rupees (14 or 16 shillings). Within the last few months five fresh posts have been occupied, in which 113 adults have given up their idols, and have voluntarily placed themselves under Christian instruction, and 84 children in the schools, making a total of 197. This is all new work, and in villages many miles separated from each other. The work, in fact, is fast assuming quite a fresh aspect. Instead of simple preaching here and there to listless or opposing heathen, my time and energy are severely taxed to occupy, nourish, and direct work which, as it were, comes of itself to one's hands. The Parable of the Leaven might well serve to illustrate our state. The villagers of one village, who are Christians or inquirers, when they meet their friends or relatives of another village, cannot but tell them of their new joys and hopes. This in time awakens a desire in these fresh hearers of the glad tidings to know more of the matter, and the result is a deputation to the Missionary, begging for a teacher in their village also. Doubtless many are influenced by mixed motives—a desire for education and mental enlightenment no doubt actuating some—and we must be prepared for much disappointment; but the fact of the people giving up something, and often enduring bitter persecution, is at least some proof of sincerity. They keep the Sabbath, which of itself is a severe test. They give up their idols. In my last tour, from which I only returned two days ago, I brought with me no less than fifty-two objects of heathen worship, which had been given up by the new inquirers. True, they are not of much intrinsic value, being chiefly made of copper and of rude construction; still they were the gods of those who gave them up, and their very meanness only serves to prove how blind and debased those must be to whom they were objects of adoration. Again, my people have often to suffer severe persecution, and it is no uncommon thing for them to be beaten, or to have their feet made fast in the stocks, for no other reason than their desire to become Christians. These things are, I think, some guarantee for sincerity; and although we must be prepared for much to try and dishearten, still our hearts are lifted up with hope and joy. To God be all the praise! Of course, this success is not the result of my personal labour: others have laboured, and we have entered into their labours.

Education.

The Anglo-Vernacular School has this year yielded spiritual fruit. Mr. Arden writes, Feb. 21st, 1872:—

On the 31st of December last we had the happiness of receiving the first convert from our Ellore Mission Anglo-Vernacular School. The young man, V. Venkayya, belongs to a very respectable Brahmin family, and many of his relations hold high Government offices. He was baptized on the 14th of January. I ask the prayers of God's people on behalf of this first fruits of our Ellore School.

Conversion of a Brahmin in an English School.

The School has been favourably reported of by the Government Inspector. Nine students were sent up for the University Matriculation Examination, of whom six passed. The number of students previous to the conversion spoken of above was 115, being less than last year, owing to a higher standard of admission and increased fees enforced by Government.

A flourishing preparatory school has also been established:—

A building, formerly used for a Government School, has been purchased for the Church Missionary Society for 3,000 rupees, of which my friends kindly subscribed half, and the Government gave the other half as a grant. Almost the whole of the 1,500 rupees subscribed by my friends came from the boys and masters of Repton School, where I spent five of the happiest years of my life. This building is now used for our preparatory school, which was commenced in October, 1868, and takes boys from their Telugu alphabet, up to the third standard, on the results' system. At the present time there are about 150 boys, Hindûs and Mohammedans, reading in it. Last year the whole expenses to the Society were 12 rupees in pocket, i.e. the whole expenses were less by 12 rupees than the total of the Government grant and the fees. This year also the expense to the Society will be perhaps £15, certainly not more.

BÊZWÂRA AND RÂGHAPUR.

That which was the Bêzwâra district is now divided into two portions, termed respectively, as above, Bêzwâra and Râghapur. The present Bêzwâra district comprises the town of that name and a rural circuit, which is for the most part new ground, but where encouraging progress has been made. At the end of 1871 the Native Christians of the whole district numbered eighty-seven, of whom nineteen were communicants. The Anglo-Vernacular School, which is, of course, in the town of Bêzwâra itself, contained at that time 101 students. It has since sustained a severe shock from an event for which the members and supporters of the Society will heartily thank God, notwithstanding the many painful circumstances with which it was attended. The occurrence referred to is thus described by Mr. Harrison:—

Conversion of two Brah-min Students in a Mission
School.

Two Brahmin boys have left heathenism and embraced the Christian religion. They are exceedingly respectable and good boys; indeed, the best boys in the school. It has caused a great commotion here. The natives have met together, and determined to subscribe 130 rupees per month for an opposition school; so I expect, when the school opens, after the Christmas vacation on the 26th, there will be few except Mohammedan boys to teach. Unfortunately, Bêzwâra is one compact village, consisting almost exclusively of Brahmins. There are a few Sûdras, but scarcely any Pariahs. I can give you no idea of the extremely painful sights that occurred. I think no boys ever went through so severe an ordeal. There was great consternation when the thing became known. Those who had boys in the highest class locked them up, and would not let them leave their homes. Two boys were sent away from the place altogether. All of them have been forbidden to come near me, or to play cricket at the school. Many of them have come, however, by stealth to my house. They told me this themselves. Three boys came at first—two Brahmins and a Sudra, but the latter has gone back for the present.

Another event of the year has been the successful establishment of a high class Girls' School. There are forty-six Brahmin and Sudra girls under Christian instruction. This is vacation time, and what effects the late events will have upon it I cannot tell yet. I can't tell you how much trouble I had to get the caste people to lay aside their prejudices and send their children to this school. It was getting on so well, and many of the children have learnt to read fluently, but now I tremble for it. There was also a gradual increase in numbers every month.

DUMAGUDIEM AND THE KOI MISSION.

In the weakened state of the Telugu Mission during the year just concluded, this branch of the work was without any resident European superintendent, being under the charge of Mr. Tanner, at Masulipatam. Mr. Tanner was at Dumagudiem, from January 3rd to January 15th in the present year, when he baptized seventy-seven persons (adults and children), of whom forty-five were Kois. The Native Christians connected with Dumagudiem now number 246. Of these 77 are Kois. The well-known Native Brother, Razu, is the catechist of the station.

CEYLON MISSION.

(Commenced 1817.)

Division of Mission.—I. Colombo and Cotta. II. Baddegama. III. Bandp. IV. Jaffna.

General View.

By the census of 1871, the population of Ceylon amounted to 2,405,000. These consist mainly of Singhalese and Tamils. The great majority of the former are Buddhists by religion, of the latter, Hindus. Buddhists and Hindus alike graft on to their respective systems the worship of devils; and both believe in the transmigration of souls after death. Buddhism also denies a Creator, and by holding out virtual annihilation as the highest happiness that man can reach, tends to produce a condition of mental apathy which greatly obstructs the reception of the Gospel. Hinduism, if comparatively speaking not very strong among the Coolies in the coffee estates, is in the Northern Province at least as firmly advance in

cohesive as in most parts of North India itself. Some fifteen or twenty years ago the Society's reports from Ceylon were, generally speaking, of a somewhat desponding character. Independently of the hindrances above referred to, the Missionaries were much perplexed by the hypocritical profession of Christianity which at one time was almost universal among the Buddhists of the Low Country. Determined attachment to Buddhism, with the secret practice of its rites, was frequently discovered among those who had been for years professed members of Christian congregations, or even paid agents of the Society. Of late this state of things has been gradually passing away. By God's blessing on the preaching of the Gospel, clearer views have been diffused of Christian truth and of vital godliness, and genuine spiritual converts have increased in number. The Native Church, newly organized on a footing of incipient independence, is exceedingly strict in its discipline, and exercises most scrupulous care in the admission of adults to baptism. There is an earnest desire on the part of its pastors and leading lay members for more spiritual life in themselves and their fellow-Christians. With this view prayer-meetings and special services have been held at almost every station. At the same time the policy of the local Government, culminating in a recent Marriage Act, has removed some of the inducements formerly existing to an outward profession of Christianity. The adults baptized during the year, sixty-one in number, are but one half of those recorded at the previous anniversary. But the candidates for baptism are more than 300; the attendants at public worship have increased from 4,100 to 4,600, and the communicants from 850 to 900.

The sum contributed in the same period for religious purposes by the Ceylon Native Christians connected with the Society is 1,002*l.* 11*s.* 10*d.*

COLOMBO.

The Society's work in Colombo is in two branches, according to the two languages, Singhalese and Tamil. In Colombo the Tamils are probably more numerous than the Singhalese, and Missionary work among them devolves mainly on the Society, or at least on the Church of England; while other Protestant bodies labour with vigour and success among the Singhalese. The Society's Singhalese Mission is under the charge of a devoted and experienced labourer, the Rev. E. T. Higgins; while an equally zealous Missionary, the Rev. W. E. Rowlands, laboured with much efficiency among the Tamils during the first eight months of 1871, when, on returning to England for health's sake, he was temporarily succeeded by the Rev. D. Wood of Jaffna.

Singhalese Mission.

The Singhalese congregations are now under the care of a long-trying Native Minister, the Rev. Cornelius Jayasinha. The number of Native Christians connected with them fluctuates, as is generally the case in large towns. It is at present 109, fifteen of these being Communicants. These numbers are an increase from last year.

In ministering to the English congregation at the Mission Church, Mr. Higgins has met with some encouragement; and the local friends of the Society who are thus gathered together are able in many ways to help forward the work.

Of the evangelistic work Mr. Higgins writes as follows:—

This is a field of labour ample enough as far as the opportunities of meeting people are concerned. About the courts of justice, in the market places, and in the streets of the native town there are always people (often large crowds) to be met with, to whom the word of life may be preached. But the work is painfully hindered from want of helpers. It is a work that requires the preachers to go two and two; but I have only one catechist at this station, and no other source from which additional help can be drawn. The consequence is that it is only when I can go out with the catechist that the work can be carried on. If I had four or five Singhalese catechists, instead of only one, something might be done in proportion to the field of labour, and then perhaps some impression would be produced; as it is, we can only keep on with a painful sense of the utter inadequacy of the efforts we can make to the need of the work.

Tamil Mission.

The Tamil Christians connected with the Society in Colombo are registered as numbering 629. Of these 98 are communicants. During the year there were twelve adult baptisms. The corresponding numbers in the preceding year were 478, 84, and 11. The twelve adult baptisms represent doubtless the accession of several families with their children. The remainder of the increase must arise partly from immigration, and partly from the more successful searching out of Tamil Christians already resident in Colombo.

It was mentioned above that Mr. Rowlands superintended this Mission until September last, when it was handed over to Mr. Wood. Mr. Wood's Annual Letter was written only three months after his arrival, and could therefore give little more than first impressions. The following extract is, however, deserving of notice :—

No one can have even a slight acquaintance with the Society's work among the Tamils of Colombo without being impressed with its importance. In a city containing, according to the census taken early this year, some 60,000 Tamils, there is ample scope for earnest, active labour in the cause of our Master. The majority of the Tamils here are immigrants from India, while others are natives of Jaffna. Native Christians are diligently searched out and brought under the means of grace, services being held for them in different parts of the city on the Lord's-day. The largest and most important congregation is that worshipping in the Mission Church, Galle Face. After living in Jaffna, where the congregations are mostly settled, a stranger is struck by the constant changes which occur among the Church members in this place. It is very common to meet with new faces, and on inquiring who they are, to be told that they are people who have lately come from India. On the other hand, faces are missed; and on asking, "Where is so and so?" the answer almost invariably is, "Gone to his village."

The more I see of this congregation, the more I am convinced that it ought to be under the care of a Native Pastor. When one looks at the vast number of heathen in this place, the feeling grows that the Missionary ought not to be occupied with so much pastoral work, but should be able to devote more of his time and strength to that which is more directly evangelistic. If we could secure a good, active, zealous, and sensible man of God as a pastor, a man who, avoiding cliques, could win and keep the affections and confidence of his people, it would be a very great advantage.

A Native brother ordained for this post might perhaps labour in the first instance as an assistant Missionary, and be afterwards promoted to the more independent position of a Native Pastor.

COTTA.

In the statistical tables for the present year Mr. Dowbiggin gives the number of Native Christians as 889, and of communicants 148. The numbers given in the Society's Annual Report last year were, Native Christians 442, and communicants 144. But by an oversight the adults only were reckoned, i. e., those over fifteen years of age; had children been included, the number of Native Christians would have been given (more correctly) as 874. The work in this district has been of purification rather than extension. In the schools there are 619 boys and 464 girls. Most of these are children of Buddhist parents. The Cotta Native Church Council now represents three Pastorates: Talangama (Rev. H. De Silva), Nugégoda (Rev. D. Jayasingha), and Cotta proper (Rev. H. Kannangar). The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin is the Chairman of the Council, and as such gives the following review of the work in the united districts:—

I believe that the progress is steady, the work done sound and substantial; and there seems to be a deeper feeling for and more longing expressed to win souls for Christ. As an indication, I may mention the commencement of a week of services in each month to be conducted in each Church successively throughout the district. The first of these services was held for six consecutive days in the central Church, and, though no important awakenings took place, yet there was evidently a deep and serious impression produced on the minds of the people. I am glad to say the accounts of the Church Fund show an increase of £10 4s. 6d. over the contributions of last year. The total amount contributed to the Church Fund was £68 11s. 6d.; and, in addition, for special purposes, such as painting, whitewashing, cleaning churches, &c., £12 11s. was subscribed by the various congregations, making a total of £81 2s. 6d. The grant of the Church Missionary Society to the Church Fund has been reduced by £16 a year. We have a reserve fund of some £180, which is not likely to be touched unless some severe famine or distress should materially reduce the amount of subscriptions. A sub-Committee was appointed to examine the accounts; and, after a very careful inspection, it was deemed quite legitimate and safe to recommend an increase of 5 per cent. on the salaries of the Native Pastors. It was estimated that the income from all sources would probably be £266, while the expenditure for the year would probably not exceed £253, which would leave some £13 to carry forward to the reserve fund, or go towards reducing still further the annual grant of the Church Missionary Society.

Progress in
district.

Reference to the reports of the Native Pastors shows that there have been two adult baptisms during the year under review. The discipline of the Native Church is very strict, almost too severe; but it is an error on the safe side, and one not much to be wondered at when the Native Church has to deal with so many nominal Christians, practically Buddhists, who were baptized under the old system and by Government officials.

Mr. Hendrick De Silva, who in May, 1870, was transferred from Nugêgoda to Talangama, mentions that in one village a Native Christian has devoted his leisure hours to an adult night school. As a result of this, seven or eight Buddhists have become regular attendants at public worship.

The subjoined extract is from the Annual Letter of Mr. Daniel Jayasingha, the Pastor of Nugêgoda and four neighbouring villages:—

Almost all the inhabitants of the villages formerly professed themselves Christians, and joined in our public worship, in order to obtain the outward rites of the Church. Since the new ordinance of marriage came into operation, many of them have discontinued attendance at Church. Yet this ordinance has done good in separating merely nominal Christians from those who have embraced Christianity as the only true religion and Christ as the only Saviour. There is another cause which sometimes produces relapse into heathenism. The young Christians who have been educated in our schools, and even after they have become partakers of the Lord's Supper, are liable to be married to heathens. This is especially the case when the parents are not Christians. When rich young men of respectable families among the Buddhists are disposed to marry educated young women, the parents too often give their consent, without any reference to religion. For instance, three young women, two of them candidates for the Lord's Supper and one a communicant, were asked in marriage by Buddhists. Their parents, being Buddhists, consented immediately. The young women, however, refused to comply; and when the parents found that they could not persuade them, they gave up the matter, promising their daughters not to give them in marriage to any but Christians.

The following passage from a subsequent letter of Mr. Dowbiggin also deserves attention:—

Admiral Cockburn to Cotta.

On December 6, 1871, Admiral Cockburn visited Cotta, and was greatly delighted with all that he heard and saw. We had a gathering of our people at Cotta. I suppose of adults and children about 250 or 300 must have been assembled. The Admiral afterwards visited the boarding-school and the other three schools in the compound. This visit of the Admiral cheered us very much. It is so rare and yet so gratifying to find a layman taking such a deep interest in the work of Christ among the heathen. His address to the people, by interpretation, was very earnest, and was listened to with marked attention.

II. Baddêgama.

Baddêgama, commenced 1819; Bentotte, 1861.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. John Allcock (m), 1864.

BADDÊGAMA.

The Rev. John Allcock is again permitted to speak of encouragement in his work; though the visible revival of 1870 has not been repeated, at least, to the same extent. The Native Christians have increased during the year from 597 to 819, and the communicants from 90 to 121.

It will be remembered that Baddêgama is a village about six miles inland, and is the Mission centre for several much larger places, such as Balapity and Bentotte on the coast line between Colombo and Galle. Mr. Allcock writes:—

Our labours have been carried on as in former years, and the Lord has encouraged us by giving some success. Most of the Christian congregations have some activity, knowledge, and spiritual power, but they are mixed with covetousness and ignorance and ingratitude. Thus it was in the time of Moses and St. Paul. Thus it is now in England as well as in Ceylon. A few of our Christians have fallen into sin. A few are negligent and irregular in their religious duties. Some are real helpers and fellow-labourers with Christ.

Character of Baddêgama
Christians.

For its own district at least Baddêgama seems by the grace of God to be supplying from itself the great desideratum of the Ceylon Mission, a Training Institution.

The Baddêgama Church has supplied six young men for the Institution during the present year. After careful examination by a Committee of Missionaries, they were thought to be fit persons to be employed in the Lord's work. They appear to be called of God. May their future verify our expectations! During the year the Præparandi Class has been enlarged. It now contains eight students, and they receive instruction in Singhalèse, English, Pali, arithmetic, geography, grammar, and other subjects. Their spiritual tone and conduct have been good, and they have been very diligent and industrious in their studies. Their district visitations have been accompanied with blessing.

On the Evangelistic work of the year Mr. Allcock writes:—

While I was in Galle I had many opportunities of speaking to hundreds in the market-places and public streets. They listened to our testimony with much respect and attention. Both in the interior and on the coast, the Missionary and native agents have been working. At Lelwela, Ganēgama, Dodanduwa, Telwatta, Balapity, and Bentotte, the Gospel has been preached frequently. During the early part of the year Bentotte appeared to be very hopeful, but recently some things have happened among the Christians to give offence. I hope it is only a cloud which will soon disappear.

The good effects of the revival in 1870 have not passed away. We have had revival services in most of our churches and preaching-places, and nearly on every occasion some heathens have been brought to a confession of faith in Christ. Since November, 1870, 120 persons have been brought under Christian instruction, and we have had fifty-seven new communicants. The number of adult baptisms is not quite so great in proportion. Many have desired baptism, but by mutual consent it has been deferred, and I trust without disadvantage to the applicants.

The Schools continue to prosper.

Since last November we have had an increase of 102 scholars. Every year a number of boys and girls are gathered into the visible Church from this interesting field. Five hundred and fifty-seven boys and girls are reached by this agency. Where we get really converted teachers, schools are a most important Missionary agency. All our schools did well in the Government examination, and the annual visit of the Government Inspector has improved them. During the year we have used our school buildings as preaching-places, and by this means have been enabled to preach the Gospel to the parents of the children and other heathen in the neighbourhood.

KANDY.

The Singhalese Christians connected with the Society in Kandy and the Central Province number 690, with 114 communicants. The Native Christians of Kandy and its suburbs (360 in number) are connected with a Church Council, of which the Rev. J. I. Jones is the Chairman, and which contains two Native Pastors, besides lay delegates.

One of the pastors, the Rev. H. Gunasēkara, gives the following interesting account of his labours during the year:—

Having been put in charge of the Kandy (town) Pastorate, I removed thither in February, 1871. The congregation here consists of 148 adults and 59 children. The average attendance for the past year has been 100 adults and 12 children. The attention and demeanour of the congregation during the service and the delivery of the sermon, are good. Besides the ordinary two services on Sundays, I conduct a Bible class at 7.30 a.m. It is attended by about twelve young men, who are now going through the Acts of the Apostles. Some of them take by turns the reading of the Lessons during the services. They are almost all piously disposed, and I believe a few of them are truly converted. Several of them are from Morotto [a well-known Christian village on the coast, ten miles south of Colombo] and are engaged in mercantile business here.—A prayer meeting is held every Thursday night in the shop of a native mercantile firm, composed of several Christians of Morotto. This is attended by most of the young men* of the Bible Class. They sometimes go round to the several boutiques kept by their countrymen (most of whom are professing Christians), and get them to come to it too. Some few Wesleyan brethren also attend it. I am much encouraged by this prayer meeting.

The latter part of the month of September was a blessed season of spiritual joy with us; for then we conducted a series of special services for the purpose of awakening our congregations and ourselves to a more spiritual state of mind. These services lasted nine days, on each of which we had a special prayer-meeting in the church in the morning, and in the evening prayer was offered and addresses delivered. After the address a prayer-meeting was held, to which all who desired to speak with us on the salvation of their souls were asked to stay. These services were very well attended, and in all thirteen persons, two of whom were Buddhists and the rest professing Christians, declared themselves to have found peace by believing in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Two days of every week we devote an hour each morning for Street preaching to the heathen at the verandah of the police-court; and when, by the Spirit's help, we are in a proper frame of mind, we realize how the Apostles of old must have preached the Gospel. Some cavil and others listen with apparent interest, and others speak out bitter language. Upon the whole, now, there is very little opposition, and at times we have seen the listless apparently arrested by the truths uttered. After preaching, tracts are offered for sale, but very few purchase any. In Colombo it is otherwise, for I have seen sometimes tracts purchased to the value of two shillings and sixpence, varying from one farthing to threepence. Mr. Jones joins us when he is in the town. The Wesleyan Native Pastors help us in this blessed work. Two afternoons also we preach in the streets, where we meet with large and attentive audiences.

No adults have been baptized during the year, but eight candidates are under instruction.

Itinerating Branch.

At the time when Mr. Jones (who was then in charge of the Itinerancy) wrote his Annual Letter, 16th Nov., 1871, there were connected with the Itinerancy 330 Native Christians, of whom 55 were communicants. One or two notices respecting them will be read with interest.

It is pleasing to observe how in our villages the Christians watch against the admission of unworthy members. There is among them no desire to increase the Church by mere numbers, and I now make it a rule to ask publicly the opinion of those so well qualified to judge as to Christian and consistent conduct before finally accepting any candidate.

The increase of liberality in our older congregations is a cheering feature. I have received from them a larger amount than during any previous year. Including a donation of £24 from Mr. De Soysa, Mûdliar, the subscriptions have exceeded £107; and if I had added a sum collected within the year but paid to me after its close, the total would have been nearly £120.

We have had in several places very efficient assistance from unpaid helpers, who accompany the catechists when engaged in open-air preaching, and often themselves address the people with point and energy. Some of these were formerly opposers and destroyers of the faith which now they proclaim.

The account which Mr. Jones is able to give of the paid Native agents is also cheering in some respects:—

With my Native Assistants, both catechists and school teachers, I have had, as a rule, much reason to be satisfied; they have worked heartily and efficiently. In this respect there is, in my opinion, an improvement in most parts of the Mission. The great deficiency now is in the number of the Native Agents. We could find more than enough for ten times the number at present employed if God would give them, and the means of supporting them, to us. Yet we must not forget that He who fed the 5,000 with a few handfuls of bread can, if He sees fit, make the present provision even more than sufficient.

In the work amongst the heathen, the lack of Native preachers has been very much felt, but tokens of the presence of the Holy Spirit have not been withheld:

There has been but little extension of evangelistic work, owing to an insufficiency, during most of the year, of agents through whom one might stretch out into the regions beyond. At all the places mentioned in my former letters, Anurâdapura, Kurunægala, Kægala, and Gampolla, the Catechists have been labouring diligently, and with some amount of success; and in the neighbourhood of Kurunægala I have been able to set apart two Readers for evangelistic work in the villages exclusively. I am striving to carry out plans which, if successful, will give me six or eight agents whom I may employ in this way without at all interfering with the work in the towns. The chief encouragement has been, as in former years, at Talampitiya, concerning which I am at present very sanguine, and I humbly pray that the great Lord of the Harvest will not suffer my hopes to be blasted. I hesitate to say very much about it until I have had further opportunity of looking into it, and testing the sincerity of those who are now coming forward; but it appears as if there is a very considerable movement among the people towards Christianity, so that I am told as many as seventy or 100 adults came together on the Lord's-day to hear the Word of God read and preached. When I was last there the movement had just commenced, and there were thirteen new names on the list; but since then the numbers have greatly increased. I inquired from Samuel, the teacher, as to his idea of their motives, and he replied that they were people to whom the Gospel had frequently been preached, who had inquired concerning it, who had long opposed it, and that therefore he believed that they came now because satisfied of the truth of our teaching. I questioned one of the new comers who accompanied Samuel to Kandy, and his answers were clear and unmistakable as to his own need, and the entire sufficiency of the Lord Jesus, and of Him only, as his Saviour.

Hopeful

The number of adults baptized during the year has been small; in all, seven.

In the schools, where 207 boys and 93 girls are receiving instruction, there has been considerable improvement.

TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

The division of the work between the two European Missionaries (Rev. W. Clark and Rev. E. M. Griffith) is now fully established; Mr. Clark taking the northern and Mr. Griffith the southern division. Mr. Clark's head-quarters are at Kandy, Mr. Griffith's at Badulla. At the close of the year 1871, Mr. Clark had sixteen Native Assistants, Mr. Griffith four. Two of Mr. Clark's helpers are volunteers, receiving no salary. The paid agents are almost all of them supplied from the Native Christians of South India. For the two districts combined, the number of Native Christians, as given in the Ceylon Record, is 889; of whom 179 are communicants. Two hundred of the Native Christians are reckoned by Mr. Griffith as belonging to his division. There were twenty adult baptisms during the year.

The Tamil Church at Kandy has now been completed. Respecting the liberal contributions raised from Natives for this purpose, Mr. Clark remarks as follows:—

Liberality
of Tamil
Christians in the Ceylon coffee districts.

The erection of this church has been continued, since the last Report was published, and will be completed in a short time. The sum collected for this work during the year has been £659 18s. 4d. Of this £100 has been given by the Church Missionary Society, £56 16s. 3d. by Europeans, £500 8s. 8d. by Natives, and the balance, £2 13s. 5d., has been received in interest. Of the £500 8s. 8d. contributed by the Natives, a large proportion has been given by heathen and other Coolies on the estates. Do we not see in this fact an evidence of the good will of the Coolies towards the Mission and its Agents? Do we not also see in it a hopeful sign of the future? I think we do. Be it granted that the donors were not always actuated by high motives; in that respect they were only like a large number of their fellow men. But detract from the value of their gifts as we may, and as some do; there is yet in it substantial ground for encouragement, and evidence of a very kindly feeling, which will dispose them to yield, to some extent at least, to the exhortations addressed to them.

The following passages are from Mr. Griffith's Annual Letter:—

I am glad to say I have visited all the six districts under my charge during the year; and, excepting in one of them, I have gone through almost every estate. During the year I have taken seven tours, travelling about 1,400 miles, and on an average have been three weeks absent from home each time. The Tamil population throughout these six straggling coffee districts (containing about 180 estates), together with the pioneers on the roads and those located in the villages, probably amounts to about 30,000 or 35,000. To work this extensive country the Southern Division has as yet only four catechists. Three of the districts have been visited regularly by the catechists every two months, and some estates in them oftener; whilst two districts, I am sorry to say, have been left unvisited (except once by myself) for nine months of the year through failure of health on the part of the catechist. We are much indebted to the Native Church of Tinnevely, and of South India generally, for the supply of worthy men, without which the Tamil Cooiy Mission could not be sustained in its operations.

My intercourse with the Native Christians on this side the country being as yet slight, I feel scarcely able to give an opinion of them. As far, however, as my experience teaches me, considering the difficulties under which they labour, I can speak favourably of their spiritual growth. Most of them show a willingness to learn the lessons assigned them by the catechist, and attend the services held for them on the estates. I have noticed the great distance some of them have come when I have held a Tamil service among them, thus showing their appreciation of meeting together to worship God on the Sabbath. In two cases also spiritual activity seems to be displaying itself. I refer to two Tamil Christians, men of good position (one manager of a post-office, the other the secretary of the Court), who hold service in the absence of the catechist among their brethren.

We have many inquirers on the catechists' books, and a goodly number of candidates for baptism. Now the catechists are living in their districts, and thus are more known, the inquirers become more numerous. Among the heathen the impression is that their idols and various deities are worthless, and that they must have something more substantial. Christianity is felt to be true, and they listen willingly and attentively when the Word is preached. Among the more respectable class, caste and the fear of man are their stumbling-blocks. As a heathen Jaffna man said to me only three days ago, "I know the Bible is true; I read it through when a boy at school; but all my brothers, as well as my father and mother, are heathen, and if I were to follow my convictions they would all cast me off. Besides," said he, "my father has arranged my marriage with a heathen girl, and every thing is settled; what can I do?"

Heathen convinced, but deterred from open confession by the fear of man.

Kandy Collegiate School.

A Missionary English school bearing the above designation was established at Kandy in the year 1857, and existed for five years, when various circumstances (chiefly perhaps its not obtaining that number of purely Kandian pupils that had been looked for), led to its being closed, in concurrence with the judgment of nearly all the European missionaries then in the island. The increasing desire for education in the Central Province, and the recent adoption by the Colonial Government of a more liberal policy in reference to schools not directly connected with themselves, combined with other causes, in bringing about an urgent request that the experiment might be tried again. As there seemed ground for hoping that the expenses might to a large extent be met by the fees of the students and the Government grant, the Committee have acceded to the proposal, and have appointed to the post the Rev. R. Collins, formerly of the Travancore Mission. The school is now opened, and about 80 students are paying high fees for a superior secular education, based on sound Scriptural instruction. May the hopes that are entertained of its yielding spiritual fruit be abundantly realized !

European Mission Establishment :

Rev. Thomas Good (m), 1866.

JAFFNA.

The Rev. Thomas Good now labours single-handed in this Mission, Mr. Wood having temporarily removed to fill a vacancy in Colombo. Mr. Good assists by his presence and advice the four Native Pastors who in conjunction with the Church Council labour for the spiritual good of the Native Church. He also superintends the Schools, and urges forward the more purely missionary work of the district. The pastors, to whose diligence Mr. Good bears testimony, spend much of their time in preaching to the heathen. It is of vital importance to the Native Church that this should continue to be the case as long as heathenism exists in its neighbourhood. These brethren are thus Missionaries as well as pastors, though agents of the Native Church and not of the Society.

The Native Christians number 528, the communicants 231. The corresponding numbers last year were 579 and 244. The diminution arises mainly from increased strictness of discipline, but partly also from removals. Otherwise there would have been a perceptible increase. There were eleven adult baptisms.

As Chairman of the Church Council, Mr. Good thus reviews the state of the Christian congregations :—

I trust there are signs of real progress apparent in the congregations. There are some points upon which I would like to see our Christians take a more decided stand than they do. The dowry system is still a great evil even among the Christians. The man whose family principally consists of daughters is ready to give it up, but the man who has several sons will not do so. Again, I should like to see caste more thoroughly ignored than it is. A man, a professedly Christian man, will not allow his children to marry those whom he considers of lower caste than his own, though every thing else is in favour of such an alliance. Once more I should like to see more of the self-denying graces, and less of the self-seeking spirit manifested; more Christian brotherly love, and less selfishness; more philanthropy and liberality, and less of that spirit so aptly described by the Apostle Paul, "All seek their own, none the things which are Jesus Christ's." But when we look at the rock out of which they have been hewn, or the hole of the pit out of which they have been digged, we cease to wonder. We must be patient. It is yet the day of small things.

The Native Church Council continues to give much satisfaction; and the spirit and practice of self-support are on the increase. Mr. Good writes on this subject:—

There is no doubt the Native Christians have a decided confidence in the present system and management of their Church. And this confidence is increasing, as witness their subscriptions to its fund. One Native Christian has given us a donation of £15, another £2, and a third 10s.—So again the Christians at Mullativoe, who are very anxious to have a Native Pastor appointed to their district and to have a church built there, promise to pay part of the salary of the former, and to raise £25 towards the latter. I hope some day to see both desires fulfilled.

Of direct Missionary efforts for the enlightenment of those outside the Christian Church, Mr. Good speaks as follows:—

We cannot speak of much visible success. There is no doubt, however, the leaven of the Gospel is working, silently it is true, but yet surely and effectually. The people have no confidence whatsoever in heathenism. They ridicule its follies and laugh at its superstitions, and yet they attend in crowds its festivals and shows. They admire Christianity, and praise its precepts and its teachings; they acknowledge its divine origin and its holy character; and yet they will not make an open profession of it. Many of them know the good, and yet they deliberately choose the evil. The answer to all this is plain. The people have no real sense of sin, to awaken a feeling of the need of salvation or of a Saviour beyond what they think their own religion affords. Customs, habits, bind them. "We are only doing what our fathers to a thousand generations did," say they, "and why should we change?" Nevertheless, we feel that our great hope is to get the people to hear God's message and to read God's Word. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God." We consider it very important to keep sight of each one upon whom any impression has been made, and in succeeding visits to deepen that impression, and watch every opening which former visits may have made for others. Not much encouragement, it may be thought, but this is not to be expected immediately. It is the sowing season yet, and much faith and patience are needed ere the expected harvest arrives. The result is certain. Perhaps it may come suddenly.

In June last we organized a Quarterly Conference of all our Catechists, and in connexion with it arranged to form itinerary bands, who should go from village to village, visiting the people individually during the day, and in the evening collecting all together to a meeting, and thus simultaneously endeavour to waken up a whole village to consider the things which belong to their eternal peace. Very interesting meetings, some hopeful awakenings, and valuable experiences have been the apparent results.

In speaking of this branch of the work, the Native Pastors give several testimonies to the power of God's Word among the heathen. One of them remarks,—“In our visits to the heathen we never meet with stiff-neckedness, as in former days. They give a ready ear, and many appreciate the religion of the Bible, but they are hindered from making an open confession by the influence of heathen friends and relatives.”

Another Native Pastor thus describes the history of the conversion, baptism, and death of a heathen Tamulian:—

Conversion and death of a Jaffna Tamulian.

A heathen man who had been an occasional hearer of the Word of God, fell sick. Death threatened him. His guilty conscience awoke, and condemned him as a sinner before God. Fear of judgment to come overwhelmed him. He found no way to escape. While in this distress the seed of the Gospel, which had been long buried in his heart, sprang up by the grace of God, and gave him a glimpse of hope. He came to me one morning, being supported by his wife. Fear, anguish, and despair marked his face. He complained of his miserable condition. He said he had no peace since he began to feel that he was a sinner before God and subject to his wrath. “You taught me, sir,” he added, “that Jesus Christ died for sinners, but I slighted those words then: now, tell me, is there any hope in Christ Jesus for such a sinner as I am?” Then I opened the Bible and read to him the promises given to sinners through Christ. I cannot tell how much these words of life, sounding in his ears, seemed to cheer his face and drooping soul. He heard every word with anxiety, as one who had found the very thing he thirsted for. In a short space of time his knowledge of the Gospel wonderfully improved, and his faith in Christ equally increased, while his body seemed to decline slowly and approach to death. He now often expressed a desire to be baptized. One Sunday morning, when I went to see him, he said, “Sir, I think you have delayed my baptism, thinking perhaps that I may live long, but I am sure I shall die very soon; my Saviour calls me. Now, before I grow very feeble and become unable to walk, and when my senses are clear, I wish to be baptized to-day publicly, and profess that I am a slave of Christ Jesus, and to be also called by that name." I said, "What if you be baptized in your house, as you are not able to walk to the Bungalow, where the Sunday services are held." He said, "No; I shall ask my relations to carry me to the place." His relatives, being heathens, refused to help him. However, with the help of his son, he managed to crawl to the Bungalow. On reaching it he was quite exhausted, and laid himself down on a mat, and continued so until the second lesson was read in the Morning Service. He showed a great interest in the Service. When I went near him to read the Baptismal Service, he raised himself up and remained sitting. On the next morning, when I went to see him, I found him so ill that he could neither breathe freely nor move in the bed, but his face showed signs of great joy in his heart. He said, "I gained the day yesterday: had we delayed the baptism, we could not have it done as we now have done in public." He lingered for three days, and was then called to join that joyful company of saints in heaven.

Mullativoe, mentioned above, as probably destined ere long to have its own Native Pastor, is outside the Jaffna peninsula, on the north-eastern coast of the mainland of Ceylon. Schemes for extension of the Mission in this direction have been entertained for some time, as will be seen from the following passage in Mr. Good's letter. The population, however, is somewhat sparse:—

Towards the close of April last Mr. Wood and myself, together with two catechists and a few lads from our Training Institution, made a most interesting Missionary tour to Mullativoe and the principal villages of the northern province. We had opportunities of speaking the Word of Life to upwards of 500, many of whom doubtless heard it for the first time. We returned deeply impressed with the importance of this work, and with a longing for the time, when relieved from station duties, we could take it up systematically.

The work on the cocoa-nut estates has been seriously interrupted through failure of health in the catechists employed there.

Education.

The number of children brought under instruction has increased from 1402 to 2162. This result is unaccompanied with any additional expense to the Society, and is partly due to increased liberality on the part of the Colonial Government.

Mr. Good writes :—

Our Native Educational Committee (which has the direction of our Vernacular Schools) is working most satisfactorily. In October last I handed over to their care six additional schools after they had passed the Government examination. There are now thirty-five schools, in which forty-three teachers are employed under their care. By means of the Government grant-in-aid we have been able to build ten new schools, improve and enlarge twenty-five schools, and supply with furniture, &c., all our existing schools. Of the 2,162 children in our schools, 1,208 were presented for examination to the Government, of whom 1,180 passed.

In the Nellore Girls Boarding School our first-class girls (ten in number) who had completed their course, were regularly dismissed last April. Since then the number in the school has been thirty-seven.

In the Chundicully Seminary the number of lads who attend has increased to 226.

In the Copay Training Institution, five lads were regularly dismissed last September, and appointed to as many village schools as assistant teachers. A new class of twelve lads has been since taken in. The present number in the Institution is twenty.

The subjoined extracts from the Annual Report of the Jaffna Native Church Council will form an interesting conclusion to the Committee's notice of the Ceylon Mission :—

Description
by a Native Church Council of its own constitution and

Three years ago, on the occasion of the celebration of the Church Missionary Society's Jubilee in Jaffna, we were [partially] separated from the Parent Society with the understanding that we should undertake the responsibility and care of our own churches and the support of our own pastors, the Society supplementing our efforts with a yearly grant. The experience of those three years has clearly shown us that this action of the Parent Society was most wise and judicious. We freely acknowledge the benefit to ourselves, and we think we may confidently say that our Churches have more life and vigour in them now than they have had for several years past. We are obliged to act and think for ourselves, and by doing so begin to realize that "God helps those who help themselves." We are now able to speak of a Church and pastors of our own, and to have that attachment for both which a personal interest in them must give. And this is not all: by our giving of our substance to support our churches, we are able to throw back the slander which our heathen neighbours have frequently cast upon us, viz. "that we became Christians merely for the sake of the temporal advantages we received."

We have reason to think, from remarks recently made in a local paper, that there is a misunderstanding in the minds of some with regard to the constitution and functions of our Native Church Council. We beg to offer a few remarks on that subject.

The constitution and practice of our Native Church in its corporate capacity are in strict conformity with ecclesiastical principles as they are recognized in the constitution and practice of the Church of England. Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognized co-operation between the laity and the clergy, who not only have their separate and distinct provinces, but who also in many important respects unite their agency for the accomplishment of ecclesiastical acts. This is what is aimed at in the constitution and working of our Church Council. We are not Congregational, Independent, or Non-Episcopal. Our Council consists of laity and clergy. We have one common fund into which all subscriptions and donations are put, and from which all disbursements are made by the united vote of the Council. As a council, we not only collect and distribute this fund, at the same time guarding the temporalities of the Church, but also watch over the due performance of Divine service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the ministers, and report, as occasion may require, on each of these matters to the ecclesiastical authorities. We are subject to the jurisdiction of the Bishop of the diocese. As the children of our congregations are presented to the Bishop for confirmation, so also all our ministers are ordained by him, and by him are invested with authority to minister in our churches.

MAURITIUS, MADAGASCAR, AND EAST- AFRICA MISSIONS.

Mauritius Mission.

(Commenced in 1856.)

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies 2. Bengal Hindustani-speaking Coolier.

European Mission Establishment :

Ven. Archdeacon Stephen Hobbs (m), to South India, 1839 ; to Mauritius, 1856.

Rev. Paul Ansorgé (m), to Bengal, 1845 ; to Mauritius, 1857.

Rev. Henry Dison Buswell (m), to Ceylon, 1862 ; to Mauritius, 1866.

General.

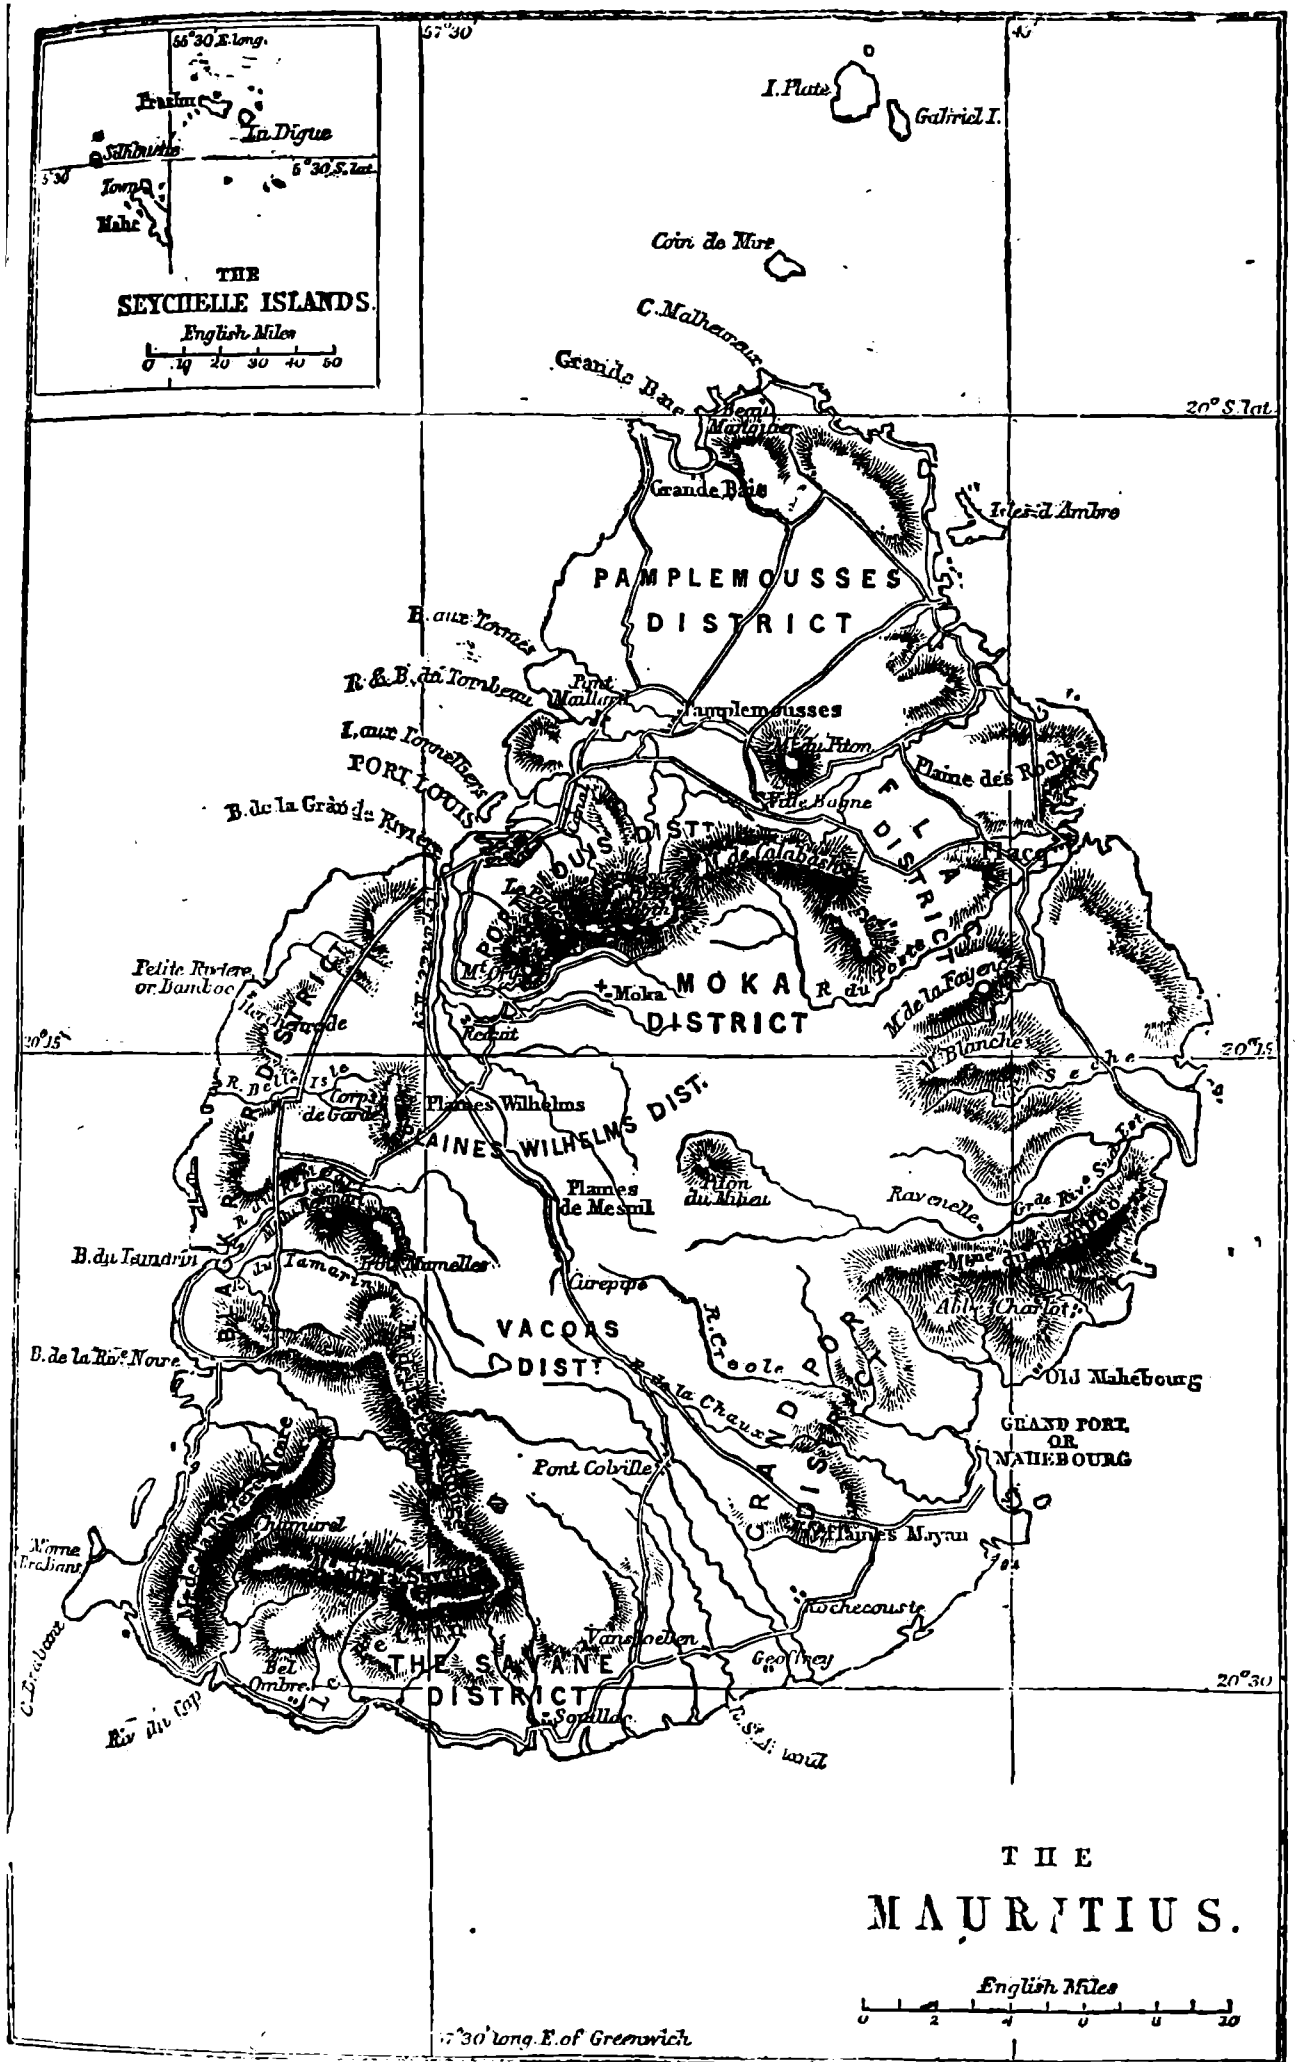

THE Society's work in Mauritius is for the benefit of the cooly immigrants. Two English clergymen connected with the Society labour among the immigrants from South India ; both of these, however, having other duties by which their time is much diverted. A third Missionary, aided by an ordained native brother, devoted himself wholly to the coolies from Bengal and North India. Eight hundred baptized Indians are now connected with the Society. During the last year there has been the comparatively large number of 150 adult baptisms. About an equal number have left the island during the same period.

The chief event of the year has been one of a very mournful character, and is thus referred to in the Annual Report of the Mauritius Church Missionary Association :—

The past year has been one of severe trial to the Church of England in Mauritius, and to its Missionary branch in particular. The gloom which overspread the diocese early in the preceding year in consequence of the sudden decease of Bishop Hatchard, seemed happily clearing away towards its close. But the bright prospect opening in the early months of 1871, when his newly consecrated successor, an experienced Missionary [Bp. Huxtable], was entering on his work, was sadly overshadowed by his death before the first half of the year had passed away ; and the diocese was again thrown back into the state of deep depression out of which it had seemed the second time to be rising. Since that mournful event the affairs of the Church have remained in an unsettled and uncertain position very unfavourable for progress, putting sorely to the trial the patience of its faithful members, and warning them that their help cometh from the Lord, and their only resource is to wait daily upon Him.

Work among the South-India Coolies.

The Madras or Tamil department of the Mission is under the care of Archdeacon Hobbs and the Rev. H. D. Buswell. These brethren are assisted by four Native Christian Teachers. The whole number of Tamil Christians connected with the Mission is 236, of whom 30 are communicants. The number of adult baptisms is large in proportion, being 55. Extracts are appended from Mr. Buswell's Annual Letter :—

As the majority of our Christian Indians live in a large village two miles from the church, we proposed early in the year to collect funds with a view to erect a large prayer-house and catechist's residence there. The death of good Bishop Huxtable, who had promised us liberal aid, has somewhat delayed us in the execution of our plan.

You are aware that the great difficulty we experience in the formation of our congregations arises from the migratory character of our Cooly population. Every week witnesses the departure of some member or other of our little flock either to India or to a distant district in the colony. We naturally regret this, inasmuch as young converts require very careful and constant instruction, and we have not a staff of catechists sufficiently large to enable us to locate one in each district.

With reference to educational work, you may be somewhat surprised at the lack of enterprise on our part. The fact is, that the Government encourage education to such an extent that we cannot afford to pay qualified masters. Every man worth employing is taken on by the energetic superintendent of Government schools. So far as day-schools are concerned, I feel that I am better employed in availing myself of the privilege which is accorded to all ministers of the Christian religion, to give instruction to the children in Government schools, than in establishing new schools with inefficient and unworthy teachers. We have a large school on our compound supported entirely by Government, and ably conducted by a master whom I employed shortly after our arrival here.

I fear that the necessity for more boarding-schools will soon arise. Hitherto the Powder Mills Asylum and Creve Cœur School have proved ample. These institutions have long been nurseries for the Church. Our new Governor has already intimated that he cannot regard the Powder Mills Asylum, with its 250 children, as an institution exclusively Protestant. Should it be un-Protestantized, we shall all have to do our utmost to recommence the work so well begun years ago by Mr. Ansorgé.

Work among the Bengali Coolies.

Mr. Ansorgé superintends the work among the Bengali immigrants. Mr. Ansorgé has eight native helpers, one of whom is the Rev. C. Kushalli, while the other seven are catechists. Once a week the Catechists meet Mr. Ansorgé, to read their reports and receive Bible instruction. Regular services in connexion with the Bengali Mission are held in eight different places. Mr. Ansorgé's Report comes down to the close of September, 1871. He thus writes :—

As to the blessings of the Lord on the Mission work, I have with much joy to report that during the last nine months 101 adults and twenty-three children have been admitted by baptism into Christ's Church. The children who were baptized were nearly all children of Christians. Among the 101 adults, the greater number were Hindus, and a few had been Mohammedans.

Numerous baptisms among the Coolies in Mauritius ; hoped-for effect in India.

My congregation numbered last year 506 souls. During the year an unusually large number (127) of the Christians returned to India, and twenty-three died here. Deducting this number from the number I had at the end of last year, there remains, notwithstanding the 124 newly baptized ones, only 480 Christians, of whom seventy-eight are communicants. This number includes all the Christians scattered over the island. The baptized orphans, still inmates of Powder Mills, are not included. The leaving of so many Christians for India decreases greatly my number here, but will, I hope, under God's blessing, do good for the spread of Christianity in India. Some of them go to the far north, as Delhi, Lucknow ; others to Hazaribagh, Hyderabad, Nagpur ; some go to Bengal, others to Orissa. I hope that here and there some of those who returned will become instruments for the conversion of their relatives and friends. I have heard that some who have returned in former years have become a blessing to others. For example, one girl whom I took from the prison in Port Louis thirteen years ago. She had been detained there for setting fire to an Indian camp, and was, after I had received her, taken under Mrs. Ansorgé's special care, and became an inmate of the Orphan Asylum, where she was, after some time, engaged as teacher in the infant school. Some time later she was married, and left with her husband for Calcutta, where she is employed as infant school mistress at Mirzapore.

Those who leave for India are generally very anxious to get a certificate of baptism, or even a letter to the Missionary in whose next neighbourhood they intend to go ; and though I fear some of the returned Christians will be too afraid of their friends and relatives to make an open profession of their Christian religion at the time, I hope others will become a blessing to their families in India.

Mr. Ansorgé thus describes the work among the heathen :—

Preaching to the heathen in town and country, on plantations and independent Indian settlements, has been carried on, as last year, by myself, the Rev. C. Kushalli, and the catechists. Besides the preaching the Gospel there, regular preaching has been kept up weekly at the Port Louis, Grand River, Plaines Wilhems, and Malta prisons ; also at the hospitals in town and country, in the Railway Camp near Port Louis, and Grand River, and at Plaines Wilhems, Port Louis, Mauritius Dock, and the Immigration Dépôt. We sometimes have audiences of upwards of one hundred students.

Præparandi Class.

This branch of the work was for a time suspended. The four young men who had been trained in it are doing well, two as teachers and two as readers. The importance of instructing and training native agents, or those intended to become native agents, cannot be over-rated. The Committee are therefore glad to find that at a conference of the Mauritius Missionaries, held November 30, 1871, it was resolved that efforts be made to recommence the class.

Madagascar Mission.

(Commenced 1863.)

Vohimaro, commenced 1864 ; Andovoranto, commenced 1866.

Rev. Thomas Campbell, 1863.

Rev. Herbert Maundrell (m), 1863.

Rev. Walter Denning (m), 1870.

General.

When it is remembered that religious freedom in Madagascar is quite a novelty, while political freedom, as regards the mass of the population, is altogether non-existent and unknown, and, at the same time, that the Sovereign and all the members of the central government have (at least nominally) embraced Christianity, it cannot be surprising if there are among the different Malagash tribes immense numbers of hypocritical professors. Such certainly is the case. It is to prevent the Christian Church from being swamped, so to speak, by a crowd of spurious adherents, that the Missionaries exercise so much caution in admitting new members, and that the number of adult baptisms is so much smaller than might otherwise be expected.

With reference to the spiritual character of the Malagassy

Christians connected with the Society, it is a noteworthy and very suggestive fact that the native Church of Vohimaro, which during the greater part of its existence has been without the presence of a European, is far more self-reliant and vigorous than that of Andovoranto, where, with only short intervals, one or more Missionaries have always been resident. It is the unanimous testimony of the Society's Madagascar Missionaries, that even during the short intervals referred to, the Christians of Andovoranto seem to have fallen back in a very marked degree. One of the most important and at the same time most difficult problems in the Missionary enterprise, is to induce native Christians among whom a missionary is labouring, to depend so directly on their Divine Head that the removal of the foreign brother does not prevent their continued growth in spiritual life. But as regards Madagascar, the question may be asked, If the difficulty has been overcome in the north, why not also in the south?

ANDOVORANTO.

The Rev. W. Denning writes under date November 22nd, 1871 :—

Only one adult has been baptized in the past year. Others have applied for baptism, but they applied at a time when I did not feel thoroughly qualified to sift, by a close examination, the motives which actuated the inquirers. Some of these have left for other parts of the country, and some I am still in doubt about. The young man who was baptized is, as far as we can see, a very sincere convert.

A fresh station has been opened up during the past year, so that we now have four congregations besides Andovoranto. You may be interested to know that the work at Maromandia—the name of the new station—has been set on a different basis from that of the pre-occupied villages. The inhabitants of this village have acceded to a request made by Mr. Campbell and myself, and have promised to pay, either in money or in kind, half of the teachers' support each month. Mr. Campbell and I, on the 1st of October, commenced the Sunday services in the "Capu," or Queen's house, as the people have not yet built a church. To our surprise, about sixty assembled, most of them dressed in nice clean clothes. They listened very attentively to the whole service, and were very much astonished to hear the Gospel preached to them by Mr. Campbell in their own dialect. It is a Betsimasâraika village. The meaning of the name Maromandia is (the place) "where many tread." Hitherto it has been an untrodden path, as far as the onward march of Christ is concerned; but now we have reached it, and I pray that our dear Captain Himself may deign to walk there, for He has said, "Where two or three meet together in My name, there will I be in the midst of them."

During the past year the following meetings, &c., have been commenced at Andovoranto, and are progressing favourably: a night school twice a week to teach reading to those who work in the day-time; a sewing class, carried on by Mrs. Dening, at which religious instruction is regularly given; a weekly prayer-meeting; and a class for the instruction of those Christians and others who are not able to learn to read. Our congregations have been occasionally very large—sometimes 200 or 300—at Andovoranto.

In addition to the four young men that have accompanied Mr. Maundrell to Mauritius, a promising class of some seven or eight lads are receiving daily instruction at this place. The training of young men is a work I most thoroughly enjoy, and I hope to be always more or less engaged in it.

The higher Præparandi Class for the Madagascar Mission is conducted in Mauritius, under the care of the Rev. H. Maundrell, who writes:—

The Præparandi class have now fully entered upon their course of studies. Besides the instruction they will receive from me, Mr. Brown, the Superintendent of the Mauritius Government Schools, has kindly granted them the privilege of attending for a short time daily the Creve Cœur Government School. In no way could they better acquire a correct idea of the routine and discipline with which school work ought to be conducted. They cannot but improve under the present arrangement, and, if allowed to remain here two or three years, will doubtless on their return to Madagascar be a great help to the work at Andovoranto. I regret very much that their number is so limited, but we must not "despise the day of small things." If the class be fed with the most promising of the Andovoranto school-children (the way in which it was first formed), its numbers will increase in proportion to the success and extension of the Mission.

In reference to the Præparandi Class, the official letter from the Prime Minister sanctioning the departure of its members (Malagassy subjects) from Madagascar to Mauritius, will be read with interest:—

Antananarivo, 24th July, 1871.

GENTLEMEN,—I duly received a letter from his Lordship, the late Bishop of Mauritius, asking that some youths under the instruction of the Rev. H. Maundrell may be taken to Mauritius to be further instructed there, as Mr. Maundrell's health prevents him from remaining longer in Madagascar.

As I have heard from Mr. Maundrell that the Bishop is dead, I address my answer to you.

When Mr. Maundrell had an interview with me he told me that, as he is subject to attacks of fever, and no longer able to remain on the coast of Madagascar during the fever season, he will remain in Mauritius during the part of the year when fever is prevalent, and that he wishes to take some of his scholars (not more than six) to instruct them in Mauritius, and that he will be responsible for their board, and will bring them back to Madagascar within a term of three years.

I have made known Mr. Maundrell's request to her Majesty the Queen of Madagascar, and she has been pleased to grant him what he has asked, deeming such an arrangement likely to promote the prosperity of the Church on the coast, for it will be a source of great pleasure to her Majesty and myself if the kingdom of God advances among the coast tribes that are still ignorant.

I am, Gentlemen, your Friend,

RAINILAIARIVONY,

Prime Minister.

VOHIMÂRO.

It will be remembered that this place, situated not far from the northern extremity of Madagascar, was the first station occupied by the Society in the island. The missionaries (Messrs. Maundrell and Campbell) remained there from November, 1864, to March, 1866. They then removed to a more thickly peopled district in the south, leaving behind them two baptized converts. These men not only stood firm, but were blessed by God in gathering other converts around them. When Mr. Campbell revisited the place in May, 1869, he found two congregations of unbaptized catechumens—one at Vohimâro itself, the other at Soavinandriâna, about three days' journey to the south. Mr. Campbell remained in these districts until the end of August, 1871, when he returned overland to Andovoranto. He was also able to pay a flying visit to Vohimâro of eight days by means of a schooner that touched at the place in January of the current year. All was going on well. Congregations of 200 or more had assembled on Christmas-day both at Vohimâro itself and at Soavinandriâna.

East Africa Mission.*(Commenced 1844.)*European Mission Establishment:

Rev. John Rebmann, 1846.

Rev. Thomas Henry Sparshott (m), 1867.

It will be remembered that Mr. Rebmann was instructed by the Committee to visit Europe for the double purpose of recruiting his health and conferring with the Committee respecting the linguistic work in which he had been engaged. A letter from Mr. Sparshott, dated Nov. 18th, 1871, stated that Mr. Rebmann had been seriously ill, but was then recovering, and intended to leave for England at the commencement of 1872. Mr. Rebmann's failing health had almost entirely laid him aside from work for two years. Some of the Native Christians, however, Mr. Sparshott writes, were remaining steadfast, and "proving themselves to be indeed the Lord's own people." The political disturbances, also, which a few months previously had rendered the Society's old station at Kisulidini, an unsafe place of residence, has subsided, and there was now (it was thought) no cause for alarm. It was hoped that Mr. Sparshott would make Mombas his headquarters. He had returned thither from the Seychelles in the previous August. Since then, however, Mr. Sparshott has been medically ordered to return to this country.

THE Society's expenditure on this Mission has steadily increased year by year, from 423*l.* in 1845, to over 15,000*l.* in the financial year just concluded. The (ordained) Missionaries number nineteen. In this item there has been no increase during the last twelve months; but two European laymen have been added to the force, a Medical Missionary for Ningpo, and a Missionary schoolmaster for Shanghae, the latter in local connexion. The Native Christians have increased in the same period from 812 to 909, and the communicants in a still greater proportion from 456 to 546.

HONG KONG.

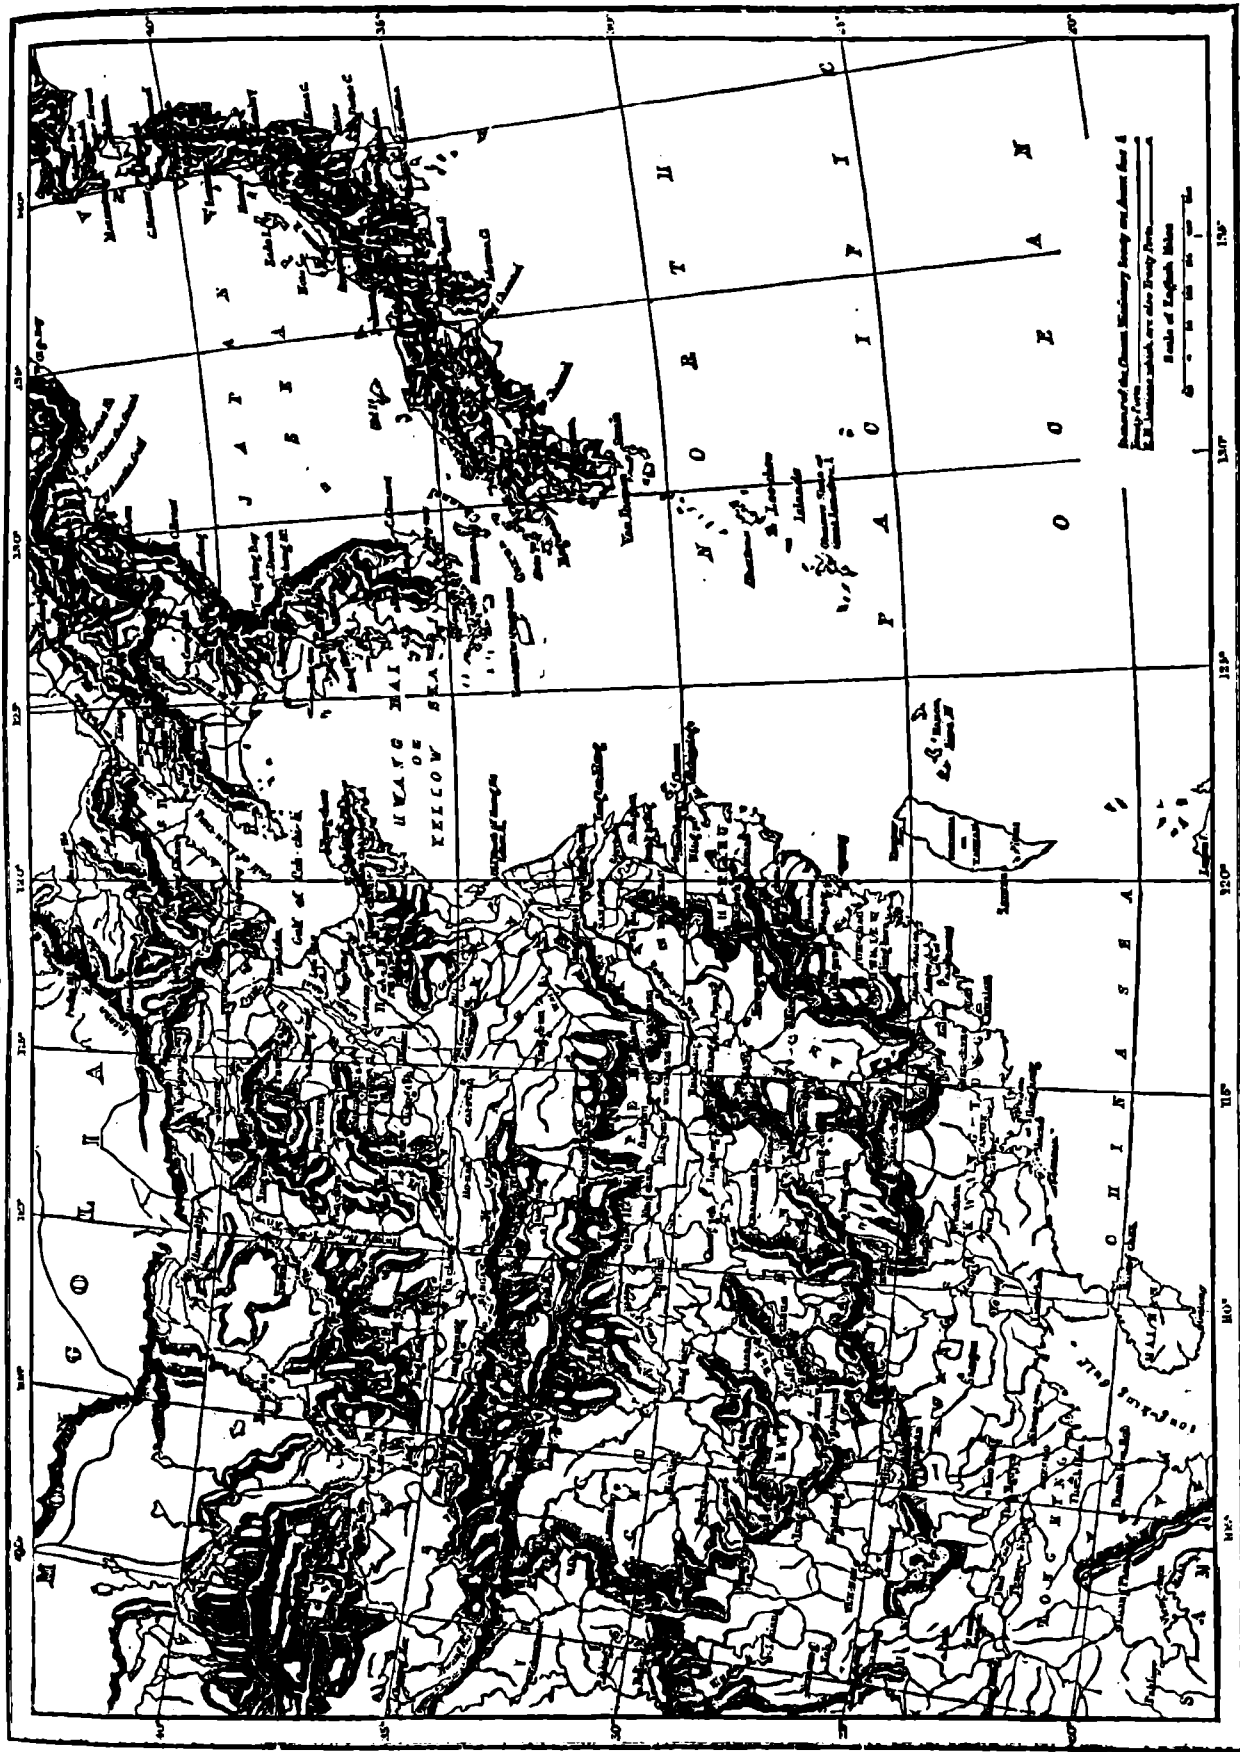

The Rev. John Piper, after another year's solitary labour in this difficult and trying portion of the Mission-field was reinforced at the close of 1871 by the arrival of the Rev. A. B. and Mrs. Hutchinson. Mr. Piper's annual letter shows that he has not been without other encouragements also. There have been two adult baptisms, and the number of communicants now amounts to ten.

Extracts are appended from Mr. Piper's Report.

Labours among the Native Christian.

Our services on the Sundays continue the same as described on previous occasions. Notwithstanding the baptisms during the year the numbers in attendance remain the same. This, as I have more than once observed, is owing to the unsettled character of the Chinese population of Hong Kong. I can perceive a better acquaintance with the truth in those who remain permanently amongst us; and the orderly character of our services has been spoken of by the Bishop, and by several

MAP OF CHINA AND JAPAN

Missionaries who have stayed with me some days in Hong Kong.

The afternoon class is but scantily attended. Those who do come regularly, manifest a deeper appreciation of Bible knowledge. At the Thursday evening Bible-class the number of members present has been larger than formerly.

Baptisms during the Year.

This year we have baptized two children and two adults. Of the latter one is a young woman of nineteen years, and the other a man aged twenty-six who is a respectable shopkeeper in the colony. The latter was led to consider the truth as it is in Jesus by a relative, and, after a lengthy and regular attendance at our Church, was baptized on Christmas-day. The young woman was baptized at the beginning of the year. She had engaged herself two years before that time as nurse to a family here. She stipulated that she must be allowed to attend Church once on Sundays. This was gladly granted her, and she came for some time to our services before she made application for baptism. Having satisfied myself both as regards her sincerity and knowledge, she was invited amongst the Lord's people on Easter-day. I was sorry to lose her six months later when she accompanied her mistress to Australia. I have great confidence in her faithfulness to God. He can bless and watch His sheep when scattered as when in one flock, but we naturally love to witness the growth of those trees which the Lord hath planted by our feeble instrumentality.

Preaching to the Heathen.

The plot referred to in the following passage from Mr. Piper's letter consisted in the surreptitious but wide circulation, first, of packets of powder purporting to be of great medical virtue, and then of placards declaring this same powder to be most pernicious, and to have been distributed by the European Missionaries.

Never since the Church has been opened could we reasonably complain about the number of those who come to hear what the natives call "Speaking of Jesus." And during the year now closed our audiences have been unusually numerous and large. Although the Rev. Lo-Sam-Yuen and myself are far from being satisfied with the mere declaration of the truth, we cannot but be thankful for the good and frequent opportunities which we possess of making known the Gospel to so many attentive listeners. And the security of our colony gives us some vantage-ground in denouncing the corrupt systems of their so-called religions, and exposing the snares in which China's multitudes are entangled. The late excitement about Shan-Sin-Fan (i. e. Genii Powder) has also given us scope for showing them the weakness, unprofitableness, and inconsistencies of those religions which are compelled to make use of such base calumnies to preserve the influence which hitherto they have had. And we rejoice in the assurance which the Bible gives that such proclamation of our God-given truth, such comparison of man's crooked ways with the righteousness of God, such endeavours to lay bare the corruptions which are hidden beneath a fair exterior, will be owned and blessed of the Lord. Such preaching is as the infusion of the three measures of meal, or like laying the deep foundation, or as the hammer which breaketh the rocks, and will assuredly result in broken and contrite hearts, in the superstructure of a Spiritual Church among the Gospel-leavened masses of China.

FUH-CHAU.

Most cheering progress has been mercifully vouchsafed in this district, notwithstanding much opposition, though a comparatively young Missionary (the Rev. J. E. Mahood) has been labouring here during the past year without any European associate. Faithful and devoted as the Committee believe Mr. Mahood's efforts to have been, they feel with him that what has been accomplished is pre-eminently God's work, not man's.

Mr. Mahood gives the following general sketch of the Missionary events of the year:—

Taking a general sketch of the result of this year's labours, I may say that at the beginning of the year the Bishop of Victoria held an ordination and a confirmation in Fuh Chau. Our native deacon, the Rev. Wong Kiu Taik, was ordained priest to the great satisfaction of all the Christians, and now, I trust, he will become more useful in visiting the outstations, and in administering the Sacrament to the different congregations throughout the country. Seventy-four persons were confirmed by the Bishop at our chapels at Fuh Chau, Ku-Cheng, and Lo Nguong.

This year there were thirty-nine adults and eleven children received into the visible church by baptism. We have now seventeen stations established in different parts of the country, besides three chapels in the principal streets in the city of Foo Chow, where the Gospel is proclaimed. These stations are occupied by eighteen native helpers, who have been selected from the most faithful and intelligent of the Christians. We find that wherever we have faithful native helpers who have experienced the love of God in their hearts, they are always successful in drawing sinners to Christ. Besides these stations in the most important cities and towns, there are upwards of fifty villages where there are one or more families who, by their profession of religion, act as centres of light in the midst of a vast heathen population.

Entering further into particulars, Mr. Mahood thus speaks of the Shan-sin-fan plot and its consequences :—

At the beginning of the year every thing seemed to be tranquil. Not a cloud arose to overshadow our prospects; day after day we received reports from our outstations that the numbers of inquirers were increasing, and that the heathen people were all friendly disposed towards us. Little did we imagine that, while we were rejoicing in the prospect before us of a time of peace, one of the most wicked and dangerous plots which has been known in China for some time past was being laid for the uprooting of Christianity and the hindrance of foreign intercourse with the interior of the country. As this plot is already known to you, I shall only speak of its effects.—The Christians at Ang Iong were driven from their homes to seek shelter elsewhere, and their lives were in constant danger for some weeks; but not one of them forsook the faith of Christ. Their clothes, money, and property they willingly gave up; but sooner than give up Christianity they were willing to sacrifice their lives.—At Puang-lung, a village about six miles from Ang Iong, a very intelligent widow woman embraced the faith of Christ about two years ago. (She can read the Scriptures written in the classical style, which very few Chinese women can do, and, owing to that, she exercises a great influence over the heathen women around her. Through her instrumentality three heathen women have renounced idolatry and are now professing Christianity.) During the excitement this woman was exposed to a great many annoyances. At one time a mob assembled around her house, and threatened to destroy her property if she did not renounce Christianity; but instead of fearing the angry threats of the people, she took the Bible in her hand, and, approaching the door, she said, “The Bible teaches us the religion which foreigners believe; that same religion I believe. No one who believes this religion can possibly be guilty of the acts of which Christians are now accused, and sooner than give up the religion of Christ I would cheerfully permit the officers to behead me.” When the crowd saw her determination they dispersed, and the woman afterwards was permitted to live in peace.—In Sang Iong a circumstance something similar took place. During the persecution one of the Christians there was attacked by an infuriated mob, who threatened to murder him if he did not drink a mixture which they gave him for a test to see whether he had poisoned the wells. When they presented the cup to him he refused it, and said, “If you wish to kill me you can do so, for I am quite at your mercy; but as I have been guilty of no crime, I shall not drink this cup. I believe in Christ, who is the Saviour of sinners, and I would rather suffer death from your hands than give up that faith.” This man was robbed of his clothes, and has had to endure great annoyances for the past two years. All the Christians testify to his unwavering faith in Christ.—These are only a few of the many instances of faith which have been manifested by the converts during the past year. These trials have been beneficial to the Christians, inasmuch as they have made them look away from self to Him who is our only refuge in the time of need. When they were harassed by wicked men they found it necessary to draw near the throne of grace, where they could pour forth their prayers to their Heavenly Father, whose ear is always open to the petitions of His people. Hypocritical men, who might join us through some false motive, will now be deterred from doing so, for they will see that the people of God must endure affliction in this heathen place.—In some of our outstations a reaction has taken place. The majority of the people see that the stories circulated against foreigners have been all false, and they are now more eager to hear the Gospel than they formerly were.—In speaking of the good which has resulted from the machinations of the enemy, the evil consequences are not to be overlooked. In some instances those who were willing to hear the preaching of the Gospel are now diverted from doing so by the threats of a few bad men. Of course, men who have only heard the preaching of the Gospel a few times are not strong in faith, and therefore they are the more easily deterred by persecution.

The following passages from Mr. Mahood's letter need no comment to gain for them the interest and attention of the readers of this Report:—

spread of the Gospel in Chinese villages.

A few years ago the only person who professed Christianity at Ang Tong was the old carpenter; now there are thirty earnest Christians there. From that place the Gospel has spread to Sang-po-Chau, where we have upwards of twenty people who hold service regularly in the house of one of the Christians. There is no paid agent there. The people of their own accord join together for worship on the Sabbath. They have the Prayer Book translated into their own tongue, so that they are enabled to conduct the service amongst themselves according to the form of the Church of England. The Prayer Book is of immense value in these little congregations, as it enables them to conduct Christian service in the absence of the catechist, and preserves them from uttering what is unscriptural in their petitions to God: in fact, it will serve as a model for Christian worship for years to come. From these places the glad tidings of the Gospel have spread to Pu-tau, where we have seven Christians. In this way the message of salvation has gone from village to village in that neighbourhood, until it has spread through fifteen villages.

Value of the Prayer Book to newly converted Chinese Christians.

This year a family in Kiong-Ning-hu, one of the largest and most populous prefectures in this province, has renounced idolatry, and now attends our chapel at Ku Cheng. Some time ago foreign Missionaries thought to establish a mission in that prefecture, but they were prevented from doing so by the jealousy of a few of the people; now the Lord seems in due time to be opening that district for the preaching of the Gospel through unpaid native agency. The members of that family, who are able, regularly attend the service in Ku Cheng on Sunday, a distance of about thirty-three miles; and when they return on Monday, they tell their friends and relatives of the glad tidings which they heard on the Sabbath.

At Lo-Nguong the work is encouraging. The chapel, which was torn down by the Chinese police, is now rebuilt; and the congregations on Sundays average between sixty and seventy, a number which would be much increased, were it not that the Christians live at long distances from the chapel, so that the weaker among them cannot attend. Last year, with much sorrow, we were compelled to excommunicate a few members from this congregation on account of their conduct; and this year great benefit has resulted from that act. The heathen around see that our religion teaches us not to recognize any thing that is wrong, and the Christians have been warned by it not to imitate their example. I hope that by this discipline these men will repent them of their sins and seek the mercy of God. Every thing now seems to be peaceable at Lo-Nguong, and the inquirers are increasing steadily. In a small village in the neighbourhood, about three years ago, a heathen man became anxious about salvation: he attended our chapel for some time, and then made an open profession of his faith in Christ. His relatives, who are bigoted heathens, were all opposed to the step which he had taken, and they harassed him a good deal; but he still persevered in his Christian course. Some time ago his child died, and when his friends were all mourning around him, he said, "Before I embraced Christianity I was like you, living without a hope in God, but now I know that God gave me that child; and, inasmuch as He has taken him away, I cannot grieve." This profession of his faith in God so influenced his relatives that his mother and some other members of his family renounced idolatry, and are now professing Christianity. At Lang Tau, a village about nine miles distant from Lo-Nguong, the religion of Jesus seems to be triumphing over the superstitions of Popery and Buddhism.

The Roman Catholics have been re-established there for about one hundred years, but I can safely say that the agents of the Church Missionary Society, with an open Bible in their hand, have gained a firmer hold upon the affections of the people in three years than the former have done since their first establishment there. For many miles around that village the people are casting away their idols to the moles and bats, and are beginning to make a profession of Christianity as taught by Protestant Churches. I baptized six adults there this year, and I have been very much pleased with the answers which they gave concerning the doctrines of salvation.

Romanism and an open Bible.

A Chinese
family.

At Sio Chio, a town about thirteen miles distant from the city of Ning Taik, the work is also very interesting. There are now upwards of twenty-three who attend the Sunday services regularly. In the absence of the catechist, who has to attend the service at Ning-Taik every alternate Sunday, one of the Christians conducts the service according to the prescribed form of the Church of England. There is a very interesting family at Sio-Chio, consisting of ten members, all of whom have embraced the Christian faith. The husband and wife were formerly opium smokers, but since they embraced Christianity they have renounced that evil habit, and are now in prosperous circumstances. Family prayers are daily held in their house both morning and evening, and the little children never think of lying upon their beds without supplicating the blessing of God, and thanking Him for the mercies of the past day. There are many families in Christian England where the worship of God is not conducted with the same love and reverence as it is in that family. This year five out of their number were baptized into the visible Church, and I trust they have been adopted into the family of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

Sang Iong is also prospering in the extension of the Gospel. The converts there have made known to others the glad tidings of salvation, and in a village called Sa-Iong upwards of fifteen persons have cast their idols from them, and are now making an open profession of Christianity. I intended to baptize some of the inquirers there this year, but, owing to the disturbances, I postponed their baptism, and thought it better to wait until peace be re-established.

In the city of Fuh Chau the converts are not so numerous as they are in country places, but I am thankful to say that most of them are conscientious and thoroughly devoted Christians. This year a schoolmaster and his wife, who had been attending our service regularly for a year and a half, were baptized; and from what I know of them, I believe they are willing to endure hardship for the sake of the Gospel of Christ. Although we have sufficient success in Fuh Chau to encourage us, the rural districts seem best adapted for Missionary enterprise. The people in the country places are much more honest and truthful than those in the cities, and they are therefore much more easily impressed with the teaching of the Word of God.

Partly from baptisms, and partly through the return of some who had been scared away by persecution, the Native Christians have increased from 340 to 450. A more solid advance is in the number of communicants—230 as compared with 150.

SHANGHAE.

It will be remembered that the Rev. T. McClatchie is labouring at this Mission, which was commenced in 1845, virtually suspended in 1863, and resumed in 1870. Mr. McClatchie has a Chinese Missionary experience dating from the year 1844, and received the distinction of an honorary canonry from the first Bishop of Victoria, the late Dr. George Smith. In his annual letter Mr. McClatchie writes as follows:—

Our services have been kept up as usual during the past year, and I hope, from present appearances, that the preaching of the Gospel has not been ineffectual. A number of the large population around the Church have been visited in their houses and invited to attend public worship. My rule is after each service to invite any of those present, who are willing to do so, to come into the vestry for conversation. I have had visits almost every Sunday between the services from respectable merchants and others from various provinces, with whom I have had many interesting conversations, besides giving them books to take to their homes. The congregation, though smaller than I could desire to see, is nevertheless becoming regular, which is very important, and I begin to notice the same faces every Sunday at the services. As a general rule it is a patient and constant teaching which is required in order to make an impression upon the minds of the Chinese. I am, in fact, just beginning this Mission de novo; and a great deal of work must be done in diligently sowing the word of life, before we can expect to see any very great results. There is very much to contend with here. The people are naturally apathetic in disposition; and their former curiosity to gain some knowledge of the foreign doctrines having been to some extent gratified, they do not care to attend our services in such numbers as formerly. The wild stories and vile calumnies also which have been lately so industriously spread abroad, although said only to refer to the Roman Catholic Missionaries, have produced, to say the least, a feeling of distrust towards us, which I fear it will not be easy for some time wholly to overcome. The not being allowed to work on Sundays is also urged as a great objection against Christianity.

There has long been at Shanghai a fund belonging to the Society, but contributed by local residents for the support of an Evangelistic Anglo-Vernacular School in the city. Many of the Chinese are desirous to obtain for their sons some knowledge of English that may fit them for subordinate posts in European mercantile houses. It was proposed that advantage should be taken of this for Missionary purposes. A school was to be established which should afford bonâ-fide the secular instruction asked for, and where, at the same time, the teachers should openly and avowedly make known the Gospel to their pupils, and labour to bring them to a “belief in the heart” and a “confession with the mouth” of the Lord Jesus. Several difficulties have hitherto prevented the successful carrying out of the scheme. A competent teacher having now been sent out (Mr. Gill, trained at Cheltenham) it is hoped that the work will soon commence on a sound and permanent basis.

NINGPO, SHAOU-HYING, AND HANG-CHAU.

The Missionary force engaged in this district is composed of eight ordained European Missionaries and one medical Missionary. To these should be added, besides the wives of the married Missionaries, a European lady, Miss Laurence, who devotes herself to the education of the Native females. During the year the Rev A. E. and Mrs. Moule have been permitted to return to the field; while, on the other hand, failure of health has brought Mr. Gretton to England.

Messrs. Russell, Gough, A. E. Moule, and Bates, are stationed at Ningpo itself, where Miss Laurence is also employed. Messrs. Valentine and Palmer are at Shaou-hying; and Messrs. G. E. Moule and Elwin are at Hang-Chau, together with the medical Missionary, Dr. Galt.

Mr. Russell gives the following general view of the Missions:—

As regards the Native Christians generally, there has been no very noticeable feature during the year. Their attendance upon the public services of the Church, and other means of grace, and their evident appreciation of them has been, on the whole, satisfactory. The amount of their subscriptions at the Offertory and to the Church Funds, though still below the mark which we could desire them to attain, has also been a cause of gratification to me. Doubtless, a great improvement might be reasonably expected in this respect, had they ordained ministers of their own depending principally, if not wholly, on native contributions for their support. They also give freely, according to their means, for the education of their boys in our boarding school. On the whole, though we long to see more spirituality and more progress amongst them, we are not discouraged; but fervently believe that many of them are living members of the Lord Jesus Christ, needing only a larger outpouring of the blessed Spirit's influence upon their souls, to bring them up to the measure of the fulness that is in their Divine Head.

The Catechists have, under the direction of Mr. Gough, pursued their accustomed studies with a view to further usefulness in their own sphere, and possibly in the end to some of them being admitted to Holy Orders.

The year has been characterized by the extension of our operations in this province, and by our being permitted, as I trust definitely and permanently, to secure a footing at the great centres of SHAOU-HYING and HANG-CHOW. Here, at length, after many abortive efforts in the past, we have been enabled to form well-established stations, and to inaugurate the usual prerequisites for stability and success in the erection of mission premises, and the gathering together of a small band of Native Christians. Considering the great extent of territory, and the vast population to which these cities afford easy access, the importance of this step, in a missionary point of view, can hardly be over estimated.

The absence of any thing else very striking in our work during the past year, such, for instance, as large accessions of members, or unwonted interest in the Gospel message on the part of the natives generally, may perhaps in some measure be attributable to the Tien-Tsing massacre, as one of its natural results, leading, as it did, to a serious disturbance of the public mind respecting foreigners and foreign affairs. This uneasiness, and the uncertainty as to what the upshot was likely to be, have probably, to some extent, tended to produce that shyness and reserve in their intercourse with us which have been very apparent during the past year, and which have led many, otherwise well disposed, to stand aloof for the present, and to wait for further developments of the course of events.

NINGPO.

Of the work at Ningpo itself Mr. Gough reports as follows :—

The daily afternoon preaching in our church, in the centre of this city, has been continued through the past year. Our principal service for the Christians is held in it on the Sunday forenoon. Mr. Russell usually preaches; occasionally I do. In the afternoon there are two or three different services for the Christians in other places. The central Church is thrown open then for preaching to the heathen. It is also opened for the same purpose every afternoon of the week, excepting Saturday. The hearers are sometimes many, sometimes few; but I believe they are never wanting altogether. One of our native catechists who lives on the premises always attends, and I join him when I am able to give the time to this interesting part of the work.

The Rev. J. Bates, who itinerates in the neighbouring districts, and has charge of some of the out-stations, gives an interesting account of the labours of a zealous Native Christian sister :—

children, was brought to a knowledge of the truth through the instrumentality of a catechist lately deceased. Her Christian name is Lo-ezi (Lois). This woman's zeal and devotion are most exemplary. Thirsting after the knowledge of Divine things, she set herself some time ago towards learning to read by the help of the Roman character. In a short time, through her persevering efforts, she made wonderful progress, and now she can read with much freedom both for her own and others' benefit. Nor has she been less diligent in her efforts to make known to others the blessings of the Gospel. A fisherman and his wife called upon her, and to them also Lo-ezi communicated the glad tidings of salvation. Both were impressed, and promised to attend the chapel at Das-Kong-Soen. The fisherman, however, was obliged to leave home; but his wife came according to her promise, desirous of learning more of the doctrine. Since then she has burnt all her mock money, and is now hoping to be received into Christ's Church by baptism. We have thought it well that Lois should be employed as a Bible woman, and Mrs. Russell has most kindly undertaken to give her such Christian instruction as shall prove helpful to her.

A Training Institution for Catechists has not yet been established; but two efforts in that direction are conducted by Mr. Gough. The first is thus described by himself:—

The Catechists from all the Stations have, during the past year, come up once a month, and I have on each occasion had them in a class, and read with them a portion of Scripture. In this way I have just got through the First Epistle to Timothy and that to Titus. I have also again taken up the Thirty-nine Articles, and proceeded as far as the thirteenth, on Works before Justification. I have given each of them a copy of the Article (in Chinese, of course), and from two or three of them I get Scripture proofs, and perhaps a little essay of their own on the subject of the Article. These I correct for them to the best of my power. I am sorry to say that the catechists are from henceforth to come up only quarterly, but perhaps it will prove for the best that I should go more to them at their several stations.

The second is a Boarding School for the Sons of Native Christians. It contains upwards of twenty pupils, who are carefully instructed in Holy Scripture, committing very large portions of it to memory; a mode of study quite in accordance with Chinese ideas.

SHAOU-HYING.

At this station there are two European Missionaries, a Native Teacher, and eight Native Christians of whom six are communicants. The Missionaries are the Rev. J. D.

Valentine and the Rev. R. N. Palmer; Mr. Palmer having taken the place of the Rev. H. Gretton, the state of whose health forced him to return to England. As at Hang-Chau, the time of the Missionaries has, from sheer necessity, been largely absorbed by house-building. Regular Christian instruction was willingly received by several of the heathen workmen employed. Mr. Valentine writes:—

We began the year with seven Native Christians and six communicants, four of these being on the Mission premises and two living in the country. Mr. Gretton's departure for England naturally broke up his household, and two of our communicants who belonged to it returned to Hang-chau from whence they had come. I rejoice, however, to be able to say that one has been added to our Christian community who is much riper in years and wisdom than those who have gone away. His family name is Ong. He is a widower about forty years of age, and a native of Ningpo. A good while ago he was in business at Shanghae, but heard nothing of Christianity till he went to Hang-chau, where he was bookkeeper in a provision store. He attended the Sunday services at our Chapel in Hang-chau, and when his employer refused him permission to observe the Lord's-day he threw up his situation and took one of a menial character. After a time he came here on his way to Ningpo, bearing a letter of recommendation from Eunice, Mrs. Moule's active Bible woman at Hang-chau, and wishing to be baptized by Mr. Gretton. It was thought well, ^{A Shaou-Hying} however, to postpone his baptism till we had an opportunity of ^{convert.} judging of his character and of testing his sincerity. A few weeks after his coming to Shaou-hying a vacancy occurred in our household, and the place, at very low wages, was offered to Ong, and accepted by him. From that time to the present he has been under our roof, and has given satisfaction both as a servant and as a Christian. He was closely questioned by Bao the senior catechist at Ningpo, who paid us a visit in October, and again by Mr. Russell a few days afterwards; and they both came to the conclusion that he had more than ordinary intelligence, and might well be admitted to the Christian Church. Accordingly, on the 29th of October, I baptized this convert by the name of Eng-tah (one who has obtained grace), the first disciple that has been admitted to our Church in Shaou-hying since the commencement of the Mission, and one who possesses such knowledge and ability as may, through the blessing of God, render him in after-days the means of leading many of his fellow-countrymen to seek and to obtain that grace which I trust he has himself already received.

All through the year our Native catechist, Mr. Tong, has been doing a little in the way of preaching in the city and neighbourhood. He also accompanied Mr. Gretton in the preaching tour round about Tien-Keo, as mentioned in the "Intelligencer" for September, p. 279 ; and when Mr. Gretton's health gave way, and he was obliged most unexpectedly to leave us, I was glad of this Native catechist's assistance in the service on Sunday afternoons. Believing as I do, that the Natives alone are thoroughly competent to deal with the Native mind, I cannot but rejoice that, in spite of all weaknesses and imperfections, we have in this new station one so well acquainted with Holy Scripture and the doctrine of Christianity as this convert and pupil of Mr. Burdon is; and I humbly trust that when I am at liberty, as I hope and mean to be soon, to travel with him from town to town and from village to village in this vast Shaou-hying plain, the knowledge which he possesses will be turned to still better account than it has been during the past year.

aspect of affairs in Shaou-Hying.

The prospect before us is full of encouragement. The authorities, or Government officials have interfered with us in no way whatever. The people generally both in city and country treat us with the utmost civility; my wife has sometimes had as many as nine or ten Native women call on her at one time; though they do not fail to speak of us (without ill-will I believe) as "the foreign devils." They willingly purchase our Christian books; and when it was known that we were looking out for a site for another house, quite a number of pieces of land and other property have been offered to us for sale. Men of a melancholy turn of mind may apprehend a storm and another war in China, but all that I have seen in this province leads me to believe that never did we occupy a better position in the eyes of the Chinese, and that, consequently, never was there a more hopeful period in the history of our Mission in this country.

HANG-CHAU.

The Rev. G. E. Moule and the Rev. A. Elwin are still at this station, labouring with much faith and patience under many difficulties, among which have been repeated attacks of sickness and protracted weakness of health. At the close of 1871 the Hang-chau Mission was reinforced by a medical Missionary, Dr. Galt.

The little Native flock numbers 26 persons, including children. Twenty of these (all, or nearly all the adults) are communicants. There have been four adult baptisms during the year. None of the Native Christians appear sufficiently matured or gifted to hold even a subordinate office either in the Mission or in the Native Church.

Living in a purely Chinese city where there are no mechanics or tradesmen accustomed to supply the wants of Europeans, the Missionaries (especially Mr. Moule) have had their time very much taken up with planning or building a house and a church. Towards the expenses of the latter, which is to be capable, if necessary, of seating 150 people, the Native Christians have subscribed according to their ability. The whole cost will be nearly 1,500 dollars. About two-thirds of this amount has been raised by special subscriptions from European friends in China and England.

In his Annual Letter, Mr. Moule writes as follows :—

One of the principal trials of the year, next to hard and uninteresting work in building, &c., has been dissensions amongst the chief members of our little band of Native Christians. One of them, of singularly violent temper, though as I think a real believer, has twice been excluded for a single Sunday from the holy table. But of late the spirit of two or three parties has been so bad, without overt act enough to call for individual discipline, that rather than encounter the responsibility of encouraging uncharitableness, I have, after many efforts to bring about a reconciliation, suspended the monthly communion already for two months. Some progress is, I trust, making toward the end I long for.

During Christmas week, 1870, I buried in the Hills, six miles north of Hang-chau, the remains of one of our most consistent Christians. She died in child-bed in November, patient under severe pain, and full of calm and hopeful faith. I read, as it is our custom, part of the Funeral Service over the coffin just after it was hermetically closed, and addressed the little company of Christians who came together to that spot for their Sunday afternoon service. A month later the widowed husband, a heathen, told me he had purchased ground for a grave amongst the Northern Hills, and intended to convey the coffin thither on such a day. He gladly assented to my offer to go down and attend the interment. I took two Christians with me, and found a number of heathen relatives assembled at the grave side. Another grave close by was prepared to receive the coffin of a sister-in-law, for whose benefit mortuary offerings were already laid out on a table. It was arranged that our service should first be performed, and after a brief address to the heathen on true and false hope beyond the grave, I read, my two brethren responding, the heart-searching Burial Service. A lovely winter day, a beautiful solitary hollow among picturesque hills, a good hope that we had been saying farewell to one whom her Lord had welcomed, contrasted strangely with the dark, overpowering heathenism all around, and the want of union and love within our own minute church of converts. Yet on the whole I thanked God and took courage.

During the quarter (October to December, 1870), three interesting inquirers came forward, all acquainted for months, if not years, with the truth, but only then (as it seemed, in connexion with the threats of our enemies), aroused to care in earnest for their souls. Two of them are already baptized; one a working cooper, brought to the truth by a brother craftsman; and the other a woman of thirty, drawn by the Holy Ghost, as she thought, after long reluctance, to follow the example of her aged mother-in-law, one of our earlier converts. Her husband, who works in a cook-shop, made no objection to her baptism; but her daughter of sixteen bitterly resented it. The third, with a more recent applicant will, I hope, soon be baptized likewise.

Mr. Moule's time was also employed in the revision of the translation of the Prayer Book, in rendering portions of the Book of Genesis into the Hang-chau colloquial, and in the preparation of a selection of hymns.

Mr. Elwin thus describes some of the special Missionary difficulties awaiting the work at Hang-chau:—

Difficulties
at Hang-chau.

I must confess I feel sometimes rather downcast when I think of the prospects of the Gospel spreading in this city. A vast number of the people get their living, like Demetrius of old, from the ceremonies connected with idol worship. If we were to number the idol makers, temple builders, incense stick-makers, false paper money makers, paper clothes makers, and the priests, we should find they constituted a very large proportion indeed of the whole number of people in this city. It is a matter of the greatest importance to these people that the Gospel should not spread; they know, if it does spread, their means of living will be entirely taken away. Should the Gospel begin to spread in this city, as we trust it will, we must expect the greatest opposition from these people. What a comfort it is to turn from this dark side of the picture to the bright side. If we turn to God's Word, we see there, that obstacles quite as great and greater than those I have mentioned have been overcome in other places, and we know it must ultimately be so here. The Lord is stronger than man. With the Holy Spirit for our Guide and Helper we need fear nothing.

Messrs. Moule and Elwin have kindly explained the circumstances which prevented them from sending in a report for the year 1870.

PEKIN.

The Rev. J. S. Burdon is still engaged in linguistic labours. The Rev. W. H. Collins returned to Peking towards the close of the year to which this Report refers.

Japan.

Open and direct Missionary effort is still impracticable in Japan. Of the Society's two Missionaries there the younger (Rev. H. Burnside) is only beginning his work, while the senior (Rev. G. Ensor) has frequent conversation with inquirers and is engaged in the composition and circulation of Japanese Christian books.

A deputation from the Evangelical Alliance to Lord Granville on the subject of religious liberty in Japan was accompanied by the Secretaries of the Society. Sir Harry Parkes, Her Majesty's Ambassador at the Court of Japan, was present, and read a document issued by the Japanese Government, stating that it was not their intention to punish any on account of their religious opinions, if unaccompanied by a rebellious disposition. The Japanese authorities employ Protestant Missionaries as educationists, and allow the printing and sale of controversial Christian books, composed in the vernacular. Their repressive measures are directed, it is alleged, against the Romish Missionaries, whose predecessors in a former century excited a civil war, which was for many years the scourge of the country.

It is hoped that the concentration of political authority, and other changes now going forward in Japan, may have a favourable effect on Missionary prospects.

In reference to the point last named, Mr. Ensor gives the following interesting sketch of the state of affairs:—

It was but a few years back that Japan was governed practically by a number of petty princes, bound by a very feeble theory of subordination to a Shogoon, or hereditary Minister of War, himself nominally subject to the real Emperor, the Mikado. It was reserved for the Minister of England, in the formation of international treaties, to compel the Japanese to present in some one individual a single representative of the national power: it was found that the adoption of this course was the only method of providing a safeguard against the ambiguous and evasive policy of the Japanese. That led to the laying aside, on the part of the Japanese, of the old form of dual government, and reposing the sole power in the person of a single sovereign; and that sovereign they elected should be the Mikado. The next step was the revocation of all powers of independent jurisdiction which had from time to time been conferred upon the different princes, and the absorption of these in the central government. Nearly all these princes have surrendered their authority to the Mikado; and there are only a few questions of detail to be settled, before Japan is subject to the sceptre of a single power. It is thus that a period of general tranquillity and repose is dawning, after a long season of intestine strife and commotion. Thus it has come to pass that any edict of toleration, which, under the former régime might, and probably would, be ignored by private princes, must now be respected and obeyed by every individual in the land.

Religious
in Japan.

Another very remarkable movement is the hostile attitude assumed by the present government towards Buddhism. This attitude has been induced by the strong desire of the party so lately come to power to invest the person and throne of the Mikado with the halo and prestige of divinity, which, according to the State religion of Shintôism, he possesses by virtue of his lineal descent from the gods. Buddhism being associated, as some suppose, more with the rival authority of the Shogoon, has, in consequence, been discountenanced. Yet Buddhism is the only religious system in Japan which possesses, in a clearly defined moral code and a distinct enunciation of the existence of a future retribution of happiness or misery, the elements of strength calculated to command the faith and the affections of the mass of the people. Shintôism is adapted only to content the feeblest aspirations of the most unlettered barbarians. Nevertheless, Buddhism is every where on the wane; temples have been disestablished and disendowed with most sweeping severity; no new members are suffered to enter the priestly caste, saving under particular conditions and restrictions; and, more important than all, the innumerable idols erected at cross-roads and corners have been broken down. Thus, in the camp of our enemies, God has set every man's sword against his fellow, and when the hour of toleration comes, we shall find scarcely any enemy prepared or able to contend with us; for, in the third place, there are symptoms already appearing, that Shintôism itself is destined soon to perish. Used by the new government to bolster up the extravagant pretensions of the throne, it is felt to be no longer required. The large increase of educational establishments under foreign supervision throughout the country, and the consequent wide spread of knowledge and information, have rendered such pretensions on the part of the sovereign to divinity absolutely untenable. Shintôism is so entirely interwoven with these, that the abandonment of the one necessarily entails the fall of the other. Thus these three great movements—to wit, the consolidation of authority in a single head, and consequent establishment of rule and order; the overthrow of Buddhism, the only foe of Christianity worthy of name; and, lastly, the suicidal destruction of the State Shintôism by State-instituted education—have conspired in a most marvellous manner to bring about this wonderful preparation for Christianity, and to demonstrate that God rules in the earth.

During the summer of 1871 Mr. Ensor visited nearly all the open parts of Japan, and had interesting intercourse with the native inhabitants as well as with the members of the various American Missionary bodies.

NEW ZEALAND MISSION.

- III. ~~Western~~ District, comprising the Diocese of Wellington.

PEACE being restored in New Zealand, the Hau-hau apostasy, which was mainly due to antagonism between the races, is gradually passing away. Drunkenness, immorality, and neglect of religious ordinances, are still lamentably prevalent, and show how severe a blow the Native Church had received, not only from the horrors of war, but from contact and association with ungodly Europeans. Yet the last year has witnessed, especially in the Northern and Eastern districts, many symptoms of social advance and spiritual revival. "Our Maori fellow-subjects," observes the New Zealand Times Correspondent, "are rapidly working their way upward in the public estimation. The native representatives in the Lower House are superior in every way to their predecessors. They have shown themselves remarkably intelligent in their appreciation of the questions brought before the Assembly, and their speeches have been distinguished by clearness of expression, independence of tone, and evident knowledge of their subject." It is now proposed to admit them to the Upper Chamber also.

Social elevation of the Maoris.

As regards the success generally which it has pleased God to give to Missionary effort among the Maoris, the Bishop of Waiapu writes as follows :—

The Bishop of Waiapu's testimony to the success of Missionary effort among the Maoris.

While having a due regard to the reaction which is always to be expected, and which our Saviour has taught us to look for, after that the word has been received gladly by many; I would observe that the check which has been given to the progress of Christianity in this country has proceeded, in the first place, from the fact of the colonization of the country just at the time when Christianity was being nationally received by the natives, and before it had time to take root; and, secondly, that the present disorders of the country have been augmented by the war, which, for the most part, was brought on by the mistakes of the Government itself.

After all the depressing circumstances of the war, the free introduction of intoxicating drinks among them, and the evil example of numbers of our own countrymen, who live without any religion—what is the state of the natives in the more tried districts? I cannot speak of Waikato and Taranaki; but I know that at the Bay of Islands, at Otaki, in Hawke's Bay, Poverty Bay, and up to Waiapu, where Christianity has languished and there has been a severe struggle—we now see in all these places a strong reaction; and what does this indicate, but that the root of the matter is in them, and that there is a promise of more healthy growth for the time to come?

Execution and apparent penitence of Mr. Völkner's murderer.

The wretched man Kereopa was executed a fortnight ago for the murder of Mr. Völkner. I found that he had a considerable amount of head knowledge. He could state clearly the ground of the Christian's hope, but he was unwilling for a long time to make a clear confession, such as might indicate sincerity of repentance. On the last morning, Mr. Samuel Williams was in attendance. He said to him, "Kereopa, perhaps you may not regard yourself as a principal in this murder, nor think yourself so guilty as other people believe you to be." He interrupted with great warmth of expression, "Oh, do not say that: it was I who did it; it was I who caused the death of Mr. Völkner." And now he seemed to be better able to realize what he had many times before repeated—that he looked to Christ for the pardon of his sin. If we are right in hoping that Kereopa died in the faith which was professed by the thief upon the cross, shall it be said that the attempt to Christianize the Maori is a failure?

The general condition of the Maori Christians in the Auckland diocese was thus described by the Bishop in his address to the diocesan synod on the 23rd of October, 1871 :—

The Maori confirmations were held at Kororareka, Oruru, Kaitaia, and Hokianga, all in the Archdeaconry of Waimate, and may, I trust, be taken as some criterion of a reviving care for religion among the tribes of the North. Indeed, all that I saw of the Maoris throughout my tour in the Bay of Islands' district and the Archdeaconry of Waimate, encourages me to believe that there is amongst them a growing earnestness in their regard for education and Christianity. In every district through which I passed, I was assured that there was much less drunkenness amongst them than there had been a few years before. Some of the principal chiefs expressed to me their anxiety to have schools established in their districts, and their willingness to contribute what they could towards the expense of educating their children. The congregations at the Sunday services are much larger, and more reverent in their bearing, than they were ten years ago ; and their interest in the work of the Church generally is shown, by their readiness to institute the weekly offertory (on my recommendation), and, in the cases of Mangakahia and Ohaeawae, by their erecting at their own cost handsome churches and endowing them with gifts of valuable land. I do not remember hearing of any congregation of Native Christians in Upper India, during my eight years' sojourn there, doing as much for themselves in this way as the Maoris of the Bay of Islands have done. The manner in which unpaid lay readers, in outlying districts, as for instance on the West Coast above Hokianga, have kept up Sunday services amongst their scattered people, is also a very encouraging sign. I have every reason to be pleased with the way in which the Maori clergymen of the North are doing their work. They are all zealous men, and evidently possess great influence with their respective flocks. In April I admitted to Priests' Orders two of them, who were made deacons by Bishop Selwyn. They had been living at Waimate for a month before their ordination, with Archdeacon Clarke, who gave them regular instruction during that time and recommended them for advancement to the priesthood. But the most pressing want of the Maori Church in this diocese is a supply of intelligent young men desirous of being prepared for the Ministry, and likely to prove worthy successors to the European Missionaries through whom they have been brought to a knowledge of the truth. I am happy to inform the Synod that I have five such candidates for holy orders, in the training of whom I am receiving very valuable assistance from Sir William Martin and Archdeacon Maunsell.

AUCKLAND.

Four of the Society's Missionaries are residing in this city. Two of these, however, are in very advanced years; while a third, the Rev. R. Burrows, is largely occupied by his duties as Secretary of the New Zealand Mission.

The natives in the immediate neighbourhood of Auckland are few in number, and nearly all of them nominally Christian. They are ministered to partly by the Rev. B. Y. Ashwell and his Native assistants, and partly by the Native students of St. Stephen's Institution. Some of them are much demoralized, having suffered much from the introduction of ardent spirits. Others are regular in their attendance at public worship. One village in particular Mr. Ashwell describes as remarkably "neat and orderly," with a great appearance of comfort and civilization. Mr. Ashwell has also been employed in teaching and training two Native Christians who are desirous of entering the ministry. One of these, William Pomare, will, it is hoped, be ordained very shortly.

The St. Stephen's Theological Institution contains eighteen Maori boys and youths, besides the five candidates for the ministry referred to above in the extract from the Bishop's address.

KAITAIA.

This district is under the joint charge of the Rev. J. Matthews and Mr. W. G. Puckey. They are assisted by two Maori clergymen, the Rev. Renata Tangata and the Rev. Piripi Patiki, the latter of whom also labours in the Waimate district. Both of these Native brethren received priests' orders early in 1871. There are, besides, forty unpaid lay Native Teachers. These meet with the Missionaries every Saturday, and receive instruction for the ensuing Lord's Day. Two who have been thus employed are among the five candidates for holy orders now studying at St. Stephen's.

The Native Christians of the district number altogether 1,000, of whom 300 are communicants. It is matter of thankfulness that the European settlers in this neighbourhood have lately begun to pay more attention to religious ordinances.

WAIMATE.

Archdeacon Clarke is the Missionary in this district. In his statistical table he enumerates 14 Native lay teachers, 128 communicants, and 1,200 Native Christians. The two ordained Native brethren mentioned in the Archdeacon's letter are the Rev. Matiu Taupaki and the Rev. Piripi Patiki. The latter helps also in the Kaitaia district, as already mentioned. The Archdeacon's account of Waimate is very cheering; and the Bishop of Auckland's statements quoted above of the general improvement among the Maori Christians are especially exemplified in this district.

TAUPIRI.

"Seth Tarawhiti," remarks Mr. Ashwell, "my Native brother minister, is going on steadily at my old station, Taupiri, on the Waikato. The statistics show a slight improvement in the district." Mr. Tarawhiti was a former pupil of Mr. Ashwell, who still takes a deep interest in his labours, and assists him by his counsels. Taupiri is situated about 70 or 80 miles up the Waikato River.

HAURAKI.

Connected with this station there are about 600 Native Christians, only thirty of whom can be reckoned as communicants. The Mission district of which it is the headquarters lies westward and northward from Auckland. The Missionary in charge is the Rev. G. Maunsell.

In one or two places Hau-hauism still exists; but several even of those who adhere to it anticipate its speedy extinction. Last July Mr. Maunsell met with the heaviest of all earthly bereavements in the removal of Mrs. Maunsell by an early death, after a protracted sickness. Since then he has been in constant motion throughout his districts, and has come in contact with the natives of every part of it. The progress is not uniform, but there seems to be an advance on the whole. One extract from Mr. Maunsell's Annual Letter will be read with interest.

Spiritual conversion of a nominally Christian Maori
Chief.

At Ohinemuri, where the Government agent, Mr. J. W. Puckey, a son of our old catechist, is, I found a great improvement in the people here so far as readiness to attend Divine service goes. In one special instance I hope a good work has begun. May the Lord prosper and continue it to the end! I refer to one of the chiefs of Hauraki, Te Moananni by name, once a confirmed drunkard, but now I hope reformed. He had a dream in which he imagined the flames of torment pictured to him, and one urging him to repent and turn. At the time he was suffering from a severe illness brought on by intemperance. On awaking he crawled to the box where his Prayer Book was, and, taking it out, made it his daily study for weeks. When his party returned from an absence of several weeks and offered him drink again, he refused it and urged them also to abandon it, and, holding up his Prayer Book, pressed upon them the duty of prayer and reading God's Word. They have continued to have morning and evening prayers since, and on several occasions I have met some of his young men and found them strictly keeping his injunctions. He wrote by me to the people here, who have always kept steady, and pledged himself never to return again to his evil ways.

TAUPO.

The old Mission district of Taupo was situated on the shores of the extensive lake bearing the same name in the interior of New Zealand. The Society's European agents were driven from it in September, 1863. In December, 1870, Mr. Grace succeeded in reaching the district once more. Many of the natives now residing there are Hau-haus, and those still nominally Christian are much demoralized. Yet they received the Missionary kindly, and even the Hau-haus seemed much softened by the friendly conversations and discussions which Mr. Grace was able to hold with them. He had many opportunities of preaching the Gospel both to Hau-haus and to Christians. Many of the natives there are at present busily engaged in making roads for the Government; but some of them express their intention, when this work is over, to settle quietly in their villages, erect churches, and re-establish regular Christian worship.

Mr. Grace speaks emphatically of the change for the better in the native mind. "Never," he says, during the twenty-one years I have travelled among these people, have I received greater consideration and kindness, and never in so refined and delicate a manner as during the present year."

“Notwithstanding many drawbacks,” he remarks at the close of his letter, “the year closes upon us full of bright and glorious hopes for our poor, ill-treated, stiff-hearted Maoris.”

II. Eastern District.

Seven stations have been occupied in this district in the following chronological order—1. Tauranga, 1835; 2. Maketu, 1835; 3. Rotorua, 1835; 4. Turanga, 1840; 5. East Cape, 1842; 6. Wairoa, 1844; 7. Heretaunga, 1844.

 Rev. Seymour Mills Spencer (m), 1841.
 Rev. Samuel Williams (m), 1846.
 Ven. Archdeacon William Leonard Williams, B.A. (m), 1853.

TAURANGA.

The revival which, through God's infinite mercy, is in active progress in other parts of New Zealand, has barely commenced at Tauranga. Yet Archdeacon Brown notices some increase in the number of those attending public worship.

ROTORUA.

This district includes (besides the shores of Lake Rotorua itself and of the neighbouring lakes) a portion of the north-eastern sea-coast extending from Maketu to Cape Runaway. The Rev. S. M. Spencer, who is its Missionary, does not state the number of Maori Christians residing in it. Mr. Spencer spends most of his time in moving about among the natives, travelling as far inland as his old station Tarawera, and as far down the coast as Opotiki, the scene of Mr. Volkner's murder.

TURANGA AND EAST CAPE.

These districts have suffered more than any other locality on the East Coast from the effects of the Hau-hau movement and the war which followed it. The population is fearfully diminished, and the once outwardly flourishing Native Church seemed for a time almost to have disappeared. “But here also,” writes the Bishop of Waiapu, “we witness a shaking among the dry bones.” The Bishop adds:—

The Native clergyman of TURANGA, the Rev. Hare Tawhaa, has ^{Ministerial} faithfulness kept on a steady course, often amidst great discouragement. He appreciated belongs properly to Waiapu, where he was once a teacher. When he was ordained, his own people were indifferent to his return, because he was so very plain-spoken. He remained therefore at Turanga, but his people wish now to have him back. The Turanga Natives on the other hand are determined to retain him. They said to me on my late visit, "We don't want a young man, or one who is afraid to speak. We are a hard set of people and we wish for Hare Tawhaa, who speaks plainly to us." At the same time they handed over to me 611., which they had collected for the completion of their endowment fund for his support.

North of Turanga, as far as EAST CAPE and Hicks's Bay, "the natives," writes the Bishop, are rallying under their own pastors, the Revs. Matiaha Pahoe, Raniera Kawhia, Mohi Turei, and Wiremu Paraire."

On another subject the Bishop writes as follows :—

Native
Church Board for Waiapu.

The Native Church Board promises much benefit as a means of promoting the progress of good. It is in fact the carrying out of your own arrangement, as proposed in an early paper upon Conferences. It is a meeting of the Maori clergy and lay representatives of all places within convenient reach for the purposes of conference and regulation of matters of general interest. The chief subjects are schools for children (with the means of supporting them), the erection of places of worship and the repairs of the same, collections to supplement the income of the Native clergy (in addition to the income from the endowment fund), and general regulations for the well ordering of the district.

In various parts of the district, churches are building and church funds in course of collection. Efforts are also making to promote elementary education; but some difficulties have arisen which at the date of the last advices had not been overcome.

HERETAUNGA.

The Rev. S. Williams, the Missionary for the Heretaunga district, is able to give an encouraging account. The natives in this part, during the late war, had been on the side of the English; yet the cessation of hostilities has been as great a benefit to them, spiritually and socially, as to their opponents. Mr. Williams writes :—

The constant excitement and irregularity of a camp life, together with the incessant dread of surprise by war parties, tended very much to unsettle the minds of the people, and to disarrange our work; but since that state of things has ceased, there has been a great change for the better. Drunkenness, which in some cases had increased to a distressing extent, has very much diminished ; and in some of the villages, the use of ardent spirits has been altogether discontinued. There has been a growing demand for the Scriptures and Prayer Books, and a strong wish has been expressed for better means of education. Two day schools are about to be established with Government aid, one at Pakiwhi, and the other at Omaku, near Napier.

The district has suffered a loss in the death of a highly-esteemed Native brother, the Rev. Raneira Wiki.

At or near Mr. Williams's station there is in process of erection the Te Aute Boarding School, for which the Bishop of Waiapu has long been collecting money. The Turanga School, which this succeeds, was of a twofold character, embracing an elementary department, and also a class of more advanced students under training to become Native Teachers and Pastors. The higher department is now to be omitted, as being sufficiently provided for by St. Stephen's Institution at Auckland, where "such men," writes Archdeacon Williams, "as Sir William Martin and Dr. Maunsell give their lectures every day in the week." There is an increasing demand for well-taught Native Ministers among the Maoris generally.

III. Western District.

The district was first occupied by Bishop Hadfield in 1839. It now comprises two stations: 1. Wanganui, 1840 ; 2. Otaki, 1842.

European Mission Establishment :

The Bishop of Wellington (m), 1838.

Rev. Richard Taylor, M.A. (m), 1836.

Rev. Basil Kirke Taylor, M.A. (m), 1860.

This district is conterminous with the diocese of Wellington. The Bishop of Wellington, Dr. Hadfield, one of the Society's old Missionaries, makes the following remarks on the character and condition of the Maori population :—

It is difficult at this time to give an intelligible statement as to the spiritual condition of the Maori population of the diocese, chiefly because the natives no longer present the same uniform aspect that they once did. They formerly acted, either for good or evil, more as tribes and communities: they now act more on their individual convictions. The effect of the late war in seriously lessening, if not destroying, confidence in the white man, is every where painfully visible. No less evident is the utter indifference of many to Christianity. Still, go where I will throughout the diocese, I every where find some, even under most disadvantageous outward circumstances, meeting together for Divine service, and reading the Holy Scriptures. I find them, moreover, ready to gather round me, and attend to what I have to say.

I have recently returned from a journey to Wairarapa and the coast to the eastward. I did not see many natives, for it was a busy season of the year; but, wherever I found them, they had a teacher who had remained steadfast to the faith. And even those among them who had been Hau-haus came readily to hear me. I felt convinced that they only required to be invited again, when many, by God's grace, would return in penitence and faith to the fold of the loving Shepherd from whom they had wandered. Until the return of Mr. Taylor, sen., there have been, besides myself, only two Maori-speaking clergymen in the diocese—the Rev. B. K. Taylor and the Rev. J. McWilliam, the latter chiefly engaged in the school at Otaki.

The Bishop has himself laboured actively among the Maoris during the year. A faithful Native Catechist would have been admitted to deacons' orders but for the failure of his health. In this diocese, Hau-hauism, the Bishop observes, is now practically extinct.

OTAKI.

The Rev. J. McWilliam is employed, in local connexion, under Bishop Hadfield in the care of this district. The Maori population has been very much reduced by a severe epidemic; but this calamity seems, by God's blessing, to have had a favourable effect on their spiritual condition, of which Mr. McWilliam reports hopefully. There are four or five congregations, small in number—hardly aggregating 300 adults altogether—but steady in their attendance on religious ordinances. One of these congregations has lately come back from Hau-hauism. A priest has been lately sent by the Romanists to re-occupy their long-vacant field in this district. He meets with but little success at present.

WANGANUI.

The Rev. R. Taylor and his son, the Rev. B. K. Taylor, are the Missionaries of this station. Mr. Taylor, sen., was in England on furlough for many months, returning to New Zealand towards the close of 1871. The appended extracts from his letters give an interesting narrative of his reception by his old flock; but in a Missionary point of view, the accounts, it will be seen, are not so gratifying as from some parts of the island.

Under date Nov. 23, 1871, Mr. Taylor writes:—

On reaching Wellington, our many friends were on the pier to welcome us back, and amongst them was our son, and a large number of natives, who completely filled the saloon. They were most hearty in their congratulations. I preached there on the Sunday, and on the Monday we left in the Wanganui for our home. There we found our friends assembled to greet us, both Europeans and Natives; the latter brought canoes to convey us to Putiki. On landing there we were saluted with waving of garments and other Native expressions of welcome; then, with great delicacy of feeling, they bade us go on to our family, and they all went away. On the following morning, a few lines were sent to me, written on a sheet of foolscap, with great neatness, requesting me to state what time would suit me to meet them. At the appointed time we went to the Native Court-house, where we found the entire population assembled. They had provided chairs for us; and as soon as we were seated, the chief lady came forward and placed herself opposite me. She was dressed in deep mourning, having a funereal chaplet on her brow, a sign of respect for all who had died since we had been absent; beginning with their good old chief Kori Kangi te Anana, and ending with George Huengo. She alluded to each of them, and called me the Pu Kanohi te iwi, the chief eye of the tribe. After she had commenced in a low wail, the rest joined, and their tears flowed down their cheeks in regular streamlets. When their weeping was over, each chief addressed me, bidding us welcome back, saying, although our stay had been long, yet they were glad we had at last returned to them. I then addressed them, and I thought the best termination of the meeting was prayer. So we concluded with the evening service. This seemed to be a good beginning, but I fear that (in these parts) the natives, as a whole, have gone back; and it would be wonderful if they had not. Can any state be more demoralizing than that of war?

The Hau-haus in this neighbourhood have apparently given up their peculiar rites, and some few of them attend the Church; but the large majority disregard religion altogether, and entertain at the same time a very bitter feeling against the rapidly-increasing European population.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

This Mission is divided into ten districts, namely: 1. Province of Manitoba (formerly called Red-River district), 1828; 2. Fort Alexander district (formerly included in Red-River district), 1864; 3. Fairford or Swan-River district, 1842; 4. Cumberland district, 1840; 5. Saskatchewan district, 1852 (formerly included in Cumberland); 6. English-River district (first at Lac la Ronge), 1850; 7. Mackenzie-River district, 1858; 8. York-Factory district, 1854; 9. James' Bay or Moose Fort district, 1851; 10. Ontario district (formerly called West Canada), 1868.

Province of Manitoba.

General.

This newly-formed province comprises a large portion of what was formerly called the Red-River district. Archdeacon Cowley thus summarizes the existing and probable effects on its Christian Indian population, of the admission of this territory into the Canadian Confederation:—

The changes resulting in the confederation of this country with Canada have benefited the settled Christian Indians in many ways. 1. Pecuniarily. There is a ready market for their labour—for the productions of the chase, the fisheries, the farm, &c. 2. Mentally. Contact with men of larger experience in their every-day life, in buying and selling, in labour, in household economy, in providing for the future, in their mode of cultivating the soil, in horticulture, in the introduction, management, and application of machinery to various uses, in combining to effect objects otherwise unattainable, &c.,—tends to quicken their perception and enlarge their understanding. 3. Physically. A prominent evil, resulting in general debility, has been the want of a regular supply of suitable food. Every able-bodied man is now capable of fully providing for the wants of himself and family. 4. In promoting the education of the rising generation.—But, alas! morally and spiritually, the stranger might learn lessons of wisdom from many a poor Christian Indian. In these respects we fear our people are likely to suffer, unless the isolation of the families should, under God, be a means of preservation.

The following extract from the Archdeacon's letter will also be read with interest:—

In our local Parliament the whole land known as the Indian Reserve, except about two miles frontage, was re-affirmed, and again set apart for the exclusive use of the poor natives of the country. This I view as a great and precious boon, absolutely indispensable to the Indian's welfare, if not to his very existence, in the presence of the foreigner. Another point, almost equally essential, was secured, viz. that no licence for the sale of intoxicating drinks should be granted upon the land so reserved. On these two points I felt most anxiously; and my gratitude to Almighty God is, I trust, proportionately lively and extensive; in every other respect, I wish the Christian Indian to be treated and held as other settlers. And to this desire we hope to educate all our people who are not up to the mark. Already many are acting nobly, and it would be difficult for a stranger to decide where the half-bred element ends and where the Indian begins. In both the school districts of the Indian settlement the people are taxed for the support of the schools, just as the settlers exterior to the Indian Reserve are by themselves. And the two schools are thrown open to the inspection of the superintendent of Protestant schools, precisely as those of Mapleton and Little Britain. Incorporation with foreigners seems to be the way in which God will preserve the Indian. That our people are educated up to the practicability of this, upon equal terms, is, under God, due to the labours of the Church Missionary Society, introducing and sustaining among them the glorious Gospel of our Blessed Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. The labours of the civilized trader, extending over centuries, wrought no such change. The Hudson's Bay Company have nothing of the kind, that I know of, to point to as the result of their contact with the Indian. Let us, then, thank God for His blessing upon our past labours, and take courage to hope that He will continue to vouchsafe His presence and co-operation in all our future efforts among the people.

The Indian Reserve mentioned above commences at the INDIAN SETTLEMENT and extends northward along the banks of the river. It is sufficiently extensive to allow 160 acres of land for each family of five persons.

ST. ANDREW'S.

The congregation at St. Andrew's is composed almost entirely of persons of mixed descent, who are yearly becoming more Anglicized, and, in a secular point of view at least, more enlightened. The expenses of its pastoral charge cannot, of course, be permanently borne by a Society whose funds are raised for work amongst the heathen; but the severance of the connexion must be carried out with care and tenderness. Meanwhile the Missionary of the station, the Rev. J. P. Gardiner, is endeavouring to obtain from his flock contributions to the general funds of the Society. As regards more important matters, Mr. Gardiner longs to see more proofs of spiritual life; though the number of communicants, 314, seems to show that religious ordinances are appreciated.

ST. CLEMENT'S, MAPLETON.

As remarked in last year's Report, Mapleton and the Indian settlement are in close proximity to each other—the former lying south of the latter. Since then the boundaries between the two districts have been fixed by the newly-established local Government—each district being formed into a separate electoral division. Archdeacon Cowley still continues to minister to the congregation of Mapleton, though he resides outside its boundary, in the Settlement district. There seem to be no heathen living in Mapleton, and most of its inhabitants are of European descent, pure or mixed. The Archdeacon does not give numerical statistics, but states that the attendance at public worship is good, and the number of communicants large.

INDIAN SETTLEMENT.

It has already been observed that this district lies immediately north of Mapleton, and is the southernmost portion of the Indian Reserve. Besides a church (St. Peter's), it has two large school-rooms used for Divine service. The attendance is good, both at public worship and at the Lord's table.

SCANTERBURY.

This out-station, with its forty-three Native Christians and eleven communicants, is under the charge of a Native clergyman, the Rev. J. Settee. He gives no special account of it in his Annual Letter, but speaks much of the improved state of feeling among the Indians generally, since the late political changes, and of their increasing desire for Protestant Christian instruction.

Fort Alexander District.

In this district, the Rev. R. Phair is assisted by a Native brother, the Rev. Baptiste Spence. Mr. Phair gives a pleasing account of the advance which, by God's blessing, has been made during the year:—

I do not wish to convey the idea that anything great or extraordinary has been done during the past year, but there has been a slow, steady, onward move. There have been trials, difficulties, and opposition, plenty of them, but these, one and all, we hail as so many incontestable proofs of the genuineness of the work. It may be said of the world here, as elsewhere, that if we were of it, it would love its own. The first mark of progress to which I would allude is to be found in the number of additional houses recently sprung up throughout the settlement. The inmates of most of those dwellings have left their heathen friends, and some of them have already been admitted to baptism, others are under instruction, with a view to receiving that rite. Large additions have thus been made to the farms; and older settlers, by the zeal and energy of new ones, have been urged to lengthen their cords not a little; so that much larger quantities of provision have been secured during the past year than in any preceding one.

In the early part of last spring, the roof of our little Church fell in. Not long after, Archdeacon Cowley visited this place, and kindly undertook to point out to the Indians the duty of their united co-operation in making the necessary repairs. The consequence was that not one person refused to do something (more or less) towards the work. The duty of helping is beginning to be a topic frequently talked of among them. The Christians are now beginning to realize that the difference between their heathen brethren and themselves is entirely owing to the Gospel. They also see that the Gospel works by means, and that love for it can be shown in no better way than by helping it forward.

The most encouraging feature, however, in connexion with the progress of which I speak, is prayer. My people have begun to pray. I do not mean to read prayers, repeat them, or even attend regularly where prayer is wont to be made, none of all this. They have begun to pray with the Spirit and with the understanding, and this, not only in their tents and houses, but in the prayer meetings, and on the Sunday afternoons when invited to remain, to join in special prayer after service.

Cumberland District.

In this district, in which there are 650 Native Christians, with 170 communicants, the Society occupies two stations, DEVON and CUMBERLAND HOUSE. The well-known Native brother, the Rev. H. Budd, who is not so well able to travel as in times gone by, superintends the work.

Mr. Budd resides at DEVON. The work here is pastoral, the Indians of the place being all Christians, and having for some time adopted agricultural pursuits, together with other habits of civilized life. "An increasing thirst for the Word of God is manifest among them." They are also at present prospering temporally, the crops and fisheries having been unusually good. The school is well attended by the children, and Mr. Budd is training a young Native as master, who promises to be efficient.

The CUMBERLAND HOUSE Indians are now beginning to exchange the nomad for the settled life. Mr. Budd visits them four times a year, staying a few days each time. In his absence they regularly conduct services among themselves.

In preaching to the heathen, Mr. Budd has had encouragement among the Indians of Moose Lake in the east, and among those of Pas Mountain in the west.

Saskatchewan District.

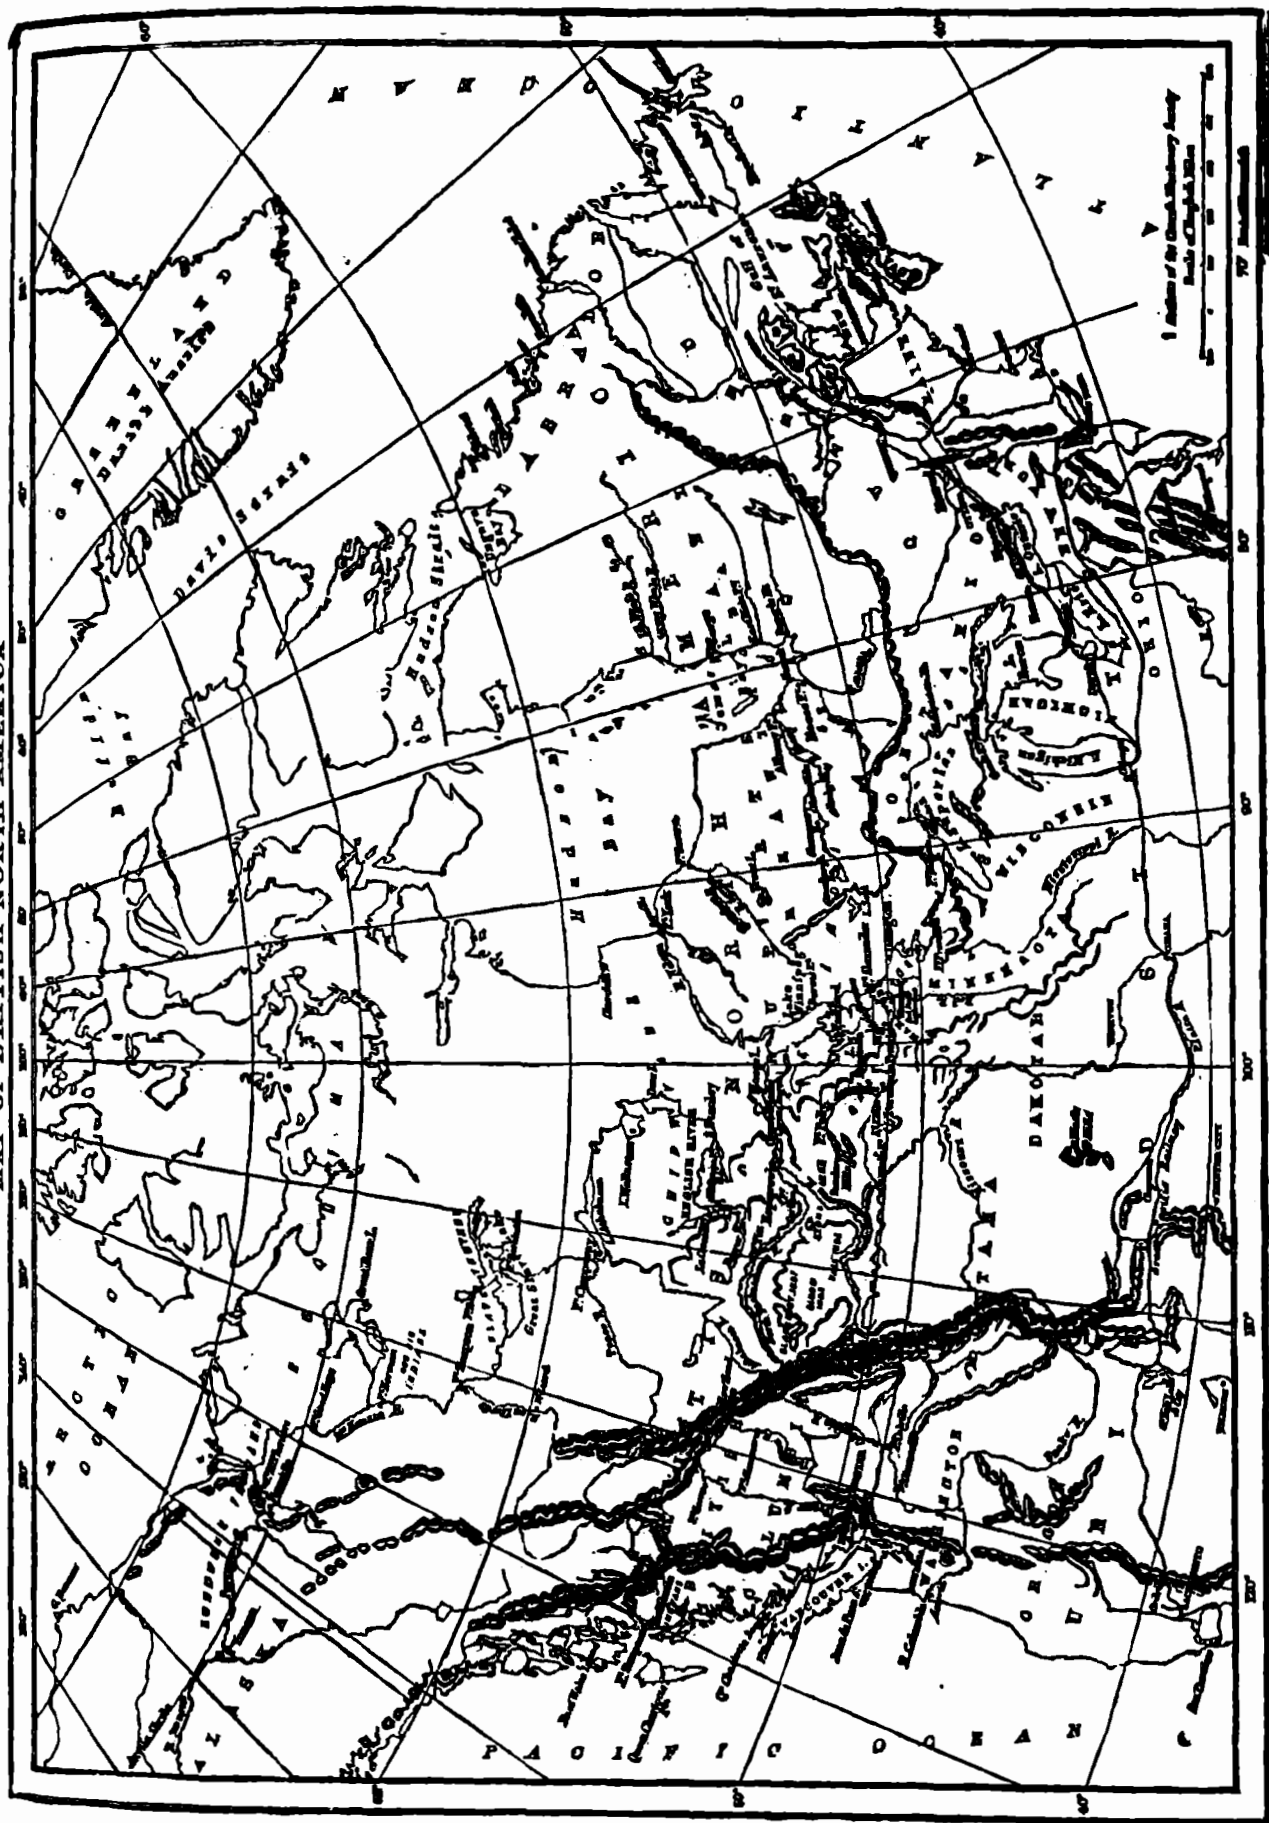

NEPOWEWIN AND CARLTON.

A newly-ordained Native Minister, the Rev. Luke Caldwell, labours at this station. He is at present assisted, at the wish of the Bishop of the Diocese, by the superintendence of Mr. Budd, of Devon. No report has been received from Mr. Caldwell. There are said to be 30,000 Pagan Indians, altogether unevangelized in the Saskatchewan territory.

English River District.

The Society's chief station in this district is STANLEY, where a devoted Native brother, the Rev. J. A. Mackay, carries on the work. The Native Christians number about 300, and of these 90 are communicants. "I rejoice in the belief," says Mr. Mackay, "that a few at least of my people are making progress, both in the knowledge and practice of godliness." He adds:—

MAP OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA

One feature of encouragement in my work is the interest still Unpaid taken by my people in the diffusion of the knowledge of the truth Indian among their heathen fellow-countrymen. One of my Indians Evange-
 errand, and, if he meets with any encouragement, does not intend returning until Easter. Such efforts are quite voluntary, and entail no expense on the Mission, as such evangelists support themselves in the usual way by hunting.

My printing press continues to afford me employment, and the means of spreading the knowledge of the truth. Although so many of the young are so seldom under regular instruction, yet nearly all are able to read and write in their own tongue, and this is chiefly due to our being able to keep them well supplied with little books and cards in the syllabic character. Here I must record with gratitude the kindness of a Christian lady in England, from whom we received last season a supply of cards for printing.

The very few heathen still left in the neighbourhood of Stanley are gradually joining themselves (outwardly, at least) to the Christian Church. One adult was baptized during the year, and others were under instruction.

Respecting advance in matters secular, Mr. Mackay writes as follows:—

I returned a few days ago from a short journey of five days, partly to visit a sick man, one of my flock, and partly to look for an eligible site for a settlement on Lac la Ronge. At Stanley it is impossible for any settlers to locate themselves, and I feel that the time has arrived when a beginning must be made in the way of forming a settlement. The Indians themselves begin to feel this, and a few are commencing to cultivate the ground, and build houses in spots where they can find good soil for farming, and a good fishery near. As it is certain that we must ultimately remove the station from the present locality, it is desirable that the Indians should know where the Mission Station may at some future time be located, in order that they may form the settlements in the neighbourhood, so as to have the advantage, when the Mission Station is removed thither, of being near the church and school. For the present the Mission buildings, particularly the beautiful church, bind us to Stanley; but, at the same time, it is well to be prepared for the future.

The population around Stanley is steadily on the increase.
 The proportion of births to deaths, during the six years of my stay here, is as three to one. Hitherto, contagious diseases of a dangerous character have never reached us, and this part of the country is probably as healthy a spot as could be found anywhere. I see no reason to apprehend the speedy extinction, or even decrease, of the Cree race in this part of the country.

Mr. Mackay does not anticipate that the English River District will attract immigrants from Great Britain or Canada, its agricultural capabilities being very limited; but as the valley of the Saskatchewan is filled by European settlers, the Indians now found there will be pressed out towards English River. "Then," observes Mr. Mackay, "if our people are well-grounded in the faith, they will act as leaven among their heathen brethren." Hence the importance of the present crisis. But the hands of the Missionary are much tied through the absence of a competent fellow-labourer.

Mackenzie River District.

FORT SIMPSON.

The Rev. W. D. Reeve first reached this station in August, 1869, entering on his work without the advantage of any former Missionary experience, and with no Missionary brother at hand to help or to advise. The Indians belonging to the Fort he finds to be "for the most part careless and indifferent about religion, and more inclined to Romanism than to Protestantism."

Mr. Reeve has made Missionary excursions to Bear Lake, Fort Norman, Fort Nelson, and Fort Liard. At the two former places he met with willing hearers. The Romish priests have many adherents in this district.

FORT YOUNG.

The Rev. Robert McDonald is the Missionary of this station, connected with which (though widely scattered) there are 680 Native Christians, of whom 39 are communicants. There is nothing special to report respecting them. The heathen Indians are still eager for Christian instruction, but only two adults have been baptized during the year. Mr. McDonald is about to visit Red River. Mr. Bompas, as mentioned below, will take charge of the Mission during his absence.

FORT CHIPPEWYAN.

The Rev. W. C. Bompas, Missionary of this station, which is on the shores of Lake Athabasca, was, in September, 1871, on the shores of the upper part of the Peace River, where he found the Indians willing to receive instruction, but very few in number, and fast diminishing. Gold had been found in the neighbourhood, and 200 miners (British, American, Chinese, and Negroes) were already at work. They are said to be orderly, and to abstain from labour on the Lord's day; but there is no Protestant minister amongst them. The country is rapidly opening up, roads being constructed at the expense of the Government. The fame of Metlaklah, and of the success which it has pleased God to give to Mr. Duncan's labours, had reached these districts.

Mr. Bompas has been lately requested by the Society's representatives at Red River to take charge of the work on the Youcon Mission in the temporary absence of its Missionary, the Rev. R. McDonald. In the propriety of this step he fully acquiesces, but earnestly begs that a competent Native schoolmaster may be sent to Athabasca, to prevent the Protestant Indians of that place from falling victims to the erroneous teaching of Romish Missionaries.

YORK FACTORY DISTRICT.

The Rev. W. W. Kirkby is the Missionary of this district. He arrived here in August, 1870, having previously laboured, as will be well known to many readers of this Report, in the Mackenzie River District.

The Indians of YORK are now all professedly Protestant Christians. They very much value and enjoy the preaching of the Gospel, being most punctual in attendance. "Often," says the Missionary, "when speaking to them of Jesus and the riches of His grace, their gladdened looks or falling tears told me plainly what was going on within." Of the three Native Readers mentioned in the previous Report, one (David Kechekesie) has died during the year. The other two still give satisfaction.

In April, 1871, Mr. Kirkby visited the out-station of Churchill, and stayed there nearly four months. Churchill, like York, is on the western shore of Hudson's Bay, being 150 miles northward of York. Mr. Kirkby found the Indians of Churchill speaking, as he had been led to expect, a dialect of the Chipwyan, which he had learnt at the Mackenzie River. The variations, he rejoiced to find, were so slight, that in a few days the difficulties of mutual communication were over. All the Indians of the place, and the Eskimos also, placed themselves under instruction. A place of worship is required at Churchill, and it is impossible to procure wood for building one. Mr. Kirkby inquires whether any “wealthy friend of the Indians will, for their sake, and for His whom they wish to serve, send out a little iron church?”

Trout Lake lies about 200 miles to the south of York. The Indians there, without any resident teacher, have acquired a knowledge of the syllabic character, read God’s Word, and hold simple services among themselves. Mr. Kirkby has not yet been able to visit them, but hopes soon to station a catechist amongst them.

James’ Bay District.

MOOSE FACTORY.

The Rev. John Horden continues his labours in this large district. Besides assisting by counsel and sympathy an ordained country-born fellow-labourer, Mr. Vincent at ALBANY, Mr. Horden has under his supervision twelve lay Native Christian agents, whom he finds very helpful, and of some of whom, in particular, he speaks with much thankfulness. The number of Native Christians under Mr. Horden’s care, not including those connected with Albany, is 1,300: 175 of these are communicants. Of Moose itself the central station, Mr. Horden writes:—

My work here, of course, has now assumed quite a pastoral character. Heathenism, as a system, with all its abominations, has departed, and our difficulties are those of new-settled communities. Our cry is now, Awake, thou that sleepest in the bed of indifference, formality, and all those things which deaden Christian life! Assume your responsibilities! Enjoy your privileges. We are endeavouring to draw out as much as possible the sympathy of the people for Mission work, and I am glad to say with as much success as could be at all expected; the contributions to our church fund, and for other purposes, averaging about £20 a year. From other parts of my charge I obtain about another £20. Having now so many churches to furnish, I am not able to increase our fund to the extent I could desire; still we progress.

Of the out-stations, those lying to the south of Moose are Brunswick, Flying Post, Matawakumme, and Matachewan. All these are in or near the new railway track from Canada to Red River. To the north lie Rupert’s House, East Main, Little Whale River, and Nitchikwun.

Mr. Horden’s last Annual Letter gives an interesting account of visits to Rupert’s House, East Main, and Little Whale River. Extracts are appended:—

On June 16th I left for Rupert's House. I had a rapid but very stormy passage; but whatever I may have experienced on the way, I received there the fullest compensation in the joy manifested by all my people, whom I was now able to meet for the first time in a well-built, capacious church. But, poor people! they have lately passed through deep trials; death has been very busy among them, and last winter was a very hard one, while the scarcity of furs greatly impoverished them; yet out of their poverty they showed great liberality, and I obtained from them a tolerably large collection. Two matters very deeply interested me; one was the willingness exhibited by those who were at all able to afford it, in adopting the numerous orphans who within the last two years have lost their parents; the other circumstance was the sight of two of the officers of the Honourable Hudson's Bay Company kneeling for the first time at the table of the Lord, one of whom, over whose head more than three-score years and ten have passed, had seen a clergyman but once before in his life, and that thirty years ago. No clergyman ever experienced greater joy among his people than I do from my Rupert's House charge.

At Little Whale River I had much and deeply interesting labour, having three different congregations, Indians, Eskimos, and the persons connected with the post in the Hudson's Bay Company's service. Neither the Eskimos nor the Indians were very numerous, but they all, without exception, endeavoured to make the best use of their opportunity. The Eskimos especially were indefatigable; all those I saw are now baptized Christians, and most of the adults can read; my deepest regret is that there is no special Eskimos Missionary, and that I have no more prepared translations to place in their hands; for those I must yet wait awhile, hoping and praying that those distant but affectionate children of the north will by-and-by be constrained to feel that their brethren in Christ take a deep interest in their eternal welfare.

The other out-stations are either occupied or have been visited by Mr. Horden's Native coadjutors.

Mr. Horden speaks with much joy of the assistance he receives in his work from the officers of the Hudson's Bay Company, and of the increasing attention paid by them to religious ordinances.

Ontario District.

The head-quarters of this Mission has been transferred from SARNIA (near the southern shore of Lake Huron), to GARDEN RIVER, on the northern shore of Lake Superior. Mr. Wilson hopes that the knowledge which he has acquired of the Indian character and Indian language will be useful to him in the larger and more important field on which he now wishes to enter.

Sarnia, together with its out-station, Kettle Point, will be transferred, as soon as possible, to the local diocesan Mission.

Even in the neighbourhood of Garden River there are very few pagan Indians; but hopes are entertained that it will prove a suitable basis for evangelistic effort in the direction of Manitoba.

Mr. Wilson, the Missionary, has recently returned to this country, and will be able to confer with the Parent Committee on future plans.

NORTH-PACIFIC MISSION.

(Commenced 1856.)

European Mission Establishment :

Mr. William Duncan, 1856.

Rev. Robert Tomlinson, B.A. (m), 1867.

METLAHKATLAH.

VERY touching is the narrative given by Mr. Duncan of his return to this well-known Missionary station:—

On Monday, the 27th February, 1871, after an absence of thirteen months, of which only six were spent in England, and having travelled, by God's protecting care, over 17,000 miles of land and sea, I arrived safely back to my home at Metlahkatlah.

The steamer in which I was conveyed over the last 600 miles of my journey had on board a crowd of miners, bound for some newly-discovered gold-fields in the interior of British Columbia. These had to be landed at the mouth of the Skeena River, about ten miles before we came to Metlahkatlah. It was Sunday afternoon when we arrived at the landing, and, after due reflection, I decided to remain in the steamer, and go in her to Metlahkatlah on the morrow. In the mean time, the news of my arrival travelled to Metlahkatlah, and on the following morning a large canoe arrived from thence to fetch me home. The happy crew, whose hearts seemed brim-full of joy at seeing me back, gave me a very warm welcome. I at once decided to leave my luggage and the steamer, and proceed to Metlahkatlah with my Indian friends, who assured me that the village was in a great state of excitement at the prospect of my return. We were favoured with a strong, fair wind, and, with two sails up, we dashed along merrily through a boiling sea. I now felt I was indeed homeward bound. My happy friends, having nothing to do but watch the sails and sit still, could give free vent to their long pent-up feelings, and so they poured out one piece of news after another in rapid succession, and without any regard to order, or the changes their reports produced upon my feelings: thus we had good and bad, solemn and frivolous news, all mixed indiscriminately.

On sighting the village, in accordance with a preconcerted arrangement, a flag was hoisted over our canoe, as a signal to the villagers that I was on board. Very soon we could discern quite a number of flags flying over the village, and the Indians hurrying towards the place of landing. Before we reached the beach, large crowds had assembled to greet me. On my stepping out of the canoe, bang went a cannon, and when fairly on my feet, bang went another. Then some of the principal people stepped away from the groups, and came forward, hats off, and saluted me very warmly. On my advancing, the corps of constables discharged their muskets; then all hats were doffed, and a general rush to seize my hand ensued. I was now hemmed in with crowds of solemn faces, many exhibiting intense emotion, and eyes glistening with tears of joy. In struggling my way to the Mission-house, I had nearly overlooked the school-children. The dear little ones had been posted in order on one side, and were all standing in mute expectation of a recognition. I patted a few on the head, and then, with feelings almost overcome, I pressed my way to my house. How sweet it was to find myself again in my own little room, and sweeter still to thank God for all His preserving care over me! As numbers of the people were pressing into and crowding my house, I ordered the church bell to be rung. At once they hurried to the church, and when I entered it was full. Such a sight! After a few minutes' silence, we joined in thanksgiving to God; after which I addressed the assembly for about twenty minutes. This concluded, I set off, accompanied by several leading Christian men, to visit the sick and the very aged, who, I was told, were anxiously begging to see me. The scenes that followed were very affecting. Many assured me that they had constantly prayed to God to be spared to see me once again, and God had answered their prayers and revived their hearts, after much weeping. On finishing my visit, I made up doses of medicine for several of the sick, and then sat down for a little refreshment. Again my house becoming crowded, I sat down with about fifty for a general talk. I gave them the special messages from Christian friends which I had down in my note-book, told them how much we were prayed for by many Christians in England, and scanned over the principal events of my voyage and doings in England. We sat till midnight, but even then the village was lighted up, and the people all waiting to hear from the favoured fifty what I had communicated. Many did not go to bed at all, but sat up all night, talking over what they had heard.

Such is a brief account of my reception at Metlahkatlah. I could not but reflect how different this to the reception I had among the same people in 1857. Then they were all superstitiously afraid of me, and regarded with dread suspicion my every act. It was with feelings of fear or contempt they approached me to hear God's Word, and when I prayed amongst them I prayed alone; none understood, none responded. Now how things have changed! Love has taken the place of fear, and light the place of darkness, and hundreds are intelligently able and devoutly willing to join me in prayer and praise to Almighty God.

To God be all the praise and glory. Amen.

In his Annual Letter Mr. Duncan gives an interesting sketch of the secular affairs of the village, mentioning the difficulties that were encountered and (by the law's aid) overcome in connexion with lawless Europeans, the peaceful decision of disputes among neighbouring Indians, the introduction into the settlement of new branches of industry, and the commencement of a new church and other buildings.

In reference to the spiritual condition of the Native Christians (433 in number), Mr. Duncan writes:—

Recently Archdeacon Woods visited us by order of the Bishop. He stayed with me a fortnight, examined a number of Indians, and admitted sixty-four adults and twenty children into the Christian Church by baptism. He said he had long had a strong desire to visit the Mission, and now felt deeply interested in what he saw. He assisted me in my work in every way he could. Brother Tomlinson and myself had previously baptized two adults and four children, thus making ninety baptisms during the past year.

While I was away in England, as might be expected in this sinful world, some few of the Christians had fallen into sin; but, I am happy to say, nearly all of them have been restored after showing deep contrition of heart. I cannot refrain from quoting a penitent part of a letter I received from one of the fallen ones immediately after my return. He is now restored, and takes a place among our most earnest Christian men. He says, "..... I have done evil again before God and among the people, and I know God is angry with me. I feel sin is very heavy upon me. But now I do not wish to follow this my sin, and lose my soul; but one thing I do, I am always crying to God very much for my sin. It is greater than all other sins. Now, dear sir, I have tasted how is bitter my sin and bitter my life. This is a word I keep to make my heart strong, 'The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart'...!"

Light is also spreading into the surrounding darkness:—

You will rejoice to hear that God is still working with Light us. Some are constantly finding their way to us from heathen tribes, their plea invariably being, they "want to turn to God and walk in His way." Our Sunday services and adult Sunday school are well attended. Many strangers from surrounding tribes (over 200 miles away) continue to visit us, and give a willing ear to the preaching of God's Word. For these I have held special Sunday evening services in my house, and occasionally visited in the market-house, and all our meetings have been full of encouragement. Thus the saving name of Jesus is being made known far and wide, with what result is known only to God.

Education is not neglected, though Mr. Duncan needs and earnestly asks help in this department. He especially begs for a fellow-labourer to assist in the Præparandi class, i. e., in instructing and training young men who may become teachers to their countrymen.

KINCOLITH.

This station is thus described by Archdeacon Woods, who visited it in October, 1871:—

The village of Kincolith stands on a spit of land formed by the junction of the Kincolith and Naas rivers, and is, without doubt, a well-chosen spot for a Mission Station; all the Naas River Indians (and they are very numerous) must, in their passage up and down river, come in contact with the work done there, and though there may not be many opportunities of bringing them under instruction, yet the very existence of this village is a standing testimony of something different from their own heathen customs, something which must often raise the question in the minds of those who pass by, "What does Christianity mean? and wherein does it differ from what we and our fathers have held?" Kincolith, however, is not a Christian village; it stands on a Mission Reserve, and all Indians are welcome to come and live there, so long as they are willing to submit to the rules of order, sobriety, and morality which govern the village. Of course their residence there brings them under Christian instruction, and will eventually, as we may hope, bring them to accept the truths of the Holy Bible as their rule of life and as the foundation of their eternal hope.

The Missionary of the station is the Rev. Robert Tomlinson, who has passed through a succession of very severe trials in his work, in the midst of which he has been graciously supported, and has received many tokens of Divine favour.

Success
amidst furious opposition.

It appears from Mr. Tomlinson's letters that at the close of January, 1870, there were 60 settlers at the place. These, though somewhat depressed by the failure of the trading store, were yet steady in their adherence to the Missionary and his instructions. It pleased God, in His providence, that a series of troubles should arise, the chief of which was the furious opposition of the heathen Nishkah Indians. This opposition commenced openly in April, 1870, and reached its climax in October of the same year. Three from the little band of Christians were drawn away into sin, and there were signs of unsteadiness and wavering among the others. Day after day only brought fresh tidings of new victories for the enemies of the truth, and it almost seemed as if their avowed wish would be accomplished in the complete dispersal of the little company that had been gathered together. But towards the close of the year 1870, through God's great mercy, symptoms of improvement, not to be mistaken, made their appearance, and the improvement has continued until the date of the most recent intelligence. Archdeacon Woods thus describes the state of things, and the occurrences that took place, in October, 1871, when he visited the station:—

On Sunday, October 22, at half-past eight I celebrated the Holy Communion, the only partakers with me being Mr. Tomlinson and his wife; and at eleven o'clock I attended the customary service in the church, the congregation consisting of about fifty-five Indians, and the service consisting of translations of portions of the Book of Common Prayer, Hymns, and readings from Holy Bible, with a brief address, being conducted entirely by Mr. Tomlinson in Nishkah. From October 23 to October 28, inclusive, I was engaged (aided by Mr. Tomlinson) in examining the candidates for Holy Baptism. Many of the answers were full of interest, as manifesting a clear realization of the past and present work of the Lord Jesus, with an earnest anticipation of what that work is to result in at the last. On the evening of the 28th all those whom I had accepted for Holy Baptism assembled in the schoolroom, when I spoke to them chiefly on the two-fold requirement of persons to be baptized: "Repentance whereby they forsake sin, and faith whereby they steadfastly believe the promises of God made to them in that sacrament." At Morning Prayer on Sunday, the 28th, I baptized twenty adults (five men and fifteen women) and at the afternoon service seven children.

At the period of my visit the village contained about sixty inhabitants, only nine of whom were baptized Christians, the remainder of the inhabitants were learners, anxious inquirers as to what Christianity had to reveal.

The troubles at home did not prevent Mr. Tomlinson from carrying the glad tidings of redemption to the heathen of the neighbouring districts. Of one such preaching he gives the following graphic account:—

Imagine a shed about 30ft. by 90ft., with a passage down the centre, and a row of fires on each side; overhead, and about 5ft. from the ground, were thin poles, on which were hanging salmon, some freshly caught, some half way, and some quite dry. Around each fire a knot of people, and here, there, and every where mats, pillows, boxes of food, and such like. The salmon were cleared off some four or five of the poles, and a small place cleared for me to stand. As we had no lamp oil, we borrowed an old pan; into this we poured some grease, and dropped in some red-hot cinders. This made a fine light. I had a set of large calico prints of the "Pilgrim's Progress;" these hung from two bent pins and a piece of twine. Meanwhile, all in the shed, both men and women and children, had gathered as close as possible. The smoke was very thick in the building, and the sticks over my head were so low that I was unable to stand upright, but position, smoke, and every other drawback vanished when I looked round on those grim faces lighted up with interest. My heart burned within me; one thought absorbed my whole soul. Those before me were all immortal souls gathered to hear the Word of life. After a silent prayer that the Lord of the Harvest would fulfil His gracious promise and be with me, and that His Spirit might teach my lips, and apply the word spoken to our hearts, I began. Before I entered the shed, I felt how little I was equal to the task, how much I myself needed to be preached to that my depressed spirit might be cheered; and little I then thought that the very message I was to announce to them was the means that God had chosen to refresh my spirit; yet so it was, if ever the waterer received the dew himself, it was so with me. I began, and such was the interest evinced by those around, and in my own heart, that two hours had come to a close before I drew up. I had not completed the service, but I felt I would tire them if I went on too long, and I told them so, at the same time telling them that if they wished to hear more, I would lead them to the end of the way. With one voice they said, "Go on, we want to hear the end." I went on. I know not how the words came. It was no translation. The very thoughts came into my mind in Nishkah. I felt as if it would have been hard to say it in English. Throughout the discourse, and especially when discoursing of the difficulties of the way, I had laid stress on the fact that we had not yet come to the end, so that they were expecting something great at the end. Imagine, then, their disappointment, when, on disclosing the picture of Christian and Hopeful at the river, I told them, "There is the end of the way, a cold, dark river." They looked from one to the other, and then at me. The end of the Christian's way, and the end of your own ways! But beyond the river—and here I pointed out, the difference lay. It was midnight when I ceased, but I was too happy to sleep for some time, and not only was it given me to be refreshed and strengthened in myself, but it was also granted to me to see early fruit in one whom I had brought with me. The thought of his sinfulness and his Saviour's love made him weep all night, and lay fast hold on a Crucified Saviour, so that since he has been one of the most humble, earnest followers of his Lord.

CONCLUSION.

THE Committee cannot but feel that the review of the past year is full of encouragement, giving abundant proof that God still graciously blesses the labours of the Society. But the impression which the Committee would wish to leave on those to whom this Report is presented is the strong call for continued and increased effort afforded, not only by what has been done, but still more by the immensity of the work yet unaccomplished.

It is the Church's commission to preach the Gospel to all nations. There are regions of the world, as for instance, in parts of Europe and North America, where, in a certain sense, the task has been fulfilled. But how large the area, and how vast the population, where the Gospel message has either not been proclaimed at all, or to so small an extent as by no means to reach the meaning of the Divine command! And compared with what remains to be done, how small the progress made, even since the revival of Evangelical Missionary effort! In that period, some numerically feeble races and many scantily-peopled islands have been rescued from idolatry, and brought within the extended borders of Christendom. The negroes of the West Indian islands have in large numbers accepted Christian instruction. The monarch and the ruling tribe of Madagascar have outwardly submitted to the faith. The Hawaiians and New Zealanders have nominally embraced the Gospel. In various parts of the heathen world Protestant Churches have been established, which comprise several hundred thousand adherents, and some of which are vigorous in their spiritual life. But the vast masses of India and China give little sign of welcoming the Word of Life, or of abandoning their ancient superstitions. Large tracts in Central Asia are still altogether unevangelized; and Christian Missions have but touched the outskirts of the great continent of Africa. Viewed in another aspect, the obstacles yet to be encountered have a still more formidable appearance. Of the supposed 700,000,000 of human beings, who in no sense profess and call themselves Christians, more than seven-eighths are attached to one or other of the three great antagonistic systems—Mohammedanism, Hinduism, Buddhism. Doubtless, in many parts of the Mohammedan world, as for example, in India, Persia, and Asiatic Turkey, a spirit of religious dissatisfaction is visible to an extent unknown before; and here and there individual inquirers are found who give a willing and earnest attention to the doctrines and invitations of the Gospel. But yet (in the greater part of British India at least) Mohammedanism abates little, if any thing, of its bigotry and fierceness ; while among the African tribes it continues its onward movement, and, wherever it advances, presents a barrier to the progress of Christianity hitherto almost insuperable. Hinduism, it was thought a few years ago, was tottering to its fall through the advance of English education. The student of Western science and literature could not, it was supposed, believe in the Brahminical system, and would not hesitate to repudiate it openly. Now the tidings come that University graduates publicly take part in its most degraded rites, and ostentatiously enrol themselves as its champions. It holds its followers with scarce diminished tenacity, and still visits with severest persecution those who dare to forsake it, if at least they embrace the Christian faith in exchange. Buddhism, which extends its influence over 300,000,000, has been altogether unaffected by Christian Missions in the far larger part of the territories which it occupies ; while in Ceylon, where it has been more actively assailed, it puts forth great vigour in self-defence, issuing controversial tracts, and boldly endeavouring to uphold by argument its atheistic philosophy.

The Committee would not be misunderstood. What has been effected calls for the most grateful acknowledgment of God's goodness. If little under the view just taken, it is great when put side by side with the efforts that have been made, and the obstacles that have been overcome. It is most encouraging and most satisfactory as a vantage-ground for continued endeavour ; but miserably inadequate if regarded as a cause for supposing that the work can now go on of itself, and that less zeal and less diligence will be necessary for the time to come. If the hostile force is in any degree weakened, it is still strong and exceedingly determined. But there is something further. A new foe is coming forward. Atheism, and total disbelief of religious truth, are more and more making their appearance in heathen countries, and (strange as it may seem to some) attract but little of that fanatical hatred which is excited by the Gospel. A Mohammedan, a Hindu, a Buddhist, may be known to have no religious belief, and yet by a little outward compliance, which costs him nothing, may live unmolested. The spread of secular knowledge has led many to adopt this course. Let, then, Missionary efforts cease, and the result

The Committee venture to think that the present state of the Mission field constitutes a direct call from God for men, for money, and for prayer. Is the call obeyed? Several remarkable conversions, for instance, have taken place within the last few years among the Mohammedans. Some of those thus brought to Christ are men of powerful minds, and have also exhibited unusually striking indications of the work of the Holy Ghost. And this goes forward. The Missionary tells us of many eager and earnest seekers after truth. He begs for aid. He implores the English Universities for men of thought and learning, and inward religious experience, to meet the emergency. But, alas! there is little response. "Our Universities," he sadly exclaims, "seem asleep on the subject."—Again, there are remarkable conversions in the Telugu Mission. Brahmins (students in the English schools) press into Christ's Church through the most determined opposition. Village after village in the country districts renounces idolatry, and literally begs for Christian teachers. Men and means are needed. Where is the response? The Committee have to deplore a failing treasury, and a scanty supply of Candidates.—Once more China, with its 300,000,000 of heathen, fills the Christian heart with sorrow, at times almost with despondency. But when the account is heard of the humble Fuh-Chau convert gathering in (directly and indirectly) almost hundreds of inquirers, who does not see that there is no ground for faint-heartedness, but that what is wanted is earnest supplication to the Giver of all good gifts for an outpouring of the same Spirit on Chinese Christians generally, and that then the Gospel might rapidly be propagated amongst the whole of that immense population? Prayer is needed. And is there among English Christians that earnestness of intercessory supplication which the Missionary enterprise demands? Surely were such the case, the men and the gold would not be withheld.

The great Head of the Church, who graciously condescends to make use of human toil in bringing into His fold the sheep that are still wandering, points out to English Christians the field which He would have them work, and indicates, by blessing abundantly the labours already begun, His will that those labours should be continued. Will the English Church listen to His voice? If not, must not its candlestick be removed, and its light quenched in darkness? But the Committee entertain no such gloomy anticipation.

They cling to the belief that the Church will yet arise and shine ; that the Holy Ghost will be poured out on her more abundantly ; that love to the Saviour being increased, there will be greater sympathy with Him in His work ; and that God's people in this land will more than ever be graciously employed as His instruments in giving Christ to be a light of the Gentiles, and to be His salvation to the end of the earth. Above all, they trust in the infinite efficacy of the Divine Redeemer's merits and intercession. Not in vain was His visage marred more than any man ; and His form more than the sons of men. He shall yet sprinkle many nations. He shall see of the travail of His soul and be satisfied.

* This mark * denotes that the Sermon was preached at St. Ann's, Blackfriars; this †, that it was preached at St. Bride's, Fleet Street; the Twenty-third was preached at Christ Church, Newgate Street; the Thirty-first at St. Sepulchre's; the Thirty-second at St. Clement Danes; and the Thirty-third at St. Andrew's, Holborn.

The Collections at the Sixteenth and subsequent Anniversaries include the sums contributed at the Annual Meetings.

IV. SUPPLEMENTARY LIST OF BENEFACTIONS AND LEGACIES OF FORMER YEARS,

FROM APRIL 1, 1869, TO MARCH 31, 1871.

 To save expense of printing, the Lists of Benefactions and Legacies of former years will in future be revised every three years, instead of every year as hitherto. Sums received during the interval of two years will be stated in the following List. At the expiration of that time the contents of the List will merge in the general Lists, as at pp. (3)–(24).*

BENEFACTIONS RECEIVED DURING THE TWO YEARS ENDING MARCH 31, 1871.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

The Committee of the Church Missionary Society request the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations to transmit the proceeds of their respective Associations, together with the Contribution Lists and Accounts, as soon after the close of their Financial Year as possible. The Lists and Accounts should be written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. The Local Officers being appointed by the Associations, their names, as well as the date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, should be specified. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

The Committee would also point out, for wider adoption, the convenience of a practice already very generally observed by Associations, of making remittances on account whenever any considerable proportion of the year's receipts is in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This practice, they have reason to believe, would be acceptable to many of their Contributors, and would tend to equalize in a greater degree the income and expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial Year.

The Society's General Accounts are closed on the 31st of March, and all Moneys and Lists belonging to the year must be received at the Society's House by that date, in order that the Lists may be inserted in their proper place in the Report.

The appending of the Lists and Accounts of the Associations to the Annual Report is a general acknowledgement to the Local Contributors that their Contributions have been received by the Parent Society; and the Committee are desirous of preventing the dissatisfaction which they are aware is occasioned by the omission of the Lists in the Report in consequence of the Money or the List having been received too late for insertion.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches should be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of the Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

To prevent mistakes, it is requested that Branch Associations will in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society.

The Committee return their cordial thanks to the Treasurers of Associations, and to those friends who kindly fill the office of Secretary—an office which, they are well aware, draws largely on the time and attention of those who occupy it, but on the efficient discharge of the duties of which, the prosperity of an Association chiefly depends.

N.B.—Benefactors of Ten Pounds and upward, whose Names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations will find them in the List of "Benefactions of former Years."

Suggested Order of Proceedings at a Meeting Preparatory to the Formation of an Association in Aid of the Church Missionary Society.

- 1.—Mr. will move, and Mr. will second, a Resolution, "That be requested to take the Chair."
 2.—The Chairman will briefly state the object for which the Meeting is assembled, and then call on the Rev. to offer up the usual Prayer to Almighty God, for a blessing on the proceedings of the day.
 3.—After Prayer, the Chairman will make such further observations as he may deem neces- sary, and then call on Mr. to move the first Resolution.

FIRST RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That this Meeting fully recognises the duty incumbent on Christians to employ all suitable means for the propagation of the Gospel throughout the world; and hails, with thankfulness to the Great Head of the Church, the labours of the CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY in its various Stations in Heathen Lands, and among decayed Christian Churches.

SECOND RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That an Association be now formed, and entitled, "The Church Missionary Association;") and that the following be its Officers and Rules:—

PRESIDENT.

VICE-PRESIDENTS.

TREASURER.

COMMITTEE:

RULES.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward: or if Clergymen, Half a Guinea; and also such persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward; or if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas; and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at its General Meetings. Subscribers of Ten Shillings per annum will receive a copy of the Annual Sermon and Abstract of Report. Collectors of Sixpence and upward per week will receive a copy of each Monthly Number of the "Church Missionary Record;" and Collectors of Two Shillings and upward per week will receive a copy of the Annual Report in addition to the "Record." Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors. Contributors of 1*l.* a-week and upward will be entitled to receive the Parent Society's "Quarterly Paper."

VI. The objects of this Association shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society—to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VII. The whole of the funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society, in aid of its designs.

VIII. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day as shall be fixed by the Committee; when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be read, and an account of its receipts and disbursements presented, duly audited.

THIRD RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That the success which, under the Divine Blessing, has attended the Church Missionary Society in its efforts to make known the Gospel of Christ among the Heathen, is a loud and providential call for increased exertions, for devout thanksgiving to Almighty God, and for continual prayer for a more abundant out-pouring of the Holy Spirit to render the means employed successful.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That the new and enlarged openings for Missionary exertion, in different quarters, demand our best energies to make known the blessed Gospel of Christ to Heathen and Mohammedan Nations.
